Die-Hard Nazis Still Fighting

Offering Bitter Resistance In Czechoslovakia; Scores Of Fires Set By Saboteurs In Berlin; Germans In Norway Await Return To Homeland

London, May 12—(AP)—Soviet armored forces slashed today at Nazi troops offering bitter resistance in Czechoslovakia as they attempted to flee westward through a rapidly narrowing corridor toward the American lines.

Other Russian troops had forced the surrender of the major portion of die-hard enemy units in Northern Austria, and had effected three new junctures with the Americans in the holdout area.

Inside Berlin the Russians were meeting the same kind of futile but savage resistance. Scores of fires were being set nightly in the shattered capital, as Soviet soldiers exorcised the bodies of hundreds of civilians from subway-flooded in last-act Nazi terrorism.

In Norway, where approximately 400,000 Nazi troops, the entire German occupation forces, were reported completing their withdrawal and awaiting return to Germany, Vidkun Quisling's police chief and police minister were reported to have killed themselves rather than face capture by patriots. Quisling remained in his Oslo cell.

Gen. Nicholas von Falkenhorst, who had commanded Nazi forces in Norway until last December, told his American Seventh Army captors that his Fatherland had fought "the most insane war in history."

The Soviet, high command announced that the Russians had seized 500,000 prisoners along the former Eastern Front Wednesday through Friday, including 45 German generals.

Linkup with the Americans in Czechoslovakia was accomplished by Marshal Ivan S. Smolenski's First Ukrainian Army near Rokycany, nine miles east of Pilsen, and by Marshal Roden Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army below Prague in the area northwest of Ceske Budejovice.

Malinovsky's troops occupied Gemund and Zvettl in Austria near the Austro-Bohemian frontier 45 miles northeast of Linz, and in this same area made the third juncture with the Americans.

Malinovsky forced the major part of Col. Gen. Woehler's German army group to surrender in Northern Austria. This group was fighting (Continued on page three)

Himmler

New York, May 12—(AP)—CBS reported from Paris today that Heinrich Himmler "is now reported to be in our hands." "Himmler is understood to have been held by Admiral Doenitz in the Flensburg area under house arrest, and Doenitz is believed to have turned him over to British forces in that area," the broadcast said.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

The reformation of Germany presents vast and unprecedented problems for Allied solution, and the greatest of these is how best to re-educate the people of the Reich so as to eliminate the curse of Nazism and Prussianism.

Hilferding moulded the thought of the nation by intensive education along his evil lines. There is no cure, except more education along the right lines.

The first task will be to determine what are the right lines, and that won't be easy because there's no exact precedent for guidance. The job of re-education will take years, and the Allies can't afford to make serious mistakes. The wrong approach would be adding to the damage already done by the war-mongering dictator.

So where do we begin? The other night I spoke on foreign affairs at a dinner, and during a question period afterward a university president raised the point of what type of education should be promoted in Germany in order to achieve peace. We quickly found we agreed that the educational program should be such as would give the Germans the greatest degree of acquaintance with the peoples of other nations.

And what would be the medium of this education? Well, the most important would seem to be the every-day news of all categories, told in straightforward manner through press and radio. Short of travel, that's the easiest way to become acquainted with other peoples. And by news one means a humanized report that includes those garden-fence chats which are so essential to neighborly understanding.

REDUCTION IN SUGAR LOOMS

Officials Predict Smaller Supply Next Quarter

By HAROLD FLEIGER Washington, May 12—(AP)—Increasingly tighter sugar rationing, cutting industrial users to 50 per cent of their pre-war supply, appeared in prospect for mid-year today.

Sugar allotments to householders for home canning will be reduced too—and it will be a lot harder to get them from local rationing boards.

OPA officials, testifying yesterday before the House Food Investigating Committee, said the deep retrenchments are necessary because of a growing sugar shortage, augmented in part by a 700,000-ton-over-issuance of sugar to civilians in 1944.

Industrial users of sugar—soft drink bottlers, candy makers, bakers, etc.—now receive an average of 70 per cent of the amount they used in 1941. But OPA General Counsel Richard H. Fields gave the committee a statement from Max McCullough, rationing administrator, which said:

"It appears that it will be necessary during the last half of the year to reduce the allotments of most industrial users to a level of 45 or 50 per cent of their 1941 use."

That would mean a 20 or 25 per cent cut below present allotments—allotments which industry witnesses said yesterday may force some manufacturers to close down.

The OPA witnesses conceded that the agency made home-canning rations too simple last year. As a result householders drew out 300,000 more tons of sugar for that purpose than local boards were supposed to issue.

"It'll be tougher this year. The total home-canning allotment has been frozen at 600,000 tons—against more than 1,000,000 used last year. Quotas will be fixed above which local boards cannot go."

Applicants for canning sugar will have to list for the board the types (Continued on page four)

Austria Plans To Suppress Nazism

(By The Associated Press) The Soviet-sponsored provisional government of Austria has passed a law suppressing the Nazi party and providing death sentences for its present members. Tsai said today.

The Tsai dispatch, broadcast by the Moscow radio to the Russian domestic press and reported by the FCC, said that under the law all the Nazi party's property in Austria "is to pass into the hands of the Austrian republic."

The law demands the personal registration of Nazis who belonged to the party from July 1, 1933, to April 27, 1945, the dispatch said.

PLAN AGAINST RISING PRICES

Low Priced Goods And Fair Wages To Block Inflation

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH Washington, May 12—(AP)—The OPA was on record today with the view that a flood of consumer goods is the best weapon against disastrous inflation in the reconversion period.

Record production at low prices and high wages will do more than anything else to "smother the fires of inflation," Price Administrator Chester Bowles told a news conference yesterday.

OPA will see to it, he said, that prices of most commodities returning to the market are kept at 1942 levels.

Bowles added, however, that OPA will not hesitate to approve higher prices for manufacturers who can qualify under the agency's standards set up for reconversion.

These increases will be "minimized" at retail whenever OPA finds they can be absorbed in whole or part by merchants, Bowles stated.

In pledging price increases for eligible manufacturers, Bowles said OPA has an obligation to consider higher wage and raw material costs. He predicted that these will be offset to some extent by lower production costs resulting from wartime experience.

Bowles set up these objectives for OPA in the reconversion period. Prevention of inflation, promotion of full production and employment, and the elimination of price and rent ceilings as soon as the danger (Continued on Page Four)

New Blows Against North Jap Islands

11th Airforce Headquarters, Alcatraz, May 10—(Delayed)—(AP)—Liberators peppered Japanese shipping Thursday at Kataoka naval base on Shumushu Jima, 30 miles south of Russian Kamohaka with 250-pound general purpose bombs, headquarters reported. Results were unobserved.

The bombing was made from high altitude by instruments through a heavy overcast.

Anti-aircraft was meager and ineffective.

The presence of Japanese shipping in Kataoka indicated the enemy may be reinforcing the northern Kurile bases since Russia's denunciation of the neutrality pact with Japan early last month.

More American bombs were dropped on the Japanese staging area at Kashiwabara on northern Parashiro.

Results were unobserved due to the overcast.

Chinese Score New Successes

Chungking, May 12—(AP)—The Chinese high command said tonight that Chinese troops, scoring fresh successes on the Hunan Province front, had recaptured Tungchow and occupied Taohwaping.

In recent fighting Chinese troops on the Hunan front have smashed a Japanese drive westward toward the American air base at Chihkiang, 250 miles southeast of Chungking.

Tungchow is 70 miles east of the air base on the main highway to Chihkiang. Taohwaping, on the same highway, is less than 25 miles west of Paoching, the major base for the Japanese drive.

U.S. Delegation Breaks Deadlock On Security

Compromise Would Permit Small Nations To Aid Each Other Pending Action Of Council

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER (AP Diplomatic News Editor)

San Francisco, May 12—(AP)—The United States delegation was reported today to have broken its week-old deadlock over how to fit regional security systems into a world peace organization.

The solution, although tentative, is seen here as another long step in speeding the United Nations Security Conference toward a successful conclusion.

It is based on recognizing in a United Nations charter the right of all countries to make treaties for their own defense.

Under such treaties nations could give each other emergency assistance against an aggressor but then the projected World Security Council would be empowered to take control of the situation.

Officials said this plan should allay the fears of small nations that the council might not give them quick enough protection in an emergency. And, they felt it would not weaken the overall authority of the world agency to handle situations endangering peace.

Secretary of State Stettinius discussed the compromise American plan with Foreign Secretary Eden last night in an effort to begin outlining a big-power agreement along the same line. Stettinius reports today that a delegation meeting at which final U. S. accord on the formula is slated.

The Eden-Stettinius talk also is understood to have covered a general review of conference work to date and problems ahead preliminary to Eden's imminent departure for London.

One of the still unsolved problems is that of providing international supervision for trusteeship governments of lands taken from enemy countries in the two world wars, Britain and the United States are

TRAINING FOR JOBS Babson Talks To School Committees

Babson Park, Mass., May 11—We shall be passing up vast opportunities for national advancement if we now fail to capitalize our recent lessons on how to educate. I mean the lessons which have been taught to us by the new techniques of training men and women for war.

Public Schools Vs. Military Training It is true that civilian education is aimed at peaceful objectives. As commonly practiced, the most popular courses are the so-called "outside activities," although most of them are non-educational. I refer to jitter-bugging, juke-boxing and those gayer pastimes which may not be immoral, but surely are a facsimile thereof. In military training, the purpose is "How to win and come back alive." Nevertheless, the two educations (civilian and military) can be alike in attitude, even if unlike in subject matter.

The famed super-speed and ultra-efficiency of military training are not to be explained by mere mechanical methods alone. Stroboscopic or slow-motion pictures, models in miniature, high-pressure coaching, pocket-size texts, these modern boosters are worthy of attention by every school committee. The inner difference, however, which puts army and navy training long miles ahead of our horse-drawn public schools—is the superior build-up of educational attitude.

Raising the Mental Age In the schooling of the armed forces, both trainers and trainees are consciously dealing in life or death. However, immature in years, the servicemen are quick to feel the adult attitude of those who learn their lessons "under live ammunition."

When we extend the range of education to cover maturity, we automatically increase the power of education and tap its unexplored and undreamed possibilities. The surest way to raise the standard of living and true security is to raise the average "mental age" of the population. Hence, another way to raise this average mental age is to encourage adult education. This requires supplementing our present public school system with new adult educational systems.

School System Needs Reformation Our school system in its juvenile branches offers alluring possibilities of reformation. Speaking brutally, but realistically, most of today's schools—under the joint influence of headmastered politicians, soft-headed sentimentalists and emphyseated parents—are a mess. That the school certificates of graduates are traditionally engrossed on the skin of the sheep seems grimly fitting when we look up the I. Q. of this self-regimented animal.

Yet, unfortunate is the fate of those of us who seek to reform the schools. The prospective controversy, resistance, obstruction and reaction are shocking to behold. The possibilities of reform are alluring, but the path of reform is appalling. It may be better to leave the school men to stew in their own juice for a while longer and turn attention to development of adult education. (Continued on page two)

Bitter Battle On Okinawa; New Landing On Mindanao

Jap Garrisons On Second Largest Of Philippine Islands Isolated By New Landing; Japs Also Fight Desperately To Halt Australian Drive On Borneo

By FRED HAMPSON Manila, May 12—(AP)—Japanese garrisons throughout Mindanao were isolated from each other and cut off from outside aid, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today, as a result of a new American landing on that island, second largest in the Philippines.

Battle-seasoned Yanks of the 40th division swarmed ashore unopposed Thursday at Macajalar Bay, on the island's north coast, to surprise and checkmate the enemy's garrison in Bukidnon province, in the interior. Rear Adm. A. D. Struble commanded the amphibious force.

The Bukidnon Japanese had been backing northward, trying to get away from the Yank 31st division, coming at them from the south. The 40th division operation constituted a landing in the rear of this enemy unit. MacArthur said it left the enemy "incapable of serious opposition."

The Japanese at Davao continued fierce resistance. Nevertheless the Yank 24th division gained against them.

Besieged Japanese on Tarakan, Borneo, also fought with tigerish fury and prevented Australian and Dutch assault units from capturing Djoetao oil field, in the central part of the island. However, the "diggers" moved two miles south to within 1 1/2 miles of the southern tip.

In the central part of Luzon island, Philippines, a guerrilla force won high ground 3,500 yards north of Ipo dam, an important unit of Manila's water system which never has been relinquished by the Japanese. The U. S. 43rd division was closing in slowly from two directions on the entrenched enemy there.

The chessboard aspect of the Mindanao campaign was brought out by the disclosure of heretofore unmentioned activities of guerrilla forces.

An army spokesman said Col. Wendell Fertig's forces landed a fortnight ago at Butuan bay in the first amphibious guerrilla operation covered by American naval guns. Butuan is about 60 miles east and north of Macajalar.

Still farther northeastward another guerrilla force has been harassing Japanese in the extreme northern arm of Mindanao, MacArthur disclosed.

In the extreme southern part of the island enemy forces are caught in a pocket in the Sarangani area.

BEGIN SHIFT TO PACIFIC

Veterans Of Both Africa And Europe Not Included

By ROBERT EUNSON

Paris, May 12—(AP)—The U. S. Army's vast redeployment plan to shift fighting men from Europe to the Pacific began operation today, following an announcement by Gen. Eisenhower that combat troops were served both in North Africa and Europe would not have to fight in the Japanese theater.

"We must be sure," Gen. Eisenhower wrote to generals of his command, "that no soldier is sent to the Pacific who has fought in both North Africa and Europe."

It may be that some soldiers in this category will not have sufficient points to be eligible for discharge. However, these men should be retained in the European theater for occupation, as they should not be required to fight another campaign. (Continued on Page Two)

Have Lock Leads

New York, May 12—(AP)—Have Lock in Craven county, N. C., holds the South Atlantic per capita record for clothing collected for overseas relief on the basis of reports compiled today by the United National Clothing Collection, headed by Henry J. Kaiser.

Headquarters said the village of 100 had contributed 1,065 pounds, or an average of 10.6 pounds per person. Mrs. Wilbur A. Hooker is local chairman.

Many Veterans Are Discharged

Washington, May 12—(AP)—The Army handed discharge papers today to approximately 2,500 veteran troops—the first batch of men released to go home under the new point rating plan.

They were all mustered out at rest camps in this country, being among the veterans of fighting on all fronts who had been brought back for recuperation. An estimated 216,000 such men are eligible for release.

The War Department said all 2,500 had high point scores for length of service, overseas duty, combat and parenthood. A minimum of 85 points is necessary for discharge and the Army expects to release 1,300,000 soldiers on this basis within a year.

Yanks Slowly Hammer Their Way Toward Naha In All-Out Fighting For Possession Of Ryukyu; Suicide Jap Pilots Damage American Ships

By AL DOPKING Guam, May 12—(AP)—Four attacking American divisions and bitterly resisting Japanese were locked in close quarter combat today about the entire Okinawa Island front where both sides frequently charged with fixed bayonets.

Perhaps 80,000 to 100,000 Japanese and Americans were involved in fighting over ridges and ravines along the four-mile battleline.

Flame throwers, tanks and blasting gasoline seared interlocking cave defenses as the first Yank two-corps offensive hammered to within a mile of the two major objectives—Shuri, a medieval type fortress in the center, and Naha, shattered west coast port and capital of the southern Ryukyus.

"You won't see spectacular advances, because this isn't that kind of fighting," said Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., as his Tenth Army opened its greatest assault yesterday while Japanese suicide planes attacked shipping offshore. "But you will see many Japs killed and you will see them gradually rolled back."

And that is the way it was. Associated Press Correspondent Vera Haugland reported from the front-bitter fighting all across the island. Naval, land and aerial artillery supported the attack by the First and Sixth Marine divisions and the Army's 77th and 98th infantry divisions.

Testifying to the toughness of the naval campaign, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced the first major naval successes were 1,200 tons of Japanese supplies, the first since the campaign, March 18 through Wednesday, were 4,853—4,829 officers and men killed, 3,486 wounded and 2,072 missing.

After hurling back infiltration attacks during the night, Buckner loosed the greatest offensive of the 41-day campaign to crack the main Japanese defense of the vital (Continued on Page Four)

Report Capture Of Gen. Dietrich

New York, May 12—(AP)—A British broadcast heard by CBS today said U. S. Third Army troops near Linz "have captured the notorious commander of the Sixth SS Panzer army, Gen. Sepp Dietrich."

Front reports to Moscow in April said Dietrich had been assassinated during the battle for Vienna.

Joseph Darnaud, former chief of the Vichy military, was captured in Northern Italy with 200 former militiamen, a British broadcast recorded by the OWI said. The Paris radio said he was taken May 6.

Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW

San Francisco, May 12—(AP)—The Old League of Nations almost certainly will meet in full session within the next few months at Geneva to put itself out of business or to continue for another year or more.

This was learned here—from officials of the old league—were the United Nations now are busy creating a new league. And thereby hangs one of the strangest possibilities in a generation.

The old league never made any provisions for setting rid of itself. It acted from the beginning as if it were here to stay.

The chances are though, that the old league members—there are 44 of them—will vote to continue that organization for another year, or more.

The new league being worked out here will need full ratification by the various United Nations government before it can start to operate. This may take more than a year to do.

2. Meanwhile, the old league has many duties—such as concern with treaties, mandates, drug control—which it has been exercising throughout the war.

3. These cannot easily be abolished or transferred to the new league until the new league is ready to take them over.

So, the new league members probably will vote to:

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WORDS THAT HURT

Dr. Samuel Zwemer, for many years missionary among the Moslems, tells of how one day he found an old Moslem marking up a copy of the New Testament. When asked what he was doing he replied, "I am marking the places where I find teachings of Jesus that are observed by His followers."

It might have been better, of course, if he had taken a copy of the Koran and marked the passages which he and his fellow Moslems failed to keep. But at any rate, his action showed that many non-Christians believe that Christians are pretty lax in their observance of their Master's teachings.

If we were to take a copy of the New Testament and go through it marking passages which we either do not keep or find hard to keep, we should have the Book pretty well disfigured before we were through.

"Judge not that ye be not judged. Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you."

— Enter ye in by the narrow gate. — Give and it shall be given unto you. — Pray without ceasing. — Fear not. — Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness.

These are but samples of solemn injunctions with which the Bible is replete. Too often the Bible gathers dust on the living room table, or rots year after year on a remote book shelf. God means us to take the Bible into our hands and to go through it often with a pencil marking out the words that hurt.

AMERICA IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

(Second of Two Articles) Washington—In spite of the pressure of momentous decisions concerning the war and the peace, President Truman is very busy forming his own "inner circle" of many of whom will become "big names" before the voters are faced with a choice of continuation of administration.

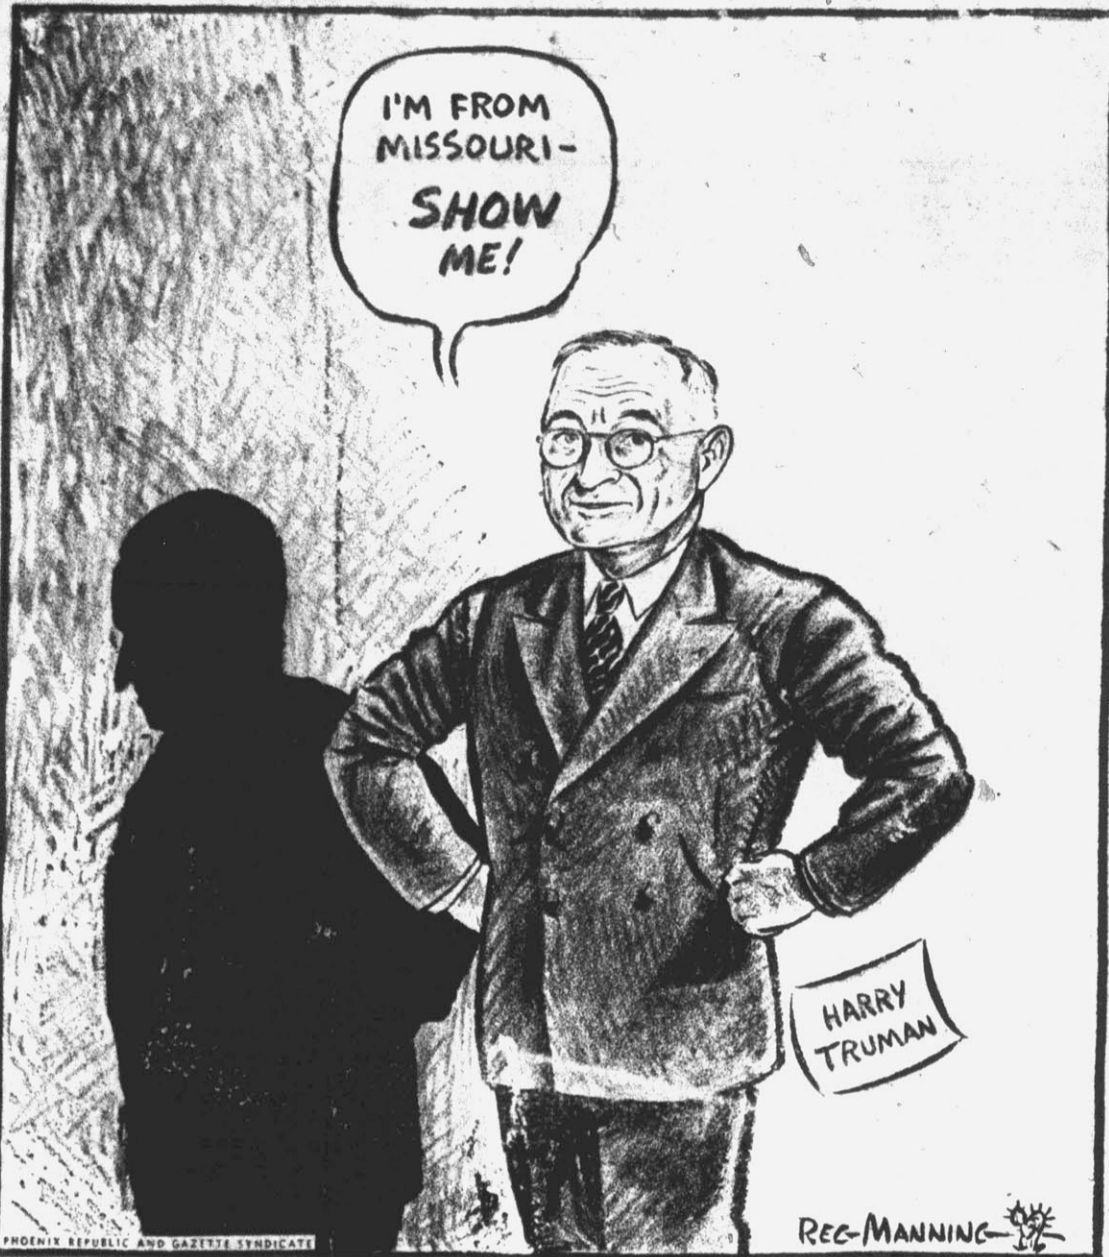

In many respects, President Truman is following the pattern of Roosevelt and numerous other predecessors in appointing intimates and trusted long-time friends to key positions in the White House. Some of these appointments have definite political significance according to observers here; others have none; while still others are double-barreled.

One of these last is the appointment of Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, as postmaster general. Hannegan isn't actually a successor to Frank C. Walker, but really succeeds to the post of James A. Farley. It was Hannegan more than any other individual who was responsible for Truman's being named vice presidential candidate at Chicago last year.

The President and Hannegan have fought political battles in the same state. They understand each other politically and personally. The same was true in a measure of Walker and Roosevelt but much more true of Farley and the late President. One point, however, is important: Walker wasn't ousted to make room for Hannegan. Even had Roosevelt lived, Walker would probably have departed Washington before long. For personal reasons he wanted it that way.

There are three appointments President Truman has made that are worth more than passing notice and all of them are personal. 1. Edward D. McKim, Omaha, Neb., insurance man, who served as a private in Captain Harry's "Dizzy D" battery in World War I, and now will be his chief administrative assistant—a job comparable perhaps to that held by Harry Hopkins in the previous administration.

He Can't Beat This Policy

Francisco conference coverage for his paper) become Truman's Steve Early, otherwise chief of press and radio relations.

A fourth appointment generally expected here is that of former Senator, now federal district judge Lewis B. Schwelbenbach, of Spokane, Wash., although in just what capacity isn't clear now. He has been mentioned for secretary of labor as freshmen senators, Truman and Schwelbenbach became fast friends and since the former took office, the judge has been a guest in Blair House, where the Truman family made its interim home, while the White House was undergoing some remodeling and repairs.

Add to these John W. Snyder, St. Louis banker, who, as new federal loan administrator, supposedly has the blessing of the Jesse Jones faction and its opponents; David E. Lilienthal, to be reappointed as director of TVA; Edwin A. Pauley, former Democratic National Committee Treasurer, as a member of the International Reparations Commission.

President Truman's appointment list is growing, and with McKim, Vaughan, Ross, Schwelbenbach and Hannegan, his White House "inner circle" definitely is being formed.

Begin Shift . . .

Uppermost factor in the operation of the redeployment plan, said Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor of the U. S. group control council, was "the problem of applying overwhelming force to bring the war against Japan to a quick end." Troops which have amassed sufficient points based on service dependents and decorations, will be discharged. When the scores are tabulated they will be sent to the War Department, which will determine what score will be low enough to permit the release of 2,000,000 men while retaining the 6,968,000 necessary to fight Japan and occupy Germany.

Among the foremost factors involved are the immediate training of troops now in Germany and France in Japanese tactics, and the matter of leave and accommodations for troops awaiting reassignment or discharge.

Some American service troops already were moving toward French ports, for the beginning of the long journey to the Pacific area. Combat troops will begin moving in about six months.

It will be 45 days before the Army knows the names of the men who will be sent home under the point system. Gen. Eisenhower's letter said "When the bell rings we must be prepared to release the high point men in each combat division who are eligible for discharge, even though it results in an immediate reduction of divisional strength below the authorized figures."

He added that "We must not follow blueprint designs rigidly, but must apply the established policies with human understanding."

Gen. Clay said American troops who will go to the Pacific will be trained in Japanese tactics while still in France and Germany, under a senior experienced battle general who is already in the European theater but whose name cannot be revealed. Japanese equipment will be brought to the theater for the eight-week training program.

Allied headquarters in Rome estimated that possibly 11,000 American soldiers would be returned from the Mediterranean theater this month and, if shipping facilities are adequate, 15,000 more will follow in June and the same number in July.

Wacs in the European theater with a total of 44 points will be returned to the United States as soon as the theater quota of 10,800 is filled and adequate replacements are available. Communications zone headquarters said, Wacs whose soldier husbands have been returned to the United States for discharge will be able, however, to apply for immediate release.

Headquarters also announced that leave accommodations for American troops awaiting reassignment under redeployment will be stepped up from 28,000 to 175,000 and that leave centers in Paris, Britain, Brussels and the French Riviera were being prepared for the anticipated rush.

Importance of Adult Education In countless camps all over the world, it has been demonstrated that boys and girls become men and women most promptly and most surely when the mark of an educated man or woman is not a diploma but a dogtag. I foresee that my realism will shock the sentimentalists, but the statement stands.

Yes, the double failure of the antiquated public school system is that it results in delayed maturity of the virtues, while prompting precocity in the vices. If it is hopeless to reorganize the schools, there is high hope to organize adult education. If it could, it might, it may become America's outstanding contribution to world security. Surely, we can educate for life as efficiently as we educate for death.

Bond Drive To Begin Monday

Washington, May 12—(AP)—The public will get a closer look at the nation's war weapons during the 7th War Loan than ever before.

The drive starts Monday and lasts for seven weeks. Ted R. Gamble, director of the Treasury's War Finance Division, said military exhibitions will be shown in more than 4,000 cities and towns.

Jet-propelled fighters, B-29 bombers, and other planes will fly in groups or singly from place to place—to sell bonds.

The Infantry shows seen in the last bond drive, in which a combat unit attacks a "Jap pillbox" with flame-throwers and other weapons have been greatly expanded and will be seen in all states.

Planes Attack Jap Shipping

San Francisco, May 12—(AP)—Tokyo radio reported U. S. aircraft attacked Japanese shipping off Korea for the second straight day today.

The broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, said the attack was made by some of six Martin PBM seaplanes, which reconnoitered the area. Yesterday's raid was by nine torpedo planes.

A SLIGHT CASE OF Theft

By RUFUS NEED Chapter 21

"Don't be a fool, Francine. I don't know where it is." Cold anger vibrated in Tom's voice. "And if you and Pete don't lay off me—I'll—I'll—"

"Turn stool—yeah—sure—we'd expect that. A lousy stool." Shriill and menacing, the girl's voice rang through the little apartment. "And I'll tell you right now, Pete won't stand for it—he'll kill you and—and if you don't come across—he'll kill me. Don't you see—you've got to—you gotta come through?"

The girl was sobbing now, the kind of deep gasping sobs that are always just on the verge of hysteria. "Aw cut the sob stuff. You'd double-cross me any time. That's why Pete sent you over here."

"That's a lie and you know it." "Well, if I haven't got what you want—what's the use of putting on this act? To hell with it."

"So it's an act, is it?" she taunted him. "Okay, I'll tell you how good I'll make that one. I came to tell you he holds me responsible for what you did. ME—understand? Damn you. If you don't come across I'll kill you myself!"

In the tense silence that followed this outburst, Brenda quietly opened the door and stepped out of the shadows of her apartment into the brightly lighted hall. She wiped the perspiration from the palm of her cold hand before she pushed the button to signal the elevator.

That was eight o'clock. Then it was nine and ten—and now it was lines. If the home lines fail— Then it was her voice that faltered and Christopher had a sudden conviction she was talking of herself now—not of him—but of something in her own life he did not understand. He wondered if she was happy at home—and what she did after hours. He glanced at her quickly but the grey eyes told him nothing. In the flickering light of the hurricane candle on the table between them her eyes were inscrutable. She smiled a little, not explaining, leaving her words suspended in mid-air. A little later as they entered her apartment building, he suddenly decided he would like to meet the man she had married.

"Let me go upstairs with you and meet your husband," he said in a low voice as the elevator came down to the first floor. "I must meet him sooner or later, and this may be the best time. I won't stay long."

As they stepped into the elevator, Brenda felt his suggestion was so inevitable she might have planned the evening for this very moment. But as they came up to her apartment, her courage faltered. She had a growing concern about the way Tom would receive the late night visitor. For some reason now, her anxiety was tinged with a persistent feeling of fear as she unlocked the door and they found themselves in the dark entrance hall.

Softly Christopher closed the door behind him. Brenda pulled the chain of a lamp on the hall table, but no light came.

"The bulb is burnt out." She laughed nervously. "You'll think I'm a poor housekeeper." A streak of light showed under the closed door of the living room and she turned quickly toward it. "We'll go right in and see Tom. He's evidently still in the living room."

For an instant they stood together in the shadows of the hall, listening. The apartment was strangely quiet—no sound anywhere—almost too still. Brenda felt her courage waning as she stepped across the short space from the table to the living room door. Then drawing a slow deep breath she slowly opened the door.

A shiver of terror shot through her. Tom was lying on his back on the floor in the center of the room. Every lamp in the place was blazing with light.

One look at his livid face and staring eyes was enough. Before she had the power to move and step through the doorway into that sinister room, Brenda knew Tom was dead.

Resolutions of Respect On March 12, 1945, Dr. Thomas Mervelle Watson died from a sudden coronary attack brought on by overwork. He was born near Wagram, N. C. on October 25, 1885. Here he grew up in the splendid community of Riverton and attended the famous Bayview academy before entering Wake Forest College. After his college course and two years of medicine, he transferred to Tulane University to complete the work of his doctor's degree which he received on June 12, 1919. After an internship in Birmingham, Ala., he settled in Maxton, N. C., and began the general practice of medicine. Becoming intensely interested in diseases of children, he determined to specialize in this branch of medicine. Closing up his office, he went to St. Louis and took special work in pediatrics at Washington University, then served as a resident at Barnes hospital under the famous Dr. Marriott. Returning to North Carolina, he settled at Wilmington and practiced pediatrics first with Dr. J. Buren Sidbury and later in Winterville. In April, 1930, he moved to Greenville to spend his last 15 years. Here his wide experience, excellent training and wonderful personality brought him a wide practice that continued to increase until his death. Soon after completing his medical training, he married Miss Mary Patterson Livingston. Three children were born to their marriage, a son, Charles, and daughter, Janet, with Mrs. Watson survive him.

Dr. Watson had a multitude of friends. His sincerity and personal charm endeared him to everyone his moral integrity and Christian virtue. Every contact with a new person increased his number of friends. He never left off studying and made frequent trips to medical schools to increase his proficiency in his beloved profession. He was a member of the Pitt County Medical Society, the North Carolina Medical Society, the American Medical Association, the Southern Medical Association, the North Carolina Academy of Pediatrics and the American Academy of Pediatrics. He was also a member of the Memorial Baptist Church in Greenville, N. C., a member of the Shrine and a director of Pitt Community hospital.

As a citizen, Dr. Watson made outstanding contributions to Greenville in his 15 years as a resident. His interest in civic affairs was continuous and he looked after sick infants of this community from the personal as well as from the viewpoint of their health. As a church member, he was always faithful, devout and as unassuming as his master. At his passing, the entire community mourned a severe personal loss has come to every person in Greenville, N. C.

But while everyone misses him as a citizen, a friend and a devout Christian, the physicians of Eastern North Carolina mourn him in a more personal way. He meant to them all that friendship could mean as well as a skilled, devoted professional adviser. To him they could refer the infants who needed more than routine treatment, sure that he would care for them thoroughly and completely. On the fly-leaf of his Bible Dr. Watson wrote, "My purpose, 1920 on—So help me God. It is a lofty, noble code of ethics for a physician. No better characterization can be made of Thomas Mervelle Watson than to say that he lived up to his purpose in a well nigh perfect degree. A copy of his purpose is filed with these resolutions in the minutes of the Society. Be It Resolved, that in the death of Dr. Watson: First, the residents of Greenville have lost a distinguished citizen. Second, the medical profession of Eastern Carolina has lost a trusted friend and an expert consultant in the profession of pediatrics. Third, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Society and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

Enlightening Talk By Dr. Crossfield

By CHESTER WALSH "History will record Russia as one of the world's greatest countries," Dr. R. H. Crossfield of Birmingham, Ala., former president of Transylvania College and world traveler, said last night at a meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis Club. He attributes much of Soviet Russia's progress to her compulsory education laws and the separation of church and state following the downfall of the czarist regime. Illiteracy in Russia has been reduced since the early 1920s from 72 to seven per cent; children from seven to 14 have to go to school, and after that the state provides for their education.

Dr. Crossfield told of 37 school buildings being erected in a great Russian city at a cost of $57,000,000 as an evidence of Russia's attitude toward education, and he believes that religion is being revived in that country.

Dr. H. G. Haney, program chairman, presented the speaker, who has been preaching to large congregations at Eighth Street Christian Church here the past week.

At present Dr. Crossfield is pastor interim at Gordon Street Christian Church in Kinston.

Past President Dick Bundy presided over the meeting for Dr. J. M. Barrett, who was in Pennsylvania to attend the funeral of his wife's father.

The Kiwanis Club's directors will be guests of Dr. H. G. Haney next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Die-Hard Nazis . . . (Continued From Page One) ing under the overall command of Field Marshal Ferdinand Schoerner's "Middle Army Group," against which the Russians threw powerful armored and storm forces.

The corridor through which thousands of Nazi troops north and northeast of Prague were trying to withdraw toward the American lines was narrowed by Gen. Andrei I. Yermenko's 4th Ukrainian Army. His troops closed the corridor to 32 miles with the capture of Kolín, Kutnáhóra and Tabor.

Sverre Riisness, Quisling's minister of justice, said Jonas Lie and Henrik Rogstad, police minister and police chief, respectively, for Quisling, committed suicide in a bunker outside Oslo where they had barricaded themselves against patriot forces since Norway's liberation day. Riisness surrendered to patriot forces.

Peaches Ripen in County. John R. Hodges, tobaccoist with the Person-Garrett Tobacco Co. while riding through the country yesterday, found ripe peaches on George Allen's farm, about seven miles from Greenville, between the Farmville and Stantonsburg roads. The peaches were thoroughly ripe and of excellent quality, Hodges said.

Edwin F. Tucker, assistant clerk of Superior Court ate peach pie for dinner Friday from peaches grown in his back yard on Greene street.

New Landing . . . (Continued from page one) the enemy remain. Zamboanga was the locale of the first Yank landing on Mindanao. The second took place on Ilana bay to the east. The Macajalar landing was the third. Of all the enemy forces listed, those at Davao and in Bukidnon province are the strongest, and they are sandwiched between the 40th, the 31st and the 24th divisions. Still another guerrilla force at the head of Davao gulf has been jabbing at the enemy around Davao city.

A Tokyo broadcast intended for American consumption asserted that a Japanese force had made a counter-landing on Samal island in Davao bay, causing "confusion" among Americans who landed there a few days previously. The broadcast also said the Japanese at Davao had begun major counter-thrusts against the Yanks, and that the fighting there had taken on added fury.

Crossfield of Birmingham, Ala., former president of Transylvania College and world traveler, said last night at a meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis Club. He attributes much of Soviet Russia's progress to her compulsory education laws and the separation of church and state following the downfall of the czarist regime. Illiteracy in Russia has been reduced since the early 1920s from 72 to seven per cent; children from seven to 14 have to go to school, and after that the state provides for their education.

Dr. Crossfield told of 37 school buildings being erected in a great Russian city at a cost of $57,000,000 as an evidence of Russia's attitude toward education, and he believes that religion is being revived in that country.

Dr. H. G. Haney, program chairman, presented the speaker, who has been preaching to large congregations at Eighth Street Christian Church here the past week.

At present Dr. Crossfield is pastor interim at Gordon Street Christian Church in Kinston.

Past President Dick Bundy presided over the meeting for Dr. J. M. Barrett, who was in Pennsylvania to attend the funeral of his wife's father.

The Kiwanis Club's directors will be guests of Dr. H. G. Haney next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

The corridor through which thousands of Nazi troops north and northeast of Prague were trying to withdraw toward the American lines was narrowed by Gen. Andrei I. Yermenko's 4th Ukrainian Army. His troops closed the corridor to 32 miles with the capture of Kolín, Kutnáhóra and Tabor.

of food they plan to eat, how much sugar each type will require and other information which was not necessary to get an extra sugar supply last year.

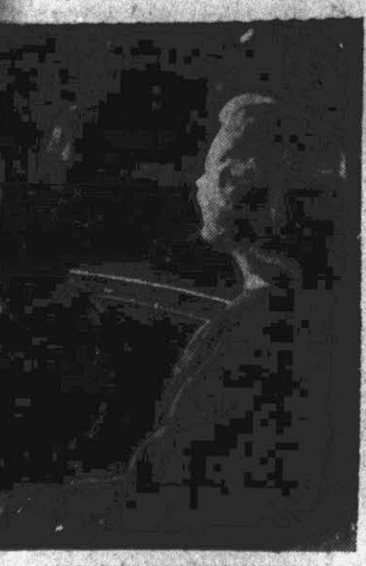

Fields told the committee sugar flowed into the black market at the rate of 57,000 to 100,000 tons a year during the first three months of this year. To check the black market, controls have been adopted to those clamped on the gasoline black market more than a year ago.

Sugar stamps now must be attached by dealers to gummed sheets so that counterfeiters and fakes can be spotted as soon as they are checked by OPA. In addition the gummed sheets permit a more accurate count of stamps against supplies. Heretofore sugar stamps were turned in loose - and frequently short.

Russians Would Hang Von Papen
Mocow, May 12 - (AP) - Commentator Nikolai Polyanov declared in the newspaper Komosomol Pravda today that "justice demands" the hanging of Franz Von Papen, Nazi diplomat captured by American forces. 39,462 Japanese dead have been counted in the Okinawa campaign - approaching double the figure of tough Iwo Jima.

Along the west coast, the Sixth Marine division, which audaciously bridged the Asa River, Thursday, advanced a half mile and is now within 1,000 yards of Okinawa's capital city, Naha. The city which once sheltered 66,000 is today a shambles from terrific daily naval and artillery bombardment.

Most of the infiltrating Japanese - even clutching a telephone wire - were sprawled in death at dawn as Buckner's newly launched southern assault jumped off.

Three U. S. vessels were damaged by suicide planes in an attack linked with the ground assault. The enemy lost 40 planes, Nimitz announced.

Observing enemy movements in the Yonabaru vicinity, the 77th division placed the area under heavy fire.

On the east flank, the 96th division gained about 200 yards under heavy Japanese fire from the southwest slopes of Kuhazu area. In the Kibara village sector, assaulting Seventh division units were met with white phosphorus grenades.

PHANTOMS WIN OVER NEW BERN

Defeat Bears In Game Here By Score Of 9 To 8

By DAVE CLARK
Heretofore almost dead Greenville bats came to life yesterday afternoon in Guy Smith Stadium as the Phantoms teed off on two New Bern pitchers for nine hits and nine runs to win the six inning ball game, 9-8. The game was called at six frames to allow the New Bern boys to return home in time to attend a banquet.

The Bears jumped to an early lead by scoring two runs in their half of the first inning and holding the Greensies scoreless during their half. But in the second frame with the score still at 2-0, Jimmy Futrell got his sights on one of Bear hurler Archie Finer's offerings and slammed it for a home run that bounced out past the broken down left field fence. Four more hits including a double by Dave Perkins brought in two more runs and made the score 3-2 in favor of Greenville.

The game was see-saw up until the fifth inning when the Greensies forged into the lead by an 8-5 score. It looked as if the Greensies had the game about sewed up as it was to end officially at six innings, but with two out in their half of the sixth, the Bears suddenly began to hit "Spooky" Morgan one time after the other and before the Greensies knew it three runs had crossed the plate to tie the score.

But the Phantoms came in determined to win the ball game with two out, half of the sixth and with two out, pinch-hitter Dick Flye singled, stole second, and came home when the New Bern second baseman erred. Amos Leggett's grounder.

Earl "Spooky" Morgan who went the route for the Greensies pitched a good ball game and deserved to win. He was good in the pinches and pulled himself out of holes time and again with fine control and smart hurling.

of inflation has passed.

New York Cotton
New York, May 12 - (AP) - Cotton futures rallied into new seasonal high grounds today on aggressive trade and commission house buying along with local short covering.

Futures closed 10 to 80 cents a bale higher.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, May 12 - (AP) - Rails and stocks with relatively bright peace prospects led the market on another selective recovery shift today although buyers were notably cautious.

Prices hardened after the start and, while the ticker tape frequently halted, advances of fractions to more than a point were widespread near the close. Transfers ran to around 600,000 shares against 930,000 a week ago.

Bonds generally worked higher, as did commodities.
