U. S. And Britain Announce Agreements For Settlement Of War-Time Obligations; British Debts Will Be Paid Off In Fifty Annual Installments At Two Percent Interest

Washington, March 27—(AP)—The United States and Britain today announced nine agreements for settling lend-lease and other war-time obligations, under which this country will be paid about $650,000,000 plus interest by New Year's Day 2002.

A memorandum covering the agreements was signed in Washington by Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson and the British ambassador, the Earl of Halifax.

The broad agreement on the obligations, including the fixing of the balance due the U. S. at about $650,000,000, was reached last December 6 and announced along with details of the projected $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain.

At that time, however, it was stated that "specific agreements necessary to implement these understandings, setting forth the terms in detail," were being prepared. These are covered in the 18,000-word document issued today.

The $650,000,000—like the $3,750,000,000 loan if approved by Congress—is to be repaid in 5 annual installments beginning December 31, 1951. It will draw interest at two per cent.

Of the total sum, about $118,000,000 is due for goods and services furnished—or to be furnished—Britain after V-J Day. These either had been contracted for under lend-lease or were agricultural products already allocated to Britain.

Families Will Soon Join Men Overseas

Washington, March 27—(AP)—The War Department ground out travel orders today for approximately 1,800 civilians who will join their husbands in the occupation armies.

Included are the kin of 676 officers and 24 enlisted men—all who applied for transportation of their dependents in time for this first shipment, the Department said.

Among the travelers will be 316 children ranging in age from one month to 16 years, as well as wives, parents and in-laws of the service men.

The announcement last night explained few enlisted men applied because most wished to know first their future assignments and what facilities would be available for their families. Others, it said, delayed because they were spending reenlistment furloughs at home.

French-American Air Agreement Is Signed

Washington, March 27—(AP)—A French-American air transport accord "substantially similar" to the Anglo-American Bermuda agreement was signed today in Paris, the State Department announced.

The agreement contains all the major features of the Bermuda pact, including "so-called 'fifth freedom' provisions and control of rates by the International Air Transport Association.

The "fifth freedom" permits the air lines of one nation to carry passengers between two other nations.

The accord provides landing rights for the French in Bermuda subject to British approval, and in Manila subject to approval of the Philippine government.

AP World Traveler

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Paris, March 27—This is by way of checking out of Europe, because your correspondent is about to enplane for that sweet place, the like of which does not exist.

In short, I'm flying home, and now as always when turning back after a protracted trip abroad, I'm feeling mighty good. While there are many fascinating places and thrilling adventures on this side of the Atlantic, there's no place which suits this traveler like his native land.

We've had the privilege on this trip of seeing epochal history in the making. Our observations have appeared daily in this column, but there remains one outstanding impression to be recorded and it is this:

There is no way of life over here—social, economic, political—so good as that which our Uncle Sam has evolved. We can learn some things from Europe, but they're mostly things not to be done rather than those which should be adopted.

The greenest fields always are those far away, and folk who are looking to Europe for guidance are chasing illusions. The fact is that the old world is pursuing all sorts of "isms" for the precise purpose of arriving at the state of well-being which exists in America. I've talked with people of all classes in many countries during this trip, and all of them are aiming at the life of the new world. As a matter of fact, untold thousands would give their right arms to be able to emigrate to the United States.

The trouble with Europe is that, broadly speaking, it never has achieved even a smattering of the democracy which America has established. This continent now is undergoing a great metamorphosis which is calculated to improve the position of the underprivileged, and achieve some of the advantages which Uncle Sam long has known.

The ideal is perfect, but my observation is that in many instances countries are going about the transformation through the application of theories which may raise the standard of living somewhat in the long run but which at the same time are depriving the man in the street of personal privileges and the FBI Arrests Soviet Spy Trying To Leave U. S.

Washington, March 27—(AP)—The State Department was kept fully informed about FBI activities which led to seizure of a young Russian naval officer on charges of espionage, acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today. He declined further comment.

The 29-year-old Soviet officer, Lt. Nicolai Gregorovich Redin, was arrested last night in Portland, Ore., just as he was about to board a Russian vessel which was preparing to sail home.

Redin was accused of seeking plans and information regarding the U. S. Yellowstone, a destroyer tender and one of the newest of the Navy's warships.

A naval officer said at San Francisco last night that the vessel was scheduled to take part in the Pacific atom bomb tests. Spokesmen for the joint Army-Navy task force conducting "Operations Crossroad" said in Washington today, however, the Yellowstone was not one of the ships to be used in the experiment.

The Yellowstone, the Navy said, is scheduled to leave Puget Sound about March 31, proceed through the Panama Canal and join the Atlantic fleet. Naval officials refused to say anything further on the matter.

Final Approval Rests With State Baptist Convention

Wake Forest, March 27—(AP)—A resolution saving that the Board of Trustees of Wake Forest College "looked with favor" upon a conditional gift by the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation was adopted here yesterday at a closed meeting of the board.

It will be before the General Board of the North Carolina Baptist Convention and the convention's Education Council when they meet April 11 at Wake Forest. With it will be the report of a committee named "to investigate more thoroughly this proposal and related matters."

The proposed gift, which carries the condition that the college be removed from Wake Forest to Winston-Salem, would mean at least $235,000 annually to the college. Terms of the bequest would be subject to approval by both the Baptist State Convention and trustees of the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation.

Members of the Board of Trustees committee are former Governor J. M. Broughton of Raleigh, Federal Judge Johnson J. Hayes of Wilkesboro, R. P. Holdings of Smithfield, President Thurman D. Kitchin of Wake Forest, I. E. Carlyle of Winston-Salem, Dr. Charles H. Durham of Lumberton and J. Edward Allen of Warrenton.

The proposed gift to the college, as outlined in a statement read to the trustees by Judge Hayes, included these provisions:

Low Interest CITY'S BONDS

Greenville Sells $53,000 Improvement Bonds At 1 Per Cent

By CHESTER WALSH

The City of Greenville sold $53,000 of improvement bonds in Raleigh yesterday at an average of slightly less than one per cent interest. That's a record. The lowest previous interest the city paid on bonds was 2 1/4 per cent. Mayor Jack Boyd said. Fourteen firms bid on the issue through the Local Government Commission. Only a few of them bid over one per cent.

McDaniel Lewis and Company of Greensboro were the successful bidders. Their offer was four per cent or the first $8,000, and three-quarters of one per cent on the balance. The interest averaging slightly less than one per cent. Mayor Boyd Clerk J. O. Duval and Alderman Clint Bowen attended the sale.

The unusual low interest rate on city of Greenville bonds is a result of the city's gilt-edged credit. The city has never defaulted on principal or interest on its bonds.

The money from these bonds will be used to construct a large drainage line on Albemarle Avenue to the river. This will relieve the overload on other drainage lines in the city and prevent flooding of Evans and other streets in the vicinity of 10th street. Work on the project will begin about April 1. Part of the money will be used for widening West Fifth street.

Inquest To Be Held On Hospital Death

Fayetteville, March 27—(AP)—Coroner W. C. Davis will hold an inquest tonight into the death of Mrs. W. C. Ewing of Fayetteville who died two weeks ago a short time after being taken from her home to a hospital here.

An autopsy was performed on her body at Durham and Davis ordered the inquest following receipt of a provisional report on the autopsy.

Mrs. Ewing was the wife of W. C. Ewing, Fayetteville radio station operator and political figure.

Balanced Budget Is Vinson Dream

Washington, March 27—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Vinson said today that "we are well on the way to a balanced budget" and asked that OPA controls on the national economy be kept "a little looser."

"Today we can be more optimistic about the future than ever before," Vinson told the House Banking Committee. "It would be pathetic if we muffed this grand opportunity."

The committee is considering legislation to keep OPA going another year.

Vinson said Treasury receipts are larger than estimated, expenditures are smaller than expected, and "the two together mean that we are well on the way to a balanced budget."

He disputed contentions of the National Association of Manufacturers and others that removal of all price controls would stimulate production of scarce goods.

"It would be stimulating—stimulating in a fanciful, dizzy sort of way," he said.

The Treasury chief declared there would be so much effort in "beating the market" and concentrating on speculative gains that "we could find total production decreased rather than increased."

Red Army's Movement In Persia Still Veiled

Diplomatic Officials Not Yet Sure That Red Army Intends To Withdraw Completely From The Province Of Azerbaijan

Tehran, March 27—(AP)—Prince Mozaffar Firooz, political undersecretary of state and director of propaganda, said today that the Russian evacuation of Kazvin, 80 miles northwest of Tehran, "has begun and should be completed within three or four days."

United States and British diplomatic officials said, however, that despite Russian troop movements northward they were not yet sure that the Red army intended to withdraw completely from the semi-autonomous Iranian province of Azerbaijan.

Firooz denied that any "secret agreement" existed between Iran and the Soviet Union concerning the Russian evacuation.

"The Russian reference to an understanding on the evacuation question refers to their obligation under the Tripartite treaty of 1942 of Russia, Britain and Iran, he said. The evacuation began, he said, with the withdrawal of Soviet forces from Meshed, Sharud and Semnan, east and northeast of Tehran, on March 2.

The present movement, he termed a "continuation of the evacuation of Iran as demanded by Prime Minister Qavam on the visit to Moscow."

An Iranian general staff officer said there had been no reports, either official or unofficial, that any Russian troops actually had crossed the Iranian frontier into the Soviet Union.

Some observers here foresaw the possibility that the Russian columns now streaming northward might withdraw only as far as Iranian Azerbaijan, which borders on the U.S.S.R. These sources said the Russians might support this action by maintaining that the province is no longer a part of Iran.

Azerbaijan was the scene of a rebellion against the Iranian government last November. Iranian troops sent to quell disorders there at that time were turned back by Russian occupation troops.

WARDAMAN TO ACCEPT POST

Senate Banking Subcommittee Approves Truman Nominee

Washington, March 27—(AP)—A Senate Banking subcommittee today recommended confirmation of Commodore James K. Vardaman, Jr., for a 14-year term on the Federal Reserve Board of Governors.

Chairman Radcliffe (D-Md.) informed the full Banking Committee that the subcommittee had voted without dissent in favor of confirmation, with Senator Butler (R-Neb.) not participating.

Radcliffe said serious charges had been made against Vardaman, President Truman's naval aide, and these had been "studied very carefully" (Continued on Page Four)

Repercussions Heard In Big Apple Loans

Raleigh, N. C., March 27—(AP)—Civil actions will be filed against individuals who are known to have received money from Roderick Davenport's "Big Apple" loan business, Julie T. Flythe of Mount Olive, federal trustee in bankruptcy, announced here yesterday.

Most of the suits will be filed in Wayne County, Flythe said, and they will be filed within the next 30 days because the three-year statute of limitations will expire in August.

Davenport was convicted recently on charges of conspiracy and fraud by false pretense, and was sentenced to from five to 13 years in prison.

Jobs Needed For Returning Men

Raleigh, N. C., March 27—(AP)—Unless more jobs are created by North Carolina industry, "it is entirely possible we shall have 50,000 dependent veterans by June," Chairman A. L. Fletcher of the State Unemployment Compensation Commission said here yesterday.

Fletcher announced that the commission paid $462,782 in readjustment allowances to 20,564 jobless veterans last week. February payments to veterans amounted to $1,354,997, he said, and the number of claims has increased weekly.

"It should be a matter of real public concern that the development of business in this state be brought about soon enough, and extensively enough, to provide jobs for all veterans before they look in some other locality," Fletcher said.

"One fact we must remember is that we are now beginning to experience the effect of having a potential labor force in North Carolina which is easily greater by 250,000 than any number of people ever employed in this state. This labor force is a most valuable asset to the Tar Heel industry. Business men should be concerned to use it quickly—not keep it waiting."

The NATION TODAY

Washington, March 27—(AP)—Governments efforts to obtain enough wheat to meet export promises to hungry areas abroad continue to encounter difficulties. And this despite voluntary bread and flour conservation measures and restrictions on some of the grain in livestock feed and in distilling.

It appears now that for the second consecutive month this year export shipments in March will fall below the monthly goal of 1,000,000 tons.

Some food officials and farm leaders believe that additional measures will be necessary if goals for April, May and June are to be reached.

Several weeks ago, a shortage of freight cars was said by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson to be holding up movement of wheat from midwestern producing areas to seaports. Anderson said then that country elevators were full and could not accept additional grain from farmers.

Since then, the government took steps to make more cars available.

As a result many country elevators which a few weeks ago were bulging are now empty. Grain is not moving to these elevators from farms in any appreciable quantity.

Food officials believe many farmers are holding their wheat for several reasons, including:

1. Hope for better prices.
2. Because they are too busy with farming operations to take time out to haul wheat to market.
3. They want to wait until they can determine how this year's wheat crops are going to turn out.

The hope for better prices is, in the opinion of food officials, the biggest factor.

There is some basis for expectation of higher prices. The attack being waged by some farm organizations and business groups and by many farm-minded members of Congress against keeping OPA alive, after June 30 has created a state of uncertainty.

The farmer realizes that should OPA be allowed to expire, ceilings on wheat would no longer exist and wheat would advance considerably.

popular "Rhapsody in Blue," by George Gershwin.

Miss Brown received her early training in this country and later attended the Alford Cortot School in France. Miss Brown's formal debut at Town Hall, after her return from France, was pronounced a brilliant success. She has appeared many times on the radio.

The New York World-Telegram described her as "brilliant, enterprising, and resourceful." She has played in Durham. The "Herald" of that city said of her: "Miss Brown proved herself to be an artist. All of her selections were rendered with brilliance of execution, excellent taste in interpretation, and she created for her audience from the outset of every number, the sensuous atmosphere of the composition."

Under the direction of John De Merchant, talented baritone, the Troubadours will sing many old favorites at this evening's program, such as "Oh Susanna" and Gershwin's "Bess, You Is My Woman, Now." Also attractive, but little known, songs of our country will be presented tonight for the first time in Greenville.

Red Oak News

On Easter Sunday, April 21, Red Oak Christian Church will celebrate its 75th anniversary. Plans are already made to make this one of the most outstanding days in the history of the church.

A pageant, "God's Candles" with about 50 people participating will be presented at the sunrise service. The music for this service will be under the direction of our minister, Rev. Howard James. Other announcements will be made in this column at a later date.

One hundred people, both old and young attended Sunday school at Red Oak last Sunday. Sad news for the ladies, though.

Mrs. B. L. Tyson, driver of the ladies car, forgot to fill the tank with gas, so they fell behind the men 2 miles last Sunday. That still gives them a lead of 22 miles though and we feel sure we will make that up next Sunday unless the boys and men really get to work this week and get some more people to join them on this cross-country trip. We have already crossed the Mississippi river and are heading for Colorado. It will be up-hill from now on, but with two good automobiles, two good drivers and many good workers to go along, it will be neck and neck from now on. The men declare they are going to spring a surprise on the ladies, but we will be on the look-out for them. We have only four more Sundays to go and even now the ladies are beginning to smack their lips when they think about that good old fried shad and hush puppies!

Come on men, we dare you to beat us! We don't believe you can do it! Be there next Sunday morning and enjoy an hour of good fellowship.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

DO WE WANT TO BE EXTINCT?

In 1905 Prof. Einstein published a little pamphlet of four or five pages in which he set forth a new theory regarding the nature of space and time. This theory was so novel and astounding that only a few scientists were able to understand it. He propounded a daring mathematical equation which encouraged scientists to believe that the break-up of the atom and the release of tremendous energy were theoretically possible.

Forty years after the birth of the Einstein Theory, atom bombs were dropped on Japan. Two pounds of uranium ore said to contain 25 billion kilowatts of atomic energy. What does this mean? It means first of all that the theorist has come into his own. The practical man of affairs who regarded the university campus as a refuge for dreamers now rubs his eyes in astonishment over the practical discoveries which are coming out of college laboratories.

The second result is that humanity is brought up short by the realization that it stands at a crossroads. If it can muster up character, think in world terms instead of in national terms, it may utilize the great release of energy for the benefit of mankind. If our leaders do not do this, then selfish and sinister forces will finally use the new discovery to destroy the race.

We have a few months, or at most a few years, in which to act. We had better be prompt or we shall be extinct.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNEY

(First of Two of Articles)
Washington.—In the fall of 1918 the country was swamped with Liberty (airplane) engines. Fourteen years later they still were being used as the power plants of some of our military planes. In the meantime, Germany, Italy and England to mention only the leaders, had brought out new motors.

In one wartime month, this nation produced more than 24,000 engines for military planes. In January of this year, that same industry produced on order 23 conventional motors. Strikes prevented production of about 25 of other types.

In 1934 the annual production of military aircraft engines touched its peak—688.

A little more than a year ago Robert M. Lovett, then assistant secretary of war for air, summed up the comparative picture in these words:

"We have the advantage of a shining example of what not to do. We find it in the period following the first World War. Surplus Liberty engines (then) choked off our aircraft industry and development until we fell way behind the procession.

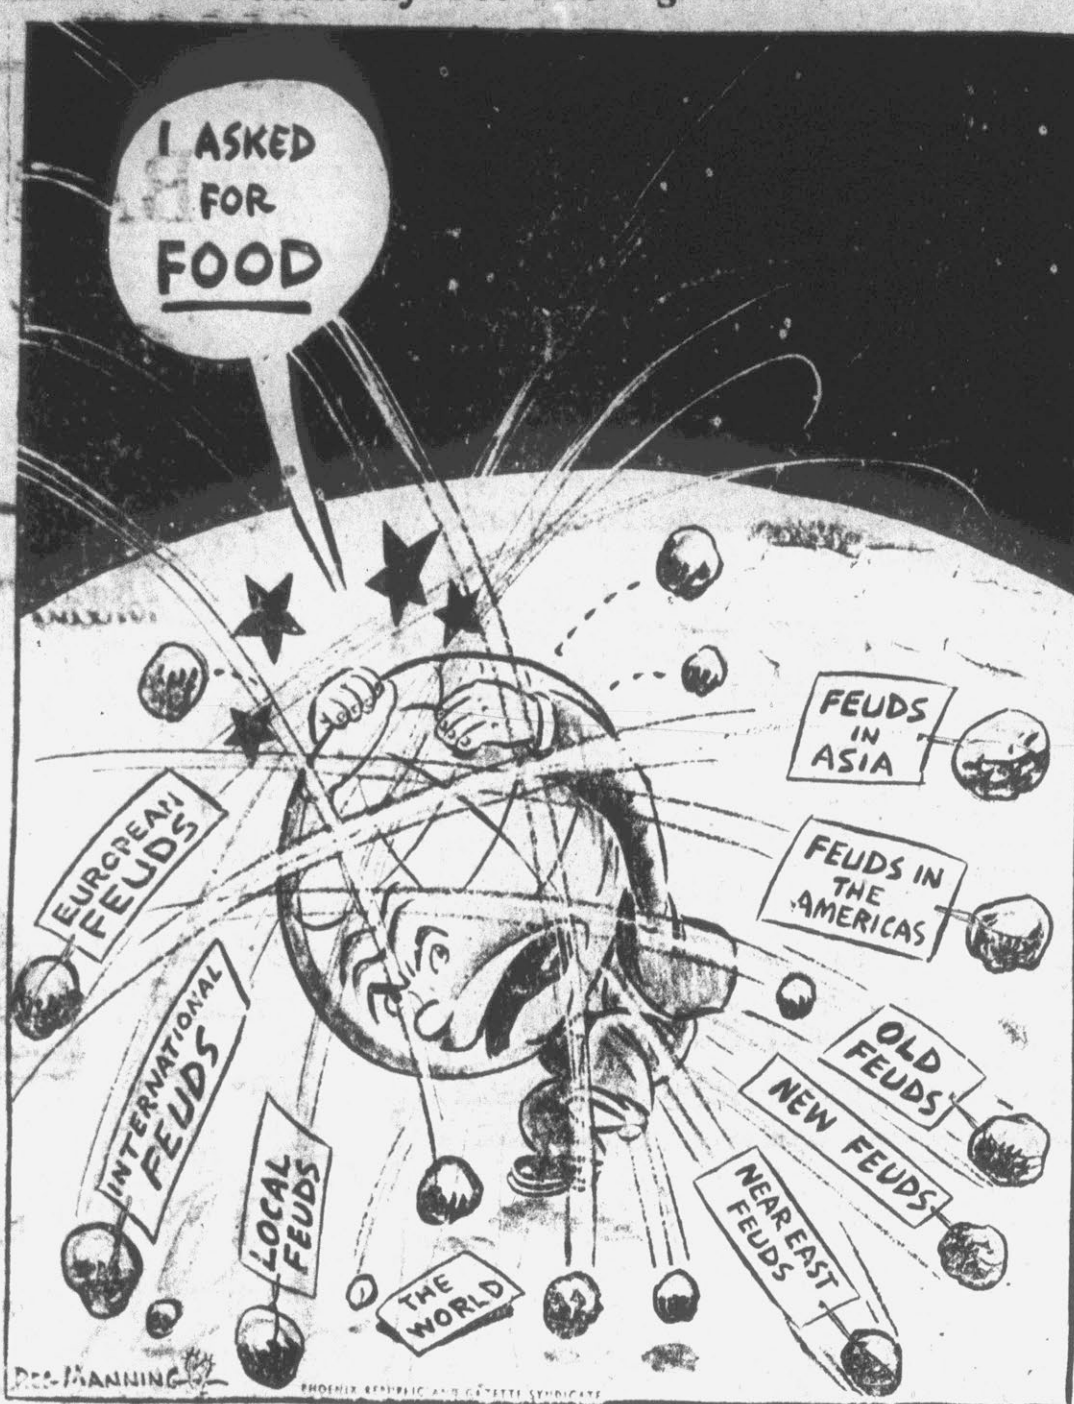

"This problem of surpluses continued through 1932. 14 years after the last war, and in 1928 it brought a formal protest from the War Department, pointing out that engine development for the air corps had been seriously handicapped by the existence of this surplus hanging over the market. There were 3,000 Liberty engines still on hand at that date, 10 years after the war. We cannot afford to repeat such mistakes."

Three of the major airlines already have bought 702 surplus engines from the War Assets Corporation—enough to do them for the next two years, it is estimated, in spite of the rapid growth of commercial aviation.

This will account for an estimated half of the expected commercial plane expansion for the next two years and there are, of course, still plenty of surplus motors left that can be sold and adapted for commercial use. As a matter of fact according to industry estimates War Assets Corporation will have about 72,000 surplus engines (12 types) on its hands by June and at least a third of these will be salable.

What happens to the industry in the meantime?

The farmer also is aware of an effort being made by a powerful farm group in Congress to pass the so-called Pace bill which would require the inclusion of farm wage rates in determining farm product parity prices.

Parity prices—those intended to give the farmer the same buying power he had in some past period favorable to him—form the basis for ceiling prices. The Pace bill would raise the ceiling price on wheat from $1.57 to 2.10 a bushel on a national average basis.

Food officials say the best thing that could happen, from the standpoint of the foreign relief program, would be early congressional action on price control. Farmers then would know what kind of price they could count upon. Then they would be more willing to sell their grain now than to hold it.

The suggestion has been made in some quarters that the government attempt to hurdle this tendency of farmers to hold wheat by offering a special bonus price between now and June 30—the critical period of wheat needs overseas.

Under this suggestion, it would be stipulated that the price would drop back to required ceilings after June 30.

But this proposal is being objected to on the grounds that it would be inflationary.

Yes, there are only two ways of obtaining grain. One is by offering a price which the grower considers satisfactory. The other is by confiscation. There is no thought given to the latter method.

The World Today . . .

The longer one studies the situation over here, the more apparent it becomes—at least to this writer—that Europe offers nothing to compare with the way of life which the United States has developed on the basis of freedom of the individual and the right of private initiative. The left swing in many European states contemplates regimentation of the individual in greater or less degree as the price of a better standard of living.

Well, everybody to his own taste, but your correspondent is glad that his passport has the American eagle stamped in gold right on the front cover. Any of his fellow countrymen who have the idea that they would like to see some European "ism" inaugurated in the United States should come over here and tour about for a while. Of course there are a lot of changes which Uncle Sam needs to make, and will make. But the thing to remember is that Europe is just getting away from the starting line, while Sam already is half way along the course and going strong.

There is, by the way, still room in Europe for those Americans who prefer foreign forms of government to their own.

lender (D-La.) to make the minimum 55 cents.

Both sides agreed final action could not be expected before the end of the week.

The Senate Military Committee postponed meeting the tough election year issue of the draft law extension by ordering public hearings probably beginning tomorrow. The members agreed to vote by April 5 whether to recommend an extension, and if so, how long beyond the May 15 expiration date.

Meanwhile the U. S. Chamber of Commerce advised the Senate Banking Committee it does not believe housing Administrator Wilson Wyatt should have a $600,000,000 subsidy fund for boosting output of scarce building materials. A bill passed by the House, without provision for the subsidy, would give Wyatt ample authority to proceed with the administration's program of 2,700,000 new homes by the end of 1947, the chamber declared in a statement. Wyatt has asked the Senate group to reinstate the fund.

Congress leaders agreed to an informal recess from mid-April to May 1 so that members may be free to shore up their political fences for the spring primaries and fall elections.

Unless some members insist on daily meetings, leaders said only two sessions a week will be scheduled during the period. No major legislative business will be transacted.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, satisfied with Bernard M. Baruch's attitude on the atomic bomb and national security, excused him from appearing at a hearing on his nomination to be U. S. representative on the United Nations Atomic Committee.

Coal Strike . . .

Yesterday he could not indicate how soon steel mills as a whole would be forced to shut down because of a coal shortage. But he asserted that a conservation program would be placed in effect immediately, affecting production, that some mills would be closed in 10 days. Others, he said, would be shut down progressively within a month.

The rapid-fire developments were sparked yesterday by Lewis' announcement that members of his UMW in the soft coal field would "be home with their families" next week, in line with the miners' traditional refusal to work without a contract.

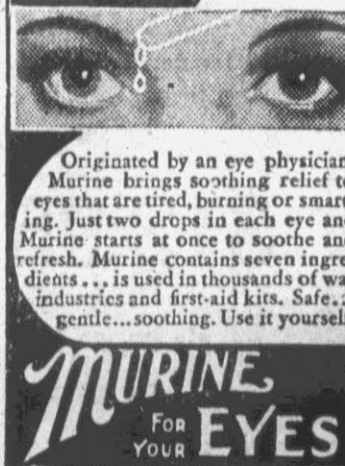

Lewis insisted he was not calling a strike, and he cited figures to indicate that coal stockpiles are sufficient to meet industrial needs until the contract negotiations are completed.

Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the coal operators' negotiating committee, told a news conference that at no time since negotiations began March 12 had Lewis made any specific demands on the industry.

"It's the most unusual approach I've ever seen to try to reach an agreement," O'Neill declared. "We can't tell what the other fellow wants."

Giving weight to indications that negotiations had collapsed—despite additional conferences set for today—O'Neill said Lewis had refused to discuss wage and hour demands until the operators accepted the "principle" of a health and welfare fund for coal miners.

Senator Butler has been in Nebraska in connection with a reelection campaign. For this reason he was unable to participate in recent hearings and refrained from voting. Radcliffe said.

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky), acting as chairman of the full Banking Committee, expressed pleasure at the subcommittee action and said the full committee would consider the nomination at an executive session "at the earliest possible moment."

That the net income of the foundation be pledged to the college in perpetuity up to $350,000 annually, "with the possibility of still further increases at the discretion of the foundation trustees." The present income is approximately $235,000 annually, "with the prospect of considerable enlargement."

Removal of the college to Winston-Salem, where it "should provide a campus in a desirable section of the city or its environs." Retention of ownership and control of the college by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, operating through the Board of Trustees.

Continuation of the present name of the college.

Continued financial support of the school by the denomination, "in proportion equal at least to that given under the present plan of operation."

Provision of a $6,000,000 plant or as much of it as possible, through continuation of the Wake Forest endowment program which began in July, 1943, and has already realized $1,125,000 of its $6,000,000 goal.

The said China has accepted Russia's offer to withdraw her troops from Manchuria by the end of April, but the foreign office is not yet able to state the extent to which the process is under way. The Russians have notified China of withdrawal only from Mukden and Fushun.

He said his government had not been advised of the dates the Soviets intended to quit any area.

He said China had not received any Soviet assurances that industrial equipment removed from Manchuria would be paid for. He refused "no statement" when asked if China had protested such removals.

It was announced officially that the Sino-American military committee had directed executive headquarters in Peiping to send three teams into Manchuria to halt fighting between government and Communist troops. The order instructed the teams to stay clear of Russian-occupied areas.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

GREENIES TO BE GOOD CLUB

Manager Payne Is On Job; Signs Many Ball Players

By CHESTER WALSH
"We will have plenty of material from which to pick a winning ball club for Greenville when spring training begins on April 8, probably earlier," said Manager Virgil Payne, who is now on the job here, making his headquarters at Hotel Proctor.

Manager Payne, an infielder, who managed a club in the Northern League before entering the Navy several years ago as a physical instructor, managed the Patuxent Naval Station club in Maryland during the war. He was a star infielder at Wake Forest and later played several seasons in the Appalachian League. Payne knows a lot of good ball players who were in the Navy, and he has signed up some good ones. Several others who get their discharge April 1 are going to sign with Greenville. Manager Payne said.

Two veterans have been signed to limited service men and 11 rookies. They are:

Catchers: L. J. Persinger of Glen Morgan, W. Va., and M. A. Narron of Middlesex.

Pitchers: Johnny Foell, limited service, Minneapolis, Minn.; C. H. Wilson, veteran, Georgia; Rex Benton, Ashland, O.; L. Moskal, Chicago; Frank Sepe, Rohway, N. J., rookies.

First basemen: Glenn Fulton of Greensboro and L. Ranweiler of Minneapolis, Minn.

Infielders: B. J. Mayer, Oakland, Calif., limited service; Virgil Payne, veteran, Selma; Maybion Fraser, Youngsville; Jim Loughlin, New York; Norbert Knapp, Cincinnati; and Pete Sellers, Smithfield, rookies.

Three players who will get out of the armed forces April 1 and who have accepted terms with Greenville are William Petrino, infielder, New York; Joe Mathies, outfielder, Poteau, Okla., and Louis Magley, catcher, Maplewood, N. J., all rookies, but with excellent records on service clubs. President Guy V. Smith said. Secretary Eve Moore, said Greenville is going to have a winning ball club of young players out there this summer.

BIG ENROLLMENT AT STATE
Raleigh, March 27.—(AP)—All previous enrollment records for North Carolina State College are broken by the present registration of 2,714 students, according to Registrar W. L. Mayer.

A fall term enrollment of 5,000 has been predicted by administrative officials at the college.

Phantoms Open Practice For 1946 Diamond Campaign

By DAVE CLARK
About 35 boys answered Coach Bo Farley's opening whistle for baseball practice yesterday at the Third Street School ball park as the Phantoms began preparations for the 1946 diamond campaign.

Hopes are high among the boys for a successful season despite the late start because of the long basketball season, and yesterday's practice was short but spirited. The first tilt is scheduled for Tuesday of next week, and lots of hard work will have to be put in before the Phantoms will be anywhere near ready. Fortunately, some of the boys have been throwing the ball for quite a while and have their arms in pretty good shape already.

In the short infield practice yesterday Coach Farley had as his first unit Jimmy Futrell at third, Stump Garrett at shortstop, Herbert Corey at second, and Bobby Clark on first. However, this combination may not be permanent as some shifting may be done before the opening ball game.

In Tommy Eilers and Howard Thigpen, Coach Farley has two capable receivers. Eilers was the No. 2 catcher for Coach Clark last season, and Thigpen was the No. 1 backstop for the Tarboro nine last season.

In the outfield are lettermen Billy Harrington, Willie J. Lewis and Dave Clark. However, much is expected of newcomers L. L. Kittrell, Doug Guthrie, Graham Baker and Cletus Jackson.

Coach Farley is short on hurlers this season. He has Earl (Spooky) Morgan and Lefty Roscoe Little as the only holdovers from last year's mound staff. It is possible that he may convert Stump Garrett or one of the other boys into a pitcher to help bolster the small staff.

Sports

New York, March 27.—(AP)—Hank Iba, 42-year-old coach of the only school to win the NCAA basketball crown two straight years, believes his present Oklahoma A. and M. aggregation is even better than his "dream" five of last year which won the NCAA title and went on to defeat DePaul for the national championship.

In vanquishing a strong North Carolina quintet 43-40 at Madison Square Garden last night before 18,479 fans, the Aggies scored their 15th consecutive conquest and closed the season with a record of 31 victories in 33 games.

Seven-foot Bob Kurland provided a majority of the points. The red-haired giant center hooped 23 to raise his season record total to 643 points.

"The week's play took its toll on the boys last night," said Iba. "While I do not wish to take anything away from the fine North Carolina team, my boys were a tired bunch. Luckily I had good reserves to send in to spell the regulars. Kurland especially showed the effects of playing five games in one week. While Ben Carnevale's boys rank with the best teams we've faced all year, we never should have allowed them to make it so close after leading by 13 points at one stage of the game."

Returning to the court after scurrying into a halftime 23-17 lead, the Aggies increased their margin to 31-18 after five minutes, but the Tarheels rallied to three points, midway in the session. The Aggies built up another wide lead 43-34 but again the Chapel Hill casters struggled back to within three points 43-40 and the Aggies were forced to freeze the ball in the remaining three seconds.

Chicago, March 27.—(AP)—Two qualified spokesmen today went to cat for the 1948 Olympic games at London which threaten to produce a large international headache, with Russia an uncertain entry and the erstwhile Axis nations still personae non grata.

Let the Germans, Japs and Italians compete, asserted Flying Capt. Louis Zamperini, who erased his name from the Army's list of dead last year when he staggered from a barbarous Jap prison camp.

Declared Avery Brundage, president of the U. S. Olympic Games Committee:

"For every one person who wants the Olympics dropped, there are a million, one hundred thousand and one want them continued." He referred to recent editorial criticism of the Olympics in this country and Australia.

Zamperini, former track star at the University of Southern California, feels differently than when he tore down the Nazi flag for a souvenir in the 1936 Olympic games at Berlin.

"We fought for world peace," he said, "and since we won it, we should maintain and encourage it, regardless of race, creed, color or countries defeated in war. Sports should not be coupled with politics or war."

Orlando, Fla., March 27.—(AP)—Easily the most tragic set of blisters in the south this spring are on the tortured feet of young Gil Coan, who reported to the Washington Senators tagged as a sort of combination Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth.

Gil, who hit 372 for Chattanooga last year and led the Southern Association in virtually everything except gate receipts, wore an ill-fitting pair of shoes at the outset of training until his feet were festooned with big, white, water blisters.

The result is that he has been able to show Manager Ossie Bluege next to nothing, and almost certainly will go back to the minors for another season; despite his awesome record.

To make the situation doubly ironic, another rookie named Roy Goosby, whom nobody ever heard of, is fast taking over the outfield spot that had been reserved for the unfortunate Coan. He is just out after a three-year cruise in the Navy, and his only pre-war experience was in the Florida State league.

The Boston Braves of the National League, who obtained Billy Southworth to manage their team after he had won three pennants for the St. Louis Cardinals; now are going to adopt the policy of the Cards which made these championships possible.

Boston intends to build a flag-winner through an extensive farm system, just as the Cardinals have moulded to-flight teams through the development of youngsters.

The Braves are looking for young players and have planned a series of trout camps in order to give players from 16 to 23 a chance to enter organized baseball.

The first of these camps will be held in Raleigh, April 1-7. Any player is eligible to attend the camp, and if he impresses the baseball experts employed by the Braves to handle the trouts, they will receive contracts and be given a job in professional baseball.

Ted McGrew, one of the best-known scouts in baseball, is in general charge of the camp. His chief assistant will be Helme Manush, one of the greatest hitters in the history of the American League. Ben Fincup, former major league pitcher, and Robert Prysock will help Manush.

Players interested in attending the camp at Raleigh are asked to report at Devereux Meadow at 9:30 a. m. April 1 to 7. They are asked to bring shoes, glove and a uniform if possible. Those signed by the Braves will have their expenses refunded.

Before the war, 99 out of every 100 Japanese children were in school.

CLUE

Tulsa, Okla., March 27.—(AP)—A pig's drunken lurch down a suburban road led sheriff's deputies Roy Vaden and Burnie Brown to uncover a 55-gallon still and 1,100 gallons of mash.

The raiders said the intoxicated porter pointed the path to the contraband when it drank from a drain out of a small dwelling on the city's outskirts and started its peculiar perambulating.

Police Chief Speaks Before Fraternity

James Tanner, chief of police in Greenville, was speaker at the March meeting of Alpha Alpha Sigma, social science fraternity of East Carolina Teachers College, which was held this week. Tanner presented a history of the police force, told of the many branches which have evolved from the original organization, and explained a few of the laws which police officers enforce. Many interesting and unusual experiences which Tanner has had in connection with his work made the speech entertaining as well as informative.

James S. Picklen, Greenville business man, was announced as the speaker for the April meeting of the group.

ATTENTION

The primary purpose of a hospital is to render care which will in every way possible contribute to the well being of the ill patient. This necessitates systematic routines for medications, treatments, dressings, meals, general care and VISITORS.

In order to facilitate the essential routines and at the same time maintain the peace and quiet necessary for recuperation, it is imperative that we regulate "visiting hours" to such time that will be best for the patient and his care.

We believe that the "visiting hours" listed below are quite adequate for the well being of the patient and most advantageous to his care and the new schedule will become effective April 1st.

PRIVATE ROOMS
11:00 A. M. to 12:00 Noon
2:30 to 4:00 P. M. 7:30 to 9:00 P. M.

WARDS
2:30 to 3:30 P. M. 7:30 to 8:30 P. M.

Children under 12 years of age are not admitted as visitors.

Your hospital asks your full cooperation in adhering to the above visiting hours, as your most important consideration, as well as ours, is to promote the comfort and well being of the patient.

Police Protect Men Returning To Work

Pittsburgh, March 27.—(AP)—Hundreds of supervisory and "white collar" workers poured into Westinghouse Electric Corporation's struck East Pittsburgh Works today to get out of the "keep moving" to a large crowd which echoed a union public address system in taunting those passing through the picket lines.

Those entering, described by the company as non-production workers, passed through the gates in automobiles or on foot while the police flanking the gates watchfully eyed the crowd which kept on walking.

Board Will Hear Ex-GI's Grips

Washington, March 27.—(AP)—A six-man board, headed by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, decided today to hear behind closed doors the complaints of ex-GIs about the army's so-called officer "caste system."

Starting an investigation ordered by Secretary of War Patterson, Doolittle told reporters the group felt that witnesses would speak out more freely in private than at public hearings. Patterson advised the board that it had a free hand.

New grips already have piled up. Doolittle disclosed. One of these is a complaint that the board itself was packed with four officers and no privates were included in its membership.

Doolittle, wartime commander of the Eighth Air Force, noted however, that every one of us has served as a private. Two members left the army as sergeants.

First witnesses will be heard tomorrow and Doolittle said the board hoped to wind up the inquiry within six weeks.

"We plan first to call on enlisted men who think they have complaints and then some of the officers they have complained against," he said.

The long list of witnesses ranged all the way up to generals.

The latter were not identified but among those invited from the ranks are Cartoonist Bill Mauldin and Author Marion Hargrove. Both lampooned military brass hats before and after they doffed their uniforms.

Parent Runs Amok In Waterfront Tragedy

New York, March 27.—(AP)—Police, answering an urgent call for help, entered a coldwater tenement flat on the Brooklyn waterfront today and found five children and their mother and father, all badly cut, and the body of a sixth child, skull smashed, lying under a bed-sheet.

Another member of the family, an 8-year-old girl, ran screaming with pain to the nearby home of an uncle, who summoned police. Police said the girl said her father went berserk and attacked them with knives and a hatchet.

Police identified the father as Arthur Crehan, a longshoreman. He was found on the floor of the apartment with a stab wound over the heart which police said was self-inflicted.

Our Farm Folks

By VERONA LEE JOYNER
Home Demonstration Agent
and
ELLA RUTH BIZZELL
Asst. Home Demonstration Agent

The first day of Spring, Thursday, March 21, will long be remembered by the members of the Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration clubs as the loveliest in the history of the organization when they were the guests of their Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Verona Lee Joyner, at a formal tea at her home in Farmville.

The entire first floor was beautiful with colorful arrangements of spring flowers.

Greeting the guests at the front door was Mrs. Ruel W. Tyson, home demonstration secretary. The drawing room with its Victorian furniture, antique mirror, and spring flowers formed a perfect setting for the receiving line which was composed of the hostess, Miss Verona Lee Joyner, her mother, Mrs. T. E. Joyner, and the officers of the Pitt County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs; Mrs. W. R. Bullock of Bethel, president; Mrs. D. N. Nobles of Sweet Gum Grove, vice president; Mrs. Wilbur Worthington, of Cannons, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. B. L. Tyson, past president of the County and District Federation.

The guests were introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker of Grimesland, past president of both the County and State Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs.

Directing the guests to the dining room was Mrs. H. C. Simmons of Pactolus. Receiving at the dining room door were Mrs. Clayton House of Bethel and Mrs. Ola Kittrell of Red Oak.

Bowls of yellow narcissus and lighted yellow candles were used throughout the dining room, using the colors of the federation, green and gold. The table was breath-taking with its banquet cloth of Italian cut-work, centered with an arrangement of Emperor narcissus in a silver bowl, which was placed on a reflector outlined with pansies and flanked by lighted yellow candles in silver holders. Seated at either end of the table before a silver tea service and pouring tea were Mrs. C. J. Satterthwaite of Pactolus and Mrs. Amos Evans of Red Oak, past County Council secretaries. Assisting in serving tea, dainty sandwiches, cookies, nuts and candies were Miss Ruth Bizzell, assistant home demonstration agent, Mrs. Howard Moe, Ballards Club; Mrs. J. Brantley Speight, Renston-Nobles Club; Mrs. J. E. Wilkerson, Bell Arthur Club; Mrs. Clarence Barnhill, Sweet Gum Grove Club; and Mrs. J. R. Gowans, Ballards Club.

Receiving at the hall door and directing the guests to the register were Mrs. G. C. Garriss, Littlefield Club, and Mrs. Levi Wooten, Falkland Club. Presiding over the register was Mrs. J. B. Congleton, of Stokes Club. Directing the guests to the rear entrance were Mrs. David Smith of the Cannons Club and Mrs. Levi Worthington of the Littlefield Club. Good-byes were said by Mrs. Laurie Ellis, Winterville Club, and Mrs. Lennie Stocks of the Cannons Club, past president and vice president of County Council.

Over two hundred twenty-five guests called during the afternoon representing the 19 Home Demonstration Clubs of Pitt County.

First Presbyterian Church Plan Revival

Next Monday, April 1st, Dr. George Mauze, Winston-Salem, N. C., will come to Greenville to conduct a week's services at the First Presbyterian Church. He will preach at 7:30 each night, Monday through Friday; and each day, beginning Tuesday through Friday at 10:30. He will preach both services on Sunday April 7th, morning and evening.

The membership of the Presbyterian Church is urged to save these dates and arrange to attend from the first service. The public is most cordially invited to attend.

Dr. Mauze was pastor at Kinston, N. C. some fifteen years ago, then went to St. Joseph, Mo., for several years, but is now back in North Carolina as pastor of the large First Presbyterian Church in Winston-Salem. He succeeded Dr. John R. Cunningham, who resigned to become president of Davidson college.

Dr. Mauze is a most interesting and dynamic speaker and is sure to bring helpful and interesting messages at each service.

Lend-Lease . . .

The remaining $532,000,000 represents the balance due this country for: (1) Lend-lease supplies on hand in Britain on V-J Day and (2) U. S. Army-Navy surplus property and installations in Britain, ownership of which with a few exceptions passes to Britain under today's agreement.

Here is a brief summary of the nine agreements:

1. Makes provision for delivery of lend-lease and reciprocal aid (reverse lend-lease) after V-J Day, consisting generally of goods "in process of procurement or delivery" on that date, which are to be paid for "on the basis of actual costs."

2. Lists previously unsettled war claims of each government accepted by the other, and provides for waiver of claims on which agreement was not reached.

3. Transfers ownership of lend-lease stocks held by British civilian authorities (such things as food, lumber and steel) and reciprocal aid stocks held by U. S. civilian authorities on V-J Day.

4. Does virtually the same thing as no. 3 for lend-lease and reciprocal aid military supplies held by the armed forces of both countries. Oil, ships and non-combat aircraft are excepted.

5. Gives Britain title to a number of lend-lease transport planes and permits leasing of others, but provides for the return of some non-combat planes to the U. S.

6. Defines the share of each country in oil stocks sent to the other under lend-lease or reciprocal aid. Each government may withdraw certain amounts of oil free from its share for use by its military forces.

7. Provides for the transfer generally of U. S. installations on British territory to Britain and of British installations on American territory to this country.

8. Transfers to Britain, with some exceptions, U. S. Army and Navy surplus property now in that country.

9. Provides that each country will settle claims of its citizens resulting from the presence of troops of the other on its soil.

As a part of the provision for the transfer of military equipment, the U. S. retained a virtual "veto" right for an indefinite period on the transfer of the goods "for military use to third governments" or for civilian use in countries outside Britain and its colonies.

FBI Arrests . . .

At the State Department, meanwhile, it was said in response to a query that Redin did not have diplomatic immunity, the special status exempting foreign diplomatic representatives from the application of United States laws.

Acheson told a news conference that the Justice Department kept the State Department fully posted on the developments but would not further discuss the arrest of Redin, a member of the Soviet Purchasing Commission at Seattle.

The formal charge was disclosed late last night by Assistant FBI Agent Julius A. Bernard at Portland, hours after FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover had announced tersely in Washington that Redin had been seized as he was about to board a Russian fishing vessel for home.

Arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Robert A. Leedy, the Soviet officer, wearing the uniform of his rank, was asked whether he understood English.

Thumping Leedy's desk, Redin cried "I will not talk, I will not talk."

He then demanded to see the Soviet consul, who was not represented at the proceedings.

But Leedy, fixing bail at $25,000, ordered the officer to be held in Multnomah County jail in default of bond until another hearing is set.

Redin, a graduate of the Russian Naval Academy who came to this country four years ago, had been under "intensive FBI scrutiny" for several months, Hoover said in Washington.

State Department officials and the Russian embassy were silent.

There was no immediate clearest answer to the No. 1 question posed by the arrest: Could atomic bomb secrets be involved?

But a broad hint that they might be came from the House Committee of Un-American Activities, which for several weeks has been digging into reports that a foreign spy ring is at work in this country.

Committee Counsel Ernie Adamson said the group headed by Rep. John S. Wood (D-Ga.) has a closed-door meeting scheduled for today, adding to a reporter:

"I assume after the meeting the chairman will have something to say about this arrest."

One person in close touch with the committee said the group was familiar with some of Redin's activities, but he declined further comment and specified that his name not be published.

At Portland, Bernard said Redin was charged with obtaining information about the U. S. Yellowstone for use and advantage of "a foreign nation, to wit the U. S. S. R." and had "induced another to obtain plans, documents and writings" relating to a warship of the U. S. Navy.

Bernard said the charge accused Redin of action "against the peace and dignity of the United States of America."

He said the accusations were made in Seattle on Dec. 22, 1945, the day Redin is charged with having obtained the information. The warrant was issued last Friday.

There was no announcement of how the young Russian officer had obtained the documents and plans or whom the officer had "induced" to obtain the information.

Compromise . . .

time to make its case known and to express its views to the council virtually on a basis of equality with any council member.

This is especially important in the present case because of the lack of agreement between Iran and Russia, and the possibility that Iran might be compelled to accept conditions very much against her interests unless the weight of the council was brought to bear for a fair and just settlement.

The Iranian delegation leader, Hussein Ala, insisted last night that his government still has him under instructions to press its protests that Red army troops have overstayed their post-war occupation limit, despite a Russian contention that a mutual agreement has been reached with Tehran and that Soviet troops are withdrawing.

Speaking outside the council chamber, where he is a silent front row observer in the gallery, Hussein Ala said:

"I still am under instructions to protest to the United Nations Security Council the continued presence of Russian troops in Iran as well as other matters. I have been instructed by my government also to protest any postponement of prompt consideration of our case by the council."

He did not define his reference to "other matters."

The members of the sub-committee on "procedure" to which the Iranian issue was referred are Russian Delegate Andrei Gromyko, U. S. Secretary of States James F. Byrnes and France's Ambassador to Washington Henri Bonnet.

Gromyko lost the first round in the council session when his motion to delete the Iranian issue from the proposed agenda was defeated 9-2. Poland alone supporting Russia. Secretary-General Trygve Lie's proposed four-item agenda then was adopted with Russia and Poland again dissenting.

Having lost the first battle on procedure to majority forces led by Secretary Byrnes and Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain, Gromyko responded with a proposal that the Iranian charges be put over for discussion April 10.

combat troops which marched into the Kurdish section of southern Azerbaijan two weeks ago was reported to have deployed to positions which might be considered as potentially supporting tribesmen's attacks on nearby Iranian garrisons, according to official Iranian advice reaching here.

The Soviet troops have "made no move toward joining the Kurdish action," the reports added.

There was no doubt, however, that the Russians were withdrawing from many sections of the country.

election appeared likely in the very lengthy roll-call vote which was to be taken this afternoon. But it was impossible to say positively how the balloting would come out. This is because the delegates have anywhere from one to eight votes, de-
