

Red Army Threatens Key Hungarian Rail Centers

Soviets Drive On Junction Towns Of Godollo And Hatvan In Move Toward Roads To Austria; Frontal Assault On Hungarian Capital Progresses.

London, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Russian troops have pierced the main German defense line 10 miles east of Budapest, capturing the rail station of Gyomro, and in a pivot north-east of the besieged capital today threatened the key railway junctions of Godollo and Hatvan.

Far to the northeast other units of Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's second Ukraine army struck to within five miles of Miskolc, Hungary's fifth city, which is now exposed to Red army artillery fire.

Battling along the roads leading around Budapest to Austria, the Russians yesterday crossed the Budapest-Miskolc railway at Vamosgyork in a 12-mile advance from Hatvan. Moscow announced last night. Hatvan is a junction of the Budapest-Miskolc line and terminal of the railway running north into central Slovakia, 38 miles beyond.

The threat to Godollo, less than 10 miles northeast of Budapest, developed when powerful Soviet tank and infantry forces swept through the town, less than 11 miles southeast. Godollo governs road and rail routes to Vienna and central Slovakia.

The capture of Vamosgyork, where several trains and ammunition stores were seized, also threatened the entrapment of German and Hungarian forces still clinging to the central section of the Budapest-Miskolc trunk line.

In the frontal assault east of Budapest, the Gyomro rail station was captured in a bitterly-contested three-mile advance. Gyomro village, 15 miles to the south and described by Berlin as the southeastern anchor of the Axis defense are around Budapest, was under violent attack. Berlin reported.

Meanwhile, a midnight Soviet war bulletin indicated the Red air force had begun to track down the German fleet hiding in the Baltic. Since the RAF sinking of the Tirpitz, the only surface warships left to the Germans are believed trapped there. Torpedo planes of the Red Banner Baltic fleet opened the attack by sinking a 6,000-ton transport in the big Nazi port of Danzig, the war bulletin said.

The regular Soviet communique disclosed that Russian troops, expanding their Trans-Tisza river front northeast of Budapest to a (Continued on page four)

Boake Carter Died Suddenly Yesterday

Hollywood, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Sudden death has claimed Boake Carter, 46-year-old radio commentator, whose frequently provocative programs won him thousands of friends and opponents.

He appeared to be in good health but complained of feeling ill after his daily program for Mutual Broadcasting System yesterday. Taken to a doctor's office, he suffered a stroke and died shortly after he was admitted to Hollywood Presbyterian hospital. A physician has asked that a coroner's inquest be held.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst This looks like the big moment for which we've been waiting—General Eisenhower's all-out drive to crack the formidable Rhineland defenses and administer the coup de Grace.

It shouldn't be long now—if the weather lets the Allies get ahead with the job—before we have a good idea of how much steel is left in the Nazi backbone.

German Field Marshal Von Rundstedt may have half a million men with which to meet the terrific weight being hurled against his mile battle-line that's a correct estimate of probably five to one—maybe more. The Allies are supreme in the air and their striking power in all other categories is superior.

We should have a false picture, however, if we left it there. The Nazis are banking heavily on the strength of their Rhineland defenses to impede the Allied drive. The deeply fortified area between the Allies and the Rhine present a great barrier, and the wide, swift river itself is a terrific obstacle.

Let's not underestimate the task facing the gallant boys who at this moment are driving through knee-deep mud, under rain and sleet, straight into the enemy fire. It's likely to be a cruel route through that Rhineland valley which in times of peace is so quiet and lovely. Success won't be cheap.

Favors Compulsory Training For Youths

FIFTH ARMY SCORES AGAIN Captures Important Road Junction Italy.

Rome, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Fifth Army troops have occupied Modigliana, important road junction nine miles south of the Bologna-Rimini highway town of Faenza in the wake of a surprise German withdrawal after a week-long vigorous defense. Allied headquarters announced today.

Several previous Allied assaults on the town had been thrown back by desperately fighting Nazis. When British and Indian troops moved in yesterday they found the Germans had left the town thoroughly mined and booby-trapped. Six miles north of captured Forlì, Eighth Army units, moving cautiously toward the Montone River cleared Coccolia and reached a point within 2,000 yards of San Pancrazio.

Other troops pushed about two and a half miles west of Forlì against comparatively light resistance from German rear guards.

In the Adriatic coastal sector the Germans blew a trap in the banks of the Flumi Uniti, flooding large tracts of land east of highway 16 (Continued on Page Four)

We back here no the home front should remember this. The least we can do is jump in and provide the troops with the wherewithal to fight.

Well now, what can we look for in the way of Allied tactics? General Ike has been working the shrewd scheme of varying his pressure on the Germans in order to keep them off balance. He could do this successfully because of his great superiority in manpower and equipment. By hitting 'em here, there and everywhere he sooner or later will find the weak spot he's looking for—and that's where he will develop the breakthrough.

Most observers are keeping a special watch on the northern section of the front—from the shell-shocked Aachen sector up to Arnheim at the tip. It looks now as though Eisenhower might be figuring on crashing through the Aachen zone to Cologne and Düsseldorf or the Rhine, or on turning the German right flank up at Arnheim while exerting pressure below.

There are two prime reasons why the supreme commander may be figuring on letting his left-wing forces carry the ball. For one thing, this flank lies directly opposite the Ruhr—heart of Germany's war industry—and offers the shortest route to Berlin through country which, once across the Rhine, is suitable for movement of armored forces.

Then this northern flank lies close to the great port of Antwerp (Continued on Page Four)

No Decision Yet

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he does not know yet whether this year's Army and Navy football game will be played.

The President dismissed the subject of the football game's location with that brief response at his news conference today. He was asked whether the December 3 game will be played at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, or in some city able to accommodate a larger crowd.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said yesterday that he hoped the service change would be switched to a big week-end feature.

Naval Academy officials have said that tickets to the game, if moved, cannot be printed in time for the game and distributed unless a decision is reached today.

BOND DRIVE TO BEGIN MONDAY

Pitt County's Sixth War Loan Quota $1,689,000.

The Sixth War Loan Drive in the nation and state will be launched next Sunday night by radio broadcasts by President Roosevelt and Governor Broughton. It was announced today by J. H. Waldrop, Pitt county chairman.

President Roosevelt will speak on a nation-wide hookup at 10 o'clock Sunday night, and Governor Broughton will launch a North Carolina drive with a broadcast at 8:30 Sunday evening over WPTF. The Pitt county chairman also announced that all networks in the nation will carry Sixth War Loan "pop" programs between 8 and 10 o'clock.

The national goal is 14-billion dollars. North Carolina's goal is 121 million dollars. Pitt county's goal is $1,689,000—$331,000 of which is in "E" bonds.

Several special features in the interest of the sale of war bonds have been arranged during the drive, which opens on November 20 and closes on December 16. The first is a presentation of "The Home Front" by the Greenville High School Black Managers and Dramatists at the high school auditorium on November 20, at 8 p. m. "Here's Your Infantry," a big Army show, is coming to Greenville on December 6, showing at the baseball park throughout the day. Pitt theater is planning a special feature which will be announced later.

Towns and communities in Pitt county have all been assigned a quota and are making their plans to get off to a fine start on Monday, November 20. Everyone is being urged to defend the country in one year of service to their country.

At a news conference, Mr. Roosevelt made no attempt to say whether such service should include girls as well as boys.

A questioner had asked about girls. In a general discussion previously, the President said the idea is for the nation's boys to give one year of service to their country.

Asked whether the training should be military in nature, Mr. Roosevelt said that depended upon what the reporter meant and asked: Is cooking military? Is carpentry military?

The President punctured a suggestion that the year's service might be spread over several years by having the nation's youth put in a few weeks at a time. That, won't work, he said.

Stressing the need for a training year, Mr. Roosevelt said the large percentage of young men turned down in the draft for physical reasons in this war is appalling.

He recalled the physical advantage gained by the youths who went through the Civilian Conservation Corps program early in the New Deal and said a universal training program would give the nation a large percentage of young people trained to defend the country in case of future wars.

Make Plans For Sale Of Seals

A special called meeting by Mrs. Fred P. Seave, chairman of the tuberculosis Christmas Seal and Bond Sale for Greenville sponsored by the Junior Woman's club, was conducted at the home of Mrs. Seave last night at 8 o'clock for the purpose of mapping plans prior to the official opening of the sale.

Definite plans now underway and for future use were reported by all officials present. Mrs. Seave stated that she is very pleased with the work already accomplished by her committees and is confident that this drive will be highly successful.

Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, general chairman of the sale for Pitt county, made many helpful suggestions and expressed his appreciation for the enthusiasm shown by the workers. Dr. Ennett also stated that he feels that the county is indeed fortunate to have this fine group of young women to lead this drive which already promises to be a success.

Jap-Held Island Occupied; More Jap Shipping Losses

Previous Reports Of Jap Losses At Manila Upped; Other Islands Raided.

U. S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters, Pearl Harbor Nov. 17.—(AP)—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, revising previous figures upward, announced that Third Fleet carrier planes sank a cruiser, four destroyers and 11 cargo vessels and oil tankers in their Nov. 12 raid on Manila.

The light cruiser previously reported as damaged was known to have sunk. Nimitz said in a communique yesterday. Returning pilots also originally reported only two destroyers sunk and said the merchantmen were either destroyed or left blazing.

Four torpedoes also were sent into a floating drydock, believed to be the 500-foot Admiral Dewey, which the Americans scuttled before Manila's fall. The Japanese evidently raised it.

The Pacific commander reported a series of aerial strikes from Haha and Iwo Islands, in the Bonin and Volcano groups, to by-passed islands in the northern Palaus. A bomb hit was scored on a small cargo vessel at Iwo and a possible hit was made on a medium-sized merchantman at Haha. The latter island is some 50 miles south of Tokyo.

Ground installations in the Palaus were attacked heavily by land-based Liberators which also sank several barges and other small craft.

Civilian Production Must Wait Until Germany Falls

By STERLING F. GREEN Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The laying down of plans for making all those things civilians miss probably will be held back until German collapse is assured.

This became apparent today, following James P. Byrnes' threat to halt completely the resumption of civilian goods manufacture if growing war needs require it.

War Mobilizer Byrnes, joining an official campaign against what officials regard as a lack of public war-consciousness, declared shortages of material and weapons might prolong the war unless quickly remedied.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, even while directing the "big push" on Germany, will take time Sunday to broadcast a plea for more bits guns and artillery ammunition. (NBC, 3:30 P. M., E. W. T.) Stressing manpower troubles, Byrnes last night ascribed failure to meet some munitions goal to "the mistaken belief on the part of some people that the war is about over." Two hundred thousand able bodied men could break the bottleneck, he said. If it is not broken, the mobilization chief asserted he would "not hesitate to take more drastic action" in these forms: First, suspend the "spot" authorization procedure for civilian goods manufacture in the two classes of cities having labor shortages; and second, "completely suspend re-

'COTTON ED' SMITH DEAD

Veteran South Carolina Senator Died Today.

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Democrat Senator Ellison Durant (Cotton Ed) Smith, of South Carolina, dean of the Senate and uncompromising anti-New Dealer, died today in Lynchburg, S. C.

The 80-year-old veteran passed away from coronary thrombosis at his plantation home Tanglewood, a chunky, colorful figure with gray mustache, Smith by last August had served longer in the Senate than any other member in history—35 years.

He was defeated for renomination to a seventh term last summer by Gov. Olin D. Johnston, who was elected Nov. 7.

Smith was a farm expert—primarily where cotton was concerned. Cotton was his king. Most of his Senate career was devoted to getting federal aid for the Southern staple. His last years found him as head of the Senate's Agriculture Committee.

Shortly after his primary defeat a few months ago, Smith, together with other anti-Roosevelt Democrats, called a meeting in Washington to lay plans to prevent a fourth term for Mr. Roosevelt.

The group formed a committee and called on the nation's farmers to "smash the vicious control of the New Dealers, Sidney Hillmans, and Communists."

Senator Maybank, Smith's South Carolina colleague, said "I am distressed and saddened at the untimely passing by my colleague. I had the pleasure of serving in the Senate with him for three years and enjoyed my tenure of office with him."

Word of the 80-year-old Senator's death also was received by Edwin A. Halsey, secretary of the Senate. Smith, best known as "Cotton Ed," had been backing New Deal leadership of the Democratic party for seven years and formed an anti-New Deal committee to oppose the fourth term ticket this year.

Smith once said that if he had not been so lazy he could have been as great a man as John C. Calhoun, South Carolina's patron saint. (Continued on Page Four)

Japs Allow Allied Prisoners To Die

London, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Japanese saved their own nationals from a sinking transport off Singapore in September but left 1,300 British and Australian prisoners of war to die in the sea, War Secretary Sir James Gigg told the House of Commons today.

Pegun Island In MacArthur's Men Drive Ahead On Leyte.

By C. YATES McDANIEL General MacArthur's Headquarters, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Stubbornly defended, shell blasted Pegun Island, the Ormoc road, the 24th Division today as they took virtual control of dominating Breakneck ridge.

Fred Hampson, Associated Press war correspondent with the 24th, reported American units coming down the slopes of Breakneck ridge from the west had advanced to within 1,600 yards of the Ormoc valley village.

Other American units on the east were held up by Japanese strongly entrenched in ravines and gullies.

Another 24th Division force is behind the Japanese on the Ormoc road, two and a half miles south of Limon, but has not been able to cut the road entirely because of heavy Japanese concentrations on a hillside commanding the highway. The Japanese have not been able to use the road either, because the Americans are keeping it under continual mortar and machinegun fire.

With American long-range artillery hammering the 26-mile corridor which remains to the Japanese, and American air fighters ranging the skies overhead, enemy dead mounted steadily.

Today On The Home Front By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Men of good will and men with harpoons suggest a little fresh—and younger—blood toward the top in government.

Main target is the President's cabinet whose 10 members all head top government departments.

Here are some facts: President Roosevelt is 62 years old. The average of his cabinet is also 62.

The average length of service in the cabinet—of Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet members is 6½ years. Four of them are 70 or older, five are in their fifties, and one is in the 60-year bracket. Here's the score: Hull (State), 73; Stimson (War), 77; Ickes (Interior), 70; Jones (Commerce), 70; Morgenthau (Treasury), 53; Biddle (Attorney General), 53; Walker (Postmaster), 58; Forrestal (Navy), 52; Wickard (Agriculture), 51; and Perkins (Labor), 62.

German Defense Lines Sag As First And Ninth Armies Drive Into Rhineland; Many Prisoners Taken; British Advance To Maas River; Other Armies Gain.

By WILLIAM FRYE London, Nov. 17.—(AP)—German lines sagged under twin offensives in the Rhineland today as the First U. S. Army drove forward two miles toward Duren and the Ninth Army bagged long lines of prisoners.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army infantry and armor slashed to a point six miles west of Duren, important industrial town 20 miles west of Cologne, despite sleet at 1 rain storms.

Germany's Western lines rocked to the thunder of hundreds of guns in the Aachen sector, the smash of new armored columns from the Moselle bridgeheads, the weight of increasing attacks in Holland as the Allies made a supreme bid for victory.

Perhaps 2,000,000 men were arrayed in battle on both sides in the critical test of German staying power.

Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army increased the pressure of the attack in its second day north of Aachen, front line dispatches said, captured several more towns and turned back a Tiger tank counterattack.

A German military commentator late in the afternoon said a break had been made in the German lines near Stolberg and a dispatch from the front said breaks appeared to have been made at several places.

Long streams of battle-shattered German prisoners lined the roads back to American prison cages.

Flight after flight of Thunderbolt fighterbombers streaked under cloud layers over the front.

To the north the British crossed the Zig canal after clearing out a triangle formed by the channel and the Noord and Western canals, and victory breaks appeared to have been made on a seven-mile front at Roermond in Holland.

Here, the German radio declared, a major attack is likely to be launched in a few days time.

To the south Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., threw new armored forces into the Third Army's battle from the bridgehead near Thionville which were punched as far as eight miles east of Koenigsmacher.

Drawing their net tighter about Germans possibly preparing for a siege stand inside Metz, Third Army troops completely surrounded the Verdun Fort group just southwest of the city and across the Moselle from the stronghold of Fort Dietrich. Infantry captured Lorry La Metz, a mile northwest of the city.

The twin offensives of the First and Ninth Armies had deepened the five-to-10-mile wedge in the Siegfried Line by at least one to two miles, with the Doughboys now fighting within seven miles of Julich and 28 miles from Cologne on the Rhine.

Officers disclosed tonight that just before the attack yesterday more than 1,000 guns buried one of the biggest artillery batteries of the war on the Germans in the First Army sector, smashing enemy positions with 20 tons of bursting steel a minute for one 60-minute period. OBSERVING LIFE FROM THE CROSS

We are told that as our soldiers cast themselves against the fortifications of Aachen, they found the so-called "Crucifix Hill" the most strongly defended approach to the city. One news story carried the significant statement that the cross which stood on that hill was used as an observation post.

It is not the first time the cross has been used as an observation post. Men have stood at the cross of Christ for centuries, looking out over the world. And it has always been true that there was no place where life could be observed with such penetrating insight as from this vantage point.

We never catch the significance of the Christian religion until we realize that it begins and ends in the cross. It begins in the cross because it requires of us complete and utter self-denial. It ends in the cross because it was the sacrifice Christ made thereon which, in some way we do not understand, purchased for man the right and privilege of salvation from sin. It is when men trust the cross and set it up in their hearts that they are saved.

As long as we look at life from the standpoint of self, or think of its opportunities in terms of worldly advantage, we preclude for ourselves the possibility of happiness. Happiness when we stand at the side of the cross making it our observation point, that we are able to appreciate life and its values with penetrating insight.

THE WAR TODAY

and communications with this supply base are good. This point can't be over-emphasized. A great offensive must have ready access to supplies or else it will run down like an unwound clock.

The idea that the break may be on the northern front is rather encouraged by the mysterious appearance of General Simpson's will-o-the-wisp U. S. Ninth Army in the West and reports of General Hodges' U. S. First Army. The Ninth got into action quickly and the British must have had a look to find it there. They had known, of course that it was knocking about somewhere, but the manner in which it was spirited across France without disclosing its whereabouts is one of the wonders of the war.

There still are unknown quantities to conjure with. One is the great airborne army, which includes the paratroops. This outfit is likely to be dropped behind the enemy somewhere. Then, too, Allied engineers have the habit of preparing equipment for river crossings well in advance of the event. Both these are worth keeping in mind.

Despite his confessed laziness, however, Smith got himself elected to the Senate in 1909 and remained there until his death.

Not even the persuasive voice of President Roosevelt could bias him out. A "purge" target in 1938, Smith put on the campaign of his life during the drive. War bonds are on sale at all banks in the county, as well as other issuing agencies," Chairman Waldrop said.

Smith's entire political career was based on a platform of three planks—white supremacy, a tariff for revenue only and more important, State's Rights. He did not let an opportunity pass to emphasize it.

On top of that saturation, Allied bombers laid down 10,000 tons of bombs in less than four hours in one narrow sector.

But the Germans kept on fighting doggedly, sullenly and resourcefully and in contrast to the Ninth Army front, where many prisoners were taken, only 150 were caught in one of the hottest parts of the First Army front.

At one village captured in the attack the Germans fought, from house to house through inter-connecting trenches and breaches in the walls.

Everywhere the enemy was making highly effective use of mines, mortars and artillery.

The First and Ninth were supported in their jump-off attack yesterday by the greatest air fleet ever to go into a single action in direct aid of ground forces.

Nearly 6,000 bombers and fighters blasted at the gateway to the Rhine with 13,000 tons of explosives for five hours yesterday and infantrymen captured hundreds of Germans killed in the process.

The Second Army in Holland capped a 12-mile advance in three days by capturing Wessem, on the Maas below Roermond in Holland, and Bugenum, three miles north of Roermond. The British virtually reached the Maas on a seven-mile front in this sector facing the German border from three to seven miles farther east.

Highlighting the ever-present danger of a fresh offensive sweep around the Germans' northern flank, Allied patrols slipped across the lower Maas between S-Hertogenbosch and Moerdijk. German artillery reacted violently.

Pursued by British units mounted in Kangeroos—armored vehicles converted into troop carriers—the Germans fell back so rapidly in the flat, canal-broken country near Roermond that the Tommies lost contact.

The Germans were reported withdrawing to their defense lines east of the Maas River.

Patton's prisoners in his 10-day drive mounted to 8,396.

Below Metz in the Seventh Army sector, the Germans set afire, St. Die, first town in the Vosges pass of Saales, and at least five other villages within an eight to 10-mile arc. The Americans had punched to within a mile of St. Die.

Be Quick to Treat Bronchitis

Negro Man Victim Assault With Axe

Lucy Little, Negro tobacco factory worker, slightly missed her aim with a wood axe yesterday afternoon when she cut a gash long enough on the scalp of John Harper, Negro factory employe, to require half a dozen stitches and the tying of an artery by a surgeon at Pitt General hospital, Police Chief Herbert Wooten said.

Harper was molesting her in her home on Pamlico avenue when she struck him.

The woman was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill and the man with assault on a female. They were each ordered held under $100 bond. They had the ready cash, but up the money and were released.

In Police Court today when Lucy Little testified that Harper was assaulting her when she struck him Judge Roberts fined Harper $50 and costs for assault on a female and required her to pay the hospital $12.

"I tried one medicine after another but Retonga that gave me the relief I so badly needed," gratefully declares Mrs. Lillie Ingram, 1004 E. 28th St., Cleveland, Tenn. Mrs. Ingram has four sons in the armed services. Discussing Retonga she happily continued:

"My appetite became so poor that often I didn't even go to the table at mealtime. What little I ate often disagreed with me and I brought on sour stomach and gas. My strength and weight went down and I became so nervous that the least thing upset me. Sluggish elimination forced me to use one laxative after another. My sleep did not seem to refresh me and I felt draggy, nervous, and rundown almost to the point of exhaustion.

Turkey Supper For Ellen Bible Class

By CHESTER WALSH

Members of the C. J. Ellen Bible Class of Memorial Baptist church were guests of John Arthur Collins, Henry L. Andrews, and Fred M. Stokes at a turkey supper and fellowship meeting at the Rotary building last night. Collins welcomed the guests, congratulated the members for excellent attendance and turned the meeting over to Ed Raul, president of the class. Raul said "Greenville needs a greater influence from its churches" and urged the men to take renewed interest and increase their activities. He outlined a plan to raise $25,000 through "special gifts" from members of the church as a nest-egg for a building fund to provide an educational building for Memorial Baptist church.

Claude Ward explained the plan in detail. D. J. Whichard, Jr., Jack Boyd, Dr. Richard E. Hardaway, the pastor, Bill Lee, Sunday school superintendent, and Dr. B. McK. Johnson and Judge Abbot Dunn. Men's Bible class members, and Fred M. Stokes spoke in favor of the plan to provide an educational building and do more active work among the young people of the church.

Last night's meeting was the third in a series of fellowship affairs on by members of the class. Last night's meeting was the third in a series of fellowship affairs on by members of the class. Last night's meeting was the third in a series of fellowship affairs on by members of the class.

observe operations on the American bombing route to the Philippines. Bras Island, also in the Mapin group, is being mopped up, MacArthur said.

American fighter planes, bombing and strafing the Ormoc Japanese supply area, sank 30 barges lying with their ramps lashing shore, apparently unloaded.

At Valencia, halfway up the road running from Ormoc to the Japanese forward elements along the horseshoe bend south of Limon, the Yank airmen destroyed dozens of trucks in a motor pool.

Elements of the 24th U. S. infantry division were holding the front of the Limon salient, and closing in west and south of the Jap spearhead. Elements of the first cavalry (dismounted) were closing in from the east.

(hour). Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported in his diary communique, and a Japanese sniper bullet wounded Brig. Gen. Claudius M. Easley, assistant commander of the 96th Division.

General Easley, a colorful Texan, was tramping through front line positions when he was struck. He was the first American general officer to be wounded in this campaign.

Gen. MacArthur announced complete occupation of tiny Pegun Island in the Masia group just northwest of New Guinea, thus eliminating Japanese aerial watchers able to observe operations on the American bombing route to the Philippines.

Phantoms Will Play New Bern Here Tonight

Kick-Off At Guy Smith Stadium At Eight O'Clock; Two Bands Will Furnish Added Color.

The Green Phantoms play the New Bern Bears in Guy Smith Stadium tonight at 8 o'clock. Coach "Snag" Clark's Phantom squad expect a tough game when the Bears journey over to Greenville for their second grid meeting of the season. The Green and White team, after suffering a heart breaker to Elizabeth City last Friday afternoon is expected to come back all the harder in the engagement tonight. After going through a week of hard practice the Phantoms will enter the game in fair condition. Some of the regulars are still bothered by injuries received in previous games. However, the line-up throughout the game will be expected to manage anything the Bears will be able to present. In the Phantoms' first meeting with the Bears the Greenville lads proved too much for the Bears on the larger end of a 32-6 score. The Bears, however, are regarded as a greatly improved club. Two weeks back they defeated Kinston 7-6. Kinston was able to lick the Phantoms in both meetings this fall. Regardless of scores, the contest tonight is slated to be a bang up affair. A large turn out is expected to be present for the Phantoms next to last game, plus the bands of both schools, to make the contest a colorful affair.

baby will be the difference in which case it'll be Ohio State to remain unbeaten. Mississippi State - Alabama - Shorty McWilliams will spark State to its seventh straight victory and possible Bowl bid. Northwestern - Notre Dame - Bob Kelly may not see much action but the Irish have enough to rebound from the Army drubbing. Notre Dame. Wisconsin-Michigan - The once-beaten Wolverines aren't going to let Badgers stand in their way of a chance to win the Big Ten title. Michigan. Georgia Tech-Louisiana State - The Engineers are riding high again, much to LSU's sorrow. Georgia Tech. Texas Christian-Texas - The comparative scores say it'll be Texas. Second Air Force-Washington - Lt. Glen Dobbs gives the Super-bombers a decided edge. California-Southern California - The Trojans need this one to get into the Rose Bowl and they'll be there Jan. 1. Southern Calif. Duke-South Carolina - Don't pause-Duke. North Carolina-Yale - Yale will continue on its all victorious march. Pittsburgh-Indiana - The Hoosiers, we hope, will rebound from last week's surprise defeat by Minnesota. Camp LeJeune-Bainbridge - No. 15 for Bainbridge. Camp Peary-North Carolina Pre-Flight - The pitching of All-American Otto Graham gives the Pre-Flighters a decided edge. Any and now here we go over the nation's chalked lines: Auburn over Georgia; Arkansas over Southern Methodist, Tulane over Clemson, Cornell over Dartmouth, Penn State over Maryland, North Carolina State over Richmond, Randolph over Southwestern (Texas), Tennessee over Temple, West Virginia over Kentucky, William and Mary over V. M. I. Sunday, it'll be Fleet City Blue Jackets over St. Marys Pre-Flight, Holy Cross over Melville (R. I.) PT Base, Georgia Pre-Flight over Daniel Field, Third Air Force over Maxwell Field.
