Govm't Wage Policy Attacked

American Federation Of Labor President William Green Flays Administration's Wage-Price and Labor Policies; Officials Fear AFL-CIO Conflict Is Ahead

By MAX HALL. Washington, March 15.—(AP)—With the postwar wave of CIO states subsiding, the rival AFL has moved into the center of the labor picture with two developments.

1. AFL President William Green, often conservative in his utterances, lashed out in a vigorous, jabbing attack on administration wage-price and labor policies.

2. AFL Vice-President John L. Lewis, boss of the United Mine Workers, finds himself in more of a key position than ever in his wage negotiations now going on with soft coal mine owners.

Green called for a new wage-price policy to be drafted with labor, industry and agriculture assistance and said it should be in effect only for one year.

Finally, he asserted, "I urge with all the emphasis at my command that the government should not..."

Indian Leader Gives Views On Iran Fate

Bombay, March 15.—(AP)—Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, leader of India's Congress Party, told reporters today that "Indian opinion as a whole will strongly resent any aggression on Iran or Turkey by any power."

Declaring in an interview that the big powers are continuing their old imperialist game which already has led to two wars, Nehru said, "It appears that in Iran there is a continuation of the old contest for oil by rival powers. Iran has become a plaything of these rival powers and there is much concern in India about Iran's fate."

WAGE BILL IS MEETING SOME OPPOSITION

Sixty-Five Cent Minimum Wage Bill Opposed By Southern Senators

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK. Washington, March 15.—(AP)—Senate leaders today found themselves minus sufficient support to pass the administration's 65-cent minimum wage bill intact.

Senator Smith (R-N.J.), who voted against the measure in the Labor Committee, told reporters he was more concerned over the proposed expansion of coverage than over increasing the statutory minimum wage from 40 to 65 cents an hour.

Similarly, Senator Johnston (D-SC) said he "might not object" to 65 cents if certain other amendments were adopted.

As debate reached its second day, the leadership indicated it would seek to postpone votes on any amendments until the situation is clarified by week-end conferences.

CHOICE OPEN FOR INDIANS

Attlee Promises Aid If India Asks Complete Freedom

London, March 15.—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee told the House of Commons today that if India chooses full independence from Britain "in our view she has the right to do so."

"It will be for us to help to make the transition as free and easy as possible," he declared during debate on the mission of three cabinet members who will go to India shortly to take up again the problem of self-government for India.

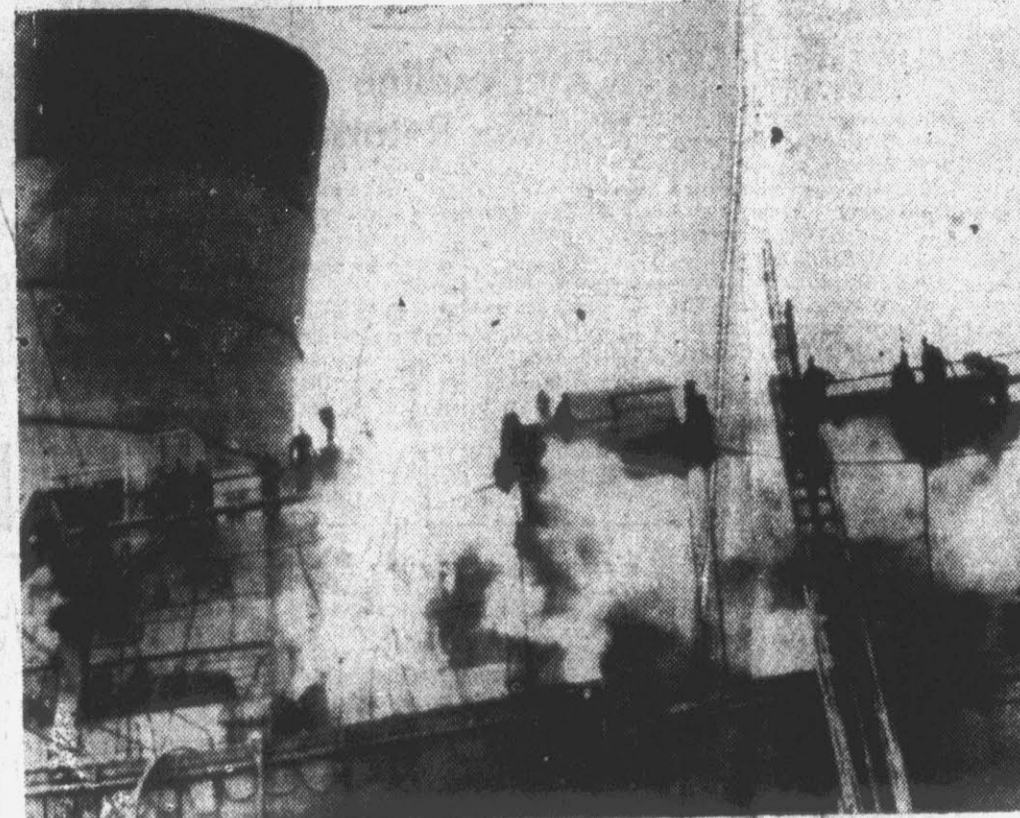

The WORLD TODAY

AP World Traveler

Vienna, March 15.—This little state of Austria is on a mighty tough spot, for her geographical position makes her a pawn in the great and dangerous readjustment of balance of power which is going on in Europe.

That is a personal tragedy for Austria. But for the rest of the world it is—or should be—a sharp reminder that the remodeling of Europe and Asia constitutes a peril to international peace.

Truman Promises Full Aid To UNRRA Works

Atlantic City, March 15.—(AP)—President Truman halting UNRRA's work as evidence that "cooperation for peaceful ends is possible," pledged today that America's full aid would be mustered to feed the starving millions of areas freed from war—but not from hunger.

Tersely, he declared in a poignant message to UNRRA's fourth international council that "in this country, our efforts are now solidly behind an emergency food economy program intended to release as large as possible a proportion of our food supplies for export to the starving peoples of the world."

Then he added: "As to the great work which UNRRA has undertaken, I know of no more encouraging evidence."

Parliamentary Member Charged In Spy Case

Canadian Member of Parliament, Four Government Scientific Workers Accused of Giving Secrets To Russia

By Harry T. Montgomery. Ottawa, March 15.—(AP)—Canada accused a member of its Parliament today of violating the official secrets act and charged four government scientific workers with transmitting confidential war secrets to Russia, including details of a super-explosive known as "RDX."

Fried Rose, known as the Canadian House of Commons, was arrested after a Parliament session today and formally charged today. Rose belongs to Labor Progressive Party, which absorbed the communist party when it was banned in wartime.

The Montreal labor leader had held communist offices in Canada and had spent six months in Russia, lecturing youth groups.

State Promotes Medical Program

Thomasville, March 15.—(AP)—Your regional chairman were named here yesterday to spearhead a program providing more doctors and adequate health care for the people of North Carolina.

They are: D. Hiden Ramsey of Asheville for the west; Irving Carby of Winston-Salem for the Piedmont; James S. Picklen of Greenville for the northeast; and Judge Henry Stevens of Warsaw for the southeast.

I. G. Greer of Thomasville was elected president of the association and Lt. Col. Charles R. Jonas was named executive vice president.

James E. Lambeth, Jr., of Thomasville was elected treasurer and Victor Johnson of Pittsboro, State American Legion commander, and James W. Butler of Goldsboro, president of the State Association of Chamber of Commerce Executives, were named on the central committees.

BRITAIN SAYS TENSION DUE TO RUSSIANS

Breach of Agreement To Leave Iran Causing Much Anxiety

London, March 15.—(AP)—Britain considers that the reported Russian troop movements in Iran are a part of a "war of nerves" and attributes the tension to the Soviet breach of the agreement to withdraw from the country by last March 2.

These sources said the British take the position that one of the consequences of Soviet troops remaining in Iran is that any reports of troop movements inevitably give rise to every kind of anxiety.

IRAN'S ARMY WILL FIGHT IF NECESSARY

War Minister Says Army Ready Should Russians Menace Tehran

Tehran, March 14.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Gen. Ahmed Sepahbod Amir Ahmadi, Minister of War, said today the Iranian army was "ready to fight to the last man" if Russian troops move toward Tehran from Karaj, 20 miles northwest of here, where he said trainloads of troops and ammunition are arriving nightly.

GOVERNOR TO CONFER WITH TRUSTEE CHAIRMAN ON PAY INCREASE

Raleigh, N. C., March 15.—(AP)—Governor Cherry said today he expected Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, ex officio chairman of the trustees of East Carolina Teachers College, to confer soon with him relative to the salary of Dr. L. E. Spikes, superintendent of Burlington city schools, who was offered the E. C. T. C. presidency yesterday.

Thus far, he said, there has been no formal discussion of a salary for Spikes, who reportedly is making far more than the $6,000 which the trustees meeting yesterday that steps already had been taken to boost the president's salary, since the college was unable to obtain what it wanted in a president for less.

Governor Cherry said that during a recent meeting of trustees of the greater university, several E. C. T. C. trustees explained the difficulty in obtaining a president for $6,000. The governor said that he told them to first find the man.

The governor said he realized that if Spikes' salary was set at perhaps $10,000, it would exceed that made by presidents of other similar colleges of the state. That, he admitted, would create a problem.

Earlier, asked if he would accept the presidency if it was tendered him, Dr. Spikes said, "I'm not in a position to answer that now. The job has tremendous possibilities, but my first loyalty is to the Burlington school board." He said that his contract with the Burlington board does not expire until July, 1947.

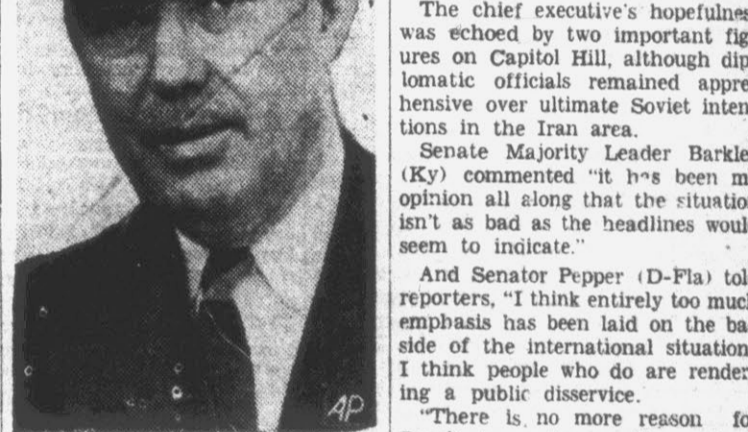

Dr. Spikes, who is 42, has been superintendent of the Burlington city schools for nearly 10 years. Prior to that, he was superintendent of...

How North Carolina Congressmen Have Voted On Recent Roll Calls

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—How North Carolina members of Congress were recorded as voting on recent roll calls:

Indicted

George L. Berry (above), former United States senator from Tennessee, and president of the International Printing Pressmen's union for the past 29 years, has been indicted in Nashville on charges of attempting to evade federal income taxes amounting to more than $19,000 for the years 1939, 1940 and 1941. (AP Photo).

Sensitive to the current drift of foreign affairs, the House leadership sought quietly meanwhile to stem the flood of members' speeches rapping Russia and other wartime allies.

The chief executive voiced his confidence of bettered world relations yesterday at a news conference in which he scotched reports of trouble between him and Secretary of State Byrnes, and pledged unlimited support to his top cabinet officer.

BOARD PLANS ETC CHANGES

In addition to electing Dr. L. Everett Spikes, superintendent of schools in Burlington, N. C., as the president of East Carolina Teachers College, the Board of Trustees at their meeting in Greenville yesterday decided that Wilson Hall on the West Campus should be used as a dormitory for men students.

Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, acting president of the college, has announced that the dormitory will be used for men during the summer session this year.

Treasury Reducing The National Debt

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—The Treasury announced today that another $275,000,000 reduction this month.

The combined reductions, accomplished by redemption of maturing certificates with cash from the treasury balance, indicated the national debt would approximate $175,000,000 next month.

This compares with the record high of $279,764,369.348.29—an average of more than $1,993 for each American—at the end of last month.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—If you're puzzled about the strike settlement between General Motors and the United Auto Workers (UAW), here is an explanation.

The union had held out for a flat increase of 19.1-2 cents an hour for the workers. It finally settled for 18.1-2 cents but its top officers said:

They really got their 19.1-2 cents because General Motors had agreed to correct inequities in its plants.

What's an inequity and how can it be corrected?

Sav General Motors has a plant in Flint, Mich., and another in Lansing, Mich., which it has. Here is an example:

Jones, working in the GM Flint plant, does the same kind of work done by Smith in the Lansing plant. But Jones makes less per hour than Smith. Why? It's just one of those things that happens in big plants, usually in some small department.

Red Oak News
The ladies of Red Oak Sunday school are undecided as to whether they would rather the men would give them a shad fry or a big chicken-dumpling dinner. Of course the chicken-dumpling dinner would be more trouble but the ladies are not worrying over that as the men are going to have to prepare and serve the supper and best of all, they will have to wash all the dishes. Yes, that is what is going to happen if the ladies keep getting farther ahead of the men. They are 21 miles ahead now on their cross-country trip and it looks now as if they may be even farther ahead when the trip ends on Easter Sunday morning, April 21st. Mr. Fenner Allen has a lot of fine passengers along with him but he still needs some.

Just received a new shipment of ladies coat suits, coats, dresses, hats and bags for Easter. These are just what you will want in color, style and price. Be smart and see these Easter garments.—H. T. Smith, 14-2 more. How about you men and boys who are not attending Sunday school anywhere coming out next Sunday morning and at least show him enough so that he can get in sight of the car driven by Mrs. B. L. Tyson who has almost fifty ladies riding with her and, by the way, they are all back-seat drivers. You know how women are.

We will have services beginning at 11 o'clock conducted by our young minister, Rev. Howard James. We also have special music and we feel sure you will enjoy next Sunday's services at Red Oak beginning right on the stroke of 10 with Sunday school and lasting about two hours. We welcome you and we need you.

The Red Oak Home Demonstration Club held a call meeting at the club house last Monday evening to discuss some business matters. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Ola Kittrell, and the roll was called and the minutes read by Mrs. F. L. Allen.

Mrs. Carl Crawford, education leader, and Mrs. L. W. Edwards, home beautification leader, both gave timely reports.
Mrs. Amos Evans gave a most enjoyable talk on "What It Takes to Make a Home."

It is well that these young mothers of our community are giving thought to such timely subjects and are taking their places as leaders in our neighborhood. They, and many others like them, can have a great influence for good on the young as well as the old.

Each club in the county has been asked to take some project for the year. The Red Oak Club has taken for its project the completion of our

Educators Plan Meeting Monday

J. H. Moore, of Farmville, president of the Northeastern District of the United Principals Association has called a dinner meeting at the Proctor Hotel, Greenville, for Monday, March 18 at 6:30 o'clock. Principals throughout the district have indicated that this meeting is very important and it appears there will be 55 or 60 in attendance. All principals are cordially invited. Those not having made reservations are asked to communicate with J. H. Moore of Farmville, as only a certain number can be accommodated in the dining room.

The committee has been very fortunate in securing Dr. D. J. Rose of Goldsboro to be the speaker. Dr. Rose is an outstanding man in this state, and is vitally interested in the educational program of North Carolina. Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Mr. Paul A. Reid of the State Board of Education have been invited to attend the meeting. Officers of the association are J.

H. Moore, Farmville, president; Jack McDuffie, Elizabeth City, vice president; Miss Agnes Fullilove, Greenville, secretary. The executive board is composed of O. E. Dowd, Greenville; G. I. Carriker, Colerain; and D. W. Gaskill of Washington. Ernest W. Morgan of Aulander is president of the Northeastern District of the North Carolina Education Association and Mr. John T. Biggers of Winterville is vice president.

Today Deadline For Tax Returns

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—Millions of Americans—possibly 20,000,000 or more—must file tax returns by midnight tonight or face penalties.

A Revenue Bureau spokesman hazarded a rough guess that hardly more than half the approximately 50,000,000 individuals who must file returns on 1945 income did so before today.

Of those who did, however, 7,500,000 already have received refunds totalling more than $300,000,000.

an average of $40 each—the bureau said, promising all refunds will be paid by July 4.
A minority of those yet to file before the midnight deadline—perhaps a fifth of them—must also file estimates of 1946 income. In general, these are:
1. Persons earning more than $5,000 in wages annually.
2. Wage earners getting more than $100 in income from other sources.
3. Non-wage earners earning over $500 a year, who do not have taxes deducted under the withholding act.

College Planning Award of Trophy

Plans for awarding a trophy in memory of John B. Christenbury former coach at East Carolina Teachers College, to an outstanding athlete at the college have been completed. Christenbury, a lieutenant in the Navy, lost his life in the Port Chicago explosion in California in July, 1944.

The trophy will be awarded at Commencement exercises in June and will go to an athlete on one of the men's teams who is outstanding in scholarship, sportsmanship, and character. A committee headed by Dr. W. S. DeLoach of the faculty will make the choice.

According to plans announced by the committee, the trophy will be a silver cup which will be kept on display at the college. Each winner will have his name engraved in it and in addition will receive a small medal which he will keep and which will indicate that he has been given the award.

Funds for the project were given by friends of Lt. Christenbury at the college and by various student organizations.

Treasury figures show all income tax collections since the start of the year to have been higher than last year running around $5,300,000,000 so far this year against around $6,000,000,000 for the corresponding period of 1945.

The Fall Guy

Chapter 16

Rush sat long after Jago left, letting his mind digest the story that Jago had told. Still, the story did hang together and was the only one yet that explained all the facts that Rush already held. His reverie was interrupted by the buzzing of the inter-office communicator and Gertrude's voice came into the room.

"Merwin's on the phone and old man Germaine's been phoning every half hour."

"I'll talk to Merwin, and phone Germaine on the other wire and tell him I'll be out after lunch."

"Hello, Merwin," Rush said.

"Hello, Rush. Hey, I'm still working on what you told me to."

"Good. What are you getting?"

"I got a couple of leads, Rush. She's made a play for a part-time job in several places but they fluffed her off."

"What did you get at Markio's?"

"Nothing, Rush. He says if you want anything from him you got to come get it personal."

"Okay, Merwin. I'll drop in on him."

"What do I do, Rush?"

"Keep at it, Merwin, and keep it clean."

"Okay, Rush."

Rush hung up and went into the outer office, hat in hand.

"I'm going out for lunch, Gertrude. After lunch I'm going to see Germaine."

He hadn't reached a decision on how far to go in reporting to Germaine when the cab drew up at the pillared entry of the Germaine home. He paid the driver and rang the bell. Horace opened the door for him.

"Mr. Germaine is expecting you, sir," Horace said.

Looking aged and worn, Germaine greeted him.

"You have my full confidence, Henry. Only tell me what is happening. The police seem to know nothing. I hope you have a different story to tell."

Rush reached a decision.

"Yes," he said, "I have a different story to tell you. I can't tell you yet who killed your son. I can tell you why he was killed; I could name a number of people, one of whom I'm sure held the knife that killed Paul. I won't name them. When the time comes I'll name the right person and the police can take over from there."

"Agreed, agreed," Germaine said.

"But tell me at once, why was my son murdered?"

"Your son was killed because of something the murderer hoped to find in his possession."

"What, in God's name? What could he have had that was valuable enough to murder for?"

"A pair of almost priceless emeralds."

Disbelief and disappointment fought in Germaine's face.

"Emeralds. I am afraid that is cut of the question, Henry. Where could he have gotten possession of emeralds of any value?"

"Your son's friend whom he visited in San Francisco recently, had somehow managed to bring a pair of valuable emeralds into this country. He knew that he was dying and he was afraid for their safety, so he gave them to your son. The explosion, Mr. Germaine, was no accident. It was purposely set to cover the theft of the emeralds by a group of men who let nothing stand in the way of acquiring something they want. They wanted the emeralds your son had, so he was murdered."

"Then why not arrest them as a group?"

"That is just what I don't want to do, Mr. Germaine."

"In heaven's name, why? On the face of it, they seem collectively

"The situation is a good deal more complicated than that. You see there is more than one group involved, or rather a group and an individual. At this moment it would be impossible to settle actual guilt on any one of them. Arrest them all and the chances are you'll lose them all."

Germaine looked at Rush grimly. "I'm paying you to know your business, Henry. I'll continue to believe that my trust in you is justified. But heaven-help you if the guilty one escapes."

"Before I leave," Rush said, "there are several things I'd like to clean up."

"Yes?" said Germaine.

"First, have you any idea where Paul might have hidden the emeralds?"

Germaine wrinkled his brow in thought. "I'm continually surprised and sorrowed, Henry, at how little I now about my son. I can only think of the obvious places. His room, a deposit box, some such place."

Rush hesitated. "I seem to spend my visits here searching your house," he said. "But may I search Paul's room?"

Germaine rang for Horace and the ancient butler showed Rush to the second floor door of Paul Germaine's room.

In the short half hour he spent in Paul Germaine's room he exhausted every possible hiding place short of a secret panel, and even that he insured against by a circuit of the walls and floor, tapping for a hollow space. He found absolutely nothing. He hadn't, in fact, expected to find anything. He had no idea where the younger Germaine had hidden his treasure, but he had a feeling it would be in a less expected place than his own room.

His search completed, Rush left with only a word through the door to Germaine that his labor had been fruitless. Rather than call a cab he walked the distance to the Drive, thinking as he went. He had walked only a matter of steps on the Drive before a cruising cab hove alongside and Rush got in, giving the address of Barney's.

It was too late even to be fashionable when he decided to find dinner. He dived over that meal, reading the paper and finding in a half column on page two that the police knew nothing they hadn't known the afternoon before. It was after ten o'clock when he emerged from the restaurant and gave a cabbie the West Side address of Markio's.

Fishermen Throw Big Catch Back Into Sea

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15—(AP)—Fishermen here today were faced with the heartbreaking task of throwing the big ones back.

The "big ones" were 27 killer whales, weighing up to two tons each, that were stranded on the Gulf beaches south of here yesterday. Seafarers say the whales will have to be towed to deep water before sharks are attracted to the vicinity.

Three of the huge whales were captured alive by veteran fishermen and towed by a boat to a dock.

where a 3,000 pounder 15 feet long was hoisted out of the water by 50 men with two trucks.

Rube Allyn, veteran St. Petersburg angler, said he and other men drowned one whale by pulling it backward with a motorboat. He said the whales ranged in length from 15 to 35 feet.

Fishing guides, who said whales hadn't appeared here in 35 years, guessed one of the big mammals came in shore to escape sharks and the rest followed.

MINISTER FELT HIS DAYS SHORT; LAUDS RETONGA

Rev. Grubb Weighed Only 100 Lbs. And Needed Help To Get From His Chair To His Bed. Regains Weight; Feels Better And Stronger Than In Years.

REV. H. M. GRUBB

Scores of ministers of the gospel have given Retonga their strong and voluntary public endorsement and among the most grateful is Rev. H. M. Grubb, 406 W. Tennessee Avenue, Knoxville, Tenn., a minister of the Missionary Baptist Church for forty years, and he is widely known throughout East Tennessee. Speaking of his experience with Retonga, Rev. Grubb gratefully stated:

"A long and severe illness left me weighing only one hundred pounds, and I seemed unable to regain my strength. My appetite was gone, and what little I managed to eat brought on severe gas pains in my stomach. I had to take strong laxatives. I felt high-strung and got little refreshing sleep. My strength was so far gone that I had to have help to get from my chair to my bed and I thought I was not long for this world. Retonga soon relieved all this distress and I regained all the thirty pounds my illness had cost me. Since then I have taken a bottle or two of Retonga occasionally and I don't believe I have felt better in ten years than I feel now. My gratitude to Retonga is unbounded. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at Bissette's Drug Store—Adv.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

THE DIVINE GUIDE
Some people are visiting a planetarium for the first time. They are late. The doors are closed and the lecture has begun. An usher assures them that if they will follow him, he will show them to a seat. They do so; and as they are seated, the glory of God's heavens is revealed on the dome above them.

This is a parable of the love and guidance of God. Life is so often dark. We peer into the future, as these visitors to the planetarium peered through the doors into the dark chamber. We feel we can never find our way. Then comes that great Usher, even God Himself, telling us that if we will just follow, He will lead us where we want to go.

And when we trust Him, what is revealed to us? "The heavens declare the glory of God, and His firmament showeth His handiwork." The hand of the Father has led us and pointed us to His glory in the heavens.

But we must trust the Guiding Hand to lead us through the darkness and point our eyes and our hearts to the stars. And never more than in these days when the foundations of the world have been shaken, and when people the world over are grieving over losses that can never be retrieved.

A Good Choice

We do not personally know Dr. L. E. Spikes but, judging from all reports the trustees of East Carolina Teachers College acted wisely yesterday in unanimously electing him permanent president of the institution. We hope that Dr. Spikes can see his way clear to accept the post. Now if our people, both on and off the campus, will try to forget the unfortunate occurrences of the past and get behind the college administration, the institution will soon be restored to its proper place of leadership among the teachers colleges of the nation.

He Will Need Your Help

For several weeks the report has been prevalent that Robert Lee Humber would seek the Democratic nomination as Congressman from the First North Carolina District and his friends were pleased that yesterday he publicly announced that he had decided to enter the contest. We know of no better qualified man for the post and his presence in Congress would be a distinct credit to his district, state and the nation but it must be remembered that wishing a man good luck cannot alone elect him. It is the people of this county and district who must get behind him and work untiringly in his behalf from now until the voting booths close on May 25th.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—In the hurly-burly of the UNO Assembly meeting in London with Russia and England potshotting each other, little attention was given to the fact that the UNO set up a new International Court of Justice.

In a few weeks now, a suave, graying career diplomat will leave with his family for The Hague as one of the 15 judges of the new court. He is Green H. Hackworth, considered the State Department's foremost authority on international law.

The new court will be almost a duplicate of the World Court of the League of Nations. Although the United States was not a member of that court, Americans did sit on the court, and Charles Evans Hughes, when he was Secretary of State, appointed Hackworth as one of the judges.

In his career, Hackworth has represented the United States in a score of international conferences, including the historic San Francisco session where UNO was born.

The new court, like the old one, is a big favorite with the smaller nations and one case already has been filed before it, the century-old border dispute between Guatemala and British Honduras.

The court will handle only cases submitted to it voluntarily by two disputing nations; the nations previously having agreed to abide by the decision of the court.

The big nations rarely took major disputes to the old court, but the smaller ones found it much easier than going to war. Many treaties were signed with a clause that any differences arising out of them would be taken to the World Court.

Eventually all of the 15 judges will sit on the court, and the court started five of the present ones are to serve for three years, the for six and five for nine. Judge Hackworth drew straws for his length of term. He drew the middle-length one—six years.

Not since V-J Day has so much midnight oil been burned at the White House as during those conferences which led to the new wage-price policy. Some of the sessions with President Truman leading the discussions lasted until after 2 a. m. Every time a vacation occurs here in a major appointive post, the name of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas is kicked around by the forecasters.

The vacancy that occurred when Harold L. Ickes stepped out of the Department of Interior was no exception. A number of political predictors had the Justice as good as in. Some said flatly that he had the backing of Democratic National Committee Chairman Robert Hannegan and other high party leaders.

There's a good reason. Top party officials would be very happy to see Justice Douglas in a post where he would have freedom to air his political views. What they are after is an opportunity to groom some young blood (Douglas is only 48) for future Presidential races.

The party's only two seriously considered Presidential possibilities now are President Truman for reelection and Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace. Where will that leave the party in 1952?

will have to be shouldered by UNRRA which takes over in Austria the first of next month.

tion, competent persons would be in a position to design a plant to produce the material in quantity," the commission said. Boyer was accused of transmitting his secrets early in 1942 and in 1944, while Russia and Canada were allied in the death struggle against Germany.

Four persons previously accused were minor governmental workers, who were charged with working with the Moscow-directed espionage ring to obtain data on the atomic bomb, radar, electronics and the disposition of numerous United States corps and divisions which lately had fought the Germans. Five persons, other than the eight already named, still are under investigation.

"Some witnesses holding strategic positions have made the significant statement, under oath, that they had a loyalty which took priority over the loyalty owed by them to their own country and, for that reason, they acted as they did and would have continued so to act had they not been detected," the commission said.

Wage Policy . . .

ment that the government eliminate itself from the sphere of labor-management relations except for offering a strengthened conciliation service to both parties, and allow labor and industry to work out their problems through the proper methods of collective bargaining and voluntary arbitration."

The AFL in its own publications, has contended that the CIO deliberately forced the government to intervene in labor-management relations and thus made collective bargaining difficult.

Some government officials are disturbed over the possibility of a intensified conflict between the AFL and CIO. A high economic official, who asked not to be named, said today that an AFL-CIO struggle is one of the most serious reconversion worries of the government.

The AFL has been pointing out that most of the big strikes—for example, in autos, steel, electric appliances and oil refining—were by CIO unions.

Here is the way CIO and AFL officials are reacting to the current economic situation: The CIO appears to be happy. The AFL is unhappy and even bitter.

CIO President Philip Murray said in a message to CIO members:

"Historians of the labor movement will record CIO's campaign for substantial wage increases for its members as the most impressive activity of the American labor movement which has so far taken place."

The AFL bitterness doesn't mean that AFL unions have had no wage increases. Late in February the AFL said in an official publication, "to date we have won wage increases averaging from 10 to 20 cents an hour and up for about 3,000,000 workers."

But the AFL is attacking what it calls government intervention in free collective bargaining and government regimentation of labor and industry. It says the CIO has fanned this intervention by making uncompromising demands and going on strike. And it declares that Mr. Truman allowed steel and other prices to rise—in order to meet the CIO demands—thus raising living costs and robbing AFL workers of part of the wage gains which they had won without any price increases.

Any CIO pleasure over the wage settlements doesn't mean that all of the CIO's demands were satisfied.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. GOLFERS IN TOURNAMENT

Greenville Players Give Wilson Close Call Wednesday

By CHESTER WALSH

The largest group of golfers to represent the Greenville Country Club in years journeyed to Wilson Wednesday to open the schedule of the Eastern Carolina Golf Association tournament. They gave the Wilson club the scare of their lives and when all the scores were in, Wilson had 38 points, Greenville, 37. Simon Moyer, Jr., was medalist for the day for Greenville, with a 78. He was followed by Hob Anderson and Billy Barnes of Wilson, who both turned in 80s, along with Dick Winchell of Greenville.

Tyson Bilbro of Greenville came through with a startling 83 to place third among the Greenville players. Although beaten by points, this was a moral victory for the Greenville golfers, as Wilson had never been beaten on their home course since the golf tournaments were started several years ago.

The next game will be played next Wednesday, March 20, with Farmville and Greenville at Greenville; Carboro at Goldsboro; Rocky Mount at Plymouth, and Wilson at Kinston.

Following are the scores of the Greenville players:

- S. Moyer 78, Winchell 80, Tyson Bilbro 82, Herbert Waldrop 83, R. Taylor 83, Allen 83, Baker 85, Ruffin 85, L. Herrin 87, H. Waldrop 88, Jack Edwards 88, C. Perkins 88, Hussey 88, B. Morton 90, Tom Smoot 90, Phelps 91, Kilgo 91, Conley 93, H. Keck 94, L. Ormond 94, Harrington 96, Warner 99, G. Vincent 101, C. Bilbro 101, Hooker 102, Corbett 102, Ernest 106, Pittman 107.

Sports

Lakeland, Fla., March 15—(AP)—For a man whose club won the world championship only five months ago and who will have a much stronger team going for him in the coming American League race, Manager Steve O'Neill of the Detroit Tigers is putting on an extremely fretful front these days.

"I don't know how this one's going to come out, he insists from behind a man-sized wedge of baseball tobacco. "We'll be better, but those Yankees and Red Sox are a whole lot better, too, and don't make the mistake of overlooking Washington."

The Tigers, except for their first round staff headed by Hal Newhouser, will bear slight resemblance to the ragged but courageous outfit which struggled through to beat the Chicago Cubs in the seventh game of the last World's Series.

The only surviving regular of that club—playing his same position—will be Eddie Mayo at second. To make way for the wealth of returning outfield talent, Hank Greenberg has been shifted back to the left field position, and Rudy York has come his way to the Red Sox. Paul Richards, the Casey veteran whose catching and timely hitting featured the '45 play-off, finds himself relegated to second string behind the returning Birdie Tebbets.

Jacksonville, Fla., March 15—(AP)—The golf ball shortage will be over by June 1, ending an era which saw pre-war pellets sell for $5 apiece, the touring pros of the winter golfing circuit agreed today.

During the scarcity, some of the top-notch money players frequently paid $60 for a dozen natural rubber balls, featuring the extra liveliness worth the difference. Slammin' Sam Sneed played the entire 72 holes of the recent $10,000 St. Petersburg Open with one ball and collected second-place money.

Denver, March 15—(AP)—Amateur basketball's world series, the National AAU Tournament, begins a seven-day stand here Sunday with a record field of 64 teams.

National AAU President W. N. Greim said the 64-team bracket would be filled this year for the first time. In the past, top-seeded teams have been awarded first-round byes. Pairings will be drawn Saturday.

Service teams expected to make a robust bid for the AAU crown, are headed by the fleet Marine force team. The Marines compiled a record of 34 consecutive victories in the Pacific.

Other service teams entered include Camp Le Jeune, N. C., and Ord Hawks, Greensboro, N. C.

New York, March 15—(AP)—It was North America against South America as the United States indoor tennis championships reached the semi-final round today with the top-seeded stars of two continents still in the running for the singles crown.

When the semi-finals open tonight at the Seventh Regiment Armory, Billy Talbert of Wilmington, Del., will match strokes with Francisco (Pancho) Secura of Guayaquil, Ecuador, and Don McNeill of Orange, N. J., will tangle with Alejo Russell, the Argentine champion from Buenos Aires.

Off yesterday's performance in the quarter-finals, McNeill and Secura ruled as favorites to go through to the finals and battle for the title vacated by Frankie Kovacs, who won in 1941, the last time the tournament was held.

McNeill was superb yesterday as he humbled young Sidney Schwartz, the National Junior Indoor champion from Brooklyn, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Secura, the master of the two-handed drive, easily disposed of such veterans as Frank Guernsey, J. Gilbert Hall and Eugene McCauley in his drive to the semi-final berth.

Talbert barely squeezed through the quarter-finals, coming from behind to trip Sidney Wood of New York former Wimbledon champion, 7-9, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Russell, top-seeded foreign star, also needed five sets to eliminate John Aser of Birmingham, Ala., the tournament dark horse who had ousted the veteran Wood Cooke, but he turned the trick, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-8, 6-2.

Miami Beach, Fla., March 15—(AP)—The once down-trodden Philadelphia Phillies are necking up. They have won five of eight exhibition games, the latest a 1 to 0 shout-out of their city rivals, the Athletics, yesterday.

NO DOUBT IT'S GOOD. Greensboro, March 15—(AP)—The U. S. collector of internal revenue here received an income tax return from a North Carolina woman showing, correctly, that she owed no tax. Accompanying it was a check made out for "No dollars and no cents," with a notation, "No tax due," in the lower left corner.

Kiwanis Club's Directors Meet

By Chester Walsh

Guy V. Smith was host at a barbecued chicken supper and "trimmings" at Nelson Hopkins Tavern, on Tar River in the Province of Bruce, last night for the officers and directors of the Kiwanis Club. President Ed Rawl presided.

Secretary Dave Moore's report indicated that the club's membership roster is at its peak and that there is now a "waiting list" for membership in the enterprising and progressive civic club.

Plans were made for holding the Kiwanis minstrel at the college in May; support for the Greenville baseball club was pledged to President Guy Smith, who is largely responsible for Greenville's having a

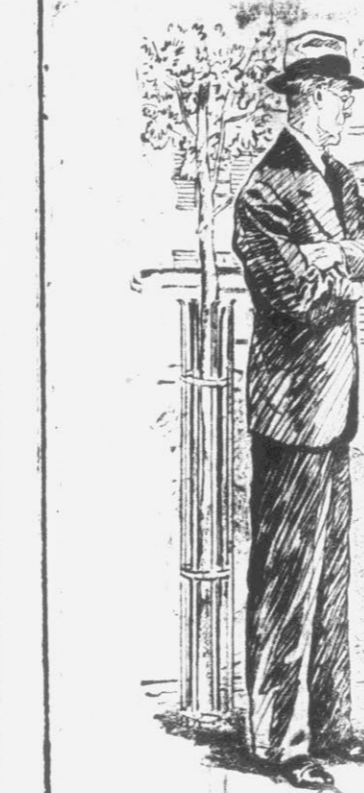

Students Facing A Housing Shortage

Another request to citizens of Greenville to rent available vacant rooms and apartments to men students enrolling at the college for the spring quarter is being made by Dean Ronald J. Slav.

Registration for the quarter's work will take place on March 20, when students will resume their work after a five-day vacation. On that date a number of ex-service men are expected to enroll at the college for the first time. As all dormitory space assigned to men has been filled, it will be necessary to find housing off the campus.

Anyone in the city who can offer a room to be rented by students is asked to call 2914 between 5:00 in the morning and 4:30 in the afternoon.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS.

TED: "Clem and I were wonderin' what you thought of that new movie about the chronic alcoholic, Judge. Understand you saw it before we did."

OLD JUDGE: "Well...it's true most of us never see a case as extreme as that in real life because they are so few and far between. But it does point out one thing... chronic alcoholics are abnormal people and we've got to change our ideas about how to help them."

CLEM: "In what way, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "We've got to realize that excessive drinkers are suffering from more than a craving for alcohol. According to psychiatrists and medical men at one of our great universities, the alcoholic is a sick person. The study of hundreds of cases shows he is suffering from some physical, social or emotional condition... just as in the case of that poor chap in the picture. Fortunately, they represent only a very small percentage of those who drink."

TED: "Is anything being done to really help these folks, Judge?"

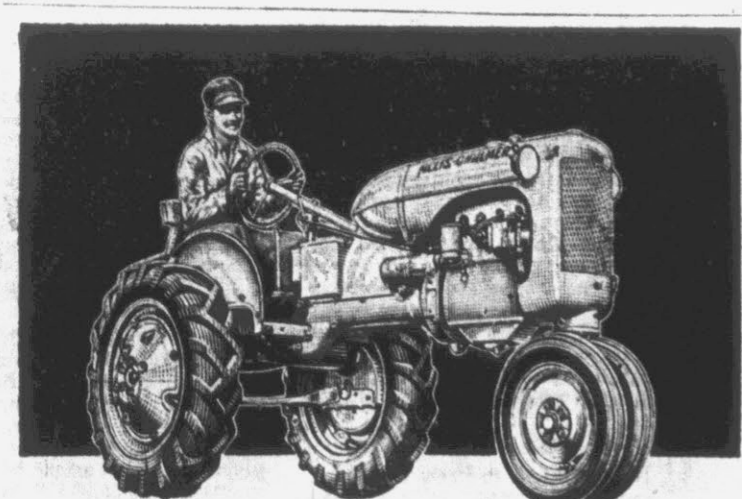

OLD JUDGE: "Yes... a great deal in clinics throughout the country. And with the cooperation of the beverage distillers who sincerely want their product used only in moderation."

ECTC Changes . . .

(Continued From Page One) Six graduate fellowships were established by the board. These will be granted to applicants for the master's degree who are approved by the president and the Graduate Council of the college and will amount to $50 awarded as a credit on college fees. Those holding the fellowships will serve as laboratory technicians or research assistants or perform some other educational service in the departments to which they are assigned. A. B. Andrews of Raleigh made a report dealing with an increase in the loan funds available at the college. Andrews suggested that approximately five per cent of the annual gross intake of the college be used on loans. It is expected that this would raise the present sum of about $24,000 used for loans to students to around $50,000. A committee made up of Henry Belk of Goldsboro, Thomas J. Hackney of Wilson and J. Herbert Waldrop of Greenville was appointed to study the question of loan funds further.

Increased fees at the college were agreed upon. Annual fees for dormitory students will be increased from $330 to $354; those for the day students, from $108 to $115.50; and tuition fees for out-of-state students from $75 to $105. A report on the state of the college for the past two years was made by Dr. McGinnis. He mentioned, among other accomplishments, the appointment of a graduate council to direct policies and carry out the program of graduate work in the college; the appointment of a director of student teaching and placement; the expansion of the health and physical education programs; the initiation of the practice of holding a joint meeting of the teachers of Pitt County, city of Greenville and the college faculty; expansion of the program of the alumni office; and the renewal of an intercollegiate athletic program.

The trustees commended Dr. McGinnis for his valuable service as temporary president, and F. D. Duncan, college treasurer, for his competent handling of loan funds. The trustees appointed April 5 at the time of its next meeting. It is expected that Dr. Spikes will be present at that time to discuss the presidency of the college with the trustees. While on the campus yesterday the trustees were entertained in the dining room of the new class room building at a luncheon prepared and served by the Junior Foods Class of the Home Economics Department under the direction of Miss Stella Cox. Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, chairman of the board, thanked the students, who were Faye Sanders of Jonesboro, Dorothy B. Jones of Snow Hill, Hazel Kirby and Ruby Lee Scott of Lenoir, and Nora Lee Hinnant of Pikeville. He also gave to them the first official announcement made at the college of the appointment of Dr. Spikes to the presidency.

He repeated an earlier statement that the nation desired "only peace" and said the Shah was "trying his utmost to maintain friendly relations with the Russians, but at the same time he is pressing for immediate evacuation of Russian troops as agreed under the 1942 treaty." The Shah, supreme commander of the Iranian army, was reported today to have postponed a Noruz (New Year) holiday trip to Isfahan "because of the threatening crisis."

According to law, Lansing, Mich. must take a census of bees every winter.

Truman Confident . . .

(Continued From Page One) the papers. An attempt was made to elicit comment from Mr. Truman on tonight's Churchill speech. He replied in effect that he didn't want to talk about this next speech—which affords Churchill an opportunity to answer Stalin's blast at the Fulton, Mo. address—and that he only knew about it from what he saw in the papers.

Where the next development may come in the fast moving play of diplomacy abroad was a subject of speculation among diplomats here. Some advanced the theory that the Russians may be planning to inspire a revolt of Kurdish tribesmen in adjoining areas of Iran, Iraq and Turkey with the aim of creating a Kurdish state in that part of the world.

Such a development might serve possible Russian interests in forcing a new government in Tehran winning concessions from Ankara and weakening Britain's hold on Iran with its rich Mosul oil fields. Officials here are considering all eventualities, including the possibility that the Iranian government itself might be unable to reopen its case against Russia when the United Nations Security Council meets in New York March 25.

They suggested Iran's internal conditions might be such by that time that its representatives would be in no position to act freely.

In that event, according to officials who cannot be identified by name, the United States itself will move to bring the case before the council again.

Britain Says . . .

(Continued from Page One) from the U. S. State Department. Reports by British representatives, he said, related primarily to the Tabriz district. Some troops, he said, had been observed going northwest from Tabriz toward a fork where they might either take the road toward the Turkish frontier or the one toward Russia.

British reports had not placed them beyond the fork, although dispatches from Tehran yesterday said they had taken the fork toward Turkey. A second body of troops, the spokesman said, was reported by British representatives to have left Tabriz toward Tehran but "the capital is a long way down the road, thus it is impossible to draw any conclusion."

"All I can say," he concluded, "is that Russian troops are in Iran and they should not be there." He said Britain would be unable to judge whether Soviet policy in the middle east is aggressive or defensive until a reply is received from the British note to Moscow asking a Russian explanation.

A dispatch from Canberra quoted high Australian government circles as stating that the British concurred with a view expressed before the Australian parliament by Herbert V. Ewart, Minister of External Affairs, that Australia regarded Russian policy as defensive.

The foreign office spokesman here, however, said he could not go beyond the public statements of foreign secretary Ernest Bevin in the United Nations Security Council and in the house of commons expressing views on Russian policy.

Bevin told Andrei Vishinsky, Russian Deputy Foreign Commissioner in the Security Council that "incessant propaganda" from Russia was stirring up trouble and he told the House of Commons he had offered Russia a 30-year extension of the Soviet-British Friendship Treaty.

He also told the House of Commons that "I believe" Vishinsky's statement (to Bevin in London) that Russia has no intention of going to war with Iran."

The doctor was graduated from Duke University (then Trinity College) in 1924, received his M. A. from Columbia University in 1937, and his Ph.D. from Peabody College in 1941. As chairman of the State Textbook Commission, Dr. Spikes has worked closely this year with Dr. Erwin, who is state superintendent of public instruction.

Wage Bill . . .

(Continued from page one) Some 3,500,000 others would be brought under it by the administration bill. These include seamen, first processors of agricultural products, and employees of chain and larger retail establishments. This means, for instance, that employees of cotton gins, now exempt, would come under it.

Southern Senators argue this would hit their farmers two ways: 1. by increasing ginning costs, and 2. by boosting the wages the farmer pays to meet higher wages in gins and like establishments.

Most of them are ready to back that argument with votes to saddle to the bill and amendment raising farm prices.

Offered by Senator Russell, (D-Ga.), it would direct that labor costs and interest charges be included when farm parity prices are figured. Its conceded effect would be to raise all farm prices.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) predicted President Truman would veto the bill if it came to him with that amendment.

"Even the administration acknowledges that is inflationary," he told reporters. Mr. Truman's own views on such a parity calculation were asked at his news conference yesterday. He replied that he would take care of such a bill when it came to him. Taft, along with most Republicans and a Southern group led by Senator Ellender (D-La.), are supporting amendments to limit an immediate price increase to 55 cents with a further increase after 18 months to 60 cents. The administration measures calls for an eventual rise after four years to 75 cents.

Want a full College Course WITH TUITION PAID?

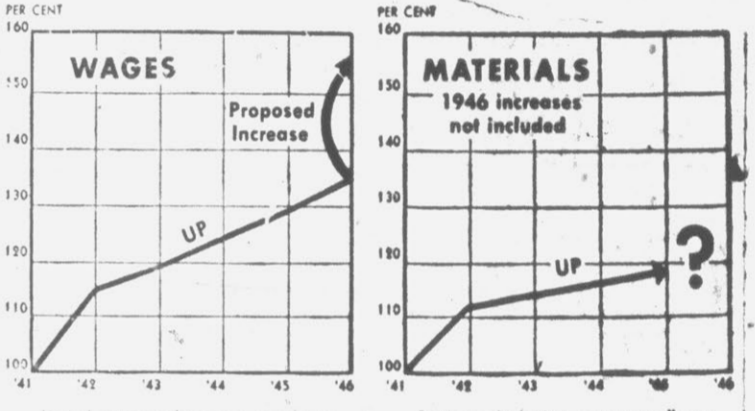

Here's important news for young men 17 and over. Under the GI Bill of Rights, if you enlist in the U. S. Army for 3 years upon your discharge you will be entitled to 48 months of education in the college, trade or business school of your own choice. Tuition up to $500 per ordinary school year will be paid. And you will receive $65 monthly living allowance—$90 if you are married. Get the facts at your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

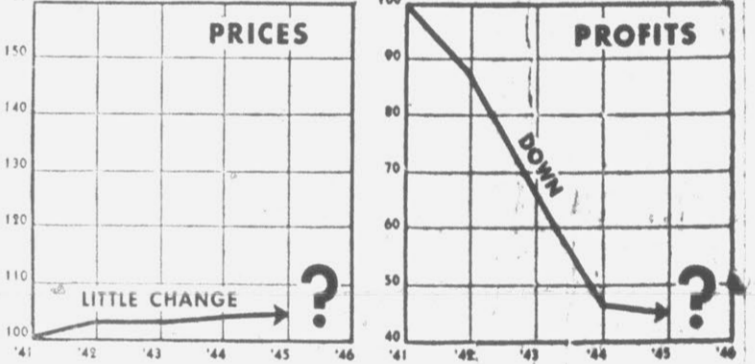

U. S. Army Recruiting Sub-Station
City Hall Greenville, N. C.

How would you CHART YOUR COURSE?

Pictured here are the records of four "life lines" of our business—four things which largely control the destiny of any business, whether it be a farm, a factory or a store. They are Wages, Materials Costs, Prices, and Profits. Suppose these were pictures of what is going on in your own affairs. How would you chart your future course from these facts?

With the proposed increase, wage rates will have risen from $0.85 1/2 per hour in 1941 to $1.33 1/2 in 1946—a gain of 56%. A weekly average would be $53.40.

By the end of 1945, prices on all commodities other than farm products and food had gone up 19.8% since 1941. Chart does not show effect of 1946 increases.

Using U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics with 1941 prices equaling 100, prices of farm machinery in 1945 were only 104.9.

Profit per dollar of sale has declined until in 1945 it was slightly less than four cents, as against 8.44 cents in 1941.

What about wages? Wages have risen steadily for five years. Before the strike which began on January 21 in ten of our plants and which has choked off nearly all farm machinery production, earnings of employees of these plants averaged $1.15 1/2 an hour, not including any overtime. The Union demanded a 34 cents per hour increase and a Government board has now recommended a general increase of 18 cents an hour, which would make average earnings $1.33 1/2 an hour. Weekly average would be $53.40.

What about materials? No one seems to know how high materials costs will go. The Government has increased steel prices as much as $12.00 a ton, with an average increase for all grades of 8.2%. Steel is the most important material we buy, but prices on other materials are also increasing.

What about prices? There has been no general increase in our prices since they were frozen by the Government in early 1942. Since then a few small increases have been allowed where particular machines were substantially changed in design.

What about profits? Risk is part of the American profit and loss system, so we do not, of course, ask either our customers or the Government to guarantee that we can be certain of profits each year. The chart tells the story of our profits during the war. Although Harvester produced more goods than ever before, it had no desire to get rich out of war, so our rate of profit has steadily gone down. What our 1946 profit will be is extremely uncertain.

What is the next step? As you can see, our present situation is that with frozen prices and declining profits, we are asked to pay higher materials costs and to make the biggest wage increase in the history of the Company. Can we do this?

Wages and materials consume all but a few cents of every dollar we take in. If our prices continue frozen, and cost of wages and materials continues to rise, obviously our Company will begin to operate at a loss at some point. The exact point at which operating at a loss would start is a matter of judgment. Government agencies and union leaders may have opinions as to where that point is. But if they turn out to be wrong, they can shrug their shoulders and say: "Well, it wasn't my responsibility. I didn't make the decision."

The management of this Company cannot and will not say that it does not gamble. It has to be sure. Continuation of our service to millions of customers, the future jobs of thousands of employees, and the safety of the investments of 39,000 stockholders depend on our making as correct a decision as is humanly possible.

What about future prices on farm machinery? The judgment of Harvester's management now is that we cannot safely make the huge wage increase recommended by the Government until the Government authorizes adequate increases in the price of farm machinery to cover the resulting increased costs.

That is not a judgment that makes us happy. The Company does not want to raise prices. We prefer to lower prices, when possible, and we know our customers prefer to have us do that. We have produced at 1942 prices, and hoped we could continue to do so. We have delayed seeking general price relief in the hope that it could be avoided. Now we are convinced that it cannot be avoided any longer. The price question must be settled. Until it is settled we do not see how we can settle the wage question. Until the wage question is settled we do not see how we can resume production and begin turning out the farm machines which we know our farmer customers need.

Because of the important stake which both farmers and city dwellers have in this controversy, we are bringing these matters to your attention. Through the cross currents of today's conditions, we are trying to chart a course that is fair to our employees, to our farmer customers, and to our stockholders.
