Carrier Planes Hit Manila Area

Tokyo Says 300 Planes Smashed At Luzon Island Sunday; Raids On Other Islands Also Reported; Asia Islands Off New Guinea Invaded; Battleship Hit At Borneo.

(By the ASSOCIATED PRESS) Three hundred American planes bombed the Japanese-held island of Luzon in the Philippines Sunday, a Tokyo broadcast reported by the Federal Communications Commission declared.

"Approximately 300 carrier-based planes" raided various sectors of the Philippines, including Manila, Clark Field, Lipa, Batangas, and Aparri, the broadcast said.

A Tokyo broadcast reported from London said "several dozen" bombers including B-24 Liberators took part in the raids. That was the first mention of land-based planes over Manila.

The Japanese claimed their interceptors shot down nine of the raiders and "damaged" one.

Domei reported that 25 Liberators had raided Legaspi, near the southern tip of Luzon, Friday, Yap Saturday. The Japanese-controlled dropped bombs Sunday on Manila, but were driven off before any damage was done.

The number and type of American planes were not specified in the Manila broadcast.

In another broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, the Japanese Domei agency said five United States B-24 bombers Sunday (Tokyo time) raided a Japanese base on Paramushiro Island in the Kurile group.

Japanese fighters intercepted and damaged two, it was claimed. The Japanese agency also reported American plane raids on the Bonin Islands Saturday, and in the northern Kuriles Nov. 16.

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Nov. 20 (AP)—American troops threw back vicious Japanese counterattacks in the slow and bitter Leyte campaign of the central Philippines as these rapid-fire developments were announced on Pacific fronts today:

1. More than 45,000 Japanese have been killed or wounded on Leyte since the Oct. 20 invasion. A ratio of nearly eight to one against American casualties of 5,691.

2. American troops invaded another small island group, the Asia Islands off New Guinea, and completed the occupation of the three Mapia Islands 180 miles to the east.

3. Heavy American bombers scored direct hits on a battleship and a heavy cruiser in the Aachen sector, both exploding and aflame, leaving 4 American warships striking within 750 miles of Tokyo, have again bombed two islands.

4. A concerted three-day cleanup of Saipan netted 248 Japanese killed and 47 captured.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur gave a breakdown of American casualties in the first month of the central Philippines campaign showing 1,133 killed, 126 missing and 4,432 wounded.

His figure of more than 45,000 Japanese killed or wounded did not include 8,000 believed aboard four transports and six destroyers sunk (Continued on Page Four)

Massive Offensive Flames Along Western Front

The large arrow on this map indicates the area east of Aachen, Germany, where the American First and Ninth armies have launched a massive offensive into the Rhineland. Other arrows denote numerous additional areas of Allied attacks along the Western Front. An aerial bombardment by over 3,000 planes preceded the attacks. CONGRESS HAS HEAVY SLATE

Several Controversial Issues To Come Up.

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The "lame duck" 78th congress comes head-on this week with a legislative program that may inject some life into its dying days.

Issues laden with controversial angles face settlement in both senate and house as the lawmakers set the down to business for their final sessions, with adjournment by December 10 in mind. The house tackles crop insurance and a $1.5-billion postwar federal-state road building program, while the senate takes on flood control and rivers and harbors legislation. With both major political parties committed to reorganization of the crop insurance program killed last year, the road ahead was clear for that legislation. The road bill is in a similar position. The house-approved flood control bill comes up in the senate Tuesday. (Continued on page four)

Chinese Cabinet Crisis Will Aid Allied Cause

Kai-Shek Yields To Pressure For Official Housecleaning To Strengthen China's Position.

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS China's cabinet shakeup, involving the removal of General Ho Ying-Chin as Minister of War and H. H. Kung as Minister of Finance, indicates that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek finally has yielded to Allied pressure for a housecleaning aimed at retrieving the tottering military and financial fortunes of Free China.

In naming General Chen Cheng to succeed Ho the Generalissimo has placed the reorganization of China's military forces in the hands of an able, forceful commander eager to adopt modern methods and willing to work closely with Americans assigned to train and equip an effective fighting army. Retirement of General Ho, Minister of War since 1930 and Chief of Staff since 1937, conceivably may remove one of the chief stumbling blocks to a political settlement between the central government and the Chinese Communists. General Ho, had maintained a military blockade against Communist armies in the north, as known as an implacable foe of the Communists and has been blamed for attacking them with some of his best divisions while they waged guerrilla warfare on the Japanese. He also has been accused of delaying tactics in accepting and employing American strategy, training methods and equipment, limited as such aid is because of the necessity of flying everything into China over the Himalayan Hump. General Chen is known as being meticulous in financial matters and thoroughly dependable once his word is given. In the late spring of 1943 when Japanese forces raided the Tunghsing Lakes rice bowl and pushed into western Hupeh, General Chen took command and turned back what might have been an enemy attack on Chungking. O. K. Yul, former mayor of Shanghai, takes over China's run. (Continued on page four)

Sixth War Loan Drive Got Under Way Today

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Sixth War Loan drive began today with the government asking Americans to dig into their pockets for another $14,000,000,000 to keep the attack rolling. President Roosevelt, pointedly reminding the nation that "the war is not over—no, not by many a costly battle," last night cited figures showing that 14 billions will scarcely pay the cost of global war for two months. At the present rate, he said in a war bond address broadcast from the White House, the war is costing $7,500,000,000 in November—or about $250,000,000 a day. "That is why every bond you buy is so important," the President emphasized. "While we have every reason to be proud of what has been done—even optimistic about the ultimate outcome—we have no reason to be complacent about the tough road that lies ahead." Some idea of the dividends this house investment is paying came from Navy Secretary Forrestal. He told a Minneapolis war bond rally that, among other things, the navy has spent since 1940 helped sink 1,400 enemy ships, destroy 10,000 enemy planes, and drive the Japanese from over 8,000,000 square miles of the Pacific area. In New York, Rear Admiral Monroe Kelly, commandant of the Third Naval district, opened that city's $3,867,500,000 campaign with a plea to replace "approximately $100,000,000 worth of ships" he said were lost in the recent Philippine sea battle. More than 100,000 persons turned out in Chicago yesterday to see 400 Marines demonstrate modern assault tactics at a war bond show, and there will be similar shows in a hundred other cities. In Baltimore, it was announced that 75 per cent of the tickets available to the public for the December 2 Army-Navy football game would be sold to purchasers of $25 bonds. Treasury officials estimate that at least $5,000,000,000 of the bond goal would come out of the pockets of the average citizen. Volunteer soldiers, about 6,000,000 of them in the nation, will ring doorbells in house-to-house canvasses or buy-

Allied Armies Gain Along The Entire Western Front

Soviet Tanks Increase Pressure On Budapest

Flanking Movement Nears Important Communications Center; New Action On Baltic Front.

London, Nov. 20 (AP)—Russian and American-made tanks, deepening the Soviet sweep around besieged Budapest along invasion routes into Austria and Czechoslovakia, were reported advancing today toward Lucene, key Nazi communications hub on the Lovak-Hungarian frontier. The tanks sprang forward along a modern, hard-surfaced highway from captured Gyongyos, a seven-way road junction 23 miles from the border and 40 miles northeast of Budapest. Gyongyos was seized by Russian shock troops yesterday. Simultaneously, other Soviet tank and artillery forces brought the 25-mile sector of the trunk line between Budapest and Hatvan, under heavy fire after capturing the village of Galgahéviz, 19 miles northeast of Budapest, a midnight Moscow bulletin announced. Hatvan, also a terminal of a main line running north to central Slovakia, was outflanked by tanks fanning out from Gyongyos following the hard-won Soviet advance. Gyongyos fell after a violent street fight in which the Russians wiped out two enemy battalions of 1,000 men, Moscow said. On the upper end of the 45-mile front moving on southern Slovakia, Marshal Rodio Y. Malinovsky's second Ukrainian army drove to within two miles of Munkacs, Hungary's fifth city. Seizure of Munkacs, six miles east of Miskolc, put another Russian group into the broad Hernad river valley leading into Slovakia. In the Baltic, the Russians were reported by Berlin to have thrown three divisions of 30,000 men and strong tank forces against the Sworbe peninsula, southwestern tip of Saare island, dominating the entrance to the Gulf of Riga. The battle for Budapest, according to Berlin, entered a new phase with the Russians bringing up 35 infantry divisions, possibly 400,000 men on a siege east of the capital. Berlin reported heavy fighting at Gyor, 10 miles southeast of the city.

Winter Drive Rolls Germans Back, Threatening Cologne And Bursting Through Burgundy Gate within 19 Miles Of Rhine; Disastrous Week Ahead For Nazis.

By WILLIAM FEYE London, Nov. 20 (AP)—French troops broke through the historic Burgundy Gap at Belfort and reached the Rhine, it was announced today as five other Allied armies hit sagging German defenses along all the other historic routes of invasion into Germany. It was the week of greatest promise since the Normandy breakthrough. French troops and armor unhinged the entire German southern flank at the Swiss border and surged into the outskirts of the bypassed fortress city of Belfort in a breakthrough announced by Gen. Jean De Lattre De Tassigny of the First French Army. "The Rhine was reached by nightfall yesterday," he said. American and French forces seized the entrances to four of the six main passes through the Vosges to the Rhine. They are battling 37 miles from Strasbourg, 21 miles from Colmar and 10 miles from Mulhouse, all important cities on the French side of the Rhine. Third Army forces crushing Metz in a grip that seized a third of that blocked-off old Roman fortress city, drove up to the Saar border on a 10-mile front and pushed out a five-mile square block of territory in Germany northwest of the Saar and east of the Luxembourg border. This thrust, along the western fringe of the Saar Valley and just east of the Moselle, assumed the proportions of a drive up the famous Moselle gale toward Metz and Coblenz on the Rhine 80 miles to the northeast. On the Cologne plain three Allied armies fighting on Gen. Montgomery's front, advanced to within 10 miles of the city. They have bulged approximately five miles northeast of Aachen since the start of their offensive through the Germans' most formidable and determined defense. Losing villages after village the German stand at last was showing signs of a crack in spots as the British Second and U. S. Ninth and First armies threw the armored, artillery, infantry and aerial punches which might break through to Cologne on the Rhine, 2 miles away, Dusseldorf and Ruhr Valley to the northeast. Here the American Ninth army of Lt. Gen. William Simpson forged ahead for gains of a mile or more and field dispatches said aerial reconnaissance disclosed signs of a German withdrawal toward Cologne and the Ruhr. There was a "decided movement of motor transport eastwards" from the Duren and Julich areas, and many anti-aircraft positions had been abandoned, it was said. In Holland the British stabbed to the Meuse at Venlo, were feeling out Nazi defenses two and a half miles from the German border and 29 miles from Dusseldorf. In the southern sectors of the front the French fighting back across the Alsace territory they surrendered in the 1940 Armistice, and the Third Army in its whirlwind of (Continued on Page Four)

Mervin B. Moore Killed In Action

Word was received Friday morning by Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Moore that their son, Pfc. Mervin B. Moore, 22, was killed in action in Italy. Pfc. Moore was killed October 22, 1942, and had been overseas since March of 1944. In his last letter to his mother on October 12, Pfc. Moore said he had been awarded the Bronze Star for bravery in action. He was with the 362nd Infantry and received his training at Camp White, Oregon. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Moore of near Farmville; four sisters, Mrs. Archie Case of near Snow Hill, Mrs. Raymond Harris of Greenville, Mrs. Bennie Fowler of Durham, and Miss Mary Ella Moore of the home; three brothers, Alfred Moore of Wilmington, Howard Moore of near Snow Hill, and Randolph Moore of the home. Prior to his induction he was employed by Bilbro Wholesale Company and made his home with his sister, Mrs. Raymond Harris of Greenville.

Planes From Italy And England Blast Reich.

London, Nov. 20 (AP)—Upwards of 850 American planes today bombed and strafed the Ruhr valley of Germany, imminently threatened by four advancing Allied armies. Berlin said that other American planes were striking southern Germany from the south for the third successive day. An odd combination of 160 heavy bombers and more than 700 Mustang and Thunderbolt fighters and fighter bombers worked over an oil plant at Gelsenkirchen and the sprawling railroad yards at Munkacs, both fairly close to the erupting front. The preponderance of fighters suggested that considerable German air opposition was expected. Swarms of fighters buzzed back and forth on the Channel coast in the first break in a week-end of adverse flying weather. The Italy-based U. S. 15th air force raided southern Germany 600 strong both Saturday and Sunday but the Britain-based Eighth was (Continued on Page Four)

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

As the Allied drive against the Rhine gains momentum, it is a lead to see whether General Eisenhower will achieve his ambition to end the war this year or whether it may drag on through the winter—but his mighty fighting machine is crushing steadily forward with the inevitability of a landslide. The German battle-line is stretched taut and at many places is giving, notably in the Aachen sector opposite Cologne and down south in the Metz-Belfort zone. We can see the Nazi lack of reserves for the quick, harder attacks necessary to restore breaks at strategic points. Such a situation is wholly in favor of the Allies, and it might produce a crash-through. However, this isn't a time for prophecy. While we've seen a further awesome demonstration of Allied striking-power, we also have fresh evidence of German determination to gamble prodigally with death in this last-ditch stand at the threshold of the fatherland. So while there's no doubt that we shall win this historic battle, we must see further developments before we can decide how long it may run. Of course, much depends on the weather. Normally this is the bad time of the year, as I've seen more than one winter campaign in western Europe know too well. There are pea-soup skies to bedevil the air fleets, which are at once the eyes of the ground forces, and the pillar of fire which leads the troops into action. There's the deep and glue-like fog mud to bog down both foot-soldiers and machines. Winter fights for the defenders. The Hitlerites are depending largely on this factor, and on the strength of their westwall defenses. This isn't to depreciate the toughness of the resistance which has been offered by the depleted Nazi ranks. We should be doing our Allied troops an injustice if we failed to recognize what they're up against. The Germans are fighting for an evil cause, but they're brave in battle and in this crisis are showing fanaticism beyond their normal character. The covering barrages for our advances have been so terrific that in some sectors they've temporarily numbed the enemy. But the Hitlerites have recovered with amazing quickness and have swarmed from their shelters to meet the onslaught. This is a fair warning of hard going ahead for the Allies. The covering barrages for our advances have been so terrific that in some sectors they've temporarily numbed the enemy. But the Hitlerites have recovered with amazing quickness and have swarmed from their shelters to meet the onslaught. This is a fair warning of hard going ahead for the Allies. Nazi Field Marshal Von Rundstedt, commander in chief on the western front, is showing a disposition to cling as long as possible to his formidable defenses west of the Rhine, despite the fact that this great river represents his strongest natural barrier against the Allies. One suspects this is recognition that (1) the river is vulnerable despite its strength, and that (2) once the Allies have crossed and established a bridge-head on the eastern bank, the war will be about finished. Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—We're all involved in this dispute—and in the outcome. The government says its figures on living costs are pretty accurate. They're the government's yardstick in controlling wages and prices. But labor says living costs are far higher than the figures show. So it wants the government to let wages go up. If wages go up—depending on how widespread the increases are—some or many workers will benefit. If then living costs—prices—go up further, everyone will be affected. Chances are nothing will happen until after Germany falls. Tomorrow the arguments of both sides will be examined here. But this is the background of the arguments: The way in which the figures are put together. The Bureau of Labor Statistics is part of the government's Department of labor. It gathers various kinds of information on labor. One of its main jobs is compiling the cost-of-living index. Government agencies look upon the index as a kind of economic bible. They have been basing policies on it since 1921. The index is designed to show price changes in living essentials. It is showing now how much more it costs city families of moderate income to buy goods and services than in 1939. Notice that these figures are for city families only. Farm families are not included. A BLS official said families of "moderate income" are, for index purposes, families with a yearly income of about $2,500. (A) The CIO convention in Chicago President Philip Murray, sharp critic of the index, said 66 per cent of this country's spending units—families and individuals—earn less than $2,500 yearly. Certainly war has hit low-income families hardest of all. Because of scarcities and disappearance of many cheaper items, they have to spend more money. And some wartime factors not touched at all by the index—affect one family's expenditures but not another's. For example: Forced changes in housing, moving from one town to another, eating away from home. So the index applies only to "average" families living in large cities. It's a national average. (These are the words of BLS itself.) Living costs in one city may be higher than in another. But the costs in the various cities are added up and a national average obtained from the total. # Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
November 20, 1904

Greenville will observe the coming Thanksgiving day with the usual suspension of business.

Little Jennings Ragsdale was run over by a horse on the street a few evenings ago. Fortunately he escaped serious injury.

The residence of E. B. Higgs, west of the depot, caught fire early today. There was very little damage.

Remember the orphans when Thanksgiving comes.

Garden Club Meeting.
The Garden Club Department of the Woman's Club met in regular session at the clubhouse on Friday afternoon, November 17. Program booklets for the year were given to the members and all read "The Bond of Gardening" in unison.

Mrs. J. H. B. Moore, president, presided over the interesting business session. She called the attention of the members to the flower arrangements on display, and all took part in discussion and judging of them. It had been decided that this feature would be a project for the year, and all club members are asked to bring arrangements to each meeting, and blue ribbons will be awarded the best arrangements, and a prize will be given at the end of the year to the member having the most blue ribbons.

Members were asked to send articles for the "City of Sunshine" column to Mrs. Arthur Corey, and all were urged not to burn leaves, but to put them back into the soil instead. It was voted to ask Mrs. Tyler of Kinston to come and spend the day with the members at the clubhouse early in December and give instructions and talk on "Flower Arrangements." It was decided to have redoubt trials planted in Cotacanch Street Park and all were asked to send plants and shrubs to the park on Saturday, November 25, when someone will be on hand to receive and plant them.

All Garden Club members were asked to help decorate the clubhouse for Christmas, and the following committee was appointed to look after this work: Mrs. Ralph Garrett, Mrs. James Little, Mrs. Key Brown, Mrs. J. L. Winstead and Mrs. J. Hicks Corey. A round table discussion about Garden Problems was held and many problems presented. Attention was called to the luncheon and meeting to be held at the clubhouse on December 1, when our state president, Mrs. J. Henry Highsmith, will be present, and all members urged to attend.

Mrs. R. C. Rankin, program chairman, presented Mrs. R. S. Boyd, who gave the program for the afternoon, taking for her subject "Gardens of the Bible." She stated that God was the first gardener, and then she told of the Garden of Eden, the Royal Gardens of the Old Testament, the herb gardens of Moses' day, the rock gardens and the gardens of Christ's time. She told us that Salvation was born in a garden in her beautiful and thought-provoking talk.

At the social hour that followed Mrs. J. L. Winstead and Mrs. Gattis Honeycutt served delicious refreshments.—Reported.

College Vesper Hour.
Elizabeth Cotton was speaker at the vesper hour in Austin Auditorium Sunday night, November 19. The theme of her talk was "What We have to be thankful for in 1944." She said we must start on campus and be thankful for the many opportunities which we have here. We should be thankful that we have no fear of falling bombs; that we have food each day; that we can go about our daily work as we choose.

She said that our greatest problem is the planning of the post-war world and that each of us has a part in it. We should pray for co-operation among our students, the leaders of our country, and the leaders of the Allied nations so that no selfishness or greed will enter into the peace. We must, Miss Cotton said, pray for world brotherhood if we have the kind of world we want for the world is ours and it will be just the kind of world we make it.

She emphasized the fact that the church of God must be restored in all countries, and that we must work as missionaries to see that it is restored in all its glory.

In conclusion she read Marjorie McModen's "Thanksgiving."

A musical duet "Traumerel," by Robert Schumann, was rendered by Sallie Margaret Johnston at the piano, and Richard David on the violin.

Christian Science Service.
"Soul and Body" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, November 19.

The golden text was from Psalms 84:2: "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Brethren I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able to subdue all things unto himself." (Phil. 3:13, 14, 20, 21.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of being reveals man as perfect, even as the Father is perfect, because the Soul, or Mind, of the spiritual man is God, the divine Principle of all being, and because this real man is governed by Soul instead of sense, by the law of Spirit, not by the so-called laws of matter."

Waste Paper Goes to War

From the day a soldier goes to war, he is dependent on paper. From his draft card to his honorable discharge, his records are kept on it.

His rations are packed in it; his cartridges are wrapped in it; his shoes are lined with it; his letters are written on it.

His barracks are built with paper wallboard, paper roofing, paper insulation.

He shoots at paper targets, eats from paper plates, drinks from paper cups.

His battles are planned, his orders are issued, on paper.

Literally, he lives, trains, travels and fights, with paper his indispensable ally.

And, of course, his "honorable discharge" will be handed to him on a piece of paper—after a beaten Axis has signed the peace terms—on paper!

This 100 per cent shows the fine patriotic spirit on the part of our school and it is hoped that when the school is called upon to make comfort articles for men in the service and refugees in foreign countries, the students will do as well.

Membership in the Junior Red Cross entitles the school to the magazine of "Junior Red Cross News" and to many services provided by the Red Cross.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

LIFE'S REMAINDERS

Oh Bull, the Norwegian violinist who was quite a rage in this country two generations ago, was giving a concert one evening when the strings of his violin began to break. They broke one after another until only one string remained. On that one string he finished his concert.

Someone in commenting on that circumstance has remarked that Ole Bull finished on life's remainders. He was like the person who, playing the symphony of life on whatever instrument God happened to have given him, suddenly finds the strings beginning to break — the loved ones beginning to die the fortune to disappear, the vigor of health to be broken, the advantages of secure position to be wiped out in a series of catastrophes. But many a person has, under such circumstances, continued the symphony of life without interruption, playing on the one string that was left.

For the truly religious there is only one string absolutely essential, and this is faith in the living God. As long as that remains, sweet music can still be played, the harmonies of life are still undamaged. Dreams may be shattered, ambitions frustrated, health broken, wealth lost, but if the one string is left we can finish on life's remainders.

Many people have done so. Many are still doing so every day. The brave will always face life's troubles in this spirit.

AMERICA IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

By JAMES D. WHITE
(Sustituting for Jack Stinnett, who is ill.)

Washington — A man left for Chungking the other day on a new kind of mission. Upon its success may depend the welfare of every American who goes to China after the war.

He is Milton J. Helmick, judge of the United States Court in Shanghai until Pearl Harbor. The State Department said he will survey the Chinese legal system.

Judge Helmick is a sandy-haired man in his fiftieth who looks vaguely like the late Irvin S. Cobb. He is a quiet, friendly citizen who gets along with the Chinese. He probably knows more about the wide gap which separates Chinese laws from our own legal practice than any other American.

More Americans in China after the war than ever before.

Most missionaries and teachers and businessmen want to go back.

Today, if an American soldier in China accidentally hits a Chinese with his jeep, the matter is settled through his own military authorities. But after the war an American civilian getting into a similar scrape may find himself facing a lawsuit in a Chinese court.

When Judge Helmick was on the bench in Shanghai, Americans in China were subject to the authority of his court, not to those of the Chinese. This was because America, like many other foreign nations, enjoyed "extra-territorial" rights in China which exempted them from Chinese law.

The Chinese always claimed this situation was an infringement upon their sovereignty as a nation, and in 1943 this country and others recognized this claim by signing a treaty with China which abolished the whole extra-territorial system. Thus Americans in China are now subject to Chinese law and will be henceforth.

Now that is all very fine, but there are spots in Chinese law which are unclear or just don't deal with the foreigners in their midst. Some were written before there were foreigners around, and others obviously omitted the position of foreigners because of the hated extra-territorial system.

Thus it's uncertain today whether foreigners technically can own land in China. And foreign firms are supposed to register, and the business laws call for a list of stockholders. If a big American oil company, for instance, wants to register in China, does it have to submit a complete list of all its stockholders at home?

Such gaps in Chinese law can be easily bridged, it's believed, once Judge Helmick and other American experts sit down with the Chinese and talk things over.

Most of the modern codes in the commercial code, and the Chinese already have drafted a new trade law which they hope will serve as the basis for a new commercial treaty with this country.

Wake island's area is one square mile.

For you, as an individual, living costs may be higher than the index shows. But the index is dealing with the country as a whole, not with individuals.

The index is compiled from the reports of BLS field workers. They check food prices in 56 cities and goods and services in 34 large cities. The services include things like shoe shines, haircuts, laundering, dry cleaning and permanent waves.

The index covers prices for all important essentials in the family budget: food, clothing, housefurnishings, rent, utilities, fuel, telephone rates, prices of newspapers, movie admission prices.

But the index does not show the full wartime effect on the cost of living in such factors as lowered quality or disappearance of low priced goods.

Here's an example of how your living costs may be increased but not be fully reflected in the BLS index: You pay more now for what seems the same kind of dress you bought in 1939. But it isn't as good. It wears out much faster. So, instead of having to buy only one such dress a year you have to buy two.

THE WAR TODAY

In short, the consensus of military experts is that Nazi resistance will fold up when the Allies are over the river in force. It's hardly possible, of course that we may see the guerrilla warfare—battles for each city, town and hamlet—which Nazi propagandists have threatened, but that's not likely.

Once we've established a route across the Rhine we shall be able to pour armored forces into the plains leading to Berlin and the heart of Germany. Also we shall have in our hands Hitler's chief industrial areas, the Ruhr and the Saar, which lie close to the Rhine.

We're still waiting for another great event—a Russian offensive against the Vistula line. That would give vast support to the Allied drive in the west.

away inflationary problems from H. H. Kung, who is now in this country.

The new Finance Minister inherits a full-blown economic and financial crisis with an attendant train of vicious speculation, black-marketing and graft. Rising prices and inflated currency have been running ahead of the tons of paper money printed abroad and flown over the Hump in competition with actual war material.

With Kung out of the cabinet the influence of the Soong family may be waning in Chungking. Kung is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek, who also is in the United States. Madame Sun Yat-sen Soong (Ching-Ling), widow of the founder of the Chinese Republic and also a sister of Madame Chiang, remains in the Chinese capital where her good offices might help in obtaining an arrangement with the Communists. T. V. Soong, who carries the title of Foreign Minister and regarded by many as the outstanding financial genius of China, is reported out of favor in Chungking.

Kung's retirement might mean a rise in Soong's fortunes. It has been said often by observers that "China isn't big enough for both T. V. and H. H."

U. S. Ninth airforce pilots flew 1,900 sorties. Thunderbolts and Mustangs shot down 15 Nazi fighters, blew up 46 locomotives, 300 rail cars and 270 motor trucks.

Five hundred medium and light bombers worked ahead of the American Ninth, Third and First armies all day long.

For the first time, A-26 invader bombers flew with Marauders and Havocs on tactical missions. Thirteen fighters and two bombers were lost.

RAF units flew 1,200 sorties against German communications in Holland and northwestern Germany and destroyed two Nazi radio stations, the Air Ministry said.

RAF medium bombers scored direct hits on the Maas river bridge at Venlo, near the Dutch-German border in southeastern Holland.

Disposing of the quartet of measures on this week's legislative program, which will be interrupted by a Thanksgiving day holiday Thursday, would still leave several other major matters unfinished.

Among them is legislation to extend the President's emergency authority given him by the Second War Powers Act.

Still uncertain is the fate of a move by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) to freeze social security payroll taxes at the present level. The administration opposes Vandenberg's plan.

off Ormoc Bay on Nov. 10 as American carrier planes broke up a large scale enemy reinforcement try. Nor did they include Japanese naval personnel lost during the crushing defeat of the Imperial fleet in Philippine waters Oct. 25. Gen. Tokuro Yamashita threw tanks and artillery into his latest effort to break the American bloc thrown across the Ormoc road south to Limon by the U. S. 2nd and 24th divisions, but was repulsed with heavy losses.

Other enemy counterattacks were thrown back west of the Ormoc road and on the island's eastern edge near central Leyte Valley. Nine barges, two coastal vessels and two torpedo boats were sunk by American PT boats and aircraft, and six Japanese aircraft of a force lightly raiding American ground positions were downed by attack.

Torrential rains still stowed all Leyte operations.

Landings in the Asia Islands, 130 miles north of Soerabaja, Java, presumably know out Japanese lookout stations used to spot American bombing flights for northward targets. The Manila islands evidently were taken for this reason.

Allied Armies...

Front line dispatches indicated that a definite German retreat was on to the Rhine and the Saar, the boundaries of the Reich.

The First French army reached the Rhine after racing through the Belfort Gap in an outflanking maneuver which seized all or most of the high ground on its south side.

There was no immediate report as to where the French were now standing watch on the Rhine, but apparently it was near Mulhouse. A previous Supreme headquarters announcement said they had reached Seppois, 16 miles southeast of Belfort and 18 1/2 miles from the Rhine. Front line reports told of a thrust seven miles farther north and the capture of Dannemarie, 12 miles east of Belfort and 10 miles from the Alsatian city of Mulhouse.

Belfort was almost as badly ringed as Metz.

In the bloody battle area east and northeast of Aachen, American and British troops, exerting terrific pressure on a constructed 15-mile wide front scored advances in the Cologne plain.

Troops of the American Ninth and British Second armies pushed a mile northwest and two miles north of fallen Gettenkirchen and were meeting stiffening German opposition.

Just to the south the U. S. First army sent patrols into the southern outskirts of Eschweiler, seven miles northeast of Aachen, and captured the German town of Hamich and Hastenrath. They also advanced beyond Hamich, 25 miles from the ruins of Cologne and took a ridge which the Germans had used to observe American movements.

The drive of the three Allied armies was aimed at the great Rhineland industrial cities of Düsseldorf and Cologne.

Tells Roosevelt Stay Out Of Rain

Albany N. Y., Nov. 20—(AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain wants President Roosevelt to keep out of the rain.

The Rt. Rev. G. Ashton Oldham, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Albany who returned yesterday from an overseas mission, says Churchill gave him this message for the President.

"Tell your President not to go out in the rain. I know what he'd say if I did it."

He said Churchill told him he had seen newspaper photographs of Mr. Roosevelt motoring in the rain. The Bishop, who said he talked with Churchill in the House of Commons after the Prime Minister's return from Russia, also had a private message for the President which he planned to forward.

Nazi Resistance On Italian Front

Rome, Nov. 20—(AP)—German troops recaptured Monte Fortino, five miles southeast of the Bologna-Rimini highway town of Faenza, after bitter fighting with Polish units of the Eighth army. Allied headquarters announced today.

The Poles repulsed two German counterattacks on Converselle and improved their positions adjacent to Monte Fortino.

Eighth army patrols probed enemy positions south of Ravenna on the Adriatic coastal sector and along the Montone River. In the mountains south of Bologna American units of the Fifth army threw back several small scale German counterattacks.

Triple A Election Meetings Tomorrow

Stressing the importance of the AAA community committeemen election meetings to be held in Pitt County on Tuesday night, November 21 at 7:30, J. V. Taylor, chairman of the County AAA Committee, this week defined the work done by committeeemen.

"The farmers elected at these meetings will be responsible for insuring maximum benefits to farmers of their communities from the many programs and activities of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency," he said.

"The work of local body committeeemen includes explaining AAA practices to their neighbors, certifying reports of performance of AAA conservation practices, assisting with storage and loan programs, and working on the many emergency programs assigned to the AAA, including helping with disposal of surplus war property.

Taylor called attention to the places of community election meetings. They are as follows: Ayden A. and B. Town Hall in Ayden.

Free Will Baptists Remember Orphan

Rev. James A. Evans, superintendent of the Free Will Baptist Orphanage at Middlesex, has announced that the annual Thanksgiving service, with an all-day program of activities and dinner on Monday, will be held this year on November 23rd.

Invitations have been extended to friends of the institution throughout the State to spend the day with the children. As in the case of previous years, families are invited to bring baskets for the big dinner, to be spread on the campus.

Under direction of the director of religious work, Rev. L. E. Ballard, a special program, consisting of a play, singing, and worship features will be given by the children at 11 a. m. In the afternoon there will be conducted tours over the new 200-acre farm recently purchased by the home and through the various buildings.

Add leftover sausage meat to pancake batter or mashed potato cakes.

Pitt County Man
The University of Maryland will honor John H. Coward of Ayden, Pitt county auditor and authority on taxation, in a pamphlet to be issued by the College of Agriculture on "Methods of Assessing Farm Property," with special reference to tillable and wood land. Prof. William Paul Walker, of the Department of Agricultural Economics, notified the Pitt county official that his method of assessing had been given special recognition and approval. The pamphlet will be published shortly.
Incidentally, Pitt county's method of taxing farm land has been adopted by a number of states. Coward was president of the Institute of Government at Chapel Hill shortly after it was organized.

Judge Dixon Gets Surprise In Court

By CHESTER WALSH
Judge Richard Dixon of Edenton, always a welcome visitor in Greenville, who came here today to preside over a week's civil term of Superior Court, was surprised when he looked over the court calendar and found that Richard Dixon was being sued for divorce at this term of court. The Chowan county jurist said he presided in Raleigh last week, had been away from home some time and was shocked to find his name on the docket as a "defendant" in a divorce proceeding. Incidentally, the name was that of another Richard Dixon. Judge Dixon likes people, has a keen sense of humor and is philosophic in his outlook on life and received a warm welcome here.

The judge, while discussing the war situation, said the Sixth War Bond Drive, which got under way today, is the most important loan Uncle Sam has asked for since the war started. This War Bond issue should be sold quickly, he said, because the armies in Europe are using 51 per cent more ammunition against the Germans now than they did during June, when the Allied forces invaded France.
"There are many millions of Americans too young or too old to join any of the armed forces, but they have right now a splendid chance to display their patriotism and good business judgment by joining the Treasury Department and using War Bonds for their insignia," he said to Solicitor Dave M. Clark and a group of attorneys, court officials and others today.

Many Divorces On Trial Civil Court

By CHESTER WALSH
Thirty-two suits for divorce were on the calendar for trial at this week's civil term of Superior Court. Nearly all of them are on the grounds of two years' separation and a number of the defendants are in the armed forces. Incidentally, the register of deeds has issued 31

TAKE YOUR FERTILIZER NOW

War Food Administration WARNS...
"NOW OR NEVER FOR 1945"

There's a crisis in the making!
If stocks pile up in fertilizer plants and agents' warehouses, the stream of supply will choke up. They must move fast or the lack of man-power will cause a paralyzing shortage.

Take the Chilean Nitrate situation for example. To supply the quantity needed for 1945 crops, many cargoes must be unloaded each month at each port, then moved out by train and truck for immediate allocation. It must move out of agents' hands as fast as it moves in. If not, the choke-up starts and works back to the ports, even back to the ships.

Already there's a threatened shortage of nitrogen, due to sharply increased war needs. Unless you help smash the bottle-neck by taking your nitrate as soon as it is offered, the shortage will become acute. Thousands of tons will pile up at U.S. ports or on the docks in Chile. The only place Chilean Nitrate does you any good is on your crops. Get yours now... while you can.

Storage Tips
Pile all materials on dry boards in barn or shed.
Pile materials separately.
Keep piles close together.
Destroy the bags when you use the contents.

CRID SEASON NEARING END

List Of Unbeaten Teams Dwindles; Army, Navy, Duke And State Won Saturday.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Nov. 20—(AP)—Army and Navy hibernate this week-end in preparation for their December clash but there's plenty of football with unbeaten Ohio State entertaining Michigan, Notre Dame leading Georgia Tech and Southern California banging into UCLA. That high powered trio of games is listed for Saturday. Thursday's Thanksgiving day menu is almost as attractive with unpredictable Arkansas host to Tulsa, Missouri and Kansas clashing at Kansas City and Charlotte watching South Carolina and Wake Forest.

Navy, making four full teams but with little Hal Hamberg the star, lined up for the transplanted service claim by blanking Purdue 28 to 0 Saturday. Army got a lot of bad football out of its system the same day while crushing Pennsylvania, 63 to 7. Glenn Davis got loose for three Cadet touchdowns.

Out in the midwest, meanwhile, both the Buckeyes and Wolverines had similar success in the last-outings before their big ten title-deciding fray. Ohio State came from behind to subdue the Illinois swiftness, 26 to 12, and Michigan sweat out a 14 to 0 decision over the stubborn Badgers.

Southern California almost insured itself a repeat appearance in the Rose Bowl by crushing California, 32 to 0, and now needs only a win over UCLA to make it official. The latter club romped over A. A. Stagg's college of Pacific, 54 to 7.

Mississippi State may have its hopes for an unbeaten season go down when its star back, Shorty McWilliams, suffered an early injury and the Staters bowed to Alabama, 19 to 0.

Georgia Tech kept in the limelight with a 14 to 6 triumph over Louisiana State while Notre Dame got ready for its Dixie invasion with a 21 to 0 victory over Northwestern at even though bruised Bob Kelly sat on the bench.

BONDHOLDERS GET TICKETS

Army-Navy Game Tickets On Sale To War Bond Purchasers.

Baltimore, Nov. 20—(AP)—Covered tickets to the Army-Navy football game Dec. 2 in Baltimore Municipal Stadium were on sale today to residents of Baltimore and environs only, contingent on their purchase of War Bonds.

The Maryland War Finance Committee, sole handlers of the public sale, announced last night that applications would be accepted by mail and would have to be accompanied by a validated receipt for a War Bond purchased on or after today opening day of the Sixth War Loan Drive.

Just how many seats in the 60,000-plus capacity stadium would be available to civilians had not yet been ascertained.

The sale a committee spokesman said, would be limited to residents of the city and a surrounding 10-mile radius, and would be on a first-come-first served basis.

The committee said it was awaiting word from Naval Academy athletic officials concerning the number of tickets available under the War Bond tie-in plan.

The announcement stated that each prospective buyer must prove he had purchased a $25 to $1,000 Sixth War Loan Bond and added that a limited supply of choice seats awaited purchases of bonds of denominations over $1,000.

Committee Chairman F. W. Wrightson estimated that 75 per cent of the civilian tickets would go to holders of $25 bonds.

The past tickets were priced at $4.80 each with no additional charge for mailing and handling.

The announcement, released after an intermittent 24-hour committee meeting, instructed prospective purchasers to mail their applications to the committee, Postoffice Box WF, Baltimore, 3.

The application receipt must be validated by the Treasury agent issuing the bond, the committee said, adding that the public would be informed promptly when the ticket supply was exhausted.

Meanwhile in Annapolis, Capt. C. O. Humphreys, Navy Athletics Director, announced that the Navy's quota of tickets was "very much oversubscribed" and requested that Navy personnel stop applying.

Payment received for orders which could not be filled will be returned as soon as physically possible, the Navy announcement said.

Prisoner Indicts Police Officers

By CHESTER WALSH
In Police Court today Judge J. W. H. Roberts sent to Superior Court for jury trial the case against Policemen J. F. Moore and R. D. House, charged with refusal to allow Royce Jones, charged with being drunk and a prisoner in the city jail to communicate with an attorney on November 17. Persons charged with being drunk are usually confined until they begin to sober up, police said.

The court found John F. Burgoynie, a serviceman, guilty of assaulting a female and continued judgment on payment of costs. The prosecuting witness, Ada Ayers, cafe employe, testified that he slapped her.

The case against John D. Williams, colored, charged with breaking and entering and assault on a female, was continued until Friday when the prosecuting witness, Annie Lee Teel, colored, suddenly disappeared from the court room. A notice was issued for her.

Drunks: Jasper L. Cannon, $15; Charles McLawhorn, colored, $20; George M. Brown, colored, $20; William F. Parker, $15; Melvin L. Moore, $15; Cleveland Barfield, transferred to Superior Court.

Amos Harris, Roosevelt Robinson, colored, Ulysses Webb, charged with being drunk, continued to Friday.

Chinese Enter Town In Burma

Chungking, Nov. 20—(AP)—Chinese troops are fighting inside the North Burma stronghold of Bhamo, the Chinese high command announced today. It was surrounded several days ago.

The town was penetrated Saturday after an American dive-bombing attack, the Chinese command said.

In bitter fighting the Chinese have wrested one city block from the Japanese defenders of the town which the Allies seek as a station on the projected Ledo-Burma road route to China.

Troops of the Chinese 38th division repelled two heavy Japanese counterattacks yesterday in an effort to break the Chinese encirclement of the city.

Bhamo is the strongest remaining Japanese base in north Burma. It lies 60 miles from the Burma road and 175 northeast of Mandalay.

A central news dispatch today said Chinese troops yesterday recaptured the Burma road town of Mangshih, 62 miles from the Burma border and third important objective of the Salween offensive.

later territorial adjustments at Germany's expense.

In Washington there has been some discussion in diplomatic circles over the possibility that President Roosevelt might issue a formal statement on the Russo-Polish situation shortly. It was expected, however, that such a statement, if made, will simply reaffirm the United States' desire for a free and independent Poland and refrain from any specific commitments.

Not to Intervene
Raleigh, Nov. 20—(AP)—Governor Broughton is not expected to intervene in the scheduled executions Friday of George Brooks, 20, and James W. Buchanan, 19, convicted in Mecklenburg county of raping a white woman after they escaped from a prison gang.

The governor's official decision will be announced tomorrow.

Marine Quint To Play Wednesday

By SGT. BOB SMAGULA
The Greenville Marines, of squadron VMD 354, will take on their second foe Wednesday when a strong Marine basketball team from Atlantic field invades the Greenville armory at 8 p. m. in another class basketball game that is expected to pack the armory court.

Establishing their first beachhead in their opener last Wednesday night before a jam packed armory when they defeated a powerful Smithfield Rotary club, 38 to 35, the Greenville Marines will make every effort to advance upon their second foe in this skirmish.

A grueling battle is expected to take place against this strong Atlantic field basketball team. Atlantic's outfit has a rugged five with a few celebrated stars formerly from Cherry Point's station team of last season.

From all reports, the VMD 354 Marines, playing brilliantly in their last contest, will have to prepare for a more exciting clash against the Atlantic team. The same starting lineup for the Greenville Marines will be as follows: Howard Helerich, Bill Hammond, Clifford Adams, Joe Teufel, and Pete Lukas.

The armory, filled to capacity last week with the throng of spectators for the colorful clash, will again have dancing after the basketball game. The armory doors will open at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited.

Soldiers Killed In Plane Crash

London, Nov. 20—(AP)—Twenty-six American soldiers were killed and four injured in the crash last night of a C-47 skytrain troop carrier enroute from England to France, Air Force headquarters announced today.

The plane was not a hospital ambulance, and it was stated that contrary to earlier reports there were no wounded men or flight nurses aboard.

The Skytrain, a transport type that has carried thousands of men to battle, crashed near an 800-foot peak north of Brighton, in southern England. Six victims were taken to a nearby hospital, where two died and the others remained in serious condition.

"No cause has been fixed for the plane going out of control," Air Force headquarters stated.

Rations Give Out At Ration Office

The Pitt County War Ration Board is rationed on fuel oil like any other consumer, but this morning the supply of fuel oil gave out. The board said it could not be found. The office was so cold it was closed.

When the office reopened there was a rush of business which continued through the afternoon. An elderly woman who likes lots of warmth during the winter, said: "Service is right; now they know how we feel when we run out of oil."
