Quisling Pays With Life For Treachery

Norwegian Who Turned His Country Over To Nazis Was Executed Today By Firing Squad; Dealt With Despised Enemy For Five Long Years

By NED NORDNESS
Oslo, Oct. 24 (AP)—Vidkun Quisling, Norway's arch traitor, was executed today, paying the final price for dealing with an enemy his king and countrymen defied throughout the bitter years of the war.

The greatest secrecy surrounded the execution, a foreign affairs official spokesman said.

Quisling was awakened in his cell at about 1 a. m. Tuesday, EST, and rushed quickly before the firing squad of ten Norwegian military police. The only witnesses were an unidentified member of the state prosecution, a clergyman and the officer who gave the order to fire.

The youths who formed the firing squad had been forced to flee the country during Quisling's puppet regime. Members of the squad had been asked for the past week for their task.

Quisling stumbled to his death through a murky, drizzling rain in the dismal execution square of the ancient Akershus Fortress. To the very end he maintained that he was a traitor. He had sent a letter protesting his intention to King Haakon VII.

The government had planned to announce the execution for three or four days to avoid publicity and public emotion. However, one Oslo morning newspaper learned of Quisling's death in time to catch its first edition with a brief sentence that he was executed. The story brought forth a flood of letters to the newspaper.

The body presumably will be turned over to relatives for burial in Quisling's native province of Telemark. A foreign affairs spokesman intimated that his brain would be removed for study.

Amund Schjodt, state prosecutor, who presented the case against the traitor, said Quisling's death was a just punishment.

In the slightly more than five years he ruled Norway as Adolf Hitler's puppet, Quisling became a symbol of traitor.

He was virtually unknown outside his own country before he emerged in April, 1940, as a collaborator with the German invaders of his homeland. Behind him was a record of political failure and discontent with his profession, the army. Even after the Nazis lifted him to power, he could rally no confidence among his people.

Strikes and sabotage marked his early rule and his regime survived only by Nazi force of arms.

Born of peasant stock in the southern province of Telemark July 18, 1887, Quisling became a brilliant student and entered the army in which he won speedy advancement.

RECOGNITION BEING SOUGHT

New Venezuela Regime Wants International Sanction

Caracas, Oct. 24 (AP)—The ultra-conservative newspaper La Esfera appealed for immediate international recognition of the de facto government of Venezuela as the nation gradually returned to normal today after the revolution which ousted President Isaias Medina Y. Angarita.

La Esfera was a bitter opponent of the Medina regime, although it supported his predecessor, Gen. Eleazar Lopez Contreras in the very abruptly ended presidential campaign. At last reports, both Medina and Lopez Contreras were in the custody of the revolutionary government, which had promised swift trials on charges of graft.

There were only scattered instances of the looting and shooting which heralded the revolution.

Shoe Retailers Ready For Trade

New York, Oct. 24 (AP)—Shoe retailers are ready for the lifting of shoe rationing whatever day it comes. L. E. Langston, executive vice president of the National Shoe Retailers Association, said today.

Commenting on Washington reports that rationing may end Oct. 28 or Nov. 1, Langston added: "Retailers are in as good shape as they ever will be for its termination."

CEILINGS ON HOMES ASKED

Bowles Says Restrictions Necessary To Protect Builders

By J. W. DAVIS
Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Reconversion Boss John W. Snyder said today the administration would endorse a program of price ceilings on houses only if it were clear that this would not stifle construction.

Production is the key to the solution of the inflationary threat, he told a special Senate subcommittee on complaints from small business.

Snyder, under questioning by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), declined to say whether house price ceilings would stop production, encourage it or make no difference.

"I would have to study the bill," Snyder said. "If a bill could be drawn that would not stifle construction, it might be very helpful against inflation."

Wherry added: "You feel that if legislation could be worked out that is feasible, the administration would favor it?"

"They'd endorse that program," Snyder replied.

Snyder was followed by Price Administrator Chester Bowles, who argued strongly for price ceilings on houses to prevent inflation.

Bowles said "pressures on the prices of building materials and real estate are greater than in any other fields."

He also stressed that the nation "has a moral responsibility to see that veterans' families have a chance to get settled as quickly as possible in decent homes and at prices they can afford to pay."

The price administrator urged Congress to enact legislation to stop this onrush of inflation of home prices in its tracks at the earliest possible moment.

Snyder agreed the situation is serious, saying: "If the construction industry can speedily prepare itself for the big job of building ahead, it also will do much to counteract the heavy inflationary pressure which is developing in this field."

"The danger is especially serious in residences and in building materials," he gave this as the solution.

"Production is the answer to inflation. We must turn out the goods to satisfy the demand, and then the price pressure will relax."

The National Association of Real Estate Boards, however, contends that ceilings would discourage building.

More Violence In East Indies

Batavia, Java, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Netherlands news agency Aneta said today that 30 Indonesians were killed late yesterday when they attempted to surround a Dutch barracks on the outskirts of Batavia. One Dutch soldier was injured.

The violence was reported soon after the return to Batavia of Soekarno, self-styled "president of the Indonesian Republic." Aneta said Mr. Soekarno, a political advisor to Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten, had met informally with Soekarno, his "vice president," Mohammed Hatta, and 15 other leaders of the Soekarno independence movement.

The Indonesian "foreign minister," Soekardjo, said H. J. Van Mook, acting governor of the Netherlands East Indies, sent three mediators to his residence to arrange a meeting with the Soekarno cabinet.

Soekarno asserted he had toured western Java for 19 days in a successful effort to quell violence. Aneta reported.

Truman Awaiting Reply From Russia

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes indicated today that President Truman is still awaiting a reply from Marshal Stalin on his proposals for smoothing difficulties between this country and Russia.

At the same time, Byrnes expressed the opinion that any Russian appeal for a loan should be considered on the same basis as a similar request from any other country. He characterized as completely untrue a report that Russian financial proposals had been ordered pigeon-holed pending an improvement in relations.

Byrnes told a news conference he understood that some time ago Leo Crowley, then foreign economic chief, had discussed with Soviet representatives a credit of $1,000,000. He said that was separate from talk he had heard of a possible much larger credit.

Reconversion Board In Debating Session Today

First Half Of Million Auto Workers Take Strike Vote As Board Meets In Special Session

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—The government moved toward a decision on national wage-and-price policy today, spurred by the start of strike-voting among 500,000 auto workers.

President Truman arranged to confer at 3 p. m. with members of the Reconversion Advisory Board, whose membership takes in topflight spokesmen for management and organized labor.

The board was called into special session at the White House this morning to debate a revision of the reconversion wage-price program.

Reconversion Director John W. Snyder has supplied the board with figures on the peacetime drop in worker income and its relations to the cost of living.

The White House reported today that Dr. George W. Taylor, former chairman of the War Labor Board, has accepted an invitation to serve as secretary of the management-labor conference starting Nov. 5.

Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy of the North Carolina State Supreme Court agreed yesterday to accept the President's invitation to serve as presiding officer.

The agenda for the conference is known to be ready and probably will be announced soon.

It apparently will be issued simultaneously with a statement by President Truman. He proposed the conference as a means of finding voluntary machinery for peaceful settlement of labor disputes.

Pressure for an early statement from the administration on wages and prices grew with these developments.

1. Upwards of 300,000 CIO United Automobile Workers in 96 General Motors Corporation plants began marking ballots in a federally conducted poll on which to back their demand for 30 per cent higher wage rates with a strike.

Strike votes involving additional thousands of workers are scheduled for 20 Chrysler Corporation plants tomorrow and 51 Ford plants on November 7.

2. The CIO Oil Workers International Union was scheduled to meet with Assistant Secretary of the Navy H. Struve Hensel. He is striving to bring about resumption of negotiations between the union and operators of oil refineries seized by the government in a recent 15-state strike.

The companies indicated willingness to bargain.

3. The government had notified along with the CIO United Steel Workers of America—that the U. S. Steel Corporation believes itself incapable of granting a wage increase unless it is allowed to increase its prices.

The corporation told the union yesterday that existing ceilings and the present stabilization policy "do not enable us to grant a wage increase at this time." The union has asked $2 a day more.

President Truman is not expected to issue his promised statement on government wage and price policy until the reconversion advisory board has made its opinion known.

The panel was created to advise the reconversion director on national policy. It includes representatives of labor, management, agriculture and the public.

Japanese Prepared To Ask Outside Aid

Harassed Japanese Government Wrestling With Problem Of Food

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, Oct. 24 (AP)—Directors of Japan's biggest multi-million dollar family monopoly, prodded by the stigma of being linked with the war effort, wrestled today with reorganization—while the harassed government prepared to beg for outside aid to meet a food crisis.

The problem before the directors of Mitsui, a company dating back to 1673, was what to do with holdings which are frowned on under the present setup by General MacArthur.

The problem before Welfare Minister Hitoshi Ashida was how to feed the people through crucial months of November and December until transportation deficiencies are overcome to permit adequate distribution of the currently harvested rice crop. Ashida said his government plans to negotiate with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

While the Nipponese grappled with these paradoxical issues of rags and riches, American occupation interest was focused on the visit of a War Department official from Washington. Little was being said about the conferences of John J. McCloy, assistant secretary of war, although these already have included a meeting with MacArthur.

McCloy may have brought word on the oft-rumored possibility of MacArthur making his first visit to the United States since before the war. Or he may have discussed the forthcoming participation of Russian, British, Australian and Chinese troops in the occupation.

Mitsui directors, it was learned authoritatively, are discussing such drastic moves as the retirement of 108 Mitsui families and the liquidation of their huge stock holdings. No definite decision has been yet reached.

The directors of Mitsui are discussing these possibilities:

1. Liquidation of the Mitsui holding company, capitalized at 500,000,000 yen ($33,333,333), of which the Mitsui families hold 63 per cent of the stock. Mitsui holding also has stock ranging from 37 to 100 per cent in 10 direct and 12 semi-direct affiliates with a total capitalization of 1,180,325,000 yen (more than $78,000,000) and varying interests in 150 other companies.

2. Retirement of Baron Takakura Mitsui, holding director of Mitsui (Continued on page eight)

Head Of Marines Opposes Merger

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Pointing to the heroic record of Marine units in the recent war, General A. A. Vandegrift said today the spirit they displayed would be lost under proposed merger of the armed forces.

The four-star general who commands the Leathernecks, joined the Secretary of the Navy and Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King in opposing unification of land, sea and air forces into one large department.

"I ask the proponents of this measure to remember that fifty dollars a month was not the consideration that led men to die in storming Iwo Jima, or to lie forever in some nameless sea," General Vandegrift told the Senate Military Affairs Committee.

The general lauded the present two-department Army and Navy system. He said continuation of the wartime joint chiefs of staff and other coordinating agencies would accomplish all that merger proponents could claim for their legislative plans.

STUDY PLANS FOR HIGHWAY

Aldermen To Hold Special Meeting Thursday Night

By CHESTER WALSH
The Board of Aldermen will hold a special meeting at the City Hall Thursday night at 8 o'clock to consider for approval or rejection the proposal of the State Highway Commission to build a highway here to eliminate the present bottleneck of through traffic. Mayor Jack Boyd will preside. Citizens are invited to attend this meeting to hear and participate in the discussions.

During a special meeting Monday afternoon the city officials rode over the two proposed rights of way to study the feasibility of the project.

The plan as proposed provides for acquiring rights of way from the Falkland highway near the radio station in the direction of Third Street School and across the Greenville Utilities Commission property at the electric plant with overhead bridge, thence across Pitt Street paralleling the river below First Street by the old boat landing, and a little south of Jack Teel's oyster house on the river, then across the ravine and through the Johnston property below Chatham Circle, then through the undeveloped property to Elm Street.

Expected Favorable Vote Does Not Necessarily Mean That Walkout Will Follow, Union Spokesman Says; Other Labor Disturbances Reported

By The Associated Press
The first of three strike votes involving some half-million workers in the automobile industry's "Big Three" was held today as employees of General Motors Corporation bailed out in a federally-conducted election costing an estimated $250,000.

A vote favoring a work stoppage to enforce the CIO United Automobile Workers demand for a 30 per cent wage rate increase appeared certain, even to corporation officials. But a union spokesman asserted that a strike would not necessarily follow the election.

He predicted a light turnout of GM's 300,000 employees, but sufficient to make a strike legal. Results will be announced by the National Labor Relations Board, probably late tomorrow. Union spokesmen predicted 90 per cent of the voters would approve a strike.

The ballot held the center of attention along the nation's labor front, and will be followed by a vote tomorrow among Chrysler Corp. employees, and among Ford Motor Co. workers of Nov. 7. Across the country, labor disputes kept about 225,000 men and women away from work, a slight drop in the last 24 hours.

As workers voted, officials of General Motors and the union resumed their wage conference, but there were no indications of a settlement. Walter P. Reuther, UAW-CIO vice president, said at yesterday's sessions GM officials maintained an "attitude of complete intransigence."

The strike of motion picture workers in Hollywood, which has been marked by increased violence in recent weeks, was placed before the AFL Executive Council in Cincinnati today for consideration. Eric Johnston, chief of the motion picture producers' representatives and Donald Nelson, independent producers' representative, were to appear before the council as spokesmen for the industry.

Meanwhile in Hollywood, yesterday's renewal of fighting between non-strikers and pickets resulted in injury to some 50 persons and the arrest of 13 persons. Studios have appealed to the courts to halt the mass picketing, which has resulted in curtailment of production at some studios.

Service in Chicago's elevated lines was scheduled to be halted for two hours today as some 4,300 AFL operating employees planned a work stoppage between 1 and 3 p. m. in protest over a dispute relating to retroactive pay. Trains were not to leave their terminals after 1 p. m., but union spokesmen said passengers will not be stranded during a trip, all trains completing their runs.

Labor disputes were reported by two airlines. In Miami, Fla., nearly 2,000 Pan American Airways maintenance employees were idle after a sit-down strike in protest against (Continued on Page Eight)

Irregularity To Be Investigated Soon

Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—Investigation of alleged irregularities in the handling of naval food supplies at Pearl Harbor was ordered today by the Senate Mead Committee.

Chairman Mead (D-NY) said hearings will begin tomorrow with Secretary of the Navy Forrestal and high naval officials as witnesses.

"It is charged," Mead said in a statement, "that a commanding officer of a sub-depot of the naval ammunition depot, Commander Laurence Blodgett, had received 1,441 pounds of meat and 520 pounds of butter from naval stores and had appropriated them to his personal use."

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Substituting for James Marlow
Washington, Oct. 24 (AP)—A new concept in American defense is growing up. It is based on the belief that the geographical reasons for isolationism as a national policy have disappeared.

The new defense lines of the United States are on the Mississippi or at Pittsburgh—or Chicago—or St. Louis—if and when there is another war. President Truman is authority for that.

These are his words: "In any future war, the heart of the United States would be the enemy's first target. Our geographical security is now gone—gone with the advent of the robot bomb, the rocket, aircraft carriers and modern airborne armies."

Fit this together with two pieces of information recently given Congress:

A scientist who worked on the atom bomb said that in a single night's attack on this country 40,000,000 persons might be killed.

General George C. Marshall said that victory over Hitler was possible because the British and Russian people refused to admit defeat.

But what Mr. Truman now tells the American people is that if they are ever attacked they will not have time to recover. They must, in his opinion, be ready to fight on the instant, or else—

Some of the scientists who have

When that conference was held the Atlantic and Pacific oceans had been narrowed by long range bombers and rockets carrying ordinary explosives. It was possible to imagine an assault from foreign shores—but not one whose first impact would be catastrophic.

The advent of the atomic bomb, coupled with what has been disclosed about ultra long-range rockets, has changed all that.

By President Truman's own words it puts the heart of America into the front lines of the future—and lays it open to devastation on the push of a button thousands of miles away.

Christian Science Service.
"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, October 21.

The Golden Text was from Mark 10:45. "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem. The Lord hath bare his holy arm in the eyes of all nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God." (Isaiah 52:9, 10).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The atonement of Christ reconciles man to God, not God to man; for the divine principle of Christ is God, and how can God propitiate Himself? Christ is truth, which reaches no higher than itself. The fountain can rise no higher than its source. Christ, truth, could condole no nature above his own; heaved from the eternal love. It was therefore Christ's purpose to reconcile man to God, not God to man. Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a true sense of love, the divine principle of Jesus' teaching, and this true sense of love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of spirit—the law of divine love." The council adopted the national plan of work, and expects to find its workings most useful. Councils all over the United States have worked on this plan, and now the compiled plan has come to us for ready use. This is a marvelous accomplishment for the national organization, and we are back in this wholeheartedly. A training course for leaders will be announced soon, as many have requested this in the early fall months.

With this the meeting adjourned until the next third Tuesday in November.

Ballerina To Appear at College

When Marina Svetlova was six years old, she was confronted with a choice between the careers of a ballerina and a ballerina. The Metropolitan Opera's premier danseuse, who appears at the college on Saturday evening, October 27, at 8 o'clock in the Wright auditorium, is the daughter of a famous Russian ace of World War I, who settled in Paris and founded a flying school there. He was her father, she said. He was a flyer. However, Marina, who had been taking dancing lessons since she was nine, preferred the world of the dance. She still flies a plane as a hobby.

Alexis Dolinoff, her partner, is now leading male dancer of the Metropolitan and known for his four appearances the world over.

Women IN THE CHURCH
by Mary Fowler

"Our conscience demands that we be swift in mercy to those who bore the brunt of the war when we were unprepared," Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, president of "Food For Freedom," Washington, D. C., and head of a delegation of forty-seven national bodies recently calling upon President Truman at the White House. "It is late. But it is not too late. I am convinced that millions of Americans want to send the necessary food. Every poll of public opinion has shown that. We can do so and still remain the best fed nation on earth. Most Americans understand that only if people are freed from the fear of hunger will they reject the political extremes that lead to dictatorship, and work together for a lasting peace." Among the groups asking the government to send food to Europe at once are the United Council of Church Women, the National Council of Catholic Men, and the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ.

Since USO units plan to close down their activities in congested housing areas within a few months, and since recent surveys show that only about one in four families in these mushroom housing and trailer settlements near war industries (which themselves will be reconverted) are planning to leave and go "back home," there is great need for the churches to expand their religious and social ministries to these peoples. This is the opinion of Miss Edith E. Lowry, secretary of the Home Missions Council of North America. She urges that local councils of churches, of ministers, and of church women try to secure closing USO buildings and facilities for social and religious activities; and organize local women to continue child care centers.

To American churchwomen and housewives, Dr. Leslie B. Moss, of the Church Committee on Overseas Relief and Reconstruction, gives warning that Americans may have to continue rationing, as the Canadians are doing, to help meet the calls for food and other necessities coming from every corner of Europe to church bodies and to UNRRA. "Millions of people who are returning home in Europe," says Dr. Moss, "together with refugees and displaced persons, hungry and without shelter, are waiting. To let them forage for themselves is a death sentence." Dr. Moss has named Mrs. Helen Perry Curtis, of New York, to organize church women for the collection of relief supplies.

NO RATIONING OF SHOES SEEN

Officials Consider Terminating Shoe Rationing Soon

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH—Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Tentative plans call for an end of shoe rationing either October 28 or November 1, it was learned today. Government officials also have considered the possibility of terminating the program earlier if these plans became generally known.

These are other developments and prospects on the rationing front.

1. OPA has decided to cut butter ration values from 12 points a pound to eight. It will announce this tomorrow.

2. Passenger tire rationing may end late in December.

3. Truck tires are slated to come off the list by late November.

Choice of a date for ending shoe rationing is expected to be made today or tomorrow by OPA and War Production Board officials.

October 28—next Sunday—is advocated by those who feel that termination of the program over the weekend would give dealers a good chance to get ready for unrationed buying.

Those who favor November 1 believe it would be a good idea to wind up the program at the start of a calendar month.

In either case, present plans call for no announcement until the eve of the effective date.

Farmer, Woman In Suicide Pact

John H. Harris, 45-year-old farmer, and Miss Vienna Tipp, 20, who lived at his home, carried out a suicide pact Saturday night, when he shot and killed the young woman, then removed a shoe and pulled the trigger of a shotgun with his toe. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said today. An inquest will be held at the City Hall Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The couple had been missing since Saturday night. Their bodies were found this morning on a lonely woods path on E. S. Hardy's farm near Barber, Georgia. The bodies were in a bad state of decomposition when found. The coroner reported that neighbors had quoted Harris as several times threatening to end his life. Today, no motive for the suicide had been ascribed.

Secret Report Is Coming to Senate

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—President Truman has promised to give senators a secret report by four admirals and generals on whether to merge the armed services, it was disclosed today.

"He assured me we would get it just as soon as they can prepare copies," Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), acting chairman of the Senate Military Committee, told a reporter.

"I told the President that the press was anxious to see it and he said it would be in such shape that it could be released to newspapermen," Johnson added.

The committee called Gen. A. A. Vandegrift, Marine commandant, as a witness in today's continuation of hearings on the merger proposal. The secret study, made under auspices of the joint chiefs of staff in 1944, is reported to favor the service consolidation, 3 to 1.

FIRM ACTION NOT LIKELY

U. S. Not To Intervene in Argentina's Affairs

By GRAHAM HOVEY

Washington, Oct. 24.—(AP)—United States action against Juan Peron's Argentine dictatorship will continue to consist mostly of protests and "pin pricks," a survey of the situation made plain today.

Government officials concede gloomily that the Buenos Aires "strong man" apparently has come back stronger than ever, following his recent ouster as vice president.

But after studying courses of action which might be open to the U. S. and the 19 other American republics, these officials conclude that only the Argentine people can rid themselves of Peron's regime.

No desire to appease Peron figures in this conclusion.

Top U. S. officials concerned with the Argentine situation this way: Probably only two effective ways of action against the Peron regime exist—armed intervention, which is diplomatically unthinkable, and application of an economic embargo, which is unfeasible.

An economic embargo of Argentina is out because Europe—particularly Britain—is getting sorely needed meat, wheat, corn and linseed products from that country.

To persuade those beneficiary nations to help embargo Argentina, the U. S. undoubtedly would have to promise to make up the food deficits out of its own stocks. Officials admit the American public might balk at resumption of wartime meat rationing to achieve that purpose.

There is no doubt that the U. S. will continue to encourage Argentine democratic elements in every way possible short of intervention.

President Truman soon may appoint an ambassador to Buenos Aires to replace hard-hitting Spiru H. Braden, now assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs.

PHANTOMS TO PLAY TARBORO

Will Meet Serpents In Tarboro Park Friday Night

By T-BONE WILLIAMS

A powerful Green Phantoms football team will roll over to Tarboro Friday night to attack the Tarboro Serpents to try to bring home another victory. Kickoff time will be 8 o'clock at the Tarboro municipal ball park.

In the last game between the Greenies and the Serpents the Greenies came out with a win of 24-6. This is one reason why the Tarboro eleven will be fighting harder than they did before.

Coch Boley Farley will have "Singing" Billy Harrington to toss aerials in case the Serpents attempt to sting the Phantoms. It was stated by a Greenie fan that Harrington is the best passer to hit GHS since Bill Britt showed his stuff four years ago. Mac Batchelor, signal caller and ace blocker, will be at the blocking back position. Spooky Morgan, one of the fastest stepping back field men in Eastern Carolina will be at wingback.

Jimmy Futrell will be filling up the fourth position at fullback. Jimmy is about the best fullback that has ever carried the ball for Greenville.

Bobby Clark and Jack Whichard, two powerful guards, will be there Friday night to tear the Tarboro lines apart. L. L. Kittrell and Stump Garrett, two hard working tackles, who showed their ability last Friday night against Kinston will probably start the game.

Jimmie Ward and Julian White, two glue fingered ends, will be stopping the Tarboro round end plays. J. T. Williams with three years at center, will be kicking and backing up the Greenies forward wall.

Some of the second stringers who will see much action in the game Friday will be Rodney Roberts, Lewis Lawrence, Bud Whitehurst, Xenophon Sideris and Jimmy Lee.

The Phantoms have been going through light workouts this week to avoid injuries for Friday's game. The Serpents have changed their tactics since the former Greenville-Serpent game. This will give the Phantoms trouble but the Phantoms will be pulling tricks the entire game.

Baseball Meeting

Guy V. Smith, prominent businessman and the "daddy of baseball" here, has called a meeting of fans in the courtroom at the City Hall Friday night at 8 o'clock. Baseball fans—men and women—are invited to attend the meeting. Smith said today that if the fans turn out Friday night and show that they want baseball and are willing to do their part, he will help to organize a club in Greenville for the Coastal Plain League.

If the fans turn out and show that they want a ball club in Greenville, Smith will proceed to organize a club, elect officers and attend to some other details preparatory to sending delegates to the meeting of the Coastal Plain League in New Bern next Monday night.

Football

Richmond, Va., Oct. 24.—(AP)—With only one Southern Conference battle listed this weekend, unbeaten William and Mary's tussle with North Carolina State Friday night at Norfolk, football interest in the South will be centered on the annual classic between the University of South Carolina and Clemson at Columbia, S. C. Thursday. Game time is 2:30 p. m.

It is the 43rd meeting between the two schools and the "big game" for both teams.

To date Clemson has won three games and lost one, while South Carolina has split even in four games. The Tigers whipped Presbyterian 76-0, in their opener; then fell before Georgia, 20-0, and went on to clean up on North Carolina State, 12-0, and edge out the Pennsacola Naval Air Station Goshings, 7-6.

The Gamecocks were whipped by Duke, 60-0, mauling Presbyterian, 40-0; beat Camp Blanding, 20-6, and fell before Alabama, 55-0.

Other conference members have a tough schedule before them Saturday.

The University of Richmond travels to Salisbury, N. C., to take on the Catawba Indians.

Duke's Blue Devils move to New York to tackle Army in what will probably be its stiffest assignment of the year.

The University of Maryland, its clean record besmirched by the defeat handed it by a surprising Virginia Tech eleven last week at Blacksburg, turns to Charleston, W. Va., and revenge at the expense of the West Virginia Mountaineers.

Unbeaten Virginia, not a conference member, will tackle the Tech Gobblers at Roanoke.

WARMING UP—Frank Danciewicz of Lynn, Mass., Notre Dame University quarterback and captain, tosses one during forward pass drill at South Bend, Ind.

By MURRAY ROSE

New York, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The 35-13 shellacking Purdue handed Ohio State Saturday dropped the Buckeye clear out of the first Ten and boosted the Boilermakers into fourth place behind Army, Notre Dame and Navy in the Associated Press weekly collegiate football ratings poll.

Carroll Widdoes' saddened grid-ders sank all the way to 12th with navy a first place ballot while Cecil Isbell's unheralded eleven was elevated from its ninth position of last week.

Navy's 20-6 squeak over Georgia Tech shunted the Middles from second to third while Notre Dame's Ramblers, who battered Pittsburgh 39-9, moved into the contenders' spot behind Army.

Army, as expected, received an overwhelming vote of 101 first place nominations out of the 112 ballots cast by sports writers throughout the nation. The champion Cadets rolled up 1108 points on a basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc. Notre Dame accounted for four top votes and 860 points; Navy earned five first placers and 803 points while Minnesota and St. Mary's were recipients of one first place vote each.

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by.

The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job.

But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost.

The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes.

Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements.

That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy.

Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

Transfer Veterans Program In State

Gen. J. Van B. Metts, State Director of Selective Service, and Col. Wiley M. Pickens, State Director of the North Carolina Veterans Commission, have jointly announced that Gen. Metts has transferred to the Commission the responsibility for the North Carolina Veterans Assistance Program which had been delegated to him by Governor J. McNeill Broughton. Gen. Metts developed the plan for the N. C. Veterans' Assistance and Post-War Employment Program and has retained the responsibility for the program during the organization period of the N. C. Veterans Commission which was created by the last Legislature. Col. Pickens stated that the commission in its October meeting announced that it was now prepared to accept its responsibility under the law and that it would officially relieve Gen. Metts of his responsibility for the N. C. Veterans Assistance Program effective this date.

Gen. Metts pointed out that this action does not relieve him in any way of his responsibility as State Director of Selective Service for the Selective Service Veterans Assistance Program imposed upon him by federal law and which is administered in the local communities by the local boards.

Col. Pickens, in discussing the commission's program, advised that the commission anticipates adoption of the present N. C. Veterans' Assistance and Post-War Employment Program with some possible slight changes in organization.

Three Killed.

Kinston, Oct. 24 (AP)—Three Negro occupants of a log truck were killed when the truck overturned near Trenton today. Two others were injured.

Patrolman W. S. Clagan of Trenton said the dead were John Brown and Horace Canady of Dover, and Cherrie Hill of Dover, Route 2. The injured were listed as Paul Manley and Daniel Bryant, also of Dover.

Clagan said the driver of the truck apparently lost control as an automobile was passing it.

COMMUNISTS OUT IN FRONT

Win 152 Assembly Seats In French Election

Paris, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Final official returns today of the Sunday election for France, Corsica and Algeria gave the communists 152 seats in the constituent assembly, the Socialists 143 and the New Movement Republican Popular Party 138.

This left 38 seats of the 586 in the assembly still to be accounted for. The assembly is charged by an overwhelming mandate to draft a new constitution to replace the charter of 1875. The assembly will meet on November 6.

Of 24,680,981 registered voters, 19,661,515 cast ballots, of which 19,152,876 were declared valid.

Two minor offshoots of the Socialist Party, the Independent Socialists and the Republican Socialists, won eight seats, giving the overall Socialist grouping 151 ballots.

An earlier tabulation of the Ministry of Interior for Metropolitan France gave these results:

Communist Party, 136.

Mur (United Movement of the Renaissance, teamed with Communists), 10.

Socialist Party, 129.

USDR (United Democratic and Socialist Party of the Resistance, teamed with the Socialist Party), 11.

MRP (which Socialists and Communists said was backed by Rightist forces), 136.

Moderate Rightist Party, 71.

Radical Socialists (old pre-war party of power), 20.

Independent Socialists, 3.

Republican Socialists, 3.

TOUGH DECISION—Natalie Wood, child actress whose father gave her a baby turkey to celebrate getting a film role, doesn't know whether she can part with the pet for Thanksgiving.

Independents of the Right, 2.

Young Republicans, 1.

The official count from the colonies still was incomplete. The distribution of the remaining 64 seats was not announced. This was the breakdown of the major party vote: Communists (overall), 5,003,121. (The Communist Party alone polled 2,321,300 and the rest were from the Communist-Resistance groups affiliated with the parent party which entered the elections under titles of their own.)

Socialists (overall), 4,738,578. (Of this the regular Socialist Party polled 3,427,819 and the rest came from the two affiliated Socialist Resistance groups.)

ancement, serving as military attaché at Petrograd and Helsinki in 1918-20. In 1922-23 he represented the International Russian Relief Organization in the Ukraine and Crimea, later working on Russian and Armenian relief problems.

He left Russia in 1920 and returned to Norway, where, having resigned from the army in 1928 after a quarrel with the general staff, he found himself forgotten.

Entering politics, he was named by the Farmers' Party government of 1932 as minister of defense and as such presided over his country's disarmament. After a few obscure political battles, he founded in 1933 his own party, the "Nasjonal Samling," which failed in two elections to gain a single seat in the storting or parliament as much as two per cent of the vote.

With his party's collapse Quisling dropped into political oblivion, not to reappear until Norway was under the German boot.

Theoretically he became second to the German civil governor in internal administration of the country, although a host of Nazi civil officials and the Gestapo stood between him and actual power.

what CIO union spokesmen said were violations by the company of a pre-union contract agreement. Flights, however, continued on schedule.

In New York, 300 maintenance and mechanical workers of American Airlines and its subsidiary, American Export Airlines, went on strike after a CIO-UAW negotiating committee said it failed to reach agreement with the management on wage increases. One of five flights scheduled to leave for Europe yesterday was cancelled by American Export Airlines.

AFL longshoremen officials in Houston, Tex., claimed 5,000 workers were idle in a strike over a wage dispute which closed the port to all freight movement and threatened the loss of $50,000 of rice.

There were no immediate indications of settlement of the strike of 15,000 CIO glassworkers in western states but a federal conciliator worked to end the stoppage. Employees in 10 cities in plants of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass companies are involved.

A strike of 1,500 AFL freight drivers and helpers in Baltimore virtually halted movement of roadway freight in and out of the city and resulted in a 50 per cent tieup of all trucking operations. The strike, following a dispute over wages and hours, involves members of 58 firms affiliated with the Maryland Truck Association, which did not comment on the issues.

Bowles stressed what he called the inflationary threat in housing prices yesterday as he gave the Senate Banking Committee, a long report on OPA work. Of the general price picture, he said:

"We still face a dangerous and difficult inflationary period in which the firm foundation we've laid for a prosperous future could be quickly washed from under us.

"It is my personal belief that the danger of inflation is more critical today than at any time in the last four years."

After Bowles gets through with the small business group, he is in for cross-examination by the Banking Committee tomorrow.

On 18. Business was normal in most respects. The familiar brown khaki of the police was missing, but green-clad soldiers, civilians and Boy Scouts kept order as well as possible, and traffic was no more snarled than usual.

A certain indication that the country was almost back to normal came in the announcement that eighth amateur baseball world series would start Saturday, with Venezuela playing Costa Rica. The game had been postponed one week by the revolution.

A decree which froze assets of public employees was clarified last night. The same decree fulfilled one of the promises of the revolutionary government of President Efraim Bonifacio that the wealth of public functionaries all the way back to 1907 would be investigated.

During a 15-day period a three-man board will decide which fortunes will be sequestered.

Reports of casualties from the fighting during the revolution still trickled in. The latest available total was 248 killed and more than 500 wounded.

Demands Action On County Roads

Raleigh, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Governor Cherry today instructed the State Highway and Public Works Commission to give principal attention immediately to improvement of county and secondary roads.

In plain talk, he said the rural roads in many sections were in a deplorable condition and that he "had heard some people in the west were on the verge of a revolution about it."

He said "the State has the money and we can pay" for the increased cost of labor and materials.

He told Chief Engineer Vance Brise, who was present, that Brise had spent so much time on figures, blue prints and contracts that "you haven't got the proper vision of county roads."

"A real emergency confronts us," the governor said.

Chairman A. H. Graham in answer said the commission was giving county road improvement the high priority. Some people, he declared, got an idea after the October 9 letters that main highways were the primary concern of the commission. That, he said, was incorrect, because that program must be affected and those roads do not take the same type of equipment as do county roads.

be borne jointly by the federal, state and city governments.

In connection with this project it is proposed to secure rights of way from a link to relieve present bottleneck congestion on Dickinson Avenue. This link would branch off from Dickinson Avenue this side of the railroad underpass and thence proceed to Fifth Street at the EPE Negro High School.

Incidentally, it should be pointed out that other plans of the State Highway Department provide for an airline highway to Farmville, bringing that enterprising city to within 10 miles of Greenville. The route would take in some of the old Stantonburg road.
