Russian Forces Invade Hungary

Red Infantry Surges Across Frontier On 75-Mile Front And Drives Toward Budapest; Soviets Plan To Invade Austria After Knocking Out Hungary.

By EDDY GILMORE Moscow, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Red army infantry waves, surging across the Romanian frontier into Hungary on a 75-mile front, moved steadily toward the Tisza and Koros rivers, last big natural obstacles before Budapest today.

Indications were that the backbone of German-Hungarian resistance had been broken and that the Soviets had an excellent chance of carrying the fight to the area of the Hungarian capital within four or five days at the present rate of advance. Budapest was about 90 miles away this morning.

Kuban Cossacks were reported spreading "death and panic" in the rear of Hungarian troops unable to disengage themselves on the shattered front in southeastern Hungary.

"Our mobile units are chasing the retreating enemy," said a front line dispatch to Javestia. "And light Cossack units are in their rear."

Already more than 100 communities of the last big Nazi puppet nation had been seized, the latest communique announced.

Already 13 miles inside Hungary the Red army has seized three important railroads and highways leading into Budapest. The Red army troops captured Mako, Hungary's second city, and drove toward Orszaha and Bekes, 90 miles to the east, the war bulletin said.

While Soviet planes dropped leaflets exhorting the Hungarians to quit the Axis before it is too late, other Russian troops menaced Hungary from the south.

In Yugoslavia, Belgrade was virtually besieged. There still was no indication whether the Germans were going to make a fight for the Yugoslav capital and there was no official report that Russians had crossed the Danube in the immediate Belgrade area. There was reason to believe, however, that the Russians and Tito's units were almost at the lowland suburbs across the river, if not already in them.

(The Algiers radio said the Germans were evacuating troops from Belgrade with the use of big transports.) (Continued on page two)

Civilian Defense Disbanded in State

Raleigh, Oct. 7.—(AP)—With the threat of enemy action past, the State Office of Civilian Defense, which once had 350,000 volunteer members—will cease to exist next January 1.

Director R. L. McMillan recommended that the OCD be dissolved, its job done.

Any remaining duties will be taken over by some regular State official, not yet designated.

The North Carolina OCD, planned before Pearl Harbor and put into operation on an extensive basis in the Spring of 1942, several times was cited by national officials as a model for the nation.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

The extent and fierceness of the battle which has grown out of the American First Army plunge through the outer crust of the powerful Siegfried Line in the Aachen sector encourages the belief the impending general Allied offensive on the Western front will develop quickly.

There's also a feeling among military experts on both sides of the Atlantic that if October produces its ordinarily good fighting weather we may see decisive developments. Among those subscribing to this view is "Veritas," official war commentator for the British Ministry of Information in London, he has this to say of the expected offensive:

"It will probably be stiff, unspungy going at first, for there is a strong crust of German resistance based on skillfully prepared positions of great natural strength. But it is no more than a crust. There are a few veteran divisions of really good quality, but the newly formed divisions (or rather battle groups) consist of a stiffening of SS men (Elite Guardsmen) or Hitler Youth, while the remainder are of poor physique and morale and almost untrained. The military value of such reserves as there are inside Germany is negligible.

"Major operations (as distinct for the later stage of guerrilla warfare) may continue for some months yet, but October—which usually provides reasonably good campaigning weather in the west—

ALLEYS DRIVE AHEAD IN ITALY

Nazis Removing Strategic Materials To Reich.

By NOLAN NORGAARD Rome, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Fifth army troops have shoved ahead another two miles to within 12 miles of the Po valley communications center of Bologna as the Nazis were reported working frantically to evacuate strategic war materials from northern Italy to the Reich.

Allied headquarters said today the Germans again had failed to stabilize their lines in the central Italian sector. Doughboys who cleared the enemy from Lariano were fighting yesterday two miles north of that important road junction town on the main Florence-Bologna highway, No. 65.

On both sides of the highway other Fifth army units kept abreast of the central salient. To the west, British and South African troops occupied Monte Vigese, which dominates the Pistoria-Bologna highway, and to the east a spearhead carried to within 10 miles of Castel San Pietro, which is on the Bologna-Rimini highway.

Meanwhile, in the Adriatic sector Indian troops of the Eighth army crossed the Fiumicino river near its mountain source, slugged the Germans out of San Martino di Bagno and captured Sogliano.

The weather continued to hamper operations. However, fighters carried out strafing attacks against air dromes in Greece, and the Balkan air force attacked military objectives in northeastern Italy, Yugoslavia and Albania. Eleven planes were reported missing.

Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring continued moving German units from the front parts of his lines to impede the American drive. Eight German divisions were reported resisting the Fifth army attacks with increasing intensity for every yard gained.

One report said the Germans were ripping up railway lines in northern Italy and shipping them to the Reich.

Malaria Control To Be Shown At Fair

One of the features of the Pitt County Fair here the week of October 16-22 will be an exhibit of methods used in malaria control in the war against mosquitoes. Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, county health officer, said today, Capt. H. K. Dix, U. S. P. H. S. area supervisor for malaria control in Pitt, Edgecombe, Martin and Beaufort counties, is arranging the exhibit and will be in charge.

Incidentally, there will be a box of dead mosquitoes on display. The person guessing nearest to the number of the pests in the box will be given a $5 cash prize, donated by a business firm. The life of the mosquito is an interesting study.

Acquitted Raleigh, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Julius C. Pearce of Franklin County was acquitted in Wake Superior Court yesterday of a charge of raping a 17-year old girl last July.

British Battle Germans In Arnhem Pocket

British paratroopers, operating in the Arnhem area before they were forced to withdraw, man a six-pounder anti-tank gun against a German self-propelled gun only a short distance away. The British finally were forced to leave the sector, leaving their wounded behind. This is a British official photo.

JAP SHIPPING IS HIT AGAIN

Airmen Destroy Four Vessels In East Indies.

Allied Headquarters, New Guinea, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Flying far-ranging bombers, army airmen whittled four more ships from the Japanese fleets in East Indies raids, today's communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported.

October's shipping toll thus was enlarged to 23 ocean-going vessels sunk or damaged by planes, a good start toward bettering last month's bag of 210 reported swarming or damaged. (These figures are for the flying forces only and do not include Japanese ships destroyed by the U. S. navy.)

The day's communique said a submarine was sunk near Soala Island, east of Celebes; a 3,000-ton freighter transport probably was sunk off Celebes; a 1,000-ton vessel was sunk near Amboina and a 3,000-ton merchantman was blown up by a direct hit.

Eight small surface craft also were sunk and 11 damaged.

U. S. planes raided airdromes and supply depots at Celebes and destroyed at least one plane. Airdromes were attacked in the Moluccas where another plane was destroyed.

The communique reported 595 more Japanese killed and 153 captured on New Guinea and in the Solomons.

Police Arrest Man As Army Deserter

Police are holding Jesse W. Jackson, 27, of Durham, on a charge of desertion from the Army. Officers from Camp Miles Standish are expected here Monday to take him back. He deserted last April, police said.

Jackson is also wanted in Washington, N. C., on two charges of breaking and entering and larceny. Police were tipped by Washington authorities Thursday that Jackson was in Greenville. On investigation they found out that the alleged Army deserter had rented two rooms here, in different parts of the city. They recovered some of the Washington loot. When arrested Jackson appeared to be very anxious to be turned over to Army authorities. He is also charged with impersonating an FBI agent.

Nazis Execute Dutch

London, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Germans were declared by the Netherlands news agency Aneta today to have executed 450 Dutch patriots in a concentration camp at Vught, a mile and a half south of 'S-Hertogenbosch.

Proclamation

By virtue of my office, I hereby proclaim the week of October 8 to 14, 1944 National Business Women's Week. "Are We Part-Time Citizens?" is the challenging theme of the week. It is a question that every citizen should ask himself. Dynamic citizenship requires work every working day of the year. A once-in-four-years-citizen is not much good to himself or anyone else, for he has failed to observe that cardinal principle of citizenship: "Be ye alert in exercising your civic duty every day in the year."

How can a citizen be alert? The answer is plain, by knowing the men and women nominated for office, by watching the government charged with local, state and federal administration, by reading reports, attending public hearing of the board of education, finance committee, health board, etc. And by registering and voting, of course. Business and Professional Women's Clubs have undertaken the task of making our responsibilities clear to us. May public interest be their reward. B. B. SUGG, Mayor

Invasion Of Greece Makes Good Progress

Allies Have Secured Ports And Airfields; Heavy Fighting In Center Of Athens Is Reported.

By The Associated Press Rome, Oct. 7.—The Peloponnese was virtually cleared of Germans today and a minister of the Greek government-in-exile took over administration of the leaf-shaped peninsula as British forces pushed eastward toward the isthmus of Corinth.

A field dispatch from the captured port of Patrai said the northern rim of the Peloponnese had been vacated by Nazi troops in the exodus noted earlier in the southern and central sections.

(A dispatch from Cairo said reconnaissance photographs showed the Germans had blocked the Corinth ship canal, which cuts across the narrow isthmus, by demolishing two bridges and sinking a blockship. Greeks in London said they had heard that the Germans blocked all roads to Athens and that fight was in progress at the heart of the capital.)

Relatively light units of the land forces of the Adriatic moved forward to liberate areas abandoned by the Germans. When the Germans failed to make a major stand at Patrai and Rion to cover the retreat, there was little to bar complete liberation.

It was assumed here that as the Germans shrank the outer perimeter of the Greek defenses, they also abandoned islands along the Turkish coast and in the southern Aegean with the exception of Crete. Even the Crete garrison has been considerably reduced, with most of the troops reported swarming to the western end of the island in the hope of escaping through the Allied air and sea blockade.

Who Will Control The U. S.? Babson Does Not Fear Labor

Babson Park, Mass., Oct. 7.—I may be making a mistake in my statistics. Of course, at best it is only an estimate. The figures, however, which I have collected indicate that five or ten years hence the majority of U. S. families will be receiving a pension check from the federal government. Furthermore, within twenty years the majority of the voters of this country may be receiving pensions. In this compilation, I, of course, include those receiving something from the Civil War, the Spanish War and World War I as well as those who will have been in World War II.

The general feeling is that the labor unions will control our Democracy. Businessmen and investors are especially fearful of the power of labor. This does not worry me for two reasons—first, because the history of the labor movement in England shows that after labor gets everything organized it has nothing to fight for without cutting its own throat. Therefore, labor then no longer becomes a front-page news item, while the labor leaders find they can make more money at some other line of work.

The second reason why I am not worried about the power of labor is because, in the last analysis, labor is a commodity whether we like to admit it or not. My friend Sidney Hillman who does not agree with me on this point, but he is wrong. Labor today is powerful because labor is scarce; but later, when the supply of labor exceeds the demand, labor's power will be nil. The membership of the unions will then again drop off; while the income of the labor leaders will then tumble as did the profits of Wall Street brokers in 1929. Labor's influence is now at its peak for this cycle. Its honeymoon is about over.

Businessmen and investors will then get panicky and run for cover, but I believe there will be nothing for us to fear. Although Russia may then have the army to take what she wishes in land, she will want loans also. Great Britain and America will continue to hold the purse strings. Our returning service men will not only be a bulwark against unfair labor demands, but they will also stand for free enterprise, not Communism. They should be a stabilizing influence on legitimate business and investments, favoring the good features of cooperation, but suppressing all unfair practices.

New American Assaults Along The German Front

AIR OFFENSIVE STILL GOES ON

Allied Airmen Pile New Destruction On Germany.

London, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Allied bombers crowded the skies in good weather over Germany today, piling up new destruction in the wake of more than 3,000 flights by bombers and fighters yesterday.

The Eighth air force and the RAF sent up more than 3,000 heavy bombers in night and day operations against oil and industrial targets and airfields with Berlin, Dortmund, Bremen, Hamburg and Ludwigshafen among the targets.

Incomplete reports indicated the second tactical air force flew 1,500 sorties and the Ninth air force another 1,800 yesterday, in support of the U. S. First and Third armies.

Bad weather restricted operations of the Mediterranean air force but Germans in the Balkans were attacked during the night by bombers. One formation of U. S. planes scrambled over Saarlautern on the Third army front. It shot down four of the enemy at the cost of one American plane.

Airmen claimed the destruction of eight locomotives and 72 cars. Twenty-six tanks, armored vehicles and motor transport were reported damaged or destroyed. Railroads were cut in 22 places.

The German radio traced today's bombers as coming in over Helgoland bay and the Brunswick-Hannover area, heading for the Magdeburg-Dessau region. Another formation the Germans said was over Pomerania and a third was over Hungary approaching the Danube valley early in the afternoon.

Berlin was attacked twice yesterday. The first attack was in daylight—the first time since July 21—by Flying Fortresses and Liberators which bombed a tank assembly plant, military ordnance depots, and an aircraft engine plant.

During the night the RAF was over the Reich capital in a diversionary flight while other planes were dropping more than 1,500 tons of bombs on Dortmund and more than 12 tons on Bremen.

The Air Ministry hailed the operation as the beginning of a new offensive against Germany and said that from 3 p. m. until midnight waves of bombers, totaling more than 1,200 aircraft, flew to their targets.

Crews said both Dortmund and Bremen were burning fiercely with Saarbruecken, attacked the night before, still ablaze.

Forty bombers were lost yesterday by the RAF in its night attacks, and 10 fighters were reported missing.

In other night operations Mosquitoes ripped the Amersfoort rail yards and barges in the Scheide and Zuyder Zee.

Fighters knocked out three enemy aircraft over the continent, adding to the toll of 20 enemy planes shot out of the air yesterday by the Eighth air force and 36 seaplanes (Continued on page two)

United War Fund Will Help China

Now that American armed forces are opening new offensives side by side with the Chinese up the Far East, help for the war-stricken victims of Japanese aggression in China, more than ever before, is a valuable contribution toward winning the war, according to Sam B. Underwood, Jr., Chairman United War Fund of Pitt County.

Commenting on information received from the United War Fund concerning the activities of United China Relief, one of the War Fund member agencies, Mr. Underwood today pointed out that throughout the seven years during which China has known the horror and devastation of total war she has withstood every onslaught of a ruthless enemy and still fights on but at the expense of a frightful toll in the lives and property of the Chinese people.

"In the continuing struggle to wrest its territory from the invader and assist our forces to drive the Japs back to Tokyo, China's war-weary millions will need material help from the people of America to enable them to endure the suffering and privation inflicted upon them," Mr. Underwood declared.

Assistance provided China by United China Relief includes, he said, medical aid and public health projects; care for millions of orphans and destitute children; aid to students, teachers and educational institutions; rehabilitation of refugees and air raid victims; and self-help projects.

Mr. Underwood urged citizens of Pitt County to participate in providing this humane service and military necessity by generous contribution to United War Fund, thus helping the Fund in continuing financial support of the work of United China Relief.

Opposition To Leaf Holiday

Raleigh, Oct. 7.—(AP)—East Carolina warhousemen were aligned against any further sales holiday as tobacco growers and processors met with Governor J. M. Broughton here today to discuss the possibility of closing the weed markets for a few days.

L. L. Graveley of Rocky Mount, president of the U. S. Tobacco association, said the warhousemen on all belts were opposed to a sales holiday and planned to operate on a four-day week beginning next week.

Governor Broughton called the meeting of Tobaccoists Thursday, asking them to come to Raleigh Friday. Yesterday the conference was postponed when some representatives were unable to arrive in time. The announced purpose of the proposed holiday is to ease congestion caused by labor shortages in the warehouses and restricted selling time, and also to allow farmers to catch up with their farm work.

Flying Bombs Hit London Last Night

London, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Flying bombs smashed at southern England and London last night from a southern coast, an indication the enemy may be seeking a weak spot in the vigilant defense.

A sheet of gun fire so intense it jarred houses several miles inland met the fiery-tailed intruders and two were destroyed in flight. Among casualties were seven policemen who were injured when one bomb wrecked a block of business houses. Two pubs were shattered and customers were badly cut by splinters of glass.

Drive Deeper Into Nazi Defenses North And South Of Aachen; Third Army Gains Solid Hold On Corners Of Fort Guarding Metz; Seventh Army Pushes Ahead.

By JAMES M. LONG London, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The U. S. First army slugged away with both fists above Aachen today, jabbing German stop-gap tanks and infantry back half a mile north of Beggendorf and a mile and a half southeast of Ubach.

The doughboys also pounded nearly a mile through the Burgers forest, ten miles into Germany, a third of the way to Cologne. American infantry, the better part of a division, jumped off to a new attack at 10 a. m. today through the forest south of Monschau, 16 miles south of Aachen.

On the middle Moselle front the Third army won a solid hold on the northwest corner of Fort Driant, southwest of Metz, taking everything the Germans could hurl at them from the outside and blasting in doggedly to dig out the garrison buttoned into the hollow-comb of tunnels below.

On the south flank French and American soldiers of the Seventh army pushed 2 1/2 miles eastward five to seven miles to positions on three sides of the copper mine town of Le Thillot, 18 miles due north of Belfort and only six miles from the 2,399-foot Bussang pass through the heart of the Vosges.

In lower Holland, Allied forces closed within a few thousand yards of the stronghold of Tilburg. Chinese established a bridgehead west the Leopold canal west of Antwerp meeting exceptionally fierce resistance. Other troops fought to Gendrecht, 14 miles above Antwerp, and only three miles from cutting the German escape road from the flooded Dutch lowlands at the mouth of the Scheldt.

U. S. G. I. units broke up the enemy's drive along a 20-mile front north and south of besieged Aachen. He widened his Ubach breach to seven miles at the base, wrecked back a good part of the yardage the Nazis won in counterattacks yesterday, and hammered out new gains.

His troops pushed 2 1/2 miles outside of Gellenkirchen, three miles north of Ubach. Fied out of Beggendorf, two miles east of Ubach, they lashed out anew late yesterday and by-passed the town in a thrust a half mile to the north. They pounded their way to a point a mile and a half down the road southeast of Ubach, in the "saddle of the barracks" and fought part way back up the shot-swept slope of pill box ridge a mile and a half south of Ubach, regaining about half the ground they lost to a German counterattack yesterday.

Other forces of the fighting First army pushed on at daybreak into the second day of their heavy-slogging drive to clear the Burgers forest belt of the Siegfried line, southeast of Aachen. They had battled through the belt of fixed concrete pillboxes and were now digging up against earthen bunkers.

They were within six miles of the railroad junction of Duren, already under their artillery fire and bombed heavily late yesterday by the Seventh Army. (Continued on page two)

Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Army and Navy hospitals take care of the ill, injured or wounded serviceman. Then, at the finish of all the treatment that can be given him, one of three things happens: 1. He is able to go back on active duty. 2. He is found unfit for active duty, is discharged for disability, can ask for a pension, and is sent back into civilian life. 3. He is found not only unfit for active duty but in need of prolonged or permanent hospital treatment. In that case he is discharged from the military service, can ask for a pension, and is transferred to a veterans' hospital nearest his home.

These veterans' hospitals are operated by the Veterans Administration (VA). In group No. 3 could be cases like these: tuberculosis, mental derangement, blindness, heart disease, severe asthma, and badly crippled men. But what of veterans who, because of some disability connected with their military service, need hospital treatment any time after their discharge from the service?

Any honorably discharged veteran who has a disability connected with his military service, can get free treatment any time after his discharge at any VA hospital. It's all free to him: transportation to the hospital, bed, operations, medicine, nursing, food, as long as he needs hospitalization. Suppose the same class of veteran—honorably discharged—doesn't need to stay in a hospital but does need medical service or dental care for a condition caused or aggravated by his military service. That would be called out-patient treatment. He could get that free, too, and it includes medicine, appliances, bridgework, and so on. He says he can pay for the VA. What about the veteran who has no service-connected disability, such as one who has been out of the service for years and is suddenly stricken with appendicitis. Can he get free hospitalization? Yes, if he was dishonorably discharged and if he says he can't pay for the hospitalization. If he says he can pay for the hospitalization, he doesn't get it at all. If beds are scarce they haven't been so far—the veteran with the service-connected disability gets first claim over the veteran with the non-service-connected disability. The pension of a veteran who has a service connected disability is not to $20 monthly if he is hospitalized for a certain length of time and has (Continued on page two)

Strength FOR THE DAY
 By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WE MUST HAVE STANDARDS
 Some years ago an instrument firm put out a light meter to be used by photographers. It was later discovered that the instruments were imperfect, and a call went out to all who had bought them to turn them in. At least one man did not receive his notice. He wasted more than a hundred dollars' worth of film and ruined pictures that he had gone to great pains to take. Because he miscalculated the time and condition of his exposures.

We have to have standards in the world, in which we can put full confidence. Some people go through life unhappy and settled because they can never establish themselves on a firm philosophy of life—more often because they can find no religious authority in which they can put their complete and absolute confidence. And there are some who trust an authority that appears to fail them. Like the man who was deceived as regards his light meter, they approach the problems of life on the basis of a false philosophy or a poor and inadequate conception of God in their dealings with him. As a result, they find their most cherished interests fail.

The Bible is God's message to the human heart and is the only authoritative disclosure we have of the Divine Will. When men read it under the guidance of the Holy Spirit, they discover its adequacy and power.

 no dependents; if he has dependents his pension is not cut at all, no matter how long he is hospitalized. The pension of a veteran who has a non-service-connected disability is cut to 68 a month after he has been hospitalized a certain length of time.

(A veteran, discharged in good health from military service, can get a pension if any time afterward he is hospitalized permanently disabled by any cause not due to his military service. For example, he might have been hit by a train, losing his legs and eyesight.)

The VA operates 94 hospitals, with more than 80,000 beds. It expects to have more hospitals and at least 100,000 beds in two years. The hospitals are in all states except Delaware, Rhode Island and New Hampshire. The VA states hospitals will be opened in those states.

Furthermore, the VA expects the peak claim on VA beds to be reached in 1975 when VA plans to have 300,000 beds.

The new thrust was announced as other reports in Moscow said that the Hungarian home front might collapse at any moment, and the Russians already were planning an invasion of Austria after knocking out Hungary.

Hungary also was menaced by Russian military might from the north where along the Czechoslovak-Polish border Soviet troops fought toward a crossing of the Carpathian mountains and a sweep into the Magyar country.

In the Baltic, the war bulletin said Russian troops on Saare island, which guards the entrance to the Gulf of Riga, captured 80 population prizes on a 25-mile front and advanced southward 15 miles.

Report Violations OPA Regulations

The Price Panel of the Pitt County War Price and Rationing Board requests that consumers who are victims of price regulation violations to report irregularities to the Board and file complaints. Names of persons complaining will not be mentioned if complainant so desires.

Two direct violations within the last few days have been called to the attention of the board. A laundry allegedly has refused to accept laundry unless the dry cleaning needs of the customer were also served by the same establishment. The other violation is that merchants have been requiring customers to purchase an extra item in order to be allowed to buy a scarce commodity. An example of the second violation is having to buy an extra item when cigarettes is the desired article of purchase. Some retailers have also required the purchase of articles when an overseas box is bought.

It was pointed by the Price Panel that such "tie in" sales are expressly prohibited by the OPA price regulations.

Leader's Club Meets
 The Greenville Girl Scout Leader's club met last night in the Girl Scout offices, and enjoyed an insight into the health and safety of our public, and Girl Scouts of America, through the inspiring talk given by Mr. Clarence W. Willard. Home is the place most accidents occur, he stated, and falls top the list in ways that accidents occur.

Mr. Willard very graciously offered his time to come to individual troop meetings and review bandages, and the fundamentals of First Aid, so the leaders need only to set times for his visits. He will be at Troop 12 B's troop meeting Wednesday afternoon, October 18.

The new president for the Leader's Club this year is Mrs. Reid Perkins, and the secretary is Miss Nancy Harris. These troop leaders urge our cooperation and under their guidance, the club will grow as an organization, and make better trained leaders by bringing trained professionals to our meetings with their particular vocation at their finger tips, so that we might gain some part to take back to troop meetings of the scouts of Greenville.

The Girl Scout Week, October 29-Nov. 4, was discussed, emphasizing our parent-daughter banquet, November 3 at the Rotary club. All scouts and their parents are invited to attend this banquet to see a formal Court of Awards, and to join the fellowship of Girl Scout-ing.

Misses Mavis Parker, Dorothy Mixon, Nancy Harris, and Mrs. Reid Perkins were welcomed to our club as new troop leaders for this year.

Convict 31 Plural Marriage Charges

Salt Lake City, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Prosecutors marked up 31 more convictions today in their efforts to stamp out plural marriage practices in five western states—Utah, Idaho, Arizona, Colorado and Wyoming—increasing to 39 the number of persons adjudged guilty. So far 55 convictions have been obtained.

Twenty men and 11 women were convicted by a district court jury yesterday of conspiring to preach and practice polygamy. Some of them previously had been found guilty of other state or federal charges, including Federal Mann Act or kidnapping law violations and unlawful cohabitation.

American artillery and close-support bombers were working over the German gun positions which still made the third army's hold on Fort Drant difficult.

Some of the Nazi heavy guns had been pounding away from hidden emplacements as far as 20 miles beyond Metz. Associated Press Correspondent Edward Ball reported. He said thunderbolts located one such gun position and bombed shut the tunnel from which it was firing.

The Germans apparently had managed to get reinforcements up and were counterattacking repeatedly in an effort to keep the battle back from the Rhine, whatever the cost in troops.

To Observe Business Women's Week

The members of the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club will attend services at the Memorial Baptist Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock to begin the observance of National Business Women's Week. Rev. B. E. Hardaway is pastor of the church selected by the club for attendance this year.

The Greenville club together with the great organization with which it was affiliated, the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, has chosen the topic "Are We Part-time Citizens?" as the theme of National Business Women's Week.

This special week of observance was inaugurated in 1928 and has served to inform the American public on the problems and accomplishments of women along social, economic and political lines.

The year's program is entitled "Toward Victory and Beyond" and the challenge for all women to become full-time citizens, to keep constitutional government alive and the feeling of citizenship responsibility for government rampant so that "beyond victory" will not be an arid desert, a no-man's land without hope for any man.

The national federation was organized twenty-five years ago at the suggestion of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Inter Se Book Club

Mrs. Carl Womack entertained the members of the Inter Se Book Club at her home Tuesday afternoon, October 3.

The first part of the meeting was devoted to business, during which time the new books for the year were distributed among the members.

Mrs. Jack Edwards had charge of the program for the afternoon, and she gave a most enlightening talk on Henry A. Wallace. She summed up his most outstanding accomplishments in the following way:

"Hitherto, the vice-presidency has been a relatively unimportant job, but Mr. Wallace has made it something that it has never been before. Although Mr. Wallace will probably be remembered only for his writings and administrative actions, his real contribution to the United States is his improvement of the corn crop in our country. He was a farmer before he was a statesman. Since Sumner Welles' resignation, Mr. Wallace is the chief representative of the good neighbor policy. He is Latin America's best friend in Washington."

After the social hour, during which Mrs. Womack served a salad course with hot tea, the meeting adjourned.—Reported.

Eighth Street Christian Church

A very important business meeting of the congregation of Eighth Street Christian church is called for Sunday morning immediately after the worship service. The church is considering the purchase of a lot on which to build a parsonage and the selection of the site of that lot will be before the congregation Sunday. Every member of the church is urged to be present.

The Fireside Club of the church will meet on Tuesday night of this week with Mr. and Mrs. Milo H. Smith on East Fifth street. Assisting hosts and hostesses are: Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carrington, Mrs. J. T. Uzzie, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tripp. Rev. John R. Hill new pastor of the Episcopal church will bring the message.

The Matrons of the Woman's Council will be hostesses at a reception to the students of the college who are members of the Christian church on Thursday night of this week, the hours from 8 to 10. A number of marines from the local air base have also been invited.

At the service Sunday morning the choir will sing Schoebel's "Take My Life" and Dr. Haney will preach on the theme, "The Dedication of Life."

The Sunday School is having its Rally and Promotion Day on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. After the presentation of certificates of promotion to those passing into the higher departments a brief but attractive program will be presented under the direction of Mrs. J. T. Uzzie.

Browns Win Third World Series Game

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Unless the St. Louis Cardinals snap out of it quick, the ragamuffin Browns are going to complete baseball's big 1944 surprise story by adding a first world championship to their first pennant victory.

Heading into today's fourth game of the neighborhood rivalry, the "rag" to riches kids are hitting a thin 370, fielding a wobbly 950 but leading the Red Birds in the all-important detail of two victories to one. Jack Kramer was responsible for yesterday's 6-2 American league triumph.

Kinston's Red Devils Defeat Green Phantoms

Win By 20 To Seven Score At Guy Smith Stadium Here.

In a hard-fought, rough and tumble game at Guy Smith stadium here last night, Greenville High School Phantoms went down to defeat by a score of 20-7 at the hands of the Kinston Red Devils.

First Quarter

Grady's injury came in the third play of the game after he had returned Greenville's kick-off five yards and made two spectacular runs of 15 and 20 yards each to place his team on Greenville's 30-yard line. In a series of plays that followed Kinston drove to the one yard line where Leggett of the Phantoms recovered a fumble. Futrelle, from behind the goal line, kicked to the 33-yard line. Evans for Kinston, carried the ball 15 yards to Greenville's 18-yard line. Another drive by Evans gained four yards. Bizzelle carried the ball over the goal line for the visitors' first touchdown. An attempted drop kick for the extra point failed. Perkins returned Kinston's kickoff from the 18 to the 30-yard line. Futrelle made nine yards and Leggett gained three yards for a first down. Perkins carried eight yards to place the ball on Greenville's 49-1-2 yard line at the end of the quarter.

Second Quarter

On the first play of the second quarter Futrelle made a yard to give the Phantoms a first down. A pass, Perkins to Batchelor, netted six yards. Leggett gained a yard. Futrelle two-yards and Perkins five for another first down. Futrelle passed to Batchelor for 16 yards, putting the ball on the five-yard line. Perkins carried the ball to the one-yard line and went over for a touchdown on the next play. A pass from Futrelle to White was good for the extra point making the score seven and six in favor of the Phantoms. Kinston returned Greenville's kickoff from the nine yard line to the 32nd and after a series of plays lost the ball on a fumble, leaving the Phantoms in possession of the ball near midfield at the half.

Third Quarter

In the third quarter Kinston received the kickoff on the 10 and returned it to the 25. Evans ran 17 yards to the 42nd. On the next play Evans was thrown for a five-yard loss. Bizzelle gained four yards and a pass from Whitfield to Bizzelle netted 46 yards, putting the ball on Greenville's 11-yard line. Bizzelle fumbled on the one-yard line and it was recovered by Kinston's center, Meadows. Bizzell hit the line for no gain. On the fourth down Whitfield passed to Evans over the goal line for a touchdown. Another pass, Evans to Wrightberry, was good for the extra point. Futrelle took Kinston's kickoff on the 15-yard line and returned it to midfield. Futrelle was caught behind the lines twice in attempted passes for losses totaling 20 yards. Leggett ran 25 yards but failed to make a first down because of the previous losses. The ball went to Kinston and was in possession of the Red Devils at the end of the quarter.

Fourth Quarter

In the final quarter Evans ran 14 yards or a first down. Evans gained another three yards and on the next play Greenville recovered a Kinston fumble on the Phantom's 20-yard line. Perkins gained seven yards. A fumbled pass from center was scooped up by Scott of Kinston, who ran over the goal line for the Red Devils' third touchdown. A drop kick for the extra point was good, making the total score 20 to 7 in favor of Kinston. Harrington received Kinston's kick on Greenville's 15-yard line and returned it to the 27th. Greenville kicked after failure to gain a first down and Kinston returned the kick from their own 30 to 40-yard line. Evans gained 20 yards. On the next play Greenville recovered a Kinston fumble and the game ended with the Phantoms in possession of the ball on their own 40-yard line. Greenville starting lineup was
