

The Fall Guy

BY JOE BARRY

Chapter 26

Rush descended to the ground floor and went to the garage attached to the apartment building. He called for his car, a convertible with a souped up engine that he kept there for emergencies.

On the street he gunned the engine and swept toward Halstead. From the glove compartment he took a flat 38 automatic and checked the clip with one hand. He slipped it into his jacket pocket and pulled a pair of full clips. Into his pocket he put a slender, heavy blackjack. Where he was headed, the skulls were hard and needed persuasion.

He parked the car a block from Big Mick's place and looked down the street. The only light, besides the yellow street lamps, came from the window of Big Mick's place, which threw a bright red glow on the sidewalk.

He headed back to the alley and found a telephone pole with iron steps for linemen. Without hesitation, he mounted the pole and stepped lightly over onto the roof. He felt his way back along the wall till he found a window. A crack of light showed around closely drawn blinds. He plastered his eye to the crack and could see most of the room. In a chair against the far wall sat Jago, a cigar stuck in his corner of his mouth. He was looking slowly, shaking his head, spluttering through the water. He opened his eyes and looked around him. They were all there, Jago, Wilmer, Big Mick, four of his men and Leslie. Leslie was seated in a similar chair against the opposite wall. He noticed she looked bedraggled.

"The boys play rough, don't they?" he asked.

Big Mick answered him.

"Shut up, Henry. Frisk him and tie him up, boys."

Rush felt hands slap his pockets and extract the gun and clips from his jacket. They missed the blackjack and the silver of glass. Two rope ends appeared and tied his hands behind his back. The same hands shoved him back into the chair. He sat quietly.

Big Mick turned to Leslie.

"Now, baby, give. We don't want to hurt you. But we gotta know where you hid those rocks. We got Henry here now. He's your last hope, so give."

"What emeralds?" asked Leslie.

Big Mick looked at Wilmer. "I guess you'll have to work on her some more," he said.

Wilmer licked his lips with the tip of a red tongue and walked noiselessly toward her on the balls of his feet. He stood in front of her and looked down, gloating. He drew back an arm and slapped her with the flat of his palm, hard. Her head snapped around and came back to look up at him.

"What emeralds?" she said thickly.

He slapped her again and again. Her head bobbed on her shoulders.

"Hold it, Wilmer," said Jago. "We want her conscious. We must be more subtle." He walked over to her and nodded Wilmer aside. "You are quite fond of your lovely face, aren't you, my dear?" he asked.

Leslie looked at him dully.

"It would be a shame to spoil such beauty. I hope you won't force me to use this." He held a glowing cigar end under her eyes. She shuddered and recoiled. Every eye in the room was on her and Rush twisted in his chair, reaching for his jacket pocket. Quietly he extracted the silver of glass and brought it behind his back, working quickly to force it between the ropes and his wrist. It was blind work and he soon felt blood dripping down onto his hands. With the tips of his fingers he pushed the glass up and pulled it back, sawing desperately at the rope which bound his wrists.

The cigar end moved toward her forehead as Rush felt the ropes behind him give. He slipped the glass to the seat behind him and wiped his bloody hands on the tail of his coat. Then he reached for the blackjack the searcher had missed. With careful eyes he measured the distance between himself and Slippy who stood watching Jago, his gun held loosely at his side. Leslie screamed and in the silence that followed, Rush was across the room. His blackjack descended in a lashing blow at Slippy's temple, his other hand grabbed for the gun, got it and held it at point. He backed away toward the wall.

he already is angling for the 1947 season.

The Mexico league presently limits each of its eight to eight foreign players but with the recent additions and the few more expected shortly it was believed that the ceiling would be raised. Besides the Americans, the circuit has many diamond luminaries from Cuba, Salvador, Panama and other Latin American countries.

Pasquel didn't disclose the salaries he was going to pay Owen or the Giants' tri-first baseman Roy Zimmerman, second baseman George Hausmann and pitcher Sal Maglie—but the ball players have revealed some of the terms.

Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said at Daytona Beach Fla., that Owen wrote him he was going to get a cash bonus of $12,500 for signing his five-year contract.

The former Giants said they are to get $5,000 bonuses plus $13,000 a year.

Pittsburgh, April 2—(AP)—Blackjack Billy Fox proved conclusively he punches for keeps in running his sensational knockout string to 38 straight last night—but the clouting kid himself admits after a stormy session with battle-scarred Ossie (Bulldog) Harris that he still needs experience.

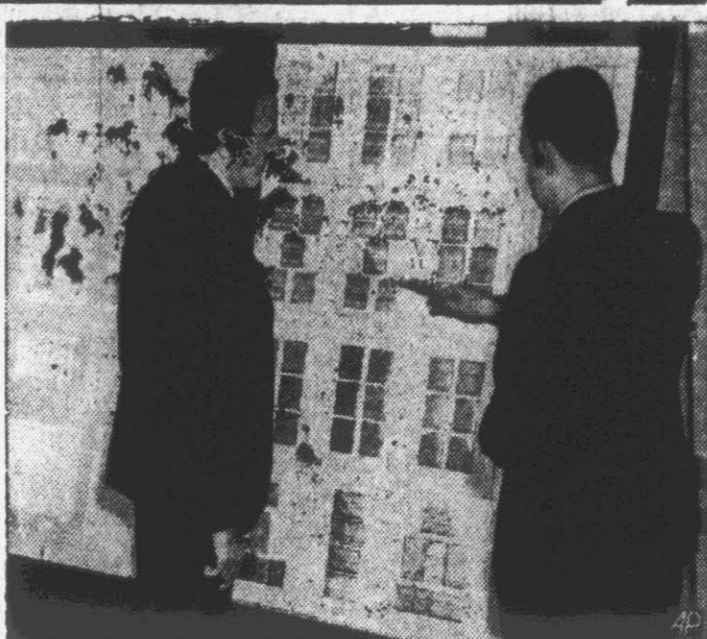

It took Fox until 2:15 of the last round of a sensational 10-rounder to deck gamecock Ossie for the full count—longer and harder than Philadelphia Billy has had to travel since he first started punching for pay.

Harris, who spotted Fox two pounds at 165, gave everything else away but heart and in that the chunky Pittsburgher was in a class by himself.

The battle gave a crowd of 5,167 which paid a net of $15,847.46 one of the most spine-tingling evenings Pittsburgh boxing fans have enjoyed in years.

Ossie not only threatened to "benish" Billy's record by staying the route, he even looked good enough to win until the seventh round when he began to fade badly under the 19-year-old Philadelphia's murderous punching.

Ossie absorbed a terrible lacing in the tenth, before caving in, like a collapsed rubber doll, with 45 seconds remaining.

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS
One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking INNER-AID and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores here in Greenville.

Candidates Turn Out For ECTC Base Ball

Baseball practice at East Carolina Teachers College began this week under the direction of Coach Earl Smith. Twenty-six prospects turned out on opening day to try out for the ECTC team.

Otis Powell of Danville, Va., former third baseman with the ECTO Pirates, is the only letter man on hand for work this season. Other positions on the team, it is expected will be filled by men who have had no previous experience in col-

Sports

New York, April 2—(AP)—The billyhoo wheels started revolving in earnest today for the most fabulous fight in boxing history—the return heavyweight title bout between champion Joe Louis and Billy Conn at the Yankee Stadium on June 19.

Challenger Billy, the Pittsburgh dandy, looking in fine shape at 190 pounds, was scheduled to shove off to his permanent training headquarters at Greenwood Lakes, N. J., 24 hours after promoter Mike Jacobs had fixed a top price of $100 for ringside seats, the highest ever charged officially for a fight.

This is 300 percent more than the $25 top for the fist Louis-Conn slugging at the polo grounds in 1941 and 100 per cent more than the $50 top charged for Tex Rickard's famous fights involving Jack Dempsey in the "golden twenties" era.

Announcement of the $100 tariff, at which Jacobs previously had hinted, plus a scale of $50, $30, $20 and $10 for less advantageous seats in the 100,000-capacity stadium, assured a record gross gate of $3,000,000 or better for the long anticipated return go.

The present gate record is the $2,658,660 paid by 104,943 spectators for the second Dempsey-Tunney scrap in Chicago in September, 1927, when the still debated "long count" occurred. Rickard charged an official $40 top for this one, but unofficially was reported to have sold the first three ringside rows at $100 a seat.

Conn, knocked out in the 13th round in his first chance at the title, will merely strike a few poses for newspaper photographers when he arrives at Greenwood Lakes today. He plans to start serious training tomorrow.

"I'll win the title this time for sure," he said. He was leading on points in 1941 when he made the mistake of trading punches with the champion. "I'll stick to boxing this time."

Louis, meantime, is working out at West Baden, Ind., where he has been since March 1. He will switch later to Pompton Lakes, N. J.

Mexico City, April 2—(AP)—Mexico league president Jorge Pasquel believes he has another little bombshell in the making for the major leagues.

Quite pleased over his acquisition of Mickey Owen, Vern Stephens and three New York Giants' players in the past few days, the dapper baseball magnate declared yesterday that "two or three other" big leaguers soon will be playing in his circuit.

He declined to name them but said they should be here next week.

With his eight clubs already stocked with 17 former major leaguers, Pasquel indicated that he soon will bring an end to his raiding for the current season. Pasquel, who with his four brothers, dominates the loop which has no ties with organized baseball, said, however that

Milk Mixture For Stomach Ulcers

A recent medical discovery now being used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused from excess acid. It is a harmless preparation yet so effective that in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately after it is used. Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion and heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of Lurin from their druggist. Lurin contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoonful in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Try a bottle. It must satisfy or money refunded. Lurin for sale by Bissette's and drug stores everywhere.

You'll be smart, Jim, to finance your new car through your bank and Insure It Through The Local Agent of Your Choice

The Insurance Agents and participating Banks of Pitt County are cooperating on a plan known as the "Bank and Agent Auto Plan" which we believe will best serve the interest of the public in connection with the purchase, financing and insuring of new automobiles.

This plan is based on the sound conception that in order for you to obtain the most efficient and economical service, each of the three phases of an automobile purchase should be handled by the specialist in the field.

The automobile dealer is the specialist in selling and servicing the automobile; the bank is the specialist in financing; and the insurance agent is the specialist in protecting the car during and after the finance period.

THIS MODERN, SIMPLE PLAN FOR FINANCING AND INSURING AN AUTOMOBILE SAVES THE PURCHASER MONEY ON FINANCING AND ASSURES HIM OF COMPLETE INSURANCE PROTECTION AND SERVICE THROUGH HIS OWN INSURANCE AGENT.

When you are ready to buy your new car, and we hope they will be available soon, get in touch with your bank or your insurance agent. Your bank will place the insurance with the AGENT OF YOUR CHOICE; or, if you prefer to handle the whole matter through your insurance agent, he will arrange for the financing with the BANK OF YOUR CHOICE.

PEACE COSTS

Clemenceau, the old "Tiger" of France, has sometimes been accused of wrecking the world's hopes for peace at the close of the last war. It has often been stated that Wilson and Lloyd George wanted peace but that Clemenceau wanted war and insisted on measures which made war inevitable.

The "Tiger" vigorously denied this a number of times before his death. He maintained that he enumerated before his colleagues the prerequisites of peace and that they refused realistically to face these requirements. He told them that peace meant the surrender of imperialism, the modification of "nationalism, the tearing down of tariff walls, the adjustment of economic inequalities, the removal of restrictions on immigration. But his colleagues cried out against such policies. They wanted peace, but they were not willing to pay the price of peace.

Every one of us, probably would want to revise this list a bit if we sat in the seats of the mighty. It is not necessarily true that all these things, just as Clemenceau stated them, are imperative if we are to have world peace. But certainly world peace will cost something. Every nation will have to give up something it doesn't want to give up, if we are to have concord among nations.

The late Arthur Brisbane always maintained that the thing we need most to give up, if we are to have world peace, is the selfishness of the individual human heart. "If mankind," he wrote, "with the same old heart tries to create world peace, we may expect to clean houses again not many days hence."

HAPPY BIRTHDAY.

Yesterday, the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company celebrated its 45th year of service to the people of this community.

The institution was opened in 1901 on a modest scale and it has grown through the years until now it can boast of branches in six counties; and the end of its expansion is not yet in sight.

To say that the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company has grown with Greenville and the section is almost an understatement. Let us say, instead, that it has helped the growth of our businesses and had a prominent part in making this section of the state prosperous and well known.

In the years gone by, when the banks of the Nation were faced with the sudden collapse of the boom years, this bank stood firm. It was a rock on which we could depend. The faith that the people placed in its management was not misplaced.

Today, President W. H. Woolard is still looking for a means to extend and improve the bank's services to our people.

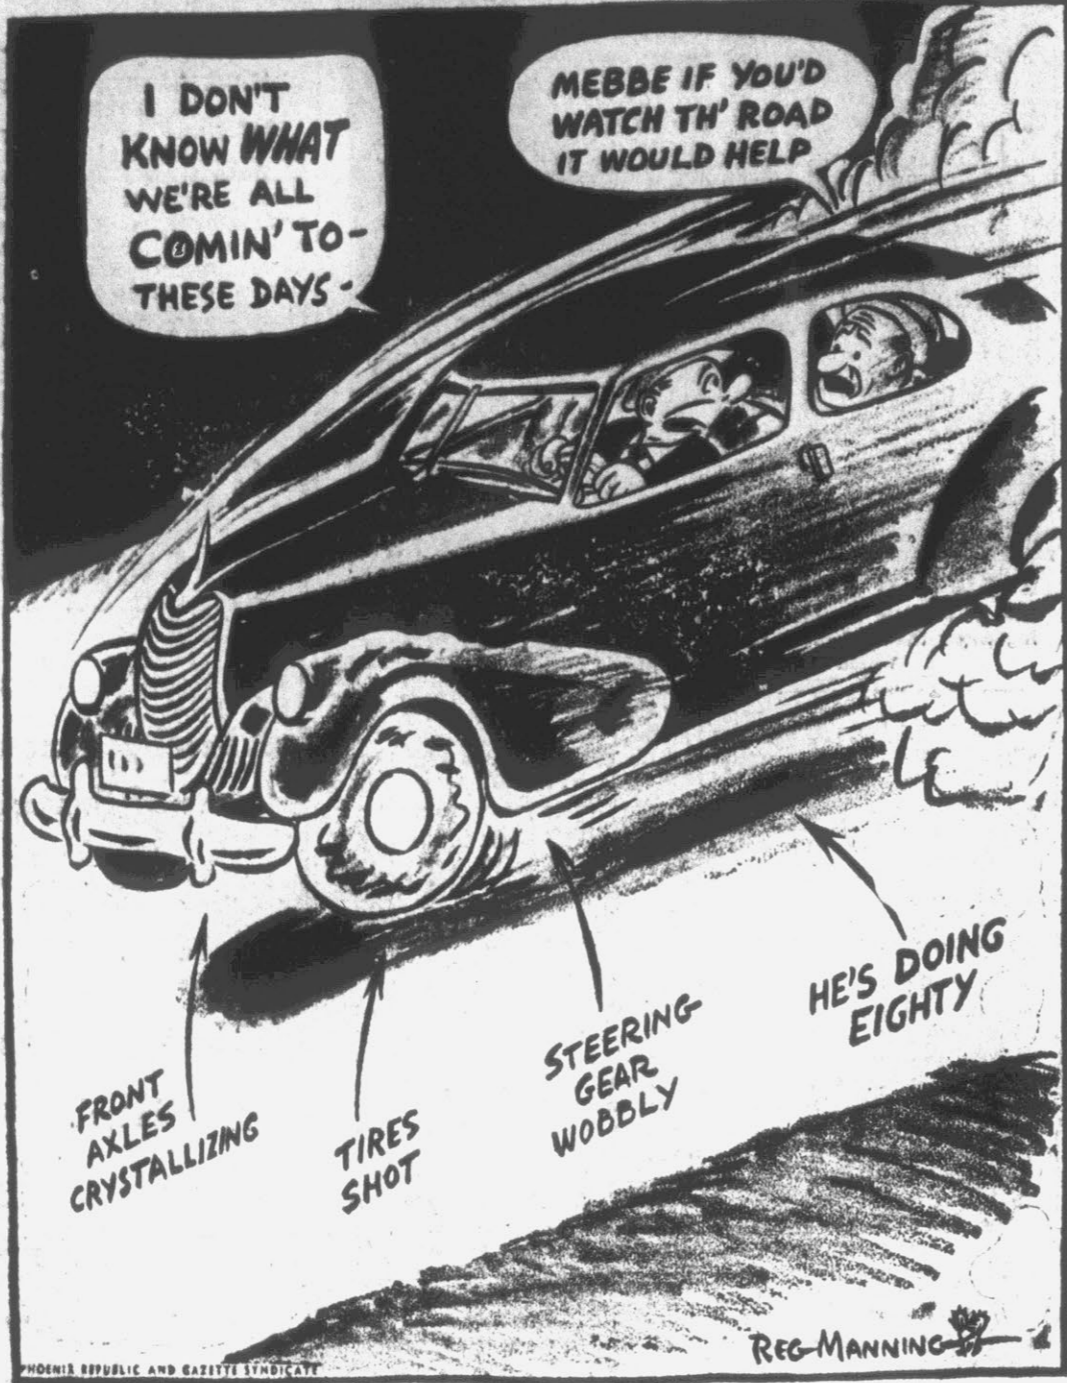

Our congratulations to Mr. Woolard and his entire staff.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STODNER

Washington.—This is Congressional election year. Thousands of men and women all over the country who never have been in Congress will be angling for those 435 House seats. Have they any idea what they are getting into? Do you really have any idea what their qualifications should be?

And This Guy's Worrying About The Future

Seven years ago Rep. Luther Patrick, Birmingham, Ala., wit lawyer, writer, radio commentator, lodge member and four-term House Democrat, listed ten rules of conduct and necessary qualifications for members of Congress. With a few cuts for brevity and modernity, here they are:

1. Entertain with a smile constituents, their wives, their sons, wives, etc. Go with them to the White House and have ready a good reason why you are unable to have them meet the President; take the daughters to meet midshipmen at Annapolis.

2. Explain what bill is up for debate, points of discussion, how it will be passed, how you will vote, and why.

3. Attend to balcony and point out Speaker Rayburn, Leaders McCormick and Martin, John Rankin, Dewey Short and Mrs. Clare Booth Luce and all the other lady members of the House.

4. Respond to all worthy causes, make after-dinner speeches, before-dinner speeches, learn to eat everything, anywhere, any night—work all day, dictate all night and be fresh as a rain-washed daisy for next day's duties.

5. Be a cultured gentleman, a teller of ribald stories, a profound philosopher, a gagster, be a ladies' man, a man's man, a he-man, a diplomat, a Democrat with a Republican slant, a Republican with a Democratic viewpoint, a hater of the New Deal, a New Dealer, and old dealer and a deal dealer.

6. Learn how to attend six to eight major functions (back home), rushing home and back during each term on one round-trip travel pay.

7. Have the dope on hot spots in town, with choice telephone numbers for the gay boys from back home; and help to contact local moral organizations and uplift societies with offices in Washington.

8. Learn to be an expert guide. Keep your car in tip-top shape.

9. Know the names and dates related to all public buildings and statuary about Washington.

10. Be an authority on history, travel, psychology, philosophy, education, economics, physics, civics, finance, export trade, government printing, international relations, neckties and fishing tackle.

Explaining that he made no pretense to being all these things, Rep. Patrick concluded:

"A congressman has become an expanded messenger, an employment agency, a getter-out of the army, navy, marines, ward healer, wound healer, trouble shooter, law explainer—financial vet nurse, cornerstone layer and bridge dedicator."

"And find time to properly study legislation—the real business we are here to discharge."

Thus there are two kinds of lobbyists: 1. The kind which honestly and simply tries to make its interests known and in that way protect them.

2. The kind which, selfishly and unscrupulously, tries to pressure Congress for its own interests, even though it means deceiving the rest of the country or hurting the general welfare.

Sabath says he's aiming at the "powerful, well-organized and well-financed lobbies operating in Washington now."

craft. One, a 21-year-old school teacher, Miss Marsue McOmbs, was rescued after eight hours in the water.

There was hope also that the waves might not recur today, as feared for a time last night. The commander of the Alaska sea front, at Seattle, emphatically denied as "grossly exaggerated" reports that a 100-foot tidal wave was rushing along the Aleutian Island chain toward Kodiak. He added that no new wave was forecast.

Hawaiians "dared not estimate the damage, except in the millions of dollars." Herbert C. Shipman, Hilo sugar planter, said $700,000 worth of raw sugar was swept into the ocean with destruction of territorial wharfs.

Tens of thousands of dollars worth of food in warehouses was destroyed.

It was estimated that Hilo had only four days of food available. To conserve the supply, residents were limited to the purchase of $2 worth of food at one time.

Navy dispatches from Midway and tiny Johnston Islands reported major damage to communications facilities but no loss of navy personnel. New equipment and radio technicians were dispatched to the islands immediately.

There were no reports of ships at sea in distress. One geologist said the vast length of such waves, from crest to crest, would enable vessels to ride them out without difficulty.

The waves piled up into terrifying walls of water as they reached coastlines, however, and Ketchikan, Alaska, reported a 100-foot wave had swept Scotch Gap Lighthouse from the Aleutian Island of Unimak with an estimated loss of ten lives.

A minor wave wrought slight damage at Dutch Harbor, 120 miles to the west, shortly afterward.

Coast Guard stations reported no extensive damage and no loss of life in the Pacific Northwest states, but one man was swept to sea and lost from the beach at Santa Cruz, Calif.

The navy had no immediate reports of damage in the Marshall Islands.

Tokyo reported no disturbance of any sort.

At East Island, on French Frigate Shoals, 450 miles northwest of Honolulu, the giant sea swept clear over the island, the Coast Guard said. There was no word of the island's little naval garrison.

Hilo, exposed to the full force of the waves, was a scene of horror. Weeping friends and relatives waited on high ground as troops in the wrecked waterfront recovered bodies.

Buildings were crushed and ripped apart; huge gaps were pushed through thick concrete walls, and there was a sprawling litter of what had been railroad cars, automobiles, trucks, buildings and boats.

their sentences at one point in the same breath and left a dead silence for a second or so, Taft exclaimed: "I am a member of this committee. I demand to be permitted to make a statement because I must attend another committee meeting."

Murray again said "No."

"I insist on my rights," said Taft, "or I'll take the whole matter up on the (Senate) floor."

"You can take it up anywhere you want," replied Murray. "You can't bluff me."

Senator Hayden (Democrat) interrupted that he felt Taft should be allowed to make his statement but Murray was adamant.

Taft then walked to the door of the committee room and shouted back at Murray:

"Senator, I'm through with you, and with your committees."

He walked out and the door then banged behind him.

Senator Wagner (D-NY), who with Murray is a sponsor of the bill, then was asked to make his scheduled statement as a committee member.

"May I make it without interruption?" Wagner asked.

Murray set back in his chair, wiped his forehead and replied:

"You certainly may."

CATTLE CROSSING
Ritzville, Wash., April 2—(AP)—Three cows decided to cross a highway. State patrolman Roy Batchel reported these developments:

A driver, swerving to miss the cows, hit a calf, and his woman companion and the calf went into a ditch full of water. Another car glanced at a parked truck and struck the leg of a navy lieutenant who had stopped to help.

The box score:
Three damaged cars. One wet woman. One drowned calf. One compound leg fracture. One negligent driving charge. Three unscathed cows.

Coal Miners ...

I. N. Bayless, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, said the output which uses 90 percent of the output of the Union Pacific mines in Wyoming, was preparing to install oil burners in locomotives if the strike is prolonged.

Delegates representing 3,500 of the striking miners in Utah sent Lewis a telegram endorsing the action of the union's policy committee. Miners crowded the U. S. Employment Office in Carbon County, Utah, applying for unemployment compensation, though it was not decided whether they would get it.

Tidal Wave ...

Territorial Gov. Ingram Stainback invoked the Hawaiian Defense Act "for the safeguarding of life and property and the preservation of law and order" in wave-ravaged areas.

Casualty reports appeared to be complete from all damaged areas except the island of Hawaii, on which Hilo with its 25,000 population is located.

"There was some hope that Hilo's death toll might not reach the naval officer's 300 estimate. A score of persons previously reported missing had been saved from the waters off Hawaii by army and navy air-sea rescue planes and small surface

Now Open Season On Bank Robbers

Hulbert, Okla., April 2—(AP)—State troopers routed two chilled bank robbers from their watery hiding place in a nearby creek early today, shortly after a farm line spreader and a school bus load of students had chased the men from the Hulbert National Bank where they had attempted a pre-dawn robbery.

Sheriff's deputy John Riley of Muskogee said the men were surprised at their work in the bank by the bus load of students, who had been to Muskogee to participate in a parade. They fled in an automobile, and the line spreader joined the bus in pursuit.

The men submerged themselves in a creek and left only their noses protruding when the pursuing vehicles approached, Riley said, but when state troopers spotted them and fired into the water, they came out with their hands up.

The robbers took two sacks of silver coins but overlooked $28,000 in currency, undersheriff Fred Hudlin at Tahlequah said. Unofficial estimates placed the value of the loot at about $35, but Hudlin said most of it was recovered.

The suspects were taken to Muskogee for questioning.

New Carrier "Coral Sea" Is Christened
Newport News, Va., April 2—(AP)—The aircraft carrier Coral Sea, one of the three largest warships in the world, was christened in her graving dock at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company today by Mrs. Thomas C. Kinkaid, wife of the admiral of Pacific fame who now commands the Eastern Sea Frontier.

Our 45th Birthday

This bank has been in continuous operation since April 1st, 1901. Started with a modest capital of $10,000 and two employees. At present has a common capital of $500,000, which is the largest of any bank in Eastern North Carolina, and surplus of $500,000 with 85 officers and employees at Main Office and nine branches, with resources over $32,000,000.

Over the years the number of customers steadily increased until at present the bank has more than 25,000 accounts in its Main Office and branches in the six counties in which it operates.

We deeply appreciate the liberal patronage of our citizens, and as years go by we hope to improve and extend our service and continue to add to our already long list of customers.

CAFE OWNERS CAN AID IN FOOD CRISIS

Economies Possible That May Mean Life To Countless Thousands

Proprietors of public eating places, with the cooperation of their customers, can put into effect immediate economies that will mean life to countless thousands of persons otherwise doomed to death, J. V. Taylor, County Manager of the National Emergency Food Program, said today in announcing a series of specific actions which restaurants, hotels, and other eating places may adopt to save food needed abroad.

The list of food saving measures that may be taken by public eating places supplements a previous list of consumer food economies announced by Mr. Taylor. Both suggestions have been supported by the President's Famine Emergency Committee.

"If we as a people are to be of the greatest help to the world in this life-or-death crisis, each of us must make the saving of food his or her personal responsibility," Mr. Taylor asserted. "The food will not create itself. Our farmers produce it, but all of us as consumers must take an immediate interest in seeing that as much of our abundance as possible is shared with those in dire need."

The following are the recommendations placed before the restaurant owners of Pitt County:

1. Drop the use of toast as a garnish with meat, poultry and egg dishes.
2. Cut out the practice of putting baskets of bread or rolls on dining room tables. A single roll or slice of bread should be served with more forthcoming only on request of the patron.
3. Where possible, use the open-faced sandwich in place of the two-bread slice sandwich.
4. Don't trim toast or sandwich crusts.
5. Use potatoes instead of wheat or rice.

6. Bake single instead of double-crust pies.
7. Substitute corn and buckwheat cakes for wheat cakes.
8. Instead of products made from wheat, serve oatmeal bread, cakes and cookies.
9. Reduce the size of rolls and bread.
10. Use fruits and gelatin desserts for pastries and cakes.
11. Serve fewer crackers with soups and cheeses.
12. Discontinue the baking of three-layer cakes for the duration.
13. Use boiled—instead of oil—dressings on salads.
14. Instead of wheat cereals, use alternates.
15. In the kitchen, practice the re-use of food fats where possible and salvage greases.
16. Think up and use methods of saving the bread ends now wasted.
17. Boil or broil—not fry—fish to save fats.
18. Don't serve extra dressing of salads already prepared with oil or dressing.
19. On every possible occasion, induce the customer to order only what he needs. Customers should be encouraged to ask only for those side dishes they really want to eat.

U. S. To Send . . .

(Continued From Page One) tion, the State Department published its now-famous "Blue Book," made up largely of captured German documents which it said furnished "proof positive" of Argentine "complicity with the enemy."

Last October 3, Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson declared the United States would not sign a projected hemisphere military defense treaty with the present Argentina government. Byrnes has reiterated that stand on several occasions.

Some diplomatic officials believe the decision to send a new ambassador to Buenos Aires indicates that Peron's victory in an apparently free election has prompted this country to take the first step toward a resumption of friendship with Argentina.

Rep. Gossett (D-Texas) told a reporter all Democrats who voted for the legislation were invited to the special session, and added:

"It was very startling to the large number of us who voted for the bill to find ourselves castigated by an official party publication. We want to find out what prompted this unusual statement and who is responsible."

Mrs. Ina Edwards, executive secretary of the national committee's women's division, made this comment:

"We feel terrible about the whole thing. It was an unfortunate mistake and a bad choice of words."

Some of the southerners said privately they wanted to know whether national chairman Robert Hannegan had anything to do with the article. Mrs. Edwards said he had not.

Hannegan and the southerners have not been on the best of terms, and in a recent speech Hannegan criticized those who have broken party lines on major legislative issues. None of his language was as strong as that in the Digest, however.

Democratic leaders in the House said they believed when all the facts were presented to the southerners their resentment would cool. They added, however, that the flare-up would not help current efforts to promote party harmony.

"We hope the whole thing will be just a tempest in a teapot and will blow over in a hurry," Rep. Gore (D-Tenn.) commented.

Those joining Gossett in sending out the invitation letters were Reps. Howard Smith (Va.), Slaughter (Mo.), Barden (N. C.), Abernethy (Miss.), Boren (Okla.), Earthman (Tenn.), and McKenzie (La.).

Republicans . . .

The 56 year old Tennesseean, a veteran of nearly 25 years of congressional service, told delegates at a party dinner last night he realizes the national chairman "cannot make the Republican party or determine its destinies."

That was the same point made by Stassen, who said he did not believe Reece's selection "constitutes a declaration by the Republican party as to its policy or platform."

Stassen said significantly he was prepared to cooperate with Reece in this year's congressional elections. He did not go further than that.

The former Minnesota governor declined to amplify his remarks, but it was apparent he considers Reece's congressional record on international issues open to question.

Reece's forces, headed by Walter Hallahan, West Virginia committee man, defeated former Senator John A. Danaher of Connecticut, generally regarded as the choice of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Danaher and John W. Hanes, a North Carolina Democrat-turned-Republican, at one point on the second ballot polled between them a total of 53 votes, enough for election had it been amassed by one individual.

Hanes' candidacy was advanced by Sinclair Weeks of Massachusetts, former national committee treasurer and an ardent supporter of the late Wendell L. Willkie. Despite an assertion by former GOP Chairman Harrison E. Spangler that Hanes had been appointed to the Securities Exchange Commission and to the Treasury by President Roosevelt, Hanes received 22 votes.

Danaher mustered 31 as his top strength, but Reece had 46 on the first ballot, held that on the second and climbed to 58 on the third. This was five more than the necessary majority. The committee promptly made it unanimous.

In his victory talk to the confident party members, Reece asserted that a "new deal monopoly" has been in charge with resulting "secret" and "bureaucratic" government.

The Senate atomic energy committee also was working to reach agreement on questions holding up the final draft of legislation for future atomic energy control. The No. 1 problem appeared to be how much atomic information should the United States be prepared to surrender in the interests of promoting international confidence and harmony.

The bill to continue OPA another year after June 30 had the House Banking Committee in a pulling-and-hauling contest over a proposal to incorporate in the new law mandatory provisions for ending price controls as supply nears a balance with demand. Much drafting work remains to be done on this measure, but recent probabilities were that the final version would carry some such provisions.

to the standard carbon steel specifications of the Association of American Railroads.

Built of U. S. S. Cor-ten to order for Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation, this new car will first be displayed at Roanoke today and Wednesday, with later appearances at other railroad centers. The very high strength and superior atmospheric corrosion resistance of this type of steel, say the car's designers, permit reduction of the thickness of sections, and will assure longer service life. The welded joints greatly simplify construction, provide seals against moisture, and eliminate laps.

"Featherweight" Coal Car Shown

Roanoke, Va., April 2.—(AP)—The first all-welded steel alloy coal car in the long history of railroading—a "featherweight" design that eliminates more than 15 per cent deadweight of the standard model—made its initial appearance here today when it was viewed by representatives of southern rail lines following completion in the shops of the Virginia Bridge Company, a U. S. Steel subsidiary.

The new hopper, when empty, weighs only 33,500 pounds, 6,540 pounds below that of the car built

Reds Demand End To U. S. Army Aid

Chungking, April 2.—(AP)—The Chinese Communists demanded anew today that American forces at once cease transportation of Nationalist troops to Manchuria as the dispute about the size of forces the Communists and Central Government should maintain in the northern territory broke out again.

The Central Daily News reported that government troops entered the Manchurian port of Yinkow at the head of the Gulf of Chihli on the night of March 28.

The Communists contended that the Nationalist troops are going all out to precipitate larger scale hostilities against Communist and local popular forces in Manchuria before the arrival of the cease fire field teams in order to frustrate efforts to end hostilities.

Olen Clements, Associated Press correspondent, reported dispatches in the independent Chinese newspaper, Ta Kung Pao, announced that Russian forces had evacuated Mengkia, southwest of Mukden, and on leaving had fired the former Japanese barracks.

Another dispatch to the same paper said approximately 600 Chinese Communist yesterday had attacked the railway station at Santzein, near Tsinan in Shantung province for two hours.
