

MEAT DEFICIT WILL BE FELT BY JAN. 23RD

Closing Of Country's Biggest Packers Expected To Affect Your Dinner Table Within Seven Days

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Pack-houses workers on strike across the nation in a labor dispute involving 268,000 workers threatens to place the country on a meatless diet within perhaps one week.

Violence was reported at Swift and Company's Kansas City, Kan., plant where although an independent union was not on strike, the general manager, E. W. Phelps, said he was hauled out of his car by 25 or 30 other strikers, beaten and forced to get a permit to enter his plant.

The closing of the country's biggest packers, Cudahy, Armour, Swift and Wilson, and some smaller packers is expected to have an immediate and serious effect on the flow of meat to civilians, industry spokesmen asserted.

Unofficial estimates were that civilians will get, if the strike is not called off, about 50 per cent less meat, even if farmers pack enough stock to keep small packers working at capacity. Buyers for the military and for foreign relief, the spokesmen explained, also will be cut because plants struck fill most of these orders.

Lewis J. Clark, international president of CIO-UPW, after receipt of Schweilenbach's telegram to postpone the walkout, said it was "obviously impossible" to do so because of the late hour it was received.

In a telegram to Clark, Earl W. Jernson and Patrick E. Gorman, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, told Clark that they had not replied to the labor secretary, "but advise that we will abide by the President's wishes." They urged Clark to also attend the conference in Washington.

Reports from many of the country's major live stock centers indicated there was no disorder as picket lines were established.

In Chicago, where some 35,000 packinghouse workers are involved, the largest in the country, more than 2,000 strikers were ready for picket duty. But not that many were needed to cover the scores of gates at the yards on the city's southwest side. A special detail of 142 police was assigned to the district.

The huge strike stemmed from a wage dispute between the CIO-UPW and the packers followed more than two months of negotiations. The union demanded a 20 cents an hour wage increase and after the companies had rejected the proposal, strike votes were authorized. The major companies termed the hikes "unwarranted and unreasonable."

Later the AFL said its 135,000 members would join the walkout, with 45,000 scheduled to strike. Conferences between union and management with federal conciliators failed to effect a settlement.

The companies had offered increases of 7 1/2 cents an hour but the union held out for 17 1/2 cents to bargain on the remainder. Agreements were reached by the unions with some independent companies providing for 15 cents an hour wage boosts while Hormel Packing Co. of Austin, Minn., employing 2,000, signed a contract calling for wage increases of 17 1/2 cents an hour.

FORD TO EXPAND

Detroit, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co. which yesterday announced its 1946 model passenger car production had passed the 50,000 mark, disclosed today that its post-war expansion program has been stepped up to $200,000,000.

General motors already has earmarked $500,000,000 for postwar expansion and rehabilitation and Chrysler expects to spend $100,000,000 before it completes its rehabilitation and reconversion program.

Clothing Drive

Arthur B. Corey, chairman of the United National Clothing Victory Drive, announces that trucks will pick up all contributed clothing, etc., in Greenville Sunday, January 20. The collection will begin at 2 p. m. and it is requested that all articles of clothing, bedding, and shoes be bundled and placed before the homes or on the sidewalk. It is requested that all shoes be properly matched and then tied together.

The peoples of the war devastated countries are in need of everything pertaining to clothing, bedding and shoes, and it is urged and requested that the people of Greenville contribute all of these that they possibly can.

Haitian Students Riot In Government Upset

Students, who went on strike prior to the overthrow of President Lesco's government in Haiti, are trying to break through or jump over a fence at the College of St. Martial in Port-Au-Prince. Shortly afterwards a triumvirate of army colonels and majors took over the government, and President Lesco departed for Miami, Fla. (AP Wirephoto).

GIRL SCOUTS HAD BANQUET

Mrs. W. C. Pressley Guest Speaker At Annual Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH
The sixth annual meeting and banquet of Greenville Girl Scouts, Inc., held at the Woman's Club Tuesday night was a brilliant affair with nearly 100 guests present. Mrs. W. C. Pressley of Raleigh, member of WPTF radio station and a former commissioner of "Girl Scouts for the Raleigh district," guest speaker, delivered an impressive after-dinner speech and was accorded a warm reception. Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, a former commissioner of Greenville Girl Scouts, introduced Mrs. Pressley and was as eloquent as the speaker of the evening. Mrs. Will P. Moore, commissioner for the Greenville area, presided. She was gracious in her recognition of Girl Scout officers and council members and others.

Mrs. Pressley's message was inspiring and so thoroughly practical that her hearers were considerably impressed. She reviewed the history of Girl Scouting, emphasizing its great influence for making better citizens of the girls of the nation, and pointing out with pleasure and pride the gratification leaders in Girl Scout work reap from their activities. Mrs. Pressley loves people—especially young people—has a fine sense of humor and figures her belief in cooperative community work with much philosophy. She will be invited to come to Greenville again, members of the council said. Her husband, Dr. W. C. Pressley, president of Peace Junior College, Raleigh, accompanied her here.

The Woman's Club auditorium was beautifully decorated with an array of international flags and mottos of world friendship and citizenship. These were made by Mrs. J. G. Riddick's troop girls. The annual report and place cards, the latter made by Miss Emily Robertson's troop girls, were attractive. Candles and flowers were attractive. (Continued on Page Four)

Boy Scouts Will Gather Uniforms

A "Shirt Off Our Backs" collection will be featured during Boy Scout Week, February 8 to 14, the 36th Anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America, P. C. Watson, Chairman of the Council Camping and Activities Committee, announced recently.

All districts of the local Council, under the supervision of the Camping and Activities Chairman of the District, and the District Commissioner, in cooperation with the national campaign, will make a collection of uniforms and equipment to be sent to Boy Scouts of the European and the Pacific areas, who lost their equipment and uniforms during the war. Mr. Watson said.

Philippines Revert To Labors Of Peace

Tropical Countryside Is Scene Of Primitive Harvesting, Luxurious Vegetation, Children, And Good Humor

By HAL BOYLE
Batangas, P. I., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Driving from Manila to Batangas you get the distinct impression that the chief product of the Philippines is posterity. Hemp, copra and sugar are secondary crops compared to children. They outnumber the weeds. Clothing is scarce and reserved for grownups. The toys wear hats or run around with nothing on but the all-weather surfboards and rings by craftsman.

The macadam road is in good condition and winds through flat, well-watered fields ripe with harvest. To celebrate this fiesta season of the earth's fulfillment, very grateful villagers erect bamboo arches across the highway surmounted by a large cross. Thus they blend thousands of years of paganism with brief centuries of Christianity.

Men and women work together in waist-deep fields gathering rice. They thresh it in primitive fashion by beating the plants against great smooth, circular stones. The rice falls to the ground. Later it is spread out to dry on bamboo matting and field mice and wandering chickens come by to claim their tithe, and nobody seems to mind.

ECTC Announces Building Program

Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, Acting President of East Carolina Teachers College, has sent to 100 alumni of the college in various sections of the state a letter explaining the campus building program proposed by college authorities. According to Dr. McGinnis, the program will involve the spending of close to $3,000,000 over a period of years. The letter alumni asks their encouragement and support in the carrying out of the plans.

The Board of Trustees, Dr. McGinnis's letter states, puts special emphasis on the reconversion of Ragsdale Hall, teachers' dormitory, into a dormitory for men attending the college. This would necessitate the erecting of a new building to house faculty members, possibly including rooms and apartments.

Other suggested additions and improvements include a health and physical education building, a new library, a dormitory for women, a workshop, the remodeling of Austin Building, and completion of the Training School and Education Building.

"The College must improve its facilities for housing and educating the young people who enroll here," says Dr. McGinnis in his letter to alumni. He also points out that the college is initiating a program for the improvement of instruction and for raising the standard of scholarship among students.

Recreation Rooms To Close Saturday

The Business and Professional Women's Club regrets to inform the public that the club's recreation rooms, now located at 123 West Fourth street, will be closed after Saturday, January 19. These rooms have been for the convenience of farm women and children who come to Greenville to shop and for the city people as well. The public joins the club in thanking Dr. E. B. Aycock for allowing us the use of the rooms while he was away. No place as yet has been located for the future recreation rooms, Mrs. Viola Baker, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club said.

COUNTY OPENS POLIO DRIVE

Your Dimes Will Help Fight Possible Outbreak In Summer Ahead

Pitt County's 1946 Infantile Paralysis Campaign is on. Volunteer canvassers have started an active solicitation for funds to pay for the hospitalization and continuing treatment for victims of the dread muscular disease.

In a direct appeal to the people of Pitt County, chapter chairman O. E. Dowd said:

"Once again we have an opportunity to share in the unrelenting battle against infantile paralysis, the dread crippler that annually attacks America's children."

"The Pitt County Chapter of the National Foundation is arming now, against the possibility of an outbreak in the summer ahead. They must have the necessary funds to help our health officials, physicians and hospitals provide the finest available care and treatment for infantile paralysis victims. When a polio outbreak comes, no one knows how much special equipment and appliances, or how many physical therapists and nurses, may be needed."

"Our chapter, and the National Foundation are pledged to see to it that no victim of infantile paralysis shall go without care and treatment for lack of money, regardless of age, race, creed or color. This is our opportunity to share in one of the greatest humanitarian services of all time. Let us all resolve to give generously."

"Let us make this March of Dimes the greatest ever."

Visit the window displays at Belk-Tyler's and Blount Harvey's and see little Donald Anderson, symbol of the 1946 March of Dimes poster, who after two years of progress is back to complete health. Since the cost for a single patient is more than $2,500, a year, dimes and dollars amountine to more than $5,000, was used for his recovery.

Think it over. Then let your heart decide.

Send your Dimes and Dollars, also special donations to J. W. Overton at the Guaranty Bank and Trust Co.

Committee Seeks Housing Solution

Ralph M. Garrett, president of the Person-Garrett Company of Greenville and a recently appointed member of the Board of Trustees of East Carolina Teachers College, is serving as chairman of a committee to investigate the need of better housing for young men who wish to enter the Greenville School and train themselves as teachers.

Mr. Garrett has sent out a letter and a questionnaire to superintendents of schools in 63 counties in the eastern and central parts of the state in an effort to determine the demand for young men well trained for work in the public schools.

"Since there is a shortage of teachers throughout the state," says Mr. Garrett in his letter, "it is the opinion of the Board of Trustees of East Carolina Teachers College that something should be done to encourage young men to enter the teaching profession. It is our desire to provide the facilities at this college to house young men who desire to enter that field of work."

East Carolina Teachers College, according to its charter, is a co-educational institution, points out Mr. Garrett, but has never had adequate housing facilities on the campus to attract many college-minded men as students.

At present man students live in one wing of Ragsdale Hall, a dormitory for teachers. Over half of the 86 men attending the college for the winter quarter live off the campus.

Weather Plays Havoc With Communications

Because of statewide weather conditions, Greenville was today cut off from outside news sources. This area's telephone lines, which carry the nation's news for teletype services, were broken during the night. Early this morning it was learned that the actual cause of the line failures was as yet undetermined by the Greenville telephone office. One official expressed the belief that the interrupted service was more likely due to falling trees or branches during last night's winds, rather than wires breaking under the weight of accumulated ice. Early resumption of telephone communications was anticipated by the Greenville office.

While there was no interruption whatever, locally, Greenville was practically cut off from all outside points with the exception of Kingston. Wire troubles were placed as being chiefly to the west of this city.

The reliance placed upon dependable wire service is in itself a testimonial to the quality of efficiency displayed by the local system. It has been several years since a breakdown of this severity has been encountered.

N. Car. Road Program Hit By Rising Cost Of Times

Carolina Congressmen Active In Washington

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—North Carolina senators and representatives have more than 100 bills pending in Congress—including one to investigate thunderstorms as an aid to aviation.

Rep. Doughton leads with approximately 20 bills, most of which are tax proposals from the Ways and Means Committee, of which he is chairman.

Rep. Bulwinkle, who would aid aviation by his thunderstorm investigation and international weather agreements, has almost as many proposals.

Simplification of credit service to farmers has been proposed by Rep. Cooley.

Senator Clyde Hoey has introduced legislation favoring an international agreement to abolish peacetime military conscription.

Proposals from Senate Commerce Chairman Bailey include federal aid for airports and investigation of undeveloped areas.

Judge Sam J. Ervin of Morganton, who is expected to succeed his brother, the late Rep. Joe W. Ervin, in Congress following a special election this month, will find his brother has proposed to make Alaska a State, giving franking privilege to hospital veterans, give active-duty air patrol men status of veterans for their work in World War II, force payment of members of the armed forces in U. S. currency or the equivalent in foreign exchange and aid for veterans in establishing small businesses.

North Carolinians have special interest in a bill by Rep. Folger to require competitive market sale or lease of the big-inch and little-inch oil pipe lines.

Rep. Barden, as chairman of the House Education Committee, has proposals for federal aid to higher education and further development of vocational education.

REVOKES WAR TIME ORDERS

Council Of State Revokes Two War Proclamations On Labor

K. T. Futrell, Pitt County superintendent of public welfare, today issued the following statement:

"The Welfare Department received notice today from Forrest H. Shuford, state commissioner of labor, that War Proclamations 1 and 2, governing employment of minors, has been rescinded by the Council of State effective January 19, 1946.

"As a result of the revocation of these proclamations, female employees, subject to the statutory provisions of the law, may not work more than nine hours per day and 48 hours per week; girls 16 and 17 years of age may not work later (Continued on Page Five)

Florida Police Help In Housing Shortage

St. Petersburg, Fla., Jan. 16.—(AP)—You don't go to real estate circles here to learn how acute the housing shortage is—you go to the police station.

Finding a roof to get under for the night has become so difficult that for three nights last week three very respectable retired men who came here for vacations occupied steel bunks in a vacant cell block of city jail.

One stylishly-dressed woman, carrying an immaculate poodle, walked in headquarters and inquired: "Where can I get a room in this town? I've tried everywhere."

The obliging sergeant made the usual round of calls to hotels and apartments, then offered the "last resort."

The woman spent the night curled up on a hard bench in the municipal court room which adjoins headquarters. Her poodle snoozed in a witness chair.

VETERANS AID COSTS SHOWN

Veterans Office Previews Cost Of Soldiers' Care

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Offering a preview of the cost of caring for the soldiers of World War II, the Veterans Administration reported yesterday it spent $2,713,318.33 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1945.

This was almost triple the $829,391,436.33 spent in the preceding fiscal year.

It is only a preview of World War II because financial benefit AWS barely had begun to function for veterans of that conflict. The peak of World War II hospitalization, for instance, isn't expected until 1975.

But even though the upward trends were in their primary stages, the report said "the number of World War II service connected disability claims appropriated the whole number of World War I service connected disability claims."

Bethel Gives Check To Aid Good Work

"You can always count on the people of the Bethel community to do their part for any good cause," said Frank M. Brown, president of the Pitt County Association for the Blind, as he displayed a check for $237.50, sent to the association from Bethel. The enterprising town included this sum in its annual Community Chest.

Incidentally, the Pitt County Association for the Blind is doing great work in this county for the blind and the near blind. It has sponsored free clinics here for worthy persons, provided white canes for the blind, provided glasses for many persons with defective vision, and President Brown was largely instrumental in having the State School for the Blind established at the NYA center in Greenville.

Ninety-Three Million Dollar Program Will Go Today About As Far As Fifty Million Before The War; State Will Not Go Into Debt In Gigantic Program

Raleigh, Jan. 17.—(AP)—North Carolina is preparing to spend $93,000,000 on its main and secondary highways, but it would have to spend $500,000,000 to satisfy everyone.

That is the consensus of commissioners and department officials, who say that the $93,000,000 will go about as far as $50,000,000 before the war. And all that money won't be in hand until July, 1949.

The skyrocketing cost of the times is felt in road construction, maintenance and improvement.

But unlike 1921-27 when more than $100,000,000 was issued in bonds, the State won't go into debt a nickel on its new, gigantic program and the taxes won't be raised. It's all ready in the kitty, or will be when the federal government comes over with its share.

The road program has been a headache for many years. During the administration of Governor Hoke, the State didn't have enough money to fix highways as it wanted to. During the Broughton administration, it couldn't because of the war. Now, with lots of money, the State has ideas but the money won't go far.

Highway work was greatly curtailed during the war. Today figures about 30 per cent of the State's 11,400 miles of main highways in need of improvement. Chief Engineer W. Vance Baise says: About 80 per cent of the 49,000-odd miles of secondary roads need improvement.

And on top of that, the State wants to build, with federal assistance, 738 miles of interregional highways.

Right now the chief concern of the department and of the administration is improvement to county roads. Governor Cherry personally delivered a directive to that effect to the commission. Recent bad weather has put many of those roads in an impassable state, causing a number of schools to close. But there is little that can be done in the way of improvements until spring.

Comparatively few county roads will be paved. The department figures that 100 vehicles should pass over a road each day to warrant paving it. A large percentage of the roads have less than 30 vehicles a day.

Nevertheless, Governor Cherry wants to see a good road leading to every village in the State. "We are determined," he says, "to take our rural people off the muddy roads and by so doing help the people of the cities and towns immeasurably." Residents of 1,895 towns and communities are totally dependent on truck and automobile transportation.

The program, however, does not respond to feeling in some circles that highways should be conditioned to handle higher speeds. Both Baise and Governor Cherry believe present-day speeds are high enough. Of course, some curves and crossings may be helped. Officials believe that education in safety will be the biggest answer to that problem.

Of the $11,479,000 in federal funds to be matched by the State, which will be obtained by North Carolina in each of the next three years, nearly 65 per cent will be spent on primary highways, including those passing through cities. The remainder will be spent on secondary roads. The State has earmarked $10,000,000 in the present biennium for secondary, or county, roads.

It now costs from $30,000 to $150,000 to build a mile of primary road, and from $10,000 to $25,000 to build a mile of county roads.

Materials and manpower are very scarce. Both come high but should be increasingly available in the next few months.

Little Girl Rescues Brother And Sisters

Lawndale, Calif., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Alice Huff, 11, doesn't see why people are making such a fuss over her. But her mother's proud, and so is her daddy.

Through blisters lips, Mrs. Dorothy Huff told the story from a hospital bed of what happened after a gas stove exploded:

"I grabbed something and tried to put out the fire, and Alice jumped out of bed, carried Richard and Charlene outside onto the front porch. Then she came back and got the baby."

Mrs. Huff suffered serious burns on her face and arms trying to extinguish the flames, but Alice, Richard, 2, Charlene, 5, and Joanne, six months, were unharmed. Their father, Ralph Huff, was away on his job as a graveyard shift oil worker when the blaze broke out.

This being the first meeting of the new year she reviewed the outstanding events of the past year.

It brought one world-shaking event after another, making an unprecedented impact on the life of this nation, and on the whole world.

The death of President Roosevelt, the San Francisco Conference, the cessation of hostilities in Europe and the Pacific, and finally the steps toward the formulation of peace treaties, and plans for the initial meetings of the United Nations Organization, all have brought new questions, fresh opportunities and enlarged responsibilities on both the domestic and the international front.

The year 1945 was perhaps the most eventful on in history.

State Loses Out On A 1924 Check For $1

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Employees of the office of secretary of state auditor went into a huddle yesterday over a $1 check drawn upon the state January 8, 1924.

It was sent to the secretary of state by C. O. Fleming, to whom it was made payable by former Secretary of State W. N. Everett. It represented a refund on a seal tax collected on the registration of a motor vehicle title.

The state has a 60-day limit on the cashing of checks.

It was the opinion of the auditor's office that the check now is worthless. A check on its history is almost impossible.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

LEARNING FROM LIFE

Most people accept the dictum that experience is the best teacher.
But how many people, as a matter of fact, really learn from experience?

There was a play some years ago entitled "Dear Brutus" built around the idea that we are underlings in life not because of our stars but of ourselves. Everybody in the play had an overwhelming experience, which should have taught him or her some great lesson. Only two people learned their lesson and went out as a result to live a fuller life.

Maeterlinck has declared that we become what we discover in the sorrows and joys which befall us. Some people discover only bitterness in their appraisal of people and events.
Others get the idea that fortune is against them. They attribute their failures to their bad luck.

Ponder Maeterlinck's words: "We become that which we discover in the sorrows and joys which befall us." We all discover something in life's experiences, and generally we discover what we are looking for.
The bitter person looks for something which will feed his bitterness.
The skeptic searches for things which will confirm his skepticism.
But the loving heart looks for love, and the believing heart looks for divine purpose.

When we find these in life, we discover the secret of life. We find with the passing years that we have become what we discovered in our sorrows and in our joys.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

(Second of Four Articles)
Washington—President Truman's complaint that "a handful of men" can block a vote by the whole Congress on a major legislative proposal is a fact but it needs some explaining.

When a bill is introduced it is referred to a committee by the president of the Senate or the speaker of the House. This has become a major political strategy. A "friendly" committee can do wonders with a bill. An "unfriendly" one can play havoc either by pigeonholing it or making it look objectionable in hearings.

As the federal government dipped deeper into national controls the committees have overlapped.

Thus, housing legislation has been considered in the Senate by the committees on Public Housing and Grounds, Banking and Currency, and Education and Labor. Many such examples could be given.

Previous to the Hoover administration
the Senate Committee on Manufactures was one of the most important in that chamber. Sen.
"Bob" La Follette, Sr., was chairman and although he was nominally Republican, the Republicans refused to entertain important bills to a man with his economic views. As a result the Senate Committee on Manufactures has steadily declined in power and the Interstate Commerce Committee has steadily risen.

The fight between the White House and Capitol Hill dates almost all the way back to the beginnings of our government. Since the Civil War only Presidents Garfield and Harding have come so recently from Congress as President Truman, yet neither of these predecessors were remarkably successful in their relations with Capitol Hill.

On the one hand, it seems, the Chief Executives have been too ignorant of congressional methods to understand them. On the other a few have seemed to know too much.

President Truman certainly knows Congress. But first reactions to his "year of decision" speech indicate that the men on the Hill want part even of understanding criticism.
However, the President's objective, by his own statement, was not to reorganize Congress. What he sought was an expression from the voters.

A significant point which has been overlooked is that President Truman made no effort to cram his legislative program down the congressional throat. All he asked was action. Whether he gets it will depend on you. The "handful of men"

Coastal Plain League Adopts Season Slate

Fayetteville, Jan. 17.—The playing schedule for the Coastal Plain League, drawn up by A. Thurman Moore of Greenville, was adopted here last night by directors of the loop. President Ray Goodman, veteran president of the league, presided over the meeting.

Only six of the eight clubs were represented. Tarboro and Kinston representatives were unable to attend due to bad weather conditions. They were represented by proxy.

Presidents of the six clubs representing their towns were Jack Lee, of New Bern; Frank Walker of Rocky Mount; Guy V. Smith of Greenville; Allie Fleming of Wilson; C. E. Worley of Goldsboro; and W. M. Shaw of Fayetteville, host club of the meeting.

The loop officials also adopted a salary of $1,800 per month, exclusive of the manager's salary.

It was also announced that the forfeit fee of each of the clubs will be raised from $750 per year to $900 beginning next January 1. Each of the clubs has posted this year's forfeit.

President Goodman announced at the conclusion of the meeting that proceeds from all holiday games and from the all-star contest would be pooled and divided equally among the eight members of the league. The league will receive 10 per cent of the take this year instead of the five it took in previous seasons when the Coastal Plain operated as a professional loop.

It was estimated that each of the clubs would travel approximately 6,000 miles this year in playing 63 games at home and 63 away from home. Goodman again reiterated that the Coastal Plain was "the most compact league in the nation."

President Guy V. Smith of Greenville said after the meeting that his club has not as yet located a manager to guide the destinies of the Greensies.

He said that the consensus of the clubs seems to be for playing managers and that he was also in the market for a playing skipper. Other presidents also asserted that they were seeking field pilots.

The expected naming of managers failed to come off at the meeting. Eligible managers are still dickering with higher class leagues and the Coastal Plain prexies feel that they will have to wait a while before being able to announce their managers.

League officials attending the meeting in addition to President Ray Goodman were Miss Edna Barnhill of Williamston, league secretary, and J. Gaskill McDaniel, loop statistician.

The league schedule adopted at last night's meeting in the Prince Charles Hotel calls for the circuit to open on May 2 (Thursday) and to close on September 2 (Monday). Each club will play 63 games at home and abroad.

The teams are paired for holiday dates and opening dates as follows: Wilson and Rocky Mount, Tarboro and Greenville, Fayetteville and Goldsboro, and Kinston and New Bern.

President Guy V. Smith, Secretary David C. Moore, Jr., Director Ty Wagner and Burt Moye, newspaper man of Greenville attended the meeting.

FARLEY TEAM SET FOR GAME

Locals Favored In Home-Court Game Friday Night

By DAVE CLARK

Coach Bo Farley's Green Phantoms play on their own court tomorrow night after two games away. When they entertain the Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets in the high school gym at 8:00. The Greene Juniors will play the Roanoke Juniors in a preliminary battle at 7:00.

The Phantoms trounced the Jackets soundly on Tuesday of this week, by a 30-17 score and will be favored to repeat again this time. However, Coach Farley is taking no chances after the way the Greensies have been off in various games this season, and held a workout last night and another is on tap for today.

The Greensies were making a large percentage of their shots in scrimmage for a change last night. Something unusual for them this year.

The Phantoms have gotten off to a good start in conference competition with three wins and no losses so far and will be out to stay undefeated for the rest of the year.

Tomorrow night's starters will probably be Jimmy Putrell and Ed Williams at the forwards Billy Harrington and Mac Batchelor at guards and J. D. Williams at center.

Winterville Teams Win Doubleheader

Winterville, January 17.—Winterville High School scored two victories over Bethel in a double header here last night.

The Winterville girls won the opener with the score of 28-8. Peggy McGlohon, from Winterville took scoring honors with a total of 14 points.

The undefeated Winterville boys started the game off by running up a score of 10 points in the first few minutes of play. Up until the last few minutes the scores were very much alike. Winterville then rallied and brought the score up to 39-34, at which it stood at the end. Hemingway, from Bethel, made top score with a total of 14 points. Joyner, from Winterville, made 11 points.

than 100,000 there. Jacobs did not set the scale of ticket prices for the fight, but he has said in the past he might ask as much as $100 for ringside seats.

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Although the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations recently proposed extending school baseball, golf and tennis schedules through the summer, there was little, if anything, said about where the dough would come from. Most schools have to strain their budgets to pay coaches during the regular season (some get only their teaching salaries) and there's no provision for pay in two more months—looks like a project for baseball's promotion committee—no matter who runs it—and the golf and tennis associations to provide adequate coaching for the kids.

HIGHER "TAKE HOME" PAY THAN WARTIME AVERAGE

... but the world's largest electrical plant has no workers

HALF-FINISHED washing machines*

HALF-FINISHED toasters*

HALF-FINISHED heaters*

HALF-FINISHED roasters*

The UERMWA (CIO) has taken General Electric workers out on strike.

Washing machines, refrigerators, heaters, a hundred things were on their way to you. But the strike stopped that.

It was expected to hire twice as many workers as before the war. But the strike stopped that.

Six new government plants were bought. Seven other new plants were being built. And land bought for three more. Increased production was planned in every existing works city.

We are sorry they decided a strike was the answer. The strike will pinch the public with shortages. And take a million dollars a day out of the pockets of General Electric workers.

G.E.'s PAY OFFER

Many of our workers, from what they tell us and write us, do not know that we offered the union an increase of 10¢ an hour for all those making less than $1.00 an hour, and 10% increase for those who make more.

With the offered increase and the overtime that will be necessary to meet consumer demand this year, the average employee would have had more "take home" pay than during the war.

THE STRIKE IS PUZZLING

Since 1935, average hourly earnings for men climbed over 51%. Over half of this was in the last five years.

There has been no real labor trouble at G. E. in 24 years. We believe in collective bargaining. G. E. was one of the first large industrial companies to enter voluntarily into a company-wide contract with a national union.

A million-dollars-a-day pay loss will strike every G-E community. And the real tragedy is that employees can gain nothing that they could not have gained while still at work.

*Pictures taken between shifts before the strike represent the condition of our factories today.

Those making $2,000 to $3,000 in salary would receive 10% increases, and those receiving between $3,000 and $5,000 annually would receive increases of $300.

New York, Jan. 17.—Baseball players are coming out of the service faster than they were being inducted a year ago when the future of the game hung by a thread. More than 180 former GIs have returned to their National League clubs since the close of the 1945 season.

Heading the list are such well known stars as Terry Moore, Max Lanier and Harry Walker of the St. Louis Cardinals, Johnny Mize and Hal Schumacher of the New York Giants, Johnny Vandermeer and Ray Mueller of the Cincinnati Reds, Ron Northey of the Phillies, Bama Rowell and Johnny McCarthy of the Boston Braves, Elbie Fletcher of Pittsburgh and Pete Reiser, Pee Wee Reese and Billy Herman of Brooklyn.

A survey of current National League rosters by Charles Segar, newly-appointed league publicist, showed the names of 336 players who had been in service. Some returned during the 1945 season but a majority of them donned civies since the World Series.

New York, Jan. 17.—Promoter Mike Jacobs said yesterday that the heavyweight title fight between champion Joe Louis and Billy Conn would be held in New York's Yankee Stadium on Wednesday night, June 19.

Ending speculation over the site for the first heavyweight title fight in four years, Jacobs said President Larry McPhail of the New York Yankees told him construction work now under way at the stadium would make it possible to seat more

Homecoming For Veterans At College

East Carolina Teachers College has set Saturday, May 4, as the date when alumni who have served in the armed forces will return to the campus for a homecoming day, according to Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, acting President. Of the young men who have attended college here, 536 joined some branch of the service. Many of these who have recently visited their alma mater express enthusiasm over a campus "get together."

Dr. McGinnis has appointed a committee to make arrangements for the homecoming day. To it belong three faculty members, Dr. A.

D. Frank and Dr. H. C. Haynes, veterans of World War I, and Dr. Charles W. Reynolds, recently discharged from the Navy, and three student members of the college Veterans Club, Coach Earl Smith, a graduate student, Jerome Donaldson, of Metter, Georgia, and O. H. Forrest of Greenville.

Plans for the day are as yet incomplete but will probably include a program with music by college organizations, a barbecue dinner, and a dance. Invitations will be issued soon.

Paradise Isle Has A Housing Problem Too

Tahiti—This island paradise has a housing shortage too.

Rents have climbed to levels never before experienced, and Utopia-seekers who came here to get away from such things are dismayed. So many of them are clamoring for steamer passage home, and so little passenger space is available on ships calling here, that the would-be exodus is taking on tinges of panic.

Rationing has been discontinued and shops are displaying an unaccustomed variety of new merchandise, but prices are steep and only add to the discouragement of those who picked Tahiti as a haven of picturesque and inexpensive living.

On top of everything else, the driest season in 25 years is parching the countryside and water is scarce, especially for bathing. There is plenty of salt water in the lagoons, but they are too full of octopi for swimming parties.

However, letters are still coming here by every mail from distant mainland cities, inquiring about the low cost of living and other advantages of retirement in Tahiti—away from it all.

Cincinnati, O.—(AP)—A University of Cincinnati graduate and his wife, also a graduate, are reported by campus officials to be the only husband and wife among 10,000 persons licensed by the Ohio State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers to practice professional engineering in this state.

They are Francis M. Self, 1933, chemical engineering, and 1935, master of science graduate of the university; and his wife, Mrs. Octavia Spencer Self, 1930, bachelor and master of science graduate. GIVES HOMELESS VETS CHANCE TO AGE IN WOOD

Des Moines, Iowa.—(AP)—Wooden grain storage bins used during the 1930s when Iowa was glutted with a corn surplus now are going to be offered for sale to veterans as houses.

R. H. Kenworth, Des Moines builder, said he had purchased 240 of the 14,324 foot bins from the U. S. Department of Agriculture at 13 Iowa towns and would offer them to central Iowa war veterans.

The price "as is," along with plans for converting them into houses, is $325. He estimated that converted into modern, small homes the cost would be about $2,800 exclusive of the lot.
