

Senate Hearings On OPA Still On

Senator Takes NAM To Task For Spending $395,000 In Anti-OPA Drive...

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Senator Mitchell (D-Wash.) took the National Association of Manufacturers to task today for spending $395,000 in its anti-OPA campaign.

Mitchell was one of a group of Democratic Senators who tangled with Robert R. Wason, President of the N. A. M., when Wason disclosed what the association's anti-OPA drive had cost.

The average consumer who wants prices held down couldn't hope to duplicate that amount, Mitchell said to a reporter.

Wason testified at hearings yesterday on legislation to extend OPA a year beyond June 30. In the course of the hearing, Chairman Wagner (D-NY) mentioned that he had received 1750 telegrams for continuance of OPA without restrictive amendments such as the House tacked on. Wagner said there were 26 telegrams against continuance.

"Propaganda machine," exploded Wason. Later the N. A. M. president quoted Rep. Vursell (R-Ill.) as having said the OPA has thousands of employees nudging in propaganda at an annual cost of $13,000,000.

This assertion was challenged by Zenas L. Potter of OPA, who said the price control agency spends nothing on propaganda, and that the $13,000,000 figure included such things as the cost of printing ration books for every person in the country.

Additional business men witnesses were called to testify on the OPA extension today, including representatives of the American Mining Congress, zinc and lead interests and Mrs. James A. Reed, president of the Dannelly Garment Company in Missouri.

Wason pleaded in his testimony for an end to all price controls on manufactured goods. He said: "We urge you to give the manufacturers of America a chance to turn out the goods with which to smother inflation."

Wason contended especially that OPA was retarding production. He said it had nothing to do with production except to hinder it.

This comment referred to new Federal Reserve Board figures which Mitchell cited as showing Continued on Page Four

Parliament Member Tries Famine Diet

Bristol, England, April 24 (AP)—After five days on an experimental "starvation diet" of 1,000 calories a day, W. F. Vernon, a Labor member of Parliament, reported today that he felt "definitely weaker."

He said he would stick to his diet, designed to show him how hungry Europeans exist, "until I feel that my efficiency is impaired."

But a Bristol doctor said Vernon's diet "is hardly a true comparison with starving continental countries" because the MP "is getting essential vitamins which are lacking in the monotonous diet in parts of Europe."

He is living on 11 ounces of bread, four ounces of skimmed milk, one-half ounce each of meat, sugar and margarine, and two and one-half ounces of green vegetables.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Hey fellows. You in the striped pants you diplomatic chaps. Talk our language, will you?

You know, just the simple kind the kind we can understand. You're away over our heads. You're getting us dizzy.

And there's always the danger you'll knock yourselves out with that lightened talk.

I wonder how many people know that you chaps, in spite of all the excitement in the Security Council up there in New York, never got around to talking of the Iranian problem, the Russian troops in Iran.

The program itself is what you fellows call a "substantive matter" or a "matter of substance." You've spent all your time discussing "procedural matters" which, if anybody doesn't know, means:

You haven't been talking about the problem. You've been talking about the procedure you should take in order to get around to talking about the problem.

But you, the world diplomats, set up the United Nations for us, "the people of the United Nations." The U. N. belongs to us. It's about the only hope we have of keeping

COMPROMISE FELT LIKELY IN CHINA WAR

Kai-Shek Shows Desire For Appeasement In Yielding To Red Demand

Chungking, April 24 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek postponed today the convocation of the National Assembly as the Communists had demanded, prompting widespread belief here that a compromise was near in the Manchurian civil war and other internal problems.

The generalissimo said the government would set a date later for the assembly, which had been scheduled to meet May 5 at Nanking to consider China's new constitution.

The Communists had insisted on a delay in the constitutional convention and with the Democratic League and other minority parties had refused to participate until the causes of civil strife were settled.

The generalissimo made his announcement at a tea party he gave for leaders of other parties.

Compromise was in the air. A Kuomintang (National Party) man had said yesterday that he was in the talking stage.

It likewise was known that General Marshall, special U. S. envoy was exerting heavy pressure on both the generalissimo and Gen. Chou En-Lai, the Communist negotiator, for a compromise settlement.

Government forces faced 60,000 Chinese Communists 36 miles south of Manchuria's capital today while General Marshall met here with leaders of both factions in a determined effort to end the civil strife.

Word of a possible government compromise proposal came from a spokesman for the Kuomintang (Nationalist Party). He said the government might agree to Communist demands for a compromise settlement.

Anthracite Miners To Discuss New Demands

CRACKDOWN ON ARMED FORCES

Delegates Gather To Discuss Same Demands Which Prompted Bituminous Strike; May File Strike Notice

Hazleton, Pa., April 24 (AP)—More than 300 delegates representing 76,000 Pennsylvania anthracite miners gathered here today to discuss what some AFL-United Mine Workers leaders described as the prime demands which prompted the bituminous strike.

UMW Chieftain John L. Lewis presided at the opening session of the three-day tri-district scale convention comprising local leaders from districts 1, 7 and 9—the three largest in the nation's hard coal region.

Lewis declined comment on his arrival here from Washington last night except to note:

"I'll say what is to be said at the convention."

The convolve, according to the official agenda, was called "to consider and take appropriate action concerning conditions of employment to become effective under the new agreement and to take such other action necessary in scale matters."

Gen. McNarney Orders Reestablishment Of Discipline In Army

Frankfurt, Germany, April 24 (AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney today ordered a disciplinary crackdown on all American troops in Europe because "discipline in certain localities and commands in this theater has deteriorated to the point of discrediting the fine performance of our troops in general."

In orders issued to unit commanders, the theater commander declared "all commanders and their subordinates must now owe themselves to the reestablishment of discipline."

"This," he said, "becomes their most important immediate function."

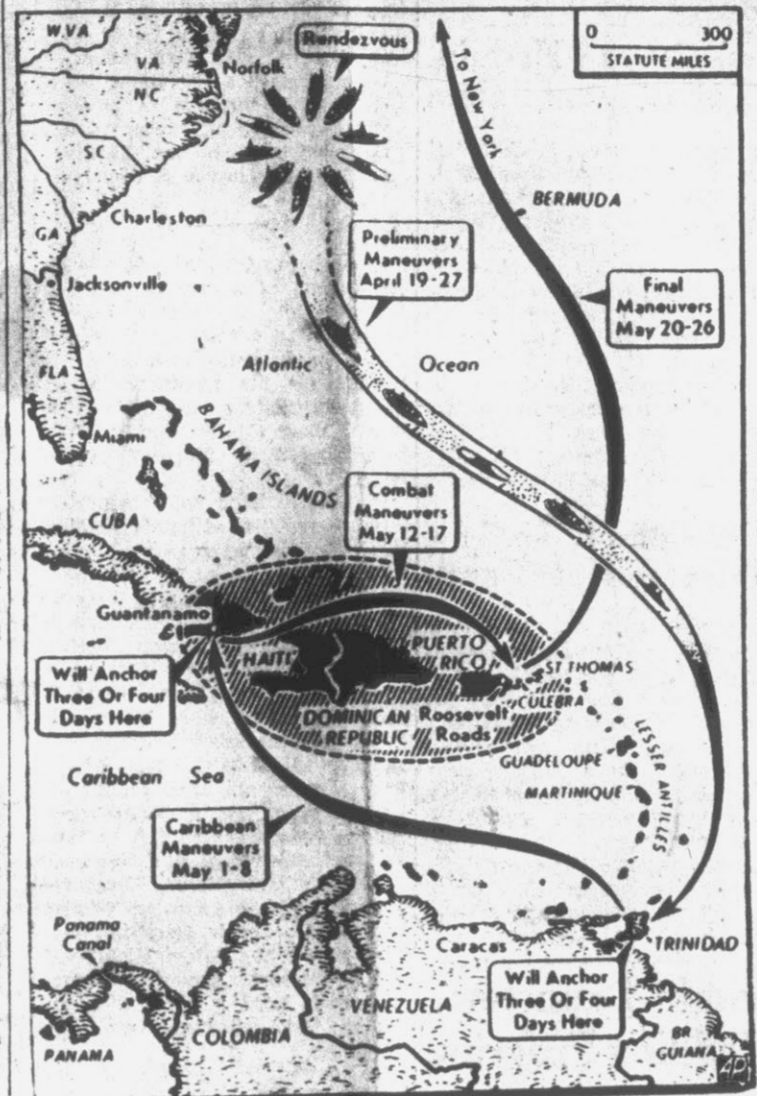

Gen. McNarney's written order said: "Due to rapid demobilization and

JAIL SYSTEM CRITICIZED

State Public Welfare Dept. Asks For Better Supervision

Raleigh, N. C., April 24 (AP)—The State Department of Public Welfare today called for better supervision by local officials of city and county jails "where the jailor does not live within the jail confines."

Charles H. Miller, director of the department's institutional and protective service division, said an inspection of the 100 county jails and many of the more than 200 city lockups in the state showed "a considerable number of jails are not provided with adequate safeguards for the welfare of prisoners, and added that more active supervision of prisoners was needed "to prevent tragedies."

He said the recent fire in the Scotland Neck jail, in which four prisoners suffocated from smoke when mattresses in the jail cells caught fire, "could have been prevented by more careful searching of the prisoners and by more frequent checkups of the jail by local police."

However, there were no inspections of prisoners between midnight and early morning, the period during which the four prisoners died.

Miller said several small communities were "maintaining fire trap jails," and cited another case in which two prisoners died in a Columbus County jail fire in 1941.

In both cases, he said, the victims had been arrested and confined for drunkenness.

Jail officials and night officers in small communities should look in on their intoxicated prisoners at least every hour during the night to make certain they are not in such condition as to cause injury to themselves or to others who may be confined with them. Certainly

British Loan Attacked By Republican Senator

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today the United States is buying "50 years of friction" with Great Britain by offering a $2,750,000,000 loan.

He suggested instead a $1,250,000,000 gift.

Opposing passage of loan authorization legislation, Taft told his colleagues in a prepared address that every time the British pay the $141,000,000 annual interest on the loan "they will groan heavily and the press will recall what they consider harsh treatment to an ally in the war."

"It is likely that in many cases the interest will be forgiven," the Ohio senator said, "and then everyone in the United States who doesn't like the British will rise up and denounce them for failing to pay interest and imposing additional charges on the American people."

"I feel deeply that this loan is an instrument of ill will and not of good will."

Taft said he doubted that the loan would produce the expected freeing of world trade from cur-

Gov't Planning To Secure Butter Needs

Butter Outlook Dim This Fall And Winter As Government Plans To Buy 60 Million Pounds For The Armed Forces

Washington, April 24 (AP)—The government plans to re-enter the butter market about May 1 to buy 60,000 pounds to supply the armed services and military hospitals during the next 12 months.

To assure itself of this quantity, the government probably will require manufacturers to set aside a portion of their output during May and June.

Last summer it purchased 325,000,000 pounds under a set-aside order, but later turned 75,000,000 pounds back to civilian markets when supplies became very scarce.

Government buying for the year ahead will be concentrated in the May-June period when butter production normally reaches its peak for the year. By obtaining a year's needs in this period, the government thus eliminates itself as a competitor with civilians during low production periods.

But despite the government's plan to secure military needs during the flush production season, the outlook for civilian supplies of butter this fall and winter are not bright.

In the first place, total production is expected to fall below last year's level and below pre-war output.

In the second place, consumer demand is at record levels. Because of this, it is quite likely that the great bulk of the production of the heavy production season—May through July—will be consumed as rapidly as it is produced.

In normal times, the butter industry itself stores a part of the summer output for sale during the fall and winter season of low production. There is an incentive to do this, because prices usually are lowest during the peak production season and highest during the fall and winter.

Under the government's price control program, there is no financial inducement to store for the future. Price ceilings are the same the year around.

Rubber Industry Hopes To Surpass Tire Goal

Goal Of 66 Million Passenger Tires Expected To Be Beaten; Quick Deliveries For All Still Months Away

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Good news for motorists: The rubber industry bids fair to surpass its towering production goal of 66,000,000 new passenger tires this year.

Civilian production officials made this encouraging forecast today, saying the record output drive is being helped by new cotton yarn controls protecting the cord supplies.

The industry's goal is 13,000,000 tires more than the estimated 53,000,000 passenger casings produced in the previous banner year of 1941.

Despite the present bright outlook, however, CPA officials cautioned motorists that retail dealers probably will continue to run a week or two behind on tire deliveries through the summer, catching up with day-to-day demand only in the final quarter of the year.

As advice to intending vacationers, one CPA spokesman offered: "Put yourself on a dealer's list in plenty of time, expect delivery in 10 days to two weeks, have one of the old tires recapped for a spare."

Far in the forefront of reconversion, tire manufacturers so far this year have eclipsed 1941's peak production rate but are crowding the limit of their materials supply.

One major difficulty, the shortage of yarn for the cords which has plagued manufacturers in recent weeks, should be relieved by the emergency "freeze" of cotton yarn mill spindles on May 1, CPA rubber officials predicted.

The freeze will restore to essential production all spindles which were making the needed garment

Judge Commends Divorce Plaintiff

Pittsburgh, April 24 (AP)—Mrs. William Thompson, 27 year old beauty operator, asked a divorce today from her ex-GI husband, who fathered quadruplets by an English WAAF, and after a 10-minute hearing Judge Thomas M. Marshall said he would grant her uncontested plea "right away."

Mrs. Thompson testified that "the case's notoriety" had subjected her to "indignities." She said "curious people embarrassed her, that she was 'pointed out' on the street, spent 'many a sleepless night,' and lost 23 pounds.

She said she first received word of the case March 1, 1944, when a newsman telephoned from New York to say her husband, then an Army air forces sergeant, was the father of quadruplets in England.

Australian Proposal For Spanish Inquiry Wins U. S. Support

As Security Council Recesses After Voting Down Russia On Iranian Dispute; Growing List Of Delegates Back Move

New York, April 24 (AP)—Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., U. S. delegate to the United Nations Security Council, was reliably reported today to have indicated he would support the Australian proposal for a thorough investigation of Franco Spain.

Sources close to Stettinius said he might ask Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson to clarify the scope of the inquiry but that he was prepared to go along with the growing list of delegates who have lined up behind the proposal.

This word came as the council took a one-day recess after yesterday's stormy session in which Soviet Russia lost her battle to have the council drop the Iranian case and announced she would boycott any further discussion of the case.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, also was reported to have received instructions to back the Australian proposal. Mexico and Poland previously had indicated they would support the measure, and it was believed Russia and France were ready to go along.

The other delegates, while reluctant to commit themselves in advance, were expected to follow the lead of the big powers, which for once seemed to be in agreement.

It thus appeared that the Spanish question was finally headed toward a harmonious solution when the council meets at 3 p. m. EST tomorrow.

Some delegates predicted there might be a lengthy discussion—possibly delaying a vote for another day—but there was general agreement that approval of the proposal was assured.

Such action would avert a showdown on Poland's move for a

Police Hunt For Mussolini's Body

Rome, April 24 (AP)—Minister of the Interior Giuseppe Romita ordered police to block all highways from Milan today in an effort to frustrate any attempt to bring Benito Mussolini's exhumed body to Rome.

Police guarded the Palazzo Venezia, Mussolini's famed headquarters when he was the dictator of Italy.

Throughout the night police stopped every automobile approaching the palace.

Romita declared that "one man alone" knew the exact location of the unmarked grave in a Milan potter's field from which the former Duce's remains were stolen yesterday. He declined, however, to identify the man while the investigation is still under way.

Milan newspapers, meanwhile, reported that police had found near the open grave a note which was signed by the "Democratic Fascist party" and which said:

"Duce, finally you are with us. We repeatedly requested of the authorities that you be given a worthy tomb, but this always was denied us. Now you will have a grave worthy of your person and of all you accomplished, covered with roses and flowers."

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

The battle between the United States government and black market operators for 50,000,000 bushels of corn, gravely needed for relief in foreign famine areas, emphasizes the importance of this grain in the present world-shortage of foodstuffs—an importance recognized in America and a few other countries but not generally appreciated in Europe (outside the Balkans) and Asia.

It's a peculiar circumstance that literally hundreds of millions in Asia never even heard of this plian grain, and still other millions in Europe know it (if at all) as feed for pigs and chickens. If history repeats itself we shall have to conduct a culinary campaign in those countries to which corn is sent.

Back in the first World War when England was literally hungry because of the fierce German blockade, food administrator Herbert Hoover tried to persuade the Britons to use corn meal for food.

But would John Bull eat corn? He would not—said it was fit only for pigs and chickens. He preferred to go hungry.

Under normal circumstances it's probable that much of Europe would adopt a similar attitude, but not these days when the plague of starvation is sweeping across the continent. Give them the corn, tell them how to use it and we may be sure they'll bless the donors.

Of course the Balkans are great growers of corn. In the rich Danubian basin I've seen rolling fields of it so large that they reminded one of Iowa. Romania grows big quantities of corn, and so does Bulgaria.

In normal times the Balkans are able to export corn to other parts of Europe for animals and poultry. Statistics aren't available but it's hardly likely that there's even enough corn for local requirements now. War raised havoc with agriculture in the Balkans and there hasn't yet been time for rehabilitation. Also there has been a drought in that area.

This corn for hungry Europe and Asia must come mainly from the western hemisphere and from South America. So if Uncle Sam can keep that 50,000,000 bushels from the clutches of the black marketers he will have made a mighty contribution to the desperate needs of the hungry millions.

He was expected to proceed directly to Munich, where his wife and two children live in a bomb-damaged house.

Britain Launches Building Program London, April 24—(AP)—Britain today launched the social experiment of planning the building of entire towns of 50,000 population.

A "new towns bill" made public today would set aside $200,000,000 as a start toward building a still undetermined number of communities at an estimated cost of $76,000,000 each.

Government development corporations would be set up to handle the construction after which they would be turned over to local authorities for administration, rentals and payment of building costs.

The board of trade has said many industries are ready to go into the new towns. The ministry of town and country planning is blueprinting the towns, which are expected to be built around parks and to embrace community centers, nurseries, and modern medical and health centers.

THOUSANDS AT MUSIC MEET

Band Day Is Traditional Highlight Of Music Festival

The Greenville High School Band today received a rating of "1" and the orchestra was rated "2" in the State Music Festival now in progress in Greensboro. The GHS orchestra was given a "2" rating because of a shortage of pieces which compose it, rather than any deficiency in the quality of the musicianship display.

As a result of their participation on March 22 in the District Music Contest, where they received a "1" rating, the Greenville High School Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club, are attending the State Music Festival in Greensboro this week.

The Band and orchestra left Tuesday on buses chartered by the school. They will play today, and leave Greensboro tonight at 7:30, arriving in Greenville about 11:30 p. m.

Approximately fifty members of the Glee Club leave tomorrow and will stay until Friday evening, taking part in the contest Thursday and Friday.

The groups are under the direction of Mr. H. A. MacDougle and Miss Ona Shindler.

Greensboro, April 24—(AP)—All the aspects of a carnival were in evidence today at Woman's College as more than a thousand boys and girls in bright uniforms invaded the campus for the traditional Band Day, a highlight of the State High School Music Contest and Festival, which began its four-day session yesterday.

First of the band contests during the day was that of bands in Class B schools, who began performing at 8:30 a. m. Included in this group were Concord, Hanes and Gray of Winston-Salem, Salisbury, Elizabeth City, Belmont, Henderson, Shelby, Harding of Charlotte, Greenville, Marion, and New Bern. Class C contest followed with Mooresville and Lenoir playing for ratings, followed by the Class C bands of Sanford, Lumberton, and Lindley of Greensboro. Class A bands began playing for ratings at 1 p. m. and will continue tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Aycock Auditorium. Those registered for latter group are Centre of Charlotte, Lenoir, Gastonia, Reynolds of Winston-Salem, High Point and Greensboro. According to routine, each band is given a sight-reading test following their performance.

To determine ratings of the bands, which are classified by enrollment of schools, judges for the band contests are Arthur G. Harrel.

Included in this group were Concord, Hanes and Gray of Winston-Salem, Salisbury, Elizabeth City, Belmont, Henderson, Shelby, Harding of Charlotte, Greenville, Marion, and New Bern. Class C contest followed with Mooresville and Lenoir playing for ratings, followed by the Class C bands of Sanford, Lumberton, and Lindley of Greensboro. Class A bands began playing for ratings at 1 p. m. and will continue tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Aycock Auditorium. Those registered for latter group are Centre of Charlotte, Lenoir, Gastonia, Reynolds of Winston-Salem, High Point and Greensboro. According to routine, each band is given a sight-reading test following their performance.

To determine ratings of the bands, which are classified by enrollment of schools, judges for the band contests are Arthur G. Harrel.

Green Phantoms baseballers attempt to check a two game streak here Friday when they meet the Tarboro Tigers in Guyton Stadium at 3:30 o'clock.

Phantoms were much better Thursday's 16-6 loss to Kingsport. The main reason for the loss was the error of the first two batters.

Chapter 13

It was after three hours' good walking that the servants of Cedric, with their mysterious guide, arrived at a small opening in the forest.

Heard walked three men and one got a life on an error by Shortstop Pee Wee Reese.

The most exciting touch was provided by Rookie Catcher Ferrell Anderson who had hit his first big league homer in the sixth of the final run of the Brooks' 5-0 margin over Boston's Mort Cooper.

It was a sixth straight win for the Dodgers but they needed it to remain in a first place.

Yesterday's Stars: Ed Head, Dodgers—Hurled no-hit, no-run game against Boston for 5-0 victory.

Oscar Judd, Phillies—Avenge opening day loss with steady ninth effort to beat Giants, 8-1.

Stan Musial, Cardinals—Drove in first St. Louis run in fourth and batted in winning run with long fly in eighth for 3-2 shade over Cincinnati.

Gerry Priddy, Senators—Poled three-run homer in 11th inning as Washington scored six times for 8-2 verdict over Boston.

Bill Dietrich, White Sox—Fashioned 3-1 win over Detroit, allowing only five hits until forced from game with stomach ailment after seven innings.

Al Gettel, Yankees—Tamed Philadelphia for second straight time, 3-0.

Tomorrow's Schedule: National League—Boston at New York, Brooklyn at Philadelphia, St. Louis at Pittsburgh and Cincinnati at Chicago.

American League—Detroit at St. Louis, Chicago at Cleveland, Philadelphia at Washington and New York at Boston.

Yesterday's Results: National League—Brooklyn 5, Boston 0.

With his garment collected beneath him to keep his limbs from the wet pavement, Isaac sat in a corner of his dungeon without altering his position, for nearly three hours, at the expiry of which steps were heard on the dungeon stair.

Front-de-Boeuf, a tall and strong man, whose life had been spent in public war or in private feuds and broils, and who had hesitated at no means of extending his feudal power, had features corresponding to his character, and which strongly expressed the fiercer and more malignant passions of the mind.

The black slaves, who attended Front-de-Boeuf were stripped of their gorgeous apparel, and attired in jerkins and trousers of coarse linen, their sleeves being tucked up above the elbow, like those of butchers when about to exercise their function in the slaughter-house.

The Norman paused within three steps of the corner in which the unfortunate Jew had now, as it were, coiled himself up into the smallest possible space, and made a sign for one of the slaves to approach. The black satellite came forward accordingly, and producing from his basket a large pair of scales and several weights, he laid them at the feet of Front-de-Boeuf.

De Bracy, for it was he and the Templar who had captured the train, winded his horn three times, and the archers and crossbow men, who had manened the wall upon seeing their approach, hastened to lower the drawbridge, and admit them.

The Lady Rowena was next separated from her train, and conducted, with courtesy, indeed, but still without consulting her inclination, to a distant apartment. The same alarming distinction was conferred on Rebecca, in spite of her father's entreaties.

The poor Jew had been hastily thrust into a dungeon-vault of the castle, the floor of which was deep beneath the level of the ground, and very damp, being lower than even the moat itself.

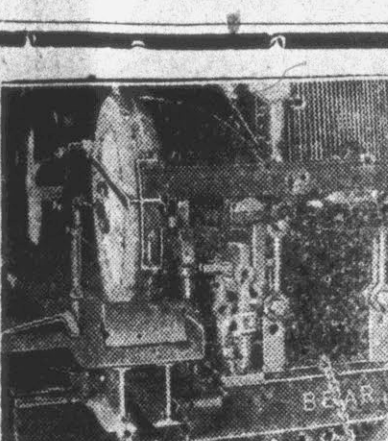

At one end of this ghastly apartment was a large fire-grate, over

Notice—Notice—Notice To All Electric Consumers

Your Utilities Commission was allotted a thirty-five (35) day supply of coal on April 1st, 1946, by the Solid Fuels Administrator, to operate the Water and Electric Plants, due to the shut-down of the coal mines by strike, and it is extremely uncertain when additional coal will be available.

This condition puts us in a position of possibly having to curtail the use of electric service for non-essential purposes, so we are requesting all consumers to voluntarily conserve electric energy in every way possible now, so as to spread the existing coal supply over as long period as possible.

We trust you will cooperate by using current only for essential needs. For example, one 100 watt lamp represents one and one-half pounds of coal in ten hours.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

IT CAN BE DONE

One of the most striking stories that came out of the meeting of the Security Council of the UN was the account of the casting of the first vote. The thirteenth who made the box left a note therein for the assembled diplomats to ponder. In the note he ventured to speak not only for himself but for silent millions who hope and pray for permanent peace. He left the first vote in the box, his vote for peace, and he invited world diplomats to join with him in making the vote unanimous.

One of today's most disconcerting realities is that with practically everyone wanting peace, humanity after each war has sunk back into further conflict. Today, ninety-nine per cent of all people in the world want peace. Even the diplomats who so often must play the ball game in the old way that scarcely has the order been given to cease firing before trouble starts all over again.

Certainly this matter of maintaining world peace must be more simple than we pretend to think it is. May it not be that we lapse into these mistakes because we assume to be difficult a matter which in essence is simple? Everybody wants peace. Peace means profit and war means loss. Peace means life and war means death. When it is as simple as that, how can we permit ourselves to be plunged into recurrent conflict?

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK CANNON

Washington—Standing on the threshold of President Truman's second year as chief executive and predicting his political future on the basis of his accomplishments and mistakes in the first year is anybody's guess of mental tickle-down.

In a year as President, he has become the man of the party—a leader when a leader was lost. Whole sectors of the Democratic party may disapprove of Truman's policies, may vote against his legislative program, but if the Democratic national convention were held today, the squabble would be over naming the vice presidential candidate, just as it was in the second, third and fourth nominations of President Roosevelt.

On the credit side of his political ledger, President Truman has demonstrated in his first year a terrific energy, an ability to stand up under tremendous responsibilities and fight them through. His personality is not dominating like that of his predecessor, but it is generally infectious. Become as angry with his acts or his views as you choose, it is almost impossible to dislike Harry Truman.

From the moment Truman took office, he showed a frankness that is almost unknown to Washington and politics. On occasion, this has gotten him into trouble and as the year progressed, he became more cautious. Now, he often drops back on the Presidential prerogative of "no comment." But it still is a rare thing when he indulges in the kind of meaningless double-talk so many politicians resort to when the going gets rough.

Although some of his appointments must go on the debit side, many of the major ones have met with considerable approval. Like Roosevelt, President Truman is likely to let his intense loyalty to his friends get him into political hot water, but loyalties beget loyalties, and no politician lasts long without loyal friends.

Also to his credit, and this will one day become a vital political factor, President Truman has stated his domestic platform in unequivocal words. In September last year, he set forth his 21-point program. He has added five more points. Each is a request for specific legislation.

Whether Congress acts or doesn't, President Truman has his platform ready for 1948 and many of those points have the same appeal to the mass of voters that President Roo-svet's programs had. Main point on the debit side has been President Truman's mishandling of Congress. The legislative branch has given him the brush-off and his half-fellow attitude towards his former cronies has left him without a weapon with which to strike back. Congress is likely to continue his political dilemma during the next two years.

The Nation . . .

wouldn't know about that.

But after awhile, although you don't seem to notice it, you keep saying the same old phrases over and over as if they had been handed down thru the years from the egg to the bird to the egg to the bird.

No kidding. The other day the Security Council set up a committee of men it called "experts" to tell the council whether the council should keep the Iranian problem on its calendar.

(Iran and Russia had asked that their problem be taken off the calendar and considered finished business.) The experts wrote a 1,200-word report in which they never once referred by name to Iran or Russia.

Here's the first part of that report and—in case the experts wonder how they might have written it in language we, the people, could understand—the simple English is in parentheses:

(The committee x x x sought to define its terms of reference (its job). It decided that by reason of the technical nature of its competence (its special job) it would study x x x whether the Security Council can remain seized of (keep on its calendar) a matter after the interested parties have requested its withdrawal.)

Of course, the reporters translated the report into understandable English but they're pretty busy, the reporters are, and you diplomatic chaps could have made it easier for everyone by writing simple English in the first place.

And while we're on the subject

dent Truman's plane, "The Sacred Cow."

Connally said they had had a good trip and added: "We've come over to fix this thing up and we hope we have clear sailing."

Both Byrnes and Vandenberg declined comment. Benjamin Cohen, state Department counsellor, was the only other passenger. They were met by Jefferson Caffery, U. S. ambassador to France, and other U. S. diplomatic officials, and by Pierre Schnetter, French Undersecretary of State, and G. Dumaine, French Chief of Protocol.

With relation to the Venezia-Giulia border dispute, reports circulated in Paris that the United States and Britain have taken a tentative stand to give about a third of the Itrian peninsula, together with the strategic port of Trieste, to Italy and the remainder to Yugoslavia.

The Russians thus far have held out for giving Trieste to Yugoslavia.

Grain Market
Chicago, April 24—(AP)—A highly erratic trade developed in May rye on the grain market today. The price fluctuated over a wide range, going up to a new all time high at one time and then losing much of its gain. The market was "thin" and a relatively few transactions were able to create large price swings.
At the close wheat, corn and barley were unchanged at ceilings. Oats were unchanged to ½ lower, July 83, and rye was ¼ lower to ½ higher. May $2.63-$2.64.

New York Cotton
New York, April 24—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 5 cents a bale lower to 10 cents higher.
Noon prices were 10 to 25 cents a bale lower. May 27.77, July 27.96, Oct. 28.01.
Futures closed unchanged to 20 cents a bale lower.

Crewmen Die In Transport Crash
Burbank, Calif., April 24—(AP)—A Western Air Lines transport, on a test flight without passengers, crashed with an engine fire into a house today, killing its three crewmen.
Occupants of the house, Matthew Brychter, his wife Mildred, and their three children, Ronnie, 5, Janet, 3, and Carol, 18 months, escaped injury. The residence, on busy Lankershim Boulevard, was severely damaged by flames.
The crash occurred four miles from Lockheed air terminal, transcontinental terminal for major airlines serving the Los Angeles metropolitan area.
Western Air listed the plane's occupants as:
Wayne Piederoff, pilot, Burbank.
Marvin Schwartzbach, co-pilot, Roscoe, Calif.
Leon Turgeon, mechanic, Hollywood.
Lockheed's controller said the plane crashed in a moderate fog after a flight of nearly two hours, during which it had been unreported for the last 45 minutes. The test followed an engine change in the transport.

NO SUBSTITUTE
San Antonio, Texas, April 24—(AP)—Daughters of Texas Trail Drivers have sought unsuccessfully to find horses to pull their covered wagon in San Antonio's fiesta-week parade Friday.

Crusade For World Federation Is Told In Reader's Digest For May

How Robert Lee Humber, attorney of Greenville, N. C., has carried his singlehanded crusade for the idea of world federation to the governors, legislatures and people of 40 states, is told by O. K. Armstrong in The Reader's Digest for May.

First trying his idea on a "grass-roots meeting" of 39 neighbors drawn from all walks of life, Humber was so encouraged by the response that he decided to make his crusade a movement of the people.
