Byrnes Takes Floor For First Time To Lead Protest; General Assembly Rejects By Vote Of 34 To 9, Russian Proposal To Delay Formation Of Security Council

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER London, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Overriding Russian efforts to postpone the balloting, the United Nations Assembly today elected six nations to non-permanent seats on the important membership on the council, which will control the proposed world police force.

The election was completed after Canada and Australia went through two indecisive ballots in a run-off between the two members of the British Commonwealth.

Canada then proposed that Australia be chosen by acclamation. That procedure was ruled out of order but, Canada having in effect withdrawn, Australia received 46 votes on the final tally.

The other five non-permanent members were elected on the first ballot. All ballots were secret. The five countries elected on the first ballot were Brazil (47 votes), Egypt (45), Mexico (45), Poland (39) and the Netherlands (37). The five elected states and Canada were on a slate which had been circulated by the United States delegation.

A Russian motion to delay formation of the Security Council, which eventually will control the proposed world police force was opposed on the floor by U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Bevin, who said the Soviet proposal would set a bad example. Russia had been reported critical of the candidacies of Mexico and the Netherlands.

First it was reported that the Russians favored Norway and Belgium for these two places but at the last minute the Ukraine delegation proposed Norway and New Zealand instead.

On the first ballot Canada received 33 votes and Australia 28. On the second ballot—a run-off between these dominions of the British Commonwealth—Australia got 27 and Canada 23.

Subsequently the Canadian press said the indications were early this afternoon that Canada would not receive the sixth seat on the council which likely will be won by Australia.

Canada missed election on the first ballot by one vote and would have won for an error by one of the 51 voting nations which put

The WQRLD TODAY An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler

Paris, Jan. 12.—We have been watching with understanding—but with much anxiety—the demonstrations here in Paris by the GIs who want to be sent back home.

The GI viewpoint is indeed easily understandable. He isn't a professional soldier, but one of the millions of fellows who have given up college or employment and have left their homes to risk their lives on the battlefields for Uncle Sam. He's a grand chap, who has done a magnificent job—and done it patriotically. Now he is homesick and aching to get back to his fields and own pursuits.

If that were whole story, the only concern would rest in how long it would take to demobilize the American force in Europe.

But it isn't the whole story by a long shot, for when the GI gives up his duties as a part of the occupation troops of Germany, he must be replaced by another well-trained soldier—or at least there must be sufficient replacements so that America can maintain a powerful force in the Reich indefinitely.

Long before the war ended, the Allied leaders had decided that there was only one possible way to insure the world against further German aggression. That was for Allied troops to occupy the Fatherland over a long period of years, during which the people would be re-educated in the ways of peace and democracy.

TESTIMONY BY KIMMEL FROM 1944 HEARING

Fleet Commander Was Denied Scouting Of Gilberts By Navy Dept.; Pre-Pearl Harbor Intelligence Rated Ineffective

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Pre-Pearl Harbor plans of the Pacific fleet for scouting an island chain where the Marines later had heavy losses were vetoed by the Navy Department, congressional investigators were informed today.

Admiral Husband E. Kimmel said he wanted to scout the Gilberts group, which includes Tarawa, but Washington instructed him not to take fleet units "anywhere near those islands in pre-war days."

Tarawa and other islands in the Gilberts were taken by U. S. amphibious forces in hard fighting during November, 1943, as the westward offensive across the Central Pacific was launched. A British possession, the Gilberts were seized by the Japanese after the outbreak of the war and strongly fortified.

Kimmel said the reason given by the Navy Department for vetoing the project was that "we should not have any interest in the Gilberts because the Japs might find out that we were interested."

The former Pacific Fleet commander's recital came to light as Senate-House committee members examined testimony Kimmel gave in three previous inquiries as a prelude to his personal appearance before the congressional group next Tuesday.

Kimmel's testimony about the Gilberts was before an army inquiry board in 1944. Three years earlier he had complained to the Roberts Commission that pre-Pearl Harbor intelligence he received from Washington was "ineffective and inaccurate."

In his testimony before the Roberts Commission, Kimmel rated Japanese espionage in Honolulu excellent in comparison with the information he said he received from the Navy Department.

He mentioned that on December 1, 1941, the director of naval intelligence (then Vice Admiral T. S. Wilkinson) had issued a bulletin saying there were strong indications of a Japanese attack on Thailand, but that "major (Japanese) capital ship strength remains in home waters."

JUNTA HEADS HAITI REVOLT

Riots And Voodoo Drums Featured In Haitian Revolution

Port-au-Prince, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A three-man military junta, apparently in complete control of the Haitian government after a coup d'etat, sought to restore order today following riots and demonstrations which accompanied the resignation yesterday of President Elie Lescot.

At least four persons were killed and 100 injured yesterday as thousands of persons, singing and beating huge native drums, swarmed through the streets of the capital of this republic of 3,000,000 population.

A crowd of approximately 19,000 stormed police headquarters at a climax of the demonstrations, demanding punishment of an army lieutenant charged with beating a group of women. When police asserted that the lieutenant was not in custody, the crowd demanded that another officer, accused of killing an unarmed man, be surrendered.

Although troops guarded Lescot's home, an unconfirmed report was circulated that the former president had fled with his family aboard a ship.

The revolutionary junta, headed by Col. Frank Lavaud, Maj. Antoine Levit and Maj. Paul Magloire, said it planned to form a new cabinet today and would guarantee the "four freedoms." The present congress, which supported Lescot, will be dissolved and new elections will be held.

Although tanks and machine guns guarded the police headquarters, gay crowds waving palm fronds sang and danced in the area, performing a Haitian voodoo dance (Continued on page four)

GI's Letters Flood Capitol Hill Today

Enlisted Men And Officers Keep Lawmakers Sweating Over Demobilization; WAC's And "Small Brass" Say It With Cables

Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—GI heat kept Capitol Hill uncomfortably warm today, despite the promise of a speedy airing of the whole demobilization situation.

Announcement that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz would discuss the thorny problem before a joint congressional session next Tuesday brought no immediate halt in the flow of angry cables and radiograms from overseas personnel.

"When the blazes is a tube player considered essential for a fighting army?" one GI cabled a senator. "Don't let the Pentagon become the center of American life."

And from Munich: "We want home quick with none of the damned excuses." The War and Navy departments are so desirous of talking back that they requested the joint House-Senate session be arranged to hear Eisenhower and Nimitz. This information came from a congressional leader who would not be quoted by name.

The session is tentatively set for Tuesday morning in the auditorium of the Congressional Library. Meanwhile, the Army cut the training period for new recruits in order to step up the flow of replacements to relieve long service men overseas. The training period was reduced from 17 weeks to 13.

Eisenhower also was reported to have cautioned all commands against giving veteran troops any retakes in basic or other elemental training just to keep them busy.

There have been loud GI gripes about such a made-work routine. A cross section of other GI demobilization gripes was made public by Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), chairman of the Senate Military subcommittee assigned Thursday to investigate the entire demobilization tempo.

He produced such samples as: "Dogs, horses, Hitler's silverware and GI brides get rides home but high points men wait for weeks and months" — a soldier in Germany. "For God's sake get eligible high pointer home for discharge" — a WAC in France.

"We small brass want out too" — a homesick second lieutenant. Some cables carry scores of name-diers. Others are from single soldiers. Many soldiers list their point totals along with total and overseas service. Quite a few are from officers, he said.

Thirteen "GI voters in Tokyo" offered "don't forget us and we won't get you." A combat infantryman in Austria was less polite. He asked "what the hell is going on in Washington stop get your traveling papers in order if I ever get home you better travel fast and far."

Kentucky Burley Market Declines

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 12.—(AP)—Prices on Kentucky burley tobacco market continued to decline yesterday as strategy was mapped to bolster growers' constantly diminishing returns.

The hundredweight median slumped to $37.64, which was 16 cents below that for Thursday, the State Department of Agriculture said in announcing sale of 9,050,159 pounds for $3,406,246.25.

At Lexington, a gain of $1.30 in the average was recorded as 2,218,480 pounds brought growers $857,325.51, a median of $38.64.

Top average for the day was $41.06 at Cynthiana, where 442,996 pounds were sold for $181,889.46. Lowest was $27.53 at Paducah, where 45,722 pounds netted producers $12,588.09.

As prices failed to respond to state stimuli, it was announced in Washington that a delegation of Kentucky congressmen and tobacco growers would seek to insure "a fair price" for burley tobacco at a meeting Monday with government officials.

At Frankfort, representatives of the burley tobacco industry yesterday adopted a resolution to ask OPA to grant an increase in cigarette prices, provided manufacturers could show it necessary and agreed to pass the profits on to the growers.

The resolution was presented by Democratic Rep. John Young Brown of Lexington, who said it was a "dead vote" the general assembly would vote Monday to halt sales if prices continued to fall.

Elliott Robertson, State Commissioner of Agriculture, said details of how the proposed price increase would be justified should be worked out at the Washington meeting, which will be attended by growers, manufacturers, OPA officials and state congressmen.

Babson Discusses Market Breaks

New York City, Jan. 12.—Is another severe break in stock market prices necessary? Perhaps some day, but not just now. Need the market go up to a peak, as in 1929, and then come down with a crash? Certainly not. It is possible the "top" of the market could be a level plateau extending over months or perhaps years instead of a "peak."

Reuther Not Too Bad Heretofore bull markets have culminated in peaks. Due to this fact, my friends here in Wall Street think this must always be true. But because of cheap money and the excellent work that the Securities and Exchange Commission is doing for small investors, my Wall Street friends may be mistaken. The top of the present bull market may consist of a leveling off process whereby stocks could continue to sell at their highs for some time.

Most of the business leaders are sore at Walter Reuther and the CIO crowd in his attempt to mix up wages with profits. I grant this is an entirely new departure. The typical capitalist doesn't like anything new, unless it changes the rules in his favor. But may not Reuther be a friend of the small investor by his prevention of abnormal profits and the sustaining of purchasing power?

Market Breaks Are Possible This is not saying that a severe break in the stock market cannot come. It is very possible that the United States may get into a jam with Russia or some other country which could bring about World War III. Then there could be a collapse in city real estate and many industries, especially those in vulnerable cities near the sea coast. But with this there should be a scramble for self-sustaining small farms away from the evil effects of atomic bombs. Why people do not give more thought to the future is beyond me. Surely, the only truly safe "life insurance" is good mother earth. I have some for each of my grandchildren.

Perhaps a more likely reason for a market break would be a fear of Communism or Socialism. When people in this country are finally convinced that Europe is going Socialistic and that the cloud is constantly moving westward, investors will begin to sell. Banks, railroads, utilities, coal and oil stocks, and the stocks of such other large industrial as are now being "nationalized" in England and Europe will be liquidated first. Then there would be no buyers for these stocks, prices could crumble quickly, and the entire market could severely decline.

Stabilization or Destruction? But eliminating the above scares, it is very possible, with the present money situation, aided by the S. E. C. and the CIO, that the stock market may be stabilized at a high level for a few years, as it stabilized at a low level from December, 1938, to December, 1942. Mind you, I am not guaranteeing anything excepting that conditions today are different from ever before. Either we are moving into a more stable world or else a large percentage of our present world is going to be wiped out. With atomic energy facing us, there can be no half-way ground.

But who created this atomic energy? We know that the answer is "God created it," in fact it may even be a manifestation of God. If so, it has unlimited possibilities for good, for making a healthier, happier and more prosperous world. Hence, I believe that atomic energy may bring about the spiritual awakening which this old world so much needs. If so, this discovery alone will be worth the entire cost of World War II, both in lives and property. Market breaks seem very small matters to me compared with these truly magnificent possibilities.

Labor Troubles Appear Nearing Climatic Point

GOV'T PLANS SEIZURE MOVE OF EXCHANGES

Action To Be Taken Only If Communications Deteriorate To Point Where It Should Become Necessary

By WILLIAM NEDHAM Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach took personal charge today of renewed government efforts to end the nation-wide telephone tie-up before seizure of exchanges becomes necessary.

Howard T. Colvin, assistant chief of the Federal Conciliation Service, announced that Schwellenbach may sit in when the basic disputants resume their efforts to work out a settlement (at 10 a. m. EST).

The outlook was uncertain, for Colvin reported "no progress" was made in his three-hour session last night with the principals to the strike causing the telephone tie-up.

Meanwhile, it was learned from a high government official that plans were still being formulated for seizing the telephone industry—if the operators do not voluntarily return to their switchboards. One of the principal questions appeared to be exactly when it would become necessary for the government to step in.

The official, who could not be quoted by name, declared this stage would be reached only "if communications deteriorate to the point where such action becomes necessary."

Colvin told newsmen he saw no reason why the Western Electric Company and the Association of Communications Equipment Workers could not settle the Western Electric strike which brought on the phone tie-up.

New York, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Paralysis gripped the nation's long distance telephone system today, but in New York a continuation of local phone service was assured when members of two unions crossed picket lines to return to their jobs.

The New York Telephone Company reported at mid-morning that all operations for the city exchanges reported for work despite picket lines thrown around 30 of the 38 exchanges by striking installation workers of the Western Electric Co.

The strikers had asked telephone workers not to cross the lines and in many sections of the nation the request was obeyed.

Long distance operators at the American Telephone and Telegraph building at 32 avenue of the Americas—nervous center of all long operations—continued to observe picket lines and supervisors and emergency employees were trying to handle urgent calls.

The two independent unions, representing 13,700 local telephone operators and 2,500 commercial headquarters workers of the New York Telephone Company, voted last night not to honor the picket lines. Union officials declined to estimate how many returned to work this morning.

White House Parley Is Final Effort To Avert Steel Strike; GM Rejects Fact-Finders Proposal; Federal Seizure Hinted In Steel, Meat and Telephone Industries

By ASSOCIATED PRESS The country's labor troubles, a growing sore spot on the post-war reconversion program, appeared to be nearing a climatic point today.

As the deadline neared for strikes in three major industries which would affect some 1,335,000 steel, electrical and meat packing workers, government officials headed by President Truman, acted swiftly to settle the disputes. Wages were the chief issue involved.

The entire labor picture was gloomy. Federal seizure of the steel and meat packing industries, against which strikes are scheduled next Monday and Wednesday, respectively, was hinted.

The current strike crippling the country's telephone service, also brought reports from government sources in Washington that federal control of the telephone exchanges might be recommended.

Settlement of the controversy in the steel industry was given top-ranking priority by the government. The last-minute attempt to halt the scheduled walkout of some 800,000 steelworkers came as plants in some parts of the country were closing down.

Summoned to Washington by Mr. Truman were Benjamin F. Fairless, U. S. Steel president, and Philip Murray, president of the CIO United Steel workers, as well as CIO chief. Government officials held that settlement of the steel industry controversy would pave the way for peace in other industries involved or threatened by work stoppages. The President was reported ready to sit in on the meeting.

The impending strikes in the steel, meat and electrical industries held major attention today with the country-wide walkout of telephone workers which started yesterday after a strike of 8,000 Western Electric telephone installation workers in a dispute over wages.

Picket lines established by the strikers were not being observed by all telephone workers, but the National Federation of Telephone Workers, which claims a membership of 63,000, said the lines would be honored.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company said all except 124 of its 10,124 long distance operators had refused to cross picket lines or stayed away from work. Also joining in the sympathy walkout were an undisclosed number of the country's 145,000 local and toll operators, in addition to clerks and maintenance men.

Dial service, by which 65 per cent of the nation's telephones are operated automatically, was not immediately affected by the strike, but union officials said it would be disrupted in a few days.

Another major development along the labor front was the flat rejection by General Motors of Mr. Truman's fact-finding board's recommendation of a 17-1/2 per cent wage increase for its some 200,000 striking employees. (Continued on Page Two)

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN BANK

Blaze of Undetermined Origin In State Bank Building Last Night

By CHESTER WALSH Fire of undetermined origin in the State Bank Building at Five Points shortly after 11 o'clock last night for a time threatened to result in a serious blaze. Fire Chief George Gardner said the fire started in an inside storage room on the third floor where janitors' and other supplies are kept. The fire had broken the glass in a door leading to a hall when the firemen arrived. They carried a line of standard hose into the building, but did not use it. They used a booster tank to put out the blaze.

Firemen were praised for spreading tarpaulins over equipment in the bank when water started dripping there. Firemen were called back to the building this morning when smoke was seen coming from a window.

The State Bank Building, in the heart of the business section of Greenville, houses many of the city's physicians' and dentists' offices and numerous other important business and professional places. A fire, to get any kind of headway in the building, erected about the time of the first World War, would seriously cripple affairs here. The building is not fireproof.

The NATION TODAY By James Marlow

By JAMES MARLOW Washington, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The nation today faced one of the most tragic crises in its economic and industrial history.

In the midst of reconversion the two greatest giants in industry—General Motors and U. S. Steel—are squared off with a labor giant, CIO.

Unless agreement can be reached fast, here are possible outcomes: Big business will have to bow to labor; big business will smash the CIO; the government may try to take over both industries, pending a settlement; Congress may pass laws bitter for labor and industry. And Congress meets Monday.

General Motors and U. S. Steel late yesterday broke with the CIO over its wage demands. They did it within about one hour of each other. So within that hour big business threw up a solid front against labor.

It was a showdown fight. The whole American economy, and its hope of easing through reconversion, is pinned on those two industrial giants. They are key industries.

Yet those giants seem to be in far better position to weather the storm than labor. The autoworkers have been on strike two months. The steelworkers are scheduled to strike Monday.

Which means: They'll get from the government a refund on the taxes they paid in war years, when profits were good, to make up for losses they suffer in 1946—or at least to make up in great part for their losses.

The strikers can't get any tax refund of any kind. The provisions in the tax law, outlined above, were for the benefit of business, not for workers.

You, a bystander, with a vital stake in American prosperity, will additionally have to decide whether this is also the situation:

- 1. It is labor versus big business and the government.
2. Or, it is big business versus labor and the government.
3. Or, it is labor versus big business with the government as referee. (Continued on Page Two)

PRAYER IN TIME
 Some people's religion does not work because they use it only as a last resort. When human effort, or the doctor, or good luck, or the bank account fails them, they turn to religion.

But the time to be religious is all the time. Touch-and-go religion is absurd and stultifying. This is not to say that after years of neglect a person should hesitate to pray in a crisis. It only means that the chances of success are vastly increased if prayer in crisis is but part of a lifelong series of petitions.

Especially should we pray for power to resist temptation in those seasons of calm when we are free of temptation. The most unpromising time to pray for deliverance from temptation is when the temptation is hot upon us. When with quiet and elevated minds we look upon evil and see its weakness, that is the time when we should pray earnestly to be delivered from its power.

If we do so, we may not even notice temptation when it crosses our pathway. Certainly we shall have more power to resist it if we meet it face to face on the highway of life. The place to stop evil is at its source. The time to stop evil is long before we encounter it. We are wise if on sunny days we prepare for storm.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
 By JACK STINNETT

(Second of Two Articles)
 Washington—That old song that goes "you'll never get rich—your in the Army now" has lost a lot of its meaning for those men who are flocking into the services under the new armed services Voluntary Recruitment Act.

For the first time in history, our peacetime Army and Navy are holding out inducements that private enterprise would be hard put to match. It would be impossible to list in this space all the inducements held out by the new act. But we can look at a few. The recruiting officers in your neighborhood will know the rest.

About that "never get rich" business. A 17-year-old enlistee today. He serves 30 years, a part of it overseas. At 74 he retires with $155.25 a month for life, if he has climbed to the top non-commissioned grade. In the meantime he will have had pay ranging from $50 to $138 a month—plus food, clothing, medical benefits, clean insurance, 30-day annual furloughs, off-duty travel rates, monetary family allowances, a free general education or specialized training, and, on discharge, all the veterans' benefits now guaranteed under the very liberal GI Bill of Rights.

The retirement pay alone of $155.25 is equivalent to 3 per cent a year on $52,000—a very neat sum to have cut at 3 per cent in the late forties, with plenty of good earning years ahead if you want to continue working.

If a master or first sergeant reaches that grade within 20 years, he can cut right there at 37 or so, with a monthly income for life of $89.70.

There are so many other little items in the recruitment inducements it's hard to pass over some—like that allowance of up to 95 days paid furlough (depending on length of previous service) with 5 cents a mile travel pay to and from home.

What the Army is going to do about this clause for the 8700 boys on Okinawa who re-enlisted in mass not long ago has not been settled here, but Pentagon officials say "they'll get their furloughs eventually, if not sooner."

The Army thinks so much of its recruitment campaign that it has put the advertising of it in the hands of one of the nation's best known public relations firms. They also have set up 600 recruiting stations throughout the nine service commands and detailed 1,800 officers, 6,000 non-commissioned officers and 2,400 civilians to handle the field work.

 When the CIO autoworkers struck because General Motors would not meet its wage demands, President Truman appointed a fact-finding board to make recommendations on what it considered a fair increase. The board did. General Motors rejected the board's recommendations as too high.

Just about the time General Motors was saying "No" to the autoworkers, P. S. Steel announced that negotiations with its steelworkers had broken down. The workers had wanted an increase of $2 a day but reduced this demand to $1.60. U. S. Steel wouldn't meet the revised figure.

In a last effort to avert disaster, President Truman asked CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel President Benjamin F. Fairless to confer with him in the White House today.

Aluminum Usage Will Be Expanded
 Washington, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The government today forecast "greatly increased" use of aluminum in housing, automobiles and many other things as the result of a boom in the metal market involving the light metal.

By signing along the Aluminum Company of America free use of its patents for lowest processing of aluminum ore, the surplus property administration said it has "cleared the way for competition in the aluminum industry."

First result of the agreement will be to permit the Reynolds Metal Company to lease two government-owned plants in Arkansas. SPA Administrator W. Stuart Symington termed last night's arrangement the "key to SPA's aluminum plant disposal program," adding:

This decision of Reynolds and splendid contribution of Alcoa is the first step in putting back to work thousands of Americans and at the same time makes it possible to follow the American tradition of competitive free enterprise in the aluminum industry.

As a result of negotiations begun five days ago, Vice President I. W. Wilson of Alcoa joined with Symington late yesterday in announcing release of the patents, royalties to RFC. That agency in turn ran a sub-lease them to Alcoa competitors.

 Committees Named For Infantile Paralysis Drive Here

By MRS. CHARLES E. BLAIR
 At a meeting at the Old Towne Inn last night, O. E. Dowd of Greenville and John M. Biggers of Winterville, co-chairmen of the Pitt County chapter of the March of Dimes appeal, announced their committees and aides who will serve throughout the county, in connection with the nation-wide appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for funds to continue the fight against poliomyelitis.

Realizing that the most effective ammunition in this war against infantile paralysis is complete preparedness, they announced their selection of township chairmen, who are enthusiastic and are inspired with the spirit and force behind this greatest of causes as follows: Ayden, Faust Johnson; Bethel, W. C. Latham; Bell Arthur, Paul J. Clark; Belvoir, L. L. Maury; Chicod, Newman Lewis; Grimesland, M. L. Bass; Stokes, R. C. Folk; Grifton, W. M. Futrell and Mrs. R. P. Rasbury, co-chairmen; Pateolis, T. M. Grimes; Falkland, Mrs. Ellen L. Carroll; Farmville, J. H. Moore; Fountain, Mrs. Herman Baker; Miss Elizabeth Norman, chairman of the Third Street school and Miss Francis Wahl of the Training School.

Miss Verona Lee Joyner, chairman of the women's division, announced the women's committee chairmen as follows: Ayden, Mrs. Ralph Hurd; Greenville, Mrs. Sam Worthinton; Belvoir, Mrs. J. T. Dunne; Bell Arthur, Mrs. Lawrence White; Pethel, Mrs. Wadde Ward; Chicod, P.T.A. sponsor, Corvy Stokes; Falkland, Mrs. G. H. Pittman; Farmville, Mrs. R. T. Williams; Fountain, Mrs. E. B. Stokes and Mrs. Beatrice Cherry, co-chairmen; Winterville, Mrs. Mamie Liverman.

D. H. Conley, former chairman of the chapter, spoke in praise of the work done by Pitt County last year. $1,000 was sent to the hospital in Hickory at one time, other expenditures, including transportation and hospitalization, were $717.95.

"We can hope that the children of our community will be spared in the year before us," Mr. Conley said. "We cannot be sure. No one can predict where, when or how severely the great crippler will strike. It therefore behooves us to be prepared."

Dr. Barnhill Will Work Negro Schools
 We have been informed by the Pitt County health officer, Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, that Dr. J. H. Barnhill, a dentist in the Negro Division of the State Mouth Health Program, reported for work in the Pitt County colored schools Monday, January 7.

According to Dr. Ennett, Dr. Barnhill has served the Pitt County schools over a period of several years most acceptably. He will continue the work in the county for the next six weeks.

We learned that the State Board of Health on account of the shortage of white dentists, is at present unable to furnish a dentist for the white schools, but the health officer has been assured by Dr. E. A. Branch, director of the State Mouth Health Program, that a dentist will be furnished for the white schools at the earliest possible date.

Labor Troubles . . .

 The GM strikers comprise nearly one-half of the 413,000 workers idle throughout the country because of labor disputes.

In Detroit today, officials of the CIO United Auto Workers Union who called the strike last November 21 in support of demands for a 30 per cent wage rate hike, met to study the report. General Motors termed as "unacceptable in whole or in part" the board's proposal for a 19-2 cents an hour wage increase and reinstatement of the union contract.

U. D. C. Meeting
Our great leader, Robert E. Lee, was the subject of the address at the meeting of the George B. Singletary chapter, Thursday afternoon when Mrs. N. T. Ennett very graciously entertained at her home on Rotary avenue.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. L. Fleming, the vice president, Mrs. P. E. Wells, presided and the usual business was transacted.

We have been saddened by the death of one of our most faithful and beloved members, Mrs. P. H. Gregory, for whom we mourn, she having passed away after a short illness near the close of the year.

After the business was dispatched, the hostess, Mrs. Ennett, proceeded with the program of the afternoon. As an introduction, she gave a short genealogy of the Lee family and showed a picture which was a facsimile of one which is now in the Valentine collection in Richmond, Virginia, the sculptor, who made the recumbent statue of Lee which is in the chapel of Washington and Lee University, considered the original the best picture of Lee.

Mrs. Ennett then read a beautiful eulogy given by Woodrow Wilson at the University of North Carolina in 1901 and then one given by W. J. Cameron, a native of a northern state, unites with us in honoring this great man.

For the social hour we were invited into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed table over which Mrs. Wells presided.

Special guests for the afternoon were Mrs. R. L. Humber, Miss Eliza Harding and Miss Mary Harding. —Reported.

Embroidery Exhibit at Art Gallery
Embroideries are featured in the exhibit now showing at the Community Art Center Gallery in Shepard Memorial Library. One can find a variety of uses for which these embroideries are used—lovely flower pictures, old samplers, maps, shawls, mottoes of welcome home, or a welcoming message for the honored guest. Found in the exhibit will also be types of embroidery covering a period of 125 years or more. Most of the work was done in America, some in Pitt county but included are several pieces from other countries. An especially beautiful piece is one done by Miss Matilda O'Hagan and which had recently been donated to the Community Art Center.

In addition to the embroidery exhibit several new paintings and other additions have been added to the Oriental exhibit lent by the George Monks of Farmville—and China.

The usual gallery hours of 2 to 6 every afternoon—are being observed. The public is invited to visit the gallery often. New additions and changes in exhibits are constantly being made. If one does not get in the habit of paying regular visits to the gallery many interesting and worthwhile exhibits will be missed.

In Memory
In loving remembrance of my dear mother, Sallie Hardee, who died one year ago today.

One year has passed since that sad day.

When my dear mother was called away, she was always patient, loving and kind.

What a beautiful memory she left behind.

How happy days we once enjoyed, How sweet this memory still, But she has left an aching heart, This world can never fill.

You shall always be remembered, In this weary world of strife, And you shall never be forgotten, As long as God gives me life.

Human hands tried to save you, Sighs and tears were all in vain, But an angel came and bore you, From this weary world of pain.

In Memoriam
We, the members of the George B. Singletary chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy wish to pay tribute to one of our most honored and best beloved members, Mrs. P. H. Gregory who passed away on December 27, 1945.

Lucy Lewis Gregory, born and reared at Milton, N. C. spent most of her wedded years in New York and came to Greenville several years ago where she had since resided with her two sisters, Misses Mary and Kate Lewis, the latter of the faculty of East Carolina Teachers College. After coming to Greenville, Mrs. Gregory early aligned herself with different organizations of uplift and patriotic work, among them the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

By her warm heart, her culture, the charm and sincerity of her manner she quickly won a place of high esteem in our membership.

In grateful remembrance of her years of service and fellowship, we offer the following resolutions:

First: That we bow in humble submission to our Heavenly Father, thanking Him for the goodness made manifest in the life of our departed friend and member.

Second: That we extend to her loved ones our heartfelt sympathy and commend them to Him who is able and willing to bless them in their sorrow.

Third: That a copy of these resolutions be spread on our chapter records, a copy be sent to the family and one to the Daily Reflector.

HUMBER MADE GREAT SPEECH

Eminent Scholar Guest Speaker At Kiwanis Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH
Quoting the illustrious Thomas Payne, "These are the times that try men's souls," Robert Lee Humber, scholar and philosopher, reviewed the labor and industrial crisis through which this country is now passing, before a representative audience of 75 business and professional men at the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night.

The club had the largest attendance in years to hear the distinguished Pitt countian discuss a vital subject. He received a warm welcome and received an extended and prolonged applause when he concluded his eloquent oration. Kiwanians, after the meeting, said Mr. Humber's speech should have been recorded and that millions should have an opportunity to read it and digest its wealth of sage advice.

President Ed. E. Rawl, vice-president of Carolina Sales Corporation, presided. Dr. Richard E. Hardaway presented Mr. Humber, "who needs no introduction."

Mr. Humber pointed out that there are two sides to the conflict between industry and labor, and he lucidly enumerated some of them. He recalled the great achievements of labor when the late President Roosevelt called upon the working men of this country to produce war materials and paid them tribute, accompanying it with praise for industry for its part in the war program.

The speaker stressed the point that there should be some recourse to penalize labor when it violates a contract, and likewise industry. Strikes have been the instrument of improving labor's lot, he said, but he solemnly reminded that it is vitally important that there should be a law by which industry and labor could settle their differences, pull together for the good of the nation and not tie up the vital industries of the nation every time they have differences.

"We are living at a focal point in the nation's history," Mr. Humber declared. "We are living in a transition era. Five years ago when the war began, one age ended and another began—the mechanized era. The war taught us that the basis for setting all problems is equity. History teaches us that in the early days of the Union politics was as hazy-burly as present-day industry-labor and its strikes. We should render strikes unnecessary, as we elevated political campaigns. Mr. Humber expressed faith in the value of the government's fact-finding bodies to settle labor differences and avoid conflict.

Before concluding the speaker enumerated the resources of Eastern Carolina and the talents of its people, agreed with the late Irvin S. Cobb that "What North Carolina needs is a press agent," and quoted the late Dr. Conwell's famous lecture, "Acres of Diamonds," and reminded the very representative audience that "we are literally living on acres of diamonds, that the wealth of the section is barely touched, and that there is an urgent challenge at this time for fearless and constructive leadership.

Guests of the club were Richard King, Frank M. Brown, Dr. C. F. Irons, a newcomer to Greenville; Col. T. M. Metz, Melvin Whitford and Police Chief Jim Tanner.

President Rawl announced the annual Kiwanis minstrel committees will be appointed in the near future. The club made $1,800 from the minstrel last year, under Eli Blooms direction. This money is used for the club's underprivileged child work.

Health Officer Submits Report

At a meeting of the Pitt County Medical and Dental Societies last night Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, county health officer, submitted the following report of his department's activities for the month of December.

"The work of the Pitt County Health Department for the month of December, consisted largely of quarantine, school health work, maternal and infant welfare clinics, tuberculosis control, venereal disease clinics and general sanitation work.

"The contagious disease situation was as follows: Diphtheria, 4 cases; scarlet fever, 3; whooping cough, 1; tuberculosis, 3. There was no typhoid and no measles. While the number of tuberculosis cases reported was lower than for any month since July, at the same time, the number for the closing year was 67 cases against the 1944 total of 48 cases. In this connection, I might add that certain influential citizens in the county have proposed that the Pitt County War Memorial take the form of a Pitt County Tuberculosis Sanatorium. And may I remind you that the next monthly tuberculosis clinic will be held Friday, January 18, 2 to 4 p. m. at Dr. Mewborn's offices in Farmville, conducted by Dr. Mewborn. These clinics are for both white and colored patients from any part of Pitt County are eligible to attend.

"The school health work consisted of 466 physical examinations by the health officer.

"The orthopedic clinic for December was unusually large there being 46 patients in attendance. The year's figures show an attendance of 443 against the previous year's attendance of 413. As you know, this clinic is sponsored by the Greenville Rotary Club and is conducted by Dr. Hugh A. Thompson of Raleigh.

"The material and infant welfare clinics had an attendance of 33 patients and the venereal disease clinics had an attendance of 844 patients.

Phantoms Win In Tarboro Session
By DAVE CLARK

The Green Phantoms played their worst basketball of the season, which is really saying something, and still were able to win over a very weak and inexperienced Tarboro five 38-22 in Tarboro last night.

To put it mildly, the Phantoms looked "worse than awful" in winning over a team of boys who had never played any "team" basketball before this year. The Greenies missed easy shots and threw away many passes as they let the Tarboro boys hold them to a 11-7 lead for the first half. Coach Farley used both his first and second teams during this half in an effort to find the right combination, but neither five was able to play the game of which they are capable.

In the last half, the Greenies began to find the basket a little better and scored 27 points to 15 for Tarboro. This brought the final score to Greenville 38, Tarboro 22.

Jimmy Futrell, without a doubt the most consistent Greenville performer during this season and last, was high scorer once again with 11 points. Ed Williams was right behind him with 10 markers, while Center J. T. Williams tossed in 9 tallies.

Owens, Tarboro center, was high man for that ball club with 8 points.

The Tarboro team, although they were badly handicapped by inexperience, hustled all the way and made the Phantoms fight for what they got.

The starting line-up for Greenville was Billy Harrington and Mac Batchelor at guards, Jimmy Futrell and Ed Williams at forwards, and J. T. Williams at center.

Substitutes for Greenville were: Julian White, Billy White, Henry Turner, Jack Whitchard, Cletas Jackson, Denny Posey, and Dave Clark.

Kinston Midgets Win Over Green Phantoms
In a game for boys under fourteen years of age played this morning, the Kinston Red Devil youngsters combined greater height and experience to win over the Green Phantom 12 and 13 year olds by a 11-5 score.

The Kinston boys took an early lead which they never relinquished during the entire game. Paced by Broughton, their tall center who scored 12 points, they rolled up a 11-5 score by half time and went on to win in the last half.

High scorer for Greenville was Lefty Tommy Lupton with 6 points. Billy Jordan took the runner up spot with four markers, followed by Johnny Farley with 2 points.

Broughton, with 12, and Stanley with 5 were high for Kinston.

Duke's Blue Devils racked up their sixth consecutive Southern Conference victory last (Friday) night, as they continued their drive toward the 1946 basketball crown in the loop.

Latest victim of the Dukies was N. C. State, who fell last night by a 46-34 margin.

North Carolina "Big Five" teams gained an even break in two out-of-state games last night. North Carolina, recovering from a Duke defeat earlier in the week, trimmed Virginia at Charlottesville, 44-32; but Davidson dropped a close 38-34 decision to Furman at Greenville, S. C. in a conference game.

Elon opened the North State conference season with a 63-38 plastering of Lenoir-Rhyne at Hickory. At Winston-Salem, the powerful Hanes Hosiery quintet ran roughshod over Guilford, 78-23.

Six games are scheduled tonight for state teams. In Southern Conference games, Duke plays at Wake Forest and North Carolina at Vir-
