'Leads' Collapse In Degnan Case

One Important Clue After Another Falls Apart In Painstaking Search For Kidnap-Killer Of Chicago Child; Police Officials Report No Let-Up In Investigation

Chicago, Jan. 11.—(AP)—City and Cook County law enforcement officials, unsuccessful after four days of intensified search to capture the sadist who kidnaped and killed six-year old Suzanne Degnan and then chopped her body to pieces, hunted fresh clues today.

The collapse of one clue after another brought no let-up in the investigation as a picked squad of officers searched for new leads which would trap the kidnap-killer.

As funeral services for the victim of one of Chicago's most ghastly crimes were being held, police said they had not uncovered any new clues definitely linking any one person as a top suspect.

Two janitors who work in the Edgewater district on the North Side, where the Degnan family lives, were released from police custody yesterday on writs of habeas corpus.

One of the janitors, Hector Verburgh, 65, had been in custody for 48 hours for questioning after police said the Degnan girl's body had been hacked to pieces in the basement of an apartment building he tended.

But the state's attorney's office told Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of the Criminal Court the state had no evidence to warrant filing charges against either Verburgh or Desere Smet, 35, who also tends apartment buildings near the Deenan home, or Mr. Verburgh's wife, Mary, 64.

Verburgh, as well as Smet, had repeatedly denied any connection with the kidnaping and dismemberment of Suzanne, the daughter of James E. Degnan, OPA executive.

Later, after their release, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, state's Attorney William Tuohy and top police officials conferred for several hours.

Police Commissioner John C. Pendergast placed Lt. Philip Brietzke, head of the homicide squad, in charge of a special detail of 20 officers. They will work exclusively on the case.

More than a dozen men have been picked up for questioning in connection with the case.

Hold Negro Man Forgery Charges

In Police Court today Judge Jimmie Robert found probable cause against William Arthur Carney, 18-year-old Negro, on three charges of forgery and passing worthless checks. His Honor ordered Carney held for Superior Court under $300 bond in each case.

Police Chief Jim Tanner testified that Carney forged the names of Mrs. Novella House and Mrs. Dal Cox on checks. He cashed one, the chief said, at J. C. Penney's Store, another at the College View Cleaners, 428 Evans Street. The checks were dated December 7, January 3 and 9. The manager at Johnson's became suspicious of his check and notified police. With the aid of the chief Carney was arrested.

Police Chief Jim Tanner, Sgt. Lester Page and Patrolman Crawford had Carney in custody in a few minutes. Police said Carney was tried in court here in 1943 on five charges of forgery.

HOPEFUL NOTE CONTINUES IN UNO MEETING

Appointments Of Committee Chairmen And Discussions Of Procedures Occupy Second Day's Session

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER London, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Russia launched an attack within the United Nations Assembly today on the secret ballot system under which her candidate for assembly president was defeated at the first session yesterday.

Sentiment was reported developing within the American delegation, too, for abandonment of the rule under which Paul-Henri Spaak foreign minister of Belgium, was chosen assembly president, with the backing of Britain, and Trygve Lie, Norwegian foreign minister, defeated despite his support by Russia and the United States. One reason advanced was that secrecy is undemocratic.

Dmitri Manuilsky, foreign minister of the Ukraine, one of the three USSR delegations, moved that hereafter all persons voted on for UNO office be nominated and discussed from the floor. Spaak was elected without his name being mentioned on the floor. Delegates wrote his name on secret ballots.

Action on the Soviet motion was blocked, however, when Cuban and other proposals came up and Spaak observed that the assembly was trying to discuss three things at once. He proposed that the question be sent to the legal committee, leaving the temporary rules in force and Manuilsky accepted the suggestion.

The Cuban delegate, Guy Perez Cisneros, raised the issue of the predominance of the big powers in the assembly by demanding a very sweeping change in the proposed general or steering committee. The committee as projected by the preparatory commission would have 14 members, five of them big powers. Perez Cisneros argued either for a 31-nation steering committee or a limitation on its authority and (Continued on Page Four)

Senators Propose To Delay British Loan

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Senator McClellan (D-Ark) suggested today that the United States gather in all requests for foreign loans before acting on the British application for $3,750,000,000.

To approve a loan to Great Britain now, McClellan said, would establish a precedent which might prove embarrassing.

"Would we want to affront Russia, for instance, by denying her a loan after England had floated one here?" he asked a reporter.

McClellan said the loan applications from all foreign countries seeking assistance might total 20 or 30 billion dollars.

Legislation to sanction the $3,750,000,000 loan agreement to Britain recently drafted by representatives of both governments is expected to be introduced shortly after Congress reconvenes Monday.

Board Approves Drainage Plans

By CHESTER WALSH The Board of Aldermen at a regular meeting at the City Hall last night unanimously passed a resolution that an Airport Commission, to operate the county-city airport, be formed. The resolution provides that the Board of Aldermen appoint two aldermen as members of the commission (their terms to run as long as they are in office). It is understood that the Board of County Commissioners will pass a similar resolution appointing two of their members on the commission. The four commissioners are to appoint an executive secretary who will have charge of the business of the airport. All leases, of course would have to be approved by the county and city boards.

The Aldermen also authorized City Clerk J. O. Duval to make arrangements to sell about $50,000 worth of bonds to provide funds for a drainage project in the city. It was explained that a State law permits a municipality to sell an amount of improvement bonds equal to two-thirds of the amount of bonds retired during the previous fiscal year. The city of Greenville retired about $100,000 worth of bonds during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944. A survey of the proposed drainage improvements was made by the city some time ago.

SHIDEHARA TO RETAIN POST

Aged Jap Premier Awaits Cabinet's Solution Of Political Crisis

Tokyo, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The aged and convalescent Premier Kiijuro Shidehara will remain in office while his cabinet attempts to solve its political crisis by reorganization, the ministers decided today after a daylong meeting.

Some ministers submitted their resignations during the session in conformance with General MacArthur's January 4 political purge directive, said sources close to the government. However, they declined to disclose the number of possible resignations.

Later, Kyodo News Agency said that Home Minister Enjiro Horikiri had handed his resignation to Shidehara and that Education Minister Tamon Maeda unauthoritatively reported as planning to resign.

These sources also indicated that Shidehara originally desired the ministers' resignations en bloc, but agreed to remain in office and try to reorganize after arguments raised in today's meeting were relayed to him at his home.

He announced the cabinet's decision at 4:45 p. m. He said another (Continued on Page Six)

Board Approves Drainage Plans

By GEORGE TUCKER Nuenberg, Germany, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A Czech victim of the Dachau concentration camp testified today that five of the 22 top Nazi defendants on trial as war criminals visited the Dachau compound at a time when many of the most horrifying experiments on human beings were in progress.

The witness, Dr. Franz Blaha, pointed directly into the prisoners' box and identified Wilhelm Frick, former minister of interior; Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi Party philosopher; Walther Funk, former Reichbank president, and Fritz Sauckel, who was in charge of slave labor, as four of the visitors. He looked for the fifth man he accused, Ernest Kaltenbrunner, but that one-time security police chief still was absent because of a cranial hemorrhage.

Before Blaha testified, the international military tribunal heard the American prosecution charge that German military successes were made possible only by the resourcefulness, financial ruthlessness and "absolute cynicism" of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, another of the defendants. Blaha said many high government and military figures frequently visited the extermination camp near Munich. His appearance in the witness box produced a kind of emotional shock among the defendants. Many of them bolted upright with their hands clenching the rail before them.

Halsey Armed Ships Before Fatal Dec. 7

Kimmel's Previous Testimony Before Locked-Door Boards Shows He Gave War-Orders To Halsey Before Attack

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Adm. Husband E. Kimmel gave war orders to Adm. William F. Halsey when the latter sailed with a task force from Pearl Harbor several days before the 1941 Japanese attack.

Under those orders, Halsey "armed" everything and told them to sink every Japanese ship that they discovered.

These statements were made available today to members of the Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee as testimony given by the 63-year-old former commander of the Pacific fleet before three previous locked-door investigations. They were conducted by the Roberts Commission and by army and navy inquiry boards.

Kimmel, who will give his first public testimony in the four-year-old military disaster next Tuesday, was disclosed in the bulky record to have made these assertions:

"That while Pearl Harbor could not have been defended successfully, he would have given the Japanese 'quite a party' if he had received additional warnings.

If he had had the information available in Washington, he would have sent the fleet to sea and been ready for any eventuality.

If the army had informed him of the radar plot made on Japanese planes retiring from the attack, navy searching units might have found the Japanese carriers.

He "accepted the situation" of keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor, knowing that he had the alternative of quitting as its commander.

The Roberts Commission charge that he was derelict in his duty was made on the "mistaken belief" that he had access to intercepted Japanese messages, when he did not.

He did not get the "proper" answer in evaluating a message from Washington that the Japanese consuls had been ordered to burn their codes.

Kimmel brought up the matter of the pre-war shooting orders issued by Halsey at the navy inquiry. He noted that a carrier force out of Pearl Harbor under Halsey was proceeding under war conditions at Kimmel's order. A court member asked whether Halsey was under war conditions "in all respects."

Kimmel said he was and added that Halsey later told him that "he armed everything and told them to sink every Japanese ship that they found."

The view that no completely successful defense of Pearl Harbor could have been made was expressed by Kimmel before the army inquiry board in 1944.

Maj. Gen. Henry D. Russell asked whether the former fleet commander believed "that, with the defensive means available to the army and navy at Pearl Harbor on (Continued on page four)

EISENHOWER'S PRESTIGE IS HIGH IN ARMY

GI's Want To Be Heard By "Affable Ike"; Chief Of Staff May Appear Before Congress

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Disgruntled GI's overseas and equally concerned Congressmen called today for "Ike" to speak out plainly on the Army's trouble-harried demobilization program.

The great prestige which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower enjoys both with the Army rank and file as well as with Capitol Hill lawmakers evidently made them want to hear what he had to say as Chief of Staff.

And it was pretty plain they were not interested in listening to anyone else first.

Demonstrating GI's in Frankfurt, Germany, last night chanted "We want Ike." That was after they booed and hissed the name of Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, Eisenhower's successor as U. S. commander in Germany.

Simultaneously on Capitol Hill talk grew of a joint meeting of Congress, possibly next Tuesday, to hear Eisenhower discuss the Army's demobilization slow-down order of last week, as well as the revised discharge policy now in preparation. A Senate military subcommittee also was assigned to look into the picture.

Eisenhower, now on an official visit to Canada, is not due back at his Pentagon office until the first of next week.

Fresh evidence of War Department apprehension over the demobilization furor was reflected meanwhile in a speech by Under-Secretary Royall last night at Roanoke, Va.

Royall deplored "American hysteria to get the boys home." This, he said, is "endangering our whole occupation policy."

"The ending of this hysteria is the responsibility of the people of America," he declared, "not of the Army, not of the Navy, not of the President, not of Congress."

Should the rapid withdrawal of overseas personnel continue, Royall went on, "America will lose its power to prevent the totalitarian elements in Germany and Japan from building again for another conquest."

The complicated demobilization problem constitutes the first hot potato tossed into Eisenhower's hands since he succeeded Gen. George C. Marshall two months ago as Chief of Staff.

The Frankfurt demonstrators, after booing the names of both McNarney and Secretary Patterson, heard one GI speaker proclaim that "We are going to continue to hold our meetings until we make ourselves heard by 'Affable Ike.'"

The congressional talk of hearing Eisenhower's opinions indicated that a joint meeting would like to listen to him next Tuesday in the Library of Congress, if present plans develop.

Otherwise, the Chief of Staff probably will be invited to testify before Senate or House military committees, or both.

Rioting In Italy

Rome, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Public gatherings of more than five persons were prohibited in Naples by order of the mayor today as disorders continued throughout Italy.

The mayoral edict followed an assault on the city hall yesterday by about 4,000 unemployed veterans and returned war prisoners who were armed with clubs and stones.

The mayor was stoned. Police intervened and in the resultant shooting 12 persons were injured.

Disorders also were reported from Palermo, Sicily, and a half dozen other cities, most of them demonstrations for "bread and work."

PATTERSON IN TOKYO TODAY

Secretary of War Patterson today assumed full responsibility for the destruction of Japanese cyclotrons.

Asked at a press conference "who in your department ordered the cyclotrons destroyed?" the secretary replied:

"I will take the blame for that. That is, the order went out under my name. I didn't see the message. The mistake was in not consulting scientists first."

Several scientists who helped to develop America's atom bomb protested strongly at news of the destroying of the cyclotrons. They declared the machines should have been sent to the United States for study.

In answer to a Japanese newspaperman's question, he said that he did not believe Emperor Hirohito's responsibility was such as to require his abdication.

"That is a problem for the Japanese people," Patterson said, adding that the entire question of the emperor system was covered in the Potsdam declaration.

He said Pacific army forces would be reduced to 400,000 in May and reported that neither Russia (Continued on Page Six)

Approximate Cost Of The War In Dollars

Basel, Switzerland, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The cost of the second World War was more than four times that of the first World War, the Bank for International Settlements estimated in a report made public here today.

Second World War costs up to last summer borne by the various treasuries of the world were placed roughly at 680 billion dollars. Converting the "1913 dollar" into a "1945 dollar," (taking into account the rise in prices) the cost of the first World War was placed at 180 billion dollars.

These figures, the report said, represent direct costs only, without taking into account the capitalized value of human life, the property losses, the loss of production, the cost of war relief and neutrals' losses.

Otherwise, the Chief of Staff probably will be invited to testify before Senate or House military committees, or both.

Government Seizure Of Industry, May Be Recommended If Nation-Wide Tie-Up Results; Fact-Finding Panel's Report On GM Strike Studied By Unions And Industry Leaders

(By The Associated Press) Pickets marched before nearly every American Telephone and Telegraph company exchange building in the nation today shutting off most long distance calls and a Labor Department official said government seizure of the industry might be recommended if a country-wide tieup of phone service results.

President Ernest Weaver of the Association of Communications Equipment Workers Union ordered the picket lines established today, reversing instructions last night to postpone the picketing until Monday.

A Labor Department official in Washington who requested that his name not be used said Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach had been advised that Weaver would make an effort to have the pickets withdraw.

Meanwhile, however, only emergency long distance calls were getting through as most telephone workers across the nation were refusing to cross picket lines. Supervisors and company officials sought to maintain at least partial service.

A seizure decision apparently will hinge on a conference in Washington later today between Schwellenbach, Weaver, Joseph Bieme, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers and union leaders involved in a strike of Western Electric Company employees.

Besides curtailing long distance calls, manual operations in many sections were halted or impeded. Dial phone service was not expected to be affected until equipment breakdowns occur—which the striking union estimated would happen in about 10 days but which the telephone company engineers said might not happen for months.

About 65 per cent of the nation's telephones are of the dial system type, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company said.

One of the major areas unaffected by the strike was New England. (Continued on page six)

Police Radio Is Valuable Asset

By CHESTER WALSH The police department's three-way short-wave radio system, recently installed at the City Hall and in two police cars, is now functioning satisfactorily, Chief Jim Tanner said today. Headquarters can keep in constant communication with officers in cruising police cars. Officers in one car can talk to those in the other car. When a call goes in for police headquarters can instantly communicate with a police car and order it to the trouble spot. The police department and the police cars are on the same wave band as Kingsboro, Wilson, New Bern and Goldsboro police cars and the State Highway Patrol radio station at Williamston.

Recent addition of new officers on the force and installation of the radio system has considerably improved police facilities here. Mayor Jack Boyd said. The police now work on eight-hour shifts. Numerous improvements have been made in the department.

Otherwise, the Chief of Staff probably will be invited to testify before Senate or House military committees, or both.

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler

Paris, Jan. 11.—This is a confession of a shortcoming, and a promise to do better.

It's this way. A comparatively few weeks ago, while food rationing was still in effect in the United States, your columnist was sighing in self-pity and adopting a rather pharisaical attitude because our very well provided dinner table was lacking in some of the things to which we had been accustomed.

Looking back now, a fellow could fall into such a frame of mind, especially after having witnessed the ravages of hunger in Europe during the first World War.

Anyway, I have a mighty guilty conscience now as I look about me here in France and see the thousands who haven't enough to eat. And of course there are many places in Europe which are much worse off than France, for this is a dangerously underfed continent.

Here in France only people who have sufficient means to deal in the black market can get sufficient food. As for the rest, they are living largely on potatoes, carrots, cabbage and bread, with perhaps a quarter of a pound of meat a week. Their ration coupons call for more than that, but the food isn't avail-

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The action of the President's fact-finding board in the General Motors case is far-reaching for a number of reasons.

The CIO auto workers struck 51 days ago when General Motors failed to grant the union's wage demands.

The strike slowed up reconversion. It also was looked upon as a test case for the whole auto industry, and probably other industries.

There were these questions: Could the union force a giant like General Motors, through fear of losing business in this period, to yield to its demands? Or was the company—and therefore other companies—so well-stocked with money after war production that it could sit out the strike?

To try to settle it, President Truman appointed a fact-finding board. The board was to learn the facts and then recommend to him what the settlement should be. The board had made its recommendation.

The President can't force the company or union to accept it. He just makes public the board's facts and hopes they'll speak for themselves.

Which means: The public will be in a position to look at the facts, or what the boards considers the facts.

The auto workers wanted a 30 per cent increase. The company wanted to give about a 12 per cent increase (13 1-2 cents an hour.)

The board says the increase should be about 17 1-2 per cent (19 1-2 cents an hour.)

To accept this recommendation the company and union both would have to yield.

The board says the 17 1-2 per cent increase should be enough to make up for the workers' loss of high war time pay. The union said 30 per cent would be needed to make up that loss.

So much for the specific recommendation.

American industry hasn't made much peacetime goods in four years. So the board wasn't able to look at last year's figures and decide how much the company could afford to give in wages this year.

It had to go back to 1941 figures, look at the big demand now for new cars, estimate the company's ability to turn out cars in relation to its costs and production in 1941.

This board's recommendations, accepted, would not mean that board in another dispute would reach the same conclusion or its (Continued on page four)

Mrs. P. R. Bowen and Mrs. Glenn Scott gave the devotional.

During the business part of the meeting Mrs. R. B. Lee, chairman of the by-laws committee, presented the by-laws and they were adopted by the association.

Miss Janie Lyerly's third grade won the attendance prize. At the five meetings held this year Miss Lyerly's grade has won the attendance prize four times and tied with another grade once.

Mrs. D. M. Clark, program chairman, introduced Mrs. H. R. Phillips, of the Pitt County Welfare Department, who gave a very interesting program on mental hygiene. Mrs. Phillips was assisted in presenting her subject by Mrs. N. C. Brooks who spoke on "What Is Mental Hygiene"; Miss Eunice McGee, whose subject was "The Need of Mental Hygiene in the Schools"; and Mrs. N. T. Ennett who told of "What Has Been Done In Other Communities."

Mrs. Phillips presented "Some Typical Pitt County Problems" and told of what has been done in Pitt county. The program was very informative and worthwhile.

After the meeting was adjourned refreshments were served during the social hour by the hostess committee.

Shackell, president, opened the meeting with the prayer of the order, after which she called upon Mrs. W. B. Jones, who led a very impressive devotional.

She first gave many interesting sidelights of his life, some of which she had gathered from his kinfolk. She closed this biographical sketch with a beautiful tribute paid the poet by Dr. Archibald Henderson.

Then Mrs. Rose in her charming way read a number of McNeil's poems including "October," "The Old Bed Woman," "Snowing Boys," "Noble's Ark," "Arizona," and others.

Following a banquet the hostess served refreshments and the members enjoyed a social hour together.

REAVIS EATS ANYTHING NOW PRAISES RETONGA

Distress From Acid Indigestion, Sluggish Elimination And Sleeplessness Promptly Relieved, He States. Feels Fine Now.

"For the past two years I felt I was constantly on the down-road, but thanks to Retonga I have snapped out of it and again feel fine," declares Mr. Fred H. Reavis, well-known resident of 900 N. College Street, Charlotte, North Carolina. "My appetite left me and I began losing weight," continued Mr. Reavis. "Everything I ate seemed to sour in my stomach and bring on distress from indigestion. I slept so poorly that mornings I felt as tired as if I had already done a hard day's work. Constipation forced me to use laxatives practically all the time and there was so much gas in my stomach, it made me feel like I could hardly get enough breath.

"Retonga promptly relieved all this distress. My appetite returned and my food digests so well that I have regained several pounds. The sluggish elimination is relieved, I sleep fine and feel good even after a hard day's work. It would be hard to praise Retonga enough."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Bisette's Drug Store.—Adv.

Sports

Heralding the first of a series of busy basketball week-ends, North Carolina college quintets figure in six games tonight.

Heading the card is the Duke-N. S. State Southern Conference contest at Raleigh. Duke is setting a fast pace in the circuit, with five straight victories, while State has won two out of three. Each team won an overtime scorcher its last time out. State edged Davidson Tuesday after two extra stanzas, 4-41, while Duke handed North Carolina its first conference setback two nights ago in a 51-46 duel.

North Carolina seeks to return to the victory path against Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.

The Cavaliers, with 12 men scoring, routed Washington and Lee, 63-25 in their last start Wednesday.

Davidson plays Furman at Greenville, S. C., in the first of two weekend games there between the teams. Other contests send Elon against Lenoir Rhyne at Hickory, Guilford against Hanes Hosley at Winston-Salem and Eastern Carolina Teachers against the Ord. at Greensboro.

St. Louis, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Intercollegiate sports are in for the biggest boom in history in the opinion of the nation's college sports leaders who gathered here for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's annual convention.

College presidents, coaches and athletic directors—almost to a man—saw great things in store for college sports in the post-war era. They also saw a variety of dangers although they didn't all agree on what they were.

There were warnings against professionalism, pleas for enlarged intramural program, denunciation of post-season bowl games, and programs outlined for control of athletic scholarships.

Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, re-elected president of the organization, reported that many college presidents through the N.C.A.A. should be given the power to enforce its code of conduct.

San Francisco, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Dark Horse Chandler Harper, 32-year-old pro from Portsmouth, Va., paced the field today as the country's finest golfers teed off in the second round of the 72-hole San Francisco Open tournament, worth $15,000 in victory bonds to the twenty low scorers. He had a par 71 for the initial eighteen.

Whether Harper's advantage would be continued was questionable but the slender par-chaser, regarded as a comer before he went into a three-year stretch with the Navy, was able to say he led such links notables as the tournament favorite Byron Nelson of Toledo, O.

Lord Byron, greatest money winner in the history of the sport and seeking his third successive San Francisco Open victory, was two strokes behind, with a 73.

New York, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A court fight loomed today whether All-America halfback Frankie Sinkwich, of Georgia, would play professional football this fall with the Detroit Lions of the National League or the New York Yankees of the newly organized All-America conference.

Sinkwich, voted the NFL's most valuable player in 1944, bolted the Lions yesterday by signing a three-year contract for Dan Topping's Yankees at a salary reported to be $12,000 annually.

The move brought a prompt reaction from Detroit official who declared they were "prepared to go to court" to enforce a two-year contract with Sinkwich which they contend has one year to run because he did not play in 1945 when he was in the Army.

Phantoms Meet Tarboro Cagers

After defeating the Kinston Red Devils soundly last Tuesday, Coach Bo Farley and his band of Phantom cagers breeze over to Tarboro for an Eastern Conference match tonight.

Tarboro has a team of unknown quality, although it is reported that the Serpents "dropped a one-sided game to Rocky Mount. Coach Farley is taking no chances however, and it is probable that the same outfit which occupied the number one position against Kinston will take the floor for the locals at toss-up time. This team is composed of Mac Batchelor and Billy Harrington, guards; Ed Williams and Jimmy Futrell, forwards; J. T. Williams, center. A second unit of Jack Whichard and Billy White, guards; Julian White and Henry Turner, forwards; Dave Clark, center, will be counted upon for valuable relief work.

Garson And Crosby Win Movie Award

Hollywood, Jan. 11.—Greer Garson, Bing Crosby and "The Valley of Decision" have been voted the nation's most popular actress, actor and picture for the year 1945, according to Dr. George Gallup's Audience Research Poll of America's 55 million movie-goers, released today.

It was the second year in succession that Miss Garson and "Der Bingle" have won top honors in the poll.

The copywritten story of Dr. Gallup's findings which appears in the February issue of Photoplay Magazine lists the top 10 pictures in order of the nation's preference:

Valley of Decision, Anchors Aweigh, Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo, Song to Remember, Meet Me in St. Louis, National Velvet, Thrill of a Romance, God Is My Co-Pilot, Hollywood Canteen and Son of Lassie.

The nation's five most popular actresses, determined by the Audience Research Poll as reported in Photoplay and listed in alphabetical order are: Ingrid Bergman, Bette Davis, Judy Garland, Greer Garson and Betty Grable.

The five most popular actors: Humphrey Bogart, Bing Crosby, Cary Grant, Bob Hope and Spencer Tracy.

Polling of the movie-goers also revealed that Gregory Peck was the male star who gained most in popularity during 1945, while Margaret O'Brien and Lauren Bacall were tied for the honor among the female stars.

Pitt County Chapter of The American Red Cross
Mr. A. B. Stallworth, Treasurer,
Greenville, N. C.
Dear Sir:
As requested, I have examined the records of the Treasurer of The Pitt County Chapter of The American Red Cross for the period January 1, 1945, to November 30, 1945, and submit herewith my report.
Receipts, during the period, were traced to bank statements on file. War fund contributions for 1945 are stated as shown by a special bank account as all receipts, during the campaign, were deposited therein. Recorded disbursements were compared with paid checks on file. All footings were checked. Cash on deposit November 30, 1945, was verified with the Guaranty Bank & Trust Company, Greenville, N. C., and reconciliation of this amount with that shown by the records.
In my opinion, the attached Statement of Receipts and Disbursements presents fairly the financial position of the Pitt County Chapter of The American Red Cross for the eleven months ended November 30, 1945.
Very truly yours,

Strength FOR THE DAY
 By KARL L. DOUGLAS

IT MEANS YOU AND ME
 A returned naval officer recently said to his pastor, "I was converted in the South Sea Islands." "By your chaplain, I presume," said the minister, "or perhaps under the stress of battle." "By neither," said the naval officer. "I was converted by the fuzzy-wuzzies."

This boy had been raised in a Christian home. He had attended Sunday school, and later, church. He went halfway around the world, and he who had withstood parental admonition, Sunday school instruction, and eloquent preaching, succumbed, spiritually, when he observed that God had done to certain people in the South Sea Islands.

A hundred years ago, missionaries went out among these people, and the first dozen or so were put in the pot and served up at cannibal feasts. At least some missionaries were able to make a few converts. Today, some of the best Christians in the world live in these South Sea Islands. They have a well-organized church, and religion means to them what God intends it to mean.

Nothing astounds us so much, or moves us at such great depths, as does the spectacle of human life transformed under the living power of God. And the more unpromising the material with which God works, the more astonished we are in observing the results.

But this, of course, is the fulfillment of the biblical promise that whosoever believes shall be saved. Whosoever means the savage—and it means you and me also.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
 By JACK STEINMETZ

(First of Two Articles)
 Washington — With all the impatient rush of the boys to get out of uniform, nearly half a million men have turned their backs on civilian life and signed on the dotted line for specified tours of duty in the armed forces.

The last available official figures for the Army showed that 334,423 had enlisted since the Voluntary Recruitment Act was signed by the President Oct. 6. Navy Secretary Forrestal reported that 80,663 men had enlisted or transferred to the regular Navy since surrender of Japan. In the last week before that date, the Navy had added 6,082 regulars.

Although there are no official figures for the balance of the year and the brass hats here are being very cagey about making any estimates, they do say that the program is continuing to meet expectations.

Breaking down the official Army figures throws some light on this stampede. For example, 69 per cent of the new regulars are draftees who have signed to stay in for from one to three years; 11 per cent are original volunteers; and 20 per cent are old regulars, presumably on their way to those new liberal retirement payments.

Some Army officials expect January to be a banner month in enlistment and transfer of men who hold non-com ratings. After Jan. 31, the Army will (under the law) discontinue its assurance that present or former ratings will be maintained.

This assurance already has brought a headache and the complaint that the "new regular Army" is proving to be an army of sergeants, with not nearly enough privates for the three-stripes to follow-at. After the first of February, with selective service at least two and a half more months to run, this situation will be remedied.

War and Navy department officials will have no part in predicting whether they will reach their June 30 goals in the present intensive recruitment campaign. Roughly two of the eight months of the campaign have produced about one fourth of the objective. The Army needs 1,600,000 regulars, by that date, the Navy 500,000 and the Ma-terrific. Mrs. Mack and I entertained a French couple at dinner last night, and they told us that one of their children had developed tuberculosis because of under-nourishment, and another had fainted on one occasion from weakness. The plight of the poor is, of course, terrible.

The only way of meeting this crisis would seem to be for the French Government to import foodstuffs and put them in the official rationing channels, away from the black market operators. If the next harvest is good it will ease things considerably, for the Germans didn't damage the agricultural wealth of the country.

Naturally, food isn't the only commodity which is in the hands of the racketeers. Clothing and every other item is far out of bounds in price. You must have a big income to live decently in France these days.

GRANDMA SPEAKIN'...

Trouble with gossiping women is, they usually begin to believe that half of what they say is the gospel truth.

Two words—"Table-Grade"—sure tell a heap o' things 'bout Nu-Maid Margarine. Yep, Nu-Maid Margarine is made specially for the table. As fine a spread as money can buy.

Don't cry 'bout all your troubles—you'll never see a way out through the tears.

Cousin Irma sez what you use for season'g vegetables should be real tasty by itself. That's why she uses Nu-Maid.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

ART: "Saw you at the movies last night, Judge. That was quite a weekend that alcoholic went through, wasn't it?"
OLD JUDGE: "Sure was, but I'm afraid most people won't really understand it."
ART: "What do you mean, Judge?"
OLD JUDGE: "Simply this. That poor chap was really a sick man...not just a drunk. Studies by famous psychiatrists and the medical profession show that alcoholism is not caused by a craving for alcohol...it is usually the result of some deep-rooted social, physical or emotional condition. If that fellow had not turned to alcohol for escape, he would have turned to something else."
ART: "Are there many that get in that condition, Judge?"
OLD JUDGE: "Fortunately not. Art. Scientists at a great university have stated that approximately 95% of the people who drink do so sensibly. Only 5% are immoderate at times. In that 5% is the small number known as alcoholics. And the beverage distilling industry which does not want a single person to use its product immoderately, is cooperating fully in the solution of this problem."

(Continued from Page One) "I would favor something of that kind and I know other members would like it," said Senator Johnson (D-Colo) when asked about the possibility of Eisenhower addressing a joint session.

Whether a joint meeting will be held Tuesday depends on Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky and House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, both of whom are out of town. Eisenhower could appear at a joint meeting upon their invitation.

Patterson said he found soldier morale good in Japan and other Pacific bases he had visited and said it was not impaired materially by demobilization.

Patterson decided to comment on demonstrations by American soldiers in the Pacific in protest against the demobilization slowdown but gave renewed assurance that he would visit Manila, where a GI committee has prepared questions to ask him.

He said he could not answer a question as to how long Japan may be occupied and "as far as I know, there is no desire on the part of Russians to furnish occupation forces."

(Continued from Page One) stallion workers are not affiliated with the striking union there. The nation's telephone system could be tied up because the ACEW said it had assurance from other telephone unions including 260,000 members of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, that the ACEW picket lines would be honored.

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—Union and company representatives studied today a proposal to end the 51 day old General Motors strike with a 17 1-2 per cent pay increase.

They made no immediate commitment, but one White House labor adviser said it was significant neither side rejected the terms during preliminary discussions with aides of President Truman.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW vice president, declared the board "completely supports the union's position that wages can and must be increased without price increase."

The men who counsel Mr. Truman on labor problems seemed hopeful the end of the GM tieup was in sight and that this would influence solution of steel, mat packing and electrical industry disputes.

The recommended pay increase would amount to 19 1-2 cents an hour more than the present average scale of $1.13 an hour. The UAW asked a 30 per cent rise, or 33 1-2 cents more an hour, and the company had offered 12 per cent, or 13 1-2 cents.

President Truman endorsed the fact-finding report and said if it is accepted, "the industrial skies will rapidly clear and American industry and labor will go forward to new heights of achievement in the interest of the whole country."

The panel, in addition to recommending a 19 1-2 cent hourly increase, called for immediate end of the strike, reinstatement of strikers

Self-Help Provided By College For 136

East Carolina Teachers College is providing self-help work for 136 students, both men and women, who are attending the school during the winter quarter.

The college dining room employs 80, the largest number assigned to any one place. A group of 16 are student assistants in the college library, and 13 others serve as parlor hostesses in the four women's dormitories on the campus.

Others work in the college post office, the book room, the infirmary, the registrar's office, Austin Building, Ragsdale Hall, the Science Museum, the Music Department, and the News Bureau.

In addition to those doing self-help work for the college, a number hold campus jobs. The Stationery Store and the "Y" Soda Shop have a staff of 10. The student government association has two workers employed in the budget office and occasionally gives work to students who assist at dances and other recreational periods.

Male Students Show Increase At College

The number of men students at East Carolina Teachers College has increased from 52 enrolled during the winter quarter of 1945 to 86 enrolled this year. Forty of the students live in one wing of Ragsdale Hall. The others either live in Greenville or nearby or room in the city because of lack of accommodations at the college.

Two of the students are registered for graduate courses — Charles D. Cobb of Greenville, in social science; and Jerome Donaldson of Metter, Georgia, in commerce. Others are taking under-graduate work.

Though registration for the winter quarter will continue until January 15, it is thought that the list of men students is now complete.

De Valera Receives Professor Of ECTC

Dr. Elmer R. Browning of the GI University at Biarritz, France, who is now on leave from East Carolina Teachers College, recently had the interesting experience of having an interview with Eamon de Valera, prime minister of Eire.

After the close of Shrivernham American University, where Dr. Browning has been teaching, he and a fellow-professor, James Andrews of Cincinnati, toured Ireland for a week. During their trip they formed an acquaintanceship with a member of the Dail, Irish parliament, who secured them tickets of admission to a meeting of the body and arranged the interview with de Valera.

Dr. Browning, in a letter to Acting President Howard J. McGinnis of the college here, reports that de Valera received his American visitors cordially and talked with them on world affairs.

Erwin Mills Charge Union Evading Issue

Durham, Jan. 11 (AP)—The Erwin Ootton Mills today accused officials of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, with "trying to dodge the issue" on the company's offer to settle the three-month-old Erwin strike on the same terms as an agreement, praised by the union, ending a strike at the Hadley-Peoples plant at Siler City. At the same time it "emphatically" denied a union charge that the mill had proposed wage cuts.

"Union officials are trying to dodge the issue," the management stated. "They highly praised the Hadley-Peoples contract just signed in Siler City and told our workers to continue their strike and they would win the same victory. We made a bona fide offer two days ago to the union to sign the same con-

Merely saying that our offer is a publicity stunt does not answer the question, we made the offer after failing to reach an agreement with the union following weeks and months of negotiations, we took a contract that the
