Labor Secretary Calls Conference

Schwellenbach Steps Into Breach Left By Lewis' Walkout; Arranges Separate Conferences With Operators' And Miners' Negotiating Committees

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—The government struggled today to pump new life into the soft coal talks choked off by John L. Lewis, but without resorting to seizure of the strike-bounding mines.

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, stepping into the breach left by Lewis' dramatic walkout, arranged separate afternoon conferences with the operators' and miners' negotiating committees.

The labor secretary and his top assistants most experienced in post war labor disputes will try to revive the conversations which came to a sudden halt yesterday with a declaration from Lewis that "no deal further is futile."

"We trust that time, as it shrinks your purse, may modify your negatively and anti-social propensities," the bulky United Mine Workers chief snorted as he gathered together his papers.

Then, slamming on his hat, he grunted, "Good morning, gentlemen," and left. His committee of district presidents and UMW officers followed silently.

The operators, jolted by the move got out a formal statement contending Lewis has brazenly refused to enter into any semblance of collective bargaining.

Challenging the right of any labor organization to stall and play politics in a basic American industry is shut down," the statement expressed hope, however, that Lewis will change his attitude and resume meetings.

The negotiating conference had been convened March 12 at Lewis' request to frame a new contract. Subcommittees took over actual discussions a week later, then the UMW president terminated his old working agreement, and the strike was called April 1.

The operators said Lewis has engaged in time-killing trivia with the obvious intent of stalling negotiations and creating a national crisis.

Lewis contending the operators have refused to give serious consideration to his demand for a health and welfare fund and for safety mines, has insisted that agreement in principle on those points is an essential preliminary to any discussion of wages and hours.

The producers, however, have held firm that wages and hours (Continued on page eight)

WORLD FAIR SITE TO BE NEW UN HOME

Announcement Made After Meeting Between Trygve Lie And Grover Whalen

New York, April 11.—(AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer announced today the selection of the World's Fair site at Flushing Meadow as the interim meeting place of the United Nations.

The Sperry Gyroscope plant at Lake Success, Long Island, long considered as a possible site of the interim headquarters, was chosen as office headquarters of the United Nations, the mayor added.

The announcement was made after a 20-minute meeting this morning of Trygve Lie, UN secretary general, Grover Whalen, who has been assigned UN officials in seeking a satisfactory site in New York, and the Board of Estimate of New York City.

O'Dwyer said that the city had agreed to advance $1,250,000 for improving the Flushing Meadow park and the interior of the municipal building, now used as a skating rink.

The municipal building is contemplated for meeting of the General Assembly.

The mayor said Lie and the Board of Estimate entered into a "verbal agreement" on the plan to use the old World's Fair site as the meeting place of the United Nations.

In reporting that the Sperry plant would be used for offices, the mayor added that the city was guaranteeing that housing units to accommodate 4,000 persons employed by the UN would be situated somewhere within the city and would be ready for occupancy by January 1.

The city building in the old World's Fair grounds would be available for use by Sept. 1, the mayor said. The General Assembly of the United Nations will meet in New York Sept. 3.

The selection of the World's Fair site, a dark horse among the candidates, was announced today.

Special Meeting

Dr. W. M. Rankin, head of Duke Foundation for Hospitals and Care of the Sick, will attend the special meeting of the Pitt County Commissioners at the Courthouse tonight at 8 o'clock. The commissioners are meeting to consider the advisability of ordering an election for the citizens to pass on a bond issue to build a 200-bed hospital here as a memorial to the veterans of both wars.

The Federal Government would provide from 50 to 70 per cent of the cost of the hospital. The commission would lease it to an operating board of trustees.

John G. Clark, chairman of the War Memorial Hospital Committee, urged all interested citizens to attend the meeting.

Flour Rationing Is Held Up By Govm't

Exports Fail Behind Promises; Anderson Says Nation Will Fulfill Commitments To Famine-Stricken Peoples

By OVID A. MARTIN Washington, April 11.—(AP)—The government held off today its decision whether more drastic steps are needed at home to tide famine areas abroad over the present critical shortage of bread.

Although the domestic conservation program launched a month ago today has failed to achieve the savings sought and exports to hungry areas have fallen behind promises officials continue to insist that foreign commitments will be met.

In the face of an Agriculture Department report which raised doubts whether enough wheat remains to meet both export needs and domestic demands at current levels Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson told a news conference last night that this country will fulfill its promises.

But he said the nation will have to observe fully all phases of the wheat conservation program. And he added it might be necessary to force a 25 percent cut in domestic use of flour between now and June 30, when the new winter wheat crop starts moving to market in volume.

The British cabinet offered yesterday to ration bread in Great Britain if the United States would do the same.

But Anderson made plain that consumer rationing of either bread or flour during the present emergency is out of the question because, he said, rationing machinery could not be set up in time to help.

He emphasized, however, that he did not mean to imply that rationing (Continued on Page Four)

EXTENSION OF DRAFT BACKED IN COMMITTEE

Senators Favor Full Year's Extension; Service Pay Increases Submitted

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—The Senate Military Committee recommended today a full year extension of the draft act.

At the same time the committee sent along four different service pay increase plans for Senate consideration.

Chairman Elbert Thomas (Utah) said the pay boost proposals represented a committee "compromise."

The draft extension bill was prepared by Senator Gurney (R-SD). It also included a pay increase provision.

Action came after a three-hour closed door session which began by a refusal to go along with the House Military Committee's recommendation of a nine-month extension of the draft beyond May 15.

Only one major change was made in the Gurney bill. This fixed the Army's strength at 1,550,000 next July 1 and at 1,070,000 for the same date in 1947. It would require "consistent" monthly reduction between those levels. Senators estimated this would mean release of 40,000 men monthly.

The various pay increase proposals sent on to the Senate included: Gurney's plan for increasing the pay of enlisted men. Lowest grades would be boosted from the present $50 monthly to $65, with staggered increases giving top grades $140 compared with the present $133.

An identical pay increase plan by Senator Revercomb (R-WV) which would be offered as a separate measure.

A bill by Senator Maybank (D-SC) which would grant $80 additional monthly to all officers and (Continued on Page Eight)

Dossier Charges Spain Now An "Armed Camp"; Council Members Expect Gromyko To Lend Aid To Polish Charges; German Scientists Said To Be Working For Franco

New York, April 11.—(AP)—The United States will support a full hearing before the United Nations Security Council on Poland's indictment of the Franco regime in Spain as a haven of fugitive German scientists working on atomic age weapons, a spokesman indicated today.

The spokesman added that the United States reserved any decision on further moves until it had heard all the facts presented.

The British delegation was expected to join in this stand.

As the world organization, scheduled to reconvene Monday, faced its second major test, representatives of the Spanish Republican government appeared here.

Meanwhile the Council had before it a dossier charging that more than 50,000 Germans are now in Spain; that Nazi holdings in Spain open and cloaked, range above the $10,000,000 mark; that Spain has become an armed camp with a standing army of about 600,000 and that Nazi scientists are engaged in research of atomic energy and jet propulsion.

The report was drawn up by eight organizations, including the Nation Associates and the CIO.

Poland's indictment of Spain—characterized by the Spanish press as a Russian inspired—was brought before the Security Council late yesterday under a United Nations charter provision which states that the organization shall insure that states not members of the United Nations act in accordance with the principles of the organization, so far as may be necessary for the maintenance of international peace and security.

Although Andrei A. Gromyko who yesterday was relieved of his ambassadorial duties by Moscow to free him for full time work as the Soviet delegate to the Security Council, has not identified himself with the Polish charges, conference observers fully expected he would give his support to Poland in pressing for action.

Moscow announced last night that Gromyko was being replaced (Continued on Page Eight)

Long Range Housing Measure Is Studied

Senate Sends Modified Emergency Housing Bill To House; Focuses Attention On Bi-Partisan Building Plan

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—The Senate shunted the emergency housing bill back to the House today and quickly turned to a companion measure intended to add 12,500,000 new homes by 1956.

This long-range bill came to the Senate's floor with the unanimous approval of its banking committee by its trio of authors: Senators Wagner (D-N. Y.), Taft (R-Ohio) and Ellender (D-La.).

The bill is not linked but first in with the emergency housing legislation which the Senate passed yesterday, 63 to 14, and sent back to the House for action on amendments.

The emergency bill is designed to provide 2,700,000 new dwelling units largely for veterans, by the end of next year.

Before it can reach President Truman for signature, however, the Senate and House must agree on a compromise version to be worked out by a Senate-House committee.

The chief point of difference is the Senate provision for $50,000,000 in subsidies to encourage the output of scarce building materials.

The House refused to permit the premium payments, and both branches turned thumbs down on price ceilings for existing dwellings. The administration, from Mr. Truman down, had urged both these features. Ceilings on new houses were provided by the House and (Continued on Page Four)

REP. BURGIN DIES TODAY

N. C. Representative Passes Away After Heart Attack

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Rep. Burgin (D-NC), who had announced his intention to retire from Congress at the end of his fourth term next January, died today. He was 67 years old.

Burgin was taken to Doctors Hospital early last Sunday suffering from what his physician described as a coronary heart attack.

A businessman and attorney, he served as a member of the North Carolina House of Representatives in 1930 and was elected to the Senate two years later. He came to Congress as representative from the State's eighth district.

A consistent supporter of the administration's foreign policy, Burgin was a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Recently he went to the White House to ask President Truman to halt the manufacture of atomic bombs as a means of expediting the peace efforts of the United States.

A native of Marion, N. C., Burgin began his business career as a clerk in a general store in 1893. And later he was a traveling sales- (Continued on Page Eight)

JAP ELECTION RESULTS SLOW

Three Major Parties In Close Race; Communists Trailing

Tokyo, April 11.—(AP)—Three major parties tonight were running a close race for membership of Japan's 468-seat House of Representatives. Communists were trailing far behind. Nine women appeared certain of election.

Scattered nationwide results from yesterday's first postwar election gave the social democratic party 25 seats, the progressives 24 and the liberals 23. The Communists were certain of only three so far. At least six independents and one people's party candidate also were elected.

Results still are too incomplete to indicate the final makeup of the House. The progressives failed to win a seat in Tokyo on the basis of early returns.

TODAY IN CONGRESS

A Review Of Your Government In Action

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Chairman Flannagan (D-Va.) said today that the House Agriculture Committee had voted to recommend termination of meat subsidies.

Government stabilization officials have testified that removal of subsidies would force an increase in retail price ceilings.

The committee, Flannagan told reporters, did not recommend removal of meat ceiling prices, as repeatedly asked of both House and Senate committees in recent weeks by the packing industry.

The Joint Pearl Harbor Investigating Committee, at its reopened hearings, was told that President Truman had denied a request of Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, Pacific fleet commander in Hawaii when the Japs attacked, to examine a file of messages of the late President Roosevelt.

The committee was told that only it could see the file, which Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said was a "super-secret" one set up to retain messages between President Roosevelt and British officials; and that it had been given full access to the file.

Assistant Attorney General Wendell Berge, in charge of the anti-trust division, opposed before the Senate the Interstate Commerce Committee the House-passed bill to exempt railroads from the anti-trust laws in making rates by agreements among themselves.

SEEK OFFICE IN LOCAL ARMORY

Veterans Administration Would Open Branch In Greenville

By CHESTER WALSH The way now seems clear for the Veterans Administration of Washington D. C. to establish offices in Greenville in order to render to war veterans of Pitt and nine surrounding counties better service. There is urgent need for a contact office service to the veterans of this area, the administration believes.

Pitt County Post No. 39, American Legion which has a 10-year lease on the armory at $1 a year, passed a resolution at its February meeting unanimously offering to rent two offices in the armory to the Veterans Administration at a reasonable rental.

Yesterday Post Commander F. A. Jordan received a letter from Col. J. D. DeRamus, Veterans Administration for North Carolina, stating that the Veterans Administration would like to take advantage of the offer of the American Legion Post to use two offices on the ground (Continued on Page Eight)

SOVIET MOVE WINS ACCLAIM

Gromyko's UN Assignment Called Indication Of Faith

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Diplomatic officials hailed Russia's appointment of a new ambassador to the United States as a fresh sign today of Soviet faith in the United Nations.

Moscow last night announced appointment of Nikolai V. Novikov as ambassador in Washington, succeeding Andrei A. Gromyko, Russia's permanent representative on the UN Security Council.

State Department officials later confirmed that Russia recently had made the usual inquiries about the acceptability of Novikov—present charge d'affaires—and had been told the United States would welcome his appointment.

Diplomatic officials who related Novikov's appointment to Russia's regard for the UN reasoned this way: If the Soviet Union took UN lightly it would not have assigned an official of Gromyko's stature and experience to devote full time to the council job.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Don't look for another income tax cut in 1946 even though you may be hearing talk about it. It's not likely. Maybe there will be one in 1947. Studies on tax changes are being made inside the government.

They'll be useful when, and if Congress decides to make changes. The tax system is far from perfect. Some say now taxes are so high in the upper bracket that a man making perhaps $25,000 loses his desire to make more than that.

This is old talk, recently revived. It's been going on a long time. Actually, in wartime, the percentage increase in the taxes on the lower-income man has been far greater than on his richer brother. They went skating up in wartime. Low-income people who never had to pay taxes before, had to start paying them then.

Late in 1945, with the war over, Congress decided to reduce 1946 taxes. This was a cut on the income of individuals and corporations.

The WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The opposition which has developed in the United Nations Security Council to Russia's demand that the Iranian (Persian) issue be dropped from the Council's agenda should not in itself be interpreted as an expression of distrust of Moscow.

The Soviet Union's promise to take her troops out of Persia by May 6 isn't being questioned, and it would be useful if this point were emphasized in the Council's debate. If Moscow hadn't agreed with Tehran that all forces should be withdrawn, then Russia's position would indeed have been under challenge. But the given word isn't being disputed.

If the Security Council itself were asked to define the position, I believe the answer would have to be something like this: The Russo-Persian affair isn't a personal matter between these two countries. Persia is of great strategic importance in the realignment of the zones of influence in Europe, the Mediterranean area and the Middle East. Her international relations therefore become a matter of moment to the entire world.

The Security Council is an impartial body which is in the service of all the United Nations. It is a trustee of the common interests, and for that reason it has no more license to write off an unfinished transaction than would a banker have the right to deviate from the accepted practices in handling public accounts.

So the seventh grade of the Third Street School decided to go to Raleigh, their capital city. Here they first visited the State Museum. What an interesting place to visit! There were stuffed birds, animals, and live snakes, different kinds of shells and many other interesting things.

While visiting the capitol the seventh grade was looking forward to a pleasant lunch at Pullen Park. Here was a house extending over a lake. They sat and faced the water, seeing ducks swimming around in the water and ate their lunch. It was a beautiful place to eat.

Wood Wastes Sources Of Food Say Chemists

Atlantic City, N.J., April 11—(AP)—A chemical engineer today suggested utilization of waste wood products as food sources to cope with a "shortage" of proteins in the United States.

Declaring there is a shortage of 20,000,000 tons of proteins in foods available to the nation's people and livestock, Dr. Robert T. Aries, of New Haven, Conn., told the American Chemical Society this "could be partly offset by recovering proteins from pulp paper mill wastes."

He told the chemists in a report to their 109th meeting that in addition to 150,000,000 pounds of yeast and cattle fodder which can be produced annually from pulp wastes "a practically inexhaustible amount can be made from sawdust, wood waste and unsalable wood."

Field Director of the Northeastern Wood Utilization Council, Dr. Aries said a waste-utilization project, besides producing high-protein food from waste liquors discharged annually into the nation's rivers and streams, "would reduce stream pollution x x x and thus curb the annual loss of fish from this cause."

For human consumption he said, yeast contains all the essential amino acids (protein builders) for human nutrition. He added:

"This is contrasted with cereal proteins, which tend to be deficient, thus producing poor results when used alone."

Dr. Aries said wood-produced fodder for cattle and poultry would be particularly useful in sections of the country where the bulk of concentrated feeds now are imported from other areas.

He added that the basis of concentrated rations consisted of grain crops "which contain less than 10 percent of digestible protein."

"Such a low proportion of protein fails to meet the requirements to support improved productive functions, such as rapid growth, milk secretion and production, for which the animals are profitable," he said.

Dr. Walter A. Cook, of the University of Akron, reported that a method had been developed for purifying commercial-grade DDT—the insecticide in such a way as to eliminate formation of an oily residue when the substance is sprayed on walls and other surfaces.

The method consists in washing the crude dry products with ethyl alcohol and petroleum ether before it is made into a spray.

Leaf Exporters Protest Embargo

At a special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Leaf Tobacco Exporters Association, Inc., held April 8, the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, the Chinese Government has recently issued certain trade regulations in respect to the importation of American grown tobacco, which are grossly discriminatory and highly unfair to producers and exporters of American grown tobacco;

"And, whereas, the said trade regulations will entirely exclude from the China market many leaf tobacco exporting firms who have not been able to register within the time prescribed by such regulations;

"And, whereas, the quotas established by said regulations will greatly reduce the flow of American grown tobacco to China, and will seriously curtail the export market for such tobacco in China, and thereby artificially reduce the consumption of American tobacco in China, to the great injury and hurt of the American farmer and tobacco exporting concerns;

"And, whereas, such action upon the part of the Chinese Government is unjustifiable and in callous disregard of the many favors bestowed upon said government by the government of the United States;

"Now, therefore, be it Resolved by the Executive Committee of the Leaf Tobacco Exporters Association, Inc., that this association go on record as vigorously protesting against such limitations on the exportation of American grown tobacco to China, and we hereby request and urge that the Department of State of the United States Government make vigorous representations to the Chinese government to rescind its unfair and unfriendly action on American tobacco."

"Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Secretary of State and to the members of Congress and senators from the tobacco growing states."

J. Con Lanier of Greenville, executive secretary and general counsel for the Leaf Tobacco Exporters Association, will attend a meeting of tobaccoists with the State Department in Washington next Wednesday.

Strength FOR THE DAY

PUTTING THE WORLD TOGETHER AGAIN

We live in one of the most profound eras of reconstruction humanity has ever known. Worse than any property damage is the dislocation that has come about in human relationships. How are we going to get this shattered world put together again?

Few people, as they advocate plans for reconstruction, have anything to say about religion. They say we need a great spiritual revival. But what does that mean?
The truth of the matter is that all this talk about the need for a spiritual revival is largely lip service which politicians make to what they would term "the cause of religion." Deep down in their hearts they believe "at either they or some other group of pious individuals in the world will devise a plan for saving humanity. Everywhere world builders are boxing stiffly in the direction of organized religion and then trying as hard as they can to fish something out of God to remedy the world's degenerate state. The final result is that what they think is the end which is less than man.

When we say that the world now needs a spiritual revival, let us be willing to take these words at their face value. A religious revival now means a revival of your religion and mine. Let the men and women in this and in every other country give themselves wholeheartedly to the religion into which they were born and most of the world's problems will be on the way to solution.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

Washington—Government salaries are terrible. There's no doubt about that. There's nothing in a federal pay check to attract any person of outstanding ability. But frequently these federal jobs are stepping stones to bigger and better things.

After taxes, the President of the United States makes only about $40,- 000 a year. Leave it there and it sounds like pretty good pay. But take out the expenses of holding the office and any President who comes out at the end of a year with a couple of dollars in his savings account is lucky or just plain penurious.

Members of Congress now get a net of less than $8,500.
Nevertheless, these unearned jobs often lead to topnotch paying jobs in industry.

Robert Ramspeck, former congressman from Georgia, and one of the outstanding authorities of our time on civil service, recently wrote an article for a national magazine about why he couldn't afford to continue as a member of Congress.
Mr. Ramspeck's article is thoroughly convincing, but the natural question arises: What would he have been making today if he hadn't come to Congress?

As a recognized national authority on personnel matters, he is worth far more to the aviation industry than his congressional salary. But even if his years of struggle had earned him a representative's pay a pretty good stepping stone to his present job?

The same question could be asked in scores of cases. Leon Henderson was an obscure teacher of physics economics when he came into the government. Congressional opportunity finally drove him out of the job of first OPA director. Financially, it was a big kick upstairs.
In radio, lectures and as adviser to industrial firms Henderson has piled up an income that would make college teachers of economics turn green.

The same is true of Thomas
"Tommy the Cook" Corcoran. He too was drummed out of government service into the big money brackets.
Byron Price, who made one of the war's outstanding government service records as chief of censorship, and Donald M. Nelson, who fought the early battles of war production, have both found the motion picture industry pays off much better.
Daniel W. Bell, who was Under-

Secretary of the Treasury, finally got into the chips as executive of one of Washington's outstanding trust companies.
Stephen Early's desire to get out of his job as press representative of President Roosevelt dated back several years before his chief's death. He stayed long enough to see President Truman through his first few months, but after that accepted one of many offers.
Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler, his financial step-up to baseball owner; the late Jack Nichols' resistance as a member of Congress from Oklahoma to become an industrial airplane executive; and the late Harry Hopkins' jump from the White House staff to a far better paying job in the garment industry are additional examples.

Tire Industry Faces Anti-Trust Inquiry

Washington, April 11—(AP)— Attorney General Tom Clark announced today he has authorized an investigation of the rubber tire industry as the result of alleged infringements of the anti-trust laws.
The inquiry will be conducted by a Federal Grand Jury in New York City.
Clark said in a statement that "a large number of complaints characterized by restraints on competition and discriminatory practices in the industry warrant a full and complete inquiry."

Spanish Papers Tell Of Allied Proposals

Madrid, April 11—(AP)—For the first time, two of Madrid's three morning newspapers informed their readers today that Britain, France and the United States had offered Spaniards to get rid of Generalissimo Franco.
The Monarchist paper ABC and the Catholic paper Ya printed the news in a dispatch from New York via the official news agency Efe.
The Franco newspaper Arriba did not carry the story.
Efe's mention of the joint British-American-French note of March 4 was contained in an account of Polish preparations to bring the Spanish question before the United Nations Security Council.

Moslem Leaders Look For Aid From Soviet

New Delhi, April 11—(AP)—Sir
Feroz Khan Noon, the Moslem League leader, today said Russian influence might come to the aid of Moslems in India if the British and Indians refuse their pleas for establishment of an independent Moslem state.
Asked during an interview to explain his reference in a recent talk to the possibility that Russia might become a welcome friend of the Moslems, Sir Feroz said he had not intended to give the impression that the League would appeal directly to Russia.

soon for a new Yugoslav-Italian

Ickes Criticizes Miners' Demands

Washington, April 11—(AP)— Harold L. Ickes today criticized the United Mine Workers demand for a health and welfare fund as "economically unsound and government-ally unwise."
The former cabinet officer mentioned the matter in endorsing a national health insurance program before a Senate Labor Subcommittee.
John L. Lewis' insistence that the welfare fund issue receive first consideration has currently stymied negotiations with soft coal operators for a new contract. Lewis has not specifically suggested how the fund be raised, but last year he unsuccessfully sought a "royalty" of ten cents on each ton of coal mined.
Ickes said the proposal would give the miners "what would almost amount to extra-governmental power of taxation to private individuals."
"If such a power should be granted to the coal industry," Ickes added in a statement read to the committee, "it would logically follow that there would be the same right in other industries."

Filipino Craftsmen Now Weaving Nylon

Manila, April 11—(AP)—Filipino craftsmen of northern Luzon have taken to weaving nylon in place of their familiar pre-war fabrics.
The scarcity of raw material al-million bales of India's two-million bales of cotton surplus was made today by K. K. Chettur, joint secretary of the Commerce Department, on his return from Shanghai.

In addition he said China probably would take 20,000,000 pounds of India's tobacco surplus.
Chettur said currency was the major problem due to fluctuation of the Chinese dollar. This recently was pegged at 2,000 Chinese to one American dollar. Chettur said.
By act of Congress, the government moved into Washington on the first Monday in December, 1800.

Belgium, Canada, Czechoslovakia and the United States own the bulk of the known reserves of uranium ore, source of atomic power.

THIMBLE THEATER - Starring Popeye A Fine Romance

BLONDIE — By Chic Young

THEY WOULD ASK FOR A STRING TRIO

Sports

had been improved by the war. With seven new champions crowned and the only defender, heavyweight Charlie Lester of Cleveland, repeating, the mittmen's first post-war nationals was one of the most artistic and financial successes in its long history.

During the championship battling before a packed 12,106 crowd at the Botton Garden last night, the top team honors were shared by the colorful Hawaiians, back in the tourney for the first time since 1940, and the hard-fisted U. S. Marines from the Cherry Point, N. C. base. They deadlocked for the group honors with 10 points each.

The Hawaiian delegation, which provided all four semi-finalists in the 112-pounds crown, also garnered the 118 and 147 pounds titles. The winners from that faraway isle of the lei were flyweight Dave Buna, bantamweight Tsuneshi Maruo, 86-medaled member of the Italian campaign's famed Japanese-American 442nd regiment, and welterweight Bob Takeshita.

Joe Discepoli, who hails from Cincinnati, won the 135-pound title for the Marines and Harold Anspach of Williamsport, Pa., their 160-pounds championship.

For the first time in almost 20 years, the tourney produced a three-time winner in Chicago's Bob Foxworth, a negro light heavyweight with a perfect mixture of skill and power.

Foxworth, the 175-pounds winners here in both 1942 and 1943, before he entered the navy, ran his string of consecutive victories to an even 80 when he knocked out Ben Shelton of Pittsburgh, in the first round of their title bout.

San Francisco, April 11—(AP)—Ty Cobb, recalling how 32 years ago he turned down a $100,000 offer to jump an American League contract for a new baseball venture, today cautioned baseball players against breaking contracts for a fling at "big money" in the Mexican league.

In expressing his opinion that players under contract were making a "mistake" in jumping their agreements, Cobb made it plain he is not opposed to the Mexican league but added that "breaking a void contract is serious business."

New York, April 11—(AP)—Major league baseball managers are crying for third basemen this year in the same way they used to be moan to lack of good shortstops and second basemen.

With the opening of the 1946 season five days away only Cleveland's Lou Boudreau, the New York Yankees' Joe McCarthy and St. Louis Cardinals' Eddie Dyer of the 16 big league pilots seem to have solved their "hot corner" problem and even they are not sitting too pretty.

In Ken Keltner Cleveland owns one of the best third sacker in the American league, but the recently discharged sailor was late in signing and hasn't trimmed down to his best playing weight. Currently Boudreau has been using Bob Lemon and Don Ross at the far corner.

Whitey Kurowski, hard hitting Cardinal third baseman, ended a long holdout siege last Saturday, and hasn't seen an inning of action. He is expected to be on the bench when the season opens with Al Red Schoendienst, an outfielder last year, at third.

George Sitnweiss, best second baseman this season but an injury to second sacker Joe Gordon last month may send Sitnweiss back at his old post next Tuesday.

Even Steve O'Neill and Charlie Grimm, the 1945 pennant winning managers, are not certain of their opening day third baseman. O'Neill has been experimenting with Jimmy Outlaw, last year's part-time Detroit third baseman, Billy Hitchcock and Pinky Higgins. It looks like he will start the Tiger season with the 37-year-old Higgins.

Phantoms Ready For Come-Back

By DAVE CLARK
 Coach Bo Farley's Green Phantoms will be all out for revenge tomorrow afternoon when they tangle with the powerful Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets here in Greenville at 3:30.

At present it is not known whether the game will be played in Guy Smith Stadium or out at the Third Street Park. If the stadium is ready by tomorrow the game will be played there. If not, it will be at Third Street.

Any way you look at it, the Jackets will be favored because of their resounding win over the Greens Tuesday. However, in this larger park the game should be much closer than it was down there. The Jackets have a hitting ball club but many balls that went over left field fence for doubles down there will be caught by Billy Harrington here.

The Phantoms are certainly capable of winning tomorrow and they could do it if they play a steady game.

Starters for tomorrow will probably be: Futrell at third, Garrett at shortstop, Corey at second, Bobby Clark at first, Thigpen behind the plate, Harrington in left field, Kittrell in center, Willie Lewis or Dave Clark in right.

By order of the Board of Aldermen at meeting held March 7, 1946.
 J. O. DUVAL, City Clerk.

Chapter 3

In a hall, the height of which was greatly disproportioned to its extreme length and width, a long oak table, formed of planks rough-hewn from the forest, and which had scarcely received any polish, stood ready prepared for the evening meal of Cedric the Saxon.

In the centre of the table, were placed two chairs more elevated than the rest, for the master and mistress of the family. To each of these chairs was added a foot-stool, curiously carved and inlaid with ivory, which mark of distinction was peculiar to them.

One of these seats was at present occupied by Cedric the Saxon, who, felt, at the delay of his evening meal, an irritable impatience.

It appeared, indeed, from the countenance of this proprietor, that he was of a frank, but hasty and choleric temper. He was not above the middle stature, but broad-shouldered, long-armed, and powerfully made, like one accustomed to endure the fatigue of war or of the chase; his face was broad, with large blue eyes, open and frank features, fine teeth, and a well-formed head, altogether expressive of that sort of good-humour which

Worry is a science
I LET EXPERTS DO MINE
by den herold

I HATE WORRY—I know that it's no good for me. So I send a lot of my worrying out... like laundry.

I think I have a lot better use for my brain than to worry—for example—if lightning is going to strike my house... or if Mrs. Herold is going to run over somebody with our station wagon... or if I'm going to break a leg... or if the milkman is going to sue me for tripping on our portico... or if Junior is going to hit somebody with a baseball...

At surprisingly moderate cost, I've delegated all such stewing... and other troubles... to the local representative of AMERICA FORE—a group of big, strong insurance companies.

NEW INSURANCE WRINKLES

I've dug into insurance pretty thoroughly lately and I find that I haven't known beans about improvements and combinations made in insurance coverages in recent years—yes, months.

When the automobile companies bring out new models, you can see them in show windows. But when an insurance company brings out new models they're sorta invisible to the masses.

So I've written a booklet which I've called "Your Insurance Quiz" to help you learn about new insurance wrinkles and size up your coverages.

WILSON'S WEEKLY Bulletin
By George Rector
Food and Nutrition Consultant to Wilson & Co.

Chase the Chills Away

These are the days when a steaming dish of hot flavorful soup kindles a warm comfortable glow deep down inside. For a satisfying nutritious family meal, serve soup or chowder like grandmother did, in a covered tureen. This keeps the soup hot and conveniently at hand for second servings.

Navy Bean Chowder

1/2 lb. dried navy beans	4 cups water	night in water to cover. Cook until soft. Cut bacon in small pieces and fry slowly in soup kettle. Add Advance Shortening, and onions and cook 3 minutes. Add potatoes, water, celery, salt, pepper, bay leaf and cooked beans. Simmer 1/2 hour or until potatoes are soft. Add chili sauce and Wilson's B-V which have been dissolved in some of the hot liquid. Stir, cook 3 minutes longer. Serve with crackers or bread sticks. Serves 6.
1 slice Wilson's Certified Bacon	1/2 cup celery
2 tsp. salt	1/2 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. Advance Shortening	1/2 bay leaf
1/2 cup onions, minced	Wilson's B-V
1 cup potatoes	2 tsp. chili sauce

Sort and wash the beans. Soak overnight.

Soups Are Savers

The art of soup making is a thrifty one, for soups make the most of a little food and make many menu changes possible. Regardless of how successful you are as a soup-maker, you'll find B-V a great help in adding a fine meaty flavor that gives "oomph" to any soup. Get into the habit of serving more delicious wholesome soups for both family and company meals. Grandmother served them often because they were satisfying and you know they're nutritious and thrifty.

"Park Up" Your Soups

Variety in accompaniment always adds spice to the soup course. Float carrot flowers, croutons or tiny dumplings to enliven a hearty soup. Bread sticks, cheese straws, Melba toast and cheese nuffs all lend sparkle. Here's a chance to make good use of left-over bread. Make bread sticks this way:

The Wilson label protects your table often lodges with a sudden and hasty temper. Pride and jealousy there was in his eye, for his life had been sent in asserting rights which were constantly liable to invasion; and the prompt, fiery, and resolute disposition of the man, had been kept constantly upon the alert by the circumstances of his situation although approaching to his sixtieth year.

One grisly old wolf-dog alone, with the liberty of an indulged favourite, had planted himself close by the chair of state, and occasionally ventured to solicit notice by putting his large hairy head upon his master's knee, or pushing his nose into his hand. Even he was repelled by the stern command, "Down, Balder, down! I am not in the humour for foolery."

In fact, Cedric, as we have observed, was in no very placid state of mind. The Lady Rowena, who had been absent to attend an evening mass at a distant church, had but just returned, and was changing her garments, which had been wetted by the storm. There was as yet no tidings of Gurth and his charge, which should long since have been driven home from the forest; and such was the insecurity of the period, as to render it probable that the delay might be explained by some depredation of the outlaws, with whom the adjacent forest abounded, or by the violence of some neighboring baron, whose consciousness of strength made him equally negligent of the laws of property. The matter was of consequence, for great part of the domestic wealth of the Saxon proprietors consisted in numerous herds of swine, especially in forest land, where those animals easily found their food.

From his musing Cedric was suddenly awakened by the blast of a horn, which was replied to by the clamorous veils and barking of all the dogs in the hall and some 20 or 30 which were quartered in other parts of the building.

"To the gate, knives!" said the Saxon hastily as soon as the tumult was so much appeased that the dependants could hear his voice. "See what tidings that horn tells us of—to announce I ween, some herdsman and robbery which has been done upon my lands."

Returning in less than three minutes, a warder announced, "that the Prior Aymer of Jorvaux, and the good knight Brian de Bois-Guilbert, commander of the valiant and venerable order of Knights Templars, with a small retinue, requested hospitality and lodging for the night, being on their way to a tournament which was to be held not far from Ashby-de-la-Zouche, on the second day from the present."

"Aymer, the Prior Aymer? Brian de Bois-Guilbert?" muttered Cedric, "Normans both;—but Norman or Saxon, the hospitality of Rotherwood must not be impeached. Go Hundebert," he added, to a sort of major-domo who stood behind him with a white wand; "take six of the attendants, and introduce the strangers to the guests' lodging. Look after their horses and mules, and see their trunks packed. Let them have change of restment. If they require it, and fire, and water to wash, and wine and ale; and bid the cooks add what they hastily can to our evening meal; and let it be put on the board when those strangers are ready to share it. Say to them, Hundebert, that Cedric would himself bid them welcome, but he is under a vow never to step more than three steps from the door of his own hall to meet any who shares not the blood of Saxon royalty. Begone! see them carefully tended; let them not say in their pride, the Saxon churl has shown at once his poverty and his avarice. Oswald, broach the oldest wine-cask; place the best meat, the mightiest ale, the richest morat, the most sparkling cider, upon the board; fill the largest horns—Templars and Abbots love good wines and good measure—Elgitha, let thy Lady Rowena know we shall not this night expect her in the hall, unless such be her especial pleasure."

"But it will be her especial pleasure," answered Elgitha, with great readiness, "for she is ever desirous to hear the latest news from Palestine!"

"Palestine!" repeated the Saxon; "Palestine!" He knit his brows, and fixed his eyes for an instant on the ground; as he raised them, the folding doors at the bottom of the hall were cast wide, and preceded by the major-domo with his wand, and four domestics bearing blazing torches, the guests of the evening entered the apartment.

"DISCOVERING" UNCLE NATCHEL

One day back in 1934, an artist, driving leisurely along a country road in the deep South, heard the sound of banjo music floating toward him through the trees. He left his car and followed the sad-sweet strains until he found a clearing in the forest where, on a little cabin porch, sat an old dandy, a red-headed boy of twelve, and a dog—in the middle of a music lesson! All unseen, the artist set up his easel and soon, upon the canvas, appeared the boy, all thumbs, his face screwed up in earnest effort, manfully struggling with the stringed instrument; the dog looking on in painful apprehension; the old man patiently urging: "Jes' hol' it natchel, Sonny—thataway, natchel!"

This beautiful painting by Hy Hintermeister was featured on the 1935 Uncle Natchel calendar, and introduced to a million people the familiar figure of "Uncle Natchel", the kindly old man who has appeared ever since as the symbol of Natural Chilean Nitrate of Soda.

Uncle Natchel is really a rare and lovable character. Grown old in the employ of Sonny's family, he is known to everyone for miles around for his inexhaustible supply of stories about the wonders of Nature and his belief that the best way to do anything is the "Natchel" way. And that, of course, is how he got his name.

Board Of Health Plans TB Fight

Raleigh, April 11—(AP)—The State Board of Health plans to use new developments in X-ray techniques in its campaign against tuberculosis this summer, according to Dr. R. L. Morrison, assistant director of the Tuberculosis Bureau of the Board.

Dr. Morrison said here last night that six or eight mobile X-ray units would be placed into operation this summer and that as many as 300-600 persons could be examined in 12 months.

Heretofore, he said, large film had to be used in taking X-ray pictures, and the cost and time required to carry out a survey such as that now being planned "were prohibitive." New speed techniques and the fact that X-rays now may be taken on smaller film will reduce costs to from seven to 10 cents per person, he added.

Research in the past has been centered on school children, Dr. Morrison said, but the projected survey will deal with adults as well.

Reviewing previous work in the tuberculosis field, he said there were now 7,000 known cases of the disease in North Carolina, of which 4,000 are active. To handle this number, there are only 2,250 hospital beds available. There were 12,750 deaths from the disease last year.

HABIT FORMING

Los Angeles, April 11—(AP)—Ex-Sgt Robert Watson and his petite Italian war bride, Adriana, are going to be married for the 132nd time.

Adriana and three-month-old Julie Watson arrived yesterday from Italy, and she and her husband disclosed plans to repeat their marriage vows in an American ceremony.

In Naples, they were wed 130 times in an Army special services play "It's A Date" before deciding on a real-life ceremony.

PROTEST

Joliet, Ill., April 11—(AP)—The burglars who tossed a brick through a window in Joseph Malchin's grocery store were not satisfied with the $25 they stole from a cash box.

Shortly after the burglary was discovered a telephone caller told Clerk Emil Brusatori: "Why don't you keep more money in your store. We don't want to risk jail for only 25 bucks."

One-Man Assembly Line

Russell, Kas., April 11—(AP)—Twelve-year-old Daryl Baker trudged along on his paper route and decided riding would be much easier.

So he hammered together a washing machine motor and assorted scrap iron, knocking into shape a conveyance which he claims can putt about at 30 miles an hour. It cost exactly $5.00.

When Burgin announced that he would not run for Congress again he said he intended to keep the shingle hanging out when he went back to Lexington to practice law.

Higher service pay also came up for consideration on the other side of the capitol. A House Military subcommittee withdrew a previous recommendation for a flat $400 a year increase and voted a sliding scale of boosts starting with 50 percent extra for privates.

The Gurney bill in the Senate, in addition to fixing Army strength, also calls for a top strength of 558,000 for the Navy and 107,000 for the Marines by July 1, 1947. Inductions in any month would be determined by the number of actual volunteers in the preceding month.

The Polish charges, declaring that fugitive German scientists are developing ultra-modern weapons under Generalissimo Francisco Franco's protection, implied that such new means of warfare were designed to meet the competition of the atomic age. The Polish delegation declined to elaborate on the nature of the weapons allegedly being devised in Spain—which was a proving ground for certain modern arms in the Spanish civil war.

By withholding the Polish charges against Spain until yesterday, Polish delegate Oscar Lange assured priority for discussion of Gromyko's demand that the Iranian question be dismissed when the council resumes its session Monday. Gromyko's demand is opposed by the U. S., Britain and others, who desire to hold the matter open for review after May 6, the deadline for withdrawal of Red Army troops from oil rich Iran.

The Polish indictment charges that Franco is giving asylum to fugitive war criminals, Nazi personnel and assets and allows and promotes scientific research by German scientists engaged in devising new means of warfare.

Soviet Move . . .

(Continued from Page One) Gromyko's appointment was announced March 24, the day before the UN council met for the first time in New York. It was not until Novikov's appointment was announced, however, that the world knew for certain that Gromyko would be a full-time Security Council member with no ambassadorial duties to perform.

The UN job is one for which the special assignments of the black-haired, 38-year-old Soviet diplomat during the last three years have prepared him. Gromyko has sat in on virtually every international conference having to do with the establishment of UN.

He was at Dumbarton Oaks in 1944; at Yalta, San Francisco and Potsdam in 1945. When the UN Preparatory Commission began its work in London late last year, Gromyko headed the Soviet delegation.

In his letter to Commander Jordan, Colonel DeRamus said the Veterans Administration would be willing to pay $40 a month rent for the offices and would like to occupy them by May 1.

Establishment of a field office of the Veterans Administration in Greenville would be of great help in facilitating all veterans' claims in Pitt and surrounding counties. It is well known that the service work for veterans is piling up on Pitt County Veterans Service Officer Arthur B. Corey. Establishment of a branch office of the Veterans Administration here would be of considerable help to him.

At a meeting of the "Forty and Eight" last night Senator Corey offered a resolution providing for building a cabinet at the armory for storage of Legion materials now stored in the offices.

The local post of the American Legion has a 10-year lease on the armory at $1 a year. The lease was made jointly by the County Commissioner and the Board of Aldermen, January 1, 1945, the record shows.

A feeling prevails here that the fullest use of the armory should be made for the benefit of the citizens. The government spent a considerable sum of money on the building. It was used by the National Guard until that outfit went to war. Later a corps of U. S. Engineers, making maps of the state, occupied the armory for a long time. When the State Guard was organized after Pearl Harbor the building became headquarters for the local company.

IRAN MEETING IS INDICATED

First Steps In Unifying Iran Believed Under Way

Tehran, April 11—(AP)—Developments in Tehran indicated today that representatives of Kurdistan, Azerbaijan and the Iranian Central Government might be conferring somewhere in the mountains near Karaj in the first step toward re-establishment of Iran's national unity.

The developments were:

- 1. A cabinet member told reporters that Azerbaijan—where a self-proclaimed autonomous government has been established—had selected a peace delegation at a special two-day session of Parliament which ended yesterday at Tabriz.
- 2. An influential Kurdish landowner from near Saujbulagh (Mehabad)—capital of the so-called independent Kurdish republic—said he acted as intermediary between the Central Government and Ghazi Mohammed, head of the Iranian Kurds and deputy chief of state for Greater Kurdistan. He said that
