TO CURTAIL USE OF GAS

Householders Urged To Conserve Use Of Fuel

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Amusement places in the ten eastern and central states were ordered abruptly to turn off all gas jets at 4 p. m. Eastern War Time today if they use natural or mixed gas.

The ban, which does not apply to purely artificial gas, will remain in effect until 4 p. m. Monday or "until further notice," the War Production Board said.

Theaters, moving picture houses, night clubs, bars and other entertainment places in Washington, D. C., were covered by the edict as well as those in the affected parts of the ten states.

The order was accompanied by an appeal to householders, schools and institutions to conserve gas.

Precipitated by prolonged cold weather, the emergency action affects Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky and parts of Maryland and Virginia, Washington, D. C. and New York.

The ban applies to the use of natural or mixed gas for cooking, heating and other purposes and does not apply where strictly artificial gas is used, but forbids the use of artificial gas.

MORE EVIDENCE PRESENTED IN MEADOWS CASE

Witnesses Testify They Signed Blank Receipts For Money They Never Received; Browning Testifies On Facts Upon Which False Pretense Charge Will Be Based

Eight more prosecution witnesses took the stand this morning in the case against Dr. Leon R. Meadows, former president of East Carolina Teachers College, charged with embezzlement of over $18,000 of the college's funds and false pretense in connection with the handling of same.

Testimony offered this morning included that dealing with both charges. Three other state witnesses testified at yesterday afternoon's session.

Examination of E. L. Baker, local hardware dealer, was resumed yesterday afternoon and the witness testified that a check for $122.10 given him by Meadows was to settle an account charged to Kelly Smith for which Dr. Meadows had assumed responsibility before the materials were delivered.

W. H. McHenry, former superintendent of buildings and grounds at the college, testified that frequently college materials and labor were used on Dr. Meadows' personal property and that in return for such services and materials Meadows would issue personal checks to him (McHenry), and that such funds were then used in his department for the benefit of the college.

W. S. Shine, Negro, testified that in 1943 he did some plastering at the college for which he received from Dr. Meadows two payments totaling $52.80. He stated that the first payment was $35, and the second $17.80. On each occasion he received his payments he was required by Dr. Meadows, he said, to sign a receipt for the money.

Alonzo Taylor, appearing as the witness for the defense, testified that in 1943 he did some plastering at the college for which he received from Dr. Meadows two payments totaling $52.80.

Pritchett, a Democrat, represents Caldwell, T. E. Story, a Republican, represents Wilkes. Pritchett said he was requested by a delegation representing approximately 2,000 persons to introduce the bill. Story said that no party fight was involved, but that the measure was not necessary.

After sending up a bill, Pritchett visited him last Saturday night, saying it represented about 2,000 persons residing in Elk, Beaver Creek and Boone townships in Wilkes county, all located in a corner bounded by Caldwell, Alexander and Wilkes counties.

There was no indication of the number of casualties, but the Navy said next of kin had been notified. Commanding officers of both vessels survived. Lt. William E. McGuirk, Pine Meadow, Newport, L. I., N. Y. commanded the Palmer, and Lt. Ben N. Cole, of Charlotte, N. C., the Hovey.

Prisoners Anxious To Settle Score With Japs

By FRED HAMPSON Evacuation Hospital, Luzon, Philippines, Feb. 2.—(AP)—They want their health back. They want to see their folks. Then they want to come back and fight the Japanese.

Those are the prevailing sentiments of the 486 Americans and more than a score of Allied prisoners who were rescued by a picked band of fighting men Tuesday night from a stockade near Cabanatuan.

They have bitter memories of capitulation at Bataan and Corregidor. Many had to undergo the "death march" from Bataan. For nearly three years as prisoners of the Japanese, they subsisted largely on a rice diet.

Yes, many would like to fight again. Their memories goad them. The Japs always liked to slap us and sometimes they'd give us a pretty stiff beating," recalled Pvt. Travis W. Flowers, of Scranton, N. C., an aviation engineer captured on Corregidor.

Another prisoner recalled how the Japanese guards tried to lure the Yanks to the fence with offers of candy and tobacco. Inasmuch as the prisoners were not allowed within a certain distance of the fence, to approach it involved being shot or whipped.

The main Japanese garrison fled the prison area three weeks ago, moving on to northern Luzon. The prisoners were warned they would be shot by passing enemy soldiers if they left the stockade.

Capital Speculates On Man To Head RFC Agency

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The House Banking committee indicated today it will approve, virtually unanimously, the senate-approved bill divorcing federal lending agencies from the Commerce Department.

The committeemen decided tentatively to vote on the bill Monday or Tuesday, without calling either Henry A. Wallace or Jesse Jones as witnesses.

President Roosevelt ousted Jones as secretary of commerce so he could give the post to Wallace, but administration leaders conceded the former vice president's nomination could not be confirmed if he were to have control over the RFC and other fiscal agencies which Jones supervised.

Friends and foes of Wallace predicted privately that the bill of separation would slide through the house with a huge majority.

Big names in and out of government were mentioned today for the big job of running the government's lending agencies.

These were among those talked of for the post which the senate voted overwhelmingly to keep out of the hands of Henry A. Wallace as prospective secretary of commerce.

Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director; Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to London; Marriner S. Ecles, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, and Henry J. Kaiser, shipbuilder who was active in the fight to give Wallace

Manila Trapped By New Yank Invasion

Japs Again Surprised As Americans Begin Advancing On Capital From Two Directions

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ General MacArthur's Headquarters, Luzon, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Manila was in a deadly American trap today.

U. S. Eighth Army invasion troops fashioned a pincer on the Philippines capital Wednesday morning by landing on the Batangas province coast 67 road miles southwest of the city while Sixth Army spearheads drove to within a bare 20 miles on the north.

The Eleventh Airborne division swept ashore from landing craft virtually unopposed along five miles of Batangas beach near Masagay and quickly pressed eastward toward 2,000-foot Tagaytay Ridge, which commands fine highways leading to Manila and the Cavite naval base in Manila Bay, 82 miles away.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today that this third Luzon invasion—the second by the newly-formed Eighth Army in 48 hours—again caught the Japanese by surprise.

"We landed without loss," he announced explaining that the landing "largely seals off the possibility of the enemy troops south of Manila joining those in the north, and definitely outflanks the enemy's defense lines in southern Luzon."

The first wave of Maj. Gen. J. M. Swing's Eleventh division troops hit the shore without firing a shot at 8:30 a. m. and took the town of Nasugbu where happy Filipinos welcomed them with offers of hot coffee, wine and rum.

It wasn't a totally bloodless landing as was Monday's invasion of the Zamboanga coastline to the north. A half hour after the first Yanks were

Germans Report Red Armies Now Closer To Berlin

Nazi High Command Clamps Blackout On News From Eastern Front; Russian Forces Spreading Out; May Drive On Capital From Several Directions.

By JAMES F. KING London, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Russian forces have made one attempt to storm across the Oder in their onslaught toward Berlin, a German broadcast said today, and other Berlin reports indicated Soviet patrols might already have crossed.

The German high command clamped a blackout on news from the sector as one military commentator told of the attempted crossing in the area of Kustrin, 40 miles east of Berlin.

Berlin radio accounts said Marshal Georgy Zhukov had brought up strong forces along the Oder on both sides of Frankfurt and that assaults to reduce the fortress of Kustrin, were underway.

The German communique, however, completely omitted mention of the sector, said the Russians everywhere else except in East Prussia, had been checked after hard fighting and Moscow dispatches said heavy Soviet armor, thick minefields, and a hard shell of German armor along the 90-mile front threatening the German capital.

Declaring the capital could and would be defended Hitler's newspaper said "German armed forces are in a position to build barriers which the enemy, who has crossed the Oder with very small forces only, cannot even threaten."

Heavy fighting raged on a line from the area of Opatow, on the Oder, to the area of Berlin, to Kustrin, in the angle of the Oder and Warthe east and slightly north of Berlin.

The Germans declared they had thrown the Russians out of Kustrin, and that thousands of German men, women and children were being rushed to the east to die a great system of trenches to make Berlin a "bloody disappointment" for the Russians.

Moscow dispatches reported, however, that Zhukov was working to bring up strong forces, was massing his infantry and storm guns close behind his own spearheads and that the storming of the Oder is not too distant a prospect.

Fires raged in the threatened capital from an RAF night bombing, heightening the confusion of the city, and Russian planes rained the roads from Berlin jammed with traffic bound for the front.

Lieut. Thomas Dail Missing In Action

Lieut. Thomas Eugene Dail, navigator in the Army Air Corps, in the South Pacific, was reported missing in action in the New Guinea area on December 23, according to a message to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Titus Dail of Wilmington, formerly of Greenville.

Lieut. Dail was a graduate of the Greenville High School. He was employed at the Edwards Hardware Store before entering the armed forces.

Germany Moving U. S. Prisoners

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Germans are moving American prisoners, on foot, from two camps in the path of the Russian advance to western areas of the Reich.

The American Red Cross said today that information received through the international organization at Geneva reported that 58 Americans were known to have been in camp Stalag V-11-B and Stalag 344 last November and that prisoners from these two camps were being moved west.

Stalag V-11-B was at Teschen on the Polish-Czech frontlines and the other camp at Lansday in Silesia.

Geneva also reported, the Red Cross said, that other camps in eastern Germany are being withdrawn westward, although no details on these movements are available.

Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW Here's an explanation of the national service bill—the one workers in war jobs—which the house passed.

Remember! It's still only a bill. It can't become law until the senate passes it and the President signs it. The senate may take long to act.

The bill's big club is wielded by the local draft boards.

The bill covers men 18 to 45. Draft boards can ask them—and then order them—to change from their present job to a job where the boards say they're needed.

The WAR TODAY

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR. (Substituting for DeWitt MacKenzie)

That old question of "Who won the war?" as recurrent as war itself, is making the rounds again, bidding fair to cause some trouble.

Russia has been publicly critical of the war effort of her western Allies almost from the beginning. She knows that she has killed the most Germans and lost the most men.

Britain knows that, without her 1940-41 stand, Hitler probably would have won the whole show. America knows that without her neither Britain nor Russia could have made the grade.

Makes Record Collecting Taxes

By CHESTER WALSH The City of Greenville collected more than 90 per cent of the 1944 tax levy at the end of January and this is a record, it was stated, at the Board of Aldermen's meeting last night.

City Clerk J. O. Duval was commended for the record.

To conform to the recent government "brown out" order to use less electricity and conserve coal, the street lights will be turned on half an hour later and off half an hour earlier. The light in the courthouse clock will be turned off. Police were ordered to report to the government individuals and firms failing to comply with the order.

The ordinance against throwing trash and paper in the streets and alleys. A request of Police Sgt. Lester Page to attend an FBI school was referred to the Police Committee. Police were instructed to indict motor vehicle owners who do not have city license tags.

He stated that from time to time he borrowed from Dr. Meadows and that when he cashed his college check he would repay him. He denied that Dr. Meadows had paid him for any of the work he performed at the college.

Dr. E. R. Browning, head of the Department of Business Administration at the college and faculty manager of the stationery store, testified that in November, 1942, Dr. Meadows discussed with him the matter of reimbursing him (Meadows) for funds he had advanced for improvements from the profits of the stationery store. He testified that the next day Dr. Meadows furnished him a signed invoice covering the work totaling $1,470.54.

sioners were not asking the annexation, but if the people concerned wanted to join with Caldwell, then they would be welcome.

He pointed out that Caldwell county is in the district of Rep. R. L. Doughton, whereas Wilkes is in the district of Rep. W. O. Burgin.

Story said a public hearing would be held before the house committee on counties, cities and towns here on February 14.

Rep. Powers of Rutherford sent up a bill authorizing the State Board of Health to set up sanitary districts and methods of inspecting private hospitals, sanitariums, sanitariums, and educational institutions.

Senator O'Berry of Wayne introduced a bill to raise the pension of confederate veterans from $365 a year to $864. Only 13 are living.

A joint resolution by Hodges of Buncombe would memorialize congress for a constitutional amendment providing for the ratification of treaties by a majority of the house and senate. A two-thirds vote of the senate now is necessary.

Rep. Lumpkin of Franklin introduced a bill similar to one already before the senate, to continue state contributions to the teachers and state employees retirement fund for individuals who desire to continue working until they reach 65. State contributions now stop when the teacher or employee reaches 60.

Sen. Barnes of Wake introduced a measure to regulate the business of distribution and selling motor vehicles and providing for the licensing of motor vehicles dealers and salesmen.

Supporters of the bill said it was drawn in an effort to protect not only the public, but also the motor vehicle dealers, from what they termed "fly-by-night" dealers, and to put used car dealers on a more equitable basis with dealers in new vehicles.

Similar measures have recently been put into effect in other states. Under the provisions of the bill, all dealers and salesmen of motor vehicles must obtain a license on June 1 of each year.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Mattie Clark

Mrs. Mattie Clark, 64, wife of Sylvester V. Clark of Fleming's Cross Roads, died suddenly at her home Thursday night after having suffered a heart attack.

Funeral services will be held at S. G. Wilkerson and Sons' Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Dr. Robert S. Boyd, Presbyterian minister of Greenville. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Surviving are her husband, two sons, Louis Clark of Washington, and Robert Earl Clark, U. S. Army overseas, and a daughter, Miss Betty Clark of the home, and two grandchildren.

Popular Restaurant Here Changes Hands

The Olde Towne Inn, on Fifth street near Five Points, owned and operated for a long time by J. LeRoy Wheatley of Raleigh, has been sold to Royce Jones and Gentry Galloway of this city. The change was made yesterday. Gentry Galloway will be the general manager.

The Olde Towne Inn is popular over a large area, especially with service men. The restaurant caters to parties, civic clubs and special events. It is air-conditioned. The new management will continue to give the same prompt service and serve the best foods.

Mr. Wheatley will retire entirely from the business. He plans to return to Raleigh shortly after winding up his business affairs here.

 sleepy-eye dgunman shrug-
 shoulders and strolling ov-deaths of her blue eyes.

 "Thanks, stranger!" Her voice was clear and unflinching, with a tantalizing note that re-echoed in the redhead's ears.
 "Guess the engine whistle scared
 'em."
 "Dang their old engines," she returned coolly, slipping off her gloves and delving into a pocket.
 "Hold this, Sir Galahad, while I make myself presentable." A small square mirror came spinning through the air.
 O'Shane caught it and knelt the
 roan closer to the buckboard.
 Aloud he said, "You stuck to that team like glue, Miss—"
 "Thornton, Viola Thornton. My father, Colonel Thornton, runs the Turkey spread." Her cheeks dimpled, "Now-hold that mirror steady, like a nice man."
 As she combed out her disordered blonde tresses, O'Shane's eyes gathered the details of this nonchalant young woman.
 "Who are you riding for?" she inquired, arranging her hat, apparently unconscious of his scrutiny.
 "I'm Tom Curran, of the Double O," he said slowly.
 "Tom Curran!" Her voice was a delightful shriek. "The prodigal returns! Joan's been talking of nothing but you for weeks. You must ride over pronto, that's the expression, isn't it?"
 O'Shane smiled his thanks. "I got to be going, Miss Thornton. Think you can handle 'em?" He nodded towards the two ponies, now standing meekly, heads lowered.
 "You watch me!" she retorted gaily. "Good-bye—Bulldog!"
 The redhead watched the rig bump down the trail. "Very pretty, but why did she call me 'Bulldog'?"

 "Reckon I'll drift into town—a lit-

 Had Wacker discovered the im-

 A fast rising dust cloud ahead drew his eyes. Prebly racing to-into view. As the rig drew nearer, O'Shane glimpsed the girl, fair hair flying, lines wrapped around each hand, feet braced against the foot-board, desperately trying to check the speed of the runaway.

 O'Shane wheeled and gave his roan the steel. Gradually he gain-

 Pressing close, he reached down and grabbed the bit-chain of the near-the terrified team threatened to jerk him from the saddle. Slowly, however, his weight told. The ponies dropped to a canter. In a few min-brought to a halt and stood blowsweating flanks.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE WORD AND SPIRIT

What a marvelous thing it is that year after year and decade after decade people will re-read the old familiar passages of the Bible and find them speaking a fuller message as the years go on. A minister will sometimes take the same text and over a period of years preach on it a number of times; and if his life is growing fuller with the passing of time, his message will be full of the mysteries of God shown forth anew in a variety of forms. The spirit of truth leads us into the way of all truth. If the spirit of truth is brought to bear upon the heart of any people, a passage of Scripture flashes forth with a new message when read in the light of more experience.

The Bible becomes the flaming Word of God only when the Spirit of God interprets its message to the mind and heart of the reader. It may be nothing but a printed page if we read it without the guidance of the Spirit. It is a mistake to believe that people are invariably helped by reading the Bible. They may read it in the spirit of bigotry and hatefulness, in which case they use the Bible to support their evil outlook on life. God has not only given us a great book in the Bible. He has made possible a great spirit in which its message may be read and pondered.

Only when we read it under the power of God's Spirit are we benefited.

AMERICA IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—That cancellation of ration stamps several weeks ago and the return of many foods to the point list still has the Office of Price Administration in hot water up to its ears.

Although a number of consumer organizations have applauded OPA Director Bowles' for his action, the complaints have been so numerous to members of Congress and OPA itself, that Bowles still is explaining.

Most irate are those families who had been nursing their ration stamps for some special occasion. But more troublesome to OPA are those housewives who are asking: "What assurance have we that these cancellations won't be repeated?" Thousands are rushing to use up their stamps in order not to be caught again.

This results in a "run" on rationed goods that almost offsets much of the good accomplished. When the rumor spread through the nation that shoe stamps were earmarked for cancellation also, OPA had to issue denial after denial to stop the buying of unnecessary footwear.

The answer to that question, "What assurance, etc.?" is that there is very little assurance. The orders of OPA must depend entirely on conditions, but those conditions are easily explained.

In the first place there are only two ways to take up slack when rationed foods become scarce: First, to raise the points on those foods; second, to cancel unspent stamps.

OPA didn't make its drastic move without knowing what it was doing. The Census Bureau had been called upon for a nationwide report on ration stamp conditions as soon as it was seen that some meats, sugar and processed foods were going to be shorter in 1945 than had been expected. The report from Census was enlightening. It was found that blue stamps outstanding were equal to a 2.8 months supply of processed foods and that red stamps unspent equaled a 2.5 months supply of butter, meats and cheeses.

It was found also that these surplus stamps rested with four types of families: (1) Those raising and canning or quick-freezing a portion of their food requirements, including a lot of patriotic victory gardeners; (2) Patriots who felt they helped the war effort by avoiding purchase of shoes and foodstuffs; (3) Thousands of families whose way of living made it necessary for them to eat in restaurants, including millions of war workers; (4) Families who were hoarding for special occasions or buying sprees.

The alternative to cancelling all these outstanding stamps was to raise points so high on short products that they would be absorbed. The result: Millions of families who needed every one of their stamps to keep a balanced diet would be reduced to new expedients to maintain family health.

Although Bowles and other OPA officials knew they were walking into a trap of criticism, the decision wasn't hard to make. The chances are there won't be any more cancellations of stamps for another year. There probably will be some changes in points as rationed foods exceed or drop below production estimates.

OPA is convinced that the clamor of complaint will die down as people become aware of the reasons for the order and realize that the tables of America are groaning just about as much as ever.

Prisoners Anxious ...

came the main artery for movement of Japanese soldiers from the Manila area. So the prison constantly was remanned.

The 407 picked Rangers and guerrillas who stole 25 miles behind Japanese lines to stage the rescue—every man has been decorated by General Douglas MacArthur for heroism—killed at least 75 Japanese in the stockade.

At the evacuation hospital, the prisoners were handed cigars. Immediately many emptied the butts of cigars from the pockets of ragged trousers. "No more saving butts, men," a freed man shouted gleefully. "Throw 'em away. Throw 'em away."

The only time the men ever ate anything like their fill at the stockade was after the Japanese main garrison fled and the prisoners broke into the food stores left behind.

Until then, each day meant a little rice and virtually no meat. "When the Japs butchered a carabao, they'd throw us the head," said Pvt. Alfred Jolly, San Francisco.

"Sometimes they'd give us the bones for soup. That was about all the meat we got." "It seems to me that for months at a time, we thought and dreamed only of enough to eat," recalled Sergeant Goodbia. "Maybe that doesn't sound very noble but, believe me, when you don't get it, food can be damned near everything."

Valuable Program Starts In County

Mrs. Virginia S. Swain, family life specialist of the State College Extension Service, will work with the people of this county on a family life program in 1945. A similar program will be carried on in only five counties in the state this year.

The program in Pitt county had its beginning at a meeting of the leaders of the Bethel community organizations were present. They were: Rotary Club, John P. Hooker; Home Demonstration Club, Mesdames W. R. Bullock and C. G. Garrenton; Baptist Church, Rev. L. D. Holt, Mesdames L. D. Holt, Alton Carson, W. O. Grimes and E. O. Burroughs; Methodist Church, Rev. W. M. Howard, Jr., Mesdames W. M. Howard, Jr., C. M. Burton and J. L. Gurganus; P. T. A., Mesdames R. L. Goodall, David T. House, Jr., and Dennis Hardee; Holiness Church, Rev. J. Floyd Williams and School Principal Walter Latham, Boy Scouts, Rev. L. D. Holt and W. M. Howard, Jr.; Girl Scouts, Miss Lois Stator. These people will form a council to promote the program. Mrs. Virginia S. Swain, extension family life specialist, Verona Lee Joyner, home demonstration agent, and F. F. Hendrix, farm agent, were also present.

The group was enthusiastic about the program. It offers an opportunity to all organizations to unify their efforts in establishing a community recreational program to fit the needs of the community. It seemed that every organization is doing something in their year's program for the teen-age group. Mrs. D. T. House, Jr., was appointed to make plans and arrangements for a recreation training school which will be the second meeting of the group. The council at the first meeting recommended that the following steps be taken:

1. That community recreation center be established.
2. That families in the Bethel community be encouraged to have more planned recreation within the family and home.
3. That committee be appointed to work with the manager of the theater in the selection of pictures suitable for young people.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 2—(AP)—Large-scale buying shifted to selected rails, motors, rubbers and other industrials as today's stock market and many favorites were pushed to peaks for the year or longer.

Gains of fractions to 3 or more points were trimmed in the majority of cases near the close. Transfers of around 1,000,000 shares were the best in about two weeks.

Movie Extras Strike Hollywood, Feb. 2—(AP)—More than 3,000 extras, members of the Screen Players Union, were called off their jobs from all major studios today as the climax of a jurisdictional dispute.

SPU business representative Michael Jeffers said studios would be picketed in protest of what he termed "the producers' flagrant violation of the federal law and repudiation of the union's certification by the National Labor Relations Board as the bargaining agent for extras."

cial gas when it is mixed with natural gas.

Presumably all amusement places in the affected area which draw on natural gas in any way will have to close, unless their patrons are willing to shiver and eat cold food.

A number of big cities in the affected area, New York City for example, use only artificial gas and thus do not come under the ban.

Other developments in the fuel shortage which has enveloped much of the country as a result of severe weather, transportation and manpower difficulties included these:

1. An embargo on civilian freight, except for coal, was ordered for four days beginning tomorrow in eight states in the north and east.
2. Ohio's Gov. Frank J. Lausche ordered all state offices closed for three days starting tomorrow. He also asked all Ohio schools to close Monday.
3. The solid fuels administration asked all Pennsylvania anthracite miners to work a full day tomorrow. Miners in the Appalachian area have agreed to work Sunday.
4. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey ordered all New York State buildings in Albany closed for the week-end and asked presidents throughout the state to conserve fuel.
5. A Detroit gas firm announced it was reducing gas deliveries to more than 100 of its largest industrial customers at the request of WPB.

Civilian Cars Dwindling Fast

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—Three years of record-breaking production will be required to fill the pent-up public demand for new automobiles, government officials estimated today.

Post-war demand for 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 cars is considered likely.

The estimate came from the Office of War Information after consultation with various government agencies, including the Office of Defense Transportation and the War Production Board.

No new cars will be produced this year barring unexpected war developments.

Describing the immediate future of civilian passenger car transportation as "grim," OWI predicted that gasoline and tire supplies would remain "critically short," with a serious shortage of lead necessitating greater conservation of batteries.

About 4,000 cars daily—nearly 1,500,000 annually—are leaving the highways due to such factors as scarcity of tires, replacement parts and mechanical deterioration, ODT reported.

ODT called the number of private passenger cars in the hands of essential drivers as "getting dangerously low" with the number of these cars estimated at 24,400,000 on Jan. 1, compared with 25,900,000 on Jan. 1, 1944.

File For Air Service

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 2—(AP)—National Airlines, Inc., has filed application with the Civil Aeronautics Board to provide mail, passenger and cargo service to Rocky Mount, N. C.

Given CAB permission the airline would add Rocky Mount to its intermediate stops at Savannah, Charleston, Wilmington, Norfolk and Philadelphia on its extension now operating between Jacksonville and New York.

SENATE GETS SERVICE BILL

Hard Sledding For Measure Before Final Passage

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—The Senate Military Committee voted today to centralize coercive manpower controls under War Mobilizer Byrnes but delayed until tomorrow a final vote on its adoption of limited national service legislation.

The House, in passing its bill yesterday to keep men 18 to 45 in essential jobs or force them to take such jobs under penalty of induction, fine or imprisonment, provided that the controls should be administered by local draft boards.

The Senate Committee, however, adopted a series of amendments which Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) said would have the general effect of giving Byrnes' office overall control.

The House passed its bill, 246 to 165.

Even before the Senate Committee met, there had been indications of a movement to centralize authority.

House Military Committee members who wrote the measure and fended off all attempts to change it during four days of floor debate, mentioned this. They said they understood the War and Navy departments and the WMC were backing the drive.

Such a move, said Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House Military Committee will be resisted when the bill goes to conference to compose any differences between the two branches of Congress.

The House specifically and emphatically refused to give the WMC broad authority over the job movements of men.

It also rejected, but only by a ten-vote margin, a proposal to substitute a voluntary manpower recruitment plan for the coercive features of the May measure.

As it left the House, bereft of that controversial "anti-closed shop" and "anti-discrimination" amendments so bitterly contested, the bill represented a triumph for the Democratic leadership.

Graham Appeals For Education

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, pleaded today for equalization of educational opportunity with particular reference to the problems of southern states.

Testifying before the Senate Education committee which is considering a bill providing for federal financial aid to the states for public education, Dr. Graham said:

"The southern people constitute 28 per cent of the population, receive 8 per cent of the national income, and yet educate 32 per cent of the nation's children. According to their economic ability, they are putting more into the public schools than any other section of the nation."

"If we can have federal aid to build highways, surely we can have it for something far more precious—education."

Berlin Hit Twice

By RAF Bombers

London, Feb. 2—(AP)—Berlin was bombed twice before dawn today after RAF night attacks in which the major rail centers of Mainz, Ludwigshafen and Siegen were attacked heavily to disrupt German movements from the Western to Eastern front.

Thick weather over parts of the Reich slowed the aerial attacks. In the last day and a half, 3,200 planes have hammered the overburdened German rail system. A dozen bombers and four fighters were lost.

Ludwigshafen and Mainz are on the Rhine; Siegen is 47 miles southeast of Cologne.

The U. S. Ninth air force attacked a Rhine bridge near Coblenz and another over the Moselle 27 miles to the southwest. Six barges on the Rhine were destroyed.

British rocket planes struck railroads in the DuIman, Coesfeld and Bergstein triangle north of the Ruhr.

Phantoms Meet Kinston Tonight

By JIMMY FUTRELL
Coach Clark's GHS cage five meets the Kinston Red Devils tonight in the local high gymnasium at 8 o'clock. At 7 o'clock the Phantom Junior Varsity will play the Kinston Juniors in a preliminary. A dance will follow the game with music furnished by the Camp Lejeune orchestra. The entire proceeds will be turned over to the March of Dimes fund.

The G-Men trying to maintain their record of not losing to a Class B team in two seasons of play, take to the hardwood tonight with eagerness to inflict a second loss upon Kinston this year. The Phantoms previously defeated the Red Devils 47-39 in a rather slow contest in Kinston.

The Greensies, realizing that Kinston has a scrapping team, have practiced in earnest this week in preparation for tonight's game. The same outfit which defeated the Marines 41-37 Tuesday night will probably be Coach Clark's choice for the starting assignment against the Red Devils.

Julian White, Amos Leggett, Dennis Fleming, Jack Whichard and Lawrence Posey are slated to see much action as capable reserves.

Most of the scoring was done from far out from the basket. Beautiful one-handed shots by James Parker netted the Pirates 19 points while left hooks by Mundy netted the Marines 16 points.

During the first half the Air Riders showed a slight superiority on the scoring end with the half-time score of 23-21. The third quarter saw the Marines add eight points before the Pirates made a basket. Then the Pirates steadily gained on the Marines. Early in the fourth quarter the score saw-sawed until James Parker made a snowbird which broke the ice, giving the Pirates a two-point advantage. Jesse Parker added two more points before the game ended for ECTC to make the score 49-45.

Whoever President Roosevelt names will have to be confirmed by the senate.

Into cold storage until March 1 went Wallace's nomination for secretary of commerce while the senate sent to the house by a 74 to 12 vote a bill to clip from the department authority over the government's lending agencies.

Critical Stage . . .

the Russians had been thrown out of Kustrin, 40 miles from Berlin, they referred to this as the "first attack" and indicated that strong Soviet forces might have been brought up for a full scale assault.

The Russians now were inside Germany in Silesia, Brandenburg and Pomerania on a 375-mile front. But it was the Germans who told of the closest approach to Berlin.

Manila Trapped . . .

ashore, Japanese in caves to the north brought machinegun and 77 mm fire to bear on the landing beach. This was quickly silenced by naval gunfire and mobile artillery.

Lt. Gen. Robert Eichelberger, the Eighth Army commander, originally planned the Batangas foray as a reconnaissance move, planning to pull out if the opposition proved great. Three hours later, he changed it to a full-scale invasion.

Nasugbu is on a good road 21 miles west of Tagaytay Ridge, from which an excellent highway leads to the Cavite naval base and Manila itself.

The invasion, fashioning the jaws of a trap north and south of Manila, came as the fast-rolling American Sixth Army spearhead—still unchecked—reached the Angay River 25 road miles north of the Capital city.

Patrols were reported operating freely in advance and could well be on the approaches to Malolos, 20 miles from Manila.

Eighth Army troops which landed just north of Subic Bay on Monday were moving eastward from the captured Olongapo naval base against light resistance.

way from hedgehog strongholds that would be geographically and, in part, industrially self-sufficient.

For such a last-ditch stand the Germans have been reported establishing an elaborate resistance center covering 10,000 square miles in mountainous parts of Bavaria and Austria. It would be difficult to storm and would offer few good targets for bombing operations.

Inside this line, it was reported, is an even more elaborate stronghold covering more than 100 square miles and centered on Berchtesgaden, Hitler hilltop retreat.

This information and other facts which cannot now be revealed will, it was understood, lead Churchill to ask that plans for the future of Germany be coordinated and made ready for immediate application when the occasion arises.
