Allies Shoving Germans Back North Of Antwerp

British Capture Breda As Drive To Clean Nazis Out Of Holland Progresses; Allies Enter Roosendaal; German Counterattack Stalled.

By WILLIAM FRYE London, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Allied troops entered Roosendaal, last link in the German defense line below the Maas, tonight.

London, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The German stand in the southwestern lowlands had been cut into four dwindling pockets today and German forces below the Maas river were disintegrating under a concentrated air attack and the drive of Allied armies racing to the Moerdijk escape bridge only six miles away.

The four pockets were below the Maas where the chief resistance center of Breda had been taken; on Peveland island; on flooded Walcheren island, virtually cut off by a Canadian drive to within 3,000 yards of the causeway connecting with Beveland; and a tiny six-mile-long four-mile wide corner of Belgium south of the Scheldt.

North of Tilburg a British column lashed out from Loon on Zand and seized the village of Keatshevel, only three miles south of the Maas, and drove to within two miles of Sasplik to the northwest, only three miles from the Geertruidenberg span across the Maas.

The drive across flooded lowlands, leed by canals and dikes, in the campaign to clear the Scheldt approaches to the Allied harbor of Antwerp, was gaining momentum and approaching a conclusion after some of the most difficult fighting of the war.

On Walcheren the remnants of German forces were fighting from islands within the island-bits of land and raised dikes around the principal cities of Vlissingen, Breda and Middelburg which stood above the flood waters loosed by Allied bombing of the seawalls. The Germans admitted many of their guns were under eight feet of water.

The German high command said other Canadians had launched a major attack on Dunkerque, a remaining coastal pocket in France, and had achieved a "temporary" penetration.

Canadians and British fighting westward on Beveland north of the Scheldt had taken the chief center, Goes, and pushed through Heinkenland to within 3,000 yards of the (Continued on Page Four)

Firemen Called To Winterville Blaze

The Greenville Fire Department was called to Winterville yesterday afternoon when firemen there feared that a fire at Cox's grist mill might spread to other buildings. Chief George Gardner took some equipment to Winterville and stood by for an emergency. The Winterville firemen extinguished the grist mill blaze. The mill was destroyed. Damage was about $5,000, partially covered by insurance.

Another alarm came in about 4 o'clock from Mrs. Stokes' house on West Third Street when fire started in a partition near a stove. Damage was slight.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

The Allies have been doing a workmanlike job over the week-end in ousting the Germans from bitterly disputed southwest Holland, and the task nears completion.

This means that the great port of Antwerp in neighboring Belgium shortly will be available for the movement of much needed supplies to support the Allied assault on the Siegfried defenses. Thus far the Nazi heavy artillery has been able to block shipping by commanding the Estuary of the river Scheldt on which Antwerp lies.

There also has been an unusually heavy bombing of the German defenses, communications and industries in the Cologne-Arnhem sector—the type of bombardment which precedes big offensives. So on the whole the week-end developments have been in effect reaffirmation that our Allied high command intends to launch a major drive at the earliest feasible moment. A lot of course depends on the opening up of Antwerp.

The Germans are continuing their tactics of hanging on for time, and these delaying actions—Holland is a prime example—are producing stiff fighting. However, Fuehrer Hitler's effort to stall off going to the dentist is merely piling up pain for him on the inevitable day when he has to give in. The Reich is enduring terrific punishment for his sake. Still, there's no sacrifice the Nazi dictator won't demand to save his own skin. Under his directions the German command is rushing work

New Crisis Created By Stilwell Recall

BRITISH TAKE GRECIAN TOWN

Capture Kozane After Battle With Nazis.

Rome, Oct. 30.—(AP)—British troops have captured Kozane, 58 miles southwest of Salonika, after the first sharp battle with retreating Germans in northern Greece. Allied headquarters announced today.

The Allied communique said casualties were inflicted on the Nazis in a spirited fight west of the town, which is 40 miles from the Yugoslav border and is on one of the main escape routes for the Germans.

The British entered the town at 2:45 p. m. yesterday, and were given an enthusiastic welcome by the populace, the communique added.

Advance British patrols maintained contact with the Germans as they fled northward.

Night fighting by Beaufighters of the RAF reported seeing two large explosions and fires in the dock area of Salonika. The Germans were previously reported demolishing the port facilities preparatory to withdrawal. (Continued on Page Four)

Whether China Will Remain Active Force In War Depends On Developments.

By JOHN M. NIGHTOWER Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—China has been plunged heading into a new military and political crisis by the recall of General Joseph W. Stilwell to Washington.

Information reaching here indicates that decisions which must be made in Chungking in the next three to four weeks may well determine the fate of the Chinese war effort from now on.

Among American officials there is hope, but little real confidence that Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek will be able to put his military and political affairs in order without further delay.

High strategy of the war against Japan hangs on the outcome. But this crisis has been months in the making, with a virtual breakdown in China always possible.

The campaigns ahead—closer now because of the victories in the Philippines—have had to be planned on an "if" basis—if free China remains an effective force against (Continued on page four)

Large Crowd At Political Rally

An overflow crowd attended the Democratic political rally at the courthouse Saturday night, when Congressman Herbert C. Bonner of Washington and Agriculture Commissioner W. Kerr Scott of Burlington reviewed the administration of President Roosevelt in contrast with administrations of President Harding, Coolidge and Hoover. The high school band was a feature of the meeting.

Dr. Paul E. Jones of Farmville, chairman of the Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee, called the meeting to order and turned it over to District Highway Commissioner John G. Clark. Dr. M. A. Frizzelle introduced Commissioner Scott. Jack Spain of Greenville, Congressman Bonner's secretary, presented the congressman.

Saturday night's rally was the climax for the 1944 campaign in Pitt County. Tuesday, November 7, is Election Day.

Judge Hunt Parker Holding Court Here

Judge R. Hunt Parker of Roanoke Rapids is presiding over a week's criminal term of criminal Superior Court here. A heavy docket confronts the Halifax county jurist.

The better portion of today was taken up in hearing the cases against Dr. Charles O'H. Horne and Charles R. Arnold, charging reckless driving. The cases are the outgrowth of a collision of their cars some months ago.

Judge Parker about noon ordered the court clerk to enter a verdict of not guilty to the reckless driving charges. He said that there was no evidence of reckless driving. Solicitor Dave Clark decided to try Arnold on a charge of driving with only one light. (Continued on page four)

YANKS EXTEND OCCUPATION OF PHILIPPINES

More Than Two-Thirds Of Leyte In American Hands; 1,500,000 Filipinos Liberated.

By C. YATES Mc DANIEL MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Ten days after he waded ashore, Gen. Douglas MacArthur today controlled two-thirds of strategic Leyte island and had a strangle hold on adjacent Samar as the retreating Japanese took to the hills or sought to escape by barge through waters patrolled by deadly American P-T boats.

MacArthur said the liberation of 1,500,000 Filipinos on the two central Philippine islands was virtually completed. The natives attended Sunday church services and the children were back at school. Their lives rapidly took on a degree of normalcy.

As late reports on the defeat of the Japanese fleet placed it as one of the greatest naval whippings of the time, MacArthur announced in his Monday communique that his men controlled 1,800 square miles on Leyte alone and that the remaining enemy garrisons on Leyte and Samar were isolated and helpless.

They can be "destroyed at will," he said. (An unconfirmed Tokyo broadcast heard in Melbourne said 46 American transports conveyed by cruises and destroyers were sighted yesterday heading for Leyte, and added: "The battle for the Philippines is about to begin in earnest.")

American first cavalry troops, by seizing Carigara town on Carigara bay, have eliminated the enemy's only effective point of reinforcement for the Leyte valley, which has been bottled up by the Yanks with brilliant guerrilla aid.

All organized resistance in the valley appeared to have ceased after last-ditch stands last night at Cavite bridge and the Dagami road junction were crushed by American tanks, artillery and bayonets.

The American 27th division was preparing for a knockout blow against a small Japanese garrison on a four-mile spur on the main valley road, four miles south of the Cavite bridge, but most of Gen. Shiro Makino's 18th division—the once arrogant perpetrators of the infamous death march of Bataan—(Continued on Page Four)

Congressmen Will Hear About Sugar

By CHESTER WALSH Industrial users of sugar in Eastern Carolina have been invited by J. B. Kittrell, Greenville broker and banker, to be his guests at a barbecue luncheon meeting at the Rotary Club next Thursday at 1 o'clock and participate in a discussion of the critical sugar shortage situation.

"There should be a change in the government's policy of handling sugar," Kittrell said today. "We can only contact these officials through our congressmen and senators. A number of congressmen will attend the meeting Thursday. It is our duty to impress upon them the vital importance of a change in the government method of handling sugar. The sugar situation is a serious problem," Kittrell said.

Congressmen Bonner, Barden, Clark, Kerr, Cooley and Durham and Senator Josiah W. Bailey are expected to attend the meeting. Facts regarding the sugar supply situation will be presented and discussed.

Presidential Campaign Enters Its Final Week

By J. W. DAVIS Associated Press Staff Writer State officials now estimate that more than 44,000,000 persons will vote in the election a week from tomorrow.

And an unestimated amount of political oratory and other energy remains to be directed at getting these votes into what, variously, are held to be the right camps.

Much of the rest of the campaign will be packed into the eastern and northeastern states, with President Roosevelt and Governor Dewey both headed for Boston in the battle for Massachusetts.

The total vote estimate of 44,000,000 plus, which includes 3,392,000 service men and women, was compiled by the Associated Press from state officers who did their figuring on the basis of incomplete registrations and estimates of otherwise qualified voters. It compares with the actual total of 49,815,312 in 1940.

Mr. Roosevelt is expected in Boston Saturday night; his Republican opponent is to speak there Wednesday night, reserving his own last Saturday night before the election spot for Madison Square Garden in New York.

Dewey is spending today in Albany, in connection with a special legislative session called to consider extending New York voting hours.

Tomorrow night, Dewey is down for a talk in Buffalo, N. Y., at 9 o'clock over NBC. Traveling from there to Boston, he will make stops

SLOW GAIN ON ITALIAN FRONT Mud Still Impeding Movements Of Allies.

By LYNN HEINZLINGER Rome, Oct. 30.—(AP)—American and British troops of the Fifth Army have made new gains in the mountainous southeast of Bologna Allied headquarters announced today.

The Allied communique noted an improvement in weather conditions which have impeded progress of the British Eighth Army and the Americans in northern Italy, but swift running streams and wide flooded areas due to recent rains kept the opposing armies still bogged down in the mud.

American infantry supported by tanks, attacked the Germans north of Mantova. Advance elements in a mile gain reached the area of Cassinetta, only two miles from the Bologna-Rimini highway and three miles southwest of Castel San Pietro, a main point on the highway 13 miles southeast of Bologna.

British troops pushed up highway 67 leading to Porli, 37 miles south-east of Bologna, maintaining contact with German forces withdrawing in order to avoid being isolated. The Germans were still holding (Continued on page four)

Berlin Reports Further Soviet Gains In Latvia On Baltic Front.

London, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The last rail escape route for Germans in northeastern Hungary was blocked by the Russians today with capture of Csap (Cep) on the upper Tisza river, while to the north Berlin reported further Russian gains in the liquidation of an estimated 100,000 Nazis pinned against the Baltic sea.

Csap, junction of four rail lines at the southwestern edge of liberated Ruthenia, was occupied yesterday by troops of Gen. Ivan Petrov's Fourth Ukrainian army which fought their way 50 miles across mountainous eastern Czechoslovakia, Moscow announced.

A Berlin announcement said Soviet troops attacking in western Latvia had penetrated to the Priekule area 20 miles southeast of the Baltic port of Liepaja, and had captured Auce, communications center 70 miles east of Liepaja.

The Moscow communique did not confirm the Berlin reports on the Baltic offensive, nor did it mention the East Prussian front.

The Moscow communique asserted that fighting only of local importance occurred along most of the vast battlefields scattered from the Arctic to the Balkans.

Meanwhile, it appeared that Petrov's forces and those of the Second Ukrainian army of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky were strenuously attempting to maintain the momentum of their attacks in northeastern Hungary.

Petrov's troops already had linked up with units of Malinovsky's army who were fighting a stubborn series of battles in the area of Nyireghyza, big Hungarian city 38 miles southwest of Csap.

REVEAL TERMS OF ARMISTICE

Russia Takes Firm Stand Against Neutrals.

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Russia hung a question mark over her western European diplomacy today just as affairs in the Balkans slid into a groove of collaboration oiled by Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

The newest upset in Washington, and probably London, calculations came over plans for the international aviation conference opening in Chicago Wednesday.

Moscow announced last night that Russia would not attend because "countries like Switzerland, Portugal and Spain, which for many years have conducted a pro-Fascist policy hostile to the Soviet Union—have also been invited."

It was learned here that the declaration would not modify plans for the conference. American officials have talked with Soviet aviation experts and know their views and intend to keep them in mind as the conference develops.

Airmen Pound German Cities

London, Oct. 30.—(AP)—More than 800 U. S. heavy bombers attacked Hamm, Munster and the twin port cities of Hamburg-Harburg today.

Germany's largest freight yards are at Hamm and the third largest serving on the western front are at Munster. Hamburg area targets were oil refineries and processing plants. The Fortuna and Liberator bombers were outnumbered by 800 escorting fighters, many of which veered off on transport-hunting missions of their own.

FIGHT AGAINST CLOSED SHOP

Editor's Note: This is the second of two stories on proposed amendments to the state constitutions of Arkansas, California and Florida—to outlaw the closed union shop.

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Should a worker be forced to join a union—where there is a union or "closed" shop—in order to get a job?

This is the heart of a bitter fight now in Arkansas, California and Florida. Its results may be far reaching for organized labor in this country.

In each of those states the voters on Nov. 7 will ballot on a proposed amendment to the state constitution. The amendments are practically identical. They say in effect: No worker should be compelled to join a union in order to get or hold a job.

Tokyo Radio Says New Attacks Began Saturday; Latest Reports On Recent Sea-Air Battle Off Philippines Places Jap Warship Losses At 58.

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS U. S. Pacific Fleet headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Oct. 30.—The victorious American Navy has launched new aerial attacks against Manila, Tokyo reported today, after sinking or damaging 53 Japanese warships in one of history's greatest naval triumphs.

The Third and Seventh U. S. fleets recently sank 24 Japanese warcraft, including four aircraft carriers and two battleships, in last week's naval action off the Philippines. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced last night.

Thirteen more Japanese craft, including a battleship, were damaged so badly they may have sunk, and 21 other warcraft, including six battleships, were damaged.

The total—at least 500,000 tons—is more warcraft than Japan lost in all the four preceding great Pacific war sea battles combined.

American forces spent six warships for a victory by which Nimitz said, "The Japanese fleet has been decisively defeated and routed." Dispatches from the Philippines say, however, American personnel casualties were "considerable." In addition the 10,000-ton Australian cruiser, Australia, was damaged.

(Tokyo radio today reported, without Allied confirmation, that 200 U. S. carrier planes staged three raids on Manila and Clark Airfield Saturday—just three days after heavy fighting in the naval battle ended. Japanese aircraft, said another Tokyo broadcast, Sunday began attacking an American task force, including four aircraft carriers, in Lamon Bay, on the east coast of Luzon, opposite Manila.)

Nimitz' 1100-word communique said that "amplified reports, although still subject to revision as more information is received, indicate an overwhelming victory."

The second battle of the Philippine Sea ranks as one of the major sea battles of World War II in the Pacific.

The three related actions, thus classified as the second battle of the Philippine Sea, were fought south of Formosa, off the east coast of Samar and in Surigao Strait off southeastern Leyte, Oct. 23, 24 and 25.

In each of those states the voters on Nov. 7 will ballot on a proposed amendment to the state constitution. The amendments are practically identical. They say in effect: No worker should be compelled to join a union in order to get or hold a job.

The AFL and CIO are fighting the amendments. They say their purpose—and net effect—is to smash the closed shop and unions themselves.

They say that if these amendments pass similar amendments will be offered in other states.

A closed—or union shop is a place where none but union members may work, an arrangement arrived at by a collective bargaining contract between a union and a boss.

This is what supporters of the amendment say, an argument that has been raised often and with repeated emphasis in the past few Religious Emphasis Week. Sunday night vespers at East Carolina Teachers College was the first in a series of programs during Religious Emphasis Week.

Dr. Ray C. Petry of Duke University, was speaker on the subject "Character and Function of Christian Education." He began by saying that education is one field in which you can't get enough, for it is a continual process. A Christian education is a means by which we live a little higher, a little better. He said that we are a part of the process of education, for knowing people and being with them is a part of our education.

Education, according to Dr. Petry, is one of the most slippery things in life, for one can state so many generalizations about it. Education is the whole make-up of life itself. It does not stop at any certain limit. Dr. Petry discussed the three functions of Christian education. They are: First, to help appreciate the great resources of Christian literature. This literature stimulates the quest for the great truths of life. Second, one function is to help us bring together the different fields of education, and third, to learn to be worshipful in a very mysterious world, for one never becomes truly educated until he learns to be worshipful.

Dr. Petry's subject at the 6:30 this evening will be: "The Bible as the Book of Living Experiences." At chapel tomorrow noon, he will discuss "Jesus, the Norm of World Reconstruction." His final talk, at 6:30 tomorrow evening will be "The Church in its Relation to World Societies." The public is cordially invited to these meetings which are held in Austin auditorium.

Special singing for last night's service was rendered by Misses Elizabeth Bldgers, Hennie Ruth and Mary Andrews, which was sung "Ave Maria."

Christian Science Service. "Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, October 29.

The golden text was from Lamentations 3:30-40. "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Hear ye the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel; Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain. Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy back-slidings shall reprove thee; know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feet is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts." (Jeremiah 2:4, 5, 19, 24, 51)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The so-called pleasures and pains of matter perish, and they must go out under the blaze of Truth, spiritual sense, and the actuality of being. Mortal belief must lose all satisfaction in error and sin in order to part with them. We acknowledge God's forgiveness of sin in the destruction of sin and the spiritual understanding that casts out evil as unreal. But the belief in sin is punished so long as the belief lasts."

Luncheon For Club Presidents. The council of the Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs entertained the newly elected presidents at a barbecue luncheon on last Wednesday. Mrs. Laurie Ellis, president, presided. Mrs. Lonnie Stocks, vice-president, gave the invocation. Following the luncheon, Miss Joyner presented the 1945 program, the theme of which is "Better Families, Better Homes, Better Living." Mrs. Stocks, county membership chairman, gave a talk on "Reaching More People Through the Home Demonstration Program in 1945." She said, "We need every rural lady in the county and they need us. They can teach us many things and we can help them." She suggested the adoption of a "little sister" family by each club member. Miss Bizzell talked on "Simple Rules of Parliamentary Procedure" that should be followed at each club meeting. The club presidents left this hour of fellowship inspired to return to their local communities and begin a new year of work.

Club Meetings. The annual reports were the main topic of discussion at the four Home Demonstration Club meetings last week. They, like other club members in the county, were busy compiling their reports of the fine work that each had done. Each felt that they had done so little, yet the big report showed they had purchased bonds, made liberal contributions to the Red Cross, and United War Fund

Drive. They had cleaned thousands of jars of food, made and remodeled several hundred garments. Many have painted the interior of their homes and several have installed waste systems. These are a few of the things that club members have done. Everyone found this to be the busiest year they had ever experienced on the farm. The meetings which were held this week were: Cannon's Crossroads, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Harris; Mt. Pleasant, at the home of Mrs. A. C. Rowland, with Mrs. R. H. Barnes assisting as hostess; Sweet Gum Grove, at the home of Mrs. Jack Tripp, and St. John Club, at the club house.

Announcements. All annual reports should be turned in to the secretary of your club not later than Tuesday, October 31. The annual Achievement Day of the Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs will be held on Thursday, November 16. Every club member should make plans to attend.

Attention 4-H-ers. The week of November 4-11 has been set aside as National 4-H Achievement Week. During this week all 4-H-ers throughout the nation will be recognized for the splendid work that they have done during this club year. On Saturday, November 4, there will be a radio broadcast over the National Farm and Home Hour, at 12:30 p. m. The total 4-H accomplishments in helping to win the war will be given

Major Pittman Promoted. Major George H. Pittman of Falkland, graduate of West Point Military Academy, was recently promoted to be base operations officer of the 570th Engineer Squadron, 359th Service Group, at Tinker Field, Okla. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Pittman of Falkland.

Lt. Wilson At Maxton. Maxton, Oct. 30.—Glider pilots are taught emergency procedure in landing on a body of water as part of their ground training at Laurinburg-Maxton Army Air Base, where future troop carrier-airborne invasions are rehearsed. Under the direction of Lt. Thomas E. Wilson a staff officer of the ground training school at the air base, classes are held. Lt. Wilson, a native of Greenville, also supervises the practical experience gained by glider pilots at nearby Lee's Pond. A glider "mock-up," a wingless glider, is ditched from a launching platform. Upon sliding into the water, crewmen go through the same procedure as in an actual crash landing.

Luncheon For Club Presidents. The council of the Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs entertained the newly elected presidents at a barbecue luncheon on last Wednesday. Mrs. Laurie Ellis, president, presided. Mrs. Lonnie Stocks, vice-president, gave the invocation. Following the luncheon, Miss Joyner presented the 1945 program, the theme of which is "Better Families, Better Homes, Better Living." Mrs. Stocks, county membership chairman, gave a talk on "Reaching More People Through the Home Demonstration Program in 1945." She said, "We need every rural lady in the county and they need us. They can teach us many things and we can help them." She suggested the adoption of a "little sister" family by each club member. Miss Bizzell talked on "Simple Rules of Parliamentary Procedure" that should be followed at each club meeting. The club presidents left this hour of fellowship inspired to return to their local communities and begin a new year of work.

Club Meetings. The annual reports were the main topic of discussion at the four Home Demonstration Club meetings last week. They, like other club members in the county, were busy compiling their reports of the fine work that each had done. Each felt that they had done so little, yet the big report showed they had purchased bonds, made liberal contributions to the Red Cross, and United War Fund

Drive. They had cleaned thousands of jars of food, made and remodeled several hundred garments. Many have painted the interior of their homes and several have installed waste systems. These are a few of the things that club members have done. Everyone found this to be the busiest year they had ever experienced on the farm. The meetings which were held this week were: Cannon's Crossroads, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Harris; Mt. Pleasant, at the home of Mrs. A. C. Rowland, with Mrs. R. H. Barnes assisting as hostess; Sweet Gum Grove, at the home of Mrs. Jack Tripp, and St. John Club, at the club house.

Announcements. All annual reports should be turned in to the secretary of your club not later than Tuesday, October 31. The annual Achievement Day of the Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs will be held on Thursday, November 16. Every club member should make plans to attend.

Attention 4-H-ers. The week of November 4-11 has been set aside as National 4-H Achievement Week. During this week all 4-H-ers throughout the nation will be recognized for the splendid work that they have done during this club year. On Saturday, November 4, there will be a radio broadcast over the National Farm and Home Hour, at 12:30 p. m. The total 4-H accomplishments in helping to win the war will be given

This will be the whirlwind week in politics. What remains to be done must be done quickly, and both sides will exert every effort to win out when the contest for ballots comes.

On November 7 every man who is entitled to vote will have an opportunity to exercise one of the greatest privileges accorded him as an American citizen. It is not only a privilege, but a duty, to go to the polls and vote, and the man who fails to perform his duty does not love his country and his home as he should.

Chapter 8

Terry was very quiet undressing. He allowed Cherry to scrub his back under the shower. Usually this was his leisure time, punctuated by little shouts and squeals of joy, but now he stood like a small brown figure under rain, solemn. "Is there really a raider going to get us in a night, like Pip said?"

Cherry cursed the wireless officer's thoughtlessness. "Of course not, Terry. That was Mr. Phillip's joke. He always talk like that, like you. Who's afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?"

"I'm glad. I wouldn't mind getting to the boats in the daytime. It could be rather nice, wouldn't it?" "Oh, that's bright. These mornings are too good to sleep, anyway." His keen eyes swept the sparkling sea. The morning sunlight gleamed on their white uniforms, on their faces. The ship forked steadily through the blue sea that was apparently empty for hundreds of miles, canopied by a sky almost as blue. Rory laughed and drew a deep breath. "It's good to be alive on a day like this! In a day or two we shall be baked alive, and a fortnight after that we shall be freezing, probably."

He turned to Cherry. "Will it be all right if I keep him about half an hour?" "Of course, I have plenty to do," Rory hesitated. A ship is a small world of its own. Small daily happenings grew big out of all proportion to world events. At sea it was always like that, especially on this long voyage. And now, cut off by the war from radio communication, with the knowledge that every day or night might be their last, it was more so. People not closer, drawn by a common humanity in the face of common danger. Or temperaments clashed more fiercely. Rory heard all the ship's gossip from the pursuer or the surgeon or the Old Man. It was unavoidable. He knew much more than Cherry dreamed about herself and Sir Douglas and Mrs. Scott-Price. He wanted to ask her what she was feeling about the Coromandel, how she liked her job. All he said, rather shyly, was, "Do you still like it at sea?"

"I love it!" She smiled with her eyes as well as her mouth. That look in her eyes would have answered him without words. Rory was pleased. "Well turn you into a sailor for good, if you're not careful. The sea has magic, you know." "I know, I'm not afraid." "Come on, do!" Terry cried impatiently. "All right, old man, I'm coming." He added, for Cherry's benefit, "It's a good opportunity. All clear, as far as we can tell," and allowed himself to be dragged towards the bridge.

All clear, thought Cherry as she made beds. What lovely words they were! She hummed a happy, soft song as she worked, so that Bert the steward, scrubbing out the next cabin, grinned suddenly to himself. Miss Mayne was a peach, a good sport if ever there was one. He liked to hear her happy as a lark. He'd been polishing the ports just now and seen her on deck talking with Mr. King, and it didn't take much brain to add two and two. Bert was incurably romantic under his tough cockney mask. He hoped those two would make a go of it. It wouldn't, in any case, be the usual silly shipboard romance. Mr. King was a good officer, with no damned nonsense of that sort about him. It was wonderful to see him taking time off to speak to a woman, even. None of your holding-hands-in-the-moonlight about Mr. King. He'd have his own ship in a year or two, if Bert knew anything about seamanship and Miss Mayne was just the girl for him. Sensible, with the real class that doesn't jibe at a hard job of work, not the rubbish show that women like Mrs. Scott-Price put on. Bert scrubbed the deck viciously, as if soap and water might remove the scented reminder of the cabin's owner. That jumped-up little piece of goods! The way she spoke to them all, especially Cherry, made his blood boil. Cherry never complained, but the galley had its own hush telegraph. People like Mrs. Scott-Price didn't hold their own there, not by a long chalk. No amount of tipping ever altered the verdict below decks. Miss Mayne might be one of the crew, but she was a real lady—and that was something Mrs. Scott-Price could never be with all her money. Not even if she hooked old Sir Douglas Fenimore, as she said she was trying hard enough to do. Bert whistled as he snopped the sill with a final flourish. He was always glad to finish that cabin. He couldn't get into it until it was almost time for inspection, and it was the devil of a rush to get into his white coat before the Old Man came around.

All clear sang Cherry's heart as she finished her dusting. It was a glorious morning. Rory was right. It was grand to be alive on such a day.

It was a few minutes past eight a. m. Terry had hurried through breakfast so they could be on deck when Rory King came off watch. Now, for the first time in her life, Cherry felt suddenly shy as they watched the tall, white-uniformed figure swinging along toward them. Terry shouted, "Hello, Rory! Anything to report?"

"Good morning, Miss Mayne. Morning, Terry. Nothing to report. Fair weather, sea calm, and we're making good speed." He smiled down at Terry and the girl, holding out hand, strong fingers which the boy grasped. "The captain says I may take you on the bridge this morning and show you how we work the ship."

"Oh, good! Oh, Cherry, isn't that good?" "Very," Cherry agreed. She asked Rory, "Are you sure you don't mind being waylaid every morning? Don't you have to sleep?"

"Oh, that's bright. These mornings are too good to sleep, anyway." His keen eyes swept the sparkling sea. The morning sunlight gleamed on their white uniforms, on their faces. The ship forked steadily through the blue sea that was apparently empty for hundreds of miles, canopied by a sky almost as blue. Rory laughed and drew a deep breath. Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

HAPPINESS SPURNS THE SEEKER

The Roman emperor, Tiberius, came about as near ruling the whole civilized world as any man who ever lived. He was, in his day, the absolute deified ruler of the richest empire the world has ever known.

He wrote to the corrupt Roman Senate, "What to write to you, Conscript Fathers, or how to write, or what not to write, may all the gods and goddesses destroy me worse than I feel they are daily destroying me, if I know."

AMERICA IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—It would be most unfair to both the Treasury department and bond holders, too, if I didn't report that that "rum" of cashing in war bonds, which started when the nation's banks were authorized to pick them up from any owners, has gone out like a light.

As a matter of fact, the new system that makes bonds as easy to cash as a counter check has resulted in a decline in the number of bonds cashed in—one of the primary objectives of the Treasury when the system was switched.

In the first week of easy redemptions, bondholders actually cashed in fewer bonds than they had the previous week, although the first few days gave every indication that there was going to be a "rum" on the banks.

Although we are on the threshold of another 14 billion dollar bond drive, it may not be necessary to have more than one more before the end of this fiscal year next June 30—if this one comes off as well as others and there isn't any great increase in redemptions.

Small investors have bought approximately 27 billion dollars of war bonds since the first drive more than three years ago. They have cashed in something less than four billion. Since this is about 14 per cent and the ordinary withdrawals from savings accounts amount to about 20 per cent, Treasury officials feel they no longer have anything to fear on that score.

In the last two drives, the purchases by small investors, however, haven't been completely successful. Particularly in the Fifth War Loan campaign, banks and big purchasers took a larger share, and the small investors a smaller one than the Treasury would have liked to see.

This phase of the Sixth War Loan in November will be closely watched here. If the little investors are actually letting up, Treasury officials and government economists really will be concerned.

THE WAR TODAY

The arrival of the Allied armies on the Rhine will entail the total destruction of a high proportion of Germany's heavy industry, upon which all her war production ultimately depends. In addition, Silesia and the great industrial centers of Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Westphalia, are being overrun by the Russian drive.

So if the Allies are held up at the Rhine, they won't be wasting any time. Also, what we do with long distance guns won't have to be done by sliders at close quarters—and that's an inestimable boon.

The length of time will take the Allies to break into the Reich across the Rhine will depend heavily on the volume of supplies they are able to move up for the offensive. That's why Antwerp is so essential.

The battle of southwestern Holland appeared to be approaching a victorious conclusion as Allied columns crashed through thin German rear guards and enemy columns openly fleeing northward, were ripped by the guns of strafing Allied planes.

Allies Shoving ...

(Continued from page one) causeway to Walcheren, virtually cutting the connecting link. They had captured nearly 4,000 of the 11,000 garrison on the two islands.

Below the Schelde they had driven south until they had pushed the Germans entirely out of Holland into Belgium where the Germans held a six-mile coastal strip northwest of Brugge, including the towns of Knocke and Heyst, and the island of Walcheren.

This thrust, from between Venlo and Roermond against the British Second Army's east Holland front, had swept through American-held Meijel and Liesel, progressed some 4,000 yards from Meijel toward Asten, and reached the vicinity of Nederweert, only two miles from Weert.

It apparently had gained a few miles and reached to within 15 miles of Eindhoven, but field dispatches said the German drive was being contained, and 15 of the enemy's 50 tanks were knocked out yesterday.

Tank-led Allied troops, now including Americans under First Canadian Army command, were crashing through thin German rear guards and retreating columns toward the Meuse delta.

The Germans were pushing up a determined battle only around Roosendal, at the western end of the 40-mile front, and here Nazi paratroopers still held determined positions and British out of the town.

The enemy was believed making this stand in an effort to prepare a defense along the small Mark river, 5-12 miles north of Roosendal and four miles south of the Hollandsch Diep, the joint mouth of the Maas and Waal.

New Crisis ...

Stilwell's recall from the China-Burma-India theater was announced at the White House Saturday. The War Department said he would get an important new assignment.

The action is linked directly with the thus far unsuccessful American efforts for a complete shakeup of the Chinese high command and the subsequent reorganization of the Chinese armies.

Allied strategy has called for a drive across the Pacific, via the Philippines, to the China coast and a drive from interior China to the same coastal point. The ultimate objective was to equip China's manpower with American supplies and technical training.

Until this could be accomplished the aim was to keep pressure on the Japanese from forward air bases which had to be protected by Chinese armies. Recently the Japanese have forced evacuation of some of the best of these bases.

In the sense their place has been taken, however, by bases on the Pacific side, in the Saipan-Guam area and now in the Philippines. China sea shipping and Japanese cities which once could be reached only from Asiatic bases are vulnerable now from the islands.

Evidence of the despair now overtaking this effort was seen in a dispatch from New Delhi, India, by Associated Press Correspondent Preston Grover. Writing through Allied censorship, Grover reported last night that Stilwell's withdrawal appears "to have pulled the props from under American activity in this area."

Grover pointed out that it had been Stilwell's dual task to obtain for China a maximum amount of supplies from the outside and to get the Chinese to use them in the most effective manner.

(Continued from page one) 25. Aircraft and submarines scored more successes in hunting down survivors the next two days. Possibly only two Japanese ships escaped undamaged from the debacle. No modern nation has had its fleet so nearly destroyed in one engagement.

American naval power alone totaled approximately 200 warships possibly more. Among them, Nimitz proudly announced, were five battleships "seriously damaged at Pearl Harbor"—the West Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, California and Pennsylvania, and three new carriers named for Japanese-sunk predecessors—the Lexington, Wasp and Hornet.

Japan has lost a total of 40 warships sunk or damaged, including 10 carriers and five battleships, in these previous great Pacific engagements—Coral Sea, May 18, 1942; Midway, June 6, 1942; Guadalcanal, Nov. 15, 1942, and first battle of the Philippine Sea, June 19, 1944.

The Japanese loss in the second Philippine Sea battle, between Oct. 22 and 27: Sunk—four carriers, two battleships, six heavy cruisers, three light cruisers, three small cruisers or large destroyers, six destroyers.

Probably sunk—one battleship, three heavy cruisers, two light cruisers, seven destroyers. Damaged—six battleships, four heavy cruisers, one light cruiser, 10 destroyers.

Nimitz did not revise his previous announced American losses—the light carrier Princeton, two escort carriers, two destroyers, one destroyer-escort and a few lesser craft.

The Japanese lost at least 171 aircraft while American losses were 10 planes, eight pilots and ten air crewmen in the battle south of Formosa.

(Japanese propagandists, continuing to claim victory, said American losses in Leyte Gulf included "nine battleships or cruisers, 40 transports and a number of small units.") Gen. Douglas MacArthur has identified the two sunk Japanese battleships as the Yamashiro and the Fuso. They were sunk in the Sulu Sea-Leyte Gulf action.

The Yamato and Mutsu, two of Japan's newest and largest battleships were identified in the force moving through the Sibuyan Sea. These are believed to be 45,000-ton warships, with probably 35 knots speed, armed with 16-inch guns.

Nimitz also listed a battleship "thought to be the Haruna," the first naval mention of this craft which the War Department long ago reported was sunk on the second day of the war off the Philippines by the late Lt. Colin Kelly.

Other battleships mentioned by Nimitz, all of them damaged, included the Kongo, Nagato and two of the 1st class, with flight deck aft. The Admiral credited submarines with sinking three cruisers and damaging a fourth. Submarine scouts first detected movement of 28 or 29 warships moving north from the Singapore area Oct. 21 and 22.

Portugal presumably was lumped in with Spain. Apparently the development forebodes stern Moscow opposition to the Franco regime as an important factor in the future diplomacy of western Europe.

Publication of the Bulgarian armistice terms brought the Balkan picture into a better focus. The terms were perfected under the sponsorship of Churchill and Stalin.

The armistice specified that Bulgaria must give the Allies full aid in prosecuting the war against Germany and must relinquish all claims to Greek and Yugoslav territory.

Other points included: (1) All pro-Hitler or other Fascist organizations must be dissolved; (2) All discriminatory legislations arising from racial, political or religious

MANY UPSETS ON GRIDIRON

Tar Heel Teams Play At Home Next Week-end.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—College football upsets were numerous Saturday but they are nothing compared to the form reversals expected the remainder of the season because of the naval and marine transfers which are slated for this week.

Army and Navy, of course, will keep their rosters complete and the midweek take on Notre Dame minus Chiek Maggoli at Baltimore in Saturday's feature. It was Maggoli's 65 yard-run, after taking a lateral from Bob Kelly, that brought the Irish a torrid 13 to 7 triumph over Illinois. Kelly and George Turley, another back, also may be missing from the Irish lineup by then.

Army, which nipped Duke by a 20 to 7 edge, has Villanova as its next foe. The Philadelphia eleven has seven players by transfer. George Baltzaris, Duke fullback, now his final action against Army and won't be available for the Georgia Tech encounter at Durham.

Michigan which smashed Purdue by a 40 to 14 score, comes east for the battle with Pennsylvania minus Capt. Bob Wise, Bob Nussbaumer, Jim Allber—all backs—and a pair of ends. The Boilermakers, carded for a game with Wisconsin, lose six of the men who opposed the Wolverines.

Penn. held to a minus 29 yards by Navy while losing a 26 to 0 contest, says farewell to Art Littleton, a defensive star at end, and two other players.

Washington, which upset California, 33 to 7, no longer will have Keith Decourcy, its scoring ace.

Tulsa which was spilt by Oklahoma A & M for its first defeat in a scheduled game, since 1941 is entirely civilian and will have its full strength for the clash with the Iowa State Hawkeyes. The Sea Hawks won Sunday from Marquette, 21 to 0, while Oklahoma Aggies thumped Tulsa, 46 to 40.

Southern California must finish its campaign without Gordon Gray and UCLA must do without Johnson Roesch.

Saturday's encounter between Yale and Dartmouth will be one of the best, the Elis losing both their regular tackles and Dartmouth will be shy 24 Navy trainees.

Penn State, a surprise loser to West Virginia 58 to 27, finishes the season with 20 freshmen and six naval trainees following the disbanding of the Marine Corps there.

Football Elite

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The select group of college football's unbeaten and untied teams was pruned to 20 last week. The University of Washington, Tulsa, Pennsylvania, Lincoln (Neb.) Air Field and the Third Air Force were the latest to drop from the elite list.

The unbeaten, untied teams (three or more games):

Marysville (Mo) Teachers	7	206	21
Miami (Ohio)	7	146	41
St. Thomas (St. Paul)	7	123	25
Wake Forest	6	146	21
Notre Dame	6	189	20
Army	5	277	21
Bainbridge Md Naval	5	167	21
Georgia Tech	5	132	33
Michigan State	5	127	18
Ohio State	5	168	27
Oklahoma Aggies	5	153	74

Syracuse's civilians are Penn State's this week.

Texas, spilt by Rice in a 7 to 0 struggle, tangles with Southern Methodist, dumped by Tulane, 27 to 7.

North Carolina, with 14 naval transfers missing, must tangle with South Carolina.

Two civilian outfits, Ohio State and Indiana, are booked at Columbus and Iowa's freshmen entertain Nebraska, a team which hadn't counted a point this season until spilling Missouri, 24 to 20.

The Norman, Okla., Navy Boomers, who polished off Glenn Dobbs Second Airforce, 13 to 6, Sunday, are up against unbeaten Oklahoma A & M in a southwestern masterpiece.

Claiming much of the spotlight this week will be the eleventh renewal of the Clemson-Wake Forest gridiron series which began in 1933. The Tigers have won seven of the games as against three losses. The game has added significance because of the fact that a lot of Southern Conference prestige will be at stake when the teams meet. Neither has been beaten within the circuit. Last year the Deacons rolled up their biggest score in the Clemson series, turning back the Tigers 41 to 12.

While most of the North State teams will have their hands full at home, the State Wolfpack journeys into Virginia to do battle with the Cavaliers of W. M. I. at Lexington. The Third Air Force Gremlins engage Georgia Preflight Sunday in Charlotte. Bainbridge Navy meets the Navy Preflight Cloudbusters at Chapel Hill in a Sunday contest.

Camp Lejeune's Marines will play host to Mayport, Fla., Navy Air Station, and the Cherry Point Leathernecks go to Jacksonville, Fla., to engage Naval Air Station.

After the smoke of battle lifted during the past week-end for college and service machines, the results looked like this:

- Wake Forest 27, Miami University 0.
- N. C. State 19, William and Mary 2.
- Army 27, Duke 7.
- Catawba 26, Fort Monroe 0.
- Third Air Force 0, Randolph Field 19.
- N. C. Preflight 14, Jacksonville Navy 13.
- Cherry Point Marines 6, Camp Lee 0.
- Camp Lejeune Marines 33, Kinston Marines 0.
- South Carolina 6, Charleston Coast Guard 6.
- Tennessee 26, Clemson 7.

J. Mack Dixon Dies In Ayden

J. Mack Dixon, 82, retired farmer, died at his home in Ayden last night following an illness of about three weeks. Funeral services will be conducted at the home at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Rev. A. L. Chaplin, pastor of Ayden Methodist church.

Mr. Dixon was born March 24, 1862, in the Gardner's Cross Roads community but had made his home in the Ayden community for the past 40 years. Until he retired because of his age he was an active and successful farmer.

Survivors include two sons, Dr. G. G. Dixon and Mark E. Dixon, of Ayden, and five daughters, Mrs. P. C. Chapman and Mrs. J. F. Braxton, of Dover, Mrs. Daniel Lane, of Roxboro, Mrs. W. R. Moore and Miss Helen Dixon, of Ayden. Other survivors are three sisters, Mrs. J. F. Dixon, Ayden; Mrs. H. J. Hines, Arlington, Va.; Mrs. W. F. Jones, Jacksonville, Fla., and 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Baptists To Pass On School Merger

Charlotte, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Messengers of the State Baptist Convention here November 5 are expected to pass upon a proposal to merge Wake Forest and Meredith colleges, and in the meantime a committee headed by R. S. Dickson, Charlotte broker, is making its plans to lay the matter before the Baptists at that time.

In addition to Mr. Dickson, the committee, chairman, the group is composed of Guy T. Carswell of Charlotte; J. B. Willis of Hamlet; J. H. Bridges of Charlotte; Lee Weathers of Shelby, and John R. Knott of Charlotte.

The committee, which is promoting the proposal, has opened offices here and an extensive educational campaign has been launched. The group has prepared and mailed a letter to Baptist ministers and church school superintendents over the state, outlining the plan and listing the advantages of such a merger of the two Baptist schools.

College Student Died Saturday

Miss Janice Moore Marine, 18, E. C. T. C. senior from Burgaw, died at the college infirmary at 11 o'clock Saturday night after an illness of only an hour. Miss Marine was taken ill after supper with a headache but attended the college movies, went on a shopping trip afterwards and visited the dance at Wright building. At the dance she suddenly complained of being sick and weak. Her roommate took her to her room where she was nauseated. After a few minutes she was taken in a state of collapse to the infirmary. The college physician was called immediately but respiration had ceased when he arrived.

Miss Marine is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Marine of Burgaw.

The funeral was held with interment in the Jacksonville cemetery at 2 p. m. Sunday. Dr. and Mrs. Mr. Ghinnis, Miss Morton, Mrs. Smith and several of Miss Marine's classmates attended the services.

Miss Marine graduated from the Dixon high school, attended Atlantic Christian College at Wilson for one year before transferring to E. C. T. C. in the fall of 1942. She majored in home economics and science. Miss Marine was a quiet, modest student, held in high esteem by her classmates. "We are deeply shocked at Miss Marine's death," stated Dr. McGinnis, acting president. "As a student, she possessed the fine qualities of mind and character which count so much in the teaching profession."

Japs Continue Drive In China

Chungking, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Japanese troops edged still closer over the week-end to Kweilin—last formidable Chinese stronghold in the enemy drive to split China—the Chinese high command announced last night.

Fighting on the outer defenses of the city gained in intensity as Japanese forces struck along the Hunan-Kwangsi railway toward Lingchwan, 13 miles north of Kweilin, and pressed ahead east of Kweilin to a point only 10 1/2 miles from the city.

On the West river front, where Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's 14th U. S. air force has been engaged in further attacks in support of Chinese ground troops, the Chinese wiped out part of a Japanese force that was surrounded southwest of Kweiping. The Japanese, however, continued their advance west of Pingnan to within 25 miles from the river port.

New Offensive In North Burma

Chungking, Oct. 30.—(AP)—A new Allied offensive has opened in northern Burma with Chinese troops striking toward Bhamo and the British toward Mandalay 170 miles to the southwest. The Chinese high command announced today.

The Chinese occupied Myitthit, 24 miles north of Bhamo, virtually without a fight. The British striking from Hopin were said to have advanced 36 miles.

The Chinese started probing southward from the Myitkyina area on October 15, with the Japanese falling back shortly before they reached each spot.

The Chinese command said operations over the last two weeks preceding "the general offensive launched today" had cleared nearly 2,000 square miles of north Burma and numerous communities, along with 100 miles of the Myitkyina-Rangoon railroad, chief supply route in north Burma.
