Laval Executed In Paris Today

Former French Premier And Collaborator With Germans Failed In A Suicide Attempt A Few Hours Before His Execution By A Firing Squad

By MEL MOST

Paris, Oct. 15—(AP)—Pierre Laval was executed as a traitor to France today after failing to cheat the firing squad by swallowing poison.

The man who collaborated with the Germans as chief of government in old Marshal Petain's Vichy regime died from a coup de grace, fired through his ear, when a volley from the firing squad did not kill him.

Doctors restored the swarthy traitor from effects of poison taken four hours earlier. He was led to the courtyard of the bleak old Fresnes Prison and died with a cry of "Vive La France" on his lips.

He was refused a final request to give the order for his own death to the execution squad.

Laval refused a proffered blindfold and faced his executioners.

"It is not the soldiers' fault. They know not what they do. Vive La France!"

The twelve riflemen fired.

Laval fell only by his knees.

An officer rushed up immediately, aimed his revolver into Laval's ear and fired. The coup de grace dispatched Laval at 12:32 p. m. and he fell dead into the dirt of the courtyard.

The man who before the war had thrice been premier of France and a dozen times a member of her cabinets was condemned by the high court of justice last week—the same court which condemned former Marshal Petain and Joseph Darnand, the head of the Vichy militia.

Petaain's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment and disgrace; Darnand stood before a firing squad only a few days before Laval.

It was not the first time Laval had felt the steel of a bullet. While leading the Vichy government, he was wounded and almost killed by a youthful assassin. Laval testified during the trial of Marshal Petain that the wounds from that attempt still bothered him.

The trial of Laval was cut short by Laval's own sidown strike against the proceedings.

Termed a "judicial crime," his first statement had been greeted by a burst of jeers and shouts from the presiding judge, prosecutor and jurors. Twice during the first three days, Laval was ejected from the courtroom. His lawyers quit at the start of the trial but returned only when threatened with disbarment.

After his second ejection from the trial, Laval was confined in a dungeon beneath the courtroom. He wrote some brief notes outlining his defense.

A coffin lay near the spot where Laval had pitched forward in death. The body was placed in it swiftly and loaded into a hearse.

Three official cars bearing the prefect of police, the attorney general and the chief of police followed.

BELVOIR FIRST TO REACH GOAL

Greenville And Beavertown Next In War Fund Drive

Belvoir Township broke the ice and, according to the latest reports received this morning in County Headquarters of the United War Fund, became the first township in the county to reach its goal. County Chairman Sam B. Underwood, Jr., was high in his praise of the accomplishment of Belvoir Township and of the workers in that township.

The co-chairmen, L. L. Murray and William Manning, did a great piece of work. The results testify to the good organization and to the generous spirit of all the citizens of this township. They have truly shown the way to the rest of the county," said Mr. Underwood.

Walter Harrington's Greenville township workers were leaving no stone unturned and no doorbell "unrung" as they pushed upward toward the goal of 100 per cent of the quota attained. At present, they have reached 79 per cent of the total amount of money to be raised in Greenville for the War Fund and for the Community Chest. Mr. Harrington called on all his workers who had not yet completed their individual solicitations to do so at the earliest possible time and to turn in their reports.

Farmville Township Chairman J. W. Joyner reported that his organization was complete and that all plans were finished for a thorough canvass to be held today. He stated that he expected Farmville to be able to report a successful conclusion of the campaign in a very few days.

Mr. Underwood mentioned again the need for United War Fund dollars to continue the support of the people of Pitt County to the agencies of the War Fund. "Reports coming to us every day," he stated, "indicate that the men in uniform are not going to be demobilized as quickly as we once thought and that USO will have a continuing need to furnish entertainment and recreation for them."

Will Recognize Austrian Regime

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—The United States announced today that it is now prepared to recognize the provisional government of Austria.

Austria lost its independence to Nazi Germany in March 1938 and has not had a fully qualified independent government since.

Today's action disclosed by the State Department emphasizes that this government waits the full authority of its administration of Chancellor Karl Renner at Vienna established over the whole of the little country despite the fact that it is now chopped up into Russian, British, American and French zones of occupation.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

By OVID A. MARTIN (Substituting for James Marlow)

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—The United Nations launch an attack at Quebec tomorrow upon one of the world's primary ills—hunger.

Food and farm officials, economists, diplomats and agricultural organizations from upwards of 40 nations will gather in the historic Canadian city to set up a permanent international organization to lead that attack.

The organization will be known as the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization. It has been abbreviated officially the FAO.

FAO is the outgrowth of a United Nations food and agriculture conference held at Hot Springs, Va., in 1943. That conference was called by the late President Roosevelt to set in motion plans for carrying out an Atlantic Charter pledge to help free the world from want.

It is a big, long-range job facing the FAO. Nutritional authorities estimate that fully two-thirds of the world's people subsist on diets inadequate for healthful living.

It has been estimated that to raise these diets to adequate levels would require expanded production of cereals by about 50 per cent; meat, fish and poultry by nearly 100 per cent; vegetable oils by about 125 per cent; milk and milk products by about 150 per cent, and fruits and vegetables by more than 300 per cent.

The FAO is not designed to be a charitable or relief organization. Rather it is intended to play the role of teacher and guide. It will have no direct powers or authority in the field of food production or distribution.

If present plans are carried out, it will have a staff of experts in various fields of agricultural production, distribution and nutrition. It will gather together the best knowledge available in these fields. It will conduct research.

This knowledge will be passed on to the member nations along with recommendations for meeting food and farm problems of the individual countries.

Each government will have to decide for itself whether to adopt the FAO recommendations.

The FAO is expected to work hand in hand with other United Nations organizations in the fields of finance, labor, commerce and trade, health and international security.

Sponsors recognize fully that the FAO in itself will be unable to do much unless there is international cooperation in these other fields. They realize that the first cause of hunger is poverty, and that it is useless to produce more food if less men and nations provide the markets to absorb it.

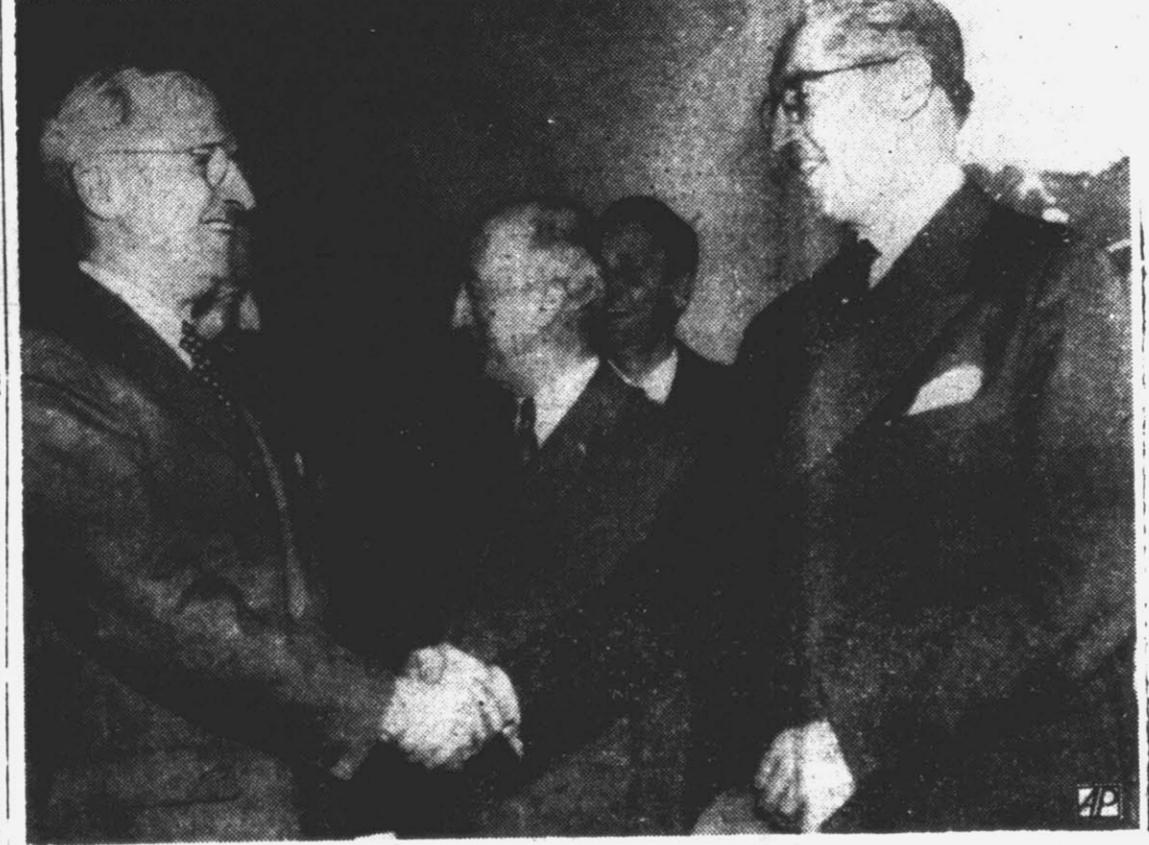

Thus well-paying jobs for millions now underemployed is an essential weapon for the battle against hunger.

The FAO is being established to show the way to greater production and more efficient distribution of food.

But there must be an expansion of production.

TROUBLE IN EAST INDIES

Indonesian Uprisings Against The Dutch

Batavia, Java, Oct. 15—(AP)—Dr. Hubertus Van Moor, lieutenant governor of the Dutch East Indies, acted today to quell uprisings which imperiled one of the richest colonial empires in the world and offered to negotiate a truce with Indonesian rebel leaders.

Aneta, official Dutch news agency, quoted Dr. Van Moor as stating that he was willing to meet with leaders of all groups in Indonesia, including Soekarno, self-styled president of the "Indonesian Republic."

In a dispatch from the Hague, Aneta said that A. W. L. Tjarda Van Starkenborgh Stachouwer had resigned as governor general because he was "unable to be the bearer of the government policy" in the Indies. He arrived in the Hague early last month after being liberated from a Japanese prison camp.

Previously, the government has refused to negotiate with Soekarno who was accused of being an "opportunist Japanese puppet."

It was not clear immediately whether Van Starkenborgh Stachouwer was in disagreement with the old government policy or a new government policy of negotiation with the insurgents.

Premier Schermerhorn was expected to announce his resignation.

Searchers Locate Wreckage Of Plane

Atlanta, Oct. 15—(AP)—Army search crews have located the wreckage of an unidentified plane atop Mount Guyot in the Tennessee-North Carolina Smoky Mountains, the Atlanta Army air base announced today.

The Army spokesman said the plane is believed to be a C-45 transport which was reported missing Oct. 5 while on a flight from St. Louis to Charlotte, N. C.

Mount Guyot is on the North Carolina side of the state border about 50 miles due east of Knoxville.

Army rescue parties from Asheville, N. C., are now enroute to the mountain top under the guidance of U. S. forest rangers, the public relations office said.

Since the C-45 plane was reported missing, the Army said search crews have covered the country from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic Ocean. The wreckage still to be identified, was first spotted by a C-47 search plane from Scott Field, Ill.

More Controls Lifted Aiding Reconversion

Bans On Construction And Airplane Travel Removed; Strikes Retarding Some Industries

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—All controls came off construction and airplane travel today as the nation entered its third month of peace.

Lifting of WPB's ban on civilian construction was expected to stimulate business expansion and provide a new source of jobs for the country's rising total of unemployed.

It came as reconversion officials voiced general satisfaction with the progress thus far made while cautioning at the same time that the upsurge of labor strife would delay the back-to-normal process.

From official and unofficial quarters came these forecasts of future trends and actions:

Wages: Labor wants a 30 per cent increase to offset loss of overtime. Official sentiment is growing for federal approval of a rise of perhaps 15 per cent, but this plan so far lacks White House approval.

Prices: Such a wage boost necessarily would increase price levels by 3 or 4 per cent. Meantime OPA is holding the line, insisting on 1942 retail prices for most goods coming back on the market.

Strikes: Failure to date in settling critical oil and coal emergencies has spurred demands for some peace-time dispute-handling machinery. This could mean revival of the dying War Labor Board or creation of a new agency to handle such cases and fix a formula for peaceful settlements. Incinerators are that unions will request 60 strike votes in October, double last month's record total. The strikers' industries include automobiles, lumber, shipping and trucking.

Food: Meat rationing probably will continue until November 1, OPA officials believe. No improvement seen in sugar soon.

Clothes: Supplies in stores improving, but WPB is investigating the lag in its low-cost garment program. Shoes may go off rationing November 1, if production rises, but output has not jumped as expected. Nylon already appearing occasionally in big cities' stores.

Hard Goods: Washers, radios and the like arriving in sample quantities. Major auto companies in production or near it, but threatened with strikes. Sales control over refrigerators lifted—find one and you can buy it.

Jobs: Upwards of 2,000,000 idle. High unemployment forecast through 1946. Since industrial expansion cannot keep pace with the rapid return of veterans. However, about 700,000 jobs are looking for takers and the daily strike total covers around 450,000 men.

Removal of passenger priorities on domestic and foreign air lines knocked out one of the few remaining controls over transportation.

Still on the books are tire rationing, which the rubber industry hopes to see ended by New Year's; curbs on home delivery service, which will be erased November 1; and truck rationing which ends on December 1.

While airplane passengers now may be sure of not getting "bumped" en route, they may have difficulty for a time getting space. Because of the shortage of planes and increased travel due to lower fares, the airlines suggest that reservations be made well in advance.

Devotion of WPB's familiar order L-41, the construction ban, cleared the way for the building of an estimated 500,000 new houses next year, and for the building of 12,500,000 in the next 10 years—the government's goal. It also removed the barriers for millions of dollars worth of hotel, apartment, store, theater and office building construction, pent up for three and one-half years.

Other $2,500,000,000 worth of dam and other public works projects may proceed as materials become available.

LESS TENSION IN ARGENTINA

New Two-Man Cabinet Reopens Universities

Buenos Aires, Oct. 15—(AP)—Civilian General Prosecutor Juan Alvarez, was entrusted by President Farrell today with the task of organizing a "cabinet of notables" to lead Argentina through a governmental crisis climaxed by the recent resignation of Vice-President Juan Peron.

The 67-year-old prosecutor moved into a key position following his appointment by the president as minister of the interior.

Alvarez is reported to have said that he would accept this position in the cabinet only if he approved of other appointments to fill vacancies in the body. Farrell answered this by giving him freedom to organize a cabinet of his own choosing.

Already members of the cabinet are Gen. Eduardo Avalos and Vice-Admiral Verrengo Lima.

Alvarez immediately began the task of filling the vacancies, offering posts to several prominent civilians.

War Minister Avalos announced the liberation of Victorio Codovilla, Communist leader, whom he described as the last political prisoner in the nation.

One of the first moves made by Gen. Eduardo Avalos and Vice-Admiral Verrengo Lima after assuming six of the 11 cabinet posts was to issue a decree yesterday reopening the national universities of La Plata, Buenos Aires and Litoral, which were ordered closed by Peron last month following demonstrations against his regime by students.

At the same time all professors and teachers who had been dismissed for supporting the students were ordered reinstated.

Other measures taken simultaneously by the two strong men of the cabinet included the following:

1. Reinstated Federal Judge Rodolfo Barraco Marmol of Cordoba, who was dismissed Sept. 29 for issuing habeas corpus writs to several political prisoners arrested on Peron's orders.

2. Lifted censorship restrictions recently imposed on the Argentine press.

3. Displayed their control over the nation's armed forces by a drastic shakeup of the army command.

4. Ordered police, who have been concentrated in the center of Buenos Aires, dispersed to other parts of the city.

Navy Death Toll Is 28 With 70 Missing

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death toll from the typhoon which whipped across the West Pacific last week stood today at 28 U. S. Navy personnel and seven Japanese prisoners of war on Okinawa, and 184 persons in Western Japan.

Meanwhile, fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor said six enlisted men were killed and 23 injured in an unexplained explosion at a navy receiving station on Okinawa Friday.

The navy also reported 70 missing and 423 injured during the violent storm. The U. S. Army listed no deaths but a "considerable number of minor injuries." The army previously announced that 100 soldiers were injured.

Navy authorities in Washington said the typhoon sank three naval vessels, beached 30 and damaged three.

The total of Japanese dead was reported by the Japanese Home Ministry, which also said that 100,000 were injured.

Demobilization of Armed Forces Completed On Schedule; Government Working On Revision Of Constitution To Give More Freedom To People

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Oct. 15—(AP)—Japan slipped quietly and with mingled feelings into military oblivion today as its demobilization was completed on schedule, and for the first time in history these islands held no combat military force, either in fact or in name.

As the fighting force of 7,000,000 soldiers and sailors at home and abroad was reduced to nothing, the translation and interrogation section of Allied headquarters produced evidence that Japanese troops had used live Allied prisoners in bayonet practice on Guadalcanal and in China.

With the exit of the defeated, discredited warlords, Japanese political leaders stepped onto the national stage to put into effect a list of democratic principles prescribed by Allied headquarters.

Prince Fumimaro Konoye, one of Emperor Hirohito's close advisers, said in an interview that "his majesty is anxious that revisions be made" in the constitution to bring about the reforms decreed by headquarters.

Konoye, who was boomed as the head of a new political party, added that constitutional revisions under consideration would curb Hirohito's almost unlimited power over the government.

Diet some supervision over expenditures of the imperial household. Another being mentioned prominently as a prospective party head was Gen. Kuzushige Ugaki, 77-year-old militarist politician.

Japan's incubator of imperialistic schemes since 1878, the imperial general staff headquarters, was dissolved formally yesterday and the general staff went out of office today, in accord with Potsdam declaration terms.

The once proud and powerful army and navy ministries continued to do business but merely as "ministries for demobilization."

Allied headquarters announced that General MacArthur would broadcast to the United States at 8 a. m. tomorrow (6 p. m. today, Eastern Standard Time) on "Military Phases On the Occupation."

Only a few thousand men remained in active service as Japanese soldiers and sailors. Their job was to finish turning over equipment to the American occupation force, clearing of minefields and processing of service men returning from overseas.

The man in the street generally was glad to see the end of militarism but some displayed shame over defeat.

The few officers and men remaining on duty in the Japanese army will be permitted to wear their uniforms because the war left the country so poor that they can get no more.

Today In Congress

By Max Hall

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—Sponsors of the treasury Vinson said today he thinks the house made a $2,000,000,000 error in its tax-cutting.

The house voted to reduce 1946 taxes by $5,000,000,000. That's all right by Vinson. He has been recommending approximately that all along.

But he told a Senate Finance Committee the house also wants to put another $2,000,000,000 off the 1947 tax bill. And that he said is going too far.

Women in the Church

by Mary Fowler

"Full production, full employment, full pay, and full security are necessary if we are to bring peace and security to all people in the United States and largely influence the economic security of other people in the world," says the executive committee of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service—"the largest body of church women in the world." The Society recently approved the "principles and purposes" implicit in pending legislation: namely, the full employment act, minimum wage, fair employment practice committee, national housing, equal-pay-for-equal-work legislation, and the extension of the Social Security Act and national medical program. Women are being urged to work through their congressmen for the enactment of these measures.

When the young girls of the Julia Emery Hall (Episcopal) School at Bromley, Liberia, Africa heard that the girls of the Hankow Diocesan School, China, had traveled a thousand miles into free China during their four moves for safety as the armies of Japan came nearer, they arranged entertainments, and sent the proceeds to their Chinese sisters, with this note: "To be used for the children who have had to move so often and suffer so much, in order to do what is easy for us in this country."

"There can be no freedom where there is fear and there can be no progress without freedom," said Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt recently. "Unless we really love enough to think about other people, how can we hope to remove fear from want and aggression from the earth? If we would follow Christ's teachings, fear would not stalk the world today. It is going to take tremendous courage in this country to solve our problems. If we have enough moral and spiritual courage the world may enter a golden age; if not we may face an era of destruction."

Miss Rita L. Askew, R. N., has joined Miss Eunice R. Baber, R. N., as the second American-trained nurse on the mission staff in Hospital Internacional, under the auspices of the inter-denominational Board for Christian Work, Ciudad Trujillo, in Santo Domingo. The hospital's training school program has been enlarged and the largest training class in the history of the school has been admitted.

The Curious Clue

BY RUFUS HEED

Chapter 4

When General Howard walked into Suzy's sitting room after dinner the next evening, he felt a tension in the air. Suzy, a stunning figure in a black pirate's costume with a dagger at her belt, and a long cape hanging from her shoulders, turned from the window to greet him. Seth, nearer the door, shook hands cordially, but the faint half smile General had already noticed as one of his pleasant characteristics, was missing.

"Thank you, Sir, for bringing over the dossier. I should have called for it myself and saved you this trouble."

"Not at all—not at all, my boy." The General's hearty voice filled the room.

Suzy laughed. "You're a dear General. Of course you are staying to see our dance."

As she spoke, Suzy took the dossier from the General and put it on the desk in front of them. At that moment, the door of the bedroom opened and a vision in white came in. Dolores, dressed as a bride, was ready for the fashion show. The General whistled softly under his breath.

"Jumping Junior! Another beautiful girl! I say, Peabody, this promise to be a terrific night and you seem to have a front seat. I'm staying right with you!"

"That's what I hoped you would do. But before we get started, I'll go down to the office and see this dossier put in the safe. I'm leaving at dawn tomorrow."

But before he could move the lights in the rooms began to flicker. Suzy gasped.

"Oh, that blackout rehearsal! I forgot all about it. We'll all have to row morning, and for some reason I dread leaving Suzy here. She won't go back with me, and I don't like her staying on here."

"Afraid something will happen to her?"

"Frankly, I am. Last night Dolores told me—"

"Oh, that screw ball!" Wallis answered scornfully. "Dolores is a jealous hep-cat if I ever saw one. It all started when Suzy began to go to the studio every day to dance with Ramon."

"Listen, Wallis," Seth exclaimed, jumping to his feet. "I'm going to get my dossier, and when I come back, will you try to help me talk some sense into Suzy? Maybe you can persuade her to fly back with me in the morning."

"I certainly will if I can. I'll wait here for you."

Suddenly they heard the opening strains of the Lohengrin wedding march. "Here comes Dolores now," Wallis continued hastily, "and she is beautiful this evening. Don't you want to wait and see the end of the show, Seth?"

"No, thanks, not interested. See you later."

In the lobby near the great double doors that faced the garden, Seth found Suzy fifteen minutes later. She was waiting for Ramon and her cue for the dance. As she handed Seth the key to her dressing table, the music for the pirate's dance started and Suzy was softly singing the old ballad as he left her.

"Take warning now by me, for I must die, for I must die."

Standing near the clerk's desk for a few minutes, Seth saw Ramon come running into the lobby with six pirates behind him—the chorus. He saw the dancer slip his arm through Suzy's and walk with her to the entrance. As Seth went on through the lobby to the stairs at the west end of the great hall, he saw Potter pacing the veranda overlooking the driveway. He wondered why he was not out watching the dance.

At the top of the stairs, the door leading into Suzy's sitting room was open. Seth walked through the room to the door of her bedroom, which was also standing open. Then he stopped suddenly and staggered back against the dressing table, his horrified eyes staring down at a crumpled heap of white tulle and satin on the floor at his feet.

Bulging black eyes and the protruding tip of a black swollen tongue told the ghastly story. Dolores was dead. She had been strangled.

Emergency Crop Loans Available

Emergency crop loans and emergency feed loans for 1946 are now available to farmers in Pitt County. Applications for these loans are being received at J. W. H. Roberts' office by Gladys Norris, field supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Division of the Farm Credit Administration. This early opening of the loan program in Pitt County is for the benefit of those eligible farmers who need financial assistance to meet the emergencies

THREE MILLION DOLLARS

A lot of money—BUT

Pitt County loses this much every year from diseases in tobacco. We lose another million by the lack of adapted strains of hybrid corn and knowledge of fertilizers and cultivation methods.

WHY? Because we do not have adequate research to combat these diseases and work out other problems. Present salary schedules of our State Agriculture College will not permit us to hire the best scientists and keep them. We must keep the good men we now have in the State and get more if we lick our problems.

$35,000.00 is Pitt County's share in the North Carolina Agricultural Foundation, which was formed by a group of business men and farmers of North Carolina, for the sole purpose of getting and keeping the best agricultural scientists in the country in North Carolina. The State goal for the foundation is two million dollars. This is a single request. Not an annual one. Individual memberships, $10.00 and up. Business memberships, $25.00 and up.

Invest in a share of Pitt County's and North Carolina's future. See your community chairman today and join the foundation. Community Chairmen are as follows:

Strength FOR THE DAY
 By KARL L. DOUGLAS

VALUE OF SELF-CONFIDENCE
 One of the carefully selected group permitted to see the first demonstration of atomic power in the desert of New Mexico says that as the scientists awaited in the intense darkness for the signals which would precede the demonstration they rubbed sun-tan lotion on their faces and hands. They were so sure their projects would succeed that they prepared themselves for a terrific sunburn when the instantaneous flash of superlight flashed across the landscape.

These men had faith. They were filled with a quiet conviction that their calculations were correct and that the experiment would work. And that is one reason why it did work. Men who have that confidence in themselves and in their work usually get results. This is not because confidence in itself produces results, but because confidence of this sort arises from natures which are capable of prodigious achievement. A man of ability who has himself well in control is always quite sure of himself and of the ultimate success of plans upon which he has worked with great care.

One of the great secrets of success is the developing of a nature which will give off an atmosphere of confidence as a by-product. When our personalities begin to radiate such confidence, we can be pretty sure that our lives have settled into the groove of achievement and that our efforts are going to be creative.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
 By JACK STINNETT

Washington — The Washington grapevine that sprawling creeper that feeds mostly on the juice of its own sour grapes, has it that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower soon will make another trip home and at that time a group of Republican leaders will offer him the 1948 presidential nomination.

This in itself isn't earth-shaking. The possibility already has been kicked all over the place.

Coupled, however, with the haste with which Senate Republicans rushed to the defense of Gen. Douglas MacArthur after the State Department took him to task, the rumor takes on significance.

The significance is that GOP leaders aren't satisfied with any of the immediate prospects on the home front and are spreading the welcome mat for both of our greatest war heroes.

It's no secret that in spite of the length of his service in the 1948 elections and the fact that political wisdom would suggest to some before that he would be a popular choice, the possibility of Eisenhower's nomination is already being discussed.

When the Republicans know they will need a hero to balance the checkbook of the nation with a man whose military record is as great or greater than that of any leader in the history of the United States.

Why are the Republicans so willing to fall for the lure of the hero of the western front and the hero of the march on Berlin?

Look to the past. In the years the Republicans note that every war in our history except World War I has produced a hero President. Three of those Washington, Jackson and Wilson. Henry Harrison was before the time of the Republican party. Of the two since the Civil War Grant was elected for two terms and talked strongly for a third. Theodore Roosevelt served almost four years of one term was elected in a second and still had enough power left in 1912 to tear the party to pieces when it went against his wishes.

There are precedents that can't be overlooked and the situation following World War I doesn't disprove the rule at all. In 1920 and in succeeding election years until 1932 the Republicans didn't need a hero and the Democrats couldn't find one.

Both MacArthur and Eisenhower have instinctively denied any political aspirations, which is easy enough to do in answer to a press conference question and in no way dishonest. Having the nomination urged upon them with an appeal to their patriotic duty to serve their country further would be a horse of another color.

Observers here are positive that Republican leaders will concentrate on Eisenhower first as the more likely vote-getter of the two. In any event, on his next visit to the United States the political pulse-takers will be at his heels constantly.

 of the whole world economy to provide much greater purchasing power if the guidance expected of the FAO is to be of any great use.

Until there is some evidence of such economic expansion, farmers in the more highly developed nations may be inclined to look with skepticism upon work of the FAO. Such farmers fear an ill-considered increase in farm production, lest it lead again to the price-depressing surpluses of the 30s that forced producers into bankruptcy.

Laval had fought a losing battle to keep out of Allied hands after the German collapse. He unsuccessfully sought sanctuary in Switzerland and Lichtenstein. Finally on May 2, 1945, a twin-engine Luftwaffe dive-bomber flew him to Spain.

Lima were approved by President Farrell, whose resignation is being held by the two officers for use if they deem advisable.

The shift in the army command included the appointment of Gen. Francisco Saez as commander of the Camp de Mayo Garrison—a post formerly held by Avalos himself; the appointment of Gen. Santos Rossi as commander of the First Army Division stationed in Buenos Aires and Gen. Ernesto Florit as director of the military college.

A high military source said that Generals Alberto Guglielmone and Alfredo Escobar, leaders of a group which had been insisting that Farrell resign and turn the government over to the Supreme Court, had been confined to quarters.

Three high-ranking army officers, all close associates of Peron, meanwhile followed his lead in resigning their commissions.

Headquarters of army forces in the Western Pacific, at Manila, declared the typhoon damaged one-third of its heavy canvas on Okinawa, but that many tents were repaired easily. The army still awaited reports from Northern Okinawa and nearby Ie Island, both of which have been out of communication.

Three ships and 10 airplanes carrying 1,250 army patients evacuated from Okinawa—not typhoon victims—were scheduled to reach Manila today.

2. Minimum wages. A senate committee has been holding hearings for some time on a bill that would lift the present 40-cent minimum to 65 cents and later to 75 cents.

4. Demobilization. The senate military committee, which called top army and navy officials last month for testimony on what the services are doing to speed the discharge of fighting men, assembled for a progress report today.

LEAGUE TO BE REORGANIZED

Ray Goodman Elected President; Want Class C Baseball

By CHESTER WALSH
Definite plans were made here Sunday afternoon, at a meeting attended by representatives of the clubs which were in the Coastal Plain League when it disbanded shortly after America entered the war, for reviving the Coastal Plain this year.

And the plans call for a higher classification of ball—Class C, rather than the Class D of the old days.

Seven of the eight clubs which were in the league for its last season are ready to go—New Bern, Kinston, Goldsboro, Rocky Mount, Tarboro and Greenville. Williamston's representatives announced that the Martin County town will not have a club. The eighth franchise in the league will be awarded at a meeting to be held in New Bern at 7 p. m. on Monday, October 29. Forfeit money is to be posted at this meeting, and formal

A REAL OPPORTUNITY
An established insurance company recently entering North Carolina needs representatives in all sections of the state. This is a real opportunity to establish a permanent business which will return a good income year after year. The proposition is briefly outlined as follows: Our company sells only personal accident insurance.

The annual premiums for our policies range from $11.00 to $46.00.

We pay unusually high first year commissions and a permanent 10 per cent renewal commission.

The prospects are men, women and children of the business and professional class.

The company sends notices for renewal premiums due and the representative does not have to collect premiums.

Personal accident insurance is one of the most saleable forms of insurance and only approximately 5 per cent of the people now have this type of protection.

A few hours study is all that is necessary to gain sufficient information to solicit business.

The average earnings of our full time representatives for the year 1944 were $6,356.28.

Previous insurance or selling experience will be helpful but not necessary. Any high type person with a reasonably good education, a reasonably good personality and a willingness to work can be successful in this business.

This is not a temporary proposition but a worthwhile, permanent connection. It is worthy of investigation. For further information write or see Nat H. Robb, Divisional Manager, 409 Capital Club Building, Raleigh, North Carolina. 15-2ts.

FOR QUICK SERVICE BRING your toys of all kinds to 215 Colanthe Street to be repaired or painted. Also buy or sell second-hand toys of any kind. 15-4ts.

FOR SALE—1937 CHEVROLET two-door, $269 OPA ceiling. Clarence Dixon, Greenville, route 3, near Black Jack. 15-3ts.

PEANUT PRICES ARE GOOD—Don't sell until you see us. We buy at Keel's warehouse or at your farm. Keel Peanut Co., Phone 2240. 15-1f.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS—PHELPS-Tribley Radio Service, located in Young Mercantile Building, Greene Street. Expert Service on all makes of radios. 6-1mo.

application for membership in the National Association then will be filed.

Ray Goodman of Williamston, who was president of the league when it disbanded in January, 1942, yesterday was elected unanimously for a three-year term as president. Edna Barnhill of Williamston, who served as secretary, was elected secretary.

Judging from messages received from scouts and executives of clubs in the majors and in some minor leagues, clubs in the Coastal Plain will have no difficulty in obtaining tie-ups. It was stated that the Chicago Cubs are interested in obtaining a franchise for a club at Fayetteville. And another report was that another big league club would like to back a franchise at Wilmington. Billy Arthur, Jacksonville newspaper publisher, sent word that Jacksonville would like to enter the league.

Yesterday's meeting was marked by much enthusiasm. Attending were 52 former club officials and "just plain fans."

Football

By The Associated Press
Lacking the flavor of any "Big Time" encounters such as characterized the last two Saturdays, the football menu for the coming week-end finds considerable action on North Carolina grids with the Wake Forest-North Carolina State tilt at Raleigh Saturday night commanding most attention.

Both Wake Forest and State lost their last games, the Wakes going down before Duke last Saturday 26 to 19, while the Wolfpack fell before Virginia Military 21-14.

The North Carolina Tar Heels who suffered a 49-0 shellacking at the hands of Pennsylvania Saturday at Philadelphia will take on the Cherry Point Marines at Chapel Hill. The Marines suffered a 20-0 defeat at the hands of the Third Air Force Gremlins in a Sunday game.

The Duke Blue Devils will have an off week-end and will concentrate on studies in preparation for examinations.

Other Saturday contests include Milligan and Catawba at Salisbury. Milligan nosed out Appalachian Teachers College last week 9-7, while Catawba poished off Emory and Henry of Virginia 41-0.

Richmond University's Spiders will invade Greensboro for a battle with Guilford Saturday night. Guilford lost to Newberry's Indians last Saturday, 28-0.

High Point will take on Western Carolina Teachers College of Cul-lowhee, and the Second Army of Fort Bragg will entertain Presbyterian College's Blue Hose.

Except for Presbyterian's action at Fayetteville, the South Carolina football menu is blank the coming week end.

Clemson which posed out Pensacola Naval Air Station, 7-6, Saturday and South Carolina's Gamecocks which took a 55-0 beating from Alabama's Crimson Tide last week, are resting up for their traditional battle at the South Carolina State Fair at Columbia on Oct. 25.

Newberry finished its season at Greensboro Saturday night, trimming Guilford College 28-0.

The Personnel Distribution Command's Comets of Greensboro, chalked up their first victory Sunday with a 7-0 win over the First Air Force before 6,000 customers. The PDC will meet the Second Air Force Superbombers at Albuquerque, N. M. next Sunday.

"Draw Me Nice for Mom!"

A HOT LITTLE ISLAND in the Pacific. A badly wounded boy lies on a hospital cot. The boy may die. He may live. It's touch and go!

He speaks to the artist who is sketching his picture:

"Listen, Mister. Don't draw me the way I am now. Make me nice and good-looking for my mom. It may be the last she'll ever see of me."

Perhaps the kid is right. He may be dead within hours. Perhaps... and this the doctors hope for... the sketching of the picture may give the patient a healthy lift when he needs it badly.

Under the auspices of the U.S.O., scores of artists visit hospitals and draw crayon portraits of wounded fighting men to be sent home. The money you give to your local community war fund makes it possible to send these artists to the Pacific and other distant fighting areas.

Don't give up giving! Your help is needed now...

more than ever before! Your donation to your community war fund not only spreads cheer to wounded veterans far from home, but also provides maternity care for wives of servicemen... provides wholesome recreation to combat juvenile delinquency... and aids the homeless and helpless people of our allies.

How big is your heart? Give now, and generously, to the National War Fund in your community. Millions will thank you!

BETHEL BACKS FOUNDATION

Raises $2,140 For Agricultural Research Work at State

By CHESTER WALSH
Bethel Township is setting the pace in the movement to raise $3,000 in Pitt County for the Agricultural Foundation for State College. The Bethel committee, F. L. Blount, chairman, has already turned over to W. H. Woolard, president of the Guaranty Banking and Trust Company and Pitt County chairman for the foundation, $2,140 of its $2,350 quota. A meeting of committee chairmen will be held in Greenville shortly, at which time reports of collections in the various townships will be made.

The Agricultural Foundation is a non-profit corporation, organized nearly two years ago by patriotic and philanthropic citizens of the State for the purpose of improving agriculture in North Carolina and producing larger and better quality crops on less acreage. The purpose of the foundation is to provide funds to supplement salaries of scientists and research specialists at State College and the experiment stations in their work to improve agricultural methods in the State.

The State Legislature provides certain salaries for the scientists at work at State College. It was pointed out by State College officials that just as soon as one of the scientists at the college achieves some unusual research work for the benefit of farming colleges in other states, offer them larger salaries than North Carolina pays. The Agricultural Foundation plans to supplement these salaries, and keep these men here for the benefit of North Carolina farmers. Larger yields and better quality crops will result from research and experimental work at State College.

Membership in the Agricultural Foundation is purely voluntary. Any person may become a member by paying $10 or more; mercantile establishments and corporations, $25 or more. Some banks and corporations have donated considerable sums. The amount subscribed is deductible from income tax reports. Chairman Woolard announced, Thomas J. Pearsall, prominent businessman of Rocky Mount, is president of the foundation.

Lt. Dave W. Mosier On Duty In Japan

By CHESTER WALSH

Lieut. David W. Mosier, U. S. Navy Bombing Fighting Squadron 87 in the Pacific, well known here in Greenville, was on shore patrol duty shortly after the landing of General MacArthur's forces in Japan after the surrender. He was stationed at Yokosuka with 200 men and officers on September 13. In a letter to a friend here Mosier said they had no trouble with the Japs. He wrote: "We saw many interesting things in the Japanese city. The Japs are really stripped bare—they have really gone all out for the military. With few exceptions civilians were dressed in discarded military uniforms, though some of the women had fairly decent clothing. Very few Japs wore native costumes. The houses are all in need of repair. The public 'co-ed' baths were of great interest to the American servicemen. It is easy to understand now how those 'animals' (the Japs) were able to fight and exist under the conditions they did for so long, on so little. A good food supply was an improvement on their homes.

"In Tokyo and Yokohama we did not have time to get into the residential sections, if there are any remaining. In Tokyo we went to the Imperial Hotel and saw MacArthur's car. We tried to eat lunch there but after sampling the food had to give it up. Only the lower floors of some of the big department stores remain. Prices are very high. We sold what cigarettes we had for 30 yen ($2) a pack.

We met many Japs who spoke English. On a train between Yokohama and Tokyo a Jap explained that the Japanese did not want war—that is, the intelligent people didn't want it. The Jap said he was on a city planning board in Tokyo, but he has a big job ahead after the Allied bombings. Another Jap said his countrymen 'expect to have a democratic government.'

Lieut. Mosier wrote that he expected to leave shortly for the States and hoped to be back home the latter part of October. His letter was dated September 15. He is attached to the USS Ticconderoga.

Part Of Mighty Fleet Comes Home

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Four of Uncle Sam's mightiest battleships, accompanied by a light cruiser, six submarines and three destroyers approached the Golden Gate today, bringing with them the navy's dynamic Admiral Halsey and 10,000 men for discharge from the service.

On hand to greet Halsey as he brings the units of the powerful Third Fleet which played a major part in bringing Japan to its knees was Fleet Admiral Nimitz.

Halsey's flagship, the powerful South Dakota, will precede the long line of ships into the harbor, take its position and review the submarines, destroyers, cruisers and other battleships in that order.

The South Dakota was due to pass in through the Golden Gate about noon (3 p. m., Eastern Standard Time).

Peanut Growers Ask Parity.
Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Southern peanut producers asked the Agriculture Department today to guarantee them a price equal to 10 per cent of parity and set no quotas for the 1946 peanut crop. Parity is an arbitrary price intended to give farmers purchasing power equivalent to that of some previously favorable period to agriculture, usually 1909-1914.

Urges Cooperation.
Washington, Oct. 15.—(AP)—President Truman said that there must be "cooperative planning by agriculture, business, labor and government" if the nation is to improve its standard of living.

The President's comments were contained in a letter to the National Planning Association which submitted a report posing a series of "questions for national action."

Nylons.
Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 15.—(AP)—First postwar sale of nylon hosiery here today drew a two-block line, including some men, that began forming nearly two hours before the store opened at 10 a. m. The first woman in line received a free pair. No casualties were reported.

Back To Football.
Athens, Ga., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Charles Trippi, ace halfback whose discharge from the Army with 41 points last week stirred up a storm in the Southland, registered at the University of Georgia today and will appear in the game against Louisiana State University Saturday.

To Broadcast MacArthur Address.
New York, Oct. 15.—(AP)—All radio networks have arranged to broadcast General Douglas MacArthur's address, in which he will discuss "military phases of occupation" at 6 o'clock (EST) tonight. Previously listed programs have been cancelled for that time.

Session Delayed.
Berlin, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The first formal session of the international war crimes tribunal, which was to have received indictments against 24 top-rank Nazis today, has been postponed for three days at the request of Russian representatives.

R. A. Rudenko, chief prosecutor for the Soviet Union, notified the court yesterday that it had been impossible to complete translation of the 35,000-word document in time and asked for a delay.

College Aids War Fund.
The National War Fund drive among faculty and staff members at East Carolina Teachers' College ended Saturday with a total contribution of $676.50. Miss Audrey Dempsey of the Commerce Department was in charge of collecting funds.

Three Score Injured.
Spartanburg, S. C., Oct. 15.—(AP)—A section of wooden bleachers at the county fair grounds here collapsed Saturday afternoon, injuring more than 60 spectators at automobile races. Several were seriously hurt, and were treated at local hospitals and at Camp Croft Hospital.

Archbishop Mac Rory Dead.
Armagh, Northern Ireland, Oct. 13.—(AP)—His eminence Joseph Cardinal MacRory, archbishop of Armagh and primate of all Ireland, died at 7 a. m. (2 a. m., EST) today. The 89-year-old prelate, who recently celebrated his diamond jubilee as a churchman, was a native of Ballygawley, County Tyrone, Ireland. He received his education in church schools of Armagh and Mayo.

Long Occupation Needed.
Harrisburg, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Lt. Col. Gregory (Pappy) Boyington, top ranking Marine ace of World War II, estimates that it will require 10 to 20 years of occupation before Japan's war mongering tendencies are wiped out. "Get rid of Jap warlords and higher-ups and we'll be able to control the country," Boyington said last night at a Victory Loan rally.

Trouble In . . .

(A Reuters dispatch quoting Batavia reports said 50,000 Dutch women and children had been "surrounded by wildly excited Indonesians in the area of Batavia and were completely cut off from Allied forces." The dispatch added that the women and children "are being held virtually as hostages" and that the natives "are said to be inspired by the Japanese."

(An authoritative source in London said the British government had agreed to "make ships available" to rush Dutch troops from Europe to Java.)

New outbreaks were reported from the interior of Java, as armed rebel bands closed upon this city. Acting to maintain order, British Maj. Gen. D. C. Hawthorn, Allied commander, invoked a death penalty in Batavia for looting, sabotage, the bearing of arms, or refusal to surrender arms.

Indonesian nationalists ordered a general work stoppage in Batavia. Aneta said Dr. Van Mook told a press conference that Holland would keep a 1942 pledge to give the Indies freedom in internal affairs within the Dutch commonwealth.

"There are to be no more 'first class' or 'second class' citizens, the agency quoted him as saying. "As soon as order is restored and the existence of war victims, who went through so much, is no longer threatened, I am prepared to discuss detail of our plans for the future in the most liberal way."

"The Netherlands home radio quoted him saying "we Dutchmen have learned that all which has been left of the old Dutch colonial system has to disappear."

Bloody skirmishes were reported from widely separated areas as the insurgent nationalists implemented what they called "a Mohammedan holy war against the Dutch infidels."

Insurgent forces are armed with weapons ranging from guns to poisoned darts and snakes, nationalist sources disclosed.

A Eurasian eyewitness said that Indonesians took a number of Europeans and Eurasians from a train at a village 12 miles north of Batavia Friday. Several were killed, including a European girl, and bodies were thrown into a river, the informant declared.
