Prisoners Give Evidence Against Jap War Criminals

List Grows Steadily As Released Americans Reveal Stories Of Japanese Cruelty; Most Of Liberated Prisoners Suffering From Malnutrition And Disease

By SPENCE DAVIS
Yokohama, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Americans freed from the hellholes of Japan told their stories of starvation, brutality and torture directly today to Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commanding Eighth Army occupation forces, and names of Japanese responsible were added steadily to a growing war criminals list.

The navy simultaneously sent a hospital ship, four transports, a cruiser and four rescue destroyers to Hamamatsu, 120 miles southwest of Tokyo, to evacuate other hundreds of Allied prisoners. These vessels had helped evacuate approximately 1,500 from the Tokyo area. Due this afternoon were 462 others being brought to Yokohama from the Ashio prison camp, and plans were rushed for release of 3,000 more of Niihata, a west coast port. In Northern Honshu and northernmost Hokkaido an estimated 11,500 await liberation. Eighty per cent of the 2,000 already examined here are in "serious" condition, medical officers said.

Carrier planes of the U. S. Third Fleet searched Japan for others, and spotted 60 excited prisoners waving wildly from a camp at Hiko village, 50 miles west of Nagoya. One man was waving the Tricolor of France.

Adm. Sir Bruce Fraser, commanding the British Pacific fleet, also was checking lists of his own captured nationals and reported approximately 39,100 British Commonwealth internees in camps within his jurisdiction. They include about 72,000 in Japan, 6,000 in Pacific islands, 4,200 in the Yangtze Valley of China, 3,000 in Formosa, 3,000 in Shanghai, 2,000 in Hong Kong and 1,500 in Korea, he said.

Including 8,000 Americans, there are an estimated 36,000 Allied prisoners in Japan. General Eichelberger and two officers of the general headquarters war crimes branch listened with rapt attention to stories of the prisoners they interviewed today on board the hospital ship Benevolence.

One man was not there to tell his story. He was a B-29 pilot from Salt Lake City who had been taken aboard the ship from Omori prison camp, dying. Pellagra and the mistreatment he had suffered from prison guards brought death shortly after his rescue, said the chief medical officer, Capt. Frederick L. Daniel, Alexandria, Va.

Virtually all the patients were suffering from extreme malnutrition and other complications—beriberi, dysentery, malaria, tuberculosis and various fevers. All had been beaten and many had been denied medical attention until now. Eichelberger saw an old friend among the prisoners—Col. Stanley Livingston James, who had attended West Point two classes ahead of him, and exclaimed: "I wouldn't have known him!"

Military inquiry teams meanwhile redoubled their efforts to complete lists of war criminals. (Continued on Page Four)

JAPS TOLD TO OBEY ORDERS
Hirohito Urges People To Win World's Confidence

San Francisco, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Japanese house of peers this afternoon resolved "to acknowledge the reality of our defeat, and to cut a way out of the present situation and embark upon a new course of national rebuilding."

Emperor Hirohito himself opened the parliamentary session this morning, calling for the Japanese to "surmount the manifold hardships and trials attending termination of the war, make manifest the innate glory of Japan's national polity, win the confidence of the world, and devote ourselves to reconstruction in every field." He commanded the people to obey the nation's commitment. (Continued on Page Six)

ECTC BOARD MEETS HERE

Reinstatement Of Faculty Members Scheduled For Consideration

Reinstatement of three faculty members and the matter of a permanent president for the institution were matters expected to be considered by members of the Board of Trustees of East Carolina Teachers College in session here today. Today's meeting was the first since the recent appointment of five new members by Governor R. Gregg Cherry.

Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, of Raleigh, chairman of the board, stated during the lunch recess that nothing but routine matters had been considered by the board up to that time.

The five new members of the board are R. M. Garrett of Greenville, Henry Belk of Goldsboro, C. P. Morris of Hertford, H. C. Horton of Williamston and Thomas J. Hackney of Wilson. They filled vacancies created by the expiration of terms of four of the old board members and the death of one.

Prior to the convening of the first session at 11 o'clock this morning one of the board members stated that the matter of reinstating three faculty members, M. E. Wright, Robert ReBarker and E. L. Henderson, would be presented to the board and that opinion on the proposal was not favorable, the appointment of a committee to investigate fully the charges by the old board against the faculty members would be asked. The old board, during the Meadows investigation, charged six faculty members with inciting students and with unwholesome influences on the campus. At subsequent meetings the charges were dropped against three of the six but the board declined to retain Wright, ReBarker and Henderson on the faculty. The discharged faculty members declared that the board of trustees never presented them with any bill of particulars or made any specific charges against them and that the final action of the board in the matter was arbitrary and without justice.

The original investigation of the affairs of Dr. Leon R. Meadows, then president of the institution culminating in exonerations by the old board, was marked by much contention between faculty members and numerous mass meetings by students who were not satisfied with the board's verdict and contended they were denied their constitutional freedoms by pro-Meadows action. Reconversion Congress To Take Up Labors Tomorrow

ASKS RELEASE OF FAMILY MEN

Rep. Sabath Seeks Discharge Of Students Also

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Immediate discharge from the armed forces of almost all married men with families was urged today by Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) of the House Rules Committee.

In letters to Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal, Sabath said these five categories should be returned to civilian life at once: 1. Men who have families and have been in service abroad. 2. Men with families and who have been in uniform at least two years, regardless of place of service. 3. Students under 20 who were attending school at the time of their induction and who will resume their schooling if discharged. 4. Owners, part owners, executives and supervisors whose services are vitally needed in their businesses and their plants in reconversion to civilian life at once.

Many Important Issues Face First Peacetime Session In Nearly Four Years

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—President Truman has drafted a comprehensive message for delivery to Congress this week, the White House said today, and later will submit his views on disposition of the atomic bomb in a separate letter.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters he would announce final plans tomorrow after a conference between the President and congressional leaders. Ross said he would not be able to say until then whether the messages will be sent to Capitol Hill or delivered by the President in person, or what day they will be presented.

Ross recalled that some time ago Mr. Truman said he would recommend to Congress the creation of a commission to decide what to do about the atomic bomb.

Soon after the first peacetime Congress in almost four years meets tomorrow it will receive what Ross described as "quite a comprehensive message" from Mr. Truman. The President completed it yesterday during a holiday cruise on the Potomac River aboard the presidential yacht Potomac.

The reassembling legislators will form the "Reconversion Congress" as distinguished from the war congresses that have been in almost continuous session since late in 1941.

CHANGES IN DRAFT STATUS

Class 2-B For Deferred Workers Eliminated

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Selective Service today abolished Class 2-B, the classification for occupationally deferred workers in war production.

All registrants in Class 2-B, as of August 31, will be shifted to Class 2-A, the classification for all other occupationally deferred workers—defined as those whose jobs are "in support of the national health, safety and interest."

A man shifted from 2-B will retain 2-A classification until expiration of the period of deferment "or until by reason of a change of status his classification is reopened and he is classified anew." Selective Service said.

"National health, safety and interest" now the only term for occupational deferment, is defined as: (1) The production of services required to maintain the armed forces of the United States during the period of the occupation of enemy territories; (2) research, development and manufacturing of weapons or other items necessary to the maintenance of national defense; (Continued on Page Six)

First Occupation Of Tokyo Itself Scheduled For Friday; MacArthur Orders Armies To Requisition Anything They Need; Correspondents To Attend Diet Meeting

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
Yokohama, Sept. 4.—New landings today expanded the American occupation forces' powerful grip on the Tokyo area, and General MacArthur, in a general order, gave his armies authority to requisition anything they need in Japan.

A CBS broadcast from Yokohama said MacArthur's order also called for immediate demobilization blast 13 miles away like a great camp. First occupation of Tokyo itself, scheduled for Friday, is to be outlined in detail at a meeting of the Japanese First Army command with Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, American Eighth Army commander, at Yokohama Wednesday. MacArthur instructed the Japanese to turn all existing prisoner of war camps over to the highest ranking officer interned in each, and gave him authority to demand of the Japanese whatever food and medical care is necessary for his camp.

The initial Tokyo occupation force will number only 3,350, said the Japanese Government communique announcing that the entry was scheduled Friday, (Tuesday night, U. S. Time).

The communique said policemen would be detailed to maintain law and order in all areas of occupation; government organs and public organizations would continue to function as usual, and all negotiations between American forces and Japanese authorities would be conducted by liaison officials.

President Sir Denys Wheatley, Tokyo, General MacArthur's troops were to half-encircle the capital with new landings today, while 120 miles southwest naval forces landed at Hamamatsu and other landings were being made at Takumi, port city of Kyushu Island, 600 miles southwest of Tokyo, and at Kanoya airfield, also on Kyushu.

American correspondents were to be permitted to attend tomorrow's Diet meeting after General MacArthur's headquarters upheld their protest against being searched at the door. Unsigned, unaddressed invitations delivered at the Public Relations Office by Japanese said the correspondents would be searched and could neither drink nor smoke during the meeting.

MacArthur abolished all of these restrictions. The Japanese communique, which has been announcing occupation schedules ahead of MacArthur's headquarters (but presumably with his permission) reported 15,400 occupation troops would enter a number of points in the Kanagawa and Shizuoka prefectures—west and south of Tokyo—preceding occupation of the capital.

It listed the cities to be occupied as Hiratsuka and Oiso, 6,500 troops; Odawara, 2,500; Gotemba, 700; Hamao, 1,000; Wendhara, 1,000, and 3,500 in Hachioji City, the metropolitan district of Tokyo.

Hiratsuka, Oiso and Odawara all are on Sagami Bay. Radio Tokyo also reported 20,000 (Continued on Page Four)

Hiroshima Is Scene Of Desolate Devastation

By VERN HAUGLAND
Hiroshima, Japan, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Since cars rattle along the streets without a single building stands. A few deadpan civilians peddle slowly through the rubble.

Block after block contains only a thin covering of rusting tin, a few stones and some broken bricks. The twisted frames of less than a dozen buildings stand forlornly alone in the midst of ruin that was once touted as Japan's most modernized city.

That was the Hiroshima I saw today with the first American post-war visitors to the world's first target of the atomic bomb. We landed in a B-17 at the 2,000-foot Kure airstrip and drove in cars provided by the Japanese for the 12 miles to Hiroshima.

For its size, no city in the world was so completely wiped out by bombs as was this war-swollen metropolis of 400,000, whose heart was smashed completely by a single application of atomic power. The buildings, once the most modern of the Japanese empire, were simply smashed—not split apart as from an ordinary demolition raid—but leveled over the ground.

By contrast, Bremen, Hamburg and Berlin seem almost untouched. Of the few recognizable pieces of buildings still standing, only one remains of possible service. In Hiroshima's banks have set up counters and there several hundred Japanese waited to do business. The Japanese newspapermen who had visited the city shortly after the leveling told me that the residents of Hiroshima "hate you and think you the most fiendish, cruel people on earth."

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Here is an illustration of how the Army's new discharge system will work.

The Army announced that it was lowering—from 85 to 80—the number of points necessary for an enlisted man's discharge.

Be fore going into the new system, here's how the points are counted: 1—One point for each month of service since Sept. 16, 1940 when the draft started.

2—One point for each month of service outside the United States. This is in addition to the one point for each month of service.

3—12 points for each dependent child, up to a total of 3 children and 36 points. No points for wives.

4—Five points for each campaign served. Example: New Guinea and the Philippines campaigns would count as two for a total of 10 points.

5—Five points for various awards, ranging from the Purple Heart for wounds to Medals for Valor. On May 12—after Germany fell—the Army said men who had come into the service between Sept. 16, 1940 and May 12 would get those credits.

Fears Crime Wave In Postwar Period

Wilson, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Superior Court Judge John J. Burney of Wilmington believes the state and nation will experience the greatest crime wave in its history during the post-war era, but says it won't be caused by returning service men.

In his charge to the Wilson County grand jury yesterday, Judge Burney said: "Those who stayed at home during the war and who made the big money and had the easy times, and who don't want to give all this up when normal times arrive again, will be the ones responsible for this crime wave. I have already noticed it with the end of the war only two weeks back of us."

Dadal, who was the first to telephone the news of the atomic bombing to Tokyo on August 6 and then assisted in aiding the wounded, said "we expect the death toll to pass 80,000."

The death toll now has mounted past 53,000, with many only slightly wounded dying from no apparent cause.

Two English-speaking guides accompanied us on the tour. One of them said he was a former resident of Sacramento, Calif., and the other was a physician who said his brother was a member of the Japanese embassy staff in Washington, D. C.

The physician said any of the survivors who had been shocked by the atomic bomb were in danger. (Continued on page four)

The WORLD TODAY An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There are some signs—which one notes with extreme caution—of progress in the Chungking peace talks between the Chinese Communists and the nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Communist spokesmen in Chungking said yesterday that the talks were still in a "preliminary stage" and that no agreement had yet been reached. However, any progress—no matter how small—is encouraging when we are dealing with the bloody quarrel which long has threatened to plunge China's millions into civil war.

The Generalissimo, yielding somewhat to his opponents, has issued a striking V-J day message to the nation, declaring that now the Japanese war is over "we shall permit no further delay in the inauguration of constitutional democracy." He therefore proposes to summon the national assembly to get the reforms under way.

Kuomintang—has been permitted. The Communists and all others have been barred.

To get the full significance of what is going on in this fateful Chungking conference, we should note that Chiang's one party government is a totalitarian dictatorship. This column yesterday, in discussing democracy for Japan, suggested that if readers wanted an illuminating half hour, they get out their world maps and check off the dictatorships.

That would show a large part of the globe under such rule. Well, China is one of the foremost dictatorships and within its borders are at least 400,000,000 people, or one fifth the population of the world. Actually there may be 500,000,000 Chinese. We lack exact figures.

So it's of vast importance not only to Asia but to the world at large when Chiang says that the fundamental policy of the Chinese revolution (the 1911 revolt under Dr. Sun Yat Sen) and the war against Japan was not only to defeat the enemy but to establish a new China based on three principles—democracy, nationalism and livelihood. He adds: "To make past sacrifices truly meaningful we should at this time introduce democracy and constitutionalism and consolidate national unity." Now lest we get a distorted and (Continued on page four)

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Navy personnel in this country now may wear civilian clothes after working hours. Throughout the war uniforms have been mandatory except while exercising or at home. And even at home they were required if four or more persons were present. The Army has not yet followed the Navy's example, announced last night.

Red Oak News

Red Oak community is a small area near Greenville with two small stores and a church, but it holds its head high with pride at the contribution it has made in helping to bring victory to this land of ours. This is a strictly a farming neighborhood and although every single young man among us passed the physical test and entered the armed services of our country, those of us left behind, both old and young, put their shoulders to the wheel and carried on. As a result, the men have produced a wonderful crop and their wives have helped them in every way they could. Some have even been to the fields and shoulder to shoulder with their husbands, have helped prime tobacco, drive transplanters house the tobacco, and as a side line have had lovely gardens. They have canned at night, did their families' laundry and anything that came to hand. Our hats go off to the men, women and children of the community who fought on the home front while their sons and daughters were fighting on the war front.

Yes, we are a proud people! We are proud of the contribution that about 45 of our young men have made. They have been stationed in every part of the U. S. A. and in all the far corners of the world. One by one they are returning home, and we welcome them with open arms.

Last Sunday, we had Milton May back. Milton was born and reared in the community and attended Sunday School at Red Oak all his life. It was a great pleasure to have him back. He made a short talk which we enjoyed very much. He had been overseas since December 15 and was in Austria just before he was sent home.

We also had one of our fine young men present last Sunday, who played for the morning service at Red Oak. It was something to be proud of to see this fine young man, Chester Crawford, in his soldier's uniform, sitting at the piano, playing as he used to for us to sing. In the pulpit was another splendid young person, Rev. Howard James, who is our pastor. When we look at these fine young men and think of their service, we are proud of their efforts at Red Oak Church and how small part in making them so, then our hearts do swell with pride.

There were 71 people present at Sunday School last Sunday. The singing was wonderful and the little beginners, under the leadership of Mrs. Amos Evans, and Mrs. Almeta Jolly are planning a program for the third Sunday morning at the Sunday School hour.

We were very sorry to learn that little Sibyl Jean Flynn had scalded herself very badly and was in Pitt General Hospital. A lovely bunch of flowers and some fruit and color books were sent to her from the Sunday School to cheer her.

We are looking forward to our annual "Homecoming Day" at Red Oak the third Sunday in September. Sunday School will begin strictly at 10 o'clock and church services at 11 o'clock. Dinner will be served picnic style and all members of Red Oak church and Sunday school, everybody in the community, friends of Piney Grove and Reedy Branch churches, friends from Mt. Pleasant Church, friends of Greenville and other communities are invited to be with us that day. Come in time for Sunday School and spend the day. Our yearly revival will begin 3rd Sunday night and will continue through the following Friday night with Rev. Haney of the Eighth Street Christian Church in Greenville doing the preaching and Rev. Howard James of the Duke Divinity School leading the singing. We hope that everybody in the community will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear these fine preachers.

If nothing prevents, we will have our baptism ready for use soon. We have long felt the need of one at our church and it looks now as if a long cherished dream of ours will soon come true.

The Red Oak Home Demonstration Club will meet Wednesday night at 8:30 at the home of the president, Mrs. L. W. Edwards in Greenville. We hope a large number of our members will be present.

Mrs. Fenner L. Allen and Mrs. Joe Joyner have returned from a visit to Mrs. Joyner's son, James Joyner, in New Hampshire. While gone they spent a week in Manchester and a short while in New York City.

New York anticipates that Russia and Japan will soon be in the market for big loans to pay war expenses.

There will be lamentation among the little folks now the ruling of the postoffice having cut the funny page supplement out of the Sunday papers.

One great trouble with the young men of this country today is that too many of them wait for opportunities when they ought to be making opportunities.

Social Security

YOUR BENEFITS DON'T STAND STILL

To make sure you get all the benefits that may be due you under old-age and survivors insurance, you should get in touch with the nearest office of the Social Security Board when you reach 65, regardless of whether you intend to retire or not. There are some important matters you should consider. Maybe you should file your claim for benefits even though you intend to keep on working.

The amount of a benefit does not stand still. Benefits are tied to earnings. They depend primarily on the worker's average monthly wage in covered jobs. And after 65 earnings from such jobs are apt to be less than before.

After 65, you are apt to be sick more than before. Obviously, when you are sick, you are not earning so your average monthly wage goes down. After 65 you are apt to work for less pay on the same job, or be shifted to a job at lower wages. This again reduces your average monthly wage. You are apt to lose your job altogether and be unemployed for longer or shorter periods of time. You are apt to shift over from time to time into uncovered work, where the wages do not count towards old-age and survivors insurance benefits. Yes, the months of unemployment and the months in uncovered work all add up, and they reduce your average monthly wage.

For any of these various reasons it may be wise for you, if you are fully insured, to file a claim for benefits as soon as you reach 65. If you continue to work steadily after filing your claim, you may be able to raise your benefit amount by filing a request for recomputation at a later date. However, if after 65 you continue to work steadily at pay which is as high as, or higher than, your past average under-social security, there is no advantage in filing a claim immediately. On the other hand, it is generally to your advantage to file a claim if your pay begins to drop, or if you begin losing time on covered jobs, or if you work in non-covered employment.

The Social Security Board office which serves this territory is located in the Post Office Building, Rocky Mount, N. C.

A representative of the Rocky Mount office is in Greenville at the Employment Office each Thursday at 10:00 a. m.

Rotarians Offer Tribute Homefront

By WYATT BROWN
"All honor to the boys on the far-flung battle fronts who made the sacrifices," said Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, Methodist minister, in his brief remarks at the Rotary Club last night when he took the occasion to pay tribute to the men on the homefront, who have maintained the peace which has been the glory of the war and the suffering of an era of peace. Mr. Bradshaw said he thought it time for a word of tribute to those who did their bit on the homefront.

"The work of the homefront has been magnificent," he declared, "taking cognizance of the chaotic business conditions, frozen salaries and unfrozen costs of living, the long hours, extra records, and always taking the time for the causes in connection with the war—the bond drives and united war campaigns, he said that no men could have done finer.

He deviated for a bit to emphasize an additional freedom—the freedom to gripe. "Safety valve," he called it. The American citizen gripes and then goes ahead and does the job.

The quality of the effort manifested on the home front came from the high ideals of the men.

Reconversion . . .

but Congress is cooling off on it. The issue may touch off President Truman's first big battle with Capitol Hill.

3. Surplus property disposal. A bill to substitute a single administrator for the three-man board now in charge of getting rid of war-born surpluses will be ready for House action next week. There may be a fight over how much authority the administration should have.

4. Reorganization of executive agencies. Mr. Truman wants authority to abolish or merge many agencies. The House Expenditures Committee starts hearings today on the proposal. But committee sentiment favors limiting the President's reorganization power and expanding such agencies as the Interstate Commerce Commission, the General Accounting Office and the Federal Communications Commission.

5. Termination of wartime controls and laws. Many emergency acts are nearing expiration and Congress must decide which to retain. Prospects are the second war powers act, from which rationing and priorities stem, will be kept on the statute books. Also it appears that the draft act will be permitted to run its natural course to next May 15.

There will be no legislative business ready for either branch before next week. In fact, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) said he doubted if the House could count on a majority before then.

A major fight is shaping up over the draft law. Many members want all inductions stopped at once. But the House Military Committee, some of whose members were shouting for an end to the draft only a few weeks ago has just about agreed to go nothing about it for the time being. Instead, the committee planned to approve today a bill to encourage voluntary enlistments in the hope that the armed forces by that method could obtain enough men to permit a reduction in draft calls.

Committee members are not inclined to extend the draft in any event beyond next May 15.

If Mr. Truman has any other very pressing matters for Congress to consider in addition to the five-point "must" program, he is expected to disclose them in his message.

The President may, at that time, outline specifically his stand on taxes.

Receives Discharge From Army
Sgt. Norman E. Warren received an honorable discharge from the United States Army, August 28, 1945, at Camp Pickett convalescent hospital, Camp Pickett, Va., after four years, four and one-half months service in the 32nd Infantry Division. Twenty-six months of this time was spent in the European theatre of operations.

Sgt. Warren was inducted April 18, 1941 at Richmond, Va., after which he was sent to Ft. Meade, Maryland, for his basic training with Co. "E", 116th regiment. His regiment departed from New York City aboard the British liner Queen Mary, September 27, 1942. Four days later Sgt. Warren happened to be on the main deck of the ship when it crashed into one of its escort ships, a British light cruiser, cutting the ship in two. The cruiser sank in 15 minutes leaving only a few survivors. Sgt. Warren's ship had been sailing in front of the huge fleet searching for mines and apparently this particular ship was determined to speed of the largest vessel which resulted in the accident. The only damage to the Queen Mary was a large gaping hole in the bow above the water line.

Sgt. Warren trained with the 116th Regiment for 18 months in England in preparation for the invasion of France. On D-Day they were among the first to land on the troops to land on "bloody Omaha beach" in Normandy. During the battle of St. Lo, Sgt. Warren received several pieces of shrapnel in the legs, caused by an exploding German mine. Two days later he was flown to an American hospital in England by a C-47 transport plane. After receiving the best of care there, he was returned to this country for further medical treatment, arriving in New York City, November 9, 1944, he was sent to Holloman General Hospital, Staten Island for disposition to Ashford General Hospital, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. After receiving treatment there he was sent to Northampton General Hospital, Tuscaloosa, Ala., where he received a final operation on his knee. Later he was transferred to Camp Pickett convalescent hospital, Camp Pickett, Va. where he received his discharge.

Sgt. Warren is entitled to wear the following ribbons and awards: E. J. D. Purple Heart, American Defense Good Conduct, Presidential Citation Award and the Expert Infantry Badge.

Sgt. Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Warren of this city.

★ HEROES ON THE ROAD TO VICTORY—★

Sgt. RALPH G. NEPPLE, blown away from his machine gun, struck in the head with a shell fragment, right leg shattered and left leg ripped by a tank shell, pulled himself back to his gun, killed eight of twenty advancing Germans and drove the rest off before losing consciousness.

Can we at home read of such an exploit and then say we've done our share toward winning this war? . . . Not if we expect to hold up our heads when such men as Sgt. Nepple come home!

There is more pleasure and pride in owning a small home of your own than in paying rent on a mansion. And usually you can pay for a home of your own without paying out each month any more than you are now paying for rent. Let us show you how YOU can own YOUR home.

Instead of Him

Chapter 9
 "Now what's going on?"
 "Oh, Mr. Sheridan—Carla seemed to swim toward him—I've had such a dreadful time. This girl's work—well, it's a sin to use company money to pay for such work. It is to be completely done over. Saturday I left her with some perfectly simple orders to copy. She worked all afternoon, and you never saw such a mess."
 "Saturday?" barked Mark Sheridan. "Saturday afternoon? Who did you have to do your work for you, Miss—"
 "Grey." Jane almost shouted the word to save being called cloud or rain. "Miss James did the work assigned me."
 "Well, there, see?" Carla grasped at this. "The moment my back was turned. Why, she simply won't obey—"
 "Stop hanging on me. Beg pardon, Miss Hansen, but—" His first angry words changed to apology; however, he shook her hand from his arm.
 "What do you intend to do?" cried Carla plaintively.
 "Yes, Mr. Sheridan. Haskins was washing his hands now, furiously. Just what do you intend to do?"
 "Clear up this teapot tempest," roared Mark Sheridan angrily. "In the first place, Miss—Miss Grey didn't copy those orders Saturday afternoon because I called and asked for someone who could drive and take dictation to accompany me on a field survey. And she did. And what's more, she gave me the finest, most comprehensive review of that afternoon that I've ever had from anyone. Anyone, understand?"
 "Now to the next point, Miss—"
 "James," prompted Jane.
 "Miss James consented to do Miss Grey's work to free her for my use, and I don't believe anyone can accuse you Miss—well, Evelyn, of doing anything but perfect work. Now, let's all get back to work. And you, Miss—"

she confessed.
 Chapter 10
 Carter smiled back at her. This tallied with the story of the morning. He admired spirit, when it was on his side.
 "I suppose you were justified?"
 "I thought I was."
 "So naturally, you'd gravitate to a business with which you were familiar."
 Carter seemed satisfied, but Jane wasn't sure. En route to the building she whispered to Evelyn. "I have to get a wire east immediately. Can you manage it?"
 "I can't imagine how—"
 "I have it. Call my detective, have his office send it in my name, and I'll slip the message to you."
 A few moments later Evelyn stopped by Jane's desk and then went into the P. B. X. room, where she relieved the girl at the switchboard for a few moments. Her eyes on the room, visible through glass walls, she quoted, "Party wiring you for recommendations. If you dare tell him my family name I'll wire T. C. B. and tell what you can't afford to have known. Please help me live down my family name. J. Grey, Operator, charge this to J. Grey's number."
 Jane went about her work as usual, unaware of a comedy drama taking place across the continent.
 L. T. Guffery sat at his desk, two telegrams spread before him, purple and red-vinged for supremacy in his face and neck.
 "Why, that—that little devil."
 "What is it, L. T.?" Johnson asked.
 "Miss Grey, out there on the coast, threatening me; threatening me, after what she did to me!"
 "What you made her do to you," corrected Johnson.
 "Look here—wire from a James Haskins, vice-president of the Sheridan Manufacturing Company. He asks for a complete history of Jane Grey—family, home life and business ability."
 "What's wrong with that?"
 "He says here, 'Appearance and ability so superior to most applicants' question motive in accepting stenographic position. Johnson, I'll bet that girl's up to something. Probably after his job."
 And then he began to chuckle. "I hope she gets it. Doggone if I don't where's a blank? Now, how's this for an answer?"
 "Reference to appearance Miss Grey. New York business woman noted for taste in clothes and grooming—He's paying for this so I'll lay it on thick. Family background, father dead, mother married, home life is not congenial to girl so is dependent upon salary Johnson, why in the devil didn't you pay her more? Guess I'd better tell him about the girls she roomed with. Took me long enough to find out what happened to them." And he added that.
 "Now what else?"
 "Business ability."
 "I would forget that All right. Best stenographer ever worked at Guffery Foundries. Tell her I'll double salary and pay fare east if she'll return. There, that ought to hold him."
 "Now for her—" He pondered over this for some time. "Her home address is on that wire of hers, isn't it?"
 Jane opened her eyes in the dining apartment the next morning, feeling as dinky as the place. Practically everything lay in Guffery's hands. She had played him a dirty trick. Would he be big enough to overlook it? And what had awakened her?
 The door buzzer.
 Wrapped in a heavy robe, she hurried to the door to see the shambling janitor there. "I signed for it," he grumbled. "Here." And he thrust an envelope in her hand.
 Perched on a hard kitchen chair, she opened the first of two sheets inside and frowned. There must be some mistake. And then she gave a little cry of triumph. No this was a copy of the answer he must have sent to Carter, who must have wired in Haskins' name as she'd merely omitted the name and address of the person to whom the telegram had been sent.
 Jane rooked on the kitchen chair as she read it. Good old L. T. She couldn't have composed an answer to fit her needs half so good as this.
 She turned to the second page.
 "Will this do and what are you up to? And what do I get out of this? Write me the whole story and I'll play ball. When are you coming home? T. C. B. knows everything. The heel I hired to take job should have had sold out to him. Immediate answer demanded or I'll send follow-up to above copy."
 Jane rushed to the telephone to send a brief wire.
 "Long story, will write tonight Salute you as Alpha-Iron."
 He was pure iron, unyielding but so dependable.
 Coffee ready, she looked out of the window to find a marvelous day in the dawn. The lake lay like an opal; Shrine Temple, the court-house and auditorium rose through tinted mists like dream castles.
 Marvelous day; marvelous world. Evelyn would move in that evening, and soon, soon—
 It came even sooner than Jane expected.

BOMB DEVASTATION IN BREMEN—Between the nights of May 17-18, 1940 and April 22-23, 1945, the R.A.F. alone dropped over 12,000 tons of bombs on Bremen. A massive air raid shelter standing amid the ruins seems to be only building undamaged.

Asks Annulment Second Marriage

Kansas City, Sept. 4—(AP)—Mrs. Ann Birdwell-Marshall, 19-year-old Kansas City girl who last week found herself with a surplus of husband, today filed suit in Jackson County Circuit Court for annulment of her marriage to Jack Marshall, 33-year-old Wichita mechanic, an uncle of her first husband.
 The action follows discovery that the girl's first husband, Sgt. Gene D. Birdwell, 21, reported killed in action over Burma, has been rescued from a Jap prison camp at Yokohama.
 Mrs. Birdwell married Marshall only 12 days before word came that her first husband is alive.
 The girl said today she is eager to have the annulment granted before Birdwell reaches home. At last report he was aboard the evacuation ship Reeves off the Japanese coast.

Long Occupation To Be Necessary

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—Major Thomas A. Mesereau, who witnessed the Japanese surrender ceremony, said today that Japan might have to be occupied 20 years if the ways of the Nipponese are to be changed.
 The 23-year-old former West Point football tackle, who commanded the first battalion landing at Atsugi air field, told a press conference he believed that the Japanese adult could not be changed and that the re-education of the people would have to start with the children.
 From conversations with Japanese civilians, he said, he got the impression that the people merely considered the war as something of a baseball game—it's over and they're waiting for the next one.
 "I don't think they realize we harbor the hatred toward them that we do," he said.
 The attitude of the average Japanese civilian toward the American occupation forces is "amazing," Mesereau said, adding that they are all smiles and bows and seem happy that we are there.
 "They're doing everything they're asked to do," he continued. "I think they're being treated better than they had expected and probably are being treated better by our own forces than by the Japanese police."
 The Japanese people, he added, appear to be more afraid of the Japanese police than of the American soldiers.
 Due to boll weevils, about $60,000,000 in cotton is lost in the United States annually.

Herb's Got a Great Little Wife

Everybody's talking about what a grand job Herb Helm is doing at the war plant. Not just one shift, but two a day—to help build the war materials our men need.
 Good for Herb! But I'd like to say a word for Mary, Herb's wife. She runs the house, cooks the meals, takes care of the children, and works on salvage drives and bundles for the Red Cross. Believe me, that's tiring work for any woman!
 Yet when Herb comes home—too tired to talk or watch where he drops his ashes, maybe—she makes allowances, keeps smiling, brings him a restful glass of beer, and makes enough conversation for them both. Next morning, Herb goes to work refreshed and cheerful.
 From where I sit, women like Mary Helm are doing a great war job themselves... being tolerant and kind to husbands who are working; under a heavy wartime strain. Bully for them!

Sprinkler systems installed in buildings for the purpose of preventing fires operate on the principle of a little water applied at the beginning of a fire will keep it from getting under dangerous headway. By the time the flames are being out the windows a half dozen fire engines are inadequate to deal with the situation. A little attention given to a flame keeps it from becoming a conflagration.

Later profit cashing shrunk the advance.

Snake Bite Fatal To Lay Preacher

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 4—(AP)—Lewis E. Ford, 32, lay preacher of the Dolly Pond Church of God, died last night slightly more than an hour after he had been bitten by a rattlesnake he was handling as a part of a religious service.

The physician who examined Ford said there was "no question" that the death resulted from the snake bite.

Night Jailer W. A. Orrell said the matter was reported to county officers early this morning by a resident of the Grasshopper community who said Ford was bitten as he took the reptile from another preacher during the services.

Snake handling as a part of "faith rites" at the Dolly Pond church, in the northern section of the county, was started during revival services there several weeks ago.

"I may be bitten and I may even die," Ford told a Chattanooga News-Free Press reporter before the meeting. "But if I do it will be because the Lord wants to show unbelievers the snakes are poisonous."

Baseball

By JACK HAND AP Sports Writer

Opportunity is thundering on the Yankees' front door today as Detroit drags its two-game lead into the Bronx for a seven-tilt set with Joe McCarthy's revived contenders.

With the third baseball milestone, Labor Day, now a matter of record, the Tigers face the discouraging prospect of carrying their pennant drive into somebody's back yard.

Be it New York, Washington, St. Louis, Cleveland or some other enemy park, the Bengals schedule calls for 28 more games and only four at home.

While Detroit tours the country, New York will be playing 26 of its remaining 29 contests in the friendly stadium where they have been able to look the part of a contending club. And Washington plays 19 of its 24 tilts at Griffith Stadium. Both St. Louis and Cleveland must enemy park, the Bengals' schedule games in the East during the next two weeks.

The Yanks are still fourth behind Washington and St. Louis. The Tigers picked up a full length yesterday by squeezing past Chicago twice by an identical 6-5 score.

Largest crowd of the year at Briggs Stadium, 53,953, paced the holiday major league total of 265,336 paying customers.

Washington lost ground in its two-month chase of the leaders, by dropping the second of a holiday double to Boston, 8-4, under the spell of Vic Johnson after knocking out Dave (Boo) Ferriss in an 11-5 opening romp.

Charley Keller, Nick Etten and George Stinnett unloaded a barrage of extra base hits on Philadelphia as the Yanks swept two, 4-1 and 7-6 in 11 innings.

St. Louis whipped Cleveland twice, 6-3 and 5-4 in 10 frames to further complicate the Tribe's difficult uphill struggle. Heading east for 19 games they trail by seven. The Browns are only 3 1-2 lengths back of Detroit.

Chicago beat the Cincinnati Reds, for the 19th time in 20 starts, 7-2 and 7-1 before 43,161.

Pittsburgh dropped St. Louis four full games behind the leading Cubs by handing the Cardinals a double dose of disappointment, 6-5 and 6-2. Both Ted Wilks and Blix Donnelly failed to last two innings as the Buccos unloaded a total of five rounds trippers.

The New York Giants hit the million mark in home attendance for the first time (1,008,750 paid) when they knocked off the Phillies, 3-2 and 9-0, on a pair of neat pitching jobs by Harry Feldman and Sal Maglie.

A fist fight between Ed Stanky of the Dodgers and Dick Culler of the Braves enlivened proceedings at Ebbets Field where the Brooklyn Dodgers took two from Boston, 4-0 and 4-3. Lefty Tom Seats went all the way in the first tilt and received credit for the finale on a 10th inning relief chore.

Phantoms Will Play In Goldsboro Friday Night

Local High Gridders Whipping Into Form For First Contest Of The Season

Greenville High School Phantoms will open their football season with a game against Goldsboro in that city Friday night.

While Goldsboro is a member of the Class A conference and always has a good team, our boys will be in there fighting from the start and we hope to make a good showing.

Coach Snag Clark said today. He urged that as many local citizens as possible accompany the team to Goldsboro and give it their support. The game will get under way at 8 o'clock.

The locals will end three weeks of practice tomorrow and will arrive in Goldsboro on Thursday preparatory to Friday night's game. Heavy scrimmaging is scheduled for today and tomorrow.

With 52 candidates reporting for practice Coach Clark said he had good material this year and hoped for a most successful season. Several of last year's lettermen are back and probably seven of last season's regulars will be found in the starting lineup Friday night.

Early Shipment Of Coal Urged

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—Producers and wholesalers of bituminous coal were urged today to speed shipments to retail dealers who normally purchase only a carload or two during an entire year.

Charles J. Potter, deputy solid fuels administrator, said in his appeal the small dealers must receive their coal soon to meet requirements of their customers before the heating season begins.

FAMED FLIERS REACH STATES

Three Of Original Tokyo Raiders In Washington

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—Three drawn and weary men who took part in the Jimmy Doolittle bombing of Tokyo stepped on United States soil today for the first time in 41 months.

"This is the first piece of the United States I've seen since the deck of the carrier Hornet," said big, slow-talking Lt. Chase J. Nielsen of Hyrum, Utah, as he left an Army transport plane at National Airport. "It looks mighty good."

Equally happy were Lt. Robert L. Hite of Earth, Tex., and Staff Sergeant Jacob D. Deshaizer of Salem, Ore. The three, rescued two weeks ago from a Japanese prison camp near Bhopal, were flown here from Karachi, India. They arrived shortly after midnight.

After a brief session with reporters and photographers they were taken to Walter Reed Hospital for a physical checkup.

Lt. Nielsen, acting as spokesman said "We decided to discuss it between us before doing much talking." Turning to Associated Press photographer Frank Maggio he grinned and remarked:

"We certainly can give you that million dollar smile for a picture, though."

Lt. George Barr, formerly of Queens, N. Y., another Tokyo raider, was rescued with them, was left behind for medical treatment.

All of the fliers were from the only two Mitchell bomber crews of 16 which flew from the Hornet on the April 18, 1941, mission—to fall into enemy hands.

Economist Predicts . . .

A plan for return of employment services to state control has been laid before President Truman by Governors Martin of Pennsylvania and Maw of Utah.

The governors have proposed that each State take over intact present U. S. employment service personnel within its boundaries, maintaining federal wage rates during a year's transition period. The federal rates in some cases were higher than state pay scales when the government took on the employment services January 1, 1942, as a war measure.

Doubt was expressed in responsible quarters today, however, that Mr. Truman will be ready to act immediately on the Martin-Maw plan.

Three weeks ago the President told a delegation representing the Bipartisan Governors' Conference that he would order the transfer back to the states only if he were convinced the changeover would not cause confusion in the reconversion period. The governors urged that the government give up its wartime control over the service.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), a strong supporter of the President, told a reporter: he did not believe Mr. Truman should order the transfer now. Lucas said he had been convinced by testimony on a pending unemployment compensation measure that permanent federalization of the service is necessary.

"The testimony on the bill to provide for a maximum payment of $25 a week for 26 weeks has been shown that there are too many complications and conflicts in the handling of this vital problem by the States," the Illinois senator said.

It has convinced me that federalization is the only answer," he said.

The Senate Finance Committee is nearing the close of hearings on the measure amid indications that the bill which may emerge later this week will bear little resemblance to Mr. Truman's proposal for a nationwide scale of payments to the jobless ranging up to $25 a week.

The Howe Way sand Means Committee, where the proposal also has aroused criticism, resumes hearings today.

The resolution adopted later by the house of peers expressed determination to rebuild the nation "with a view to safeguarding the age-old national structure and contributing to world peace, in order that his majesty's mind may be put at rest."

Hirohito had terminated the war, the resolution said, "in profound consideration of the welfare of his subjects."

The emperor, who appeared briefly in person at the opening session, did not once use the word "surrender" in the imperial rescript as broadcast by the Domei agency, but merely referred to "termination of the war" and "cessation of hostilities."

Holiday Death Toll Was 361

(By The Associated Press) America's first peacetime holiday since 1941 brought tragedy as well as celebration. At least 361 deaths were counted as Labor Day observance came to an end.

The accidental death toll jumped this year from 45 for Labor Day weekend, 1944, but still was considerably lower than the 626 toll for Labor Day, 1941, before Pearl Harbor.

Automobile accidents accounted for much of the increase over last year's toll. At least 210 persons were killed in traffic. There were 99 drownings and 92 fatalities from miscellaneous causes.

Illinois reported the highest state toll with 36 deaths from traffic accidents, five from drownings and 13 from miscellaneous accidents.
