New Jap Premier Visits MacArthur

MacArthur Issues Directives For Further Restrictions On Japanese Affairs; Foreign Holdings Must Be Reported; Search For Loot Continues

Tokyo, Oct. 11.—(AP)—General MacArthur met the new head of the Japanese Government—Premier Baron Kijuro Shidehara—for the first time today and gave him instructions for wide social and political reforms which will require liberalization of the Japanese Constitution.

MacArthur likewise put it squarely up to Shidehara to take prompt and "vigorous" action to see that Japanese people are clothed, fed and housed during the coming winter.

The meeting came shortly after the Allied supreme commander had directed the Japanese Government to report within 90 days all foreign exchange assets, including private holdings and foreign properties of the imperial household.

Allied headquarters also announced revocation of permission to the Japanese to operate an air courier and liaison transport service. The job will be taken over by American airmen.

Cost of the war to Japan from July, 1937, to its end was indicated by the commercial daily paper, Nippon Dango, which said the Japanese funded borrowings at the end of July, 1945, amounted to 114,289,000,000 yen ($6,619,266,666).

The reforms which MacArthur told Shidehara must be made in carrying out surrender terms included votes for women, labor unionization, liberalization of educational policy and revision of industrial monopolies.

Obviously Allied investigators are on the search for war loot and for the tieup of Japan's big industrial plants with the military and imperialism.

Today's announcement said the Japanese Government has been ordered to report all foreign exchange assets, including private holdings and foreign holdings of the imperial household, within 90 days.

Forbidden import and export of foreign exchange.

Forbidden foreign exchange transactions with Japan.

MAKES REPORT ON UNRRA FUND

Asks Another Appropriation To Meet Acute Need

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—President Truman told Congress today that only $20,000,000 of this country's $800,000,000 appropriation for United Nations Relief remained uncommitted August 31.

Mr. Truman transmitted the fourth report on American participation in UNRRA as the House Appropriations Committee began closed hearings on his request for another $550,000,000 to meet "acute need and privation" in Europe this winter.

"Life abroad in the coming winter," the President said in a letter transmitting the report, "will depend upon the outside assistance which this country and other countries can render to the liberated peoples."

Asserting that UNRRA "has made a substantial beginning in the immense task" despite world deficits of critical supplies and shipping, Mr. Truman added:

"The more this task can be speeded up through the early delivery of vitally needed supplies, the sooner it will be possible for UNRRA to withdraw, leaving the liberated peoples on a firm footing to carry on their own life."

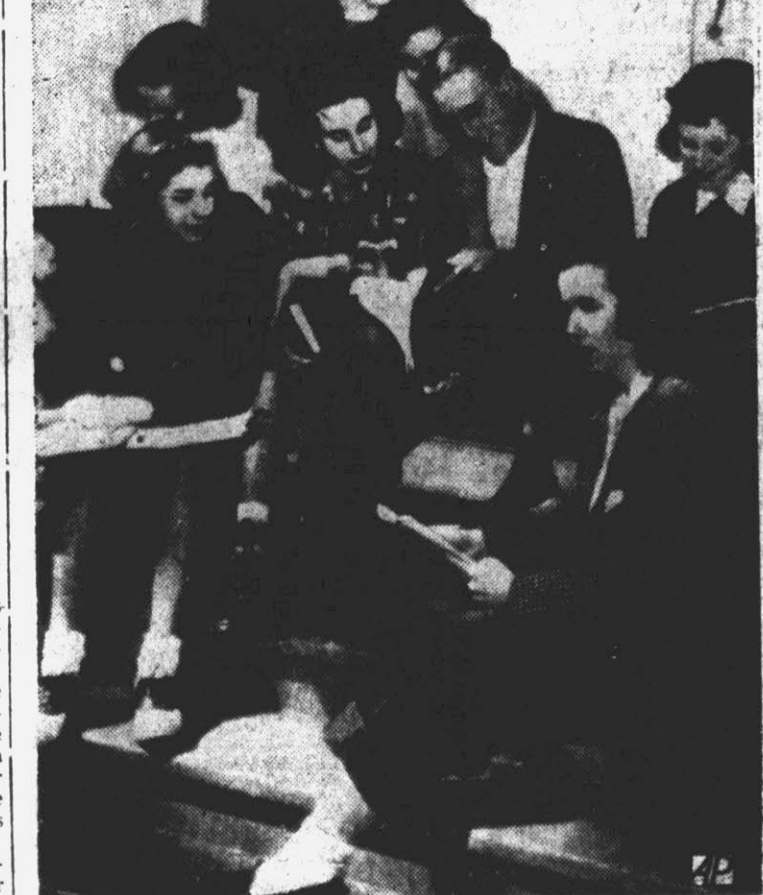

The report covered the quarter ended last June 30. UNRRA officials said it was late because of what they termed "confusion" in liquidation of the foreign economic administration, under which the UNRRA operated, and its transfer to the State Department. Most of the material in this report has been superseded by individual reports made public since June 30.

It did include a few new figures, however. One was a statistical table showing that as of September 15 all 44 nations participating had pledged $1,882,759,991 to UNRRA. Of this, $1,268,750,254 had been paid in or is "available on request" toward "operating" expenses, while $15,415,334 had been contributed for.

Tobacco Prices Still Climbing

Prices continued on the up-grade on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday with the day's average reaching a new high for the season. Official figures released today by Supervisor R. C. Rankin revealed sales of 110,362 pounds of producers' leaf for $501,595.45, an average of $4.54. Rankin said that the quality of the offerings as a whole yesterday was lower but that the strengthening prices on the common as well as the better grades helped to make the general average higher.

War Fund Drive Off To Good Start Here

Citizens Urged To Continue Aid To Armed Forces And Community Chest

Small lapel tabs bearing the eagle insignia of the United War Fund and carrying the legend, "I have given—Have you?" appeared in profusion on the streets of the city yesterday as the general solicitation for the current and final campaign of the War Fund, combined with the annual campaign of the Greenville Community Chest, got under way.

The Men's General Solicitation Committee, under the leadership of Godfrey Oakley, met at 8:15 a. m. for a pre-campaign breakfast. Hon. B. B. Sugg, former mayor of the city and prominent businessman, in an inspiring talk to the assembled workers called attention to the fact that many boys are still in service and many more will continue in service for occupation duties for the duration of 15 months, the period of time which this campaign will support, in contrast to previous periods of 12 months.

James Ray Jackson, 14, son of Deputy Sheriff Cletus Jackson and Mrs. Jackson, who was injured last Friday when his bicycle and a laundry truck driven by Marvin Nobles collided at Fifth and Holly streets, is improving. He suffered a leg injury. The collision was unavoidable, authorities said.

Injured Lad Improving. James Ray Jackson, 14, son of Deputy Sheriff Cletus Jackson and Mrs. Jackson, who was injured last Friday when his bicycle and a laundry truck driven by Marvin Nobles collided at Fifth and Holly streets, is improving. He suffered a leg injury. The collision was unavoidable, authorities said.

A feature of the meeting was an interview with Charles Musselwhite, who has recently been discharged from the army after more than five years' service. He is a Greenville High School graduate, told of his "travels" with the army—from the armory here in Greenville to "Omaha Beach" in Normandy and on the Elbe River in Germany with a "detour" to the Ardennes Forest. He spoke of the occupation duty of the army as one in which the men needed, more than ever, the recreational and entertainment facilities of USO, one of the agencies supported by the War Fund.

His final word was that the men of the army had never forgotten the folks at home—that he hoped the folks at home would not now forget the men of the army.

Chairman Oakley recognized Greenville Township Chairman Walter Harrington and County Chairman Sam B. Underwood, Jr. for brief messages and the meeting was adjourned with every man enthusiastically determined to do his part to see that Greenville quickly (Continued on Page Two)

FACTIONS IN CHINA REACH AGREEMENT

Nationalists And Communists In Accord On Basic Principles For Unified China

By CLYDE FARNSWORTH Chungking, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Chinese Nationalist and Communist negotiators for a unified China issued a communique today agreeing upon basic principles of political peace in a nation split for decades by bloody fighting for government control.

The communique also set forth the negotiators' willingness to continue the talks which have been under way during a five-weeks-old truce in the fighting, and to submit complex military and political questions still unsettled to a military subcommittee and a broadly constituted political consultative council.

The statement indicated the determination of Nationalist leader Chiang-Kai-Shek to achieve "unity of political authority" immediately.

Mao Tze-Tung, leader of the Communist forces, said "the outlook is optimistic" as he boarded a plane in Chungking to return to his headquarters at Yen-an, Shensi Province. He conceded that some points remained to be settled. The communique originally was scheduled to be issued yesterday, China's big national holiday of the Double Ten, tenth day of the tenth month, but it was held up for a final, personal polishing by Mao and Chiang.

Mao was a guest last night at Chiang's Shantung home. They had a 10-minute chat yesterday afternoon at Gen. Chang Chih-Chung's residence, where Mao had been staying. Later, they attended a diplomatic reception at National Government headquarters, observing the Double Tenth.

Scrap Paper Drive Here Next Sunday

Greenville's next scrap paper drive will be held here Sunday afternoon, sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today by Alton Barrett, scrap chairman.

Barrett pointed out that Greenville citizens and merchants had donated near a half million pounds of scrap paper during the war. He added that the continued need for this vital material still leaves us with an opportunity and an obligation to serve our nation. The gradual slackening off of the demands of war hasn't lessened the call for this paper needed in the tremendous job of reconversion. Let's keep up the scrap for scrap.

The drive will start at 2 p. m. and citizens are urged to have their paper securely bundled and in front of their homes before that time. The paper will be collected by members of the Jaycees during the afternoon.

Today In Congress

By Max Hall

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The House debates the tax-cutting bill. The Senate fights over a Truman appointment. And around the Capitol there are whirlpools of agitation over U. S. foreign policy.

That is the picture in Congress today.

Groups of law-makers asserted themselves in the international scene—with regard to atomic energy, foreign loans and U. S. military goods piled up overseas.

One thing at a time.

The House. It began several hours of speech-making about a bill to cut $5,350,000,000 out of the $32,500,000,000 that would be paid in taxes next year under present laws.

The Senate. It prepared to take up the case of Raymond S. McKeough of Chicago. It has the right to vote yes or no on his appointment to the Maritime Commission by President Truman.

The Senate. It prepared to take already has voted against him, 10 to 7. Some members didn't like his being an employee of the CIO Political Action Committee. The Senate vote is expected to be close. This is the first big political fight anyone named to office by Mr. Truman.

More Pits Closed While Government Officials Try To Get Miners And Operators To Settle Dispute; Labor Secretary Still Hopeful For Agreement

By ASSOCIATED PRESS The Nation's strike lines held at around the 450,000 mark today, only a small increase in 24 hours, as fresh labor disputes almost offset the return of 42,000 workers to jobs in textile plants.

As new shutdowns in the six-state soft coal strike area forced additional thousands to the ranks of idle, bituminous operators and United Mine Workers Union representatives failed to agree on a compromise proposal to end the 21-day expanding work stoppages.

Secretary of Labor Schweinfach again summoned the conferees into session today to attempt to settle the dispute between the operators and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers. The disputants, he said, are not far apart in their controversy over recognition of the UMW Foremen's Union, and he expressed hope that "they should be able to agree."

The secretary reported to President Truman today on the deadlocked situation, but said the President sent no message to the conferees who are seeking a settlement. Failure of settlement is expected to see a further spread of stoppages in the coal pits. Already some 188,000 miners have walked out from nearly half of the country's soft coal mines.

Although Lewis said he would call off the strikes if the operators would agree to negotiate on the recognition issue, the operators rejected the proposal.

As the conferees continued, new pits closed, and the coal shortage hit harder at steel production. West Virginia's output fell 75,400 and production dropped to less than a fourth of its daily output of 600,000 tons; 60,475 were out in Pennsylvania pits and the loss was 323,000 tons daily. In Kentucky the strikes kept 27,200 away from work; 8,000 each in Ohio and Tennessee and 3,000 in Indiana.

Expect Passage Of Tax Measure Today

House Began Consideration Of Tax-Trimming Bill This Morning

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—House Democrats and Republicans joined today in demanding a slashing in federal expenditures as the chamber began consideration of a $5,350,000,000 tax reduction bill.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the tax-framing Ways and Means Committee, told his colleagues the budget must be balanced and payments must be made on the huge national debt.

"To make taxes bearable it is important that all non-essential federal spending be eliminated," he declared.

The House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts, "served notice" that his party will fight "with unflinching determination to reduce the costs of this government and by so doing, eventually reduce the burden of taxes."

The House took up the measure on a take it or leave it basis as proposed by the Ways and Means Committee.

Convening two hours earlier than usual, the chamber adopted procedure designed to speed the first peacetime tax reduction measure to passage by nightfall. Under the arrangement, no changes could be made from the floor without consent of the Ways and Means Committee which drafted the legislation.

The measure, which also must be approved by the Senate, would do this beginning January 1.

1. Guarantee every individual income taxpayer a reduction of at least 10 per cent. Total cuts for individuals would amount to $2,627,000,000.

2. Sweep 12,000,000 low income persons off income tax rolls completely. When the war ended there were approximately 50,000,000 individual taxpayers.

3. Lower corporation tax burdens $1,888,000,000 by trimming the effective rate of the war-imposed excess profits tax from 85 to 60 per cent; reducing the combined corporation normal and surtax from 40 per cent to 36, and repealing on next July 1 the declared value capital stocks tax. The bill calls for repeal of the excess profits tax on January 1, 1947.

4. Cut back next July 1 the high wartime excise levies on such articles as liquor, furs, jewelry, luggage and cosmetics, at a saving of (Continued on page four)

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow. While all this pressure builds up, the government is scrapping the War Labor Board, the most powerful instrument it ever had for settling labor disputes. It's still in existence but is slowly folding up. Members of the board—three from industry, three from labor and three representing the public—think the board should die and for this reason: The board was a wartime agency. A federal court, which might have backed up board decisions in wartime, might think now the board had no authority. Last week—with strikes increasing everywhere—Secretary of Labor Schweinfach told reporters he was thinking of trying to get the War Labor Board to take on a test or two. Members of the board didn't like the idea. Schweinfach himself tried to get a peaceful settlement in the oil dispute—the workers wanted a 30 per cent increase—by calling the union and the companies into conference. Schweinfach got nowhere. He finally had to ask the President to step in and seize the strike-bound oil plants to keep production going until some settlement was worked out. Some government economists are (Continued on page four)

Ayden Woman's Club Enjoys Good Talk
Ayden, Oct. 11 — Bob Booth, popular local attorney, addressed the Woman's Club Tuesday at their October meeting with the thought provoking subject, "Are You Thinking?"

For 30 minutes and without notes, his quick-witted mind cycled off present day subjects of controversy by asking the group of woman citizens what or if they were thinking on these questions of such vital importance to the home front.

"The good in history is measured by what we profit from the mistakes of the past," he said.

From that statement he reminded us of the mistakes of the first World War when we never became a member of the inter-national courts perhaps because we didn't want to take the trouble. He brought our indifference closer home by calling to mind the act of infamy at Pearl Harbor and the refusal of Congress when Roosevelt wanted a two-ocean navy.

Mrs. Ruel Tyson, Mrs. Mason Knight and Mrs. Mary Belle Eldredge directed guests to the guest register which was presided over by Miss Audrey Bottom and Miss Frances Tucker.

IN FILM AT PITT

"UNCLE HARRY" (18)
Ella Raines adds her distinctive charm to film play, "Affair of Uncle Harry," current Pitt feature.

He touched briefly upon such questions as peacetime conscription and asked how many letters went out from Ayden advising our Congressman how to vote. Or how the club felt about unemployment compensation and the $25 a week which will be drawn from the federal tax.

Of the minority groups he said: "Invasion of the rights of the minority is wrong whether that minority is Negro or Jew. If our indifference permits minority groups to unequal rights now, maybe we will be in the minority group sometime. Think."

One of his pet indignations is the low income of teachers. "We face the fact that a laborer can make $10 a day in tobacco work and that teachers who have spent years of study and a great amount of money in preparation for their vocation get only $6 or $7 a day... yet we hope to give our children advantages that we missed."

He spoke of the weakness of the courts and the constant dilly-dallying, and still trying cases by obsolete laws, yet he visions a more efficient court in the future.

And with such inter-national and national debatable questions he provided food for thought right up his hearers' front door with "What makes Ayden click?"

"How are you thinking? What are you doing about it? I am afraid to trust the person who doesn't think. It doesn't matter so much what you think, just so you think. Read, Study and Think."

Mr. Robert Booth and Mrs. Clay Stroud, Jr., sang two songs, with Miss Virginia Belle Cooper at the piano.

The fine arts department had charge of the program. Mrs. William Newsom, chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Wilbur Ormond, president, opened the meeting by the usual club song and "collect" and read a poem, "Assignment of Peace."

Mrs. Prizelle, secretary, read the minutes of the September meeting. Mrs. A. F. Rowe, treasurer, made the financial report.

Mrs. Ormond urged those that could to attend the District Meeting October 19 a Columbia.

The president appointed Mrs. Ralph Hardee, Mrs. A. L. Chaplin, and Miss Lena Dawson as a committee to attend the equipment to be purchased for the library.

During the social hour the department served punch and cakes.

LOCALS READY MEET BEARS

Phantoms Play in New Bern Tomorrow Night

By JIMMY FUTRELL
The Green Phantoms will be considered the underdogs when they meet up with the New Bern Bears tomorrow night at 8 o'clock on the New Bernians' home field.

Because of the trouncing given them several weeks back by the Bears, the locals will really be out for "bear-meet"—nothing less. Since last playing the New Bern team, the G-Men have registered two wins over Elizabeth City 24-0 and Tarboro 32-0. The Farley-men have improved greatly in the past two engagements and the physical condition of the squad, as a whole, is good. In practice this week Coach Farley has worked on a new defense which might be of a considerable advantage to the Greenies against the large New Bern team. Also several new plays have been added.

Baseball Fans To Meet Here Sunday

By CHESTER WALSH
Baseball fans from a dozen Eastern Carolina towns will meet at the City Hall in Greenville Sunday afternoon at 2:30 to make plans for reorganizing the Coastal Plains League, which suspended when World War II started. Ray Goodman of Williamston, president of the league when it disbanded, will preside.

Guy V. Smith, prominent businessman and president of the Greenville club, said today "the fans here want baseball and we are going to have a club in the league if it is reorganized. Incidentally, it appears that there is enough interest in the national pastime in Eastern Carolina to organize the league and get busy looking out for players. If the league is formed you can count on Greenville having a club. Kinston, one of the best baseball towns in the East, is ready for business and we can get a line on the other towns Sunday."

Dave Moore, Jr., secretary of the Greenville club, recently received a letter from Judge J. W. Bramham, Durham, stating that he will cooperate in reorganizing the Coastal Plains League.

Pitt County Fair Opens Monday

By CHESTER WALSH
The 10th annual Pitt County Fair, sponsored by the Farmville and Greenville American Legion posts, will be held at the Fair Grounds near the radio station all next week. The gates will open Monday at noon. In addition to the agricultural, livestock and poultry exhibits, features of the fair this year will be the Greater Lawrence Show, with new shows, new and novel rides, and a magnificent display of fireworks each night at 10 o'clock.

Wednesday, October 15, will be children's day, when white and colored school children will be admitted to the grounds free upon payment of a few cents tax. Many of the shows on the Midway are playing in the South for the first time. The rides provide thrilling excitement. The fireworks displays will be the first pyrotechnics at the fair since the war started.

The fair offices have been moved from the armory to the Fair Grounds where information will be provided by attendants.

The book tickets to the fair on which purchasers may save $1.25 on admissions are on sale at J. Hicks Corey's office, 518 Dickinson Avenue, until Saturday.

Baseball

Detroit, Oct. 11—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers brought the world championship back to Detroit today for the first time in 10 years, all because the Chicago Cubs ran out of gas and pitchers against the Tiger trigger-men.

That, plus some of the fanciest flinging of this fall by Lefty Hal Newhouse, for a new series strike-out record for seven games, meant the ball game and the set in the finale yesterday. Hal was the boy in the cast—he is 24—and the boy turned out to be quite a man as he racked up his second win of the scramble.

That was the story in the 9 to 3 payoff. Cholly Grimm was so desperate for pitchers, he finally had to reach into the barrel and come up with heaving Hank Borowy for his third consecutive game.

Good as Hank was in this series—he won twice and lost twice—the Tigers got to him early. They drove him from the hill after nine pitches which three Tigers converted into singles and one run. Five other Cub pitchers followed him to the mound.

The Tigers' hitting power when it was needed, and tight pitching in the pinches, was what made the Cubs lose their seventh series opportunity in 37 years after beating the Tigers in 1907-08. The Tigers put on some great exhibitions of daffiness out there in the field from time to time. But when the final chips were down they picked them up with alacrity.

It wasn't only one of them, although Hank Greenberg was in the forefront. He wound up with a 304 batting mark, which, with his 1934 and 1940 flailing, made him one of 13 men in all series history to go for 300 or better in three or more series.

Phil Cavarretta, the Cubs first-sacker, went Hank one better in this department. He was the No. 1 ball-buster and came to the wire with a 423 mark. Paul Richards, the 37-year-old catcher, pounded out a pair of two-baggers to zip four runs across. The first of these whacks was a base-cleaner for three tallies in the first inning, in which the Tigers, after clubbing Borowy to the showers, continued to have fun against Paul Derringer until they'd chalked up five markers.

As far as the outcome was concerned, the game might just as well have ended there. Newhouse was hot in the clutches. He was never in real trouble and finished up fanning 10 Cubs to run his total for the series up to 22. This was two more than the record for a seven game series. The all-time high is 28 "whiffs" posted by Bill Dineen for the Boston Red Sox in 1903, when the series ran eight games.

Besides Richards and Greenberg, it might have been Doc Cramer, the 40-year-old "youngsters," who was just about the entire Detroit outfield. He chipped in with three safe blows yesterday to end up with 11 for the series, tying Cavarretta and third baseman Stan Hack of the Cubs, in collecting hits.

The series attracted more attention than in former classics. In spite of cold weather a total of 333,457 fans paid $1,492,454, which with $100,000 from broadcasting rights, was a new all time high of $1,592,454.

Teachers Hold Meeting Here

Monday evening, October 8, the local units of the North Carolina Classroom Teachers and the North Carolina Education Association held a joint meeting in the high school library. Mrs. Phoebe Emmons, state treasurer of the classroom teachers was the guest speaker.

Mrs. Emmons, who is a teacher in the Washington city schools, is also a field worker for the N. C. E. A. She emphasized the fact that active professional organizations in schools are indicative of alert, progressive teachers. The general aim this year is to have every teacher working on a committee and every committee working. Organizations provide the opportunity for study which is necessary if a teacher keeps informed about new trends in education. Mrs. Emmons feels that the reduction in the number of students entering the teaching profession is the result of teachers failing to sell their profession. "It is the duty and privilege of a former teacher to help a new teacher to adapt herself to a new place and new duties to help her become a part of the community in which she is to live."

In conclusion the speaker stressed the fact that teachers are not well enough informed about the things that directly affect them, such as retirement and sick leave privileges. Miss Ruth Modlin, local president, presided at the classroom teachers meeting and appointed committees to serve this year. The teachers voted to nominate Miss Modlin as secretary of the district organization at the northeastern district meeting to be held in Greenville November 16.

The officers for the current year are: Ruth Modlin, president; Laura Bell, vice president; Louise Swann, secretary. The following committees were appointed: Social for district meeting—Ruth Modlin, chairman; Louise Swann, Louise Golphink, social officer—Mrs. D. M. Clark, Lillian Purvis, teacher welfare—E. R. Robinson, Mrs. Malta Batchelor, Mrs. Emily Hadley, resolutions—Mrs. Luther Herring, Estelle Green, Mrs. Howard Mims, program—Ona Shindler, Mrs. David Proctor, Mrs. Lois Marshall, legislative—Laura Foley, Mrs. Christine Tripp, Mrs. Louella Stancil, elections—Laura Bell, Doris Duval, professional service—Frances Lamb, Ruth Faison Helen Foley, publicity—Jessie Belle Lewis, Irhogene Riddick, radio—Mrs. Elizabeth Savage, Deanie B. Haskett, R. B. Starling.

In the N. C. E. A. meeting immediately following the Classroom Teachers meeting, Mr. O. E. Dowd, president, emphasized the importance of teachers becoming affiliated with their state and national professional organizations. The officers for the year are: O. E. Dowd, president; E. R. Robinson, vice president; Mrs. Charles Davis, secretary. The committees appointed are: membership, Mrs. Charles Davis, Lillian Purvis, Doris Duval, Mrs. Christine Tripp, Louise Golphink, professional service, Mrs. Howard Mims, Jane Hadley, Louise Golphink, public relations, Mrs. Marie Browning, Mrs. Luther Herring, Agnes Fullilove, legislative, Mrs. D. Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

PATIENCE A REAL VIRTUE

As Antonius Pius lay on his deathbed, there entered a captain of the guard, coming as was the custom, to inquire of the dying man the watchword. "Aequanimitas" (evenness-of-mind), replied the dying Emperor as he turned his face to the eternal shadow.

He was a pagan. Christianity was beginning to grow up all about him. Yet this ruler of the Roman Empire regarded Christianity only as a fanatical movement, a social liability to the Empire. But in certain things that he thought and did, he followed the pattern of the Christian order of things rather than that of the pagan.

For one thing he practiced patience, and that in any man, be he pagan or Christian, is a virtue. In the midst of heaving turmoil and in the dark days of disappointment and frustration, he could keep what he called evenness-of-mind. He did this so successfully that on his deathbed he gave it as the watchword of his life.

Some people despise this calm acceptance of life as it comes. Nevertheless the people who have even dispositions get something out of everyday living which those of excitable and anxious natures never know. Evenness-of-mind was the watchword of this pagan Roman Emperor as he lay on his deathbed. It might well be the watchword of many of us in these days when there is so much to distract and trouble us.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

By FRANCIS J. KELLY (Jack Stinnett Is Ill)

Washington — Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) sends a "shocking" amount of federal money is being spent for travel and suggests that would be a good place to begin to economize.

A lot of unnecessary trips are made from Washington to far-away points he says, because the various federal agencies are too centralized. Give more authority to the field offices and the government not only will save on expense accounts but the people will get more efficient service in his opinion.

"Most agencies have field offices," Ferguson told me "but they fail to give those offices anything to do. When they have autonomy, there won't be any need for officials to rack the trains out of Washing- ton."

Ferguson, whose official duties as a member of the Senate War Investigation Committee have taken him to many parts of the nation, says a great deal of the congestion in hotels and sleeping cars would be eliminated if federal employees could be made to eat down on travel.

The House committee's compilation of a list of 100 million dollars for the Department of the Interior was not a surprise. Not counting either the Interior or the Department of the Interior, the committee found that the various other departments and agencies of the federal government spent $95,000,000 in the last 12 months.

It cost more than $5,000,000 in the Agriculture Department alone.

A total of $15,570,832 was spent by the same civilian departments in six months for compensation.

Some figures published in the Bond Production Board in that period on telephone expenses it could have put it in three months. Telephone calls to the moon, 20,422 miles away, every hour in the day, every day in the year.

The National Education Association says conditions in rural school are progressively worse.

Teachers by the tens of thousands have left the profession for better-paying jobs in industry and government. The armed services took additional thousands. Many of these new draftees show no inclination to return to the classroom.

Of the nation's 900,000 teachers more than 300,000 are new to their jobs. Some 50,000 are teaching on emergency certificates. Two-thirds of these are in rural schools.

Of 175,000 one- and two- and three-teacher rural schools, 60 per cent of the teachers have had less than two years of college education, NEA reports. Smaller rural schools are about three times as bad off.

The average rural teacher's salary is $959. The average salary for teachers in urban schools runs around $1,955—one reason why rural teachers are harder to find than urban teachers, who themselves are looking around for bigger paychecks.

Today In Congress . . .

Public interest in the proceedings today centered on the individual income tax provisions in the bill. If these became law—approved by both House and Senate—about 12,000,000 people will stop paying income taxes on January 1 and every one else will get reductions.

A married man with two children after deductions for medical expenses, taxes, and contributions, would see his tax drop from $160 to $95, or about 41 per cent.

If the income is $3,000, the tax would drop from $275 to $190, or 31 per cent.

If the income is $4,000, the tax would drop from $505 to $380, or 25 per cent.

On an $11,000 income the reduction is only 15 per cent.

Thus, people with higher incomes get a smaller percentage cut in their taxes. But everybody—even millionaires—gets at least 10 per cent.

I visited India during the war, and know that it was her ambition to secure at least a provisional government which would enable her to take her place among the United Nations—as an ally in her own right. She has in fact been an invaluable ally, but it has hurt her not to have this rank in her own name.

Should she be given a place now on the Advisory Commission it would help remove some of the sting. It would do more than that, for it would tend to lessen the suspicions of the Orient—even including India and China—about the intentions of the western world towards the East. There is a feeling in many quarters that the Atlantic Charter is intended for the West and not the East, and that the latter is to be left out of the picture.

That feeling must be dissipated if we are to avoid the formation of an anti-western bloc in the East. Here is a chance to aid that aim.

If the government did permit some price increases—provided they did not mean more than average increase of 2 or 2 1-2 per cent in living costs—business might be willing to meet labor's wage demands, or some of them.

(These economists are not talking about allowing wage increase of only 2 or 3 per cent. They're talking about wage increase of perhaps 15 per cent which—with some rise in prices—would not result in an overseas rise of more than 2 or 2 1-2 per cent in living costs.)

This still is unofficial talk. Nothing like this has come from the White House or from Schwellenbach. Maybe some kind of solution will come out of the labor-management conference here November 5 maybe.

Today's announcement pointed out that many big families in Japan have extensive foreign holdings and "in several cases 35 per cent of their assets are located abroad."

The stated purpose of the financial directives is to assure that all Japanese owned foreign holdings and gold, silver and platinum reserves "would be available for such purposes as the Allies might direct."

The new directive gave the government, its agencies and the imperial household 30 days to file reports. All banks, trust companies, security brokers and other financial institutions were given 46 days. These were believed to cover major holders of foreign assets.

The legislation also freezes the Social Security tax in 1946 at one per cent each on employers and employees. Without the freeze this tax would jump January 1 to 2.5 per cent.

As the House made ready to act, the bill came under vigorous attack from the CIO and 14 other organizations including the Farmers' Union.

The 15 organizations addressed letters to each House member declaring the legislation would "grant huge windfalls to the most prosperous corporations" but permit "only meager relief to low and middle income groups" of individuals.

The letters urged outright repeal of the three per cent normal tax on individuals and increased exemptions to put much softer burdens on low and middle income groups.

Aircraft workers joined approximately 400 movie strikers at the Warner Brothers studio gates but there was no disorder.

Movie strike leaders called 20,000 AFL aircraft workers at Lockheed into the Warner picket lines.

At the same time, mass picketing extended to Universal studios when 250 persons flanked the main gate and another 100 congregated at other entrances.

A spokesman for the aircraft workers said they would join the picket lines "to prevent unjustified beatings by members of Warner's police when they appear as peaceful pickets. More than 100 persons have been injured in clashes at the studio, which stemmed from the eight-months-old jurisdictional dispute between two AFL unions over representation of 77 set decorators.

There was no improvement in the serious strike of 35,000 to AFL longshoremen in New York harbor. Union officials who urged members of six local unions to return to work were booted at a stormy meeting in Brooklyn last night.

More than 350 ships were idle and redeployment of troops was delayed as the world's busiest harbor felt the effects of the 11-day old walk-out. The War Shipping Administration said ships would sail to Europe without cargo. Thousands of tons have piled up as a result of the strike.

The only bright spot on the labor front was the return of 42,000 CIO Textile Print and Dye Workers to 284 plants in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania after settlement of a wage dispute. The strike began on September 27.

N. Y. Stock Market
New York, Oct. 11—(AP)—Cashing of profits troubled the stock market to a certain extent today but, despite this handicap, assorted rail, industrial and utility favorites continued to reach for eight-year peaks with gains of fractions to a point or more.

Trends hardened in most cases after a forenoon dip and, toward the finish, were no worse than lightly irregular. Dealings were relatively quiet although large blocks of low-quoted stocks, the majority of which got nowhere, put volume at around 1,500,000 shares.

VETERANS IN COLLEGE HERE

Dischargees From Armed Forces Resume Education

East Carolina Teachers College has enrolled as students this fall a number of veterans of World War II, and has set up a Veterans Committee to handle their affairs.

the services and now registered at the college are reported by Treasurer F. D. Duncan as receiving GI educational benefits. These with the branch of service from which they were discharged are: John Charlton, Barrackville, W. Va., Marine Corps; N. L. Killebrew, Greensboro, Army Air Force; Mary Alice Averette, Winterville, Navy; Hugh Herschel Gregg, Thomasville, Army; Leslie Earl Sadler, Winterville, Coast Guard; Henry W. Harris, Greenville, Army; Lill Hart, Ayden, Army Air Force; and Garlan Bailey, Thomasville, Army Air Force.

Acting President Howard J. McGinnis has appointed a Veterans Committee, the work of which is to help discharged service men and women who have enrolled at the college.

STATE—"MIDNIGHT MANHUNT." William Gargan, Ann Savage. Also news.

Serving on it are Dr. A. D. Frank, chairman, and Dr. Hubert C. Haynes and Dr. Charles W. Reynolds.

One of the chief duties of the committee is to help service men and women secure advanced college credit for work done in the armed forces. The recommendations made by the United States Armed Forces Institute and the American Council of Education are being followed. A testing program has been instituted which will determine whether college credit can be allowed for work done in the services. Dr. Reynolds is in charge of evaluating work done in service schools, and Dr. Haynes gives the tests.

The committee also helps veterans secure their educational benefits.

One woman and six men from Pitt County, now discharged from the services, are attending the college here.

Mary Alice Averette, daughter of Mrs. A. R. Averette of Winterville, was discharged from the Navy on August 8, 1944. She received her boot training at Cedar Falls, Iowa, and later trained as an aviation machinist mate in Norman, Oklahoma. She was stationed at Jacksonville, Florida, for about a year. She is registered at the college as a freshman, majoring in commerce and physical education.

Leslie Earl Sadler of Winterville served 39 months in the Coast Guard. At the time of his discharge he was a seaman, first class. During part of his service, he was with the Greenland patrol. A graduate of Chocod High School, he worked for a time before joining the Coast Guard at WGTC as an entertainer. He is now registered at the college as a freshman, majoring in English and business education, and includes music among his courses.

Henry W. Harris, of Greenville, discharged Sept. 12, 1945, was in the army for 13 months, at Camp Wheeler, Georgia, and in England. He spent six weeks of his service abroad in a hospital in England recuperating from pneumonia. He is a freshman at the college and a social science-English major.

Lill Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hart, of Ayden, served as crew chief in the air force of the Army. He was a master sergeant. A former student of the college, he is registered as a senior majoring in mathematics and science.

Joe Williams, discharged May 25, 1945, was with the Army Engineers for 47 months 43 of them having been spent overseas. His rank was staff sergeant. He was present at Pearl Harbor during the famous attack. Williams was awarded the Bronze Star and a Presidential citation. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams of Greenville. Dave Owens of Pinetops was discharged from the Army on October 4, 1945, and has returned to the college for the last quarter's work.

their shares in these respective corporations.

After this exchange has been accomplished, the plan proposes a statutory merger of the Proximity Company with Tabardrey Company, a New Jersey corporation. Stockholders of these two corporations will also receive Proximity stock for their present stock, the basis of exchange to be announced upon adoption of the merger agreement.

The reorganization will make the Proximity Manufacturing Company a corporation with consolidated net assets of well over $50,000,000. The new corporate structure will provide for an authorized capital of 1,500,000 shares of common stock of which approximately 918,000 are to be outstanding in the hands of stockholders.

Asked here this afternoon about reasons for the reorganization of the corporation, Herman Cone, president of Proximity, said: "We have modified, modernized and streamlined our corporate set-up to put the capital shares of our stockholders in more diversified shape."

Commenting upon our plans for changes in the operation of the huge new textile organization, Mr. Cone said that the reorganization "is merely to readjust our corporate structure and will have no effect on the operations or management of the various companies and plants. No additional capital is involved nor is the stock to be offered to others than the present stockholders of the corporation affected."

All of the corporations have been known for years to be owned wholly or in part by the Cone interests of Greensboro. While the reorganization, in a sense, creates one of the largest cotton textile corporations in the nation with widely diversified manufacture and national distribution, the reorganization serves primarily to create a more compact, efficient corporation.

Fall Days Are Soup Days

The first chilly nights of Fall send us scurrying indoors at meal time hoping for a bowl of steaming hot soup... one filled with plenty of good vegetables. Thanks to modern industry, you may now satisfy this longing for good home-made soup as quickly as you can prepare and cook the vegetables because the soup stock has been made and concentrated for you by experts. All you do is to add the concentrated soup stock, B-V, to the cooked vegetables and call "Soup's On." It's as easy as that.

Hearty Vegetable Soup . . . to chase the chills away

Simmer, covered, until tender in 6 cups water

- 1 cup diced potatoes
- 1 cup shredded cabbage
- 3/4 cup diced carrots
- 3/4 cup sliced celery
- 2 tsp. minced onion
- 1 tsp. bacon drippings

Add 3/4 tsp. salt
4 1/2 cup sieved tomatoes dissolved in a small amount of the hot liquid.
Garnish with 2 tbsp. parsley (optional)

Serves 6. Steam dumplings on top if desired (directions below).

-----Clip Recipe Here-----

Simple Menu Satisfying
Supplement this steaming soup with a delicious hamburger patty, crisp celery and hot rolls or crackers. Warm apple pie with a slice of Certified American Cheese makes a timely finale for this tempting dinner.

Dumplings Are Favorites
Light feathery dumplings are favorites with men. So why not steam some on top of the vegetable soup? They're a grand accompaniment in place of crackers. I change the soup recipe slightly when I cook dumplings on top of it. Use 1 1/2 extra cups of water and 1/2 tsp. more salt and add the tomatoes and B-V after vegetables have cooked only 15 min. As soon as liquid is boiling again, drop the dumpling batter by teaspoonfuls on top of the soup, cover at once and boil gently for 15 min. Careful! Don't lift the cover 'til time's up.

To make dumpling batter: Sift 1 cup flour, 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder and 1/2 tsp. salt. Cut in 2 tsp. Wilson's Bake Rite and add 1/2 cup milk to flour mixture all at once, stirring rapidly until well blended.

Well Did You Ever
Use onion salt to season a pot roast? It's grand if you like onions but they don't like you.
Clip the corner from a clean envelope to use as a funnel for filling salt and pepper shakers? Save your patience for other things.
Sincerely,
George Rector
