General Johnathan Wainwright Enroute To Washington For Official Conference; Names Of Several Thousand Japs Already Listed As War Criminals

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS General Johnathan Wainwright, America's most famous prisoner of war, will come home today in the vanguard of a growing stream of Allied soldiers, sailors and civilians released from the Japanese.

The hero of Bataan and Corregidor was scheduled to reach Hamilton Field, Calif., about 2 p. m. (Eastern War Time) en route by plane from Honolulu to Washington, D. C., to make an official report on his treatment by the Japanese.

He will be honored in a San Francisco with a victory celebration parade Sunday, which he is expected to lead.

In Hawaii, General Wainwright declined to comment on reports that he was slapped and beaten by his Japanese guards, but said: "I'll have plenty to say on that subject when I get to Washington—officially, I mean."

The general's arrival will follow by approximately 24 hours the return to the United States of 64 sailors and marines, the first liberated navy personnel to be flown directly over the 8,000-mile water route from Tokyo Bay to San Francisco Bay by the Navy Air transport service. They were greeted joyously by friends and relatives as the four transport planes carried them landed at the Oakland, Calif., airport.

Meanwhile, as the stream of prisoner and internee evacuations reached a full scale flood stage, Allied officials from Singapore to Tokyo and from China to Washington checked and documented the increasing avalanche of prison horror reports, preparatory to war crimes prosecution of those responsible for the outrages against helpless captives.

In Manila, it was reported several thousand Japanese had been marked to pay for atrocities against prisoners in that area. In Singapore, British administrative officers neared completion of the documentation of a long list of atrocities against prisoners, including many tales of fiendish torture and starvation.

Principally the Singapore officials were looking into a Japanese inquisition at the Sime Road Internment Camp, where prisoners from the Changi Prison underwent a Japanese torture-trial which lasted from October 10, 1943, to August 30, 1945.

Three hundred seventy-one British soldier survivors of the Hong Kong garrison told "Osaka, Japan, of being locked in the holds of a sinking, stinking Japanese ship and breaking out only when the decks were practically awash.

Comdr. Winfield Scott Cunningham, commander of Wake Island, told in Washington, of having been sentenced to life imprisonment after having attempted to escape from the Shanghai Municipal Prison.

Commander Cunningham finally was released at Peking after having been shifted to various prisons in China.

LABOR UNREST MORE SERIOUS

Number Of Idle Workers Now About 125,000 Mark

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS Unrest along the country's labor front became more pronounced today as new disputes were added to an already long list and the number of idle climbed to around the 125,000 mark—the highest in many months.

The sharp rise in the number of workers because of labor controversies has occurred in less than three weeks since Japan's surrender offer was made and after the ending of the no-strike pledge following formal surrender a week ago. In war time the strike total was below the 100,000 mark most of the time.

An Associated Press survey disclosed approximately 40 separate work stoppages across the country, affecting a variety of industries and businesses. The number of idle in the struck plants ranged from 25 employees of the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company in Lexington, to 30,800 workers at the Ford Motor Company plants in Detroit and other cities.

Added to the 30,800 idle Ford Co. employees were some 13,000 other employees in Detroit motor companies, including the 4,500 at the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company, where a continuing strike resulted in the halting of production of passenger cars and trucks at the Ford plants. Officials said 22,000 workers in the Detroit area plants would be recalled to work Monday.

Other stoppages halted work in coal mines, steel and packing plants and other manufacturing concerns and depriving thousands of West Virginians of fuel gas. In Chicago 26 graduate nurses of 30 employed at the Provident Hospital went on strike to obtain wage increases and a 30-day vacation period instead of 14 days.

Some of the bigger stoppages kept 15,000 idle at the B. F. Goodrich Company's six rubber plants in Akron, O., while a similar number were off the job—but reported ready to return Monday—at the Comstock (Continued on page four)

OPA Controls Of Livestock Lifted

Washington, Sept. 8—(AP)—The OPA today removed all controls over how much livestock may be slaughtered.

The agency also dropped its "fair distribution plan," which required slaughterers to follow the same geographic distribution pattern in making shipments that they used during the first quarter of 1944.

The two actions do not immediately affect meat rationing, but if expected increases in livestock marketings materialize, rationing may end fairly soon.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles said there had been marked improvement in the supply of meat available to civilians recently, especially since the end of the war. He added, however, that the supply is not yet adequate to assure good distribution without rationing controls.

WAR CRIMINAL LIST GROWING

Over 400,000 Nazis Scheduled To Be Tried By Allies

Washington, Sept. 8—(AP)—As many as 400,000 Nazis may be tried for war crimes when the Allies deal justice to the architects and terrorists of World War II, it was disclosed today.

Battles broke out. More were coming. Leading lawmakers were putting President Truman's program under a microscope, piece by piece.

And politics—it seemed—was here to stay. Here were the main things Congress did during the week:

1. Went all-out for a Pearl Harbor investigation.

2. Heard President Truman's mammoth message on domestic problems.

3. Witnessed an ear-chewing battle over the unemployment pay.

4. Worked hard in committee rooms to get bills into shape to be debated next Monday and thereafter.

And today there were these new developments: Congress leaders said they are convinced a law will be passed putting the country back on Standard Time by September 30. That means people will turn their clocks back an hour.

Chairman James Meade (NY) of the Senate War Investigating Committee said his group will draw up a master plan of future war preparedness. He hopes there will be another war, he says this country must never be caught napping again.

Rep. Carl Vinson, Georgia Democrat, will set the pattern. Thereafter, lesser assorted murderers and conspirators will be tried—many possibly at the scenes of their crimes, as in Warsaw where the Nazis burned the entire Ghetto.

Tons of German official documents have been culled. Investigators believe many a German may have written his own death warrant in meticulous official reports of mass murders.

Day after day, as the evidence is presented at the master trial, copies of these reports will be given to the 250 reporters who will be admitted.

And pictures as well will be offered. From Hitler's personal photographer alone, the Allies have taken a score or more volumes of photographs which tell their story of top level Nazi knowledge and (Continued on page four)

Congress To Get Down To Business Next Week

First Week Of New Session Brings Sharp Controversies Into The Open

Washington, Sept. 8—(AP)—Congress came to town this week, handshaking, growling, proposing, predicting. The world was now at peace, but Congress wasn't.

Here's the story of the week just ending: Day by day, members came straggling back from their vacations (a lot of them aren't back yet).

Each member found his desk piled up with letters and telegrams from people who wanted to get themselves or somebody else out of the army or navy.

The opening sessions of the Senate and House took place Wednesday. There were 56 senators present—out of a total of 96; and 150 representatives out of a total of 432 (three seats are vacant). Some brief speeches were made, and House members introduced dozens of bills (very few would ever be laws).

The Senate and House met again Thursday, heard the reading of the President's message, and declared a recess until Monday.

Mr. Truman said the war is not really over on the home front until its economic effects have been softened. He asked for continued war powers to deal with the economic emergency of changing over to peace. He recommended a long tax bill in order to cut taxes in a "limited" way for 1946—not too much, but some.

TO DISCUSS LEND-LEASE

U. S. May Ask Change In Britain's Trade Policies

Washington, Sept. 8—(AP)—Britain is expected to try next week to obtain the United States help for her reversion to peace virtually free of cost.

The British argument will be based on the contention that a kind of postwar Lend-Lease arrangement would be fully justified by the sacrifices which the British made in the war.

Anglo-American economic talks will open Monday. Lord Keynes, noted economist and an advisor to the British treasury, arrived yesterday to take part. The British ambassador to the United States, Lord Halifax, is due Sunday. He will be the other principal British representative on the economic mission.

Advance indications are that the British and American officials will start from widely separated bargaining positions but with common agreement on one basic point: It is in the long range interest of the United States to help Britain get back into peacetime industry and trade as soon as possible.

Some American officials with an eye to postwar markets in the United Kingdom, say that such a reversion in Britain would be a great help to business expansion and the creation of jobs in this country.

United States representatives want commitments that the British will modify or do away with various practices which tend to promote the growth of commerce solely in the British Empire and those areas of the world financially dependent upon it.

At the same time U. S. officials say that this country must extend considerable financial help to the British.

The British are reported very reluctant to talk about a loan. They say they already have enormous debts, that their resources have been greatly reduced by the war and that to take on new obligations now would be impractical if not impossible.

Resignation Of Rankin Accepted

President A. C. Ruffin of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade today issued the following statement in connection with the resignation of Sales Supervisor R. C. Rankin, who will go to Lumberton January 1 to become sales supervisor of that market.

"The Executive Committee of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade at a meeting Friday afternoon, reluctantly accepted the resignation of Mr. Rankin effective February 1, 1946. He has served as supervisor of sales on the Greenville Tobacco Market the past six years and has done excellent work. Mr. Rankin has always been very cooperative and popular with both warehousemen and buyers.

"This community will lose a very valuable citizen when Mr. Rankin leaves and we all wish him success in his new endeavor."

Points Reduced

Washington, Sept. 8—(AP)—The Coast Guard today cut its point scores for release of male personnel to match the Navy's rate of release.

Critical scores required for Coast Guard officers were reduced from 49 to 43, and for enlisted men from 44 to 40 points.

"This community will lose a very valuable citizen when Mr. Rankin leaves and we all wish him success in his new endeavor."

PROBE WRECK OF AIRLINER

Authorities Believe Plane Afire Before Crash

Florence, S. C., Sept. 8—(AP)—Military authorities and officials of the Eastern Air Lines investigated today the crash of a big DC-3 transport which brought death to 22 persons near here today. The plane might have been airborne before it plowed into a dense swamp.

The plane, making the night run from New York to Miami, crashed about 2 a. m. yesterday in a heavily wooded cypress swamp about 8 miles northwest of Florence and a pilot searched for a place to make an emergency landing.

At least nine service men were reported aboard the plane. The pilot, Capt. J. Olin King of Miami, radioed the Florence air base a few minutes before the plane crashed. The plane was "having trouble" and would try to land there.

Both military and EAL investigators expressed the possibility that the plane was afire before it crashed in the vicinity of the Pee Dee River to become a mangled funeral pyre for the 19 passengers and the crew of three.

They said the plane's stabilizer was burned but that the branch of a tree found across the stabilizer was undamaged.

This, they believed, might indicate the plane was in flames when it slashed a 200-foot path through lush sub-tropical vegetation and exploded.

A navy blimp led searchers to the scene of the accident after a 10-hour quest. Mrs. W. L. Rankin, who lives nearby, said she heard a loud explosion followed by several lesser ones about 2 a. m. and immediately notified authorities.

A search was started at once but it was mid-morning before the wreckage and mass of charred bodies were found.

First person to reach the scene was 12-year-old Hicks Harwell, a grandson of Mrs. Rankin. Because of his size he was able to make his way through the almost impenetrable swamp, but rescuers later were forced to back a roadway three-fourths of a mile to reach the plane.

The army air base here said the search was hampered by poor flying weather and the fact the wreckage (Continued on page four)

Atomic Bomb

Tokyo, Sept. 8—(AP)—The Domei Agency said today that 126,000 persons were killed at Hiroshima by the world's first atomic bombing.

This figure is more than twice as great as any previously reported by the Japanese.

Domei, quoting the Hiroshima prefectural government as authority for its reports, listed casualties as follows: Instantly killed, 66,000; died of injuries, 60,000; missing and believed dead, 10,000; seriously injured, 14,000; slightly injured, 104,000.

At the same time U. S. officials say that this country must extend considerable financial help to the British.

The British are reported very reluctant to talk about a loan. They say they already have enormous debts, that their resources have been greatly reduced by the war and that to take on new obligations now would be impractical if not impossible.

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

A long, long line of Japanese warlords and other criminals must be made to walk the plank if we are to get lasting peace, and the sooner we square our jaws for the task, the better.

The amazing disclosure of how the militarists plotted and fought to prevent the Mikado from surrendering, even after the atomic bomb had demonstrated its annihilating power, shows the grip of militarism in Nippon. The barbarities which are being uncovered in the Japanese prison camps are in themselves enough to condemn the nation.

The whole nasty situation is well summed up in a statement by the Sultan of Johore, whose state lies just across the narrow strait from Singapore. He says the Japanese commander of that great naval base, Lt. Gen. Itagaki, declared a few days ago that he expected to return to Singapore about 20 years hence.

That's what the Allies are up against—the determination of the Jap militarists to try again to conquer Asia. However, as this column pointed out a couple of days ago, if the Allies kill that determination right where it stands, they won't have to fight another war a generation from now. I raise the subject again, not because we need fear that Supreme Commander MacArthur will be too lenient, but because it is well for the Allied public to be prepared to do a stern job in Japan.

The melodrama of the Mikado plots to hamstring the Mikado might have been written by Gilbert and Sullivan—except that it lacks the humor. It's grotesque but wholly grim, even involving the almost unbelievable scene of numerous kamikaze (suicide) pilots diving to their deaths in Tokyo Bay as a protest after the surrender had been announced.

Seek Return To Standard Time

Washington, Sept. 8—(AP)—Congressional leaders promised today to set the nation's clocks back an hour by Sept. 30.

They will do this by having Congress abolish what is known as daylight saving or war time, under which the clocks were ahead an hour in 1942. The idea then was to provide more day time for war work.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee and Chairman Boren of a House Interstate Commerce subcommittee said the repealer would pass quickly. Cannon is a leader in the move to switch the time. Boren's group is preparing the necessary legislation based on more than 50 pending bills.

"I can promise you we'll have the War Time Act off the books within two weeks," Boren told a reporter. "I am advised by those in a position to know that the repeal will be passed x x x and transmitted to the President in time to become effective Sept. 30, Cannon said.

Both remarked they didn't expect "a single vote" against the action in either the Senate or House.

For Servicemen's Attention

Babson Discusses Labor Unions

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 8—I have today received a telegram from a returned serviceman who has just arrived from Europe. He states that, after paying certain bills and providing for his board and lodging, he is broke. "But," says he, "I cannot get a job until I pay a labor union $20 or more. Please wire me some money immediately."

Postwar Employment

I am continually being asked "What will the employment situation be now that Japan has collapsed?" I have replied that we will have a slowdown for a few months during the change-over of factories from war to peace goods; but after that we should have a few years of excellent business and fair employment. Certainly, there need be no serious unemployment while people have excess money in their pockets and bank accounts.

Every employer is prepared to take back such returning servicemen as were in his employ when they were drafted. After this, a difficulty will come in deciding who shall next be in line for jobs, the young fellow who never had a job before entering the service, or the man who has been employed in shipbuilding, airplane construction or munitions manufacture? Certainly, many married women and old people will be expected to step aside and return to their prewar status.

Labor Unions Are "Big Business"

But then I am asked a second question: "How long will this post-war prosperity last?" To this I am prepared to answer: "The length of the post-war prosperity depends largely upon the labor union leaders. They can make the prosperity short or they can have it extend over a long number of years, according to how they act. As to what they will do, no one—including themselves—knows. Why? Because the actions of these labor leaders will be determined by the returning servicemen and we do not know what their attitude will be.

There is little real democracy in a big labor union. Members vote as ordered; they have far less freedom than the stockholders of any corporation. Often even the officers of the union are mere figureheads without real authority. The typical labor union today is a "big business" run by dynamic leaders primarily for their own advancement and profit. They make demands and call strikes to have their members think they are doing something.

Watch Returning Servicemen

Labor leaders can bluff their present membership which has become docile from browbeating and blackmail. But these labor leaders may meet their match in the returning soldier. He is no nambypamby. Hence, the important question is, "What will the attitude of these returning servicemen be toward the labor union leaders?" If the returning soldiers insist upon the open shop and peaceful collective bargaining, the postwar prosperity can be bright and of long duration with little unemployment; but otherwise there will be much unemployment.

I do not attempt to guess what attitude these returning servicemen will take. They seem to be influenced much by the feeling of their families. Those who came from homes which are independent—especially white-collar homes—are against union domination. This especially applies to boys from Republican homes or from Southern Democratic farms. But those who are returning (Continued From Page One)

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, Sept. 8—(AP)—If you have cut short a President Truman still is trying to get the nation back on its feet. I hope you can realize as fully as I do that the very first step in the emergency the Congress Roosevelt would take would be to get the economy back on its feet, and that the Congress would take immediate action to get the economy back on its feet, and that the Congress would take immediate action to get the economy back on its feet.

He tried to get some details of the immediate program they cracked back at him. The plan was to get the economy back on its feet, and that the Congress would take immediate action to get the economy back on its feet.

Mr. Truman has been very lenient to his former colleagues in the Senate since he stepped back as a senator and moved into the White House.

He's gone up to the Hill to lunch with his old cronies. He hasn't taken a poke at anyone in Congress. And when he wants something, he strokes the congressional fur first. His message this week is a good example of patting the boys on the back.

In 16,000 words he pattered them and then dumped on them enough recommendations for new laws, some far-reaching — to keep them busy until Christmas.

In that message he didn't rush in and say: "Look, boys, here's what I want you to do. Take it or leave it."

Just listen to the part where he starts with a big salute and warm feelings for the Senators and representatives.

"I regret that you have been compelled to cut short your recess pay."

His tennis playing (of a little different type) has earned him fame outside the United States too.

Would-be wits among the political observers here are going around asking each other: "Whatever because of Sidney Hillman?"

It is true that the name of the head of CEO's Political Action Committee has been conspicuously absent from the calling list of President Truman, whose nomination as Vice President was reportedly held until it could be "cleared with Sidney."

Serious political observers frankly are puzzled, especially since there has been no other indication of a rift between the President and organized labor's most active poli-

The office buzzed with excitement the following noon. Miss Hansen had not appeared, but a strange woman had come in and obtained permission to pack Miss Hansen's personal belongings.

At one o'clock, looking drawn and tired, Mr. Sheridan appeared at the door of the main office and, swinging himself to the top of the nearest desk, called an informal meeting.

"Just want to advise you of a few changes. Miss Hansen has resigned"—he ignored the sudden gasp from the girls—"and I have asked Miss"—he looked down at the notes he carried—"Miss James to assume most of her duties.

"Miss James will have complete charge of all office operations. "Miss Grey, as you all know, has come to this company from an eastern foundry. Because of her remarkable knowledge of the basic materials used in the construction of our pumps, her knowledge of market conditions and general understanding of conditions relative to this business, Miss Grey will assist me.

"Who said that? Speak up; who made that remark?" "Someone had cat-called. "Nice work," but no one was willing to admit it, and before Sheridan could pin them down, Lisle Carter appeared behind him.

He stood there, pompous, sure of himself, twirling a small gold pen-knife on the edge of a gold-plated chair.

"Aren't you being a bit premature in this reorganization of your office, Mr. Sheridan?" he asked. "Miss Hansen's absence is only temporary, you know."

"That I do not know," Sheridan barked in answer. "She didn't resign, as you're well aware; she was forced out to make room for this."

FINE SPEECH FOR KIWANIS

Robert Humber eloquent in Describing Security Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH
Robert Lee Humber, distinguished scholar and world traveler, in a "Backstage Review" of events at the recent World Security Conference in San Francisco, gave some highlights of the epochal event as guest speaker at the Greenville Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night. He described the gathering of the representatives of 56 nations of the world as one of the outstanding monuments of history—a beginning of the movement for world peace.

Mr. Humber said the array of 50 nations' flags at the conference symbolized the interdependence (not independence) of world nations. His thumbnail sketch of the meaning of the charter and the workings of the conference was intensely interesting. He declared that the atomic bomb wrote the obituary of national sovereignty; it marked the points where the welfare and interests of all of the world's nations became international in their scope. He dramatically pointed out that three inventions of recent times entirely changed world customs. They are the radio, the airplane and the atomic bomb.

"Permanent peace can come only with justice, and justice comes only from law," Mr. Humber said, and then outlined a world federation of all nations for self-government on an international basis, and similar fundamentals to the Union of American States, but on a broader and more international scale. "Our destiny is united," the speaker declared. "We are either going to govern the world or leave it to the war gangsters. No nation in the world is big enough to stand alone; no nation is too small not to be of influence for good and the peace of the world," Mr. Humber said in conclusion.

The speaker gave a vivid word picture of the activities of the World Security Conference in action at San Francisco. One of its outstanding features was the work of the interpreters and translators. One of them, a Mexican scholar, who had impressed the Secretary of State Stettinius at Pan-American conferences, did outstanding work. Mr. Humber said. Another, a Frenchman, who could listen to a 15 or 20-minute address in one language and then get on his feet, without notes, and recite in either French or English the message and accompany its delivery with all of convincing gesticulations of the finished orator.

Dr. H. G. Haney, program chairman, paid fine tribute to Mr. Humber as "one of North Carolina's distinguished sons." Dr. J. M. Barrett, president of the club, presided.

James Fleming, scholarly son of the late J. L. Fleming, who introduced in the State Legislature the bill establishing East Carolina Teachers' College, was a guest of the club. Mr. Fleming, who lived in France many years, is now head of the department of foreign languages at ECTC.

Announcement was made that "charter and ladies' night" will be observed by the Kiwanis Club with a banquet and special program on October 12. Past Presidents Dick Bundy and Joe Taft and Mrs. Ray Tyson comprise the committee. It was announced that a delegation of Greenville Kiwanians will go to Stantonburg next Tuesday night to attend the charter presentation exercises of the club recently organized there. A picnic supper will be served.

John R. Williams Died At Oak City

John Robert Williams, better known as John Link Williams, 71, died at his home near Oak City Friday afternoon at 6:30 after several months' illness. He had been a semi-invalid for the past five or six years.

Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. D. W. Alexander, Free Will Baptist minister of Bethel, will officiate. Burial will be in the Bethel cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lou Williams; seven sons, Eddie, Clyde and Lester Williams of the home; David Williams of Hobgood, John D. Williams of Williamston, Lorenza Williams of Tarboro, and Braxton Williams of the U. S. Navy; three daughters, Misses Nellie Irene, Rutie and Jennie Williams of the home; seven grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Hattie Whitehurst of Winterville.

Mr. Williams was born and reared in Pitt County. He lived in the Stokes community until about six years ago, when he moved to the Oak City community.

BERLIN CHILDREN—With a few schools now opened in Berlin, the "under fives" enjoy the kindergarten in the open air. They get coffee in the mornings, as there is no milk.

MUSICAL OFFSPRING — Young Steve Massey, 3, demonstrates to his father, singer Curt Massey, that musical ability really runs in the family.

To Make Report . . .

Honsbu district were reported already released. Army and navy officers worked for the speedy liberation of the remaining 3,800.

As the prisoner recovery program gained steam, the rescue teams established direct contact with a group of more than 1,700 prisoners in the Mukden, Manchuria, area. More than 1,200 Allied prisoners were rescued from Formosa by American warships operating under the cover of American fighting planes.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

September 8, 1905

The town has had a rallying put by the east end of the culvert on Evans street, near the graded school to avoid the danger of any one falling off in passing there at night.

Fred Forbes spent Thursday up the road.

Leon Pender went to Durham today to attend Trinity College.

Alexander Harper returned this morning from La Grange.

Notwithstanding the scarcity of "hands" you can see loafers on the streets.

Mrs. Lula Rollins Died Bethel Home

NEWS ABOUT SERVICEMEN

Home on Leave
Frank C. Harrington, petty officer, is home from Bainbridge, Md., to spend a 12-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Harrington.

Receives Bronze Star Medal
The following citation for the Bronze Star Medal has been received by Hugh M. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. James, who live near Greenville. He has also received the Good Conduct Medal for service in France, Germany and Belgium.

Hugh M. James, 34855447, Technician Grade 5 (then Private), Company A, 634th Tank Destroyer Battalion, for heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy in the vicinity of Krinkelt, Belgium, 31 January 1945. When the enemy launched a savage attack, Corporal James, despite an intense artillery, mortar, and small-arms barrage, fearlessly remained with comrades at an exposed vantage point, skillfully directed fire upon the foe, inflicted severe casualties, and compelled the hostile force to withdraw. Corporal James' heroic actions and unwavering devotion to duty exemplify the outstanding initiative of the American soldier.

Congress To . . .

Walker George of Georgia, the leading tax man of the Senate, has come out for an average 18 per cent cut in personal income taxes—as well as lower business taxes. Some sort of bill was sure to be passed this fall.

Seek To Revive Local Ball Loop

Kinston, Sept. 8 — (AP) — The Coastal Plains baseball league, which ceased operations following the 1941 season, may resume play next season.

Asurvey of sentiment now under way in Kinston, New Bern, Tarboro, Williamston, Greenville, Snow Hill, Goldsboro and Ayden will hold the key to the circuit's immediate future.

Wilson and Rocky Mount replaced Ayden and Snow Hill in the final campaign.

Baseball

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer
Barring a baseball miracle, the American League race has narrowed down to a two-way stretch between Detroit and Washington with St. Louis, New York and Cleveland on the brink of elimination. Only unexpectedly strong comebacks by the Browns, who are six games back, and the Yankees, who trail by 6 1-2 lengths, could save them from the disaster suffered in their series with the Senators and Tigers. St. Louis has only 22 to play and New York 23. Cleveland was given an outside chance at the big money when Bobby Feller returned but a double loss to St. Louis Labor Day and three defeats in four starts at Boston have snuffed out Tribal hopes. George Case all but ran St. Louis out of the park at Washington last night stealing three bases, including a theft of home, in a 3-2 razor-thin verdict for Roger Wolf over Bob Mumrier.

Detroit's aching back pitching staff continued to make life miserable for the Yank sluggers. Hal Newhouser, fresh from a series of examinations by the Motor City medics, threw his high hard one past the home club, turning in a neat four-hit, 5-0 game to assure the Bengals of the seven-game series. The Tigers captured four out of six with one to be played today.

The Yankees are witnesses to the fact that, with either Trout or his southpaw teammate on the hill, Steve O'Neill's gang really looks like a championship outfit. Trout blanked them Tuesday and Newhouser did the trick yesterday. Eddie Mayo continued his sensational hitting streak with 13 safeties in 27 at bats boosting his average to .305 and a place in baseball's six for the first time.

Mike Ryba, Cleveland's venerable handy man, doused Cleveland with a three-hit coat of whitewash, 1-0, outpointing Mel Harder. Philadelphia copped both ends of a twin bill from Chicago, 4-3 and 9-2 with the help of five White Sox boots. Bill Connelly, a 19-year-old lad from Alberta, Va., registered his first big league triumph in the opener and Charley Gassaway copped the finale.

St. Louis paled the Chicago Cubs' National lead to four games by blanking Boston on George Dockins' three-hitter, 4-0, after New York's Sal Maglie had handcufted the Bruins, 2-0, for his third shutout in six major league starts.

Tom Seaver and Art Herring teamed up on Pittsburgh to hurl Brooklyn to a 3-2 decision after the Dodgers had their daily spat with the umpires.

The Phillies and Cincinnati split another double bill, the Reds copying the first, 6-2 for Joe Bowman and the Phils easing out an 8-6 margin in the finale despite two homers by Eddie Miller.

Yesterday's results:
American League
Detroit 5, New York 0.
Boston 1, Cleveland 0.
Philadelphia 4-9, Chicago 3-2.
Washington 3, St. Louis 2.

Phantoms Drop Opening Game To Class A Team By Lone Touchdown

By DAVE CLARK
A slip on just one play and there goes your old football game. This has been the case in many a game and so it was last night in Goldsboro as a hustling Greenville High Phantom eleven lost to the Class A Goldsboro Eagles 7 to 0 in a very hard-fought contest.

It would be hard to find two teams more evenly matched than were the Greenville and Goldsboro elevens last night, as the game was see-saw all the way through, with neither team showing any definite superiority. In fact, it seemed that the contest would be fought to a scoreless tie in the first minutes of play and, had it not been for the one play in the second quarter in which a Goldsboro end caught a short pass out in the right flank, then lateraled to a back coming around, who went for a touchdown from about the 50-yard line, it probably would have been.

Jimmy Futrell, "the old reliable," was once again the individual star of the game. Running from his fullback post, he averaged at least four yards per try in a game where the longest single gain, except for the touchdown play, was 20 yards. All the boys played an excellent game. Jack Whichard played a bang-up defensive game until the third quarter, when he painfully sprained his ankle and had to leave the game.

Greenville kicked off to start the game and when Goldsboro was unable to gain through the Greenville forward wall, they kicked to Harrington down on his 20-yard line. From here on the game was back and forth, up and down the field, except for the one touchdown play in the second quarter.

The starting lineup for the Phantoms was, on the line: Jimmy Ward and Mac Batchelor at ends, with "Stump" Garrett and Lewis Law-
