These wrecked shrimp fishing boats litter the waterfront at Port Laverne, Tex., after passage of the hurricane which swept northward along the Mexican and Texas coasts. The storm brought death to at least three persons and did damage estimated at millions of dollars. (AP Wirephoto).

Congress May Conduct Full Investigation Of Pearl Harbor Disaster

Legislative Leaders Will Begin Probe Unless Courts Martial Are Ordered; Efforts Toward Merger Of Armed Forces Into Unified Command To Continue

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—Capitol Hill resounded today with clamor for further official investigation of Pearl Harbor.

Legislative leaders of both party faiths declared flatly that if courts martial are not ordered for those censured in Army-Navy findings Congress will conduct its own hearings.

Those leaders, speaking privately for the most part, said the people want and should be given more facts than were made public in documents released by President Truman Wednesday.

No committee chairman would promise an inquiry initiated by his own group, but several told a reporter there was no doubt Congress would insist on the full story.

Meanwhile, the State Department released a letter written by former Secretary of State Hull, Sept. 28, 1944, in which Hull staunchly denied that his pre-war counter proposals to Japan constituted an ultimatum that provoked the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

The Army Board's report on the disaster had said Hull "touched the button" that started the war.

Typical of today's congressional assertions was the comment to a reporter by House Republican Whip Amden (Ill.).

"The people are entitled to the full story. If they don't get it from the armed forces they'll ask us to dig it out. Naturally, we do what the public wants."

At Detroit Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said a resolution calling for a full Senate investigation of the attack is on his desk in Washington and will be presented to the chamber as soon as it reconvenes next week.

With sentiment apparently mounting, too, for action to assume permanent establishment of some form of unified command for the armed forces, there were these developments:

1. Chairman Woodrum (D-Va.) of the House Postwar Military Policy Committee said his group probably will begin hearings within a month on legislation to merge the Army and Navy into a single national department of defense.

CONGRESSMEN ON HOT SPOT

May Ask Truman To Talk On Draft And Discharges

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—A plan developed in Congress today to ask President Truman to get the lawmakers off a very hot seat.

The proposal, advanced by members of the House Military Committee, is that Mr. Truman either address Congress or the nation to explain:

- 1. Why he and the army want the draft continued.
2. Why discharges from the armed forces aren't occurring faster.

"Several of us on the committee are considering asking the President to discuss the issue with the people," Representative Anderson (R-Ill.) told a reporter.

Children Must Be 6 To Enter School

The North Carolina school law provides that children entering school for the first time must be six years old by October 1 and they must be vaccinated against smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough.

The Pitt County schools opened yesterday for the 1945-46 session with a good attendance. No appreciable increase in enrollment was reported from any of the schools.

Transporting children in school buses is still under wartime regulations. The schools are doing the best they can with present equipment, which was overhauled and improved during the summer.

NEW SPANISH REGIME SET UP

Reconversion Program Is Ahead Of Schedule

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—Government officials conceded today that events taking place in Mexico City could lead the way to a Big Four showdown on Spain's Franco government.

A Spanish government in exile, headed by former Premier Jose Giral, has been established in Mexico to after a series of moves which at least on the surface—united various Spanish republican factions.

Manuel Fello, acting Foreign Minister of Mexico, said in Mexico City yesterday his government had recognized the new exiled regime.

No official word of that action has reached Washington, but it was not unexpected here. Other Latin American countries may follow Mexico's lead. That might cause concern about hemisphere unity.

But what really concerns American officials is this: Will Russia, which gave the most aid to Spanish republicans during the civil war, and which never recognized Franco, give its official blessing to the Spanish government in exile?

If so, the major Allies in Europe would face a ticklish situation. American and British policy toward Franco is negative; neither government likes him; neither will permit his regime to join the United Nations.

But both believe it is up to the Spanish people themselves to get rid of Franco, and the hope is that.

Truman Orders Closing Of OWI

WILL DISCUSS REPARATIONS

Russia And America Differ Over Use Of Forced Labor

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—Divergent United States-Russian policies on forced German labor may extend among other Allies.

Officials here are not yet certain whether a showdown will come in the Allied Reparations Commission, but they appear almost certain that if it does this country's view will lose out.

The American position is that the only Germans put into compulsory labor should be those convicted of war crimes or those found officially to be members of criminal Axis organizations.

The French want 1,000,000 German prisoners of war to work in their country for two years. They figure that would supply about half the man-hours needed to repair the devastation of their country.

Other disclosures by Pauley: 1. Some German money once owned by American financial interests has been returned.

More Prisoners Are Liberated

By VERN HAUGLAND

Ofuna Prison Camp, near Yokohama, Aug. 31—(AP)—We found 103 Allied airmen, who had been imprisoned three years and never permitted to send or receive mail, in this hidden and unregistered torture farm today.

Some came from carriers like the Essex, Wasp, Hornet, Franklin, Lexington, Langley and Shangri-la. They were fighter and bomber crews from the Marianas, China and the Aleutians.

There were two survivors from the destroyer Pope, two from the submarine Perch, one from the U. S. New York.

The survivors from the Perch said the submarine's entire crew of 54 survived the sinking of the submarine.

V-J Day

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—The White House said today that President Truman's V-J Day proclamation will be sandwiched in between descriptive broadcasts of the signing of the Japanese surrender aboard the battleship Missouri.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said it is not known now just when the signing will take place, but it is hoped that it will be around 10 or 11 p. m. Eastern War Time tomorrow, in which event the President will go on the air for eight or nine minutes immediately after the signatures are affixed.

"We are still awaiting final word about the surrender ceremonies," Ross said. He added the tentative plan provides for a radio hookup over all networks from the battleship Missouri, then for the President to speak immediately afterward, with a shift back, after he finishes, to the Missouri for the remainder of the program.

"All the networks are interested and they have our full cooperation," he said. "It is their suggestion and we like it."

Ross reiterated the President's remarks will have "no legal significance." This means that the official end of the war will not take place—for legal purposes—until some time in the indefinite future.

BUSY TERM OF COURT ENDED

Large Number Of Cases Disposed Of In Four Days

By CHESTER WALSH

Judge Charles Everett Thompson of Elizabeth City and Solicitor Dave M. Clark during four days of the one-week criminal term of Superior Court considerably reduced the very heavy docket and the Pasquotank jurist adjourned court for the term Thursday afternoon.

Stars And Stripes Replacing Rising Sun Throughout Japan; Plans For Official Surrender Sunday Morning (Japan Time) Progressing Smoothly

By SPENCER DAVIS

Yokohama, Aug. 31—American troops moved up to the southern edge of Tokyo today in their second day of a bloodless occupation in which they were extending their control swiftly across the bay area.

Parade troops, shooting Japanese in the arm when they failed to halt in a restricted area, completed the occupation of this sixth greatest city of Japan, where General MacArthur has set up headquarters.

Then they sifted on north through the Kawasaki area looking for more prisoner of war camps and moved up to positions on the south bank of the Tama River, which winds along Tokyo's southern outskirts.

The Japanese government asked Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger to make Tokyo out of bounds for his U. S. Eighth Army troops pending demobilization to avoid possible friction.

More troops were pouring in hourly by air to swell the initial landings of more than 6,000 men and officers.

Marines took over the Tatemayama naval base and air station guarding the approaches to Tokyo Bay.

Eichelberger's veterans of the Philippines campaign will occupy this point and the Tokyo plain after the historic signing of the surrender Sunday aboard the battleship Missouri in the bay.

Airborne troops were due today to move across to the east shore of Tokyo Bay for the first time and occupy the naval anchorage of Kisarazu, north of where the Marines now are operating.

"I haven't seen so many peaceful Japs in a long time," Eichelberger declared in complimenting his long-time enemies for living up to the letter of the occupation agreement.

"If the Japanese continue their present attitude, there will be no trouble for them nor for us."

In contrast to the clear beautiful weather which marked yesterday's airborne landing at Atsugi and the occupation of Yokosuka naval base, up and across the bay from Tatemayama, the Leathernecks took possession of the vital naval installation in a driving rain storm.

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

As General MacArthur says, "It has been a long, hard road but this looks like the pay-off."

That is, it's the military pay-off marking Allied victory at arms in the closing phase of the World War. The supreme commander didn't say this is the end of the road. It's very far from the end, for the highway leading to real peace winds far away beyond the horizon. We must make the Japs not only peaceable but peace-minded.

"The Japs," MacArthur states "seem to be offering us complete good faith and there is every hope for success in the capitulation and that it will continue without friction and without unnecessary bloodshed."

The Japanese remain the same primitive people who believe that might is right, and on that basis admit that the Allies are right. When you read the stories of brutality and torture coming out of the prison camps where our men have been held, you realize that the leopard hasn't changed his spots.

However, that's the dark side of the picture, for while the Japs haven't yet changed his nature, we know that human nature is susceptible to change. Hitler demonstrated that by turning a considerable portion of the German population into gangsters in a few years of intensive propaganda.

So the nature of the Japanese can be changed, but the task will be tremendous because of the very fact that they are a primitive folk. If it could be done by force, it would be easy. But use of the big stick wouldn't turn the trick, for the effect would remain only so long as they still smarted from the hiding. The change must be achieved by education.

Japs Surrender Marcus Island

Guam, Aug. 31—(AP)—Rear Adm. F. E. M. Whiting today accepted the surrender of Marcus Island from Japanese Rear Adm. M. Matsutara in a ceremony aboard the U. S. Destroyer Bagley.

The Japanese officer told Whiting his garrison was 2,455 navy personnel, the majority ill, emaciated and suffering from dysentery. Three hundred others were permitted to depart two days ago aboard a Japanese destroyer-transport, which brought food and supplies to the starving Japanese.

Lt. Commander Roger C. Brown, of Candor, N. D., commander of the Bagley, witnessed the surrender.

Death Sentence For Aiding Nazis

Brussels, Aug. 31—(AP)—Heiga Zweig, a 20-year-old German Jewess who came to Brussels with her parents just before the outbreak of the war, was found guilty by a military court martial today of "ruthless collaboration" with the Germans and sentenced to death.

The young woman was charged with frequenting Brussels bars and night clubs during the German occupation where she gained the confidence of Belgian patriots and denounced them to the Gestapo.

Today On The Home Front

By James Marlow

Washington, Aug. 31—(AP)—Chairman J. A. Krug of the War Production Board has given a vivid picture of what manufacturing is doing now—turning to peacetime output—and what it hopes to do.

WPB set out to survey 62 industries, major ones, to find out what they had been doing before the war, in July before the war ended, this month, and what they hoped to do by December, 1945, and by June, 1946.

But when information had been gathered from only 42 of the 62 industries Krug released a report on their activities. Those 42 industries represent 3,750 manufacturers.

The stuff they manufacture ranges from power cranes and shovels to electric toasters, refrigerators and sewing machines. They presented a hopeful picture. But it was a picture which, when presented as of now, should make everyone realize how far those firms have to go to get into full swing.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR August 31, 1905

September, the ninth month is here.

The tobacco warehouses had large breaks again today.

The "r" months having arrived the oyster will get in the soup.

About as might have been expected, when the farmers are about to have gotten ready for market the price gets to dropping. If it goes below ten cents we do not believe many of them are going to sell.

Mrs. C. T. Munford, chairman, Mrs. T. I. Moore and Mrs. Luther Whitehurst, was appointed to look after all matters for immediate action. It was decided to put on a drive to obtain at least 100 subscriptions for "Holland's Magazine" during the month of September, with Mrs. Nash Joyner in charge of this drive and every member was urged to secure as many subscriptions as possible. The money derived from this drive will be used for a worthwhile project for the new Masonic and Eastern Star Home on Fifth Street.

The Worthy Matron of the Greenville Chapter, O. E. S., Mrs. David Williford, was a guest of the club and Mrs. Walter Cherry, and Mrs. Fenner Corbett were also guests. Mrs. Williford asked the club members to remember the O. E. S. bazaar to be held this fall and to be making things for it now during leisure hours.

A delightful social hour was held after the meeting, the hostesses serving a delicious course.

Winterville Literary Club The Winterville Literary Club met in August at the home of Miss Alice Graves Hunsucker, with Mrs. Mamie Liverman acting as assistant hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Roy T. Cox. There was a discussion on ways and means of making our town a more sanitary place in which to live. Mrs. D. L. Moore and Mrs. J. D. McArthur were appointed as a committee to write the town officials asking that garbage be collected at least once a week.

Mrs. Roy T. Cox gave a very interesting talk on "Hymnology." She told the club that every real hymn has its story, if we could only discover it. The background of the author's life, his spiritual experiences, his sufferings and his victories are all woven into the thought and feelings of a great hymn. Isaac Watts is known as "The Father of Hymnology." When he was quite a boy he criticized the hymns of his day so much it was suggested to him that he try to write something better. He said nothing about it but went quietly to work to supply a need which he was the first to see.

There was much opposition for some of the people were of the opinion that Watts was taking too much liberty with the word of God. He gave them this reply: "The Bible is God's word to us and our songs are our words to Him. Does it not seem to you that we have the same right to compose songs as to pray original prayers?" In spite of this criticism he went to work and in a few days arranged many of the Psalms as well as other scriptural passages in English verse. In all, he produced more than 600 hymns, many of which are the great hymns in any age and the continuing popularity of certain of Dr. Watts' hymns is one of the wonders of hymnology.

Mrs. Cox listed as one of Watts' greatest achievements the hymn "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." She pointed out that as we study and read the hymn we find that it is a paraphrase of the Nineteenth Psalm. It tells the story of the crucifixion of Christ. She stated that it has been called the greatest hymn in the English language.

After the program, the club was invited into the dining room where delicious punch, nuts and cookies were served by the hostesses.

Transferred Cpl. Arthur E. Barst, Jr., has been transferred from the Kinston Air Base to San Diego, Calif.

Girl Remarries; Husband Found Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Only 12 days after she had married an uncle of the husband she thought dead, 19-year-old Ann Ross Birdwell received the stunning news that her soldier husband was alive and safe—one of the hundreds liberated in the last few days from Japanese prison camps.

Staff Sgt. Gene D. Birdwell, 21, a gunner on a Liberator bomber, was reported by the War Department killed in action over Borneo last October, 12 days ago, his supposed widow married Jack Marshall, 33, an uncle of the sergeant.

"It just leaves me numb," Mrs. Birdwell-Marshall said last night at the home of her parents. "It's wonderful news, but—" and the bewildered bride made a futile gesture dismissing any solution for the present.

Marshall, a garage mechanic in Wichita, Kas., who has four children by a previous marriage, would make no comment about the startling turn of events.

"I won't have anything to say until I hear more about this news," he said. "It is too strange to talk about it. She is terribly upset now and I don't think anyone ought to bother her with the future."

His bride added, "I don't know what I'll do about it. I'll have to have time to think this out."

Marshall received a medical discharge from the navy in May, 1941. News about the welfare of the sergeant came from the Kansas City Star's Pacific correspondent, who reported that Birdwell was now safely aboard the evacuation ship Reeves off Yokohama.

The doctor says I need a few vitamins, otherwise I'm Ok," the newly liberated prisoner told his newspaper correspondent. He said that his plane was shot down in flames over Balikpapan, Borneo, but that he had parachuted before the plane blew up.

The sergeant has had no chance as yet to hear of the events that have taken place the past two weeks in the family.

Wanted, Excitement Lancaster Pa., Aug. 31.—(AP)—Four girls, aged nine to 12, set a $30,000 blaze in the Pennsylvania Railroad Union Stockyards because they "wanted excitement," reported Fire Marshal Robert M. Strauhan.

Strauhan said the girls told him yesterday they had organized a club but that playing with dolls became dull. He ordered them sent to juvenile court, but first turned them over to their parents for spankings. He said they got the spankings.

But if Russia were to recognize the exiled government, American officials concede that some Big Four compromise might result. This country might be forced to take an active part in giving Franco the heave-ho and setting up a provisional government in which some exiled leaders would participate. Something like that happened in Poland. That may be what the exiled "republican" really hope to achieve.

American officials believe, however, that Russia may hesitate to grant early recognition to the Mexico City Spanish regime. These officials note that no Communists were asked to join the Giral cabinet; also that Juan Negrin, last premier of republican Spain, was left out.

Negrin, although a nominal Socialist, received Communist support. On the other hand, Russia's recent refusal to back Chinese Communists against the central government of China—as reflected in the new Soviet-Chinese friendship treaty—makes it hazardous to predict Moscow's attitude toward the recent events at Mexico City.

Neither this country nor England will take any action that might plunge Spain into another civil war; hence, neither will help an exiled government try to take over from Franco by force.

On his recent visit to Washington, General Charles DeGaulle associated his provisional French government with that policy.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS

and thanks for a big job well done!

VICTORY has been won—suddenly, gloriously. The Government has ordered cessation of war work. Our Nation returns to pursuits of peace.

This return demands the same universal readjustment that the all-out war effort required. Every American is affected. That means every worker, every resident of every town.

Your community has played its role in the history of World War II... a record brilliant and enduring. It was made with the silent, inconspicuous efficiency essential to important war production. We know

And now we want everybody to know the accomplishment of the personnel at National Carbon's Greenville plant, a property of the United States Government, operated by National Carbon Company, Inc. This was not a glamorous work—but it was a vital, indispensable part of the war program. National Carbon's Greenville plant produced "Krene" fabric products in tremendous volume, an output devoted in entirety to military use. That job is done.

With all America, we are gratified and thankful for this achievement; we extend our compliments to the men and women who made it possible—GOOD AMERICANS, every one of them. We hope this is not "good-bye." Perhaps, before too long, we will be working with you here again, this time in making our products of peace.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE ANSWER IS YES
The story of Daniel and the lions' den is familiar to all Bible readers. This faithful worshipper of Jehovah, conspired against by his enemies, found himself facing death in the lions' den. The king who reluctantly condemned him hurried to the den after Daniel had spent a night there and cried out to the condemned man: "O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee?"

It was a question anxiously asked by a tenderhearted pagan and answered by a devout man of God. Here was Daniel, innocently involved in tragic circumstances over which he had no control. The pagan King Darius could find in his philosophy of life no answer to an injustice like this. But like many people who do not have much religious faith themselves, he had the haunting conviction that Daniel and men who do have religious faith have the one thing that is worth while. In the early dawn, therefore, he hurried to the lions' den and anxiously asked the question, "O Daniel... is thy God able to deliver thee...?"

Daniel's answer was, "My God has sent His angel and hath shut the lions' mouths, and they have not hurt me." The answer to King Darius' question is always Yes. God is able to deliver us from sin, anxiety, discouragement, sorrow, failure, disappointment, pain—all the lions into whose dens we are often cast by circumstances over which we have no control.

hama area a close up look at the mighty 45,000-ton symbol of American sea power.
The flood-tide of American military power rolled in by air in a stream that will continue at least until mid-September, when a half million troops will be billeted in this conquered country.

We bolster the first forces of more than 18,000 the U. S. Eighth Army under Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger was due to start landing tomorrow at Yokohama and Tateyama, guardian of Tokyo Bay. A new unidentified division was scheduled to land Sunday at Tokyo's Atsugi airfield.

Smoothly the Americans at Yokosuka naval base, at the Atsugi field, and at Yokohama linked up and spread throughout an area of more than 200 miles with more territory to be taken in quickly.
From Tokyo all over the far-reaching East Asian front down to Truk and Indo-China, the Japanese surrender grew without a single reported hitch.

General MacArthur, Allied supreme commander for Japan, established his temporary headquarters in the new Grand Hotel in Yokohama, Tokyo's port city.
The American Embassy in Tokyo, its roof half burned off in an American bombing April 25, was scheduled for quick repair to become MacArthur's regular headquarters.

No immediate march into Tokyo was planned, but in a surprise widening sphere the Stars and Stripes supplanted the Japanese sun on the flagpoles of Japan.
For all the Japanese attitude of submission, the occupation forces were taking no chances on treachery.

Both yesterday, at the time of the formal mass landings at Yokosuka naval base in Tokyo Bay and at the Atsugi Airfield southwest of Tokyo, and again today, more than 100 superfortresses and 60 Mustang fighters roared in steady circles over the landing scenes.

Nothing happened, but the Superfortresses and fighters were ready with 50-caliber machine guns to annihilate any show of opposition.

That the American precautions were well founded was indicated by Japanese who talked to Associated Press Correspondent Russell Brines, as he strolled the streets of Tokyo for several hours, un molested.

Brines said that some fanatical Japanese militarist elements were so determined to continue the war that they publicly threatened to shoot down the surrender emissar-

C'mon Boys, Shake

... who fled to Manila to receive General MacArthur's instructions. Japanese antiaircraft on tiny Miyake Island, 90 miles south of Tokyo, fired several rounds at American transport planes only yesterday, without damage but with hostile intent.
Still, Brines and other observers here agreed as to the peculiar passivity of the Japanese, many of whom expressed happiness that the war was over and contended that Emperor Hirohito had broken the militarists' grip by himself deciding to sue for peace.

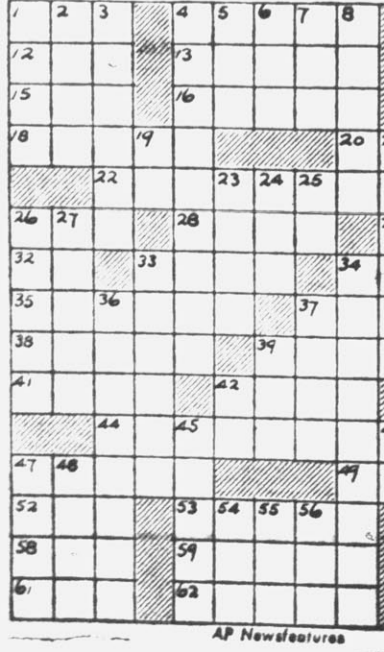

It was evident, however, that there was to be no soft subsidence into the easy relations of pre-war years. In some individual cases the Japanese attempted 'friendship,' but the masses moved like automatons after their appointed tasks.
In bomb-ravaged Tokyo itself there was a certain numbness, and a Japanese newspaperman said 200,000 to 500,000 persons were killed or injured in this city alone by the B-29 raids. Food and drink were scarce and inflation was rampant.

As a memory aid to any forgetful Americans, about 1,500 prisoners of war had thus far been freed from prisons in the Tokyo area. All were suffering from horrible malnutrition, and many told of brutal abuse by their Japanese captors, who singled out for special savagery such now-freed heroes as Maj. Greg Boyington, Marine aviator, and the nine survivors of the famous submarine Tang.
Airmen and submariners generally were the particular objects of Japanese cruelty, said these men snatched from the cells of death.

As reminders to the Japanese that they were the beaten enemy, General MacArthur flew to Japan aboard the transport plane "Bataan," the name which signifies the greatest defeat ever suffered by an American army and which has been his watchword through the three and one-half bloody years from Melbourne to Tokyo.
Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, the defender of Bataan and Corregidor, who succeeded MacArthur

COLORED NEWS

The Third United States Army, Germany, awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service to Chief Warrant Officer Melrose A. Nimmo of Greenville, N. C., on June 9. It was announced by Lt. Colonel Allan B. Campfield of Qmc Third Army.

Said the citation, C. W. O. Melrose A. Nimmo, while serving with the army of the United States distinguished himself by meritorious service in military operations against an enemy of the United States in France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. Serving as an officer in 122nd Quartermaster Battalion of the Third Army. The entire service of C. W. O. Nimmo has been honorable since the rendition by him of the service upon which this citation is based through his initiative, keen devotion to duty, high technical knowledge and untiring efforts, materially assisted in maintaining an even flow of various types of munitions to the forward elements of the Third Army. No problem was ever too great for him to solve. He kept abreast of the ever changing supply problem encountered by the eight companies attached to his battalion. His aggressive action and resourcefulness at all times were largely responsible for the battalion's uninterrupted performance of its mission and reflects great credit upon himself and the service.

One-Man Army Liberated
Chicago, Aug. 30 — (AP) — Capt. Arthur W. Wermuth of Chicago who was recognized as a "one-man army" in the defense of Bataan by killing 116 Japanese singlehanded, has been liberated from a Japanese prison camp, his wife, Mrs. Jean Wermuth, said she was notified yesterday by the War Department.

Tropical Storm In The Caribbean

Miami, Fla., Aug. 31 — (AP) — A tropical storm attended by winds of near hurricane force was reported moving west or west northwest across the Caribbean Sea today approximately 690 miles southwest of Miami.

An advisory issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau in Miami at 10:30 a. m. (EWT) said: "A tropical storm in the north-west Caribbean Sea is central near latitude 18 north, longitude 86.5 west, moving west or west northwest at 15 m.p.h. attended by winds of near hurricane force over a very small area near the center and gales of 50 to 60 m.p.h. extending 75 to 100 miles from center in northern semi-circle.

"Indications are center will reach coast north of Belize, British Honduras, late this afternoon or tonight. "Precautions against dangerous wind should be taken immediately along the coast from Belize and vicinity northward to latitude 20."

Negro Youth Killed
Raleigh, Aug. 31 — (AP) — A 12-year-old negro youth was killed and 17 others injured here yesterday when 35 Sanford negroes were thrown from a truck carrying them to a Sunday School picnic. Raleigh police listed the dead youth as Robert Lee Clark, 12. Police said a side-railing on the large truck gave way when the vehicle rounded a sharp curve in a residential section, spilling all of the negroes on the street. None of the injured was hurt seriously.

Monkey Business
Pasadena, Calif., Aug. 31 — (AP) — Frightened reports to police of Peeping Toms, traffic being directed by a "strange little man" and odd noises from treetops, have ended.

After three days AWOL from a backyard pen, Jimmy, the pet monkey of Hawaii-based machinist's mate 3-c Richard Alten, was captured yesterday, gamboling along a street five miles from home, by the sailor's mother, Mrs. Frank Alten.

Lightning Hits Tree

Washington, Aug. 31 — (AP) — Lightning struck a poplar tree on the White House grounds last night, splitting it in two.

President Truman went out and inspected the damage today, and noted that the tree was just outside his executive offices. The only casualty was a dead robin, found under the tree.

Less Newsprint
Washington, Aug. 31 — (AP) — All users of newsprint must reduce their orders for September delivery by five per cent, the War Production Board said today.

Similar action was taken on August deliveries. In both cases, WPB explained, United States orders with newsprint mills exceeded supply by about 11,000 tons.

Points Reduced
Washington, August 31 — (AP) — The first major break in the navy's point system for demobilization came today in an order reducing the number of points required by naval aviators for release to 44. All other male reserve officers need 49 points. The new point score for aviators is the same as that for enlisted men.

Fire Sweeps Shipyard
Portland, Ore., Aug. 30 — (AP) — Flames swept through Oregon Shipbuilding Corporation today, destroying possibly millions of dollars of newly completed vessels and killing a cabin painter.

The man, not yet identified, drowned when he dived from a flaming ship into the basin. An asbestos operator was also missing.

On the financial front, the government cut its estimate of federal spending to 66 billion dollars for the fiscal year 1946, which started two months ago. The previous estimate—made August 1—was 85 billions. The government actually spent 190 billions in the last fiscal year.

Most of the cut in the estimate was due to slashed in munitions production following Japan's surrender.

And here's a break for farm wives who make children's dresses and other things from those attractive

Until now, manufacturers have been limited by the WPB in the amount of those bags they can produce. But from now on, all restrictions are off.

stand that the army is speeding up work and time required to get a man demobilized, and fully under discharges, they won't be so impatient about that problem. "We can answer our constituents one by one, but it would be better if the President did it."

Mr. Truman covered much of this ground in a letter addressed to chairman of the Senate and House Military committees earlier in the week. Arends, however, contended that declaration lacked the force of a personal appearance by the President before Congress or a radio address from the White House. Arends, House Republican whip, said he believes sentiment is growing within the committee to continue the draft.
