Eisenhower Says Danger Is Ahead

European Theater Commander Tells Senate Military Committee This Nation Must Preserve Balanced Measure Of Land, Air And Sea Force

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—General Eisenhower said today that unless the armed services are placed under a unified command "we may enter another emergency, in a time to come, as we did at Pearl Harbor."

The European theater commander told the Senate Military Committee in prepared testimony that "this nation must preserve a balanced, adequate measure of our land, sea and air power lest we lose the peace we have so dearly bought."

In World War II, he said, the United States had to achieve the change from joint to unified command "the hard way." He added: "I know that our efforts would have met with failure without unity of direction. No system of joint command could possibly have brought victory to our cause."

While Eisenhower testified, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet, was in Washington for a naval conference. His presence led to speculation the Navy bitterly opposed to merging the armed forces—might try to counter the general of the army's testimony with that of the fleet admiral.

Nimitz made no announcement and committee members said only that they would be glad to hear Nimitz if he wished to be a witness. Eisenhower said unity of land, sea and air forces under his command "was not easily achieved."

He added that he thought the "difficulties grew directly from the traditional separation of the Army and Navy which is the inevitable outcome of the present organization of our military departments."

Separation at the top necessarily fosters separation all along the line. Replying to what he said were criticisms of the unification proposal Eisenhower went on: "I am told that the task of the civilian secretary, who would preside over such a department, is beyond the capacity of any man. If this were true, then it follows that no man has the capacity to organize the presidency of the United States."

At statements that creation of a single department would subordinate one service to another, he commented that the result in Africa and Europe "proved such fears to be groundless." To arguments that Germany had a single military department and lost the war, Eisenhower replied: "The facts are that Germany never had such a single department or even unity of direction except in the last days of the war."

Larger Overseas Boxes. Effective November 15, parcels not exceeding 11 pounds in weight or 42 inches in length, or 72 inches in length and girth combined, containing articles requested by the addressee, may be accepted at post-offices for mailing to Army personnel overseas, the local postoffice today announced.

TROOPS MOVE TO MANCHURIA

Chiang Kai-Shek's Troops Will Begin Movement Soon

By SPENCER DAVIS Peiping, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist troops will begin a mass movement "quite soon" into Manchuria in air transports turned over to China by America, a spokesman at Chiang's field headquarters said today.

Their destination will be the main airfield at Changchun, capital of Manchuria, which unconfirmed reports say is in the hands of Chinese Communists following a withdrawal of the Russians.

An official Chinese government dispatch received at Chungking yesterday said Russians had yielded control of Changchun's postal and telegraph facilities to a handful of Chinese government authorities, and indicated that the Russians have not yet completed their planned withdrawal.

Chiang's men are opposed in a ground movement toward Manchuria by Chinese Communists and the presence of the Communists in two Manchurian ports evacuated by the Russians recently caused ships of the U. S. Seventh Fleet to pull away without putting ashore the Nationalists on board.

American air crew ferrying unmarked C-45 transports here from Kuming protested to commanding officers of the 10th Air Force, that flying without the U. S. insignia increased the hazards of being shot if forced down or flying low.

The generalissimo's spokesman said that conflict with Chinese Communist forces throughout North China is becoming "more and more serious." He voiced a need for more Nationalist troops.

"Story Of GI Joe" At Pitt Tonight Admission will be free to the Pitt Theater tonight at 8 o'clock to see the motion picture of Ernie Pyle's famous "Story Of GI Joe." No tickets will be sold. Every person who buys an E Victory Bond will receive a free ticket to the show. Victory Bonds will be sold at the theater tonight. Ernie Pyle, famous war correspondent, lived with the men on the battlefronts and knew them best. He was killed during the battle of Okinawa last summer.

The "Story Of GI Joe" glorifies the plain American soldier—it describes the every-day life of America's warriors. It's a great picture. Everybody should see it. Manager T. Y. Walker is showing the movie tonight without charge. All one has to do to get a free ticket is to buy a Victory Bond—and that's a good investment. These bonds are as good as cash, and they pay good interest.

The WORLD TODAY An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst The atomic energy proposal of the United States, Britain and Canada is the most striking peace offer of history.

Had Hitler, even after defeat was treading on his heels, acquired this knowledge and been able to produce atomic bombs, he still could have conquered the world. And yet the United States, England and Canada, being first in possession of this terrific weapon, are asking other nations to join with them in rendering it innocuous.

Of course the proposal is directed mainly towards Russia. It's the old question of Big Three solidarity again. If Moscow agrees, then we can feel assured that the world is rolling along the broad highway of lasting peace.

This is so because, as so often said, the Big Three have the physical strength to enforce peace against all odds. There in its essence we have the real defense against the atomic giant—the prevention of war. President Truman, and Prime Minister Attlee and MacKenzie King recognized this principle in their statement when they pointed out that the only complete protection for civilization against the destructive use of scientific knowledge "lies in the prevention of war."

We can pin the thing down even closer than that, for prevention of war depends on a change in the heart of man. We can yell our heads off about peace, and create enough organizations to carpet the whole globe, but all that won't matter a tinker's dam if we haven't accepted the golden rule as our guiding light.

This obviously is a critical moment. But you know, I believe she will make it. She will unless some fool starts to joggle the rope. I like General Eisenhower's attitude on this question. Testifying yesterday before the House Military Committee in Washington he declared that if he thought another war was inevitable he wouldn't be there.

"I would have jumped right out of my plane over the Atlantic," he said. General Ike also said, in the course of his testimony in support of universal military training, that "Russia has no slightest thing to gain by war with the United States" and wants to be a friend. To this he added that "there never will be a war between Great Britain and the United States." Well, there you have the all-powerful and dominant Big Three.

There's another outstanding point in the Washington declaration on atomic energy. America, Canada and Britain agree that the details of manufacturing the atomic bomb will be withheld until safeguards which are acceptable to all nations have been devised. The information will be kept secret until it's certain that it won't be used for purpose of war.

Pilotless Plane At Guy Smith Stadium Sunday

The army's radio-controlled target plane, with a seven-man team from Fort Bragg, will be demonstrated at Guy Smith stadium Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The pilotless plane carries enough fuel to remain aloft more than an hour. It lands after flight by parachute. The Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce, Belle Lamm, president, is sponsoring the demonstration in support of the Victory Loan Drive. Admission to the park is free.

HALT ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION

British Authorities Take Steps In Regard to Palestine

Jerusalem, Nov. 16.—(AP)—British authorities took new precautions today to halt illegal immigration into Palestine today as Zionist leaders deplored a two-day reign of violence in Tel Aviv estimated to have caused more than 100 casualties and $800,000 property damage.

With quiet at last reported restored to the troubled city, Isaac Ben-Tsvei, chairman of the Jewish National Council, issued a statement attributing the riots to "irresponsible youths" and declaring they were "highly detrimental to the Jewish cause."

He added that Jewish leaders had urged self-discipline and non-violence. At the same time the pro-Zionist Palestine Post declared editorially that all responsible Jews strongly disapproved the outbreaks in Tel Aviv. (Continued on page six)

Sale Of Christmas Seals Starts 19th

Calling attention to the fact that tuberculosis is a communicable disease, Mayor J. H. Boyd, Jr., yesterday issued a proclamation officially designating from November 19 to Christmas for the sale of Christmas Seals.

Mayor Boyd pointed out that the Pitt County Tuberculosis Association, which conducts the Seal sale, uses Seal funds for a health program which should be supported by all residents of Greenville. The Junior Woman's Club is sponsoring the sale of seals in the city.

Admiral Declares Training Needed

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The statement was made by Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King in response to questions by House Military Committee members after he had endorsed universal military training legislation.

King had commented that the rate of demobilization of the Navy had resulted in disintegration of units.

Asked by Rep. Leroy Johnson (R-Calif.) if the disorganization was such as to render the Navy unable "to fight a major battle" immediately if necessary, King replied: "I'm afraid I will have to say 'Yes' to that question."

"The Navy, the admiral said, is not 'the going concern' it had expected to be because of speedy demobilization and "it is more or less disintegrated."

"I don't want to be taken too literally on that," he cautioned, "but I don't know any other way to express it."

Japanese Await Ships Sailing For Homeland

Burdened Japanese Men, Women And Children Stolidly Wait For Ships To Carry Them Home

Fusan, Korea, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Long lines of burdened Japanese men, women and children wait stolidly here for ships to carry them back to Japan, the "homeland" which many have never seen.

Koreans scream at them bitterly. "You are trying to carry our own country away on your backs," they say. Returning ships from Japan unload thousands of Koreans in the greatest two-way mass migration in modern Asiatic history, ending 35 years of Japanese control over Korea.

More than 247,000 impressed Korean laborers have been brought back from Japan. Some 257,000 Japanese—including 99,000 troops and 58,000 civilians—have been ferried to Japan.

"We still have about 3,000 Japanese soldiers and anywhere from 100,000 to 500,000 more Japanese to get out of this country," said Major John M. Wilson, Philadelphia Pa., the operations officer for the 40th Division.

The center of this great shuttle ending Japan's continental empire is Pier No. 1 where thousands of Japanese "carpetbagging" families wait wearily for long hours to board jammed boats. They wait patiently with few complaints.

"If they haven't food, we give it to them carry them across the straits," said Col. R. G. Stanton, Washington, D. C. "Our soldiers aren't rough with them but we do not mix with them in any way. We help women get their bundles and children up the gangplank safely and that's all."

A Japanese doctor delivered babies on four successive nights to women on the dock. The stolid faces of the people on the pier show little of the distress mirrored in the countenances of European refugees. They suffer their fate calmly.

Each emigrant is inoculated now against typhus and deloused—which is quite a game to the children as soldiers squirt DDT into their pants or kimonos.

Each Japanese gets to take with him 1,000 yen in cash—$66—and all the household possessions he can carry. The bundles are gigantic. Behind them: they leave farms, live stock, furniture, tools and investments. These are earmarked in their nae and stored if possible—but few feel they will ever get them back.

American soldiers search every pack for hidden yen and weapons. "They hide money everywhere," said Capt. Granville Bushy, Roanoke, Va. "In one bambo cane we found 80,000 yen—more than $5,000."

Violators aren't punished except for removal of their money, which is deposited in their name in Korea. (Continued on Page Four)

Delegates Promise Stand On Issues Known Today

EDUCATORS IN SESSION ETC

Broughton And Harrelson Speakers At District Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH The 23rd annual convention of the Northeastern District of the North Carolina Education Association opened in Austin Hall at East Carolina Teachers College this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with an unusually large attendance.

District President Mrs. Agnes Watson Gunter of Lenoira presided. Twenty-two counties were represented in the district.

Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, acting president of ECTC, welcomed the delegates.

Miss Ethel Perkins of Raleigh, secretary-treasurer of the NCEA, extended greetings. Miss Bertha Cooper of Elizabeth City, National Education Association director, spoke on "The National Education Association."

A representative of the North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers extended greetings. Col. J. W. Harrelson of Raleigh, chancellor of State College, discussing the difficulties colleges have with high school students, pointed out numerous ways in which high school graduates can eliminate numerous handicaps when they enter college.

Don C. Conley, Pitt County superintendent of schools, introduced the speaker. The Department of Higher Education and the Department of Classroom Teachers were scheduled to meet at 4 o'clock.

Former Governor J. Melville Broughton of Raleigh was to speak at a supper meeting of the Department of Superintendents at the Olde Towne Inn at 5:30. Chairman J. G. McCracken of Elizabeth City will be the principal speaker at the night session at the college at 7:30.

The United N. C. Principals' Association was scheduled to meet at 4 o'clock. Representative I. T. Ready of Rocky Mount will be the speaker. Chairman D. S. Johnson was to preside.

At the night session at the college former Governor Broughton will speak. The program will include music, special announcements and a report of the canvassing committee and selection of next year's meeting place. New officers to be installed are E. W. Morgan of Allander, president; John T. Biggers, principal of the "Winter" school, secretary.

Atlee Says Goodbye To The President Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Prime Minister Atlee of Great Britain, preparing to end a week's stay in Washington, called at the White House today to say good-bye to President Truman.

Shaking hands with White House reporters, the prime minister said of his call: "I'm just saying good-bye. "Everyone has been extremely kind and I've enjoyed my visit to Washington."

Atlee and Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada, whose atomic energy discussions with Mr. Truman produced a three-power policy statement yesterday, are to leave tonight by train for Canada.

Yamashita Trial Near Conclusion

By JOHN GROVER Manila, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The prosecution's war-crimes case against Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita ended its final phase today with a Japanese admiral on the stand.

Whether a Philippines supreme court order can be allowed to halt the trial meanwhile was referred to General MacArthur.

Lt. Gen. Wilhelm D. Styer, commander of Army forces in the Western Pacific, continued to ignore a commonwealth court order that he show cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be issued on Yamashita's behalf. Effect of such a writ would be to take the case from the hands of the military commission now hearing it.

Vice Adm. Denishichi Okoochi, commander of Japanese naval forces in the Southwest Pacific areas a year ago when the battle for the Philippines entered its climactic stages testified today that the Japanese army, not the navy, issued tactical orders at Manila while atrocities for which the prosecution blames Yamashita occurred.

Chief Prosecutor Maj. Robert Kerr said he hoped to finish his case Saturday. Defense testimony is expected to require several weeks. Styer has been unavailable for comment and so far has not accepted a plea.

Not Drowned

Three and a half years after Clarence M. Fisher (above) was reported drowned while swimming in a quarry near his home at Bellefonte, Pa., he was found hale and hearty in a paratroop unit at Fort Benning, Ga. He said he left his clothes on the brink of the water-filled quarry, donned other raiment, and departed for parts unknown. He's looking forward to a reunion with his family at Christmas. (AP Photo)

NEGRO MAKES BOLD ESCAPE

Gus Wells Jumped From Third Floor City Hall Today

By CHESTER WALSH Gus Wells, 18-year-old Negro, self-confessed perpetrator of seven robberies here during the past few weeks, made a daring escape from the prisoners' room at the City Hall while Police Court was in session this morning. He jumped from a third-story window to the pavement below and ran away limping, a truck driver who saw him reported to police.

Police Jim Tanner said he expects to find Wells before night. Wells admitted in court that he robbed the Western Auto Parts Store of about $63 on October 29, and attempted to rob it again on November 4 and November 6, but was frightened away; broke into an Atlantic Coast Line Railroad car on November 5 and stole two bunches of bananas; robbed the Busy Bee Cafe of $30 on November 7; broke into an automobile at Third and Cotanche streets on November 10 and stole a woman's suit and a party uniform belonging to her. The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Any thoughtful person must take a serious view of the future after reading the Truman-Atlee-MacKenzie King statement on the atomic bomb.

"We are aware that the only complete protection for the civilized world from the destructive use of scientific knowledge lies in the prevention of war."

In other words: We can make international agreements not to use the bomb. That's the best that can be done, besides strengthening our efforts to avoid war. But if war breaks out, duck.

But the three countries are going ahead with this proposal that the world's nations work out agreements not to use destructive atomic energy.

Meanwhile the three are not giving away the secret of the bomb to other nations. Some top officials said after the statement appeared that it probably will be a long time before we do give away the secret. And you can see why from what follows.

The three men suggested that a special commission be created under the United Nations organization (UNO) to work toward agreements controlling the atomic bomb.

Industry Delegates to President Truman's Labor-Management Conference Promise To Make Known Their Stand On Collective Bargaining Issue

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Industry delegates to President Truman's Labor-Management Conference promised to make known today their stand on the collective bargaining issue.

Indications were it might take form of a counter proposal or amendment to a request by CIO President Philip Murray that the conference approve bargaining within the framework of the administration's broad wage-price policy: raise wages generally without increasing prices.

Ira Mosher, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told newsmen management's "100 per cent" view would be presented to the conference executive committee at its closed meeting today noon.

Presidents William Green of the AFL and John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers have objected to the CIO resolution if it can be construed as holding collective bargaining within the boundaries of the administration wage-price policy.

Green told reporters no labor representative could object to the idea of endorsing collective bargaining on wages as a principle.

Many management delegates also seemed willing to concur on a general statement of that sort. Some suggested amending the Murray resolution to cut out the reference to the President's policy.

The executive committee decided yesterday to speed up the conference by insisting on final reports by Saturday night from the six working committees.

One group studying how to minimize disputes over existing contracts has finished its report. Another which investigated ways of strengthening the U. S. Conciliation Service worked on a final draft of its findings today.

The executive committee will coordinate the six reports and submit the results to the full conference.

The Rules Committee yesterday turned down 6 to 2 a proposal by Lewis and the AFL that all final action by the conference require a unanimous vote.

The committee held that a vote of 15 of the 18 representatives on each side would suffice. Its recommendation to that effect will be put to a simple majority vote of the conference, Chairman Walter P. Stacy told newsmen.

Miss Ethridge Pleases Audience Miss Eleanor Ethridge of the music department at East Carolina Teachers College won enthusiastic applause from an audience of about 300 students and townspeople when she appeared in a piano recital in the Austin building of the college on Thursday evening, November 15.

The program was largely from the works of composers of the modern French school. It began with Cesar Franck's beautiful "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue," an impressive composition which was well executed and sympathetically interpreted. Four Chopin numbers, which composed the second group on the program offered a varied selection from the works of the Polish composer.

At the close of the regular program Miss Ethridge, who was called back to the stage for a number of curtain calls, gave an encore "La Campanella" by Liszt and "Les Cloches de Nazareth" by Chopin. "Prelude in A Major" by Chopin.

Inter Se Book Club Report On Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 Mrs. Wendell Smiley entertained the members of the Inter Se Book Club at her home on Eighth Street.

Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and were served a delicious dessert course with coffee. After a brief discussion of business the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Plato Evans who gave a most interesting and inspiring talk on the people of the U. S. S. F. She explained that Russia is divided into sixteen republics stating how all are separated as to geography, traditions, customs and yet are united by a strong patriotic feeling towards the United Russia.

She explained briefly the contributions of Lenin and Stalin towards the development of the present progressive U. S. S. R. This proved to be a most interesting discussion of a very timely subject and was enjoyed by all present.—Reported.

A. A. U. W. To Meet Monday Night

The A. A. U. W. program Monday night with Mr. R. L. Humber speaking on "The San Francisco Conference and the New World Order" will stress one of the great interests of the Association, world peace. It is sponsored by the International Relations Committee of the branch, of which Mrs. Humber is chairman. The meeting, to be held at the Sheppard Memorial library at 8 o'clock Monday night, will be an open one, with the public cordially invited.

The whole A. A. U. group, and especially the International Relations committee, has actively supported the untiring campaign of education for a world federation carried on by Mr. Humber, and has watched with interest the result of his work. Through his efforts, thirteen states have already adopted a resolution requesting the United States to take the lead in forming a federation of the world, and the resolution is now pending in 15 more legislatures.

The North Carolina legislature was the first political body ever to approve world federation. Other states that have followed the lead of North Carolina in adopting the resolution are New Jersey, Maryland, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Alabama, Tennessee, Utah, Oklahoma, New Hampshire and Florida.

Mr. Humber has talked to many A. A. U. W. groups throughout the country, as well as practically all other types of groups. He has spoken recently to the High Point branch, to the A. A. U. W. of Philadelphia and all Pennsylvania, and to notice will be held in bar of their similar groups in New Jersey and recovery. All persons indebted to Virginia. This topic for Monday night is drawn from his experiences and observations at San Francisco, where he stayed throughout the conference, studying the progress of the work and discussing with delegates from many countries represented there his idea of a federal form of world government as the only truly workable government for the nations of the world.

Salvation Army To Observe Birthday

Eighty years of service to mankind will be celebrated by the Salvation Army on Sunday, November 18, when distinguished guests and leaders of the organization gather in Kansas City, Mo., for a two-hour commemorative service, said Major W. H. Stanley, head of the local post of the Salvation Army.

Featuring the ceremonies will be messages from President Truman, U. S. military and naval leaders who are familiar with the war work of the Salvation Army, and from leaders of war-torn countries where the international organization today is helping in the giant task of rehabilitation.

The main address will be given by General Evangeline Booth, daughter of the founder, William Booth. The retired international leader of the organization, General Evangeline Booth, was born in the same year that her father started his evangelistic work in the slums of London with the "Christian Mission"—later named the Salvation Army. Miss Booth will be 80 on Christmas Day.

The Salvation Army has grown beyond all expectations of the founder and today it is operating in 110 countries and colonies all over the globe. Wherever a person goes, he will find the Salvation Army and its familiar uniform. In World War II members of the armed services found the organization in jungles, deserts, and lonely Pacific isles, working on 26 fronts. The Salvation Army operated 3,000 Red Shield huts and 1,000 mobile canteens, and gave 225,000 individual services to our own fighting men and those of our Allies. Salvation Army officers have served and are still serving as chaplains and many others have operated USO clubs.

Today the services of the International Salvation Army are continuing with the occupation troops and in rehabilitating war-torn countries, as well as expanding the home-front program of material and spiritual aid. Major Stanley said.

Chapter 23
Hale was just leaving his room when a bell came up to him.
"Hello," he gasped, "come in."
"Peabody's been hurt—in a room on the second floor," the man called out.
"Hale," he gasped, "come in."

"Hale," he gasped, "come in."
"Peabody's been hurt—in a room on the second floor," the man called out.

some one tried to kill you."
"Never mind. You're here, Suzy. Hold tight. The room goes round and round, but don't you go with it. You stay here. I need you."
She took his hand and drew a chair up to the bedside.
"I'm right beside you, dear," she answered in a low voice. "Now you try to sleep."
"Maybe it was the whirling lights in a room that had a fantastic way of flashing white, dazzling light in his closed, blinded eyes, but suddenly Seth saw a blue white sparkle on Suzy's hand.
"You are wearing your ring tonight, Gold," he whispered, and then the blackness came back and everything else was wiped out of his consciousness.
A hard tropical rain made it easy for Seth to stay in bed for breakfast the next morning. His bandaged head was very sore, and Luke Hale only stayed a minute when he saw how he looked. About an hour later, Clarissa, the maid, came in. Her shiny black face showed shock at the sight that met her eyes.
"O' de lawd's sake! What's dis?" She gasped as she came up to the bed.
"No, no, Clarissa. Just a headache. Go right ahead. Don't mind me. It's the heat, I guess."
"Aw jus saw dat Delgado in de hall singin' dat song, 'Unda dos y tres que paso el mas cheberes—he make me seec—' She snapped her fingers as Seth had seen Delgado snap his to accent the words as he went along. Clarissa was a good mimic.
"Dat girl, Dolores, she crazes about Delgado. I know her a long time. She good dancer, but then chance until he gave it to her. Ne treat her like a dog when Miss Van Tyne come. That makes Dolores mad."
"Dolores watch her and Delgado. Girls in Key West don't like other girls to take their man."
For the first time Seth understood Suzy's strange reluctance to tell these people of their engagement. She might have been so deeply involved she did not know what effect such an announcement might have. She must have known that girls like Dolores only want to make trouble for girls like Suzy. Looking out over the drenched garden, Seth began to understand. He was seeing things he had never seen before. As if she read his thoughts, Clarissa said in a sepulchral voice.
"I had a promotion something terrible was goin' to happen!"
Seth roused himself. "It's really a shame to interrupt an artist like yourself," he said abruptly, "but don't do any more in here, Clarissa. Everything's fine." Clarissa started to protest, but he firmly bundled her out of the door, broom, mop and all.
And as he closed the door behind the voluble Clarissa, Seth had a picture of that other world that had caught Suzy with its tropical glamour. A world of dancing which she loved—of rumbas, song and congas; a world with a background of starlight over dark seas and moonlight on dazzling white sands; a world of fiestas and the heavy sweet scent of flowers.
And then, for some reason, Seth suddenly remembered the ring which he had seen last night for the

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE BY COMMISSIONER

Under and by virtue of authority contained in that certain order signed by Hon. D. T. HOUSE, Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, on the first day of November, 1945, in that action pending in the Superior Court of Pitt County entitled "E. L. Abbott et al. vs. Annie Abbott et al. Ex Parte," being an action to sell lands for division, the undersigned, Commissioner will offer for sale and sell at public auction for cash before the courthouse in Pitt County, Greenville, North Carolina on Monday, the 20th day of December, 1945, at 12 o'clock noon the following described lands:

First Parcel: That vacant lot in the Town of Ayden, between First and Second Streets, and on the west side of Railroad Street, sometimes referred to as West Avenue, bounded on the south by the B. A. Jenkins store building, on the east by an alley on the north by the Town Hall building, and on the east by Railroad Street, or West Avenue, and being the vacant lot that is situated between the Town Hall and the S. A. Jenkins store building.

The north wall of the Jenkins property and the south wall of the City Hall property are joint walls and the purchaser of this lot will acquire the right to join to said wall.

Second Parcel: That certain lot or parcel of land in the Town of Ayden, between First and Second Streets, and on the west side of Railroad Street, sometimes referred to as West Avenue, and being bounded on the south by the Town Hall, on the west by an alley, on the north by the old garage building, and on the east by Railroad Street, or West Avenue, and being the property now occupied by Tyndall, Boyd and Stroud Wholesale business.

The brick wall between the building on the above property and the garage building is a joint wall.

Third Parcel: That certain lot or parcel of land situated and being in Ayden Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, and on the south side of the road leading from the Lorenzo McLawhorn place across the old Ayden and Kingston Road, and bounded on the north by said road and the lands of J. F. J. McLawhorn, on the east by the lands of Renno Edwards, on the south and west by the Patrick lands, known as lot No. 5 in the Susan E. McLawhorn division, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a stake on the road leading from Lorenzo McLawhorn's place to the old Ayden and Kingston road, common corner between E. L. Abbott, et al. and J. F. J. McLawhorn, and this tract of land measuring thence along the road S. 47-45 E. 338.5 feet to a stake, corner of Renno Edwards, thence along the Renno Edwards line, which is a path, S. 0-20 E. 691 feet; S. 6 E. 717.5 feet and S. 3-35 W. 213 feet to the Patrick corner, thence along the Patrick line, which is a path, N. 41-10 W. 1266 feet to a stake in the field, thence along another of the Patrick lines, north 1323 feet to a stake on the ditch in J. F. J. McLawhorn's line, thence along the McLawhorn line N. 84-50 E. 910 feet to an old stump in a ditch, and thence N. 6-30 E. 271 feet to the beginning, containing 42 acres, more or less, and being known as a part of the Slaughter lands.

Fourth Parcel: That certain tract or parcel of woodland situated and being in Ayden Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, bounded on the north by the J. L. Brown land, on the east by the M. B. Allen land, on the south by D. T. McLawhorn and Jordan Nobles and on the west by Jordan Nobles and J. L. Brown and more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a stake center by a pine and gum, M. B. Allen's corner in the McLawhorn line, and running thence with the M. B. Allen line, which is a marked line, N. 10-30 W. 1612 feet to a stake centered by two pines in the Brown line, thence with the Brown line S. 81 W. 680 feet to a stake with pine pointers, thence continuing with the Brown line S. 37 W. 1714 feet to a pine stump, J. L. Brown, Jordan Nobles and J. E. Tripp's corner, thence S. 55-50 E. along the Nobles line 672 feet to a stake, thence along the McLawhorn line, which is a marked line, S. 79-30 E. 1595 feet to the beginning, containing 50 acres, more or less, and is known as a part of the Bowie woods.

The descriptions of the last two parcels are taken from a map of survey made by W. C. Dresbach in 1927.

These lands are being sold for the purpose of making division between the several parties and the purchaser will be required to deposit ten per cent (10 per cent) of the amount of bid on day of sale to show good faith.

Pocahontas has long been remembered for her courage and daring which saved John Smith's life. The annals of World War II are full of examples of women's courage and their devotion to their fellow men. America's pride in their record of war service is only equalled by her hope that women will work to keep peace as they have worked to bring peace. We are glad that the loaf we make had a real part in the war, providing a low-cost, ready-to-serve food, enjoyed at every meal in countless American homes.

We are proud that the women of this community, served so long by our bakery, gave generously of their time and strength to the war effort. It is a privilege for us to continue to serve them to the best of our ability.

No invitations mailed in Greenville and Winterville. Joint Hostesses at Bridge On Wednesday evening Miss Alice Moore, bride-elect of November was honored at bridge and a miscellaneous kitchen when Mrs. Rev. Taylor and Mrs. Aubrey Taylor entertained at the home of Mrs. Taylor.

Yellow chrysanthemums were used to decorate the home and the bride's place was marked with a lovely corsage. Cooe-Colas were served during play. Later in the evening the hostesses served a delicious salad course. Miss Jean Rush won the high score award and Miss Doris Brown, second high.

Miss Moore was the recipient of many useful kitchen utensils and was remembered with an attractive gift by the hostesses. End of the Century Club The End of the Century Club held a very enjoyable meeting on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. A. Moye, Jr. Her home was lovely with its decorations of chrysanthemums.

A short business session was presided over by our president, Mrs. Ficklen Arthur. Books were exchanged. Following a custom which has prevailed in the club for the last two years we had a sewing meeting. A pleasant time was enjoyed while doing a bit of sewing for the U. S. O. Our hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Aubrey Shackelford, and Mrs. J. S. Moye, served a delicious salad course with coffee and sweets.

Fourteen members and two guests Mrs. W. S. Harden and Mrs. E. W. Myers, enjoyed the meeting—Reported. Return From Greensboro Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, Dr. R. J. Slay, Dr. A. D. Frank, Dr. K. E. Brown, Dr. M. N. Posey, and Mr. James J. Fleming have returned from the North Carolina College Conference, which took place in Greensboro on Wednesday and Thursday. Dr. McGinnis is a member of the admissions committee of the organization and Dr. Frank of the Standards Committee.

Miss Ethridge Pleases Audience Miss Eleanor Ethridge of the music department at East Carolina Teachers College won enthusiastic applause from an audience of about 300 students and townspeople when she appeared in a piano recital in the Austin building of the college on Thursday evening, November 15.

The program was largely from the works of composers of the modern French school. It began with Cesar Franck's beautiful "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue" an impressive composition which was well executed and sympathetically interpreted. Four Chopin numbers, which composed the second group on the program, offered a varied selection from the works of the Polish composer. "Sonata" by Ravel and "Scherzo" by Pinar were followed by two Debussy numbers—"Plus Que Lente" and the popular "Reflets Dans L'Eau," which Miss Ethridge played with particular success.

At the close of the regular program Miss Ethridge, who was called back to the stage for a number of curtain calls, gave as encores "La Comparsa" by Lecuona and by receding Chopin's "Prelude in A Major."

Miss Ethridge received the master's degree from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music in 1942. While there she was a pupil of Karol Lisbniewski, famous teacher.

She explained that Russia is divided into sixteen republics stating how all are separated as to geography, traditions, customs and yet are united by a strong patriotic feeling towards the United States. She explained briefly the contributions of Lenin and Stalin towards the development of the present progressive U. S. S. R. This proved to be a most interesting discussion of a very timely subject and was enjoyed by all present.—Reported.

A. A. U. W. To Meet Monday Night

The A. A. U. W. program, Monday night with Mr. R. L. Humber speaking on "The San Francisco Conference and the New World Order" will stress one of the great interests of the Association, world peace. It is sponsored by the International Relations Committee of the branch, of which Mrs. Humber is chairman. The meeting, to be held at the Sheppard Memorial library at 8 o'clock Monday night, will be an open one, with the public cordially invited. The whole A. A. U. group, and especially the International Relations committee, has actively supported the untiring campaign of education for a world federation carried on by Mr. Humber, and has watched with interest the result of his work. Through his efforts, thirteen states have already adopted a resolution requesting the United States to take the lead in forming a federation of the world, and the resolution is now pending in 15 more legislatures. The North Carolina legislature was the first political body ever to approve world federation. Other states that have followed the lead of North Carolina in adopting the resolution are New Jersey, Maryland, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Alabama, Tennessee, Utah, Oklahoma, New Hampshire and Florida. Mr. Humber has talked to many U. S. W. groups throughout the country, as well as practically all other types of groups. He has spoken recently to the High Point branch, to the A. A. U. W. of Philadelphia and all Pennsylvania, and to similar groups in New Jersey and Virginia.

His topic for Monday night is drawn from his experiences and observations at San Francisco, where he stayed throughout the conference, studying the progress of the work and discussing with delegates from many countries represented there his idea of a federal form of world government as the only truly workable government for the nations of the world. said estate will please make immediate settlement. Salvation Army To Observe Birthday

Eighty years of service to mankind will be celebrated by the Salvation Army on Sunday, November 18, when distinguished guests and leaders of the organization gather in Kansas City, Mo., for a two-hour commemorative service, said Major W. H. Stanley, head of the local post of the Salvation Army. Featuring the ceremonies will be messages from President Truman, U. S. military and naval leaders who are familiar with the war work of the Salvation Army, and from leaders of war-torn countries where the international organization today is helping in the giant task of rehabilitation. The main address will be given by General Evangeline Booth, daughter of the founder, William Booth. The retired international leader of the organization, General Evangeline Booth, was born in the same year that her father started his evangelistic work in the slums of London with the "Christian Mission"—later named the Salvation Army. Miss Booth will be 80 on Christmas Day. The Salvation Army has grown beyond all expectations of the founder and today it is operating in 110 countries and colonies all over the globe. Wherever a person goes, he will find the Salvation Army and its familiar uniform. In World War II members of the armed services found the organization in jungles, deserts, and lonely Pacific isles, working on 26 fronts. The Salvation Army operated 3,000 Red Shield huts and 1,000 mobile canteens, and gave 225,000,000 individual services to our own fighting men and those of our Allies. Salvation Army officers have served and are still serving as chaplains and many others have operated USO clubs. Today the services of the International Salvation Army are continuing with the occupation troops and in rehabilitating war-torn countries, as well as expanding the home-front program of material and spiritual aid, Major Stanley said.

The Curious Clue

Chapter 23

Luke Hale was just leaving his desk for the night when a bell captain called up to him.

"Mr. Hale," he gasped, "come quick. Somebody's been hurt—in his room."

"I was afraid of that," the manager exclaimed, as he raced after the bell captain down the corridor of the right wing of the hotel. "If Cobo isn't hurt, they'll get that fellow next, damn 'em."

As he came into the room, Seth staggered to his feet, then before Luke Hale could reach him, he reeled against the bed and dropped to the floor in a dead faint. Hale was at his side in an instant later.

"Get a doctor," he ordered, as he and the bell captain leaned over the unconscious man. "Blair may still be in the hotel. He's had a bad crack on the head. Hurry, and call Miss Van Tyne before you come back."

Very gently they lifted Seth upon the bed, and within a few minutes Dr. Blair was in the room taking complete charge. After an hour he said the blow was not dangerous, but that Seth would be a sick man for a while. As he slowly regained consciousness, great circles of light were making him so dizzy, Seth decided he would try and sleep.

Finally Gardner, whom Hale had called in just before the doctor arrived, walked over to the bed and some one tried to kill you."

"Never mind. You're here, Suzy. Hold tight. The room goes round and round, but don't you go with it. You stay here. I need you."

She took his hand and drew a chair up to the bedside.

"I'm right beside you, dear," she answered in a low voice. "Now you try to sleep."

Maybe it was the whirling lights in a room that had a fantastic glow of flashing white, dazzling light in his closed, blinded eyes, but suddenly Seth saw a blue white sparkle on Suzy's hand.

"You are wearing your ring tonight, Gold," he whispered, and then the blackness came back and everything else was wiped out of his consciousness.

A hard tropical rain made it easy for Seth to stay in bed for breakfast the next morning. His bandaged head was very sore, and Luke Hale only stayed a minute when he saw how he looked. About an hour later, Clarissa, the maid, came in. Her shiny black face showed shock at the sight that met her eyes.

"'o de lawd's sake! What's dis?" She gasped as she came up to the bed. "You-all hurt?"

"No, no, Clarissa. Just a headache. Go right ahead. Don't mind me. It's the heat, I guess."

"Aw jus saw dat Delgado in de hall singin' dat song, 'Unda dos Y tres que paso el mas chebero—he make me seek—' She snapped her fingers as Seth had seen Delgado snap his to accent the words as he went along. Clarissa was a good mimic.

"Dat girl, Dolores, she crazes about Delgado. I know her a long time. She good dancer, but no chance until he gave it to her. Then he treat her like a dog when Miss Van Tyne come. That makes Dolores mad."

"Dolores watch her and Delgado. Girls in Key West don't like other girls to take their man."

For the first time Seth understood Suzy's strange reluctance to tell these people of their engagement. She might have been so deeply involved she did not know what effect such an announcement might have. She must have known that girls like Dolores only want to make trouble for girls like Suzy. Looking out over the drenched garden, Seth began to understand. He was seeing things he had never seen before. As if she read his thoughts, Clarissa said in a sepulchral voice:

"I had a promotion something terrible was goin' to happen!"

Seth roused himself. "It's really a shame to interrupt an artist like yourself," he said abruptly, "but don't do any more in here, Clarissa. Everything's fine. Clarissa started to protest, but he firmly bundled her out of the door, broom, mop and all.

And as he closed the door behind the voluble Clarissa, Seth had a picture of that other world that had caught Suzy with its tropical glamour. A world of dancing which she loved—of rhumbas, song and congas; a world with a background of starlight over dark seas and moonlight on dazzling white sands; a world of siestas and the heavy sweet scent of flowers.

And then, for some reason, Seth suddenly remembered the ring which he had seen last night for the first time since his arrival in Key West. Suzy's engagement ring on her strong, tanned hand.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE BY COMMISSIONER

Under and by virtue of authority contained in that certain order signed by Hon. D. T. House, Jr., Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, on the first day of November, 1945, in that action pending in the Superior Court of Pitt County entitled "W. L. Abbott and wife, Annie Abbott, et al. vs. Parke," being an action to sell lands for division, the undersigned commissioner will offer for sale and sell at public auction for cash before the courthouse door in Pitt County, Greenville, North Carolina on Monday, the 3rd day of December 1945, at 12 o'clock noon the following described lands:

First Parcel: That west lot in the Town of Ayden, between First and Second Streets, and on the west side of Railroad Street, sometimes referred to as West Avenue, bounded on the south by the B. A. Jenkins store building, on the west by the Town Hall building, and on the east by Railroad Street, or West Avenue, and being the vacant lot the subject of the Town and the S. Jenkins store building.

The north wall of the Jenkins property and the south wall of the City Hall property are joint walls and the purchaser of this lot will acquire the right to join to said wall.

Second Parcel: That certain lot or parcel of land in the Town of Ayden, between First and Second Streets, and on the west side of Railroad Street, sometimes referred to as West Avenue, and being bounded on the south by the Town Hall, on the west by an alley, on the north by the old garage building, and on the east by Railroad Street, or West Avenue, and being the property now occupied by Tyndall, Boyd and Stroud Wholesale business.

The brick wall between the building on the above property and the garage building is a joint wall.

Third Parcel: That certain lot or parcel of land situate and being in Ayden Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, and on the south side of the road leading from the Lorenzo McLawhorn place across to the old Ayden and Kinston Road, and bounded on the north by said road and the lands of J. F. J. McLawhorn, on the east by the lands of Renno Edwards, on the south and west by the Patrick lands, known as lot No. 5 in the Susan E. McLawhorn division, more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a stake on the road leading from Lorenzo McLawhorn's place to the old Ayden and Kinston road, common corner between F. J. McLawhorn, Cat Stokes, J. F. J. McLawhorn, and this tract of land and running thence along the road S. 47-45 E. 338.5 feet to a stake, corner of Renno Edwards, thence along the Renno Edwards line, which is a path, S. 0-20 E. 691 feet; S. 6 E. 717.5 feet and S. 3-35 W. 213 feet to the Patrick corner, thence along the Patrick line, which is a path, N. 41-10 W. 1350 feet, to a stake in the field, thence along another of the Patrick lines, north 1323 feet to a stake on the ditch in J. F. J. McLawhorn's line, thence along the McLawhorn line N. 84-50 E. 910 feet to an old stump in a ditch, and thence N. 6-30 E. 271 feet to the beginning, containing 42 acres, more or less, and being known as a part of the Slaughter lands.

Fourth Parcel: That certain tract or parcel of woodland situate and being in Ayden Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, bounded on the north by the J. L. Brown land, on the east by the M. B. Allen land, on the south by D. T. McLawhorn and Jordan Nobles and on the west by Jordan Nobles and J. L. Brown and more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a stake center by pine and gum, M. B. Allen's corner in the McLawhorn line, and running thence with the M. B. Allen line, which is a marked line, N. 10-30 W. 1613 feet to a stake centered by two pines in the Brown line, thence with the Brown line S. 81 W. 680 feet to a stake with pine pointers, thence continuing with the Brown line S. 37 W. 1714 feet to a pine stump, J. L. Brown, Jordan Nobles and J. E. Tripp's corner, thence S. 55-50 E. along the Nobles line 672 feet to a stake, thence along the McLawhorn line, which is a marked line, S. 79-30 E. 1395 feet to the beginning, containing 50 acres, more or less, and is known as a part of the Bowie woods.

The descriptions of the last two parcels are taken from a map of survey made by W. C. Dresbach in 1927.

These lands are being sold for the purpose of making division between the several parties and the purchaser will be required to deposit ten per cent (10 per cent) of the amount of bid on day of sale to show good faith.

This the first day of November, 1945.

Salute to American Women

Pocahontas has long been remembered for her courage and daring which saved John Smith's life. The annals of World War II are full of examples of women's courage and their devotion to their fellow men. America's pride in their record of war service is only equalled by her hope that women will work to keep peace as they have worked to bring peace. We are glad that the loaf we make had a real part in the war, providing a low-cost, ready-to-serve food, enjoyed at every meal in countless American homes.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Croemulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Croemulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time-tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Croemulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly eases the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

We are proud that the women of this community, served so long by our bakery, gave generously of their time and strength to the war effort. It is a privilege for us to continue to serve them to the best of our ability.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

GETTING THE WEEDS IN TIME

Lawn experts tell us that a generous sowing of food fertilizer over the lawn in late fall will do a lot to keep it from being overrun with weeds the next spring. If the good grass has plenty of food to tide it over the winter and to encourage it in its growth in the spring, it will crowd any of them out of existence.

This is the old principle over again of making the good things in life so vigorous that the evil things do not have a chance. In fact, the most unsatisfactory way to deal with weeds is to be eternally pulling them out by the roots. They may get such headway that that is the only thing left to do. But the best way is not to let them get started at all; or, if they do get started, crowd them out with a healthy growth of good grass. And the way to get a good crop of grass is to see that it gets plenty of food.

In the baptismal service, parents promise to bring up their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. The word "nurture" means "feeding." The way to make sure that a child's soul will be healthy in adult life is to keep the soul adequately fed during childhood.

Millions of children in this country are receiving no religious training whatsoever. Most of them have received baptism, but the parents are simply disregarding their baptismal vows. This augurs alarmingly for the future of America.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

By JAMES J. STREIBIG

(Substituting for Jack Stinnett) Washington—It took a war to get the federal government started to ward coordination of aviation policy. And then it took a war to get it started, inching one toe ahead of the other until at last the word was given out—an Air Coordinating Committee (ACC) had been in existence since March 27.

Official disclosure of this long delayed move to bring together the numerous agencies which deal with aviation created an almost imperceptible stir, although there has been much discussion in recent years of the need for it. Several things may have contributed to the calm with which the announcement was accepted:

1. The organization is without any power beyond the right to offer recommendations.
2. Its membership includes but five government agencies.
3. Its structure is built on nothing more than the exchange of a memorandum.
4. Its existence was no more of a secret than most activities of its kind.

However, from a long range point of view, the ACC may be an important milestone in the nation's air history. First of all, it is a beginning, and if ACC works out it may develop a full scale body. Just now its substance adds up to that memorandum, a secretary and two stenographers.

The State, War, Navy and Commerce Department and the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) are members of the ACC. The CAB got on the committee at its own suggestion six weeks after the four departments had set up the group for themselves.

Practically every government agency has something to do with aviation, but the five members of the ACC represent the great bulk of interest.

Congress has not been any more active in giving flying special treatment than has the executive branch. Neither the Senate nor the House has an aviation committee. A move to establish one in the House a couple of years ago ran into heavy opposition from the Air Transport Industry.

Uncovering the ACC came at a time when there is definite interest in the establishment of something like the New Deal. That board

Late yesterday, Senator Tydings (D-Md) sailed into the debate with a demand that Mr. Truman be allowed to do a real job for economy's sake.

Tydings said not a single agency ought to be exempted from reorganization. He declared that the Senate, by voting to exempt the Maritime Commission and other agencies, was tying the President's hands and feet, blindfolding him, and stuffing cotton in his ears.

Two Republicans, Taft of Ohio and Donnell of Missouri, contended Tydings was inconsistent because in 1939 he opposed a similar grant of authority to the late President Roosevelt.

Tydings said Taft and Donnell were more inconsistent than he, because they demanded economy and yet sought to tie Mr. Truman's hands.

Sharp words were exchanged. Tydings several times refused to yield the floor to Donnell, except for "a brief comment." He said if he yielded for more than that, Donnell might speak for half an hour. Donnell shouted, "I resent that."

NOTICE OF SALE OF LANDS BY COMMISSIONER

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain order made by Hon. D. T. House, Jr., Clerk of Superior Court of Pitt County on the 7th day of November, 1945 in that certain special proceeding pending in the Superior Court of Pitt County, entitled "Sally Proctor et als vs. W. L. Smith et als," being an action to sell lands for division, the undersigned commissioner will offer for sale and sell at public auction for cash before the courthouse door in Greenville, North Carolina, on Monday, the 10th Day of December 1945, at 12 o'clock noon the following described lands:

First Parcel: A certain tract or parcel of land in Pitt County, North Carolina and bounded as follows: Lying and being on the south side of Tar River and in Chicod Township, beginning at a lightwood stake on the side of the new road and runs as follows: S. 20 E. 152 poles to a maple in the run of Second Branch, thence running up the Branch with the run to a pine at the head of said branch, then N. 35 W. 160 poles to a pine stump, then S. 55 W. 168 poles to the first station, containing by survey 190 acres, more or less, and being part of the land owned by John A. Smith, deceased, and known as the Haddock land, and being the same land that was conveyed by James A. Smith to Emma C. Smith by deed recorded in the Public Registry of Pitt County in Book M-5 at page 34, and known as lot No. 1 in the division of the

John A. Smith lands, reference being had to said division recorded in book M-5 at page 45 of the Pitt County Registry.

Second Parcel: Bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a long leaf pine, Henry Smith's patent corner, and runs S. 65 E. 197 poles to the Thoroughfare Swamp to a stake in the run or said Swamp to a drain, then up the drain to a marked pine, then N. 61 W. 50 poles, then N. 20 E. 46 poles, then N. 63 W. 134 poles to a marked pine in the center of three pines at the head of Second Branch, then S. 20 W. 94 poles, then S. 60 E. 137 poles to the first station, containing 165 acres, more or less, and being lot No. 6 in the division of the John A. Smith land, and being the same lot allotted to Lovie C. Smith in the John A. Smith division of land.

Third Parcel: That certain tract or parcel of land situate and being in Indian Well Swamp, on the east side of the county road that leads from Harvey Mills' stock the Swamp to the Dump Stocks place, bounded by the Dennis Smith lands, the Stocks lands and others, containing 42 acres, more or less.

These lands are being sold for the purpose of making division between the several parties. The purchaser will be required to deposit ten per cent of the amount of sale to show good faith.

This the 7th day of November 1945.

Grain Market - Chicago, Nov. 16-(AP)-There was not much buying interest in grain futures today and most prices slipped.

There were occasional rallies from the low points and some buying in the busy oats pit pushed prices above the previous close at times.

Trade authorities' belief that parity legislation enactment is a long way off has dried up public enthusiasm in the market.

Prices rallied near the end and wheat closed unchanged to 1/4 higher than the previous finish. December $1.80 1/2 ceiling, corn was unchanged at $1.18 1/4 ceilings, oats were up 1/4 to 1/2, December 74-74 1/2, rye was unchanged to 1/4 cents higher, December $1.82-$1.82 1/2, and barley was off 1/4 to 1/2, December $1.20 1/2.

New York Cotton - New York, Nov. 16-(AP)-Cotton futures opened 15 cents a bale higher to 5 lower.

Futures closed 15 cents a bale higher to 60 lower.

FINAL GAME HERE TONIGHT

Phantoms Play Kinston At Guy Smith Stadium

By DAVE CLARK
Sixteen seniors will be making their final high school football appearance tonight in Guy Smith stadium when the Green Phantoms clash with the Kinston Red Devils in the Greens' finale for 1945. Kick-off time is 8 o'clock.

Should the Phantoms emerge victorious tonight, they will end the season with an eight won, three lost record.

They will naturally be favored over the Devils by virtue of their 13-0 win over them a few weeks back. However, Coach Farley stressed the fact in yesterday's practice that the Kinston team is a strong outfit and one not to be taken lightly, especially since two of their best line men who were out in the first Greenville game, are back in action.

As far as manpower is concerned, the Phantoms are in top shape however they could use more practice since the rain interfered with Wednesday's scrimmage session.

The Greens, as far as it is known in these quarters, are back in action.

READY TO HIT AND RUN NOW

Greenville Baseball Directors Expect Good Season

By CHESTER WALSH
At a meeting of the directors of the Greenville Baseball Club at Reasland place on the Bethel highway last night, sentiment appeared to be for the John Ivey Smith, former professional ball player, was right when he said, "Greenville is ready now to hit and run!"

It was an enthusiastic meeting and from what President Guy V. Smith said, Greenville is going to have a bang-up baseball club when the Opatal Plains League opens the season early next May.

Ty Wagner, former college and professional baseball star, in an inspiring short talk said 1946 is going to be a great year for baseball in Greenville.

Herman H. Duncan, another former college and professional player, spoke in similar vein.

Ed E. Rawl, vice-president of the Carolina Sales Corporation, outlined a plan for financing the club that will click in a big way, President Smith said.

President Smith said he is looking around for a manager for the club, and hopes to make some announcement about this in the near future. He mentioned the meeting of the Coastal Plains League in Fayetteville on January 16, when a schedule will be adopted. Incidentally, all receipts from holiday games will be pooled by the league and equally divided among the eight clubs. It was stated that club officials will seek cooperation from the Board of Aldermen to make repairs at Guy Smith Stadium.

The Executive Committee appointed last night is composed of the following: Ty Wagner, Herman H. Duncan, Reynolds May, William H. "Bill" Smith and John G. Clark. This committee, with President Smith and Secretary Dave Moore, Jr., will direct the affairs of the club.

Members of the Finance Committee are J. Hicks Corey, H. Glenn Scott, V. A. Merritt and J. Bryan Brown.

A baseball club in Greenville will be a great community asset—it will boost the town in a big way and help the tobacco market, businessmen at the meeting said. After being out of baseball four years the fans here will support a good ball club, it was asserted.

Automobile Races At Wilson Sunday

Wilson, Nov. 15—There promises to be a "grudge" race on the Wilson Fair Grounds half-mile track Sunday the 18th when Sam Nunis directs the second auto race program of Eastern Carolina this season there for the American Legion.

Nunis recently presented the Rocky Mount races on Sunday, the 11th of November when a record attendance of 4,000 persons saw "Indian" Joe Chitwood grab the feature and 1945 Championship Crown from Deb Snyder.

Another Civil Term Of Court Next Week

WINNER

Judge Charles Everett Thompson of Elizabeth City will have very little to do when he convenes a civil term of Superior Court here next Monday. About a score of divorce cases are on the calendar for hearing, but not more than half the divorce actions are tried the week they are scheduled, the record shows. There appears to be no important civil actions on the calendar now. It is understood that a majority of the lawyers were in favor of not holding this civil term. In the past, many civil terms of court were convened, jurors ordered to appear, a few divorce cases were tried, some judgments signed and court adjourned shortly after convening.

Superior Court has been in session this year more than at any time in the memory of court officials. Two long special criminal terms were held this year, and there has been one civil term of court after another.

Farmville Man New Head Duke Alumni

The Duke University Alumni and Alumnae held their annual meeting last night at the Third Street School lunch room. W. I. Bissett of Grifton, the president, presided.

Tommy Ryan of Farmville was elected president for the coming year. Robert P. Resberry of Grifton was named vice-president and Mrs. S. B. Underwood, Jr., of Greenville secretary and treasurer.

Charley Dukes of the General Alumni office was unavoidably detained and could not attend the dinner.

A turkey dinner was served. June H. Rose was toastmaster.

At the conclusion of the dinner a technical film of this year's Duke-Alabama Sugar Bowl football game was shown to the group and to the public in Third Street School auditorium.

Information About Enlisting In Army

Sgt. James M. Crisp, station commander of Greenville Recruiting Station, called special attention today to the fact that November 21 is the deadline for men who were discharged from the Army between May 12 and November 1 of this year to re-enlist with full advantages offered by the Armed Forces Recruitment Act of 1945. He stressed that all veterans think seriously of the offered advantages before too late to complete enlistment prior to November 21.

Disputes from Tel Aviv declared the city was quiet last night as British armored cars and troops of the reinforced British Sixth Airborne Division patrolled the streets enforcing a strict curfew. Maj. Gen. E. L. Monk, commander of the Sixth, said the curfew probably would be lifted today.

Several hundred persons were reported arrested, however, before the termination of the disturbances, which were variously estimated to have caused three to five deaths and resulted in injuries to approximately 100. The dead were all Jews.

New emergency regulations published last night in the official gazette, put new teeth in the British campaign to halt illegal immigration. The regulations empowered any British soldier, Palestine police officer or village headman to arrest any person they reasonably suspected of being an illegal immigrant and gave police officers power to board and inspect ships or planes suspected of carrying smuggled immigrants.

Publication of the regulations followed the issuing of a "punishment by death" warning to rioters yesterday.

Communists Fire On Train Of Marines

Shanghai, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The U. S. China theater headquarters reported today that a train bearing Maj. Gen. Dewitt Peck, First Marine Division commander, was under fire from a Communist occupied North China village yesterday.

General Peck, uninjured, requested that U. S. planes strafe the village if the firing continued, headquarters disclosed.

Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commanding U. S. forces in China, in a carefully worded reply authorized "appropriate military action," after considerable warning to the village.

GREENVILLE BASEBALL

By CHESTER WALSH
At a meeting of the directors of the Greenville Baseball Club at Reasland place on the Bethel highway last night, sentiment appeared to be for the John Ivey Smith, former professional ball player, was right when he said, "Greenville is ready now to hit and run!"

It was an enthusiastic meeting and from what President Guy V. Smith said, Greenville is going to have a bang-up baseball club when the Opatal Plains League opens the season early next May.

Ty Wagner, former college and professional baseball star, in an inspiring short talk said 1946 is going to be a great year for baseball in Greenville.

Herman H. Duncan, another former college and professional player, spoke in similar vein.

Ed E. Rawl, vice-president of the Carolina Sales Corporation, outlined a plan for financing the club that will click in a big way, President Smith said.

President Smith said he is looking around for a manager for the club, and hopes to make some announcement about this in the near future. He mentioned the meeting of the Coastal Plains League in Fayetteville on January 16, when a schedule will be adopted. Incidentally, all receipts from holiday games will be pooled by the league and equally divided among the eight clubs. It was stated that club officials will seek cooperation from the Board of Aldermen to make repairs at Guy Smith Stadium.

The Executive Committee appointed last night is composed of the following: Ty Wagner, Herman H. Duncan, Reynolds May, William H. "Bill" Smith and John G. Clark. This committee, with President Smith and Secretary Dave Moore, Jr., will direct the affairs of the club.

Members of the Finance Committee are J. Hicks Corey, H. Glenn Scott, V. A. Merritt and J. Bryan Brown.

A baseball club in Greenville will be a great community asset—it will boost the town in a big way and help the tobacco market, businessmen at the meeting said. After being out of baseball four years the fans here will support a good ball club, it was asserted.

Automobile Races At Wilson Sunday

Wilson, Nov. 15—There promises to be a "grudge" race on the Wilson Fair Grounds half-mile track Sunday the 18th when Sam Nunis directs the second auto race program of Eastern Carolina this season there for the American Legion.

Nunis recently presented the Rocky Mount races on Sunday, the 11th of November when a record attendance of 4,000 persons saw "Indian" Joe Chitwood grab the feature and 1945 Championship Crown from Deb Snyder.

Information About Enlisting In Army

Sgt. James M. Crisp, station commander of Greenville Recruiting Station, called special attention today to the fact that November 21 is the deadline for men who were discharged from the Army between May 12 and November 1 of this year to re-enlist with full advantages offered by the Armed Forces Recruitment Act of 1945. He stressed that all veterans think seriously of the offered advantages before too late to complete enlistment prior to November 21.

After this date, he pointed out, a man must enlist in the regular Army within 20 days of his discharge to receive full benefit of the offered opportunities.

For the benefit of those men who, having been discharged between May 12 and November 1, must make an immediate decision, Sgt. Crisp reviewed the main provisions of recent regulations:

1. Enlistments for one and one half, two, or three years are now authorized.

2. Men re-enlisting retain their present grades, if they re-enlist within twenty days after discharge and before February 1, 1946. The same applies to men who were discharged between May 12 and November 1, 1945 who re-enlist before November 21, 1945.

3. Up to 90 days' paid furlough, depending on length of service.

4. An increase in the re-enlistment bonus to $50.00 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.

5. Option to retire at half pay after twenty years' service — or three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. All previous active federal
