US Cooperation Pledged To UNO

Secretary Byrnes Calls Upon Assembly To Promptly Approve Creation Of Special Commission On Control Of Atomic Energy; Our Responsibilities Are Acknowledged

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

London, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Secretary Byrnes called upon the United Nations Assembly today to "approve promptly" the creation of a special commission on control of atomic energy and to pledge land, sea and air forces to a world police force.

Opening the first general policy debate in the assembly, the secretary of state pledged full cooperation of the United States in the new world organization. He spoke after the assembly broke a deadlock over the 18th and final seat on its important economic and social council.

Urging the assembly to approve the formula for the atomic commission drafted at the Moscow foreign ministers conference, Byrnes declared:

"We must not fail to devise the safeguards necessary to insure that this great discovery is used for human welfare and not for more deadly human warfare.

"We should begin upon this task immediately. The establishment of a commission to deal with the problems raised by the discovery of atomic energy is inseparably linked with the problem of security. It is a matter of primary concern to all nations."

The resolution to create the commission is jointly sponsored by the United States, Britain, Russia, Canada, France and China. In effect it would turn the atomic problem over to the Security Council for solution. Canada, which narrowly missed election to the council Friday, would sit in with the council on all atomic discussions because she worked with Britain and the United States in the development of the atomic bomb.

Promising cooperation in the new peace organization, Byrnes said: "Twenty-five years ago we in the United States were not fully aware of our responsibility. But with others we have learned from experience. This time both the U. S. Government and its people are deeply-conscious of their responsibility. This time, on their behalf, I pledge full and whole-hearted cooperation."

The new peace organization, he said, has been born in the "indescriminate pain and suffering of many peoples in many lands" and it "must live because in this atomic age the common interest, which should unite free nations in maintaining a friendly, peaceful world, far outweighs any possible conflict in interest which might divide them."

"Great states as well as small states," he added, "must come to view their power as a sacred trust to be exercised not for selfish purposes but for the good of all peoples."

Byrnes warned against overburdening the organization, especially at the start, with all sorts of problems in expectation of "magic solutions."

"Let us beware of the die-hard enthusiasts, as well as the die-hard (Continued on Page Four)"

CONGRESS TO OK PRICE AND RENT CONTROL

Senators Anticipate Little Opposition To President's Request For Extension Of Controls

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Word went out to the re-opening Congress today that President Truman will ask a full year's extension of price control. That would carry the act to June 30, 1947, and first reaction among returning senators is that Mr. Truman will get his request, possibly in modified form.

In his fireside chat to the people January 3, the President declared that price and rent controls will have to be maintained "for many months to come." He added that he wants the law renewed well in advance of its expiration date.

A Senator with White House contacts said a full year's extension would be asked, possibly in Mr. Truman's State of the Union message which is to be read next Thursday. This senator asked that he not be identified by name.

Told of the development, Senator Overton (D-La.) commented in an interview:

"I will support a full year's extension. Actually, it may have to be retained longer than that—two or three years—until supply catches up with demand."

Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) said he was "not unalterably opposed" to continuing the controls in modified form. (Continued on page four)

ASKS PERMIT USE AIRFIELD

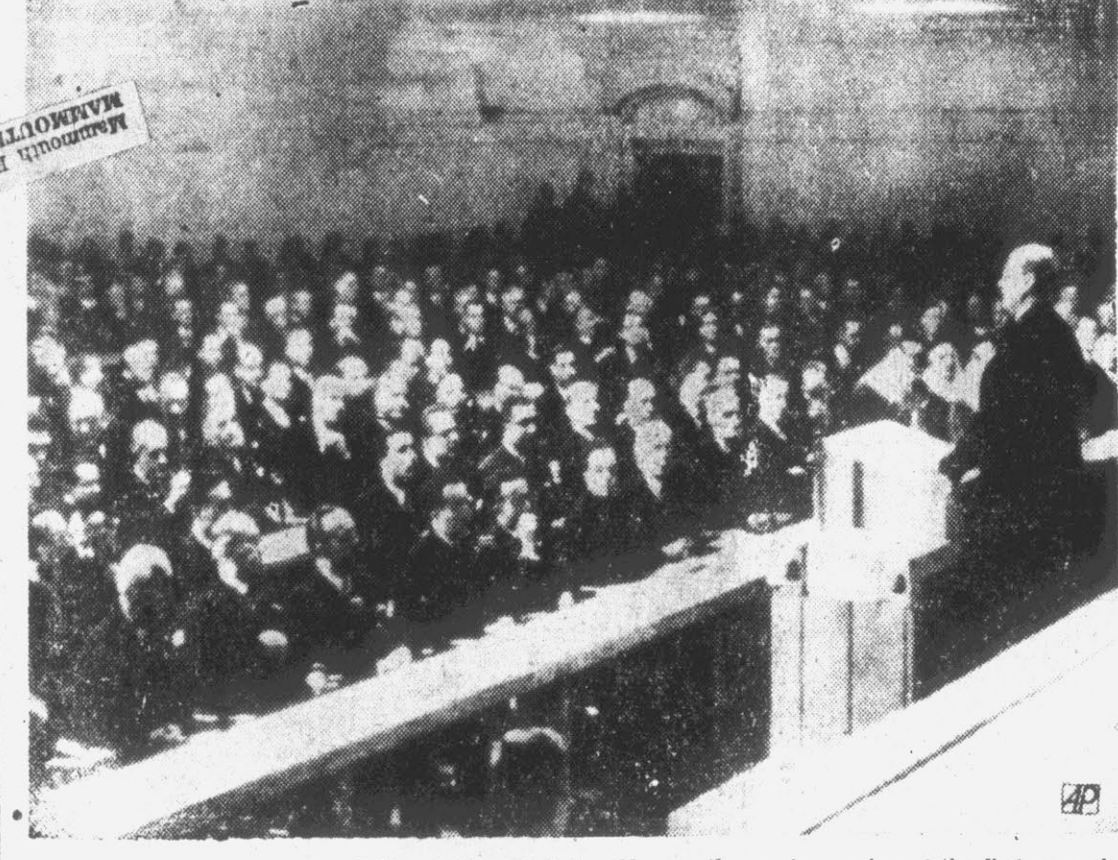

City Seeks Right To Allow Civilians To Use Flying Field

By CHESTER WALSH

Mayor Jack Boyd announced today that the city of Greenville had made a formal request of the commanding officer of the U. S. Marine Air Base at Cherry Point for permission to use the county-city airfield for civilian purposes. When permission is granted for civilian use, the airfield, with its three 5,000-foot paved runways, the city and county, in turn, make arrangements for civilian fliers to use the field.

Granting of a permit for civilians to use the airfield does not mean formal turning back of the airfield by the Navy Department to the county and city, the mayor said. The Navy Department, shortly after the war started, leased the airfield from the county and city, for $100 a year, until six months after the war is officially over. The U. S. PEARL HARBOR PROBE TO END

Board Members Hope Hearings Will End By February Deadline

By JACK BELL

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—An end to the Pearl Harbor investigation in February was envisioned by members today with the possibility that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York may not be called.

Dewey was one of 48 prospective witnesses listed when hearings began November 15. Of this group only one has testified thus far: William D. Mitchell, former counsel, said about 20 additional witnesses not named among the 48 will be called to tell about the so-called "Winds Message."

During the 1944 presidential campaign Dewey received letters from Gen. George C. Marshall, then army chief of staff, urging him not to reveal that the United States had broken the Japanese code and was continuing to read the enemy's messages.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) said Dewey's statements to Marshall's representative who delivered the letters indicated that the New York governor already knew the code was broken.

Lucas said he wants to know who told Dewey about this highly important military secret. But the Illinois senator told a reporter today he will not insist upon Dewey's being called if the committee decides to shorten the hearings.

Lucas and Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) agreed that the committee must clear up evidence about the "Winds" message.

Before December 7, 1941, the Japanese set up arrangements, in messengers that were intercepted and decoded by this country, to let their diplomats consult know when relations with the United States, Great Britain or Russia were at the breaking point.

In the case of a break with the United States, the Tokyo news report to broadcast in its noon news report the words "Fast Winds Rain." The Senate-House inquiry thus far has received conflicting evidence about whether the signal ever was broadcast, although Mitchell, Dewey's investigator showed that there was so such implicit message.

Ferguson told a reporter he is not satisfied with the statement of Mitchell, who since has been succeeded as counsel by Seth Richardson, a Washington attorney.

Demonstrators March In Shanghai Streets

Shanghai, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Chinese students who shouted "Why don't you go home?" to American troops demonstrated in Shanghai streets today for establishment of a democratic China and withdrawal of United States forces.

Leaders of the several thousand students, who marched six abreast through the streets, said the demonstration was part of a nation-wide movement.

The demonstrators waved placards and banners, and shouted their slogans for American withdrawal and democracy in both China and England.

Extensive Program Faces New Congress

Leaders Asked To Speed Truman Legislation; Labor Strife And Budgetary Reductions Early On Agenda

Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—The 79th Congress began its second session today with a program of legislation that includes speeding up Truman legislation, labor strife and budgetary reductions early on agenda.

Acting House Speaker McCormack of Massachusetts told reporters the President declared at a White House conference with congressional leaders that he was "very anxious" to re-act on his legislative program.

McCormack said the entire program was discussed at the White House in a general way, and the strike situation was reviewed.

He quoted the President as believing early action imperative on his proposal for a law setting up fact-finding boards to handle major labor controversies and providing for a 30-day cooling off period before strikes take effect.

Senator Eastland (D-Miss.) told reporters he would seek immediate Senate action on the fact-finding legislation asked by the President.

"We've either got to get out some strike legislation or surrender the country to the CIO," he said.

As the lawmakers reconvened Mr. Truman sent them a recommendation that appropriations and contract authorizations be cut back by $5,021,887,483.

This would be in addition to $30,345,409,169 in recessions approved by Congress near the close of the last session.

The President requested the reductions in funds for war and civilian agencies. He explained in a (Continued on page six)

Today In Congress

By Max Hall

By WILLIAM MARGOGAST Washington, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Its ears to the ground, its eyes on the approaching elections, the 79th Congress returns today for its second session.

The first full peace time session since 1941 finds Congress somewhat "on the spot"—with a mountain of work ahead, its White House relations strained to the breaking point and the voters displaying a keener-than-usual interest in capitol hill activities.

For this is a congressional election year. All 435 House and 32 of the 96 Senate seats will be filled in November. Hence political considerations will dictate many congressional actions.

This is the year Republicans hope will break a decade and a half of Democratic supremacy in Congress. They believe confidently they can wrest control of the House if they play their cards right.

The cleavage between capitol hill and the White House—already wide when Congress went home last month—look on larger proportions after President Truman's January 3 radio address complaining of inaction on postwar domestic legislation.

In that speech, Mr. Truman called upon "the most powerful pressure group in the world—the American people" to put the heat on Congress and demand action.

Congress, the President declared, has done little to enact the legislation he has requested.

The shape of early congressional action likely will be formed by reaction to Mr. Truman's plea. Already the mail has started to flow into the offices of senators and representatives—some of its supporters, some denouncing the position of Congress.

Because major public interest has centered in the labor situation and in the armed services' demobilization programs, those subjects will receive prompt attention.

Assassinations Add To Tension In Indochina

French Charge Anarchy Is Prevailing Throughout Northern Part Of Province; Situation Unimproved Since Jap Surrender

Hanoi, Indochina, Jan. 12.—(Delayed)—(AP)—An air of explosive tension grips this city of 180,000, where 20,000 Frenchmen are forbidden by Chinese occupation forces to possess any weapons while fully armed Annamite soldiers of the Republic of Viet Nam circulate freely.

The latest major incident was the daylight assassination of Frenchman Jean Baylin, director of the Hanoi branch of the Bank of Indochina, in a downtown street.

French foreign office figures charge 35 Frenchmen "have been murdered."

"Anarchy prevails throughout the north, with no police in the city, no coal, no railroads in operation," a French spokesman said. "From the French viewpoint there has been no improvement in the situation in Tonkin province since the Japanese surrender."

"We can restore order in a short time, if we get permission to bring troops in. Furthermore, we can do it without serious trouble, especially if the Chinese agree to joint occupation for a few weeks before their withdrawal."

To date there has been no indication as to when the Chinese plan to pull out.

At present, the Republic of Viet Nam, which was formed from the French protectorate of Annam and which ousted a Japanese puppet regime last August, operates the civil administration throughout the region. The government of President Ho Chi Minh officially frowns on the assaults on individual Frenchmen and considers the assassinations to be a crime.

Chinese sentries are seen on every street, but so are armed Annamite soldiers. It is estimated there are about 15,000 armed men in the Annamite army, with about 3,000 in the Hanoi area.

The French have 5,000 troops, including 800 men of the Foreign Legion, but their arms were seized by the Japanese last March 9 and they never were rearmed. Fifteen thousand French civilians live in Hanoi and another 5,000 elsewhere in Tonkin province.

In addition to the other recommendations, the President proposed the return to the treasury of $346,890 in corporate funds.

Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors Corporation, and R. J. Thomas and Walter Reuther, leaders of the CIO Auto Workers Union, had been scheduled to testify on the fact-finding bill before the Senate Labor Committee this forenoon.

All three informed the Senate group they were unable to be present. (Continued on Page Six)

Churchill And Wife Plan Long Vacation

New York, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Winston Churchill and his wife will arrive in New York tonight aboard the British liner Queen Elizabeth for a six-weeks vacation in the United States.

The former prime minister has said he would spend most of the time in Florida, and would devote part of it to painting and continuing with the writing of his memoirs.

The only state engagement planned during the stay is a meeting with President Truman at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo. on March 5. That occasion will honor his visit—the ninth he has made to the United States.

Soldier Condemned To Death For Murder

Osaka, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Pfc Joseph E. Hicswa, 20, of Lodi in Berenson County, N. J., has been condemned to death by an Army court-martial for the murder of two Japanese, 98th Division officers disclosed today.

Hicswa's death sentence, believed the first imposed on an American soldier for a crime against Japanese, must be reviewed by two higher authorities before it can be carried out.

Hicswa reenlisted in the regular army Nov. 22, and was scheduled to return to the United States on reenlistment furlough when the crimes were committed. It was testified at the court-martial.

He was taken into custody at Nagsawa Nov. 25, when he reported for processing and return to America, it was testified. The killings took place the night of Nov. 24.

Wallington, N. J., Jan. 14.—(AP)—The mayors of the two communities where Pfc Joseph E. Hicswa lived and went to school, began joint campaigns today to fight the death sentence imposed on the Wallington soldier by an Army court-martial in Japan.

The parents of the youth were stunned at the news he had been convicted of the murder of two Japanese. The family had expected the soldier home shortly and kept a Christmas tree still decorated with presents for him beneath it.

Workers Call Picket Lines; National Federation Of Telephone Workers Postpone Strike For 30 Days; Steel Outlook Improving

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's disrupted telephone service returned to normal in most places today after striking equipment workers called off their picket lines and the National Federation of Telephone Workers postponed the call for a nationwide strike for 30 days.

The federation, an independent organization, yesterday ordered nationwide telephone strike for today but quickly postponed it for 30 days to permit members to vote on the question under provisions of the Smith-Connally Act.

At the same time the federation requested its striking affiliate, the Association of Communications Equipment Workers, to call off its strike, withdraw picket lines which telephone operators had refused to cross in many cities, and turn the dispute over to the parent organization.

The equipment workers complied this morning and telephone operators returned to their jobs in most places, restoring normal long distance and local service, where disruptions had occurred.

Other late developments in the labor crisis:

1. A government fact-finding committee's basis for settlement of the General Motors strike, once rejected by the corporation, was accepted by CIO United Auto Workers representatives.

2. Steel mill operations were returning to normal after the CIO delayed its planned walkout until next Sunday midnight while wage negotiations continue.

3. A spokesman for the CIO Electrical Workers Union said a strike tomorrow of 200,000 employees of Westinghouse, General Electric and General Motors will not be postponed.

4. A government conciliator expressed hope a meat industry strike set for Wednesday, could be averted.

5. In Washington, strong congressional sentiment was reported developing for stiff union-control legislation.

President Joseph A. Beirne of the telephone federation said he hoped wage conflicts in the industry could be settled without a communications tieup.

Besides postponing a walkout of a major part of the nation's telephone workers, the federation's executive board ordered the union's 48 member locals to file individual strike notices under the Smith-Connally law, and asked striking installation workers, employed by the Western Electric Co., to go back to their jobs and withdraw pickets from telephone exchanges.

The UAW-CIO gave General Motors Corp. until Jan. 21 to reconsider its rejection of the fact-finders' recommendation. In announcing it would accept the recommended 17 1/2 per cent raise, the union's General Motors council declared it would revert to its original 30 per cent demand unless GM handed his mind within 12 per cent increase.

STORM BREWS IN ARGENTINA

Industrial Shutdown Starts In Protest Of Gov't Decree

By J. P. McEVROY

Buenos Aires, Jan. 14.—(AP)—A virtual blackout of commerce and industry covered Argentina today at the start of a 72-hour slowdown called by the nation's business leaders.

The shutdown was in protest to the military government's refusal to modify a decree ordering wage increases and year end bonuses for workers.

There were no deliveries of bread or groceries. The Butchers Association announced shops were open today but would close tomorrow.

Milk was delivered. The government promised no one would be deprived of "articles of prime necessity."

Whether bread and meat deliveries would be permitted tomorrow and Wednesday was questionable, although President Gen. Edelmir Farrell's government may order the deliveries resumed on the grounds that public health is menaced.

Only factories where 24-hour processing was necessary permitted workers to enter and these limited staffs to skeleton maintenance (Continued on page four)

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler Madrid, Spain, Jan. 14.—(AP)—There's sense of keen public expectancy here in the Spanish capital in connection with reports that Don Juan, pretender to the Spanish crown, is negotiating for a return to the throne of his fathers.

These reports were given a sharp fillip yesterday when Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Artajo, in a conference with the foreign press, confirmed that Don Juan and his wife would journey from Switzerland to Portugal to visit his aged parents. The latter live in Seville, but are going to Portugal for the meeting.

The foreign minister didn't suggest there was any political significance in this matter. It was natural, however, that such a visit by Don Juan should be coupled in the public mind with restoration of the monarchy—which doesn't sound like a bad guess at that.

Anyway, that's the highly interesting situation your correspondent and his staff helpmeet have encountered on dropping out of a windy sky into the sunshine of Madrid after a flight over the lofty Pirenees from Paris.

Most everybody in Madrid—like in Spain, for that matter—is now talking about the possible restoration of the monarchy and this is true whether they like the idea or whether they don't. If this column could tell you how opinion is divided, it would do so. However, time alone can do that. Don't forget that much blood has been shed to find an answer.

An astonishing aspect of the situation is that this public discussion is based on information which has been circulated by word of mouth, since the press has avoided the subject.

Indeed, much of the news of Spain itself comes from foreign sources—by radio from America and Britain, or through the bulletins which are issued by the American and British embassies and are given to the government and to the press. The Spanish newspapers do not print this information, but it has a way of spreading by the grapevine route and thus soon becomes public property in the far corners of the country.

We had an excellent illustration in connection with the foreign minister's announcement. The Madrid newspapers soon had word of the statement, but because it had been issued officially to avoid the foreign press they discreetly omitted publication.

However, the highly developed grapevine telegraph got into action, with the result that the information was being widely discussed in a very short time.

I think it's a fair bet the monarchy is involved in the Don't visit. As a matter of fact, Foreign Minister Martin Artajo is said in well informed quarters to have been negotiating between Don Juan and Generalissimo Franco.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

These boards are three-man affairs. The members are not connected with union or business. This is what a board does:

It simply asks both sides to present their case to the board. The board can't—because there's no law giving it authority to do so—force a company to listen to its books.

The board listens to the arguments, examines what figures either side is willing to let the board member figures as they may relate to see, and then examines government's particular case.

For example, The government figures showing how living costs or the pay of workers in a certain industry have gone up or down for many years, and what they are now.

Having examined this information the board decides whether the union should get a raise, or how much of a raise. Then it recommends to the President whether a raise is due, and how much.

That's as far as it can go, or Mr. Truman can go. He can't compel the company or the union to follow the board's recommendation.

In the General Motors case the corporation refused to give a raise as high as the one recommended by the board in that dispute.

That's all. Mr. Truman hoped that when the board's findings were made public in a given case, public knowledge of the facts, and the pressure, would force (Continued on Page Four)

Chapter 11

(Sunday 12:25 p. m. to 1:03 p. m.)
 Julia was sharply tense on the remainder of the drive to Jerry's. It wasn't far but her mind traveled leagues with each turn of the wheel. The woman in the red hat and the an entirely new and a much more logical clue to his murder than anything coming from the confusion of the night before. It would explain why the guard was struck down. Some one wanted whatever it was which he paid. It was another method of insuring that she did not leave him. She smiled a little bitterly at the idea.
 That would never have held her. She did not see the man who watched her entrance into the old brownstone house which had been remodeled into apartments. She had been here before with Robey and Robey had paid the woman for. She hoped fervently it hadn't been found. If she could be alone in the salon for five minutes she could locate it.
 The cab stopped and she got out and paid the driver. It took all her money. Robey had given her very little cash and she had no checking account — only charge accounts she remembered the self-operating elevator and took it to the fifth floor. After what seemed a long time Jerry answered her ring.
 "What—" he began crossly before he saw who it was. "Oh—Julia! Come in."
 He ran his fingers over his rumpled reddish hair. The flesh around his eyes was blue and his jaw was still swollen.
 "I wanted to see you, Jerry," she told him hurriedly, following him into the spacious room.
 "I told Moore to bring Hank here." Jerry had bent over a Duncan Phyfe table to pour a glass of Scotch. He straightened up suddenly.

 "You did what?"
 "Sitting down on one of the sofas she repeated her message."
 "My God, Julia, what an idea! Don't you know this house is watched? Haven't you figured out what a mess this is? Oh, darling, I'm sorry. I'm a jittering fool. Here, take this."
 She took the glass in trembling fingers and swallowed two large gulps.
 "I guess I'm the one that's jittery," she said and tried to smile. "I know things are bad. That's been pounded into me all morning and I decided to do something about it. The police want facts and I have to learn some myself."
 "Lord, I'll tell you all I know but Hank—listen, keed, there are some things you're better off not knowing. And the police won't find out either."
 He sat down beside her and Julia turned to face him.
 "Did you kill him, Jerry?"
 "Oh, God, no! Why would I kill the— Why would I get rid of my job? He knocked me down and I would liked to have given him a good punch in the nose. He wouldn't have fired me even then. I had too much on him and this is the best job I ever had. Lord knows where I'll get another soon."
 "Do you know who did?"
 "Why, I thought—" He broke off.
 "I don't know what I thought."
 "You thought I did." It was not a question. She saw how others were thinking the same thing but only headlong Jerry came out with it.
 "I just thought you might have. I wouldn't have blamed you. The old reprobate!"
 "Why did you think that?" she asked.
 "Because you were the last one in the salon and because I had blurted out that double business. You see, baby, Robey was built up on publicity. He saw actors just as good as he was panhandling and one man couldn't do all the things we gave out about Robey—a playwright, a producer, an artist, an actor, a hero, and what have you. Every time one of us pulled a good stunt we gave Robey credit. It was dough for us, too. When Hank snatched you from under a subway train—Hey!"

 The glass dropped from Julia's hand. She stared at him unbelieving. "I told you last night. Remember?"
 "No." She barely breathed the word.
 "But I did—when I was drunk and disorderly. Don't take it like that, Julia."
 "I'm all right."
 "You look like wax. Here, have another drink. You didn't know. I must have been more cryptic than I thought. That let's you out."
 "Out?"
 "Out of the suspect class. Why else would you have bumped him off? See?"
 "Go on. Hank saved me but why did every one think Robey had?"
 "Elementary, my dear Julia. You were unconscious. A policeman took Hank's name, only Hank said, 'Robey Baker.' It was old stuff to us. Hank would rather be paid than be president. He got away immediately and told Robey and me. I got to the papers. Robey looked you up in the hospital where they said you hadn't had enough to eat. The photographers got there. You know the rest."
 "Yes, I married him."
 "Well, all you have to do now to collect is to wait until the police call off their dogs."

"How many know that Hank was the one?"
 "Just Hank and I. Frank may suspect because he was in on other deals. He did all the writing and producing but Robey got half credit for all of it. Ike isn't so dumb. And Moore knew about all there was to know where Robey was concerned. Grace had done her bit, too. Why do you think she was getting that whopping alimony? Robey had plenty on her and he didn't have to pay it for a divorce. Virginia might guess if Frank is confidential with her. We're all just one big family."
 He put his arm around her shoulders.
 "Gosh, I feel better now. I was feeling guilty as hell thinking I started the ball rolling that knocked Robey out the window."
 There was a sharp tap at the door.

"That's Moore and Hank," said Julia.
Social Security
 In the area served by the Rocky Mount office of the Social Security Board there were 1867 monthly Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits, in force at the end of June, 1945 according to Mrs. Ruth G. Duffy, manager of the Rocky Mount office. This figure represents the number of men, women and children in the counties of Beaufort, Bertie, Dare, Edgecombe, Greene, Halifax, Hertford, Hyde, Lenoir, Martin, Nash, Northampton, Pitt, Tyrrell, Washington, and Wilson now eligible for monthly payments of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance.

Recipients of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance in these 16 counties include 308 widows, 935 children, 480 retired wage-earners, 115 wives of retired wage-earners and 19 aged dependent parents.
 The field manager explained that when a fully insured wage-earner, who is 65 years old or more, files claim for his monthly old-age insurance benefits, his wife may also claim monthly benefits, if she is 65 years old or when she reaches that age. In addition, each of his children under age 16 (18 if in school) will receive monthly benefits—except that the benefits for the entire family may not be more than twice the amount of the retired wage-earner's own monthly payment.
 When an insured worker dies, leaving a widow with minor children, monthly payments of survivors insurance are made to his widow and to his children who are under age 16 (18 if in school). An insured worker's widow who has reached age 65 is eligible for benefits whether or not she has a child in her care.
 Where the insured wage earner dies and leaves no survivors entitled to monthly benefits, a lump-sum death payment is made to the widow or widower or children or parents of the deceased. If no one of the above-mentioned relatives is living, a payment covering the burial expenses, up to an amount of six times the primary insurance benefit, will be made to the person who paid such expenses.
 757 lump-sum death payments, amounting in all to $95,020.90 were made in the Rocky Mount service area at the end of June, 1945.

Why we believe that General Electric's wage offer is fair

1. It Means Higher Average "Take Home" Pay In 1946 Than In Wartime

We have offered the union an increase of 10c an hour for all those making less than $1.00 an hour, and 10 per cent increase for those who make more.* With the overtime that will be necessary to meet consumer demand this year, the average employee would have more "take home" pay than he had during the war

*Those Making from $2,000 to $3,000 in salary would receive 10% increases, and those receiving between $3,000 and $5,000 annually would receive increases of $300.

2. General Electric's Record Assures Good Future Pay

The G-E wage policy in normal times assured our workers wage rates equal to, or higher than, comparable industries in every community in which we operate. We expect to continue this policy in the future.

3. The Most Wasteful Thing That Can Happen Now Is A Strike

Nothing can be gained by a strike now that could not be gained with men at work. Much can be lost. A million dollars a day in wages alone can be lost. Homes by the hundreds of thousands — and communities across the land — can suffer. That's why we hope that it won't happen.

Judge Frizzelle Is Presiding In City

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill is presiding over a one-week civil term of Superior Court here today. The better portion of today was spent hearing divorce actions, nearly all of them based on grounds of two years' separation.

A one-week's criminal term of court will be convened here next Monday, January 21.

Judge Frizzelle is scheduled to preside over the special criminal term of Superior Court convened by Governor Gregg Cherry to convene on Monday, February 4, to try the cases against Roderick Davenport of New Bern and others, for alleged violation of state banking laws in connection with the operation of one of a chain of "banks" in Greenville.

Merit Rating System For N. Car. Teachers

Raleigh, Jan. 14—(AP)—A tentative agreement that new teachers should be placed on trial, followed by an examination prior to acceptance for public school work has been reached by the state commission studying the possibility of a merit rating system for North Carolina school teachers.

The commission agreed that there should be a "high degree of selection of those who may teach" and that a "democratic" program of in-service training should be applicable to all working teachers.

The group declared that any system of rating teachers for salary purposes "must be anchored in the child and his welfare."

WAR DEPARTMENT OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF STAFF

"The purpose of the Army's world-wide enlistment campaign is twofold: to release men of long and arduous war service who want to return to civilian life—and to build a strong Regular Army of volunteers."

"By our victory we have won the respect of the world. We can lose that respect, and with it our influence toward a just and peaceful world order, if we reduce our military forces to the point where they become weak or ineffective."

"The Congress has enacted and the President has approved legislation which makes enlistment in the Regular Army more attractive than ever before in our history. It gives the soldier a position in the new peacetime Army that merits the respect of all our citizens."

"Every American should know the valuable provisions in this new Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act. They help place your Regular Army on the highest plane of any army on earth—with advanced study, training and travel at good pay in a career of high duty and responsibility."

"There is a solemn obligation on all of us to safeguard the victory we have won at such enormous cost. The rapid rebuilding of our Regular Army is a vital necessity if we are to meet that obligation."

Dwight D. Eisenhower
Chief of Staff, United States Army

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NEW ENLISTMENT ACT

1. Enlistments for 1 1/2, 2 or 3 years. (Leave enlistments permitted for men now in Army with at least 6 months' service.)
2. Enlistment age from 17 to 34 years inclusive, except for men now in the Army, who may reenlist at any age, and for former service men, depending on length of service.
3. The best pay scale, medical care, food, quarters and clothing of any army.
4. Reenlistment bonus increased to $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.
5. A paid furlough (up to 90 days depending on length of service) with furlough travel paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who reenlist.
6. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men discharged to reenlist.
7. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. (Retirement income in grade of Master Sergeant up to $155.25 per month for life.) All active federal military service counts toward retirement.
8. Benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.
9. Family allowances for the term of enlistment for dependents of men who enlist or reenlist before July 1, 1946.
10. Opportunity to learn one or more of 200 skills and trades taught in Army schools in U. S., or occupied countries.
11. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater in the Air, Ground or Service Forces on 3-year enlistments.

MEN NOW IN THE ARMY who reenlist before February 1 will be reenlisted in their present grade. Men honorably discharged can reenlist within 20 days after discharge in the grade they held at the time of discharge, provided they reenlist before February 1, 1946.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NEW ENLISTMENT ACT

1. Enlistments for 1 1/2, 2 or 3 years. (Leave enlistments permitted for men now in Army with at least 6 months' service.)
2. Enlistment age from 17 to 34 years inclusive, except for men now in the Army, who may reenlist at any age, and for former service men, depending on length of service.
3. The best pay scale, medical care, food, quarters and clothing of any army.
4. Reenlistment bonus increased to $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.
5. A paid furlough (up to 90 days depending on length of service) with furlough travel paid to home and return, for men now in the Army who reenlist.
6. Mustering-out pay (based upon length of service) to all men discharged to reenlist.
7. Option to retire at half pay for the rest of your life after 20 years' service—increasing to three-quarters pay after 30 years' service. (Retirement income in grade of Master Sergeant up to $155.25 per month for life.) All active federal military service counts toward retirement.
8. Benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.
9. Family allowances for the term of enlistment for dependents of men who enlist or reenlist before July 1, 1946.
10. Opportunity to learn one or more of 200 skills and trades taught in Army schools in U. S., or occupied countries.
11. Choice of branch of service and overseas theater in the Air, Ground or Service Forces on 3-year enlistments.

MEN NOW IN THE ARMY who reenlist before February 1 will be reenlisted in their present grade. Men honorably discharged can reenlist within 20 days after discharge in the grade they held at the time of discharge, provided they reenlist before February 1, 1946.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 14—(AP)—If North Carolina's White Phantoms and Duke's Blue Devils continue as point-happy in their remaining games as they have so far the other 14 members of the Southern Conference are apt to find the going about as tough as trying to dribble a square basketball.

In seven conference games Duke has compiled 361 points and North Carolina in five contests has dropped 277 through the hoop. John Dillon, forward on the North Carolina quint which has been beaten only by Duke in conference play, leads scorers in all games with 205 points. However, Kofenberger Duke center, is the top conference scorer with 8. The Blue Devils are undefeated in circuit play.

Duke took three conference games last week from North Carolina North Carolina State and Saturday beat Wake Forest 43-38 at Wake Forest. The White Phantoms annexed one loop win when they defeated Virginia Tech Saturday night at Blacksburg, 48-40. Davidson dropped Furman 47-40 in the second of a two-game series at Greenville, S. C.

Duke and North Carolina had a little trouble getting started in their games Saturday but once they got going it was the same old story. The season standings:

San Francisco, Jan. 14—(AP)—Byron Nelson, the U. S. Treasury's favorite golfer, had $5,666.67 in brand new Victory bonds safely banked today after winning his second straight tournament of the 1946 winter season—the San Francisco Open.

To the $2,666.67 first prize he won in the Los Angeles Open, Nelson yesterday added the $3,000 top prize offered here in the rich winter tourney. His final 72-hole score of 283 beat the field by nine strokes.

Nelson, the most fabulous money winner in links annals, won $66,400 in bonds in annexing 19 of 31 tournament championships in 1945.

Back in 1932, his first year on the pro circuit, Nelson won $900.

New York, Jan. 14—(AP)—Three other professional football loops have thrown in with the National League in its war against the young All-America Conference, and regardless of how the fight comes out, it now is certain that the play-for-pay game is going to be organized on a nation-wide basis, much after baseball's pattern.

With the Pacific Coast League, Dixie League and American Association already back of the National in this "national association" approved by the magnates over the week-end, and the currently-building Texas League asking for information on it, the entire organization apparently is in the battle against the All-America.

What's more, the All-America now finds its opposed in all key cities as a result of the switch Saturday night by the National League Champion Cleveland Rams to Los Angeles, where the new loop was previously unopposed by the older circuit. Decision by Ram Owner Danny Reeves to move his title-holders put the National squarely against the All-America in New York, Chicago and the California city—the three top "gate" towns in the country—in the now open and all-out war for pro grid power.

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 14—(AP)—Billy Talbert, Wilmington, Del., playing in his first Dixie Tennis Tournament here, captured the title yesterday when he downed Bitty Grant, three times winner from Atlanta, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

Baba Lewis, Los Angeles, won the women's singles by defeating Betty Hulbert of the University of Miami, Southern Women's Champion, 6-4, 6-3.

Talbert, playing at the top of his game, had little trouble with the Georgian who was the sentimental favorite. Talbert was first seeded here and is the No. 2 player of the country.

Conference Game In Schedule Tomorrow

By J. T. WILLIAMS

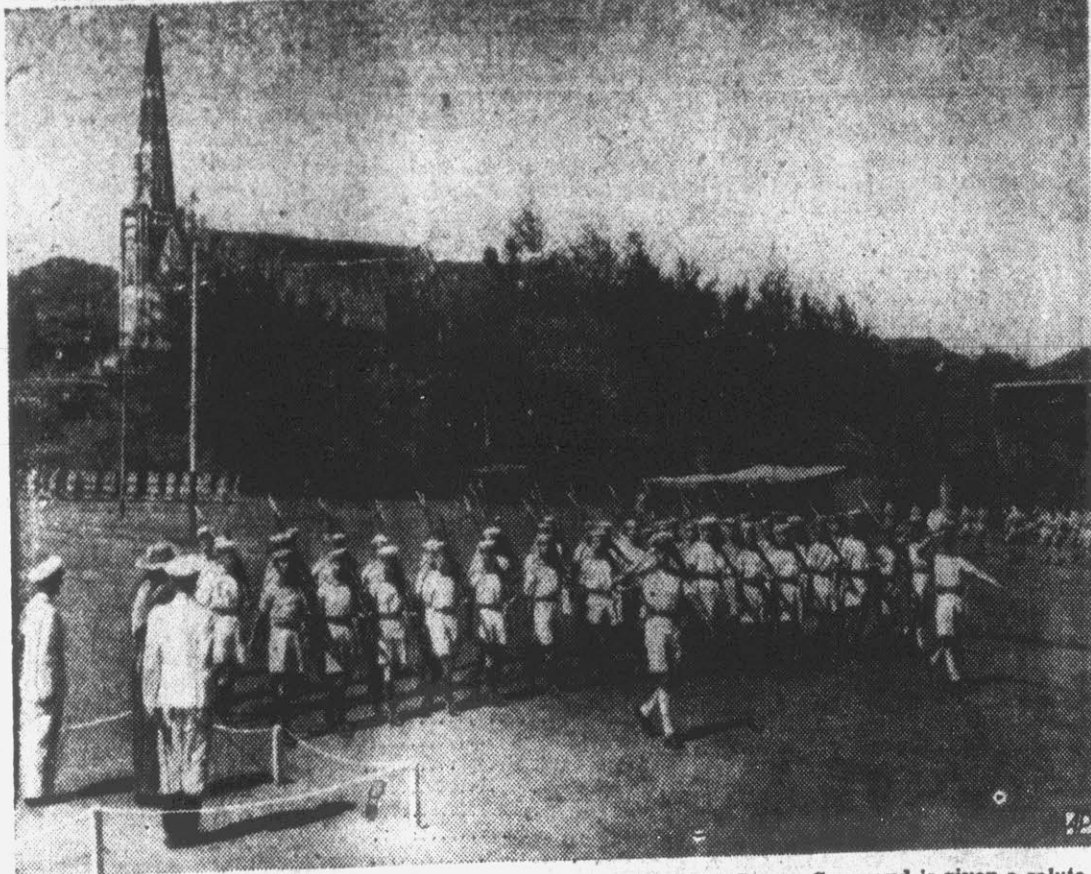

The Green and White Phantoms invade Roanoke Rapids High School tomorrow night at 8:00 to challenge the Yellow Jackets in a game on the hardwood. This will be the third conference game for the Greensies.

This affair promises to be a closer game than the other games that the Phantoms have played since the Yellow Jackets are reputedly one of the strongest teams in the conference and have a ball club of Class A caliber.

Mr. Farley stated that in order to win the boys will have to play better ball than they did against the Tarboro High School last Friday night.

The starting line-up to play Tuesday night will probably be Billy Harrington and Mac Batchelor, two good ball handlers at guards, Jimmy Futrell and Ed Williams, the Tarboro game high scorers, at forwards and J. T. Williams, utility man at center. Five reserves who will be ready to relieve the first stringers are Billy White, Julian White, Dave Clark, Henry Turner, and Jack Whichard. These boys did a swell job against the Tarboro five last Friday night.

If the Phantoms win this game, they will be on their way to winning the Eastern Conference title. A tournament will not be held this year because the constitution has been changed so that the team which has the best record will get the conference cup.

The Phantoms will have their next game Friday night January 18, in the high school gym when they play a return game with Roanoke Rapids.

McCormack told reporters the President also is anxious for prompt action on legislation dealing with the U. S. Employment Service. Congress passed a law last year returning the employment offices to state control in 100 days but the President vetoed it.

A bill to retain federal control until the middle of 1947 as requested by the President, will be considered by the House Labor Committee Thursday.

Girl Scout Banquet Here Tuesday Night

14—GIRL SCOUT walsch Greenville Girl Scouts, Inc., will hold its annual meeting and banquet at the Woman's Club (USO) Tuesday night at 6:30. Mrs. W. P. Moore, Girl Scout commissioner, will preside.

Mrs. W. C. Pressly, a former commissioner of the Raleigh Girl Scouts and a member of the WPTF staff, Raleigh, will be the speaker. Mrs. James T. Uzzle, executive secretary for Greenville Girl Scouts will present her annual report.

All parents and others interested in Girl Scouting are invited to attend the banquet. Plates should be reserved by calling Girl Scout headquarters in the City Hall.

ABC Officers Raid Still; No Arrest

Pitt County ABC officers J. L. Taylor and J. M. Ward and Deputy Sheriff L. E. Manning destroyed a 50-gallon steel drum distillery, together with four 50-gallon barrel fermenters, one 50-gallon cooler barrel, one copper coil and 150 gallons of molasses mash in the St. John's section of Pitt County Saturday morning.

No arrest was made.

Tempus Fugit

Chicago, Jan. 14—(AP)—Police at Des Plaines Street station are pondering the flight of time.

A clock which ticked through thousands of cases in the station courtroom was missing from its place on the wall. Police said a thief apparently stole the big time-piece from its eight-foot-high hanging place, crept through the squad room and out a back entrance.

They hoped to wind up the case shortly.
