New Jap Cabinet In First Meeting

Army Ordered to Lay Down Its Arms and People Told To Abide By Potsdam Terms and Live Up To Letter and Spirit Of Imperial Rescript

San Francisco, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Gen. Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni was sworn in as Japan's new premier today and in his first official act as premier-war minister ordered the army to "strictly observe" an imperial rescript to lay down their arms.

The decision has been taken to cease fire and return to peace," he declared. The new post-war cabinet, in which the royal premier who may himself be tried as a war criminal retained the war portfolio, went into session immediately after it was sworn in.

The Japanese Domei news agency quickly went on the air with the announcement that the first duties of the new cabinet would be the signing of the surrender, or "the peace terms," and "fulfillment of the Potsdam declaration to be enforced."

The first meeting of the cabinet lasted an hour and a half, Domei reported, and was taken up principally with the premier's plea for full cooperation from his ministers. "Once we have laid down our arms," said the broadcast recorded by FCC, "we must take up matters with absolute calmness. If there should be any incident in violation of his majesty's command, we will lose the confidence of the world. The new cabinet must see that the work is carried out with great care."

"The second thing which we must bear in mind is that we must recover ourselves from the ravages of war and plunge into the work of reconstruction at the earliest possible moment." Higashi-Kuni "announced to his cabinet a broad-based policy—control of the military and maintenance of order."

The policy, Domei quoted the prince as saying, was "personally given by his majesty, the emperor, when the imperial command was given to form a new cabinet."

After the cabinet meeting, the premier broadcast to the Japanese people a warning "to guard against emotional outbursts and live up to the letter and spirit of the imperial rescript."

The cabinet, scheduled to be the first ever to function under an alien occupation force, includes ministers of munitions and of greater East Asia—both of whose functions would be eliminated by official surrender. Domei agency said the cabinet held its first meeting at Higashi-Kuni's residence immediately after the investiture ceremony.

Higashi-Kuni himself assumed the war portfolio, vacated by the harsh-tongued Gen. Korechika Anami to atone for his "failure" as minister. It is the first Japanese cabinet ever headed by a member of the royal family. Domei emphasized that it was the first time the emperor had selected a premier without consulting advisers to him.

RUSSIANS SET JAP DEADLINE

Order Japs To Lay Down Arms by Noon Monday

London, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The Russians, charging that the Japanese had launched a widespread counter offensive in Manchuria at the same time its headquarters had asked Soviet troops to cease hostilities, today gave the Japanese until noon Monday to disarm and to surrender.

(The Japanese Government, in a broadcast recorded in the United States by FCC, "urgently requested" General MacArthur today to "take proper steps to insure the immediate cessation of the Soviet offensive.")

"The broadcast said Japanese troops were unable to cease hostilities because Russian troops are still positively carrying on the offensive. The message did not mention the Soviet charge that the Japanese were continuing to fight.)

Marshal Alexander M. Vassilievsky said in a broadcast over "As soon as the Japanese troops begin surrendering their arms, Soviet soldiers will discontinue war operations."

The Japanese commander was given the added time so that he could communicate with all of his (Continued on Page Six)

Asks For Facts On Pearl Harbor

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the Senate Naval Affairs committee asked the navy today for the files on its investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster.

"With the war in Japan ended, the explanation of military expediency, which congress agreed to be desirable while the war was in progress, cannot be seriously urged as reason for now keeping the matter secret," he wrote Secretary of the Navy Forrestal.

could meet. He was a lieutenant colonel then, and was piloting a Yankee bomber in our early raids against the Germans.

I had a talk with the young officer at his headquarters, and deliberately steered the conversation around to his reactions to the job of bombing. He told me that while he was waiting for his first raid he was sick over the thoughts of the civilians who might suffer from the bombs dropped by his machine.

"That feeling probably dates back to my training days," he remarked. "We had it hammered into us constantly that in practice we must watch out for the folks beneath us. This reaction persisted through my first three raids. Finally I got used to the idea, but I am cautious. When I look at a 2,000-pound bomb in the bay of my ship I know a lot of people may get hurt. My anxiety is for the women and kids."

FIGHT OVER DRAFT LOOMS

Congressmen Feel Constriction Should End Now

By WILLIAM F. ABROGAST Washington, Aug. 17.—The political "hottest moon" President Truman has enjoyed with congress may come to an abrupt end when the legislators reconvene next month.

Whether the legislative branch and the executive come to a parting of the ways may depend largely on Mr. Truman's attitude toward continuance of the draft act. The law would expire on next May 15. Either the President or Congress could end it sooner. Congress could end it by adopting a joint resolution. President Truman could end it by proclamation.

There is strong sentiment in both Senate and House to terminate it promptly after Congress convenes on September 5. Several re-inflation measures are ready for introduction by various members.

The President's attitude is not yet known. Many on Capitol Hill believe he would like to allow the law to run its course so that inductions on a slowed-down basis could continue furnishing replacements for men with long service records.

Mr. Truman said it was up to Congress. But he said he saw no reason why many young fellows without much else to do should not be used to relieve men on far-away shores.

Many congressmen see no objection to that, either—but they feel that the replacements should be (Continued on Page Six)

Nation Begins Work On Major Postwar Program

Third Day Of Peace Presents Mixed Picture Indicating Many Difficulties Ahead

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS By MAX HALL Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—America today entered its third big postwar day with: 1. More goods released for civilian use. 2. More wartime controls wiped out.

More men looking for jobs. 4. The government striving to keep peace on the labor front. 5. Hints of coming battles in Congress.

This was the picture: More goods—the army cut its coal orders and said the Nation's coal problem is solved. The solid fuels administration flatly denied this. But there was no doubt that the cut would help civilians.

The army also announced more meat being released for civilians, it threw on the market 10,000 jeeps and vast quantities of other articles.

Fewer controls—The Petroleum Administration said controls over the oil industry will be removed fast and that the agency will start liquidating itself at once.

The Office of Defense Transportation abolished controls over taxicabs, rental cars, auto racing, and state and local fairs. It also authorized bigger conventions.

More men—the army announced it will bring back from overseas 4,000,000 troops in 10-12 months and will be releasing half a million a month by January 1. Wholesale canceling of war contracts threw thousands out of work today. The Civil Service Commission announced it will accept federal job applications from veterans only.

Industrial peace—President Truman asked labor and management to keep their "no-strike" and "no-lockout" pledges until a new plan can be worked out at a labor-management peace conference this fall.

Mr. Truman also announced that voluntary wage boosts will be permitted if they don't result in higher prices. The War Labor Board will keep operating for a time and the President said he expects industry and labor to obey it.

Jap Planes Continue To Attack Americans

Further Changes In Foreign Policy Seen

Dean Acheson Elevated To Succeed Undersecretary Of State Grew

Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Further changes in the top control of this country's foreign policy appear in the offing today, following Dean Acheson's elevation to succeed Undersecretary of State Joseph C. Grew.

It is possible, however, that Secretary of State Byrnes may delay a final decision until he returns next month from the council of foreign ministers meeting in London.

President Truman late yesterday announced the appointment of Acheson, an assistant secretary who first came to Washington in early New Deal days. Simultaneously Mr. Truman accepted Grew's resignation marking the close of a 41-year foreign service career.

Ambassador to Tokyo from 1932 until Pearl Harbor, Grew is credited with formulating Allied policy toward the Japanese emperor which figured in Nipponese surrender earlier this week. The 65-year-old veteran diplomat advocated an open minded approach to permit the Allies to make any possible use of the throne, with a final determination to be left to the Japanese people.

Acheson, a 52-year-old lawyer who served briefly as undersecretary of the Treasury in 1933, went to the State Department three years ago after spending the intervening period in private practice.

Since 1942 he has had a hand in shaping both this country's wartime and postwar foreign economic policies. He also was detailed to liaison work with Congress and has many friends in Capitol Hill.

Not a career diplomat, Acheson is regarded by observers as perfectly willing to depart from the traditional ways of diplomacy in order to get a job done.

In addition to other changes in the State Department itself, the foreign policy shake-up apparently signaled by the Grew-Acheson shift may reach into the ranks of ambassadors.

Byrnes, however, has had little time to devote to personnel matters between the Potsdam conference and the Japanese surrender. Now he is preparing to attend the first meeting of the Big Five foreign ministers.

He may stay in London two or three weeks and then turn matters over to a deputy yet to be chosen. The council was created at the Potsdam meeting of Mr. Truman, Generalissimo Stalin, Prime Minister Attlee and former Prime Minister Churchill.

It was ordered to do the same (Continued on Page Six)

Photographic Mission Over Tokyo Bay Attacked Today By Fighters And Anti-aircraft Fire; Transports Attacked Yesterday; MacArthur Issues Curt Order

Okinawa, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Four American B-32 bombers, flying a purely photographic mission over the Tokyo Bay area today were attacked by 10 Japanese fighters and moderate to intense anti-aircraft fire.

One of the big four engine bombers was badly shot-up around the wings, flaps and opening, but none of the crew was hurt.

Two Japanese fighters were sent down in smoke and listed as probably destroyed. The engagement occurred around 20,000 feet at about midday.

The attack followed by two days General MacArthur's communique announcing that offensive action in all sectors had been halted except for purposes of observation, which "will be necessarily continued" after two Japanese kamikaze planes crashed into the Iheya Island 30 miles north of Okinawa, injuring two garrison troops, one fatally.

By RUSSELL BRINES Manila, Saturday, Aug. 18.—(AP)—General MacArthur announced at 2:45 a. m. today that the Japanese Government had notified him that its surrender emissaries had been selected and would leave by plane tomorrow for Manila.

This word came from the defeated enemy after two days of quibbling on the part of Tokyo and after MacArthur had curtly told Japan to comply with his directives "without further delay."

The Allied supreme command did not see a despatch for the capture of the Iheya Island area as an extended delay without good reason.

"The directive is clear and explicit and is to be complied with without further delay," the stern message said.

Members of the imperial family, carrying the emperor's cease fire order, left today for major fighting fronts under Allied safe conduct to plead with the military to accept a surrender which MacArthur is increasingly impatient to legalize.

Two planes bound for China and Manchuria should arrive in sufficient time to begin talking tomorrow with the generals of the Kwangtung army and armies in China.

A third group left for Indo-China, one day ahead of schedule, to avoid possible bad weather and should arrive tomorrow. MacArthur gave this imperial (Continued on Page Two)

STAYS DEATH AGED MARSHAL

Pétain's Sentence Commuted To Life Imprisonment

Paris, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Gen. De Gaulle today commuted Marshal Pétain's death sentence to life imprisonment.

The action consisted of approving a statement the court wrote into its verdict which expressed the wish that the execution not be carried out.

A jury of the high court of justice condemned the 80-year-old head of the Vichy regime to death for betraying the state to the Germans during the occupation.

Pétain denied the charge but made no plea for his life. The state presented a battery of former politicians including former premiers Paul Reynaud, Edouard (Continued on Page Six)

Mar Del Plata, Argentina, Aug. 17.—(AP)—A German submarine surrendered here today to Argentine naval authorities.

FARMERS BEWARE

Babson Discusses Post-war Farm Prices

Babson Park, Mass., August 17.—I had been no interference with prices. Since 1914, and especially since 1940, the artificial regulation of prices and production has raised havoc with forecasting. However, this interference is a good deal like damming a stream of water. You can temporarily slow-up the flow, but you do not destroy the water. Sooner or later this water must go over the dam. It is on this assumption that the Babsonchart is based.

Not only is the U. S. buying huge quantities of farm products, but the farmers are getting government bounties which upset forecasting. However, with the Atomic Bombs bringing the Japanese War to a speedy end, the next few years will see a lot of trouble for one crop farmers.

25 years ago the peak in World War I prices was reached. In May, 1920, prices received by farmers averaged 235 per cent of 1910-14. Just a year later the price index was down to 115. In May, 1945, the price index was 200. This means that farm prices more than doubled in each World War period. The total farm cash income was nearly five times as large in 1944 as in 1932,—in fact, in 1944 it was nearly the prosperous year of 1929. Recently there has been a leveling off. Farmers cash income for the first six months of 1945 was only 40 million dollars above the same period last year, including government payments.

Postwar Outlook When I tell farmers that a big slump in farm prices will come during the next few years, they reply by reciting their increases in costs—higher wages, higher taxes and higher everything from implements to fertilizer. In the long run, the cost of a product determines the (Continued on Page Four)

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Just before Japan's inquiry about peace terms, the Tokyo radio was directing a barrage of name calling against the Allies because of bombing — "barbaric," "savage," "inhuman" — and what not.

The Jap spokesmen also were surprisingly "frank" in broadcasting to the outside world but not to the home public) the effects of that first historic atomic bomb on Hiroshima—how every living thing, both human and animal, was destroyed. It was calculated to make one's flesh creep—and certainly had considerable success.

Well, now, these charges of barbarism, backed by stories of wholesale slaughter of civilians, were intended for more than mere vituperation. Their purpose was to break down the determination of the Allied peoples to carry the war through to utter destruction of Japan unless there was unconditional surrender. The Tokyo spokesmen were trying to play on our emotions.

The best answer I know to all this is a little story, in which the central figure is Col. Paul Tibbets, of Miami, Fla., who piloted the B-29 carrying the atomic bomb to Hiroshima. It will illustrate the code of the American airman—of the Allied airman, for that matter. I ran into Tibbets back in October, 1942, in England when he was just getting under way on the distinguished career that has weighed down his chest with decorations. He's a most likable chap and a grand fighting man, and withal one of the most unassuming fellows you

Today On The Home Front

By James Marlow

By JAMES MARLOW Washington, Aug. 17.—(AP)—President Truman has given a final shove to management and labor to get them into a room together.

He's calling a labor-management conference when Congress returns in September. It was no sudden presidential inspiration. The idea is not new. But it has been hanging in mid-air for some time. Time is running out.

With labor and management no longer tied together by the common bonds of war, resumption of the age-old fight between them seemed certain.

Last March the AFL, CIO and U. S. Chamber of Commerce sat down around a conference table, drew up a "new charter for labor and management."

Its purpose: To seek labor-management peace at war's end. It proposed voluntary machinery and peaceful settlement of disputes as substitutes for wartime controls.

So far nothing much has happened. The National Association of Manufacturers took no part in it. The AFL finally said it would not sit down with management and the CIO.

It said management could settle its AFL problems with the AFL and its CIO problems with the CIO. Then came the United Nations Conference in San Francisco. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) was an American delegate there.

He saw 30 nations, with widely different views and interests, reach some common understanding on what was good for them. He was impressed. He returned to Washington and Jap Planes . . .

There also was no indication that MacArthur had replied to an urgent request by the Japanese to ask a halt to what Tokyo termed a continued Soviet offensive in Manchuria.

Observers noted that Japanese communications were good enough to pinpoint the location of the Russian spearhead, although previously Tokyo had reported it may require six days for the cease fire order to reach the front lines in Manchuria and adjacent areas.

The Japanese wanted to know if the emissary would be required to sign surrender papers and MacArthur replied no.

The latest development in the tangled long-distance wireless negotiations occurred after Emperor Hirohito had strengthened his "cease fire" order with an imperial rescript to the armed forces to lay down their arms and had sent urgent messages on a number of points.

The Japanese emperor asked: (1) That the Russians halt their Manchuria offensive; (2) Allied forces "refrain from approaching Japan proper temporarily, and (3) The Additional instructions regarding deviations occurred conference.

Hirohito backed up his order to cease fire with an imperial rescript, which radio Tokyo said "called upon the army and navy to lay down their arms." The rescript carries more weight with the Japanese than his previous order.

Japan said her planes inflicted some damage in attacks on a dozen Allied transports yesterday because they "approached extremely near the coast of Kochi, Shikoku."

These startling developments were the latest to come out of long distance wireless negotiations in which the Japanese already have made it necessary to put off the Manila meeting, scheduled for today, until at least some time next week.

The messages were sent on the spur for official communication frequency designated by MacArthur for official communications.

One "urgently requested" MacArthur to "take proper steps to

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is indigestion.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And where it gets blocked when it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out thoroughly—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and thoroughly "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. Nature's own digestive juices can then reach it. You get genuine relief that makes you feel really good again.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore. "Unblock" your intestinal tract for real relief from indigestion.

Chapter 36
Ever so slowly and cautiously Madge opened her bedroom door. When she got down on her hands and knees and crawled into the room. Fortunately, the moonlight outlined every nook and corner she knew by heart, as she headed for a drawer in the chiffonier where she kept her purse. Suddenly she stopped in her tracks as she heard Mario turn over in bed. When Mario settled down again Madge continued her crawling. At last she reached her destination and carefully, ever so carefully, began to pull the drawer open; to her consternation, it squeaked! Finally, after innumerable squeaks, Madge had the drawer open, but she also had succeeded in opening Mario's eyes, which stared straight up at the ceiling too frightened to scan the room.

Madge rapidly felt around in the drawer for the purse; she found it, opened it, and retrieved the tiny vial. Then, tremulously, she turned and started crawling back toward the door.

Mario knew something was crawling around on the floor. She wanted to look, but the tide of fear had washed out her will power. Finally she managed to raise her trembling head just in time to see something creep out of the room. She wanted to scream, but her throat was too throttled with horror as she stared wild-eyed at the slowly closing door.

Madge scrambled to her feet and raced down the hall to Uncle Louie. "I have it! I have it, Uncle Louie!" she whisper triumphantly.

"Splendid, splendid, my dear!" he said. "I shall contact you tomorrow."

"Tomorrow," she repeated, as she quickly kissed him on the forehead. Ben Golder stepped briskly out of the elevator into the mirrored foyer of Mario Drew's penthouse, and gently pressed the buzzer. The living room door opened and Ben was greeted by a sleepy, yawning Sophie, who wore a tired-looking, faded robe. Ben, hugging the morning newspaper, breezed past her into the living room.

"Morning, Sophie," he said in high spirits.

"Little too early to judge, ain't it, Mr. Golder?" she asked acidly.

"I dropped by to take Aggie. I mean Miss Drew, to the theatre," he said and looked around. "Where is she?"

"Sleeping," she replied flatly.

"Sleeping?" he repeated.

"She was out all night, galavanting."

"She was?" he asked in surprise. Then he jerked out his watch and looked at it. "But it's nine o'clock. She'll be late for rehearsal!"

Sophie awakened Madge by yanking the cord on the window drapes, flooding the room with sunlight. Madge sat up bolt-like, blinking Mario's eyes.

"Where am I?" she cried, foggy with sleep.

"Here," said Sophie, handing her dressing gown. "Mr. Golder's waiting for you in the living room."

"Ben Golder?" she said aloud to herself. A frightened expression came over her face as she looked at Sophie and whispered, "Did you say Ben Golder, the famous theatrical producer, is waiting for me?"

"Yeh, answered the puzzled Sophie. "He's waitin' to take you to rehearsal."

"Rehearsal!" cried Madge in utter panic. "But I can't rehearse—I can't even act!"

"Take it from me," said Sophie wisely, "if you pull another walk-out powder on Mr. Golder, it will be your last."

Madge grew frightened. "What do you mean, Sophie?"

"You know what I mean; he'll black-ball you out of the profession."

"Tell Mr. Golder," she smiled sickly, "I'll be ready in a jiffy."

"Smart gal," approved Sophie, and left the room.

Madge was a nervous wreck when she entered the living room to meet Ben Golder for the first time. But in the eyes of Ben, Mario looked like a million dollars worth of cashable box office value.

"I knew you'd come to your senses," said Ben. He smiled slyly. "That's why I didn't call off rehearsals and that's why I didn't

WHERE WE STAND IS IMPORTANT

We have all noticed how different a landscape appears when viewed from different places.

If you have been accustomed to travel a highway in an automobile and then later you take a walk along that highway, you will notice that the appearance of the landscape decidedly changes with your change of position. Also when we approach a hill in an automobile it sometimes seems so steep that it seems we cannot ascend it, but as we go up, we find that ascent is gradual. Many a hill, which as we stand on the summit and look down is barren, takes on a quite different appearance when we stand at the foot of the hill and look to the summit. A landscape, which when viewed from one standpoint is utterly lacking in charm, becomes beautiful when we see it from another location or in another light.

So it is with many of the situations in life. It depends on where we stand as to how they look. It depends on when we view them as to whether they are beautiful or ugly. Circumstances cause us to stand in a certain place, and because of this we come to hate certain things and to love other things. But when with the passing of time our position changes, we may find that what we formerly loved we now hate, and what we formerly hated we now love.

The gospel of Christ does not change the circumstances of life, but it changes the position from which we view them. Jesus came not so much to teach men new truths as to get them to view all of life from new positions.

WASHINGTON
 DAYBOOK
 BY JACK STERNETT

The recent activities of Republican senators who are admittedly party leaders give every indication that they are

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg's recent letter-writing spree; Sen. Robert A. Taft's outline of a post-recess legislative program and his surprisingly liberal recommendations for national housing; the teaming of Sens. Harold H. Burton and Joseph H. Ball with Democratic Sen. Carl Hatch to sponsor legislation for a new federal labor relations board are just a few but very important indications that the party leaders are no longer going to be satisfied with simply tearing down the administration playhouse, but intend to build one of their own with which they can "point with pride" in the coming elections of 1946 and '48.

Sen. Vandenberg has been one of the party leaders in foreign policy for several years now and has led it consistently away from "isolationism." No one was particularly surprised when he vigorously defended the San Francisco charter. Most of his party colleagues applauded both with hands and affirmative votes.

His letter to Secretary of State Byrnes outlining a seven-point proposal for governing the choice and powers of the American delegate to the United Nations organization, and his suggestion that only the armed forces of the western hemisphere nations be allowed to police the western hemisphere, is a horse of another color.

Some administration spokesmen hastened to let it be known they weren't placing all their money on the nose of that Vandenberg horse by any means.

However, a day earlier, they couldn't do anything but string along when the Michigan senator proposed that Labor Secretary Schweinfach sponsor a labor-management-government "Big 3" conference to iron out the problems on the industrial home front. That suggestion got results im-diately.

Sen. Taft has been one of the most persistent dissenters to Democratic administration policies for years, so much so that his opponents across the aisle have long tried to pass off his criticism as nothing more than the outpouring of a confirmed and hide-bound conservative.

Then Sen. Taft's sub-committee on national housing made its report and recommendations for new housing legislation. Democratic senators Wagner and Ellender rushed to the Senate hopper with their housing bill the same day. Taft made public his report but both paid tribute to the Taft recommendations and stated that their bill differed only slightly from them. Sen. Taft confirmed this with a statement that if certain changes were made in the bill, he would join in sponsorship of it when it is brought to the floor this winter. Imagine. A Wagner-Taft-Ellender act.

Senators Burton and Ball have teamed with Senator Hatch before (in the B2-H2 foreign policy declaration) and wear the badge of Republican liberals, but their entry into the realm of labor legislation already has both parties geeing and hawing.

That's the kind of constructive fighting some forward-looking GOP backers have been pleading for a long, long time.

It is apparent that Mr. Truman thinks there should be some continuance of government controls over wages and for this reason: He wants prices to be kept down. If they are not, they threaten inflation.

But if labor, through strikes, can force employers to raise wages, then those employers could say the increased wages forced an increase in the prices of the things the workers made.

That's what Mr. Truman wants to avoid. That's why he says—the only wage increases which can be given now without government permission are those which will not cause a raise in prices.

Yet, as wartime controls ease off, some prices may go up. Labor then is certain to ask for higher pay.

be, pending a new study of the coal situation.

Fortas said he didn't want to cause a scare but "the coal problem is by no means solved."

Goods declared "surplus" by the army were valued at $121,000,000. They include not only jeeps but razor blades, pillows, sheets, towels, steam shovels, trains, tractors, wire, paper bags and spark plugs.

The Petroleum Administration for War, announcing its own end shortly, said a few controls will be kept for a time but that these will not interfere with the civilian consumer. The agency said the oil industry is in healthy condition and doesn't need any "reconversion" in the usual sense of the word.

While some transportation controls were dumped overboard, railroad passenger travel is still restricted. Also the ODT said it would lift restrictions on the frequency of retail and wholesale deliveries as soon as conditions permit. Conventions now may number 150 persons instead of 50.

When this country was engaged in a two-front war, the War Department figured it would need $3,700,000,000 worth of supplies from September, 1945, to December, 1947. A one-front war slashed this down to $2,500,000,000. At yesterday's news conference, the figure shrank to $4,400,000,000. Most of this will be used for food, clothing and general army housekeeping.

This will free from 2,300,000 to 3,000,000 employes for work on civilian goods. Gen. Brehon Somervell, commanding general of the Army Services Forces, said:

Sixty-nine government owned plants will be kept, at least temporarily, by the army. Bruce said 206 already have been turned over to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and another 44 are being held until the army makes up its mind.

selling price, but there is always a slump before prices are adjusted to costs. For a few years following World War II, only little attention will be given to farmers' costs.

All the above means that the wise farmer will today not over-expand or buy more land. He will first get out of debt; secondly, he will buy agricultural implements and make repairs to reduce his postwar costs; and thirdly, he will save money, through buying government bonds and accumulating a good bank account for the troublous years that are ahead.

Special Note: The above message to farmers is all the more important now that Japan has surrendered. Do not be so jubilant about getting your boys home that they will find a farm burdened with debt or

Hoye Favors Ending Draft Immediately

Shelby, Aug. 17—(AP)—Senator Clyde R. Hoye is in favor of discontinuing the Selective Service Draft immediately.

At a Board of Trade and Merchants' Association of Breward meeting yesterday Hoye said, "There is no longer any justification for drafting young men for the armed service and this should be discontinued at once. We have 3,000,000 men in the Army and nearly 3,000,000 men in the Navy. Only about 5,000,000 of these can be discharged

Baseball

By JACK HAND
(AP Sports Writer)
Billy Southworth's tattered St. Louis Cardinals, still cannot be counted out of the National League race.
Five games back with 42 to go, 12 against Chicago, the world champs are making hay in the Philly sunshine while the Cubs are wrestling with the alert Brooklyn Dodgers.
Although Charley Grimm's happy band all but knocked the Dodgers loose from their moorings in a 20-6 series opener, Lippy Leo Durocher led the Bums back on their toes yesterday to grab a 2-1 evening behind Tom Seaver.
The Lip went on record June 1 as saying Seaver never would start another game for the Brooks as long as he was manager but since then Uncle Tom has started six, won five and gone all the way three times.

Seaver copped an important one for Durocher yesterday with a banner holiday crowd of 27,882 paid pushing the season attendance to 903,512 and adding another $5,000 to Leo's bonus-plus salary.
The lefthander celebrated his complete emergence from the dog house by scoring the first run, knocking in the second and fanning Bill Nicholson on a called third strike with the tying run on third in the ninth.
While the Bruins were falling, the Cards were shutting out the Phillies, 4-0, on Ken Burkhardt's two-hit effort.
Cincinnati finally broke its 12-game losing streak by sweeping a double bill from Boston, 5-3 and 8-3.
The Van Mungo-Ace Adams combination clicked again for the New York Giants in a 2-1 photo finish victory over Pittsburgh on the strength of Manager Mel Ott's 17th round tripper. Adams retired pinch hitter Jack Saltgaver with the bases loaded in the ninth on his 51st relief appearance.
Hal Newhouser tossed his glove on the hill and Washington promptly curled up again for the 10th time in two years and the fifth straight this season, 9-2. Detroit kayped Marino Pieretti to the delight of 35,681 fans who lifted the season total close to the 900,000 mark, and restored its lead over the Nats to 3 1-2 lengths.
Dave Ferriss missed out on his bid for win No. 20 as the Chicago White Sox shelled him in a first division berth by shading Philadelphia, 7-6 on Dutch Meyer's single in the last of the ninth.

Phantoms Begin Drills For Coming Grid Season

First Game Will Be Played In Goldsboro Friday Night September 7

Greenville High School Coach "Doc" Clark had about 35 candidates for this season's football team out for practice Thursday. Seventeen of the boys are lettermen and some of the other candidates are promising material, Clark said. He has only three weeks in which to whip into shape a new formation and get ready for the opening game of the season, September 7, when the Phantoms play Goldsboro High in Goldsboro. Practice is being held twice daily in the ravine near the school at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. In bad weather Coach Clark gives the boys their workouts in the school gymnasium.

This season's schedule will be one of the hardest in the football history of Greenville High. Coach Clark said today. He believes that some of the new candidates will considerably strengthen the team.

The schedule for this season is as follows:

September 7—Goldsboro here.
September 14—LaGrange here (pending).
September 21—New Bern here.
September 28—Tarboro here.
October 5—Elizabeth City here.
October 12—New Bern there.
October 19—Kinston there.
October 26—Tarboro there.
November 2—Elizabeth City there.
November 9—Goldsboro here.
November 16—Goldsboro here.

Coach Clark is considering a suggestion by the Goldsboro coach to organize a midweek football team here.

Superior Court To Convene Next Week

A one-week civil term of Superior Court is scheduled to be convened here next Monday. Judge C. E. Thompson of Elizabeth City will preside. A majority of the cases to be heard at the civil term are divorces. Because the Meadows trial is being held in a special civil at the courthouse the regular civil term may be convened in the courtroom at the City Hall. There is a possibility that the civil term may be postponed. If it is held it will convene at 2:30 p. m. Monday instead of at the regular hour of 10 o'clock.

A one-week criminal term of Superior Court is scheduled to be convened here Monday, August 27. The docket is unusually heavy and contains some important cases, including breaking and entering and larceny, hit-and-run driving, etc.

Nearly 18 Inches Rain Is Recorded

By CHESTER WALSH

Nearly 18 inches of rain (17.87) has fallen in this territory since noon 8, and it is raining while the report is being written. Mrs. B. T. Smith of the Greenville Machine Works reported today that the rain now stands at 18.14 inches.

The heaviest rainfall this summer was during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. on June 24, when 22.14 inches was recorded.

The Greenville section has received an average rainfall this summer. Since the 1st of May, the rainfall has been 47.27 inches. There were only eight clear days during July. Nine days were partly cloudy and the balance were cloudy. The rainfall totaled 7.90 inches in July. There were only 13 days in that month when it did not rain.

In August 5.35 inches of rain had been recorded up to 8 o'clock this morning.

It was still raining at noon today. Farmers expressed anxiety over crops ripening in the fields, especially corn and peanuts.

The heaviest rain last summer was on June 30, when a torrential downpour lasting several hours tallied more than five inches and ended a long dry period during which tobacco and other crops were about to perish in the fields.

Jap Vice-Admiral Commits Suicide

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—The Japanese navy ministry announced Friday afternoon (Japanese time) that Vice-Admiral Takijiro Onishi vice-chief of the navy general staff had committed suicide, leaving a note which said he wanted to "make atonement to the souls of my former subordinates and to members of their bereaved families," the Tokyo radio said.

Onishi was the originator of the kamikaze (suicide) special attack corps and since May 29 was commander of the naval suicide forces.

Says Dangerous Days Are Ahead

Washington, Aug. 17—(AP)—The greatest menace to this country now that the war is over is the attitude that "our country owes us a living," Rep. Bryson (D-SC) asserted today.

The South Carolinian in an interview said, "If that doctrine is accepted by the majority of our people, we are in great danger as a nation."

"While the government should work for the people, that does not mean it should support the people. To the extent it does, people in turn become the slaves of the government," he maintained.

"Jefferson is as right today as ever that the government is best that governs least," he declared.

Moreover, he added, "no one can believe that we can now simply return to old, easygoing ways," as long as such "awful dangers remain. If we fail to fight on against them, all that we have won can still be lost."

"This country and the world," he said, "need a reconnaissance of goodwill, and an end to political demagoguery by extremists on both sides."

Mrs. Burnette Given Term In Prison

By CHESTER WALSH

In Police Court today Judge Roberts found Mrs. Elizabeth Burnette guilty of operating a house of prostitution and sentenced her to a year in jail, sentence to be served at the women's division of State Prison. The court stipulated that if she leaves Pitt County and sells her real estate within six months the sentence will be suspended.

Mrs. Burnette was also convicted of illegal possession of liquor for sale and selling beer without a license. The court gave her a year on these two charges, sentence to be served at the women's division of State Prison, or pay a fine of $200 and costs. Mrs. Burnette gave notice of appeal to Superior Court.

After the hearing Police Chief Jim Tanner said "Greenville is a college town and a good place to bring up young people, and, as far as possible, I am going to make it uncomfortable for those who conduct places of vice here. Greenville's too good a town to harbor such things."

Probable cause was found against George Dunn, Jr., and Charles Kinton, 17-year-old white youths, for breaking and entering Duke's service station on the Bethel highway and the larceny of money, wine and tobacco early last Wednesday morning. Judge Roberts sent the case to Superior Court under $500 bond.

Chief Tanner said Charles Kinton of Greenville is an escaped convict. He was serving from three to five years in State Prison for breaking and entering. He escaped from a prison road gang in Caldwell County.

Other cases disposed of in Police Court today were:

Carrie Nobles, colored, assault with deadly weapon, 30 days or $25;
George Shine, colored, drunk, 30 days in jail, to be served on city's streets;
John V. Midyette, speeding, $15;
Eddie Dancy, colored, larceny, $15;
Daniel H. Gillis, drunk, 30 days or $15.
Zebbie D. Hines, colored, assault with deadly weapon, was given 60 days in jail or pay a fine of $25. On another charge of assault with a deadly weapon Zebbie Hines was not guilty. Lillie Mae Dawson, colored, prosecuting witness, was taxed with court costs for mischievous prosecution.

RUSSO - POLE PACT SIGNED

Treaty Establishes Curzon Line As Boundary

London, Aug. 17—(AP)—Russia and Poland have signed a treaty, the Moscow radio said today, establishing the Curzon Line as the Polish-Soviet boundary except for a few deviations "in Poland's favor."

The treaty also included an agreement on compensation for damages caused by German occupation, the broadcast said.

One deviation gives Poland about 30 kilometers in "territory situated east of the Curzon Line up to the Western Bug River and the Solokki River south of the town of Krylow," according to the broadcast text of the treaty.

Poland was given "part of the territory of Bjalowies Forest in the section of Wienrow-Jlowka situated to the east of the Curzon line in another deviation."

"Pending a final decision on the territorial question at the peace settlement, part of the Polish-Soviet frontier adjoining the Baltic Sea will pass in conformity with the decision of the Berlin conference along lines leading from a point on the eastern shore of Danzig Bay eastward to north of Raunserbergoldat," the radio said.

The reparations agreement was described as "in conformity" with the decisions made at the Potsdam conference.

It gave Poland all German property and assets "throughout the territory of Poland including that part of the territory of Germany which passed to Poland."

In addition, the radio said, Russia agreed to "concede to Poland 15 per cent of all reparations delivered from the Soviet zone of occupation in Germany after the Potsdam conference and 15 per cent of the complete industrial capital equipment which Russia receives from the western zones of occupation—this to be "in exchange for other goods from Poland."

A special Soviet-Polish Reparations Committee will be established to handle the details, the broadcast said.

Abandons Plans For Legion Meet

New Orleans, Aug. 17—(AP)—Lack of room to house the more than 250,000 expected delegates has forced New Orleans to abandon intentions of seeking the full-dress American Legion victory convention scheduled for the fall of 1946.

Alcee S. Legendre, president of the New Orleans convention corporation of the Legion, in announcing the city's retirement from the field of convention seekers, said:

"New York and Chicago are the only ones that could possibly offer sufficient hotel facilities," he said. "Considering the number of troops that will have returned more than a year after the end of the war, I expect there will be anywhere from a quarter million to a half million men at that convention."

New Orleans was selected for the 1942 convention but wartime transportation difficulties forced transfer of the meeting to Kansas City.

To Resume Races

New York, Aug. 17—(AP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, president of the Indianapolis speedway, said today that the 500-mile memorial day automobile race last held in 1941, will be resumed May 30, 1946, "barring unforeseen circumstances."

"It probably will be the fastest event of its kind," Rickenbacker said, "due to new developments such as jet propulsion and the gas turbine."

Rufus A. Doughton Died This Morning

Sparta, Aug. 17—(AP)—Rufus A. Doughton, 90, former lieutenant governor of North Carolina, died suddenly early this morning at his home here.

Death came shortly after breakfast while he was reading a newspaper. He had been in poor health for several years.

Doughton served several terms in the State Legislature and was once chairman of the State Highway Commission. A lawyer and civic leader, he also was president of several banks in this section.

He was a brother of Rep. Robert L. Doughton, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Other survivors include his wife, a son, Kemp Doughton, a lawyer of Baltimore, a daughter, Mrs. Sidney Thomas of Sparta, a brother, Frank Doughton of Laurel Springs, and two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Carson of Sparta, and Mrs. Miller of Laurel Springs.

Observer Loses Assistant Editor

Raleigh, Aug. 17—(AP)—C. A. Upchurch, Jr., assistant managing editor of the News and Observer since October 1943, has resigned to join the staff of radio station WRAL here effective Sept. 1.

Upchurch will edit the "News of Raleigh" program formerly handled by W. C. Hendricks, who resigned to become editor in the Office of the Chief Signal Officer in Washington. Hendricks was a former city editor of the Asheville Citizen.

A veteran newspaperman, Upchurch was in charge of the State College News Bureau before going with the News and Observer. He previously had served on the news staffs of the Raleigh Times and the Observer, and was information officer for the North Carolina Office of Civilian Defense.

volunteers, not inductees. Congress objected vigorously to lowering the draft age to 18 in the first place, yielding only on the plea that it was essential to the war effort.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military Committee disclosed several days ago that he would introduce a bill to kill the draft law. He sees no need, he said, to draft any more men.

Many congressmen believe the army can continue to release its veterans without interfering with occupation plans. At the same time, they say each additional man inducted adds to the cost of the war. Every inductee is entitled, upon discharge, to mustering-out pay, in addition to payments under the allotment and loanance act.

Congress now is shaping up an economy drive which likely will be aimed at the army and the navy, the largest spending agencies during the war years.

Whether Mr. Truman will cross swords with Congress on the subject of peacetime military training will depend on the nature of recommendations he said he would make soon.

The chief executive indicated he would recommend a postwar military training program which he emphasized would not be conscription. Congress is in no mood to accept any form of peacetime program calling for compulsory training under army supervision.

The general expectation on Capitol Hill is that Mr. Truman will ask for a program that will permit very sharp enlargement of the size of troops.

A Soviet communique said the Japanese counter attacks were made at three points and were repulsed by the Russian capture of the key communication cities of Wanching, Kiamusse and Taon.

The counter attacks were the first they had encountered, the Russians said, since they began their massive armored drive into Manchuria a week ago today.

The Russians reported also that they were pushing closer to the major General Manchuria arsenal and communications center of Harbin in the Amur River fleet joining in the battle against the Japanese in the Sungari River valley.

Petaun's defense was offered mainly from a long array of French generals, including Maxime Weyand, who was commander in chief at the time of the armistice. An unexpected witness was Pierre Laval, described as Petaun's "evil genius," who occupied the stand for two days after being brought to France after his exit from Spain. Laval's testimony was chiefly a defense of himself. Both he and Weyand face trials.

The jury was composed of 12 parliamentarians and 12 drawn from resistance organizations.
