YANKS ARE FIGHTING INSIDE GERMANY

Full-Scale Red Assault On East Prussia Imminent

Patrols Return To Lines With Information After Second Thrust Into German Territory; Berlin Reports Russians On The Move Before Warsaw Again.

By EDDY GILMORE Moscow, Sept. 12—(AP)—Back in their own lines after a second patrol expedition into east Prussia within three weeks, Red Army units gave the Soviet Command "important information" today for a full-scale thrust into German territory expected to begin at any moment.

This second penetration of the enemy's own land was made across the Sesepe River, which forms the boundary between the Soviet Lithuanian Republic and the area of east Prussia northeast of Insterburg.

Red Army artillery has been pounding this sector for days. The new patrol thrust was announced in the Russian midnight communique.

Meanwhile a powerfully sustained Red Army drive plunged into the outskirts of the northern Polish rail center of Gostynin, gateway city to lower east Prussia, after overrunning 30 or more settlements in one of the most stubbornly defended sectors of the eastern front.

Outflanked from the west and flanked by the attacking forces closing in from the south, the Narva River straits 20 miles from the east Prussia border on the south appeared about to fall.

By German radio account, the Russians also were making strenuous efforts to move before Warsaw and toward northern Hungary.

Berlin reported the opening of a long-awaited "concentrated assault" on Warsaw's eastern suburb. (Moscow did not confirm a German report of a fresh Soviet offensive that toppled Krosno, a highway and rail town in southern Poland 17 miles from the Slovakian border.)

In the south, the combined Russian-Romanian offensive through the Transylvania hills surged within 40 miles of the Danubian plains. Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's troops captured 900 localities yesterday, most of them in the Hungarian-annexed section of Transylvania claimed by Romania.

In Romania the Russian columns climbed from the Danube valley through the 8,000-foot Transylvanian Alps by way of Vulcan Pass and captured Petrosani, 124 miles from pre-war Hungary's frontier and 65 miles northeast of Turnu-Severin. Danub city on the Yugoslav border which was taken last Wednesday by the Red Army.

Word of a Russian junction with the Yugoslav partisans of Marshal Tito was expected hourly. The Soviet communique said two German lieutenant generals had fallen prisoner in Bulgaria, raising to 43 the Nazi generals bagged since June 23.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst Secretary of State Hull scarcely could have chosen a better moment for his warning that the time is almost up for the contribution which Germany in order to help sure their own independence. Austria isn't likely to get another chance so favorable as now. Hitler's defenses are cracking fast—as witness the crossing of the Luxembourg-German frontier by American First Army troops and the entrance of East Prussia by Red Army patrols. The Allies finally have their feet on the Fuehrer's "sacred soil."

AIR OFFENSIVE AGAINST NAZIS STILL GOES ON

Fifth Day Of Clear Weather Brings More Destruction From Skies Over Germany.

By HOWARD COWAN London, Sept. 12—(AP)—More than 1,000 American heavy bombers attacked half a dozen oil plants deep in central and eastern Germany today and, with their escorts, destroyed 70 more Nazi fighters.

Supreme invasion headquarters announced that heavy bombings hit 60 German oil production plants since May 1. The American armadas cut into Germany while many hundreds of other planes pummeled the foe close to the western battle fronts. They destroyed 45 planes in aerial combat and another 25 on the ground. American losses were not immediately announced.

Another force of 500 or so American heavy bombers from Italy attacked the Wasserberg factory at Ulm where the Nazis were building new and secret jet-propelled Messerschmitt-262 planes. They also bombed an airfield at Lechfeld where many of these aircraft have been seen.

In three days, American planes alone and only those striking from the west have destroyed 398 German planes, 175 of them yesterday by Eighth Air Force fighters and bombers.

In clear weather, the bombers struck visually at these objectives: Synthetic oil plants at Ruhland, northeast of Dresden; Baden, near Leipzig; Magdeburg and at Brunswick; refineries at Hammingstadt near Heide and at Misburg near Hannover. (Continued on page three)

Hurricane Is Moving North

Miami, Fla., Sept. 12—(AP)—The weather bureau reported today that hurricane warnings are indicated for the northern Bahamas islands, and advised persons along the Atlantic coast from Miami to Cape Hatteras, North Carolina, to be on the alert for further advice about a severe tropical storm.

The great Atlantic hurricane, said the Bureau, in a 10 a. m. advisory, "is centered near latitude 26 degrees north, longitude 72 degrees west, moving westward about 10 or 12 miles per hour. This position is about 525 miles east of Miami."

It is attended by full hurricane winds over a considerable area around the center and gales extending outward 200 miles.

Broadcast by all radio stations on South Atlantic coast requested. The advisory said "there is still a chance for a change in the direction of movement," but added: "Warnings may be necessary late today or tonight for some sections of the coast."

Army and navy hurricane-hunters, planes which took off before dawn flew into the storm area while crew members sent back observations which led the weather bureau to issue the preliminary alert.

Quebec Talks Dominated By Plans For Pacific War

By W. L. BEALE, JR. Quebec, Sept. 12—(AP)—Reassignment of American and British land, sea and air power in the Pacific and Asiatic areas figured heavily today in a Roosevelt-Churchill conference officially dedicated to Japan's swift destruction.

Tremendous American strides in the Pacific, including last Friday's first naval-air attack on the Philippines, have made necessary an adjustment in the blueprints evolved when the President and Prime Minister met here 13 months ago.

Then, as now, the Pacific war dominated the military phase of the conference. Marshal Stalin was absent. Premier Marshall then was absent. In a sense, two conferences are in progress here. One is between Roosevelt and Churchill in the Governor General's stone residence high upon the citadel. There the two leaders, who last were on a face-to-face basis at Cairo in December, have resumed the intimate and global exchange of views that has characterized their previous meetings.

The other conference proceeds in the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec's famous hotel, between the top military commanders and official aides of the two powers.

There, it is understood, are being discussed such questions as whether a powerful thrust should be made across Japan's water lifeline to the Netherlands-East Indies, isolating

American Task Force Deals Blow To Japs On Philippines

Eighty-nine Ships Sunk Or Damaged, 68 Planes Destroyed And Five Airfields Laid Waste.

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters Pearl Harbor, Sept. 12—(AP)—Boldly sweeping 500 more miles westward in the first Allied seaborne blow against the Philippines, a U. S. carrier force struck Mindanao Friday, destroyed or damaged 89 Japanese ships, wiped out 68 planes and laid waste to five airfields and other installations vital to Japan's defense of the conquered island.

The attack—announced late yesterday from fleet headquarters here—blanketed important known enemy bases on the island from Sarangani Bay on the south to Surigao at the extreme north. It was far westward of any previous carrier strike in the southwest Pacific.

(Tokyo radio reported today a carrier force moved north to strike at the central Philippines the following day. The broadcast cautioned the American air attacks "require careful watching" but gave no details.

(Today's Tokyo broadcast also reported that about 100 carrier-based planes yesterday attacked Yap island in the western Carolines.)

The action was notable not only for destruction inflicted but for the absence of real surface or aerial opposition.

A nineteenth enemy ship was blasted off two Jima, in the Volcano Islands south of Japan.

Most spectacular of the actions was the complete destruction of a 52-ship convoy discovered off Hinao. (Continued on Page Four)

The Road Back To Bataan

In the most westward attack since the loss of the Philippines an American carrier-borne force has struck a heavy blow to the Japs on Mindanao, southernmost island of the Philippine archipelago. Eighty-nine Jap ships, 68 planes and five airfields were destroyed in the attack which occurred Friday. For several days the Tokyo radio has warned of an early invasion of the Philippines by the Americans.

U. S. Naval Strategy Puts Japs In Dilemma

Washington, Sept. 12—(AP)—United States communique reporting further inroads on Japan's naval and cargo tonnage emphasized today the dilemma into which American strategy is forcing the Tokyo admiralty.

A Navy announcement reports that the latest bag of its submarines operating in the distant Pacific is nine more vessels, including a destroyer and destroyer escort, two small tankers and five cargo boats. This brings the total score for American submarines alone (not including sinkings by naval and army aircraft and surface ships such as the successful actions in the Philippines reported last night) to 732 ships, 61 of them combatant.

Surveying the categories of lost Japanese ships, naval students relate it to the Pacific strategy in this manner: There seems to be increasing reason to believe that the Pacific strategy is being forced to change. (Continued on Page Four)

Submarine Lost

Washington, Sept. 12—(AP)—The submarine Gudgoun with her crew of approximately 65 officers and men is overdue and presumed lost, the navy announced today.

Loss of the Gudgoun raises to 25 the number of submarines which have been lost since the war started. Of that total four were lost in non-operational missions.

No information was given by the navy on where the Gudgoun operated on her last war patrol, but presumably she was engaged in operations against the Japanese.

Her 31-year-old skipper, Lt. Comdr. Robert A. Bonin, listed as missing in action, holds a silver star medal for his part in the sinking of five Japanese vessels and the damaging of four others while he served aboard the submarine Grayling—reported lost in December, 1943.

The Gudgoun, a 1,475-ton craft, was built at the Mare Island, Calif., navy yard and was commissioned in April, 1941.

First Army Sweeps Into Germany From Belgium; Patton's Forces Recapture Part Of Maginot Line Intact; Juncture With Seventh Army; Le Havre Surrenders.

London, Sept. 12—(AP)—Two Berlin-bound American columns which battered into Germany 70 miles apart were ramming against the Siegfried line today.

One First Army spearhead thrust five miles inside the Reich from Luxembourg. Seventy miles to the north elements of an armored division crossed the frontier in strength stepping off from Belgium east of the town of Eupen.

Another spearhead, presumably of the Third Army, was reported to have reached the Our river boundary line of Germany and Luxembourg, within plain sight of the Siegfried line. Germans could be seen moving into the line's concrete pillboxes and bunkers, a dispatch said.

Nearly 300 miles to the rear, British forces captured the great Atlantic port of Le Havre, needed to feed supplies forward for the massive assault on the Reich.

Both border plunges were made by the U. S. First Army.

Eupen is 10 miles below the Siegfried fort city of Aachen. U. S. armor burst over the frontier in this area at 6:10 p. m. Monday. Tanks beat forward deeper this morning. The crossing from Luxembourg, hit into the Reich northwest of Trier.

Further south, the U. S. Third Army cracked through the old Maginot line to Thionville, on the Moselle above French headquarters already forged across that river.

Besides Eupen, the Americans captured Malmédy, 15 miles south and also on territory incorporated into the Reich by Nazi decree.

To the north, they seized Fort Eben Emael, one of the strongest of the Belgian Liege-Ring forts against only moderate Nazi resistance, and smashed on within a mile of the Dutch frontier four miles from Maastricht.

The first army's total of prisoners jumped up 16,000 in a week to a total of 169,708, and supreme headquarters declared the overall Allied gain of prisoners for the campaign in northern France now was "well in excess of 300,000." More than 65,000 have been taken in southern France.

A solid front from the North Sea to the Mediterranean was formed by a junction of the Third Army and the Seventh Army. The British Second Army, pushing toward a Dutch border, pounded toward a less formidable section of the line guarding Germany.

A battlefront dispatch said the fiercely-resisting Germans at Le Havre, France's second port, has surrendered at 11:30 a. m. 26 hours after a crushing British assault began and after thundering air and (Continued on page six)

Today On The Home Front

From information obtained, WLB it seems that if a decision is made before Nov. 7 it will mean a fast job by the WLB. And this is why, with the background given first: In the spring of 1942 WLB granted CIO steelworkers a wage increase which gave them a total hourly increase of about 15 per cent above what they were making Jan. 1, 1941, when living costs started to climb.

WLB used the steel case as a formula in judging wage increases generally. Under presidential order to "hold the line" by stabilizing wages and living costs, WLB laid down a rule: There were to be no general hourly wage increases of more than 15 per cent above Jan. 1, 1941 levels. So wages were held down. But living costs climbed. Now, according to (Continued on page four)

Polio Situation Is Now Improving

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 12—(AP)— The infantile paralysis picture in the state is growing brighter.
 Only three new cases were reported today: Forsyth 1 and Mecklenburg 2, bringing the total since June 1 to 682 and the 1944 total to 694.
 The State Health Department yesterday reported that the average number of daily cases have continued to decline in September.
 Cases have been reported in 75 of the state's 100 counties, with 23 deaths since June 1. The total number of cases since that date is 679.

Higher Tuition For All Veterans

Washington, Sept. 12—(AP)— State and municipal colleges which charge little or no tuition were assured today that the government will pay them more than the customary fee when war veterans enroll for study.
 The veterans administration has ended a long period of worry over the controversial tuition problem by announcing that:
 1. Public institutions may bill the government at their "non-resident" rates, regardless of whether the veteran is a resident. These rates are generally higher than resident rates—anywhere from $30 to $100 higher for a scholastic year.

 2. Otherwise, the customary tution shall be charged, except that no college, whether public or private, shall be paid less than $10 a month tuition for a full-time veteran trainee. This is exclusive of standard fees such as library, infirmity, or laboratory fees. Limited allowances would be made for standard, necessary supplies.

 that a German general and 18,000 men had surrendered to units of the French forces of the interior

 tral France, southwest of Bourges, the capital of the Cher department.
 The broadcast, reported by the

 the nearest authorities."
 The name of the German general was not given.

Strength FOR THE DAY By EARL L. DOUGLAS

Only Christian Principles Will Hold

Nietzsche, the philosophical grandfather of Nazism, wrote many years ago: "Ye shall love peace as a means to new wars. War is eternal, universal. War is the origin of all things. I want war. To me all means will be right."

No wonder Nietzsche cried himself on his hatred of Christianity. "I call Christianity," he wrote, "the one great curse, the one intrinsic depravity, the one great instinct of revenge for which no expiation is sufficiently poisonous. Secret, subterranean, mean—I call it the one immortal bluish of mankind."

Nietzsche hated Christianity for good and sufficient reason—because his ideas and the ideas of Christ cannot live in the same world. One must exterminate the other. If the teachings of Nietzsche are right in any particular, the teachings of Christ are false. Likewise, the type of society which Christianity builds must forever set itself against the type of society that Nietzsche and his devotees would set up.

We have to put down with the sword that implementation of Nietzsche's philosophy which we call Nazism. But the way to destroy it utterly is to overcome it with the principles and practices of Christianity. We need a firm peace, but if we can put any trust, we must build it—for our enemies as well as for ourselves—on the Christian principles of kindness and mutual help.

AMERICA IN WARTIME By JACK STINNETT

Washington—The life of a newsman in Washington these days is just one round after another of chasing rumors.

This isn't my complaint. It's just an observation of what's going on in your nation's capital these hectic days. Most of the recent rumors business has resulted from the slowness of news from the European liberation front: The secrecy that has veiled the doings at Dumbarton Oaks where the "prints for a world 'United States' probably is being sketched; from the weeks of whispers about another Roosevelt-Churchill conference.

I spent several days trying to run down an "authentic" tip that the Nazi offer of capitulation had been on the desk at the State Department for more than a week. The net result was that if there had been such an offer, the only persons who would know about it would be President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Hull and the Allied high command. If they did know anything about it their reasons for not making it public generally were good and obvious.

The stumper that finally discouraged any further chase of this rumor was: "Who could offer to deliver Germany to the Allies on any terms short of unconditional surrender?"

The Roosevelt-Churchill meeting speculations were based on more than rumor because the President himself had said at a press conference that it probably would take place soon. The rumors involved where and when.

Among the juicier tips that have sent newsmen scurrying are: That the German military leaders are preparing for World War III by tossing their choicest troops into traps where they know they will be captured and well fed until after the "peace" when they can come back to Germany as the nucleus of another great army. (The United States alone already has around 200,000 German prisoners quartered here. Great armies have been started with fewer veterans.)

There Ain't Gonna Be Any Bell

The United States and England? Military experts here say if the British, Canadian and American forces move across Germany as rapidly as they have swept across France, and the Russians still are held on the eastern frontiers, there may be some reason for speculation along these lines:

"I haven't found any official news, however, who gives credence to the rumor that any such 'proposition' has been made to the U. S. and Great Britain.

These and scores of other such tips and hints keep Washington seething. History or tomorrow's news undoubtedly will prove some of them true.

THE WAR TODAY

Two months ago the Moscow radio called on the Austrian people to join "a growing partisan movement which has gained a foothold in Carinthia (an Austrian province) and will spread all over the country."

Rebellion in Austria might easily precipitate an upheaval throughout the Reich. There's disaffection in Germany, as witness the recent attempt on Hitler's life and the subsequent arrests and executions. But one of the dictator's greatest internal dangers as he sees it, lies in a mighty power which many folk overlook.

That's the army of some 12,000,000 foreign slave laborers—French, Belgian, Poles, Dutch and who not—whom Hitler imported. The vast majority of these unhappy drudges have a fierce hatred of the Boche. Twelve millions equal about a seventh of Germany's normal population, and they've got to do these hundreds of thousands of prisoners of war in the Reich you have a mighty force.

This slave army might prove to be the Samsons who will throw down the inner pillars of Hitler's Nazidom. Revolt is said to be stirring.

Today On The ...

(Continued From Page One) ing to the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics, living costs are about 25 per cent higher than they were Jan. 1, 1941, or 10 per cent higher than the steel formula allows wages to go.

But labor says the BLS figures don't tell the whole story, that living costs are really 45 per cent higher than they were Jan. 1, 1941.

So, in November, 1943, the steelworkers came back and asked the board to grant them a flat 17 cents an hour increase for all steelworkers. Such an increase would smash the little steel formula.

The steelworkers made other demands: guaranteed annual wage, vacation with pay, more pay for night work, sick leave, and so on. The steel companies—more than 750 of all kinds are involved—protested.

The case went into the government mill. Last February the WLB established a 6-man fact-finding panel to examine and report on the claims of the workers and the penalties of the companies.

This week the panel, without recommendations, will turn over its findings to the WLB in a 500-page report.

Meanwhile, workers in other industries—meat packing, aluminum, electric, textile, flat glass and automotive—had put in demands like those of the steelworkers.

Separate panels were set up to hear those cases and report back to WLB.

The last of those panel reports is not expected to reach WLB before the end of September. It was said at WLB that since all the cases involve the little steel formula, the board will take no action until those final reports come in at the end of this month.

Then the board can do one of two things: 1. Decide against the workers and refuse to break the little steel formula although some of the other demands, like extra pay for night work, might be granted.

2. Or investigate further. In that case, the board would call a hearing for all persons interested in breaking or preserving the little steel formula. That would mean labor unions, industries, statisticians, and so on.

If having received the last panel reports by the end of September and having decided on No. 2, the board would set a hearing date. The board probably would give all interested persons at least about two weeks' notice.

In that case—always provided the board quickly decided the hearing would be in mid-October. The hearing would consume perhaps a week and be finished by the third week in October.

It's possible that the board might reach a decision—for or against the workers—between the third week in October and election day, Nov. 7. But it would have only two weeks in which to do it.

But the decision of the board, if favorable to the workers, would hardly be more than a recommendation to the president and not be a direct decision by the board itself.

The reason the president in effect has told the board to preserve the little steel formula and the board is likely to leave it up to him to break it, if it is to be broken.

But events in Europe—an end to the war before WLB acts—may complicate this whole problem. This will be explained in another story.

Republicans ...

Republican State Senate President Horace A. Hildreth won promotion to the governorship over Paul J. Jullien, (D) with a majority of approximately 75,000—the greatest margin any gubernatorial winner in Maine since 1928.

The total vote approximated 1942's 186,000 when Governor Sumner Sewall (R) was re-elected with a 49,000 majority, and was the lowest in years.

With virtually complete returns, the unofficial tabulation was: For Governor: Hildreth 130,050; Jullien 54,996.

For U. S. Representative: First District: Hale 47,635; Andrew A. Pettis (D) 21,569.

Second District: Mrs. Smith 45,492; David H. Staples (D) 20,822.

Third District: Fellows, 34,984; Ralph E. Graham (D) 10,077.

Pettis, Portland CIO Shipyard Workers Union President upon whose candidacy PAC made its greatest effort, declared that: "Our fight has not ended, but only begun. Our first aim is and has been to carry Maine for President Roosevelt. This can and must be done x x x."

Hildreth, in a victory statement, called the GOP vote "a hopeful sign for the future in both the state and nation."

In 1940, when Sewall first was elected by a majority of 70,000, Republican Presidential nominee Wendell L. Willkie carried Maine against President Roosevelt by only 7,000.

fects within the protection of the bases. This, however, would mean that the capital ships, carriers and other elements would be fixed targets, unable to maneuver.

Naval circles speculate on the possibility that the final knockout blow might be launched at Japan from the west, rather than from the east and south.

This idea was predicated on the possibility that with the enemy in the Philippines driven out or neutralized, the way would be open to establish a major military-naval base or bases on the coast of China from which the reduction of the Japanese home islands would be directed.

There is a belief in some quarters that Japan, with much of its industry and economics transferred to conquered Manchuria, might continue to fight there even after the home islands have fallen. Such a bitter-end resistance, however, presumably would be without the assistance of the Japanese fleet which, even if it survived an initial engagement with the American force, would be without an adequate base.

The navy's failure to mention that Japanese warships sought to protect the convoy and other shipping prompted a supposition the enemy's Philippines fleet was still licking the wounds it suffered in the sea battle off the Marianas last June.

1,500 Prisoners Harvest Peanuts

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 12—(AP)—Fifteen hundred additional German prisoners will be assigned to the peanut growing areas of northeast North Carolina to relieve a critical manpower shortage, Governor Broughton said today.

Indications yesterday were that the prisoners would be withdrawn from the tobacco belt, perhaps forcing some of the markets to temporarily close and tobacco to spoil, the Governor said, adding that such a situation was averted after he telephoned Major Gen. F. H. Uhlir, commanding general of the Fourth Service command in Atlanta.

NOTED FARM WOMAN WILL SPEAK HERE

Mrs. Charles W. Sewell of Indiana On Farm Bureau Program Friday; Annual Meeting at College.

By CHESTER WALSH
Mrs. Charles W. Sewell, Indiana farm woman and executive administrator of Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will discuss "Rural Problems and Farm Organization" at the annual meeting of the Pitt County Farm Bureau at the Austin building, East Carolina Teachers' College, Friday, September 15, at 8:15. Dr. M. T. Friselle of Ayden will preside. Mayor Bruce Sugg will welcome the farmers and farm women.

The Pitt County Farm Bureau has set up an organization of Associated Women and the Indiana farm woman's message is expected to arouse interest among the women concerning the vital and important part they have in farm life and the marketing of farm commodities. Mrs. Sewell is reputed to be one of the greatest women speakers in the world.

The Lone Star Quartet, of radio and stage fame, will present a program of the old songs.

The Pitt County Farm Bureau now has 2,400 members. The bureau's aim is to bring about parity of income for farm products and it is making good in a big way, the record indicates. J. E. Winslow of Greenville is president of the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation. The bureau's good work is reflected in the part it played in bringing about the AAA crop control program and price guarantees for farm commodities at from 90 to 95 percent parity, including the major farm commodities, such as tobacco, cotton, peanuts, hogs, etc.

The Farm Bureau also sponsored the movements for production credit for farmers and seed loans. It has set up a program that will bring the farmers' income up to a level which will compare favorably with the incomes of people in other walks of life," said President Friselle, while discussing the Farm Bureau's activities.

Civil Court Term Adjourned Today

Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids adjourned the week's civil term of Superior Court this morning after disposing of considerable business. He thanked the jurors and commented that they could be much happier at home on the farms looking after their crops. Another civil term will be convened here on September 25.

A number of cases up for hearing were settled out of court. The following divorces were granted Monday on the basis of two years' separation: Kathleen Williams from Gailie Lee Williams; Rose Williams from John Williams; Lillie Mae Barrett from Tommie Barrett; Louise Kirkman from Walter Kirkman; Juanita Moore Johnson from Lewis Johnson; James Turnage from Alberta Turnage; Mary Riddick from Henry Riddick and Ruby Nobles Mills from James H. Mills.

Kinston Placed Out Of Bounds

Camp Lejeune, Sept. 12—(AP)—The entire city of Kinston has been placed out of bounds to service personnel stationed at this main corps base under a special order issued today.

The order, effective Friday and attributed to venereal infections contracted in Kinston, exempts military police on duty there, married military or naval personnel residing in Kinston when provided with a pass, and military personnel performing official duties when provided with a special pass.

Military and naval personnel traveling through the city by bus must purchase transportation to some point beyond and, if disembarking, shall not leave the limits of the bus station. Military and naval personnel passing through Kinston in private automobiles shall confine themselves to state highways and shall disembark only in cases of emergency.

The order stated that "due to the high rate of venereal infection contracted by members of this command in the city of Kinston, it has become necessary to place that city out of bounds for members of this command."

Ruling On Timber Sent Out By WPB

Farmers in the county are permitted under recent War Production Board orders to obtain additional lumber without getting a certificate from the County Committee, according to information received by Mr. J. V. Taylor, chairman of the Pitt County AAA Committee. Under one of these provisions certain lower grades of lumber can now be obtained until October 1 without any certificates. This includes No. 4 or lower grades of southern yellow pine, No. 3 or lower grades of hardwoods, and all culls and rejects at sawmills or yards.

Another order provides that any farmer who cuts, logs on his own farm to have sawed into lumber may receive up to 5,000 board feet of lumber sawed from such trees in a calendar year without giving the sawmill a certificate of rating.

Mr. Taylor states that the provisions regarding farmers obtaining lumber for maintenance and repair of farm dwellings and tenant houses are still in effect. These provide that he may obtain without a certificate small quantities of lumber under an allotment for that purpose, issued to each dealer, or by having his own lumber sawed at a mill producing less than 100,000 board feet annually, or by obtaining a preference rating from the County Committee for certain uses for necessary repairs or by applying to the County Commission for a certificate to be used for rebuilding or restoring a tenant or dwelling house damaged or destroyed by fire, flood, or other disaster within 90 days.

Rate Decision Expected Soon

Washington, Sept. 12—(AP)—A high source in the Interstate Commerce Commission said today "it is hoped" that the ICC will issue a decision in the long-pending Southern freight rate case in October.

The case, involving inter-territorial rates, now is under "active consideration" by the commissioners, the source said.

Southern governors have long been urging speed in settlement of the case. They say the South and West are discriminated against in railroad freight rates, thus retarding development of industry in those regions.

The case, actually two interrelated cases which are being considered together, was initiated by the ICC itself on direction of Congress.

Chicken Dinner
Chicago, Sept. 12—(AP)—Fried chickens—10 tons of it—will be served free to service men and women at Chicago's three service centers in what American Legion officials described as "the world's biggest chicken dinner."

Between 7,500 and 10,000 chickens will be purchased to handle the expected demand—between 30,000 and 40,000 diners.

The dinner was arranged as a tribute to the opening of the Legion's national convention here beginning Monday.

The first European to land in what is now California was Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, who discovered San Diego bay in 1542.

sea bombardment. Doughboys of the First army, driving 40 miles in 48 hours, thrust into Germany northwest of Trier and apparently were within five to 10 miles of that city, the biggest Siegfried port center on the lower Moselle.

Hard on their right flank, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army slashed through the Maginot fort town of Aumetz so fast its big guns were found intact, and carried the battle on to Thionville. This brought the struggle to or beyond the Moselle along a 45-mile front from above Metz to below Nancy.

The first great battle of Germany was shaping up along the middle and lower Moselle. Belgian city which had been annexed by Germany, and fought within eight miles of Aachen, Germany.

The Third army and Seventh army which landed on the Mediterranean linked up near Sombernon, 15 miles west of Dijon, welding a solid front and Dooming German remnants still in central and southwestern France.

Canadian First and Third armies were joined by Patton's capture of Aumetz, 22 miles northwest of Metz and three miles from Luxembourg.

Allied bombers tore at German big gun positions between Thionville, on the west bank of the Moselle, and Metz. Thionville is 10 miles from the junction of the German, French and Luxembourg borders.

The area of the invasion into Germany is not one of the stronger sections of the Siegfried line. In pre-war days when the west wall was constructed the Germans counted for protection there on the Duchy of Luxembourg's neutrality, which the Nazis themselves violated in 1940, and the natural defenses of the region including the Ardennes forest, the razor back hills of Schwarzwald and Hockwald and the river barriers of the Moselle and the Rhine.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' motorized infantry hit the outer line mile sweep to the northeast which liberated the city of Luxembourg, the capital of the duchy. The great German industrial city of Koblenz and the Rhine were from 55 to 60 miles ahead of the Americans down the valley of the lower Moselle.

The American invasion marked the first time since Napoleon's day that an invading force from the west had entered the Reich in more than patrol strength. The Americans advanced behind an artillery barrage.

The American entrance into the Reich was the most dramatic of a series of stunning setbacks inflicted on the Germans in the west.

American Third army doughboys captured a great part of the old French Maginot line intact. A front dispatch from Associated Press War Correspondent Edward D. Ball, said that even the big, electrically-operated disappearing French guns were in perfect working order because the Germans had fled so fast they had not had time to carry out demolitions. The power plant was put in operation a few hours after the Americans arrived, the lights were on and the elevators were running in the huge fortifications.

The fate of the last German stand in northern France was being decided by a blazing battle six miles south of Nancy, where the Third army captured the ancient fort of Fort St. Vincent, threw back a German counterattack and then hammered across the Moselle river on a front of several miles.

On the left or northern flank of the Allied front British second army troops broke across the border of the Netherlands and were bound for the weakest link in the 400 miles of the Siegfried line—the thin string of pillboxes, tank traps and forts stretching south for 70 miles from the German city to Kieve to Aachen. This portion of the German defensive system lies across the shortest route to Berlin.

The British tommies, presumably accompanied by a Dutch brigade coming back home after four years of exile, crossed the Netherlands frontier 14 miles north of the broken Albert canal line in Belgium in a drive apparently aimed at the road and rail center of Eindhoven, 12 miles ahead. Kieve is 38 miles northeast of Eindhoven.

German reinforcements rushed from Denmark and Holland put up a savage stand north of the Albert canal, but the British crushed this resistance, inflicting the heaviest casualties on the enemy since Normandy.

Canadian First army troops compressed the pocket of Germans pinned against the sea in southwest Holland and northwest Belgium by fighting into the Belgian city of Brugge, 10 miles inland from the east, Canadians and Poles engaged in heavy fighting in expanding bridgeheads over the Cent canal at Oostkamp and the Leopold canal southeast of Brugge. The Poles took 1,300 prisoners.

The Canadians also tightened their lines around the estimated 35,000 Germans isolated in the French channel ports of Boulogne, Calais and Dunkerque.

At the tip of Brittany American troops battled street by street toward the walled inner city of the port of Brest. Unofficial reports that Brest had fallen were described at Supreme headquarters as lacking any confirmation.

Wissant and Sangatte, midway between Calais and Cap Gris Nez, were captured. Cap Gris Nez is one area from which long-barreled German batteries fire into southeast England, 23 miles away.

Allied air forces were battering one more German embarkation, this time the hasty German withdrawal from the thinning strip south of the Scheide mouth to the Dutch islands to the north. British Mosquitoes alone last night were reported to have destroyed 50 evacuation barges in that area.
