Morning Activity At U. S. Tank Field In England

Early morning finds American tank men busy with their chores of filling the gasoline tanks and checking the motors and equipment of their steel steeds as they prepare for maneuvers somewhere in England. They are trained at a British tank range maintained by the Royal Armoured Corps, at which was drilled, among others, the famous British Eighth Army. (AP Wirephoto)

German Broadcast Report American Formations Striking In The Berlin Area; Important Rail Centers Smashed Last Night

By W. W. HERCHER
London, May 13.—(AP)—German broadcasts said strong American bomber formations thrust as deep as the Berlin area amid heavy air battles this afternoon in the 29th day of non-stop aerial offensive.

Mentioning the invasion officially for the first time in a communique, the German high command declared the "persistent and strong attacks by British-American bombers against occupied western territories may be regarded as preparatory to invasion."

Waves of medium and light aircraft began the new day's assaults behind the Atlantic wall in precision attacks at French rail centers—the same targets against which the RAF threw up 750 bombers last night in raids on the Belgian railway cities of Louvain and Hasselt, and other objectives in France and northwest Germany.

German broadcasts said today's bomber formation attacks developed into heavy air battles over north and northwestern Germany.

Although it cost Hitler 15 of his frontline fighters trying to keep the Eighth airforce off his synthetic oil factories in Germany yesterday, RAF crews said the Germans put up more night fighters last night than they had seen in some time.

Berlin claimed today's heavy formations were hit particularly hard over the Baltic coast with fighters "inflicting serious losses."

The enemy's broadcast charts on the formations' progress said the bombers and their escorts came in over the Schleswig-Holstein area of the North Sea and that as far as the Brandenburg area 60 miles west of Berlin.

The morning attacks on airfields and other military objectives in northern France and Belgium were made by Marauders and Havocs in considerable numbers, escorted by Thunderbolt fighters.

Fourteen of the possibly 750 British bombers dispatched last night failed to return—about the same loss suffered by forces of similar strength Wednesday and Thursday nights.

The daylight offensive was started a little later than usual. In heavy early morning sunshine RAF fighter squadrons followed by a more powerful bomber force dived over Folkestone toward the continent. American Thunderbolts were spotted among the departing planes.

The RAF night attack was a quick follow-up to a smash assault by 2,000 American bombers and fighters on the five big Nazi synthetic oil plants.

NAZIS SUFFER GREAT LOSSES

Fierce Struggle Is Raging On West Bank Of Dnepr

London, May 13.—(AP)—Russian and German troops were locked in a fierce struggle on the west bank of the Dnepr river northwest of Tiraspol today with the Germans hurling strong forces against the Soviets in an attempt to wipe out the bridgehead.

A Russian communique said that in two days of fighting 4,000 German soldiers and 100 tanks had been knocked out by Soviet troops defending the bridgehead, which provides the Russians with a potential jumping off place for another big push westward.

Announcing that the last remnants of Axis forces trapped on the Crimean peninsula west of fallen Sevastopol had been eliminated, the Soviet Information Bureau in a broadcast recorded by the Soviet Monitor, said that in the five-week Crimean campaign 111,687 German and Romanian troops were killed or captured.

In addition, the broadcast said, Russian planes and ships of the Black Sea fleet sank a total of 191 Axis ships, including 69 transports and high-speed landing barges which the enemy was using for evacuating their trapped forces, adding greatly to Axis casualties.

The Information Bureau reported that 20,000 Germans and Romanians were killed in the final three-day assault which toppled Sevastopol last Tuesday, and that more than 50,000 were killed in the over-all campaign which began April 8.

In addition to the Axis troops killed, 61,687 were captured along with most of their military supplies, the announcement said.

A Soviet communique said Red army troops fighting on the lower Dnepr bridgehead were being attacked by numerically superior enemy forces and had been forced to call for support from Russian war planes. The communique declared "the enemy did not achieve any success although suffering heavy losses in men."

The German high command claimed, however, that Nazi troops had smashed the bridgehead, which was established last month, dispersing seven Russian rifle divisions and parts of one artillery and anti-aircraft division.

Elsewhere on the long eastern front there were no essential changes, the Russians said.

SITUATION IN CHINA SERIOUS

Further Jap Victories Will Prolong Pacific War

New York, May 13.—(AP)—The Pacific war will be definitely prolonged if Japan gains complete control of China's north-south overland communications through the current Hunan province offensive.

Current Hunan province offensive, according to Dr. Frank W. Price, a missionary who has just arrived by plane from Chungking.

"The Chinese government will throw its best forces into the battle to stem the Japanese onslaught," he said, "but the Chinese will need just that little more of war equipment which the United States can supply now to once more turn the tide."

The veteran educator, once a translator of Sun Yat-sen's publication San Min Chai, said Britain should step up her attacks on the Japanese in Burma to ease the pressure.

Dr. Price said the Japanese timed their Hunan push cleverly, with the Allies preoccupied about the invasion of western Europe and the monsoon season at hand in southern China.

The Japanese already have won control of the entire length of the Peiping-Hankow railway, seizing gaps which the Chinese had held.

Despite Ledo road work and a possible American naval landing on the China coast, Dr. Price estimated that China would remain blockaded from her Allies except by air "for another eight months or a year."

He said the Japanese were hoping, in this greatest drive since their capture of Nanking six years ago, to drive from Hankow southward over the Canton-Hankow road to Japanese-occupied Canton, split China in half and cut off Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's government from the free corridor to the eastern coast.

"The present dangerous threat to China's stand has come at a time when the country is being strangled by the blockade, paralyzed by the lack of food, and suffering from the fever of inflation and starvation by the famine in Hunan and Kwangtung," he said.

GENERAL OUTLOOK Sees No Change Until Germany Collapses

Babson Park, Mass., May 12.—The country east of the Mississippi will feel first the retarding effects of the German defeat. This will start a demobilization of troops and the cancellation of billions of war contracts. The war will then be over except for parents who have boys in the Pacific. Attention will be focused on the southwest states where the fall of Germany and the fall of Japan may be a good breathing spell. It will give our country a chance to settle down gradually to a peacetime basis.

Private Enterprise
Labor and private enterprise will not be able to run the war until the introduction of mass production. Then it became difficult to avoid periods of unemployment. Under a capitalistic system, labor is controlled by supply and demand. Just as are all commodities. It is a mistake now to bring the question of the "open" or "closed" shop into politics. Before long there will be a surplus of labor; then talk about open or closed shops will dry up of itself.

Importance of Education
Some day the U. S. A. and England may have to take a lead out of Russia's book. In Russia, an individual can own a reasonable amount of land or a small business as long as he and his family operate it without hired help. Otherwise all farms, factories and stores are operated by the government. The same thing applies to home ownership; property must be occupied and not rented. No one can take a profit from labor, other than his own or his family's.

Investments
I am amazed on most high-grade bonds, especially "tax-exempt." The best buy for small investors, however, should still be found in Series "E" government bonds. My own funds are being invested largely in merchandizing stocks, especially food chain store stocks. In the post-war period, the railroads will be the hardest hit of all industries because they will face so many different kinds of competition. Insurance companies should do well if they are treated fairly by the government.

Politics
Churchill will not let Germany crack until after the November elections. If the European war so continues, there will then be a Republican Congress and a Democrat as president. Hence, there is probably no use of now discussing Willkie, Dewey, Bricker or anyone else. The Republicans' opportunity will come in 1948.

Granting Mr. Roosevelt will be physically able to run and the war is still on, he will be re-elected. However, he may later resign in favor of a conservative vice president to become head of a world organization. In this capacity, he could be of great service. The New Dealers want Mr. Wallace again as vice president; but the conservative Democrats want someone like Senator Byrd.

NEW RAIDS ON JAP POSITIONS

American Airmen Striking Closer To Philippines

Advanced Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, May 13.—(AP)—Moving the air war nearer the Philippines, Gen. Douglas MacArthur listed the Palau area today for the first time in his communique.

Palau, which stands like a gateway to the Philippines a little over 500 miles west of it, is the big Japanese naval base which underwent its first attack of the war, March 29 and 30 by carrier planes of a huge task force.

Now it is within range of MacArthur's land-based bombers 800 miles southeast at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, and today he reported that a patrolling Liberator caused bomb damage Wednesday to a 1,000-ton enemy ship 300 miles east of Palau.

(The almost casual reference to the setting up of regular air patrols in the Palau area undoubtedly means the finishing touches have been completed on Hollandia's four captured airdromes and that land-based air attacks on both Palau and the southern Philippines may be in the offing.)

Headquarters amplified accounts of a destructive strike at Truk and reported a raid 200 miles west of it at Puluwat.

The communique said that Liberators which flew to Truk Wednesday caused "severe damage" to warehouses, hangar and repair shops with 96 tons of bombs, destroyed two grounded planes and shot down from six to eight others of 20 enemy interceptors.

Loss of a Liberator previously was acknowledged.

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, May 13.—(AP)—A pattern for the reduction of Truk, Japan's once-potent "Pearl Harbor," stood out today in bold relief—alternating heavy bomber blows from two sides.

The latest pounding, the sixth this month on the enemy's stronghold in the Carolines, came from two flights of Seventh Army Air Force Liberators which unloaded 62 tons at dawn Friday (Truk time).

The attack, announced by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' headquarters last night, was a follow-up to a raid by other land-based Liberators from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command at noon Wednesday. And MacArthur's fliers had come in while Truk still smoked from a night assault by 7th AAF planes.

This turn-taking by Marshalls-based and Solomons-based Liberators has loosed a 248-ton cascade of bombs on Japan's key central Pacific naval and air base this month.

Allies Open New Drive In Burma
By CHARLES A. GRUMIC
Southwest Asia Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, May 13.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese forces have opened what appears to be a major drive on the north Burma Japanese bases of Kamaing, Mogaung and Myitkina, attacking along a two mile front with tank, dive-bomber and artillery support, it was announced today.

The new offensive was launched more than a mile south of Malakaw on the south bank of the Kwele river and west of the Mogaung river. Several Japanese anti-tank guns were knocked out in the early phases of the offensive.

Foremen Dispute Closes Packard Detroit Plant

Detroit, May 13.—(AP)—One big war factory—Packard, makers of Rolls-Royce aircraft engines, and PT-boats engines—stood idle today as the strike of 3,200 Detroit war plant foremen began to have more serious consequences.

The Packard Motor Car Co. plant was closed by the management last night virtually at the very hour the War Labor Board declined to go on record with assurance to strikers that they would be protected from any management reprisals if they returned to work.

New York, May 13.—(AP)—A new transcontinental flight speed record today was set by a P-51 Mustang fighter plane carrying full battle equipment—was written into aviation annals today.

Peterson, a resident of Fargo, N. D., made the spectacular flight from Los Angeles to New York yesterday, arriving at LaGuardia field eight minutes before another Mustang, which had taken off from Los Angeles a minute ahead of him.

The second plane was piloted by Lieut. Col. Jack H. Carter of Pasadena, Calif., whose time was six hours, 39 minutes and 30 seconds.

Three Towns And Several Important Hill Strongholds Captured; Gains Of Two To Three Miles Reported At Some Points

By NOLAN NORGAARD
Allied headquarters, Naples, May 13.—(AP)—American and French troops assaulting the Gustav line in Italy have captured three towns and announced today, while Eighth Army forces below Cassino are forming a bridgehead across the Rapido river.

Headquarters officially announced gains of a mile to a mile-and-a-half, while front dispatches reported advances of two to three miles at some points in the offensive and a 25-mile front from Cassino to the sea.

Fierce German counter-blows were beaten off in other sectors. Americans of the Fifth Army attacking in the Castelforte area—15 miles south of Cassino—seized 15 towns a mile to the west, hill positions nearby, and the town of Carcobi, a mile farther south, winning that village in a tank-supported thrust. A third village near Castelforte, San Sebastiano, also was captured.

Further north, Frenchmen of the Fifth Army captured 2,550-foot Mont Fallo, a hinge of the Germans' first line defenses, about midway between Castelforte and San Ambrogio.

Below Cassino, the Eighth army had crossed the Rapido river and was forming a bridgehead against stern opposition, headquarters said. The headquarters communique declared the initial assault had "driven in the enemy outpost line" and said heavy fighting continued.

Ventosa in the Garigliano sector was taken in severe fighting, and the Americans drove the Germans from strongpoints on the Garigliano. The capture of Ventosa disclosed that the Americans had punched ahead at least one and a half miles from the jumping off of the offensive in that area.

Other American troops advanced one mile and with the support of tanks routed the Nazis from the town of Carcobi, a mile south of Damiano Hill.

In the lower Garigliano valley near the Tyrrhenian coast, Americans slugged their way onto four hills from which the Germans had commanded the lowlands approach route and then crushed two violent enemy counter-attacks.

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
The great Allied assault on Hitler's festung Europe at last is under way to determine how much wisdom there has been in his strategy of fighting a defensive war of attrition in hope that his enemies would grow weary and give him favorable peace terms.

The further is an unconditional surrender, but his warped mind does at times exhibit unusual perspicacity in gauging the reactions of the humanity which he once hoped to enslave. So it has been with his gamble that some fortuitous circumstance might give him a break. He has, of course, long been fishing for peace, but the unconditional surrender demanded by the Allies was more than he could take. So he rolled the dice.

Sure enough, advocates that unconditional surrender be abandoned are cropping up in this and other Allied countries. Thus the Nazi dictator's much advertised intention again has been right—up to a point. To just what point remains to be seen as armageddon unfolds.

Secretary of State Hull said earlier this week that, despite inquiries from nearly every continent, he had heard of no change in the United States policy of adhering to the un-

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAN

THE WILL IN RELIGION

Few people realize the importance of the will in matters of religion. They think that religion is purely a matter of faith. It cannot be denied that down at the bottom all true religion rests upon faith, but faith very often depends upon the will for birth.

Abraham Lincoln once said that people are about as happy as they make up their minds to be. It can be said with equal cogency that people have about as much religious faith as they make up their minds to have. The will to believe is very real and very important. Some people act on the principle that the way to seek truth is to doubt everything and observe whatever anything can survive such an ordeal. The thing which survives is supposed to be true. But many of the most precious truths in life will not stand any such rough treatment. Most of the important truths of religion are revealed, and very often we have to believe them before we can understand them.

It was a wise teacher of the church who declared that he could not understand a religious truth until he first believed it. When we finally make up our minds to believe revealed truth, just because it is revealed and because we believe that revelation to be true, we find that God responds by giving us a wholesome and satisfying faith.

This doctrine may sound strange to modern ears, but the wisdom of the ages and the testimony of the experience support it.

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Small business has discovered it has a new and vigorous champion. He is Maury Maverick, the one-time member of Congress and San Antonio mayor who now heads of the Smaller War Plants Corporation.

Maury Maverick has been wrong before. He admits it. But he hasn't been wrong much since he came back to Washington to take a wartime job. In developing prison industries to contribute to the war production effort, he made a signal record. Both in that job and as chairman of SWPC, he has warred on bureaucratic red tape.

He has made some headway on that score but in the long run that probably isn't nearly as important as his recent crusade to see that small business gets a generous share of priority on reconversion to production of civilian products.

His theory is that killing off a lot of little businesses won't help win the war, but will make it practically impossible to win the peace. Naturally both big and little business are fighting to see that their competitors in any field don't get the jump on them in producing improved civilian goods. The fear of little business men is that if reconversion from war to peace output starts at the same time for big and little business, they will be swamped by the greater production of the big fellow.

Maverick takes the position that to prevent small business from reconverting to production for civilian consumption until big business competition is ready to reconvert is to invite economic disaster.

He makes it clear that he's no foe of big business but that in defending little business, he's championing our overall economic system. That's an approach it may be hard for big industry to argue against.

Maverick contends that the more civilian goods produced as soon as possible, the less danger there will be of inflation later on. He argues too, that if a percentage of small firms are allowed to reconvert now, the problems of unemployment, prices, and the hiatus between war and peace production will be reduced considerably.

Maverick isn't an anticipationist. Even in the reconversion of small business, which is his cause now, he believes in proceeding with caution until Germany, at least, is beaten.

He is working primarily now to see that little business contributes its share to winning the war and sets its share of the war contracts. In the capital area, he is keeping an eye on small plants.

The arrangement of sub-contracts, loans for expansion or new equipment, obtaining priorities and solving labor problems are just a few of the services that SWPC is trying to give small business. Maverick is convinced that the biggest service of all, however, will be seeing that the little man isn't squeezed out in the program for reconversion.

cross the Rapido river in the Liri valley with assault boats before dawn.

Bridges were quickly placed across despite the swift current of the Rapido, while the assault force drove back enemy outposts.

An official Allied report declared these troops "are forming the first bridgehead in close contact with the foremost defenses of the Gustav line in this sector. The buildup in this initial bridgehead is proceeding against stiff opposition.

The bridgehead was exposed to enfilade fire from enemy artillery concealed in numerous gullies and small valleys opening into the sides of the Liri valley.

The Germans also were employing great numbers of tanks, mortars and self-propelled guns in that area.

To the north of the American sector, the Fifth army's French troops in some of the day's bloodiest, close-quarter combat captured the 2,550-foot crest of Monte Faito and then moved onto the neighboring heights. The summit was a mile and a half ahead of the starting point of the offensive. After taking the mountain the French repulsed a very heavy enemy counter-attack.

"You have placed the enemy in his present distressing position of trying hopelessly to hold back the Allied forces, which he knows will eventually over-run him from two directions."

The Kiwanis Club had nearly 100 per cent attendance at the weekly supper session at the Proctor hotel last night with Dr. J. M. Barrett, vice-president of the club, presiding like a veteran for President Dick Bundy, who was out of the city.

Dr. Robert F. Boyd presented Rev. F. Hubert Morris, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, New Bern, an interesting and eloquent speaker, whose message was appropriate to "Mothers' Day."

Carl Reid was given a hand for making a valiant effort to be present. Major James H. Moye, U. S. Army, here on furlough, was a special guest.

Miss Josephine Gibson sang two songs with Mrs. Ray Tyson as accompanist.

Judge Dink James announced that Mrs. Robert Humber, who was in France when the Germans invaded that country, will be the speaker at the next meeting.

Ed (Little Lamb) Raul made a report on the recent meeting of the directors with Herman Duncan at Atlantic Beach and omitted part of the "proceedings."

The club unanimously endorsed Sam Bundy of Tarboro as a candidate for governor of the Carolinas. Kiwanis district in recognition of his outstanding work for the Greenville club while he was lieutenant governor.

THE WAR TODAY

Germany and Japan.

We have sworn that Nazism and Prussian militarism shall be utterly destroyed in Germany, and that militarism shall be pulled up by the roots in Japan. We've sworn that the territories stolen by both countries shall be returned to their rightful owners. We've sworn to render both Germany and Japan utterly impotent militarily. We've sworn to punish war guilt.

How, say you, could we achieve all this unless unconditional surrender were exacted—unless we dictated the terms? Obviously it would be impossible. Thousands of our boys who already have made the great sacrifice, and other thousands who at this moment are girding themselves for the bloody beaches of D-day, would have fought for a will-o'-the-wisp.

Still, while the Allies propose to purge Germany and Japan (and the rest of 'em so far as they deserve), we have no intention of reverting to barbarism to do it. It's the Allied purpose to help the defeated nations to become useful citizens in a decent world.

War Production Threatened By Drive To Unionize Management

● The drive of union leaders to unionize management, beginning with foreman, is a threat to the war production effort.

● It is a long step toward putting industrial management in the hands of union leaders.

● What kind of collective bargaining is it when union leaders sit on both sides of the table?

● It raises an issue which Congress must clarify by amending the necessary laws, including the War Labor Disputes Act.

● Unless Congress acts, this crisis will further obstruct an all-out war production effort.

The Automotive Council for War Production, representing 550 established companies employing 1,200,000 workers and delivering 20% of the nation's war production, has authorized its president, Alvan Macauley, to make the following public statement and send it to the President, other government officials, and all members of Congress:

At this most critical moment in history on the eve of the great invasion of Europe which may settle the issue of human freedom for years to come, the public is entitled to know of a situation which threatens the success of that great effort.

The council has given careful consideration to the adverse effect on war production of the strike of foremen in the twelve plants of major war producers in the Detroit area and the still greater threat inherent in the organized drive to unionize management, beginning with foremen.

This is a long step toward putting industrial management in the hands of union leaders.

Successful business undertakings and great achievements depend on an organization responsive to the decision of those in charge. The commanding officers of production, like those of the army, must have their Captains and Lieutenants, their Sergeants and Corporals. Foremen, supervisors and managers are officers in the production army.

The division of their obligations and responsibilities between management and any outside organization will be just as disastrous to our war production front as outside organization of the army's officers to bargain and debate with their superiors would be at the battlefield. "No man can serve two masters."

The issue now is:

Can union leaders unionize management and take over control of war production?

Are their organizing drives for this purpose to be allowed to interfere with efficiency and effectiveness of this production? Will they be allowed to disrupt American mass-production industry, one of the greatest assets of our country in both war and peace, by using it to experiment with a new and untried form of union-controlled management?

What kind of collective bargaining is it when union leaders sit on both sides of the table?

If management is to be unionized, where is union control to stop?

This issue results directly from the fact that the federal laws and their administration are vague and confused in respect to the status of management.

In the interest of the war effort, we urge Congress to make it clear that it does not intend to permit labor leaders to take over the management of our war production plants. This can and should be done immediately by clarifying and amending the necessary laws, particularly the War Labor Disputes Act.

The automotive industry is not only producing a large part of our national armament output, but is also the largest manufacturing industry in peacetime; thus the nation is relying upon its prompt reconversion to provide jobs after victory.

The council was created by the industry immediately after Pearl Harbor to expedite in every possible way the industry's war production efforts. This included exchange of production equipment, knowledge of production methods, and efficient use of scarce materials and manpower. This industry has done an outstanding war production job.

The council has never intervened in the collective bargaining problems of employer-employee relations and there is no intention to depart from this practice.

Unless Congress Acts, This Crisis Will Further Obstruct
An All-Out War Production Effort

Dies Withdraws
His Candidacy
Beaumont, Tex., May 12-(AP)-Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) today announced his withdrawal as a candidate for reelection to Congress.
Dies' announcement was made in a telegram to the Beaumont Journal.

He said he would not ask renomination because of ill health and a desire to return to private business.
Dies, a member of Congress for the last 14 years, is chairman of the House committee on Un-American activities.

PREPARED FOR THE INVASION

American Army Best
Equipped in History of War

By DON WHITEHEAD
London, May 12-(AP)-The troops which America will send in today to the invasion of Europe form "the best equipped army that ever existed," according to Brig. Gen. Henry Benton Sawyer, General Eisenhower's chief ordnance officer.
"We're all set," said Sawyer, whose responsibility it has been to build up the vast stocks of guns, tanks, ammunition, trucks and spare parts for the smash across the channel. "We've got more tons of war, gear, and spare parts than any armed force ever had before."

The vast supplies are stored in warehouses, in bomb-scarred buildings, in great piles along England's winding roads.
"We hope and believe that we have over-estimated our needs," said Sawyer, whose home is in Washington, D. C., "but the people at home should know that, if we have under-estimated those needs, then our reserves will be wiped out here and the real reserve will be on the production line at home."
The 50-year-old one-star general has been working in the background for months preparing for the European invasion. His name isn't widely known at home, but his responsibility in the great invasion will be tremendous.
Sawyer, a native of Huntington, Ind., was a graduate in West Point's class of 1915 which produced General Eisenhower, Lieut. General Omar Bradley and Lieut. General Joseph T. McNarney. He was an artilleryman in the first World War but has been in ordnance since 1921.
He helped mount the North African invasion.
"We are much better prepared than we were then," the general said. "We went in 'cold' then, but now we have teamwork and we are able to do our work with a surprisingly small number of men because each man knows his job."

One of the most important of Sawyer's responsibilities is an organization which can supply, maintain and repair ordnance in the field - particularly in combat areas.

Stalin Advocate
Of Free Worship

Chicago, May 12-(AP)-Marshal Joseph Stalin of Russia was quoted today by the Rev. Stalialis Orlemanski, Springfield, Mass., priest, just returned from Russia, as declaring he is "an advocate of the freedom of conscience and that of worship."
The Soviet marshal also was quoted as asserting he believed cooperation with Pope Pius XII was possible "in the matter of struggle against coercion and persecution of the Catholic church."

German Planes
Attack Convoy

Algiers, May 12-(AP)-British and French fighter pilots knocked down five German planes and damaged others in a force attacking an Allied convoy in the western Mediterranean, coastal air force headquarters said today, without disclosing whether the convoy suffered damage.
Berlin said Nazi planes sank a destroyer and seven freighters, totaling about 50,000 tons, in an attack last night upon a convoy in the western Mediterranean. It said a cruiser of the Dido class, a British ship of 5,450 tons, and three destroyers were hit and put out of action, and that heavy damage was done to 12 transports, freighters and a 9,000-ton tanker.

Out of each dollar of operating revenue received by the railroads in 1942, 16.1 cents went for taxes, compared to 4.6 cents in 1918.

All the occupants of the rear part of the plane were saved, but the lot was burned to death.

Axis Plane Loses
London, May 12-(AP)-About 26,000 German and Italian planes have been shot down in air combat since the beginning of the war by Allied air forces, not counting those destroyed on the Russian front, Sir Archibald Sinclair, secretary of state for air, told Commons today.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.
Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with oil of time tested medicines for cough. It contains no narcotics.
No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
