Big Three Parley Begins Tomorrow

Churchill Calls On Truman; Both Make Tours Of Devastated Berlin This Afternoon; War With Japan Will Be One Of First Matters On Conference Agenda

ERNEST B. VACCARO Potsdam, July 16—(AP)—President Truman talked with Prime Minister Churchill and toured the wrecked heart of Berlin today preliminary to the first Big Three meeting, at which the war with Japan likely will be a leading topic.

First American president to visit Germany, Mr. Truman had an opportunity to see Adolf Hitler's ruined and looted Chancellery, the battle-scarred Reichstag and the wreckage of the Tiergarten.

Soviet spokesmen said they had no word that Premier Stalin and Foreign Minister Molotov had arrived in Potsdam, but added: "They will be here in time for the opening of the conference."

The opening sessions, originally scheduled today, apparently were delayed until tomorrow.

Stalin and Molotov generally were believed to be in Potsdam. Churchill, chewing dourly on a cigar, inspected the Reichs Chancellery during the afternoon and asked his Russian escort how the Nazis there had died.

The President slipped out of Potsdam for two hours for his tour. He inspected the U. S. Second Armored (Hell on Wheels) Division alone one of the superhighways Hitler built. This division is an American occupation force in Berlin.

Prime Minister Churchill called on Mr. Truman for their first meeting since President Roosevelt's death, but this was described as simply a courtesy call.

Mr. Truman also conferred with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, veteran of the Yalta conference, and with the President's Chief of Staff, Admiral William D. Leahy.

Stopping outside Hitler's Chancellery, the President shook his head at the destruction and told reporters:

"It is a terrible thing, but they brought it on themselves."

President Truman, an artillery captain in the last war, presented a citation to Company E of the 17th Armored Engineer Battalion, which crossed the Rhine under fire—and commented:

"I am only sorry that I didn't get a chance to participate in some phase of this war myself."

He made the award from a half-track personnel carrier in which he stood with Secretary Byrnes, Admiral Leahy, and his military and naval aides. He wore a blue suit and the familiar gray hat.

He inspected the Second Armored Division in company of its commander, Brig. Gen. John H. Collier. Then his wide tour of Berlin carried into some sections of the Russian occupation zone.

Passing through the Brandenburg Gate, he was saluted by Col. Gen. (Continued on Page Four)

MARINES TAKE TWO ISLANDS

Garrison Of Third Rows Over And Surrenders

By ROBERT GEIGER Ihiya Island, Okinawa, June 9.—(Delayed)—Rugged, forested Marines of the Eighth Regimental Combat Team spiced island on this little island 310 miles south of Kyushu June 3 behind a stiff rocket and shellfire barrage and beneath low-flying air cover—and found no one but docile natives.

But the only Japanese in the entire area—garrisoning a tiny island nearby—had watched the barrage and promptly rowed over in a long boat to surrender their entire 156-man garrison.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz today July 16—announced the unopposed occupation of Ihiya and Aguni, on June 3 and 9, respectively, but did not mention the surrender of the third. Ihiya, eight miles long, is about 20 miles northwest of Okinawa's northern tip; Aguni is 35 miles west of Central Okinawa.

"Well it was a good training maneuver," remarked Maj. Gen. Leroy F. Hunt of Berkeley, Calif., who commanded the Marine invasion. The absent Ihiya garrison (like Aguni's) evidently had been called to Okinawa more than two months earlier to aid in the futile defense of that large island.

A few Japanese planes approached Ihiya on the first day but failed to reach the American invasion fleet. A tropical storm—complete with typhoon warnings—made the ships withdraw temporarily Monday but did no damage.

Accidents cost the lives of two Marines and injured 12. A score of (Continued on Page Five)

Report Charter To The Senate

Washington, July 16—(AP)—The Foreign Relations Committee formally reported the United Nations charter to the Senate today. It expressed the opinion that this country will be "repaid many times" for its projected contributions to a world peace-keeping organization.

In a favorable report on the document which it approved by a 21 to 1 vote last week, the committee said it had no hesitation in recommending Senate ratification because it believes the 50-nation agreement "in accordance with our national interests."

Resigns Washington, July 16—(AP)—Hugh B. Cox, assistant solicitor general, has resigned for "personal reasons."

Announcing this today, the White House said President Truman accepted the resignation Saturday. Presumably it will become effective when a successor takes over.

The WAR TODAY AN ANALYSIS OF THE NEWS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst It won't be long now before we have an answer to the greatest question that has grown out of the European war: whether the Big Three will stand solidly together in the reconstruction of a shattered continent as they have stood together on the battlefields.

If President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill are able to keep the Berlin conference in the channels of unity and mutual confidence, then we shall have won the peace as we have won the war. Solution of all the great problems growing out of the Hitlerian conflict are bound up in this unity among America, Britain and Russia.

One can foresee blunt talk about the conference table, for confidence depends on the dissipation of any suspicions which the Big Three may have of one another's intentions. Confidence also calls for the mutual respect which recognizes that each has contributed its limit to the war partnership and that none is entitled to special prerogatives.

While we are the subject of contributions, it wouldn't be surprising if one of the results of the conference would be to let the rest of Europe understand what our Russian and British allies already know, and this is that there are limits to the resources which America can devote to the rehabilitation of the old world. The mistaken idea seems to prevail in many capitals that our Uncle Sam is Santa Claus. There's nothing he would like better than to play the role, for he has the disposition, but he just hasn't the wherewithal to meet all the demands being made on him.

TANNER NEW CHIEF HERE

Frizzelle Administers Oath to New Police Head

By CHESTER WALSH Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill administered the oath of office to James A. Tanner as chief of police of Greenville in an impressive ceremony in Mayor Jack Boyd's office at the City Hall today during the midday recess of Superior Court. The Greenville County jurist and Tanner are old friends. The new chief succeeded H. E. Wooten who had filled the office creditably since the death of George A. Clark several years ago. Wooten will continue on the force.

Chief Tanner was highly recommended for chief of the police department. Judge Don Gilliam of the Eastern District Federal Court was one of those who recommended him. Tanner, not yet 40, is a native of Rocky Mount. He was connected with the Nash County sheriff's department for 14 years before becoming chief of police of Edenton two years ago. He is credited with doing an outstanding job in Edenton. He is married and has five children—four boys, the oldest 15, the youngest six, and a girl. He and his family are Episcopalians. He is a member of Unanimity Masonic Lodge and the Lions Club of Edenton. The new chief weighs 305 pounds but is very active. He is a man of strong personality and has a good sense of humor.

Before the swearing-in ceremony at the City Hall this morning Chief Tanner expressed appreciation of the opportunity of coming to Greenville. He made it plain to Mayor Boyd and aldermen that he works hand-in-hand with the War Manpower Commission and believes that the vacancy laws should be strictly enforced.

The Rotary Club today extended an invitation to Mayor Boyd and Chief Tanner to attend its supper meeting tonight and "meet some of the folks." The Kiwanis Club will invite the mayor and chief to its meeting next Friday night. The Lions Club here, it is understood, will invite Tanner to affiliate with it. (Continued on Page Five)

New Successes In Borneo Drive

Manila, July 16—(AP)—Japanese resistance was melting into the jungle today as Australian troops pushed within five miles of the big Borneo oil field center of Samodja in the swamps near the east coast. The Aussies made five miles in two days. Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported, after two weeks of hard-slogging in which gains usually were registered in yards against desperate enemy opposition.

A pipeline ran from Sambodja to the refineries at Balikpapan but it was suspected that both it and the well would be found sabotaged by the retiring Japanese. The Balikpapan refineries were wrecked in the fighting for that port, now in the use by the Allies.

Six miles northeast of Balikpapan Dutch colonial and Australian troops used heavy artillery that drove a small enemy holdout force from the top of 200-foot-high "Smashed Stone Ridge," which covered a jungle trail leading northward to the oil resisting territory beyond the ridge, however.

The Australian coastal drive on Sambodja Alas was aimed ultimately towards Samarinda, which is 36 miles northwest of Sambodja. Allied planes continued to support all ground operations and light naval forces shot up enemy positions on the coast east of Sambodja.

Many Workers Return To Their Jobs Today

Several Strikes Settled While Other Disputes Still Keep Nearly 30,000 Workers Idle

By the Associated Press Some 24,250 persons, long workless through labor disputes, streamed back to work today, reducing the Nation's striking idle to 29,750, its lowest point in weeks.

And a conciliation meeting was to be held in an effort to iron out a jurisdictional dispute which caused 474 AFL Bay Cities Metal Tank workers to leave their jobs in San Francisco. The men, working on nine war-damaged government vessels, were protesting the employment of CIO cleaners, painters, and painters, but they continued work on other ships.

The largest share of the back-to-work movement developed in Akron, O., where 16,500 employees of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company voted to end their 14-day old strike. The men decided by a 3-1 margin to resume work this morning, and full maintenance crews yesterday prepared the plants for operation.

The balance of the renewed production was at the Spicer Manufacturing Company in Toledo, O. Approximately 6,500 members of the CIO-United Auto workers went back to their work after 10 days of idleness.

One more note of cheer appeared in the production score. In Syracuse, N. Y. 1,250 members of the United Mine Workers voted to return to work today in the plant of the Solvay Process Company, thus ending a walkout which began last Thursday in a dispute over contract changes and bonuses.

On the reverse side of the medal, the picture remained dark. Newspapers in five cities—New York, Birmingham, Port Wayne, Ind., Jersey City and Bayonne, N. J.—were involved in continued disputes with their drivers and printers.

In New York, Joseph Simons, president of the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers' Union (Ind.), said the 16-day-old strike would continue despite a warning from publishers that the 1,700 strikers would be dismissed today if the strike were not halted.

In Birmingham, where three papers are out as compared to New York's 14, Jack Brock, president of the International Typographical Union local, said he believed the strike would be a "long-drawn out affair." Inclusion of its by-laws in contracts is the principal issue.

Four soft coal mines were closed in a walkout of 2,700 members of the United Mine Workers in Jenkins and McRoberts, Ky. Discharge of a miner was the issue.

Thumbnails of other labor difficulties: 6,000 AFL cigar makers out in Tampa, Fla., in protest against OPA rules which they said reduced their piecework earnings; 2,900 CIO-UAW members out in the Graham-Paige Corp., Detroit, in a

Gamelin Says France Could Have Fought On

By GEN. MAURICE-GUSTAVE GAMELIN First of A Series of Five Articles (Copyright, 1945, by the Associated Press)

Paris—(AP)—I am going to surprise you, perhaps, in saying this is the first newspaper article I have ever written. This is the first, and I am glad that it is for the United States. Land of Liberty par excellence.

In France, the Army has traditionally been the "Silent Service." I was its commander. Remember Marshal Joffre, with whom I served for 10 years, was "un grand silencieux." At the Riom trials I myself remained silent because there were subjects that I didn't wish to discuss in the presence of the enemy.

(The Riom trials were held in 1941. Gamelin, former Premier Edouard Daladier and Leon Blum and other military and political leaders were brought to court by the Vichy government on charges of war guilt. Vichy, an authoritarian regime, sought to show that officials of the Third Republic, through negligence or for other reasons, were responsible for the military collapse of France and the miseries deriving from this defeat. The actions were allowed to drop without decision after lengthy hearings.)

The Vichy government put great pressure on me in hope that, to defend the army I had commanded, I would find myself supporting accusations against the Republic by saying: "The military leaders asked for everything necessary; the government failed to make any corresponding effort." That I for my part demanded essentials is true. And I am sure to prove it. But if we lacked the essentials it was above all because France only began rearming at the end of 1935, and especially in 1936, while Germany

Trial Here Resumed After Week's Delay

Sick Juror Is Replaced; Defense Attorneys Say Meadows Has Been Sick For Several Days

T. O. Bundy, Elizabeth City machinist, took his seat in the jury box today in the trial of Dr. Leon E. Meadows, and cross examination of the defendant was resumed after a week's delay.

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle ordered Bundy, the 13th juror, to take the seat after informing the court that T. V. Sexton, also of Elizabeth City, would be unable to continue. Sexton was carried to Duke hospital in Durham last week while suffering from heart trouble.

Meanwhile, defense attorneys announced that Dr. Meadows himself had been ill the last four days, suffering from rheumatic fever. His answers today to the interrogations of Special Prosecutor Jesse Jones were spoken in a weak voice.

As the cross-examination proceeded, the state tried to show that Dr. Meadows wanted to handle special and student funds, and that he did not report to the State auditor a resolution of the board of trustees recommending the such accounts be audited. Dr. Meadows said that he did not advise Baxter Durham, then the State auditor, of the resolution because he had been advised by a representative of that office that accounts other than the loan fund could not be audited by the State since they were not regular college funds. Dr. Meadows stated again that the monies were kept in his private bank account, and that he kept records of receipts and expenditures of those funds. The defendant is charged with embezzlement of more than $14,000 of those funds.

The state tried to show that Dr. Meadows did not advise the State auditor of the resolution because he knew that if he had done so, the accounts would have been regularly audited, and Dr. Meadows could not have spent the monies on his private properties, as the State alleges.

Continuing its probe of memorandum book two, the State sought to show that T. G. Campbell and Kelly Smith did work for Dr. Meadows on his private property, and Dr. Meadows paid them out of the special and student funds. Dr. Meadows denied the allegation again.

Dr. Meadows said that he recommended to the trustees in 1943—after the investigation was started—that the special and student funds be handled by either the college treasurer, or by a bonded officer. Dr. Meadows was not bonded.

More Air Power Now Available

By HAMILTON W. FARON Guam, July 16—(AP)—American land-based air power in the Pacific can hurl 3,000 planes at Japan in a single day by coordinating tactical and strategic air forces which now are being realigned for the great pre-invasion assaults on the home land. Lt. Gen. Barney M. Giles said today.

Reporting that the first contingent of Eighth Air Force B-29s under Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle "will arrive by the middle of next month," General Giles, the new strategic air forces deputy commander, added the pointed comment that in Japan itself "there is nothing left as an individual target that is worthy even a 1,000-plane raid."

Under the new alignment, Giles explained, "fury of the B-29 program is about to be doubled." Superforts will concentrate their "full destructive weight where it will put Japan out of the war-making business as fast as possible."

The 21st Bomber Command on Guam and old B-29 groups in China and India are inactivated, all are consolidated under the new USASTAF—official designation of U. S. Army strategic air force.

Doolittle's planes, after mid-August, "will be increased rapidly until his full force is in action," Giles explained.

After Superfortresses begin operations from Okinawa bases, "there will be a number of valuable targets within range on the Asiatic mainland," he said. Presumably Northern Japan, thus far untouched, except by the navy, also will come under B-29 attack.

Trains Delayed Charlotte, July 16—(AP)—Traffic over the Seaboard Air Line railroad into Charlotte was delayed a maximum of 16 hours by a washout near Indian Trail yesterday caused by a torrential rainfall but was restored to normal this afternoon.

REGION ONE TOPS QUOTAS

Woolard Reports On War Bond Sales In 16 Counties

By CHESTER WALSH Region One (16 northeastern counties), with overall quotas totalling $39,000,000 in all seven of the War Loan drives, sold $61,000,000 worth of War Bonds, exceeding the quota by 50 per cent. W. H. Woolard, War Finance Committee chairman for the region said today.

In the Seventh War Loan Drive, recently ended, the region's quota was $7,040,000, but sold $14,000,000 worth of War Bonds, or 100 per cent over the region's overall quota. The E Bond quota for the Seventh War Loan Drive was $3,810,000, and the region sold $3,429,000 worth of these bonds, which was 10 per cent short of the E Bond quota.

In the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh War Loan drives, when E bond quotas totalling $11,900,000 were given, Region One sold $12,000,000. (Continued on Page Two)

Today On The Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 16—(AP)—The government still is pouring money into war plants for the fight against Japan.

The money is being spent for new equipment in existing plants, expansion of existing plants, or for new plants.

The money is being spent by the Office of Defense Plants. Since Germany's fall in May, ODP has committed itself to spending 44 million dollars.

The new plants, the expansions and the new equipment are scattered all over the country. So not just one section is benefiting.

The ODP—formerly called the defense plant corporation, part of the government's big lending agency, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation—has spent $8,600,000,000 since it was established in August, 1940.

ODP officials say they do not know how much more the agency will be called upon to spend and for this reason:

It puts up the money when the procurement agencies—like the war or navy departments—come in and say they need more of something that is being made or they need something never made before.

ODP looks around for a plant making what is needed. That plant may be working a capacity. With additional equipment, or more room, it could fill the army or navy order.

In a case where new equipment or expansion of an existing plant will do the job, ODP arranges to finance whatever is necessary to be done. Sometimes it finds a brand new plant is needed. In that case, it has to finance the building of a new plant.

Fleet Gunfire Demolishes Two Cities While Carrier Planes Burn Third To The Ground; 108,000 Tons Of Jap Shipping Sunk Or Damaged; 11 Cities Hit By Planes

Guam, Tuesday, July 17.—(AP)—Between 450 and 500 Superfortresses in a Pre-dawn attack today showered fire bombs on four Japanese cities over a 460-mile stretch.

The targets ranged from Oita on the northeast coast of Kyushu to Hiratsuka, 34 miles southwest of Tokyo.

More than 2,500 tons of incendiaries were dropped on the four cities in the raid, which was the 53rd fire bomb mission carried out from Mariana bases.

By LEIF ERICKSON Guam, July 16—(AP)—Dealing the enemy a devastating succession of blows, U. S. sea and air might virtually erased three Japanese cities, struck heavily at 13 others and sank or destroyed 152 surface craft over the weekend.

The powerful Third Fleet all but leveled two Japanese oil centers in Northern Japan while its carrier planes burned offshore to the very ground, winged offshore to knock off 100,000 tons of shipping and joined with American land-based aircraft to bomb and strafe 13 additional Japanese towns and cities.

(Japanese Domei News Agency early today said the fleet had withdrawn, presumably because of bad weather, but warned it might return any time and any place.)

Domei said 2,500 carrier planes took part in the strikes on northern Honshu and Hokkaido—1,500 on Sunday, 1,000 on Saturday. The agency claimed early reports indicated 100,000 tons of shipping were sunk. Pelele and aircraft fire was the only opposition offered to the entire series of explosive assaults.

Battleship forces spearheaded by the 45,000-ton superbattleships Missouri, Iowa and Wisconsin, all but destroyed the iron and steel center of Muroran on Hokkaido Island yesterday. Carrier planes had burned out practically all of industrial Kushiro on the same island the day before.

B-29s made a return visit to attack the Nippon Oil Company's plant at Kurumatsu Honshu, about five miles southwest of Tokyama, with high explosives.

Elsewhere in the Far Western Pacific, navy search Privatiers heavily attacked Korea; army Liberators hit the Singapore area, and snipping off Southern Honshu; Thunderbolts ranged to the China coast; attack and fighter bombers hit two Gyushu Island cities; carrier planes struck three airfields on Honshu, and 100 army Mitchans attacked airfields around Nagoya.

Communicues from three American commands reported aerial assaults on 11 Japanese cities: Muroran, Hakodate, Esashi, Kushiro, Sendai and Shibusetsu, all on Hokkaido Island; Nagoya, Amami and (Continued on page six)

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

A WORD THAT RE-ECHOES
One of the most massive and beautiful buildings in all the world is the Taj Mahal, built by a faithful husband in memory of his wife. On the tomb are inscribed these words: "To the memory of an undying love."

It is said that as one stands beside the tomb and repeats the sentence, the last word "love" echoes and re-echoes through the dome two hundred feet above.

That word "love" has a marvelous way of re-echoing. Once we say it and mean it, the reverberations of it never seem to die down. In fact we do not even have to utter it to make the world thrill with its silent power. Men who have loved their fellows, laid down their lives, gone to the ends of the earth on errands of mercy, reached to the bottom of their pockets for the last penny to feed some hungry stranger—these know the meaning of the word "love" and make it echo and re-echo through the hearts of men.

The word "love" echoes through the New Testament. Jesus dwelt on the word with such exquisite power that millions in every generation have arisen to call Him blessed. He declared that love constituted the summary and end of the law—the love which goes up to God in adoration and out to man in service.

"Love never faileth . . . Faith, hope, and love, the greatest of these is love."

AMERICA IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Rep. Butler B. Hare, veteran Democratic member of the House from Saluda, S. C., has two sons in the Navy.

He knows the veterans of this war and their postwar problems. His result has come up with and is urging on his colleagues what some believe would certainly develop into an important phase of the work for returning veterans.

"The thought so far," says Rep. Hare, "has been that the problem will be to find employment in existing agencies (or businesses) for a considerable number, and then it will be necessary for the government to inaugurate construction or building programs of different types in order to accommodate the remainder."

"I really do not see much opportunity to place many returning veterans in existing establishments, occupations or industries. Most of these activities, except agriculture, are now employing the maximum and there will be some war industries wholly discontinued, and there will be the necessity of finding employment for the people now there employed."

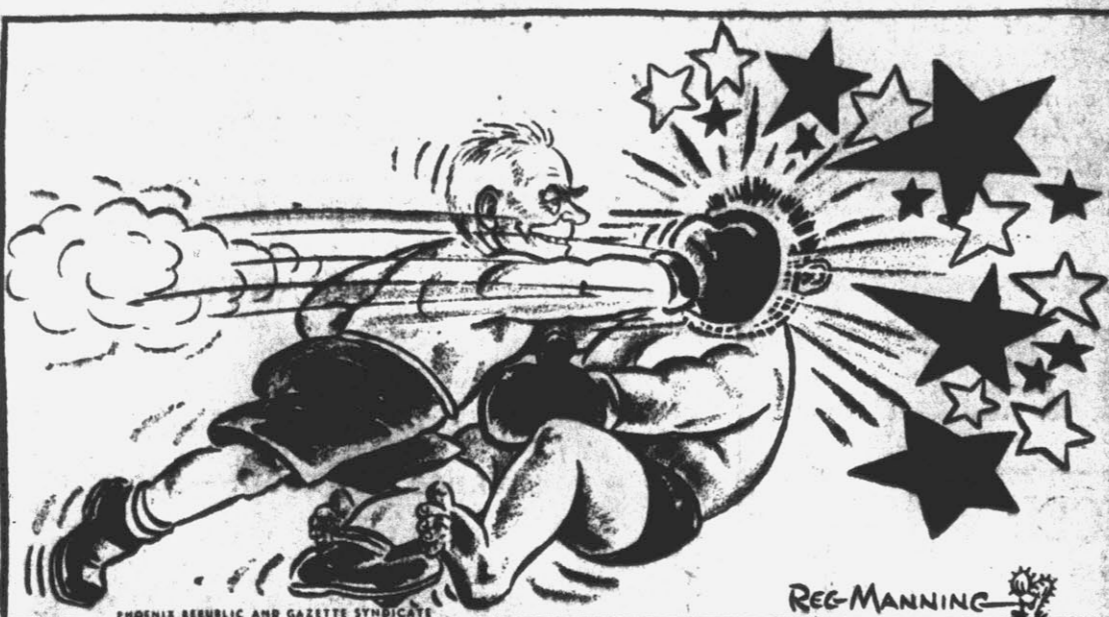

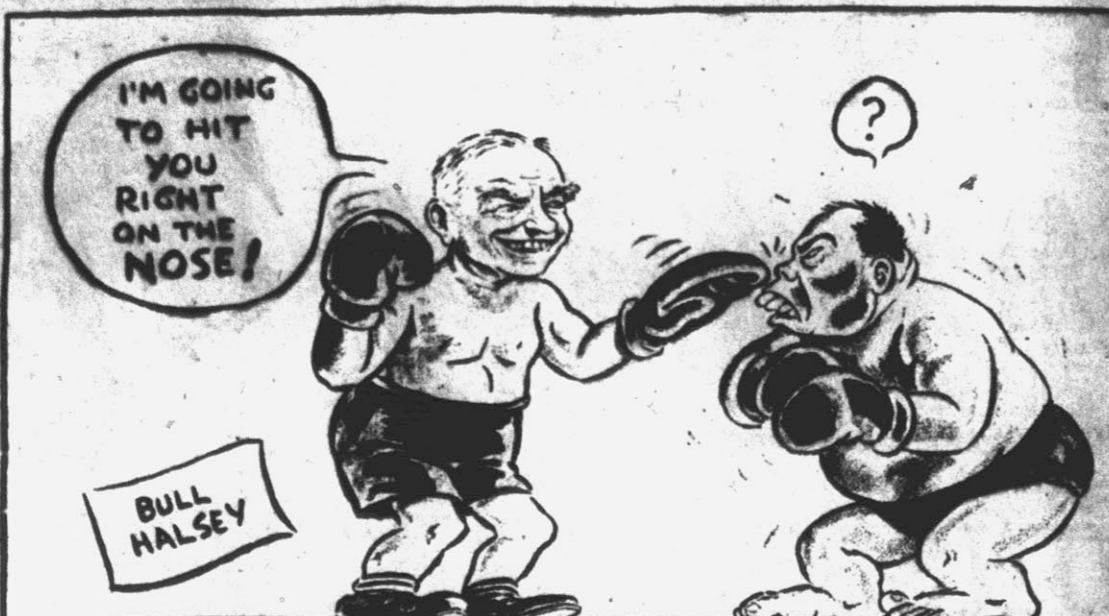

"My thought is that instead of the government creating jobs for temporary employment, attention should be given to the idea of assisting veterans to create their own jobs—jobs that will become going and permanent places of employment." Hare says.

In a canvass of his own district Rep. Hare discovered what may be surprising to some: that there was hardly a community that couldn't support from one to many businesses that don't exist in those communities now. The conclusions weren't based on wishful thinking of the communities either. They were the opinions of men who have been successful in those towns and know what the residents want and how well they will pay to get the services they need.

As an example, Rep. Hare found one town of between 2,500 and 3,000 population which reported that it could support a bakery, a laundry, a watchmaker, a furniture plant, a garment factory, and a dressmaker's shop—none of which it does.

As is apparent, most of these would employ more than one person and on a permanent basis, while the "made-work" plan of government projects can at best be only a stop-gap for unemployment unless federal construction, with funds from the national treasury, is perpetuated indefinitely.

Using his own district as a fair cross-section, Rep. Hare believes that there are tens of thousands of such business opportunities in the country and that all that will be necessary will be to advertise them to discharged veterans.

Whether additional legislation would be needed to make a survey of the whole country or whether it could be undertaken by some of the agencies already set up hasn't been determined. Provisions are made, however, under the "GI Bill of Rights" for obtaining loans for setting up such enterprises. About the only problem involved is that of making national or state listings and advertising the opportunities so that veterans can locate them.

dreds of thousands of civilians to be transferred in order to avoid fresh military problems. The whole continent rocking with tense political situations, and the fiercest Balkans are on the verge of upheaval.

One of the most urgent problems naturally is the feeding of a hungry Europe. That must be done quickly—and it's going to tax the resources of the whole world. Failure will mean that thousands must die.

from Switzerland to the North Sea. It was not my task, therefore, to effect this unification of command. But to restore the situation at this moment of which I am speaking, I thought it necessary to intervene. Therefore, on the morning of May 19, 1940, I gave the order for a general counter-offensive.

This order was never executed. I do not know why. The Vichy government never allowed this fact to be made public. After the evening of May 19 I was no longer kept informed of events. East Prussia, at Luebeck and at Dunkerque in 1945, have shown that you can hold out for a long time in narrow and well-chosen redoubts, even against greatly superior forces.

We would thus have gained time for organizing the defense of Great Britain and especially of North Africa.

Big Three Parley . . .

Alexander Gorbato, commander of Berlin, and by his deputy, Maj. Gen. Nikolai Barinov.

The presidential car was accompanied by a small secret service party and a detail of army riflemen. Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, U. S. member of the Berlin Kommandantur, directed the party through the streets of ruined buildings to the Kaiserdam, Bismarckstrasse, Berlinerstrasse, through the Tiergarten, the Grosses Strassen Monument, under Den Linden.

The President saw breadlines amid crumbling buildings, including wreckage of the Reichstag and debris which is all that remains of the famous Adlon Hotel, and pictures of himself among the Big Three along a road in the Russian section.

Berliners walking the streets or riding bicycles paid little attention to the procession.

The Second Division band played the Star Spangled Banner as President Truman arrived for the divisional inspection. Baring his grey head to the hot sun, he acknowledged the salutes of the soldiers.

Heavy and medium tanks, tank destroyers and other weapons extended two miles down the highway. Presented in turn with the emblems of the 17th Armored Engineer Battalion, the President said: "I'll take it to the White House and keep it in my office."

Capt. James R. McAdam of Birmingham, Ala., received the citation from Mr. Truman for his unit's bravery under fire.

Churchill visited the Chancellery about ten minutes after Mr. Truman left and strode almost belatedly to the spot where some reports say Hitler's body was buried. With him were his daughter, Junior Cmdr. Mary Churchill; Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and several others.

The British leader spent nearly a half hour strolling through the rubble of the building. He chewed his cigar as he walked by and poked at debris. He inspected Hitler's office and visited other parts of the Chancellery.

Accompanied only by members of his personal party, he descended through stench into the underground shelter where Hitler and Eva Braun were said to have spent their last days during the Russian siege. Although Churchill came out shortly, his daughter, Eden and the other remained below for some time.

The whole hierarchy of United States and British military leaders were in Potsdam along with two American cabinet officers, Secretary of State Byrnes and Secretary of War Stimson. Just who accompanied Stalin and Foreign Commissar Molotov to the Big Three conference has not been announced. Russia alone of the great world powers is at peace with Japan.

The scores of state and military leaders talked in an atmosphere as remote to the outside world as Shanghai. The 200 news men assigned to the momentous and closely guarded gathering got no closer than the adjacent suburb of Sehlendorf. The conference may last three weeks and the only authoritative news from it will come from the conferees themselves.

Stalin came here after at least a dozen conversations in Moscow with the new Chinese premier, T. V. Soong, and a gala farewell dinner for Soong which suggested that the meetings had been fruitful. China, like the United States and Great Britain, is preoccupied with the Japanese war.

Mr. Truman, for his part, was said to see his role not as simply a mediator between two powerful Allies, but a spokesman for a nation which is seeking to arrange a world structure in which its technological leadership and democratic ideals will have a greater play than ever before.

Oldtime foreign dwellers in Moscow say it has seemed that Stalin has held closely to four objectives in directing the state affairs for the huge land mass and nearly 200,000,000 people who make up the Soviet Union.

His first objective—defeat of Soviet enemies in the west—has been achieved. The others are said to be:

- 1. Defeat of Soviet enemies in the east—meaning first of all Japan.
- 2. Consolidation of the outer de-tense system for Soviet territories, which, with the inclusion of the Carpatho-Ukraine in the Soviet Ukraine and the prospective inclusion of the northern half of East Prussia in Soviet Lithuania, would extend the Kremlin's dominion farther than was ever reached by the Czars.

3. The crystallizing of war-time friendship with the western Allies to endure through long years of peace to come, in which at the very least there would be tolerant non-interference by the others in the sphere in which each of the Big Three is to be dominant.

Virtually all European problems reported up for discussion in Potsdam bear in some way on the Soviet Union's outer defenses. One of the most pressing of these, of course, is the future of conquered Germany.

Abundant Supply Of Cuban Sugar

By CHESTER WALSH

The Cuban people are bitter against the United States for not buying the island's sugar crop," said Dr. E. L. Hillman of Rocky Mount, who, with his wife, made an extensive tour of the island recently.

While Cuba has great mineral wealth, 7,000 miles of standard and narrow gauge railroads networking the tropical island, sugar is its main product and many of the people more or less depend upon the sugar crop for their living. The soil is rich and productive. Green posts stuck in the ground to fence in the immense sugar plantations take root and become trees. That's why travelers are surprised to ride on trains and see mile after mile of wire fence attached to a straight line of growing trees," Mr. Hillman told the Kiwanis Club at its recent meeting.

At one sugar mill he visited 60,000 tons of sugar cane is ground for its syrup each day. The Cuban sugar crop sells at an average of $1.15 per hundred pounds. There is sugar everywhere in Cuba—in the fields, on the railroads and highways, in warehouses, but very little of it being shipped to the United States, Cuban businessmen told the American visitor. One interesting discovery Dr. Hillman made was that Cuba produces a natural oil that is suitable for use in gasoline engines without refining. The average day laborer in Cuba earns about 40 cents a day, and his standard of living is very low, but they are a cheerful and friendly people.

Dave Moore introduced Dr. Hillman to the Kiwanians as a former president of the club. Judge Dink James presided. Miss Geraldine many years. The great danger about the dread disease is that persons suspect they have some unusual ailment, but put off visiting a physician or some of the tuberculosis clinic. An examination reveals whether a patient has or has not the disease, but it should certainly be comforting and satisfying to a person to visit one of the clinics, be examined and be told that he is all right. Detecting the presence of tuberculosis in its early stages is the aim of the medical profession. There are thousands of cases in this State where persons suffering with tuberculosis in its early stages have followed the advice given at a Health Department clinic or by family physicians and have regained their health.

Slings Help Many To Regain Health

By CHESTER WALSH

A free tuberculosis clinic will be held at the Pitt County Health Department, offices, Third and Greene streets, next Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. Dr. Joseph Smith of Greenville will conduct the clinic, Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, the health officer, announced. White and Negro persons of Pitt County are eligible to attend.

Tuberculosis clinics are valuable in many ways. Even persons in apparent robust health sometimes have tuberculosis in a mild form and do not know it. Tuberculosis can be cured if diagnosed in time, the State Health Department has been preaching and proving for in Northeast Hokkaido, nine American planes were lost but all except three air crewmen were rescued.

In the Muroran shelling, Badger's big ships fired more than 1,000 tons of projectiles into Hokkaido's war industry plants and its transport and harbor areas.

When the force withdrew, the Nippon Steel Company's large terrific explosions, in this plant was concentrated under a series of Muroran's gun and munitions production. Stores of munitions apparently were blowing up.

In this most destructive naval engagement against any Japanese city, Badger's big battleships also shattered an important chemical plant and started fires spreading along the city's waterfront.

The Muroran shelling continued an hour. While it was in progress, task force 38 planes were ranging for the second successive day over Northern Honshu and much of Hokkaido. They caught Japanese ships trying to run westward through the Tsugaru Straits into the Japan Sea to escape the Third Fleet.

In the first strikes yesterday, nine ships and six small craft totalling 12,000 tons were sunk and nine ships and 30 small craft totalling 12,000 tons were damaged in the early morning.

Only four Japanese planes were destroyed on the ground and one was damaged. There was no air resistance.

In fuller but still incomplete reports on the carriers Saturday, air strikes, Nimitz said 25 ships, and 25 barges totalling 41,000 tons were sunk and 25 ships totalling 43,000 tons were damaged. Some of these were caught in Tsugaru Strait but others were hit in the ports of Muroran, Hakodate and Aomori.

Among the ships sunk were two destroyer escorts, one large cargo ship, one medium cargo ship and three small cargo ships.

Pive of seven train ferries plying between Hakodate and Aomori were sunk Saturday and a sixth was driven onto a beach, where it was smashed with four direct bomb hits.

This virtually knocked out the communications link over

Hokkaido's vital coal supplies were ferried and steel and munitions produced in its factories were transported to Honshu.

Only one ferry ship was left and task force 38 planes were looking for it as they continued yesterday's raids.

The 360-foot long, specially built ferry ships, designed to carry 20 loaded freight cars, would be hard to replace during the war.

With reports still incomplete for Sunday's raids, carrier planes in three days' strikes, including their July 10 raids on Tokyo, have destroyed or damaged at least 434 Japanese planes—aircraft which the Japanese plainly were trying to use for defense against an American invasion of their homeland.

Kudumatsu, all on Honshu; and Miyazaki and Kagoshima on Kyushu.

The Tokyo radio additionally reported that carrier planes also raided Otaru, Abashiri, Ashigawa and Obihiro, all on Hokkaido.

The battleship shelling of Muroran blasted steel plants, one synthetic oil factory, other war plants and left the city rocked with fierce explosions and fires. Saturday's bombardment of Kamaishi on Honshu set fires in the steel mills which spread to the waterfront.

Between 50 and 75 Superfortresses struck Kudumatsu, once the fourth largest oil refinery center in the home islands. The B-29 command reported that previous attacks on nine of Japan's 10 fuel centers inflicted damage ranging from 45 per cent at Otake, to 95 per cent of the Maruzen oil refinery at Shimotsu, on the Inland Sea.

The reports on carrier strikes cover Saturday and only preliminary figures for Sunday morning. Strikes on both days were in adverse weather.

The eastern Hokkaido city of Kushiro, with 63,000 population, was almost totally burned out by fires started in the Saturday air strikes, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced.

Sixteen-inch shells from the Missouri, Iowa and Wisconsin also destroyed or burned out most of the Waisshi Iron Works plant buildings at Muroran. One open hearth blast furnace and many coke ovens were damaged heavily.

Great fires raged in a coal liquefaction plant producing synthetic gasoline. Flames boiled up to the sky from gasoline and oil storage tanks.

Some clouds shrouding the city under a new overcast made accurate damage assessment difficult. Observation planes had to fly at less than 1,000 feet altitude. They encountered some anti-aircraft fire. But Japanese shore batteries did not fire a shot against Rear Adm. Oscar C. Barger's ships, which retired without damage.

In Saturday's attacks, ranging from Sendai on Honshu to Shibetsu
