Churchill's Plea Divide Capital

One Group Believes Speech Will Bring Distrust Into Open And Force Show-down; The Other, That It Would Bolster Belief Security Lies In Spheres Of Influence

WINSTON CHURCHILL

Washington, March 6 (AP)—A disturbing new element beset suspicion-riddled Big Three relations today—Winston Churchill's plea for quick creation of an Anglo-American military alliance.

Here in the nation's capital two schools of diplomatic thought reacted to the impact of the Churchill address. One held that it would bring hidden distrust into the open and force a showdown; the other that it would bolster belief that security must entail spheres of influence.

There appeared little sentiment to discount the weight of Churchill's words on American public opinion, coming as they did only five days after Secretary of State Byrnes told the world this country must stand ready to fight, if necessary, to protect the principles of the United Nations Charter.

On top of Byrnes' solemn words have piled these developments in recent weeks to strengthen arguments that another face to face meeting among the chiefs of state has become essential.

A United States protest sent to Moscow only yesterday against the failure of Russia to withdraw Red Army forces from Iran by the March 2 treaty deadline.

A second note of protest based on a Chinese report to this government that the Soviet Union has claimed Japanese industries in Manchuria as "war booty" and had proposed joint operation of much of the territory's basic industry. Neither note was made public.

Canada's disclosure and Russia's acknowledgment—that Soviet agents in Canada had obtained certain military secrets. Canada charged this was done by espionage and that the secrets included data on atomic bombs. Moscow said a Canadian citizen gave a Soviet Ministry attaché in Canada certain

Congressman Warns Of "Appeasement"

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.) in a statement today demanded "firmness" in dealings of the United States with the Soviet Union and added:

"Appeasement of Hitler contributed to bringing about World War II. Appeasement of Russia will contribute to the defeat of international cooperation necessary for permanent peace.

"It is one thing to recognize the proper claims of Russia but it is another to see the unfair things it is doing in violation of its promises to other nations."

McCormack declared that "one thing seems certain—the United States cannot and should not, for its own best interests, as well as for future peace, continue what appears to be a policy of appeasement of Soviet Russia and its imposition of Communist control upon other countries of the world."

CHINESE HELD UP BY SOVIET

Red Army Actions In Manchuria Delays Occupation

Chungking, March 6 (AP)—The Chinese Government has been pressing for withdrawal of Russian troops in Manchuria but Soviet authorities intimated their delay was due to certain difficulties which they didn't specify.

Liu Chieh, Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs, said today He did not elaborate. He also said China is keeping the United States informed on the course of Sino-Soviet negotiations.

Liu skipped some questions with a jargon "no comment" at a press conference. Answers he did give showed that Russia had not informed China of the movements and size of Soviet forces at Port Arthur—made a joint Sino-Russian naval base under the Sino-Soviet treaty of last Aug 14.

Reports received by the Chinese Government confirmed that Soviet authorities removed machinery from

Tobacco Meeting At Court House

Tobacco growers of Pitt County will have an opportunity to hear tobacco growing discussed by specialists from State College and the U. S. Department of Agriculture at the court house tonight at 7 o'clock.

Dr. E. E. Clayton, tobacco disease investigator from the Bureau of Plant Industry, will speak on "Tobacco Plant Diseases." An open forum will follow his talk and farmers may ask questions and state their problems. County Farm Agent Sam C. Winchester said:

"Tonight's meeting is one of a series sponsored by State College, to be held in various sections of the state. R. R. Bennett, tobacco specialist for the extension division of State College, and other tobacco specialists will be at the meeting. All farmers are invited."

RAILROADS TO FACE WALKOUT NEXT WEEK

Nationwide Strike Threatens; Unions Disclose Strike Calls; Date Unannounced

Chicago, March 6 (AP)—A threat of a nationwide railroad strike appeared today as officials of two big brotherhoods in several cities disclosed receipt of calls for a walkout beginning Monday although at the same time delay of the reported impending work stoppage by mediation was indicated.

In Cleveland, presidents of the two operating brotherhoods involved, the locomotive engineers and trainmen, representing some 30,000 members did not confirm or deny that a strike date had been set. In Chicago, a railroad spokesman said that no railroad had been notified officially of the reported walkout.

The brotherhood presidents, A. F. Whitney of the trainmen and A. Vanley Johnston of the engineers, withheld comment at Cleveland, national headquarters of the two rail unions, but indicated a statement would be forthcoming today.

Meanwhile, observers expressed belief that the railway labor acts mediation procedure would delay any tieup in the nation's railroads for from 30 to 60 days following formal announcement of the strike call.

Under terms of the act, President Truman then would name an emergency fact-finding commission, which would have 30 days in which to study the strike threat and report recommendations for a settlement. The panel's recommendations, however, are not binding on the parties to the dispute and the unions may walk out, if they so elect. Since passage of the act in 1926, there have been no extensive railroad strikes.

First official notice that a strike call was issued came from San Francisco, where P. O. Peterson, general chairman of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, said that unless a settlement of the long disputed issues involving wages and working rules was reached before the deadline, the members of the two unions would start a progressive walkout. He said the strike would be fully effective within four days.

Hyde Park To Be National Memorial

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The Hyde Park home of Franklin D. Roosevelt will be formally dedicated as a national historic site April 12, the first anniversary of the former president's death.

Announcing this today, acting Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman said President Truman will attend the ceremonies and deliver the principal address. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president, also will speak.

J. A. Krug, soon to become secretary of interior, will accept the gift for the government.

The site comprises 32 acres. It includes the rose garden in which President Roosevelt was buried April 15 1945. Mr. Roosevelt reserved for Mrs. Roosevelt and their children a life interest in the estate but all waived their rights, giving the government immediate possession.

Conciliator Dewey Called To Capital

Washington, March 6 (AP)—James F. Dewey, special conciliator in the General Motors strike was summoned suddenly today by Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach to meet with him in Washington.

A Labor Department spokesman said Dewey was called in to report on the situation "in view of the impasse" in Detroit negotiations in the 105-day-old CIO Union dispute with GM.

Dewey will attend an afternoon session of the wage talks between the company and the CIO Auto Workers, then board a plane for Washington.

The conference with Schwelmbach will take place some time during the evening, the Labor Department spokesman said.

Contributions

The following table lists the percentage by districts of Pitt County contributions in the Red Cross Fund Campaign, through Tuesday, March 5, 1946:

Table with 2 columns: District Name and Percentage. Includes entries like Chicago (75 pct), Paetius (53.5 pct), Bell Arthur (43.8 pct), Stokes (42.7 pct), Farmville (31.2 pct), Grimesland (25 pct), Greenville (20 pct), Ayden (16.6 pct).

No reports have yet been received from: Belvoir, Bethel, Falkland, Fountain, Geifton and Winterville.

Last Minute Travelers As Border Closes

Japanese Prepare New Peaceful Constitution

Renounces War For All Time; Prohibits Maintenance Of Armed Forces; Hirohito To Become Symbol Of State

By RUSSELL BRINES Tokyo, March 6 (AP)—A new Japanese constitution, renouncing war for all time and prohibiting the maintenance of armed forces was announced today.

General MacArthur, reporting that it was drafted with his full approval, emphasized that "the foremost of its provisions . . . that abolishing war as a sovereign right of the nation . . . and the future security and very survival of the nation depend upon the good faith and justice of the peace loving peoples of the world."

Hirohito, who will be reduced from "a sacred and inviolable" emperor to a symbol of state with very limited formal functions, issued a special rescript stating: "It is my desire that the constitution of our empire be revised drastically upon the basis of the general will of the people and the principle of respect for the fundamental human rights."

"I command hereby the competent authorities of my government to put forth in conformity with my wish their best efforts toward accomplishment of this end."

MacArthur's approval of the constitution, maintaining the Mikado as a symbol of state, presumably ends any possibility of his being arrested as a war crimes suspect.

The proposed constitution vests sovereignty in the people and strips

President Appeals To Power Of Church

Columbus, Ohio, March 6 (AP)—President Truman appealed directly today for church support of his stalemated domestic legislative program against the opposition of interests he said were "greedy for gold."

"He urged religious support also for the development of atomic energy under a 'high moral code' to resist a 'sick' world 'in the doorway to destruction.'"

The President said that if the people "really believed in the brotherhood of man, it would not be necessary to pass a Fair Employment Practices Act" to prevent racial discrimination in job giving, and added:

"If certain interests were not so greedy for gold there would be less pressure and lobbying to induce Congress to allow the price control act to expire, or to keep down min-

TODAY IN CONGRESS

A Review Of Your Government In Action

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes asserted today that if a California conservation measure supported by Edwin W. Pauley had become law in 1939 the navy might have saved 150,000,000 barrels of oil at the Elks Hills reserve.

The former secretary of interior, who has blasted at Pauley's nomination for undersecretary of the navy, told the Senate Naval Committee he and President Roosevelt supported the bill. Ickes also took pot shots today at some witnesses who have opposed Pauley's nomination at committee hearings on the appointment.

Pauley has been criticized in previous testimony for deserting independent oil men opponents and switching to support of the bill. It was passed by the State Legislature, but subsequently was repealed in a referendum.

Ickes had been ordered by the committee to produce memoranda covering a 1944 conversation in which he said Pauley offered him "the rawest proposition ever made to me."

SOVIET LOOTS MUKDEN AREAS

Site Of Nearly 5,000 Factories Now Barren Waste

Editor's Note: Here is a belated dispatch from Mukden by Richard Cushing, describing that once busy industrial city's desolation. Cushing has returned to Shanghai but the dispatch just has come through.

By Richard Cushing Mukden, Feb. 24 (Delayed)—(AP)—The Chinese manager of a big Mukden aluminum plant showed American correspondents a pencilled receipt given him by Russians who, he said, had stripped his factory bare.

The Chinese couldn't read the hurriedly scribbled Russian note. He pointed to broken packing cases bearing Russian characters as evidence the Soviets had packed up what they wanted and sent it away by rail.

The Chinese, S. T. Chon of the Talu Aluminum Co., related that the Russians visited the plant 18 times—almost weekly until a week ago, when a Chinese representative of UNRRA tacked a sign on the door reading "no admittance to anybody or armies to enter."

A considerable quantity of aluminum ware, including canteens for the Japanese Army, was scattered about the floor but every bit of machinery was gone. Chon said the Russians took away the biggest loads in one week last October.

Newsman touring the now desolate industrial section of this one-time thriving factory city saw three

SEVEN JAILED FOR VIOLENCE

Disorders Flare In Gastonia Textile Walkout

Gastonia, March 6 (AP)—Seven workers of the Gastonia Combed Yarn Corporation were jailed early today and another freed after posting a $200 bond following an outbreak of violence last night between pickets and workers at the plant.

Gastonia Police Chief J. E. Elliott said one of those jailed was Leroy Toomey, secretary-treasurer of Local 12 of the United Textile Workers of America (AFL) who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

One of the eight arrested was slightly injured and received first aid treatment. Two of the eight were women, one being freed after posting a $200 bond. Charges against them ranged from assault with a deadly weapon to damaging property in the mill.

Although order had been restored late last night with the aid of high-

OPERATORS TO MEET LEWIS ON TUESDAY

Coal Producers Say Union Has Stake In Future Of Industry

R. HAROLD W. WARD Washington, March 6 (AP)—Bituminous coal operators agreed today to talk about higher wages with John L. Lewis if the nation's coal "requirements" can be met with a shorter work week.

The producers, agreeing to meet for contract negotiations here March 12, told the UMW president the union has as great a stake as management in the industry's future.

Lewis has asked that the current contract, negotiated last spring after an 11-day strike, be reopened next Tuesday on wages, working conditions, and the issue of recognizing supervisory employees.

A short strike occurred last October over organization of approximately 28,000 foremen.

The operators, in a letter to Lewis accepting his request for negotiations toward a new contract, suggested that if the UMW boss wanted to reopen the foremen's issue he should return to the open shop status prevailing prior to 1939.

The operators contended they agreed to give Lewis a union shop on April 1, 1939, in return for his pledge to exempt management and supervisory personnel from eligibility for union membership.

The continuation of these exemptions was the union's contribution to the collective bargaining for the union shop," the operators said in their letter to Lewis. "If the union reclaims that contribution then consideration of your demand for changes in the management-personnel question should revert to the beginning of the original negotiations on these issues."

On the matter of wages and hours the operators suggested that the maximum work week should be reviewed to determine whether any reduction "would be justified at this time."

The miners now are working a 54-hour week although the contract calls for a basic week of 35 hours, excluding underground travel time and paid lunch periods.

"In the event it is found that the country's requirements for coal can be met with a shortened work-day or work-week, consideration shall be

The WORLD TODAY

AP World Traveler

Bern, March 6—Switzerland's fixed policy of absolute neutrality, which has existed in principle for some four and a half centuries, raises a tough problem in her relations with the United Nations organization, which thus far hasn't announced any method whereby membership can be accorded to neutrals as such, that is, states that claim special exemptions.

We are likely to hear a good deal about this before long because the question seems bound to arise whether Switzerland is to be given preferential treatment. The Swiss will tell you they're anxious to cooperate with other nations in maintaining peace. They hope that the UNO will find some method whereby at least a modified membership can be accorded. But they would about as soon give up one of their beloved Alps as their neutrality, and if you will glance at your maps of Europe you will begin to see why.

Switzerland lies in the heart of the continent and it is the crossroads of the shortest routes from north to south and from west to east. That puts this little country of some 16,000 square miles decidedly on the spot, perched as it is on its mountains among Germany, France and Italy. Trouble among the major powers always means grave danger for invasion for Switzerland.

But that's not the whole story. The population of the Swiss Federation of 22 cantons is drawn chiefly from three races—German, French, and Italian. German is spoken by about two millions, French by close to a million, and Italian by the balance.

Now one can see with half an eye that if Switzerland had abandoned her neutrality in a war involving France, Germany or Italy, she not only would have invited invasion but likely would have caused heartburns among her own people. Indeed, internal troubles might have resulted. This should be qualified by pointing out that in the second World War the Swiss were against Nazism and Fascism, but this fact doesn't alter the general proposition.

As the Swiss put their case, they have full confidence in the allied leaders who fought for the liberty of the world. They would gladly accept an invitation to join the UNO if abandonment of neutrality were not involved, but as things now stand the question would have to be submitted to the Swiss people in a plebiscite. The consensus here is that the answer would be "no."

There is a widespread hope among Swiss statesmen that the UNO will find a modus vivendi to take into account Switzerland's special position as a neutral. This policy runs back to the year 1815 when the

Pitt County Jury Finds "Big Apple" Promoter Guilty Of Conspiracy To Defraud And Fraud By False Pretense After Deliberating Less Than Four Hours

Roderick Davenport, former New Bern produce dealer and leans broker was today found guilty by a Pitt County jury on charges of conspiracy to defraud and fraud by false pretense. In announcing its verdict, the jury requested clemency of the court in adjudging sentence for both Mrs. Sadie H. Powers and Wilson Boyles, who were originally charged as accomplices in the functioning of the now defunct "Big Apple."

The verdict of guilty was reached by the jury after less than four hours of deliberation. By 4:30, Judge J. Paul Frizzelle had not as yet pronounced sentence, on either Davenport or on his associates.

The jury made up mostly of farmers from in and around Greenville received the case at 12:30 p. m., and recessed half an hour later for lunch.

Judge Frizzelle dismissed the 13th juror a minute before he turned the case over to the 12 regular jurors, who have sat through five weeks of testimony in which the state attempted to prove Davenport guilty of milking people in five counties of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Judge Frizzelle completed his charge at 12:30, taking only two hours to outline various points of law to be considered by the jury in its deliberations. The judge's charge came after Solicitor E. M. Clark had completed his argument to the jury, which began at 3:30 p. m. yesterday.

In charging the jury, Judge Frizzelle said he was refraining from a complete capitulation of the evidence in the case, since much of that already had been taken care of by attorneys, and asked the consent of state and defense lawyers to mention only the important points in the evidence. Both sides agreed, and Judge Frizzelle delivered his

Navy Announces New Use For Penicillin

New York, March 6 (AP)—The U. S. Naval Medical Bulletin announces a new use of penicillin, to cure trench mouth, and to cure it quickly. In 400 cases tried there has not been one failure.

The penicillin is given like candy in lozenges, which are allowed to dissolve in the mouth. The trench mouth victim keeps a lozenge, one after another, in his mouth all day and takes one if he wakes up at night.

The penicillin lozenges do the job without other aids, the report says, except to start with a penicillin spray and that the lozenges are given on the theory that they will keep the saliva saturated with this drug.

Most of the patients reported that their mouths felt normal after 48 hours. Their pain and discomfort disappeared after the first day and they could eat again. All signs of the disease disappeared within not longer than five days.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Alnor of New York are visiting Mrs. Alnor's brother, Mr. R. E. Rogers of this city.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

ONE WORLD OR NONE

In these days when we are trying to make the world over, it is well for us to remind ourselves that we shall not get very far if we are afraid. Europe is held in the grip of fear. Its people are suspicious and cynical. All eyes are on America. As we act, the world will follow—and this includes Russia, once that nation is convinced that certain suspicions they have of us are unfounded.

Practically everyone who has had a chance to investigate the European situation agrees that the center of world interest has shifted from European capitals to Washington. Whether we like it or not, our nation has become the center of world interest, and peoples everywhere are looking to us for guidance. First, let us renounce selfishness and think not in terms of our own interest but in terms of world interest. Let us be willing to sacrifice and take a few chances that world peace may be established. But most of all, let us hold firm at arms length, for fear is one of our most deadly enemies.

The statement so often heard that we must have one world or no world commends itself to our reason with increasing force. It will take courage to make a new world and plenty of faith to believe that out of the warring one with which we have long been familiar a peaceful world may emerge.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

(First of Two Articles.)

Washington—There'll be one less tornado in Kentucky this year, Wilson W. Wyatt former mayor of Louisville, is in Washington.

President Truman has handed him the double-barreled job of housing expediter and national housing administrator. One was or another, the breeze from those appointments still will be blowing when the 1946 elections come on.

The nation's capital got used to Southerners kicking up dust a long time ago as when the colonies were trying to put 13 eggs in one basket. But for the most part, these southerners took it kind of slow and easy. There always was enough huffing and puffing before the big breeze to give fair warning.

Wilson Wyatt isn't like that. He blew into town a month or so ago and he's still blowing a gale which has his staff and a score of committee gasping—and already has blown the roof off a lot of controversies.

That doesn't bother Wyatt a bit. What he's trying to do is put a few million roots over the heads of America's houseless in the shortest possible time—at least 2,500,000 units in the next two years.

Almost everybody says that's impossible. But there are a few who say the Kentucky tom; he will achieve if he doesn't brag, himself, his staff and others into utter exhaustion first.

From the day Wyatt hit Washington he has out-outraced his own boss, President Truman, who is just about the champion confederer of all times. Having only a mayor's localized knowledge of housing problems, the new expediter set out to pass his national housing post-graduate tests in about five weeks.

Starting his office work around 9 or 9:30 a. m., the genial ex-mayor of Louisville has been working until midnight or even 5 a. m., exclusive of homework. There is the record of one conference that started at 2 p. m. and went through until 5 the next morning, with only time out to munch food that was laid on the conference table. Less than five hours later, the Kentuckian was back at his desk, as fresh as a new budding sprig of mint.

Until he announced his program, Wyatt, ordinarily a fairly talkative fellow, didn't do much but study and listen. If there's any governmental agency or industrial group having anything to do with housing or the materials or labor that go into construction that Wyatt hasn't listened to it's because it hasn't had any representative in Wash-

Unkindest Cut

REC MANNING

In 1941, Wyatt, then 37 years old, tossed aside his prosperous corporation law practice to take over the mayor's office in the city of Bourbon, fine houses and good, easy-going living.

What happened to Louisville is what happened to a lot of important industrial cities during the war years. It threatened weekly to burst out at the seams. The boys from Louisville here tell me it would have, too, if it hadn't been for Mayor W. W. Wyatt and His Program.

Perhaps a dozen local unions had settled their wage demands for increases of 71-2 to 20 cents an hour; some were still bargaining with their employers; the negotiations of others had broken down.

It was then that the 17 local unions, which already by law had given the government 30-day notice of intention to strike, decided to strike March 7 at 6 a. m. in each locality if they had not reached a settlement.

The 17 also agreed that not would close a deal until all 17 had reached agreement although this didn't mean, so the federation says, that all 17 would demand the same increase.

Then the remaining 34 agreed to support the strikers. Some of those 34 couldn't go on strike because they hadn't had 30-day notice, or had accepted a settlement which prevented a strike.

The wage dispute the most publicity now is that of the long distance operators—their union is called the Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers—who demanded a 16-2 cents an hour more from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The company offered 15 cents.

The union has operators in 42 states. It's a big union. Already one in the group of 18 is the Association of Communication Equipment Workers with members in 48 states. So a strike by only those two of the 17 which called a strike for tomorrow would affect telephone service in 48 states.

The World Today.

(Continued From Page One) Swiss suffered a great defeat in the battle of Margnana at the hands of the French and withdrew from international politics. Finally the Congress of Vienna in 1815 recognized Switzerland's special status as a neutral. The Swiss point out that in any event their army is built only on conscripts and consequently wouldn't resist a successful carrying out of possible sanctions under the UNO.

The Swiss felt that the world organization should recognize that their country occupies a unique position. They say that the UNO is rigid in its structure and thus their claim could be considered. It is suggested that perhaps a start could be made by accepting Switzerland in cases outside the military and political, that is, in such fields as the social, humanitarian and economic.

This, of course, would involve the establishment of a precedent by UNO and the outcome therefore will be awaited with the deepest interest, especially by other nations which might like to follow a similar course.

4. Published reports from Dairen that Russian troops were deporting Japanese forces to Siberia for use in labor battalions.

5. A Soviet announcement that the Kuriles, strategic chain of islands across the entrance to the Sea of Okhotsk, and Southern Sakhalin, have been incorporated into Russia on the strength of a Yalta agreement but without ratification by the United Nations.

Churchill spoke at Fulton, Mo., yesterday as a private citizen. But the fact that he was introduced by President Truman lent perhaps even more importance to his words than if they had been voiced on the floor of Commons in Churchill's role of leader of his Majesty's government's foreign opposition.

There was little disposition here to believe that Churchill's speech would provoke any official action on the proposal for a strong Anglo-American military alliance—either now or again.

Instead it was generally believed that the United States will pursue a policy of calling the world's attention to actions it deems in violation of the United Nations Charter.

Railroads . . . (Continued From Page One) The announcement by Peterson was followed by reports from various cities in all sections of the country that local brotherhood officials had received notice of the strike call. In Knoxville, Tenn., J. M. F. Scott, Knoxville chairman of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, disclosed a list of railroads affected by the strike orders.

The list included all of the country's major lines as well as feeder roads and was divided into four groups, calling for stoppage on specified lines on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

"UNBLOCK" your DIGESTIVE TRACT

And Stop Dosing Your Stomach With Soda and Alkalizers

Don't expect to get real relief from headache, sour stomach, gas and bad breath by taking soda and other alkalizers if the true cause of your trouble is indigestion.

In this case, your real trouble is not in the stomach at all. But in the intestinal tract where 80% of your food is digested. And when it gets blocked it fails to digest properly.

What you want for real relief is not soda or an alkalizer—but something to "unblock" your intestinal tract. Something to clean it out effectively—help Nature get back on her feet.

Get Carter's Pills right now. Take them as directed. They gently and effectively "unblock" your digestive tract. This permits your food to move along normally. Nature's own digestive juices can then reach it. You get genuine relief that makes you feel really good again.

withdraw from that vast territory, particularly from Changchun, the capital, and Mukden.

Inability of the Chinese to assume control of civil administration of Dairen, as provided in the Sino-Soviet treaty, was connected with "the general question of Manchuria." The treaty declared Dairen an open port.

Asked if the presence of Russian forces in Dairen and the exclusion of Chinese forces from that city constituted a violation of the treaty, Liu countered "does the question call for an answer?" "Yes, sir," a correspondent said. "No comment," Liu said.

Normally employing over 1,200 workers, the plant has claimed that between 60 and 70 per cent have remained at work, while the union has claimed a walkout of 1,100.

The union has sought a 45-day extension of a contract that expires April 3 to allow time for negotiations for a new contract.

The strike was called last Thursday by the local, but the following day the International ordered the workers back to their jobs, claiming the walkout was unauthorized.

President Appeals . . .

He called upon the forces of "democracy and righteousness" to make full use of their war-won freedom to save a world beset by threats of new conflicts, new terror and destruction.

Some forces of "selfishness and greed and intolerance" are again at work, Mr. Truman declared that the great situations demanding "moral and spiritual awakening in the life of the individual and in the councils of the world."

"There is no problem on this earth tough enough to withstand the flame of a genuine renewal of religious faith," the President said. "And some of the problems of today will yield or nothing less than that kind of revival."

"If the world is long to survive the gigantic power which man has acquired through atomic energy, must be matched by spiritual strength of greater magnitude. All mankind now stands in the doorway to destruction—or upon the threshold of the greatest age in history. Only a high moral code can master this new power of the universe and develop it for the common good." Mr. Truman included in his address an appeal for food sharing "to save the starving millions in Europe and Asia and Africa."

He said America's churches—Protestant and Catholic and the Jewish synagogue—bound together in the American "unity of brotherhood," must provide the "shock forces" to accomplish the "spiritual awakening" necessary to substitute "decency and reason and brotherhood for the rule of force in the government of man."

Unless the church forces provide the spiritual awakening in this atomic age, the President continued, "we are headed for the disaster we would deserve."

"The spiritual welfare of our people of tomorrow is going to depend on the kind of home life which our nation has today."

Armed guards appeared disturbed at the presence of a truck-load of correspondents, so no questions were asked.

The newsmen visited a rubber plant where only broken walls twisted pipes and debris remained. The Chinese guide said the Russians took delight in setting off demolition charges after carrying off what they wanted. Other Chinese have charged the Russians demolished stripped factories to make them appear to have been war-damaged.

One of Manchuria's largest weaving and dyeing plants was stripped of all spindles, motors and dye vats.

Women Needed For Helping Veterans

Help of women of World War II families to carry on the work of the American Legion Auxiliary for World War II veterans is needed by Pitt County Unit of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Arthur B. Corey, Rehabilitation chairman, stated today as the Unit continued enrollment of members for 1946.

"Welfare of disabled veterans always has been a first interest of the American Legion Auxiliary," said Mrs. Corey. "They are the comrades of our sons, husbands, fathers and brothers, and they have sacrificed health and strength in defense of our country. We feel it to be our responsibility to help them and their families in every way we can.

"After the first World War the condition of the disabled was deplorable. The Auxiliary worked with the Legion to secure adequate hospital care and just compensation for them, and to help them get started in life after they were able to leave the hospitals. This work for the disabled of World War I continued to be a major activity of the Auxiliary, increasing as more veterans became disabled as a result of war service.

"Now we have the disabled veterans of World War II, more than a million of them who need the same type of aid. With the help of the women of World War II families who are now coming into our organization, we are expanding our rehabilitation program to include them all. The activity has strong appeal to these women and because of their closeness to the veterans of this war, they can give to the work the understanding and sympathy so necessary to its success."

The Pitt County Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary is now inviting into its membership all mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of World War II veterans who have joined the American Legion, those of persons who died in the service, and women who themselves are veterans of the war. The enrollment of those eligible through World War II is being continued as in previous years.

DAR Holding Meet In Charlotte Today

Charlotte, N. C., March 6—(AP) North Carolina Daughters of the American Revolution opened their 35-day forty-sixth annual convention here today.

Daughters of Colonial Wars, Daughters of 1812 and Daughters of the American Colonists held separate meetings preliminary to the general convention.

Feature of the meeting will be the banquet tonight, at which Mrs. Stanley T. Manlove of Newburgh, N. Y., recording secretary general, will make the principal address.

A treasury citation for the DAR's work in selling war bonds will be presented, and the winner of a good citizenship pilgrimage contest will receive a $100 war bond.

Landmark Passes In March Of Time

By CHESTER WALSH
James Balafas, who came to the United States from Greece in 1920 and opened a cafe on Dickinson Avenue, next to where the People's Bakery is located, was in business in the tobacco section of Greenville for more than a quarter of a century. In 1929 he moved from the old location to the other side of the avenue and operated the Busy Bee Cafe and hotel until February 15, when he closed the place and stored his fixtures. In the march of time the building changed hands recently and the new owner wanted to use the Busy Bee building for a furniture store. Balafas has not found a new location.

Balafas knows thousands of farmers who sold tobacco in Greenville. He knew innumerable tourists who stopped at his place on the way through the city. When the paved highways were built in the 1920s and motor trucking of freight got into full swing, Balafas' Busy Bee Cafe and hotel was the stopping place for drivers of trucks from all parts of the country. His place was headquarters for tobaccoists and farmers.

Reminiscing today while talking to a reporter, Jim Balafas revealed that he has a store of information and pleasant recollections of that period from 1920 until now, when the Greenville tobacco market grew and expanded beyond early expectations. Many of those in the tobacco colony have expressed the hope that he will find a new location and go back into business. He watched the passing parade and saw Greenville grow, "but," he said, "it's just beginning to get into its stride—watch Greenville five years from now."

In the annex of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church a dramatization of Louisa M. Alcott's novel "Little Women" will be given March 7, 8, 9 at 8 p. m. by the Wesley Foundation Players. The cast is as follows: Jo, Mary Taylor; Amy, Jean Chaplin; Meg, Kay Mann; Beth, Pearl Arnold; Marmee, Dorothy Lewis; Mr. March, Gene Gurganus; Laurie, Ralph Gurganus; John Brooke, Paul Craver; Prof. Bhaer, Otis Peelle; and Aunt March, Janet Rose. The cast was selected from the members of the Wesley Foundation of E. C. T. C.

Special costumes, scenery, and music give the quaintness and charm of the 1860's that belongs with "Little Women." The cast and various committees are confident that you will get a good performance. James Warren of Greenville and Miss Mamie Chandler, the Methodist student director have directed the production. Warren was a student of dramatics at E. C. T. LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED—DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got INNER-AID and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Greenville.

Choral Groups Give Recital At Assembly

The Women's Chorus and the College Chorus of East Carolina Teachers College appeared in a song recital at student assembly at the college on Tuesday, March 5, and pleased a large audience with a varied and well chosen program.

Soloists for the occasion were Mary Blane Justus of Norfolk, Va., and Josephine Gibson of Wilmington. Miss Justus sang "The China Figure" by Leon; and Miss Gibson, "All The Things You Are," by Jerome Kern.

The two choral groups, including about 80 students and directed by Dr. Karl V. Gilbert and Dan E. Vornholt of the faculty, included among their selections Handel's "Largo," Franck's arrangement of Psalm 150, and a group of folk songs.

G. R. Whitehurst, 73, Dies At Bethel Home

George Robert Whitehurst, 73, died at his home in Bethel at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon after suffering a heart attack a few hours earlier. Funeral services will be conducted at the Methodist Church in Bethel at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon by the pastor, the Rev. W. M. Howard, and burial will be in the Bethel cemetery.

Mr. Whitehurst, son of the late James and Bettie Manning Whitehurst, spent all his life in Bethel.

He was a retired farmer and a member of the Bethel Methodist Church. He was married to Miss Hettie L. Bryan of Pitt County in 1902, and she died in 1922. Surviving this union are a son, Robert B. Whitehurst of Richmond, Va.; four daughters, Miss Willie Whitehurst of Bethel, Mrs. Robert J. Ray of Raleigh, and Mrs. W. H. Andrews and Mrs. R. S. Whitehurst of Bethel and 5 grandchildren.

Mr. Whitehurst was married to Mrs. Lucy Jones Manning in 1935, and she survives. Other survivors are four brothers, Ed Whitehurst of Florida, L. P. and David Whitehurst of Hobsgood, and Z. V. Whitehurst of Robersonville, and three step-children, B. C. Manning of Greenville, Mrs. E. F. Johnson of Ayden, and William D. Manning of Bethel.

PENNEY'S

It's a Big Evening... Have a Coke

... time out for the friendly pause

"Snacks at our house" always rings the bell. No matter what the hour—if there's a bit of home cooking in the cupboard—and Coca-Cola in the icebox—the gang can look forward to a treat. Have a Coke is a perfect way to climax a happy occasion and say, This has certainly been a date to remember.

Serve Coca-Cola at home

Hog Market

Raleigh, March 6—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog markets active and steady with tops of 14.45 at Clinton and Rocky Mount and 14.90 at Richmond.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, March 6—(AP)—(NCDA)—Poultry and egg markets about steady.

Raleigh—U. S. grade A, large, 6. Fryers and broilers 22 to 25, hens, 20 to 23.

Washington—U. S. grade A, large, average, 39. Broilers and fryers, 27 to 28. Dressed poultry market firm. Broilers and fryers two lbs. and under 34 to 35.

New York Cotton

New York, March 6—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 50 cents to $1.55 a bale lower.

Futures experienced another sinking spell today on a flurry of liquidation coming through New Orleans commission houses and locals.

Noon prices were 45 cents to $1.40 a bale lower. March 27.01, May 26.19, July 26.78.

The market recovered about half of its extreme losses for the day in the final hour on mill buying, short covering, and a little replacement demand.

Futures closed $1.25 to $2.15 a bale lower.

	Open	Last	Prv. Cl.
March	27.00	26.85	27.10
May	26.78	26.70	26.95

March	26.58	26.37	26.60

Middling spot 27.30, off 25.

Grain Market

Chicago, March 6—(AP)—May rye slipped sharply under pressure of somewhat general selling today in sympathy with a sharp dip in cotton and a 5-cent temporary setback for the grain at Winnipeg.

All deliveries of wheat, corn and barley finished again at ceilings of $1.83 1/2, $1.21 1/2, and $1.26 1/2. Oats were unchanged to 1 1/2 cents lower than yesterday's close, with the July delivery slipping 1/2 cent off the ceiling for the first time in several days. The May held at the 83-cent maximum. May rye finished the 5-cent limit under the previous finish at $2.16 1/2, with the other months remaining at top allowable quotations.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, March 6—(AP)—Stocks dawdled through an indecisive market session today that saw early losses reduced or wiped out without uncovering any extensive demand.

Dealings were slow and transfers of close to 1,000,000 shares were among the lightest in recent months.

ICKES, "SANS MEMORANDA"

Ex-Cabinet Member Appears Before Pauley Board

Washington, March 6.—(AP)—Harold L. Ickes told the Senate Naval committee today his memoranda on conversations with Edwin W. Pauley are locked up in a bank vault and could not be produced immediately for examination. The committee had ordered Ickes to produce the memoranda which he testified previously he made three or four days after Pauley offered him the rewest proposition ever made to me, assertedly in connection with an attempt to raise Democratic campaign funds in 1944. The former secretary of interior said he did not receive notification until 6:45 p. m. yesterday to appear again today as a witness on Pauley's nomination for undersecretary of navy and therefore came without notes. "I'm used to being given more or less of a bum's rush," said Ickes, resigned recently from the cabinet in a huff. "But to expect me to produce memoranda that are under time lock in a bank vault in the time given is too much. I have no memoranda."

previously he had recorded what he describes as a suggestion by Pauley that $300,000 in campaign funds could be raised from oil men if the government did not press title claims to tidelands oil areas. Pauley denied this. Senator Tydings (D-Md.), a supporter of the Pauley nomination, began the questioning of Ickes with a series of queries about a proposal Pauley and others made several years ago to construct a 100-octane gasoline refinery in Mexico City. "I don't see what that has to do with Mr. Pauley's qualifications, but I'm willing to answer the questions," Ickes commented. Tydings recalled that Max Thornburg, former State Department oil adviser, had testified that the contract was rejected because the terms were too unfavorable to Mexico. Ickes said he was in favor of the move to build a refinery in Mexico City and did everything he could to get President Roosevelt to sanction it. Tydings then introduced a series of communications furnished him by Ralph K. Davies, petroleum coordinator under the Interior Department.

CONGRESSMEN REJECT PLAN

Fear Military Coalition Would Cut Throat Of UNO

Washington, March 6.—(AP)—A number of influential Senators today rejected Winston Churchill's suggestion for a military coalition with Britain as an affront to the Russian retaliation and a "body blow" to the United Nations. Senator George (D-Ga.) told a reporter that an agreement to divert American and British armed forces, such as proposed by the former Prime Minister in his Fulton, Mo., speech yesterday, would "weaken the United Nations as a strong and dominant organization."

"I think it would be a body blow to the UNO if the world understood that the United States and Britain were entering into anything that had the aspects of an outside military coalition," George declared. Similarly, Senators Pepper (D-Fla.), Kilgore (D-W. Va.) and Taylor (D-Ide.) declared in a statement that Churchill's proposal would "cut the throat of the UNO" and destroy the unity of the war-time Big Three. Criticizing what they termed "Tory clamor in Britain and the United States which is building up war," they said "the new British-American imperialism which Mr. Churchill proposes X X X simply makes the world situation intolerable."

Senator Bell (R-Minn.) commented that such an agreement "would obviously be interpreted by Russia as directed against her—and with some justification I think." Some on Capitol Hill, like Senators Taft (R-Ohio), Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) and Maybank (D-N. C.) agreed generally with the former Prime Minister's estimate of Russian aims. Churchill described these as a desire for "indefinite expansion" of Soviet "power and dominions." None, however, saw a military alliance as the answer to that problem.

Davenport ...

(Continued From Page One) charge in two hours. Davenport was charged specifically with conspiracy to defraud on two counts in two bills of indictment, and with fraud by false pretense in the same bills. Five co-defendants in the case already had been disposed of. They are: Mrs. Sadie H. Powers, New Bern woman and mother of two children, who was Davenport's chief aide in operation of the loans business, who pleaded guilty; Wilson Boyles of Winston-Salem, who pleaded nolo contendere (no defense); Al Whorton of Oriental, J. R. Hunning and Johnny Heath, both of Greenville, all of whom received no pro actions from Clark early in the trial. C. T. Jones, who managed the Greenville office of the Big Apple, and who also was charged in the bill of indictment died before the special term of court opened Feb. 4. The jury took an hour and a half for lunch, being taken to Respass' barbecue place for a dinner under the supervision of Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson.

A WARNING Sacramento, Calif., March 6.—(AP)—Because his coffee was hot, Frank Taylor, 49, wound up in emergency hospital for lacerations of his right ear, and lower lip. This is how it happened. Taylor's coffee was so hot he choked. His false teeth turned cross-wise in his mouth and cut his lip. Unnerved, he fell off his chair, struck his head against the table and cut his ear.

Operators To ...

(Continued From Page One) given to an adjustment of rates of pay in the light of the present wage price policy of the government," the operators' negotiating committee said. The producers emphasized at a news conference that any pay increase which might result from the protracted negotiations would be reflected immediately in demands for higher prices on each ton of coal. This would have a bearing on the industry's competitive position in relation to natural gas, oil and other fuels. The operators emphasized the role they said the union might play in the industry's future by declaring they were justified in asking labor to join now in bolstering the industry's position. "There must be better team work within the mines to promote smoother and greater production per unit and there must be some guaranteed establishment of an uninterrupted flow of supply to the customers over the years," the letter asserted.

There was much congressional attention, too for Winston Churchill's speech yesterday in Fulton, Mo. A number of influential senators interpreted the former prime minister's proposal for an Anglo-American military alliance as an invitation to Soviet retaliation and a body blow to UNO's chances of success. Legislatively, the only major item was the administration's bedraggled housing bill, which a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats already have deprived of what President Truman called its very heart—a provision for $600,000,000 in subsidies to boost production of building materials.

Amendment to the housing bill, described by its sponsors as aimed against speculation and inflation, was defeated by the House today on a 167 to 41 standing vote. The proposal, by Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.), would have made the first sale of a house the ceiling price for a six months period. It stipulated that the original owner could sell his house at any price he could get but the new owner could dispose of it for no higher price within six months. Nearly a week after spending seven days on the housing bill, the House voted this afternoon to limit further debate to two more hours, in the hope of reaching a final vote on the bill by nightfall. The chamber also witnessed the start of a fresh drive to force speedy congressional action on the nation's future policy for atomic energy. The Military Committee was behind it, with eyes on the atomic bill sponsored by Chairman May (D-Ky.). Approved by the committee last November, the measure has been stalled in getting to the floor and the committee majority is anxious to jar it loose. The move, however, found scant favor with dissenting committee members and one, Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.) contended that the current Canadian-Russian spy scare hysteria was a factor in efforts to rejuvenate the legislation.

"Beast Of The East" Okays Water Cure

Shanghai, March 6.—(AP)—Respectable little Isamu Ishihara, Japanese interpreter at Shanghai prison camps, today accepted responsibility for "bad things" which were "wonderful for finding out facts" from American prisoners. He was testifying in his own defense in his war crimes trial. A verdict by the five-man military commission is expected tomorrow. Ishihara, dubbed "beast of the East" by prisoners, admitted applying the "water treatment" to Wake Island Marines and other prisoners, but he added: "While the water treatment looks terrible to those who don't know it, I can say it gives temporary physical suffering but no permanent injury. It was wonderful for finding out facts."

Congress Today...

(Continued From Page One) might be mistaken. On the British loan issue, Senators Taft (R-O.) expressed the belief that Democratic supporters of the $3,750,000,000 credit may be giving too little emphasis to the best arguments for the proposal. He said these were the desire to "give Britain a start" toward reconversion, and the aim of encouraging a more peaceful association of nations. Taft made these remarks as Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson was recalled by the Senate Banking Committee for further questioning on his assertion yesterday that catastrophic trade warfare might result without the loan.

"It's a buy!—with an OIL-PLATED engine!"
You want an eye-fel of 1946 style. ... And you're taking in many an earful on chassis features. ... And you can have an OIL-PLATED engine—a wear-fighter!—by saying one mouthful. ... Just say you want Conoco Nth motor oil—because you want minimum carbon and sludge, plus fat mileage. Those gains depend largely on wear-resistance, and that's what OIL-PLATING is for. Here is how it works ... In any make of new car—or equally well in your old car—OIL-PLATING will make an addition to inner engine surfaces. That's where it's fastened durably—across the path of wear—by Conoco Nth oil's magnet-like action. This power to OIL-PLATE and protect comes from the added Conoco Nth ingredient. It will add to the safety of your new car investment. ... It will add to your veteran car's chances! ... And the cost it adds is a few cents! Get your correct grade of Conoco Nth oil for Spring; see Your Conoco Mileage Merchant. Continental Oil Company

Cafe Owners Donate Receipts Red Cross

By CHESTER WALSH The Dixie Lunch, 127 East Fifth street, was crowded at lunch time today with friends of the American Red Cross. Manager Paul Nixon for the fifth consecutive year, donated the cafe's entire day's receipts from 10 a. m. to closing time tonight, to the Pitt County Chapter of the Red Cross, Chairman John G. Fleming announced.

Women of the Red Cross, attired as Red Cross nurses, were serving as cashiers and welcoming the patrons. A Red Cross flag was flying in the breeze out front. Red Cross day at the cafe each year is a pleasant event, hundreds of persons visiting the place to eat and share in helping the Red Cross.

Tonight at 10 o'clock Manager Paul Nixon will empty the cash register drawer on a table. Red Cross workers will count it, turn it over to Chairman Fleming and record in the "book of good deeds" the names of the Dixie Lunch, Manager Paul Nixon and the others there.

Gay Comedy Earns Favorable Response

"Personal Appearance," an amusing comedy of a beautiful but erratic movie star who stops over night at a tourist home and comes near wrecking the lives of two young lovers, was successfully presented on Tuesday evening, March 5 by the Senior Class of East Carolina Teachers College. A second performance will be given tonight in the Austin Auditorium at 8:00 o'clock.

Henrietta Cooper of Wallace, as Carol Arden, temperamental film actress, headed the cast of the play. The romantic leads were well taken by Elna Powell of Denton and Robert Musselwhite of Greenville. Katie Earle Owen of Roseboro, as a shrewd old lady; Jessie Love Carter of Fayetteville, as a selfish mother of patrician tastes but slender means; Francelle Barden of Magnolia, as a movie-struck bobby-soxer; Mary Whitehurst of Bethel, as a maid; A. E. Manning of Jamesville, as a long-suffering publicity agent; and Jerome Worsley of Greenville, as a chauffeur, completed the case.

The setting of the play was designed and executed by a committee of seniors, including Henrietta Cooper, Mary Alice Charlton of Raleigh, Ann Thompson of Elizabethtown and Doris Cobb of LaGrange. Attractive souvenir programs including pictures of the cast, were prepared under the direction of Elizabeth Thomas of Coneto.

Working with Mrs. John A. Collins, Jr. of Greenville, director of the play, was a competent staff made up of Sarah Moore of Greenville, assistant director, Josephine Gibson of Wilmington, Martha Jefferson of Fountain, and Joy Flanagan of Greenville.

The young actors merited the interest shown by the audience and expressed an enthusiastic applause during acts and after the play.

Navy Nearing Its Peacetime Quota

The navy is fast approaching its peacetime strength of 558,000, including 58,000 officers and 500,000 enlisted personnel, says Chief Gunner's Mate B. F. Parrish, recruiting officer in charge of the New Bern Recruiting Station, in urging all young men between the ages of 17 and 31 to visit the New Bern station without delay if they are interested in first enlistment or in reenlistment.

Chief Parrish says that it is logical that a discharged veteran prefers to remain in a civilian status for the entire 90-day period. Records maintained at the New Bern Navy Recruiting Station indicate, however, that the majority of veterans reenlisting in the regular navy do so on an average of 35 to 60 days after discharge.

Had the men who apply for re-enlistment from 35 to 60 days after discharge they would have been eligible for 30 days reenlistment leave with full pay. The mistake of the average veteran is in the thought that he can put up with 90 days of inactivity, says Chief Parrish. Based on statistics of the New Bern station, 60 days or less will be his limit.
