Ford To Explain OPA Price Fight

House Banking Committee Invites Henry Ford To Present His Side Of Argument In Pricing Of New Automobiles; Bowles Says Ford Wanted 55% Increase In Prices

Washington, Feb. 19—(AP)—The House Banking Committee today invited Henry Ford II to appear personally for a presentation of his side of an argument with the OPA on the pricing of new automobiles.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) announced Ford would be called, after Representative Crawford (R-Mich) vigorously objected to an attack he said OPA had made upon young Ford, now directing head of the Ford Motor Company.

Rep. Buffett (R-Neb) said that the OPA had attempted to browbeat Mr. Ford in public statements and challenged its authority to do so.

Chester Bowles, OPA chief and newly appointed economic stabilizer shot back that he knew nothing in the law to prevent OPA from correcting false or misleading statements.

Bowles, witness before the committee at the time on legislation to prolong OPA's life, had just testified that the Ford company last summer requested a 55 per cent increase for new cars over the pre-war price of Ford automobiles.

"This was an outrageous increase to ask, much less to allow," Bowles said. "I have no idea what Ford would ask if there was no price control."

Representative Patman (D-Tex) asked Bowles for a statement on young Ford's reported accusation that OPA was holding up production of automobiles by its price

U. S. FLAG IS TORN DOWN & SET AFLAME

Indian Demonstrators Tear Down American Flag And Burn It; Consul Will Protest

Bombay, Feb. 19—(AP)—A mob of Indians, including a number wearing the uniform of the Royal Indian Navy, today tore the United States flag from the U. S. Information Service office here and burned the flag in the street.

Walter D. Shackleton, in charge of the office, said he had informed the American consulate and Ralph Block, principal Public Affairs officer of the U.S.I.S. at New Delhi, and that he was awaiting instructions concerning filing an official protest to the Indian and British governments.

Shackleton said that about 300 demonstrators who were marching in the street suddenly swarmed up to the U.S.I.S. office where the United States flag flew from a pole just over the door of the agency's library.

"One man climbed onto the shoulders of another man and tore down the flag," he said.

"They ran around the corner with the flag and when they failed in their efforts to set it afire with matches they obtained a newspaper lit the paper and used this as a torch to burn the flag," Shackleton said.

An unidentified American agent, who had a jeep parked near the U.S.I.S. headquarters, was hit on the shoulder with a shovel and clubs in the hands of some members of the mob, but he leaped into the vehicle and escaped, apparently without serious injury.

The mob marched down Hornby Road, one of Bombay's busiest thoroughfares, waving Congress party flags and shouting slogans. Shackleton said, but they made no effort to enter the building.

The cause of the demonstration was not clear, but some observers expressed belief it might have started as a manifestation of sympathy with a sitdown strike staged yesterday by 1,000 Royal Indian Navy seamen in a demand for better rations and a revision of pay allowances.

A Reuters dispatch from Bombay said Mohandas Gandhi had told followers at a prayer meeting yesterday that "India has been yesterday and that the government should 'exercise greater care' in controlling the conduct of American and British troops."

Widespread Disorder In Kingston, Jamaica

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 19—(AP)—Widespread strikes and disorders led Sir John Huggins, governor of Jamaica, to proclaim a state of emergency here today.

Huggins said the critical labor situation threatened to interfere with the supply and distribution of food and with the means of transportation. He issued orders forbidding the possession of firearms in public places by any persons except police officers or those with special permits, and banning all public meetings and processions in the metropolitan area.

NOMINATION OF PAULEY STILL FOUGHT

Sen. Tobey Promises New Evidence In Fight To Block Pauley's Appointment

Washington, Feb. 19—(AP)—Elliott W. Pauley said today that neither Postmaster General Hannegan nor any other government official shares in his extensive oil and other financial holdings.

President Truman's nominee for undersecretary of the navy told the Senate Naval Committee, under questioning by Senator Tobey (R-N.H.), that he once discussed a possible investment by Hannegan in a California oil venture but it never materialized.

Tobey's questioning along this line caused Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) to halt Pauley's answers until Tobey explained, under Walsh's prompting, that he expected to show that officials financially interested.

"I know that behind the front of pride and respectability which the white collar men and women show the world, there is often a story of constant struggle to maintain standards of health and decency."

"I know that what you give to society has a value far above the economic facts of your existence."

Wallace declared that 2,000,000 of America's 12,000,000 white collar workers received salaries averaging less than 65 cents an hour, and continued: "This is not good economic democracy nor good business. No nation is secure while any group within it carries harsh or disproportionate burdens."

To reverse the trend of constant declining living standards for our white collar Americans," Wallace said, the government must hold the line against rising prices and inflation and insure fair standards of payment.

Davenport Trial Now In Recess

A two-day recess was under way today in the trial of Roderick Davenport on charges of conspiracy to defraud and fraud by false pretense in connection with the operation of a small loans business in Eastern Carolina in 1944.

Judge J. Paul Frizzelle ordered the recess yesterday to give the defense time to examine records impounded as documentary evidence.

Solicitor Dave M. Clark objected, saying the defense had more than two years in which to examine the records kept in the "Big Apple" branch office. But the judge said he was convinced the recess would result in speedier movement of proceedings, now in their third week.

The State tried to show on cross-examination yesterday that Davenport's testimony at a bankruptcy hearing in New Bern in May, 1945, was contradictory in several instances to that given under questioning here.

The trial will be resumed Thursday morning.

Red Agents Try To Buy Uranium

Soviet Spies Said To Have Attempted To Buy $500,000 Worth Of Black Market Uranium From Canadian Mines

Ottawa, Can., Feb. 19—(AP)—The government's investigation into a leakage of highly secret information was linked today to its probe of Eldorado Gold Mines, Ltd., Canada's source of uranium, by a Montreal report that Russian agents had tried to buy $500,000 worth of "black market" uranium.

The Montreal Gazette published a report stating that "a Russian plot, the buying of more than $500,000 worth of virtually 'black market' uranium in Canada to bring about the successful culmination of its atomic bomb espionage conspiracy in Ottawa and other parts of the dominion, has been uncovered."

Toronto was the locale of the Russian scheme to obtain the necessary activating force to complete the circle begun by agents who conspired, allegedly with Canadian civil service employees, to obtain secret and confidential information on atomic energy," the paper said.

The Gazette story indicated that those allegedly buying the uranium tried to get it out of Canada. The paper recalled government expropriation of the El Dorado mine some time ago and the subsequent announcement of an official inquiry, now being conducted by J. Grant Glesco, Toronto accountant.

The Canadian press said a report was published last October that the inquiry was ordered after the government learned unauthorized deliveries occurred before the mine was expropriated, but reconstruction Minister C. D. Howe said he knew of no such deliveries.

Glesco's activities, however, are as veiled in secrecy as the Royal Commission's inquiry into the leakage of information, although it is known that 22 employees or former employees of the government were arrested Friday in connection with the information leak.

One of the 22, it was learned last night, held a rank "very close" to deputy minister, highest rank attainable by a civil servant in the dominion. None of the suspects, however, held that rank.

The Canadian press said information which touched off the inquiry was furnished the government by Ivor Gosenko, former chief telegrapher at the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, and that he and his wife were in protective custody of the government.

The full text of Prime Minister Mackenzie King's official statement regarding the leakage of information was broadcast without comment by the Moscow radio last night.

Wallace Says Business Can Make Adjustments

Secretary Of Commerce Says Business Can Raise Pay Of White Collar Workers Without Cutting Into Profits

Cleveland, Feb. 19—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace declared today that business, in many instances, can afford to make adjustments in payment and use of white collar workers without raising prices or cutting into profits.

In a speech prepared for delivery before some 400 delegates attending the sixth constitutional convention of the United Office and Professional Workers of America (CIO), the former vice president of the U. S. said:

"I know that behind the front of pride and respectability which the white collar men and women show the world, there is often a story of constant struggle to maintain standards of health and decency."

"I know that what you give to society has a value far above the economic facts of your existence."

Emperor Breaks Tradition In Walking Among His People

By DOANE KENNESSY Tokyo, Feb. 19—(AP)—The shivering, shabby people of Japan bowed to humble silence as Emperor Hirohito walked among them today to view the rusty rubble of his shattered empire.

As never before in history, the man who recently acknowledged he isn't divine stepped down from his shiny, black Mercedes Benz to pause beside working men at their benches for a few brief words.

Unarmed except for American military policemen in two jeeps, Hirohito motored in a five-car convoy through miles of industrial and residential areas burned by American fire raids last spring. His own scant palace motorcycle escort was unarmed.

The emperor bumped along rough, muddy roads that fell into disrepair during the costly years of war. He passed the gaunt crumbling skeletons of once-teeming factories. He saw mile after mile of crude rusty tin huts in which his subjects seek to ward off the harsh cold of winter.

In all those miles of grim reminder of Japan's futile war, Hirohito found nothing but a downcast people and a wrecked industry. He saw only unpaired, chill backs as a pitiful haven for war sufferers. (Continued on Page Six)

War Of Atomic Age Is Invisioned By Severson

Washington, Feb. 19—(AP)—The war of the atomic age was envisioned today by Maj. Alexander P. D. Severson as exploding with an air-borne strike across the North Pole from the industrial heart of one nation against the industrial heart of another.

Aviation authority and War Department consultant, Severson saw no end to wars, and therefore he said "Americans should be prepared technologically, scientifically and psychologically for the possibility of future conflict. Victory in the next war will be achieved through air superiority and guided missiles," he asserted.

At a press conference dealing with his report on an official tour of the Pacific for the War Department, Severson warned against too great a confidence alone in the atomic bomb.

"We will have to assume control of the air before we can use the atomic bomb," he said. "Before we can use guided missiles, we must have control of the air, possibly over nearly the whole globe."

To keep the enemy from using guided missiles against you or to make yours effective against him, you've got to knock out his electronic power, he said. That is where long range bombers, such as the new B-36 with its 10,000 miles radius are effective.

"The next war will be fought with out any intermediate bases," he declared. With jet propelled planes, "distances will not even figure in our fighting."

As long as a country's electronic devices are in operation, he said he doubted if guided missiles would get through in large numbers because of defensive electronics.

CAB CARAVAN STILL INTACT

Second "Coxey's Army's Passes Thru Predecessor's Home Town

By LARRY MARTHEY Massillon, O., Feb. 19—(AP)—A modern "Coxey's Army" of taxi cab drivers and their families headed for Washington today after an overnight stop in the home town of the man who headed a march from here to the Capital in 1844.

The approximately 350 Chicago veterans, loaded in 148 cabs, will seek relief in Washington from a city ordinance limiting the number of Chicago cabs to 3,000, most of them controlled by two companies.

Edgar Sirles, president of the American Cab Drivers Association for Discharged Veterans, said they would put their case before the Department of Justice on grounds that control by the two companies constituted a monopoly.

"We are going to camp in Washington until we get satisfaction," the 26-year-old veteran asserted last night as the group pulled into town.

Sirles said they hoped to meet in Washington "General" Jacob S. Coxey, 91, who attracted attention when he led a group to the Capital to bring grievances of the unemployed to Congress' attention. He attempted to speak from the steps of the Capitol, was arrested and charged with trespassing.

Coxey is in Washington again today attempting to gain attention for his proposals for non-interest bearing government bonds, and (Continued on page six)

Change In Draft Law Affects Few In N. C.

Raleigh, Feb. 19—(AP)—Reduced physical standards of the Army probably will not result more than a few hundred North Carolinians being made eligible for duty with the armed forces, according to state selective service spokesmen.

The state's 155 boards have been asked for estimates of the number of registrants hitherto classed as 4-F who will become eligible for service as a result of the lowered standards. Final such reports from local boards are not scheduled until Wednesday.

Philadelphia Long Distance Operators Reach Agreement With Company; Nationwide Sympathy Strike Threat Is Averted; Walkout For Higher Wages Still Possible

By ASSOCIATED PRESS A strike of long distance telephone operators in Philadelphia was settled today, removing the new threat of an immediate nationwide sympathy telephone tieup, but the possibility of a country-wide walkout for higher wages still was in the cards.

U. S. Conciliator Peter J. Manano said at Philadelphia that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and representatives of the Independent Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers, had reached an agreement on the issue of promotions and that 1,000 striking operators would return to work.

At Memphis, Tenn., where representatives of the National Federation of Telephone Workers are in conference, John A. Moran, president of the federation of long line operators, had announced earlier he would call a nation-wide sympathy work stoppage of long distance operators if the Philadelphia strike were not settled within 48 hours.

However, Joseph A. Belme, federation president, said a majority of the 50 independent unions in his group, favored a strike of its claimed 250,000 members in support of wage demands. This issue remained independent of the Philadelphia strike.

In the Philadelphia settlement, J. E. Dingman, supervisor of employee relations for the AT&T, said the company had agreed to investigate the promotion of three employees who the union said, were given better jobs without regard for seniority rights.

Dingman said that if the company found one of the persons promoted—a non-union member—is to be retained in her new position, the union will accept the finding.

A union spokesman at Memphis said the question of a nationwide strike for higher wages, which was cleared, would not even figure in their fighting.

As long as a country's electronic devices are in operation, he said he doubted if guided missiles would get through in large numbers because of defensive electronics.

The troubles in the telephone industry came as the country's most crippling strike—a four-week long walkout of 750,000 CIO steelworkers—was drawing to a close. More than half of the strikers had been (Continued on page five)

UNO Councils To Hold Trade Meet

London, Feb. 19—(AP)—The United Nations Economic and Social Council, concluding its initial London session, has agreed to summon an international trade conference for the latter part of 1946 and to hold its next meeting in New York on May 25.

Last of the United Nations bodies to adjourn, the council appointed committees last night to start work immediately on the trade conference, the refugee problem, control of narcotics, and relation with such specialized agencies as the World Federation of Trade Unions, the American Federation of Labor and the International Cooperative Alliance.

The trade conference would discuss "removal of trade barriers, establishment of an international trade organization and international plans for increased employment."

Proposals on freedom of information, the status of women and similar subjects were put over until the May session.

Traitors Hunted By Justice Dept.

Washington, Feb. 19—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark disclosed today that Justice Department investigators in Europe are on the trail of 22 Americans suspected of wartime treason.

Clark told a reporter he plans to send a special emissary to speed the collection of evidence against these suspects and six others already indicted for treason.

"It is determined to bring every single American who played the Axis game swiftly to trial. No effort will be spared because we must show the world that we are not sloppy sentimentalists where the crime of high treason is concerned."

"As soon as evidence has been obtained," he added, "each of the suspects will be returned to the District of Columbia to face a United States tribunal."

The WORLD TODAY An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP World Traveler

Essen, Germany, Feb. 19—(AP)—Just outside this bomb devastated city that was the home of the Krupp armament works—for generations the world's greatest producer of instruments of war—there is an extraordinary monument to rapacity and ruthlessness.

This is the baronial palace of the Krupps, known as the Villa Hugel. It is the last word in wanton lavishness and its estimated cost runs into millions of dollars.

What it may have cost in millions of money, however, doesn't interest this column so much as what it cost in millions of lives. For this house of Krupp was created from the profits of war piled up through the generations, and in this sense it was built on the bodies of men who died in battle that Krupps might prosper.

History pins the responsibility for much of German aggression during the past century on Krupp's and it will be history which will tell us how many conflicts this firm fed among Germany's neighbors.

It was Alfred Krupp, founder of the firm, who provided the sheen of war for Germany's onslaught against France in 1870. It was Krupp's which carried Kaiser Wilhelm on its back to near victory over the Allies in the first World War. And it was Krupp's that was one of the main contributors—perhaps the main one—to Hitler's all but successful attempt to conquer Europe.

You experience an uncanny sensation as you walk through the vast oaken halls of this symbol of the Krupp success. Mrs. Mack and I both experienced the same thought independently of each other—that the price of all this was paid in blood. The whole atmosphere was vampirish.

Villa Hugel stands on a hilltop overlooking the ruins of the big city of Essen, which grew up about the Krupp works that stretch through the heart of the town for seven miles—an amazing industrial project. The villa has some fine points, but on the whole it is heavy and oppressive.

The huge and lofty baronial hall is a record of the pride of the Krupps, for its oaken walls—one of its really beautiful features—are covered with many lifelike portraits of various members of the family. There is one large group, including Gustav Krupp Von Bohlen Und (Continued on Page Four)

TODAY IN CONGRESS A Review Of Your Government In Action

Washington, Feb. 19—(AP)—Spies were the concern of two congressional committees today.

The Senate Atomic Energy group heard from Dr. Ralph McDonald of the National Education Association that a network of foreign spies seeking American atomic bomb secrets is "inevitable." The best safeguard, he said, is more and better research.

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) urged the House committee on Un-American Activities to investigate the ring which worked in Canada. The committee, of which Rankin is a member, discussed the matter but decided to do nothing at present.

Other committees looked further into the business activities of two presidential appointees, Edwin W. Pauley and Commodore James K. Vardaman, Jr., and invited Henry Ford II to present his side of his argument with OPA. The House Banking Committee took this action after Chester Bowles criticized what he called an "outrageous" Ford demand for higher prices.

Pauley, nominated for undersecretary of the Navy, told the Senate Naval Committee about discussing an oil investment with Postmaster General Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, but said Hannegan never went into it. The committee got into a wrangle when Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) sought to

The NATION TODAY By James Marlow

(Editor's Note: This is the second of 12 stories explaining who has to do what about his income taxes.)

By JAMES MARLOW Washington, Feb. 19—(AP)—Generally, taxpayers are divided into two classes: Those who make under or over $5,000. Most make under $5,000.

Those who made less than $5,000 in 1945 won't have to figure their tax. They'll use form W-2, the withholding receipt, or the 1040 short form.

Those who made $5,000 or over will have to use the 1040 long form and do their own figuring.

There are just those three ways of making a return: Form W-2, the 1040 short form, or the 1040 long form.

Here's an explanation of the various forms and who can use them: Take form W-2 first: This is the receipt, about the size of a bank check, which a boss gives a worker to show the money earned in 1945 and the tax withheld from his wages or salary.

To use it: 1. Your gross income for the year—that is, total income, not just how much was left after paying expenses—must be under $5,000. 2. If you had income in addition to your wages, that income must not have been more than $100, and the total income must be under $5,000. 3. Your income must have been derived from wages, salary, dividends or interest. Note the kind of income well. It will be explained later in this series. Note this, too: If your deductions for 1945—such as medical expenses, charitable contributions, and so on—were more than 10 per cent of your income—don't use form W-2. You'll lose money. Use form 1040. Answer a few simple questions on the form W-2 receipt, send it to your internal revenue collector, and be sure you don't send any money with it. He'll check it. If you still owe him any tax, he'll notify you and then you pay him. If you've been taxed too much, he'll send you a refund. In checking your tax, he'll look it up in a special table showing just what your tax is if your income is under $5,000. (Actually, he'll use the table on the back of form 1040 to check your W-2 return. You can get one of those forms and check it yourself if you want to be sure you've been (Continued on Page Four)

Adams-Moye

Miss Charlene Moye and Mr. Arthur Adams, of Newton, Iowa were married in formal ceremony at five o'clock, on Saturday, February 16, in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, pastor of the church.

The church was decorated with cathedral candles and tall standards of white gladioli and snapdragons and palms. Family pews were marked with white satin ribbon and fern.

A program of pre-nuptial music was given by Mrs. G. B. W. Hadley at the organ and Mr. E. F. C. Metz, violinist. Miss Elizabeth Bridgers sang "Because" and as a duet Miss Bridgers and Miss Henrie Ruth Whichard sang, "I Love You Truly."

Traditional wedding marches were used. The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. M. J. Moye, wore a wedding gown of brocade satin with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. The skirt was fitted very full to a basque waist extending into a train. Her veil of illusion was caught with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, gift from the groom. She carried a purple throated orchid on a prayer book.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. W. G. Norman, matron of honor, Miss Adelaide Warren, maid of honor, Miss Nina Jo Anne Adams, sister of the groom, junior bridesmaid and little Florence Norman and Judy Corbett, flower girls.

Mrs. Norman wore a dress of rose satin with sweetheart neckline, bracelet length sleeves, basque waist and a full skirt with a short train. Miss Warren's dress was of green faille with picture neckline, drop shoulder and long sleeves, the skirt shirred to a basque waist with bustle back.

The junior bridesmaid wore orchid net over pink satin with high waist and full skirt. The honor attendants wore pill box hats to match their dresses and shoulder length veils. They carried arm bouquets of pink carnations and snap dragons tied with pink and green satin ribbon.

The flower girls were dressed in pink and blue net over corresponding satin and carried nose gays of colorful snap dragons.

Charles Moye, twin brother of the bride, was the groom's best man. Ushers were Messrs. Jack Moye, Jr., W. G. Norman, Moye Dall and James R. Patton, III, of Durham.

Mrs. Moye, mother of the bride, wore a black and white dress with black and white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Adams, mother of the groom, wore a powder blue, suit with black and white accessories. Her corsage was yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Moye entertained at an informal reception and cake cutting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Norman.

The home was decorated with white candles and pink carnations. Mrs. C. M. Warren received at the front door and introduced the guests to the receiving line which was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Moye, the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Adams of Newton, Iowa, parents of the groom and the wedding party. Miss Helen Zekial of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Mr. Moye Dall directed the guests into the dining room where they were served green and white ice cream, cake, mints and nuts. The wedding cake banked by white tapers centered the table which was covered with a lace cloth. After the bride and groom cut the first slice the cake was served by Mrs. James R. Patton of Durham, aunt of the bride. Mrs. N. O. Van Nortwick, Jr. served the coffee. They were assisted in serving by Mrs. Pat Patte, Misses Elizabeth Bridgers, Hennie Ruth Whichard and Nina Jo Adams. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moye, Jr. presided over the brides book and little Miss Florence Norman and Judy Corbett told the guests good-bye.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip after which they will be at home in Newton, Iowa.

For traveling the bride wore a dressmaker suit of green gabardine with black accessories. Her corsage was the orchid taken from her prayer book.

Mrs. Adams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Moye, of Greenville. She was graduated from the Greenville city schools and at the time of her marriage was a junior at East Carolina Teachers college.

Christian Science Service

"Soul" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, February 17.

The Golden Text was from Isaiah 60:19. "The sun shall be no more thy light by day; neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee; but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "The soul that sinneth, it shall die. Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth; saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye" (Ezekiel 18: 20 to 32).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We are commonly taught that there is a human soul which sins and is spiritually lost, that soul may be lost, and yet be immortal. It is a sense of sin, and not a sinful soul, which is lost. Evil is destroyed by the sense of good. So long as we believe that soul can sin or that immortal soul is in mortal body, we can never understand the Science of being. When humanity does understand this Science, it will become the law of life to man, even the higher law of Soul, which prevails over material sense through harmony and immortality." (Page 311).

To Appear in Recital in Kinston. Students of the department of music at East Carolina Teachers College will appear in a recital presented in Kinston under the sponsorship of the Woman's Club there on Thursday evening, February 21. Participating in the program, which is under the direction of Dan E. Vornholt of the college faculty, will be Marie Herrine, pianist, of La Grange; Madeline Bedals, violinist, of Winston-Salem; Mary Bland Justus, soprano, of Norfolk, Va.; and Josephine Gibson, mezzosoprano, of Wilmington. Mrs. Karl V. Gilbert of Greenville, will be accompanist.

Talks to Friend in Germany. Work came to a halt in the office of Dean of Women Annie L. Morton of East Carolina Teachers College last Saturday afternoon, February 16, and students waiting for conferences chatted with the dean and her staff in the lobby of Cotten hall, while Louise Enzor of Fair Bluff, N. C., a student, talked over the office telephone to a friend in the army air forces in Kassel, Germany.

The long-distance call was the first to be made to the college from Europe and occasioned much interest and comment on the campus. Arrangements were made a week in advance by a New York telephone operator. The call came through according to schedule, and Miss Enzor, assisted by the experience, said that she heard perfectly during the three-minute conversation.

Timely Article By Rev. Hayes Clark

A recent edition of the Southern Presbyterian Journal, which has a wide circulation in the South, carried an interesting article, entitled "Evangelism Today," written by the Rev. Hayes Clark of Greenville, pastor of Hollywood and Meadowbrook Presbyterian churches. The article is timely, radiating much to inspire wholesome thought and meditation. The author's practical and common-sense outlook on life and the mission of the church is indeed impressive.

The Fall Guy

BY JOE BARRY

Chapter 3

Rush's thoughts were a little mixed up by the scene of a few minutes earlier and it was a full 50 seconds before he realized he wasn't alone. Then he looked up to find a tall, dark, ministerial gentleman, walking beside him. Rush raised a questioning eyebrow.

"I thought you could satisfy my, perhaps, crude curiosity." The rumbling tones seemed to come from a spot somewhere below the spare thorax of the thin one. "I was standing next to you back there."

Rush's "ummh" was noncommittal.

"Yes, I thought you might be able to answer several questions that come to my mind."

"What questions?" Rush was nothing if not direct.

"The police now, what steps will they take to learn the man's identity?"

Rush was slightly surprised.

"Why, if the guy has a tie in the world, they'll place him."

"I see."

They had come abreast of Barney's Rush's destination. He stopped and turned to his companion. "This is where I was heading. I'll see you around." He turned to enter the bar. The man looked up and noticed the character of the place and followed him to the door.

"Since you've been so kind to an inquisitive old man perhaps you'd allow me to buy you a drink."

Rush looked at him for a second and then grinned ruefully to himself. "Sure, fella, come on in. I'll have a eye on you."

The drinks came and Rush took a long swallow of his rye. He needed that. He looked across the dim booth at his companion. That one seemed to be struggling with himself. He finally decided in the affirmative.

"Perhaps you are wondering why I am so curious about the distressing occurrence up the street."

"Well," Rush said.

"I've been wondering whether to tell you something that may be of value."

"Shouldn't you tell it to the police?" asked Rush.

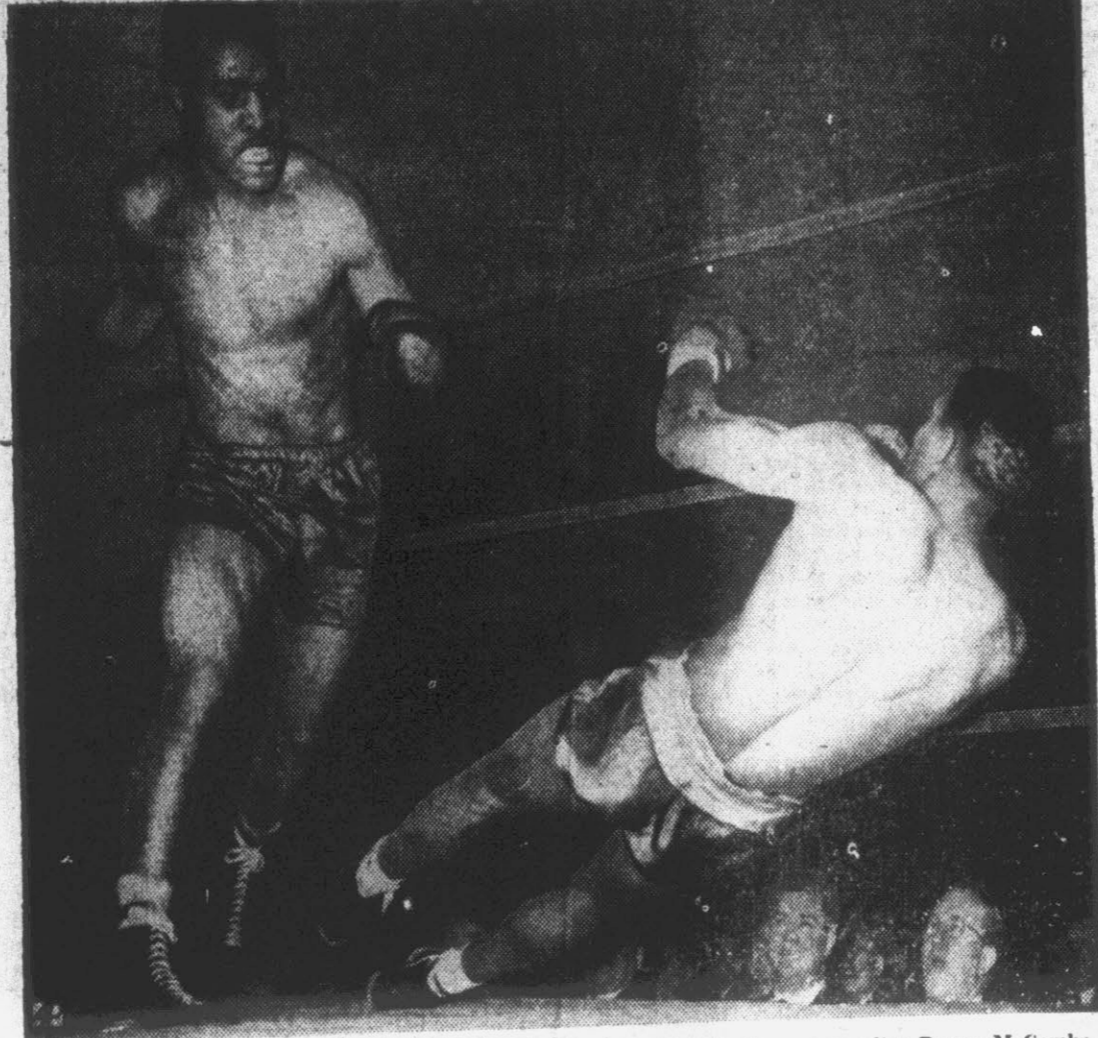

"That may be. That is what I would like to ask you. I know so little about these things and you seem to be quite familiar with the procedure."

"Thank you," Rush grinned without humor.

"It is something I saw. I was standing several doors away from the alley for at least 15 minutes before the crime was discovered. Five minutes before the discovery a short swarthy man—he looked to be foreign in origin, Italian, perhaps—came out of the alley. He looked quickly both ways and walked rapidly south on State Street. He paused and looked questioningly at Rush. "Do you think I should say anything to the police?"

"Yes," Rush's seriousness was a model of overacting. "Yes, by all means. The police must be told. I'd go to them right away."

Girl Scouts Join In World Wide Service

February 22 is Thinking Day on the Girl Scout calendar, and many Scout troops in the United States like to join with their sisters abroad in this simple round-the-world ceremony. To mark the anniversary of the birth of the founder of the Scouting movement, Lord Baden-Powell, the Scouts hold a candle light service during which they join hands and think of all the other Girl Scouts and Girl Guides throughout the world. Greenville troops will meet in their troops with their individual leaders and observe this impressive ceremony.

According to Mrs. W. P. Moore, Girl Scout Commissioner of our local council, this "Thinking Day" idea started at the first World Conference of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts held at the Girl Scout Camp Edith Macy, Pleasantville, N. Y., in 1926, when the world was at peace. Delegates from Girl Scout organizations in twenty-nine countries were gathered there, including Lord Baden-Powell, founder of both the Boy and Girl Scout movements; Lady Baden-Powell, and Juliette Low, who established the Girl Scout Movement in the United States.

In the course of the meeting, someone suggested, in commemoration of this feeling, that a day be set aside each year on which Girl Guides and Girl Scouts and Scouts in other lands, sending as it were a wave of friendly thought around the world. "Thinking Day" was the result, and because February 22 was the birthday of Lord Baden-Powell it seemed fitting that that should be the day.

"Thinking Day," Mrs. Moore stated, has remained the practice of Scouts and Guides everywhere in spite of wars. Today the Girl Scouts in the United States, and in other countries which escaped the physical ravages of war, are giving tangible expression to their thoughts in the way of gifts of necessities to their less fortunate world neighbors. As a national organization, out of pennies, contributed to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund by the Girl Scouts of the United States much is being done to help the Girl Guides and Scouts in war-torn areas. Ten thousand blankets have been purchased and allocated according to need; yarn and knitting needles are going to Polish Girl Guides still in displaced persons camps in Europe; 3,153 yards of woolen uniform material has been allocated to Denmark, France and Holland, according to membership; 260 pairs of stockings and 100 brown beret to Luxembourg; office supplies and publications to Czechoslovakia; soap and office supplies to Italy where the movement is being reorganized after having been banned for seventeen years; and gifts in money to the Guides in Greece, Britain and China, for clothing, equipment, food.

Women in the Church

The National Committee on Group Care of Children, of which Mrs. Monica B. Owen, of New York, is executive secretary, fears that with the withdrawal on March 1 of federal funds for the care of children, hundreds of child-care and pre-school centers in all states will be closed because local support is unprovided. The committee is urging church women to study the problems in their communities, and to unit with other groups to remedy the situation. They urge immediate steps to save such portions of present programs as can be carried locally and will be of most value to the children. In each community, they say, a permanent planning group should be organized, and this should include representatives of all churches, civic and welfare bodies.

Art Exhibit Now At City Library

The Art Center of Greenville is displaying this week in the Art Gallery of Sheppard Memorial Library some eighty sketches, lithographs, water colors, etc., lent by James L. Fleming, director of the Foreign Language Department of East Carolina Teachers College.

This exhibit, confined namely to artists' sketches is not to be confused with the one recently held at the college depicting France under the Nazis.

Outstanding in the exhibit are 20 lithographs of "Old Stones of Paris" depicting "la ville lumiere" not as a city of dazzling brilliance but one whose real self, so seldom revealed to the casual observer, lies hidden behind old facades, in narrow winding streets and in the historic landmarks of the city.

Of special interest to those who served in World War I is an album of 24 sketches made on the American front in France (1917-1918) by the French artist Jean Berne-Bellecour in "Souvenir of the American Army in France."

Also on exhibit are colorful illustrations giving the history of the French military uniform from the time of Louis XV to 1918 and several art reviews containing beautiful copies of the famous XVth century Fouquet illustrations which are now among the valued possessions of the

Strength FOR THE DAY BY EARL L. DOUGLAS

SEED COME TO HARVEST T. DeWitt Talmadge, the famous evangelist of a generation or two ago, tells in his autobiography the story of a certain minister who died an apparent failure yet out of whose career there sprang in later years a great movement.

The man was John Vredenburg, pastor of a church of Somerville, New Jersey. He preached earnestly and performed most faithfully his work as pastor for a number of years, but nothing seemed to happen as a result of his efforts.

One of the most amazing things in all the world is the unconscious influence everyone of us exerts. Quite unbeknown to us, our efforts and our personalities are producing changes in the world round about us.

He uses the apparent failures of broken-hearted men like John Vredenburg to bring about great transformations in human life.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK BY JACK STINNETT

Washington—Democracy at work! Just for the moment, let's forget about Edwin W. Pauley's qualifications or lack of them to be under-secretary of the navy.

If we have a political sense of humor, we can still join the professional politicians in a chuckle about the raking over the coals the Republicans gave another administration appointee.

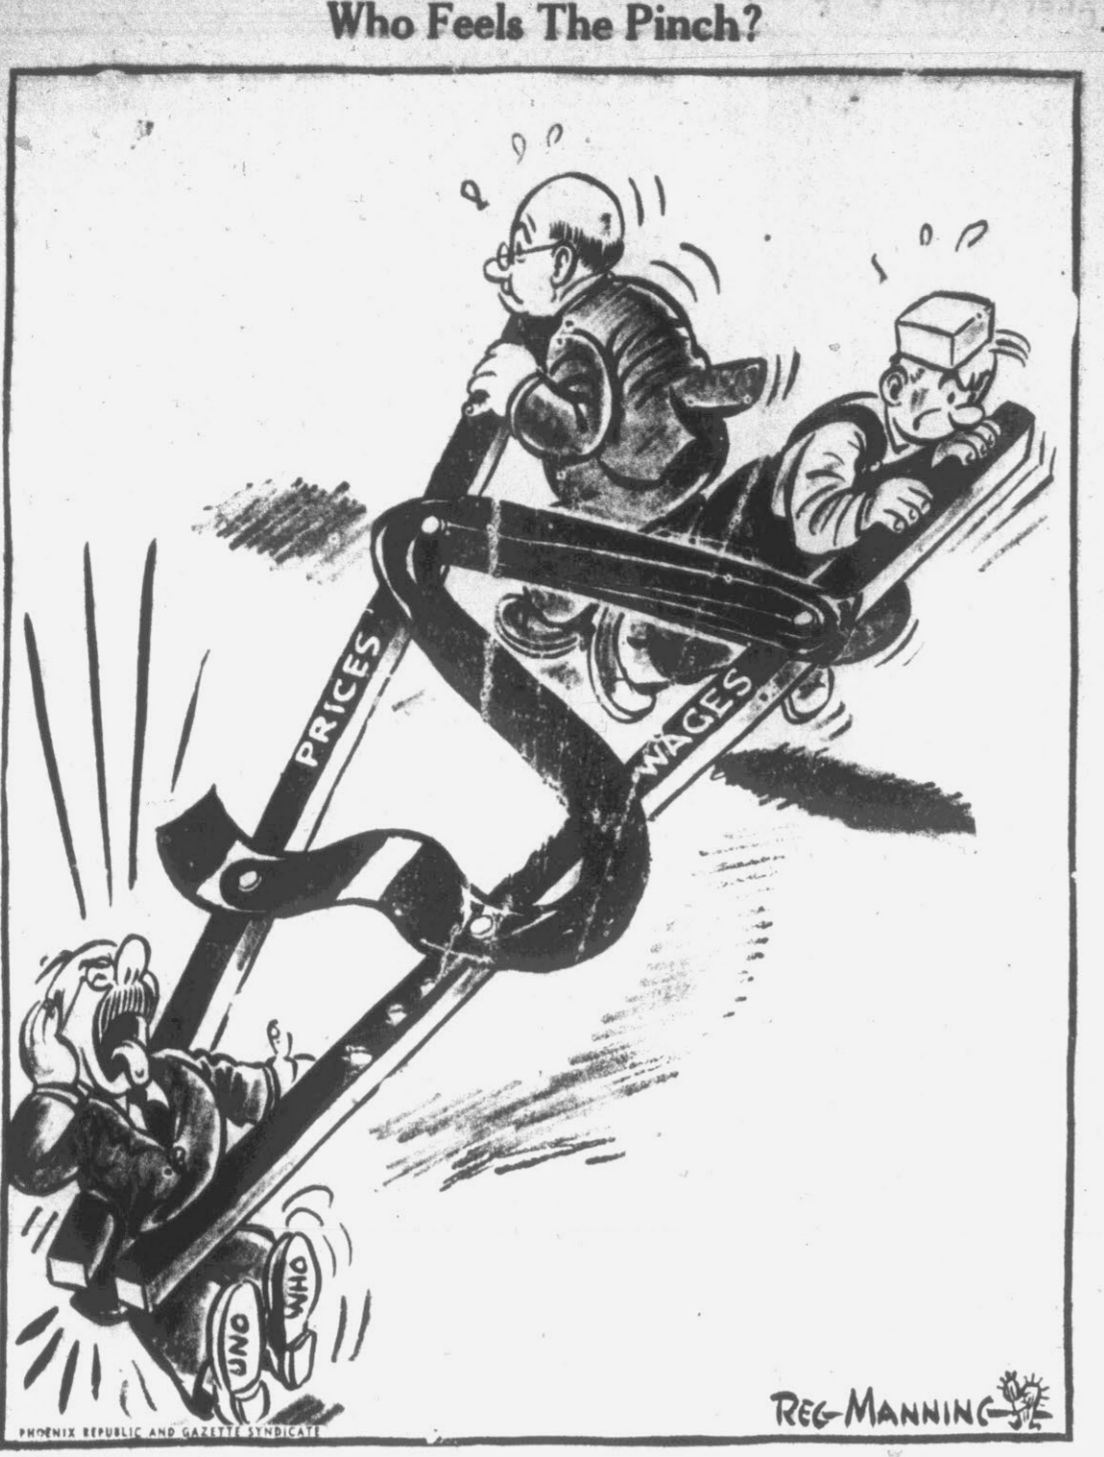

To contest every presidential appointment that is vulnerable is good politics. If the appointee has enemies in his own party—votes that might go against him to make up a majority—he hasn't a chance of even getting the Senate committee approval without a vigorous going over.

"Ed" Pauley was a cinch for such a going over. He was former chief campaign fund raiser for the Democratic national committee. Starting from scratch as an underpaid college instructor, he had made a million or few in "the oil game."

It is any wonder that, regardless of his merits or demerits, the opposition considered him a golden opportunity?

This doesn't imply any lack of sincerity whatever on the part of persons who appeared against Pauley. There isn't a Republican on Capitol Hill who wouldn't rather wrestle one of the polar bears in the Rock Creek Park zoo than ask "Old Curmudgeon" to testify for or against anybody.

But proof positive that the opposition knew what was coming was the fact that it was Sen. Charles W. Tobey, New Hampshire Republican, who has been gathering political battle scars for more than 30 years, who was chief inquisitor at the hearings where Pauley's thinning hair was so hotly singed. It already is being freely predicted that the opposition will contest heatedly the appointment of George Allen to the Reconstruction Finance Corp. and James H. Vardaman, Jr. to a 14-year term on the Federal Reserve Bank board.

It isn't often that the opposition is able to defeat one of the President's appointments. The President confers with his leaders in the Senate before he makes them. But such rakings over do lay the basis for later criticisms and "I-told-you-so's." That's good politics.

There are many other portraits of the Krupps, and just to show the measure of their ego it may be mentioned that in the billiard room there is a big recess in the wall where is set forth in large type the family tree of the Krupps, going back to 1515.

Well, one could write a book about the Villa Hügel, but the purpose of this article is to draw attention to an aspect of German aggression which we don't see emphasized fully enough. This is that militarism has been supported by and encouraged by the titan armament firm of Krupp, which has been the motor of the war machine.

Because of this it is grand to see the seven miles of Krupp works lying in ruins from bombing, and Villa Hügel on the hill is a potent reminder to the Allies never to let the Krupps fabricate another gun.

or any other source. This long form is the only one on which you have to figure your own tax. The table won't help.

If you have to use this form, take a flat minimum deduction of $500 for expenses, even though those expenses were far less than $500. You take that minimum $500 deduction whether your income was $5,000 or $50,000.

And you don't have to itemize your deductions when you claim that flat $500. Just take $500 off your income.

If your actual expenses were more than $500 you can claim as much as those expenses were.

Tomorrow: Who Can Use Form W-2, a detailed explanation.

The Nation . . .

Form 1040 has four pages. Used one way it is the short form. Used another way, it is the long form.

Using 1040 as a short form, you generally deal only with the first page.

There you write some facts and figures about yourself—such as name, number of dependents—and the wages, salary or other income you had in 1945.

When you do that, look at the back to find your tax. It shows the tax on income up to $5,000. This saves you from figuring it out.

The short form can be used by anyone with income under $5,000 from any source. That phrase—anyone—source—is important.

For example, a doctor or a lawyer paid in fees or a landlord living off rents can use the 1040 short form if his income is under $5,000.

Winterville Cagers Defeat Grimesland

Winterville, Feb. 16—Winterville High School basketball team defeated the Grimesland quint with the boys team scoring a 33-25 victory, and the girls' team winning, 22-17.

The final issue was in doubt at the half in both games, but the Winterville fives pulled through and won handily.

Coach Mobley's boys made a fast start, then slowed as Grimesland tied the score in the second half, 12 and 12; but from that point on, the Winterville team was never headed again. Scoring honors went to Kittrell with 21 points. Campbell was high scorer for the Grimesland quint with 11 points. Joyner and Avery were distinguished by their fine floor work.

The Winterville High School girls have been defeated only twice this season; in their win over Grimesland, the score was tied at the end of the first half, but from that point on, their forwards held down the visitor's scoring and the girls came through in fine style. Scoring honors went to Loftin of Winterville with 12 points, and Elks of Grimesland, with 9 points.

Phantoms Invade Elizabeth City

By T-BONE WILLIAMS

The mighty Green and White Phantoms will invade Elizabeth City High School tonight at 8 o'clock in an attempt to take another Eastern Conference title. This will be Greenville's 11th conference title with no losses as of today.

Billy Harrington and Mac Batchelor, two fast working guards; Jimmy Putrell and Ed Williams, forwards, who have been doing most of the scoring for the Phantoms; J. T. Williams, who has been doing his share toward winning, will be starting off tonight for the Phantoms.

Secondary men who will see action will be Julian White, Dave Clark, Henry Turner, Billy White and Jack Whitchard.

The game will probably be closer than the previous Elizabeth City-Greenville game because the Yellow Jackets will be playing in their own back yard.

If the Phantoms take tonight's game, they will undoubtedly win the North Eastern Conference crown. It is not certain when the trophy will be presented to the winning team.

at Virginia Tech. Wake Forest's record stands at six wins and five losses in the conference and South Carolina has four and six. Washington and Lee trails the circuit with a defeat and no wins, while Virginia Tech is in third place following North Carolina and Duke.

The Techmen are heavy favorites to drop the Generals in the clash tonight. Tech, fresh from a 51-45 victory over William and Mary, thumped C. Y. Young's boys 59-19 in a previous meeting this season between the teams.

CONSTIPATION

Hazardous in BAD COLDS

Beware of sluggish elimination when you have a cold. If you are constipated you may be sure your intestines are retaining virus-laden mucus and other putrefactive waste matter. This condition may interfere with the treatment of the cold and lead to more serious complications. Relieve this hazardous constipated condition promptly tonight with Calotabs. Calotabs are one of the most dependable of all intestinal stimulants. They pleasantly yet thoroughly act on every foot of the intestinal tract, thus helping to sweep out virus-laden mucus and other putrefactive material, enabling Nature to more effectively combat the cold. Truman Will Run For Office, Says Wallace

Cleveland, Feb. 19—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace today said he expected that Mr. Truman "is going to run" for President in 1948 and indicated he would not again be a vice-presidential candidate because it would be necessary to have some one "from another part of the country."

Asked at a press conference whether he might be a candidate if Mr. Truman was not, Wallace replied: "But Truman is going to run."

Questioned concerning the possibility of his nomination for vice-president, the secretary said he believed "it would be necessary to have a candidate from another part of the country as a running mate for Truman. Wallace added that he expected to remain in his present cabinet post.

Nazi Admits Making Soap Of Human Fats

Nuernberg, Feb. 19—(AP)—Russian prosecutors presented as evidence to the international military tribunal today what they said was a sample soap made from human bodies by the Nazis.

The Soviet prosecution introduced an affidavit of a German assistant who said he had helped boil down human bodies and refine the fat into soap at a special factory at Danzig.

The assistant's affidavit, given to Soviet interrogators, said the factory was built in the summer of 1943 and that refining of the soap began the following January. He said he had used some of the soap. The first bodies used, the affidavit said, came from a hospital where the mentally and physically unfit were being killed. Other bodies, he said, were received from Koenigsberg prison.

Sports

By The Associated Press

Furman's Purple Paladins stand a chance to just get in under the wire for a bid in the forthcoming Southern Conference basketball tournament at Raleigh if they can topple Clemson tonight and then repeat the performance against Citadel Monday.

Four of Furman's present eight games played have been with Davidson and hence under conference regulations only two of them count in the tournament qualifying. The Paladins have five wins and three losses on the ledger and stand tied with Maryland for fourth place in the team standings.

Clemson's Tigers haven't managed to break even in the win and loss column this season and the record stands at four victories and six defeats. If the Tigers could bump Furman and take Citadel Saturday their own chances of a berth in the tourney would be considered brighter.

Two other conference tilts are on the bill tonight, one between Wake Forest at South Carolina and the other featuring Washington and Lee.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 19—(AP)—The stock market today suffered one of its worst slumps in almost six years as heavy selling hit virtually all departments for losses of 1 to around 9 points.

Causes of the tumble varied. Further profits were cashed by those who could take advantage of the long-term capital gains tax. Pessimism over the outlook for more rigid governmental price controls, failure of the pay-price formula to bring the market had attained a climax in its lengthy push to 15-year peaks served to extend the liquidation which got under way Monday.

Transfers of above 2,000,000 shares were among the largest of the past month.

UP ACID LIQUIDS FOR HOURS AFTER EATING

For hours after every meal, a Greenville lady used to spit up a strong, acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly strangle. Her food agrees with her. No gas, bloating or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this Remarkable New Compound.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID.

USO Club Celebrates Special Anniversary

By LUCY CHERRY CRISP

It was a gala weekend at the USO Club, with a Valentine "joke box formal" dance last Saturday night and a special anniversary party was broadcast Sunday night. Two big beautiful birthday cakes stood on the table Sunday night, one with five candles and one with four, the occasion being a double celebration—the fifth anniversary of national USO and the fourth anniversary of the opening of the Greenville USO Club.

Sgt. Louis Nosko, USMC, stationed at the Greenville field with VMD 354 before going overseas, was back at the mike in his old place as MC again. Pfc. Marty Greene USMC, sang the opening song, the popular "Without a Song," which he is using for his own radio show now heard over WGTC on Sunday afternoons.

Special guests on the program were Leo Lopacinski, of Argo, Ill., now of Greenville, the first man to register at the Greenville USO Club on its opening day in January, 1942. Ty Wagner, first chairman of the local organization for servicemen; Mrs. Robert L. Humber, the president of the Woman's Club; Willard T. Kyzer, present chairman of the organization, and Mrs. J. H. Blount, chairman of the local USO Committee.

The many testimonials received from boys who have been here indicate that this club and this city hold a high spot in their memories. Mr. Wagner said, "And I would like also to mention and praise those of you who seldom made an appearance at the club, but whose work and cooperation made this work so successful. I speak of the hundreds of Greenville people who opened their homes to the boys on weekends. Your work can never be fully measured."

Mrs. Humber, speaking for the Woman's Club, said "The USO is very dear to the hearts of the women of America. It means a home for their boys wherever they are and a morale builder for every one who wears the uniform. It is particularly gratifying to me at this time to be able to inform you that the Executive Board of the Woman's Club on Thursday of last week voted 100 per cent to extend to the USO the use of the building for an additional period of time in order to enable it to continue its services. This represents only a small gesture of the gratitude which we all feel toward you, the members of the armed forces, who have struggled, fought and sacrificed so much to defend and preserve the liberties of our nation and the heritage of civilization itself."

Taking note of the fact that this is our club's "happiest birthday," since it is the first one celebrated since the war's end, Mr. Kyzer spoke of the determination of all those charged with responsibility of carrying on the club's work to see the job through to its fulfillment in the same high spirit in which it was first undertaken, four years ago.

Following these brief messages from the special guests, Mrs. J. H. Blount proceeded, with the cutting of the birthday cakes, with a "cut by cut" description by Master of Ceremonies Nosko in order that the radio audience might also be included in this part of the program. The first slice went to the "first boy," Leo Lopacinski; the second to Mrs. Humber, and then there was a "free-for-all," which was also radioed to the community audience by the master of ceremonies.

Sgt. Herschel Smith then went to the mike to sing the closing song, one that has won an enduring spot in the memories of all of us during this war period, "When the Lights Go On Again All Over the World." Sgt. Nosko then paid a moving tribute to the club, speaking in behalf of all the servicemen who have found it a real home during their stay in camps nearby and with Sarah Jones, junior hostess, at the piano, the audience joined in singing "Auld Lang Syde," thus bringing the celebration to a close.

Registered attendance at the USO Club during the weekend, including servicemen, hostesses and others, totalled more than 700. For the weeks of 1946 up to the present, registered attendance has been 4,447. For the year 1945, registered attendance at the club showed a total of 51,854.

Rotary Club In Regular Session

Five new members were inducted into the Rotary Club last night and five Rotarians who had been away in the armed forces were formally welcomed on their return to the fold.

The new members were Dr. Fred C. Irons, H. Brown Mayo, Dr. Beecher Flanagan, Urcell Webb and Dr. Howard J. McGinnis.

The five Rotarians returned from the war were: Ty Wagner, Hugh Winslow, Bancroft Moseley and Dr. James B. Hawes.

J. B. Kithell gave the address of induction. Instead of using his own speech he used the words of several different Rotarians who had written down what they would have said had they had the opportunity to induct new Rotarians. At one point Mr. Kithell injected his own ideas in exhorting the new members to stir the club out of its complacency but contributing new ideas for the membership to get engaged in immediately.

At the conclusion of his remarks he presented each new member with a scroll composed of embossed Rotary emblem and engraved four objectives of Rotary. Then 4 club members each pinned a club insignia on one of their new members. This was followed by a general period of greetings by all the members for the new and the returned Rotarians.

The Rotary Club voted to attend the annual meeting and banquet of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce on March 15 and do away with the Rotary meeting scheduled for March 18. Attending the chamber meeting is to take the place of the regular meeting.

Visiting Rotarians were David T. House of Bethel, Lovd Turnage of Ayden. Guests of the club were: Sherman Parks, Dr. W. E. Marshall, Floyd Anderson, Don C. Conley, Heber B. Tripp, all of Greenville, and E. D. Ennett of Raleigh, and T. B. Grimes of Patactus.

President John Proctor presided.

This could be accomplished, Wolcott told reporters, "by an amendment requiring removal of price ceilings in each industry when it is found that production has reached 75 per cent of normal output."

Disgruntled Bowler Uses Pistol On Pins

Gastonia, Feb. 19—(AP)—Pin boys at a downtown bowling alley here today had every right to be considering the advantages of bullet-proof vests, following last night's reaction of an irate bowler.

As told by local police, the irate Kegler, disgusted with the results of a mere bowling ball, whipped out a .2 revolver and began banging away at the pins.

Police broke up the Wild West show, the manager shooed his customers out and locked up for the night.

The report was that three shots were fired—strictly regulation for duckpin tries.

Pauley said he had "talked casually" with Hannegan, Democratic National Committee chairman, about investing in some California acreage if a well Pauley then was drilling showed the oil structure running in the direction of the land in question.

When the structure was found to run in another direction, Pauley said, the matter was dropped. He could not remember the date, he said.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) promised new evidence today in his fight to block Pauley's appointment as undersecretary of the navy.

Pauley supporters, however, saw new hope for their cause in the Senate's confirmation of another Truman nominee—George E. Allen to be an RFC director.

Blast Wrecks . . .

Eight negroes, one critically injured, were taken to Charity hospital. The cause of the explosion had not been determined. The blast occurred shortly after 7 a. m.

The interior of the structure was a mass of flames when firemen arrived and Fire Chief Frank Rivarde would not permit firemen to enter the wreckage. The first floor gave away and the second and third floors collapsed.

Every available ambulance in the city was rushed to the scene to carry a rescue work.

Unofficial estimates of the number of persons occupying the unit ran up to sixty or more.

One witness, Wilson Sterling, who lives in another unit of the housing project described the explosion as "something that sounded like a blast of thunder."

He said that from his point of view he saw only two persons leave the building.
