Labor Conferees In Disagreement

Labor - Management Conference Enters Third Week Still Facing What Business Delegate Called Truly Monumental Disagreements

By STERLING F. GREEN Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The labor-management conference entered its third week today still facing what one business delegate called "truly monumental" disagreements but reportedly ready to accept voluntary arbitration as one remedy for industrial strike.

Six working committees—each assigned a specific problem of industrial relations—were due to submit their first progress reports to the conference executive committee today.

Some said they were ready with final recommendations. But none of the reports is expected to go through the executive committee and then through actual conference debate without some alteration.

Business action, the weekly report of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday the conference appeared to be moving toward final agreement on policies that should serve to "essen industrial strike."

Both sides were definitely in favor of collective bargaining, the publication said, "and both appeared ready to accept voluntary arbitration of disputes and grievances arising under the terms of a labor-management contract."

"Such arbitration should go far toward preventing strikes and lockouts growing out of differing interpretations of a contract," it added. Despite this optimism, the arbitration of disputes arising under existing contracts would eliminate only one cause of work stoppages and leave many openings for strikes, lockout, boycotts and picketing.

Two officials of the National Association of Manufacturers—neither willing to be quoted by name—have declared for instance that they would oppose the arbitration of wage disputes or of disciplinary cases. No third party should settle a wage-increase question, they held, and disciplinary measures against employees should be left strictly to management decision.

John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers Journal said editorially meanwhile that the conference will not be able to arrive at a formula for elimination of strikes and lockouts "all" for them in a democracy.

The committee on negotiation of initial collective agreements already (Continued on page four)

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Alexander Sokolov, writing in the Moscow trade union magazine "New Times" declares that the atomic bomb "has served as a signal for incalculable reactionaries of the whole world to begin a riotous agitation against the Soviet Union."

This is the most outspoken comment to come from Russia regarding the feeling there about the bomb, and it serves to emphasize the delicacy of the present international situation. Relations among the Big Three—between Russia on the one hand and the Western Allies on the other—continue to be uncomfortable.

There are serious differences of opinion and there are suspicions which are doing great damage to cooperation. Of course, the atomic bomb isn't the only matter of difference between the Anglo-American combination and Russia. There are the arguments about Japan, and about Bulgaria and Romania. And there are other difficulties.

Differences are bad enough, but they might be susceptible of solution if they hadn't given rise to a crop of suspicions. Suspicions are like weeds—they bore in and destroy trust before one is aware they are there.

One begins to wonder seriously

HEALTH PLAN OF PRESIDENT

White House Gives Official Summary Of Health Program

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—President Truman today submitted to Congress a five-point national health program including a compulsory insurance system.

The compulsory insurance program, which the White House said is not socialized medicine, would call for prepayment of costs through premiums adjusted to meet the income of the people generally.

The White House explained, in an accompanying statement, that patients would remain free to select their doctors, that doctors could accept or reject patients and that hospitals "would continue to manage their own services." The other points in the President's message called for:

- 1. Federal aid for construction of hospitals, health centers and other facilities.
2. Expansion of public health maternal and child health services.
3. Federal aid for more adequate professional education and research with emphasis on the cause, prevention and cure of cancer and mental illnesses.
4. Disability insurance to protect families by guaranteeing some income when workers are sick or permanently disabled.

"We should resolve now," the President told Congress, "that the health of this nation is a national concern; that financial barriers in the way of attaining health shall be removed; that the health of all its citizens deserve the help of all the nation."

He said that his five-point program covered the five basic problems "which we must attack vigorously if we would reach the health objectives of our economic bill of rights."

The President recommended that the problem of making necessary medical and hospital services available to all the people be solved "by distributing the costs through expansion of our existing compulsory social insurance system."

Asserting this "is not socialized medicine," the President added "Everyone who carries fire insurance knows how the law of averages is made to work so as to spread the risk, and to benefit the insured who actually suffers the loss."

"If instead of the costs of sickness being paid only by those who get sick, all the people—sick and well—were requested to pay premiums into an insurance fund, the pool of funds thus created would enable all who do fall sick to be adequately served without overburdening anyone."

The system of prepayment, the President said, should cover medical, hospital nursing and laboratory services and should "also cover dental care—as fully and for as many of the population as the available professional personnel and the financial resources of the system permit."

The President said the system must be highly decentralized in administration, although the health (Continued on page four) whether the Allies, having won the war through vast sacrifices, are about to throw the victory away. It's strange that Allies who stood shoulder-to-shoulder during the terrible years of conflict on the battlefield, should now find it so hard to reconcile their differences.

Coming to work this morning I was talking about the position with my friend Pat Barnes—the entertainer you hear regularly over the air. Pat reminded me that this is the anniversary of Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg, and that this immortal address contains food for thought in the present critical situation. You well know the lines: "It is for us the living to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they gave their last full measure of devotion. x x x."

Was all the sacrifice of the war waste effort? It hadn't seemed so up to this point, but the Allied difficulties certainly are creating a serious situation. The consensus is that only way to relief this is for all the Allies to get together and table their cards—say what they want for (Continued on page four)

King, Eisenhower Tell Views To Congressmen

Chief Admiral Ernest J. King, (left) the ranking officer of the U. S. Navy, gestures as he tells his views on naval affairs to the House Military Committee in Washington. He said the navy is so weakened by demoralization that it could not fight a major battle now. At the same time in another hearing on Capitol Hill, Dwight D. Eisenhower (right), supreme Allied commander in the European war, peers over his spectacles and points to a chart in testimony before the Senate Military Affairs Committee to advocate merger of the armed forces into a single defense department. Without a unified command, he said, "we may enter into another emergency, in a time to come, as we did at Pearl Harbor." (AP Wirephotos).

NAZI LEADERS PAYING PRICE

Two Suicide; One Has Softening Of Brain; One, Brain Hemorrhage

By GEORGE TUCKER Nuernberg, Germany, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Ernest Kaltenbrunner, former chief of the Nazi Security Police, suffered a brain hemorrhage in his cell last night, but a spokesman for the U. S. prosecutor's office said today he would have to answer to charges some time before the International War Crimes Tribunal.

An indication that Kaltenbrunner would not be present at the scheduled opening tomorrow of the trial of top flight Nazis came from physicians at the 116th U. S. Army Hospital, where he was rushed for treatment. The doctors said he "was finished" with the trial, at least temporarily.

The spokesman in the office of Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor, said the court itself would decide whether Kaltenbrunner would be tried at a later date when his condition improved or be brought into the trial. The prosecution regards Kaltenbrunner as the No. 4 defendant among the list of indicted Nazis.

France and the Soviet Union are pressing for a postponement of the trial. If it opens on schedule there may be only 19 of the 24 Nazis listed in the original indictment on hand.

Gustav Krupp Von Bohlen Und Halbach, industrialist, is suffering from softening of the brain and has been excused. Robert Ley, labor front boss, committed suicide several weeks ago in his cell. Martin Bormann, No. 2 Nazi and Adolf Hitler's deputy, is officially listed as missing and will be tried in absentia. (Continued on page four)

Post War Automobile Prices Up And Down

Some New Cars Will Cost Public A Little Less Than Pre-War Models; Others A Little More

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—New General Motors cars will cost the public a little less than pre-war models, while prices for Ford's Studebakers and Chrysler-made autos will be somewhat higher.

That's the way OPA Administrator Chester Bowles sums it up in the first of his long-awaited announcements on price ceilings for the cars now trickling into showrooms.

The big surprise of Bowles' announcement is that GM-built Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles, and Buicks and Cadillacs will sell at retail for an average of 25 per cent less than in January, 1942.

Some increases had been expected but there had been no hint of price cuts.

The retail boosts are one per cent for Chrysler and that company's other makes—Plymouth, Dodge and DeSoto; two per cent for Fords, and nine per cent for Studebaker.

In the case of Ford, for example, the retail ceiling for a new deluxe eight-cylinder Tudor sedan is now $882 at the factory. The 1942 ceiling was $850.

OPA said that because of apparent model changes it had no basis at this time for comparison of any except Ford prices.

Only a few comparisons of 1942 auto price ceilings and those for new cars can be made on the basis of OPA's first announcement.

Ford and Studebaker thus far are the only companies to receive specific ceilings. And the ceilings cover only a few models built by these companies.

For other cars, OPA simply gave overall percentages of increase or decrease without relating the percentages to individual models.

In the case of Ford, here are the comparisons which can be made: DeLuxe eight-cylinder—Tudor Sedan, $882 is the retail ceiling price at the factory, as compared with $850 in 1942; Ford sedan, $931 compared with $885; three-passenger coupe $834, compared with $815.

Super DeLuxe eight-cylinder—Tudor sedan, $940, compared with $895; Fordor sedan, $989, compared $930; Sedan coupe, $977, compared with $920; three-passenger coupe, $991, compared with $860.

OPA prices were made for Studebakers, but it said there is no basis for comparing these with models listed in the 1942 price chart. Explaining the agency said the new models are not similar to those of four years ago.

Here are retail prices assigned for Studebakers: Four-door cruising sedan, $967; two-door club sedan, $918; five-passenger double date coupe, $916; three-passenger business coupe, $875.

These are all retail factory prices, which means that, as always, they will cost more in showrooms when federal tax, transportation costs and preparation and handling charges have been added.

The federal tax varies with the car and the model, while the transportation charge depends on the distance from factory to show room.

Here's one example of how, in 1942, factory prices differed from prices the public paid: The factory retail price for an eight-cylinder Ford DeLuxe Tudor (Continued on page four)

Iranians Revolting Against Russians

Armed Forces Of Separatist Democratic Party In Revolt Against Soviet Controlled Iranian Government Authority In Soviet Garrisoned Territory

Tehran, Iran, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Armed members of the Separatist democratic party—revolting against Iranian government authority in territory garrisoned by Soviet troops—were reported today to be advancing down the 230-mile long railway from Mianeh to Tehran.

Three towns with Iranian garrisons were reported to have been isolated in two days of fighting in the mountainous northern province of Azerbaijan. The insurgents also were said to be threatening Zenjan, and Kazvin, respectively 165 and 80 miles northwest of Tehran.

A high ranking Iranian officer described the situation as "desperate."

An Iranian government spokesman said the insurgents' drive toward the nation's capital was launched after the Separatists seized control of Mianeh. One Iranian gendarme captain, four soldiers and two railway station employes were killed, he added.

Separatist forces in Mianeh severed communications with both Tehran and Tabriz, Azerbaijan province capital 90 miles to the northwest, the spokesman declared. He explained that the insurgents were dressed in civilian clothes.

The Iranian council of ministers instructed War Minister Gen. Riazi and Chief of Staff Gen. Ibrahim Arfa to ask the Russian military attaché for an explanation of the situation. The Soviet charge d'affaires is ill. The Soviet attaché promised to refer the request to Gen. Sovietniky, commander in chief of Russian forces in Iran.

The Iranian spokesman said rifles and machineguns were distributed to the Separatists from trucks bearing Russian army insignia. There was no indication that Russian troops were manning the trucks.

Iranians in the capital said they understood that the weapons wielded by the insurgents were considered part of 100,000 Iranian rifles and machineguns handed over to the Russians when Red army troops entered Iran in 1941.

Iranians have contended that Russian forces have prohibited Iran from sending gendarme reinforcements into the area where the outbreak occurred.

Indonesian Station Talking British War

By RALPH MORTON Batavia, Java, Nov. 19.—(AP)—An extremist Indonesian radio station called today for "war on the British" and asked Indonesian boys to reinforce the ranks of the hardpressed native Nationalists at Semarang, scene of the latest outbreak on troubled Java.

A dispatch from embattled Soerabaya said the British had reported evidence that the Indonesians were endeavoring to manufacture bombs and weapons on a small scale there. Sporadic fighting continued in Batavia.

A British communique said the situation in Central Java "gives cause for anxiety in view of the extremely aggressive attitude of local (Nationalist) extremists both in Semarang and Jogjakarta."

Captured Forces Burned By Japs

By DEAN SCHEDLER Manila, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The story of how 150 captured U. S. soldiers were burned to death in a makeshift shelter, drenched with gasoline and set afire was told today at Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's war crimes trial.

Signed documents were the mute witnesses. The nine survivors of that Japanese orgy of flame, bullets and bayonets long since have left the Philippines.

The depositions said the Americans, captured in the Philippines fighting, were working on the airfield on Palawan Island southwest of Luzon last December 15, their Japanese guards ordered them into the shelters at noon.

Into the packed shelters the Japanese poured gasoline, set it afire, then shot and bayoneted those who attempted to escape. But nine managed to get away into the jungles and were saved by guerrillas.

More Leaders Now Arrested

Japanese War Leaders Being Rapidly Apprehended; Eleven Yester

Tokyo, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Eleven Japanese war leaders, including generals accused of responsibility for the rape of Nanking, the Mukden incident and the bombing of the U. S. gunboat Panay, were ordered arrested today.

Simultaneously, headquarters announced that 57 more accused Japanese war criminals—mostly minor characters charged with brutalities against war prisoners—were in custody.

General MacArthur directed that the 11 be delivered to Sugamo prison camp in Tokyo.

Investigators Learn That Adm. Osami Nagano Has Assumed Full Responsibility For The Attack On The Hawaiian Bastion

Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Former Secretary of State Hull may testify this week before the congressional committee investigating the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Julie M. Hannaford, assistant counsel, told reporters today that Hull has been asked to follow Admiral J. O. Richardson to the witness stand. The former cabinet officer, he said, will appear if his health permits.

The committee began its fourth day of hearings by going over with Rear Adm. T. B. Inglis the summary of information on which he based a summary given the group Saturday of Japan's version of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Under questioning by Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn), Inglis said there is no proof that two observation seaplanes launched by the Japanese task force reached Pearl Harbor an hour before the attacking planes.

The original draft of Inglis' statement to the committee Saturday included the statement that two seaplanes "reached their destination" an hour ahead of the actual force. But the witness said today this was struck out on the basis of information received from Navy sources on Friday night.

In response to questions by Senator Lucas (D-Ill), Inglis said that information on the Japanese version of the attack, received through investigations made by subordinates of General MacArthur, tallied largely with data gathered by navy inquirers.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) asked whether records of Honolulu commercial broadcasting stations during the attack period are available. Inglis testified last week no proof had been found to substantiate a Japanese report that code messages had been sent through these programs to the approaching Japanese fleet.

The witness said the navy's best information was that the records in question were turned over to a Major Putnam of the Army. Putnam was not otherwise identified. Col. Bernard Thielen, representing the War Department, said he personally had no knowledge of where the records may be.

The Pearl Harbor investigating committee learned today that Adm. Osami Nagano, chief of the Japanese naval general staff, testified recently at Tokyo that he alone decided on November 3, 1941—to attack the Hawaiian bastion.

New Car Prices

By JAMES MARLOW Washington, Nov. 19.—(AP)—This explaining where you'll figure in the new car prices just announced. OPA is allowing automakers—generally—to charge four to 12 per cent more for the new cars than they got in 1942.

That's what they'll charge the dealer when he buys them. But when you buy from the dealer the price will be only one to nine per cent higher.

In some cases the manufacturers' price, and therefore the dealer's price, will be lower than in 1942.

The reason the dealer will charge you a smaller percentage of increase than he pays the manufacturer is this: OPA is forcing dealers to absorb some of the higher prices allowed the manufacturers. OPA is allowing automakers increases on grounds that production costs are higher than in 1941.

This is why OPA thinks it's fair to make dealers absorb a chunk of the increase: Before the war, dealers' profit marking on selling new cars was about 24 per cent.

For example: A dealer paid $760 for a new car when he bought it from a manufacturer in 1942 and sold it for $1,000. This was a profit margin of 24 per cent, or $240. (None of this includes government tax, cost of transportation and so on, all of which adds to the retail price.)

But that 24 per cent ($240) wasn't a clear profit of $240. Most dealers, in selling a new car, had to take a used car in as a trade-in.

Generally they allowed a customer more on a trade-in than they lost on that part of the deal. It cut their profit from 24 per cent ($240) to 11.5 per cent ($115).

OPA says further that, when other costs like salesmen's commissions and rent were taken into account a dealer made a net profit of only 1.07 per cent on every new car sold.

Now OPA says the picture is changed. That because of the car scarcity there will be fewer used cars traded in and dealers will not have to make such generous allowances. For this reason, OPA says, a dealer who now had a 24 per cent profit margin would really have a full profit instead of only 11.5 per cent as before the war after he took a trade-in loss. So—to keep prices down and to force dealers to absorb some of the new car increase, OPA has told the dealers their pre-war profit (Continued on page four)

Music was the motif for decorations and program at the Sophomore-Senior dance at the Wright building, East Carolina Teachers' College, on Saturday evening. Woody Hayes and his orchestra played from a stage with a backdrop bearing a giant music staff complete with notes. Gay decorations in tuschia, blue, yellow, and white made the scene attractive.

The figure was led by the two class presidents and their escorts—Katie Earle Owen of Roseboro with James Briley of Bethel and Betty Jervis of Norfolk, Virginia, with Charles Duthie of Princeton, New Jersey. Nineteen couples taking part came to the center of the dance floor through a huge drum and stood in a formation representing an eighth note.

Delightful Euchre Party
On Friday afternoon Mrs. R. J. Cobb entertained handsomely at progressive euchre. The occasion is one to be remembered as one of the nicest affairs ever held here.

The home was very beautifully decorated with potted plants, ferns and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Cobb wearing a gown of white silk with real lace trimmings received at the front hall. The punch bowl was the great attraction in the hall, a beautiful china bowl hand painted, back of the bowl the flowers in between the shaded candle stocks made a most beautiful scene. Miss Pattie Skinner presided at same.

The dining room decorations were in red and the beautiful American Beauty roses tastefully arranged on the table and banked in profusion in front of and on the mantle upon an inviting appetite upon entering. The menu was as follows: Oysters on half shell, pickles, French salad served from the hull of an orange, cheese straws, champagne wafers, olives, club sandwiches and coffee.

Wells-Sheffield
Suffolk, Nov. 17—The First Baptist Church of Suffolk, was the scene Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock of a wedding of unusual beauty and interest when Miss Mildred Leigh Sheffield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tilton Sheffield, of Suffolk, became the bride of Victor Epps Wells, Jr., of Richmond, son of Mrs. Victor Epps Wells, of Richmond, and the late Mr. Wells. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. G. Council, Jr., of Ticonderoga, N. Y., cousin of the bride in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with palms, fern and cathedral candles with white chrysanthemums and festoons of smilax.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Claudia Brinkley Jacobs, who used the Lohengrin Bridal Chorus as a processional and the Mendelssohn Wedding March as a recessional. Just before the service Miss Mary Foyd Crumpler sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory slipper satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long-fitted sleeves ending in points at the hands.

The full skirt of ivory satin extended into a court train. Her full-length veil of imported illusion and pendants lace, fell from a cap of the same lace with Stephanotis blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Kolner Vaughan, of Richmond, honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. John Milton Beale and Mrs. Charles Gray Arnfield, Jr., of Franklin, cousins of the bride. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Council, of Franklin, cousin of the bride, and Miss Mary Hundley, of Suffolk. The matron of honor and bridesmaids wore gowns of white tulle with sweetheart necklines, long sleeves, basque bodices and full skirts. They wore matching Juliet caps and carried large bouquets of American Beauty roses. Junior bridesmaids were attired in gowns of white net and taffeta and carried small bouquets of American Beauty roses.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, for the bridal party and families and out-of-town guests. The Sheffield home was decorated in white chrysanthemums and ferns.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Wells left for a wedding trip to The Homestead, Hot Springs. The bride wore for a traveling costume a suit of black gabardine with black accessories with a corsage of white orchids.

The King's Daughters Meet
The Patient Circle met with Mrs. Virginia Perkins November 13 with 40 members present and three visitors. The president opened the meeting with the prayer of the order. Mrs. Perkins gave a very lovely devotional taken from St. John, 4th chapter 1st to 19th verses. Jesus talks to a woman of Samaria and reveals himself to her. In the absence of the secretary Mrs. J. H. Randolph acted in her place.

The treasurer called the roll and dues were collected. Several needy cases were reported and discussed. The emergency committee was instructed to look after the same. Mrs. Person gave a very interesting program on the first Thanksgiving. She passed pictures which were very instructive. She also read George Washington's first proclamation of Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Person also read an article from the Silver Cross, the official organ of the order written by Mrs. Henry S. Ely on Thanksgiving. The meeting adjourned. The hostess served ice cream and cookies. Every one as usual enjoyed the meeting and refreshments.—Reported.

Celebrates Birthday
Miss Sheila Dawn Wooten was honored on her sixth birthday at a birthday party given by her grandmother, Mrs. W. J. Moore, at her home in Falkland. The house was decorated with pink, yellow and white chrysanthemums furnished by Mrs. G. H. Pittman. Games including signal hide, fruit basket, ole timey school, redlight, chewing gum and pean throwing contests were played. Then the prizes were awarded and the children were led into the living room where Miss Sheila Dawn Wooten was assisted by Miss Rose Marie Johnson in opening the many nice little gifts consisting of toys, clothes, candy, handkerchiefs and money. Then the refreshments of chocolate cake with jello and pa-cans were served buffet style by candlelight and the children sang Happy Birthday to Sheila Dawn and Master Johnny Solomon whose birthday was the following day. After which the goodbyes were said. Around twenty little guests were present including Miss Betty Jean Brown, Ann Fleming, Margaret Pollard, Minnie Pollard, Masters Johnny Solomon, Willis Ray Peaden, Jimmy Little, Dan Wooten, Jeff Fountain, Harold Pollard, James Pollard, Bobby Little, Edward Fleming, and Theodore Fountain.

Out of town guests were Miss Rose Marie and Janice Johnson and Geraldine Little of Fountain.

Little Bat Mighty
Moscow, Ida., Nov. 19—(AP)—Two Bantam hens and a rooster tied up traffic at Moscow's busiest intersection for three hours while automobile and trucks dodged the strutting, flying trio and police groped, grabbed and tumbled to clear away the barrier, without so much as a handful of feathers to show they were on the job.

Finally a dozen high school and University of Idaho students coordinated a military flanking attack to close in on the feathered troublemakers. A pair of boys snatched the hens and a coed took the rooster into her arms and darted to the university campus.

Columbus was employed as a map and chart maker in Portugal.

4-H Clubs Hold Achievement Day

The Pitt County 4-H County Council held its second annual 4-H Achievement Day Program Friday night, November 18. All 4-H clubs of the county were represented with 85 4-H club members and 25 adult leaders present.

Miss Annie Blanche Johnson, student at Eastern Carolina Teachers College and former 4-H club member gave an interesting talk on her activities as a 4-H club member. Miss Johnson was state winner in several 4-H projects during her seven years as a Lenoir County 4-H member and won trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago as state winner for two years.

A dairy team demonstration was given by Ruth Moore and Frances Jones of the Langs 4-H club. Billy Ray Allen, Billy Pulford, Charlie Nanney and Curtis Dall of the Farmville 4-H club gave a demonstration in corn production. This demonstration was based on the results of 25 hybrid corn demonstrations carried out in Pitt County in 1945.

The following members received awards and certificates for outstanding club work in 1945: Ruth Moore, Langs Club for Dairy Foods Team Demonstration, Food Preparation and Home Beautification; Jane Tyson, Red Oak Club for Clothing Achievement, 4-H Dress Review and Records Contest; Frances Jones of the Langs Club for Dairy Foods Team Demonstration; Selma Jean Hardee, Grimesland Club for Room Improvement; Reba Whichard, Sweet Gum Grove

Strength FOR THE DAY

By KARL L. DOUGLAS

ADVANCING ON OUR KNEES

An infantry officer was instructing his company how to advance against an enemy. First, he had a well-trained company demonstrate the wrong way to do it. Then, in obedience to his orders, these men began to advance as trained soldiers should. They went through tall grass with such skill that one could scarcely discern any movement of the grass stalks. Turning to some lay observers who had been invited to witness this demonstration, the officer said, "If you advance on your knees you are always safe."

This statement made a deep impression upon one of those who heard it. He felt that the words had more than military significance.
They had spiritual significance,
deep and elemental. He found himself saying that if it be true that soldiers are safe when they advance upon their knees, how much more is it true that we are all safe if we advance against the assaulting circumstances of life in the same posture.

There is so much of life which is utterly beyond our ability to control. We may puff ourselves up occasionally and think ourselves adequate to anything, but the hot breath of reality blows across us and we sink prostrate upon the ground.

The only way to be safe is to be on good terms with the spiritual universe, and the only way we keep on good terms with this universe is by advancing on our knees. Prayer alone makes us ready for life's assaults when they strike us.

would be "the greatest single thing"
that could come out of the conference.

Tehran that a group of armed insurgents was active on the capital

tache in Tehran said today that of a military unit and reportedly killed himself.

Gen. Kuroki, who left some army units in the hands of Kuroki and Araki.

The list of names ordered imprisoned were sent back into Japan, and were sent to the late 1944 and early 1945, when the so-called "military" units were called to the front, eventually were sent to the front.

Kuroki, when well informed Japanese officials were in the hands of the United States, was seized by Mizuki in a newspaper interview with a Japanese court detainee in 1943 to be in control of the government.

Mazuki, in turn, was accused by headquarters with having had a ke-rel in a revolt February 29, 1936.

Behind the intrigue plots and counterplots suggested by this roll of Japanese were such figures as the Black Dragon members and blatant imperialists such as Araki whose boss long quoted by Japanese was:

How Y'Comin' With That Plowshare?

wipe out the entire Russian Far Eastern Army."

Miami long was considered a key man in the Kwangtung army clique which through terror finally won domestic power culminating in Tojo's dictatorship. Miami in the mid-1930s often was called the "real ruler of Japan" but actually his individual power was less than Tojo's.

Health Plan

fund should be built up nationally
"in order to establish the broadest and most stable basis for spreading the costs of illness, and to assure adequate financial support for doctors and hospitals everywhere."
"If we were to rely on state-by-state action only, many years would elapse before we had any general coverage," he added.

Asserting that premiums for present social insurance benefits are calculated on the first $3,000 of earnings in a year, the President said it might be well to have all such premiums, including those for health, calculated on a somewhat higher amount, such as $3,600.

A broad program of prepayment
for medical care would need total amounts approximately equal to 4 per cent of such earnings," the President continued. "The people of the United States have been spending, on the average, nearly this percentage of their incomes for sickness care. How much of the total fund should come from the insurance premium and how much from general revenues is a matter for Congress to decide."

Mr. Truman said the plan would be sufficient to pay more doctors
"more than the best they have received in peacetime years," and that the doctors, with their payments guaranteed, would be "spared the annoyance and uncertainty of collecting fees from individual patients."
"We are a rich nation and can afford many things," he President declared. "But ill health which can be prevented or cured is one thing
we cannot afford."

In addition to heading Hitler's far flung Security Police, Kaltenbrunner was a general in the SS, a member of the Reichstag, a state secretary for security in Austria
and police leader of Vienna.
Kaltenbrunner ordered the execu-of all the rules of war. Morton was captured by the Germans after he flew into Slovakia during a Czecho-

the Mauthausen concentration

Kaltenbrunner was one of the obscure figures sent into Austria to sabotage the independent gov-

The dealers, with his margin cut

His profit margin on that $1,010

will be few losses from trade-in OPA figures, the profit will stay at $217.15.

If there was a trade-in his pro-

request of the congressional committee. The Tokyo testimony has been placed in the record of the current hearing.

The Senate-House committee prepared to resume its sessions today with further questioning of witnesses on the Japanese story of the attack. Following Rear Adm. T. B.
Ingalls to the stand perhaps tomorrow, is expected to be Adm. J. A.
Richardson who was relieved as Pacific fleet commander several months before Pearl Harbor after reported disagreements with the late President Roosevelt.

A document placed in the committee's record by its legal advisers said Richardson, now retired, will be asked for "the complete story of the reasons why the fleet was based at Pearl Harbor. His trips to Washington in July and October, 1940, his discussions and disagreement with President Roosevelt."

Meanwhile, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) told a reporter he will demand that American plans prepared against the Japanese be made public at the inquiry.

The report of the Tokyo investigation conducted by MacArthur's committee showed that Capt. Sada-toshi Tanioka, chief of the operations section of the Japanese naval staff, testified that the United States had made concessions the attack plan would have been discarded."

But he and three other naval officers answered "no" to this question about the Pearl Harbor attack:

"Was the said action (or similar actions in anticipation of a war against the United States) included in Japan's pre-war plan?"

The other officers questioned on this point were Capt. Tatsuhide Miyu, a member of the naval operations section; and Capt. Kaneto Kuroshima, and Comdr. Yasuji Watanabe, combined fleet staff officers.

The same four said that the late attacking Pearl Harbor early in January, 1941.

The report then gave this version, with a note that the answers

Admiral Nagano."
Q. When was it decided to attack Pearl Harbor?
A. Nov. 3, 1941. This date was set by the chief of the naval general staff, Nagano, when Yamamoto came to Tokyo.
Q. Who made the foregoing utterance?
A. Chief of the naval general staff Nagano.
Q. If the decision was made in conference, give time of said conference and names of all persons present.
A. It was not made in conference.
Tomoka, Miyu, Kuroshima
Watanabe testified that the un-taking was started early in September, 1941. They said Yamato to gave "final confirmation"
December 1, 1941.

bill ceilings and an imminent labor crisis today touched off selling in motor stocks although scattered market leaders were fairly successful in overriding the trend.

Both General Motors and Chrysler were tardy starters, the former down a point on a 1,200-share block and the latter off two on a 600-share sale. They retreated further recovered and dipped again in the final hour.

Soviet Press And Radio Are Silent

Moscow, Nov. 19—(AP)—The Soviet press and radio has not reported the statement of the Catholic bishops of the United States in Washington that religious persecution is prevalent in many lands

now in the Soviet sphere of influence. (The church dignitaries said in a statement published in the United States yesterday that "what is happening behind the blackout of eastern and southeastern Europe is a stark contradiction to the high ideals which inspired our fighting to save the world from totalitarian aggression.") Officially the Russians always have maintained that there is freedom of worship in the lands liberated by the Red Army, and that there is freedom of worship here.

Strike Disrupting Chicago's System

(By The Associated Press) A strike of 8,700 operators of the Illinois Bell System disrupted telephone service early today in Chicago, 115 downstate Illinois communities and in Lake and Porter counties, Indiana.

A spokesman for the Illinois Telephone traffic Union estimated that by midnight at least 50 per cent of Chicago's telephone service would be paralyzed by the walkout. Affected was long distance and suburban service through exchanges operated by the Illinois Bell Telephone Company, and local service in communities not having dial telephones.

The telephone company made arrangements for emergency calls for services necessary to health and safety, such as police, hospitals and physicians. Normal long distance telephone service was being maintained with points outside the state.

Hatteras To Have Oil Well Drilling

Elizabeth City, Nov. 19—(AP)—Drilling of the Standard Oil Company's first exploratory well at Cape Hatteras will get under way Wednesday, W. A. Dickson, general superintendent for the Noble Drilling Co., has announced.

Every piece of about $400,000 worth of drilling machinery which left Elizabeth City in a dense fog last Monday morning and headed for Buxton has been unloaded safely after taking a battering on a 50-mile wind in Lower Pamlico Sound Tuesday and Wednesday.

This week's operations will be in the nature of a test. Actual drilling with the mudtanks in line will come later.

Manchurian Fight Rages

Chungking, Nov. 19—(AP)—Chinese Nationalist troops have plunged 12 miles into Manchuria beyond the fallen Communist citadel of Shan-hai-kwan and have fanned out 30 miles to the west, a Communist spokesman declared today.

But simultaneously the spokesman asserted that "Popular" troops were going to take over Manchuria's capital of Changchun, 440 miles northeast of Shanhai-kwan, the minute Russian occupation forces withdrew Dec. 1.

Library News

The Sheppard Memorial Library announces the addition of the following books to its collection:

"Country Mouse," by Louise Andrews Kent. A romantic comedy by the author of "Mrs. Appleyard's Year." Story is laid in Vermont where two aspiring culture seekers have rented a farm and its buildings as a summer institute for artists and authors.

"Good Is Not Dead," by Bernard Tddings Bell. A group of sermons dealing with the spiritual problems of adult intellectual minds in the present state of western civilization. Based on material received in the replies of fifty representative men and women to questions put to them by Dr. Bell.

Government Jobs and How to Get Them," by Sterling Denhard Spero. Those interested in government jobs—city, state or federal—will find this a mine of information. Additional information about the civil service.

"Universal Military Training," by Edward Augustus Fitzpatrick. Discussion of the problems of the standing army, the regular navy, the militia, the National Guard and the reserve from the civilian standpoint. Both sides of the subject discussed with historical background.

"Appointment in Manila," by Elinor Chamberlain. A story of murder and intrigue with the setting in Manila and on an island in the Sula Sea at the time of the Jap attack.

"Most Secret," by Nevil Shute. An exciting story of warfare in the English Channel. It centers around the "Genevieve," a sardine boat, manned by a strange and conflicting group of men armed with only a flame thrower and a few tommy guns who sailed across the Channel to boost the morale of the Breton French.

"The Egg and I," by Betty McDonald. A humorous tale of the author's experiences on a chicken ranch in the Northwest.

"Dark Sails," by Helen Toppling Miller. A writer of romantic fiction presents her first historical novel. The setting is in Georgia in the mid-18th century and centers around the colonization of St. Simon Island.

"Cas Timberlane," by Sinclair Lewis. A story of marriage, in particular, the marriage of Judge Timberlane and his young wife, Jenny Marshland. Includes sidelights on the pompous, sordid and pretty generally unhappy marriages of the "first families of a Minnesota city."

"Scarlet Button," by Anthony Gilbert. Another grim and baffling tale featuring smart sleuthing by the celebrated Arthur Crook.

"One Destiny," by Sholam Aach. A Jewish writer reviews the history of anti-Semitism from its beginning to its culmination under Hitler and pleads with the Christians for their acknowledgement of "one destiny" for the inheritors of the Judiotian faith.

Christopher Columbus was the eldest son of Domenico Colombo and Suzanna Fontanarossa. George Washington chose the site for the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

Marines Are Given Nice Welcome Here

A number of the members of Marine Squadron 343, the first group to come to Greenville after the airport was completed, were in the city Saturday visiting friends and they received a warm welcome. This squadron, under command of Major W. E. Gregory, was stationed for a time at the old NYA center. The outfit left here nearly two years ago and shortly afterwards went to the Pacific theater of operations. Many members of the squadron are now at Cherry Point for redistribution and rehabilitation.

Squadron members here over the weekend were Lieut. Bill Crutcher of Colorado, Lieut. Pete Peterson of Massachusetts, and the following enlisted men: Thomas Inman, Kentucky, Harding Holloway, Michigan.
