Third Army Opens Drive On Germans Below Metz

Four Villages Seized In Advance Of Mile In Dawn Offensive; First Army Falls Back Before Counterattacks Near Schmidt, Southeast Of Aachen.

By HENRY B. JAMESON London, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The strong American attack launched last Thursday in forest land southeast of Aachen had run down tonight with loss of most of the ground gained in its opening phases, a front dispatch said.

The latest U. S. reverse was loss of the village of Kommersteldt to a violent German counterattack. Doughboys were driven back 500 yards to high ground to the northwest.

The Germans still held Schmidt 15 miles southeast of Aachen, once taken by Americans, and part of Vossenack, two miles to the northwest.

To the south, American Third Army troops in a dawn attack midway between Metz and Nancy crossed the Sella river, and seized four lightly-held villages in advances averaging up to a mile.

Despite the setbacks from the German village strongholds, the First Army had made considerable progress in clearing the Hurtgen forest southeast of Aachen.

A British staff officer meanwhile declared the Germans had lost from 38,000 to 40,000 prisoners and had been driven from an area 47 miles deep on a 40-mile front by the month-old offensive in southwest Holland under Field Marshal Montgomery.

The Third Army "substantially improved" its line between Nancy and Metz, a front dispatch said. Fighting between the two armies along the Sella river, resistance ranged from light to moderate.

In Holland, the Germans retreating to the north bank of the Maas river had wrecked every river bridge between the sea and Hiedel, north of 'S-Hertogenbosch, a field dispatch said.

Fighting still is in progress in the village of Vossenack, the communique said. Latest field reports said the Americans held one-half the village, the Germans the other half.

In the region immediately west of Schmidt, from which the doughboys were thrown back in their offensive that began last Friday, the Americans improved their positions yesterday and mopped up pockets of (Continued on page four)

Germans Using New Robots On England

London, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The German high command announced today that London had been under bombardment by a new secret weapon, V-2, "for some weeks."

The Berlin broadcast of the German communique said "A new weapon, much more effective" than the V-1 flying bomb has been launched against the British capital.

The V-2 has been described in dispatches from Stockholm as a missile resembling a "flying telephone pole" with a range of more than 250 miles. The weapon, according to Stockholm reports is said to have possibilities of being developed into a rocket bomb capable of spanning the Atlantic.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

Premier Stalin's blunt characterization of Japan as an aggressor nation is of prime significance.

This is the first time the Soviet chief personally has spoken so sharply (at least publicly) to the country which Moscow has a non-aggression pact—a treaty which the Japs no longer are likely to challenge. The marshals' charge certainly invites renewed speculation whether Russia may eventually join her Allies against the Mikado's militarists.

However, as I see it, there are a lot of "ifs" to be hurdled before we arrive at a Russo-Japanese conflict. I believe we must premise analysis of this question on the fact that the world is about to see an epochal readjustment of the spheres of influence among the major powers in Europe and Asia. Russia is emerging as the dominant nation on both continents.

If this readjustment is to be achieved peacefully there is bound to be much bargaining. Therefore it's not far fetched to assume that Russia's attitude toward Japan might figure very largely. It's a fair bet that this question was one of the important items discussed by Marshal Stalin and British Prime Minister Churchill at their recent conference in Moscow.

Fierce Fighting Japanese Slow Yank Drive On Leyte

AMENDMENTS ARE ADOPTED

Tar Heels Favor Five Constitutional Changes.

Raleigh, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Five proposed amendments to the state constitution won the favor of North Carolina voters in yesterday's general election, partial returns indicated today.

The returns, however, were scanty, many counties were not represented, and the result could not be considered conclusive.

With 261 of the state's 1,922 precincts accounted for, the count stood:

- 1. To make the commissioner of agriculture, commissioner of labor, and commissioner of insurance constitutional officers and members of the Council of State, 30,990 in favor, 10,667 against.
2. To exempt notaries public from the prohibition against double office holding, 26,258 in favor, and 14,154 against.
3. To change the State Board of Education amendment, adopted two years ago, and providing for the abolition of the post of comptroller, 31,106 in favor, 10,031 against.
4. To authorize the General Assembly to fix the compensation of the lieutenant governor, removing the present provision that limits his (Continued on page four)

Nimitz Reveals More Blows By Carrier Planes On Jap Planes And Ships.

By C. YATES McDaniel General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Nov. 8.—(AP)—One of the bitterest battles of the Leyte campaign rocked the road to Ormoc today as the U. S. 24th division and units of four Japanese divisions collided in ridges below Pinamoo-poon.

The fight, roughest engagement since the earliest days of the island battle, began when probing American advance parties were cut off in a series of Japanese counterattacks by the 16th division—Bataan veterans and original defenders of Leyte—and reinforcements from the First 30th and 102nd divisions. There was no indication of the size of these various reinforcing parties.

The Americans extricated their isolated units after a night of fighting; and Yankee long-range artillery (possibly firing over the mountains from the Jaro area) harassed the Japanese rear at Ormoc and Utaal, starting fires in warehouses and hitting fuel dumps.

Additionally, American fighting planes dive bombed Palompon, on the extreme west coast. This port is the only one from which Japanese units north of Ormoc could hope to escape if they were cut off from Ormoc by the southern prong of the American pincers, now moving north toward the town from the Cabagan area. Here the American Seventh division was reported advancing at an unspecified speed.

In eastern Leyte, where large-scale Japanese resistance has been crushed, the American 96th division wiped out remaining enemy pockets (Continued on page six)

Pitt County Vote

Pitt county voters went to the polls 9,000 strong yesterday to give President Franklin D. Roosevelt approximately a 20 to one vote over Governor Thomas E. Dewey and to return even greater majorities for the entire county and state ticket. All five of the constitutional amendments received favorable action at the hands of Pitt voters.

- The county vote follows: President (20 p.c.s)—Roosevelt (D), 8,492; Dewey (R), 498. U. S. Senate (18 precincts)—Clyde R. Hoey (D), 7,132; A. I. Ferree (R), 233. Governor (18 precincts)—R. Gregg Cherry (D), 7,025; Frank C. Patton (R), 245. Lieutenant Governor (18 precincts)—L. Y. Ballentine (D), 6,996; George L. Greene (R), 238. Secretary of State (18 precincts)—Thad Eure (D), 7,075; W. H. Gray (R), 236. State Auditor (18 precincts)—George Ross Pou (D), 7,004; J. M. Van Hoy (R), 257. State Treasurer (18 precincts)—Chas. M. Johnson (D), 6,994; S. B. Roberts (R), 248. Attorney General (18 precincts)—Harry McMillan (D), 6,991; Sam J. Morris (R), 245. Superintendent of Public Instruction (18 precincts)—Glyde A. BIG THREE TO CONFER SOON

Conference May Be Held Before Christmas.

By JOHN M. HIGHOWER Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's re-election makes it virtually certain that he will hold an early meeting with Stalin and Churchill.

Turning on key questions of post-war cooperation, the conference will largely shape the course of Mr. Roosevelt's fourth term foreign policy.

The proposed second session of the big three, a year after their first gathering at Teheran, becomes possible now because the outcome of Tuesday's voting has restored to diplomacy the stability lost during hectic campaign weeks. Then foreign governments did not know whether they would have to reckon with Mr. Roosevelt or Governor Thomas E. Dewey in the weeks (Continued on page six)

Fourth Term May Bring Changes In Washington

By STERLING F. GREEN Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—You can expect to see some new faces in official Washington even though the Roosevelt Administration has been returned for another four years.

At least half a dozen major appointments are expected now that the election is over.

There is always the possibility, of a change in the Cabinet. The members customarily submit their resignations the day after election. President Roosevelt has been ignoring them up to now.

Most recent subject of speculation along this line is 73-year-old Cordell Hull Secretary of State for 12 years. He is in a hospital now with a throat ailment. Mr. Roosevelt has steadfastly brushed aside any inquiries that a younger, stronger man for this most important post would be considered. Possibilities mentioned publicly include Vice President Wallace and Undersecretary of State Stettinius. The President, naturally, has been withholding some wartime appointments until he was reelected and the selections would mean more than a month or two duration. In this category are key postwar reconstruction jobs. The director of the new office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, succeeding James F. Byrnes, and three members of the Surplus War Property Board are due to be announced when Congress convenes one week hence. In both agencies, the appointments will permit organization of permanent staffs and a more energetic pushing of preparations for the peace. This is true especially in surpluses; the present surplus administration has simply stopped issuing disposal regulations until the new board comes in.

Roosevelt Is Swept Into Office For Fourth Term

Democratic Forces Increase Their Control In Congress

Gains In Both House And Senate Will Put New Power Behind Roosevelt Administration.

By The Associated Press Associated Press returns on the 35 senate contests at 12:45 p. m. (EWT), showed: Democrats elected 15 holdovers 35; total 51. Republicans elected 8 holdovers 21; total 32. Progressive holdover 1. Contests undecided, 12. House—Democrat elected, 203. (Present congress, 214; vacancies, 5.) Republicans elected, 118. (Present congress, 212.) Progressives elected, 1. (Present congress, 2.) American Laborites elected, 1. (Present congress, 1.) Contests undecided, 110.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Democrats today clinched a majority of the senate and took stronger control of the house of representatives as well.

The seventy-ninth congress thus will keep its date with destiny next January predominantly Democratic. The President's intimates in the senate can route important international commitments, perhaps even the final peace treaty, through the legislative machinery.

With election returns drifting in like a paper blizzard, the Democratic party clinched a mathematical majority of the treaty-making, appointment-confirming senate long before dawn.

By 5 a. m. EWT, Democrats had won 14 house seats heretofore held by Republicans.

A fresh charge of Democratic manipulation of the administration a stepped-up voltage in the other chamber. The very first senate turnover toppled John A. Danaher, Connecticut Republican whom Vice President Harry S. Truman had termed an "isolationist." Republicans gained a seat when Iowa's Republican Governor Bourke B. Hickenlooper (Continued on page six)

Bombers Pound Nazi Oil Plants

London, Nov. 8.—(AP)—A force of 350 American heavy bombers, guarded by 850 fighters, flew deep into central Germany today and attacked a synthetic oil plant at Merseburg.

RAP Lancasters also made a daylight attack on another Nazi synthetic oil plant at Homberg in the Ruhr.

A large railway bridge at Goch, just across the Dutch frontier southeast of Nijmegen and an oil storage tank and railway sheds at Emmerich were smashed by the RAF's rocket-firing Typhoons.

The Air Ministry disclosed that RAP Lancasters had again drained the Dortmund-Ems Canal, Germany's most important inland waterway, last Saturday.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, exhibiting a victory smile, was elected for a fourth term by American voters at the polls yesterday in the first wartime election in 80 years. Incomplete returns today revealed the President leading in 34 states with a total of 467 electoral votes. Governor Thomas E. Dewey was ahead in 14 states with 123 electoral votes.

Democrats Capture GOP Governorships

Unseat Republicans In Three States And Threaten In Others.

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Democrats captured three of the 26 Republican governorships in a notable election upset and today were threatening the GOP hold on several others.

The turnover extended from Massachusetts in the East to Missouri in the Middle West and Idaho in the West. It generally followed the Roosevelt tide.

Maurice J. Tobin, 43-year-old Democratic Boston mayor, was conceded election as Massachusetts' chief executive succeeding Republican Gov. Leverett Saltonstall. Tobin was leading Republican Lt. Gov. Horace T. Cahill by over 130,000 votes.

Idaho voters chose Democrat Charles C. Gessett over William C. Detweiler, Republican, while Missouri elected Democrat Phil M. Donnelly over Jean Paul Bradshaw, Republican, to cut into previously firm GOP territory.

It was apparent that the Democrats had checked if not reversed the Republican gubernatorial trend that started in 1938. As recently as two years ago the GOP made a net gain of five governorships. Missouri elected Phil M. Donnelly, Democratic attorney, to the seat which Republican Gov. Forrest C. Donnell gave up to run for the Senate. In Massachusetts and Washington (Continued on page six)

Several Dead In Train Wreck

Confax, Calif., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Twelve persons were killed when the westbound Southern Pacific Challenger was derailed at Lander, three miles west of here, early today.

Coroner Francis E. West of Placer county announced. The coroner did not estimate the number of injured. Previous unconfirmed reports said at least 75 had been hurt.

One of the dead was the engineer of the train, Fred Graham of Roseville, only 30 miles west of the scene of the wreck. Six bodies, all unidentified with the exception of Graham, were brought to the morgue here. The coroner said five adults and an infant were believed dead in an overturned coach.

Victory May Be Greater Than His Third Term Bid Over Wendell Wilkie; Several States Switching Back And Forth As Mounting Returns Are Tabulated.

By The Associated Press President Roosevelt's indicated electoral vote total mounted to 413 today when late returns gave him the lead in Oregon.

See-saw swings in three key states today kept in doubt the size of President Roosevelt's fourth term victory.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey inclined into a lead in New Jersey while Mr. Roosevelt threatened to capture New Jersey, shifted from the Roosevelt column at midday but in a vote total approaching two million Dewey's margin amounted to only 400. Outstanding ballots made the eventual decision uncertain.

The President was gaining in both Ohio and Michigan and there was a possibility that if New Jersey switched back and he won a lead in those two states he would run his electoral vote up to 451 against 80 for Dewey. His third term electoral count was 449 to 82 for Wendell L. Wilkie.

Associated Press returns at 1:30 p. m. (E. W. T.), with the vote far from complete, showed Roosevelt leading in states having a total of 407 electoral votes, as follows: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia.

Dewey was leading in states with an aggregate electoral vote of 124, as follows:

- Colorado, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin, Wyoming. At 1:30 p. m. the popular vote for president from 101.2% of the country's 130,810 voting units, showed (Continued on page five)

Says Victory In Italy Is Certain

By LYNN HEINZELING Rome, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, commander in chief of Allied forces in the Mediterranean, told his troops in Italy today victory was certain and urged: "Let us see to it that it is not long delayed."

In an order of the day on the second anniversary of the landings in North Africa, he praised the Allied troops for "great victories."

An Allied headquarters communique disclosed that Polish troops of the Eighth army captured Monte Casaluda, and progressed in the high country between the Rabbi and Montone rivers south of Forli.

Activity elsewhere on the Italian front was restricted to patrolling, the communique added.

Escorted heavy bombers of the U. S. 15th Army air force "in great strength" bombed bridges and rail targets in northern Italy and troop concentrations in Yugoslavia. Fighters bombed and strafed targets in southern Yugoslavia, and RAF medium and heavy bombers hit rail yards in Serbia.

Troop concentrations and bridges in northern Italy were hammered also by tactical air force medium bombers.

Germans Expecting Blow On Polish Front.

London, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The promise of explosive action hung today over the long Eastern front, where for the past two days Moscow has announced there have been no essential changes.

Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Until some time in the spring, you won't get any more butter—scarce now—than you're getting now.

Spring is the season when the cows start to work overtime producing milk from which the butter is made. This is their lazy season.

This is how the War Food Administration (WFA) explains what has happened to butter supplies: Farmers make less money from butter than from the milk and cream delivered in bottles at your home. So they're worrying less about butter.

Meanwhile, Americans are drinking more milk than ever. So milk supplies are up butter supplies are down.

Butter production in the pre-war period, 1935-39, averaged 2,170,000,000 pounds yearly. It dropped to 2,013,000,000 last year and to 1,771,400,000 this year.

But—milk produced on the farms before the war was about 100 billion pounds yearly. Now it's about 115 billion, a big increase.

Yet, 11 billion pounds more milk and cream are going into bottles for the home than before the war.

Additional billions of pounds are going into evaporated milk for the armed services and into cheese and other dairy products.

That's the general outline. Here are some other details:

WFA allocates the total butter supply this way: 80 per cent for civilians, 15 per cent for the armed services, 5 per cent for Russian army hospitals.

In peacetime the farmers were able to meet all demands for milk and still have enough left to turn out sufficient butter.

They'd separate the skimmed milk from the cream. The cream went into butter. They could use the skimmed milk for livestock.

And—their peak milk season was in the spring and summer when their cows had plenty of green grass to eat.

But WFA has to see that the (Continued on page four) he Coromandel was in the first of the steel hawsers were let out the drums with a noise that deafened Terry, and the ship floated as she gradually went down to the bottom of the lock. The stones and cement rose up above them, shutting out the air and imprisoning them in a sea of cool, green, dripping water. She must have followed her. His eyes never left her. But I should put it and colored glasses on him. I have passengers going down a sunstroke in the Canal early in the morning.

"Thank you, Mr. King, I'll see to it," he wears them."

"I added, casually, "That applies to you, too. People don't realize how serious the sun is here, and we play safe in the Canal. They get tired and forget how long they're standing and staring."

"I was gone, swinging easily up to his own quarters, leaving me vaguely offended by his attitude. Yesterday it would have been the most natural thing in the world. Today, after that cool smile, it was annoying. Ship's officer, she ought, watching his broad back—his officer, keeping in character. He tackled the bedmaking, since the beds of the cabins were vacated. Bert, doing basins and brasses, interested in her savage energy. Take it easy, Miss Mayne, take easy! It's going to be as hot as before long—soon as we get out the locks."

"I know, Mr. King warned me," said crisply, and Bert cooked up at the cool voice. "O-t-y-y-y!" he thought, they have had a apus or something.

"I knew from the night watch that that Cherry had come back and with Sir Douglas Fenimore. I knew from the captain's steward that Rory had been ashore in the Old Man's party with Mrs. St-Price. Not much happened in the Coromandel that Bert didn't know. He hoped the Scott-Price fellow wasn't throwing a wrench in the works, nor Sir Douglas. Bert set his heart on Cherry and on making a go of it, as he put it to himself.

"I said with unusual seriousness, polishing rag suspended in his hand, "Don't let the Canal get you, erry love. Bewitched, this place. I see it appen scores of times—satisfull but bad, the tropics are d'ot enough to make you quarrel in yer best friend."

"I see it appen so often, "Dunns of times! Everything going in a swing, everybody happy, un- we got to Panama. Then—shore peditions and dancing and gawd-ows-what plemes and inter- rds everybody sorted out differ- t, not speaking to their best ends. Enough to make a cat ugh, it is!"

"What a nice, tidy, military per- a the major is," Cherry said, try- g to change the subject. "There's rdy anything to do in here."

"Bert granted. "Yes. Nice woman, y. Fairly lucky, we are, so far, ex- p for Lady Godiva. Gives every- e an headache, she does. Even the oad has headaches around here bear with a sore head this morn- g, after the captain's party last- t with 'im and the Carrys and . He jerked his thumb contemptu- ously in the direction of "A" ite. "It beats me 'ow any woman e face to run after men like e does!"

"The captain's party? Are you re, Bert, that she and—and the others were in the captain's party?" Cherry cried breathlessly, giving herself away completely without knowing it or caring.

"Course I'm sure," Bert busied himself under the berth. "Ain't the Old Man's steward me own friend? Lady Godiva invited 'em, seemingly, and they 'o go. But of course the Old Man paid for it all in the long run."

"She thought, Oh, Bert, you old gossip! He was as bade as a family servant. But for once she could only be glad of his long ears and busy tongue. Never in a thousand years would she have supposed Rory and Julia had been in a party last night—except a party for two.

"It didn't blot out the memory of their dancing, of Julia's upward look and Rory's downbeat head. But somehow it made all the difference in the world that they had not been alone, that Rory hadn't made this arrangement with Julia. He was quite free to take the passengers out, of course. He had the privileges of a senior officer. Pip, without any official privileges, helped himself to them. But if it was the captain's party, then probably Rory had had to go.

"Maybe he was innocent enough to swallow Julia whole. Maybe he had just gone for the Old Man's benefit. It wasn't any of her business anyway, she told herself fiercely. She had no rights over Rory. Nevertheless, the little song came back to her lips as she worked, and hearing it, Bert whistled in tune with it.

Women IN THE CHURCH

by Mary Fowler

Missionaries all agree that the most difficult people in the world to reach with the Christian message is the Mohammedans. And of the Mohammedans the women are more difficult to reach than are the men. That is why the Presbyterian mission in Tabriz, Iran, is enthusiastic over the fact that of the class of young women just entering the mission hospital for nurse training four are Mohammedan girls. In earlier days in Iran, nursing, where there was any, was a task for menials. These young women, on graduation, will go out to train other young women for the nursing profession, now one of honor and distinction.

The city of Tyler, Texas, houses many scores of young married women, from every state in the union, who are there because their husbands are stationed at nearby Fort Fanning. Finding that many of them were lonesome, unacquainted, and without normal social activities, the rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Tyler, the Rev. W. Meade Brown, and some of his women parishioners decided to extend the use of the church building to them. They organized a club known as WEMES (Wives of Exalted Men) and they have taken over the parish house for classes, for meals, and for their own service to the community. They attend Red Cross classes, do their sewing, enjoy social activities, study nursing, and care for the wives and babies who may be ill. And then, too, they help with the Red Cross drive, the bond drive, and other community and church activities. "They are no longer the forgotten women of Tyler," says Rector Meade, who suggests that many other churches can do the same.

Madame Sun Yet-sen, Madame H. H. Kung, and Madame Feng Yuh-shiang were among the leaders in a recent conference in Chungking, China, where experts in child welfare work, in child nutrition met to map out a program of nationwide child welfare for the years immediately following the close of China's war with Japan. Under the leadership of these women of Madame Chiang Kai-shek, there has been a growing interest in the suffering of millions of China's children during the seven years of war. One of the results of the conference is a plan to train several hundred of child welfare workers.

Home baking is delicious with Rumford no-alum Baking Powder.

- Home Made Biscuit
- 2 cups sifted flour
  - 3 teaspoons Rumford Baking Powder
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 6 tablespoons shortening
  - 2/3 cup milk (about)
- Sift dry ingredients together, cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured board, knead gently for 30 seconds. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut into rounds with 2-inch biscuit cutter and bake on a greased baking sheet in a hot oven (450° F.) 12-15 minutes. Makes 18.

Have a "Coke" = Ahoy, mates

... or keeping up the good work

Faster and faster the ships go down the ways in the wartime shipbuilding program. From sunny California to the coast of Maine, workers have learned that the pause that refreshes helps everybody do more work and better work. Have a "Coke" says a hard-working shipbuilder to his mates. It's a little minute long enough for a big rest. Whether in a shipyard or in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a symbol of friendly relaxation.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WHAT ABOUT THE PAST?

We talk a great deal about the present and contrast it with the past and the future. Yet there are many philosophers today who tell us that there is nothing but the past. The future, they say, is unborn.

Whether this be true or not, the past is very important for every one of us. We cannot entirely forget it; we cannot shake off its effects, be they good or evil.

A famous English preacher many years ago delivered a sermon on the topic, "Making the Past a Success."

His point was that it is up to us whether the past becomes for us a liability or an asset. If all we can do is forget the past if we allow its lessons to go unheeded, then the past becomes for us a huge and debilitating failure.

On the other hand, if we use it as a light which we bring to the present, and upon which to build the still unborn future, then do we make the proper utility of what has gone before.

No matter how bad the past, how unpleasant or sorrowful its recollections, we must never let it bring us down. It should not be a millstone about our neck but a solid foundation between a satisfying superstructure.

It is in our power to make the past a success. All Rights Reserved— Babson Newspaper Syndicate

Today On The... (Continued From Page One) needs of the armed forces are filled by setting aside enough butter for them.

This year, starting in April and continuing through September, every month a certain share of the nation's butter was set aside for the armed forces. For instance: In April they got 10 per cent. This climbed to 50 per cent in June. It was scaled down to 20 per cent in September.

Since Oct. 1 civilians have been getting it all. One WPA official said: "We had to set aside this butter for the armed services in that period when there was plenty of it. If we were setting it aside now, there'd be none for civilians."

Japs Evacuate Large Cities

(By The Associated Press) The Japanese government has decided to increase evacuation of non-essential civilians from Japan's largest cities in preparation for "inevitable enemy air raids," Tokyo radio reported today.

A domestic broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission said the cabinet yesterday ordered "young and old and pregnant women" to move out of 11 major cities to live with relatives in the country "as far as possible."

Cabinet action followed unconfirmed Tokyo reports of three reconnaissance flights over Honshu, the main island of Japan, by Superfortresses within a week.

In previous mass evacuation more than 1,000,000 have been reported evacuated from greater Tokyo, where blocks of houses were said to have been leveled as an air raid precaution. Important industrial units, government offices and schools were removed from large cities to less-populated areas.

Report Increases In Cotton Crop

Washington, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that the cotton crop this year is 12,320,000 equivalent 900-pound bales. This compares with 11,983,000 bales indicated a month ago, 11,427,000 bales produced last year, and a ten-year, 1933-42, average production of 12,455,000 bales.

The census bureau reported that cotton of this year's growth gained to Nov. 1 totaled 8,281,571 running bales, counting down on half bales and excluding linters, compared with 9,062,889 bales ginned to that date a year ago, and 9,713,354 bales two years ago.

The indicated acre yield and indicated total production by states included: North Carolina 427 lbs. an acre and 710,000 bales. South Carolina 369 and 850,000.

Granville wilt. Next year will be the first year in which seed has been available for extensive planting.

This strain of tobacco was developed by the Oxford Experiment Station after 10 years of research work. A small amount of seed was turned over to certified seed growers in 1944 for seed multiplication, and these seed are being offered to growers having Granville wilt for the 1945 crop.

Oxford 26 is very resistant to Granville wilt and has good and quality factors. We feel that it will be worth a million dollars a year to Pitt county. Seed ordered by farmers through the county agent's office will be delivered at these meetings.

The discussion on the tobacco diseases will be accompanied by color slides of tobacco scenes taken in Pitt county. Seed ordered by farmers are invited and urged to attend the meeting nearest them.

Big Three To . . .

Consequently diplomatic authorities here now expect an acceleration in international affairs beginning with the projected big-three session, which some officials hope may even be held this month.
It appears certain that attempts will come soon to speed organization of the proposed world security organization and to get agreement with Britain, Russia and the other allies on control of a defeated Germany.

committing the United States to join the proposed new league and over legislation governing the use of American armed forces to help prevent aggression.
Secretary of State Hull has been the author of the world organization campaign to date and despite his age and illnesses the President is expected to continue to rely on him for this and similar work as long as Hull is able to remain in office.

The top item on the agenda of a big-three conference is expected to be settlement of the voting procedure dispute left over from the Dumbarton Oaks world security planning.
The fact that Mr. Roosevelt now is assured four more years in office is regarded by diplomats, rightly or wrongly, as the strongest possible guarantee to Britain and Russia that United States policies will move forward generally unchanged so far as the chief executive is concerned.

Basic principles of the President's foreign policy which may be expected to continue into the fourth term are these:
1. An early Allied victory over Germany, this year if possible; then concentrate knockout forces against Japan at maximum speed.
2. Continued big-four collaboration after the victories to secure a maximum period of peace. This aim is expressed in the Dumbarton Oaks plan for a new league and in such economic agreements as the Bretton Woods monetary treaty.
3. A tough but not necessarily destructive policy in controlling Germany; probably prolonged occupation of Germany to the extent that Congress will approve.
4. Continued advocacy of the principles of the Atlantic charter as guiding principles for the post-war world modified by what may be considered the political necessities of the moment in the interest of international cooperation and the like.

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
London, Nov. 8 — (AP)—A new grand-scale conference of the "Big Three" before Christmas was regarded in diplomatic quarters today as an almost certain follow-up to President Roosevelt's re-election.
It was believed highly probable that the conference would be preceded by a meeting in Paris of Mr. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Gen. Charles De Gaulle.

Fierce Fighting . . .

in the hills near Patok and Dagami.
U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, Nov. 8—(AP)—Hundreds of carrier planes from the Third fleet, in two knockout blows at Manila, increased to 1,000 the total Japanese aircraft they have destroyed and to 71 the warships they have helped sink or damage since Gen. Douglas MacArthur invaded the Philippines.

In his latest communique, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said Saturday-Sunday blows by Hellcats, Hell-divers and Avengers:
Destroyed 400 Japanese planes.
Sank two warships (a sub chaser, a destroyer).
Probably sank a heavy cruiser.
Damaged eight other warships (a light cruiser, two destroyers escorts, five destroyers).

Sank three cargo ships and an oil tanker.
Damaged 14 cargo ships and a trawler.
Blasted Nichols, Clark, Nielson, Liza, Farina, Bamban and Mabala airfields, bases which must be kept neutralized to protect Yank invaders of Leyte.
Wiped out three oil storage areas, destroyed a railway engine and five tank cars and inflicted heavy damage on ground installations.

Nimitz' Tuesday communique added 249 planes to the 191 he had reported destroyed Saturday. It added the destroyer to the warships sunk; two destroyers and two destroyer-escorts to the warships damaged.
"Figures on our own losses are not yet available," the communique said.
Emphasizing air domination of the attackers over Manila, the raiders accounted for 327 of the 440 planes on the ground.
Most of the 72 enemy warships which have been sunk or damaged since MacArthur's landings were blasted in the second battle of the Philippines Sea.

During that battle, 423 enemy planes were erased, most of them by carrier planes. Other enemy aircraft adding up to a total of at least 1,000 were bagged in carrier-based attacks dating back to Oct. 20.
The Saturday-Sunday blows constituted the first sizeable carrier thrusts at Manila since flat-top planes went over that area Oct. 28-29, destroying 90 enemy aircraft, probably sinking a heavy cruiser and damaging two others.

CONDUCTOR AT HOME—Little Gregor Leinsdorf, small son of Erich Leinsdorf, noted conductor of the Cleveland Symphony and the Metropolitan Opera, plays on the floor with his father in their Long Island home.

LOADING ESCALATOR—New cargo loader, shown in use at Detroit airport, operates on escalator principle either to raise air shipments into the nose of plane or to unload them, cutting average time from 20 to 10 minutes.

The city.
Berlin said the Russians were preparing for a new large scale attack toward Tarnow in southwest Poland from the Soviet bridgehead on the west side of the Vistula River. The Nazis declared the Russians have been withdrawing mechanized formations from the east Beskids area of the Polish-Czechoslovakia border to reinforce assault divisions and "the early beginning of a big battle is assumed."
Ultimate aim of an offensive in this direction would be a penetration of German Silesia.
Soviet troops in northeastern Hungary have pushed two new bridgeheads across the Tisza River 75 and 125 miles above Budapest, the Germans admitted.

Governorships . . .

ington, Democratic candidates piled up leads in voting that followed the pattern of the Roosevelt-Dewey presidential race.
In Illinois, Ohio and Delaware—all now under Republican control—the Democratic nominees were either out in front or running so close behind their GOP rivals that the outcome was in doubt.
Senator Mon C. Wallgren, Democrat, was running ahead of incumbent GOP Gov. Arthur B. Langlie in the early count in Washington. Another Democratic Senator Samuel D. Jackson of Indiana, was in front of Republican Ralph F. Gates in a close race in that state which has had Democratic governors since 1932.
Republican governors assured of re-election included Raymond E. Baldwin, Connecticut; Andrew F. Schoepfel, Kansas; H. Q. Sharpe, South Dakota, and Dwight Griswold, Nebraska. Other Republicans elected included Mortimer R. Proctor, Vermont, and Robert D. Bue, Iowa. Among the indicated winners were Republican governors Harry F. Kelly of Michigan; Walter S. Goodland, Wisconsin, and Edward J. Ivey, Minnesota.
Democratic incumbents returned for new terms included Governors Sidney P. Osborn, Arizona; J. Howard McGrath, Rhode Island; and Coke R. Stevenson, Texas.
Illinois' Republican Governor Dwight H. Green waged a nip and tuck battle with Democratic State Attorney Thomas J. Courtney of Chicago, which tightened as down-state votes accumulated.
Ohio's "battle of mayors" was one of the closest governorship races in the country. Republican Mayor James Garfield Stewart of Cincinnati and Democratic Mayor Frank J. Lausche of Cleveland alternated in the lead in a see-saw contest with less than 1,000 votes separating them at times.
California is named after an imaginary island figuring in an old-time romance.

Democratic . . .

took out Guy Gillette.
In the house, Hamilton Fish, Republican who long represented Franklin D. Roosevelt's New York home district but not his international policies, fell at last after 24 years in congress.
Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas scooted in without opposition, and Rep. Ramspeck of Georgia, the Democratic whip, won handily. On the other hand, Congresswoman Playwright Clare Boothe Luce traded pointed gares with Mr. Roosevelt and bobbed up a winner in the fourth Connecticut district.
The reelection of Senator Bob Wagner (D-NY) made numerical Democratic superiority in the up-coming senate a certainty. Before that the solid south had returned senators George of Georgia, Overton of Louisiana and Hill of Alabama, and named Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, Clyde R. Hoey of North Carolina, and J. William Fulbright of Arkansas to other Democratic seats.
Senate Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky zipped in as the Democratic current swept up through the border states. Millard Tydings of Maryland and Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma followed in short succession. Senators Hayden (D-Ariz) and Thomas (D-Utah, two other administration first-stringers, also won.
It was Brien McMahon, Norwalk Democrat, who unseated young, erudite John Danaher, Republican wheelhorse.
The Republicans, meanwhile, were making the most of their demonstrated strength in the midwest and New England to insure the safe return of Senator Alken of Vermont, Reed of Kansas and Gurney of South Dakota. Oregon voters okayed two Republican senators—Wayne L. Morse, who succeeds Rufus Holman of the same party; and Guy Gordon, who will continue to fill out the unexpired term of the late Charles L. McNary.

Senator Gerald Nye (R-ND), another on Truman's "isolationist" list was trailing badly in a three-way race led by John Moses, Democrat. Truman had pointed the same finger at Reed of Kansas, who went in; Taft of Ohio, who had a commanding lead early today; Tobey of New Hampshire, also doing well; Millikin of Colorado, who ran in front; and Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, who appeared nearing election.

Republican Senator James J. Davis fell somewhat behind Democrat Francis J. Myers as the Pennsylvania vote swelled to mammoth size. Senator Pat McCarran, Nevada Democrat, counted an apparently safe lead over George W. Malone in that thinly populated state.
