Nation's Strike Totals Are Expanding Rapidly Today

More Than 400,000 Workers On Strike Causing More Than A Million Others To Remain Idle; Government Making Effort To Bring End To Disputes

By The Associated Press The nation's strike lines, expanding steadily since the end of the war, bulged today as 400,000 workers remained away from their jobs because of labor disputes.

The strike along the labor front struck hardest at five major industries—automotive, coal, lumber, oil and electrical power. The number of idle touched a new high for the past several months. There were an additional million and a half workers in New York City affected by a labor controversy.

Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the State Mediation Board, said today Manhattan day-old strike of building service workers would end Monday morning.

Stoppages affecting two of the industries, oil and coal, appeared headed for a climax. There also were indications that a settlement was imminent in a three-week old strike affecting some 40,000 employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants in six states.

In Washington, Secretary of Labor Schwelb was ready to step into the conference between CIO union leaders and representatives of oil companies in efforts to settle a strike of 35,000 workers in eight states and avert a threatened nationwide walkout of 250,000.

The conferees were to resume their negotiations over a wage-hour dispute, in which the union is seeking a 30 per cent wage rate increase. The issue failed of settlement in three days of meetings in Chicago where the union announced a nationwide strike would be called if the conference fails.

Also in Washington, the next move in the work stoppage in Pennsylvania and West Virginia coal mines, including some 37,000 miners, appeared up to John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers. Bituminous coal operators declined Lewis' invitation to meet until the miners returned to their pits. Lewis had said they refused to meet, the union would feel "free to take such independent action as may be required."

The country's newest big strike took 46,000 CIO workers in the textile industry in more than 200 plants in six eastern states. But an additional 16,000 in three states delayed joining in the walkout. About 40,000 print and dye workers in New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania, yesterday joined the 6,000 from 70 plants in the Paterson, N. J., area who had quit work over a wage dispute. They had developed a 15 cents an hour wage boost.

There were no important developments indicating settlement in the numerous disputes in the Detroit area, where an estimated 80,000 workers are away from their jobs because of strikes and shutdowns. Strikers of the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company at a mass meeting last night boomed in silence R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO United Automobile Workers and made no declaration.

To Continue Operation City's Oldest Clothing Store

Greenville's oldest clothing store established in 1893 by the late Frank Wilson and operated by him until his recent death, will continue to be one of Greenville's business establishments. According to announcement made today, Thomas E. Wilson, son of the late Frank Wilson, has purchased interests of other heirs and will continue the business as sole owner and manager.

Bonner Says Army Is Doing Fine Job

Fort Bragg, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Rep. Herbert Bonner of the First North Carolina District, after a visit with other representatives to this military installation, said that the procedure the Army is following here in discharging men and returning them to civilian life "is worth any reasonable delay."

The WORLD TODAY An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analysts General Eisenhower's firm action in summoning General Patton to account for reported slowness in the denazification of Bavaria, over which Patton has command, is calculated to inspire confidence here at home and to increase German respect for the Allies.

As one of the greatest leaders of the war we owe Patton more than we can repay. However, the Bavarian situation needs the straightening up which Eisenhower is bent on giving it.

Patton remarked a few days ago that the Germans were docile and would likely remain so "because their fangs are drawn," and that "the best thing the United States can do is let the German people see what a great people we are by mixing with them."

Well, of course we want to let the Germans see what a great people we are—but the consensus is that we can't do it by fraternizing with them. You could do it with many folk, but not with Nazis or Japs. You can make a good friend by being kind to him, but you can't work that with a wolf.

Naturally there will be some fraternization between the soldiers and the enemy girls. I'm afraid we have to admit that for practical purposes sex frequently is a law unto itself.

BIG FIVE MEET TO END MONDAY

Matter Of Balkan Treaties Has Delayed Conference

By FLORA LEWIS London, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The United States was reliably reported today to have presented a compromise proposal in an effort to break the deadlock of the Foreign Ministers Council over who should write the Balkan peace treaties.

Members of several delegations said the Balkan policy decision will have to be made this weekend and expressed hope the decision would enable the deputies to get started on drafting the actual peace pacts.

Russia, citing the Potsdam decision that only signatories of the armistice with the defeated nation should participate in authorship of the peace treaty, has demanded the exclusion of France and China.

Members of several delegations said the Balkan policy decision will have to be made this weekend and expressed hope the decision would enable the deputies to get started on drafting the actual peace pacts.

Adjustment of the conference, which yesterday completed its 26th session in 14 days, has been delayed a week already because of the Balkan issue.

The American delegation was reported drafting its version of the conference's accomplishments for the final communiqué, and one source said "they may not be anywhere near what the public is expecting."

Meanwhile the Soviet embassy in London reacted sharply to reports that Russian suspicion of the western nations has caused difficulty in the conference.

The embassy's official publication carried an article headed, "Less Talk About Suspicion," which declared "there is no reason to call Soviet foreign policy mysterious. It is clear as daylight."

Tobacco Market Clears Floors

Warehouse Floors on the Greenville tobacco market were cleared for the first time this season yesterday afternoon with the market leading any other market in the belt by about half a million pounds.

Season's sales to date were given by Supervisor R. C. Rankin as 34,678,810 pounds for $14,762,760.71. The average price paid for farmers' first hand sales was given as $42.80 per hundred.

Rankin said that a lot of farmers at this time were giving attention to their other crops such as hay and peanuts and that the coming few weeks warehousemen anticipated some lighter sales with the possibility of clearing all floors each day.

Shell-Torn Flag Flies Over Japan

Tokyo, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The shell-torn American flag that flew over Hickam Field on Dec. 7, 1941, was raised today over Irumagawa Airfield—the incubator for thousands of Japanese aviators—on a site that once held a Japanese monument to their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

Old Glory, frazzled and weather-beaten but proudly bearing the scars of a strafing attack on that memorable morning, fluttered gallantly in the sun as Lt. William A. Beauchamp of Kansas City, an enlisted man at Pearl Harbor the day the war began, slowly pulled the hoisting cord.

Today In Congress

By Max Hall

Washington, Sept. 29.—(AP)—A plan to plunge the government into an endless, all-out war against unemployment is half way through Congress.

The Senate approved the "full employment bill" last night. Before the final action, the bill was either improved or weakened, depending on your point of view. At least, it was changed.

The bill now goes to the House, which may debate it late in October. The Senate and House took a breathing spell today, and observers noted that:

1. President Truman's revelations with Congress were not so hunky-dory as in wartime.

2. The rush of mail from people trying to get somebody out of the army or navy has slowed up a good deal.

3. Looming larger every day in congressional minds is the spine-chilling responsibility of deciding what to do with the secrets of atomic power.

Problems before this postwar Congress have fallen roughly into two main groups: Economic and military.

Economic problems include full employment in future years, emergency help for unemployed people now, and taxes.

Military problems include army-navy discharges, enlistments, Pearl Harbor, and the atomic bomb.

Here is a quick review of each subject: Full employment—the "full employment bill" passed by the Senate provides that:

The government shall adopt a broad program to help private employers provide enough jobs for all. If necessary in any year, as a last resort, the government itself shall spend money to create jobs.

Among the changes made by the Senate yesterday were: It provided that such spending must be consistent with other needs and obligations of the government.

That is, there might be a limit to the amount of spending done, if the spending conflicted with some other policy.

It provided that plans for such spending must be accompanied by a tax plan to raise the money.

President Truman's supporters in the Senate weren't too happy over the changes. Unemployment Pay: The Senate has passed a weakened version of President Truman's program for wider financial help to jobless people. The House Ways and Means Committee shelved the whole matter.

Japan Confiscates Papers To Keep News From People

HALSEY ASKS RETIREMENT

Hero of Pacific Wants Youngsters To Take Over

Pearl Harbor, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Adm. William F. Halsey, who chased Japan's navy all over—and off—the Pacific with a vigor and tenacity that won the nickname of "The Bull," has asked to be retired at 62.

"I'm an old man, let the young fellows take over," the graying gamed skipper of the Third Fleet announced yesterday.

His words were strangely subdued in contrast with the whip-cracking way the outspoken admiral used to refer to his enemy as "those monkey men" and to voice his favorite motto: "Kill Japs—sink ships."

The decision of the rugged, weather-beaten admiral to bow out of one of the most dramatically enacted roles in Navy history because of age served to recall a record which, even in summary, catches the breath.

As vice admiral, commanding Pacific's aircraft carriers, at sea when Pearl Harbor was attacked. Went on defensive patrol.

Early in 1942, led revamped task force against Marshall and Gilberts. Won Distinguished Service Medal. Then led force against Wake and Marcus. Commanded warships which escorted carrier Hornet for Jimmie Doolittle raid on Japan April 18, 1942.

Following Oct. 18, took command in South Pacific (Solomons). Won battle of Santa Cruz Oct. 26. On Nov. 13, 14, 15 his admittedly "shoe-string" fleet sank at least 23 enemy vessels in decisive engagement at Guadalcanal. Became full admiral.

June 15, 1944, relinquished South Pacific command after working himself out of job in area where Japanese lost 150,000 men, 4,800 planes and "so many ships I cannot count them."

Was awarded Gold Star in lieu second DSM for a job well done. June 17, got the job his heart desired—commander of Third Fleet.

From then on the record is too voluminous for even a summary. Halsey was highly influential in the selection of Leyte for the re-invasion of the Philippines. His warships helped keep the Japanese navy away from that operation.

At war's end, Halsey's big Third Fleet was roaming at will off Japan, even shelling its coastal cities. That fleet led the way into Tokyo Bay, supplied the battleship Missouri for the surrender ceremony and stayed on until the occupation was an accomplished fact.

Then Halsey came back to Pearl (Continued on Page Two)

Change Game Law Enforcement Plan

By CHESTER WALSH The open season for hunting squirrels begins Monday. The bag limit is 10 a day. The quail season opens November 22 and the bag limit is 10 birds a day. The law provides a fine and imprisonment for buying or selling quail.

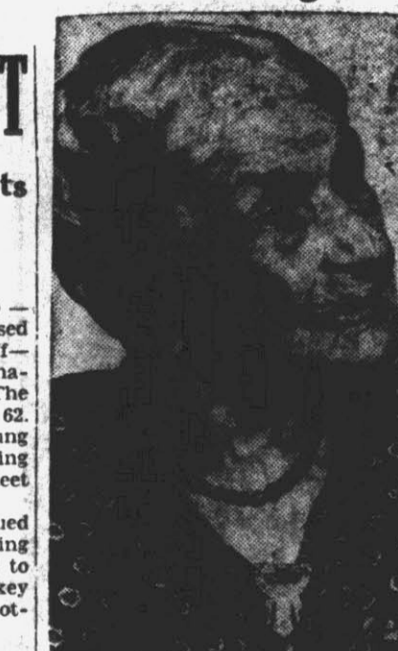

Beginning Monday a change will be made in the enforcement of the game and fish laws. The State Department of Conservation and Development, (Department of Game and Inland Fisheries) will not have county game and fish protectors.

They will be district protectors and will circulate from county to county and bring about more effective enforcement of the laws. Joe O. Teel of Greenville, who has been Pitt County protector, will be a district man, and his territory will include adjoining counties.

Numerous persons were reported for shooting squirrel out of season and some of them were arrested and hauled to a magistrate's court and fined $10 and costs and required to buy hunting licenses—totaling about $20 in all. They were Jim Henry Wilson, colored, Grifton; Herbert Adams, Aiden; Hyman Gladson, Grimesland; Elisha Dilda, Greenville, and Vance Fleming, Stokes.

Looking Into The Future Two important developments are taking place: (1) The analysis of foods to ascertain which are the most valuable, and (2) the development of synthetic flavorings. I refer to the chemists' ability to make cooked apples taste like peaches or plums, or to make cooked carrots taste like mushrooms or artichokes. Our children will be able to buy foods purely for their health-giving qualities and then give them the flavor of any vegetable or fruit desired. This should reduce living costs, improve family health and give more joy when eating.

WORLD FLIGHT IN PROGRESS

Globester May Break Time Record Set For It

Washington, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The Globester, pioneering around-the-world flights, reached Santa Maria in the Azores at 10:32 a. m. (EWT) today.

A report on the arrival of the second stop on the trip was received by Army Air Forces here. The Air Transport Command's big C-54 left Washington at 5 p. m. (EWT) and Hamilton, Bermuda, at 10:21 p. m. (EWT) last night.

The next scheduled stop is Casablanca, North Africa.

By PAUL MILLER Aboard the Globester, Sept. 28.—(AP)—The Globester may beat the 151-hour schedule set for its round-the-world flight, it developed today.

U. S. Army Air Transport Command observers turned up this possibility as the 40-passenger C-54 headed eastward over the Atlantic after a stop at Bermuda with Santa Maria, the Azores, and Casablanca next on the 23,147-mile journey.

It was pointed out that two and one half hours were picked up by flying direct from Washington to Bermuda, eliminating a previously scheduled New York City stop. Another hour may be picked up by a decision to fly from San Francisco to Washington non-stop.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, Sept. 29.—(AP)—This country has cut a new path in international relations. It has made wide claims to the waters.

This was done in a double proclamation issued by President Truman yesterday. It affects our food, fish, and our fuel oil. It was meant to conserve both for the benefit of Americans.

Take oil first. The President said the United States now takes jurisdiction—the right to say so—over the natural resources in the continental shelf under the waters around this country to a depth of 600 feet.

This continent doesn't end at the water's edge. It slopes downward under the ocean. In some places it reaches a 600-foot depth 25 miles from shore. In some places it extends 700 miles under water before reaching 600 feet. That slope is called the continental shelf.

The government is not claiming jurisdiction over the land in that shelf but only over the natural resources, like oil, which may be found in that land by future explorations.

Home Ministry Said Publication Of American Interview With Hirohito Would Have Bad Effect; MacArthur Cracks Down With New Directives

Tokyo, Sept. 29.—(AP)—General MacArthur commanded the Japanese Government to keep its hands off Japan's press and radio today, ceasing all censorship, suppression or control—after the home ministry tried to ban Emperor Hirohito's interviews and stories and pictures of the Hirohito visit to MacArthur.

The ministry had suppressed Tokyo and Osaka newspapers in an effort to keep the news from the Japanese people.

It was a major move by MacArthur toward eliminating the aura of mystery surrounding Hirohito by prohibiting one of the most important methods of preserving it.

For Japan, the publication of newspaper interviews with the ruler was epochal. None had appeared heretofore; the government carefully had made certain of that.

The home ministry's explanation of its attempt to block circulation of newspapers carrying American correspondents' interviews with Hirohito was that the subject was "too awesome." Apparently the ministry's thought was that the Japanese were not entitled to know that their emperor had chatted with foreign newspaper men just as ordinary government officials had done.

That clashes with the purposefully nurtured idea of an unapproachable, mysterious sovereign who leaves his imposing palace only on important state occasions.

Nippon's war department meanwhile reported to the Allied command that 1,833,824, or 81 per cent of all Japanese soldiers in the home land on September 15, had been demobilized by September 24; and Allied headquarters simultaneously approved dispatch of eight small Japanese ships to bring 16,000 Nipponese soldiers home from Tsushima and Iki Islands, between Kyushu and Korea.

(Chungking reported that 34,000 Japanese troops in China's Hankow, Wuhan, Hangyang area have been demobilized.)

Prominent Wayne Physician Dies

Goldboro, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Dr. W. H. Smith, first vice president of the North Carolina Medical Society, died at a nursing home here at 4:30 this morning following lengthy illness ascribed to heart condition. He was sixty three years old.

Funeral from First Presbyterian Church, Goldboro, 4 p. m. Sunday. Surviving are the widow, a son, Lt. Wiley Smith, U. S. Navy, daughter, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Goldboro, sisters, Mrs. B. H. Griffin, Raleigh, and Mrs. Eugene Hines, St. Louis.

Smith was president of the North Carolina Tuberculosis Association in 1942-43.

So this government tells the rest under the off-shore land, under the water of the world that anything we find water is ours.

Oil is one of the main resources in the shelf. The government has expected—some government official called it "fabulous"—machinery for discovering the oil.

Government experts have warned that this country's oil supply—within the dry land limits—is only enough to last another 14 to 18 years.

So the President's move plainly is intended to save for this country what is so important as food in this country are not wiped out by reckless and uncontrolled fishing tactics.

For instance: This government has spent millions trying to be sure salmon would be protected in this country's spawning grounds. But the money is wasted if—People from other nations—sitting in their boats outside our 3-mile limit—catch our salmon that breed in our rivers and come back to spawn and die.

Strength FOR THE DAY
 By EARL L. DOUGLAS

STICK TO IT, AMERICA
 There is no excuse for a half-finished job. Anything worth doing is worth finishing. This applies to everything in life, and especially it applies to the political and social conditions in which we now find ourselves.
 We fought this war to crush certain sinister powers which had arisen in an effort to destroy human liberty. Unless we utterly destroy these powers, we shall have fought in vain.
 We cannot leave the countries we have conquered, allow them to fall into social chaos and so permit the enemies of mankind to start again on their evil designs. It is going to take quite a bit of patience for us to stick to the job until it is done.
 It may take a decade or a generation or a century. Our erstwhile enemies have never thought in terms of the present, but in terms of historical eras. They are biding their time and biding heavily that the soft and indulgent peoples of the democracies will not accept the challenge of peace as they accepted the challenge of war.
 Liberty is always purchased at the cost of violence. We cannot make a country free and then assume that it will stay free. It has to be kept free and keeping it free takes effort and self-denial.
 The day of sacrifice is now over, because the day of sacrifice is never over. Sacrifice is the price we pay for life's best gifts.

To Make Report About Argentina

Washington, Sept. 29.—(AP)—A frankly spoken man with the build of a fullback today was ready to give President Truman and the State Department some first hand information on Argentina's military government.
 Just when Ambassador Spruille Braden would call at the White House was not certain.
 Neither was it known definitely when he would take the oath of office as assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs.
 It was sure he would confer with acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson early in the day on his new duties, and particularly those involving U. S. relations with the Buenos Aires regime which has carried out widespread reprisals against its political foes since Braden's departure Sunday.

Another thing was certain: What ever proposals Braden might make to the President about dealing with the Argentine situation would be aimed only at the present military government and not at the Argentine people.

Dr. Haney Told Best Fish Story

By CHESTER WALSH
 At the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night "fisherman's night" was observed—the Kiwanian telling the best fish story to receive a prize given by Claude Ward, the judges, Dr. Robert S. Boyd, Don H. Conley and Bruce Sugg, unanimously awarded the prize to Dr. H. G. Haney, prominent Greenville minister, for being the biggest shrdiu etain vblqk emfwy zxtaio in Greenville.
 The Kiwanians had fun—lots of it. There was no set program. They "were boys again—just for the night," and every one of them enjoyed themselves. Incidentally, Eli Bloom will find that about five of the fish stories told last night will help to draw a crowd to the Kiwanis minstrel show next April. The editor of the paper will not allow us to print the fish yarns told because the motto of the paper is, "Truth in preference to fiction."
 Those contributing yarns to the program were Claude Ward, Dr. J. L. Winstead, Arthur Tripp, Otis Morton, Tigie Gardner, Dr. Boyd and others.
 It was suggested that similar programs be given, with more "congregational singing," and leave off speeches until after the Christmas holidays.
 Vice-President Ed Rawl presided for Dr. J. M. Barrett, who is ill at the hospital. It was announced that the "ladies' night" banquet will be held at the USO on Thursday night, October 11. Dick Bundy is chairman of the committee.
 Lt. Tom Wilson, formerly of the Air Corps, was welcomed back to the Kiwanis fold. Bob Hopkins of the Dearborn, Mich., Kiwanis Club, visiting relatives at Grimesland, and R. S. Atkinson of the Kenly club and Lt. Howard Sugg of Greenville, were guests. Judge Dink James won the attendance prize given by Wyatt Highsmith.

 Mrs. Dink James, always a favorite with the Kiwanians, delighted with two songs, "Just Been Wondering" and "I Know a Lovely Garden," with Mrs. Ray Tyson as accompanist.

The great transport, carrying eight passengers who will go all the way around, and one bound for Cebu, completed the 730-mile Washington to Bermuda flight in the right-on-the-schedule time of four hours and 16 minutes.
 The Globemaster swung away from Washington National Airport at 5 p. m., climbed slowly with its 2,300 gallons of gasoline, despite its light passenger load, cleared the coast-line and headed over the Atlantic at 5:32 p. m.
 At 6 p. m. Col. M. S. White, chief surgeon of the ATC, already was busy taking temperatures, checking pulses and blood pressure and setting up psychological tests in studies by which ATC hopes to find means of making for even greater passenger comfort and convenience in the future.
 By 6:20 p. m., a steak dinner appeared—tender juicy steak surrounded by fruit salad, peas and carrots, mashed potatoes, bread and butter and coffee, commercial airline fashion. Passengers were served on trays at their seats.

The Globemaster stopped at Hamilton, Bermuda, only long enough to refuel and roared out again, headed for the Azores.

Some have said the question is this: "How to keep the world from being destroyed?" Congress waits the recommendation of President Truman on how to use and control atomic secrets. When it comes, it will probably be studied by a Senate-House committee. The Senate has already voted to create such a group. The House will act on it soon.

tralian Air Force would fly to Tokyo in three or four weeks to help in the occupation.
 General MacArthur's order to the Japanese Government to halt immediately all control of the "written or spoken word" put an end to the government's trend of years to police the very thoughts of the Nipponese.
 He acted within a few hours after the Japanese home ministry had confiscated Tokyo and Osaka newspapers because they printed interviews of American correspondents with Emperor Hirohito and showed photographs of the Mikado calling on MacArthur.
 In the strongest directive yet issued, the supreme Allied commander severed Japanese control over not only the newspapers but the mails, telephones, telegraph lines, cables and radios.
 The home ministry, making what is regarded by American authorities as a prime political blunder, banished the newspapers and suspended them on the pretext that the contents were "too awesome and would have a bad effect on the Japanese people."
 As MacArthur took his strong action Yokohama aboard three transport, 9,797 happy American troops ports bound for San Francisco—the first large numbers of officers and men to take the homeward trail. Most of them were of the 43rd Division, although some were high point men from the First Cavalry, American (correct) and other divisions.

A bleak winter for Tokyo and Osaka was depicted in a commerce ministry report issued today by Domei which told of critical shortages in fuel for cooking and heating, also in such other essentials as paper for paper windows, bedding and cotton cloth shoes.
 The new MacArthur directive, issued through his civil censorship section, demanded:
 "The Japanese government forthwith will render inoperative procedures for enforcement of peacetime and wartime restrictions of freedom of the press and communication."
 It stated that "only such restrictions as are specifically approved by SCAP (Supreme Commander, Allied Powers) will be permitted in the publication of newspapers and other publications, wireless and transoceanic telephone, cable, internal telephone and telegraph, mail, motion picture or any other form of the written or spoken word."

 as to tasks like any fruit or vegetable desired. In the same way, beans peas and lentils, which are very rich in iron, would be served to taste like more expensive and tasty meats. We will still be able to buy a can of "peaches"—the contents tasting like peaches and healthier than peaches—but they may be made from one of the base vegetables such as carrots.
Caution to Farmers
 All of the above means that before spending more money setting out peach and apple orchards, orange and grapefruit groves, readers should carefully study this subject. Annual crops may be a much safer investment than tree crops or shrub crops; while money invested in good chemical stocks may be safer than if invested in farm land.

Today In Congress ...

 ence at Rio De Janeiro.
 Taxes: The House Ways and Means Committee has begun work on a bill to cut taxes—moderately. Hearings will start Monday, behind closed doors.
 Military Discharges: The hundreds of thousands of requests to get somebody out of uniform, now slackening considerably, have given congressmen more grief than anything else in a long time.
 For one thing, the sheer volume made it nearly impossible to answer them all. For another, congressmen found they could do very little toward pulling any individual out of the army or navy before his turn came.
 Since they couldn't help individuals, many law-makers roared for speed generally. Bitter criticism of slowness in discharging men started almost before the last shot was fired.
 Enlistments: Despite the uproar, Congress so far has refused to pass laws ending the draft or forcing any changes in demobilization policy. Instead, it was sought to help matters by persuading men to serve voluntarily.
 A bill offering inducements for enlistment has been passed by the House and Senate, with slight dif-

Two workers from the Baptist State headquarters at Raleigh will lead in the enlargement campaign. Two study courses will be offered: For Juniors—"The Junior and His Church"; and for Intermediates—"Growing in Bible Knowledge."

Mr. E. R. Conway is the Training Union director and it is hoped that all juniors and intermediates will come and enlist in this enlargement campaign.

Woman's Club Executive Board
The Executive Board of the Woman's Club held its first meeting of the year on Thursday. At this time the board voted to hold a regular meeting each month on the third Thursday at 4 p. m. at the Club building.

The main project of the General Federation is "Conservation of Youth." Mrs. Robert Humber appointed Mrs. C. C. Hill as chairman of this committee. Plans were made for post war work. The district meeting of the Woman's Club is to be held on October 19 at Columbia, N. C.

Presbyterian Nursery
Beginning Sunday, September 30, the Woman's Auxiliary is kindly arranging a nursery to be kept each Sunday morning from 11 o'clock through the hour of the morning service.

This will be available for mothers with small children and babies who desire to attend church services. We need a small baby's bed or crib to be used for this nursery and anyone who has the same is requested to see Mrs. N. T. Ennet or Mrs. Dink James. It is believed that this will serve a real need in the life of mothers when servants are a thing of the past, so that they may attend the worship services. — Robert S. Boyd, pastor.

40 YEARS AGO
THE DAILY REFLECTOR
September 25, 1905

The secretary of the Tobacco Board of Trade furnishes the following figures of sales on the Greenville market:

Sales for month of September 2, $41,726 pounds at an average price of $6.98. Sales for month of August, $45,429 pounds at an average of $6.57. This makes the total sales for the two months since the market opened 4,487,165 pounds.

The sales for September are nearly a million pounds more than last year.

lected members. The Julia Meadows circle meets at the home of Mrs. E. T. Stafford; the Nettie Patrick circle meets with Mrs. Lella Higgs; and the Claude Wilson Circle meets with Mrs. George D. Vincent. All these meetings will be at 3:30 p. m. and all the women of the church and congregation are invited to attend as this will mark the beginning of the fall quarter of work.

Eighth Street Christian Church
The Eighth Street Christian Church school will observe this Sunday as Rally and Promotion day. Superintendent W. Arthur Tripp announced today. At that time he is calling for every teacher to be in place and for every pupil in every class to be present. Promotions will be made in each department and the superintendent in each department will conduct her graduating pupils to the department immediately above her so that a roll can be made this Sunday and the classes in new departments with new curricula can proceed on the first Sunday in October.

At the morning service the pastor, Dr. H. G. Haney, has announced to speak on the theme, "An Ideal Household," and an unusual number of special music will be rendered at this service when Mrs. T. T. Swearingen of Wilson will sing for us.

The Eighth Street Church is conducting an all-church visitation on Sunday afternoon, September 30, with what ever follow up is necessary to visit the total membership of the church. A large group of visitors will make at least five calls each on Sunday afternoon and the membership is requested to remain at home until the visitors arrive. This visitation is preparatory to the observance of world-wide communion Sunday on October 7.

The circles of the Woman's Council will meet as follows on Monday afternoon at 3:30: No. 1, with Mrs. C. M. Jones; No. 2, at the parsonage; No. 3, with Mrs. Frank Savage; that Matrons, with Mrs. James T. Keel. The Guild will meet with the leader, Miss Ruth Modlin, at her home, 401 Library Street, at 8 p. m. Monday.

All young mothers of the church and their friends are requested to take advantage of the nursery during church service time when young women will take charge of the infants if the mothers so desire.

Business and Professional Club
The Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club met Thursday night at the Olde Towne Inn for monthly supper meeting with twenty members and three visitors present.

Mrs. Viola Baker presided. The club voted to send $25 to the Kew-Yang Army Nursing School in China to pay for one nurse's training. This is the third year the club has supported this project. Plans for a Halloween party to be held at the armory were discussed. This party will be held for the boys and girls but adults will find fun and frolic galore for them.

Announcement was made of district BW meeting at Roanoke Rapids on October 12 and of a mid-year council to be known this year as a Victory Jubilee at Sedgewick Inn November 17-18. Attendance will be limited to five at the district meeting.

Business Women's Week with the theme of "Jobs Enough to Go Around" will be observed October 7-13 in Greenville and in clubs of all the 48 states, Alaska and International organizations that continue their borders. Church attendance of the club will begin the week with all members worshipping at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. Mrs. J. B. Spilman will be hostess at a tea Tuesday night for members and prospective members at her home on East Fifth Street. Mrs. J. B. Jackson will entertain the executive board on Wednesday evening. Radio programs and newspaper proclamations of the governor and mayor will further publicize the week and club activities.

Mrs. J. B. Spilman presented the program topic "Jobs Enough to Go Around" after being introduced by Miss Verona Lee Joyner as the one person in Pitt county who knew the subject and was personally interested in securing jobs for all persons who wanted jobs. Mrs. Spilman pointed out that "Only less disastrous than war in its effect upon the whole people is widespread unemployment. We found that out in the great depression that followed World War I. If we are to achieve our goal of a good life for all, we must do our utmost to see that there are enough jobs to go around, and this means that we must start with the filling of human needs and desires. The human element is also to be considered and jobs must be done by those best qualified in order that human relations in business may speed up the flow of peacetime goods and promote home front peace between labor and management."

She continued, "Business and Professional women, once regarded as marginal workers and dubbed 'the perpetual amateurs of business,' are now accepted as 'regulars' in the labor market. Since one woman out of every three is a business or professional woman and by 1950 approximately 16,000,000 women will want or need to support themselves and their dependents, part of the responsibility for solving the problems involved in securing peacetime jobs enough to go around is truly theirs. This is going to take teamwork from the 438,000,000 people—workers, managers, investors and consumers—who make up our population, but when machinery is oiled and turning-out products and services there will be enough jobs to go around."

Winterville F. T. A. Officers
The Winterville F. T. A. has started its 1945-46 year with a competent and enthusiastic group of officers and committeemen. With the counsel of the high school principal, Mr. J. T. Biggers, plans are being worked out for interesting and worthwhile programs. It is hoped that every parent in the Winterville community will be able to attend each monthly meeting. They will be held at the school building on the first Tuesday night of each month.

New officers for the year: President—Mrs. Hyatt Forrest, vice president—Mrs. Mamie Liverman, secretary—Mrs. Mildred McLawhorn, treasurer—Mr. Jesse L. Rollins. Committees for the year: Program committee—Mrs. Edward G. Cole, chairman, Mrs. J. H. Mobley, Mrs. J. T. Biggers.

Membership—Mrs. J. T. Gaylord, chairman, Mrs. L. N. Dempsey, Mrs. Joe Edwards. Publicity—Mrs. M. T. Speir, chairman, Mr. R. E. Boyd, Miss Helen Clark.

Campus and Playground Improvement—Mrs. L. E. Ellis, chairman, Mr. J. E. Mobley, Mrs. J. L. Rollins. Ways and Means (Budget and Finance)—Mrs. Woodrow Worthington, chairman, Mrs. J. D. McArthur, Mrs. A. E. Boyd, Mrs. Vernon White, Mrs. D. T. McLawhorn.

An Announcement

I wish to announce the purchase of the business of Frank Wilson, "The King Clothier," having bought all interest from the other heirs. This old established firm has served the people in Pitt County since 1895. I will continue the business under the same name. I will have associated with me Mr. C. A. Bowen, better known as "Clink" who has seen continual service with my father, the founder of Frank Wilson, "The King Clothier," for the past thirty-three years. Mr. Bowen and I will appreciate your patronage, and it will be our pleasure to give a service that will be in keeping with good business, also a personal interest of gratitude for any consideration that you may extend the new ownership.

Phantoms Romp Over Yellow Jackets By 24-0 Score.

Every Member Of Greenville Squad To See Action Played An Excellent Game

By DAVE CLARK

What was expected to be a very tough assignment turned out to be a fairly easy ball game for the Green Phantoms as they romped to an impressive 24-0 victory over the Elizabeth City Yellow Jackets last night at Guy Smith Stadium.

Another big crowd watched the Greenville "boss" the whole show and dominate play a great deal more than the 24-0 score indicates. Several times the Phantoms threatened to score, but couldn't lug the extra points or kick of the extra points were made and thus Greenville won with an even four touchdowns—24 to 0.

The Phantoms received and "Speck" Morgan ran back the kick to the visitors forty. On the first play Billy Harrington faded back and threw a short pass intended for Bachelor, but which was intercepted. After trying several plays for little or no gains, the Jackets kicked to Harrington, who got back up to his own forty. Then, with the pile-driving Xen Sideris doing most of the ball carrying, the Phantoms drove down to the Jackets' ten. But here the Greenville attack stymied and Elizabeth City took over on downs. Then came the first break of the ball game. The Yellow Jackets tumbled and Greenville took over on the fifteen, but still could not get through for a score and Elizabeth City got the ball again. Once again the Phantoms got a break when a Jacket kick was neatly blocked. This time, however, after a series of plays, Jimmy Futrell scored from about the four and a half-yard line.

Greenville kicked off and the Jackets failed to make any impressive gain and kicked to the Phantoms who, after a series of plays scored on a reverse from Billy Harrington to Jimmy "Stud" Lee. Lee dashed from about his forty for a score.

The half ended with the score at 12-0 in favor of Greenville.

In the second half the Elizabeth City boys came back a rejuvenated team. But after gaining a first down their attack slowed and they were forced to kick. Later in the third quarter End Henry Turner nabbed an aerial tossed by Jimmy Futrell and stepped into the end zone for the third Phantom score.

The fourth Greenville touchdown came when Xen Sideris bulldozed his way over after he and the veteran Jimmy Futrell had alternated in "toing" the old ball down near the goal line. The game ended with the score at 24-0, Greenville's favor.

The Paquotank county boys played a good ball game but were considerably out-played by the Greens. Both teams should be commended for the clean brand of ball they played and the friendly spirit they displayed on and off the field.

It was a great relief to learn that the Elizabeth City boy, Selman Hoefler whom it was thought had broken his leg and for whom the ambulance was brought, had only pulled a muscle and was hobbling around after the game.

Phantom substitutions were Jimmy Lee, Julian White, Graham Leggett, L. L. Kittrell, Jimmy Futrell, "Stump" Garrett, Jimmy Sutton, Rodney Roberts, Shelley Beard, Junius Rose, Tommy Diener, Jim Tanner, Ralph Paul, Tommy Ellers, Roy Bachelor and Dave Clark.

The starters were: Turner and Ward at ends, Lawrence and Whitehurst at tackles, Clark and Whichard at guards, J. T. Williams at center, Sideris at fullback, Harrington at tail back, Bachelor at blocking back, and "Spooky" Morgan out on the wing.

Cubs, already assured of no worse than a tie for the pennant, can clinch the championships today with a victory apiece.

The National League-leading Bruins, who are enjoying a three-game bulge on the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals, with only three games remaining on each team's schedule, grapple with the Pirates in doubleheader in Pittsburgh. One win for the Cubs or a defeat by the Cards and it's all over.

The Tigers, leading Washington by one game, with two to go, can write finsis to the Senators' faint hopes by taking the Browns, whom they meet in a single engagement in St. Louis. Meanwhile, the Nats, all through with their schedule, can only wait in agonizing idleness.

The confident Cubs have the right arms of ace Hank Borowy and Claude Passeau all geared and oiled for the Bucs.
