Aussies Driving Past Balikpapan

Push Beyond City Toward Flaming Oil Fields To The North-east; Airfield Manggar Seized; American Minesweepers Cleaning Out Balikpapan Bay

Manila, July 6.—(AP)—Australian invaders pushed across heavily mined areas today toward the last remaining Japanese-held oil field in Southeast Borneo, guided by the towering fires of Koeslasambodia, a large refinery and pumping station put to the torch by retreating Nipponese.

The battle-hardened Australian infantry occupied the remaining Japanese-held part of Balikpapan yesterday overran Manggar airfield in a five-mile advance to the north-east and plunged on toward the great salt-marsh oil fields of the Samarinda district.

The Samarinda fields are approximately 55 air miles northeast of Balikpapan, now a giant junk pile of burned and blasted refinery equipment and oil pipes.

Koeslasambodia, on the pipe line approximately halfway between Balikpapan and Samarinda, is on the coast.

Radio Tokyo said today that the Allies had poured ashore 15,000 men by Wednesday. It claimed the Japanese garrison had inflicted 2,000 casualties up to Tuesday, but Allied sources had reported casualties as light.

The enemy broadcast reported daily strafing of Japanese positions by an average of 150 fighter and bomber planes, with "persistent" night naval bombardment. Tokyo claimed that despite furious Allied attacks the garrison was fighting spiritedly.

Flitted and cratered roads from litted bombardments, booby traps and land mines left by the retreating enemy constituted most of the hazards encountered by the hard-driving diggers as they doggedly expanded their invasion area.

The capture of Manggar with its two 4,000-foot runways gave the Allies control of the only two worth-while air bases in the Balikpapan area. Seppings air strip, already in use by the Australians, fell early this week.

American minesweepers were busy clearing Balikpapan Bay, where two Yankee-manned engineer LCM boats earlier steamed through the mines to set up repair shops.

Columns of Aussies swept up through the main industrial and (Continued on Page Two)

Japs Evacuate Sick From Wake

Guam, July 6.—(AP)—The U. S. Navy has permitted a Japanese hospital ship to evacuate 973 men from the enemy garrison on Wake Island on which a gallant Marine force held out early in the war until overrun by superior Japanese landing forces, Pacific fleet headquarters announced today.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported that 15 per cent of the Japanese taken off the lonely island were tubercular. Fourteen per cent were wounded. The remainder were suffering from malnutrition.

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Plants which normally make industrial alcohol may divert 50 per cent of their production to whiskey during the July liquor holiday, the War Production Board said today.

This is the same proportion allowed during previous holidays, but WPB had planned originally to hold diversion to 30 per cent this month. A spokesman said the agency had decided that the same pattern as for other holidays should be followed.

ALDERMEN IN BUSY SESSION

New Administration Gets Off With Good Start

By CHESTER WALSH The Board of Aldermen in session at the City Hall last night was functioning with clock-like precision considering the proposed new budget for the city. All members were present. Mayor Jack Boyd presided. A representative audience of business and professional men and women attended the meeting, including a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce and Jun. H. Rose, superintendent of schools.

City Clerk J. O. Duval, upon Mayor Boyd's request, read the proposed budget, item by item, in order that the aldermen might thoroughly understand what the money will be used for and what tax rate will be necessary to secure adequate funds.

The delegation from the Chamber of Commerce petitioned the board to include in the budget $3,000 for an advertising fund sponsored by the trade body to let the world know more about Greenville's advantages. The proposal was given favorable approval.

Last night's meeting was continued until next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock when further consideration will be given to the tentative budget. After the budget is completed and the tax rate fixed it will lay on the table for 15 days before it is finally adopted.

The aldermen unanimously adopted a resolution providing for including the city's employees in the Local Government Employee Retirement System, as provided for in an act of the last Legislature, to take advantage of the Social Security Act. The city is to provide six per cent of the wages and salaries paid to employees (not including police) and the employees will pay four per cent of their pay for the retirement fund. It is optional with present employees as to whether they desire to benefit by the plan. All new employees must accept the retirement fund plan, it was explained. Incidentally, it should be (Continued on Page Four)

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Owen J. Roberts' surprise resignation from the Supreme Court spurred speculation today that he may be followed soon by Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone, oldest man on the tribunal.

President Truman announced Roberts' resignation late yesterday, to become effective at the end of this month. He has served on the high court 15 years, becoming its leading dissenter and often caustic critic of his colleagues' views.

Powerfully-built and pleasant though regularly and pleasantly Roberts turned in a new high total of 51 dissents in the court term just ended. But close associates said he finished the term "very happy" in his work.

On his 70th birthday anniversary last May 2, friends said he had given no thought to leaving the bench.

With yesterday's sudden resignation, persons close to the court recalled that Stone at 72 has been eligible since 1942 to retire at full pay of $20,500.

Stone has served on the bench 20 years. He has given no indication that he planned to retire, but recent visits to the White House revived reports that he might have it in mind.

Weather Forecast Extended forecast for the Carolinas for the period beginning tonight at 8:30 p. m. until 8:30 p. m. Wednesday: Continued warm except a little cooler northern portion of district Saturday night through Monday; scattered thundershowers southern section entire period and in northern section early in period and again Tuesday and Wednesday.

Trains Collide Head-On, 20 Injured

The wreckage of two locomotives is piled up on the tracks of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Coast Railroad near Tallahassee, Ga., after a head-on collision of the Dixie Flyer, a Chicago-to-Miami streamliner, and a local passenger train. EXAMINATION STILL GOES ON

Meadows Says He Furnished Materials For College

The State tried to show on cross-examination of Dr. Leon R. Meadows today that college funds were spent on his private property and that his memorandum books were not correct summations of his accounts.

Effort also was made to show that his testimony before the board of trustees last year varied from that he gave on direct examination in this trial.

Dr. Meadows testified that J. W. Clark, a contractor, was paid $1,420 for work at the college and that he was paid in installments, the last of which was made on June 30, 1936. Therefore, the defendant said, he entered the items as of June 30, 1936, in his memorandum book one.

He said that he lost $3.70 on a paving contract at the college; and that he made gifts to the college of left-overs from the building of several of his private houses. College workmen, he said, went to the houses, removed the surplus materials and took them to the college where they were used. No charge ever was made of the college for those materials, he said.

He said that never did he spend college funds on his private property.

Dr. Meadows did admit that in one instance he spent summer term funds during a regular session, although regular session funds were available.

The State began cross-examination of the defendant on his item-by-item explanation of expenditures, of which there are approximately 250, and in the midst of that examination asked him if he did not keep his 22 residences in a good state of repair. He said he did.

The morning session was marked by numerous objections by the defense, almost all of which were overruled.

Speculation That Stone May Resign

Britain Moves To End Exiled Pole Government

United States, Great Britain And China Have Officially Recognized Warsaw Regime

By DON DOANE London, July 6.—(AP)—The newly-formed Polish provisional government of national unity, recognized by the United States and Great Britain, started action today to take over assets of the repudiated exiled administration of Prime Minister Tomaz Arciszewski.

Polpress, news agency for the Warsaw administration, announced the appointment of a three-member Polish commission "authorized to take over and secure all properties of the Polish state in Great Britain."

A number of questions remained to be settled. Among these were: 1. Disposition of the armed forces, including a decision for giving the men a free choice of returning home or remaining under the British flag.

2. Control of the bank of Poland's gold reserve.

3. Determination of whether the new Polish government is at war with Japan.

What to do with the exile government's army of 250,000 was about the only remnant of the "Polish problem" left to plague the Allies.

The British Foreign Office announced creation of an "interim" treasury committee for Polish questions to supervise the task of liquidation. Polish forces who have been serving with the Allies, receiving supplies from the Polish government, will have arrangements for supplies and pay "safeguarded pending further decisions," the announcement added.

The troops will be maintained until a plan is worked out letting them choose whether to accept the Warsaw government's invitation for all "devoted to democratic principles" to come home, or to remain abroad. Only such "essential" activities of the London Poles as educational and hospital services for Polish citizens in England and care of refugees abroad will continue to be financed by the British government, the Foreign Office said.

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Governor R. Gregg Cherry of North Carolina was a luncheon guest of Tar Heel congressmen at the capitol today. He was en route to Raleigh headed by Premier Tomaz Arciszewski legally passed out of existence.

Readers Asked To Vote On Saturday Holidays

Because of our inability to procure sufficient help in our mechanical department our present employees for some time have been working long hours without relief. We now find it impossible to grant any vacations whatever unless our subscribers are willing to do without a Saturday paper for the next six weeks. We realize that such a curtailment in our publication seems drastic in view of the fact that during our more than 30 years in the daily field we have previously not found it necessary to curtail our service in the way of even temporary suspensions.

Our subscribers are our first consideration and therefore we are leaving the decision in this matter in your hands. If you are willing for us to skip our Saturday issues for six Saturdays beginning July 14th and ending Saturday August 18th in order that our employees might get a well deserved vacation or if you oppose the plan, please advise our office by noon next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Air Blows Against Japan Mounting In Force Daily

Reveals Big Racket In Fake Discharges

Soldiers Paid For Discharges Or Transfers To Safer Units

Hempstead, N. Y., July 6.—(AP)—Existence of a "complex, organized racket" whereby soldiers obtained "fraudulent medical discharges" and transfers from "hot outfits" due for combat duty was announced today by the First Air Force.

Fee for discharges was "several thousand dollars," and somewhat less for transfer to safe, secure branches of the army, the air force public relations office said in announcing results of an investigation begun last April into "irregularities" at Mitchell Field here.

The air force said the recent court martial of Maj. Walter V. Dacovich charged with accepting bribes to keep two enlisted men in safe jobs "is not in any way connected with the present investigation."

The announcement did not give the number of men who had obtained the fake discharges, but said most of them "were in units in distant parts of the United States and not connected with the First Air Force."

"Evidence indicates," the Air Force statement said, "that payments of money were made to certain unscrupulous civilians in the metropolitan area."

These civilians passed soldiers on to military members of the conspiracy at Mitchell, who then effected completion of the fraudulent processing," the Air Force said.

The "cunningly planned and operated conspiracy" arranged to avoid detection, the statement continued, by mixing the fraudulent discharges in with the constant flow of legitimate ones obtained by wounded veterans flowing here for processing and treatment.

Mitchell Field, an aerial depot, receives 4,000 wounded a month from Europe.

Suspicion of irregularity first began when it was discovered that several enlisted men had obtained fraudulent extensions of their furloughs, the First Air Force said, adding:

"False official messages had been sent to the home stations of these men x x x advising their organization commanders that the men were hospitalized. There was no record, however, that any of the men underwent hospital treatment."

The statement said two officers and several men who allegedly obtained the false discharges "are being held in confinement at Mitchell Field." The officers were not medical men but were attached to the hospital staff.

No names were made public by the First Air Force, which said its investigation still was not complete. Court martial proceedings will be held later, it said.

"So far," the statement said, "there is no evidence to substantiate rumors of favoritism by those in command authority," and the "complex pattern of manipulations" evidently was handled by "persons in lower levels."

The First Air Force announcement was in the form of a statement to the press and was accompanied by a note signed by Capt. Norman Reader, air corps public relations officer.

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Actual dissolution of the exile government will not be as simple as that, for Arciszewski's group insists it will continue to represent what it describes as a "majority" of Poles. How and where it will accomplish that feat has not been indicated.

The London and Washington announcements isolating the exile regime, with which the United States and Great Britain had dealt throughout the war, emphasized that setting up of the expanded Warsaw government was only a "step" in fulfilling the Yalta Big Three agreements.

President Truman declared the Warsaw regime had "recognized" the Yalta agreement in full, thus conforming the Crimean plan for free elections. Prime Minister Churchill's comments were similar.

The President said Arthur Bliss Lane had been named U. S. ambassador to Poland. Churchill said the statement would be sent to Warsaw as a charge d'affaires ad interim pending appointment of an ambassador.

ONE MORE DAY

Pitt Countians have but one more day to purchase "E" bonds in the Seventh War Loan. The county is still behind on its "E" bond quota and all those who can possibly do so are urged to purchase at least one more bond by tomorrow night in order to bring up the total.

Many of the counties in the state have exceeded their quotas and local War Finance officials are anxious that Pitt County not be listed among those few who failed to reach their goal.

Remember, tomorrow is the last day. Buy that other bond now.

PREDICTS NO RESERVATIONS

Connally Says World Charter Will Be Approved

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex.) predicted today that all attempts to attach reservations to United States ratification of the United Nations charter will be beaten down.

Saying he had been informed that at least two senators plan to present reservations, Connally added to a reporter:

"In the firm conviction that we shall be able to defeat all reservations and ratify the charter without amendment."

At the same time, Connally said hearings before the Foreign Relations Committee he heads will be shortened as much as possible.

"I hope that we can finish them in a week," he said.

The hearings open Monday. The House, meanwhile, arranged an 11 a. m. (EWT) session to hear reports on the charter from Chairman Bloom (D-NY) and Representative Eaton (N.J.) ranking Republican member of that chamber's Foreign Relations Committee. Both were delegates to the San Francisco (Continued on Page Four)

Australia Holds Curtin Funeral

Canberra, July 6.—(AP)—Australia held a state service today for its late Prime Minister John Curtin, and then the body was placed aboard a plane for a 2,000-mile trip across the continent to Cottesloe, for burial in his home town.

Deputy Prime Minister Forde, who acted in Curtin's place since the latter fell ill, was sworn in as prime minister to direct the administration until the government labor party meets next Thursday to select a successor.

There'll be plenty of wool blankets for civilians when the snow flies again.

The War Production Board gave this assurance today in announcing revocation of an order that had tagged the full output for the military.

Elimination of the order, put into effect June 17, was made possible by a reduction of 5,000,000 yards in the Army's wool blanket requirements for the July-September quarter.

By request of President Truman most government agencies have reduced their working week from 48 hours to 44, starting July 1. Workers in those agencies now will get only half the overtime they had been getting, 4 hours instead of 8 a week.

Eventually, they'll be reduced to a straight 40-hour week without overtime. Then see what happens.

The clerk whose salary was $1,440, by working 8 hours overtime a week 52 weeks, was able to boost his salary to $1,752.

Now he has received a flat salary increase of $264. That gives him—a flat salary of $1,704 without overtime, or $48 a year less than when he had overtime.

But for that $1,704 he will be working when the 40-hour week is restored, only 5 days a week. He had been working 5 days for $1,440 and had to work six days a week 52 weeks, to get $1,752.

By voting themselves $2,500 a year for expenses—in addition to their $10,000 yearly salary—members of the House were giving themselves an income boost of 25 per cent.

Yet the War Labor Board limits the other workers to a total of 15 per cent basic increase over what they were making in 1944.

With that 15 per cent limit in mind, President Truman has engaged that congressmen raise their salaries 15 per cent, from $10,000 to $11,500.

British Election Sets New Record

London, July 6.—(AP)—A record number of 23,000,000 votes was believed cast in yesterday's general election, surpassing the largest previous turnout of 22,648,375 in 1929.

In the last general election in 1935, the ballots cast totaled 22,001,837. Returns will not be announced until July 26 because of the time required to collect and tabulate soldiers' ballots.

The consensus was that fully 75 per cent of 33,000,000 eligible voters were cast. Some persons are permitted by British law to vote twice, once from the residential register and once either from a business premises register in a different constituency or at certain universities provided the voter graduated. A Conservative Party spokesman estimated that no more than 200,000 cast double votes.

Not since 1918 has the declaration of results been delayed, and then the lapse was only two weeks instead of three in the present case.

Bradley's Name Sent To Senate

Washington, July 6.—(AP)—President Truman today formally nominated General Omar N. Bradley to be veterans administrator, and submitted his name to the senate.

The chief executive announced a month ago that he had chosen Bradley to succeed Brig.-Gen. Frank T. Hines as head of the Veterans Administration. General Bradley now is in Europe but he is expected to return to Washington late in the summer.

Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW Washington, July 6.—(AP)—Congress has been busy mending some financial fences, including its own. The House members gave themselves an extra $2,500 for expenses. They gave the postal workers a raise. They gave other federal workers a raise.

And—Congress is playing with the idea, suggested by President Truman, of raising the members' salaries from $10,000 to $11,500.

Postal workers generally will receive an increase of $300 to $400 a year. They hadn't had a regular raise in 20 years. Congress had been voting them a yearly bonus of $300 to meet increased wartime living costs. The raise takes the place of the bonus.

About 1,220,000 of 2,850,000 government workers will receive an average increase of 15 per cent in salary. (The remainder of the 2,850,000 come under different pay schedules of different congressional appropriations.)

Because 15 per cent is an average figure, some will receive more, some less. For example: A $1,440 clerk will get $1,703, or a raise of $264. That's an increase of 18 per cent. A $4,100 government worker will get an increase of $530, or a 12 per cent raise. It's not all gravy. Here's why:

Until July 1 all government employees were on a 48-hour week. Regular pay for 40 hours time and a half overtime for the other 8 hours.

The clerk whose regular salary was $1,440 received—because of those extra 8 hours a week for 52

The WAR TODAY

AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Russia's request for participation with Britain, France and America in the proposed conference regarding Tangier's international status is one of the important (and highly significant) developments of the day.

In thus reaching the length of the Mediterranean to its western gateway, Moscow has staked its claim of influence right in the heart of preserves long dominated by Britain, France, Spain and Italy. The United States was invited to take part in the parley and accepted, but Russia wasn't included. The immediate reaction to the Soviet move was a statement by a spokesman of the French Foreign Ministry that the conference had been indefinitely postponed pending action in Moscow's request.

Tangier is a chronic boil on one of the world's tender spots. It's the southern gate-post of the Strait of Gibraltar, which obviously places it among the globe's most highly strategic positions. The "neutral" zone occupies about 225 square miles on the northwestern bulge of Africa. Only fourteen miles across (within easy cannon range) is the coast of Spain. Twenty-nine miles northeast is John Bull's rock of Gibraltar.

Because of its dominating position, this zone was detached from Morocco in 1906 and placed under international guardianship. There were subsequent agreements and actual control came to rest with Spain, Italy, France and Britain.

Moscow bases its present claim on the fact that Russia was one of the participants in the original treaty although later she dropped out. Tangier—in theory chaste, neutral but very often mixed up in intrigue and power-politics—naturally zoomed into vast prominence when the war began. He who could control this spot on the Strait of Gibraltar would indeed be in a powerful position. One of those who didn't overlook this was Spain's Generalissimo Franco.

Came the fateful month of June, 1940, when France was tottering and Britain was fighting with back to wall—and at this critical juncture Franco was moved to occupy Tangier "to guarantee its neutrality." This was a unilateral action—not interfered with by Italy and Germany. A bit later the Generalissimo was further moved to incorporate Tangier in Spanish Morocco, and there was nobody to stop him.

International law was displaced by Spanish law. Franco fortified the port of Tangier, despite Allied protests. Throughout the rest of the war there were charges by the Allies that Axis ships were being serviced at Tangier, that Axis submarines were operating out of there, and that German and Italian agents swarmed the zone like ants.

That brings us up to the present proposal that Tangier be returned to the status of a neutral international zone. Presumably because of Franco's unilateral action in 1940, Spain wasn't consulted when France and Britain took the matter up re-

Lt. Tom Langston Wounded The adjutant-general of the U. S. Army, notified Mrs. Louise Worthington Langston, 306 Pitt Street, that her husband, Lieut. Thomas H. Langston, was slightly wounded in battle on Luzon, in the Philippines, on June 20. Langston is in the field artillery. He has been in service about four years. He went overseas in December, 1943, and saw service on New Guinea, Oahu and other Pacific islands. Lieut. Langston's wife before marriage was Miss Louise Worthington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Worthington of Winterville.

Alston-Prince Miss Vivian Prince of Kings Mountain, and Sergeant Thomas H. Alston, Jr., of Thornton, Ark., were married in a private ceremony on Wednesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Methodist parsonage in Greenville by the Rev. R. W. Bradshaw, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Alston is the daughter of Mrs. A. B. Prince of Kings Mountain. She attended the Advanced Art School in Nashville, Tenn., and at the time of her marriage was advertising artist in the Art Department of the Charlotte Evening Company.

Presbyterian Announcements The Church School meets as usual at 9:45 a. m. Men's Bible class at 10 a. m. Mr. W. Bundy will be the guest speaker at the class Sunday.

At the morning preaching service Dr. Boyd will speak on the subject, "Lighting the Lamps of Life," a study of the five foolish virgins, Matt. 25: 1-13, the lesson. Since these are the only services for the church during the warm summer months, the membership is urged to attend them.

The New Chapel at Twin Oaks will be opened at the service Sunday afternoon, 4:30 p. m. The building will not be dedicated as there is a small debt of some $500 on it. It has not been painted either, but will be in good shape for use Sunday. All people of the community not attending a Sunday School or Church elsewhere regularly are urged to attend this place of worship. It is about one fourth of a mile west of Mr. Gus Forbes place west of Greenville on Highway 43. The name "Twin Oaks" was given it because the work was organized on the Whitehurst place, where for years there stood two great oak trees, and this was known as "Twin Oaks Place." One tree still stands but fire took the other.

He went overseas in December, 1943, and saw service on New Guinea, Oahu and other Pacific islands. Lieut. Langston's wife before marriage was Miss Louise Worthington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Worthington of Winterville.

Alston-Prince Miss Vivian Prince of Kings Mountain, and Sergeant Thomas H. Alston, Jr., of Thornton, Ark., were married in a private ceremony on Wednesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Methodist parsonage in Greenville by the Rev. R. W. Bradshaw, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Alston is the daughter of Mrs. A. B. Prince of Kings Mountain. She attended the Advanced Art School in Nashville, Tenn., and at the time of her marriage was advertising artist in the Art Department of the Charlotte Evening Company.

Presbyterian Announcements The Church School meets as usual at 9:45 a. m. Men's Bible class at 10 a. m. Mr. W. Bundy will be the guest speaker at the class Sunday.

At the morning preaching service Dr. Boyd will speak on the subject, "Lighting the Lamps of Life," a study of the five foolish virgins, Matt. 25: 1-13, the lesson. Since these are the only services for the church during the warm summer months, the membership is urged to attend them.

The New Chapel at Twin Oaks will be opened at the service Sunday afternoon, 4:30 p. m. The building will not be dedicated as there is a small debt of some $500 on it. It has not been painted either, but will be in good shape for use Sunday. All people of the community not attending a Sunday School or Church elsewhere regularly are urged to attend this place of worship. It is about one fourth of a mile west of Mr. Gus Forbes place west of Greenville on Highway 43. The name "Twin Oaks" was given it because the work was organized on the Whitehurst place, where for years there stood two great oak trees, and this was known as "Twin Oaks Place." One tree still stands but fire took the other.

To Appear At College All kinds of people from "both sides of the footlights" from Judith Moore has obtained in her short but experience-cramped years in the theater, provide the spark for the formidable sketches which she will present at East Carolina Teachers College on Monday evening, July 9 at 8 p. m.

A mercurial artist who acts, dances and sings in a veritable "one-woman theater," Miss Moore quickly sketches one satirical portrait after another against the stage background. Ballerinas and window dummies, Irish charwomen and caution hostesses are drawn with wit and authenticity that only the

Farmville Pastor Goes To New Field

Rev. E. C. Chamblee, pastor of the Farmville Baptist Church since June 1, 1943, has tendered his resignation. He has accepted the position of associational missionary for the Wilmington Baptist Association and will begin his new duties on August 15. His work will be primarily organizational and promotional. There are 44 Baptist churches in the association. Mr. Chamblee will be "pastor-at-large" of the district.

The popular Farmville pastor will preach his last sermon on Sunday night, July 15, and then take a vacation. His resignation is effective at the end of the vacation.

Mr. Chamblee has done outstanding work since he became pastor of Farmville and has taken an active part in community affairs. He is one of the charter members of the Farmville Kiwanis Club, organized last February.

Demonstration Of Canning Is Held

Six FSA homemakers met recently in the Simpson area to see a demonstration on canning fruits and vegetables by Mrs. Margaret S. Williams, Home Supervisor.

Time saving equipment was an important topic of discussion. This group of families in an informal meeting several days earlier had expressed their feelings against obtaining and using a pressure cooker. After seeing the demonstration they were amazed at the amount of time saved in canning and decided in favor of this piece of equipment.

"It's just hard to believe you can cook peas 45 minutes to the pint instead of three hours like I have always done," remarked one homemaker. "That certainly saves time and my husband will be glad to learn that he will not have to bring nearly so much stove wood in the house."

In making apple-sauce and tomato juice the families learned how to save time and food by using a food mill. Each one present was encouraged to obtain a jar filler and hot jar lifter as small pieces of equipment that would help save time in the task of canning.

Mrs. Williams discussed with the homemakers successive plantings of vegetables in the garden in order to be certain there is food for the table and to can throughout the summer. "According to recommendations of the garden specialist of the Extension Division this is the time to replant snap beans, butter beans and field peas and to plant sweet corn and set tomato plants for your late garden," she said.

Makes Report On Home Ec Students

Mrs. Ethel Watters, head teacher trainer in the Home Economics Department, has just reported on the work of the 45 student teachers in Home Economics who did their practical teaching in nearby high schools. The schools used during the past year are: Greenville High School, Robersonville, Winterville, Clarkton and Ayden.

The report indicates clearly that this experience of the prospective teachers gives great opportunity for the development of professional attitudes and habits essential to successful teaching. The students themselves listed more than 30 values received from the experience. Among the activities undertaken by the students during their practice teaching period have been: visiting homes to become better acquainted with the background of their students; visiting community leaders; supervising the selection and initiation of home projects by the students; student conferences; attending county meetings of home economics teachers; the keeping of professional records; and making definite improvements in the Home Economics departments.

When the Home Economics Department was first approved for the use of federal funds in the training of vocational teachers of home economics, the Greenville High School was used for the student teaching of majors. In the fall of 1941, when the first head teacher trainer was employed the college in cooperation with the state and federal divisions of vocational education, one school, Ayden, was added. As many as seven schools have been used during one year for this program. The total of 14 schools who have cooperated include Ayden, Greenville,

The field teacher training in home economics, Miss Mabel Lacy, who shares an office with the head teacher trainer, cooperates with the program by visiting student teachers in the field and holding conferences with them.

The 7,000 Japanese civilians who were in the town before the invasion had fled, but evidence of their life of luxury was encountered in the residential areas. Associated Press War Correspondent Russell Brines said in a dispatch from the front most were thought to be fleeing with the military into the oil fields.

On the northwest coast, Aussie Ninth Division troops seized an enemy ammunition dump on the Taniku River, seven miles northeast of captured Miri.

Many natives of Brazil, drunk with 20 cups of coffee a day, the battle lasted two hours late on April 6 when the Newcomb was supporting heavy fleet units near Iwo Shima in the Ryukyus off southern Japan. The suicide planes trickled through a screen of intercepting U. S. fighters which had blocked a very large formation of enemy flyers.

Virtually disemboweled, the Navy said the Newcomb, seasoned veteran of Pacific warfare from the Marshalls through Iwo, is afloat today because her heroic crew, many with hair afloat and clothes burned off, refused to give her up even when all power and communication was lost and more than half of the ship was enveloped in flames.

The first Kamikaze was cut down 20 feet from the Newcomb. At once, a second tried his luck but was hit and, as the commanding officer, Comdr. Ira E. McMillan, Fort Worth, Tex., turned the destroyer sharply, the Japanese plopped harmlessly into its wake.

The third Japanese struck amidships, although hit. The plane sprayed gasoline, steam shot from a boiler and the amidship section became an inferno.

The fourth Japanese was cut down far off by the Newcomb gunners, many of whom had been thrown bodily from their stations by the hit. Then two more planes took up the attack at the same moment. One slammed into the Newcomb amidships with a terrific blast.

All power was lost, the engine rooms were wrecked, ammunition magazines were ablaze and the gun handling rooms on fire. Smoke and flame shot 1,000 yards into the air. The ship stood still.

The sixth Japanese, struck by accurate gunfire thrown from the midst of the smoke and flame, kept coming, slammed into the forward stack and more gasoline splashed into the molten wreckage amidships.

The Leutze was coming at high speed, daring heavy seas and the peril of the Newcomb's flaming magazines. The Leutze's commanding officer, Lt. Leon Grabowsky, Paterson, N. J., maneuvered alongside and her firefighters, doctor and hospital corpsmen poured aboard the Newcomb.

At this moment, the pilot of the seventh Japanese plane aimed for both ships, setting his course for the Newcomb's bridge. Both destroyers opened fire, and the plane's wing was hit, swerving it from the bridge, but it scraped the deck of the Newcomb and rammed into the stern of the Leutze.

Another destroyer raced to the Newcomb's aid as the hard-hit Leutze began to drift away, her crew fighting her own fires. The Newcomb's fires were under control in half hour and, both reached repair bases.

At one time the Leutze's fantail was two feet under water.

Two Destroyers Badly Damaged By Suicide Planes

Washington, July 6—(AP)—Attacked by seven Japanese suicide pilots, the destroyer Newcomb bagged three but was turned into a scene of wreckage by the others.

The Newcomb suffered 91 casualties while another warship, the destroyer Leutze, counted 84 as the last Japanese fanatic skidded across the Leutze and into the stern of the Leutze which had pulled alongside to give aid. Both survived.

Chapter 26
Kay's hand moved to her throat where a dry, aching sensation gave her an impulse to scream.

"Of course, your time is filled with plans and preparations for your wedding."
Her face turned white. "Yes, Yes, it is."

"But she wouldn't help you do a thing like that!" Kay protested.
She walked over and took the girl's hand gently and led her to a chair.

Kay began to cry in the gathering darkness. She pressed one hand over her mouth to keep back the painful sobs that tore her throat.

"I'll see the doctor for me— I'll see the doctor for me— I'll see the doctor for me— I'll see the doctor for me— I'll see the doctor for me—"

What did Francis' opinion matter now? Kay was thinking. Suppose Josephine had not come to me? Suppose she had died in some horrible place in Atlanta?

Josephine thanked her and hurried out. Kay stood at the window and looked after her as she walked down the hill, her slender shoulders straight under her cheap sweater.

Hope burned in Kay's eyes. "What do you think, Ned?" "Well, I'm a loyal employee of the Lambert Mill. I have faith in Francis—I've known him a long time."

She looked at her more closely and his eyes fell upon the gleaming diamond on her left hand. "Having Jimmy trouble?" he asked.

"Hello," he said. "You look tired." "I am," she said, as she seated herself.

She sat down opposite her. "No, I'm very glad to see you," he assured her. "It's been a long time."

"Thank you. And, Ned, I did buy Dr. Sims' stock?" "No, I offered to buy, but he doesn't want to sell."

"Why are you here, Kay? Do I dare hope this is a social visit?" Kay sighed and plumped. "Well, it's about a girl in Lowell, Dr. Warner. I felt that you'd know someone who could help her. I promised I'd try."

"I have a feeling that Godfrey would understand," she explained. "I need some money."

She told her story, watching his face take on professional interest. "Of course, I shouldn't bother you with such a problem," she concluded.

"No, I don't want him to know about this until I'm gone—away." Ned's voice was gentle. "You've been unhappy since Christmas. In fact, since Francis carried. I'll lend you the money, Kay. How much do you need?"

"I understand, Kay," he assured her. "You did right to come to me. You have already accomplished the main thing—kept her from doing anything foolish not only for her physical safety, but, for a sensitive, intelligent girl, such a thing would leave scars on her soul."

"Well, you know I'd like to put it all back on the map," he said eagerly. He rose and, walking to the window, stood staring out at the lights of the mill. "But Kay," he added, "it wouldn't work. I'd be a failure."

"You're very understanding." "I happen to know about scars on the soul—and about remorse, too."

"Why, Ned," she exclaimed. "What do you mean?" He answered without turning. "I mean this mill was built by a Lambert. It has been run by another Lambert his son. For fifty years the people of Lowell have looked to the Lambert name for everything in life they call success and contentment."

"I hope I'm not interrupting," she said, a little tremulously, as she took the chair he offered.

"I'm afraid a change in the management right now would mean a collapse of discipline. You never can tell about a large group of people—who feel hurt and resentful as these do right now. Anything drastic might mean real trouble."

"I'm glad to see you," he assured her. "It's been a long time."

"I'm glad to see you," he assured her. "It's been a long time."

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

ARE MIND AND SOUL ENEMIES?

The great St. Augustine and his companion Alypius experienced struggle in connection with their conversion from dissolute to Christian living. At one stage of the struggle, Augustine cried out to his friend, "What ails us? The unlearned start up an angry heaven by fire, and we, with our learning but without stout hearts, wallow in flesh and blood."

Good education or even good birth is no guarantee of sound character. Some of the most saintly characters are recruited from the poor and ignorant. Likewise, we often find ourselves wondering why certain people of great intellectual achievements cannot grasp the simple things of faith which seem so easy for certain of the more humble. It is often disconcerting to observe that sometimes certain of the highly educated appear to have learned almost everything except how to be temperate, honest, and chaste. Frequently they hold that education has emancipated them and by so doing has released them from what they call the bondage of moral restraint.

The things that bewildered Augustine bewildered many of us today. Why cannot we, with all our learning and with our many advantages—have at least as good moral characters as others who have no learning at all and who are apparently without advantages? The answer, of course, is that intellectual attainments are not necessarily related to moral vision and strength of will.

AMERICA IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Your Capital in Wartime:

Federal workers who look on hot, muggy Washington summers as just something more to get away from are going to have to build their dreams of July 4 and Labor Day holidays on 1946. The order already has gone out that the "no holiday rule" will continue in force this year at least through those days and probably through Thanksgiving. Uncle Sam's nephews and nieces will continue to get annual leave, but travel restrictions, more stringently enforced among government personnel than among other civilians, will keep thousands of them in Washington.

ODT estimates that 75 per cent of all Pullman space and nearly half the nation's coach space will be under direction of the military by August. That means a lot of people aren't going anywhere, regardless of how much time they have for a vacation.

Sen. William Lanier, the Bismarck, N. D. Republican, has one of the strangest habits of any member of Congress. He sits through sessions of the Senate sucking contently on a cigar, never removing the cellophane wrapper.

When Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower was in Washington recently, her military aide was WAC Maj. Patricia Chance, of Houston, Tex. This revived a newspaper reporter's story to end them all. Major Chance, then "Pat" McNeely, was a crack reporter for the Houston Post, when the national free balloon races were held there.

She and William S. White, then of the Associated Press, were among those assigned to the story. Their big problem was to get reports from the balloonists as the race progressed. Pooling their resources they worked out printed forms. The balloonists were to fill them out, place them in envelopes and throw them overboard.

Finders were instructed to call in the report and get a reward. To be certain the envelopes weren't blown all over creation, they were weighted with tinotype slugs.

The first day not a single report was received; nor the second until mid-afternoon, when an irate farmer called in that the weighted envelope had smashed through the top of his chicken house and killed his prize Dominic rooster. He

New damage to key war plants was reported at the Aizutsu artillery and anti-aircraft gun factory in Nagoya arsenal. Further destruction was sighted at the Nippon Vehicle Manufacturing Company and the Sumitomo Duralumin plant, also in Nagoya.

Manila, July 6—(AP)—U. S. Fifth Air Force planes newly moved in from the Philippines to Okinawa are striking Japan, it was disclosed today, adding their weight to the army Superfortresses, medium bombers, fighter bombers and marine and navy aircraft already hitting the enemy home islands.

As Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his air chief, Gen. George C. Kenney, announced this new power shift in the air war against the Japanese, dispatches from Guam and Iwo Jima recorded a series of blows by assorted army, navy and marine planes against the main islands of Honshu and Kyushu, the Ryukyus and vital rail transport in Korea.

Forty-eight Mustangs of the 35th Fighter Group hit six placed on Kyushu on Tuesday, within 36 hours of arriving at their new Fifth Air Force bases on Okinawa. Kenney disclosed the strike with this promise:

"This is just the start. We will continue to hammer Japan until she accepts unconditional surrender. Slam-bang entry of the Fifth Air Force found these air units already engaged in the same campaign. 20th Air Force, Superior bases, based in the Marianas and commanded by Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, newly-promoted from command of the 21st Bomber Group, Army Mitchell medium bombers,

Thunderbolt fighters and Second Marine aircraft wing Corsair fighters and avenger torpedo planes of the tactical air force based on Okinawa; Fleet Air Wings 1 and 18, privateers and seaplanes based in the Okinawa area; and Army Seventh Fighter Command Mustangs based on Iwo Jima.

To this lineup soon is to be added the Army Eighth Air Force of European fame, under Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, which is to include Superfortresses. The strategic air forces, the Eighth and the 20th, have been placed under command of Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, whose strategic air forces delivered the long range aerial knockout blow to German industry.

There has been no announcement concerning Kenney's 13th Air Force, now supporting Borneo operations. Without waiting for additions, or for completion of the planned 25 miles of runways on Okinawa, the air forces already within reach of Japan were pounding away steadily in a war of attrition.

The Fifth Air Force fighters hit the Kyushu cities of Tojimbura, Byu, Izumi, Chiran and Omura, and sank three enemy float plants in the northern Kyushu harbor of Fukuoka. Those were the only enemy planes they sighted in a two-hour sweep over Japan, although anti-aircraft fire was moderate to heavy.

On Thursday nearly 100 Mustangs of the Seventh Fighter Command from Iwo Jima raided airfields in the Tokyo area for the second consecutive day without air opposition and strafed docks and warehouses in Tokyo Bay.

They destroyed five Japanese planes on the ground and damaged 10 at Shirodate and Yatabe airfields northeast of Tokyo, for a two-day bag of 48 destroyed or damaged, and also sank one small boat, damaged 12 and shot up napkins and shops.

Navy Privateer planes in a Fourth of July strike blocked several railway tunnels and destroyed two bridges and two locomotives on the main line to Manchuria in their first operation against Southwest Korea.

Predicts No . . . (Continued From Page One) co Conference. Bloom called on the Senate to "lead the world" in ratification. Connally said there would be few official witnesses before his committee other than former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., and Leo Pasvolsky, State Department expert on international organization.

It has been reported that Comdr. Harold Stassen, a delegate at San Francisco, might testify. In an address here last night Stassen said it is of "terrific importance" for people of this country and the world to realize that mere adoption of the charter will not of itself insure peace.

"The success in obtaining the goal," he declared, "will depend upon the good faith and continued alert interest of the peoples of the world."

Want Committee To Study Price Fixing Washington, July 6—(AP)—A special Senate committee to review OPA price fixing methods was proposed today by Senators Capehart (R-Ind.) and Tydings (D-Md.). Offering the resolution to create a seven-man committee, Capehart told the Senate that his purpose is not to cripple OPA but that the committee shall "advise with the administrator of OPA in the drafting and enforcement of a sane, sensible, practical workable price-fixing policy."

To Visit Truman London, July 6—(AP)—The Paris radio said today that Gen. De Gaulle had accepted an invitation from President Truman to visit the United States in August.

MORGENTHAU TO QUIT POST

Several Mentioned as Treasury Possibilities

By MAX HALL Washington, July 6—(AP)—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., will step down as secretary of the treasury when President Truman returns from the Big Three meeting in Berlin.

At that time, several weeks hence, Mr. Truman will name a successor to the Dutchess County, N. Y., apple grower who has held the office 11-12 years.

The Chief Executive told reporters yesterday he has a man in mind for his sixth cabinet appointment, but he wouldn't say who he is. War Mobilizer Fred Vinson topped a long list of names heard in speculation today.

Mr. Truman announced acceptance of Morgenthau's long-rumored resignation at another headlining conference at which oil treaty with the British. Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts will retire July 31.

He does not expect to accept the resignation of Secretary of the Interior Ickes who, in fact, is going to England soon to renegotiate an agreement to see Mr. Truman. Then he gave Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York permission to visit France on a personal mission, not as an agent of the government.

He appointed Edward C. Moran, Jr., of Maine as assistant secretary of labor, and elevated Jesse M. Donaldson to first assistant postmaster general.

The Big Three meeting will take place in about three weeks. From now until Mr. Truman's return, Morgenthau will hover in a strange position, barring quick Senate passage of House-approved legislation changing the order of presidential succession. For, although his resignation has been accepted, the treasury chief continues first in line for the President after Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

The pending legislation would make House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) next in line after Mr. Truman.

Rumors have come up with amazing persistence for months—even years—that Morgenthau would leave the cabinet. Yesterday he wrote out his resignation, mentioning his association with the late President Roosevelt, his desire to go back to Dutchess County where they were neighbors, and his wish to leave Mr. Truman's hands "untied."

The President asked him to stay until he returns from abroad. When reporters asked Mr. Truman for an explanation of the resignation he said Morgenthau simply wanted to quit.

As for the next secretary, Washington officials were discussing these possibilities today:

1. Fred Vinson, of Kentucky, who is powerful politically and is solid with Congress. He made a reputation as chairman of the Tax Subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee, later served as a U. S. Court of Appeals judge and finally in three federal administrative posts.

2. John W. Snyder, of St. Louis, the new Federal Loan Administrator. He is a close friend of the President, a banker and popular with Congress.

3. Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee. At one time, George was considered a red-hot prospect. But he came out in favor of some reduction in income taxes in 1946 and Truman spanked him promptly and publicly. So speculation over George's chances quieted down.

4. A trio of dark horses: Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the Board of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago; Edward E. Brown, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, and J. F. T. O'Connor, a Los Angeles federal judge who formerly was comptroller of the currency.

To Resume Rationing Ottawa, July 6—(AP)—Canada will resume rationing of meat shortly, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced today. Meat has not been rationed here since March 1, 1944.

Truck Restrictions Eased Washington, July 6—(AP)—It soon will be possible to buy a truck without Washington saying it is all right.

Beginning August 1, ODT district managers throughout the country will have authority to issue rationing certificates for new light and medium trucks.

But applications for heavy trucks still must come to Washington for approval.

Aldermen In . . . (Continued From Page One) stated that the police and teachers already have the benefits of a retirement fund.

The board voted unanimously to install an eight-hour work day for the police, plans for this to be worked out by the Police Committee and the new chief, J. A. Tanner, who will take office here on August 1. It was stated during the discussion that the police will be able to give more efficient service on an eight-hour basis. It was also decided to install, as soon as possible, a two-way short wave radio system for the police. This would provide for contact with officers in police cars by headquarters on a moment's notice. Greenville is one of the few cities this size without a police radio system.

Grain Market

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—Rye futures broke the limit of 5 cents a bushel in a late wave of selling today. Wheat and oats fell more than a cent in some cases in sympathy with the heavy rye liquidation.

Traders were inclined to get out of the rye market following a report from Washington that the Commodity Exchange administrator believed new board of trade restrictions to curb speculation in the commodity did not go nearly far enough. Traders apparently wanted to wait and see whether the board might consider further restrictions.

Selline of rye was not heavy early but gradually mounted as the liquidation uncovered stop-loss orders.

At the close all rye contracts were down the 5 cent limit from the previous close July $1.47½. Wheat was off 1 to 1½ cents. July $1.65½-$1.66 corn was unchanged to ¼ off. July $1.18½, oats were ¼ to 3/8 cents lower. July 65½-¾, and barley was 2 cents off to 1 cent up. July $1.14½.

PRELIMINARY CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION

State of North Carolina
Department of State
To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:
Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the W. H. Dail Company, Incorporated, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated on Fourth Street, in the City of Greenville, County of Pitt, State of North Carolina (W. H. Dail, Jr., being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), of Chapter 95, General Statutes, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

Now Therefore, I, Thad Eure, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 30th day of June, 1945, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 30th day of June, A. D. 1945.
THAD EURE, Secretary of State
June 6-14w-4wks.

FACTOLUS SCHOOL DISTRICT NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Acting under and pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 559, Public-Local Laws of North Carolina, 1935, as amended by Chapter 388, Public-Local Laws of North Carolina, 1937, more than 10 per cent of the qualified voters of the territory hereafter described, filed their petition with the County Board of Education of Pitt County, North Carolina, praying that such territory be created into a school district to be designated as Factolus School District of Pitt County. The boundaries of such territory are as follows:

Beginning at a point where Tranters Creek enters Tar River, and thence north along Tranters Creek, to Carolina School District (Stokes Line); thence west along the Carolina School District (Stokes Line) to Highway No. 11; thence south along Highway No. 11 to Great Swamp Drainage Canal (Pitt County Drainage District No. 4); thence from said Canal to Eason's Run to a point where they enter Tar River; thence down Tar River to Tranters Creek, point where said creek enters Tar River, which point is the beginning. On the 30th day of July, 1945, at 10 o'clock, a. m., at the office of the Board of Education in the Courthouse in Greenville, North Carolina, the County Board of Education will hold a public hearing upon the question of creating the Factolus School District of Pitt County, comprising the territory above described. At such time and place any taxpayer or other interested person may appear and be heard.

D. H. CONLEY, Secretary, County Board of Education of Pitt County, North Carolina
July 6-14w-3wks.

A New "House of Magic" for Postwar America

"... one of the strongest guarantees of progress and world peace is continuous scientific preparedness through industrial research."

"General Electric has approved plans for a new $8,000,000 Research Laboratory. This expenditure has tremendous significance. Scientific research has contributed much to our progress as a nation. Many things have been discovered during this war, and we can and must develop them into better things for peacetime. Today we have 550 research people on our staff. These new facilities will not only give increased outlet for their abilities, but will provide opportunities for new research minds with new talents. From this new laboratory we think new achievements will come. In the past, G-E research has contributed much to better living in America—not only through new developments in x-ray, electricity, metallurgy, electronics and chemistry, but also through reduced cost and increased efficiency, as in the modern incandescent lamp. Even more than in the past the laboratory will emphasize research in pure science—continuing and expanding the work begun by Dr. Whittaker and the late Dr. Steinmetz forty-five years ago. To find new facts of the physical world, to extend the limits of knowledge, is a forward step in creating More Goods for More People at Less Cost."

W. G. Sullivan
President
GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

May 8-million-dollar G-E Research Laboratory will be built five miles east of Schenectady, New York, on the Mohawk River. The geographic location offers special advantages for television, high voltage x-ray, and radar research. Buildings with 300,000 square feet of floor space will accommodate an expanded post-war research staff of about 600. Research rooms will be a scientist's paradise of equipment for experiments in chemistry, physics, mechanics, electronics. It is hoped that construction can start in six months.

SOUTH ASIA BRITISH JOB

Empire Forces Cleaning Up In Southern Sector

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH
Headquarters, Alacca—(AP)—The cleanup of the Japanese lingering in the Southeast Asia Command has become solely a British empire project backed by a continuing stream of American lend-lease and with a token representation of French and Dutch on hand as reminders of their own colonial interests and hopes.

The last of the Chinese and Americans who rewon North Burma and reopened the land route to China are being replaced, many of them going to the China theater for redeployment under the command of Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedmeier. These include the troops formed up in SEAC as the Northern Combat Command under General Joseph W. Stilwell and commanded after his departure by Lt. Gen. A. I. Saitan, commander of the American India-Burma theater.

NCAC's objective was to clear north Burma and that task was completed when its forces reached the Shweli River line in the final preliminary to the British recapture of Mandalay in March of this year. The liquidation of NCAC began then and now is almost complete, awaiting only the disposal of the last American fighting troops in Burma.

The campaign in lower Burma and the capture of Rangoon were strictly empire jobs and the fighting beyond, for Thailand and Malaya to Singapore, likewise will have its personnel drawn from Britain, East and West Africa, India, Nepal (Gurkhas) and the Burma hill tribes such as Karens, Kachins and Chins.

The log cabin idea was introduced by the Swedes who settled on the Delaware Bay in 1638.

MORE PAY FOR P. O. WORKERS

Truman Signs Bill Granting Pay Increase

Washington, July 6—(AP)—President Truman today signed legislation giving postal employees their first general pay raise since 1925. For regular postal employees in so-called automatic grades, the legislation provides a 20 per cent increase in base pay, or $400 a year, whichever is the lesser. In no event will the raise be less than $300.

It provides for overtime payment at the rate of time and one-half for time worked in excess of a basic 260-workdays annually, the payment to be in money or compensating time off, and for a differential of ten per cent for employees who work regularly at night. The overtime provisions do not apply to supervisors, rural carriers, traveling mechanics and employees of the railway mail service and the air mail service.

It changes the salary rates of postmasters by putting them on a basis of 100 per cent of the gross receipts of their offices instead of the present 85 and 90 per cent.

Postmasters in first-class offices, except those now receiving $6,000 or more, will get boosts of from $300 to $400 annually; second class, $400 to $600; third class, $300, and fourth class, 20 per cent of their present salaries, which now varies. Clerks in third-class offices working not less than 40 hours weekly are placed in automatic grades ranging from $1,200 to $1,700.

The base pay of most postmasters and supervisory workers in their offices varies according to postal revenues of the offices.

The legislation provides 11 grades of classification for city-delivery carriers, clerks and employees with work comparable to that of carriers and clerks. The pay of the grades ranges from $1,700 to $2,700, depending on type and length of service. For carriers in the rural delivery service, who had been paid on a mileage basis, the legislation provides 14 pay grades, with automatic promotions for meritorious service.

It provides for a pay scale of $3,000 to $6,000 for inspectors, who now are paid on a scale ranging from $2,600 to $5,400.

Berlin White Way Is Sordid Picture

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Berlin, July 6—(AP)—Berlin's "Gay White Way" attracts its human moths from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m. daily, and for a pack of cigarettes a foreign conqueror can buy everything from four per cent beer to the questionable charms of a professional blonde.

Scattered through the half dead inner city, honkytonks as sordid as any oldtime Klondyke dance hall cater to all with the time and money to spend.

Wan, thin jazz instrumentalists wail out tunes as ancient as "The Sheik of Araby" and girls of bobby sox age stand about in clusters eyeing prospective acquaintances.

The night clubs, which close at dusk under the curfew, share with retail food stores the distinction of being the most active business enterprises in this grisly capital of partitioned Allied power.

The faces of customers in such hot spots as "The Tavern," "The International" and the "Wien-Berlin" would provide material for a Dante. Some are dazed white-collar folk splurging their last marks in an effort to forget the damp cellars to which they must return at dark. All look as if they were drifting aimlessly—their future a blank.

British and American visitors are just beginning to make their appearance on "The White Way." Invariably the waiters whisper in their ears stories of atrocities allegedly committed by the Red Army and look hurt when told to shut up.

Smash Black Market
Newark, N. J., July 6—(AP)—District OPA Director Richard J. Tarant and Newark Police Inspector Frank A. O'Neil said today the arrest of six Newark men on charges of dealing in counterfeit red food stamps had smashed one of the largest rings of its kind in the country.

The OPA said it estimated operations of the ring involved more than 15,000,000 red food points and 1,000,000 pounds of sugar a week.

ASKS REVIEW OF SPENDING

Pres. Truman Warns Against Mishandling Of Funds

Washington, July 6—(AP)—President Truman "ordered" all government officials today to make a "most exacting review" of spending in their departments.

He demanded prompt investigation of "every instance where there is the slightest ground to suspect either misuse or careless handling of government funds."

At the same time he noted that there has been practically no evidence of financial abuse and urged that "this good record shall be preserved."

But he told his administration heads they must use "vigorous disciplinary action" in any instances of mishandling of government funds.

The White House gave no intimation of what prompted the memorandum which was directed to the heads of all departments and agencies. It follows:

"Throughout the war period I have been concerned with the necessity of extreme care in the handling of government funds, especially when expenditures are at such unprecedented levels and so many officials are charged with disbursement of these funds. I am certain that you share my satisfaction that there has been so little evidence of abuse, and that you also share my strong desire that this good record shall be preserved.

"Therefore, I am asking you and the other department and agency heads to express and underscore my determination to insure the most exacting review of expenditures in every instance where there is the slightest ground to suspect either misuse or careless handling of government funds. Any such instance should be investigated promptly and, where appropriate, a vigorous disciplinary action should be invoked. I trust that you will transmit this message to your staff and supplement it with appropriate instructions of your own."

STATE LEADS IN TOBACCO

Tar Heel Production Was 755,606,000 Pounds

Raleigh, July 6—(AP)—North Carolina led the nation's 21 tobacco-growing states last year with total production of 755,606,000 pounds of tobacco on 694,300 acres, the Crop Reporting Service of the State Agriculture Department said today.

Kentucky, with 477,020,000 pounds on 410,600 acres, was second, and Virginia ranked third with 144,691,600 pounds on 134,900 acres.

The value of the big North Carolina crop was set at $326,619,000, with an average of 43.2 cents a pound. Although North Carolina outstripped all other states in tobacco acreage and total production, the report shows it was in thirteenth place in yield per acre, averaging 1,088 pounds compared to 1,646 for Massachusetts, 1,569 for Pennsylvania, 1,500 for Wisconsin and 1,150 for South Carolina.

The total poundage for the United States last year was 1,950,213,000 as compared with 1,406,196,000 pounds in 1943. The value of the nation's tobacco crop was $814,956,000 for 1944 and $569,798,000 in 1943, and the average price was 41.8 cents a pound in 1944 against 40.5 cents in 1943.

The following states produced tobacco last year: Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Louisiana.

Hull Better
Washington, July 6—(AP)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull was discharged today from the U. S. Naval Hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md., where he had been in a patient since last October.

Physicians attending the 73-year-old former secretary said that hospitalization was no longer necessary in view of his "most satisfactory recovery." He had been undergoing treatment for a throat ailment.

Skeleton Comes Home
Fredonia, Wis., July 6—Pvt. Joe Demler, the skeleton of Lemberg, came home last night—a wan 19-year-old, looking forward to 30 days of his mother's cooking.

Demler, who weighed 70 pounds when he was liberated from the German starvation camp last spring, had gained back 50 pounds when he left Kennedy General Hospital at Memphis, Tenn., for home, and he looked forward to regaining his normal weight at home.
