UNO COUNCIL STOPS DEBATE ON INDONESIA

Statements Of Interested Nations Are Studied; Netherlands 'Putting House In Order'

London, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council interrupted debate on the Indonesian dispute today to study statements of the interested nations, including a Dutch declaration that a "very liberal" settlement of Indonesian independence aspirations was hoped for shortly.

The council will meet tomorrow to try to arrive at a solution satisfactory to the Soviet Ukraine, which charged that British troops in Indonesia were endangering world peace, and at the same time acceptable to Great Britain and the Netherlands.

Dutch Foreign Minister Eelco Van Kleffens told the council last night that it lacked authority to intervene because international peace was not endangered. He added that the Dutch were trying to put their "house in order on a very liberal basis, as I hope everybody will soon be able to see."

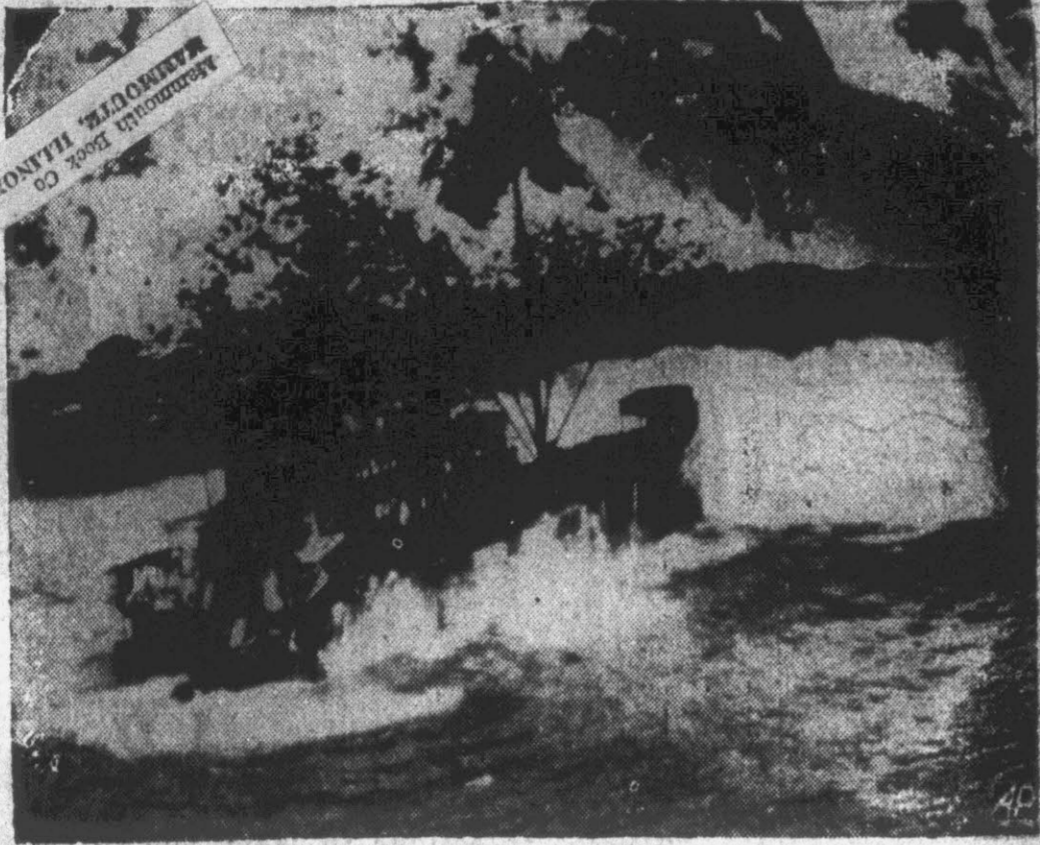

Van Kleffens apparently was referring to projected talks between Dr. Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting governor general of the Dutch East Indies, with Indonesian leaders on a proposed settlement which Van Mook recently took back with him from The Hague.

Earlier, white-haired Dmitri Manulsky of the Soviet Ukraine had said the British were jeopardizing the peace and violating the United Nations charter by the "suppression of the National movement of the Indonesian people."

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin termed Manulsky's allegations "a lie."

Manulsky said British troops remain in Indonesia with the consent of the United Nations to disarm the Japanese and accept their surrender, and added that he was not asking their withdrawal. He proposed, however, that the council send a commission to Indonesia to (Continued on Page Four)

Davenport Aides Recount 'Big Apple' Manipulations

Two Defendants Abandon 'Not Guilty' Plea And Appear As State's Witnesses; Wilson Boyles And Hal Whorton Change Pleas After Conference With Their Attorney

Two of the six defendants being tried on false pretense and fraud charges growing out of the "Big Apple" loans operations in 1944 left Roderick Davenport's bandwagon today and began to tell of the former produce dealer's manipulations in a loans scheme which victimized thousands of Eastern North Carolina residents.

Wilson Boyles, of Winston-Salem, who served as Davenport's field man in the loan operations, changed his plea from one of not guilty to one of no contest (the defense), and the State took a plea in the case of Hal Whorton, who was in charge of Davenport's fruit and produce business through which the loan operations were carried out.

Boyles thus made himself available as either a State or defense witness, and Solicitor D. M. Clark immediately placed him on the stand for the State. His testimony was heard this afternoon.

Both Boyles and Whorton changed their positions in the case after a conference between the two defendants and their attorney, Charles L. Abernethy, Jr., of New Bern, and Solicitor Clark.

Whorton took the stand during the morning session and told his story. So complete was it, that the defense spent only about 20 minutes cross-examining him.

Describing his connection with Davenport, Whorton said he was in a position to know that with the exception of one, all of the produce stores failed to make money, and that he repeatedly told Davenport that his loans business would make him bankrupt unless he made more loans to borrowers at the 10 per cent interest per week.

CONGRESSMEN OPPOSING AID ICKES MIGHT QUIT CABINET

Landon Leads GOP Group Against The 'Bread-For-Europe' Plan

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—President Truman's bread-for-Europe program touched off rumblings of opposition in Congress today, and it led Alf M. Landon to contend the Roosevelt administration was partly responsible for the food shortage abroad.

A tangible hint of disapproval was the introduction of a bill by Rep. Edwin A. Hall (R-N.Y.) to ban the export of foodstuffs temporarily until it is determined that American consumers will be assured "the present amount of white bread."

Mr. Truman's plan for cutting American wheat consumption also drew questioning comment from other lawmakers unenthusiastic about the dark bread it will mean on the nation's menu.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 8.—(AP)—Technicians of Rochester University and Eastman Kodak Company have completed what they believe is the world's largest radiograph—an x-ray view of a jeep showing the fuel lines in the tank and the filament in the headlights.

The jeep was parked 60 feet from the university laboratory when the 90-minute exposure was made. Rays of the university's giant x-ray unit penetrated laboratory doors, the atmosphere and the structure of the jeep.

Four large film sections were matched to obtain the finished radiograph, 145 inches long and 56 inches high.

Ex-GI's Attempt To Break Picket Lines

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 8.—(AP)—The strike-bound Conestoga Transportation Company, attempting to resume operations with volunteer drivers, hustled 23 men into its car barns today while police pushed pickets aside.

Twenty-eight club-carrying policemen rode up to the barns at 8 a. m. in patrol wagons and 50 minutes later cleared the way for the force recruited by the company.

Some 20 pickets milled about the plant gates at the time but there was no flareup such as yesterday when volunteers led by former GI's drove five of the concern's 25 trailers out and operated them.

Several of those entering the barn today wore army uniforms. Nine ex-GI's who first cracked the picket line slept overnight in the car barns. All but one formerly were employed by the company.

Pauley's Presidential Backing May Be Breaking Point

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—President Truman's determination to stick to his choice of Edwin C. Pauley as No. 2 boss of the Navy spurred congressional speculation today that Secretary Ickes' position might quit.

A number of legislators wondered privately whether Ickes' position might become untenable as the result of Mr. Truman's action in seemingly siding with Pauley against his Secretary of the Interior in the year's hottest political dispute.

Ickes himself brushed aside reporters' queries on the point with a terse, "I haven't anything to say."

As an aftermath of Mr. Truman's news conference comments on the Pauley-Ickes dispute, administration lieutenants who declined use of their names said the White House asked them to go down the line to what many think is certain defeat for the California's appointment to the Undersecretary of the Navy.

Some senators said they thought Ickes might regard the reported White House request as a "no-confidence" signal.

Although outcome of the Pauley appointment is in doubt, George E. Allen, another of Mr. Truman's nominees appeared to have cleared (Continued on page six)

LABOR CRISIS HALTS TRUMAN HOLIDAY PLAN

Wage-Price Policy Question Holds President At Desk In Steel Controversy

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—President Truman today cancelled his planned vacation in Florida as government and labor officials were trying to bring a quick end to the 19-day-old steel strike.

A formal White House statement mentioned only "the immediate critical situation involving problems requiring his personal attention" as the reason for the cancellation.

White House aides, however, told reporters that the labor crisis and the related wage-price policy question were involved in the decision.

Earlier in the day, the President had resumed his personal efforts to quickly end the 19-day steel strike.

U. S. Steel Corporation officers who have held secret conferences with CIO President Philip Murray over the past few days were non-committal. Vice-President John A. Stephens declined even to discuss his report to Mr. Truman, who summoned both Murray and Stephens to the White House late yesterday.

But Murray and top White House advisers spoke confidently of hopes that the new talks would bring a speedy end to the strike of 750,000 CIO-Steelworkers, the biggest single work stoppage on record.

The 181-2 cent figure was proposed by Mr. Truman on the eve of the strike, which began January 21. The union accepted it then, but the steel corporation turned it down.

Now, according to officials in an excellent position to know, the government is prepared to offer the industry a price increase of approximately $5.25 a ton. This development led to the new and secret conferences between Murray and Stephens.

They reported to the President separately yesterday, and the Chief Executive asked them to arrange another meeting.

Some said the corporation is balking at making the wage increase re- (Continued on Page Four)

Number Of Missing Persons Is Lowered

Ketchikan, Alaska, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The number of persons rescued from the wreck of the liner Yukon stood at 486 today and the Alaska Steamship Company said in Seattle its list of those unaccounted for totaled 11.

At the same time Barney O'Connor of the Northwest Medical Supply Company in Seattle said the city's supply of penicillin was exhausted by the demands of the Seaward hospital for treatment of survivors for exposure ailments.

The Coast Guard, which directed the rescue work from the time the liner ran aground Sunday night, said it was not releasing figures until the work of checking was completed, but that the Alaska Line's information tallied with its knowledge.

TODAY IN CONGRESS

A Review Of Your Government In Action

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The nomination of Presidential Adviser George E. Allen to be a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation won the approval of the Senate Banking Committee today.

The vote was 14 to 5. Administration leaders said they thought the Senate would follow suit and confirm the appointment.

As the House handled routine business and the Senate moved through the apparently final stages of a filibuster against FEPC, this happened in Congress:

The Banking Committee approved and sent to the House an emergency housing bill. It authorizes price ceilings on new, but not on old homes, and renews government power to allocate scarce building supplies.

A report from President Truman said UNRRA, up to last Sept. 30, had sent war-ravaged countries 2,126,222 long tons of relief supplies worth $484,000,000.

Navy Captain A. D. Kramer told Pearl Harbor investigators that in 1941 he twice took highly secret decoded Japanese messages to the late Harry Hopkins, Hopkins, confidant of President Roosevelt, was a patient in a hospital here at the time.

Kramer suggested the investigators hunt through six Navy Department files to see if they contain any message that might have given an advance tip that war was coming.

George E. Folk, patent adviser to the National Association of Manufacturers, urged the "least possible governmental interference" with development of atomic power for industrial use. He appeared before the Senate atomic committee.

Backers of the Fair Employment Practice bill ran up the white flag today, thus opening the way for resumption of business in the Senate. Southerners who have filibustered against the proposal since Jan. 17 agreed to a vote tomorrow on a motion to limit debate, knowing in advance the necessary two-third majority would not be forthcoming.

Pres. Truman Reprnts On UNRRA Relief Work

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—President Truman told Congress today that by last September 30, UNRRA had shipped to war-devastated countries 2,126,222 long tons of relief supplies valued at $484,816,000.

The President listed these figures in his fifth quarterly report to the Senate and House on UNRRA operations, submitted in the form of a 54-page booklet.

Most of the items in the report had been made public previously. Here are some of the facts listed: 1. By September 30, UNRRA had spent or committed $1,122,131,582 for relief and $11,692,128 for administration—more than 88 per cent of its available resources of $1,284,165,588.

2. UNRRA then had 4,772 workers in European assembly centers caring for about 1,300,000 displaced persons.

3. Shipments including 12,398,400 pounds of food and more than 93,000 pounds of medical supplies had arrived in the Philippines.

As of September 30, only $800,000,000 of the original U. S. contribution of $1,356,000,000 to UNRRA actually had been made available by Congress. Of this, $660,316,300 already had been committed for the purchase of relief supplies in this country or from U. S. agencies abroad.

More than $90,000,000 worth of food had been purchased in the U. S. clothing purchases totaled about $50,000,000. Slightly more than $610,000,000 worth of U. S. overseas military surpluses had been bought by UNRRA.

Since then Congress has appropriated the additional $550,000,000 (Continued on Page Six)

'LOST' PAPER MAY BE FOUND

Search Urged, Of Navy Files, For Missing Document

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Capt. A. D. Kramer suggested to Pearl Harbor investigators today a search of Navy files for a missing document which a previous witness said might have been a war tipoff message.

Kramer was the intelligence officer who distributed translations of intercepted Japanese messages to top officials in the days preceding Pearl Harbor attack Dec. 7, 1941.

Another witness, Capt. L. F. Safford, has testified previously that an empty filing jacket, bearing File No. JD-1-7001 "could have" contained an intercepted "winds" message which he said was received three days before the Japanese struck. He has contended the message "meant war."

Kramer told the joint congressional committee investigating the disaster that in addition to the "JD" file—the letters stood for "Japanese diplomatic" traffic—there were six other file groupings for intercepted Japanese messages. Those were "JM" (military), "JN" (naval), "JO" (official), "JP" (personal), "JQ" (commercial) and "JZ" (traffic whose classification could not be determined.)

This is a possibility, he said, that a translation had been grouped erroneously in the JD file, given a JD number, and later placed in the proper file with the JD crossed out and another heading substituted.

Earlier, the committee received a letter written Jan. 15, 1946, to Safford by Cap. G. W. Welker, another communications officer in Safford's section. Welker said that he had no first hand information of any "winds" message and that no information of that kind ever came to his office through Kramer.

Steelworkers Gathering In Baltimore Sunday For Expected Developments; Industry And Labor Await Presidential Wage-Price Plan As Means Of Solution To Deadlock

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A showdown in efforts to settle the vast steel and other major strikes appeared imminent today when President Truman cancelled his planned Florida vacation because of "the immediate critical situation" requiring his attention.

At the same time, a mass meeting of 20,000 striking steelworkers was called in Baltimore Sunday, District USW Director Albert Atallah announced because "we expect important developments and believe it will be necessary to call the membership together at that time, and explain the situation to them."

However, in Washington, spokesmen at national CIO headquarters said he knew of no developments in the steel strike which would justify the Baltimore mass meeting.

White House aides said the labor crisis and related wage-price policy question were involved in the President's decision.

As government and labor leaders sought to bring a quick end to the steel strike, telephone operators in Washington, D. C., voted 10 to 1 in favor of a strike for higher wages. The independent Washington Telephone Traffic Union, whose members quit work twice recently, said the operators approved a strike in two weeks either over local issues or in connection with a possible nationwide strike by the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Elsewhere, however, the labor picture appeared brightest in weeks. An easing of several major disputes, including the vast steel strike, appeared imminent.

Partial transit service was restored at Lancaster yesterday when five trolleys broke through picket lines and operated under police protection. A strike of AFL bus and trolley drivers Wednesday and a separate walkout of taxi drivers had left more than 200,000 persons without any form of public transportation.

Doctors Say Hospital Bride Might Recover

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Jerome Leopold Cammer, who became a bride in a hospital-bed ceremony yesterday before spending five hours on the operating table, has a chance to live, according to naval hospital physicians here.

Mrs. Cammer, the former Winifred Johanna Witt, suffered critical head injuries which included the loss of her right eye, in a train-auto collision here Wednesday night. Cammer, a naval machinist's mate, was less severely injured in the same accident.

The couple had planned a marriage ceremony tonight at a North Charleston church, but advanced the time when the bride-elect was found to be seriously hurt and requiring surgery.

Both the bride and groom are residents of the Charleston Naval Yard. Cammer is a veteran of 11 years Navy service, and saw action during five European invasions and at Okinawa.

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler

Brussels, Feb. 8.—On Feb. 17 Belgium will hold her first general election since 1939, and the political complexion of the new parliament is likely to determine the fate of King Leopold, who is fighting doggedly to retain his throne.

This is the second of these royal campaigns your team of globe-trotters has encountered, for Don Juan's crusade boiled up while we were in Spain recently. Leopold's future is so uncertain that predictions are definitely out of order because, forsooth, the structure of the new parliament is uncertain.

The position is this: The 1939 parliament, the last elected, was composed of 73 Catholics, 64 Socialists, 33 Liberals, 17 Flemish Nationalists, nine Communists, four Rexist and two Independents. While the Catholic party had the largest number of seats, the last government was a coalition of Socialists, Liberals and Communists, who had 106 of the 202 votes.

The Catholic party is supporting Leopold, while the coalition government thus far has had thumbs down on his majesty. Thus it will be seen that we must know the outcome of the election before the king's future is clear.

It strikes me personally that if Leopold had come through the war with the same standing his reverend father, King Albert, had at the end of the last conflict, his chances of ruling the Belgians again would be first class.

But Leopold surrendered to the Germans at the outset of the war, while in the previous conflict his father and mother retreated with their army into a tiny corner of Belgium on the coast near La Panne, and there fought the enemy through more than four years of terrible hardship.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(AP)—The House has just passed a stiff bill introduced by Rep. Francis Case, South Dakota Republican—to put a brake on strikes.

But it still is only a bill. Before it can become law, two important steps must be taken: 1. The Senate must approve. 2. If it does, then the President must sign the doubly-approved measure into law. There's a chance he'll kill it with a veto.

The Senate can okay the Case bill in its present form, change it, pass some substitute, or reject the whole idea. It's almost certain the Senate at least will make some change in the Case bill as it stands.

This bill was whipped through the House at a time when strikes are crippling the country and letters from their people back home have poured into congressmen, demanding some action.

By the time the Senate gets along to acting on this, or some other legislation to curb strikes, the big strikes may be over and the congressional temper may have cooled off.

If that happens, the Senate may consider much milder legislation or scrap the whole idea. In that event the Case bill would die. This is not the identical bill that Rep. Case introduced. Other congressmen offered a flock of amendments on the floor. Some were rejected. Some were tacked on to the bill, changing it.

Case himself says: "I hope the Senate will consider all the amendments which were not considered in the House. I have too much respect for legislation to think a bill could be perfect without all the consideration it can get."

The House passed bill would forbid strikes for 30 days until a government board had a chance to settle the dispute causing the desire to strike.

It would also impose penalties on unions, or union members, for violence during strikes or for boycotting an employer's goods in order to force him into accepting the striking union's demands.

This would be an example of boycotting under the bill: Union AAA strikes against company BBB. Union CCC, to help out union AAA, refuses to handle any goods shipped out by company BBB.

The bill places some restriction on employers' activities in dealing with a union. But the severe penalties for a violating the law—it became a law—would be felt by unions and union members.

The bureau reported that the official death total in the state was 28,850 in 1945, a drop of 610 from the 1944 total of 29,560.

The report showed that at the peak of the war in 1943, the death rate was 8.1 per thousand population. The national average for 1945 was 10 deaths per thousand population.

Phantoms To Play Washington Again

By JIMMY FUTRELL
The conference leading Greenville High School Phantoms renew their heated rivalry with the Washington Pam Pack after a two year intermission tonight when the two rivals meet on the Pam Pack's home court at 8 o'clock.

The last meeting of these arch opponents was in 1943 when the locals triumphed in a game played in Greenville. The Washington quint was the last class B school club to defeat the GHS cagers—this incident taking place in a earlier contest of the same year.

As in all close rivalries, previous scores mean nothing. On paper the game looks like a pretty fair clinch between the phantoms since they are undefeated in conference play and Washington was beaten twice by teams which the locals disposed of rather handily.

Coach Farley and the whole squad realize that the locals have had some pretty bad nights this season when nothing seemed to go right. If that be the case tonight, we will be the perfect record of the G-Men in conference play.

However, if the showing of the Farley-men in their last two performances is any indication of things to come, then the Pam Pack is in for a rough evening.

Probable starters for Greenville are expected to be five seniors: Billy Harrington and Billy Mac Batchelor, guards; Ed Williams and Jimmy Futrell, forwards, and J. T. Williams, center.

tonight at College Park, The Liners upset the Dukes, 43-38, two weeks ago.

Tomorrow afternoon the Carolinians move over to Annapolis for a game with Navy's midshipmen, who handed the Blue Devils a 51-40 trouncing a fortnight ago.

The Dukes move north Saturday night for a game with Temple at Philadelphia.

Although the Southern Conference game between North Carolina and Maryland will occupy a big portion of tonight's spotlight, another conference game, Wake Forest-N. C. State at Raleigh—will claim a full share of attention.

Other games on tonight's state calendar: Lenoir-Rhyne at High Point, Appalachian at Moore General Hospital, Louisville at Eastern Carolina Teachers.

In last night's only state game, Guilford topped Lenoir-Rhyne, 40-33, in a North State Conference game.

In South Carolina, Furman romped over Presbyterian College at Clinton, 47-29.

Havana, Feb. 8 (AP)—Former Heavyweight Champion Gene Tunney picks Joe Louis to knock out Billy Conn in three rounds when they meet at the Yankee Stadium in June.

"Louis can knock Conn in the first or second round if he wants to," Tunney said in an interview. "Joe is a far better all-around fighter than Conn ever will be."

Tunney is here on a 10-day vacation. He will referee Saturday's fight between the Gavilan Kid and Kid Burru.

Jaycees Sponsor Timely Project

By RICHARD STOKES III
The 23 members present at last night's meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were called to order by President Charles Marston to enjoy one of the most entertaining and instructive regular meetings in some time. Foremost on the agenda was a delicious meal at the Olde Towne Inn. The meeting covered many high spots in the coming Jaycee year. The peak of the discussions centered around the 1946 project which was proposed and explained by a special committee led by Charles Cobb, who recently returned from service in the navy.

Anticipating the fast approaching Air Age, it was proposed that the Jaycees organize a local chapter of the National Aeronautics Association, an organization to aid those interested in aviation—an aeronautical association similar to the American Automobile Association. The organizing of a local chapter of NAA was put before club for a vote and it was unanimously carried as the project for 1946. To lay the plans for the project, a committee was appointed composed of Charles Cobb, chairman; Bancroft Moseley, Tom Wilson, Bruce Baker, and Willard T. Kyzer.

Another interesting note of the evening was that of procuring uniforms for the Greenville High School band, the best high school band in the State. The need for new uniforms was discussed along with a method for securing necessary funds for their purchase. It was decided that the Jaycees, with the aid of the members of the band and others interested, to stage a vast waste paper collection canvass of the community and that the proceeds from sale of the paper be presented by the Jaycees to the band to help pay the much-needed uniforms. The waste paper drive will be held on Sunday, March 3. So, friends of the high school, this will save us three weeks to save waste paper to help a very civic-minded organization made up of our own boys and girls—the Greenville High School Band.

Several matters concerning the Jaycees activities were discussed, including the state convention to be held at Southern Pines the latter part of April and the election of new officers, whose nominations will be announced at the next meeting.

As a final word, the Jaycees welcomed back home those returning veterans and are members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Howard L. Hodges, Jr., who was a guest last night.

history; that the Finance Committee's report was gratifying; that prospects are excellent for another successful minstrel show at the college some time in April after Lent; that Mayor Jack Boyd had announced that there are good prospects of persuading one of the big airlines to make Greenville a stopping place for passengers, mail and freight, after the U. S. Navy turns back the 5,000-foot runways airport on the other side of the river, and that civic and other local groups are expected to cooperate with the city and county administrations in this project. Incidentally, present plans provide for the city administration and other groups to entertain the North Carolina Aeronautical Commission here some time in March and to discuss future plans for Greenville's place on the airways.

The directors indicated that the Kiwanis Club will give good support to Kiwanian Guy Smith in providing a winning baseball club for Greenville this year, and Judge James William Holmes Roberts and his committee are making arrangements to organize a "Knit-Hole Club" for the youngsters during the baseball season.

Odell C. Calhoun, head of the C. and S. Baking Company, was host to the Kiwanis officers and directors at a barbecued chicken supper and all of the "trimmings." Paul Norbert, of the Prubite Company, Greensboro, a supper guest, said it would be impossible to buy anywhere in a big city such an excellent meal as Nelson Hopkins provided last night.

Officers and directors present were President Rawl, Vice-President Eli Bloom, Secretary-Treasurer Daev C. Moore, Jr., and Odell Calhoun, Guy Smith, Dr. H. G. Haney, Arthur Tripp, Dr. J. M. Barrett, Dick Bundy, David Evans, Bill Taft, Judge Roberts, and Chester Walsh, chairman of the Public Relations Committee. Dr. S. M. Crisp is recovering from illness and J. D. Hice was out of town.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 8 (AP)—The $7,500 Texas Open swung into its first round today with Byron Nelson somewhat reluctantly accepting the role of favorite.

The tall Texan, who has won 21 tournaments in little more than a year has been complaining that he's off his game and has been getting in several hours practice daily in an effort to correct it.

There will be 130 in the field that plays 18 holes today and 18 tomorrow. Then it will be out to the 60 low scorers and ties for the final 36 holes Sunday.

In yesterday's pro amateur, the best-returns were turned in by Pro Ellsworth Vines of Chicago and Amateur Ken Rogers of Oklahoma City, each posting a six-under 65.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP)—President Walter O. Briggs of the Detroit Tigers hinted here yesterday that outfielder Hank Greenberg may not be baseball's highest salaried player in 1946.

He said he would have to discuss the matter with Chicago's franchise, the team's new general manager.

He admitted that Hank's hitting was pretty important in winning last season's series for the Tigers, but added:

"Hank's legs were bad—very bad. I'm sure he hasn't a chance in the outfield anymore. He'll have to play first. If he fails to make it, or fails to sign, then we have Roy Cullenbine, who might be right in that lineup."

Washington, Feb. 8 (AP)—Immediate replacement of the baseball star Johnny McKay was asked yesterday by New Hanover High School officials in a telegram to the North Carolina High School Athletic Association.

McKay, a foot 7 inch center of the New Hanover team, was ruled ineligible at the time of a January 18 game with Raleigh. New Hanover lost all four Eastern Conference A title prospects under the ruling.

TWO KEYS TO TREASURE
You have no doubt noticed that it takes two keys to open a safe deposit box. The bank holds one key, and with this they "prime" the lock. Then you insert your key and open the small compartment in which the box is kept.

If you have occasion to open a safe deposit box in the near future, think about this—it takes two keys to make available the treasures kept in the box. One key will not do it. And here we see the setting forth of a spiritual law. It takes two keys also to unlock life's richest treasures. It takes God's key and your key. God's key alone will not do it, for He has ordained that man must do his part to gain the treasure he desires. And certainly your key or mine will not open treasure. If we think it will, then we shall some day find that the thing we unlock with a single key is not treasure at all but vanity, pretense, mistake.

God has arranged things in His universe in such way that there must be a constant interworking of divine and human powers, if anything significant is to be accomplished. We speak of the work of our hands—but who gave us our hands? We refer to the creations of our minds—but who conferred upon us the power to reason and create? God must first "prime" the lock, and then we can use the key. He has given us—which is our natural endowment of powers and capacities—and by so doing we open the treasure chamber.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
By JACK STINNETT

Washington — Congress suddenly has become television conscious. And incidentally is discovering that the twentieth century's latest communications wonder is not unimpaired in its blossoms.

The occasion of the awakening was the selection of three members of the House to initiate 3XWT's "News-Views" program. They were Reps. Clarence Kefauver, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Clarence Brown, Blanchester, O.; and Fred Bradley, Rogers City, Mich.

In the Hotel Harrington studios of 3XWT, operated by Allen B. Dumont, the legislators were informed they needn't worry much about their periodic recordings for the folks back home. That is until the lights were turned on. Then they admittedly nearly went crazy with the heat.

Ren Bradley says that phase of the "not too pleasant experience" reminded him of the Republican convention halls in Philadelphia and Chicago when the big klieg lights were turned on for the moving picture news men.

"We Congressmen, tired after a day's work here on the Hill," dreamed Mr. Bradley for the benefit of some of his colleagues, "will not have to worry about attending a wife-fight, a baseball game—or opera. All we will have to do is press the magic button and have it lit the living room."

"There is one thing about this television future I don't like," he dreamed on. "When television is installed in Congress, I fear it is going to cause more of us to be on the floor more often. How are we going to take care of our committee meetings and our correspondence?"

"As of tomorrow, we will all more or less be radio actors and will have to preserve our appearance and decorum. Yet that probably will be a good thing. Our constituents will know just what their

We shall learn Feb. 17 whether Belgium is swinging to the left or to the right or is moving fairly well to the center.

The present coalition government, headed by Socialist Premier Achille Van Acker, is going before the electors with claims of big achievements. By far the most important of these is that Belgium is one of the earliest of liberated countries to show signs of economy recovery—a happy situation which this column already has reported to you.

Economic well-being naturally depends on numerous factors, and the two greatest problems of the country on its liberation were to provide food and coal. The food situation is said to be so well in hand that, apart from meat, sugar and fats, rationing could be abolished. As for coal production, the government has waged a great offensive and recently Premier Van Acker announced that the "battle of coal" had been won.

Some coal experts aren't prepared to accept that statement literally. However, the consensus seems to be that the back of the problem has been broken.

Naturally there is still a heavy shortage owing to lack of reserve supplies. Certainly the coal situation is much better, and that is a big item on a continent which is being tortured through fuel shortage.

Another item which the government will call to the attention of voters is the hot campaign against the black market, which is said to be on the run.

So these and other points will be placed before the voters who will decide whether they are satisfied with the Van Acker government.

posed on the bill upon an individual who helps boycott the goods of a strike-bound plant.

Some congressmen, who voted against the bill say it means this: He loses his benefits under the National Labor Relations Act. For instance: A union can't represent him in collective bargaining with an employer for better wages.

These same congressmen say this ban on the boycott can last forever because nothing in the language of the bill sets a time limit on it.

On this particular section of the House-passed bill—the section was an amendment offered by another congressman—Rep. Case says: "If careful study of the section shows that it means an employee would suffer permanent loss of his status, then it should be modified to mean a temporary loss or have a maximum on the length of time of such loss."

This is not the only section of the bill which seems to have been written in haste.

ALDERMEN IN BUSY SESSION

Airport, Drainage, Ball Park, City Buses Up For Consideration

By CHESTER WALSH
The Board of Aldermen in regular meeting at the City Hall last night passed a resolution and an ordinance providing for issuance of $53,000 of public improvement bonds—$41,000 for construction of a big drainage pipe to carry off surplus water, and $12,000 for street improvements. Mayor Jack Boyd presided.

The mayor reported that Paul T. Ricks, owner and operator of city passenger buses, had asked to be relieved of the franchise due to unprofitable operation. The board agreed to Ricks' proposal, except as to certain morning schedules which provide transportation for school children. Later on, these will be continued. The public has not adequately supported the bus lines, it was stated.

The demand for lots in Greenwood Cemetery is greater than the supply, it was stated. The Aldermen increased the sale price of lots. Many out-of-town persons were buying them. R. E. Wilson's request for a permit to move a house was referred to the Street Committee. Ernest Adams' request for a beer license was denied because of the location, on Short street. Several citizens appeared with requests for better drainage in their sections of the city. It was stated that plans are made to relieve the situation. City Sanitarian H. A. Hendricks made his report and it was accepted. Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, health officer, was present.

There were four applicants for the job of assistant city collector, made vacant by the resignation of John S. Vickers. They were Jack W. Foley, Jr., William T. Banks, W. L. Patrick and Glenn W. Brooks. Filling of the place was referred to the Mayor and Finance Committee with power to act. Street lights were ordered placed at several of the city schools and on Harding street.

The Aldermen tentatively passed a resolution providing for appointment of an airport commission—two aldermen and two county commissioners, they in turn, to appoint an executive secretary.

Plans for entertaining the North Carolina Aeronautics Commission members here some time in March, and having various local organizations participate.

It was announced that the city had contracted with George Cherry to construct a metal fence around Guy Smith Stadium at a cost of $3,040. Work is to begin as soon as materials can be procured. The baseball season opens May 3.

Considerable routine business was transacted and several matters of importance were discussed. These will be taken up in another story.

Masons Here Honor James W. Brewer

Greenville Lodge No. 284 at the last regular communication honored Past Master James W. Brewer, in a brief ceremony featured by the presentation of a Past Master's Jewel.

After a delicious oyster supper prepared and served by some of the ladies of the Order of Eastern Star, Master W. F. Owens opened the Lodge for the transaction of regular business. He then requested W. J. Bundy, Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of North Carolina to make the presentation. The deputy grand master paid glowing tribute to the quality of leadership and devotion to Masonry as exhibited by Past Master Brewer. The speaker emphasized his personal satisfaction in presenting the Lodge's token of esteem to one, who so greatly deserved the honor.

Master Owens called attention to the many letters of thanks received from the widows of deceased members of Greenville Lodge No. 284, for the Christmas gifts sent them by the Lodge. He asked the chairman of the Masonic Widows Committee, F. C. Cross, to give a report of some of the committee's plans for 1946.

Fred M. Stokes, chairman of the Building Committee, reported that work on the Masonic Temple, which was stopped on account of cold weather, had been resumed.

Several petitions for membership were received by the Lodge. A large crowd was present.

Possible settlement of the 19-day old strike of 750,000 CIO steel workers which also has made idle more than 100,000 workers in allied industries.

An end of the strike by 3,500 tugmen in New York which has tied up the city's harbor and sharply reduced fuel and food supplies.

Possible approval by one union of a federal fact finding board's proposal for a 16 cents an hour wage increase for meat industry production workers.

Acting Chairman Barkley (D-Ky.) called for a Banking Committee vote today on the Allen nomination, and supporters voiced confidence of a favorable recommendation to the Senate. But Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters he doubts that Allen can get either committee or Senate approval.

Ickes and Pauley are at odds about a conversation between the two in Ickes' office Sept. 4, 1944. Ickes, terming it "the rawest proposition ever made of me," said Pauley suggested $300,000 in Democratic campaign contributions could be raised from interested oil men if they could be assured the government wouldn't try to win title to off-shore oil lands now claimed by the states.

Pauley, former Democratic National treasurer, said Ickes was "mistaken," that he didn't ask for any "contingent contributions."

Davenport ...

in Pamlico County, testified that he heard Davenport tell Wilson Boyles, another of the defendants, to have the books of the loan brokerage and its branch offices altered before they were investigated by the SBI.

"I know that Faisor Thompson (Davenport's Goldsboro attorney) told Davenport to reduce the deposit records so that they would show up better." Illustrating, he said that the record would show a person who actually deposited $1,000 would only be credited with $100 on the books shown to the SBI. The correct set of books then would be withheld from SBI scrutiny.

Whorton said Thompson was employed by Davenport to help in the loans collection end of the business. He said Thompson was paid $750 in attorney fees at one time, and that the salary, as well as "some money paid for police work," was charged against drayage in the produce busness.

Thompson's procedure in collecting delinquent loans from borrowers, Whorton testified, was to mail letters to the delinquents. He said the money was paid to police, who would follow up the letter to make sure of payment. Most of these activities took place in Goldsboro, he said.

Although connected specifically with the fruit and produce business, Whorton said he knew of the activities of the loans business through close connection.

He testified that Davenport had "bought two cases of whiskey" on one occasion and gave it away to depositors to induce them to bring in larger deposits. Whorton said Davenport also gave away bags of fruits and vegetables as a further inducement.

He said Davenport told him on one occasion that he was worth more than $200,000. Davenport also told him he "had more money than he could loan out" and that he would have to open other loan agencies in Wilson and Smithfield "to loan out some of this money," Whorton testified. He added that the latter two branches were not opened.

Whorton said he rented the store buildings in Goldsboro and Kinston shortly after he began his connection with Davenport's fruit business. Shortly after the Kinston store was opened, he said, Boyles was brought in to open a loans business in the same store, to be operated in connection with the fruit business.

Earlier in the morning W. A. Brinkley, who is under indictment in Craven County on felony charges growing out of the loans operations, testified for the State that most of the ranking officials in the "Big Apple" were furnished automobiles in their name by Davenport.

Brinkley said in a majority of instances the automobiles were used only in the loans business.

On cross-examination, Brinkley said he quit working for Davenport on August 15, 1944, after he realized the business was "fluid," and after he "realized that something crooked was going on."

After the SBI made its investigation, Brinkley said, "Mr. Davenport hardly could be found in New Bern or anywhere, but we continued to accept deposits and give Davenport's checks as security."

Testimony already has been given to the effect that Davenport closed out his account at the New Bern bank early in August. He was not arrested until August 28, and witnesses said he was giving checks and accepting deposits at that time on the New Bern bank.
