GERMANS UNABLE TO HALT YANKS

New Russian Onslaughts Crumbling Nazi Defenses

Reds Press Onward
Exploiting Five
Routes To Czechoslovakia; Threaten To Strangle German
Communications Between Krakow And Warsaw

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Moscow, Aug. 8.—(AP)—A new eruption of Red army attacks which captured more than 60 communities beyond the enemy's broken Vistula river defenses threatened today to strangle German communications between Krakow and Warsaw in the heart of Poland.

Striking out afresh yesterday from the Vistula bridgehead, Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian army reached points 30 miles west of the river, Soviet field dispatches said.

Thrusting beyond newly-occupied Szydlow, the Russians directly menaced Kielce, astride highway and rail arteries 25 miles to the north-west. The direction of the drive raised the possibility the Red army troops might outflank Krakow on the north.

Last reports placed Soviet spearheads within 37 miles of Krakow, last big Nazi bastion before German Silesia, now 75 to 90 miles away.

Moscow's guns sounded last night for twin victories—the fall of the oil center of Borovsk in the Carpathians, and the capture of Sambor, communications hub whose fall gave the Russians a grip on five routes leading into nearby Czechoslovakia.

(Information available in London indicated that through capture of Borovsk the Russians had regained some 2,000 Gallien oil wells which had been feeding the Nazi war machine. The Germans thus were left only the Ploesti fields in Romania, which have been repeatedly bombed by Allied airmen.)

Far to the north three powerful Soviet armies began a pincer movement on German East Prussia along a 200-mile front. One of these—Gen. Ivan C. Bagration's First Baltic army—bent back sagging German defenses in Lithuania in twin drives toward Memel and Tilsit, key East Prussian cities. His troops captured 50 towns and villages, including Saukenai, 71 miles east of the Baltic port of Memel.

Bagration's troops, who last week plunged to the Baltic coast below Riga, advanced as much as 20 miles yesterday in this new surge toward the sea.

To the south the capture of 40 communities, including Andruski, put other Red army troops 53 miles east-northeast of Tilsit.

The latest Soviet communiqué made no mention of the sector just opposite the East Prussian border where Gen. Ivan D. Cherniakhov's Third White Russian army has been meeting strong resistance.

No New Cases Of Polio Reported

No new case of polio has been reported in this county, Dr. N. T. Ennett, county health officer, stated this afternoon. Only one case has occurred here, a boy nine years old, which developed last Friday.

Department of Health, advises that children under 16 remain away from public gathering places as a precautionary measure.

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

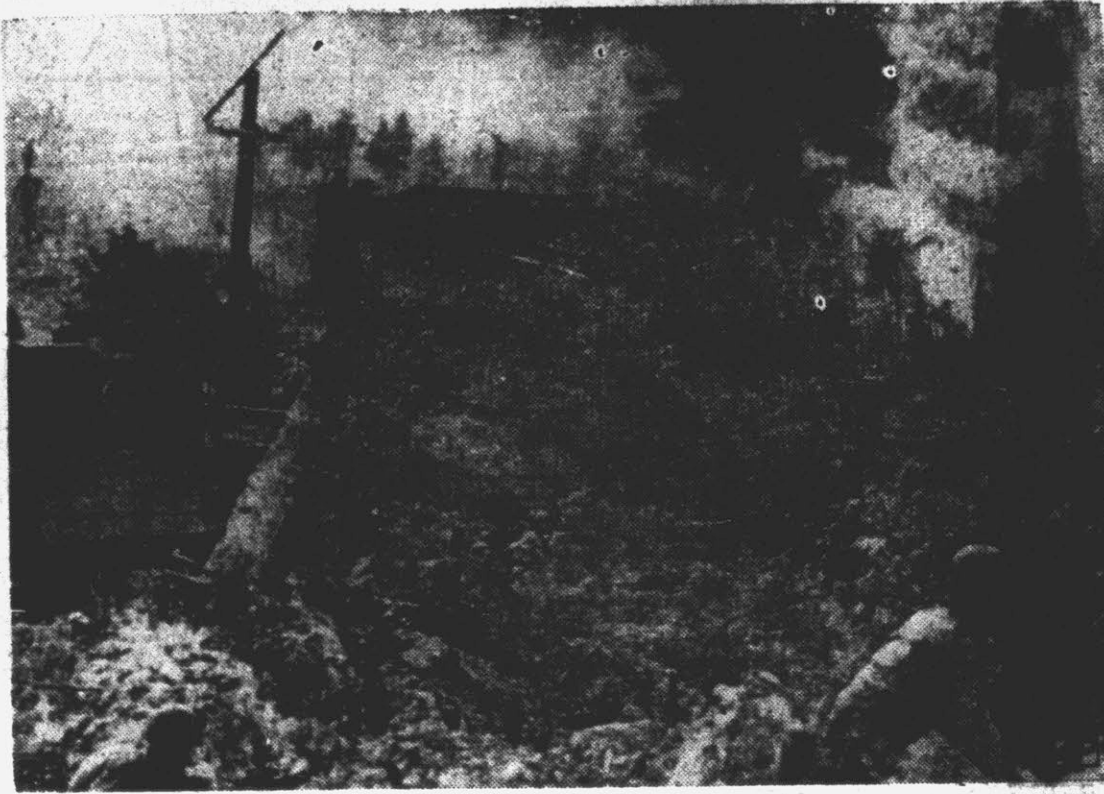

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
With Hitler bent on a finish fight—if he can force his armies and homefront to support him—the question naturally arises as to where he intends to make his stands against the Allied drives in the western and eastern theaters.

First we must note that his general strategy provides for delaying action while he retires as gradually as possible to his inner fortress that is, to the borders of the Reich itself. This strategy will persist, although some emergencies will have to be met.

For instance, the Germans predict an invasion of southern France through the Rhone valley. Should that eventuate—and it certainly might—it would create a fresh crisis for Hitler, but it wouldn't alter his broad program of retirement for a last-ditch fight on his own borders.

In France the Fuehrer is swinging his front in the invasion zone back to the northeast, using the bloody Caen sector as his pivot. A dispatch from Spain says he even has abandoned his Atlantic defenses.

"Dood-It" Does It Near Ex-Airline Base

While a fire started by an artillery shell roars ahead, U. S. Marines and a tank—the "Dood-It"—move in on the old Pan-American Airways base at Semy on Guam island in the Marianas. The Yanks are pushing ahead in their reconquest of the former U. S. possession. (AP Wirephoto).

MORE STRIKES IN WAR PLANTS

Estimated 28,000 Workers Idle In U. S. And Canada

By The Associated Press
Renewal of strikes at five Detroit plants of General Motors' Chevrolet gear and axle division, after a one-day resumption, and a work stoppage at two plants of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation increased to approximately 28,000 the number of workers idle today in the United States and Canada.

An estimated 3,500 workers on the day shift at the Chevrolet plants stayed away in protest against the discharge of seven workers involved in the original strike. When workers returned to their jobs yesterday, the seven men were refused admittance, union leaders said, and a strike meeting was called. Some 7,000 were affected by the original work stoppage.

Early Leaf Sales Indicate Average Price Of 43 To 44 Cents

Florence, S. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Sales on the North Carolina-South Carolina flue-cured tobacco market today opened with indications that the average price would be around the 43-1/2 cents ceiling price set by the OPA.

First reports said growers appeared to be pleased with their returns. At Lumberton, N. C., 500,000 pounds were offered. The first few rows sold averaged 48 cents, and none except green tobacco sold for less than 40 cents. Sales Supervisor J. C. Hutton said the day's average would be approximately the 43-1/2 cent ceiling. The quality of offerings, he said, was far better than a year ago.

Kingstree reported farmers well pleased. The first row sold averaged 44-1/2 cents. At Tabor City, N. C., the first row brought from 41 to 47 cents and averaged 45 cents.

A half million pounds were on the floors at Whiteville, N. C. The average of first sales was 43.30, or slightly below the ceiling, but some tobacco brought as much as 45 cents. The quality was good.

Rome, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The roof of a British army workshop near Rome caved in during a heavy rain yesterday and killed 19 persons. Four were British troops. Others possibly were trapped and 26 were injured.

Senate Divided On Reconversion

Washington, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Senate split over reconversion legislation appeared to be widening today with the disclosure that Senator George (D-Ga.) has drafted a complete demobilization measure.

It is to be offered as a substitute not only for his original measure—which dealt only with unemployment compensation—but for the Murray-Kilgore bill embracing reconversion procedures and an organized labor supported program of federal unemployment benefits.

Republican senators discussed a tentative draft of the expanded George bill in an executive conference this morning, and Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said afterward he believed the new bill represented "the views of most of those present."

It would set up an office of war demobilization and reconversion whose director would coordinate post-war planning and policies. It would eliminate industry and regional advisory boards proposed by the bill sponsored by Senators Kilgore and Murray and eliminate the Murray-Kilgore proposal to increase mustering out pay and unemployment benefits for returning war veterans.

AIRMEN POUND GROUND DRIVE

Bombers Pound Nazis Below Caen. Other Targets Hit

London, Aug. 8.—(AP)—A thousand American heavy bombers struck a second tremendous blow at the hinge in German lines below Caen and ranged widely over France attacking air fields and flying bomb installations.

An estimated 1,000 tons of bombs were cast on German lines before the advancing Canadian First army in the same area pulverized last night by 1,000 British heavy bombers which dropped about 6,700 tons. About 600 Flying Fortresses and Liberators participated in this action.

Some 400 others beat up six miles northwest of Paris, and at Le Pertre, northwest of Romilly. They also bombed the platforms from which robot bombs are hurled. (Continued on page four)

Grand Jury Will Probe Philadelphia Strikes

Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Philadelphia looked to FBI agents and a federal grand jury today for possible sensational disclosures in a paralyzing, six-day transit strike that developed with flashing suddenness and without apparent organized leadership, inspiring a union charges of "company collusion" and "sinister enemy activity."

"We are going after the big fish," a federal spokesman said as the FBI massed data and the grand jury prepared to convene tomorrow to hear at least 35 persons, including strikers, Philadelphia Transportation Company officials, officers of the CIO Transport Workers union and government war agency officials.

"I would think the inquiry will last at least a week, longer if necessary," said Henry A. Schwelb, a special assistant to Attorney General Biddle, sent here to direct the probe.

The workers were x x x pushed out on a checker board as pawns in a sinister game," said the CIO Transport Workers union.

The strike, a protest against the upgrading of eight negroes to drivers jobs under a Fair Employment Practice Committee directive began early last Tuesday morning without apparent warning and was crushed completely yesterday after the army seized the lines by order of President Roosevelt. Armed troops continued to ride every moving bus, trolley, subway and subway-elevated train today.

NEW OUTBREAK AGAINST NAZIS IS REPORTED

Captured German Officer Says Himmler Dead And Goering Wounded; Eight Army Officers Hanged Today For Part In Plot Against Hitler

By ROGER D. GREENE
On the British front in France, Aug. 8.—(AP)—A newly captured German intelligence officer asserted today that Heinrich Himmler, German Gestapo and SS chief, has been assassinated and that Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering was wounded in a new outbreak against the Nazi hierarchy.

(There was no confirmation of this report. The officer's report was based on second-hand information and therefore is subject to reservation. In this connection, the British radio said today a German lieutenant taken prisoner in France related he had given a "pep talk" to his troops and "for want of other good news" had told them that Himmler was dead.)

Nine other captives, all Austrians, declared they could corroborate the assertion of the intelligence officer. We heard that (Marshal) Erwin Rommel was wounded in the head by bomb fragments on the Normandy front, but was recovering," one of the Austrians said. "The best news came Sunday when we heard that Himmler had been killed and that Goering was wounded in the attack on Himmler."

The British first heard the story of the alleged assassination from the Austrians. I asked a German intelligence officer who had been kept apart from the Austrians: "No, Himmler is dead," the Nazi intelligence officer asserted. "He was assassinated. I heard it at my headquarters Sunday. All our officers are talking about it."

London, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Field Marshal Erwin von Witzleben and several other German army officers were hanged today, Berlin announced, after a trial in which they confessed plotting to kill Hitler and surrender Germany to the Allies.

This brought to 16 the announced deaths of alleged conspirators in the Berlin-proclaimed plot which culminated in the July 20 bomb explosion at a Hitler headquarters.

Today's executions took place two hours after conclusion of the trial of von Witzleben and the seven others, all of whom had been expelled previously from the army.

DSM Awarded To Nine Generals

Washington, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The army awarded the distinguished service medal today to nine generals for outstanding leadership in Italy and Normandy.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley of McBerly, Mo., senior commander of American ground forces in the invasion, headed the list, receiving an oak leaf cluster in place of a second DSM for training the First army directing its assault on Normandy, and carrying out the campaign to capture Cherbourg.

An oak leaf cluster, representing second award of the DSM, also was given to Maj. Gen. Lawton Collins, a native of New Orleans, commanding general of the seventh corps in Normandy.

The DSM was awarded to Maj. Gen. Raymond O. Barton, Jacksonville, Fla., commanding general of the fourth division in the invasion, and Maj. Gen. John W. O'Daniel, Atlanta, Ga., commander of the third division at Anzio.

Son Of General McNair Is Killed

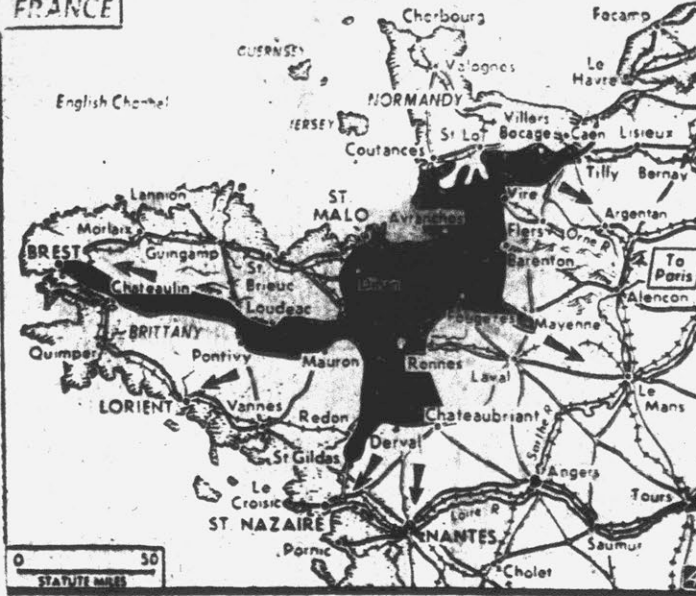

Washington, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The War Department has announced the death on Guam of Col. Douglas McNair, 37-year-old son of the late Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair whose death in Normandy by a prematurely released bomb from an American plane was disclosed July 27.

No details of the younger McNair's death were made public in the War Department announcement yesterday.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Freda McNair, their infant daughter, Bonny Clare, of Santa Barbara, Calif., and his mother, Mrs. Lesley J. McNair, of Washington.

Two Pronged Drive Toward Paris Surging Ahead Today

Allies Speeding French Gains

The black area is territory captured by the Allies in the past week of fighting in France, including a U. S. thrust into the great port of Brest with the aid of a 75-mile advance in one day. Other units reached the Loire river in the St. Nazaire-Nantes area, sealing off the peninsula at its base. In a wheeling movement toward Paris, American forces yesterday smashed a mighty German counterattack, destroyed 135 Nazi tanks and entered Le Mans (arrow, lower right) important rail center 110 miles from Paris. On the eastern end of the line Canadians broke through main German defenses below Caen less than 115 miles from Paris. (AP Wirephoto).

Jap Position Becoming More Precarious Daily

Americans Carrying War Ever Closer To Jap Shores

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Aug. 8.—(AP)—American marines and soldiers of Guam have compressed several thousand squirming Japanese into the northern end of the island, bringing complete reconquest of the former U. S. naval base very near today.

Other bad tidings for the enemy: Apparent neutralization of Yap Island, once-mighty Japanese air base in the Carolines 600 miles southwest of Guam.

Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Is there a rush of workers from war plants now because of a "psychological x x x" that the end of the war is near, at hand?

War Mobilizer Byrnes says so. So does Paul McNutt, boss of the War Manpower Commission. McNutt says:

"Too many workers are leaving war jobs in search of civilian employment."

And Byrnes has given McNutt the most drastic controls over labor in the history of the country: power enough to force an employer to lay off men who WMC says are needed elsewhere.

But McNutt's own office says it doesn't have any figures showing there is any general rush from war jobs to civilian jobs.

The government's Bureau of Labor statistics, which is supposed to know the number of workers quitting or being laid off war jobs, hasn't any figures later than last May.

And the Office of Labor production within the War Production Board has no figures to show an

Yesterdays Counterattacks Smashed With Heavy Nazi Losses; Canadians And Americans At Opposite Ends Of Allied Line Within 100 Miles Of Paris

By GLADWIN HILL
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Allied troops advancing in two powerful surges at the wings of a 130-mile front drove today to within a little more than 100 miles of Paris, and the Germans desperately rushed in forces from southern France.

Canadian troops hammered four miles into the main enemy line below Caen, and Americans on the southern flank struck toward Le Mans, only 110 miles from the French capital. Advance elements already were reported in Le Mans, a road-and-rail hub.

The doughboy drive left behind to the northwest the wreckage of the Germans' abortive but still-writhing counterattack in the Mortain area.

The exact sector where the Allies were little more than 100 miles from Paris was not specified. A report that Allied forces had definitely passed the 100-mile mark circulated late today, but proved erroneous.

At the northern end of the Allied front, the Germans' stout Caen hinge, loosened by an unprecedented 1,000-plane bombardment last night, was battered again in daylight by 600 U. S. heavy bombers.

Canadian-British troops stormed over the Caen river in a four-mile advance. They punched through a once-impenetrable anti-tank screen, seizing strongpoint villages by the dozen.

On the Breton peninsula, U. S. troops battled against stubborn resistance for the northern port of St. Malo, fought on the outskirts of Brest, and threw a concentrated attack against Lorient.

(Berlin radio acknowledged the American breakthrough into St. Malo at one point.)

The Germans rushed in reinforcements against the rising Allied threat to Paris. It was the 26th anniversary of their "blackest day" of World War one when the German high command decided the war was lost.

Their counterattack in the center of the Allied line has been halted and thrown back, with planes alone knocking out 163 enemy tanks.

Gathemo, between Mortain and Vire, was among towns taken by the Allies.

Japanese Troops Occupy Hengyang

London, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Tokyo radio asserted today that Japanese troops had completely occupied Hengyang, strategic Hunan province city on the Canton-Hankow railway which has been under siege for weeks.

The claim was not immediately confirmed by Chinese authorities. On the contrary, a communiqué from Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said American and Chinese airmen yesterday dropped large quantities of ammunition to the Chinese garrison in Hengyang and bombed attacking Japanese forces.

There is any lag in ship production from war plants to civilian jobs.

Those are the three agencies of government which, above all others, are supposed to have the latest and most authentic figures on manpower trends.

The Byrnes-McNutt statements came as army leaders stressed the need for continued production and the need for thousands of men in making war tools like trucks, heavy tanks, tanks, heavy ammunition, and for work in foundries and shipyards.

The correctness of the military demands in those fields has been unchallenged but an official of the Office of Labor Production within the WPA says:

Lions Hear Report Of Chicago Meeting

President O. E. Dowd, who attended the recent international convention of Lions clubs in Chicago, made an interesting report at the Lions Club's weekly supper meeting last night. During the past year 268 new clubs were organized and 21,500 new members were received. At the convention it was reported that Lions clubs throughout the nation had participated in 69,032 activities and completed them, Dowd stated. Many of these activities were in connection with the war effort. The personnel of Lions clubs is thoroughly representative in the various communities, and the objectives for the coming year concern almost every phase of life.

Forrest Riddick won the attendance prize, provided by Godfrey Oakley, Carl Cahoon and Bill Brown will have charge of the program at the next meeting.

The Lions club and Rotary, Kiwanis and other local groups will join in a supper meeting at the armory Thursday night at 7 o'clock to make plans for increasing the membership in the local company of the State Guard. High officers of the State Guard and the U. S. army will attend the meeting.

Rulings Include Double Office Hold- ing, Gift Taxes And Politics

Raleigh, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Though activities of state, county, or municipal employees in political campaigns or elections are not prohibited or restricted by state statute, some of such employees may be paid in part from federal funds and may be subject to the federal law known as the "Hatch Act," the attorney general's office ruled today in a digest of opinions.

In other opinions, the office ruled: Under the laws of North Carolina an estate by the entirety or a joint tenancy in a bank account is not recognized. However, it is possible for two persons by express agreement to deposit money in a joint bank account with provisions that upon the death of either, the whole account shall be paid to the survivor.

Gifts to a taxpayer's sister in excess of $1,000 are subject to gift taxes. The gift tax law exempts such gifts only when not in excess of $1,000 in any one calendar year, and the exemption in the tax law of gifts for charitable purposes does not apply to gifts to an individual for his own personal use. To be exempt as a gift for charitable purposes, the gift must be for the use of the public or a portion of its as distinct from individuals.

When an individual sustains injuries from a fall in a county-owned agricultural building, the county is not liable for the injuries so sustained nor does it have authority to make contributions toward compensating the individual for hospital expenses incurred or for loss of time.

The North Carolina statutes make provisions for a thirteenth or alternate juror who is to sit with the regular jury during the trial and upon the sickness, disqualification or discharge of juror, the thirteenth or alternate juror becomes one of the jury and serves in all respects as though selected as an original juror. This statute has been held constitutional by the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

Since the law requires the clear net proceeds of all fines and forfeitures to be turned over to the county school fund, the clerk of Superior court has no authority to deduct a commission before turning over such fines and forfeitures to the school funds.

Being chairman of a draft board does not constitute the holding of an office within the meaning of the term "office" as used in the provisions of the North Carolina constitution prohibiting double office holding. Being a member of a county-city board of health does not constitute the holding of an office. Being a member of the board of directors of the North Carolina Railroad does not constitute the holding of an office. Therefore, since only one of the above positions is an office, one person may hold all three.

The positions of town clerk and treasurer and member of the General Assembly are both offices within the meaning of the provisions of the North Carolina constitution prohibiting double office holding; therefore, one person may not hold both positions. When taxicabs are operated within a municipality, they are subject to regulation by the municipality even though their office is located outside the municipality. This authority is granted by an act of the General Assembly of 1943. The North Carolina statute which prohibits the sale of beer between 11:30 p. m. and 7:30 a. m., also prohibits the sale of ale between those hours.

When a person obtains an "on premises" license to sell beer, he is authorized thereby to sell beer for consumption off the premises. The "on premises" license includes the "off premises" license.

College Library Makes Progress

The library of East Carolina Teachers' College has more than doubled in size in the last nine years. It now contains over 49,000 volumes, in addition to much pamphlet and other unbound material, according to the July 1 report of Librarian Wendell W. Smiley.

In 1935 there were fewer than 18,000 volumes in the library. Careful attention has been given to the needs of the whole college in the selection of the many books added. The number of bound volumes of magazines has been greatly increased; it has now reached 4,500. In 1935 the library was receiving 98 current magazines. It now receives 282, an increase of almost two hundred percent.

The average annual increase in the book collection in the twenty-five years before 1935 was about one thousand volumes each year. For the past nine years the average number of volumes added to the library each year has been 3,470. During the year just closed 4,263 volumes were added.

According to figures just released by Mr. Smiley, the library loaned to students and faculty 33,321 books for use outside the library and 39,313 reserve books for use in the building during the past year.

A regular news bulletin concerning materials added to the library and a list of books added each month have been distributed to the faculty. Fluorescent lighting was installed in the reading rooms during the past year.

Since 1935 the library staff has been increased from two professional librarians and five student assistants to three professional librarians and twelve student assistants.

Pitt Countians At Sea Thank Grifton

By CHESTER WALSH
"This is a very small world after all," Cashier R. C. Smith of the First Citizens' Bank and Trust Company's branch at Grifton, said in the Reflector office yesterday. "Our bank at Grifton ordered a quantity of cigarettes sent to men in the armed forces overseas several months ago. It was singularly interesting that we had a card from one of our depositors, Mac E. East, of Grifton, thanking us for the cigarettes were handed out to the men on an American ship in mid-Atlantic. We received a nice letter from Major Harry Hagerty of Greenville, who also received some of the Grifton cigarettes on the same ship," the bank cashier stated.

Incidentally, Grifton gets in the news in a favorable way quite frequently—on the purchase of war bonds and outstanding service in war activities and for growing some of the best tobacco in the state. Grifton, with a population of 450 and as prosperous and enterprising as any town in eastern Carolina, has the distinction of being in two counties, Lenoir and Pitt, and in three townships, Contentnea Neck in Lenoir and Ayden and Swift Creek in Pitt, county. Not so long ago, there was a mortgage burning at Grifton when the congregation of the Grifton Christian church became free of debt and celebrated the event with special services at the church, with a recitation of the town's history and afterwards having more than 1,000 persons as guests at a barbecue dinner at the community building.

Smaller Cotton Crop Is Forecast

Washington, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast this year's cotton crop at 11,022,000 equivalent 500-pound bales. The crop is growing on about 1,800,000 acres less than last year, when production was 11,428,151 bales and on about 2,600,000 acres less than two years ago when the crop totaled 12,819,506 bales. Area for harvest this year is placed at 20,484,000 acres. Average production in the ten years, 1933-42, totaled 12,455,000 bales.

The condition of the crop on August 1 was 75 per cent of a normal, compared with 79 a year ago, and on August 1 average of 74 in the ten years, 1933-42. The indicated acre yield, based on August 1 conditions, is placed at 26.5 pounds compared with 25.5 pounds last year, and 22.9 pounds the ten-year average. The Census bureau announced that 87,981 running bales (counting round as half bales) of this year's growth had been ginned prior to August 1, compared with 107,653 bales for 1943, and 48,626 for 1942.

Weather Forecast
For period beginning August 8 at 8:30 p. m. eastern war time, to August 12 at 8:30 p. m.
Georgia and Carolinas—Slowly rising temperatures in North Carolina throughout period with little trend elsewhere. Averaging near normal in all sections. Precipitation light in connection with widely scattered afternoon thundershowers during latter part of period, except moderate to heavy extreme southern Georgia, occurring mostly in afternoon thundershowers throughout period.

Strength FOR THE DAY
By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WE ARE GUIDED IN TROUBLE
One of the hardest things for people to become reconciled to is the suffering of the righteous. Very often it seems that the wicked go through life holding their heads high, enjoying good fortune, prosperity, sound health, and the absence of any grievous trouble, while those who serve God best seem to suffer most. Why does God permit this?

No answer, of course, can be given to such questioning except to say that the Bible nowhere promises that the righteous will be kept out of trouble, but it does promise that they will be kept through trouble. They will be sustained and guided as they experience it.

The great difference between the righteous and the unrighteous, between those who have religious faith and those who have none, is that the former have a consolation amid their troubles while the latter do not. The righteous may be at a loss to know why they are afflicted, but they do know that there is a just and righteous God in heaven and that everything is either according to His will or else must be "as it be made to serve His will."

Abraham Lincoln, who bore heavy burdens and had a great religious faith, wrote this on one occasion: "I have felt His hand upon me in great trials, have submitted to His guidance, and I trust that as He shall further open the way, I will be ready to walk therein, relying on His help and trusting in His goodness and wisdom."

That is what it means to be kept out of trouble, but through it. All Rights Reserved.

AMERICA IN WARTIME
By JACK STINNETT

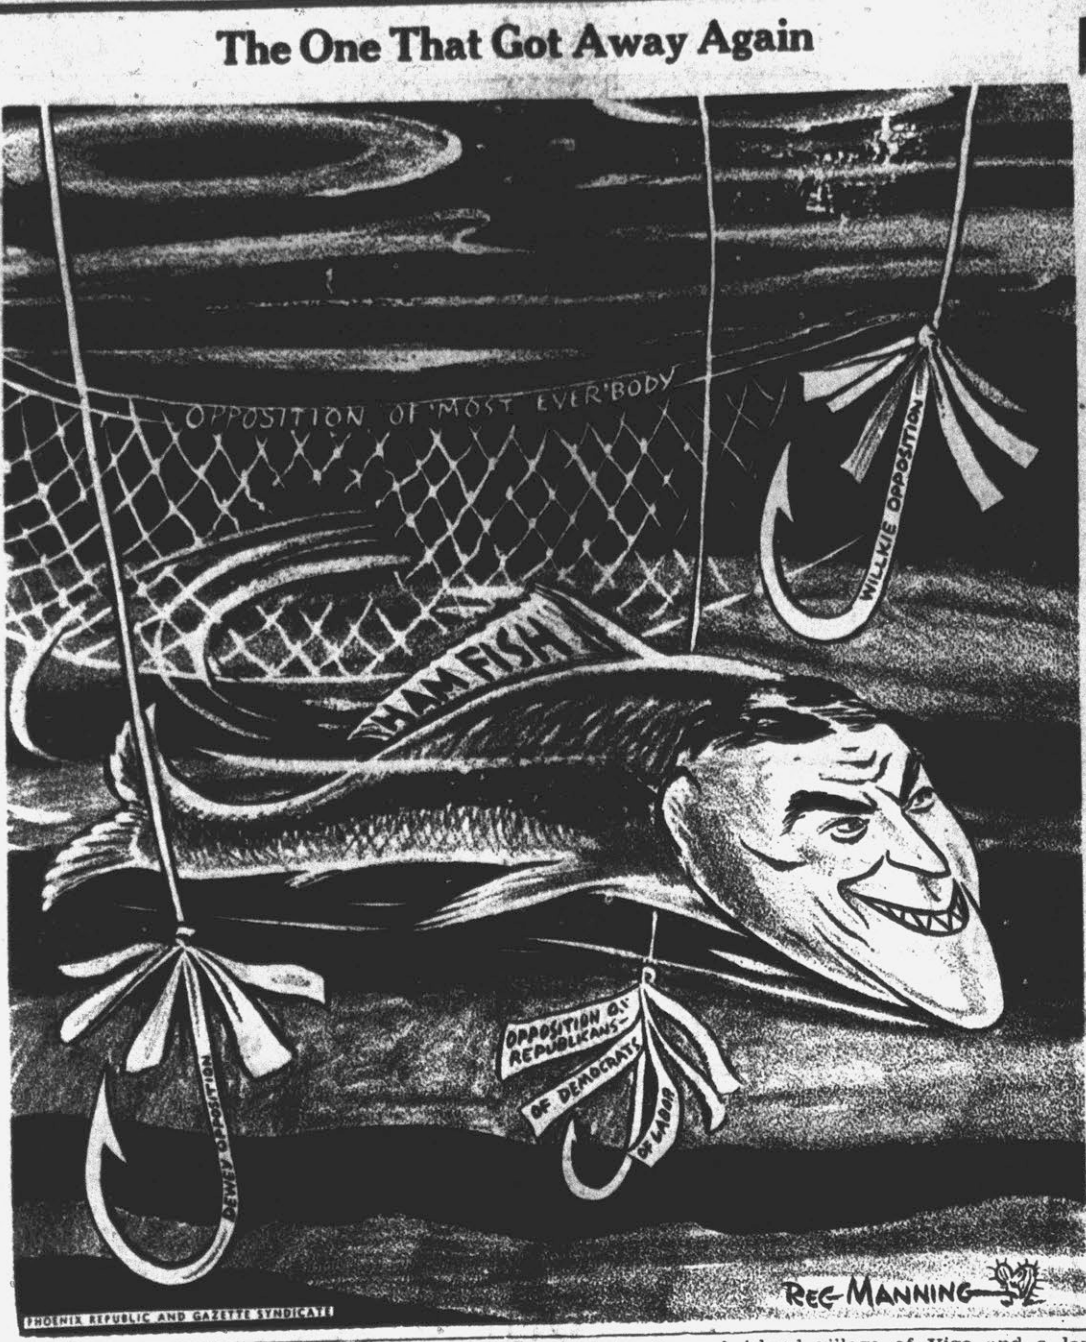

Washington—Add Washington's oldest jobs: The "lamps" in the Pentagon building, a slightly varying staff of 18 or so, whose sole responsibility is to see that the lights keep burning. Day and night, they pump along the corridors of the Pentagon, carrying ladders, a long pole and a vacuum up on the roof to change bulbs, and a packet of new bulbs to replace those burned out. Last year, they replaced about 260,000 burned out bulbs. Cost for new bulbs alone: About $88,000.

Now that President Roosevelt is on his way toward campaigning for a fourth term, the old rumor is about that he's going to change his cabinet considerably. Latest story is that all of the cabinet members are being asked to have their resignations on his desk before election day, so speculation over new faces and new blood can offset the Republican argument that if F. D. R. is reelected the "tired old men" (and Secretary of Labor Madame Perkins) will carry on. Truth of the matter is that it's always customary for cabinet members to resign when a President ends one term and begins another. Few two-term presidents can point to so few cabinet changes as President Roosevelt has made in three and most of those were dictated by promotions (such as to the Supreme Court, vice presidency). Best guess now is that Mr. Roosevelt would make few changes. Best bets for change: Agriculture and Labor.

Capital society is getting a snicker out of the report that Hans Thomsen, once German ambassador to the United States, now ambassador to Sweden, and his attractive wife are virtual prisoners of the Nazis in the German embassy in Stockholm.

Although Herr Thomsen was a very astute propagandist for the Nazis here before Pearl Harbor, his Hungarian-born wife, "Bebe" Thomsen, was an outspoken, sometimes almost violent Hitler-hater. At least verbally. Friends and sympathizers fell for that hard and rumored a divorce when Herr Hans was interned at White Sulphur Springs. But Frau Thomsen sailed safely off on the exchange ship with her husband. In Berlin Hitler decorated him for a job well done and "Hitler-hating" Bebe was given at least half the spotlight.

Their former friends are saying now that Herr Thomsen and his frau are just preparing for another collapse and playing the same old two-faced game of diplomacy.

Marion Wade Doyle, reporter for the Washington Star, set out to find the hottest government offices in the capital; ran into more rebuffs than you would get at the State Department in a week; finally reported they were:

1. Air Forces annex at Gravelly Point.
2. The reconvered greenhouse on top the south Agriculture building.
3. The top floors of a reconvered garage on 14th street.

Best answer obtained: "Why don't you tell about the coolest: the Pentagon, Interior, Treasury, Archives? Are you trying to sabotage the war effort?"

a stand behind the Maginot line and undoubtedly will do so back of his own Siegfried wall. The fact that he himself outflanked the Maginot line at the outset of the war doesn't prove that such defenses are useless. Should the Germans have to defend the Rhine valley, their ultimate course of retreat probably would be across the southwest German border in the Belfort area.

Over on the Russo-German front the Hitlerites already are making their last big stand before they're trying to hold a front protecting the "sacred" East Prussian border and thence southward along the line of the great Vistula river which runs through besieged Warsaw.

Once the Nazis are forced to abandon this line, there will be no strong natural defenses until they finally reach the big Oder river inside the boundary of the fatherland. True, they have prepared several lines of defense between the Vistula and the Reich, but these fortifications lack the natural features to give them strength.

The fighting at strategic points is fierce, and it may be the Nazis are getting some easement through possible Russian need to slow up movements in order to bring forward communications after the long, fast drive of the Red armies. However, the Muscovites have the situation well in hand. They're across the Vistula in the Cracow sector, a dangerous zone for the Hitlerites. A Red break-through below Warsaw would turn the whole German flank and force wholesale withdrawal.

Leaf Prices Slump On Georgia Markets
Valdosta, Ga., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Tobacco prices on the Georgia-Florida flue-cured markets slumped yesterday for some of the low and common grades, but fair to choice qualities remained firm.

The War Food Administration said green leaf and low quality lug and priming grades dropped from $2 to $6 per 100 pounds.

Fair to good lugs and low to fair leaf grades made up the bulk of sales, WFA said. Sales remained blocked on practically all markets.

Up to 750 Mustang, Lightning and Thunderbolt fighters escorted the American bombers.

The attack last night by the RAF Lancasters constituted their first operation in darkness in close support of ground forces.

The entire force of 1,000 American heavy bombers originally was allocated to support the Canadian and British troops below Caen, but the army command advised the air forces at the last minute that 600 would be enough to do the trick. Thus 400 were diverted quickly to other objectives.

Medium and light bombers attacked targets north and south of Paris, chiefly railroads and other transport facilities.

With air power to spare, U. S. Eighth air force bombers and fighters from Britain participated in shuttle operations over Poland and Romania, using Russian and Italian bases.

A group which flew to Russia Sunday, bombing an aircraft factory northwest of the Polish Corridor port of Gdynia, returned to the air yesterday and bombed a synthetic oil refinery 20 miles west of Krakow in Poland at Tresbina.

A Vichy broadcast heard today by the Associated Press said all factories in East Prussia had closed and that "the whole population was digging trenches against the approaching danger of the Russian army."

Two Russian armies in eastern Latvia and southern Estonia were driving westward against the Germans isolated by Bagration's plunge to the Baltic last week. the July 20 assassin, was announced as one of the witnesses. He testified, Berlin said, that the conspirators planned to establish relations with the Allies on both the east and west. He said they had no doubt that the enemy would insist on unconditional surrender "and annihilation of the German Reich and the German people."

Von Wartenburg was among those hanged, Berlin said, naming the others as von Witzleben, Maj. Gen. Erich Hoepfer, Maj. Gen. Helmut Stieff, Lt. Gen. Paul von Hase, Lt. Albrecht von Hegen, Lt. Col. Robert Bernhardt and Capt. Friedrich Karl Klausung.

An official account of yesterday's trial, broadcast by DNB, disclosed the alleged plot against Hitler had been hatching since last summer. Col. Count Helmuth von Stauffenberg, named by Berlin as the actual assassin, was declared to have brought explosives into Hitler's presence twice before July 20—but to have refrained from letting them go because Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo chief, was not with Hitler. "He was to be finished at the same time."

Three former generals and four lesser officers were tried with von Witzleben, who was quoted as testifying that he and Gen. Ludwig Beck were to have headed the military under the coup.

Beck, former chief of the German general staff, committed suicide, Berlin said, after frustration of the conspiracy. Berlin announced earlier the death of seven other accused officers—four by execution

Martha and Louise were standing near the window, their faces drawn and white, their eyes red from weeping. The doctor was bending over the crib, examining the baby. "Baby Jeanne, don't die!" Angel cried wildly. "Don't die!" She ran to the crib and knelt.

Dick Stanley, standing in the door turned abruptly away. "She's putting on an act—even now," he reflected grimly, and followed Bobby down the hall to the kitchen.

The doctor leaned over and pulled Angel gently to her feet. "Now, now," he said kindly, "take it easy, my dear. I'm doing all I can for your baby. She's going to be all right."

Angel clutched at his arm. "Don't let her die! Don't let her die!" Doctor Graham tried to draw away from her—the baby needed him—but she clung to him all the more, crying hysterically all the while. He turned to Martha and said a little stiffly:

"I think you'd better take your daughter out of the room, Mrs. Malone. This child must be kept quiet. I'll give the mother a sedative when I'm sure the baby's all right." Martha led Angel out of the room, but as they went down the hall Angel's high-pitched voice could still be heard, shouting hysterically:

"Call a specialist, Mother! Get that old fool out of here. Get the best doctor in town—no matter what it costs. Why did you have to get this stupid neighborhood doctor anyhow? Baby Jeanne must not die!"

The specialist shrugged and went on working with the baby. Here was one woman who, for some reason he couldn't quite fathom, he felt ashamed of myself now.

good old-fashioned, wallowing. Louise stayed and helped Doctor Graham until Martha came back and she was no longer needed. When she got back to the kitchen she found Dick Stanley, with one of Martha's old aprons tied around his middle, making coffee.

Dick started to hand her a cup but before she could take it her overwrought nerves snapped, and she was crying. And before she realized what was happening Dick's arms were around her and she was sobbing her heart out on his breast.

Louise tried to draw away, but he held her all the closer. "Oh, no, you won't," he whispered.

"But I will too. I—I didn't mean to do that. I—I'm not crying. Really I'm not. Baby Jeanne's better—and I'm laughing because I'm so happy."

"Okay—so you're laughing." Dick mopped the tears from her face with the tail of Martha's old apron. "But I am—really I am," she exclaimed. "I never cry—well, almost never. But you—oh, Dick, why do you always have to happen around when there's a crisis?" Oh, damn it, she was crying again!

"Where else should I be—in a crisis?" he asked softly, holding her still closer.

Baby Jeanne did not die. In an hour she was resting quite comfortably and the doctor had gone. Angel had been given a sedative and was sleeping.

Louise said unexpectedly: "You know, Dick, there've been times when I almost believed Baby Jeanne wasn't Angel's child. She was so cold and indifferent—Angel. I mean, I—I've thought some pretty terrible things about Angel—and I feel ashamed of myself now."

Dick said nothing. He too had been thinking some pretty harsh things about Angel. He had been mulling them over in his mind, and was almost sure now that the strange look on Angel's face had been fear—not grief. At first he had thought she was putting on an act. He wasn't so sure now, and he was puzzled. Of one thing, however, he was fairly certain: Baby Jeanne was not Angel's child. He didn't quite know how he had arrived at that conclusion, but he knew definitely that he had.

Says Nazis Evacuating Southwestern France

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ
 Trun, Spain, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's once-vaunted Atlantic wall for more than 100 miles from the Spanish frontier north through Bordeaux has been virtually abandoned and is manned by only a handful of over-aged German railroad troops, advices from France said today.

These Nazi fortifications have been outflanked to the north by the swift progress of American troops through Brittany and eastward towards Paris in much the same way as the Maginot line was outflanked when the Germans broke through Belgium in 1940.

With their communications seriously menaced, the Germans were said to have begun a full scale evacuation of their forces in southwestern France, leaving only a few Gestapo agents and gendarmes to cover the French-Spanish frontier.

German police at the Hendaye bridge maintained that the evacuation was a "purely temporary withdrawal," necessitated by the reassignment of border region forces following the shift of certain SS (Elite guards) units of the frontier garrison toward the Loire river.

Frenchmen living on the Spanish side of the frontier said, however, they are convinced the Nazi high command is abandoning southwestern France, and many believe they will awake some morning soon and find the last German garrisons.

Regular German army forces moved out of the region south of Bayonne over a week ago, leaving SS units behind. The SS forces in turn began leaving Sunday night.

Only French customs guards and two or three German gendarmes were on duty at the international bridge across the Bidassoa river here yesterday.

The German railroad troops left behind to guard the coast were reported loading the last of the Nazis' movable artillery aboard flat cars at Hendaye, Bayonne and Biarritz. To reach the German forces to the north these guns and other supplies will have to run the gauntlet of sabotaged rail lines.

Although most of the German forces called out of southwestern France were rushed north to Bordeaux and La Rochelle, it was reported some units marched by road across southern France toward Montpellier and the Rhone river valley.

The Germans remaining on the southwestern front apparently fear being left behind because French resistance forces already have severed Atlantic to Mediterranean communications by dynamiting railroads and highways.

As Nazi units were being evacuated northward the Maquis dynamited a railway bridge north of Bayonne Sunday night, thus cutting a direct line to Bordeaux.

Reports circulated along the frontier of possible Allied landings in the Bordeaux area and on the Mediterranean coast.

At the outbreak of the Revolutionary War, Baltimore had a population of about 7,000.

duction, it isn't due to manpower shortages but to changes in ship design.

"Sure, there is need for more men in making heavy ammunition. But the military people closed down entirely or partly more than 15 ammunition plants. Then within the past two months they decided they wanted more ammunition. Well, the workers who had been in those plants had gone elsewhere when they were shut down. Now the job is to get workers back into the plants."

The same official continued: "Why talk of workers rushing out of war plants to look for permanent civilian jobs? What civilian jobs would pay them as well as war plants? Besides, tire and truck factories would be places to stay in, not quit. Because they can swing almost immediately into peacetime work when the war ends."

"Just remember that some time back when it looked as though we were going heavily into air war ground ordnance—tanks, munitions, small arms—zoomed downward. Now they have to be started up again to full production and that takes time and manpower to re-erect."

"It's been a struggle to keep men in the foundries. That's a poor-paying industry with tough, dirty work. If a worker could leave a foundry for a better-paying war job, that's natural."

Grand Jury Will ...

to call again tomorrow. Later this morning they went to the Fair Employment Practices Committee office to report on the situation to G. James Fleming, regional director. "They don't need my encouragement," Fleming said. "All are determined to go on with their training. They are here merely to keep us informed."

"All the indications are that the government is going to take up the training again promptly, especially since the city is 27,000 workers short for all kinds of work."

"As trainees, they are getting 50 cents an hour. In their former status with the PTO they made considerably more, so every day of delay means a financial loss to them. However, we are not pressing."

"Some as operators will be earning less than they earned on their former jobs. They simply want to change to a more pleasant type of work."

Meanwhile the four strike leaders, dismissed when they appeared for work yesterday, are free on $2,500 bonds pending a hearing August 14 on charges of violating the Smith-Connally wartime anti-strike act.

The four, who pleaded innocent, are James H. McMenamin, 43, chairman of the strike committee; Vice Chairman William C. Dixey; Frank P. Carney, four times president of the company union displaced as bargaining agent by the TWU; and Frank Thompson, a frequent spokesman for McMenamin.

Helping wounded soldiers improve their vision

The women who wouldn't sit and wait

IT ISN'T EASY to say "good-by" to the family, and to friends, and to nice long week ends.

It may not be natural for a woman to salute and stand at attention and say "Yes, sir"...

But ask any Wac if she'd change places with anyone in the world—and the answer would be "No!"

For deep down inside, every Wac knows the enormous satisfaction of being truly useful at a time of critical need.

The Wac spirit is a gallant spirit. The spirit of women who would rather be in the war, than sitting and waiting for it to end.

The Wac pride is an honest pride. In a job well done. In being part of the Army of the U. S.

You really have to hand it to the women of the WAC...

For they symbolize everything that is America.

covering threatened to recover some of the recent losses in grain futures today but the news continued bearish and selling pressure was too great for much headway.
All oats and rye futures dropped at times to new seasonal lows for the second consecutive day, rallying to around the previous close at times. Wheat showed more resistance most of the session.
At the close wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 higher than yesterday's finish, September $1.54, oats were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, September 68 1/2, rye was 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, September $1.03 1/4, and barley was unchanged to 1/4 off, September $1.10.

New York Cotton
New York, Aug. 8 - (AP) - Cotton futures opened unchanged to 10 cents a bale higher.
Knot prices were 20 to 35 cents a bale lower, October 20.94, December 20.77 and March 20.55.
Short covering and trade buying in the final hour rallied prices to the best levels of the day.
Futures closed 25 to 35 cents a bale higher.

New York, Aug. 8 - (AP) - Junior stocks, mainly motors, again held the speculative play in today's market while many veteran leaders found difficulty in attracting buying attention.
Investment funds still inclined to conservatism.
Low-priced automotive issues, together with other specialties selling under $10, monopolized the ticker tape from the start as merger talk refused to down and optimism for large-scale post-war car demand operated in high gear. A number of early gains of fractions to a point were reduced or converted into losses near the close. Transfers ran to around 1,100,000 shares.

plants of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation remained away from production lines in protest, union officials said, against the transfer of workers to jobs in lower labor grades.
Some 5,000 over-the-road truckers remained on strike in St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, Mo., Des Moines and six other Iowa cities in a work stoppage which leaders of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters said was unauthorized.

In Montreal, 4,000 tramway employees still were idle as union chiefs reported negotiations had collapsed and that the workers had no alternative but to continue the strike.
At Allentown, Pa., more than 100 striking cranes of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation agreed to return to work today, returning also some 1,500 other employees made idle when the cranes walked out. Still on strike, however, were some 1,600 workers in four Pittsburgh area war plants.
Elsewhere in the nation labor disputes involving another 10,000 or more workers remained unsettled.

pounds were on sale, the first pile sold for 48 cents and the first row averaged 44 cents. The day's average was expected to be about the same.
With 600,000 pounds on the warehouse floors, Lake City reported an average of 43.02 cents for the first 64,464 pounds sold. The price ranged from 43 to 45 cents with some top divisions-mounting the fiercest counterattacks since June 6-sought to crash through the Allied corridor joining Normandy and Brittany. The town of Mortain, swept up in the assault, was recaptured by doughboys.

A front dispatch said advanced units of the U. S. offensive to the south-hitting eastward from Mayenne and Laval-had netted Le Mans, communications network forming a key to Paris.
The Canadian first army on the Allied left flank burst forward at midnight after a bomb-barrage by Roanoke. 1,000 RAF heavy bombers, and broke the first main enemy defense line south of Caen, advancing up to four miles.

Novel tactics marked the assault. The bombers flew in close ground support for the first time in darkness and Canadian artillery tracer shells spotted the targets for them just ahead of the Allied line. The Allied planes hurled down 6,700 tons of explosives and then Canadian armor rolled forward in the fire-lit blackness-the first major night attack by tanks in France and Infantrymen followed, digging out the Germans.

The Canadian push was pointed in the direction of their old hub city of Falaise, 20 miles southeast of Caen.
A furious battle was reported raging around bitterly contested Till-la-Campagne, five miles below Caen. The town long since has been demolished but remains a valuable artillery position.

Smoke from large fires rose from St. Malo and Lorient, indicating the Germans were destroying supplies and preparing to pull out. Glin-gamp and St. Briec, between St. Malo and Brest, were added to the long list of liberated Brittany towns.
The German counterattack in the Mortain area, made by four tank divisions, was smashed. The strategic picture there had shifted until now the results of counter-attacks were considered less a menace to the Allies than to the Germans.
Associated Press Correspondent Wes Gallagher reported that the Germans were a "shattered, disillusioned, defeated" force, and one incident after another illustrated this underscoring of the schism between the pursued old-line army and Hitler's special-police SS troops.

grades selling for as much as 47. The average was from one to three cents above opening day's prices last year. Farmers were reported pleased.
At Mullins the first basket sold for 45 cents and Sales Supervisor Ben Bosworth estimated the early average at 43 cents, or about three cents above the opening day's average in 1943. Some 200,000 pounds were on the floors.
It marked Mullins' 50th year as a tobacco market. A. B. Edwards, 76, who started the first sale a half century ago, started today's sale. Growers appeared to be satisfied with the prices paid.
The first sale at Timmonsville was at 48 cents, and the first two rows averaged 44. Offerings consisted mostly of lugs but some good leaf was included. Farmers were reported "more than pleased" with the prices.

Darlington reported an early average of 43 cents. About 500,000 pounds, consisting largely of good grades, were on the auction floors. A high of 46 cents was recorded. Sales were blocked.
The first 158,846 pounds sold at Fairmont, N. C. brought an average price of 44.84. About 400,000 pounds were offered. The range was from 33 to 50 cents. Producers were described as highly pleased at opening sales.

A report from Dillon said farmers were "bewildered" over the slight differential between prices for very poor and very good grades, but on the whole were pleased with their returns.
Prices ranged from 31 to 60 cents, with most sales at 42 to 45, and the average was estimated at 43.
Light sales were reported at Fair

Bluff, N. C., owing to the fact that farmers of the vicinity had not finished with their curing and grading. Prices ranged from 30 to 50 cents, and growers were said to be pleased.
The present crop was reported far superior to last year's, both in quality and quantity, by the War Food Administration. The belt's estimated production is 174,235,000 pounds. The OPA ceiling is 43-1-2 cents a pound. The OPA refused to raise it on the contention that it would increase the price of cigarettes.

STATE GUARD

High Ranking Officers To Speak At Supper Meeting Here Thursday

By CHESTER WALSH

High ranking State Guard and army officers will attend the State Guard supper meeting at the armory Thursday night at 7 o'clock, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Association, American Legion and the Lions. Kiwanis and Rotary clubs. The fellowship affair is to stress the importance of maintaining the State Guard company in Greenville and to encourage enlistments in the company as a wartime service. Mayor Bruce Sugg will preside.

Officers expected are: Gen. James W. Jenkins of Henderson, commander of the N. C. State Guard and his staff; Col. Pritchard, head of the Fourth Service Command, North Carolina district, Fort Bragg, and his staff; Col. Zeno Howell, State Guard regimental commander, of Goldsboro, and his staff; Maj. Fred Willett, commander of the Second State Guard battalion of Wilmington, and his staff, and officers of the First and Second battalions of the State Guard. Capt. Jasper L. Jones, commanding officer of the Greenville State Guard, and the officers and enlisted men of his company, will be special guests.

The State Guard companies were organized at the outbreak of the war for duty on the home front while the National Guard is at war. Companies were organized in various county seats. They are well equipped and are trained by efficient officers and by army officers to assist civil authorities in maintaining law and order. Members of the State Guard serve without pay. The company drills once a week. Many of the former members of the State Guard here won rapid promotion in the army as a result of the military training received.

The officers coming here Thursday night will explain the importance of the guard and its value to the individual communities and the State.

Tar Heel Heads
Famed Air Group

Washington, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The navy's leading carrier plane ace, 25-year-old Lt. Alexander Vreanu, is back in this country after a year of action in which he bagged 37 Japanese planes, 19 of them in the air, the others on the ground.

Under the navy's scoring system, only the 19 planes knocked out of the air are counted; the score does not embrace those on the ground. To his tally of planes, he has added another bigger victim, a 7,000-ton Japanese transport.

His biggest single day was the "Turkey shoot" over the Marianas last June 19 when he knocked down six dive bombers, part of the 350 enemy planes destroyed in a two-day engagement which marked the greatest aerial victory of the war.

Vreanu, whose home is East Chicago, Ind., came back to this country with his outfit, air group 16.

Other members of the air group 16, whose fighter squadron shot down 41 planes in the "Turkey shoot" said that major blow at the Japs made up for all the hardships the flier encountered in their stay in the Pacific.

Commander Ernest M. Snowden, 33, of 131 Cranen St., Beaufort, N. C., group commander, credited the Japs for some of the squadron's successes.

"You can count on most of their fliers to pull a boneheaded stunt," he said. "They are great acrobats, and often went into slow rolls right before our guns."
