Building Subsidies Under Senate Fire

Senate Opens Debate On Housing Program With Senator Capehart Demanding 50 Percent Cut In $600 Millions Subsidy Fund; Guarantees To Manufacturers Opposed By Taft

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—A fight to trim the $600,000,000 fund for building material subsidies took top billing today as the Senate turned its attention to the administration's emergency housing bill.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) had an amendment ready to halve the amount which Housing Expediter William Wyatt could deal out to manufacturers in an effort to increase supplies of scarce goods—without boosting prices to the public.

Wyatt would first make a beginning on this program with $300,000,000 and if he needs more money he could come back to Congress, Capehart told reporters.

Another point of controversy was over a provision allowing Wyatt to guarantee markets for new type building materials or pre-fabricated houses.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said an effort would be made to strike it out.

There apparently was little Senate opposition to a provision permitting ceiling prices on existing houses, although it was rejected by the House, which also turned down the $600,000,000 subsidy fund.

Both provisions were restored by the Senate Banking Committee, which also added the guaranteed market for prefabricated houses, a point the House has not passed on.

Whatever the measure the Senate passes will have to go back to the House for action on amendments. The final result will be a compromise.

The measure is aimed at getting construction of 2,700,000 new homes priced to sell or rent at a figure veterans can pay by the end of 1947. It proposed to do this by:

1. Getting production of more building materials. This is the subsidy program which President Truman called the very heart of the measure.

2. Controlling use of these materials to assure that they are used for housing rather than going into other types of construction.

3. Ceiling prices on new homes to prevent inflationary prices.

Other provisions include a $1,000,000,000 increase in government authority to insure home mortgage loans and preference for veterans (Continued on Page Four)

Hail Storm Causes Millions In Damages

Anniston, Ala., April 8.—(AP)—Tons of hailstones remained on the streets here today as residents struggled to clear away debris left in the wake of a storm which caused damage estimated at millions of dollars.

Eighteen persons were injured in the half-hour hailstorm which swept through Calhoun County.

The hail, as large as half dollar pieces, fell in such volume that war veterans said the noise resembled an artillery bombardment. Many buildings looked as though they had been hit by artillery and machine gun fire. Some houses were damaged by falling trees.

Ed Brinkley, editor of the Anniston Star, describing today's scene said there wasn't a street which was not blocked off. Practically every building in town had been damaged by the hail and rain which fell in torrents.

In some sections of the city a foot of hail fell.

Hundreds of trees were stripped of foliage as though you had put them through a threshing machine, Brinkley said.

UNDETERMINED IRAN POLICY ON NEW ISSUE

No Decision Reached On Soviet Demand To Drop Case Before Council

Tehran, April 8.—(AP)—The Iranian government apparently had not reached a decision this morning as to its policy toward Soviet demands that the Iranian case be withdrawn from the United Nations Security Council.

Prince Firouz, minister of propaganda, when asked if Premier Qavam supported the Soviet demand, said action of Mr. Gromyko's request is entirely a Security Council matter.

A cabinet member said privately however, he believed that "in view of the friendly relations existing between Persia and Russia, that Qavam would agree to dropping the case from the agenda."

"After all our governments are now in agreement on the problems posed before the Security Council, he said.

On the other hand, the Tehran radio, which is government operated, repeated a statement made to reporters by Qavam yesterday that the case would remain on the council's docket until May 6, the date the Russians have set for completion of their troop evacuation.

A Reuters dispatch from Tehran said Qavam had ordered troops to proceed immediately to the Caspian province of Mazandaran following reports of an attempted coup d'etat.

Simultaneously with the demand of Ambassador Andrei Gromyko in New York for the council to drop the case, it was stated here that the agreement reached April 4 between Russia and Iran calls for a joint Russian-Iranian oil company in which Russia would be the first 25 years of the 50-year term. The agreement is to be presented to the Iranian parliament for approval.

Negro Held For Suspected Arson

Rocky Mount, April 8.—(AP)—Three Negroes were burned to death and three more are in a local hospital today as a result of a fire which destroyed their frame residence here shortly before three o'clock Sunday morning.

Police are holding Jim Bridges, Negro, on suspicion of firing the drelling in an effort at revenge. Bridges was taken into custody at the home of a neighbor shortly after the fire and is being held without bond pending further investigation. Police said his wife and two children were asleep in the house at the time. He had previously been hauled into court for non-support.

Fire victims are Daniel Gray, 22, Willie Gray, 14, and William Gray, 10. Ten Negroes, all members of one family, were asleep in the house at the time and three were taken to a local hospital for treatment. The dead were trapped in a crowded side room.

Police said it appeared a highly inflammable liquid, possibly gasoline, had been poured around windows and doors at the front of the house. The house and furnishings were completely destroyed.

Pressure Mounting For Coal Solution

Government Officials Impatient Over Impasse; Bowles Calls Meeting To Prepare For Future OPA Actions

By HAROLD W. WARD Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Government officials began to show signs of impatience today over the efforts of John L. Lewis and soft coal operators to work out their own strike settlement.

One top Labor official said steel mills shortly will begin to feel the full effect of the week-old strike of 400,000 bituminous miners.

Noting that cold blast furnaces eventually would lead to paralysis of the nation's already retarded conversion program, this official who asked not to be named expressed belief that "the government will do something this week."

Thus far, there has been little the government could do aside from keeping Special Conciliator Paul W. Fuller sitting in at the negotiating meetings, which are in recess until tomorrow afternoon.

Lewis has not made clear how much of a wage increase he is after for his United Mine Workers, and until he does the administration is at a loss to try it for size against President Truman's new wage-price policy.

Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles called a meeting of his staff today to consider the whole picture. It was strictly a preliminary session on coal however, because it may be weeks before Bowles gets into the dispute.

Some operators appear to be resigned to the prospect of reaching no settlement with Lewis until a (Continued on Page Four)

Hitler's Private Secretary Found

Frankfurt, April 8.—(AP)—The American-controlled Dana News agency reported today that Frau Marie-Thelka Weichelt, whom it described as Adolf Hitler's private secretary, had been arrested in Wuerzburg.

Frau Weichelt frequently helped the Fuehrer draft his speeches, the agency said.

Dana said that Frau Weichelt was believed by the American counter-intelligence corps to have been close to Hitler "until the surrender," although she said she had been the Nazi leader's secretary only between 1934 and 1938.

She was arrested last Wednesday in Uettingen near Wuerzburg by local American investigators and was turned over to the counter-intelligence corps, Dana said. She was said to have discussed her appearance and was living with her father in seclusion.

Gov't Ready To Pay Off On Bonds

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Better take a look around the house—you might come in to some money. Somewhere. Treasury records showed today, there are $23,000,000 worth of government savings bonds which matured—and thus quit drawing interest—four months to more than a year ago.

The same is true for approximately $13,300,000 worth of Liberty bonds and victory notes bought during the first World War but, years after maturity, never have been presented for payment.

The $23,000,000 worth are series A bonds—savers of the defense and war bonds—which are sold throughout 1935. The last of them reached maturity Dec. 1, 1945.

The government's ready to pay off any time and it's patient about waiting. For instance, some $1,094,000 worth of the old Liberty bonds and victory notes have been cashed in the period since last June 30.

BREAKDOWN IN OCCUPATION IS REVEALED

Economic Failure Attributed To Partitioning Of Germany

Berlin, April 8.—(AP)—The American military governor's periodic report, issued by Gen. Joseph T. McNarney's headquarters, said today the lack of a centralized government in Germany has caused a general economic breakdown in the U. S. zone to such an extent that the people's determination is being "undermined."

The report outlined in detail the achievements of the American occupation, but conceded that the "basis of the Potsdam conference had not been achieved because Germany has not been treated as an economic entity."

The major underlying factors in the basically adverse situation which exists in the U. S. zone area progressive depletion of the raw materials and supplies on hand, resulting from a lack of inter-zonal trade, a loss of popular confidence in the currency and a tendency toward hoarding tangible goods; the lack of an adequate basis for normal (Continued on Page Six)

THE MAN FOR THE JOB

There is no just criticism that can be laid at the doorstep of Robert Lee Humber, of this city, candidate for Congressman from this district. Therefore his opponents, the so-called political bosses and those who feel themselves under personal obligation to Herbert Bonner, the present incumbent, have seized upon the campaign theme of "Humber is not known and therefore hasn't a chance." The Bonner supporters hope in this manner to blind the voters to Humber's supreme qualifications for the office and cause them to go to the polls and vote blindly for Bonner.

It may be true that all the individual voters of this county and district may not yet personally know Robert Humber as is the case with any new candidate in the field who has never before had any part in local politics but before the campaign is over the voters will have the opportunity to know Robert Humber for the fine Christian gentleman that he is with a head full of common sense, and an unsurpassed knowledge of local, national and international affairs.

No "Unknown" as Humber's opponents wish to picture him, would have the access to state legislatures throughout the nation, various branches of the national government including the White House itself, and other high places where he has been permitted to expound his gospel of a plan for world unity and lasting peace. At a time when the world has just gone through its greatest tragedy and is now groping in apparent darkness for a way out of its dilemma, and is so sadly lacking in real leadership, we sincerely believe Robert Humber's presence in the halls of Congress would prove a blessing to the nation and the world. Would you call a man unknown whose wisdom had been acknowledged and his plan off-

TODAY IN CONGRESS

A Review Of Your Government In Action

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower reiterated to Congress that the draft law should be extended another year today as the Senate squared away for debate on emergency housing legislation.

The army chief of staff agreed with questioning members of the Senate Military Committee that 18-year-old soldiers do not make the best occupational troops. But, he declared he did not believe any one could say how far short of reeled manpower the military services will fall if the draft expires.

"I say, with all respect to you gentlemen that you don't know," Eisenhower told the senators while discussing estimates of army manpower needs. "It's a gamble any way you look at it. And gentlemen, in my opinion, any gamble with the national security of the United States at this time is a gamble with peace and security of the world."

President's Speech Arouses Opposition

Truman Insistence On Draft, Merger And Training Legislation Touches Off Fresh Controversy On Capitol Hill

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—President Truman's firm insistence on draft extension, army-navy merger and universal training plunged lawmakers today into fresh controversy that cut sharply across party lines.

The chief executive emphasized in his Chicago Army Day speech Saturday that he wants Selective Service continued for a year, desires the military forces consolidated in one department and is just as strong as ever for a peacetime training program which he insisted would not involve "conscription."

But in some Senate quarters his declaration that a necessary army of many men "can be continuously and adequately supplied for another year only by the Selective Service Act" was interpreted as paving the way for congressional delay on training legislation.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), a member of the military committee, told a reported he doesn't see how any training system could be set up as long as the draft continues.

"You can't draft everybody who is 18 and have anybody left to train," he remarked.

Bridges indicated also that there may be organized opposition to any Bridges said he and others on the Senate group may ask for a searching inquiry into the proposal to put army, navy and air under one cabinet chief, a unification plan that Mr. Truman promised "does not mean subordination of any branch of the service."

The President's promise encouraged some who have been doubtful about the merger, including Senator Russell (D-Ga.), a naval committee member who said he will vote for it only if army, navy and air maintain their identities.

In calling anew for extension of Selective Service, for merger and for peacetime training, Mr. Truman said they are the foundation stones of a strong nation which the United States must remain.

"We cannot on one hand proclaim our intention to prevent unjust aggression and oppression in the world," he insisted, "and on the next day call for immediate scrapping of our military might."

The chief executive said it was easy to see how the Near and Middle East might become an arena of intense rivalry between outside powers which "might suddenly erupt into conflict."

The President, Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, returned to Washington yesterday by special train.

Roosevelt's Name Still In Political Spotlight

FDR's Name And Policies Still Figure In Debates; Politicians Expect His Program To Be Issue In Elections

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt died a year ago this week, but his name and policies still are the subject of hot political oratory.

Debate about the late President breaks out frequently in Congress, and political leaders said today they expect his program to be an issue in the coming elections.

House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts contended that Republicans already have injected Mr. Roosevelt's name into the campaign by "trying to smear him" in the investigation of the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Republicans hotly denied this. Reps. Keefe (R-Wis) and Gearhart (R-Calif.), members of the Pearl Harbor investigating committee which reopened its public hearings briefly tomorrow, asserted their only desire is to tell the whole story of the sneak Japanese attack.

"When the last word is written those who cried partisanship in their miserableness will draw their reward in the contempt of the American people which they so richly deserve," Gearhart said in a reply to McCormack.

Some Republican leaders, who asked not to be named, said that while many of their campaign speakers undoubtedly will assail the administrations of both Mr. Truman and Mr. Roosevelt, party members are being urged to concentrate their fire on Mr. Truman.

One ranking Republican said the Democrats will be the ones to bring up Mr. Roosevelt's name most frequently.

"A lot of Democratic congressmen would like to ride into office on his coat-tails again," he asserted.

In his recent House speech contending the Republicans had injected the Roosevelt name into the campaign, McCormack concluded by saying:

"Franklin D. Roosevelt licked the Republican party four times in life and as they have raised the issue x x x Franklin D. Roosevelt will lick them in death this year."

Soviet Demands Council Abandon Scrutiny Of Dispute; Gromyko States It Is Contrary To UN Charter; Council May Go Back Into Executive Session

New York, April 8.—(AP)—Russia posed a new threat of boycott before the United Nations Security Council today unless the Council abandons its scrutiny of the Iranian case and accepts the Soviet view that the issue has been settled in bi-lateral agreement between Iran and the Soviet Union.

Moscow took a director hand last night, broadcasting both a firmly phrased demand that the council remove the Iranian case from its docket and a telegram from Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam to Prime Minister Stalin expressing satisfaction with the new agreement between them.

Moscow said Soviet Ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko had advised U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie in New York that the Iranian case must be dropped at once rather than remain on the agenda for reconsideration May 6, by which time all Red Army troops are supposed to be out of Iran.

In a letter to Lie dated April 6, Gromyko was quoted as saying the council's retention of the Iranian case for re-checking on May 6 is not right and is illegal and is contrary to the charter of the United Nations.

There is no reason to leave the Iranian question before the Security Council for any further discussion.

The instrument of Russian protests against the council's hearings of the Iranian issue thus far has been the walkout begun by Gromyko on March 27, when Iran was put on the agenda over his vigorous opposition. Gromyko has absented himself from all business sessions of the council since then, although he has rejoined his council colleagues at social functions.

Gromyko's letter to Lie promised to stir new debate when the council meets at 3 p. m. (EST) tomorrow after a long weekend recess, during which Poland announced her intention to bring the Spanish question before the council and Moscow sought to show Russia and Iran had reached complete agreement.

Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala, who pressed his case before the council in Gromyko's absence and last week agreed to postponement of further discussion until May, declined to comment on the new turn as he prepared to return to his duties in Washington today.

Neither he nor several council members had seen the Gromyko letter when word of it came in London dispatches quoting Moscow (Continued on Page Six)

Absence Of Officers Delays Army Trial

London, April 8.—(AP)—The failure of a major general and two colonels to appear as witnesses brought a recess today in the court martial of Staff Sgt. James M. Jones, Okla., on charges of mis-reating Army personnel at the Tenth Reinforcement Depot at Leifield.

The seven-man court agreed to await the testimony of Maj. Gen. John T. Lewis, western base section commander; Col. C. E. Brand, western base section staff judge advocate, and Col. Riley McClain, military justice of the western base.

The defense had asked the high ranking officers to testify as part of its challenge to the jurisdiction of the court on the grounds that "prejudices" and "bias" disqualified authorities who will review the case.

CALL MEETING FOR HOSPITAL

County Commissioners To Meet Thursday; Public Is Invited

The Pitt County Commissioners will hold a special meeting at the courthouse Thursday night at 8 o'clock to consider calling a special bond election to provide funds for building a 200-bed hospital here as a living memorial to the veterans of both World Wars and to provide hospital facilities for the sick, wounded or injured.

All interested citizens—white and Negro—are invited to attend.

The meeting was called at the request of John G. Clark, chairman of the Pitt County Hospital Committee.

By CHESTER WALSH The increasing demand for hospital facilities here has developed an alarming situation and has aroused the personal interest of hundreds of patriotic and public-spirited citizens—men and women, white and Negro.

Many persons needing surgical operations have to frequently wait several days for their turn. The Federal Government has, by a Bill in Congress, indicated its intention to share expenses of building hospitals in localities where they are (Continued on Page Six)

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, April 8.—(AP)—Harry S. Truman became president one year ago this Friday. It's been a tough year for him.

When he went into the White House April 12, 1945, we were at war with Germany and Japan. By mid-August both wars were over.

Then this smiling man, zippy, fast-talking, full of confidence that everything would be all right, faced peace. He had a lot to learn.

He talked too fast and sometimes too casually on the gravest questions. He had to learn to slow up and be more cautious.

When peace came, he started throwing off wartime controls, depending on advisors to say which should go.

His advisors made some mistakes, bad ones. For instance, in sacking controls over building although building materials were scarce. Instead of going into needed, low-cost homes, the materials went into other things. Belatedly, the government is putting back the controls. Being a friendly man, Mr. Truman tried to use kid gloves with his old friends in Congress. They've deflected him, thwarted him, bottlenecked him.

Members of his own Democratic party in Congress, particularly southern Democrats, have harpooned some of his best intentions.

He has made more than 25 major proposals to Congress. Congress still is sitting on the majority of them.

In desperation, around Christmas time, Mr. Truman appealed to the public to jog up Congress. Congress refused to be jogged.

Any hope he might have had for quiet reconversion was ripped wide open on the labor-business front.

To keep down living costs, he had said wages couldn't be raised—if they meant higher prices—without government consent. Losing its wartime overtime, labor wanted higher wages. Business said it couldn't raise wages without higher prices. So a big segment of labor struck.

Cantata at Jarvis Memorial Church On Palm Sunday night, April 14 at 8 o'clock the choir of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will present Maunders' sacred Cantata "Olivet to Calvary" at the evening service.

"Olivet to Calvary" recalls simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth and some of the reflections suggested thereby. The rejoicing of the multitude with hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scene in the Temple, and the lovely walk back over the mount at night, form the chief features of the first part.

Part II opens with the Supper of the Passover at which Jesus washes His disciples feet and gives to His friends the new commandment of love for one another as the sign of true discipleship. From this the scene passes to the infinite paths of the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, Jesus forsaken by His disciples, the utter loneliness among

W. C. T. U.

The April meeting of the local W. C. T. U. was held in the library April 3 with our president, Mrs. Briggs, presiding.

Mrs. Lee Moore led the devotional, reading verses from the fifth chapter of Galatians. She talked on the "Fruits of the Spirit." Then led in prayer.

After the usual business session, it was urged that we organize a local Y. T. C. and L. T. L. so that Greenville will be represented at the encampment at Mars Hill June 17 through June 20. We were also reminded to tune in on our radio program every Thursday from 5 to 5:15 p. m.

Mrs. Wiley Brown, our lady of the month, read various articles relating to the value and necessity of temperance. They were enjoyed by all.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. I. R. Joseph. All members are urged to be present. You do not know what you miss by being absent. April is enlistment month and each of us should try to get one new member.

New members for the month were Mrs. W. S. Moye, Mrs. Charles Pender, Mrs. N. J. Medford and Mrs. Maggie Adams.—Reported.

Christian Science Service "Unreality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, April 7.

The Golden Text was from Proverbs 13:7: "There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing; there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon were the following from the Bible: "Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees. Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; he will come and save you. And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away." (Isaiah 35: 3, 4, 10.)

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause. The spiritual reality is the scientific fact in all things. The spiritual fact, repeated in the action of man and the whole universe, is harmonious and is the ideal of Truth." (Page 207).

Women IN THE CHURCH

by Mary Fowler

The demand for women ministers and women engaged in other forms of full-time Christian services in the parishes of the United Church of Canada, the Dominion's largest Protestant denomination, is far greater than the supply, according to church officials. More than 450 women are now serving as pastors, missionaries, deaconesses, educators, teachers, medical workers, etc. Some of the women have been employed as chaplains in the armed forces, and the Canadian government has sought more of them.

Voluntary rationing in America to provide food for the millions who are starving in Europe and Asia will be insufficient to head off disaster, is the belief of Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ, recently returned from Europe. Dr. Cavert calls for governmental rationing. He says: "I believe the American people would welcome the re-establishment of a strict program of rationing by our government in order to provide for a systematic sharing with the hungry millions of Europe and of other parts of the globe. Nothing would do more to give America a new position of moral leadership in the world."

Christian and non-Christian workers in Korea are uniting to work for independence, according to Dr. Helen Kim, first Korean woman president of Yonsei Christian College, Seoul, Korea. "One Korea is what we want out of the chaos of today," she says. "Liberation brought multiplied responsibilities. The Korean women have been awakened to the fact that there is more fighting to be done and that they have to do it. We want to establish the principles of Christian democracy, but Korea cannot do it alone. For goodness sake send us missionaries — old missionaries, young missionaries and middle-aged missionaries, new missionaries! We can't have too many today!"

Many soles have been worn through in recent years by church canvassers who go from house to house to have the "annual church budget" subscribed. But two ladies of the parish of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Billings, Montana, took advantage of their church's canvass to enjoy their favorite recreation. They asked for the names of the members living on the extreme limits of the parish, saddled their horses, and made 17 canvas calls on horseback, returning with seventeen subscriptions.

Library News

The Sheppard Memorial Library announces the addition of the following books to its collection: "A Treasury of Horse Stories," edited by Margaret Self. A collection of short stories, poems, etc., about horses of all kinds from Pergasus to the western pony. "Farmer Takes A Wife," by John Gould. Humorous sketches of life on a Maine farm by a farmer's wife, a girl who came from Boston originally but did not want to return.

"Lean with the Wind," by Earl Schenck. A romance with its setting in Polynesia.

"Officially Dead," by Quentin Reynolds. The story of Columbus Darwin Smith, Yangtze River captain and Shanghai harbor pilot, captured by the Japanese on December 9, 1941, experiences of the next three years make an exciting story.

"Best American Short Stories, 1945," edited by Martha Foley. A collection of the best short stories of the past year compiled by the editor from magazines.

"The Folded Leaf," by William Maxwell. A story of the adolescence and early manhood of two boys of very different temperaments but nevertheless firm friends. Of greater literary distinction than popular appeal.

STATE PRESS TAKES TO AIR

Giant South East Airliner Made Circuit Of State; Greenville (N. C.) On Map

By CHESTER WALSH
Greenville (North Carolina) is now on the airways maps and schedules of South East Airlines, Inc., of Charlotte as a stopping place for its fleet of planes carrying passengers, freight and express.

A 27-passenger Douglas Skyliner took more than a score of newspapermen over the route Saturday. The Skyliner was the largest plane ever to land at the Greenville airport.

The twin-engined plane, more comfortable than a Pullman, arrived here late and took off for christening ceremonies at Charlotte at noon.

It picked up other newsmen at Wilson, Raleigh, Durham, Greensboro, Winston-Salem. The newspapermen were impressed by the speed and convenience of local travel by air. The South East Airlines operates entirely within this state. The giant plane, piloted by former officers in the Army Transport Command, takes off and lands with the greatest of ease.

The big ship was at the airport here about five minutes. The trip of Raleigh was made in 27 minutes; Greensboro in 1 hour and 8 minutes and made the flight to Winston-Salem in 8 minutes, and from there to Charlotte in 30 minutes.

The airliner has all safety devices, including two-way radio. It landed in Greensboro, picked up a passenger and was in the air again in five minutes. The seats are on the sides of the plane, passengers facing each other. There is room in the aisle for two persons to walk abreast in flight, and with much more ease than on a pullman.

The airliner was delayed in arriving here Saturday by CAA for final check ups.

An interesting feature of the air flight for the reporter Saturday was that Mayor Jack Boyd, former Mayor B. B. Sugg, Executive Secretary for the local Airport Commission Willard T. Kyezer, W. E. Hooker, and some others escorted him to the field. State Senator Arthur B. Corey met the flying reporter on his return and escorted him back to town. Nearly 100 persons waited at the airport to see the plane, but left before it arrived. During the wait for the airliner Ray McKenzie, local pilot, went aloft in his plane and entertained the spectators for half an hour.

When the twin-engined Douglas Skyliner landed in Greenville President W. C. Teague and Mrs. Teague and Secretary-Treasurer Earl Teague and Mrs. Teague were aboard, making things pleasant for the newspaper men of the cities South East Airlines serves in North Carolina. Others on the plane were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Atkins of Gastonia, Zoe Brockman, feature writer, and Ennis Atkins, photographer of Charlotte; J. A. Sharpe, Lumberton newspaper editor; John H. Sykes of the Wilmington Star-News; J. H. McEwen of the Morehead City paper; Fred Pendleton of the Washington Daily News; Chester Wash of the Greenville Reflector, Ed Davis of the Wilson Times came aboard at Wilson. At the Raleigh-Durham Airport, where a 10-minute stop was made, those who boarded the plane were John A. Park, editor of the Raleigh Times; Jane Keane of the News and Observer; John Little, representing Carl Goerch's The State, a Mr. Brogdon, representing Bill Sharpe, public relations director for North Carolina, and W. A. Wilkerson of the Durham Herald. A brief stop was made at Greensboro where lunch boxes were put aboard.

The Skyliner's passengers registered anticipation as the plane approached the Winston-Salem airport. There Miss Dorothy Johnson, "Miss North Carolina," and one of the contestants at last year's Atlantic City bathing beauty contest, came aboard in lovely attire, carrying a gorgeous orchid, and accompanied by W. P. Clingman of Winston-Salem.

When the plane took off the passengers ate lunch. The Skyliner arrived in Charlotte about 2 p. m. A South East twin-engined Cessna plane came in with Leo Wise, staff writer for the Asheville Times-News and James H. Huttrel.

A large crowd was at the airport for the christening ceremonies by "Miss North Carolina," Miss Dorothy Johnson. Photographers were active. The heavy air traffic and planes landing and taking off almost incessantly, added color to the ceremony.

Norman Young was master of ceremonies for broadcasting the exercises over radio station WAYS. President W. C. Teague and Secretary-Treasurer Earl Teague spoke on the broadcast for South East Airlines; "Miss North Carolina" was interviewed by "M. C." Norman Young and he gave a vivid description of her beauty and lovely attire. Chester Walsh of Greenville (North Carolina) spoke for the newspaper editors.

The twin-engined Skyliner took off from Charlotte at 3:30 to return to the Eastern Carolina editors to their homes. The first stop was at Lumberton; the next at Wilmington, then New Bern, Washington and the big plane roared over the Greenville airport and landed at 6 p. m. to discharge the writer of this story. It then headed into the wind to make a stop at Wilson, there to pick up the Raleigh-Durham airport beam and proceed by night flying to Raleigh-Durham, Greensboro, Winston-Salem and the home port at Charlotte.

The Skyliner was scheduled to take on a trip city officials and chamber of commerce officials of different cities Sunday. This (Monday) morning this and other South East Airlines planes were to begin regular trips between Charlotte and Wilmington, Asheville and Elizabeth City and Asheville and Morehead City.

When the U. S. Navy surrenders its lease on the local airport Greenville will be on the schedule for regular stops by South East Skyliners. This line only serves cities in North Carolina. Its schedules will favor connections with the north-south planes stopping at points in this state.

Drive Started By 3000 Club

By TY WAGNER
Thirty men who have their hearts in baseball will start the ball rolling tomorrow morning with a breakfast at the Proctor Hotel dining room at 8 o'clock. Plans will be made at this meeting to contact 3000 Greenville and Pitt County citizens this week in order to raise the funds necessary to give Greenville the type of a baseball team we all want to see on our field this summer—a real winner.

The drive will last all this week and by Saturday night it is hoped that the results of this drive will show just what kind of backing and how much interest the team may expect to receive this summer. Blue lapel buttons with "3000 Club" in white letters will identify all people who have contributed to the club. So let's see everyone wearing a 3000 Club button this week. At the close of this week's campaign all members of the 3000 Club will be mailed a card which will entitle the members to some special privileges at the games this summer. So, you are not making a straight contribution at this time but an advance to the club which will be recognized this summer at special events at Guy Smith Stadium.

When you are contacted this week, give generously to the 3000 Club because you will be giving to a cause which will provide recreation to you and so many Greenville and Pitt County folks this summer. And you will be contributing to the best advertising which Greenville and Pitt County can secure during the summer months—and that is a winning baseball team in the Coastal Plain League. When you give and join the 3000 Club you are not only helping baseball—you are helping Greenville and Pitt County.

Let's get behind the 3000 Club and make 1946 the biggest and best baseball year Greenville has ever known.

East Carolina Teachers College won their first baseball game of the season on Saturday afternoon, April 6, by a score of 9 to 1 in a seven-inning tilt played here against Louisburg College. The Pirates scored three runs during the first inning of a play and were at no time seriously challenged by the Louisburg team. Louisburg pushed one run across in the fifth inning.

Starting batteries for the two teams were: ECTC—catcher, Wallace Ausley; pitcher, Garland Little; Louisburg—catcher, Davenport; pitcher, Cooper. Relief pitchers for ECTC were Jesse Parker and James

Greenville Men Enlist In Navy
Among the recent enlistments through the New Bern naval recruiting substation were Jack Wyman Browne of 508 East Eighth Street and Wilton Glen Joyner of Route 2, Greenville. The above mentioned young men, former students of the Eastern Carolina Teachers College were the most outstanding enlistments in the Navy for 1946.

Following a record number of 84 enlistments in February, there were 67 enlistments during the month of March, thus making a total of 212 enlistments and reenlistments for the first quarter of the year. Chief Gunner's Mate B. F. Parrish of the New Bern naval recruiting station again announces that the requirements for enlistments in the Navy will continue to increase as the Navy rapidly approaches its peace time quota. At this time he advises all young men between the ages of 17 and 30, inclusively, to take advantage of present relaxed requirements before it is too late.

A naval recruiting representative is in Room 206 on the second floor of the Greenville Postoffice Building each Monday.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

COST OF ACHIEVEMENT

There is a passage in one of Brahms' cantatas which has called forth universal praise. It appears to have sprung spontaneously from the rare genius of this great musician. But the biographer of Brahms says that Brahms worked sixteen years over these few bars of music until he perfected them.

A great singer stands before an audience and evokes marvels at the ease with which he performs. This ease came as the result of countless hours of hard discipline. The orator moves multitudes with his eloquence, and although once in a while a spontaneous genius jumps to his feet and utters a masterpiece, most great speakers attain their power by years of hard work. We think of Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address as being hurriedly written a few hours before it was delivered. But there was a way in which Abraham Lincoln had been preparing that address since he was a very young man. The reason why the world has come to regard it as a masterpiece is because the whole of Lincoln's personality suddenly became vocal. What Lincoln expressed in that speech were not certain ideas; he expressed himself. Nothing in life worth doing is done easily. No one works harder than the genius. There is nothing cheap about this order. God has created, and in which He has put us to live. All achievement carries a price mark. All Rights Reserved.—Babson Newspaper Syndicate

(Continued from Page One) cially approved by nearly half the legislatures of the country including our own? Would you call a man unknown who has been praised by the largest newspapers, the magazines and the radio commentators?

In spite of all this, Humber's opponents, the would-be political bosses proclaim, "He has been out of the country so long he is not even known." True Robert Humber has spent several years abroad but being of great wisdom and keen observation his travels have more adequately fitted him to be of greater service to his own people and his country.

The Elizabeth City Daily Advance, although still a supporter of the political machine that antedates but now includes Herbert Bonner, praised Robert Humber's ability just a few days before he announced his candidacy for Congress. The Advance in an editorial headed "All Should Hear Him" said:

It is seldom that a civic club gets an opportunity to hear so thought provoking an address as that of Robert Lee Humber yesterday. Every civic club in the city and in the Albemarle should hear Mr. Humber. The Advance believes. x x x x The importance of Humber's work in advancing a cause which we all need hope will sweep the world lies, we believe, in that he has managed to personalize and bring to the attention of the fundamental bodies which represent the people issues which have all too often in the past seemed abstract and esoteric to the individual. Each citizen of this country needs to feel that he may go to his elected representative, in his own home state, and give expression to his ideas for a better world community. The tireless and hopeful crusade of Mr. Humber has it seems, made that possible for an increasingly large number of our citizens, simply by furnishing the standard around which they may rally.

Roy Parker, co-publisher of the Bertie County Herald and other newspapers in the northeastern section of the state, and one of the professors of journalism at the University of North Carolina; recently said in his column in the Herald:

I AM BOOSTED. My morale was restored, my faith in mankind was renewed, and my spark of idealism was rekindled as the result of a talk of some 2 1/2 hours I had last Friday with an old schoolmate. I had not seen the fellow since 1915 but in recent years I had read and heard much about him. From what I had read and heard I had woefully misjudged the man. In my little book he had been wrongfully classified. His name until Friday could be found on the page where I had listed members of The Order of Intellectual High-Hatters.

I WAS WRONG. It was Robert Lee Humber who proved me wrong again. I was not mistaken about his intellectual capacity but I was way off base in assuming that Robert Lee Humber was a stratospheric intellectual. On the other hand, he and his mind are firmly planted in the grass roots.

All I know about Woodrow Wilson is what I have read and heard others tell, but unless all I have heard and read is wrong he must have had for his League of Nations plan the same brand of zeal this man Humber is displaying in his campaign to put over an idea. All I know is, Humber has a basically sound plan, he has the intellectual capacity for sound leadership, and he is being practical enough to implement it through the channels this country has provided for getting things done. And, to get personal, Humber has the appearance of possessing the physical hardihood and capacity to spend many more years carrying the gospel to the places where it is Now Mr. Humber is offering himself to the people in the Greenville area of this state as a public servant. He would like to take his extensive studying and observations, not to mention his abundant energy, into Congress, there to forward liberal trends in the field of international political science.

Outside of top governmental circles, Mr. Humber is one of the few men interested in world events who has done something about it. His previous work, his training, and his dynamic drive we commend to consideration of the North Carolina constituency.

Everywhere Mr. Humber has spoken he has been praised for his great ability and those individuals who have had the opportunity to meet and know him readily agree that he is one of the best qualified men ever to offer for Congress in this or any other district in North Carolina.

In view of these public expressions of belief in his abilities are you as an individual voter going to be led away from the opportunity to support such a man.

We hope that before the campaign ends every voter in the district will have the opportunity to hear and become personally acquainted with Mr. Humber but even if you don't get to know him personally before that time don't let the professional politicians or the individuals who owe Bonner an obligation pay it off with your vote.

We urge the people of Pitt County and the other counties of the district to do their own thinking instead of being herded to the polls by the politicians. We realize Herbert Bonner has a lot of folks under obligation to him and on his recent visit here accompanied by Jack Spain they brought a list of such persons and it was upon them that they first called for aid in the coming campaign. We mention this not to discredit Mr. Bonner for he has a right to expect help and support from individuals for whom he has performed favors, but to help you be on your guard when these folks in turn ask you to vote for Bonner. When they seek your support find out what their interest in the campaign is. We believe if you will dig far enough into the matter you will find that they are would-be professional politicians who are seeking political power in the county, or they have received or hope in the future to receive favors at the hands of the man they ask you to support. We ask you again if you want to turn your vote over to these people to help them pay their personal political debts.

On the other hand if you want to do the best thing for your county, district and nation and the world at large we urge you to give careful consideration to the qualifications of Robert Humber and then vote your own convictions.

Personally, knowing Robert Humber as we do, we would support him for Congress no matter which county in the district he came from and it is on this basis that we offer him to the voters of the First District as their candidate for Congress.

Congress Today... (Continued from Page One) quest by the services for a flat increase of 20 per cent. A special Senate committee continued to work on legislation for domestic control of atomic power. The Senate Labor Committee postponed for a week its scheduled consideration of a resolution providing an investigation into current and threatened labor disputes. The housing measure, designed to turn out 2,700,000 low cost homes for veterans by the end of 1947, but the Senate floor after weeks of rugged going across Capitol Hill.

Under firm administration pressure, the chamber's Banking Committee restored two provisions which the House had ignored in passing its version of the legislation. These would place ceiling prices on new houses and set up a $900,000,000 subsidy fund intended to increase the output of service building materials.

The second point promised a lively fight with Senator Caperhart (R-Ind) ready to introduce an amendment to helve the amount. Meanwhile, with the House taking a week's breathing spell before plunging into the battle over how long to continue price controls, and in what form, a high administration official predicted Mr. Truman would veto the extension if Congress tacks on a rider to boost farm prices.

There has been talk of doing just that in the House—following the pattern set in the Senate on the administration's minimum wage bill. The rider calls for farm labor costs to be figured in determining parity prices.

The official who asked not to be named, said some members of Congress seem to feel Mr. Truman wouldn't dare veto the price control bill. "I think he would," he added.

Hotter words ahead on military subjects appeared inevitable, judging from the reaction to Mr. Truman's Chicago speech Saturday in which he insisted again on a year's extension of the draft, unification of the army and navy and a program of peacetime military training.

Cutting across party lines, comment found the lawmakers widely split on one or more of the three proposals. Senator Bridges (R-NH), for instance, told a reporter he couldn't see how there would be anyone left to train if the draft takes all youths as they turn 18.

And Senator Edwin C. Johnson challenged the President's assertion that universal training is not conscription. "Of course, it's conscription, and I am unalterably opposed to it," he asserted.

Johnson is in favor of unification, but Bridges indicated there might be organized opposition to any quick action on that subject. Between other tasks today many members of Congress were being asked for interviews by delegates to a "win-the-peace" conference which formed a national committee over the weekend to plug for greater support for most of the administration's legislative program and for closer cooperation with Russia in international affairs.

Finally fed up, Mr. Truman asked Congress for a law to delay strikes and set-up government fact-finding boards to learn the truth.

Labor and business ganged up on this notion and throttled it in Congress. Congress is still wrestling with the idea of some kind of labor law but not the kind Mr. Truman asked for.

Displeased with Mr. Truman's position during the strikes, leaders of the CIO which helped elect him vice president called him a "weak and spineless man" out to smash unions.

Mr. Truman has been criticized for not settling the labor problem faster. But no one has suggested how he could have done so without yanking off all wage and price controls.

Actually the government has eased up—that's how the steel strike was settled—but Mr. Truman said the easing is really only a "bulge" in the government's hold-the-line policy.

How big the bulge is will show up later when some of the price increases—which are being granted now in many directions—begin to affect living costs.

Mr. Truman has proclaimed repeatedly that we will be militarily strong in a still-troubled world to preserve peace and our own safety and to fulfill our obligations in occupied countries.

But our armed forces are falling apart through demobilization. And Congress still has not made up its mind about continuing the draft and invoking military training, although Mr. Truman said both were needed to keep us militarily strong.

Our foreign problems are far from settled. Only Saturday Mr. Truman cautioned that rivalry between Britain and Russia in the Middle East might cause trouble.

As he starts his second year, he knows that most of his big labor troubles—except for the coal strike—are over for a while.

But there's no sign that Congress will change its attitude or that events abroad will move along smoothly.

The World Today .

3. If it isn't minimal to peace, how far shall the United Nations go in dictating what form of government Spain—or any other country—shall or shall not have.

A difficult point with which the Council will have to deal in connection with the Spanish situation is one that I mentioned when I visited Spain recently. It would be easy for outside powers to precipitate another civil war in that country if the matter weren't handled with the utmost discretion. It may be that there are some who feel that there is necessary for a definite solution. However, I am confident that whatever form of government the general public of Spain wishes, it most decidedly does not want to go through the horrors of 1936-39 again.

good-sized crisis has developed. They figure—rightly or wrongly—that the miners want a few weeks vacation to plant gardens, go fishing, etc., after the production grind of the war years. They reason, therefore, that Lewis will not make his wage and hour demand specific until the miners are ready to go back to work, and he will then add "national industrial and government pressure for settlement at any cost."

His wage demands, these operators think, they will eclipse the 15 to 18 1-2 cents hourly increases granted to CIO auto, steel, oil, packinghouse and other striking unions.

At the same time the House Military Committee will attempt to reach a showdown on a proposal to continue draft registrations for a year but prevent the induction of any men under its terms.

The ceiling price on an existing home would be the first price at which it was sold after the act became effective.

The measure also would give Wyatt authority to put such ceilings on unimproved lands found suitable for veterans housing.

SENATE SENDS TRUMAN BILL

"Anti-Petrillo" Measure Awaits President's Signature

Washington, April 8—(AP)—Congress plucked one long-irritating thorn from its side on the weekend by sending the so-called anti-Petrillo bill to President Truman.

Climaxing more than a year of intermittent debate in both chambers, the Senate late Saturday passed a compromise version of the measure designed by its sponsors to curb activities of James C. Petrillo, head of the American Federation of Musicians.

Previously approved by the House, the bill would provide penalties ranging up to a year in jail and $1,000 fine for compelling or trying to compel radio stations to:

Hire more employees than they need, pay for services not performed, pay unions for using phonograph records, or halt programs originating abroad or those in this country of a non-commercial, cultural or educational nature.

New York, April 8—(AP)—The New York Times said today that the American Federation of Musicians (AFL), headed by James C. Petrillo, would ask Hollywood producers to increase the number of musicians employed in motion picture studios when negotiations on a new contract open here tomorrow.

Detailed demands as to the number of men the film companies will be asked to hire still are being worked out by the union's executive board and a special union studio committee. The Times said Petrillo also was quoted as saying higher pay would be sought for Hollywood musicians.

The last contract between the producers and the union expired last week.

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Brewster (R-Me.) told reporters they want to follow up a previous witness's assertion that when intercepted Japanese messages were taken to the White House on the night of Dec. 6, 1941, Mr. Roosevelt read them and declared, "This means war."

The witness, Comdr. Lester S. Schulz, said the President tried to telephone Stark but was told the admiral was at the theater. Mr. Roosevelt, Schulz related, said he would try to reach Stark later.

When Stark appeared before the committee early this year he said he could not remember where he was the night of December 6 and had no recollection of the Japanese messages.

Gen. George C. Marshall, former Army chief of staff who also testified he had no recollection of the night in question, similarly may be questioned again by members of the Senate-House investigating group.

radio. Until the new Russian demand came up, the council was expected to be concerned next with adoption of routine procedural rules drafted by its committee of experts and the proposed Polish motion calls on the United Nations to break off relations with Spain. Gromyko had been expected to be back in his seat at the Hunter College council chamber.

Poland's announced intention of bringing the Franco regime in Spain to the attention of the council brought immediate opposition from the U. S. and British delegations while the Madrid press asserted that Russia was behind the move.

American and British delegation sources contended that unless any new evidence tended to show Franco was endangering world peace they would not vote to interfere in Spain's domestic problems. For precedent they pointed to the rejection by Washington and London of a similar proposal by the republic of France, and they declared that such interference by U. N. might lead to similar action by any government which disliked the regime of another country.

told Iranian newsmen yesterday that Russia would control 51 per cent and Iran 49 per cent of the stock for the first 25 years.

At the same time, the premier revealed he had invited the people of Azerbaijan province, where a semi-autonomous government had been established in defiance of the Tehran government, to send representatives here for negotiations.

In response to a question as to whether these representatives would include followers of premier Jafar Pishevari of the Azerbaijan regime, Qavam said that "discussions will be carried out with the people of Azerbaijan, and naturally they are included."

Iranian troops have been prevented in the past from entering Azerbaijan by the Red Army. The communists Friday, however, recognized the Azerbaijan problem as an "internal" one for Iran to handle, and said that all Russian soldiers would be evacuated from Iran by May 6.

Qavam told newsmen that elections for a new parliament would be held immediately after the Russian withdrawal.

The premier said the oil agreement with Russia was not secret and that the text would be published soon. He was quoted also as saying that all exploring expenses will be borne by the Russians, and that Iran would retain all rights to the ground.

The newspaper Ettelaat said Qavam indicated that during the second 25-year term of the 50-year agreement, Iran would control 51 per cent and Russia 49 per cent of the company's stock.

financial transactions, the continuing problems of transport and the lack of sufficient food to support the caloric ration which had been anticipated," the report said.

"Low morale and uncertainty about the future are now major hindrances to all economic activity." The report stated that some $51,000,000 worth of goods had been imported into the zone for German consumption, while about $4,500,000 had been realized in exports from Germany during the period since the occupation started. This export figure is about one-tenth of the dollar value of pre-war exports from the zone.

The exports consisted of hogs, potash and filtration sand to the United States, Czechoslovakia and Belgium. Large exports of lumber are expected shortly to Great Britain, while negotiations are being carried on with Denmark and Yugoslavia.

This dispatch along with earlier Soviet reports of how the United States continued to hold on to its bases in Cuba and Iceland gave the Russian people the impression that the United States is reluctant to give up its bases throughout the world.

(The State Department in Washington said Saturday that it had informed Ecuador that American forces will be completely withdrawn from the air and naval base on Galapagos Islands by July 1. Previously it had been announced that complete agreement had been arrived at to turn over wartime bases in Cuba to that country.)

Amvets Ask Governor For Housing Ceiling

New Bern, April 8—(AP)—The state executive committee and representatives of the American Veterans of World War II (Amvets) have voted to ask Governor Cherry to use his influence to have OPA ceilings placed on veterans' housing in North Carolina.

The veterans adopted a resolution instructing each Amvet present to have his post request the intervention of Governor Cherry in the housing price situation.

Burlington was tentatively chosen for the next state Amvet convention, to be held about August 31-September 2. Mrs. John C. Patsofs of Rockingham was named state chairman for a state Amvet woman's unit.

needed. The amount of money supplied by the government ranges from 50 to 70 per cent of the cost.

Early in March more than 100 citizens met at the college to discuss plans for building a 200-bed hospital here with the aid of a government appropriation.

Enthusiastic support of the hospital project was manifested—not a single one of the representative Pitt Countyans present registering a dissenting vote.

John G. Clark of Greenville was chosen chairman of the Steering Committee.

The institution would be known as the War Memorial Hospital in honor of veterans of both wars.

Present plans provide for asking the County Commissioners to authorize an election at which the people of the county would vote for an issue of bonds in sufficient amount to build what Pitt County needs now more than anything else—a thoroughly modern hospital.

Sentiment expressed all over the county indicates that the people will vote for the war memorial hospital bond issue. Present hospital facilities here now include only 57 adult beds.

An interesting feature of the war memorial hospital proposal is that when the bond issue in sufficient amount is approved by the people at an election, it is planned to have the County Commissioners lease the war memorial hospital to an operating board of trustees and thus relieve the County Commissioners of any responsibility for its operation.

The war memorial hospital movement was started and is being carried on by public-spirited and patriotic citizens of Pitt County. Members of the medical profession have expressed whole-hearted support.

All qualified physicians and surgeons in the county may use the hospital facilities.

Committees are to be appointed to work out details. In the meantime veterans of both wars and all Pitt Countyans now have a vision of a living memorial in a modern hospital, provided by the sale of bonds, and operated by a board of trustees, which removes from the county any responsibility for the much-needed institution's successful operation.

League Holds . . .

Paying tribute to the United Nations, he said the League was holding its last meeting "in hope because we have already seen the better idea embodied which has sprung from the seeds of our endeavors."

"We meet not to terminate what activities are carried out from this center, but to transfuse into a new body all the enduring assets, moral and material, the accumulated, imperishable experience of 25 years."

The session opened today in a half empty council room with a reminder from Hambro that its sole task was to dissolve and transfer its assets to the United Nations.

"The League has no longer any questions for political discussion and no issues of national prestige," said Hambro, who was re-elected president of the assembly by a unanimous raised hand vote of delegates from the 35 nations represented.

Hoover Says Belgium On Road To Recovery

Brussels, April 8—(AP)—Herbert Hoover said today that Belgium was nearer economic recovery than any other western European nation.

The former President, on a food fact finding tour for President Truman, told a news conference:

"The Belgians are working harder than any other western European nation. For continued recovery, it is solely a question of keeping supplies flowing into Belgian ports. The country needs 80,000 tons of cereals a month to keep up the present ration."

America First Head Sentenced To Jail

Chicago, April 8—(AP)—Gerold L. K. Smith, head of the America First party, today was sentenced by Municipal Judge John V. McCormick to serve 60 days in the county jail on charges of contempt of court.

Don Lohbeck, Detroit, an editor of a Smith-sponsored publication, who was convicted of contempt of court jointly with Smith, was given until Friday to appear. Lohbeck was not in court today, but Maxmillian St. George, his attorney, told Judge McCormick Lohbeck's wife was expecting a baby and he wanted to remain with her.

Judge McCormick ordered a body attachment issued for Lohbeck and said he would be taken into custody Friday if he did not appear in court before that time. Judge McCormick did not specify Lohbeck's sentence.

Engineers Start Treasure Hunt

Tokyo, April 8—(AP)—Occupation army engineers will start dredging tomorrow in a slip between two piers in Tokyo Bay for what informants have told them is two billion dollars worth of precious metal cached by Japanese militarists.

Lt. E. V. Nielsen, Stamford, Conn., of the 32nd military government company, obtained the tip on the cache from a geisha girl and a laborer who had helped "plant" the previous ingots in the muddy ooze bottom beneath six feet of water between the piers.

Nielsen and aides Saturday dove into waters near this city and located two 20-foot square areas paved with ingots beneath the mud. At the expense of his fingernails, Nielsen brought up one ingot, which tentatively was identified as platinum.

The two billion dollar figure was based on a conversation which Nielsen's Japanese laborer informant overheard as two Japanese officers supervised the dumping. The ingot recovered was estimated to be worth about $45,000.

The hidden treasure—platinum, gold and silver—the laborer overheard, was to be used for restoring Japan's power "after things settled down." The laborer said he had become frightened after learning the value of the black-painted bars being dumped, and had been hiding in the country.

improvement shown by the Senator over the weekend.

Dr. Walter A. Bloedorn said the North Carolina Democrat continued to improve. The Senator's secretary, Kidd Brewer, told a reporter that Bailey "called for breakfast before it got there and insisted he was feeling fine."

Bailey, who suffered an abdominal attack at the capitol Thursday, left the maternity section of crowded doctor's hospital over the weekend. Brewer said the Senator's condition when he was admitted was such that "it was necessary to put him in the hospital in whatever space was available."

Hawaiian Death Toll Is Still Climbing

Honolulu, April 8—(AP)—The Hawaiian Islands' tidal wave death toll climbed to 115 last night as the sea yielded six more bodies. More than 50 persons still are missing as a result of last Monday's disaster.

Pine of the bodies were found at Hilo, bringing the island of Hawaii's toll of dead to 83. The other was found on Maui. Some of the bodies were so badly decomposed that identification was feared impossible.

Big Explosions Heard In Saigon

Saigon, April 8—(AP)—A giant French ammunition dump on the northern outskirts of Saigon exploded this morning and two hours later a shattering series of explosions continued to rock the city.

The French army threw barricades around the danger zone and began the evacuation of all civilians.

Truckloads of wounded, including women, children and French servicemen were still streaming into the hospitals at noon.

More than 60 wounded persons officially were reported admitted to hospitals in the half hour following the first blast at 10:30 a. m. Hospital officials said they lost count after that.

Henri Cedille, commissioner for Cochinchina, issued a special communique saying that the explosion was due to an accident and requested the public to remain calm.

Normal press communications from the city were disrupted, since the Saigon radio station was in the explosion zone. The British army signal corps was furnishing an emergency press service.

The sky was clouded with black smoke and the smell of gun powder pervaded the city.

Portland, Ore., April 8—(AP)—Do you have a one-way vision window? Better test it if you have.

A letter from Mrs. E. A. Renquist of Cincinnati, Ohio, advised relatives here that a window in the Renquists' bathroom, facing the street, was to be the kind you can see out of, but not into, the house.

Six months later they learned it was clear glass to passers-by also.
