LAVAL FAILS IN EFFORT TO GET NEW TRIAL

De Gaulle Replied
"Certainly Not"
When Asked If He Would Order New Trial For Former French Premier
Sentenced To Death; Execution May Be Wednesday

By ROBERT WILSON
Paris, Oct. 12 — (AP) — Gen. De Gaulle today apparently ruled out a new trial for Pierre Laval, sentenced to death Tuesday for treason.

Asked whether he would order a new trial for the former Vichy leader, convicted at a stormy, much-criticized trial for wartime collaboration with the Germans, De Gaulle replied:

"Certainly not."

The Paris newspaper Liberation said it had information that present plans were to execute Laval Wednesday.

Earlier, Laval's attorneys said they had important new evidence which would explode the case against him.

The defense counsellors said their new evidence would prove that Laval was arrested by the Germans while plotting to turn France over to De Gaulle.

The attorneys said documents smuggled out of France and hidden in Switzerland had been found and returned today. These, they said, showed Laval came to Paris at the beginning of August, 1944, to declare it an open city and to have De Gaulle officially received by a meeting of parliament.

Paris fell to the Allies Aug. 25, and De Gaulle entered the city the same day.

Laval's lawyers said the evidence would prove Laval drove all day and night to Nancy in northeastern France in order to free Edouard Herriot from German imprisonment and that he returned with Herriot to Paris where he obtained reinstatement for him as president of the Chamber of Deputies.

The lawyers said they could prove that Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler personally ordered the arrest of Laval before he could carry through his plan.

The defense counsel said they would present the evidence directly to Gen. De Gaulle, who returned to Paris from Brussels today, and would appeal to him for a new trial for the former Vichy chief of government, now in Rennes prison under sentence of death.

Says France Not To Be Left Out
Paris, Oct. 12 — (AP) — Gen. Charles De Gaulle today ruled out three-power negotiation of such matters as Balkan peace treaties herself bound only by agreements she helped to make.

The five-power foreign ministers conference in London deadlocked on Russia's demand that only the Soviet, British and American governments negotiate Balkan treaties, excluding France and China.

LESS MEAT IN COMING WEEKS

Government Increases Reserve For Export

By OVID A. MARTIN
Washington, Oct. 12 — (AP) — Civilians will find slightly less ration-free meat at their butcher shops during the next few weeks.

That's because the government is stepping back in to require federal inspection of slaughterhouses to reserve a portion of the set-aside output for export. The meat thus reserved will go to Great Britain, Belgium, Holland and France.

The butcher shops' supply still will be sufficient, however, the Agriculture Department said in announcing the action yesterday, to allow civilians the amount of meat the government previously had promised them in the last three months of the year.

Food officials expect supplies to increase enough next month to permit dropping the set-aside requirements and to liberalize rationing still further. However, complete lifting of rationing by November 1 — which some unofficial sources have predicted — now appears out of the question.

Officials say that an increasing supply of chickens and turkeys will more than offset any temporary reduction in civilian supplies of beef, veal and mutton as a result of the set-aside program.

England wasn't prepared for war, while the arrogant fuhrer was armed to the teeth.

Came the war, and the Nazi dictator's early successes, which all but made him master of Europe, were due to the fact that none of the Allies was ready for war. The United Nations finally got into full swing but it was a tight squeeze.

General Marshall himself played a mighty part in saving the day, and so we listen with respect to his warning that we should be prepared.

The Chief of Staff's warning has been supplemented by General H. H. Arnold, Chief of the Army Air Forces. He is said to believe that military airplanes as they are known today will be outmoded within five or ten years by robot craft and auto-guided missiles. In short in that period we shall have reached the "push-button" age of aerial combat. He has told the Senate Military Committee that during this transition period he wants 6,500 warplanes and 600,000 men.

The Allies have learned from the struggle for existence that "Union gives strength." That's not a new idea. Aesop called attention to it 600 years B. C., and it was old when he passed it on. However, it takes some terrible experience like the Axis war to bring home a truth which is even so self-evident as that one.

What we apparently still have to learn is that you can reverse the language of that truism and have (Continued on Page Four)

JAPAN TAKES STEPS TOWARD
NEW FREEDOM

Foremost Authority
On Japan's Constitution
To Act As Emperor's Advisor; Efforts To Import Rice To Alleviate Critical Food Shortage Being Made

Tokyo, Oct. 12 — (AP) — Japan today placed one of the leading authorities on her tyrannical constitution within the emperor's circle of advisors as she took her first, feltering steps to carry out General MacArthur's orders to afford her people the full breath of freedom.

The government also sought to import rice to alleviate a food crisis made even more critical by this week's typhoon which swept over Central and Southern Honshu.

Simultaneously, fresh disclosures of American investigators made it clear that, however trying the situation under an occupation, it would have been worse had Japan continued the war. Fifth Army Air Force experts established another fact kept from the people—that Japan's radar defense was so ineffective it could not be determined whether planes approaching the homeland were friend or foe, how many there were or how high.

Dr. Soichi Sasaki, honorary professor of Kyoto Imperial University and leading authority on Japan's constitution, has been appointed advisor to Marquis Kotohiko Kido, the highest ranking consultant for the Mikado.

Announcement of the appointment quickly followed new MacArthur directives for: Women's suffrage; encouragement of labor unionization; abolition of "secret inquisition" systems; revision of monopolistic industrial controls; and encouragement of liberal education.

The Japanese government requested MacArthur's permission to import 100,000 tons of rice from Indo-China for which "accounts already have been settled." The typhoon earlier this week, which killed at least 60 persons and flooded 8,000 homes, caused considerable crop damage at a time when Japan is hard pressed in preparing for the approach of winter.

Japan, which also has a critical shortage of fuel, asked permission to import 120,000 tons of oil from the United States. The government told MacArthur it was prepared to pay for it with 46,000 bales of raw silk.

A member of his household earlier reported the former strong man of the government had gone to the countryside "for a rest," but there was a steady stream of official visitors at his residence during the morning. Plain clothesmen guarded the home.

Argentina's tumultuous political events started rising to a climax yesterday when Farrell announced presidential elections will be held next April 7.

Leaders of various democratic organizations harangued the growing throngs in the streets, repeating the three point demand that the government be turned over to the Supreme Court, that elections be held without political party activity, and that a state of siege be reimposed.

The Farrell regime set next April 7 as a presidential election date in a decree issued shortly after the military group demanded Peron's detention and resignations of Farrell's entire cabinet.

The political unrest was complicated by both military and civilian pressure on the government.

All Buenos Aires morning newspapers, with the exception of La Nacion and La Prensa, refused to go to press today as a protest against the closing of one morning paper and three evening papers yesterday, although the government announced last night the ban against the four publications had been lifted.

Afternoon newspapers were prepared to go to press today although undecided whether to actually distribute their issues.

A naval officer last night reported the group of officers demanded transfer of the government's power. (Continued on Page Four)

Approaching New Crisis

Deposed Strong Man Juan Peron Believed To Have Taken Refuge In Country-side Today

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ
Buenos Aires, Oct. 12 — (AP) — The cabinet of Argentine President Gen. Edelmiro Farrell resigned today under pressure of both military and civilian groups.

Official announcement of the mass resignation came as some 120 army and navy officers met in the Officers' Club, and a growing crowd gathered in the streets outside.

Vernengo Lima, new naval minister, announced that Peron had been arrested.

A member of his household earlier reported the former strong man of the government had gone to the countryside "for a rest," but there was a steady stream of official visitors at his residence during the morning. Plain clothesmen guarded the home.

wise to take anybody off the tax rolls altogether.

The bill was approved by the House yesterday, 343 to 10. George announced that the Senate Finance Committee, which he heads, will start a three-day hearing on it Monday.

Unlike the tax bill, the atomic energy bill has hardly started its trip through Congress, and President Truman is said to be concerned about that.

Today, with both Senate and House having a recess, Mr. Truman was reported to be trying to persuade law-makers to put on speed in connection with atomic matters.

This bill would create a nine-man atomic energy commission and give it vast power over the peace time development of atomic force inside the United States.

The House Military Committee, considering the bill and arguing about whether to write some foreign policy into it, has postponed any decisions until next week.

The Senate was moving more slowly. It hasn't even sent the bill to a committee. It has been unable to decide which of its regular committees should consider it.

Therefore support piled up today for creating a brand-new Senate committee, even though Mr. Truman is reported to frown on this method. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and other Senate Republicans got behind a resolution offered by a Democrat, Senator McMahon of Connecticut, to set up a new Senate group.

Meantime the labor situation was getting more attention in Congress.

The idea of a new "anti-strike bill" of some kind has considerable support among men of both parties.

The movement got a push forward yesterday when Rep. Willis Robertson, Virginia Democrat, made a forceful speech urging:

Typhoon Causes Big Damage On Okinawa

Many, Including Americans, Killed And Injured; Several Ships Sunk, Others Damaged

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Okinawa today was a shambles—remnants of its recent battle-ravaged litter—reduced by a 132-mile typhoon that killed three American navy personnel, left 10 sailors missing and more than 100 Yank soldiers injured, damaged or beached 127 naval vessels.

The typhoon, which struck Okinawa Tuesday after having twisted 150 miles to the southwest for 24 hours, swept northward to kill at least 69 Japanese, flood 8,000 homes, wash away 41 bridges and leave many thousands homeless in Central and Southern Honshu.

Fifty Superfortresses from the Marianas delivered 284 tons of food to the 150,000 troops on Okinawa today. Approximately twice that amount will be transported to them during the next three days by bombers from Guam.

In addition to food, the troops need shelter facilities to replace tents, Quonset huts and other installations that were demolished or heavily damaged.

Parker airplanes were rolled about by the typhoon, the island's food stocks were nearly all destroyed, and hospital patients had a nightmarish time throughout the hours of darkness.

Official reports—conceded to be fragmentary because of limited communications—listed these casualties and damage on Okinawa:

Three navy men killed and 10 missing.

One hundred soldiers injured.

Four hundred prisoners of war killed.

Five small naval vessels sunk.

Fifty-two ships (presumably very small) and 70 other naval auxiliaries of all types beached on Okinawa reefs.

Shore installations, including dock facilities, extensively damaged.

First, in complete reports from Tokyo listed this havoc on Honshu:

Sixty-nine killed.

8,000 homes flooded, 81 bridges washed out, many thousands homeless.

More than 1,000 acres of land was washed out and many thousands flooded by heavy rains which accompanied the typhoon, increasing the nation's already critical food (Continued on Page Six)

LEAF HOLIDAY
TO END SOON

Monday Sales To Be Resumed After Next Week

Henderson, Oct. 12 — (AP) — Fred S. Royster, president of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association, announced today that the Monday holiday on flue-cured tobacco markets would be abandoned after next week.

Beginning Oct. 22, he said, sales will be held on all active belts from Monday through Friday, inclusive, as they were up to a few weeks ago when congestion of the markets resulted in the adoption of the Monday holiday program.

The decision to resume Monday sales, Royster announced, was reached by unanimous agreement of a committee consisting of L. L. Gravelly of Rocky Mount, president (Continued on page six)

Tobacco Prices
Go Still Higher

Prices on the Greenville tobacco market continued to move upward again yesterday with the average price for the day's sale being given as $45.74 per hundred. Offerings were heavier today indicating sales of over one and a half million pounds, but Supervisor R. C. Rankin stated that all warehouse floors would be cleared before the end of the day's operations.

While prices on the top grades remained stationary yesterday several of the common grades found their way into the higher price brackets thereby aiding the general market average.

The average price for total sales last week was $43.70 per hundred, while this week, through yesterday, the average was $45.40, or an increase of $1.70.

Support The Scrap
Paper Drive Sunday

The millions of paper cartons and wrappings that go overseas don't come back. They take precious paper out of circulation. We at home have to save paper all the harder to meet all the nation's needs.

Occupation forces call for vast amounts of supplies, often double and triple-wrapped with heavy waterproofed paper to withstand tropical conditions.

Save every scrap of waste paper. The War Production Board has said that the only way to avoid further drastic cuts in civilian paper allotments is for everyone to save waste paper. So do your part — save every scrap.

Greenville's Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a house to house collection this Sunday afternoon. Chairman Alton Barrett of the local salvage committee urgently requests all citizens to tie their old newspapers and magazines in secure bundles and place them in front of their homes before 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon. A Javore pickup truck will collect all bundles during the afternoon.

Growing Sentiment In Congress For Repeal
Of Smith-Connally
Act And Adoption Of Legislation That Would Place Responsibility On Unions

Washington, Oct. 12 — (AP) — Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach failed again today in his week-long effort to settle the soft coal strike. A conference of coal operators and miners adjourned until tomorrow morning with no hint of progress.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The country's wave of postwar labor disputes brought congressional reaction today as leaders of both parties went on record favoring new anti-strike legislation.

As new and continuing work stoppages today kept the idle across the country at 452,000, prominent legislators said they favored repeal of the Smith-Connally War Labor disputes act which permits strikes if unions vote in favor of them. They said they wanted new legislation which would make labor unions and employers "mutually responsible" for observance of contracts.

In Washington conciliation conferences to end the critical soft coal strikes remained deadlocked and the government prepared for possible rationing of manufactured goods to industrial users. The bituminous operators and John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers were called back for another session today by Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach.

As no agreement came over the issue of recognition of Lewis' Foremen's Union, the coal shortages in the steel-making area became more serious. Workers from almost 900 mines have left their jobs since the walkouts began 22 days ago and cold weather in Western Pennsylvania aggravated an already serious situation.

With nearly one half of the nation's 400,000 miners idle, the shortage of coal continued to slow operations in the Pittsburgh steel center and put pig iron production in the Gary-Chicago mills. Thousands of steel workers have been furloughed because of the coal stoppages.

The expanding strikes virtually paralyzed the West Virginia and Pennsylvania coal industry with most of the major mines closed and 85,700 and 60,500 miners, respectively, out of the pits. The dispute also has closed mines in Kentucky, leaving 27,200 idle; Ohio and Tennessee, 8,000 each, and Indiana 6,000.

Federal conciliators were ready to meet with AFL longshoremen officials in an effort to end the crippling strike of 35,000 to 60,000 New York dock workers. As leaders of the stevedores agreed to confer with the mediators, soldiers took over jobs at the world's busiest harbor and loaded one cargo-carrying vessel. More than 350 ships are tied up as a result of the contract dispute over the size of loads for cargo. (Continued on page six)

The WORLD TODAY
An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
General of the Army George C. Marshall lays down the thesis in his remarkable biennial report that military preparedness is the correct insurance against the dangers of war—a sound deduction by a great soldier.

Prior to the outbreak of the late war—only half a dozen years ago—there was a considerable international school which held that if a nation wanted to avoid conflict it should shun armaments. The idea was that being armed was like wearing a chip on your shoulder.

The Hitlerian conflict demonstrated conclusively that this argument is wholly fallacious, in so far as it relates to the present. Of course we know that when the world reaches the ideologically happy state of perpetual peace, it will mean disarmament of all nations. However, the millennium hasn't arrived. Unpreparedness and appeasement won't save a nation in these days when there are races and nations which are aggressive minded and which are impressed only by strength. So there's no incongruity in the thought that the peace-minded nation should be armed.

Base M. San Fernando, La. Union Luzon, P. I.—First Lieut. Nonny C. Forrest, ANC, daughter of Mrs. O. H. Forrest, Winterville, N. C., is now in a nurses training area in Northern Luzon preparing for deployment to Japan.

Lt. Forrest, who has three brothers in the navy, one in the army and one in the air corps entered the service February 5, 1943 and was sent to the European theater in March, 1944. She left France for the Pacific theater in July.

Returns to Fort Bragg
Pfc. James T. Robinson, Jr. returned Thursday to Fort Bragg after spending a 45 day furlough with his family near Ayden. He served 19 months in Europe with the famous 30th division. He wears the purple heart, the good conduct medal and the ETO ribbon with five battle stars. Pfc. Robinson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Robinson of Ayden. His wife is the former Miss Clara Maud Burroughs of Ayden.

Discharged
E-Sgt. Wm. E. Uley, 423 W. 4th St., Greenville, N. C. has been discharged from the army at the operation base, Miami district, Miami Beach, Fla.

Visiting in Greenville
Lt. (ig) Floyd Wood, USNR, a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College in the class of 1943, is visiting in the city for a few days this week. Lt. Wood's home is in Asheville. He joined the navy in September, 1943, and since that time has been in service in England and in the Mediterranean. At present he is on his way to Norfolk for reassignment.

Promoted to Lt. Commr.
Lt. Commr. Richard G. Walser, USNR, was recently elevated to his present rank. For several years he was critic teacher of English and director of dramas in the Greenville High School. Since last January Lt. Commr. Walser has been stationed in Panama, his work being in communications. He served for two years in the Pacific theater and was awarded the bronze star. His home is in Lexington.

Greenville High School News

During activity period on Thursday the Black Masquers met to discuss reducing the requirements for admission into the club. So Mrs. Rose's speech students could meet the requirements. At their first meeting the Black Masquers elected their officers of the year. They are: Lina Worthington, president; Guy Evans, vice president; Helen Gurganus, secretary; Betty Jo Wilson, treasurer; and O'Neal Roebuck, sergeant-at-arms. As yet the club is without a faculty adviser.

All senior high school students who have had two years of science and were interested in joining the Science Club met in room 32 today during activity period.

Our football team left today for New Bern to fight the New Bern Bears. We wish the Phantoms victory.

The sale of stationery has been carried on by the senior class while the Juniors are promoting the sale of magazines.

The school has observed fire prevention week without any accident. The building has been emptied very quickly during the fire drills.

George B. Singletary Chapter
Mrs. J. B. Spilman was the gracious hostess to the chapter at her home on East Fifth Street, October 11.

The outstanding feature of the afternoon was a talk by Miss Mamie Jenkins of the college faculty. She was introduced in a very pleasing manner by Mrs. F. M. Gregory.

Forty Years Ago Today

The DAILY REFLECTOR

October 12, 1905

It was thought the diphtheria was about over but this week some half dozen houses have been quarantined because of new cases.

Yale, Princeton and Harvard have signed an agreement to reform the same of football. The best return would be to cut it out.

The county did not get a single marshal in the appointments for the state fair.

The subject for this meeting was General John C. Breckenridge, the last Secretary of War in the Confederate Cabinet and Miss Jenkins treated this subject in a most interesting and pleasing way. She had culled from an extensive reading a number of incidents in the life of this outstanding man and had coupled with this her knowledge of the history of this time. This combination proved to be most helpful.

Assisted by Mrs. B. W. Moseley and Mrs. John G. Clark, the hostess served delicious refreshments. Special guests for the afternoon were Miss Jenkins, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. E. C. Webb and Mrs. C. E. Oakley. Reported.

Bailey-Richardson
On Saturday evening, September 22, at 8:30 o'clock in the Wendell Baptist Church, Miss Caroline Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Volney Richardson of Wendell, became the bride of Lt. Isaac Mayo Bailey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Mayo Bailey of Raleigh. The Rev. Clarence Teague, pastor of the church officiated, using the double-ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Margaret Green of Millbrook presented a half hour of nuptial music at the piano. Miss Mary Alice Charlton of Raleigh and Greenville and Miss Doris Hagwood of Portsmouth, Va. sang.

The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her dress was of white duchess satin with sweetheart neckline and a Victorian ruffled skirt. The imported hand-made lace veil of illusion extended the full length of the train. The crown was made of a mantilla with seed pearl crown. Her only ornament was a "pearl drop," a gift of the bridegroom. The bride's bouquet was of pink roses and orchids.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Stephen Derbyshire, was matron of honor. Miss Barbara Harris of Durham, niece of the bride, was maid of honor. They wore pink net evening dresses with old-fashioned drop shoulders and headpieces of net and sequins. The attendants carried arm bouquets of pink roses and lilies with long pink trimmers.

Marsha Evans, niece of the bride was miniature bride and Larry Harris, nephew of the bride, was miniature groom. Phyllis Dean was flower girl and she wore a long pink dress and carried a pink basket with rose petals. Jimmy Batten was ring bearer. He was dressed in a white suit and carried a white satin pillow. Lt. Bailey had as his best man, his father, I. M. Bailey of Raleigh. Ushers were Capt. Ruffin Bailey, brother of the groom; Peter Lavin, Woodrow Sears and Harvey Richardson.

Honorary bridesmaids were Mesdames Wayne Cooke, Jr., Euphemia Jones, Leo Bylt, Bill Sanders, William Farmer, Wallace White, Amos Dean, Joe Richardson, all of Wendell, Ruffin Bailey of Charleston, S. C.; Dr. Jean Bailey of New York City; Miss Hazel Raper of Lucama; Miss Betty Swain of Creswell; Mrs. Richard McLendon of Millbrook; Mrs. Peter Lavin, Mrs. Carl Gaddy, Miss Frances Coggins, Miss Norman Hardy, Miss Mary Anne Toland, Miss Thelma Davis and Mrs. Drewry Jones of Raleigh.

The bride's mother wore a dress of orchid crepe with gold sequins, and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of black lace and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College of Greenville. For the past few years she has been a teacher in the Wake County and Raleigh City schools. Lt. Bailey attended Riverside Military Academy and the University of North Carolina. He has just returned from 38 months overseas duty in Europe and Africa.

For traveling the bride wore an original Dorsay suit with fur and a fisherman hat. Her corsage was the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

On Friday night the bride's sisters, Mesdames E. T. Evans, N. T. Harris, Gibson Glenn and Stephen Derbyshire, entertained at the bride's home at a cake cutting. The guests were greeted at the door by the Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Teague. The bride and bridegroom cut the first slice of wedding cake and then nuts, mints and punch were served by Misses Thelma Davis, Barbara Harris, Dorothy Gilliam, Norman Hardy and Mary Anne Toland. Mrs. Tom Allen poured punch.

Presbyterian Announcements
The church school meets at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. The men's and college girls' classes meet at 10 a. m. There were 36 present last Sunday at the college students' class, taught by Mrs. Sidney Crane. We are confidently expecting not less than 40 next Sunday. The men's class was well attended last week and there should be not less than 40 at this class too next Sunday. Get busy men or the students will beat you. There are a potential of 80 men or more to draw from, while there are only about 60 college students who prefer the Presbyterian Church.

At the preaching service next Sunday, the pastor, Dr. R. S. Boyd will speak on the subject, "The Key That Unlocks Life's Secrets." Text, Mark 9:23. "All things are possible to him that believeth."

Special music will be rendered by the chorus choir under the direction of Mr. Dan Vornholt, of East Carolina Teachers College.

A nursery for the convenience of parents with small children will be kept from 11:00 a. m. till the close of the morning worship service. Bring your little folks and leave them in competent hands while you worship with us. The women of the auxiliary are arranging this service.

DEATH CLAIMS O. G. GULLEY

Local Building Contractor Died Late Yesterday

Oscar Graham Gulley, 72, died suddenly Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock after suffering an attack at his home on the Ayden highway. Funeral services will be conducted at the home at 10 o'clock Saturday morning by the Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw.

Surviving are his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Sarah G. Raper of Lexington, and two sons, O. Graham Gulley, Jr., of Greenville and Lt. William E. Gulley of the U. S. Army of Occupation in Germany; 4 grandchildren, and three sisters, Mrs. Della G. Leathers of Durham, Mrs. Ida G. Hall of Clayton, and Mrs. Dona G. Branch of Garner.

Throughout the United States will be closed Friday, Oct. 12, Columbus Day.

PHANTOMS GO TO NEW BERN

Will Meet Bears In Return Game Tonight

By DAVE CLARK
The GHS Phantoms face their severest test of the season tonight when they travel to New Bern to meet the Bears, who probably have about the toughest Class B ball club in the state. The game will be played in the New Bern ball park—the kick-off being at 8 o'clock.

The Bears will hold a slight edge over the Phantoms by virtue of their 18-12 win in the last meeting between the two teams. But this does mean nothing to the Greensies for they have come far in improvement since that game and will be out for sweet revenge tonight.

New Bern holds the advantage of playing at home, however, and the game is expected to be one of the season's best.

The Greensies wound up the week's work yesterday with a light workout under the direction of Coach Clark and for the most part are in tip top shape. Wednesday's scrimmage session ironed out a few of the flaws in the Greenville attack and defense.

Coach Farley will throw a seven man line against New Bern in an effort to stop their hard running backs, because one that helped to beat the Phantoms in the last game was their inability to halt successfully the New Bern ground attack.

The Phantoms will go into the game without the services of Henry Turner, Jimmy Lee, and Jim Tanner. Turner and Lee will be out of town, while Tanner is sick.

The starting line-up for Greenville will probably be: Jimmy Ward at Julian White at ends, Lewis Lawrence and "Bud" Whitehurst at tackles, Bobby Clark and Jack Whichard at guards, J. J. Williams at center, Jimmy Futrell in the full-back, Billy Harrington in the tail-back, Mac Batchelor in the blocking back, and Earl "Spooky" Morgan at wingback.

Chinchillas mate about 120 days after birth.

Kinston Beats Baby Phantoms

In their first contest of the season, the GHS Junior Varsity Phantoms bowed to a much bigger and much heavier Kinston Junior team 24 to 0. This was the first game ever participated in by most of the Greenville boys, while the Kinston boys had already played three ball games.

Howard Proctor and Jimmy Cox stood out for Greenville on offense, while Tommy Eilers proved to be a "bear" on defense.

Kinston scored first from about the five after a long run from about the mid-field stripe. They tallied again on a long pass, and again on a lateral play from about the fifty. The last touchdown came on another Kinston pass from the thirty. The Juniors have a return match in Kinston later in the season.

KIWANIS CLUB HAD BANQUET

Celebrated 24th Anniversary With Delightful Program

By CHESTER WALSH
The Greenville Kiwanis Club celebrated its 24th anniversary with a banquet at the Woman's Club (USO) last night. It was a brilliant affair and the outstanding social event of the fall season. It was "ladies and charter night" and the 150 Kiwanians 150 guests present enjoyed two hours of feasting at a turkey dinner and participating in a delightful period of "fun, frolic and frivolity," featured by a "battle of the sexes" when the men and women contested in a songfest, the women winning the prize by a decided margin.

Vice-President Ed E. Rawl, presiding for President Dr. J. M. Barrett, who is ill at the hospital, welcomed the guests and thanked W. J. (Dick) Bundy and his committee for providing the evening's entertainment.

Governor Sam Bundy of Williamston, head of the Carolinas Kiwanis District, was guest of honor. He spoke briefly and praised the local club for outstanding achievements and its part in organizing two new clubs in this division. He said it now appears that the Greenville club has some timber which will be in line for the governorship of the district in a year or two.

One of the features of the banquet was the presentation of three of the original members of the Kiwanis Club—Marvin K. Byrd, W. H. Woolard and Guy V. Smith, who are still active members. Vice-President Rawl presented Rotary Club President John Proctor and Lions' Club President Rev. A. Hartwell Campbell.

cheerful, contributed much to the pleasure of the occasion. Dr. Daniel Vanhold of the college faculty sang two songs with Mrs. Dick Bundy as accompanist and made a hit.

The contests in which all present participated were sparklingly entertaining. They were directed by Charley Blair, Judge Jimmy Roebert, Dr. H. G. Haney, and a "nursery skit" (which ought to be in the minstrel), directed by Tige Gardner, and a fortune-telling seance by Vladimir Pasha Eli Bloom. The "battle of the sexes" in the singing contest was exciting. Mrs. Arthur B. Corey led the women in the singing, Hunter Keck the men. The words of the songs were "gems of English literature." The women won on five points—euphony, sympathy, harmony and enunciation; the men made only one point—volume.

A review of the Kiwanis Club's history showed that it now has more members than at any previous time. Its activities in community progress, underprivileged child work and wartime projects have been outstanding. The club will celebrate its silver anniversary next year.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

WE DISCOVER THE WORLD
Four hundred and fifty-three years ago today, Columbus discovered America. Today, America is discovering the world.

Back at the turn of the century,
the expression "manifest destiny" was on everybody's lips. President McKinley had said after the Spanish-American War, and upon our acquiring the Philippines, that it was America's manifest destiny to launch out into world affairs. The isolation of Washington's day was over.

Great as was the discovery made by Columbus—and certainly it was one of the greatest episodes in history—the voyage upon which America has now embarked will probably be of equal significance. To put it plainly, America has what the world needs. Our economic power, our resources, and the alert democracy of our people constitute actors for which the world, knowingly or unknowingly, is crying out today. I we are wise, our entrance into world affairs will greatly increase our prosperity. But we must not be niggardly or penny-wise or selfish in our dealings with the rest of the world. If we have great vision we shall experience great reward.

But the greatest gift we can make to the world is a religious experience which for more than a century and a half has grown amid conditions of complete freedom. This will indeed be a gift to the nations if we have the real and unselfishness to make it.

another great truth "Strength gives union." That is to say, the upright auto-guided missiles. In short in nation which is well armed and glance from others.

That certainly has been one of the chief elements in the alliance of the Big Three—the three most powerful nations on the globe, upon whom the peace of the world now largely depends. General Marshall points out that the great weakness of the Axis powers was that they didn't trust one another.

Why didn't they? Well, because Germany was powerful and the others were comparatively weak.
The weak members feared—and rightly—that Hitler would turn against them when he had conquered elsewhere. Suspicious led to lack of cooperation. Equal strength would have helped dispel the doubts.

The Nation Today

ages. This has happened only about three times although there have been thousands of walk-outs.
But—when the workers vote, the NLRB conducts the vote by secret ballot. This is expensive when it involves a big union.

The NLRB has to hire people to work at the voting booths. It has to pay for printing the ballots.
Some such votes cost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

This expense is all borne by the government which gives NLRB about $3,000,000 a year to do its work.

The NLRB work under the Smith-Connally Act is piling up so much —it had 194 strike vote notices in August, 307 in September—that it has had to shove aside much of its work under the Wagner Act.

The NLRB office in Detroit—because of strike votes coming up in October—has had to abandon any idea of enforcing the Wagner Act in Michigan this month.

NLRB chairman is Paul M. Herzog, former naval lieutenant who handled labor relations for the navy. He was appointed by President Truman.

President Roosevelt appointed the other two members: Gerard D.
Reilly of Massachusetts, former U.
S. Labor Department solicitor, and John M. Houston, former Kansas congressman. Terms of all three run for five years.

move.

The army's position is that if the military government delivers powers to the court the army would lose prestige with the people.

As the army-navy group awaited results of their demands for Pe-ron's arrest, a member of the former vice president's household said he had gone to the countryside "to take a rest," but gave no further details.

The group was not definitely connected with the army group, which had forced the ouster of "strong man" Peron as vice-president, war minister and minister of labor.
Some garrison officers, however, attended the meeting yesterday which preceded the demands.

There had been reports that the group of army and navy men who made the demand was splitting from the garrison group. The officers, who presented their demands last night to Gen. Carlos Von Der Becke, (army commander in chief scheduled another meeting today.

The Campo De Mayo situation presented an enigma. Still unanswered was the question of whether any great part of the garrison still sided with the military government.

The interior ministry decree announcing the elections was accompanied by a government declaration announcing there would be no official candidate, that voting must be carried out "with economic and social consciousness," and that candidates must be capable and honest.

There was no definite indication Peron would not be a candidate. In fact, his speech Wednesday after his ouster was interpreted as a bid for the electors. But it was because this speech was permitted that Campo De Mayo officers, meeting yesterday at the quarters of their commander and the new war minister, Gen. Eduardo Avalos, called for the resignation of interior minister Hortensio Quijano.

The election decree, coinciding with one of Latin America's greatest holidays, was interpreted by some as the first big step on the road back to constitutional normalcy after more than two years of internal storms which have kept domestic and foreign affairs in a state of ferment.

Voters in the April elections will choose a president, vice-president, state governors and members of the Act, which he said was so weakened by Senate amendments that it causes strikes instead of preventing them.

A new law requiring unions as well as employers to stand legally responsible for keeping contracts.

A dispute between labor organizations played a prominent part in yesterday's Senate fight over approving Raymond S. McKeough as a member of the Maritime Commission. The Senate finally confirmed him, 42 to 34.

McKeough, a former Illinois congressman, was opposed by many senators on the ground that he is an employee of the CIO Political Action Committee. The AFL campaigned against Senate approval of McKeough. CIO and AFL unions are rivals in the Maritime industry.

The Senate action was a victory for President Truman—but by only eight votes. Mr. Truman nominated McKeough for the Maritime position.

There was hopeful news today for veterans of this war who are over 25 and who would like to attend school or college at the government's expense.

The GI Bill of Rights is getting a "going-over" by a Senate subcommittee and Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), chairman of the group, told a reported today he favors removing the present 25-year age limit on educational benefits.

Reaves. Devotional was led by Mrs.
Mattie Dixon after which regular routine of business was in order.
Plans were made to carry out the fall program of work through December.

The following officers were elected to serve 1946-47: Mrs. J. M.
Reaves, re-elected president; Mrs.
Maggie Strong, vice president; Mrs.
M. T. Burney, secretary; Mrs. Lena Hadden, assistant secretary; Mrs.
Hannah Coley, treasurer; Mrs. Mattie Dixon, song leader.

Highlights of the meeting were inspiring remarks by Mrs. Mattie Dixon and Mrs. Maggie Strong on the progress of the work and the canning contests and dress revues.

nah Coley; 2nd place, Mrs. Viola House; and 3rd place, Mrs. Bertha Smith.

Work dress: 1st place, Mrs. Mattie Dixon; 2nd place, Mrs. Alice Mid-gett; and 3rd place, Mrs. Rena Bess.

Remodeled dress: 2nd place, Mrs.
Lillian James.
While the judges were making their decision Mr. H. B. Suggs, supervisor of schools, gave an excellent talk on the part that the women play in the homes and farms which is shown by their children in the school and in society.

Judges for the contest were: Mrs.
Cleo Tyner, Negro Home Dem.
Agent, Williamston; Mrs. Vivian
Morris, Negro Home Dem. Agent,
Washington; and Miss Beulah
Whitfield, Home Ec. teacher, Ayden
High School, Ayden.

Thirteen Home Demonstration clubs were represented in the contest. Prizes were given by the merchants of Greenville. The Council and agents extend their greatest appreciation for the awards.

10,000 CHIROPRACTIC STUDENTS NEEDED

Choose a Profitable Post-War Professional Career

There exists today a serious shortage of chiropractors, professional men and women who are skilled in the art and science of restoration of normal nerve function. Alert high school graduates who are interested in science, physics, physical education, body mechanics and public health should investigate this opportunity to take up the study of Chiropractic in colleges accredited by the Committee on Education of the National Chiropractic Association.

After a collegiate course of four years and internship, you may be graduated with the degree, "D. C." (Doctor of Chiropractic). Then after passing necessary examinations before the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, you will be in a position to render a much needed and necessary health service to the people of America.

Those students interested in a professional career with unusual opportunities for service to humanity may obtain desired information by contacting the Executive Offices. An interesting brochure outlining subjects, hours, and other information is available on request.

Bonds Bought Now To Count In Drive

J. Herbert Waldrop, Pitt County War Finance Committee chairman, made the following announcement today:

"Now that victory has been won on the battlefield, we here at home have a solemn duty and responsibility to our victorious fighting men. In America today are hundreds of thousands of injured men. Men with neat pinned-up sleeves and trousers. Blinded men. Men with clever iron hooks instead of hands. Worst of all men with hurt and darkened minds. And, far away from America are millions of Americans, many of them wounded, who must be brought home. These men, and the families of those who made the supreme sacrifice for victory, need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. We can help them best by buying victory bonds.

"All purchases of E. F. and G. Bonds in October, November and December will count in the Victory Loan Drive which officially gets underway on October 29th. We must keep buying bonds until our boys have all returned home. There is no better investment we can buy to prepare for the rainy days. E. Bonds may be cashed any time after they have been held 60 days."

Football

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Oct. 12—(AP)—Not in the least embarrassed by having picked Georgia Tech to defeat Notre Dame (final score: Notre Dame 40, Georgia Tech 7) a week ago, this pigskin prognosticator returns for another whirl with a seasonal average of 83.3 or 91 correct picks in 112 chances.

Michigan-Army: Army's veteran starting backfield will average 194 pounds, Michigan's freshman line only 186. After that weighty debate, Army.

Penn State-Navy: Navy's reconstructed backfield to be every bit as good as the one which hammered Duke a week ago. Navy.

Dartmouth-Notre Dame: Dartmouth is unfortunate in meeting Notre Dame with Capt. Meryll Frost, the easterner's chief back, handicapped by a broken finger. Notre Dame.

Duke-Wake Forest: The Blue Devils couldn't stop Navy and the Deacons couldn't half Army a week ago, but Duke looked the better in defeat. Duke.

Wisconsin-Ohio State: Even with All American Bill Hockett lost to the Buckeyes because of injuries suffered in a traffic accident, the Ohioans have the answers. Ohio State.

South Carolina-Alabama: Hurling Harry Gilmer to pitch the Crimson Tide to an easy triumph. Alabama.

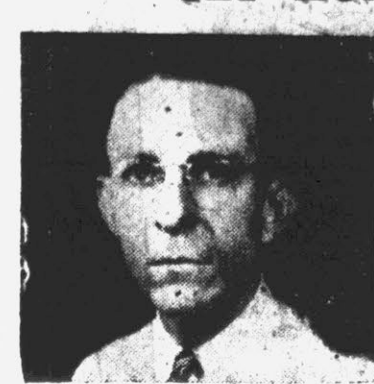

Yale-Columbia: In all their long series the Lions have defeated Yale only four times. They get victory No. 5 Saturday. Columbia.

Finishing the rest in a hurry: East: Pennsylvania over North Carolina, Colgate over Lafayette. Cornell over Princeton. Harvard over Rochester. RPI over Coast Guard. Rutgers over Muhlenberg. Pittsburgh over Michigan State.

South: Georgia Tech over Howard. Florida over Vanderbilt. Mississippi over Louisiana Tech. Louisiana State over Texas A. and M. Tennessee over Chattanooga. William and Mary over V. P. I. V. M. I. over North Carolina State. Friday's games: Kansas over Washburn, Drake over South Dakota State, Temple over Bucknell, Utah over Denver, Syracuse over West Virginia, Miami over St. Louis.

WILSON COULD HARDLY GET HOME FROM WORK

MR. E. F. WILSON
Retonga Promptly Relieved Distress From Acid Indigestion, Nervousness And Sluggish Elimination He States, Feels Fine Now.

More and more well known men and women are coming forward with praise for Retonga. Among the latest is Mr. E. F. Wilson, well known resident of 977 Mangault Street, S. E. Atlanta, Ga. Discussing his happy experience with Retonga he gratefully declared:

"I had gotten to where my food would come back up as sour as vinegar almost before I left the table and the gas pressure in my stomach at times nearly cut off my breath. My nerves were on edge. I had to depend on strong laxatives for elimination and at times every muscle in my body seemed to feel sore and painful. Many times I felt like I would never make it home from work."

"I spent lots of money but Retonga is the first thing I found that gave me relief. I eat anything put before me, and my food digests so well that I have regained nearly ten pounds. My nerves have steadied down and the constipation and pains in my muscles have been relieved. I feel good even after a hard days work. Retonga is worth telling the world about."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to Vitamin B-1 deficiency constipation, insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at

This laugh's on you—and worth it!

SOMEWHERE in the South Pacific, American boys are getting a laugh. A much-needed laugh that helps their morale. A laugh your money helps to buy—when you give to your Community War Fund.

For part of every dollar you give goes to the U.S.O. and helps send the U.S.O. camp shows overseas. And, with the millions of men now idle in occupied territories, the need to keep up their morale is greater than ever. That's why the army has asked the U.S.O. to quadruple its activities. And why your money is needed to help bring to some lonely G.I. a touch of home—the familiar face of Joe E. Brown—the friendly voice of Frances Langford—the dancing feet of Fred Astaire.

Another part of your money is spent right here at home, to help servicemen's families keep living decently, united in happiness and health. Still another part helps cheer our merchant seamen in distant ports of the world. And it helps relieve hunger and sickness and suffering among our fighting allies.

This is a great united cause. And because the needs are so many and so great, give generously—give more than you gave last year. Make your gift as big as your heart.

RADIO BOOM IS FORESEEN

Licenses For Many New Stations Expected Soon

By BRACK G. CURRY
Washington, Oct. 12—(AP)—The great thaw is on in the radio industry. Soon antennas will be springing up like saplings.

The Federal Communications Commission this week began processing nearly 1,000 applications for radio stations which piled up during the wartime freeze on station construction.

Within a few days the FCC will release from 150 to 200 grants for new stations. That will release the brake on radio's reconversion. Other licenses will follow in quick order.

Except for a few stations built during the war to serve vital needs these will be the first authorized by the commission since 1941.

Awaiting action by the FCC are 509 applications for frequency modulation (FM) stations, 267 for the standard (AM) stations, 133 for commercial television stations and 147 for changes in existing standard stations.

Already operating are 47 FM stations, six television stations and 935 standard stations.

FCC officials say the backlog of applications points to a new radio building boom—principally on FM station construction.

FCC Chairman Paul Porter believes between 2,000 and 3,000 FM stations will be built within the next several years and that 187 cities will have television stations within five years.

When FM—the static-free, high fidelity type of broadcasting—first came in radio circles felt there would be stations plenty for anybody and everybody. In laying out the system, however, it was discovered that FM would be plagued by a shortage of channels just as AM is.

In some areas the struggle for channels will be intense.

Labor unions apparently are going in for FM broadcasting on a big scale. The International Ladies' Garment Workers Union applied this week for authority to operate FM stations in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chattanooga, Tenn.

The CIO has applied for FM stations at Los Angeles, Detroit, Chicago, Flint, Newark and Cleveland. The AFL already owns station WCFL at Chicago and has applied for an FM station there.

Boy Scout Board of Review

A large number of Boy Scouts successfully passed the tests for high honors at the October Board of Review at the Methodist Church. Billy Lee completed the requirements for the Second Class rank and Gilbert Williams finished work on the First Class tests.

Billy Crawford with six merit badges led the group in the field. Others finishing their merit badges were Billy Goodson, Jack Whichard, Tommy Lupton, Jimmy Waters and Howard Proctor. Eagle Scout Carl Denton, with the addition of five badges, made application for the Bronze Palm. The Greenville District Court of Honor will recognize the achievements of the boys and present them with appropriate medals.

Board of Review members present were W. J. Steel, Jake Skinner, Richard Forrest and Chairman Wyatt Brown.

Immediate settlement of the seven-month-old movie strike in Hollywood, involving from 3,000 to 7,000, failed to materialize following announcement of the results of a National Labor Relations Board election, and mass picketing was ordered continued at two major studios.

The NLRB election favored the AFL painters as the bargaining choice of studio set decorators over the rival AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees. The question of affiliation for the set decorators started the strike, both the AFL conference of studio unions and the IATSE claiming bargaining rights.

Record Tobacco Crop Forecast

Raleigh, Oct. 12—(AP)—A record-breaking flue-cured tobacco crop of 824,325,000 pounds is forecast for North Carolina this year by the federal-state crop reporting service.

The crop is expected to be 12 per cent larger than in 1944, and 52 per cent larger than the 10-year average. It will be one per cent, or almost 11,000,000 pounds, larger than the previous record crop in 1939 when there were no government restrictions on acreage.

Production in the middle and old belts is estimated at 305,800,000 pounds, the largest crop ever produced in these belts. Eastern North Carolina tobacco (type 12) is estimated at 414,775,000 pounds, 10 per cent larger than last year's crop, but 14 million pounds short of the record 1939 crop.

In the border belt, production is expected to total 103,750,000 pounds. Burley growers expect to harvest a record crop of 19,600,000 pounds. This is 18 per cent larger than last year's crop and twice as large as any burley produced prior to 1943.

Monthly Meeting Medical Society

The Pitt County Medical and Dental Societies held a dinner meeting on Thursday evening at seven o'clock in the new Classroom Building at East Carolina Teachers College.

Dr. Clarence C. Davis of the Duke University Medical School was guest speaker for the occasion. He used as his topic "Endocrinology of Womanhood."

Dr. Connell Garrenton of Bethel presided over the meeting. About forty doctors and dentists from Pitt County and surrounding counties were present.

The junior foods class of the college here, under the direction of Stella Cox, of the Home Economics Department, served a steak dinner.

problem. Heavily damaged communications on both Okinawa and Honshu hampered attempts to get complete reports on casualties and damage. On Okinawa, damage was so great that the east coast was out of touch with the western side of the narrow, 10-mile wide island.

The U. S. fleet, which six months ago rushed an invasion force of 100,000 to Okinawa, today was rushing to the aid of an equal number of almost destitute survivors of the vicious storm.

Hospital ships in the area were called to remove 1,250 hospital patients and those injured by the storm.
