More Steps Of Jap Atrocities

Prisoners Reveal That They Were Subjected to Daily Beatings And Forced To Wear Iron Bits In Their Mouths To Prevent Talking

By VERN HAUGLAND Ofuna Prison Camp, near Yokohama, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Ninety-five Americans and eight English prisoners, liberated from the filth of a hidden concentration camp today related the war's most gruesome tales of Japanese bestiality. They saw one man beaten to death and seven die of malnutrition.

Some were split on in the streets on forced marches through late crowds. Many were compelled to wear metal bits in their mouths for 14 hours at a time. Others were left with their hands tied behind them for 24 hours.

A 21-year-old pilot, Ensign Fred Turnbull of Highland Park, Mich., tortured after his carrier plane was shot down over Formosa, said: "I tried to die and make peace with my God."

"My captors tied my hands behind me, made me lie down and covered me with my parachute," the youthful Michigan pilot said. "I heard two shots."

Already wounded when shot down he was too numb to feel a bullet that entered his arm but felt one that pierced his chest.

A Japanese made a practice swing at Turnbull's neck with a sword after he had pulled the prisoner's collar down and an angered Formosan giving him first aid bit him in the back with a bayonet for not moving fast enough.

"At a hospital close to an airfield, shrapnel and bullets were removed without an anesthetic," he said.

Eight survivors of a 12-man crew on a Frigate plane were given the "bit treatment" after their ship had been shot down south of Tokyo August 11.

"The bits were used to keep us from talking," said Naval Lt. John R. Rainey of Houston, Tex.

"Every half hour, they came in to test and, if anyone complained, they made the thing tighter," Rainey said.

After five days of beating by Formosans, Lt. Charles Buchart, a 23-year-old Pennsylvanian forced to ball from a torpedo bomber, could not see.

"They beat me until I was numb all over," he said. "Here at Ofuna I was in solitary confinement five and a half months."

"They beat me up every day, and sometimes at night."

Lt. Laurel Holme, 26, Sioux City, Iowa, a member of the crew of a Superfort disabled over Tokyo May 23, related that after he had landed in a field and surrendered, civilians "beat the living tar out of me with fists, umbrellas and also clubs."

By MORRIS LANDSBERG Aboard Hospital Ship Benevolence, Tokyo Bay, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Even the prisoners didn't know his name, so they called him Kancho Cho—the man who organized the beatings of Ofuna internment camp near Yokohama. And, said Leading Seaman Sidney Gibbs, Warrington, England, Kancho Cho beat the prisoners.

Called Back

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Congressional leaders officially notified members of the Senate and House by telegram today to be back on the job next Wednesday. At one time Oct. 8 had been set for the reassembly date, but President Truman asked the leaders to meet earlier to speed reconversion legislation.

MONEY HAS NO VALUE TO JAPS

Black Markets Carrying Nation To Financial Ruin

Tokyo, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Money has little value in Japan—either U. S. or Bank of Nippon currency—because this country is embroiled in its worst black market in its history. Barter goods are far more valuable than cash.

The black market, operating since 1940, became really tough in 1942. Tokyo residents report. Police jailed thousands of offenders at the beginning, but illegal sales snowballed quickly beyond control.

Japan, in fact, seems started toward financial ruin. Seven and a half pounds of sugar (a unit of weight in Japan) which cost two yen 60 before the war, now brings 1,500 yen in the black market. (The yen at pre-war exchange was the equivalent of 23-1/2 cents, American.)

Japanese made shoes cost 1,000 yen, compared with a pre-war price of 13 to 15. A man's shirt, formerly seven yen, now costs 120. (The scarier the item, the greater the price boost.)

Imported Scotch whisky, once available for only seven yen (less than $1.65) now brings 1,000 yen. At the same counter, Japanese whisky customarily priced at two to three yen now brings 350 to 500.

What hurts most sharply, though, is the price of rice. The 3 1/2 pound unit, the sho, once worth only 150 yen now brings 85 yen—exactly 170 times as much. With the black market flourishing, most stores are closed for lack of patronage.

The Japanese raise what they can in home gardens, doing intensive backyard farming even in cities. They also travel when they can to the country, seeking to avoid the black marketing middleman by buying direct from farmers.

Best of all "money" is a K-ration chocolate bar, a pack of cigarettes or gum, or a box of matches—little things, but far out of reach of the (Continued on Page Two)

Army Tires For Civilians Atlanta, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Motor vehicles tires, repairable but no longer serviceable to the army, soon will be going to southeastern civilians at the rate of approximately 25,000 a month, Col. L. M. Bricker, Fourth Service Command Ordnance officer, said today.

The September quota for new tires, the OPA announced this week, is not expected to meet the greatly increased civilian demand.

SNYDER TALKS ON WORK BILL May Use German Labor As Reparation Payment

Says Nation Needs Measure To Maintain Economy Nations Asked To List Losses Suffered As Result Of Nazi-Enforced Slave Labor

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Reconversion Boss John W. Snyder said today the Nation needs a mechanism to maintain a stable economy just as it has subscribed to one to keep the peace.

Endorsing the "full employment" bill, Snyder told the Senate Banking Committee that the legislation would "produce as much as a sure job" in itself, but does provide a method for mobilizing the country's resources so everyone can find work.

"In the past," he said, "we have had no machinery by which to organize in a systematic way for prevention of depressions or of wars. We need such machinery."

"It has taken two catastrophic world wars to bring us into an international organization equipped with effective means of investigating and solving problems which threaten peace."

"I feel certain that it is not necessary to suffer another catastrophic depression to awaken us to the need of establishing a mechanism for a systematic attack on economic instability. We must take positive action, to help us to achieve full employment."

Snyder, director of war mobilization and reconversion, said the bill "either implies interference with decisions of private enterprise or puts the government into business. It enables the government to act, he said, so as to 'keep the free economic system running somewhere near full production.'"

Primarily the bill establishes full employment "the explicit policy of the United States," with Congress having the final decision on programs recommended by the President, Snyder declared.

"That," he said, "is the best possible assurance the full employment bill will not mean regimentation."

Snyder was among the last of the scheduled witnesses as the Senate committee's hearings neared an end.

J. B. Hutson Will Make Speech Here

Wilson, Sept. 1.—(AP)—J. B. Hutson, Undersecretary of Agriculture, will make two speeches in North Carolina on Sept. 13. Joe Williams, field representative of the North Carolina Farm Bureau, has announced.

Hutson will speak at Lumberton at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and at 8 p. m. will speak to a farmer's group at Greenville. He will discuss the post-war program as it relates to agriculture.

MORE STRIKES ARE REPORTED

Automobile Industry Hit By Series Of Walkouts

Detroit, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The number of strike idle in Michigan soared over the 18,000 mark today while prospects of additional strikes are threatening other thousands.

Ford Motor Co. officials said all passenger car and truck production has been halted at the Ford Rouge plant while new car production was stalled at the Hudson Motor Car Co.

At Hudson 6,000 production workers were sent home Friday following the walkout of 500 foremen, members of the Foremen Association of America (Independent).

Robert H. Keys, national FAA president, said the foremen voted to strike to protest wage reductions which he said were out of line with reductions in working hours.

A strike of 4,500 employees of Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co. halted supply of automobile wheels, brake drums and tractor parts for the Ford plant. Ford spokesmen said an additional 1,200 employees were sent home Friday because of the Kelsey-Hayes strike, making some 3,100 Ford workers idle.

If the Kelsey-Hayes stoppage continues, a Ford spokesman said, the entire Ford operation in this area would be forced to suspend idling between 30,000 and 40,000 workers.

The Kelsey-Hayes stoppage began August 23 when 4,500 walked out in protest over refusal of the Regional War Labor Board to restate three union officials.

Another strike was threatened by 10,000 members of Chevrolet local No. 659 in Flint, who voted 10 to 1 in favor of a strike to force action on 15 union demands. Union officials said they will use an international UAW-CIO to approve the strike.

Continuing were strikes of 1,300 Goodear Tire and Rubber Company workers at Jackson who walked out Wednesday protesting discharge of seven employees; 2,000 AFL pattern makers throughout the State and 1,500 at two Detroit shops—900 at Bundy Tubing and 600 at Conincental Motors Corporation.

Leaf Prices Holding Firm

Tobacco prices remained firm on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday as the market reached the end of the season's second week.

Total producers' sales for the season to date were 11,924,887 pounds for $5,159,962.56, an average of $43.27 per hundred pounds or $3.09 higher than for the corresponding period last year. Gross sales to date including resales were 12,610,151.

Sales Supervisor R. C. Ratkin, in releasing the market figures, stated that the quality offered so far, was not up to that of the corresponding period last season.

With all markets scheduled to observe Labor Day holiday Monday, prospects were that a meeting of the warehouse association in Raleigh today would also declare Tuesday a holiday in order to enable redrying plants to catch up with the processing of purchases already made.

Superfort Sets Flight Record

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A new record for non-stop flight from Honolulu to Washington was set today when a B-29 landed at the capital 17 hours and 21 minutes out of Hawaii.

This lowered the record established last June by another B-29 commanded by Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, then chief of the 21st Bomber Command and now chief of staff of army air forces. That flight took 20 hours and 15 minutes.

The B-29 making the new record, the "Lady Marge," came here from Guam carrying film and other records from Tokyo. The material had been flown to Guam from Tokyo by another Superfort.

Formal Ceremonies Will Take Place Aboard Battleship Missouri Early Tonight (Eastern War Time); Truman to Address Nation Immediately After Signing

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The White House announced today that the Japanese surrender ceremonies on the battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay will go on the air at 9:30 p. m. Eastern War Time tonight.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, supreme Allied commander in Japan, notified the White House to this effect.

From Washington President Truman will broadcast a speech of about eight or nine minutes during the ceremony, after which the broadcast will be switched back to the Missouri for brief addresses by General MacArthur and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander.

The White House also announced that the President will take part in a two-hour radio program beginning at 9 p. m. Eastern War Time tomorrow night to be conducted by the armed forces radio service.

The President's brief address on the Sunday program will begin at 9:19 p. m. and all networks are expected to carry at least part of the program.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said he did not know whether the broadcast of the surrender ceremony aboard the Missouri will be a delayed and recorded affair or whether it will be simultaneous with the actual signing.

The MacArthur message did not make this clear. All it said was that the ceremony would go on the air at 10:30 p. m. "on the second" September 2 (Tokyo Time) in Tokyo Bay (9:30 p. m. tonight, September 1 in Washington).

It was not known this morning how long the ceremony will last. The President will be standing by in the broadcast room of the White House listening in on the surrender signing ceremony and waiting for the signal for him to speak.

Yokohama, Sept. 1.—(AP)—American troops extended their steel grip today along both sides of Tokyo Bay, the stage of which will be played out tomorrow the greatest military pageant of the century—the final and formal surrender of the Japanese Empire.

Members of the actors of the White House listening in on the surrender signing ceremony and waiting for the signal for him to speak.

As a backdrop there was the very black horror endured by prisoners of war, who poured from their wretched crannies inflicted upon them in the years when Japan was riding the crest of conquest.

Now, as the gaunt Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright remarked, "the shoe was on the other foot." He and his staff who survived the forced surrender of the Philippines and the evil years behind enemy wire arrived to witness the Japanese surrender. (Continued on Page Two)

The WORLD TODAY An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst Over in Tokyo Bay the great man-of-war Missouri swings at anchor amidst the armada of fighting ships, compliant in its massive strength, its decks spotted and its brass gleaming, waiting for the ceremony which will mark the official capitulation of Japan to Allied might.

The Missouri symbolizes the end of the barbaric attempt of the Axis powers to enslave their fellows. It marks a moment of high drama from which it is difficult to turn aside. Still, while we wait for the Japs to sign, we shouldn't overlook the other drama which is being enacted just across from Japan in China—the Chungking conference upon which may depend whether this vast country will be plunged into that most terrible of all conflicts, civil war.

This Chinese development in a way is as important as the official surrender aboard the Missouri. For Japan already is beaten and has lowered her flag, while the fierce quarrel between the Chinese Communists and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government is an active threat to peace in Asia. Fratricidal war in China nullifies much of the good achieved by the defeat of Nippon.

The position is that Chinese Communist leaders from the north, headed by Mao Tse-Tung at long last are in Chungking in response to Chiang's invitation for a parley. Major General Patrick Hurley, American ambassador, flew clear up to Yenan to accompany them back to the capital, as a good-gill go-between.

That was a step forward, but with the arrival of the Communist leaders in Chungking their central committee issued a manifesto demanding the immediate formation of a coalition government, giving the Communists a full place. This was a reiteration of the demand against which the Generalissimo has been fighting for years. He has had thumbs down on the Chinese Communists—and many bloody battles have been fought between the armies of the two factions.

Thus Chiang is being asked to compromise on his principles. It is a tense moment. If he compromises it means at least temporary peace. If he refuses, all hell may break loose.

Today On The Home Front By James Marlow

Washington, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Goodbye, OWI. Life should be more exciting, by and by. The Office of War Information (OWI) folds on Sept. 15. OWI did a lot of things.

It spread American propaganda abroad. It told Americans at home news about its government. It turned out booklets on inflation. One of its main jobs was being oil on troubled waters. This is how: Every agency of the government—except Army, Navy and White House—cleared what they had to say with OWI.

Which means they prepared it, wrote it, submitted it to OWI. OWI eagle-eyes took a gander at the copy.

If it didn't conflict with what some other agency or official said, okay. If it did, OWI had to iron out the wrinkles.

Because of this system in the past few years, the Washington front was strangely quiet. Government looked like one big happy family.

It wasn't like that before OWI. Remember the early days of the war? One official said something on something, and another one, just as high up, said just the opposite on the same thing.

Then OWI came in as the central clearing house for everything. Opposing statements didn't occur publicly, anyway.

Soon, with OWI gone, it seems the agencies and officials will be

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

STRENGTH FOR THE DAY THE LORD PROVIDED

I listened attentively to a young minister as he told me most of the Lord had provided for all his needs in his desperate struggle to get an education and get out to preaching. He was married and had two children when he heard the call. He felt that he was led to go to a certain college. "I arrived there," he said, "with my wife and two children and had only two dollars and a half in my pocket. That night before I retired I had made nine dollars by selling office supplies, a business I had been in for some years. . . . I finished the college course three and a half years later with all bills paid."

Then story after story followed of how he had been guided in his chosen work. When a thing needed to be done, he found that help came from above, supplementing his efforts with everything else that he needed.

I recalled the story of the old Puritan father who, on hearing his colleagues pronounce some valiant enterprise in the Lord's work impossible, cried out: "Impossible? If that's the only thing the matter with it, let's go ahead."

If we have faith we can remove mountains. Nothing is impossible for those who trust in God.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

Washington — Your Capital in Perspective

Generally speaking, wartime censorship has gone by the boards (some government officials are emerging pretty reluctantly from that shell). But some of the little asinities it gave birth to will live long in memory.

That one was on the Navy. It followed the unfortunate sinking of the Japanese relief ship. An exchange among civilized nations over the matter of barbarities, the State Department prepared an explanatory note and hastened it off to Tokyo through neutral channels.

The note explained that the Ara Maru was running for better schedule without our being notified, and should have been out of those waters long before.

It explained that comet had been made by other than visual means in a heavy fog, that resulted in visibility zero and that our submarine commander had no way of knowing or determining that he was torpedoing a relief ship.

Notified that the explanation had been delivered in Tokyo, the State Department prepared a news release on it and out of courtesy sent it over to the Navy for okay. The Navy immediately ordered the release held up—on the grounds that it contained the forbidden reference to radar in that phrase "other than visual means."

The State Department officials felt that returning veterans will make mistakes in judgment in using funds obtained under loan provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights. They are telling each other this story of G. I. George, whom they don't want the veteran to imitate.

George, discharged and returned to his small hometown. He was a fine fellow and well liked, but so busy he had never been able to hold a job before Selective Service caught him. The Army had changed him little. His cronies, however, were eager to do something for him. Twenty-two of them agreed to chip in a dollar a week to give George a job. They bought a brass cannon for the town square and made George official cannon puller.

Things went along fine for several months, but one day George came to his friends and told them he had decided to quit his job. Sure, he liked it a lot; the work wasn't too hard; the pay was all right.

"But you see, men," he explained, "I've saved a little money and I've decided to buy a brass cannon and go in business for myself."

America Learns How to Eat

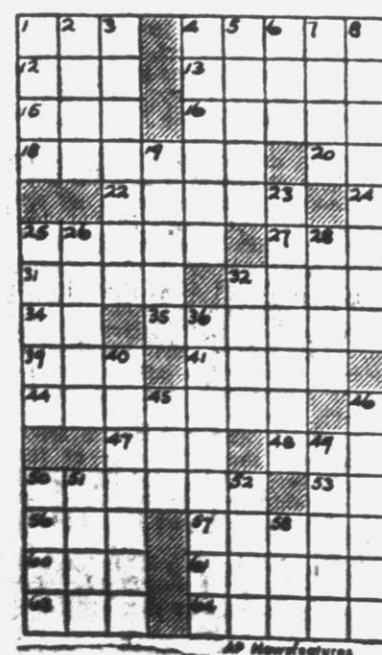

I am a statistician, not a dietitian. Yet it does seem to me that wartime food shortages have taught the American public much-needed lessons in food conservation, as well as in the science of correct eating. Too much food and/or wrong combinations can be as bad as too little. "You are what you eat" is no exaggeration. If the lessons learned during the war years are remembered in peacetime, the nation's health should be better. This will be a factor in the labor situation as well as benefit Life Insurance Company stocks.

It is significant in the present instance that Madame Chiang has a knack for conciliation, and has turned many of her husband's enemies into friends. You will recall that it was she who, at the risk of her own life, flew into the wilds when Chiang was kidnapped by bandits in 1936 and persuaded them to release him.

Also significant is the fact that Premier T. V. Soong, her brother, has been moderate in his attitude towards the Chinese Communists, and this may be a hopeful factor in the conference now under way. It was Soong who negotiated the recent treaty of friendship with Moscow.

Madame Chiang's race to the side of her harassed husband will be watched with intense interest—not unmixed with the thrill of romance. Maybe her skill will succeed where others have failed.

General MacArthur, supreme Allied commander over the conquered and obsequious Japanese, laid his plans at a private conference Friday night with Admirals Nimitz and Halsey and Generals Spaatz and Kenney in Yokohama's new Grand Hotel.

Japanese imperial headquarters made one half-hearted attempt to postpone the national ignominy a little longer by asking MacArthur today for further conferences on surrender terms, but it was declared at this headquarters that the Missouri ceremony would proceed as scheduled.

Already on hand were the representatives of Britain, Australia, New Zealand, France, the Netherlands and Russia.

General Eichelberger, who came in advance of his army, declared, "If the Japanese continue their

He is one of eight of the 56-man crew of the Stratemag—who escaped after enemy depth charges split her open on the bottom of the sea.

"When the Japs picked us up they made us row, and hit us with what looked like pick handles," he related. "Aboard their ship, they put us in a three-by-six foot room and forced us to stand with our hands held up. They gave us no food or water."

But for brutality, Gibbs will always remember Kango Cho. "I have a picture of him," he said. "I hope they catch up with him some day and make him pay for what he did to us."

A British gunner, Lawrence Huitson, 28, Caterham, England, survived not only the fighting in Singapore and life in a series of prison camps, but lived through the sinking of a ship he identified as the American liner President Harrison, which had been seized by the Japanese at Shanghai.

Huitson said an American submarine torpedoed and sank the Harrison and the Rakyo Maru the night of Sept. 12, 1944, without knowing they were transporting 2,200 Allied prisoners of war from Singapore to Japan. He said only 500 of the prisoners survived as the ships went down with terrible quickness—the Harrison within 20 minutes.

URGED JAPS TO FIGHT ON

Leaflets Asked People To Disregard Emperor

Tokyo, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The Japanese said today that for two days after Emperor Hirohito told his people the war was over, several planes—evidently flown by fanatical suicide pilots—dropped pamphlets on major Japanese cities asking the people to disregard the emperor's word and fight on.

A Tokyo resident, describing the action, said that the great majority of the people were shocked by the mere thought of disobeying the emperor. The move died quickly, he said, for lack of popular support.

He quoted the kamikaze planes' pamphlets as saying: "Don't listen to the emperor—he has been ill advised. The emperor doesn't know the real conditions."

"We have enough food and planes left to continue this war. We shot down an American Grumman and the pilot told us food conditions in the United States were very bad."

"When the Americans land in Tokyo we are going to give them a real surprise."

San Francisco, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Both American Army and Navy men are "impressed" by the extent of Japanese naval installations in the Tokyo Bay area. Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commander of the Eighth Army said today in a broadcast from Tokyo heard by the American Broadcasting Company.

London, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Martin Bormann, stocky, square-jawed chief deputy of the Nazi party once rumored to have died at Adolf Hitler's side, was reported by the Berlin radio to be in Allied hands again today.

Bormann's name appears first on a list of Nazis to be tried as war criminals at Nuernberg next month. A spokesman for the alleged war crimes commission said Bormann would be tried in person, if he had been captured, and otherwise in absentia.

Farmville Defeats Greenville.
The Farmville Kiwanians defeated the Greenville Kiwanians in a softball game that was the "game of the century." The score was 11 to 10 in favor of Farmville, Greenville.

Greenville had a grand chance to win the game when Bruce Baker sent a long fly to the outfield, and then passed Ray McKenzie on the way to home plate. Baker was a chagrined man when Umpire Billy Hodges called him out for passing a man on the bases. A report of the game will be given in Monday's Reflector.

The game was played last night at Guy Smith Stadium. Proceeds of the game will go to the Kiwanis underprivileged child fund.

Judge James Makes Eloquent Speech

By CHESTER WALSH
Judge Dink James added another classic to modern eloquence last night when he was called on to make an impromptu speech at the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting, after Congressman Herbert C. Bonner sent word he would be unable to attend. The scholarly jurist manifested keen understanding of human nature and its emotions, desires and reactions. He touched on innumerable subjects, including what disposition to make of Emperor Hirohito, past war assignments, panaceas for unemployment—and some of the more humorous aspects of life, using as an allegorical background a legend of a Mexican peon's wife who did not have a horse. Judge James' talk contained much food for thought. It was timely, informative and entertaining. Secretary Dave Moore had charge of the program. Dr. J. M. Barrett, the president, presided.

The meeting was more or less informal in anticipation of the softball game with the Farmville Kiwanians at Guy Smith stadium shortly after the meeting.

Senator Corey Was Speaker in Ayden

State Senator Arthur B. Corey of Greenville was guest speaker at the weekly supper meeting of the Ayden Rotary Club in Ayden last night. Corey was recently appointed service officer by the Pitt County Commissioners. He has been service officer for the American Legion post here for many years.

Brilliant Dance At Opera House
There was a very enjoyable dance given Thursday night by the young men of the town, complimentary to the visiting young ladies.

Mrs. R. J. Cobb entertained handsomely at a midnight luncheon. The dining room was a scene of beauty with many cut glass and silver candelabra shaded by pink and red shades, and gave a beautiful soft light. The hostess in her charming manner met all the guests in the front hall and ushered them in the parlor where many beautiful vocal and instrumental selections were rendered. The time soon passed and they made their departure saying they had never been to a more enjoyable luncheon.

Following information in addition to some of the city's advantages:
1. Park on right hand side of the street only.
2. Park within parking lines.
3. Don't park near fire hydrants.
4. Don't park on truck loading zones.
5. Don't double park anywhere at any time.
6. All night parking in the business district is restricted. Ask hotels or police department for information on where to park.
7. These parking regulations were made for your safety. Your cooperation will be appreciated.
8. If you would like to know more about Greenville ask for booklet about the city at the office of the Chamber of Commerce for descriptive booklet.

Local Girl To Wed Blind Hero
Delair, N. J., Sept. 1—(AP)—Pfc. George W. McLaughlin, of Delair, was blinded on Saipan last December but his pretty, 20-year-old fiancée is sure "We're going to make a go of it."

"His eyes were only a small part of him and no one needs to pity us," said Lillian Langley of Greenville, N. C., when she arrived here yesterday to make plans for their marriage next week.

George is confident, too. "I know my way around here. I'll get some kind of a business going and then we'll be all right," he said.

The couple became engaged two years ago while George was at Camp Lejeune, N. C. They plan to live in Delair.

Present exchange is approximately 15 yen—instead of four—for a dollar, and the Japanese are afraid that's only a starter.

Notice To High School Parents

Our high school has been made ready for the 1945-46 session which opens Monday, September 3. Students are urged to report to the high school at 8:45 when the first bell will ring for students to enter the building. Former students will report to their homerooms of last year and all new students entering Greenville High School for the first time will report to the auditorium for assignments to homerooms. (This includes seventh and eighth graders from the city elementary schools as well as pupils from outside the city.)

Students will be dismissed from school at 11:20 on Monday and 12 o'clock Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday we will begin our regular schedule with lunch period coming from 12:30 to 1:30 and school closing at 3:30. Our cafeteria will not be open the first week of school and parents are urged to encourage students to eat at home instead of down town where conditions will be crowded.

Victory, reverse lend-lease and did not mean there would be no settlements for lend-lease operations already has repaid this country, Mr. Truman said.

The State Department issued a press release using as a peg for Byrnes' remarks this question: "In light of the recent lend-lease reports, are to assume that all lend-lease debts are to be cancelled and the only lend-lease settlements required are settlements for shipments unused or undelivered at the close of the war?"

To this Byrnes replied "there is no justification for that assumption."

Asks For End To Meat Rationing

Topeka, Kas., Sept. 1—(AP)—The Kansas Livestock Association asks immediate discontinuance of meat rationing, asserting "juggling of ration point values is no solution for the serious problem in beef supply and distribution."

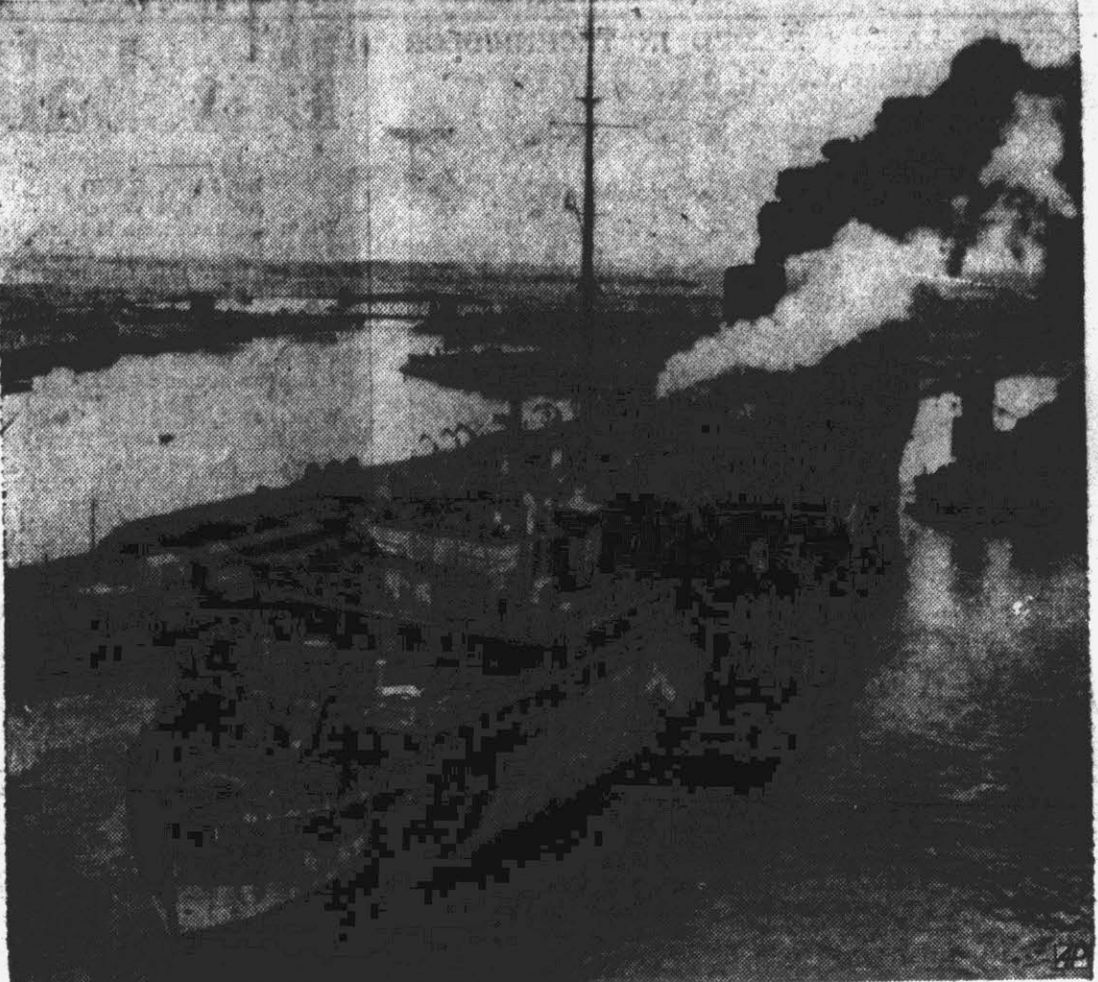

In telegrams sent yesterday to President Truman, OPA Administrator Chester Bowles, Harley Armstrong of the Department of Agriculture, and the Kansas congressional delegation, the association called "heavy movements of grass fat cattle are glutting the markets."

Labor Shortage

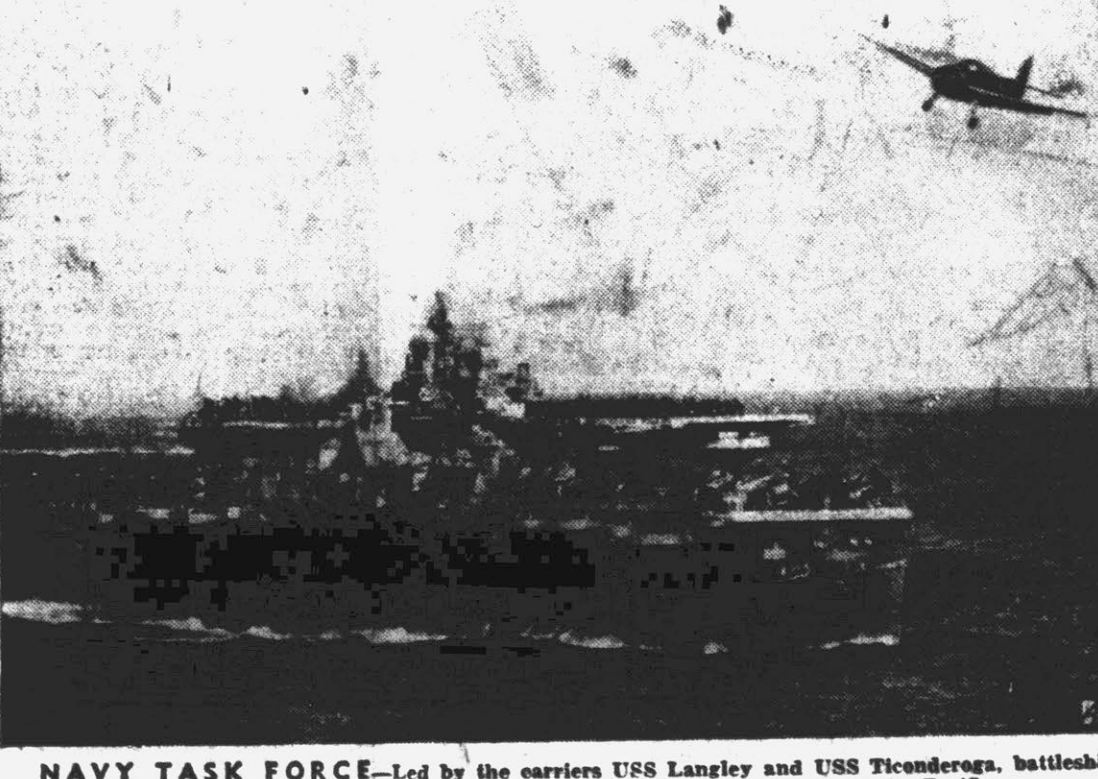

Raleigh, Sept. 1—(AP)—Despite the fact that between 30,000 and 35,000 workers have been recruited in Eastern North Carolina in the last six weeks, the manpower situation in that area remains acute, especially in the tobacco belt.

This was revealed today by Dr. J. S. Dorton, State War Manpower commissioner, who said that because there is little prospect for getting additional labor into the area, "Eastern North Carolina will just have to sweat it out."

LEND - LEASE TO BE REPAYED

America Will Require Some Form Of Settlement

Washington, Sept. 1—(AP)—Nations which received lend-lease aid had it straight from Secretary of State Byrnes today that the United States has by no means torn up their I. O. U.'s.

"They will not be asked to pay in dollars because they do not have the dollar credits. But they are on notice that they will be expected to make some kind of settlement."

It seemed probable they would be requested to pay off in the form of lowered trade restrictions—particularly the British whose economic officials will arrive next week to discuss possible substitutes for lend-lease.

Byrnes made it clear in a formal statement issued yesterday that President Truman's report to congress saying the $42,000,000,000 of lend-lease might as well be written off.

Victory, reverse lend-lease and did not mean there would be no settlements for lend-lease operations already has repaid this country, Mr. Truman said.

The State Department issued a press release using as a peg for Byrnes' remarks this question: "In light of the recent lend-lease reports, are to assume that all lend-lease debts are to be cancelled and the only lend-lease settlements required are settlements for shipments unused or undelivered at the close of the war?"

ELOHIM HOLINESS

Baseball

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer
When the Yankees sold Hank Borowy to Chicago they supposedly kissed off their 1945 flag hopes but here it is September first and the New Yorkers are only four games out of first place, steaming down the stretch like another squadron of the famous Bronx Bombers.

With the exception of Washington, every club in Will Harridge's circuit gets a bang out of the Yank revival. Detroit, because they can continue to hold first place while losing five of their last-six as long as New York keeps on beating the Senators. Cleveland likes the idea because they too get a chance to close in as does third place St. Louis.

Ostie Bluege's young gentlemen can't help being impressed and their adventures must have been sobering. Losing six in a row to an alienated second division also ran just when you're ready to step into first, can be a terrifying experience. Perhaps the Nats can recover in the remaining three games of their set with New York but if they don't they will find themselves out of second place.

Ernie Bonham and Al Gettel teamed up on the Senators last night in a two-night doubleheader. The Jumbo whipping team in the first tilt, 3-2 and Gettel following up with a 3-1 job in the finale.

Bobby Miller hardly expected a World Series slice when he came out of the Navy to finish up the season with Cleveland but anything goes this year. Rapid Robert goes again today against Hal Newhouser after Albie Reynolds beat the Bengals yesterday, 7-2 with the help of Felix Mackiewicz' three-run homer.

St. Louis and Chicago were rained out of a game in the second inning, necessitating a two-night double tonight and Boston divided two with Philadelphia, the Red Sox bounding back in the second, 4-2 behind Randy Hetlin after Russ Christopher had topped a six-hit, 6-3 job with a home run in the opener.

Big news in the National League was the fourth successive decision the St. Louis Cards grabbed from their Chicago "cousins," 4-1, making it 11 out of 14 for the year with eight to go.

The distance from St. Louis to Chicago now is only three games with the Red Birds having a chance to go into a virtual tie for the lead.

by sweeping today's single and tomorrow's double at home.

Pittsburgh scored six times in the first two heats and held on to trim Cincinnati, 6-5, after Manager Frankie Frisch and Catcher Bill Skidell had been thumbed off the field by Umpire Jocko Conlan.

The Phillies staged one of their rare rallies to shade Boston, 6-5, despite two more hits by Leader Tommy Holmes. New York and Brooklyn were not scheduled.
