Lebanon Bring Charges To UNO

British And French Accused Of Attack On Sovereignty Of Levantine States; UNO General Assembly Adjourns; Security, Economic And Social Councils Still In Session

By JOHN A. PARRIS
London, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Lebanon accused Great Britain and France today of a grave attack on the sovereignty of the Levantine states and demanded the "immediate and simultaneous evacuation" of all foreign troops from Lebanese soil.

Foreign Minister Hamid Bey Frangie of Lebanon opened the debate on Syrian-Lebanese charges against Britain and France, an issue which forced the Security Council to remain in London as delegates to the first General Assembly depart for home.

He told the 11-nation peace agency that the presence of British and French troops constitutes "a permanent menace of meddling in the internal affairs of a member of the UNO," and declared that their presence is "not dictated by military necessity, nor by agreement of the governments, nor by international accord."

The 18-nation Economic and Social Council, remaining behind with the Security Council, also was scheduled to meet today to complete its organizational tasks for tackling what world statesmen have described as the "basic ills" leading to war.

The General Assembly adjourned last night on a note of optimism, with delegates expressing belief that a firm foundation had been laid for world peace and security agreed that the new organization had rational, mendacious strides toward inspection which the League of Nations failed to attain in its "turbid" days.

It will stand in judgment of the law on Sept. 21, when it convenes in New York City, which was again affirmed by the final session of the assembly as the temporary home of the UNO.

Other questions disposed of last night included the hotly-debated issue of admitting labor organizations into the UNO in a consultative capacity. The assembly adopted an American resolution by a vote of 32 to 6 giving advisory status to the International Cooperative Alliance and the American Federation of Labor.

One of the last actions of the assembly delegates was approval of a resolution calling upon member nations for immediate and drastic action to head off starvation in the world by conserving food supplies.

Col. Peron Accuses Braden Of Spy Ring

Charges U. S. Assistant Sec'y Of State With Blackmailing Merchants Into Paying For Election Intervention

Buenos Aires, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Presidential Candidate Juan D. Peron accused Spruille Braden, assistant U. S. secretary of state, last night of having headed a "vast spy network" while he served as U. S. ambassador to Argentina and of blackmailing Argentine merchants into contributing funds to support his "subversive work."

At the same time, Peron and Foreign Minister Juan I. Cooke issued flat denials that Peron or the Argentine government had dealt with the Nazis, as charged in a blue book issued by the U. S. State Department.

Cooke said in a radio address that the release of the blue book gave "no basis for the suspicion that the U. S. hoped to influence the February 24 presidential elections."

Peron, former vice-president in the government of President Ezequiel Parrell, also declared that Brig. Gen. John Lang, former military attaché at the U. S. embassy, was expelled from Argentina "for proven espionage against Argentina and other friendly countries."

"The U. S. State Department said last night it had no immediate comment to make on Peron's statement. Lang could not be reached for a statement."

In a statement in the newspaper La Epoca, which is supporting his presidential aspirations, Peron said that "Lang was not able to defend himself against the accusations, which were completely proven."

"He (Lang) did not even try to," Peron said. "He left Argentina with his tail between his legs and his chief, Braden, was not able to justify him with certainty."

"We can say to Mr. Braden that he had been here in Argentina as chief of a vast spy network, and Peron said that Braden used money obtained from merchants to "do his subversive work here and appear as a generous paymaster to his servants."

Peron also charged that his political opponents in the forthcoming election were planning an outbreak of violence, which would be blamed on him.

"In this event," he added, "our program would win within 48 hours revolution."

Quick Settlement Of Two Major Strikes Imminent

General Calls Bikini Atom Test Futuristic

Philadelphia, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Arrangements for the Bikini Atoll test of the atom bomb on surface craft in the Marshall Islands are so futuristic that General Henry H. (Hap) Arnold describes them as "Buck Rogers' plans."

The retired chief of the Army Air Forces detailed some of the plans for the atom-bomb tests at a press conference here yesterday.

General Arnold said the atom bomb test (known as the crossroads project) would be a joint operation of the Navy, Army and Air Forces.

Gen. Arnold said a special Air Forces unit was at a field in New Mexico training to study the effect of the atom bomb on aircraft. He listed the questions they will seek to answer as: 1. How near the blast can an airplane fly and still escape destruction; 2. How strong is the bomb's shock wave in the air; 3. How strong is the radioactive effect in the air around the blast; and 4. Is there radioactivity in the huge cloud that rises above the explosion.

"No sane man would dare go near enough to the blast to find out all these answers," General Arnold said. The special unit, he continued, "will operate ten radio-controlled B-17s that will take off, fly, and land without any living crew."

"Flying the target area these Fortresses will transmit, also by radio, the answers we want. The radio-controlled planes will be based in the Kwajaleins, also in the Marshall Islands."

Gen. Arnold also disclosed the setting up of "the crossroads airlines" which will use 30 C-54 transports from the Air Transport Command.

"Beginning March 1," General Arnold said, "crossroads airplanes will run daily flights to transport Manhattan project personnel, Air Forces men, and joint Army-Navy test force people to and from the Bikini atoll."

Special Meeting Announced Between GMC And UAW-CIO Heads; Presidential Program May Furnish Common Ground For Steel Peace; Wm. Green Dissatisfied With Policy

By The Associated Press
Quick settlement of the nation's two major strikes—in steel and automobile production—appeared as a possibility today following announcement of President Truman's new and higher wage-price policy.

These were the developments:

1.—Special Federal Mediator James P. Dewey announced in Detroit he had arranged a meeting this afternoon between President C. E. Wilson of General Motors and President R. J. Thomas of the CIO United Auto Workers.

2.—A White House spokesman said promulgation of the new policy permitting price booms to cover approved wage hikes cleared the way for ending the costly 28 day strike of 750,000 steelworkers and official Washington looked for a settlement today.

Meanwhile, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, described the administration's new policy as "unsatisfactory, unacceptable and a backward step" and contended it establishes government wage fixing and "strikes a body blow at free collective bargaining."

Bulletins

London, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Russia threw her support to the Levantine States in the United Nations today, declaring their sovereignty had been "clearly violated" by the occupation by British and French troops.

Victor Gollancz, French Communist Party leader, declared that France to work out an agreement on withdrawal of their forces from Syria and Lebanon "cannot satisfy the Soviet Union."

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Without dissent, the Senate and House today adopted a resolution extending the deadline for ending the Pearl Harbor investigation to June 1.

The House acted without discussion a few minutes after receiving the resolution from the Senate.

New Delhi, Feb. 15.—(AP)—More than 400 Indian airmen at RAF headquarters struck today, saying the authorities refused their demands for increased pay allowances and better treatment.

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Young naval officer testified today that the night before Pearl Harbor he handed President Roosevelt information which prompted the President to proclaim "This means war!"

Clear Skies Lowering Flooded N. C. Rivers

Raleigh, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Flood waters in North Carolina's four major rivers were expected to continue falling today as clearing skies late yesterday followed general rains over the state.

The Cape Fear, Neuse, Roanoke and Tar rivers were still out of their banks at places in the eastern part of the state, but crests were moving eastward.

Those in a position to know said there had been discussion of a possible switch of Secretary of Labor Harold L. Ickes to fill the job that the Supreme Court is to take over.

All sorts of switches in his official family were reported to have been suggested to the President who saw several senators and House members about the matter yesterday.

Those in a position to know said there had been discussion of a possible switch of Secretary of Labor Harold L. Ickes to fill the job that the Supreme Court is to take over.

Indications were that Congress again would be asked to extend the probe's life, but there was a wide difference of opinion among committee members over how much of an extension would be necessary. Estimates varied from one week to 19 weeks.

The inquiry originally was scheduled to end on January 3, but Congress extended it when it was apparent the job was nowhere near finished.

TODAY IN CONGRESS

A Review Of Your Government In Action

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—William W. Wyatt, national housing administrator, today urged fast congressional action on a Senate bill to provide $250,000,000 for 100,000 temporary housing units for veterans.

Wyatt appeared before the Senate Labor Committee to back legislation introduced by Senator Mead (D-Ny), who commented during the hearing that he did "not see how the GI Bill of Rights could be carried out" without the emergency 100,000-unit program.

Senator Austin (R-Vt) announced his full support of the $3,750,000,000 loan to Great Britain in a Senate speech and urged consideration of the matter on a non-partisan basis.

The Senate-House Committee which has been investigating the December 7, 1941, Pearl Harbor disaster for the last three months agreed, meanwhile, to end its public hearings not later than next Wednesday. An extension of the life of the committee until June 1 will be sought from Congress, however, to permit time for writing a report.

All the while, lawmakers kept an attentive ear cocked for a White House announcement on a new secretary of the interior. The fact that Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) was reported among the top possibilities for the nomination kept the interest of Capitol Hill especially high.

Champions of OPA were predicting that muchattacked agency will win its fight for continuance beyond June 30, the date is scheduled to expire under existing legislation.

Truman Faces Political Problem In Finding New Secretary Of Interior

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—President Truman was reported today deliberating over a half dozen possible appointees for secretary of interior, with Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) strongly backed by Capitol Hill friends.

Mutual friends of the President and O'Mahoney said the Wyoming senator's name was high on the list, but added that Mr. Truman seemed undecided whether O'Mahoney would be of more service to the administration in the Cabinet or Senate.

Should O'Mahoney be chosen for the post, the expectation here is that Wyoming's Gov. Lester C. Hunt either would succeed him immediately or become a candidate for the senatorial nomination at stake in the state this year.

Hunt was one of two Democrats to unseat Republican gubernatorial incumbents in the 1942 elections.

But if the President turns away from the Senate to fill the job that Harold L. Ickes resigned so explosively, the presidential adviser said it is possible that Justice William O. Douglas might be asked to leave the Supreme Court to take over.

All sorts of switches in his official family were reported to have been suggested to the President who saw several senators and House members about the matter yesterday.

Those in a position to know said there had been discussion of a possible switch of Secretary of Labor Harold L. Ickes to fill the job that the Supreme Court is to take over.

NEW OPA BOSS GREETED WITH HOUSE GAINS

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A big, genial guy from Kentucky took over OPA today and found himself greeted with encouraging tidings from Capitol Hill.

The new boss is towering six-foot four Paul Porter whom President Truman drafted temporarily from his job as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission to head the constantly sniped at and much attacked Office of Price Administration.

The good news awaiting him is that OPA has just won its first House victory of 1946—an achievement OPA's legislative backers interpreted as heralding an ultimate vote to continue OPA beyond the June 30 limit fixed by existing law.

The victory was an important test of strength, for it involved a strong Republican drive to refuse OPA an additional $1,854,000 this fiscal year, largely to finance an enforcement blitz on black markets. The GOP drive failed and the House voted the funds late yesterday.

Porter is no stranger to the woes and headaches of price control. He served as deputy OPA administrator in charge of enforcing rent ceilings in 1942-43. And he got another "shot" on the problem as deputy director of the Office of Economic Stabilization in the two ensuing years.

The new OPA chieftain long has made no secret of the fact that he believes the general price level should be held steady.

Roderick Davenport Is On Stand Again Today

Defendant's Account Of "Big Apple" Affairs Is At Variance With Testimony Offered By Five Former Associates

Although still claiming he was solvent, Roderick Davenport testified in Pitt County Superior Court today that his bank account in a New Bern bank dwindled from a total of $61,058.96 on August 1, 1944, to $2,927.17 on August 8 of the same year, and was reduced to only 15 cents 10 days later.

Testifying again in his own behalf, Davenport said a teller at the Branch Banking and Trust Company, New Bern, refused on August 9, 1944, to accept any more deposits from him. At that time Davenport had already instructed the bank to refuse to honor checks presented at the bank for payment, and to honor only those which came by mail and which carried Davenport's personal signature.

The former New Bern produce dealer, insurance man and self-styled accountant, is being tried before Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill on charges of conspiracy to defraud by false pretense growing out of the operation of his "Big Apple" loans business.

Telling of his "troubles" during the first 15 days of August, 1944, Davenport said a big run on his bank account from $36,492.91 on that date to $11,717.56 the next day. He said he remained at the office until 11 o'clock on the night of August 4 paying off depositors who desired to withdraw their money.

In answer to a question from his attorney, J. Paison Thompson of Goldsboro, Davenport said he still believed that he had been released from jail and allowed to operate his business, he would have been able to pay off all of his depositors. He said that at that time he had been promised sufficient loans by a number of "loyal and influential" friends.

He denied State's testimony that several of his managers had loaned him money from their own accounts during the last days of the loans scheme. State's witnesses had testified they loaned the produce dealer their personal cash to help him pay off disgruntled depositors.

Government Owns Bank Of England

London, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The first major step in the Labor government's socialization program was completed today with the affixing of King George's signature in a bill bringing the 250-year-old Bank of England under public ownership.

The measure, described by the Labor party as a great charter of freedom for the English people, provides that the bank shall be administered by a governor, deputy governor and court of 10 directors appointed by the King. Owners of shares in the bank—which had paid dividends of 12 per cent annually since 1923—will be compensated with government stocks bearing three per cent interest.

But in spite of any planning done by the government, nothing happens at all unless Congress approves and votes money for carrying out the plans when that is necessary.

This is what the bill does, and here:

The President appoints three economists of proven ability. They'll be his economic council. Each of the three receives $15,000 a year.

They'll watch the way the country is going, or is apt to go. They'll analyze and interpret economic trends. They'll produce programs to promote employment, production and purchasing power.

They'll turn all this over to the President and help him draw up a report to Congress every year, outlining what the prospects are for jobs and prosperity in the coming year and what needs to be done about them.

This presidential report goes to a special joint committee of senators and representatives.

By May 1 of each year, beginning in 1947, this committee must recommend to both houses what it believes should be done about the President's proposals for the country's economic good.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Congress has passed a bill—no longer called the "full employment bill"—which says the government is responsible for creating "maximum" employment.

Although it is a very much toned down version of the "full employment bill" first offered in Congress a year ago, President Truman is expected to sign it into law.

It is called now simply the "employment" bill. It is hedged around with cautious language. It gives the government loopholes if at any time it decides it can't or won't try to create "maximum" employment.

Even so—despite the evident timidity of Congress in committing the government too far—the bill is a landmark in the history of this country, but only to this extent:

It commits the government to planning for jobs for those who need and want them. The bill itself, of course, doesn't provide any jobs. Nor does it say the government has to provide jobs.

It doesn't say the government shall set up WPA's in time of depression, or start great programs of public works at public expense to provide jobs.

Yet all that could be done by the government because the language

Airlines Resume Pre-War Status

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The nation's airlines resumed full peace time status today as the order that required them to set aside 70 per cent of eastbound seats for returning servicemen expired.

About twice as many seats in newly twice as many airplanes are available to carry traffic now as before Pearl Harbor.

The prewar commercial airfield had 355 planes with around 6,000 seats. Now the airlines have more than 600 planes with nearly 12,000 seats. The ratio of seats to aircraft will increase sharply as more four-engine planes are put into service during the next few months.

End of the Century Club

On Friday, February the eighth, the End of the Century Club had a delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen. After greetings were exchanged and a short business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. J. F. Arthur, the program was presented. In the absence of the scheduled speaker, Dr. J. B. Cummings, Mrs. J. S. Moyer read a timely article on "The United States of Europe" by George Creel, and Mrs. J. F. Arthur gave a short thought-provoking review of "The Anatomy of Peace" by Emery Reves. After sewing for a short time on slippers for the Red Cross, the hostess served a delicious salad plate, assisted by Mrs. R. M. Garrett.

Report Radio Interference

Radio fans in that section of the city from Evans street eastward toward the city limits are reporting considerable interference with radio reception. Some think the trouble is caused by a leaking transformer or a broken insulator on one of the heavy duty electric transmission lines. The "sawmill buzzing" cuts in intermittently on reception at all hours of the day or night, it was reported.

Third Street School P. T. A.

On Wednesday afternoon, February 13th, the Third Street School P. T. A. met at the school with the president, Mrs. J. A. Watson presiding.

Miss Helen Foley gave the devotional which was followed by the reading of the minutes.

Miss Janie Tyler's third grade won the attendance prize again, the fifth time during this school year.

Mrs. Hinton Best, Mrs. Mary Moore and Mrs. R. B. Lee were named as the nominating committee.

Miss Elizabeth Norman, representing the Project committee, recommended that the musical library of the school be built up with recordings, musical appreciation literature and song books. She also suggested that playground equipment such as balls and bats be bought. This recommendation was adopted by the association.

Miss Romie Sheffield, assistant director of the Recreation Commission of North Carolina, was the speaker. Miss Sheffield gave a very practical and informative speech on recreation in North Carolina. She recommended that in order to have a practical program of recreation in a community it should first be carefully planned. The program should have authoritative responsibility and trained leadership. This plan should include recreation for persons from the pre-school age to the oldest adult. It should be a broad program including all individual groups. This plan should be integrated with the other social programs and should be given a dignified place. In order to plan a recreation program she stated that it was necessary to know the community. Miss Sheffield stated that thirty North Carolina towns have already planned to make their living war memorials in the form of recreation centers.

The following guests were recognized: Mrs. Amos Evans, president of West Greenville P. T. A., Mrs. C. C. Hilton of the City Recreation committee and Mr. M. K. Blount, chairman of the City Planning committee. Mr. Blount spoke briefly to the members.

The nursery was conducted by pupils from Miss Doris Duval's sixth grade. The nursery helpers were: Mary Ann Smith, Helen Terry Flanagan, Jimmy Spears, Edwin McMullan, Frances Estelle Green, Roy Johnson, Wiley Gardner, Shirley Ann Saeed and Jean Phelps. These children brought toys for the small children. It is hoped that mothers with small children will bring them to the nursery when the P. T. A. meets.

After the meeting Valentine refreshments were served in the hut, by the hostess committee. The building was decorated for the occasion and tea, sandwiches, cookies and candy carrying out the Valentine motif were enjoyed by the members and visitors.

Miss Nulton called attention to certain symbols or signs by which a teacher could detect home training. She spoke of children's need of love but also brought out that they needed a love without too much of a sense of possession, so that they can relax and be allowed to grow.

Forty Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR February 15, 1906

No Hanging

As today was the date set by the court, quite a number of people came to town expecting to see the hanging, overlooking the fact that an appeal had been taken to Supreme court. Some held the idea that the report of the appeal was for the purpose of keeping a crowd from coming, and thought the hanging would take place anyway.

Disciples' program around the world

On Thursday evening at 6:30 the church will sit down to the annual dinner which will be complimentary this year to all those who take the trouble to secure a ticket. About 150 can be seated in our dining hall so that the first 150 to come will be the ones who can be served.

The Woman's Council will meet on Monday of this week at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. Milo H. Smith, assisting hostesses being Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. Vernon Rawls, and Mrs. A. W. Harris. The message of the afternoon will be presented by the Rev. Richard E. Hardaway of the Memorial Baptist Church under the sponsorship of Mrs. L. B. Fleming. All the women of the church are urged to attend and participate in the study of Africa.

On Sunday morning the pastor, Dr. H. G. Haney, will preach the fourth in a "Teach Me" series of messages when he speaks on the subject "Teach Me to Serve." One other sermon in this series will be "Teach Me to Love" on Sunday morning, February 24. Mrs. J. Knott Proctor will sing Malotte's Twenty Third Psalm.

Presbyterian Churches

Rev. Hayes Clark will preach Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Church of the Holy Spirit. The service will be held in the Home Economics room of the school. Sunday school will begin at 10 o'clock with Mr. Marvin Smith as Superintendent.

Tour manager, Hyman McGowan, was delighted with the large crowd that came to the Holywood Presbyterian Church for Sunday school last Sunday. It was a rainy day and very disagreeable but 103 were present. That was the second Sunday of the contest between the classes for increase in attendance. The Adult Bible class with Mrs. Hayes Clark as teacher had the largest number present with 40. There were 21 men and 19 ladies in the class. Much interest is being shown and the Cruise conductor is following the enthusiastic leadership of the tour manager. The entire Sunday school is working to have 125 present this Sunday.

Preaching services will be held at the Belvoir Presbyterian Sunday school on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. This service will be held in the seventh grade building of the Belvoir High School. Plans are moving ahead for the construction of a nice brick church near the school house. Mr. Richard Parker is chairman of the building committee, Mr. Elmo Dupree is treasurer, and Mr. Clayton Everette is secretary. Mr. Nat Harrison will teach the adult class and the Rev. Hayes Clark will preach.

Large crowds have been attending the services every Sunday evening at the Meadowbrook Presbyterian Church at 7:30. This Sunday night the pastor, the Rev. Hayes Clark, has as his subject, "Christ and Your Mind." The Sunday school meets at 10 a. m. with L. C. Powell, Jr. as superintendent and Dr. Carl Adams as teacher of the adult Bible class. You will find an interesting class for all ages. Mr. Cliff Rhodus has an excellent class for young married couples and older young people. Mrs. P. O. Allen has a splendid class of intermediates. Mrs. H. M. Holbert is the teacher of the junior class. Other teachers for the smaller children include Mrs. E. A. Fuller, Mrs. Paul Crawford, Mrs. L. C. Powell, Pr., and Mrs. Cliff Rhodus.

Christian Church Choir Meeting

The choir of the Eighth Street Christian Church will meet on Saturday after noon at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. J. Knott Proctor.

Study Homemaking

The Home Management House of the home economics department at East Carolina Teachers College has begun a new term of work, and students have moved there to practice the art of home making for the next six weeks. Sarah Balaize of Fremont, Mary Louise Cobb of Ayden, Jewel Slater Lunn of Greenville, Margaret Nunn of Kingston, and Elizabeth and Frances Temple of Sanford.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Adelaide Boxton, chairman of the home economics department, students living in the Home Management House plan and prepare meals, entertain guests, keep accounts of expenditures, and attend to the many other details involved in running a home.

Speaks to Teachers

The Pitt County Council of English Teachers at a meeting on Thursday evening, February 14, heard Miss Louise Greer of the English Department of East Carolina Teachers College discuss "The Browning Clubs and Societies in America."

Miss Greer, a new comer on the faculty here, traced the rise of enthusiasm in this country for Browning and his works; the scholars, such as Hiram Corson, who led the Brownings; and the extremes to which the interest in the Victorian poet went.

The meeting, over which Dr. Meredith N. Posey of the college faculty presided, was held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Bowen of the Greenville High School faculty. Miss Helen Clark of Winterville represented county teachers living outside of Greenville.

Miss Moyer Honored

On Wednesday morning, February 13, from 10 a. m. to 12 noon, Mrs. W. G. Norman and Mrs. Pat Pale honored their sister, Miss Charlene Moyer, bride elect of the week at a cocoa-cola party at the home of Mrs. Norman.

Guests were greeted by the hostesses and honor guest and were then invited into the dining room where they were served a delightful assortment of sandwiches, nuts pickles, fudge and iced cocoa-colas. White carnations and fern were used in a lovely centerpiece flanked by white candles.

Miss Moyer was presented a corsage of white carnations and a gift of silver.

About 40 guests called during the morning.

He admitted, while still under direct examination, that he signed thousands of checks in blank and sent them to the branch offices for use as security for deposits. The checks bearing his signature would be filled out and given to the depositor in the amount of the deposits.

Although State's witnesses have testified that Davenport himself always told depositors the checks were good at the bank any time the depositor wanted to get his money back, Davenport denied that he ever told any depositor to take the check to a bank for cashing. Instead, he said, he always told the depositors to hold the check or to bring it back to the office for cashing. The check thus was actually a promissory note and not a worthless check, he contended.

Davenport yesterday "exonerated" his attorney, Thompson, from the charges of previous witnesses that Thompson dictated the texts of advertisements which were paid for and used in newspapers and which declared him solvent.

He also denied state charges that

Thompson had suggested that the books in the various offices be altered, and that Thompson had any interest in the business.

All the available records of the "Big Apple" and its branch offices were brought into court this morning by Judge T. Flynne of Mount Olive, trustee in bankruptcy for the Davenport firm. Judge Frizzelle had ordered the records assembled here yesterday on request of the defense. They will be introduced as documentary evidence.

Six additional character witnesses for Davenport were placed on the stand by the defense today. All from New Bern, they included W. B. Flanner, deputy clerk of court in Craven; C. T. Hellinger, New Bern city clerk; and Miss Katie B. Gaskins, W. B. Pugh, J. C. Boggs and Henry Benton.

The Fourth Mrs. Baker

By Emeline Adams

Chapter 29
 Wednesday 1:32 a. m. to 2:35 a. m.)
 But Jerry was staring at incredulously as the others at this revelation of another murder in their mystery. It was Steinway whose eyes were narrowed to a slit and was the one of them all who was frightened.

Her words, "They pounded her with questions at she didn't tell them any more. 'I don't see that gets us any farther,' objected Frank at last, except the piece Robey had mustered what the search has been on for, she should have told us that before, Julie."

Jerry dropped a cigarette that was burning his fingers into his ale drink. "If the police learn that they'll really play into us."

"That's what I thought and that's why I kept still so long, Frank," she said by implication.

Apparently they interpreted her meaning she had not told the truth.

"Now, Jerry, I think you should plain that it was Hank who rescued me for Robey, and about the fourth Mrs. Baker."

His glance swept over her and flowed around the room. He made incidents important but they were not surprised any more about her doing things for Robey—it is the fourth Mrs. Baker that intrigued them.

"She didn't show up," Virginia said. "Wait—maybe she did. Maybe it is one. That would make everything fit perfectly and none of us needs to be the guilty person. No one even knows her name except it

Greenies Playing New Bern Tonight

By DAVE CLARK
 The Green Phantoms travel to New Bern tonight for their second cage contest in less than a week with the Bears. The Phantom Juniors will play a preliminary contest with the New Bern Juniors at 7:00 o'clock.

The Phantoms shouldn't have too much trouble winning their tenth conference title in as many starts easily 47-19 here Tuesday night. However, the Bears will be on their own court tonight and may give the powerful Greenies a better fight than they did then.

Coach Farley held a fairly long workout yesterday in preparation for tonight's game and for the games next week. The game that was planned with Newport News for this week was postponed and Coach Farley hopes to play it next week.

Starters for tonight will probably be: Billy Harrington and Mac Bateman at guards, Jimmy Putrell and Ed Williams at forwards, and J. T. Williams at center.

Eppes Teams Take Pair From Wilson

By HENRY WOOTEN
 Eppes High, preparing for their tough contest Monday night, conquered the Darden High of Wilson in two very inspiring games. Eppes girls won the first game by the score of 34-5. E. Cherry and M. Forbes were high scorers for the winners making 15 and 12 points respectively. M. Harris playing her best game of the season scored 7 points for the winners. Coach Grimes' guards playing cool and calm all night held the Darden girls to a small margin of 5 points. Julia Calhoun, Molly Harris, and Allagan Grimes are the guards for Eppes High.

In the second game of this contest Eppes boys won by the score of 16-12. Coach Murrill's boys led at half-time, 15-6. "Hap" Davis wrinkled the nets for 17 points and J. B. Taft, Jr., followed up with 13 points. Chic Forbes played his usual good game at forward position, hitting for 6 points.

Bobo Wilks and Slim Parrish never let their opponents receive a ball off of the backboard, it was all theirs during the 60 minutes of play.

The most important basketball game of the season will be played in the Booker T. Center Monday night when the Eppes teams will clash with Rocky Mount fighting Boobers. Eppes will travel there seeking revenge from an early season loss.

two clubs will stack up in the standings when the opening whistle blows for the Saturday night clash at Durham.

Both teams now boast a conference record for the season of 12 wins against a single loss. The Tar Heels' one conference loss, of course, was to the Dukes—a fact which will give them extra incentive for victory tomorrow night.

The Duke-Clemson tilt last night was one of two conference games played in the state. In the other, Wake Forest thumped N. C. State, 47-27, to gain revenge for a defeat at the hands of the Red Terrors last week.

In the North State Conference, Lenoir-Rhyne lost their 11th consecutive league game to Atlantic Christian, 45-41. The margin of loss, however, was the least of any game yet played by the Hickory quintet, which has a season record in all games of one victory and 12 defeats.

Cherry Point's Marines invaded Camp Butler in a service game, and licked the soldiers 67-49.

Strength FOR THE DAY

WITHOUT RELIGION, CHAOS

A theologian from Czechoslovakia who several years ago came to America to teach, returned recently to his native land and remained for several months. He reports that one of the things which amazed him most was the conviction, even on the part of Communists, that the thing most needed for the rehabilitation of Europe is sound religion.

A high government official, representative of the Communist party, rebuked this theologian for returning to America again and said, "How can you do this? Don't you realize how much you and other ministers of religion are needed in this land?" The man who said this was officially an atheist.

Another Communist was speaking in terms of great pessimism to this theologian and saying that most of the plans for rehabilitation would fail because they were characterized by opportunism. Then he made this significant statement about the schemes for European reconstruction: "Without metaphysics," he said, "they won't work." By that he meant that any system of administration unsupported by a social philosophy was destined to failure.

To the amazement of the theologian, the Communist then urged him to translate into the Czechoslovakian language the theological works of Soren Kierkegaard, the Danish theologian whose works have had such a profoundly spiritual effect on Christendom in recent years.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For Jack Stinnett)

Washington. These are trying times for octopus lovers. Fifteen-year-old Ted Peters of Thomas, W. Va., caught one octopus in Blackwater River recently, and octopus lovers have been in a tizzy ever since.

An octopus is supposed to hate fresh water. Yet here this little covey was. And one of them, which measured 40 inches from tentacle tip to tentacle tip, certainly was old enough to know better.

"My, my, the questions we've had to answer!" sighed one octopus lover.

You didn't think such creatures as octopus lovers existed? Fiddlesticks!! You can find anything in Washington. The Fish and Wildlife Service has a whole battery of them, and Paul Bartsch of the U. S. Natural History Museum literally knows an octopus inside out.

Bartsch says he can't explain how the octopus ever got into Blackwater River, but he suspects they got there the same way the squid got into Lake Cayuga, in New York.

You remember the Lake Cayuga squid, of course.

The excitement was intense when salt water squid were found there—until the truth crept out that a fisherman had carried them in. Seems he had the notion that the fish would dearly love squid bait. They didn't; so he dumped into the lake the whole barrel full he had brought along with him.

But just in case the octopus actually has decided to move inland, Bartsch passes on a few octopus facts which may come in handy.

The oyster and the clam are among the octopus' kindred, and so are the fresh water mussels, from which papa's shirt buttons may have been made.

Although no oyster ever won a Rhodes scholarship, the octopus is a regular quiz kid.

"A very brainy fellow," says Bartsch.

The chief use of the octopus in this country is to decorate horror pictures, but in many pieces he's considered a tasty tidbit. There's a historical basis for this fondness for octopus. The Greeks and the Romans placed it right at the top of the list.

And Bartsch recalls the sad story of Philoxenus, who lived in ancient Syracuse. The fellow was hunching by himself one day and ordered a whole octopus served up. He gob-

However, our greatest shortage is in machinery and machine tools. The Germans took away everything we had, even the machinery in our two large railway repair shops. So we are unable either to get industry under way or to repair our crippled transportation until we can import machines and tools.

"We want to get these necessities from America, and the only reason we haven't purchased them already is because for the time being we have no dollars available. Actually we have in the United States funds amounting to several hundred million dollars, but these were impounded pending investigation to make sure that no enemy money was involved. With the release of these assets we shall be able to take up again the purchase of at least part of our most urgently needed machinery."

Holland is lacking all these necessities, but among the things which she does have and cherish is freedom of the press. I told the prime minister that Mrs. Mack and I are exponents of complete freedom of exchange of news among nations as an essential to world peace. He agreed vigorously.

"There in Holland we have absolute freedom," he said. "The government has no control over the press and never interferes in any way."

Philoxenus surveyed the situation calmly. So be it. Might as well have dinner under those conditions.

He ordered the head and, in the words of Bartsch, resigned himself to his fate, "saying that he left nothing on the earth which seemed to him worthy of regret."

Another Communist was speaking in terms of great pessimism to this theologian and saying that most of the plans for rehabilitation would fail because they were characterized by opportunism. Then he made this significant statement about the schemes for European reconstruction: "Without metaphysics," he said, "they won't work."

By that he meant that any system of administration unsupported by a social philosophy was destined to failure.

To the amazement of the theologian, the Communist then urged him to translate into the Czechoslovakian language the theological works of Soren Kierkegaard, the Danish theologian whose works have had such a profoundly spiritual effect on Christendom in recent years.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For Jack Stinnett)

Washington. These are trying times for octopus lovers. Fifteen-year-old Ted Peters of Thomas, W. Va., caught one octopus in Blackwater River recently, and octopus lovers have been in a tizzy ever since.

An octopus is supposed to hate fresh water. Yet here this little covey was. And one of them, which measured 40 inches from tentacle tip to tentacle tip, certainly was old enough to know better.

"My, my, the questions we've had to answer!" sighed one octopus lover.

You didn't think such creatures as octopus lovers existed? Fiddlesticks!! You can find anything in Washington. The Fish and Wildlife Service has a whole battery of them, and Paul Bartsch of the U. S. Natural History Museum literally knows an octopus inside out.

Bartsch says he can't explain how the octopus ever got into Blackwater River, but he suspects they got there the same way the squid got into Lake Cayuga, in New York.

You remember the Lake Cayuga squid, of course.

The excitement was intense when salt water squid were found there—until the truth crept out that a fisherman had carried them in. Seems he had the notion that the fish would dearly love squid bait. They didn't; so he dumped into the lake the whole barrel full he had brought along with him.

But just in case the octopus actually has decided to move inland, Bartsch passes on a few octopus facts which may come in handy.

The oyster and the clam are among the octopus' kindred, and so are the fresh water mussels, from which papa's shirt buttons may have been made.

Although no oyster ever won a Rhodes scholarship, the octopus is a regular quiz kid.

"A very brainy fellow," says Bartsch.

The chief use of the octopus in this country is to decorate horror pictures, but in many pieces he's considered a tasty tidbit. There's a historical basis for this fondness for octopus. The Greeks and the Romans placed it right at the top of the list.

And Bartsch recalls the sad story of Philoxenus, who lived in ancient Syracuse. The fellow was hunching by himself one day and ordered a whole octopus served up. He gob-

Grain Market

Chicago, Feb. 15—(AP)—Brokers went about their grain futures trading today as though they had not heard of the new government wage-price policy. Despite broad advances in securities, the unrestricted May rye which usually jumps around to the edge of minor influences, shifted only moderately most of the time although fluctuations were rapid. Wheat, corn and barley closed unchanged at ceilings of $1.20 1/2, $1.30 1/2, $1.18 1/2 and $1.24, oats unchanged to 1/4 cent higher than the previous finish, May 81-cent ceiling, rye unchanged to 2 1/2 up, May $2.16 1/2-1/4.

New York Cotton

New York, Feb. 15—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 15 to 40 cents a bale higher. Noon prices were 45 to 75 cents a bale higher. March 26.09, May 26.14, July 26.17. Futures soared more than $2 a bale in last-minute dealings today to the highest levels in 22 years on persistent trade and outside buying which met a scarcity of offerings. N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 15—(AP)—Hopes for quick strike settlements in the wake of the administration's new wage-price formula today spurred stock market leaders on a rise of 1 to around 7 points, a number reaching highs since 1931. While some issues slipped near the close, many favorites held at the day's best. Transfers ran to approximately 1,700,000 shares.

A message to parents about radio programs

One of radio's major problems has been to present programs that children themselves will like . . . and at the same time keep within the bounds of wholesome entertainment. The only thing that's easier than for a youngster to say, "That's corny" is for a parent to say, "That's trash!" Before "House of Mystery" was born in January of 1945, its creators enlisted Dr. Robert L. Thorndike of the Department of Educational Psychology, Teachers College, Columbia University, to study entertainment preferences of boys and girls. More than 3,000 youngsters were questioned on their preference in radio programs. Animal stories, magic and fantasy. Love and romance. Success stories. Science and occupations. Every category was explored. In spite of all that teachers wish children would prefer—they named "mystery and detective" as their favorite radio entertainment.

STRIKES

We have won the war over our enemies, but we do not have the peace we thought we would have. The world is in a turmoil. We have one strike after another. Everything is unsettled. Reconversion has been a failure. No one knows what to do. What is the cause of all this trouble in a world of so called peace? We have left the Faith of our Fathers. We have forgotten God. Every nation that has forgotten God in the past has fallen. We too will do the same if we do not turn back to God. So let us as a nation or as individuals turn back to Him. Love, serve and obey Him, and we will get along much better.

We hope to let you know something definite about the Kaiser and Frazer cars soon. We also hope to get some Diamond T. Trucks soon. Watch the news for important happenings.

'QUAKE ROCKS NORTH WEST PACIFIC COAST

Pacific Northwest Areas Report 20 Minutes Of Earth Tremors

Seattle, Feb. 15 (AP)—A two-story wall and a 50,000 gallon water tank toppled and frightened people rushed from buildings early last night when an earthquake rocked a 120,000 square mile area of the Pacific Northwest.

Only a few minor injuries were reported—including a knee injury suffered by Harry B. Greenlee, a locomotive fireman flipped from the cab of his engine at the Northern Pacific roundhouse.

Geology Prof. G. E. Goodstreet of the University of Washington said the seismograph needle there jumped from its drum at 7:18 1-2 p. m. Pacific Standard Time, and that the quake continued to record for 20 minutes. It could be felt, however, for only about a minute in downtown Seattle.

He termed it the worst quake ever recorded here. Describing it as being of "moderate intensity, and said he believed it centered near Olympia, state capital city.

People ran in fright from the Hotel Olympian there when a cornice 75 feet long dropped from the six-story high roof to the roof of the first floor. Cracks appeared in at least one building of the state group, and in buildings here and in Bremerton, across Puget Sound.

The water tank was atop the 14-story Fisher Flouring Mills plant. It cracked the roof when it fell and water cascaded down stair wells.

soaking machinery and some flour and stored grain. Company officials were assessing the damage today. One wall of the Frye & Co. packing plant, two stories high and 170 feet long, crumpled down and crushed an unoccupied shop.

GULFORD TO PLAY PIRATES

ECTC Cagers Meet Quakers In Return Match This Evening

The East Carolina Teachers will play host to the Guilford Quakers this evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Wright Building in the first of their four final home games. Guilford comes for a return match after having been defeated by the Pirates in their first meet. The teams were closely matched in that encounter but with a balance of power going to East Carolina. The game tonight should prove to be one of the season's top basket-ball thrillers.

Under the expert guidance of Coach Earl Smith, ECTC alumnus now studying at the college for his master's degree, the Pirates have had a successful season thus far, having scored 12 wins against 8 losses. They have met a variety of stiff competition, including interstate colleges and a number of service teams. During the season they have collected an average score of 49.2 per game against their opponents' 46.6.

Outstanding honors go to the Parker twins—James and Jesse, C. B. Move, Blaine Move, Jones, and Cox, the men who have sparked the ECTC line-up, and also to the reserves who have played good basket-ball when called upon. These men will be setting the pace as the season nears its end.

East Carolina's Junior Varsity will meet the La Grange All-Stars in a preliminary game this evening, starting time, 7:00 p. m.

ARMY LOWERS REQUIREMENTS

Physical Standards For Draftees Lowered To Absolute Minimum

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Army lowered its physical standards for draftees to "the absolute minimum" today and called on Selective Service to comb over previously rejected men to fill its lagging quotas.

By this drastic means the War Department said it was hoped to obtain 250,000 men through the draft during the first five months of this year as replacements for the Army's thinning ranks.

Selective Service officials said they believed the demand could be met from a pool of men who had been rated as qualified for limited service but previously turned down by the Army. These men are among approximately 1,250,000 between 18 and 25, most of whom had been classified 4-F for physical or mental reasons.

The unexpected lowering of standards was interpreted by some congressmen as evidence that the Army feared the present draft law would not be extended and hence wanted to secure as many men under it as possible before it expires May 15.

President Truman has called for continuation of the draft, but thus far Congress has made no move to extend it.

Men with "mental deficiencies, mild in degree," and those with certain types of hernia and those who stammer or stutter will be taken under the lowered standards, which the War Department termed "the absolute minimum requirements for any type of military service."

The result, it was conceded, may be "a considerable reduction in overall efficiency and probably an eventual increase in the percentage of discharges for physical disability."

Ground Hog Failed As Weather Prophet

A precipitate drop in temperature last night and strong northwest winds today reminded that winter is still here and that any kinds of weather can come from now until spring begins—March 22. Willow trees are turning green, pansies are blooming—a little ahead of time and dandelions are in full bloom on the Episcopal church lawn.

Methodists To Have Radio Hour Sunday

The first south-wide radio broadcast of "The Methodist Hour" will be heard from Maryland to Texas, from Florida to the Middle West, Sunday morning, February 17, as Bishop Clare Farrell, president of the college of bishops of the southeastern jurisdiction of the Methodist Church, speaks over an independent network of 36 stations. This program originates from WSB in Atlanta and is carried by radio stations in 15 southern and western states.

Bishop Purcell will speak on "The Church That Is To Be." He is a resident bishop of the Charlotte area of the southeastern jurisdiction, a member of the General Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains, and a member of the North Carolina Council of Churches. The "Methodist Hour" will be heard over WPTF, Raleigh, and other stations Sunday morning at 8:30.

RECRUITING PROBLEMS

Santa Barbara, Calif., Feb. 15 (AP)—Marine Sgt. Leonard Link was in a sour mood as he reported for work at the recruiting station. His laundry had been stolen from his room.

Looking over the day's first applicant for enlistment, the sergeant was struck by something familiar—the youth's clean shirt.

The wearer confessed. He had wanted, he said, to have clean clothing when he enlisted.

Link relented and signed him up.

The first European cannon fired stone balls

The ground hog failed again as a weather prognosticator when he came from his winter hibernation on February 2, saw his shadow in the noonday sun and went back to complete his long winter sleep, in anticipation of 40 days of bad weather.

During the first 14 days of this month there were four rainy days, 10 days were clear, with the mercury hovering around a comfortable mark. Heavy rains upstate sent rivers and creeks above flood levels, but no damage from high water has been reported in the eastern part of the state.

"There is more water in the ground now from frequent rains during the past five or six months than at any time in years."

WANT ADS PAY

ABLE TO WORK HIS FARM NOW HE THANKS RETONGA

Pains in Arms And Hands And Sluggish Elimination Were Soon Relieved, States Mr. Stevens. Sleeps Fine And Can Eat Plenty.

MR. AND MRS. W. E. STEVENS

"I only wish I had known about Retonga sooner, for it relieved me of a lot of suffering that defied everything else I tried," declares Mr. W. E. Stevens, well-known farmer of Route 4, Bishopville, S. C.

"I had reached the point where I could not do a full day's work," continued Mr. Stevens. "My hands and arms became so stiff and painful that many times I was unable to sleep. I was a slave to laxatives, and often had to take big, harsh doses to get any results. I felt run down almost to the point of exhaustion. I had no appetite and nothing I tried seemed to help me. I was fearful that I would become an invalid."

"Retonga did so much for my wife that I tried it; and it would be hard to place a value on the relief Retonga gave me. Those pains in my arms and hands are entirely relieved, and so is that worrisome constipation. I sleep soundly every night, my appetite is good, and in three weeks after I started on Retonga I was back in the field working hard every day. Retonga is the greatest medicine I ever saw."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Bissette's Drug Store.—Adv.
