Reconversion Hits Its Stride In U. S.

Production For Civilians Higher Than Ever Before; Unemployment Is Lower Than Estimated; Nation's Revenues And Expenditures Are More Nearly In Balance

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—President Truman said today that production for civilians is higher today than ever before in the nation's history, in war or in peace, and is still going up.

Employment, which slumped after V-J Day, is building up steadily, and non-agricultural employment is now above the V-J Day level, Mr. Truman said in a statement issued at his news conference.

"Unemployment is around 8,000,000, which is lower than any of us thought possible six months ago," the statement continued. "Private wage and salary payments, which dipped sharply after V-J Day, are now around the V-J Day level."

"The public debt, which necessarily grew to give us our airplanes and guns, has now stopped rising and our revenues and expenditures are more nearly in balance."

The signing of wage contracts in many basic industries indicates the country is ready for unbroken production, the statement asserted.

But, when asked what effect a long continued coal strike would have on the picture, Mr. Truman replied that a prolonged coal shut-down would knock the whole thing out.

The steel strike, he told the reporters, cost the nation about 7,000,000 tons of steel products or one-ninth of a full year's production.

The President's statement was issued in connection with the release of a civilian production report by Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, saying output has reached its highest level in history.

Along with this factory output—now exceeding a rate of $150,000,000 a year—non-farm employment has climbed to a point higher than before V-J Day, when war plants were running full blast, Mr. Snyder told President Truman and Congress.

Streamlined Sub Built By Japs

Sasebo, Japan, April 3.—(AP)—A streamlined submarine much faster than any turned out in the United States was developed by the Japanese before they lost the war, an American expert disclosed today.

Lt. Cmdr. George F. Sharp, of Vallejo, Calif., who commanded the target fleet of 24 Japanese submarines blown up Monday off the coast, said U. S. submarines could make 12 knots an hour submerged, while the Japanese streamlined model could make 20 knots.

The model quickly caught the eye of American submarine men, and copies of the craft already are in the United States for exhaustive tests. It is believed the design was so new the subs never got into combat.

"This submarine has two very important features—streamlining and the number of batteries," said Sharp. "Guns recessed into the deck, and even antenna fitting were built back. The conning tower was shaped like a teardrop. Every bit of resistance possible was eliminated."

The fast Japanese submarine has 2,000 battery jars with 4,196 cells. Latest U. S. subs carried 240 battery jars, he explained.

The additional power was designed to permit the Japanese submarine to get in to release its torpedoes, and not for the getaway. High speed is of no advantage in escaping, Sharp said, because it reveals the course to destroyers above.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—From time to time over the past 35 years Congressmen have complained about pressure lobbies here trying to influence legislation.

It's an old story, continually bobbing up. There have been a few investigations, and there have been some exposures of sinister practices. But when the smoke cleared, there were the lobbies, still doing business at the old stand.

Nothing had been done to curb them. Now the uproar over lobbies has started again, and the House Rules Committee has tentatively approved a resolution for an investigation of lobbies.

Maybe there really will be an investigation and maybe the House will come up with some method of keeping a check on lobbyists' activities or cleaning them up.

That's only maybe. We'll have to wait and see. Maybe there will not be an investigation. Maybe when the present heat dies down, the House will lose its zest for an investigation and let the resolution

NEW CONTROLS ON CLOTHING PRICES SEEN

Bowles May Order Approval Of Check Rein On Rising Cotton Prices

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Government officials said today Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles may order Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to approve a regulation designed to check rising cotton clothing prices.

These officials, in a position to know but who asked anonymity, said Bowles plans to do this unless Anderson decides soon to approve the measure voluntarily.

Drawn up by OPA nearly three weeks ago on instructions from Bowles, it would require higher down payments on cotton sold for later delivery.

"The purpose, Bowles has said, is to check speculation in cotton, which he contends has been a major factor in forcing up prices of cotton clothing."

Bowles ordered cotton merchants to check speculation in cotton, which he contends has been a major factor in forcing up prices of cotton clothing.

Hears Petition For Branch Bank

By CHESTER WALSH State Banking Commissioner Gurney P. Hood of Raleigh presided at a hearing here today on the petition of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company to open a branch office at Dickinson Avenue and Watauga Avenue. A court stenographer took down the proceedings. The bank commissioner will submit them to the State Banking Commission at its meeting in Raleigh on April 24 for final disposition. W. H. Woolard, president of the bank, stated.

Responding to a petition of many businessmen and farmers to open a branch in the western section of Greenville, the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company had applied for a permit from the state commission. The petition stated that unusual growth of that section of the city and the establishment of many new banks, justified more convenient banking facilities. Many farmers signed the petition, saying the branch would be convenient for them after selling tobacco at nearby warehouses. At today's meeting others joined the petitioners. There was no opposition to the proposal. About 40 businessmen and farmers attended the meeting. It was held at Sheppard Memorial Library.

President Woolard said today that the bank's directors had approved the project, and that when the state commission approves, construction of a suitable building will be started as soon as possible. There may be some delay in procuring building materials and furniture and fixtures, he added.

In the nation's capital the question of observing the time advance—first introduced in the United States in 1917 under wartime pressure—still was being considered. President Truman has said he would not put daylight saving time into general effect unless it was legislated.

Daylight saving will be observed on a state-wide basis this year in Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. Parts of most of the eastern states will have daylight saving but most of the west will not.

New York, Pennsylvania, Maine, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, South Carolina, Florida, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Idaho and Missouri will leave the question of advancing the clock to local option.

Daylight saving will be observed for the first time in St. Louis, Indianapolis in central Indiana and cities in the northern portion of the state will adopt the measure while southern Indiana will not.

While Louisville and Frankfort will advance their clocks other Kentucky cities will not.

These states will not have daylight time: Mississippi, Texas, Oregon, Kansas, Arizona, Washington, Utah, Minnesota, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Wisconsin, Michigan.

Red Army Technicians Aiding Kurdish Revolt

Kurdish Chieftain Says Tanks, Trucks And Guns Have Been Obtained From Russians; A "Free Kurdistan" Said To Be Aim

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN Tehran, April 1.—(AP)—Delayed—A Khurdish chieftain said today Russian technicians had arrived at Saubulagh (Mehabad) in northwestern Iran to train Kurdish tribesmen for what he termed a general drive for a free Kurdistan.

A former Kurdish member of Iran's Parliament declared in Hamadan that Kurds of Iran, Turkey, Iraq and Syria, meeting at Mehabad, have proclaimed a new and greater Kurdish state centered at the Iraq oil city of Mosul.

Neither of these informants can be identified by name. The chieftain, who said his life would be in danger if his presence in Tehran was disclosed, said the military forces of Ghazi Mohammad, the head of a recently proclaimed independent Kurdish republic seated at Saubulagh, had obtained 20 tanks, four trucks and a number of mortars from a Russian unit in Miyandub, northwest of Saubulagh. (A Tehran dispatch filed earlier and received in New York yesterday, quoted a Kurdish chieftain as saying Russian troops were withdrawing from Miyandub.)

The chieftain, who claims to lead 4,000 mounted riflemen and who said he "came here" directly from councils with Ghazi Mohammad and Mullah Mustafa, Iraqi Kurdish leader outlawed by the Iranian government, asserted in an interview that Iranian, Iraqi and Turkish Kurds were represented among the tribesmen contesting the present preliminary actions against Iranian army garrisons at Sardasht, Baneh and Saqqiz.

His interview with the Associated Press was arranged through an American friend of the chief who (Continued on Page Four)

Daylight Saving Is Only Partially Used

Majority Of States, Among Them North Carolina, Will Continue On Standard Time; Scattered Areas Will Advance Their Clocks

By the Associated Press Five states and parts of 18 others will observe daylight saving time beginning April 28 while the remainder will continue on standard time.

Among the cities which will push their clocks ahead one hour are New York, Boston, Buffalo, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Miami, Louisville, Newark, Charleston, and Indianapolis.

But Kansas City, San Francisco, Seattle, Dallas, Des Moines, Memphis, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Salt Lake City, Omaha, Phoenix and Portland, Ore., will ignore the change.

FIVE MAJOR STRIKES HOLD SPOTLIGHT

Federal Conciliators Active In Efforts To Solve Labor Disputes

By The Associated Press Attempts to settle five major labor disputes held top attention today along the nation's labor front.

As 400,000 soft coal miners remained away from their jobs for the third day, Special Federal Conciliator Paul W. Fuller planned a new gesture to keep the negotiations between the operators and John L. Lewis from becoming hopelessly deadlocked.

Fuller did not disclose details as he prepared to meet with the principals in the dispute over a new contract. Lewis, president of the AFL-United Mine Workers, said he was not ready to discuss wages and hours with the producers until they agree in principle to the idea of a health and welfare fund for the miners.

Also in Washington, federal conciliators said there was a possibility of an early settlement of the 73-day strike by 30,000 International Harvester Company employees. The company and CIO Farm Equipment Workers Union have agreed to an 18 cent hourly wage increase and principal issues under negotiation include union security provisions, seniority and grievance procedures.

The strike of 5,200 AFL operators of Detroit's city owned transportation system was in its third day and union and city officials did not indicate an agreement on a wage issue was imminent. Union officials plan (Continued on Page Six)

POLITICS IN PEOPLES MINDS

Candidates File For Office; Keen Interest In Congressional Race

By CHESTER WALSH Pitt Countyans are now putting the war behind them and thinking more of politics and government, with the Democratic Primary, May 25, seven weeks off.

The outstanding feature of the campaign, now getting under way, was the recent announcement of Robert Lee Humber of Greenville, distinguished and internationally known lawyer, running for Congress from the First District. Herbert C. Bonner of Washington is the incumbent.

Humber is the author of the World Federation Plan, first made public in 1940, which provides for a federation of nations similar to the American Union of States. Bonner, who succeeded Lindsey C. Warren in Congress, has served (Continued on Page Six)

High Velocity Winds Move Toward Luzon

Manila, April 3.—(AP)—A typhoon with a center velocity of 100 to 115 miles an hour is moving toward the Philippines and may hit northern Luzon by tomorrow, the Philippine Sea Frontier announced today.

Vice Adm. James L. Kauffman, the frontier commander, ordered naval vessels in the Manila area removed to the Olongapo naval base 60 miles west, where they have better protection.

Winds of 25 to 28 miles an hour on the fringes of Manila are expected to increase to around 50 miles an hour by noon tomorrow. However, Kauffman said no danger from the winds was expected in this area.

The earthquake-born disturbance—now completely subsided—took possibly 176 lives as it pounded shores from the Aleutians to Hawaii, to California and to Peru.

The territorial toll of 79 dead and 85 missing included: Hilo and the island of Hawaii 55 dead and 73 missing; Kauai 12 and six; Maui seven and five, and Oahu five and one. All bodies had been identified.

Added to these were 10 presumed deaths in the Aleutians and one each in California and Peru. An estimated 4,000 Hawaiians were homeless.

Pacific fleet headquarters reported it was in radio contact with all Pacific islands on which there were U. S. naval installations, and that it had no reports of any loss of life. The army also had no reports of deaths.

The navy's Alaska sea frontier command at Kodiak last night said no further effect or recurrence of the wave was expected, criticizing in the same statement "groundless, panic-breeding rumor, widely disseminated with such harmful effect both in Alaska and the continental United States." (The Associated Press did not carry such rumors.)

Dr. Archie Orenstein, Hawaii county physician, reported last night that it might be necessary to take fingerprints of some bodies still unidentified so that they could be cremated promptly to forestall possible contagion. Later it was announced that all bodies had been identified.

FAMED AUTHOR DIED TODAY

Thomas Dixon, Carolinian Author Of "Birth Of A Nation" Passes

THOMAS DIXON Raleigh, N. C., April 3.—(AP)—Thomas Dixon, 82, who wrote "The Birth of a Nation," died at his home here at 3:30 this morning after a long illness.

He had lived in Raleigh since his appointment in 1937 as clerk of the Federal Court of the eastern district of North Carolina. Illness forced his resignation in 1943.

In 1914, at the behest of Hollywood interests, he wrote a "photo-play" about the south and its "white supremacy" fight after the Civil War. Using his first two novels, "The Leopard's Spots" and "The Clansman," he produced the script for "The Birth of a Nation," which David Mark Griffith directed.

A native of Shelby, Dixon won his Master of Arts degree at Wake Forest College at the age of 19. He was elected to the state legislature (Continued on Page Four)

FIRING SQUAD ENDS CAREER

General Homma Dies Stoically Before American Rifles

Manila, April 3.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, a black hood over his head and a white target over his heart, died before a U. S. army firing squad early this morning, calm and silent to the end.

The stocky Japanese, who was General MacArthur's foe in the 1942 battle of the Philippines, died for ordering the death march on Bataan and condoning widespread atrocities in the Philippines.

The execution took place at Los Baros, 20 miles south of Manila, at about 1 a. m. It was there that Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita was hanged for the atrocity slaying of three American naval fliers in May, 1944.

Without perceptible emotion, Homma strode to the execution scene between an escort formed in double ranks. A chaplain walked with him. Homma stood silent, his arms bound behind him, as the officer in command read the charge, finding and sentence.

The Japanese indicated he had no last statement. Weeks before he had written to an old friend in Japan that he knew he could not escape the death sentence.

"I have failed to fulfill my task with justice and charity," he wrote. "I do not blame anybody. I want to go—the earlier the better—to the place where Japanese soldiers (Continued on Page Four)

Wave-Ravaged Hilo Yields More Bodies

Estimated 4,000 Islanders Homeless; Weary Volunteers, Spurred By Threat Of Contagion Continue Search For Dead

By DON WHITEHEAD Honolulu, April 3.—(AP)—The multi-million dollar debris of science wave-ravaged Hilo yielded seven more bodies today as weary volunteers, spurred by a threat of contagion, continued their unceasing search.

The earthquake-born disturbance—now completely subsided—took possibly 176 lives as it pounded shores from the Aleutians to Hawaii, to California and to Peru.

The territorial toll of 79 dead and 85 missing included: Hilo and the island of Hawaii 55 dead and 73 missing; Kauai 12 and six; Maui seven and five, and Oahu five and one. All bodies had been identified.

Brazilians Hunt For Jap Gang

Sao Paulo, Brazil, April 3.—Nine Japanese were arrested today at headquarters of a secret society in a widespread hunt for Japanese terrorists that extended to three different states.

The terrorists recently killed two Japanese businessmen who sought to explain to their illiterate countrymen that Japan was defeated in the war. The terrorists, police declared, were linked to the notorious Black Dragon Society. One of those arrested was a Japanese colonel. A clandestine radio transmitter and a printing establishment also were seized. Authorities said they had detained Rikara Negoro as president of the society called the Shendo Remel.

The legend that hummingbirds migrate on the backs of geese probably came from the fact that large insect parasites sometimes fly from the feathers of a dead goose.

Ex-GI Writes To His Congressman

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—The trials of "basic training as a civilian" were described by a GI from Missouri in a letter to Rep. Gillie (R-Ind.).

"The Army says I can't wear a uniform after I arrived home because I'll be impersonating a soldier."

"The stores say I can't buy a suit of clothes because they haven't my size."

"The police say I can't go on the streets naked because it is against the law."

The WORLD TODAY

AP World Traveler

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Our troubled world could profit—if it would—from the striking lesson which the outspoken General Douglas MacArthur has read us in calling for strong and direct moral leadership over occupation troops in Japan.

The specific occasion of this move is the fear expressed by some Americans that there is "widespread, promiscuous relationship between members of the occupying forces and Japanese women of immoral character." The general states that several times he has commended "the high standard maintained by our forces engaged in the occupation" and has "seen nothing to discount that view." Nevertheless he has acted promptly on the strength of letters received from American homes.

MacArthur, who never has been afraid to talk right out loud about spiritual and moral matters, has combined precept and action. He has taken measures to curb prostitution and to provide the troops with healthful recreation. But he recognizes that these alone are not a cure. He says moral leadership is necessary.

That is particularly impressive to your columnist who has just returned from a Europe which is suffering in many areas from moral and spiritual collapse. This is true not only of prostitution but of all other phases of life, and it is the general aspects of the situation to which I would direct your attention.

Important sections of the continent are in a shocking state of general immorality. That is one of the basic problems of rehabilitation. So far as prostitution is concerned—and I don't want to overemphasize what is merely one phase of the situation—we've been hearing plenty about that from the Allied zones of occupation in Germany recently. This problem in the Reich is aggravated by the fact that Hitler deliberately schooled the younger generation in sexual immorality—taught the girls that it was their (Continued on Page Four)

Belvoir P. T. A. The Belvoir P. T. A. held its regular monthly meeting Thursday, March 27th at 7:30 in the school auditorium with Mrs. Kelly Clark, president, presiding. Mrs. Murray introduced Mr. Henry Speight, a graduate and former student of Belvoir, who led the devotional. Mr. Speight made a very interesting talk on "Young People" choosing the finer things in life.

The following officers were installed for the ensuing year: Mrs. Kelly Clark was re-elected president. She has done splendid work for the P. T. A. and school during the past year. Mrs. H. B. Randolph, vice president, Mrs. Julius Parker, treasurer and Mr. Floyd Harris, secretary. At the conclusion of the business meeting the parents were entertained by a number of pupils who took part in a springtime program.

The sixth grade won the attendance banner for having the most parents present. The P. T. A. officers, Mrs. Kelly Clark, Mrs. Julius Parker and Mrs. H. B. Randolph gave this grade a veiner roast Monday for their excellent cooperation.

A good time was enjoyed by all. We hope to have large attendance at our future meetings.

Falkland H. D. Club The Falkland Home Demonstration club had a very interesting meeting March 18th. The topic for discussion was on "Home Life," a subject every home maker should give much thought on. The home is where we live, where there should be cooperation or team work. There will be joy and sorrow, problems to solve. To cope with the situation, there must be understanding on another's patience. Let each one feel and know they have an important part to play, take them into your confidence and never shirk your duty. Try to be cheerful at all times and show your love for one another by doing little things for them. A home without love is dead. It takes more than just eating and sleeping and running around to make a home that will carry sweet memories and friends will drop in at all times. The family should have a plan and stick to it. Each member of the family should discuss and help form the plan. Let's resolve to make our home a place of joy, let love reign supreme. Reported.

Skating Contest Carnival The skating costume carnival in Prichard's stemmy Tuesday night drew a good attendance. A prize of a pair of skates was awarded for the best representation in costume of the title of any song or book. Some of those entered in the contest were Essie Hasket, "Blue Flowers" blue flowers on her dress; Nina Harris, "Twenty Leagues Under the Sea." She wore a crown with the letter "C" under which was a 20M, her dress being covered with emblems of the Epworth League. Adrian Brown, "Scarlet Letter." It was pinned to his jacket. Bryce Brown, "Ivanhoe." He held one up and said, "I've an hoe." Lillian Carr, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Quaint dress and her apron filled with cabbages. James Brown, "American Boy." Pictures of the real article pinned on him. Essie Whitchard, "Tessie," a large T suspended from her neck. May Whitfield, "Egyptian Princess," wearing a pretty Egyptian costume. Lillian Whitfield, "Bluebell," dress in blue with a girle of tiny bells. Key Brown, "Good Night," picture of a little girl ready to retire. After debating the question until nearly time to go home the judges agreed that the best should draw for the prize. These were May Whitfield, Nina Harris and Lillian Carr. Miss Carr drew the skates.

Cancer Control Drive Will Open

Tuesday night the local committee of the American Cancer Society sponsored by the Women's Club met for dinner in the private dining room of the Hotel Proctor for instructions in the coming cancer control drive for funds. The city street department has pledged support to the "clean-up campaign." Household and business men are urged to cooperate, especially by providing adequate containers for garbage and trash.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Grady Cox, who were married on Saturday, March 16, 1946, at the home of the bride in Tallahassee, Ala. Mr. Cox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cox, of Winterville, N. C. They are both attending Alabama Polytechnic Institute in Auburn, Ala.

Dr. Davis pointed out some very pertinent facts about cancer; cancer alone killed 607,000 Americans between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day—more than twice as many Americans as were killed or listed as missing in action in World War II.

Research has made great strides in the control and cure of this dreaded No. One enemy of America. At present, three people die every ten minutes of cancer, said Mr. Davis. When detected early enough and properly treated, at least 30 to 50 percent of these cancer cases can be cured.

On April 9th, Greenville cancer week will open, at which time the people of this community will be called upon for donations in the fight against this dreaded disease. As in the past, 60 percent of the collected fund is returned to the state for the immediate help of the victim while 40 percent goes to the national headquarters for research.

Growing Interest In Clean-Up Plan

The "Clean-up Campaign," sponsored by the civic and other local organizations, to be conducted here the week of April 22-27, in cooperation with the city administration and the county health office, has aroused considerable interest. It begins to appear that for the first time since the war Greenville is going to have a thorough clean-up.

At a public meeting at the City Hall Monday, the presiding officer, Thomas E. Wilson, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, appointed various committees and a steering committee composed of Dr. N. Thomas Emmett, chairman; H. A. Hendrix, city sanitarian; Mrs. Cora S. Powell, Dr. Robert S. Boyd, Mrs. H. Rose, Willard T. Krzer and W. H. Davenport. This committee was inadvertently omitted from yesterday's report of Monday's meeting.

The various committee chairmen will meet at the City Hall next Monday morning at 10 o'clock, to com-

FINE CONCERT EPPES SCHOOL

Young Negro Singers Present Fine Program Of Songs

By CHESTER WALSH

The Epes Negro High School Glee Club presented a concert at the school auditorium last night that was a credit to the talented students, their instructors and the community. The musical event was brilliantly presented to an appreciative audience. The talented young musicians, evinced a love of music in their singing; their articulation was exceptionally distinct and clear, and they manifested dramatic ability.

Judge J. W. H. Roberts, an ardent music-lover and a friend to all young people, said last night's concert was one of the best he ever heard—given by adults or young people. "Some of the Glee Club members have talent and ability which will take them forward in the musical world," the Greenville jurist said. Others at the concert expressed similar views and complimented the accompanists, Johnnie Taylor and Alice Jenkins; Mrs. S. L. Davenport, the director, and Prof. W. H. Davenport, principal of the school.

The program was as follows: "Sky Anchors," by Fred Waring; "O Mighty Land," (Sibelius); "Moonlight," (Beethoven-Sprouss); "Moonlight," by George Parrish, who has an exceptionally good voice; "Talk About A Child," (Dawson), by Doris Lynch, who not only has a splendid and well trained voice, but stage presence. Jean Johnson's singing of Schubert's "Who Is Sylvia?" drew much applause.

The Girls' Octette "had everything" in its rendition of three numbers: "Mah Lindy Lou," (Strickland), "By the Waters of Minnetonka," (Lieurance), and "The Rosary," by Ethelbert Nevin. The Mixed Chorus made a fine impression with its singing of spirituals, "Gonna Journey Away," (Ryder), "Better Be Ready," (Dett), "The Lost Chord," (Sullivan), "Rockin' Jerusalem," (John Work), and "This Is My Country," (Jacobs).

The Epes Negro High School Glee Club's concert should be repeated. All Greenville music-lovers should have an opportunity to enjoy it.

The Fall Guy

BY JOE BARRY

Chapter 27

"Okay, Jago," he said between his teeth. "Drop the cigar and turn around." A henchman raised his gun and Rush shot him through the wrist. "Up with them," Rush commanded. Slowly hands reached ceilingward.

"You, Wilmer," he said, "untie her." His gun pointed at Leslie.

Wilmer gritted his teeth and said an unmentionable word between them. Rush shot him in the arm. "Jump," he said.

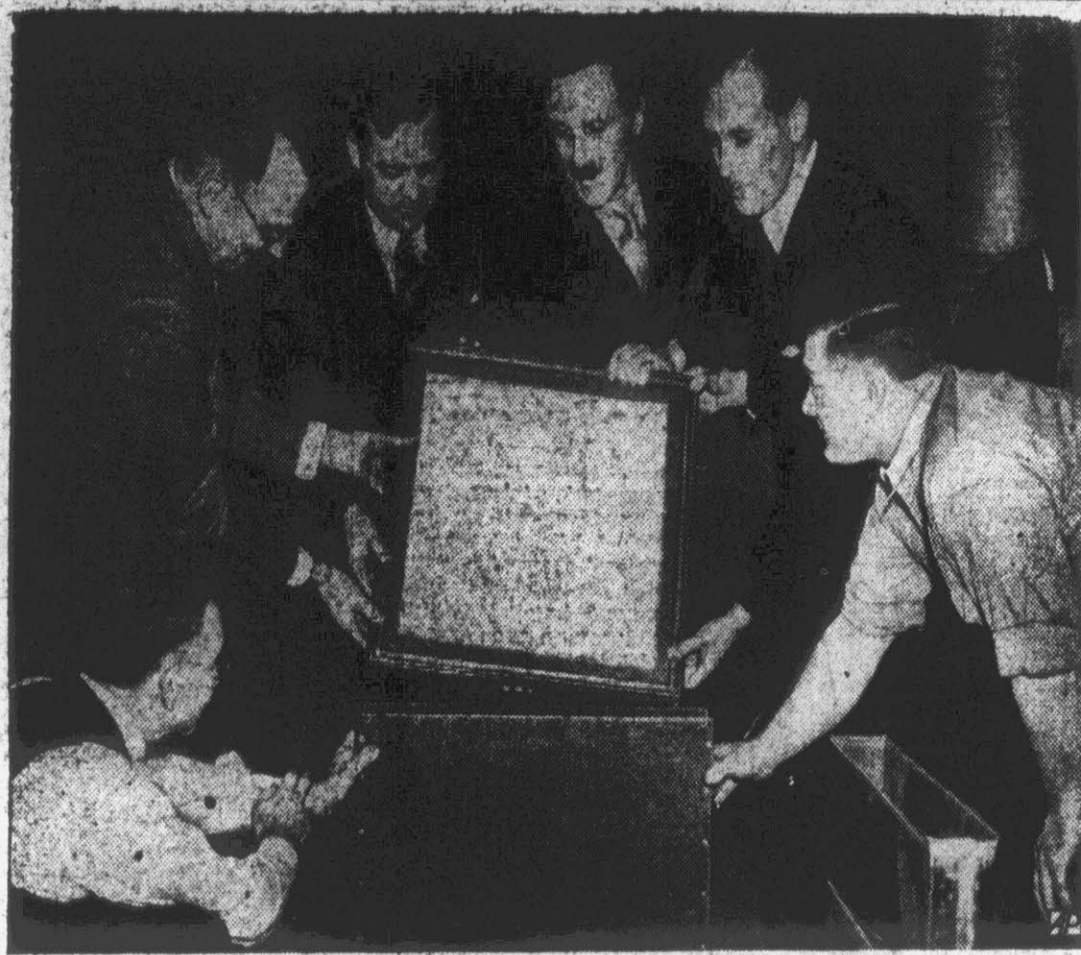

With his good arm Wilmer reached down and pulled the cords that bound Leslie. They fell loose and she stood up, weaving on trembling legs.

"Now throw all your rods in the center of the floor." Five guns dropped to the floor in front of him. "Pick them up, Leslie." She gathered them together and held them beside him. He gestured toward the window and she threw the guns out on the roof.

"Now you, Mick. Come over here beside me." The Big One seemed to debate his chances, then slowly walked over to Rush. "You are going to escort us out of this dive and to my car. My gun will be in your side all the way. If anybody tries to stop us, it's all over for you. Now, march."

They might have been three close friends as they walked arm to arm through the now crowded bar downstairs. Big Mick stowed with them till they reached Rush's car, then Rush turned to him.

"Let this be a lesson to you Mick," he said and stepped close to the Big One. "This time you get off. You're the first guy who ever sneaked a pot shot at Rush Henry and got away with it. This time there's too much else to worry about. But before you send a hood after me in an automobile again, I think twice. This is 1945, not 1929. You can't gun a man down in broad daylight any more and get away with it. Try it and I'll get you if it's the last thing I do. Now, shook his head and dropped his feet over the edge of the bed, wriggling them into slippers. He scratched his head and mopped his face with his hands. The clock on his bedside said ten o'clock. This would be Gertrude, he imagined, wondering if he were alive. He slip-slapped into the living room and picked up the phone cutting it off in mid-ring. His caller was not Gertrude. Paul Germaine, Sr.'s voice sounded, very taut and strained, in his ear.

"Henry?"

"Yes," said Rush.

"Can you come over right away?"

Rush yawned. "Why, yes, I guess so. What's up?"

"Something has come up which I must discuss with you in private."

"Yes?" said Rush.

"I'd rather not explain over the phone. When may I expect you?"

"Give me a half hour," said Rush. "I have to dress."

"Half an hour then," said Germaine and the phone clicked in Rush's ear. He looked for a moment at the instrument in his hand and then lowered it slowly to the cradle. There had been something a shade wrong with the timing of Germaine's hang-up. It had come a fraction of a second soon, almost as if it would cut off his last word. Rush scratched his head again and dialed his office. He got Gertrude.

"Look, my lovely," he said. "Find Merwin. Tell him I'm on my way to Germaine's. If I don't check in before late this afternoon, have him get my car and come pick me up about five."

"Will do, boss," said Gertrude.

Rush hung up then and shaved and dressed. Fifteen minutes later, minus breakfast, he was in a cab on his way to the Germaine home. His cab rolled up the driveway less than a minute over his promised half hour. He dismissed the cab and strode up to the door. His knock was answered immediately. He stepped into the hallway and stepped into the point of a gun held at his stomach.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

MORE THAN EYE CAN SEE

We go out on a clear, starry night and look up into the heavens. The scene, probably, must appear to us as it did to our forebears. But the scene is not the same. Great broadcasting stations all over the country and the world are sending messages out over the air. We come into the house again and turn on the radio, and strains of music and the voices of announcers and commentators fill the room.

These five senses of ours are thoroughly inadequate to comprehend the whole of the universe. We are said to hear in eleven octaves, but there must be vibrations beyond these. The eyes and ears evidently take in but little of the created universe. Certainly there are vast realities that these five senses of ours can never touch.

How narrow and little, therefore, is the skeptic! How pretentious is the materialist who insists that there is no reality beyond what we can see, hear, touch, taste, or smell. Modern science has revealed so many wonders that man need not be overwhelmed with doubt as he reads in the Bible about great spiritual powers in which man is to put his trust.

Science should not destroy religious faith; rather, it should strengthen it. If what we apprehend with five limited senses is so marvelous, how great may be the things which a good God has laid up as a destiny for those who trust Him.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

Washington.—An analysis of the nature of casualties encountered in the bombing of large centers of population has changed our way of thinking concerning the best methods for protecting civilians from injury and death in air raids.

Religious bodies, irrespective of creed, are joining hands in this crusade which is being directed at all activities, including the political, and round the authorities utilizing to the full the efforts of these native workers for moral rehabilitation. And it is good to be able to report so that they would follow him in his program of slaughter and conquest.

This conclusion is an excerpt from an article, "Civilian Health in the Air War," published in Modern Medicine. Although the official Army report on the medical effects of bombing in Germany isn't yet available, the medical journal article was written by the editor-in-chief of that official report, Maj. Cortez F. Enloe, Jr., chief of the medical services branch, morale division, U. S. bombing survey.

Being a purely scientific report, the article gives only the cold statistics of death, injuries and disease, but behind them is the world's greatest story of human misery—the story of destruction of human life and health by the great bombing raids over Europe.

"It may safely be concluded," writes Major Enloe, "that one-half million enemy civilians were killed by Allied bombs in Europe. A careful check of figures indicates that approximately 422,000 deaths resulted from air raids. Investigation in 24 German cities indicates that 77,500 bodies were completely destroyed or still lie buried in the rubble and are yet to be recorded. Major Enloe says the use of atomic bombs doesn't alter the significance of the survey's findings except to make an awareness of the possibilities more imperative." He says that apparently the safest place to locate essential civilian workers is around the edges of cities so that transportation breaks won't affect their work, yet far from strategic targets.

There are reports of the many causes of death and injury: of burns and burial in debris; of carbon monoxide poisoning; of dust inhalation.

Congress Should Be More Statesmanlike

tion; of drowning in air raid shelters, scalding and chemical burns; and of fright and exhaustion. Mechanical injuries, it was found, were the most frequent causes of death—that is, direct hits by bombs or fragments, burial in rubble, and fire—it also was found that incendiary raids caused more dead than high explosive demolition bombs. This fact is interesting.

However, as already remarked, the sex problem is far from being the only one for the whole moral fabric of Germany and some other countries is punched full of holes. PHANTOMS WIN OVER KINSTON

Upset Scored In 5-3 Victory Over Red Devils

By DAVE CLARK
The Green Phantoms combined eight timely base knocks, daring base running, and almost airtight pitching and defensive play to knock a highly touted Kinston Red Devil nine off their feet in Kinston yesterday and post a 5-3 triumph in their season's opener.

Lefty Roscoe Little pitched five hit ball for the first six innings yesterday and got the much deserved credit for the win. His fast ball was definitely traveling and his control was almost perfect as he walked only two men over the six inning stretch.

"Spooky" Morgan relieved him in the seventh after he had walked two men and had none out. Morgan retired the side after they had scored one run on an error and went on to shut out the Devils for the next two innings.

The first inning went by without a score, but in the second the Devils collected one run to put them in the lead at 1-0. The Greenies tied it up in their half of the third frame when "Stump" Garrett singled, stole second and third and scored when Billy Harrington singled to centerfield.

The Greenies collected two more tallies in the fifth when Harrington singled home Garrett once again. Garrett had doubled Harrington scored the other run when he stole second and came home on Jimmy Futrell's single.

"Stump" Garrett and Howard Thigpen scored two more Greenie runs in the seventh. Kinston came back with two in their half to make the score 5-3 and complete the scoring.

Will Garrett led the Greenie hit parade with a double and two singles in four trips to the plate. Billy Harrington gathered two singles in five chances to follow Garrett. The Greenies got a total of eight hits as compared with Kinston's eight.

Dubose and Phillips led Kinston with 2 for 3 apiece. The starting line-up for Greenville was, in the infield, Jimmy Futrell at third, "Stump" Garrett at shortstop, "Herbert" Corey at second base and Bobby Clark at first. In the outfield were Billy Harrington in left, L. K. Kittrell in center, and Dave Clark in right. Hugh Hardee substituted in centerfield in the eighth and ninth innings.

Roscoe Little and Howard Thigpen were the starting battery for Greenville. "Spooky" Morgan relieved Little in the seventh.

College Baseball Schedule Planned

Fourteen games highlight the East Carolina Teachers College schedule for the 1946 baseball season. Coach Earl Smith has already begun practice with 26 men competing for places on the team. The season opens with a game

- April 16, Oak Ridge M. I.
- April 22, Atlantic Christian at ECTC.
- April 26, High Point College at ECTC.
- May 3-4, Norfolk Division of William and Mary at ECTC.
- May 7, Louisville College.
- May 10, Atlantic Christian.
- May 11, Oak Ridge M. I. at ECTC.
- May 17-18, Norfolk Division of William and Mary.
- May 21, Campbell College at ECTC.
- May 25, Campbell College.

Sports

Augusta, Ga., April 3—(AP)—A select field of the nation's best golfers teed off for a final practice round today before starting the tenth $10,000 master's tournament here tomorrow.

The 72-hole event, not held since 1942, brings the professionals' current winter tour to a close and pits the game's most able contenders against each other over the tough 6,800-yard national golf club layout. Interest centers primarily on the impending duel between Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and his fellow Texan, Byron Nelson of Toledo. Nelson is the defending champion and one of the tournament's two double-winners and while Hogan has never beaten him here, the little Hershey pro is rated the favorite.

Hogan, the year's leading money winner has consistently outplayed Nelson during the past two months and beat him in an exhibition match at Atlanta Sunday.

Greenwood Alek, N. J., April 3—(AP)—No one has to tell Billy Conn just how tough it's going to be to get into fighting shape for his June 19 date with Joe Louis, and right now sweet William is somewhat soured on all the free advice he's been getting about it lately.

After nearly four years in the army, he knows he and the Brown Bomber have the toughest job in front of them any two ear-scramblers ever had. As a matter of fact, he's so well acquainted with the job of work at hand that he and Manager Johnny Ray have lined up a program of conditioning here at their lakefront camp the like of which makes any previous training grind like two weeks vacation with pay.

Scheduled for the next ten weeks are more than 600 rounds of boxing—as much as a dozen or 15 rounds daily when the factory starts running full time in three weeks or so—with about 20 sparring partners who have direct orders to beat Billy's brains in if they can. As an incentive, the sparmates will get special cash bonuses for the best jobs of hammering on the Pittsburgh pretty boy.

"I can hear those experts screaming already," Billy grunted today as he bounced along the lakeshore on his first roadwork chore. "Now they'll be worrying that I'll be going stale. Well, I wanna tip them off that Joe and I have been stale for four years. Now we have to do more work than ever before to shake that staleness out."

The Ray-Conn board of strategy mapped out the ambitious "sweat" program long before they lifted the curtain on the training camp here yesterday.

Conn didn't even wait long enough to go through the important routine of getting acquainted with the chief before going to work. He boxed two fast rounds with welterweight Sammy Schipani of Pittsburgh to sharpen up.

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 3—(AP)—The New York Giants were here for a two-day stay with the Brooklyn Dodgers after breaking their Miami camp last night. Bill Voelke, who went the full nine innings his last time out, will attempt to duplicate the feat against the Brooks. The players still were talking about the Mexican league situation. Sal Maglie, who jumped to the south of the border loop, disclosed that offers had been made to Buddy Kerr, Voelke, Sid Gordon, Babe Young, Johnny Mize, Van Mungo and to a number of the Philadelphia Phils and athletics who train nearby.

"OIL-PLATED engines... they'd better have!"

The "haulaways" are abroad in the land! Your new car is in order—or in your mind. And now here is why any car of yours should have an OIL-PLATED engine . . .

OIL-PLATING will shield your engine's insides. It saves fine-finished surfaces from lots of wear. And that's how to raise resistance against carbon, gum, and sludge.

An OIL-PLATED engine is yours for the asking. Simply insist on filling with Conoco Nth motor oil. Conoco Nth brings its added OIL-PLATING substance. This acts magnet-like . . . joins lubricant curably to metal, so as to form protective OIL-PLATING! The process is the same in any engine. Though yours may not be new, this is an extra good time to OIL-PLATE it. For it needs a Spring oil change, and simply by getting Conoco Nth you'll get oil that OIL-PLATES —at a few cents' extra cost! DOCTORS JOIN IN CLINICAL EXAMINATIONS

County Physicians Volunteer Services in Pre-School Clinic

The Health Officer, Dr. Ennett, in conference with D. H. Conley, Supt. County Schools and J. H. Rose, Supt. Greenville City Schools and Principals agreed upon the following schedule for the pre-school examinations. All clinics to open for registration at 9 a. m. except Fountain which will open at 1 p. m.

All of the physicians in the city and County have volunteered their services in the pre-school clinics and the health officer states that this is the first year that the pre-school clinic examinations are to be done by the private physicians and he regards it as a big step forward, and a most commendable attitude on the part of the private physician.

Not only will the pre-school children be examined and vaccinated but in addition, the mothers may bring babies over six months of age and run-about-children as well for vaccination.

It is extremely important that the parent come with the children to the clinic to discuss the child's health with the doctor.

Politics . . .

two terms and is on same Republican committee.

In the Sixth Judicial District Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill and Solicitor David M. Hodges of Clark of Greenville have no opposition.

Senator Arthur B. Gayer of Greenville, incumbent, and J. P. (Dick) Arthur of Greenville are candidates for the Senate in the General Assembly. George W. Davis of Farmville, incumbent, has announced for the House in the General Assembly. Sam O. Worthington has not announced his candidacy.

Piling time for state and county candidates expires at 6 p. m. on April 15.

Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson of Greenville has no opposition.

Judge Dink James and Solicitor Charles M. Whedbee of Pitt County Recorder's Court have no opposition. Superior Court Clerk David M. House has no opposition.

No opposition has appeared against any of the incumbent county commissioners—G. H. Pittman of Falkland, W. J. Smith of Bethel, J. Noah Williams of Greenville, G. S. Porter of Simpson, and M. Brown Hodges of Griffin.

Nothing has been heard from candidates from the office of constable in Pitt County. Magistrates are elected and appointed by the governor. Three magistrates are permitted in each township. Unless there are more than three candidates for magistrate in a Democratic Primary there is no contest.

At this time interest centers particularly about the congressional race. The contest is a topic of conversation here and there and wherever citizens gather.

Incidentally, the Daily Reflector will provide its usual bulletin board service the night of the primary Saturday night, May 25.

New Recruiting Officer Arrives

A new commanding officer has been assigned to the Army's recruiting office in Greenville. Lt. Frank J. Abbate, Corps of Military Police, took over this post on April first, immediately following the predecessor, Lt. James B. Foster, who has been assigned to another post.

Lt. Abbate has served in an enlisted man and as an officer in both world wars. His first assignment was in July, 1917, at Camp Meade, Maryland. During his service in the Army he has served in many parts of the world and his experiences has given him an insight into the many desirable aspects of the service that appeal to the youth of America.

Accompanying Lt. Abbate and acting as chief clerk of the recruiting office, is Master Sergeant Melvin J. Hite, Jr., a veteran of eight years' service in a number of well-known units in the army before Lt. Hite's discharge in December, 1941, as a chief warrant officer.

Ready advice and assistance is promised to the thousands of Eastern Carolina youth who are interested in the educational and training opportunities the federal service affords in those who enlist in the Army.

and a meeting of the strikers today but they said no plans were made for a back-to-work referendum vote. The union struck in support of demands for an 18-cent hourly wage hike.

There appeared more hope of a settlement of the strike of about 400 CIO transport workers in Akron, O., which for three days has halted public transportation in the rubber industrial city of 300,000. Federal conciliators said wage negotiations between the union and the Akron Transportation Co. would be resumed today. The union has demanded hourly wage boosts of 32 cents, having withdrawn a compromise offer of 16 cents.

In Pittsburgh, Gwilyn A. Price, president of the strikebound Westinghouse Electric Corp. said his company would "willingly" appear before a Senate committee, if it holds a hearing in 11 weeks' end walkout by 75,000 CIO electrical workers at the company's plants. Senators Guffey and Myers of Pennsylvania told CIO leaders they would ask the Senate Education and Labor subcommittee to conduct the hearing.

Price, in a statement said his company had appeared before the Senate Education and Labor Committee on Feb. 1 to explain its position and that throughout negotiations with the union the company has "welcomed every opportunity to publicly discuss the issues involved." The strikers, who walked out on Jan. 15, are seeking hourly wage the start of its final deliberations on the question.

On the Senate floor the controversy over the reorganization of Commerce James K. Vedam, Jr., to the Federal Reserve Board continued to block consideration of legislative matters, notably the minimum wage bill.

Senator McFarland (R-Ariz.) informed newsmen he will urge the chamber to "stay in session until midnight if necessary" to vote on confirmation, but opponents of the nomination still held the floor.

On the minimum wage bill, meanwhile, informal conferences were reported to have produced an agreement among senators for a compromise boost from the present 40 cents to 60 cents. The administration bill originally called for an increase to 25 cents.

This reported compromise left legislators still at odds over whether to have the proposed bill widen minimum wage coverage to include an additional 3,500,000 workers, and whether to knock out an amendment that would have raised prices.

Forest Fires Wreak Havoc In Michigan

Traverse City, Mich., April 3.—(AP)—An estimated 35,000 acres of northern Michigan woodlands were a smoky ruins today as hundreds of weary firefighters prepared to renew their battle against an anti-guarded outbreak of more forest fires.

Conservation Department officials reported the flames under control as winds died down during the night, but weather bureau predictions of 25-mile-per-hour winds today gave rise to fear that the fire might spread rapidly later.

Laundryman Shot By Stray Booby-Trap

San Francisco, April 3.—(AP)—Foreman Jack Cook, 50, of an army quartermaster corps laundry told police he toiled with the cocked clip of an object that looked like a fountain pen and was shot last night. Police, tracing the uniform from which Cook said the parafet was removed, called it a booby trap, functioning like a gun with the clip for a trigger.

An operation was performed early today at the Mission Emergency Hospital to extract a bullet from Cook's abdomen.

Governor Refuses To Intervene In Case

Raleigh, April 3.—(AP)—Governor Cherry declined today to intervene in the scheduled execution on Friday of Thomas B. Hart, Halifax county negro who was convicted of a murder.

Hart was sentenced in Halifax county for the slaying of Marjorie Blackwood, a Negro, and also was convicted of second degree murder in connection with the slaying of her brother, Al Presto Blackwood, last August 1.

Livestock Feeding Faces Drastic Cuts

London, April 3.—(AP)—Drastic cuts in livestock feeding to conserve Europe's fast dwindling grain supplies were proposed today by food experts at 18 nations meeting in the first international conference of allies, neutrals and former enemy countries since World War II.

Delegates speculated privately on the absence of Russia and seven middle Europe countries which turned down invitations. But British Foreign Minister Bevin, in an address of welcome, declared that the conference was non-political, adding that "who is here and who is not here is unimportant."
