Japanese Police To Get Shakeup

Once - Domineering Police System Rough Handling By Firing More Than 5,800 Enforcement And Surveillance Personnel And Appointment Of Civilians

Tokyo, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Japan gave its once-domineering police system another rough shakeup today by firing more than 5,800 enforcement and surveillance personnel, and announcing it would appoint civilian advisory boards in major Tokyo police districts with unprecedented power to criticize public actions of officers.

Some time ago the nation's infamous thought police and military police organizations were dissolved on Allied orders and their leaders imprisoned for questioning.

Also at the command of General MacArthur, the Japanese Government released 507 political prisoners and discontinued "protection and surveillance" over 2,026 other individuals.

Elsewhere on the occupation front: The Ministry of Education abolished from schools Samurai-flavored courses in glider training, judo, jiu jitsu, fencing and military drill.

The new political party, the Japan Renovationist Party, came into existence, advocating elimination of feudalism and liberalization of economy.

A labor legislation committee was appointed by the Welfare Ministry to frame a law to encourage development of labor unions and provide for mediation of labor disputes.

The newspaper Asahi announced that nearly 300,000 Japanese, including 170,000 demobilized service men, had been repatriated by the end of October by American and Japanese ships.

Reports from Shanghai said strong denunciation of Japan's defeated militarist government was reflected in the majority of letters to the editor of the reform Daily News, Japanese language newspaper, in its first month of publication.

Under the eye of the Chinese Army, the paper is printed for the 80,000 Japanese in Shanghai awaiting repatriation.

In his first public address since appointment as premier of Japan's crisis cabinet, Baron Kijuro Shidehara told a gathering of Kobe and (Continued on Page Four)

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

There is much encouragement for peace and international cooperation to be found in a Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's speech marking the 28th anniversary of the Red Revolution.

Generalissimo Stalin didn't address his people on this big day as had been expected, although he was reported to be in Moscow and looking brown and fit after his vacation in the Black Sea area. However, Molotov did a workmanlike and constructive job which seems likely to increase his stature both at home and abroad.

RECAPTURE OF RAIL PROVINCE

Chinese Communists Claim Victory Over Government

Chungking, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Chinese Communists declared today their forces had decisively defeated 70,000 government troops in fighting along the Peiping-Hankow railway during which they recaptured the rail Hopeh Province junction of Tzehsien on October 25.

The Communists said the government forces consisted of eight divisions, including three "equipped with American arms and noted for their combat powers."

The Communist claims, if true, meant that the movement of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies along the Peiping-Hankow railroad toward North China and Manchuria had been smashed.

The Communists said their "victory" over the government forces along the Peiping-Hankow railroad was scored against troops belonging to the Eighth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth armies.

The Communists asserted that most of the central government soldiers involved capitulated with their arms.

Another official statement from Yen-an demanded the arrest and punishment of Gen. Soy In-Chin, commander in chief of the Chinese army, accused of engineering an offensive by 800,000 troops against the liberated areas dominated by the Communists.

Nominee O'Dwyer Swamps Opponents

By ASSOCIATED PRESS Democrat William O'Dwyer yesterday swamped two major opponents and won the election as mayor of New York City.

His vote far exceeded the aggregate of his opposition. It prompted Democratic leaders to see good things ahead for the party in the state and nationally. They saw in it a decline in the political fortunes of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Republicans withheld comment for the time being. Chairman Robert E. Hannegan of the Democratic National Committee said in a statement:

The landslide for General O'Dwyer—and today's (Tuesday's) vote was truly a landslide—has a direct and important bearing on both the 1946 and 1948 election prospects.

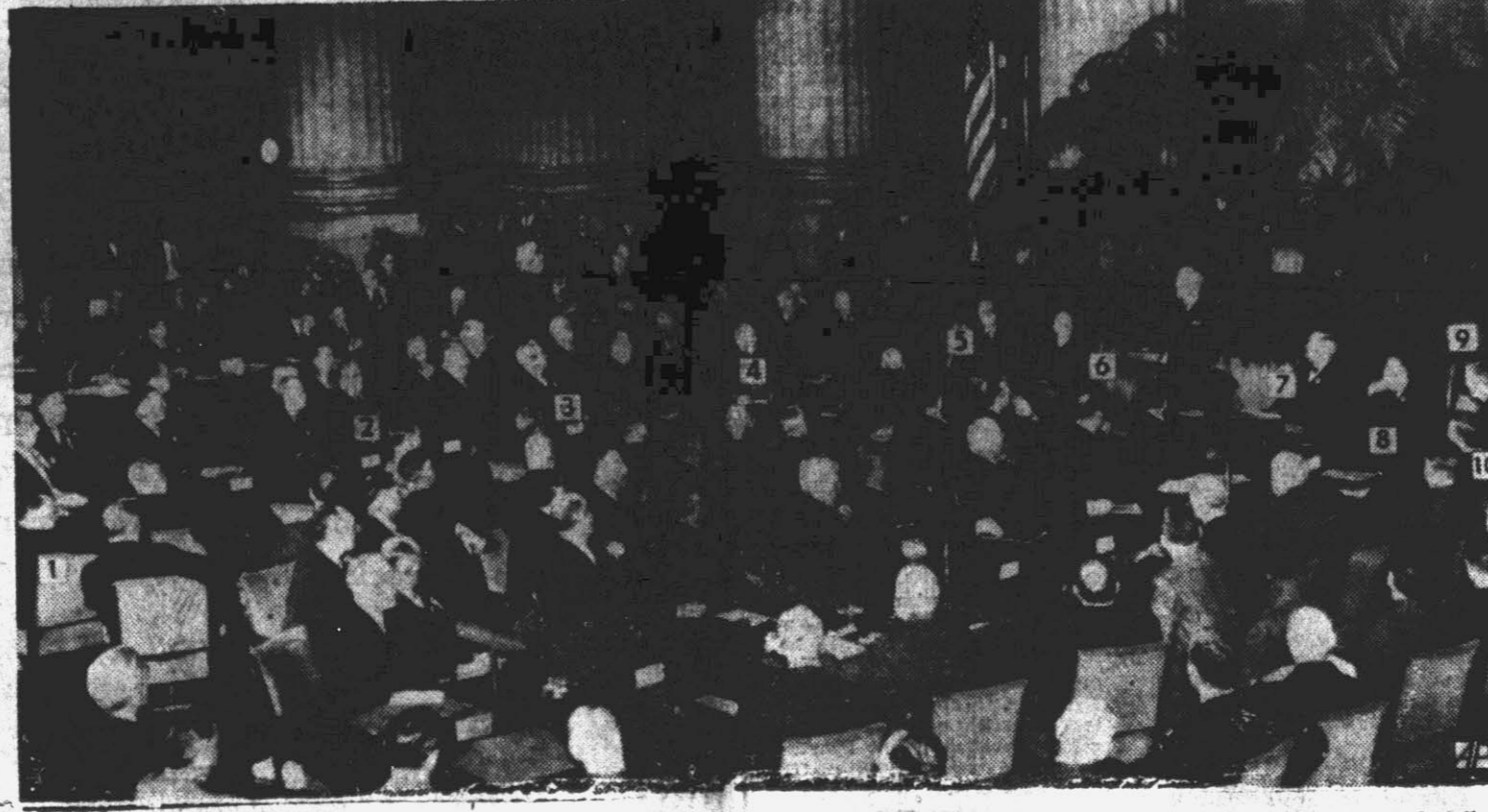

"It is not only attests to the growing strength of the Democratic Party, but proves the popular will for a government pledged to carry on, under President Harry S. Truman, the policies and program of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Paul E. Fitzpatrick, New York Democratic state chairman, said O'Dwyer's victory "marks the beginning of the end of Governor Dewey's influence as a political figure in New York State."

Dewey is expected to run again for governor next year.

Women's Division Issues Appeal To Public

Declaring that the job on the home front is not finished until the men have been returned from the fighting fronts the local Women's Division of the War Finance Committee today issued the following statement in support of the Victory Loan campaign.

"The women of Greenville speak: 'Are we going to let down the boys who remain in service? Those who are wounded, lonely, and far away from home? Would we not hate for them to know we were not meeting our obligations to them by failing to buy bonds? Could we have a happy Christmas if we felt one thing had been left unturned for their comfort and pleasure?'"

"In memory of those who gave their lives that we might live, and for our late President Franklin Roosevelt who suffered and died with them. Should we not buy bonds?"

"A large percentage of service men bought bonds during the war and are continuing to buy. If they see the necessity of buying bonds, by their own experiences, can't we stand shoulder to shoulder united in cooperation with our government and continue to buy bonds."

Experimental Road Is Planned For Bankers

North Carolina Is Building Road From Old Whalebone To Oregon Inlet On Banks

Nags Head, N. C., Nov. 6.—(AP)—North Carolina is building a one-mile experimental road from Old Whalebone leading down to Oregon Inlet on the Atlantic coastal, outer banks. And, the State News Bureau said today, if the first experiments are successful the road may be extended down to Hatteras. Eventually, it may mean a modern improved highway to the section.

That means the Banks will have to buy auto license plates. Some of them likely will be speeders, and so a constable is indicated. And, perhaps a justice of the peace for Buxton or Hatteras or Avon.

The Banks have wanted the road a long time. In the past few years they have clamored for it so vociferously that recently the highway chairman himself visited the area, saw the need, heard the testimony, and launched the one-mile experiment.

Outsiders who go to the banks might love isolation, but the Banks themselves don't love it, and get no pecuniary profit from it. Most of the residents not working for the Coast Guard are fishermen, and they have to freight the fish to market by boat, and they say that a fast and dependable road will substantially increase the convenience and profit of their calling. Thus the bankers themselves, by dint of their necessity and their appeals, seem likely to do away with the placidity which is one of the chief charms of the Banks.

There never has been a real man-made road down the Banks, not since Sir Walter Raleigh's tragic little fleet beat its way up the coast and entered the inlet which led to mystery, romance and oblivion. In the prosperous 1920s a great highway program was launched. Thousands of miles of highways were built to reclaim what that governor called the "Lost Provinces," but probably the Banks never heard of the bond issue nor of the transportation revolution brewing over in "the country."

One road did come to the Banks. About a year or so ago the navy built a little one-way stretch of concrete on Ocracoke Island, where Blackbeard was slain, but it hardly counts. It is a road leading from nothing to nowhere.

If the experiment at the Whalebone withstands high tides and the drifting sand, or can even be reasonably maintained against their deprivations, then it is planned to extend the sand and asphalt surface down the sandbank to serve such ancient and solid communities as Rodhite, Waves, Avon, Salvo, Frisco, Buxton and Hatteras.

Today In Congress

By Max Hall

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Congress was wrenched today by fresh outbreaks of bitterness and dissatisfaction.

Democratic leaders said the House will get no year-end vacation unless it takes action on the full-employment bill supported by President Truman.

The Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee, now two months old, was parading its violent internal dissension before the House and Senate.

A Republican Senator, Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia, told a reporter that if the Army and Navy don't stop drafting men "this week," Congress should immediately abolish Selective Service. Revercomb had made a speech on the subject yesterday.

H. Struve Hensel, Assistant Navy Secretary, comes back before the Senate Military Committee today to argue further against merging the War and Navy Departments. Last night he told a news conference that on Oct. 24 the joint Army-Navy chiefs of staff recommended the postponing merger proposals pending further study.

TESTIFIES TO JAP CRUELTY

Witness Says Japanese Operated Program Of Starvation

By DEAN SCHEIDLER Manila, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Japanese operated Santo Tomas civilian prison camp under a "planned program of starvation" for approximately 4,000 internees, magazine editor A. Y. H. Hertzberg testified today at the war crimes trial of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita.

At least eight internees died of starvation or malnutrition in the last four months of Japanese occupation, he stated.

The Japanese commandant refused to hear internees' complaints because he said Japan did not recognize the Geneva Convention.

Hartendorp told the U. S. Military Commission hearing charges that Yamashita permitted wholesale brutalities by his command that his own weight dropped from 170 to 106 pounds and that the average weight loss of all internees was 30 pounds.

He said conditions became steadily worse, with the Nipponese commander (Continued on Page Six)

President Sends Moscow Message

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The White House said today that President Truman had sent a message to Moscow congratulating the Russian government on the 28th anniversary of the Socialist revolution.

Reporters brought up the question of the presidential message at a news conference with Eben Ayers, assistant press secretary, on Tuesday. He said that the message was either Mr. Truman or Secretary of State James F. Byrnes had been published in the Moscow newspaper.

At the State Department, it was said that Byrnes did not send a message because the occasion called for greetings from a chief of state rather than from the Secretary of State.

Ayers also was asked about reports, some emanating from the west coast, that Generalissimo Stalin is or has been in the United States.

"If it is so," Ayers said, "we know nothing about it. The President has no knowledge of it."

British Ministry Announces Killing Of Jews And Arab

Cairo, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The British Ministry of Information announced today that 74 Jews and one Arab had been killed in anti-Jewish outbreaks in Tripolitania.

Troops and police in Tripoli, metropolitan center of the Tripoli colony in North Africa, were ordered to "shoot all looters and fire if necessary to disperse groups of more than five persons."

With support of the Arab League, Libians are seeking independence from Italy. The colony is made up of Tripolitania, the western section and Cirenaica, the eastern.

Russia openly expressed interest in some form of control over Tripolitania during the conference of five foreign ministers in London, indicating she might ask a share in administering that colony and Eritrea.

Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov told newsmen at the conference "there was a grain of truth" in reports that Russia wanted sole trusteeship over Tripolitania in a discussion on disposition of Italy's colonies in North Africa.

The Ministry of Information "communique said stern measures, including the imposition of a curfew, had been enforced to put down a serious outbreak of rioting, violence and arson by the Arabs against the Jews in Tripoli City Sunday night."

"Arrests have been made of subversive Arab elements," it said. "In addition to those killed, 83 Jews, 36 Arabs and two Italians were hospitalized."

The ministry said the rioting began when an "Arab mob attacked the Jewish quarter" of Tripoli. It added:

Higher Ceiling For Hogsheads

The Office of Price Administration has just released an order increasing the ceiling prices on hogshhead material to take care of the packing of flue cured tobacco, according to a telephone message received from Congressman Herbert C. Bonner to J. C. Lanier, general counsel for the Leaf Tobacco Exporters Association.

The new ceiling price on hogshhead staves has been raised from $44.00 per thousand to $48.00 per thousand, and heads from $1.00 to $1.10.

Mr. Lanier states that the shortage of hogshhead material had become critical, and threatened to close the markets unless price relief could be secured. At a meeting several days ago in Washington with OPA officials, the matter was presented by Mr. Gravelly, Mr. Lanier and Congressman Bonner. The new order is a result of that meeting.

Capital's Bus And Street Car Service To Be Resumed; Danger of Threatened Walk-out Eliminated; Washington Folks Can Again Ride

By The Associated Press

AFL bus and trolley operators two struck yesterday for higher wages voted almost unanimously to resume work in Washington today.

The end of the strike that had tied up the Capital's transportation system came as 73,000 other workers were off the job in scores of labor disputes over the Nation. The newest major walkout involved 10,000 rubber industry workers in Akron, Ohio.

An agreement in the Washington strike was accepted at a mass meeting of the 4,000 union members involved. The plan was worked out after a mediation conference.

Under it, workers will go back to their jobs with the Capital Transit Company at once and negotiations over increased pay will begin tomorrow. Rep. Jennings Randolph (D-W.Va.), chairman of the House District of Columbia Committee, said the agreement guaranteed no disciplinary action against the strikers.

Randolph also said he had been assured the taxi drivers would not take a "holidy" conference. Busy even in normal times, the cabbies were hard pressed during the transit tieup that deprived 1,500,000 daily fare-payers of their usual mode of travel.

The dispute in Akron was at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., where production was halted at its two main plants as CIO workers refused to pass picket lines in a dispute involving the rescheduling of maintenance and engineering employees from a six to an eight-hour day.

The company ordered machines shut off during the two-hour periods and the union charged a "lock-out" and said it would demand production workers be paid for layoffs. The number of employed made idle by the controversy was not immediately determined.

The executive boards of three labor councils in the San Francisco Bay area planned to meet today to decide whether to call for a strike of 12,000 AFL and CIO machinists will continue to observe picket lines. The strike, in its ninth day, started over demands for 30 per cent wage hikes.

The six weeks old strike of 60,000 AFL Lumber Workers in the Pacific Northwest appeared no nearer settlement. Indications were that any CIO Lumber Workers' acceptance of the compromise, 12-1-2 cents hourly pay boost would create a new stalemate in negotiations between the striking AFL union men and operators.

The first break in the strike of textile workers in New England States came as a CIO union official said 1,000 of the strikers at three Connecticut plants of Powdermill & Alexander, Inc., would return to work today.

He said an agreement effected by (Continued on Page Four)

Mr. Truman Talking Tough? By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—President Truman, after trying sugar, is beginning to talk a little tough here at home.

From the time last April when he went into the White House—where President Roosevelt found rough and tumble tactics very helpful although they made him enemies—Mr. Truman used sweetness on the homefronts.

It was as if Mr. Truman upon entering the White House had said to himself: "I'll be nice and friendly. I'll ask people, including Congress, to do things instead of telling them what to do. Then I'll see what happens."

Take a look at the contrast. Mr. Roosevelt often belabored Congress unmercifully when kidding and charm and all else failed. He didn't hesitate to appeal to the people over the head of Congress. But Mr. Truman started out by going up to the Capitol to lunch with his old friends in Congress. He made recommendations to Congress and then left them up to Congress.

Mr. Roosevelt, great friend of labor, cracked down savagely on labor and management at least once when, during a dispute between the two groups, he called down a "plague" on both their houses.

Awarded Silver Star Seymour Johnson Field, Nov. 6.—At impressive ceremonies held today at this AAF Separation Base, Herbert C. Williams, 1020 W. 4th St., Greenville, was awarded the silver star, the nation's third highest award for gallantry in action. Base Commander Col. Dudley B. Howard made the presentation.

A former member of the 28th Infantry Division, Williams' heroic action took place in December, 1944, when he was serving with the 630th Tank Destroyer Battalion in Luxembourg. The citation accompanying his medal read: "Private First Class Williams, observing enemy troops approaching his unit's positions in a Luxembourg village, removed a .30-caliber machine gun from its mount, and resting it on his arm, fired on the Germans from an exposed position. By firing his gun from numerous places within the village, he created the impression that a very large defensive force was located there, successfully repulsing the attempted enemy attack. Later he crawled bravely to one of the gun positions exposed to direct enemy fire, and securely fastened a cable about the weapon whereby it was then recovered. By his fearless and gallant actions Private First Class Williams reflects great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Home on Furlough Pfc. Lester D. Jones, U. S. Army, stationed at Fort McClellan, Ala., came home yesterday to spend a 15-day furlough with his family. Before entering the armed forces he was employed at Bell's Pharmacy.

MASONS HOLD BUNDY NIGHT

Local Lodge Pays Honor To Outstanding Member

Greenville Lodge No. 284, A. F. and A. M., at its regular communication Monday night honored William J. (Dick) Bundy, senior grand warden of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, with a "Dick Bundy night," in recognition of the great honor bestowed upon him by the National Grand Masonic Council in Washington, D. C. He was among the few recently selected by the body to receive the highest honorary degree of Masonry, the 33rd Degree.

The largest number of members and visitors ever to assemble at the Greenville lodge hall was present for the ceremony. After a delicious supper prepared and served by members of the Eastern Star, the Lodge was opened. The Master of the Lodge, James W. Brewer, requested T. I. Moore, district deputy grand master of the Fifth Masonic District, to escort and introduce the distinguished member.

The speaker of the evening, Robert L. Pugh, superintendent of Craven County Schools, was introduced by Judge J. W. H. Roberts. The speaker, in his very pleasing and humorous way, paid tribute not only to the great service rendered to Masonry by Dick Bundy, but also to the great ideals of service that Masonry imbues in its members.

Several ladies, among whom was Mrs. Bundy, were present during the part of the meeting open to the public.

Dr. Oppelt of the college faculty, delightfully sang several songs and led the group singing, with Mrs. Oppelt at the piano. A. C. Tadlock was in charge of the entertainment program. Master of the Lodge Brewer then called upon Senior Grand Warden Bundy for a speech. The guest of honor expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him by the local lodge and also the national lodge. He called attention to the fact that Masonry is a great leveler—citing the ceremonial in Washington when he, "the country lawyer," and Bob Pugh, "the country teacher," were given the 33rd degree of Masonry with President Harry S. Truman, General "Hap" Arnold, Gen. Jimmie Doolittle and other celebrities, all meeting upon the brotherly level of Masonry.

OIL COMPANY LEASES PORT

Morehead Port Com- mission Signs Lease With Standard

Kinston, Nov. 7—(AP)—A 20-year lease has been signed between the Morehead City Port Commission and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, Leo H. Harvey of Kinston, a member of the Port Com- mission, has announced.

The lease was approved by the Reconstruction Finance Corpora- tion, which holds a large portion of the commission's bonds. The oil company will pay a minimum monthly rental of $5,000 plus the port tariffs on packaged goods.

Under the lease the oil company will acquire 11 acres of port facili- ties, plus a three-acre plot of facili- ties formerly owned by the Hat- teras Oil Company. The company would have two 10-year extensions of the lease allowed under options. New storage facilities to be added. Harvey said, will bring the capacity to 20,000,000 gallons of oil, compared with 3,000,000 gallons which was the capacity of the Hat- teras Oil Company.

The state-owned Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad and its current operator, the Atlantic and East Carolina Railroad, agreed to maintain spur tracks and facilities adjacent to the port for a 50-year period, Harvey said.

A Message From R. FLAKE SHAW

Executive Secretary N C. Farm Bureau

To My Friends in Pitt County:

May I make to you a personal appeal to begin TODAY the most militant Farm Bureau Drive ever conducted in your county. 1946 is the crucial year in the history of North Carolina Agriculture. In my opinion, everything that goes into the production of next year's crops will cost more than it has this year. While Labor Demands a 30% Increase in Wages and In- dustry Seeks Increased or Removal of Price Ceilings, There Is a National Concerted Movement Which Embraces Promi- nent Government Officials to Drive Down the Price of Farm Products Next Year.

North Carolina, through adjusted acreage and price sup- port, has maintained the soundest agricultural program since 1932 of any state in the Union. This has been done due to the personal sacrifice of hundreds of our farm leaders. Our post- war future will be determined entirely by our ability to sal- vage as much as possible of this program. I am worried about the national attitude toward acreage adjustment. The Farm Bureau has sponsored and passed legislation guaranteeing 90% of parity, but the appropriations to make this good has yet to be passed. The Cooley Amendment gives the Secretary the authority but does not make it mandatory that tobacco quotas will be declared in 1946. We must return as soon as pos- sible to quotas on peanuts and cotton.

If fertilizer, farm machinery, hardware, and farm labor costs in 1946 what I think it is going to cost, 90% of Parity will not give us much profit in Agriculture.

We are willing to reduce farm prices if and when produc- tion costs justify. We cannot survive reduced prices in a peri- od of increased production cost.

Will 1946 be another 1920?

	1919	1920
Tobacco	49.2	20.8
Cotton	35.6	14.8
Peanuts	10.4	5.1
Soybeans	3.25	1.97
Corn	2.04	1.07

I sincerely believe that this can only be prevented through Farm Organization. I know you are busy and it is difficult to leave 44c tobacco and 8c peanuts to write Farm Bureau Mem- bers. However, in my opinion, our future programs are more than worth the temporary sacrifice.

Without your continued support we will fail, and if we fail, we will pay the penalty for the next decade.

Yours, very truly,
R. FLAKE SHAW, Executive Secretary North Caro- lina Farm Bureau Federation.

The Communists branded the three as reactionary pro-Japanese with Kuomintang who are undermining the national interests since Japan's surrender.

Shanghai, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The reported seizure by Chinese Communists of several American crewmen from a Liberty ship in the Chinwangtao area today brought prompt news blackout in U. S. Army headquarters in Shanghai.

Newsman, dependent on British sources, were told some seamen had been seized by the Chinese Communists but some were released with apologies.

American army spokesmen refused to discuss the matter and the U. S. consul general's office here said only that "vague reports had been received."

Leon Evans Pender Died This Morning

Leon Evans Pender, 59, died suddenly at the home of his sister, Mrs. Andrew J. Moore, 514 W. 4th Street, shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. Funeral services will be conducted from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Moore at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, and burial will follow in the family plot in Cherry Hill Cemetery.

The family requests that no flowers be sent.

Hartendorp, long-time American resident of the islands and who edited the prewar "Philippine Magazine," said Santo Tomas internees received only three Red Cross packages — the last on Christmas, 1943.

Abill of particulars covering the Santo Tomas case from Oct. 9, 1944, through the liberation Feb. 2, 1945, charges the Japanese with willful failure and refusal to provide food and medical supplies to more than 3,000 civilian internees. It also specifies that internee Ford Wilkins, former city editor of the Manila Bulletin and New York Times correspondent, was beaten and tortured, and charges the execution "without cause or trial" of more than six internees for "minor infraction of rules."

Among the six were Carol Grinnell, chairman of the camp's internee committee and representative of General Electric International; Alfred P. Duggleby, Grass Valley, Calif., wealthy gold mine operator; Clifford Larsen and B. B. Johnson, American businessmen.

Earlier today, the commission heard Henry Keys, London Daily Express correspondent, testify that he saw hundreds of bodies of civilians piled around the St. Augustine Church courtyard, in the walled city, on Feb. 23.
