YANKS SWARMING INTO PHILIPPINES

American Forces Complete Capture Of Aachen Today
City Falls To First Army
After Six Days Of Siege

Fall Of First Major German City Opens Gateway To Ruhr Valley; British Advance On Meuse Sector Despite Bad Weather And Stiff Resistance; Other Gains.

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
London, Oct. 20—Ruined Aachen, a sprawling city of death and destruction, fell today to Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S. First Army on the seventh day of its siege. Tonight the victorious Yanks started mopping up the last remnants of the Nazi garrison, trapped on the outskirts.

The capture of the first major German city, a gateway to the Ruhr, was completed at 3:30 P.M. (10:30 A.M. Eastern War time) official announcements from the field said.

The city is 340 miles from Berlin and 40 miles from Cologne on the Rhine. It had a peacetime population of 165,000.

The Doughboys had been attacking since Sept. 15, and for a week they had engaged in street by street fighting, with bazookas, bayonets and self-propelled guns.

Aachen was left a mass of wreckage by fanatical German resistance. Young German officers, many of them not long back from the Russian front, threw away their lives to gain another Oak Leaf cluster on their iron crosses—warfare for vanity.

The last convulsive gasp of resistance in the center of the city was a large stone building in which 100 SS men had barricaded themselves in defiance of artillery which had pressed the defenders into an ever narrowing space.

Troops under the command of Lt. Col. Merrill Daniel knocked out this last major stronghold at 3:30 P.M. with direct fire from a 155 mm. gun. The gun literally knocked down the building.

"Aachen is ours," the officer said as he stood on the ruins of the building which had been used as a command post for the suicide stand.

"When we knocked out that building we knocked out the guts of their defense. Now we hold all the city proper and have only a clean-up job left in the outskirts."

The First Army fought a battle within a battle to win the ancient stronghold.

Having closed a ring around the city they fought off several German counterattacks to the north—(Continued on Page Four)

The WAR TODAY
AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Substituting for the MacKenzie General MacArthur returns to the Philippines with his usual flair for both confounding the enemy and staging a good show.

Striking with what Churchill calls "tributary" force sufficient to give the Japanese a preview of what to expect against additional islands—his homeland, for instance—old "I Will Return" has by passed strong enemy bases on southern Mindanao to obtain immediate objectives at minimum cost.

Even this force, however, is only a part of that available. The next few days should provide a clearer view of what impends. It seems likely, however, that the Leyte action is designed primarily to obtain airfields from which to dominate the entire archipelago. One field, near Tacloban, is almost in sight, and flatlands in the area offer plenty of room for more.

MacArthur developed an unique system of warfare in New Guinea with his specially-trained army "amphibs." These units operate their own landing craft to strike quickly in relatively small strength at key coastal points. They drive the enemy back from the coast, cut off his supply routes and leave him to the jungle Beachheads thus established immediately become bases for more of the same.

AIRMEN POUND NAZI TARGETS

Shattering RAF Double-Header On Stuttgart.

By HENRY B. JAMESON
London, Oct. 20—(AP)—The RAF made a shattering double-header attack last night on Stuttgart, one of the main centers of electrical engineering industries in Germany, with two large forces of Halifaxes and Lancasters pounding the city four hours apart.

A third large scale attack was carried out simultaneously on Nuremberg, another engineering center, and a lighter raid was made on Wiesbaden in the Rhineland. More than 1,000 bombers participated in the four attacks.

While not a common practice, it was not the first time that RAF (Continued on page four) *

East Prussian Defenses Breached By Red Forces; Germans Falling Back In Hungary.

By The Associated Press
London, Oct. 20—(AP)—Belgrade, capital of Yugoslavia, has been liberated, Marshal Stalin announced tonight.

It was the second order of the day to set Moscow's victory guns to fighting the skies with flares and it marked the end of days of savage street fighting by the Red army and the Yugoslav partisans of Marshal Tito.

Earlier, the Russians announced the capture of Debrecen, Hungary's third city, 116 miles east of Budapest.

London, Oct. 20—(AP)—Berlin announced today that the Russians had moved up to another section of the East Prussian frontier 20 miles south of fallen Eylkau, massing vast tank forces in the Rominter Heide.

Enemy broadcasts also said the Germans had evacuated Hungary's sprawling third city of Debrecen, (122,517 population), 116 miles east of Budapest.

The Russians at midnight announced 11,000 prisoners were taken. A great tank battle had been raging there for two weeks and the Germans said 428 Russian tanks were destroyed in the fray. Moscow said the Germans lost 1,528 tanks.

Possibly a decisive battle was shaping up along the north, east and south frontiers of East Prussia. Berlin frankly asserted that "the twin battle for East Prussia is near." (Continued on page eight)

British Advance On Greek Front

Rome, Oct. 20—(AP)—British troops have occupied Thebes, 32 miles northwest of Athens, while German troops harassed by Greek guerrillas have speeded up their withdrawal from northern Greece toward Yugoslavia. Allied headquarters announced today.

The Germans yesterday acknowledged withdrawal from Thebes. Its occupation put British units roughly 75 airline miles from the area in which German columns were last reported fleeing.

There was no indication in the Allied communique whether advance British elements had made any contact with the retreating Nazis.

The communique reported that civilian relief measures are being started at Athens despite heavy demolitions in Piraeus harbor which are causing some delay in unloading food and supplies from ships.

Death Sentence For Pierre Laval

London, Oct. 20—(AP)—Pierre Laval has been sentenced to death in absentia by a Marseille tribunal. The Paris radio said today.

A warrant for the arrest of the Vichy Chief of Government, now either sheltering with or held by the Germans, was issued by the tribunal two weeks ago and it was stated that he would be tried whether he was present or not.

The Algiers radio reported that Jean Gallifard, former director of the newspaper "Petit Marseille" was condemned to death in absentia by the same tribunal at the same time.

Two Townships Over Top In War Fund Drive

Carolina First To Report Quota Raised; Grimesland Division Reaches 120 Per Cent.

Once again, Carolina Township has become the first township in Pitt County to report that a full 100 per cent of its quota in the United War Fund Campaign has been reached. Dr. T. G. Basnight of Stokes, the Township Chairman and his corps of patriotic and public spirited citizens have done a magnificent job. County Chairman Sam B. Underwood, Jr. stated today.

The Grimesland division of Chatham Township also has reported in that its quota has been completely subscribed. In fact, Grimesland division has subscribed 20 per cent more than its quota and the Chairman, Mr. M. L. Basnight, reported to Mr. Underwood this morning that the Grimesland division fully expected to raise even more money when the reports from all of the solicitors were in. Mr. Basnight stated, "I understand that the high percentage of the quota subscribed in last year's campaign was raised by the Chatham School division with 140 per cent. Grimesland is expecting this year to surpass that record and raise at least 150 per cent of the quota. Our people are very conscious of the great need for United War Fund dollars and are most anxious to have a share in carrying on the work of all the United War Fund Agencies."

Reports reaching campaign headquarters this morning indicated Mr. Underwood said that Falkland, Fountain, Pactolus and Beaverdam Townships would go over the top in their campaigns sometime today or tomorrow. Every indication is that the people of Pitt County are resolute.

Full Force Of Hurricane Not Felt In This State

Charlotte, Oct. 20—(AP)—The interior of the Carolinas today felt the last of the tropical storm which swept inland last night and headed slowly northward with decreasing intensity after killing 26 persons and doing heavy property damage in Cuba and Florida.

The Washington weather bureau announced in an 8:30 A.M. advisory that all danger of hurricane winds along the coast had passed. It said, however, that strong onshore winds would continue all day from Wilmington, northward to Long Island, and that tides would be above normal but not dangerous.

High winds and drenching rains accompanied the storm in its path through the Carolinas. Greenville, S. C. had a maximum velocity of 65 miles an hour early today while Charlotte recorded 55 miles. Charlotte had 2.40 inches of rain in the 12-hour period ending at 8:30 A.M.

The center of the disturbance was reported by the weather bureau as 10 miles northwest of Charleston, S. C. or in the general vicinity of Branchville and Orangeburg.

"It has slowed down in forward speed but appears to be moving slowly northward," the advisory said.

MacArthur Returns With Powerful Invasion Army

Eyewitness Account Of Invasion Says Feat Accomplished With Unbelievably Small Number Of American Casualties.

New York, Oct. 20—The Columbia Broadcasting System distributed the following dispatch to the press today:

By GORDON WALKER
With General MacArthur's troops in the Philippines, Oct. 20—(By Radio)—This long-awaited attack on the Philippines is without a doubt the most incredible invasion of this war.

I have just come down from a trip with one of the invasion ships here in the central Philippines. Through glasses I watched tens of thousands of American Doughboys plunge into the black smoke which still crowds the two full landing beaches on Leyte Island. Right now out there in front of us they are pushing swiftly into the interior of the enemy's defenses.

The most amazing part of the invasion is the fact that up to this time, when the troops waded ashore, the enemy has made no attempt to interfere with this greatest feat of our military history. For days huge convoys of ships converged from dozens of American forward bases scattered over the central Philippines, and with the first crack of dawn, hundreds of ships of every type began filing slowly through the entrance to Leyte Gulf.

On the upper deck, steel helmets and life preservers were ready for the expected enemy attack. It didn't come. Shortly after dark, a single twin-engine enemy bomber winged down through a terrific anti-aircraft barrage and dropped a single bomb into the water. Then (Continued on page eight)

Jaycees To Collect Scrap Paper Sunday

Chairman Alton Barrett's Junior Chamber of Commerce Scrap Paper Committee will make another house-to-house canvass here Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Jaycees will use a truck to collect the salvaged paper. They request householders and others to wrap their paper securely in bundles and place it out front.

The government needs for war purposes all kinds of old paper, especially magazine and cardboard types. This type of paper is so much needed that it may be necessary to continue the paper salvage drive after victory is won, Barrett said.

If you have any scrap paper tie it up in bundles and place it out in front of your business place or home. The Jaycees will pick it up one time during the afternoon.

Raleigh, Oct. 20—Theodore S. Johnson, Raleigh district OPA director, said today that 512,608 owners of passenger automobiles in Eastern North Carolina may now apply by mail for their new "A" gasoline ration books which will become valid on November 9.

Johnson said that all 62 local war price and rationing boards in the 54-county Raleigh PA district have received the new "A" gasoline coupons and that thousands of applications for the new coupons have been distributed by the boards, in many towns, to filling stations, garages, and other public places so that they may be easily had by automobile owners.

In towns where the applications have not been distributed, the applications blanks may be obtained at the local War Price and Rationing Board.

Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 20—(AP)—Right after January 1 an army of 26,000 men and women—armed with 195 questions—will set out to visit every farm in this country to get basic information on agriculture.

They are census takers. The only figures they want are farm figures. They will ask questions like these:

Name of the owner, number of people living on the farm, number of people employed, wages, crop and livestock production, and value of land, buildings and machinery.

This census has been taken every five years since 1840. The history of the census is a history of a dwindling farm population. More than 74 per cent of the labor force was supported on farms in 1820, less than 18 per cent in 1940.

In the 34 years since 1910—the total U.S. population increased more than 40 million—the farm population has decreased four million. Farms have become fewer but larger.

Net monthly census figures show that this nation's farms—since 1940—with 1,500,000 fewer workers have upped production more than 30 per cent.

This has been due to more acreage planted and greater use of machines. But this census probably will be one of the most important ever taken.

'I Have Returned' General Tells Filipinos In Urging Them To 'Rise And Strike'; Landings At Leyte Split Japanese Defenders And Isolate Southern Islands.

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Oct. 20—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur landed powerful invasion forces in the heart of the Philippines, announced to the people of the archipelago "I have returned" and called upon them to "rise and strike" their Japanese conquerors.

Ground forces poured ashore in Leyte gulf from a huge convoy under protection of a terrific naval and air bombardment, quickly seized three strong beachheads along Leyte island's east coast.

While they pressed inland toward the fertile valleys General MacArthur took to the air in a broadcast over the "Voice of Freedom" radio, telling the people he had fulfilled his two and a half year old vow to return.

MacArthur told the Filipinos their president, Sergio Osmeña, and his cabinet were with him on Leyte and had reestablished the government on Philippine soil.

"Rally to me," MacArthur said to the Filipinos. "Let the indomitable spirit of Bataan and Corregidor lead on. As the lines of battle roll forward to bring you within the zone of operation, rise and strike."

Going ashore with MacArthur were every able-bodied survivor of Corregidor and Sergio Osmeña, successor to the late Manuel Quezon as president of the Philippine commonwealth.

While men and supplies poured in to meet an estimated 225,000 Japanese in the Philippines under Field Marshal Juichi Terauchi, President Roosevelt messages from Washington.

"The whole American nation today exults at the news that the gallant men under your command have landed on Philippine soil."

The Leyte landings put the invaders within 415 miles of Manila to the northwest and marked an advance of 600 miles north from MacArthur's base at Morotai.

Front line dispatches said the Leyte landings were preceded three days ago by landings on small islands guarding the entrance to Leyte gulf and mine-sweeping operations of the gulf to make it safe for the passage of convoys.

MacArthur said the invaders continued on page eight)

Mrs. Jesse Moye, president, extended a hearty welcome to the guests, Mesdames Wendell Smiley, S. S. Roberts, E. C. Holler, and Judge Dink James. Mrs. W. L. Whedbee introduced Dr. E. C. Holler, the guest speaker for the afternoon, who gave a very timely and informative talk on "Current Topics." He discussed freely the war situation on the European and Eastern fronts and the internal conditions of the Balkan countries. He stated that the Japanese were splitting free China in two and that this serious condition was due to the fact that the Chinese were so divided among themselves. It is necessary that we continue to send all possible aid to this suffering nation in order to rid China of the Japanese. He remarked that the U. S. army is large enough to carry on the war but drafting would continue only for replacements. However the navy will demand more ships and personnel to convoy men and supplies to the South Pacific, now and after the defeat of Germany. Dr. Holler emphasized the importance of the war and definitely include jobs for returning boys and a better education for children.

Following this splendid talk, Mrs. Moye presided over a brief business session, after which the club books were distributed.—Reported.

Homecoming At Rountree's.

Women in the Church

With Madame Chiang Kai-Shek as president, and with many other Christian women as officers and members, the Chinese National Women's Association for War Relief is now seven years of age. It was organized by Madame Chiang three weeks after Japan began war upon China, and it has been the principal body through which Chinese women have been able to help war sufferers. The headquarters are in Chungking, and there are branch offices in 11 provinces. Last year the association provided care for more than 36,000 dependents of soldiers.

Councils of Church Women in twelve widely scattered cities will present studies on timely themes during the sessions of the second biennial assembly to be held November 14 to 16 in Columbus, Ohio, by the United Council of Church Women, interdenominational organization representing 10,000,000 church women, according to Mrs. McIlvair H. Lichter of Boston, program chairman for the assembly. Following the presentations of these study commissions, delegates present will divide into ten discussion groups for a discussion of the material as it applies to the problem assigned to the individual discussion groups. Topics to be considered include Racial Tensions, Shifting Populations, Education for Family Living, Housing and Family Life, Church Women and Community Cooperation, Post-war Employment, Returning Service Men and Women, Alcohol and Health Education, Education in the Post-war World.

More than 30 per cent of the high school graduates who applied recently for admission to the fall term of the five Christian colleges and universities now carrying on the West China Union University campus in Chengtu, Szechuan Province, China were girls. This is partly due to war conditions, but also to the growing interest in the education of girls shown in all parts of the nation not "occupied" by the Japanese. Many of the girls desired courses in medicine and journalism. The institutions housed in Chengtu—four of them refugees from Japan-controlled areas—are, besides West China Union, Yenching University, Ginling College for Women, the University of Nanking and Chee-loo University.

The American Legion is sponsoring the fair. Legion officials today said that plans are being made

Chapter I

The sun setting behind One Tree Hill threw long shadows across Auckland Harbor, hesitated a moment to set on the shipping at the wharves, and disappeared finally with a suddenness that left only dusk and the faint twinkling lights that would be switched off with the hour of blackout. With the dusk came a hush over the harbor, a tranquility over the wide stretch of water, a sudden cessation of sirens, and winches and cranes that had been loading and unloading all day the big overseas ships. Small craft, not allowed the passage of the channel after sundown, nosed their way gently to their moorings.

Only at the Dutchess Wharf activity continued. The S. S. Coromandel was preparing to go to sea—and men swarmed about her, batten down hatches, wedging tarpaulins, scrubbing decks and polishing, removing the dirt and dust of loading. Trucks and the big cranes were swung away, and in the shed alongside, customs officials prepared to inspect passenger baggage.

Cherry Mayne came on deck for a last look at Auckland. It was, like all harbor towns, at its best in the early morning and at sunset, with the gentle hills and straggling houses bathed in the soft glow, a piece of exquisite tapestry worked in soft, shadowed colors with the bright glare of noon and the bustle of a business day forgotten. It was, Cherry thought, very peaceful and lovely. But she had no regrets.

She turned towards the open sea, a darker shadow beyond Rangitoto Channel, her small face lifted expectantly towards the shadowy dusk. Out there in the open sea the adventure would begin—soon, within a few hours. She smiled at her own eagerness, knowing very well the dangers that lurked beyond the safe confines of the friendly harbor. She had not forgotten the long, perilous voyage out here with her evacuee children two years ago. But nothing could dim her longing to be back in England, back with Mother and Gran and Danny, who had endured three years of war so steadily. Oh, it would be worth it—worth any trials and dangers the trip could offer to be home once more! This was her last chance to dream; soon, very soon the passengers would be embarking.

All her cabin were dusted and spotless, ready for occupation. Cherry herself was immaculate in uniform, tense as a racehorse before the starting signal. As a nurse she had proved herself long ago, when she completed her training with flying colors, but now, for this one voyage, she was a stewardess, and she wanted desperately to be a good one, to justify the company's faith in her, to make good. It had been such a miracle getting this job; it

Rory found his thoughts of the ship and about Cherry getting somehow mixed up. He remembered Cherry's face when they had chanced to meet in Queen Street; alive, alert, fresh, with those big steady eyes of hers questioning his, her wide, ready smile.

Sailors, he thought grimly, were better off without women. They interfered with one's job too much, couldn't understand the givals demands of one's ship, especially in wartime.

Cherry Mayne, he admitted, seemed different. He had liked her from the minute he had found her floating in the model of the Coromandel in the office window. That was why he had done something very unusual for him. He had suggested to the strange girl: "Why don't you sign on—as stewardess—instead of sailing as a passenger?"

As if conscious of his regard, Cherry looked up. Rory lifted his hand in greeting, but she did not wave back. She smiled and turned away and went inside, as if remembering her duties. Somehow Rory liked the gentle dignity of her action. Somehow he was glad she had not faved back.

Rory gazed out over the darkening island of Rangitoto, quite unconscious of the stern set of his jaw.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Quite a stack of newspapers I left you yesterday, Judge. Aren't you in the newspaper business, are you?"

"No, I just enjoy reading different papers so my nephew George sends them to me whenever he takes a business trip. I got a big kick out of some he sent me from several counties where they still have prohibition. Particularly from some headlines that read 'Drunk Driving Arrests Rise'.

'Bootleggers must post Ceiling Prices'. 'Federal Agents seize 'Trick' Liquor Truck'. Doesn't that go to prove, Joe, that prohibition does not prohibit?"

"I watched conditions pretty carefully during our 13 years of prohibition in this country. The only thing I could see we got out of it was bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor...plus the worst crime and corruption this country has ever known."

Strength FOR THE DAY
By EARL L. DOUGLAS

TRouble HAS ITS MESSAGE
The problem of pain is the most baffling and perplexing problem in life. Why does a loving heavenly Father allow His children to be afflicted as they so often are, with suffering and trouble?
The secret is partly revealed in the derivation of the word tribulation. It comes from a Latin word "tribulum," meaning the threshing-sledge with which the Roman farmer separated the wheat from the chaff. Trouble, sorrow, and pain, reasoned those who fear God, are our language, have the same effect on the human soul that the "tribulum" had on the sheaves of the Roman farmer—they separate the good grain from the chaff. Pain, above everything else, throws the soul of man back upon God; and when he finds God, he finds peace and security. Suffering is never without purpose. Tribulation, when endured in the right spirit, does something toward the opening of our souls that nothing else in life can achieve.
Even Christ, the Beloved of God, had to be made perfect through suffering. He had to enter into the common experience of man. And because He met it with fortitude and faith, He is able spiritually to support to this very hour those who are similarly afflicted.

The Doughboys held on to their positions at Crucifix Hill, just northwest of the city, against all these desperate charges and went on with their methodical extermination of the garrison, which originally was estimated at 1,500 men.
That the garrison actually was larger, however, was indicated by dispatches from Aachen today which said from 500 to 1,000 Germans remained in isolated, traps around the city, while nearly 2,000 already had been captured.
During the siege the Germans had been able to feed a few hundred reinforcements into the garrison, but since Sunday they were forced to rely upon parachutes as their chief agency of supply.
Aachen had been made a test city by the American command, giving the Germans the choice of surrendering or permitting one of the famous towns of the Reich to be knocked to pieces. The Germans rejected the ultimatum Wednesday, Oct. 11 and the Americans began their attack.
Aachen may have set the pattern for German resistance from city to city.
Only 10,000 to 15,000 civilians were believed to have remained in the city at the beginning of the attack. At least 3,000 were evacuated by the Americans after the attack began.
Canadian infantry and armor trucked out in a new offensive through the mud and marshland north of Antwerp today to bolster the Allied powerhouse salient being built up in Holland against Adolf Hitler's northern defenses.
At the same time French infantry fighting along the ridges of the Vosges at the southern end of the Allied line outflanked the village of Ventron at the entrance of the 15-mile-long Bussang Pass which opens out on the Rhine floor only seven miles from Mulhouse.
The Americans of the Seventh army on the latter front also captured Bruyeres, 13 miles east of Epinal, in a further stab at two more passes leading through the Vosges to the Rhine flatlands and around Colmar and Strasbourg.
The British Second army, fighting to clear out the Germans west of the Maas (Meuse) along the Reich border fronting the Holland salient made slow progress, almost bogged down by mud, and stiff German resistance.
On either side of Ventron with tank support in the valleys 20 miles north of Belfort and 14 miles south-east of Remiremont.
Six German counterattacks were beaten back by the French yesterday just to the south in the area northeast of Le Thillot. The Germans threw in six counterattacks in the same area the day before also.
The Germans sent a score of planes over Third army lines in the Metz-Nancy sector in large-scale reconnaissance last night.

Allied planes showered bombs on a woods east of Lunville where the enemy was reported concentrating tanks. Hard fighting continued in Maizières Les Metz, on the Moselle five miles north of Metz.

That every able-bodied veteran of Bataan and Corregidor has been summoned to participate in MacArthur's revenge is a typical bit of Olympian justice. These men carry a mental picture of their comrades trudging northward after the bloody Bataan defeat, staggering beneath the blows of Japanese sabers, ripped by hunger, dying of untended wounds and disease, choking as their sadistic captors drained canisters which they were not allowed to touch. It will not be nice for the Japanese who oppose these men on the road back.

Farm machinery is needed and should be made; what wages are being paid to farm workers in relation to city workers.
The individual farmer himself may never study very hard the records of this census of agriculture. But the information will be valuable to people like these:
Congressmen who pass the laws affecting farmers, the policy makers of the Department of Agriculture, the technical advisers in the state agricultural colleges, the county farm agents, the farm paper editors and leaders of farm organizations.
Some farmers apparently are not very talkative. The census takers have been instructed to tell tight-lipped farmers that the information they give will be confidential, that it will not be relayed to their neighbors.

The penetration of Cesena apparently was only in the eastern part of the town, the communique indicated, but gains by other Eighth army troops to the south made the German position in Cesena extremely difficult.
Headquarters said the bridgehead across the Pisciatello river above the highway and west of Macerone, has reached a depth of two miles and has been joined with a bridgehead farther to the west established three days ago.
South of the Emilian way Cellin-cordia has been captured and farther west several villages and hills have been cleared of the enemy south of Galeata, the communique said.
The heaviest fighting in the central sector in the Po valley drive was reported in the vicinity of monte Belmonte and on route 65, north of Pogglioli. The Germans were putting in heavy counter-attacks from their positions at Monte Belmonte, using tanks, mortar and artillery fire.

ponding nobly to the great humanitarian appeal of this United War Fund campaign.
Here in the City of Greenville, Chairman Joe Taft reported that 87 per cent of Greenville's quota of $21,000.00 had been raised and that a number of campaign workers had not yet completed their assignments. Mr. Taft especially commended the work done by the Women's Division under the leadership of Mrs. E. T. Lloyd and Mrs. J. B. Lane, Jr. "Those ladies surely have worked tirelessly and effectively. No words of praise can be too high for them," Mr. Taft stated. The work of the Special Gifts Committee under the leadership of Mr. J. G. Clark has been most outstanding. The men's general campaign committee, headed by Mr. Godfrey Oakley, is still working vigorously in its effort to assist Greenville Township in reaching its quota of $21,000.00. "That is a lot of money, but it is going to do a lot of good and it must be—it will be raised," stated Mr. Taft.
County Chairman, Sam B. Underwood, Jr., reminded that any person wishing to make a contribution to the campaign and who had not thus far been approached by any solicitor might either mail a check to United War Fund, Box 527, Greenville, N. C. or might call Telephone 3303 and request someone to call for the contribution.

Chapter 30
Scoopy, the bootblack, had disappeared and with him the clue to the murderer. An examination of this shop failed to reveal the other pair of shoes bearing the new kind of paint. A dragnet was set to locate the missing man.

As Susan and Erich returned to the street, after a futile search of the shop, a car pulled to the curb. "Get in!" Julie and Thorny called from the back seat. Both doors opened as the car slowed, and Susan and Erich jumped for them.

The Constable was at the wheel. He said cheerfully as he shoved down the throttle, "Doc Merrill called. Jim Lockhart's pretty sick and he called for Julie. Wonder how Julie's gonna take that?"

Startled, Susan glanced back at Julie. "You mustn't go! You mustn't! Jim Lockhart's delirious!"

There were tears in Julie's large eyes. She said slowly, "I've known Jim since I can remember knowing anyone. If I were dying, who knows? I might want to see him. And if I did—I'd want him to come."

They went up the flower-bordered path to the gleaming white steps of the Lockhart house.

From somewhere the sound of Daliah Lockhart's dry sobs started. Merrill opened the bedroom door. "Might as well all come in," he said. A desperate, if futile attempt to stop the spread of the scandal, Susan thought wearily.

She was shocked by the sunken features of Jim Lockhart. His eyes were clear but his tongue moved thickly.

"Julie."

Julie went across to the bed and took his hand. Merrill closed the door and moved up beside Erich and Susan. "He didn't seem any worse today," he said in an undertone. "I was taking his pulse and telling him your wild tale of the painted shoe when he had this stroke."

"Think he'll pull through?"

Thorny's whisper was faint but Jim Lockhart caught it.

"No," he said. "Thorny, come here. Erich—Susan—Daliah—He got a couple of heavy breaths with effort, his voice went thickly but stubbornly on. 'Have to tell you—everything—don't want to go—through death like I—have through line. Too hard—'

His tone was a confession.

Julie gave a low cry. Erich's hand gripped Susan's.

Lockhart's eyes were fixed on Julie's tense face. "I'm sorry, Julie—what I did to your life. Always liked you too much. Always jealous of Corboy. His eyes closed.

Julie cried. "Jim! The night of the fire—what happened?"

Lockhart's dulling eyes cleared with effort. "Night of the fire. Yes. I went to the lab. I picked the light. And then the burner went over—something exploded. I ran—I thought John was behind me—but he didn't come out. I tried to go back, Julie—but the wall fell—"

"It was an accident!" Julie's eyes were shining. "Why didn't you tell, Jim?"

"I meant to tell," Lockhart said slowly, "but the crowd—so mad—kept shouting it was murder—When they blamed Scarbrough, I thought he could protect himself—he was rich and powerful. I was young and poor. His voice died in a whisper. "—and a coward." His eyes closed again.

Julie was crying, but Erich moved closer. "Why did you kill Kelso Bachman last week?" he said clearly.

Lockhart's eyes opened again slowly, his voice was clearer. "Kelso

Grain Market

Chicago, Oct. 20 - (AP) - Wheat was weak and other grains lost fractionally in late futures trading today. Rye, at one time was up more than a cent and the December contract sold at $1.13 1/2, a new high since mid-July, before prices eased back to below the previous close. The tight statistical position of rye and the fact that country offerings of corn are holding at ceiling levels accounted for short covering in both grains early in the session. At the close wheat was 3/4 to 1 1/2 lower than yesterday's finish. December $1.05 1/2 - 3/4. Corn was 1/4 higher to 3/4 lower. December $2.13 1/2. Oats were 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower. December 65. Rye was down 3/4 to 1 1/2. December $1.10 1/2 - 3/4. Barley was off 3/4 to 1/2. December $1.04 1/2.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 20 - (AP) - Stocks generally tripped over light selling in today's market and, while scattered favorites managed to keep ahead, most leaders joined the fractional minus ranks. There were a few slight comebacks near the close. Transfers ran to around 700,000 shares.

How your dollars help every member of this family

You will give his wife helping hands, kind words, good advice... when she has a difficult problem... when she's learning how to handle a war job along with her home job. Family, service, hospital and clinical facilities, pre-natal and post-natal care.

You will give his little son safe and happy play while his mother is at work... necessary hospital care... services to keep a boy healthy, brave, strong - till daddy comes home again! When you give this once, you give many gifts. You help fighting men - and their fighting families at home. Give now. Give all you can.

You will give him an easy chair, music, companionship in U.S.O. clubs... stars of stage and screen to entertain him wherever he goes, through U.S.O. Camp Shows. Little things? Big things to him!

You will give his daughter good, wholesome activities under wise leadership... recreation... a chance to help the war effort... all the community social services that combat juvenile delinquency.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis
Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. PICKS WEEK'S GRID WINNERS
Wake Forest, Georgia Tech and N. C. Pre-Flight Among Favorites.
By ORLO ROBERTSON
New York, Oct. 20.—(AP)—A little more confident after picking the Cards to beat the Browns in the World Series, we return to the weekly gridiron guessing game with the hopes that we'll be somewhere close to last week's performance of pinch hitter Fritz Howell. He came up with 38 wins, three defeats and one tie.
Navy-Georgia Tech — Unbeaten unscathed on Tech may give the Middles an argument but this Navy eleven is due to really break loose one of these days. This may be the day.
Great Lakes-Ohio State—There'll be no secrets since Lt. Paul Brown left the Buckeyes to coach the Sailors and Carroll Widows was named by Brown as his successor. On the basis of a veteran line and a wealth of good backs we give you

Ohio State.
Georgia Pre-Flight-North Carolina Pre-Flight—All-America Otto Graham to lead the Carolina team back to the victory trail after being tied by Virginia last week.
Tulsa-Mississippi—Tulsa is looking for a Bowl bid and "Ole Miss" isn't going to stop the Oklahomans. Wisconsin-Notre Dame—This'll be No. 4 for the nation No. 1 team, Notre Dame.
Illinois-Pittsburgh — The Illinois haven't got much in the way of a defense but they have fleet Buddy Young and it'll take a lot of touchdowns to beat him, Illinois.
Brown-Holy Cross — Off the record, it'll have to be Holy Cross.
Texas-Arkansas — Texas without hesitation.
Purdue-Iowa — The Hawkeyes haven't shown enough to stop the Boiler-Makers' parade to at least a share in the Big Ten title. Purdue.
U. S. Coast Guard-Army — The Cadets warm up for their game with Duke next week. Army.
St. Marys Pre-Flight-U. C. L. A. — UCLA lies Southern Calif.; the Pre-Flighters lost to the Trojans. That adds up to U. C. L. A.
Rice-Southern Methodist—Heads it's Rice, Tails it's the Methodists. The coin came down heads.
Indiana-Northwestern — We hate to admit it but it looks like our Alma Mammy is headed for its fourth straight defeat. Indiana.
Auburn-Tulane — Dub Jones to lead Tulane to victory.
Kansas State-Oklahoma — No need of doing any heavy thinking. Oklahoma.
Alabama-Tennessee—This is supposed to be a real Alabama team. Tennessee may surprise but we'll string along with Alabama.
Iowa State-Missouri — The Navy Tarneets at Iowa State will prove the difference.
Penn State-Colgate—The nitty nitty have too much offensive power for the Red Raiders. Penn State.
Texas Christian-Texas Aggies — It's the Aggies by a comfortable margin.
Wake Forest - North Carolina State—How can you pick anybody but Wake Forest?
Starting with Friday games we go gallivanting country: Georgia over Daniel Field, Drake over Gustavus Adolphus, Jacksonville Naval Base over Miami, Michigan State over Maryland, Boston College over New York Univ. and Temple over Syracuse.
On Saturday it'll be: West Virginia over Bethany, Third Air Force over Cherry Point Marines, Colorado over Colorado College, California over Fleet City Naval Base, Lafayette over Lehigh, Villanova over Muhlenberg, Louisiana State over Mississippi State, St. Marys over Nevada, Okla. Aggies over Denver, Cornell over Sampson Naval Base, William and Mary over Richmond AAB, Second Air Force over North Texas, Utah over Idaho Southern, Kentucky over V. M. I., and on Sunday Marquette will take Lincoln, Neb., Air Base, Bainbridge will beat Camp Peary and Iowa Pre-Flight will down Ft. Warren.

DAVENPORT TO GO TO TRIAL
Cases To Be Called In Superior Court Monday.
By CHESTER WALSH
Roderick Davenport of New Bern is scheduled to go on trial in Superior Court here next Monday on charges of issuing worthless checks as collateral for loans made to him at his Dixie Produce Store in Greenville last summer. On Solicitor or Dave M. Clark's calendar for the criminal term next week, 11 of the check cases are to be tried first.
A case charging Davenport, C. T. Jones, Johnny Heath and John R. Hunning with conspiracy to defraud and false pretense is to be called Tuesday. Another case charging Davenport and Mrs. S. H. Powers of New Bern, Hal Whorton and Wilson Boyles with conspiracy to defraud and false pretense is also scheduled to be called Tuesday.
The indictments against Davenport and his associates charge that his "big borrowing" and "small lending" banking operations at his produce store in Greenville they borrowed and loaned money at usurious interest rates.
Solicitor Clark made the first presentments against Davenport and others to the grand jury in Superior Court in Greenville on August 28 and four arrests were made. Two days later Clark secured a court order from Judge H. Hunt Parker for impounding Davenport's books at the Dixie Produce Store here. O. T. Jones, the manager, had resigned some days previously and the store was closed.
The next day, August 31, indictments were returned against Davenport, Mrs. Powers, Hal Whorton and Wilson Boyles. The men were arrested. The woman was not taken into custody.
In the meantime Governor Broughton ordered the State Banking Department to audit Davenport's books.
Davenport appeared in Superior Court in New Bern on September 8, when Judge R. Hunt Parker appointed Hugh B. Mills of New Bern receiver for Davenport's business.
The court later named J. T. Flythe of Mount Olive as co-receiver.
On the same day authorities arrested seven of Davenport's associates in New Bern after the grand jury had indicted them and seven others for conspiracy to defraud and false pretense.
Shortly afterwards Davenport and his indicted associates provided bonds and they were released from custody.

Warfare in a supreme bid to cut off the entire province of 14,000 square miles.
The Germans acknowledged yesterday that the Red army had advanced several miles into East Prussia in the direction of Königsberg. Russian and Yugoslav forces were said to have captured the Sava river railroad bridge and driven the Germans from the port works on the Danube, but the Nazis still held the Alexander highway bridge. Izvestia said a large German tank force was wiped out three miles southeast of the capital.
Red Star, Russian army newspaper, said conditions were grave in Budapest. The newspaper said scores of Hungarian rail workers had struck and were sabotaging German defense efforts. Russian troops were reported within 50 miles of the ancient capital.
Berlin said the new Russian offensive along the Narew river between Warsaw and East Prussia had resulted in enormous Red army losses. Russian breakthrough attempts between Suwalki and Schirwindt on the eastern frontier of East Prussia were frustrated and the tank army in the Kaiser's deer forest was unable "to achieve a penetration," Berlin said.
Moscow reported further large scale successes in Czechoslovakia, Transylvania, Hungary and Yugoslavia, but did not immediately concern the capture of Debrecen.
The fleeing Germans, running for the Bohemian plateau, were reported abandoning arms and munitions. Autumn floods, however, were impeding the Russians advancing over the Carpatho-Ukraine, or Rutenia, west of Czechoslovakia to some extent.

Yanks Swarming . . .

prised Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger's Sixth U. S. Army and units from the central Pacific. Without further identification, frontline dispatches specified these participants:
The First cavalry division; the Seventh division; the 98th division. The Japanese, expecting landings to the south at Mindanao were so completely surprised that beachheads in the Tacloban area "were secured with small casualties," stated today's special communique issued from the field of operations.
Fulfilling his promise, made two years and seven months ago when he took sail leave of the islands that "I shall return," MacArthur went back aboard a warship. It was part of a giant convoy, sailing out further than the eye could see.
The American navy, in unchallenged strength, ruled the invasion scene and the seas about it.
Allied airforces virtually monopolized the skies.
"In a major amphibious operation, we have seized the eastern coast of Leyte island in the Philippines, 600 miles north of Morotai and 250 miles from Milne Bay (New Guinea) from where our offensive started nearly 16 months ago," the communique stated.
"This point of entry in the Visayas (group of islands of which Leyte is one) is midway between Luzon (site of Manila) and Mindanao and at one stroke splits in two the Japanese forces in the Philippines."
"The enemy's anticipation of attack in Mindanao (southern island blasted daily since September by MacArthur's southwest Pacific air arm) caused him to be caught unaware in Leyte and beachheads in the Tacloban area were secured with small casualties."
"The landing was preceded by heavy naval and air bombardment which was devastating in effect." Participating in the preparatory blows were carrier planes of Adm. William F. Halsey's Third fleet which since Oct. 9 destroyed more than 1,300 Japanese aircraft, sank 86 ships and damaged 127 more in forays extending from the Ryukyus within 200 miles of Japan south across Formosa into the Philippines.

"Our ground troops are rapidly extending their positions and supplies and heavy equipment are already flowing ashore in great volumes," the communique said.
The U. S. Seventh fleet, elements of the Third fleet and an Australian squadron made up the naval forces in the invasion.
"Air support was given by Navy carrier forces, by the Far East air force and by the Royal Australian airforce," the communique said.
The invasion brought the Americans against the largest segment of the Japanese army yet encountered in the Pacific war. The estimated 225,000 defenders included Terauchi's 14th Army troops. Seven divisions, the 16th, 25th, 30th, 100th, 102nd 103rd and 106th or 107th have been identified.
"The strategic result of capturing the Philippines will be decisive," General MacArthur pointed out in the communique.
"The enemy's so-called greater East Asia co-prosperity empire will be cut in two. His conquered empire to the south, comprising the Dutch East Indies and the British possessions of Borneo, Malaya and Burma will be severed from Japan proper. The great flow of transportation and supply upon which Japan's vital war industry depends will be cut as will the counter supply of his forces to the south."
"A half million men will be cut off without hope of support and with ultimate destruction at the left sure of the Allies, a certainty in the broad strategical conception.

"The defensive line of the Japanese which extends along the coast of Asia from Japan islands through Formosa, the Philippines, the East Indies to Singapore and Burma will be pierced in the center, permitting an envelopment to the south and to the north."
"Either flank will be vulnerable and can be rolled up at will."

Marines Play Two Exciting Contests
Wednesday's basketball games at the armory were the two most exciting of the season. In both cases the winners were forced to overcome 8 to 12 point leads to win.
In the first, 913 Port Officers won over 914 Port Officers 39-28 after trailing 29-9 at the half and 27-25 at the quarter. Kapowich was easily the outstanding player with Coles, Redlin and Hembree consistently backing him up. Carr of the losers made some beautiful shots with Ekman Carlton and Pink working hard to win.
The second contest saw two unbeaten teams tangle. With the BTO's extending their string to five, 913 BTO's won over 913 Starboard Men 41-37. At half time the men led 23-16, the score being tied at 30-30 at the quarter.
Fine team work gave the winners the advantage, with Manning leading the scoring. The losers fought hard. Skelley making some outstanding shots.

the bomber itself plunged into a watery grave.
But this couldn't really be called an attack. It was hardly aggressive. Of course, enemy aircraft may sweep in over the mountains here at any minute. Tonight after dark they are almost sure to make some sort of attack on the hundreds of ships milling around us here in the gulf. But the fact remains that up to now the enemy has not made a single concerted effort either with submarines, planes or motor torpedo boats to interfere with this history making invasion. As far as is known now, not a single American ship has been lost. It is as though a protective shield was held over our invasion convoy.
Right at this minute in front of me, invasion craft continue to disgorge the men and mechanized equipment. A big craft with rolling bulldozers, jeeps, tanks and all the implements of American mechanized warfare. Already the spearheads of our attack columns are pushing inland, towards the city of Tacloban in the north, and towards the cluster of enemy airfields at the lower end of Leyte Island.
Preliminary reports state that our casualties have been unbelievably low. There may be tough days ahead before General MacArthur

By CHESTER WALSH
Judge J. W. H. Roberts ruled with the wisdom of Solomon in City Recorder's court this morning when he acquitted Paul Morris, laundry truck driver of speeding, reckless driving and hit-and-run in connection with lightly sideswiping a passenger bus. Mrs. Morris gave birth to a fine baby daughter four minutes after arrival at the hospital. The court's ruling was approved by court officials, police and spectators.
Other cases tried today were:

Reckless Driving: T. E. Gray, white, and Alfred Norfleet, colored, both guilty, each paid half the costs; Mrs. Callie Dall, not guilty; G. C. Butts guilty, prayer for judgment continued; Mrs. John Rivers and Lloyd Coward, both not guilty; Speeding: Ishmael Nobles, $15 and lose license 10 days.
Drinks: William E. Beddard, costs; Neal Cherry, colored, $15; M. P. Waters, $15.
Non-support illegitimate child; Roy German, colored, three months in jail, suspended provided he pay court clerk $3 a week for child's support.
Drunk and disorderly conduct; Floyd Williams and Mrs. Floyd Williams, guilty, each $15.
Alton Wilson, colored, larceny of a coat from Leroy Skinner and a gun from Fred Sutton, guilty, six months on each charge, sentences to run concurrently.
