Automotive Union Votes On Threatened Walkout

Controversy Rages Over Wage-Hour Issue; Vote To Be Taken Tomorrow Involving More Than 300,000 Workers Highlighting The Nation's Labor Troubles

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
One of the nation's major post-war labor disputes appeared headed for a showdown today as the country's biggest union and largest automotive corporation, on the eve of a strike vote involving more than 300,000 workers, sparred on the wage-hour issue.

The fight between the CIO's United Automobile Workers' Union and General Motors Corporation in Detroit highlighted the nation's labor troubles. Today's vote is expected to be the first of the ballots under the War Labor Board disputes act among the motor industry's "Big Three."

President C. E. Wilson, at a press conference last week, suggested a 45-hour work week with a five to eight percent increase in wages. The company said in rejecting the union's wage demands, there could be no boost in wages without a corresponding increase in car prices or an adjustment to wage stabilization policy.

Wilson's proposal was termed a "phony bribe" by union President R. J. Thomas, and he and union Vice-president Walter P. Reuther declared adoption of a 45-hour week would mean scrapping of the wages and hours act and a "surrender of basic labor standards."

Weather Forecast: Extended Forecast—Temperatures will average a few degrees below normal, moderately cool at beginning of period, followed by gradual rising trend Wednesday and Thursday; light to moderate rains Thursday or Friday, followed by cooler weather.

The status of the Dardanelles is of the utmost importance to Russia. This narrow strait (the one Leander used to swim nightly to visit his true love) is the gateway leading from the Black Sea into the Aegean and the Mediterranean. That is, it's Russia's only exit from the Black Sea and without free use of this passage, Moscow cannot make good its apparent ambition to become a Mediterranean power.

Luis Valmore Rodriguez, recently named Venezuelan Interior Minister once U. S. Sergeant

By PHILIP CLARKE
Caracas, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Luis Valmore Rodriguez, 45-year-old former U. S. army sergeant, will be sworn in today in the number 2 spot in the revolutionary Venezuelan government which seized the power in a four-day uprising that overthrew President Isaias Medina Angarita.

Valmore was named to the powerful post of interior minister by his friend, Revolutionary President Romulo Betancourt, and will have charge of many important functions, including the government's relations with U. S. oil companies and other foreign investors.

Valmore, editor of El Pais, organ of the Democratic Action Party of which he is a leader, frequently has attacked U. S. oil interests in his newspaper, but he gave assurances in an interview that he would "respect the rights" of foreign investors.

The new government, meanwhile, moved swiftly to seek foreign recognition. Interim Foreign Minister Carlos Morales announced that the revolutionary Junta had advised diplomatic missions of all countries of the makeup of the government and its aims.

Morales said his policy in the foreign ministry would be to meet all international obligations which the previous government had made. He said he believed that the new government would be recognized by other nations when they were acquainted with the origin of the revolutionary movement, which he declared was to provide a secret, universal vote for president.

Asked whether the act of Chapultepec did not make it necessary for other nations to withhold recognition from governments established by coups, he said he interpreted this to mean regimes established by coercion rather than by popular will.

Chinese Report Torture Of American B-29 Crew

Many Humiliating And Unbelievable Atrocities Were Inflicted By The Japanese

By The Associated Press
Hankow, China, Oct. 23.—(AP)—American intelligence officers today related a story on Japanese torture of three B-29 crewmen who were submitted to such humiliations that their names never may be revealed.

One of the fliers, almost naked, was forced to walk through Hankow's wintry streets. One eye was virtually gouged out and he was showered with icy water. At the end of his miles long ordeal, he was showered with gasoline and burned alive, on orders of a Japanese military schoolmaster.

Two fellow B-29 crewmen also were cremated, but whether they were alive when the fires were lighted has not been determined. They, too, were forced to make the same tortuous walk through Hankow.

The incident was well remembered by scores of Chinese in Hankow because the city received its worst raid of the war only two days after the public torture of the Americans. Many believed the heavy bombing was a reprisal.

Witnesses said one Japanese dressed as a Chinese ran out of the crowd and poked out the eye of one of the airmen with a sharp stick. The Japanese turned the Chinese Dah Pu Bank building in the heart of Hankow into a torture and death factory. An estimated 10,000 Chinese were put through this house of torture and only about 6,000 emerged alive.

Universal Training Urged By President

Japanese Question The Emperor Plan

Form Of Government Under Which Japan Has Been Ruled Big Political Question

Tokyo, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The tugging emperor system, which has ruled the Japanese people for centuries, became Japan's number one political issue today as the once powerful family industrial monopolies crumbled under "new deal."

The latest move in the fast shifting Japanese political scene came today when a committee of 183 Diet members, seeking to reform old line party elements, called for "absolute and unqualified defense of Tenno" (the emperor system).

Almost at once the cabinet was called into still another extraordinary session to discuss the dissolution of the Zaibatsu, (family owned industrial monopolies) announced yesterday.

The Diet committee also asked for "a determined fight against Communism and Liberalism," while the new Japanese Liberal party pledged to "uphold and defend Japan's unique national structure"—Tennoism.

The Diet committee is believed to have approached Prince Fumimaro Konoe, three-time former premier and the nation's first post-war vice premier, to accept the presidency.

The Liberals advocated a diplomacy which would permit Japan to "join the United Nations organization at the earliest possible date" and supported proposed domestic reforms granting women's suffrage, increasing the power of the Diet and guaranteeing the people's freedom.

The Communists announced a campaign to raise 200,000 yen from the released political prisoners and relatives of others who died in jails. Socialists made no mention of Tennoism in their recently announced platform. Reliable sources say the party's left wingers advocate elimination of the emperor but that other elements insist upon retaining the Mikado.

The Nippon industrial setup was split wide open with the announcement by Finance Minister Viscount Keizo Shibusawa that representatives in the Zaibatsu have agreed to liquidate.

Hardly had the announcement become public before it became the object of bitter criticism. Tokyo's powerful newspaper Asahi almost immediately attacked the monopoly liquidation announcement, declaring the dissolution plans of the once all-powerful Mitsui, Sumitomo and Fuyo banks which they sought to evade responsibility for the war and to protect giant profits.

Meanwhile, Japan's education system came in for a radical change. MacArthur's headquarters in a directive to the cabinet ordered feudal militarism abolished from the school system and replaced with instruction in the ways of peace.

North Carolina Led South
Raleigh, Oct. 23.—(AP)—North Carolina led the entire south and ranked seventh in the nation for regular Navy enlistments during September, the Navy recruiting station here announced.

TRUMAN MAY CANCEL VISIT

President May Not Come To North Carolina

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The White House reported today that President Truman may be forced to cancel a scheduled trip to North Carolina and Georgia early next month.

Eben Ayers, assistant White House press secretary, told a news conference that a heavy schedule of appointments might require the President to remain in Washington.

His plans now call for brief visits Nov. 2 to Charlotte, Statesville and Raleigh in North Carolina; to Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 3 and to Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 4 for lunch with patients of the Warm Springs Foundation.

Ayers was asked about reports the trip might be cancelled in view of conferences on wage-price policy leading up to the labor-management conference starting Nov. 5.

Ayers said that he could not say for sure, but "you know how much the President is tied up just now."

ROYALL TO GET APPOINTMENT

Goldsboro Man To Be Under-Secretary Of War

Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—President Truman today nominated Brig. Gen. Kenneth C. Royall of Goldsboro, N. C., as undersecretary of war.

Royall was nominated to succeed Robert P. Patterson, elevated to secretary when Henry L. Stimson resigned. He long has practiced law at Goldsboro and Raleigh.

He served in the Field Artillery First Division during the first World War and re-entered the army after Pearl Harbor as a colonel. He was promoted to brigadier general in November, 1943.

President Roosevelt designated him to defend the Nazi saboteurs in their 1942 trial here. A graduate of North Carolina University and Harvard Law School, Royall served one term as a member of the North Carolina Senate. He also is a past president of the North Carolina Bar Association.

Announcement of his nomination was made shortly after the White House said that Richmond B. Keach was sworn in as an administrative assistant to the President.

Fire In Baltimore Business District

Baltimore, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Fire early today completely destroyed the sumptuous, three-story Charles Street bowling alley in a principal business district.

Fire department officials placed at $250,000 the damages to the bowling alley and adjacent structures. The flames, touched off by an explosion in the alley for a time threatened an adjacent theater. Police evacuated the patrons. The alley had closed several hours before the fire broke out.

Today In Congress

By Max Hall
WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—President Truman today made his first speech before the postwar Congress.

His subject was universal military training for American youngsters. It's such a hot subject politically that his proposals are expected to set off a long and grinding controversy.

The President came face to face with a Congress which likes him personally but which has shown no disposition to hurry in enacting his "must" proposals for the transition to peace.

Mr. Truman's last speech before Congress was made in June, while America was still deep in war. As the Senate and House gathered to hear the address and millions of citizens tuned in their radios at 12:30 p. m. EST, these events were stirring in Congress.

Senator Edwin Johnson (D-Colo.) came out against the administration atomic energy bill which he himself introduced. Navy chiefs talked some more against the merger of the war and navy departments. A Senate drive for still more tax cuts was shaping up.

Patrolmen Ordered Check Auto Lights

Raleigh, Oct. 23.—(AP)—All highway patrolmen were instructed today to devote two nights each week to the correction of improper lights on motor vehicles.

Major H. J. Hatcher suggested that each patrolman arrange with a filling station in his own area to remain open to give on-the-spot correction of defective lights.

Indictments, Hatcher said, "should be brought only for flagrant violations, or where operators refuse to make immediate corrections."

The WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
There are the makings of another dangerous upheaval in the Balkans. Freshly arrived Russian troops, with tanks and artillery, are "maneuvering" in southern Bulgaria near the Turkish border. Reliable estimates place the Red military force in Bulgaria at 200,000. The Bulgarian army is being reorganized under the tutelage of Russian training staffs, and has the appearance of being an auxiliary to the Soviet force.

The NATION TODAY

By NORMAN CARIGNAN
(Substituting for James Marlow)
Washington, Oct. 23.—(AP)—South American revolutions are real military operations and not comic-opera affairs. An ambassador from one of the South American countries says this. He should know. He organized and led a highly successful revolution a couple of years ago in his own country. He doesn't want to be identified because he thinks people might get the idea he is a "perpetual revolutionist," which he isn't. His black eyes really flash and he teeters excitedly on the edge of his chair when you ask him "Now how do you run a revolution?" "Ah," he says, "that's a real science. The best way is through congress. But first you have to build up an atmosphere for revolution by stimulating a popular reason for the uprising." "You do that by presenting outrageous bills in congress. The government has to attack them and then you attack the government for attacking them. That's how you corner the government." "The people get aroused and your atmosphere for revolution's really getting going." "Meanwhile, your partner in the military is quietly sounding out the officers in command to see if they will go along."

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

October 23, 1905

The way people around town are putting in coal stoves and grates looks like they have set out not to worry themselves nearly to death the coming winter trying to get wood and hunting for somebody to cut it. Davidson college is just now going through experience to determine whether the school shall be managed by the faculty or the students.
It might be well to attach divorce coupons to marriage licenses.

The pastor, Rev. Hartwell Campbell, opened the meeting. The group sang, "I Am Thine O Lord," and Mr. Campbell led in prayer. Mrs. Herbert Waldrop, accompanied by Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley, sang a solo, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," which gripped the hearts of her hearers. Rev. Hayes Clark, pastor of Pitt County Presbyterian churches, read from the 52nd chapter of Isaiah and spoke effectively on the subject, "Awake! Go Forth for Christ and the Cause of Temperance." He emphasized the fact that the individual or the organization can do nothing without Christ as the center of life. "Let those who bear the vessel of the Lord touch no unclean things."
Mrs. W. H. Causey thanked the ministers and then turned the meeting over to the temporary president, Mrs. E. L. Roebuck, of Washington. Mrs. Frederick P. Brooks was asked to act as secretary for the day.

The roll of the unions was called and reports of the unions represented were made. Mrs. Whitley, president of the Bethel Union, reported that a petition had been presented to the aldermen of the town with a view to preventing the sale of wine and beer on the Sabbath day. A like petition had been granted in Washington, reported Mrs. Roebuck. The new union in Greenville reported the use and securing of radio time for the furtherance of the temperance cause.
Mrs. Plemons spoke about her work as editor of White Ribbon. She reminded her hearers that W. C. T. U. has two main objectives—total abstinence and the abolition of the liquor traffic.
Mrs. Causey stressed the use of the service report blanks in making accurate reports and emphasized the fact that the W. C. T. U. must make public sentiment against the sale and use of alcoholic beverages. She reminded her audience of the non-day prayer for world-wide temperance for the year would deal with the home and its influence.

Mrs. L. E. Brown, state president in the noon-time prayer and after the group sang "Rescue the Perishing," she spoke briefly of the work of the organization and the great responsibility of every woman who is a home maker or a teacher and said that those of the northeastern and southeastern districts have added responsibility because of the large number of legalized sale places in these counties. She emphasized Rev. Hayes Clark's remarks and urged each one to make a personal effort to awake to the facts and needs and to go forth in the strength of Christ to do something about it. She announced the national W. C. T. U. convention to be held in Buffalo, New York, in September, 1946, to be followed immediately by the world convention in Toronto.

The afternoon session was given to business, discussion of the various phases of the work and a brief talk by Mrs. Brown.
The nominating committee submitted the following report:

President, Mrs. E. L. Roebuck Washington; vice president, Mrs. S. M. Beotcher, Elizabeth City; secretary, Mrs. W. T. C. Briggs, Greenville; Loyal Temperance Legion, Mrs. F. C. Martin, Bethel; Youth Temperance Council, Mrs. Emily Hoffman, Washington.

The time and place of the 1946 meeting is to be announced later. Everything finished, all those present joined hands and sang together "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and were dismissed by prayer by Mrs. Causey.

Greenville visitors—The Bethel W. C. T. U. was represented at the meeting Friday by Mrs. R. Le. Whitely, president; Mrs. J. Floyd Williams, vice president; Mrs. G. R. Whitehurst, treasurer; Mrs. W. R. Bullock, state director of flowers mission and relief and Mrs. W. J. Manning.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE WORLD DOES GET BETTER

Sometimes we wonder whether or not the world is getting any better. In fact we have grave doubts at times whether the human race is one whit better than it was centuries ago.

And yet among the English-speaking people, moral conditions, discouraging though they may be, are certainly better than they were several centuries ago. In the middle of the 18th century, drunkenness infected the mass of the population of England with the violence of an epidemic. Every sixth house in London was a gin palace. The customary sign of these places was "Here you may get drunk for a penny, dead drunk for twopence—straw provided." In those days the reputation of no man suffered in the least from habitual drunkenness. Dr. Samuel Johnson, the great intellectual of his time, said to his friend Boswell, "I remember, sir, when every decent person in Lechfield got drunk every night and nobody thought the worse of them." It was the mark of a gentleman to get drunk, and the highest distinction of all was to get "as drunk as a lord." A man had really achieved social distinction when he had done that.

Two humble men, John Wesley and George Whitfield, changed these conditions and established new moral standards in England over a period of about 60 years. When Wesley died at a great age, he could contemplate with satisfaction a nation which changed its moral standards through his influence and that of his colleagues.

Today In Congress . . .

1. Some cuts in the so-called "luxury taxes"—on liquor, furs, jewelry, etc.—The House voted to cut these next July 1 but the Senate committee didn't.

2. A $600 income tax exemption for each taxpayer and each of his dependents, instead of $500. Diplomacy. Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) has declared he favors joint action of the American republics to stamp out Fascism or Communism. He doesn't want the U. S. to act alone in such matters as Argentina's failure to keep its neutrality commitments.

Yesterday the Senate finally approved the appointment of Spruille Braden as assistant secretary of state. The vote unanimous.

The Nation Today . . .

Special squads of troops had been assigned to capture the president. His cabinet, top government officials, the post and telegraph office, the electric plant works, the water system, both stations—in fact everything that pertains to the country—were being kept under constant guard.

Every man, woman and child remained loyal to the government. We saw a number over there that dropped their heads and we had tried to cheer them up and now the government departed.

This weakens the morale and therefore fighting was only sporadic. The revolution lasted at 4 a. m. and by 10 a. m. it was over.

The World Today . . .

Republics of Georgia and Armenia. The three districts were ceded to Turkey by Russia in 1921 as a reward for their help in the Russian revolution. They now have a strategic value which makes them valuable to Russia.

The Turkish press has been blunt in declaring that Ankara will refuse to give up these districts. The Turks are tough and probably mean what they say. Whether they could back up what they say or would try to, is quite another question.

In any event, the indications are that Russia is going to demand an early settlement of both these questions. Bulgaria of course will stand solidly with Russia. The Sofia provisional government—which is still unrecognized by the United States and Britain, who maintain that it doesn't represent the whole country—is heavily communist.

A spokesman for the company described as an "Alice in Wonderland" theory Reuther's statement that General Motors could meet the union's wage demands without increasing the earnings of the corporation by $100,000,000.

Elsewhere on the labor front, one strike was settled and steps were taken to end the walkout of 15,800 CIO glass workers in plants in 10 cities.

The 18-day-old strike of 2,700 Pacific Greyhound bus drivers and station employees ended last night and buses immediately resumed operations. The strike, which started over a wage dispute, tied up service in seven western states. Terms were not immediately announced.

A federal conciliator arranged a meeting with CIO union officials to attempt ending the strike of glassworkers which has closed a major part of the country's glass industry. The walkout in plants of the Libbey-Owens-Ford and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass companies followed a breakdown of company-union contract negotiations.

The third walkout in the last four months at the Crosley Corporation's manufacturing division in Cincinnati started last night as 1,200 AFL electrical workers quit work. A union official said the strike was a protest against the company's refusal to consider a general wage increase policy.

In Hollywood, motion picture studios again appealed to the courts in efforts to halt mass picketing by striking movie workers. Pickets yesterday were at two new studios, RKO and Paramount, stopping almost all production at the former studio. Some 800 pickets formed lines at Warner Brothers and police were called as several fights broke out.

Memorial Baptist Men To Have Supper

Memorial Baptist Church will give a turkey dinner to all of the men of the church and congregation Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Rotary building. The dinner is sponsored by the Building Fund Committee of the church. Claude D. Ward is chairman.

The purpose of the dinner is to further plans for the erection of the proposed educational building. Talks will be made by the pastor, deacons, and other officers of the church and Sunday School, and by any others who may care to speak.

It is hoped that all men of the church will attend and share in the progress of the church. Since the Rev. Richard E. Hardaway became pastor of the church the congregation is taking new interest, the membership has increased, and more active interest is being taken in the future welfare of the church. The Sunday School and various present quarters. The need for enlarged quarters is imperative and present indications are that very shortly the new educational building will provide ample room for the steadily increasing activities and growth of the church.

To Attend Conference
Dr. A. D. Frank, chairman of the Department of History and Social Science at the college, will go to Raleigh tomorrow to attend a joint meeting of several committees of the North Carolina College Conference. The discussions among members of the Standards, the Admission and the Post-War Educational Planning committees will center around the education of veterans. Dr. Frank is a member of the Standards Committee.

Hear Paul Robeson's Recording
A group of students and teachers met last night in the English laboratory of the Austin building to listen to a recording of Paul Robeson's production of Shakespeare's "Othello." Dr. Lucile Turner, chairman of the English Department, played the records and made comments.

Receives Discharge
Kelly Field, Texas—M-Sgt. Travis H. Flanagan of 403 Eastern St. in Greenville, received his discharge from the Army Air Forces and has returned to civilian life.

M-Sgt. Flanagan last served at the huge AAF supply and maintenance installation of the San Antonio Air Technical Service command, Kelly Field, Texas.

During his army career he served 14 1/2 months in England.

He wears the following decorations: European, African and Middle East theater ribbon with three battle stars and the good conduct ribbon.

Prior to entering the army he was a student at East Carolina Teachers' College.

Discharged
S-Sgt. V. T. Corey son of Vance T. Corey of Winterville, has been discharged from U. S. Army Air Corp after serving four years in the States and European theater of war.

Speaks at College Assembly
Richard Baker, teacher and traveler recently returned from Chungking, China, was this morning's speaker on the weekly assembly program at the college. He appeared under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and spoke in the interest of the World Student fund.

Mr. Baker, who is traveling this week through North Carolina, spent the past two years at Chungking teaching journalism to refugee students. Previously he had traveled extensively in Europe for the Methodist board. An M. A. from Columbia in journalism and a B. D. from Union Theological Seminary, he is, before his varied experiences, an interesting speaker.

During his stay in Greenville he met with the Council of the Wesley Foundation and the Cabinet of the college Y. W. C. A. On Monday evening he was dinner guest in the college dining room and a visitor at the Methodist Student Center on Holly street.

Dorothy Marie Bennett of Edwinton introduced Mr. Baker at assembly and Betty Cole of Forest City led the devotional exercises.

Private First Class Norman J. Paramore (son of Mrs. Gertrude Paramore of Greenville; and Private First Class John E. Overbee (husband of Mrs. Leona J. Overbee) route 1, of Smithfield were the Carolinian members of the Corregidor.

One of the division's most famous units, the two infantrymen's company has been among leading elements in nearly 300 days of combat. Its members have been awarded the presidential citation for valorous performance in the historic recapture of Corregidor. Other battle tests include New Guinea, Bataan, Leyte, Bataan and Mindanao.

The Mindanao campaign was the first battle experience for the Carolinians.

Visiting Minister Rotary Speaker

By WYATT BROWN

The problem of peace narrows down to a problem of people," declared Rev. N. N. Fleming of Mebane, N. C., last night in a brief address to the Greenville Rotarians at their weekly dinner meeting in their club building. "We have done a great deal with machinery but too little with man. If we get the man right, we can get the world right. Building men is the grandest job in the world."

Then Reverend Mr. Fleming gave four things that go into the building of man: contentment, constancy, cooperation and Christian character. In speaking of contentment he said he had observed that people seem always dissatisfied. He suggested that one should not be satisfied with too little but should learn contentment for it would go a long way toward building character.

In commenting on the element of constancy in building man Mr. Fleming explained that by constancy he meant dependability. "The people we like today are the ones we can depend on absolutely," he went on.

He emphasized the role of cooperation, for people need to know how to work together.

"Our character cannot be what they should unless they are Christian. You cannot have contentment, constancy and cooperation without a little Christian religion. If we want to develop character, we must use the book—the Bible—which shows one how. We just do not read the Bible enough," he declared in concluding the address.

At the conclusion of his remarks Reverend Fleming tested the Rotarians with a little Bible quiz.

Reverend Mr. Fleming was introduced by Rotarian John G. Fleming, chairman of the program committee who is the preacher's brother. Two Rotarians who have been in the service during which time they enjoyed the status of honorary members returned last night to regular membership—Dr. James Hawes and Hugh Winslow. Guests of the club were Marion Blackwell of Orangeburg, S. C., Henry Rasher of Harris-

Ed Rawl Speaker Farmville Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH

Addressing the Farmville Kiwanis Club at its weekly supper meeting in Farmville last night, Ed E. Rawl, vice-president of the Greenville club, said "The power of Kiwanis to share in the future was never greater than now, and the responsibility is on you as individuals."

Rewriting the history of the Farmville club, organized last February, Rawl pointed out that the club has more than held its own and is accomplishing fine things in carrying out the objectives of Kiwanis International. Referring to Kiwanis' underprivileged child objectives, the Greenville Kiwanian said, "You make good men and women out of boys and girls, and they are the ones to take up where you and I leave off."

Dr. Rod Williams, president, and Charley Hotchkiss, vice-president of the Farmville club paid fine tribute to Ed Rawl for his good work in sponsoring the organizing of the Farmville club and keeping his shoulder to the wheel to help the club succeed.

Dick Harris had charge of the program. Elbert Holmes led the singing of Kiwanis songs, with Mrs. Elspeth Joyner as accompanist. A country ham supper with all of the "trimmings" was served.

A feature of the meeting was the playing of several selections on the piano by Hal Moore, of Ayden, former Oak Ridge band leader and Navy pilot, who was recently discharged from the Navy. The talented musician made a hit with the Kiwanians. He is a member of the sales staff of the Carolina Sales Corporation, Greenville.

Cardinal Discharged

Memphis, Oct. 23—(AP)—Jimmy Brown, formerly second baseman and captain of the St. Louis Cardinals, will leave today for Seymour Field, N. C. to receive his Army discharge. He has been stationed at the Fourth Ferrying Group here as a physical training instructor since he entered the service in July, 1943.

Brown, 32, said he would report to the Cards next spring.

Some military specialty.

The President said flatly that universal military training "is not a compulsory service in the Army or Navy in time of peace or war."

Trainees under this proposed legislation, he said, "would not be enrolled in any of the armed services. They would be civilians in training. They would be no closer to membership in the armed forces than if they had no training. Special rules and regulations would have to be adopted for their organization, discipline and welfare."

The year of training, he said, "could well be used to raise the physical standards of the nation's manpower, to lower its illiteracy rate, and to develop in our young men the ideals of responsible American citizenship."

Medical examinations of the trainees, he said, would "do much" toward removing some of the minor disabilities which caused the rejection of many men for military service during the war.

His program would provide that after a few months' training, young men who are physically unqualified for military service would receive training "in certain skills so that if war came, they could take their places in shipyards, munitions factories and similar industrial plants."

Universal Training . . .

After that, he would be placed in a "secondary reserve status."

"I urge that the Congress pass this legislation promptly—while the danger is still fresh in our minds—while we still remember how close we came to destruction four years ago—while we can vividly recall the horrors of invasion which our Allies suffered—and while we can still see all the ravages and ruin of war," the President declared.

"Let us not by a short-sighted neglect of our national security betray those who come after us."

"It is our solemn duty in this hour of victory to make sure that in the years to come no possible aggressor or group of aggressors can endanger the national security of the United States of America."

The President said that even the atomic bomb would have been useless "unless we had developed a strong Army, Navy and Air Force with which to beat off the attacks of our foe, and then fight our way to points within striking distance of the heart of the enemy."

The President said that any system intended to guarantee a national defense would cause some inconvenience, and perhaps even some hardship, "but we must balance that against the danger which we face unless we are realistic and hard-headed enough to be prepared."

He added that the country's determination to remain powerful depends on lack of faith in the United Nations organization on the contrary, he said, it shows intention "to back our obligations and commitments under the United Nations charter."

The alternative to a small regular Army, Navy and Air Force supported by well trained citizens, he said is a "large standing Army, Navy and Air Force."

Mr. Truman emphasized that the training he recommended would not be "mere drilling."

"It will be on the use of all the instruments and weapons of modern warfare," he asserted. "The training will offer every qualified young man a chance to perfect himself for the service of his country in

More Farms.

Washington, Oct. 23—(AP)—North Carolina has 12,902 more farms and 124,289 more acres of farmland than in 1940, the Bureau of Census reports.

Bpt. the bureau explained, this means an increase of only 4.6 per cent in farms and less than one per cent in acreage.

1941—the day of the Pearl Harbor attack—if it had had a supply of atomic bombs in New Mexico or Tennessee.

Assume also that the U. S. and Japan had had a supply of bombs on that date, the President said and asked:

"Which would have survived?"

"Until we are sure that our peace machinery is functioning adequately, we must relentlessly preserve the superiority on land and sea and in the air," Mr. Truman said, x x x "Research new materials, and new weapons will never, by themselves, be sufficient to withstand a powerful enemy. We must have men already trained to use these weapons."

The President asked what the U. S. could have done on December 7,

Songs for a Better World

We were sitting around the embers of Ed Crumpit's barbecue last Saturday night, finishing our beer and hot dogs while Ed strummed the guitar . . . picking out old, friendly songs.

Soon everyone was singing. The harmony wasn't too good . . . but the spirit was—a spirit of friendship and good humor.

And it made me think how music—music of the people—overcomes barriers of prejudice and intolerance. A Yankee folksong or an English carol or a Southern melody—they all speak a common language of the heart . . . bind folks together . . . help us forget our grudges.

From where I sit, music can help to make the whole world kin. Maybe we ought to have a lot more of it . . . informal sings around the fire, and in the home. And it's sure true that a mellow glass of beer fits into the picture. It just naturally goes with that kind of music.
