Discussions Indicate Steel Price Increase To Meet Wage Demands

Price Concessions To Steel, And Possibility To Meet Packing Industries, Becomes Apparent Government Solution To Forestall Planned Strikes

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—President Truman said today that some increase in the price of steel probably would be granted as the result of discussions now under way.

Asked whether the increase would be around $2, the President said he did not have the figures and that he would not say whether it would head off a threatened big steel strike.

The President at the same time stuck firmly to his insistence that a fact finding procedure, couched with a 30-day cooling off period, is the way to prevent strikes.

Asked for his reaction to a possible compromise eliminating the cooling off period, he said he believes such legislation would not accomplish anything.

He said his proposal to Congress was founded on railroad legislation, which he said had been satisfactory in that industry.

The President said he was not in position to talk about the possible increase in steel prices since the matter is still under discussion.

He was asked how an increase might fit into his anti-inflation program. He said that there would be a statement at the proper time and that, until then, he was not in a position to make comment.

Top government wage-price administrators and their staffs conferred at length on the possibility of granting price concessions to the steel and meat packing industries in time to avert strikes scheduled for January 14 and 16, respectively.

Both industries insist they need higher prices to meet CIO union demands for wage increases approximating 30 per cent.

A third strike, among 200,000 CIO-United Electrical workers at General Electric, General Motors and Westinghouse, is set for January 15. But the price question has not yet been raised actively in that dispute.

Inability to pay is not an argument, either, in the General Motors strike of 175,000 CIO-Auto workers out since November 21, or in the three and one-half month dispute of some 40,000 CIO-oil workers whose September strike led to navy seizure action. Wage increases (Continued on Page Four)

CAUTION IS EXPECTED ON CAPITOL HILL

Repercussions Anticipated On Soldier-Protest Of Demobilization Program

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—Global GI cries of "Snafu" over demobilization got Capitol Hill worked up today.

As doughnuts demonstrated in the Pacific, Europe and right outside the capital at Andrews Field, the slowdown in the Army's demobilization program brought these congressional repercussions:

1. Demands for a congressional investigation of the entire program as requested by 12,000 American soldiers in a resolution adopted yesterday at Manila.

2. The possibility of a rush of signatures, when Congress reconvenes next week, to a House petition that would force immediate action on demobilization legislation.

There was a strong probability that the House Military Committee would order an investigation, or at least an informal inquiry, although Chairman May (D-Ky) was said by colleagues to feel that the Army is doing the best it can.

Letters, telegrams and petitions demanding action have started piling up in the committee's quarters. And one member commented privately that because this is a congressional election year, "they are likely to receive some attention."

Citing figures on occupation needs, enlistments, inductions and Army strength Rep Short (R-Mo) told reporters he could not understand why the Army has to delay demobilizing high point men.

In announcing the demobilization slowdown last week, the Army said (Continued on Page Four)

Navy V-5 Training Program Available

The Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., has advised Chief Gunner's Mate B. F. Parrish, Navy recruiting officer, that candidates who are between 18 and 23 years of age and who will successfully complete two full academic year at an accredited college by March 1, 1946 may now enter directly into the Navy's famed V-5 flight training program.

Applicants who meet the revised educational requirement will be enlisted immediately as aviation cadets, Class V-5 UNSNR, and ordered to active duty at a Navy pre-flight school on or about March 1, 1946.

There are now two distinct programs for entry into Navy pilot training.

Chief Parrish will be at the Greenville postoffice building, Room 226, Monday, January 14, to interview qualified applicants who are interested in applying for immediate aviation cadet or naval aviation preparatory training.

MARCH DIMES READY START

To Raise Money For Infantile Paralysis Victims

Plans for the 1946 March of Dimes in the fight against infantile paralysis moved forward today with the appointment of O. E. Dowd, principal of Greenville High School, and John M. Biggers, principal at Winterville, as co-chairmen of the Pitt County Chapter, Mrs. Charles E. Blair, local publicity chairman, said today.

The local campaign, which opens on January 14 and closes on the 31st, is part of the nation-wide appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for funds to continue the fight against poliomyelitis.

"All people have come to know that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is a necessary and invaluable force in our national life," Mr. Dowd said. "We know how effective it has been in epidemics of polio, providing medical care and treatment for polio-ravaged patients, regardless of age, race, creed or color."

"We realize that much of the knowledge of the disease and its treatment results from scientific research made possible by the National Foundation. I am sure that everyone will contribute more generously." (Continued on Page Four)

Flue-Cured Tobacco Quota Is Increased

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson today ordered a general increase of 10 per cent in the previously announced national marketing quota for the 1946 crop of flue-cured tobacco.

This increase was ordered, he said, primarily to provide tobacco needed for export. Flue-cured tobacco is used largely in the manufacture of cigarettes.

The increase will be made effective through a 10 per cent addition to each grower's acreage allotment for 1946 as determined under previously announced provisions of the government's program for the 1946 crop.

The allotments will total 1,250,000 acres, including this general increase and previously authorized increases in some individual allotments. The new total compares with last year's allotment of 1,120,000 acres.

Anderson said the new allotment should provide a crop of about 1,300,000 pounds compared with last year's crop of 1,175,000,000 pounds.

General Morgan Will Not Resign Position

London, Jan. 8 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Sir Frederick E. Morgan has refused to resign as chief of UNRRA operations in Germany, the agency's London headquarters said today.

Announcement previously had been made that Gen. Morgan was requested by UNRRA in London to come here and resign, after he had told a news conference that he believed a secretly plotted exodus of Jews from Europe was underway.

An UNRRA spokesman said the general replied that he was not resigning and that he would await fuller information before leaving for London.

UNRRA officials conferred at length today after receiving Morgan's reply. There was no indication when they would take further action, although it was believed there would be no announcement for at least a week.

Atomic Safeguards Assured By Byrnes

Amid Reports Of Possible Russian Knowledge Of Atomic Energy, Byrnes Promises Protection Of U.S. Knowledge

By GRAHAM HOVEY Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes planned to give American UNO delegates in London today the same assurances on atomic energy safeguards that he left with the nation on his departure.

Byrnes and his party were due in London in President Truman's giant plane, "The Sacred Cow." Before leaving Washington last night, the Secretary told reporters he would call a meeting of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations assembly "as soon as I get there."

Byrnes devoting all of yesterday to trying to convince Americans—at home and abroad—that:

1. The projected United Nations atomic energy commission would have no power to demand scientific information which the United States did not furnish voluntarily.

2. This country could use its veto power to block any attempt by the UNO security council to gain such information.

3. If the council voted—with U. S. concurrence—to promote exchange of such information, the final decision, on the extent of American participation would be made by Congress.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), a member of the American delegation in London, has disclosed that he believes the atomic commission proposal should be rewritten to safeguard more specifically America's knowledge of how to produce the atom bomb.

Byrnes probably will fight any attempt to change the wording of the plan, since it was a three-nation idea conceived at the Moscow foreign ministers' conference and not an exclusive U. S. product.

London, Jan. 8 (AP)—Sources close to the British government today expressed skepticism of reports that Russia had developed a new atom bomb which makes the western powers' weapon "obsolete."

The report was made last night by Dr. Raphael E. G. Armatoo, director of Lomeshie Research Center for

Prosecutors Tabulate Nazi Leaders' Crimes

By DANIEL DE LUCE Nuernberg, Germany, Jan. 8 (AP)—The United States completed a four-hour accusation today against Herman Goering, who was described as "more dangerous in some respects" than Hitler, and the British launched into the prosecution of ghost-faced Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

Hour after hour, Ralph H. Albrecht gave a careful tabulation of ruthless deeds of Goering, as verified by captured German papers. Virtually all had been submitted earlier to the International Military Tribunal, trying the 22 ranking Nazis as war criminals.

Goering was shown to have negotiated prominently for the absorption of Austria, to have given false assurances of friendship to Poland, to have ordered the first half million slave workers brought to Germany from Poland, and to have sponsored the art looting programs for most of occupied Europe. His major role in the impoverishment and persecution of the Jews was retold and his plan for exploiting Soviet Russian resources was mentioned.

Then a former British attorney general, Sir David Maxwell Fyfe,

TELEGRAPHIC STRIKE OPENS

New York City Western Union Workers Act

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—A walk-out of Western Union employees in New York City began at 7:10 a. m. today, four hours before the scheduled time of a strike expected to slow to a near-standstill the heart of the nation's telegraphic and cable communications.

A shop steward at the company's headquarters at 40 Hudson Street, hub of the far flung Western Union network—said the strike was advanced because the company was shipping in four carloads of strike breakers.

A company spokesman denied that Western Union was bringing in strike breakers, saying "there was nothing to" such reports.

Louis Siebenberg, vice chairman of Local 40, one of eight locals of the CIO American Communications Association which are involved in a wage dispute with the company, said at 9:30 a. m. that the strike was "100 per cent effective with 7,000 employees out."

Another union spokesman said that 1,600 points in Greater New York, including all of Long Island as well as Newark, Hoboken, Union City, Jersey City and Bayonne in New Jersey, were struck.

Still a third spokesman for the union said "A state of strike" had existed among employees since last night and that "very little work" was done by union members because they were "highly indignant" at the company's rejection of a proposal by Mayor William O'Dwyer for settling the dispute.

Twelve hundred pickets surrounded the Hudson Street building. Cries of "scab" and "strikebreaker" filled the air as persons approached the building.

Sixty policemen were on the scene. One entrance was kept open. At the main Western Union office the power tubes which carry messages were shut off. A number of branch offices were not open for business, including some in nearby New Jersey.

In the cavernous Pennsylvania Station, where a branch Western Union office is maintained, an assistant manager for the company said "scabs" had been pulled from the machines.

Many servicemen in the station, unable to send telegraph messages, formed lines before telephone booths.

Jap Cabinet Refers Problem To Premier

Tokyo, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Japanese cabinet checked to ailing Premier Shidehara today the question of whether it would resign under Allied pressure to rid the government of war-makers, a spokesman announced.

Recovering from pneumonia, the 73-year-old premier was unable to attend the day's cabinet deliberations but he received a report on its meeting, said Kuramatsu Kishi, the cabinet's private secretary.

Kishi emphasized that the premier himself would make the final decision as to whether the cabinet would resign or remain in office after its forthcoming reorganization.

Allied observers expressed the opinion that MacArthur's disqualification of prominent ultra-nationalists from candidacy in the forthcoming election would not destroy the more powerful political machines. They said it would broaden the field for independents but that the influence of the machines and some disqualified men working behind the scenes would remain highly important.

NEWCOMERS TO INDUSTRY SET WAGE SCALES

Kaiser-Frazer Corp. Make Unprecedented Wage-Bonus Contract With Union

Detroit, Jan. 8 (AP)—The CIO United Automobile Workers today held a unique and unprecedented bonus wage contract with Kaiser-Frazer Corp. newcomers to the auto industry, which they will offer as a model for settling disputes with the industry's long-established firms.

Union leaders hailed the contract, announced by both sides late last night, as "unquestionably the best ever reached with an automotive company."

In a whirlwind finish to a highly secret, seven-hour negotiating session, Henry J. Kaiser, chairman, and Joseph W. Frazer, president, announced at a press conference that the new firm would:

1. Base wage scales on prevailing rates at the Ford Motor Co. Rouge plant, said to be the highest in the industry.

2. Meet any increases granted by General Motors as a result of the current GM strike.

3. Set up a pool by laying aside $5 for each Kaiser, the company's low-priced car, and Frazer, its medium-priced car, produced during the year at the big Willow Run bomber plant, leased from the government for auto production. The pool would be divided among Kaiser-Frazer production workers at the end of each year.

The company has estimated its production rate will reach 300,000 cars annually, so the pool will be about $1,500,000.

To prevent wildcat strikes it was stipulated that any worker participating in a work stoppage not authorized by the UAW-CIO international executive board would lose bonus benefits for the period of participation.

The contract also provides for a union shop, checkoff of dues and, in the opinion of both company and union, the "most favorable" veterans' clause ever drawn up.

R. J. Thomas, UAW-CIO president who postponed a flight to Washington to take part in the proceedings, described the negotiations as "one of the bright lights in labor-management relations."

After the press conference, at which he sat on a sofa between Frazer and Kaiser, Thomas left by plane for the capital to report to CIO President Philip Murray and heads of other CIO unions.

The UAW-CIO chief said he believed provisions in the Kaiser-Frazer contract embodied wage scales which would fully meet the union's demand for a 30 per cent increase.

He pointed out that if General Motors Corp. should offer a 18 per cent boost, as has been rumored, the resultant increase offered by Kaiser-Frazer would "very definitely" put wages in the new company at the 70 per cent top.

In Washington Thomas will join other UAW-CIO leaders who are awaiting recommendations from President Truman's fact-finding board regarding the seven-week old General Motors strike.

Infuriated Chicago Police Start City-Wide Search For Slayer Of Little Suzanne Dismembered Portions Of Child's Body Found Hidden In Vicinity Of Degan Home

Chicago, Jan. 8 (AP)—Coroner A. L. Brodie said today that Suzanne Degan, 6, probably was raped and was strangled to death by a kidnap-killer who dismembered her body in a manner indicating the fiend had a butcher's skill.

Examination of the parts of the body—all except the arms have now been found—taken from sewer catch basins near the little girl's North Side home, Brodie said, indicated the maniac used an instrument like a hunting knife and hacked the body into gruesome pieces at the joints without damaging the bones. It is widely noted the ghoulish work of an expert carver, he said.

"I think it was an on-the-spot dismemberment, carried out on the spur of the moment, rather than a premeditated plan," Brodie added.

Fragments of charred bones were found by police investigators in an ash heap and may be human bones, supervising Police Capt. Joseph Goldberg disclosed. They were sent to a University of Chicago laboratory for examination.

The bones were found near the basement of an apartment building at 5890 Kenmore Avenue, not far from the Degan home. In the basement a refuse cart, stained apparently with blood, was located. Experts were trying to determine whether the cart stains were human blood and if it might have figured in the dismemberment.

Meantime police investigators engaged in Chicago's greatest manhunt for the fiend who snatched the child from her bedroom, leaving a $20,000 ransom note early yesterday; found a refuse cart, stained apparently with blood, in the basement of a building at 5890 Kenmore Avenue, a few feet from where Suzanne's head was found in a catch basin last night.

Capt. Goldberg said the cart was sent to the police crime detection laboratory to determine whether the stains were human blood.

In St. Louis FBI Agent Gerald B. Norris said a man arrested in the St. Louis Union Station, and booked as Grover Casey, 23, of Trop, Ala., had demanded $500 in three telephone calls to Suzanne's father.

Cease Fire Order Is Predicted For China

Chungking, Jan. 8 (AP)—The Chinese press predicted today that orders to cease firing in China's civil strife would be issued by both the government and the Communists tomorrow.

The war-time capital of China awaited some formal announcement from Gen. George C. Marshall, President Truman's special envoy to China, and government and Communist negotiators.

Nothing has come from them since Marshall emerged from a session yesterday and announced "We have made progress."

A spokesman for the democratic league said he had been advised by Communist sources that the cease firing order would not include Manchuria, where government troops now are moving in by land and air. He reported the Communists agreed to this proposal.

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler Paris, Jan. 8—This isn't La Belle France we knew before the war, but a very ill France which has reached the oxygen-tent stage of its crisis and is in that precarious state which no man can say won't get a lot worse before there's a turn for the better.

That isn't meant to be a pessimistic estimate. It is, however, calculated to emphasize the truth that France has been badly hurt, both materially and in spirit.

The public is looking for the physician who can heal France—but it's another way, for the greater leader who can rescue the country from the political fog in which it is drifting and restore it to former greatness.

General De Gaulle may be that leader. If he is he may give the nation the new political party for which many are yearning.

The trouble now is that France must get through the oxygen-tent stage of her crisis before the real extent of De Gaulle's leadership can be apparent. He is in a highly unfortunate position at the moment, being handicapped in promulgating policies by the fact that his mandate as head of the government runs only until June, since the assembly was elected for seven months. The job of the assembly is to frame a new constitution. In June there will be another general election, with a referendum on the constitution.

Then and then only will General De Gaulle know whether he is to be continued in leadership.

Thus the few remaining months before the June election are of vast importance to De Gaulle for consolidation of his ground. So far his leadership has been what may be described as somewhat left of center. In other words the Socialist program which he has announced is moderate. He contemplates some nationalization, such as of banks and the basic public services, but it is said that the transfer will be slow so as not to damage the holdings of the public in the companies.

De Gaulle's followers say that he is establishing controls so that the state can benefit with justice. He wants to control private monopolies, on the ground that the government can't govern if it is controlled by trusts—a very obvious deduction.

Well, that's what the general is reputed to want. But what will he get?

Up to now there has been no persistently concerted opposition to De Gaulle. Even the press has been (Continued on page four)

The NATION TODAY

By JAMTS HALL

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—So you say you are an internationalist. Are you? What kind? How far do you go in your international thinking? The word has shading it didn't have before the war.

Saying you're an internationalist is like saying you're a democrat or Democrat, or a kind of internationalist now might consider another kind an isolationist.

Before the war Americans who did any thinking about our place in the world were split into internationalists and isolationists. The latter did not want it's country mixed up in foreign wars or situations leading to war.

The internationalists thought, "We not only couldn't stay aloof but had such a vital stake in world affairs that we should defy the Axis even if it meant going to war."

When we finally got into the war, it made such a change in American thinking that Congress, which had kept us out of the League of Nations, put us into the United Nations to preserve and promote world cooperation.

There has been so much popular support for internationalism that a man who calls himself an internationalist can't now consider himself unique. But there's the question again: How far do you go in international thinking? You say "I believe in international cooperation to preserve peace even if it means going to war collectively against an aggressor; all right. You are an internationalist. That's why we joined the United Nations."

But in joining we had it understood that any time, by voting "No," we could block action by the United Nations against any one else. Britain, Russia, China, France have the same veto power.

Now, do you think that international cooperation up to the hilt, this business of going along up to a point—then use our veto power. Or do you think we and the other four Big Powers should give up the veto power?

The man who wants us to cooperate internationally, even to giving up the veto power, might consider himself a much more ardent internationalist than the man who did not.

But what of the man who says the United Nations is not enough, that we ought to give up our so-called national sovereignty and join a world organization that would run the earth through a world government.

He might consider himself the (Continued on Page Four)

Christian Science Service
"God" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, January 6.
The Golden Text was from Revelation 1:8: "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, with the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty."
Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? Even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God." (1 Cor. 2:9-11).
The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The starting-point of all divine Science is that God, Spirit is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor mind, that God is Love, therefore He is divine principle, spirit, life, truth, love, combined as one, and are the scriptural names for God. All substance, wisdom, being, cause and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine principle, love." (Page 275).

Women in the Church

The "Angel of Mercy," as the doctor-superintendent of the Davao hospital, on the island of Mindanao in the Philippines, was called during the years of Japanese occupation, is now revealed to have been Doctors Estaban Sexon, a woman physician weighing only 85 pounds. But this young Filipino leader headed the hospital, shepherded patients and nurses, patiently contended with the Japanese military, and served both American internees and Filipino wounded. Her name became a symbol of Christian help during the trying days of occupation when almost anything might have happened, says a liberated American. Now Doctors Sexon is going to have a rest, and Commander M. J. White, Navy physician, is being sent to Davao to relieve her. He goes as missionary of the Congregational Christian Churches.

A "share-and-sew" campaign is being sponsored by the Material Aid Department of the Church Committee for Overseas Relief, (297 Fourth Ave., New York, N. Y.), of which Mrs. Helen Perry Curtis is in charge. Denominational women's organizations, working through the United Council of Church Women, are asked to cooperate immediately in order that thousands of lives may be saved this winter in the liberated countries. Word comes that food sent without clothing is useless, for example, for the people of Greece, who will die of exposure unless helped. Interdenominational groups are urged to canvass their communities and churches, appealing to textile or knitting mills for samples, mill-ends, etc.; then to employ American ingenuity, the talents of churches to design, and make these articles into useful and attractive garments and quilts.

For twenty years Mrs. Jennie Pratt, a home missionary of the Congregational Christian Churches, has been carrying on a unique ministry at Ellis Island, famed immigration station in New York Harbor. Before the war she was busy "introducing future citizens to the hopes and dreams of America." During the war years, when thousands of enemy aliens have been interned on the island, Mrs. Pratt's ministry has been more varied. She conducts classes in English in Bible, in American history; she distributes Bibles and other books, shops for those who cannot leave the island, and in other ways demonstrates Christian and American helpfulness and cheer.

Will Meet Demand For Special Courses

The Geography Department at East Carolina Teachers College will meet a growing demand on the part of students by offering graduate work leading to a master's degree next fall, according to Dr. P. W. Picklesimer, chairman of the college Geography Department. Courses planned several years ago for such work have not previously been taught, but will be given for those students wishing to take graduate work next fall.

Two new courses for those taking the B. S. degree in geography will also be offered next fall. These are a regional course in the geography of Australia and a course in cartography. Both will be scheduled for seniors.

The Fatted Calf
Galesburg, Kas., Jan. 7—(AP)—The fatted calf actually was killed for Pfc. George Pennington's homecoming from the Pacific war. His father, Arch Pennington, had invited all service men and ex-service men to a barbecue, featuring a plump calf and a 250-pound hog, to greet George back on the farm but bad roads held tendance to 200. "We can do it all over again next year," said the father, who announced George had re-enlisted for a one year hitch.

Rev. Hayes Clark Was Rotary Speaker

By WYATT BROWN
More time for fellowship in the work-a-day world, in the home with the family, and with one's children was urged as the way to get more richness out of living when the Rev. Hayes Clark gave a brief address on "Fellowship" last night at the meeting of the Rotary Club. He said the emphasis should be on the making of friends so that petty quarrels between friends would not build up prejudices.

"If you do not have something good to say about another, then say nothing," he said. "Good friendship will not end if it is for an end." Mr. Clark pointed out the pitfall of criticism of others before all the facts were known as endangering fellowship.

Guests of the club last night were John C. Wooten of Gastonia and Dr. J. M. Barret. The program was presented by Guy Evans, chairman of the Fellowship Committee. John Proctor, club president, presided.

Committee Hears Migration Plan

Washington, Jan. 8—(AP)—The American Jewish conference today asked for unrestricted Jewish immigration to Palestine, and recommitment of that country as "a free and democratic Jewish commonwealth."

Henry Monsky, of Omaha, Neb., testified before the Anglo-American committee that his organization voiced the views of the "over-whelming majority" of U. S. Jews.

The committee is inquiring into the feasibility of further immigration of Europe's refugee Jews into Palestine.

Monsky declared in a prepared statement that establishment of a national home for Jewish people in Palestine was "stated American policy, rooted in American principle and ideal."

Robert Nathan, former deputy director of the Office of mobilization and reconversion, estimated yesterday that half of the 1,200,000 Jews left in Europe outside of Russia want to make the holy land their home.

It can absorb between 615,000 and 1,125,000 Jewish emigrants in the coming ten years, he declared. Nathan said he based the estimates on a study made by the American Palestine Institute, Inc.

A Cat Fish
Denver, Jan. 7—(AP)—They had to fish McGee, the cat, out of an apartment house chimney today.

Prowling on the roof, he fell into the chimney and stuck 15 feet down. It took the fire department, William B. Wheeler of the State Humane Bureau and T. E. Beheer, whose son and daughter own McGee, hours to fish him out with a 16-foot pole with a hook attached.

A Word to the Wise Wage-Earner
If you work for an industrial or business concern, your employer will show your social security account number on his quarterly report to the Government—if he knows it. If he doesn't, you should ask him to write down your name and your social security account number, for us in making out his pay roll tax report for the fourth quarter of 1945. That is the way for you to get credit on the books of the Social Security Board for the wages you earned during October, November, and December.

Thoughtful
Pratt, Kas., Jan. 8—(AP)—Neighbors who rescued the belongings of County Commissioner T. Dauner when his house caught fire didn't stop at saving "everything but the kitchen sink."

Somebody jerked it off the wall and carried it out, too.

Kansas City, Jan. 8—(AP)—Police Officer Frank Hoover wished "rookie" Tom Morrison a happy 80th birthday. Morrison has been on the Kansas City force since 1897. But Hoover, a policeman since 1887, is 85.

Charge Negro With Numerous Assaults

By CHESTER WALSH
Police said today that Hattie Spain, Negro, who had warrants served on her husband, Rufus Spain, for three separate assaults, will likely get some relief from her husband's alleged persecution when he is tried in Superior Court here this month. The woman, who is pregnant now, told police her husband had struck her with everything he could get his hands on and that she "had enough of him." Police said the woman's case is pitiful, that she is worthy and has been the frequent victim of vicious assaults by her husband.

Spain was ordered held under $300 bond on each warrant.

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking INNER-AID and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Greenville.

Chapter 10

(Sunday 11:04 a. m. to 12:25 p. m.)

As soon as Virginia was gone Julia sat up. Her head throbbed painfully and she was quiet until the heavy pulsing died away and only the dull ache remained. Then she got out of bed and began to dress.

She walked straight and steadily, like a woman bearing a bowl on her head.

There was no one in the salo but she heard voices in the foyer. She glanced over the room hastily. Everything seemed to be in place.

She walked quickly through the salon and dining room. Moore stood in the butler's pantry. The hands of the clock back of him were at 11:25.

"I'm going out and I'd rather not be followed if you know how I can prevent it," she said.

Moore's hair looked more bushy than usual and his features were pinched. The sacks under his eyes were heavy and darkish.

"I won't tell them," he told her and his voice showed strain.

They are after him, thought Julia. And he's afraid. He could turn them on me.

"Moore, if we find who did it, we'll be safe," she ventured.

"Then dumb cops will never find out anything." Indignation crept into her defeated tones.

"Where does Hank live?" "Last I heard he was downtown on Morton Street but he hangs out at Mike's Bar about a block and a half from the theatre on the same side of the street. Even on Sundays."

"This is Sunday. I'd forgotten. Moore, could you find him and bring him to Jerry's apartment? I'll meet you there. He knows something and I have to find out—" The sudden interest in Moore's face made her pause.

"Do you know what it is?" "No," he said, and Julia didn't believe him. "The cops won't waste time, though, about picking him up."

"Can we get out without being seen?" "Yes, madam, if you can walk down ten flights of stairs to get out the servants' entrance."

"Where's Cook?" "Cut gossiping?" "The outside door from the refrigerator room opened on a back corridor with an elevator and stairs used by the servants. There were two apartments on each floor. Moore opened the door a crack and Julia caught a glimpse of a blue uniformed figure sitting in a chair opposite the elevator reading a paper.

"I can't get out," she whispered. "I'll fix it."

He went to the house phone in the kitchen and was connected with the apartment next door.

"Hello Margaret, my darling." His voice had the whine of a spoiled lover. "Cook's been trying to inveigle me into a date and I wish you'd tell her where to jump off."

When they reached the ground floor they separated with an agreement to meet at Jerry's. Moore went out first and Julia waited. When she decided she had allowed Moore enough time she walked boldly to the street and turned toward Fifth Avenue. There she hailed a cab and directed the driver to Jerry's apartment on 78th Street.

She leaned back in the cab and tried to rest but there were so many things coursing through her mind. First she must find out what it was Hank knew that Robey had been so desperately afraid he would tell. That was the first thing that had come to mind when the Inspector said he must have facts.

Also she wanted to know what Jerry meant by his reference to Robey's double. Could Robey have had an understudy who could pass for him off the stage? It sounded like an old melodrama but everything that happened seemed unreal and theatrical.

Suddenly she sat up in the cab. The woman in the red hat! She had forgotten her. What had she given Robey? That might be the clue to the whole mystery. But there was no way she could get in touch with her. She turned over several ideas and then hit upon one that seemed easiest.

Directing the cabbie to drive to Sixth Avenue, she told him to stop at the first place where classified ads could be taken.

When he found a stationery store, Julia got out and told him to wait. She went in and had inserted under personals: "If the woman who lost a red hat on the street Saturday will answer this she will get her hat and a reward." She had the ad keyed and told them she would call for replies.

As she turned to leave she heard a tinkling sound. One of the clerks had taken an old light bulb from the socket and laid it on a glass case. She stood motionless for an instant, then went to the cab.

She knew now where Robey had hidden the paper he got from the woman in the red hat.

RED DEVILS HERE TONIGHT

Junior And Senior Phantoms To Play Kinston Cagers

By DAVE CLARK
The Phantoms and their Eastern Carolina schedule tonight at 8 o'clock they clash with the undefeated Kinston Red Devils in the first of two games. The junior teams of the schools will meet in a preliminary contest at 7 o'clock.

Although this is the Greenville's first contest since the Christmas holidays, they should be in good shape for tonight's game. Coach Farley has been holding a scrimmage session for the last week in an effort to iron out mistakes made in the games before the holidays.

The Red Devils didn't have much trouble for the Phantoms during last season, but reports are that they are an improved unit this year and are undefeated in their first games.

The Greensies hope to regain their stride tonight and bring the record up above the 500 mark where it is now standing by a win of one win and one loss to Wilmington and Wilson respectively.

The boys who look like to play most of tonight's contest are Billy Harrington and Mac Becher at guards, Jimmy Hurrell and Williams at forwards and Williams at center.

Pirates Win From Louisburg Cagers

CONDITIONAL RECOGNITION

Balkan Regimes Will Depend On U. S. Approval

8—(AP)—President Truman today expressed conditional approval of the atomic energy and other agreements reached at Moscow by the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia and Great Britain.

The President also said a new conference for the settlement of the Romanian, Polish and Yugoslav governments were essential and that he would have the final say.

Mr. Truman, speaking to the press for the first time since the Christmas holidays, said questions that he had no information to indicate the Russians had developed an atomic bomb.

He apparently was referring to a report in Dr. Hapgood's "The Atomic Bomb" by the Atomic Energy Commission, which said that Russia had developed a bomb that made the U. S. version "obsolete."

Mr. Truman said he thought the Romanian, Bulgarian and Yugoslav governments were not going to be recognized until they had guaranteed free and fair elections, and added: "I have final say."

Mr. Truman said he endorsed fully yesterday's statement by Secretary of State Truman that the atomic bomb was in no danger under the Moscow agreement.

Under questioning, Mr. Truman said the atomic bomb was in no danger under the Moscow agreement.

He said that he hoped the proposed UNO Atomic Control Commission would make recommendations for submission to Congress on international control of atomic energy.

He said that this would in no way conflict with investigations now under way by the Senate Atomic Energy Committee.

of the Romanian and the other governments without guarantees of free and fair elections, he replied that they were not going to be formally recognized without those guarantees, that he had the final say.

A questioner wanted to know about reports that the Russians had developed an atomic bomb. Mr. Truman said this government has no reason to believe the report.

In discussing the foreign situation, Mr. Truman disclosed he had persuaded W. Averell Harriman to remain on the job as ambassador to Moscow.

Shintoism Declines

Tokyo, Tuesday, Jan. 8—(AP)—Attendance of two of Japan's major Shinto shrines decreased sharply during the recent New Year holidays, the Japanese press said.

Only 80,000 instead of the customary 400,000 worshipped at the Ise Grand shrines near Osaka between Dec. 31 and Jan. 2. About 730,000 visited the Atsuta Shrine near Nagoya during the same period which normally is marked by pilgrimages of 2,000,000.

Where Men Are Men

Anchorage, Alaska, Dec. 8—(AP)—Note to the ladies: The men are still rough and tough in Alaska.

They're so tough that there will be open season on beardless males between Feb. 27 and March 2, when any man caught in Anchorage without a beard will be charged with indecent exposure.

So proclaimed the mayor when he announced the dates for the city's fur rendezvous. A "whiskerando" court will try offenders.

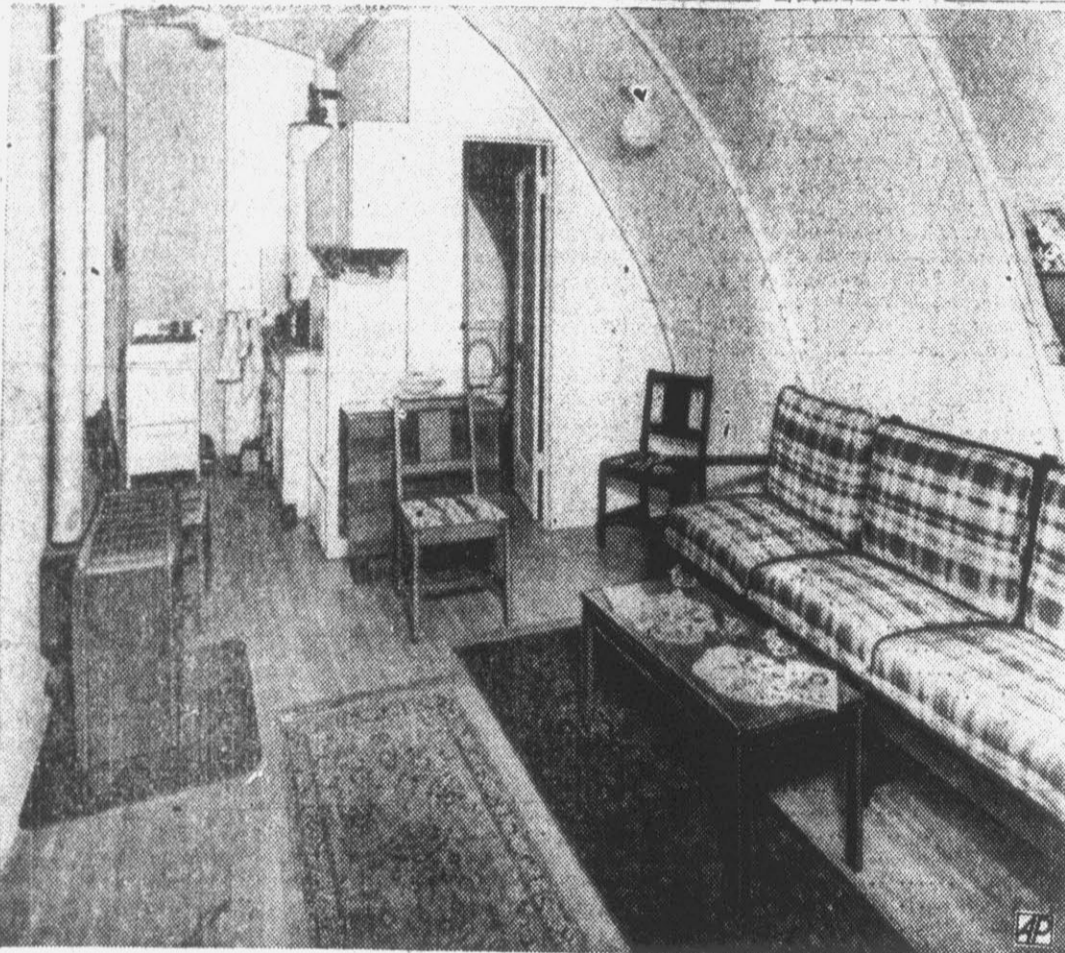

Ask Appointment Of Airport Commission

The City-County Airport Committee of the Board of Aldermen and the County Commissioners yesterday formally recommended that the two boards appoint a permanent Airport Commission. The commission would take charge of the local airport when it is formally turned back to the city and county by the government, and would have charge of its operation or disposition for the greatest benefit to the city and county.

Milk Mixture For Stomach Ulcers

A recent medical discovery now being used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused from excess acid. It is a harmless preparation yet so effective that in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately after it is used. Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion and heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of Lurin from their druggist. Lurin contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoonfuls in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Try a bottle. It must satisfy or money refunded. Lurin for sale by Bissette's and drug stores everywhere.
