Loan To British Being Discussed

Administration Makes Arguments Behind Loan To Britain Hoping No Congressional Change Would Be Made To Endanger Foreign Co-operation

By MAX HALL
Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull today endorsed the Anglo-American loan and trade deal as a step in building world peace.

In a statement issued through the State Department, Hull declared that the nation may be now confronted with its "final opportunity to make a peace that will last."

He said that through the American government's policy to grant Britain a $4,400,000,000 loan and Britain's agreement to work for a freer international trade, "our country is taking another long step forward to build a better world by profiting from the bitter lessons of the past."

"I feel he continued, 'that this may be our final opportunity to make a peace that will last. I believe the government's overall plans released yesterday set forth the prerequisites to economic prosperity and improved standards of living in our own and all other countries.'"

Hull's statement was issued as the administration marshaled its arguments behind the big credit offer to Britain's conviction that any major congressional change would imperil hopes for Anglo-American trade cooperation.

The two governments climaxed three months of diplomatic talks yesterday by announcing a broad economic agreement tied to financial help from this country.

That help under the agreement would come from a $3,750,000,000 cash loan and a $650,000,000 settlement for postwar lend-lease and war surplus. Both would be repaid at two per cent interest over a 55-year period beginning in 1951.

Only the outright loan needs congressional approval, but every sign pointed to a bitter struggle. Harsh words were heard from a Democrat as well as a Republican in the House even before the credit agreement was officially announced.

Asking anonymity, State Department and Treasury officials who participated in the talks here said today they are convinced that any major change in the loan terms would force Britain to reject the loan altogether and pursue her own economic course within a restricted bloc of countries.

As a part of the credit agreement, Britain agreed to cooperate with this country toward world-wide trade expansion by lowering such barriers as tariffs and cartels.

Will Clayton, assistant secretary of state said at a news conference that Britain's trade has been so disrupted by the war that without the loan she would be forced deeper and deeper into special trading arrangements.

Senator Robert Wagner (D-NY), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, told a reporter he had not had time to study the specific proposals, but added: "Speaking generally, I believe something must be done."

ALDERMEN IN BUSY SESSION

Board Is Functioning Smoothly And Efficiently; Holidays

By CHESTER WALSH
The Board of Aldermen in regular session at the City Hall last night disposed of a considerable volume of important business. Mayor Jack Boyd presided. All aldermen were present.

Claude D. Ward, manager of Pitt General Hospital, appeared for the hospital in its claim that it is exempt from taxation because it is a charitable institution. Between $1,300 and $1,400 of back taxes has accumulated on the city's books against the hospital, it was stated.

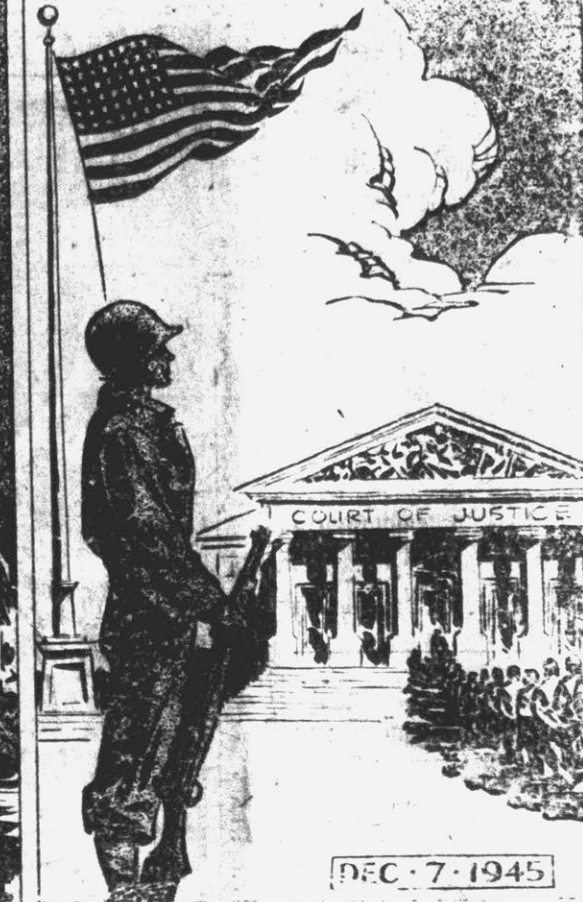

From the record, it appears that Pitt General Hospital rents the hospital building and equipment from the Pitt Community Hospital. The matter was referred to a committee. N. C. Brooks, chairman, and Rufus V. Keel and L. M. Buchanan, for action.

Guy V. Smith, president of the Greenville Baseball Club, requested the aldermen to make necessary repairs at Guy Smith Stadium so that the park will be ready when the Coastal Plains League opens early next summer. The matter was referred to the Parks and Playgrounds Committee. Dr. M. E. Massey, chairman, and J. Watson and Bill Smith, money allotted for this in the budget was authorized to be spent. Other assistance will be given, it was indicated. Plans are being made for a caretaker to live on the grounds.

Other business transacted included limiting the number of licensed taxicabs in the city to 30; purchase of one large and one pickup truck from the army at Fort Bragg for the street and cemetery departments; authorized mapping of more lots in Greenwood cemetery since all available lots have been sold; relieved Henry Rivers (at his request) of the duties of building inspector and assigning them to Fire Chief George Gardner, beginning on January 1; made plans for enlarging the fire district and including Dickinson avenue from the Coast Line railroad to the underpass; passed a resolution for an ordinance to require one-hour parking on Dickinson Avenue from Five Points to the Coast Line tracks, considered a recommendation of the Street Committee to make East Third, Fourth and Fifth streets "through" streets, to become effective when "caution" signs are installed; recommended that the Norfolk Southern Railroad install "caution" signs at their tracks crossing Evans street; authorized grading First street from Pitt street to the Negro cemetery near the river; announced that work had started on opening Keel street in the southwestern section of the city; reemployed George G. Scott & Co., of Charlotte to make the semi-annual audit of the city's and police department's books; authorized the mayor and Finance Committee to employ a tax lister for the city for 1946, and disposed of a number of

GEN. MARSHALL IS TESTIFYING

General Appears Before Investigating Committee

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told Pearl Harbor investigators today that Admiral Harold R. Stark thought warnings to Pacific commanders on December 7, 1941, would "only confuse them."

So Stark then chief of naval operations at first opposed sending such warnings after it became clear that trouble was brewing for the United States that day. Marshall told the Senate-House Committee investigating the attack.

Marshall, wartime army chief of staff, testified he called Stark back on the White House telephone, however, and insisted on sending the messages. Then the admiral accepted Marshall's view, and asked that the army warnings be amended so that naval officers at Pacific outposts would be advised.

Stark, later naval chief in the European theater of operations, was a spectator in the hearing room as Marshall testified.

The hearing was late in starting because the committee met in secret session to decide on the relevancy of certain evidence.

Marshall reconstructed for the committee how he spent the fateful morning of December 7 four years ago today.

Marshall told the committee that it was not until he learned his office that day that he reached his final diplomatic note to Secretary of State Hull, indicating a break in relations with the U. S.

Rendezvous With Death For Lt. Gen. Yamashita

Five-General Military Commission Finds The Japanese General Guilty And Passes Death Sentence

Manila, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita has a date with the hangman.

A five-general military commission today convicted the former Japanese commander of the Philippines of having permitted "a series of atrocities and high crimes by Japanese armed forces under your command" and passed the death sentence.

Those brutalities "were not sporadic incidents, but were often specifically supervised by Japanese officers and non-commissioned officers," Maj. Gen. Russell B. Reynolds, president of the commission, stated as he read the verdict.

Yamashita thus became the first top war criminal of the Pacific to be convicted and sentenced.

Before hearing the verdict, the stocky defendant stood, visibly nervous, while an interpreter read this statement to the court:

"I wish to stand here today with a clear conscience and swear to God I am innocent of these charges. I wish to take this opportunity to express gratitude to the United States officers of the defense, brilliant and upright officers. I want to thank the commission for a fair trial."

Yamashita's shoulders sagged as he heard the sentence, but he straightened quickly and made a curt bow to the commission. He quickly was led by military police from the courtroom back to his cell in Old Bilibid Prison.

The entire court procedure required less than 15 minutes.

In Tokyo a few hours before the verdict was read the general's wife said she had declined suggestions from friends to appeal to Mrs. Douglas MacArthur for help and justice for her husband.

"The method of justice on the American side is admirably fair," she was quoted by the newspaper Mairichi. "I am pleased with it. I thought my husband should be put on trial naturally because he took command for a long time in the front."

Yamashita, who already has lost an appeal to the Philippines supreme court to take jurisdiction of his case and free him from the military trial, still has an appeal to the United States supreme court pending and at least three additional appeals to make.

Defense counsel has indicated it will take full advantage of every possibility because the Yamashita case is precedent-setting in international law. Yamashita was the first Pacific war leader ever to be tried for war crimes.

Yamashita's first appeal will be made to Lt. Gen. W. D. Styer, commander of Army forces in the Western Pacific. If Styer upholds the commission, he may appeal to General MacArthur, as Allied commander of the Pacific, then to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Day after day, for more than three weeks of the 32-day trial, more than 200 prosecution witnesses related testimony of unbelievable horrors throughout the Philippines by troops under Yamashita's command.

Once A Grave Yard Now A Mighty Base

Four Years Ago The Chaotic Grave Yard Of America's Fleet Today Pearl Harbor Base Of Mighty Fleet

By DON WHITEHEAD
Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Four years ago the watery, chaotic graveyard of America's battle fleet; today the home base of the mightiest sea power in the world.

That is the story of Pearl Harbor on this fourth anniversary of the Japanese bid to sweep the U. S. from the Pacific. And soldiers, sailors, Marines and civilians joined today in solemn tribute to those who died beneath the Japanese warlord's first blow.

Four years ago Japan's sneak raiders knifed in from the sea and across Oahu Island's towering Koolau Mountains to smash the U. S. warships lying at anchor in the peace of a balmy Sunday morning, and to spread death and destruction.

Out of that wreckage grew the power which drove the Japanese into defeat, and today the people of Hawaii gave thanks and honored those whose deaths have been avenged.

Virtually the only reminders today of the disaster that struck on December 7, 1941, were the rusting, barnacles of unsalvaged ships in the harbor, and the rows of crosses gleaming white against the green hillsides rising above the pacific waters of the harbor.

Navy men and islanders went on today, with only simple ceremonies to mark the historic date. In Honolulu, shirt-sleeved Christmas shoppers continued to crowd streets gay with colored lights, tinsel and pictures of fat Saint Nick.

But none here could forget the day and its significance. Nor were those who died when war was first exploded in the Pacific forgotten. Requiem mass was set for 9:20 a. m. Also were expected to gather in Halawa Naval Cemetery for Jewish, Catholic and Protestant services, and to hear a commemorative speech by Rear Adm. E. W. Hanson, naval base commandant.

The only strident voices raised on this fourth anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack were the voices of peace—the voices of weary, lonely GIs and sailors, shouting: "Get us home! Get us home!"

And the world's greatest navy risen from disaster, is getting them home—from Oahu, from Tarawa, from Kwajalein, from the Marianas, from all the stepping stones to victory that once seemed so hopelessly distant.

LABOR STRIKE HIGH-LIGHTED

Efforts To Settle Labor Dispute Strike Picture Today

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Efforts to settle the nation's major labor dispute, the walkout of some 200,000 employees at General Motors plants, highlighted the nation's strike picture today.

An offer of a 10 per cent wage increase to the strikers came at yesterday's initial conference since start of the walkout last November 21 between company and CIO United Auto Workers leaders. It was promptly rejected by the union but another meeting was arranged today to continue wage negotiations, 2 p. m. EST.

Despite the union's rejection of the 13-1-2 cents an hour increase against the union's demand for a 30 per cent boost, there remained an air of optimism in Detroit that some avenue of approach to settlement of the wage-dispute might be found.

At the same, General Motors offered a 13-1-2 cents an hour hike to 25,000 CIO United Electrical Workers who are demanding a $2 a day boost. The Electrical Workers, who are planning a strike vote December 13 with about 245,000 employees in General Electric and Westinghouse plants, voted on the offer but results were not immediately announced.

The General Motors walkout involved approximately one half of the total idle throughout the country because of labor disputes.

Also in Detroit, two federal conciliators arranged conferences with UAW-CIO and Chrysler Corporation officials. Contract negotiations broke down earlier and although strike action has been approved it is being withheld pending further developments in the GM walkout. The company union contract, covering some 45,000 employees, expired December 4.

At a national shipbuilding conference in Colorado Springs, Colo., CIO union leader proposed a 17-1-2 cents an hour wage boost "across the board" and a 30 per cent weekly salary hike upon reduction of hours for the nation's shipyard workers.

In New York, the American Airlines announced granting pay increases averaging 10.7 per cent to its more than 3,000 mechanics in the country. The company also declared that the 40-hour work week would become effective January 1 night workers would get extra pay and each worker would be given six holidays with pay each year. The wage hikes became effective today.

Conferences were to be resumed in Cleveland today in an effort to negotiate settlement of a strike of (Continued on Page Six)

Charges Made That The Present Administration Had Suffered The Most Humiliating Defeat In History Made To Republican Committee

By JACK BELL
AP Political News Editor
Chicago, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Gov. Dwight D. Eisenhower charged before the Republican National Committee today that the Truman administration had "suffered the most humiliating defeat in history" by losing "every skirmish" on the international diplomatic front.

In a vigorous prepared address possibly presaging his candidacy for GPO presidential nomination in 1948 the Illinois governor asserted that "we have been told that we should not raise our voice against the rape of Java by the British and Dutch for fear of offending some voters."

"We have been told," he said, "we must not even protest against the shameful betrayal of Poland for fear of offending Russia's following over here."

The Republicans must make up their minds in the first peacetime meeting of the national committee in four years, he declared, whether they were going to fish or cut bait. "We must never condone the suppression of liberty in Poland, in the Baltic states, in the Balkans, or in any nation in Europe, Asia, or elsewhere," he declared, adding: "It must be our voracious policy to use the leverage afforded by the discussion of forgiveness of lend-lease, or of requests for new loans and every other peaceful means to speed the liberation of the people of these nations."

The Illinois governor's aggressive speech came as a surprise to most of the Republican committee members who had gathered here to approve what most of them regarded as a generalized statement of policies issued by their colleagues of the House and Senate and to hear a report by Herbert Brownell, national committee chairman.

Brownell, who predicted at a news conference yesterday that the GOP would gain control of the House and Senate in the 1946 elections, reported to the committee his activities in a 16-page typed document.

The national chairman listed congressional districts from Maine to California in which he said GOP candidates had a chance to be elected next year. He told his colleagues that they must rally behind picked Republican candidates.

Declaring that American diplomacy under President Truman "has become the abject servant of British, French and Communist imperialism," Green said that "power politics" again rules the world and the Truman administration has stood helplessly by.

Without offering any specific solution for the international problem, the Illinois governor turned to a discussion of domestic issues with the assertion that the "time has come to bring national expenditures down to the tax receipts of our national government."

He urged that Congress enact legislation "resulting in publicity to all deals for disposal of surplus (Continued on page four)

Sayre Pictures World Suffering

Miami, Fla., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Francis B. Sayre, diplomatic adviser to the United Nations, declared last night that the picture of world suffering, hunger and despair is black and the task of rehabilitation so vast that "no one nation, single-handed, could possibly achieve it."

UNRRA, founded by 44 United and Associated Nations for the task, will have spent or obligated all its available funds by the end of December, the former governor general of the Philippines told the National Association of State Auditors, Comptrollers and Treasurers last night.

Thirty nations untouched by invasion have made or pledged contributions, he said.

Today In Congress

By Max Hall

Washington, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The administration wound up today for an attempt to obtain an O. K. from Congress on a $4,400,000,000 credit to Great Britain.

The State Department wants the people on Capitol Hill to go down the line for the agreement as reached by U. S. and British negotiators.

But the comment from up there indicated the subject would have to be thrashed out in a full-dress two-chamber debate after the holidays before the lawmakers would be ready to stand up and be counted.

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler
London, Dec. 7.—The major assault against the new Labor government by the Conservatives, under the leadership of former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, didn't get the Tories very far—a result which the veteran generalissimo of course had expected, since it was a foregone conclusion that the Socialists would defeat the motion of censure by a smashing majority.

I sat in the Commons gallery during the two-day debate and, while Churchill's personal contribution was impressive for its superb craftsmanship, it struck me that it didn't carry the conviction we've been used to getting from him.

However, that's neither here nor there. What we are concerned with is the significance of this reaffirmation of Socialist strength. Where do we go from here?

ment of their way of life. Workers such as the vast army of coal miners, who for generations have lived under the shadow of the mine, will abandon their fight.

At the same time there is uneasiness in England, even among many who support Labor, over this great experiment in Socialism. The vast majority of the people don't want to see it sway too far to the left. They don't want any regimentation.

In this connection English folk are coming to Mrs. Mac and me and asking anxiously what the United States thinks about the new government. They are greatly afraid that American will get the idea Britain is going Extremist.

REAT WORK AMONG BLIND

Pitt County Association Good Samaritan To Sightless

By WYATT BROWN

The needy blind are being given medical eye care free and out of the 190 visually handicapped persons who have had their sight restored, according to the annual report issued this week by the Pitt County Association for the Blind, Frank M. Brown is the president. His group was instrumental in securing the placement of the North Carolina Preconditioning Center for the Blind in Greenville and is co-sponsoring the institution with the Sons Club.

One of the outstanding contributions of the association is having Miss Jennie Manning of Bethel who is blind but gets around at a lively rate all over the county, a trained case worker, to work all time among the visually handicapped in the county. Miss Manning locates the blind and then assists herself seeing to it that such person gets adjusted to his or her blindness.

The report reveals that 190 needy visually handicapped were located and afforded medical aid through Miss Manning, resulting in the restoring of 29 of them from the affliction of blindness. There were 140 blind persons assisted in making better adjustments to the handicap of blindness—adjustment mean the change from a silent, morose individual into a smiling, interested person wanting to accept his or her condition and do the best possible. Only a well poised, well adjusted personality with highly specialized training could contribute in this way.

The report refers to the giving of white walking canes to those of the blind who needed them. Christmas baskets, clothing—for the blind are most often quite neglected—and 14 were assisted in securing proper diet and in planning meals. The case worker has afforded the uninformed blind on possible sources of aid and referred them to the State Commission for the Blind for rehabilitation.

One usually thinks of a blind person just sitting, or else slowly tapping their way along the street, tapping off a bit to beg. But when Miss Manning enters the picture the report shows things change. Eleven blind persons were assisted in becoming partly self-supporting—the return of self-respect in a life of endless night. Thirty-two were instructed in looting, crocheting, and mending, and sewing. Their families weaving and leather work, and 14 were assisted in having victory gardens—the end of idleness and brooding.

For the blind who want to read, Braille will be taught on request to the association. Twelve were taught in the past year. Not only is Braille taught, but Braille reading material is provided. Sixteen blind persons were so provided. Five were assisted in obtaining talking-book machines.

The report covers economic relief among the indigent blind. Where need is found, the assistance of the Welfare Department is secured and in twelve instances food, clothing and shelter have been provided through "aid to the blind" grants. In each instance Miss Manning kept in close touch as case worker. In concluding the report the association quoted an appeal from Miss Manning: "Other blind persons in Pitt County need our help. The 140 we now have registered need services not now available. There are over one thousand school children and many needy adults who should have medical eye care. Many blind can profit by rehabilitation. Each day of delay means so much to the blind."

Future plans the Pitt County Association for the Blind has scheduled a county-wide clinic in all white schools to have the children's eyes checked. There are 400 who will need glasses and are unable to afford them, the case worker stated. "Glasses will be provided," Mr. Brown confidently stated.

China Nationals Approach Mukden

Chungking, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Nationalist vanguards have reached the outskirts of Mukden, and are expected to enter that vital Manchurian industrial city before Dec. 10. Chinese dispatches reported today.

The Nationalists lost less than 100 men to the light Communist resistance on their 200-mile sweep northward along the Peiping-Mukden railroad, the dispatches state. In China proper, Nationalists and Communists were reported fighting south of Kupekow, one of the main passes leading to Jehol province.

Let God's Word Answer The Following Important Subject

WILL MAN SUCCEED AS A WORLD BUILDER?

Revelation 17th chapter will be discussed to support the subject, and other scriptures answering the following questions:

- Are we living in the last days?
- Does the end of the world mean the earth?
- What is Armageddon? Is it near?
- What is the beast that was, is not, yet is?
- What is the mark of the beast and the mark of the Lord?

To know the Bible answers to these questions is to the welfare and eternal interest of all people of good will

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

REACHING FOR THE STARS

Epictetus, the Stoic philosopher, asks in one of his discourses where a man can be found who will love his enemies, forgive his oppressors, or die that others might live a fuller life. He declares that he has found no such person among the Stoics of his day.

This philosopher was born about thirty years after the crucifixion of Jesus. Whether he had any actual knowledge of the early Christian movement we do not know. But if he had looked around him in the town of Asia Minor in which he lived he would have found men who, following in the tradition which had come down from Jesus Himself, were trying to love their enemies and to do good to them that despitefully used them. If he had inquired of any of his Christian neighbors, they would have told him of a Man who had died for the good of others several generations before.

The singular thing is that apparently quite apart from the influence of the Christian Church, Epictetus set up as an ideal the very thing the Christian gospel taught. He longed for a gallantry of life he had never observed in any of his associates. When the Word became flesh, men beheld in living form the moral ideals of which the world's greatest thinkers had caught but a faint glimpse. Jesus fulfilled in His life what the best of mankind had long desired.

Bobby Sox Schemes

Portland, Ore., Dec. 7 — (AP) — War-conscious youngsters have added to their repertoire of tricks.

A telephone call to H. F. Santee, grade school principal here, advised him that the Portland Army air base wanted all schools dismissed because "one of our balloons got away and it is loaded with high explosives."

The voice was sweet, feminine and young. Santee and air base officials agreed that the next trick might involve an atomic bomb variation.

Good Neighbor Policy

Chicago, Dec. 7 (AP) — Adela Rodriguez of Caracas, Venezuela, a delegate to the National 4-H Congress, saw the "Good Neighbor" policy in operation yesterday.

The 20 year old extension student at the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N. H., lost $115 and her return train ticket in a loot theater just before the close of the congress.

But her fellow 4-Hers at a farewell luncheon took up a collection and presented Adela with $115.09.

"I proposed messages to the Pacific commanders," Stark told me, "to confuse them. I hung up the White House telephone, and wrote out a message in long hand. I had thought that Stark called me back out on checking. I find now that I called him back. The effect of our conversation was that he wished me to send to my messages 'Show this to your naval officers.'"

"There was some talk of trying the message but the decision was that there was no time to type it. Bratton took the messages and I asked him about the time involved in getting them off. I sent him back for estimates and I sent him and Col. Bundy back a second time to make sure."

The secret meeting of the committee delayed for half an hour the resumption of Marshall's story.

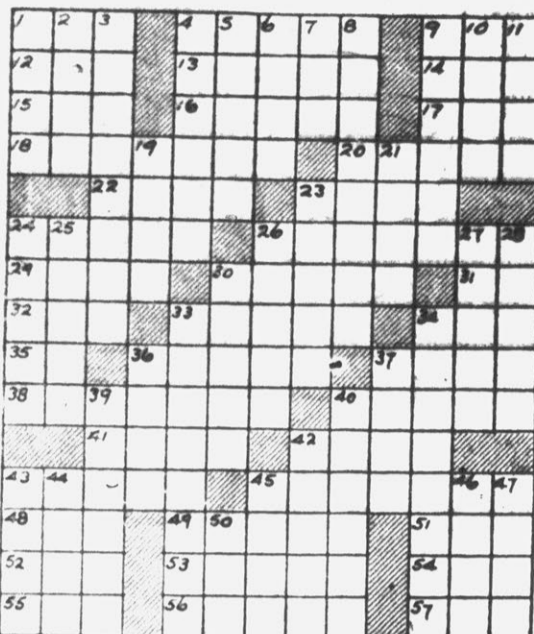

Rep. Keele (R-Wis.) a member of the Senate-House group investigating the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941, told reporters that the committee session dealt with the admission of certain evidence. He said it was decided the evidence should be entered in its entirety.

He did not elaborate but there was one report that the evidence under consideration was correspondence between Marshall and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, 1944 Republican nominee for President.

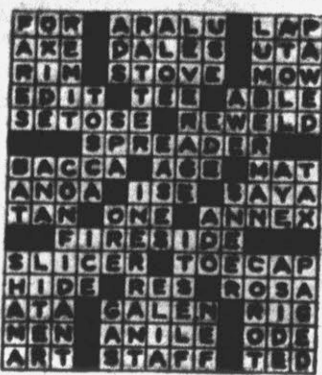

It previously has been reported that Dewey withheld from public-

Senator Lister Hill (D-Ala.) said: "The loan should be made. In making the loan we are promoting the interests of the United States as well as the stability and peace of the world."

On the other hand, Rep. Dan Reed (R-N.Y.) declared: "The slogan of the New Deal now is 'come one, come all, and get our billions.' I'm opposed to this loan. We have committed ourselves far enough financially. These loans will not be repaid."

In the House yesterday Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo) said he would not vote one dollar "as long as they have got the crown jewels in London." And Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) said the loan "will promote too damned much socialism at home and too damned much imperialism abroad."

In an interview, Senator J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said that aid to Britain is "one of the essential things in this whole broad outline of a peaceful world."

ECTC OPENS SEASON 14TH

College Quint Starts Season With Campbell College

The basketball game between the ECTC Pirates and the Jamesville

All Stars, which was scheduled for Tuesday, December 11, has been called off because of an influenza epidemic at the college. The game with Campbell, scheduled to be played here on December 14, will probably take place at Bales Creek. Under the leadership of Coach "Smitty" Smith, former Gastonia High School coach, the ECTC Pirates are playing intercollegiate basketball this fall after a three-year intermission. Prospects are bright. The mainstays of the team are James and Jesse Parker, (twins), of George, N. C., both well over six feet. An entire team averaging over six feet can be put on the floor.

The season's schedule follows: Dec. 14—Campbell College, Here, unless a change is made. Jan. 4—Kinston Marines, Here. Jan. 8—Campbell College, Here. Jan. 11—Greensboro ORD, There. Jan. 12—Thomasville Lions, There. Jan. 22—Greensboro ORD, Here. Jan. 24—ACC, Here. Jan. 25—Elon, Here. Jan. 28—Lenoir Rhyne or Roberts Five, Here. Jan. 31—Elon, There. Feb. 1—Gullford, There. Feb. 2—High Point College, There. Feb. 9—13th Airborne, Ft. Bragg, Here. Feb. 12—Camp Lejeune, There. Feb. 19—ACC, There. Feb. 20—High Point, Here. Feb. 23—Oak Ridge, Here. Feb. 26—Thomasville Lions, Here.

Cyes by a 26-24 score in the opener, but they will really be out to keep history from repeating itself this time. However, the Phantoms will definitely be handicapped by a lack of practice and will have to play heads up ball to win. With only three days scrimmage so far, the usually smooth functioning Greenville attack is still somewhat ragged, but with two more days of workouts the squad should be in pretty fair condition. Running with the first string at present this season are four of last year's regulars. They are Jimmy Futrell, J. S. Williams, Mac Batchelor and Billy Harrington. The newcomer to the starting lineup is Ed Williams, a reserve late last season for Coach Snag Clark.

Grand Master N. C. Masons Guest Here

Clive H. Jarrett of Andrews, N. C., most grand master of the North Carolina Grand Lodge, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, was guest of honor at a luncheon Wednesday at Proctor Hotel. The luncheon was given by the officers and members of the degree teams of Greenville Lodge No. 284. About 40 members and guests enjoyed the fellowship of the enjoyable affair. The master of ceremonies, James W. Brewer, master of the Greenville Lodge, introduced the officers and several members and guests. B. B. Sugg, chairman of the Oxford Orphanage committee, spoke briefly of the progress made by his committee. After this the master of ceremonies called upon William J. Bundy, deputy grand master of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, to introduce the distinguished guest. Grand Master Jarrett praised the Greenville Lodge for its fine spirit and growth, and complimented Brewer on his leadership that made this record possible. He called attention to the great work of the Oxford Orphanage and the Masonic and Eastern Star Home has done and is now doing. He urged those that could, to visit these institutions and see how Masonry is helping young people and caring for the aged. Deputy Grand Master Bundy is accompanying Grand Master Jarrett on his visits to the Lodges in this section of the state.

Labor Strike ...

about 4,000 AFL Greyhound bus employees, who have been off the job since November 1 in a wage dispute. The postwar rush of strikes takes a sharp fadeout south of the Mason-Dixon Line. Fourteen Southern states, a survey showed today, have a combined total of 15,680 idle in labor disputes less than 4 per cent of the 415,000 national total. Three single disputes—the General Motors strike which has made 215,000 idle; a strike of 30,000 pine lumber and sawmill workers in the Pacific Northwest and a walkout of 11,000 machinists which has idled 60,000 in the San Francisco area—
