Industrial Tie-Up Forced By Strike

Curtailment Of Railroad Service Ordered Because Of Coal Shortage; President Alarmed Over Possible Results; Wide-Spread Paralysis In Three Weeks Predicted

Washington, May 3—(AP)—Drastic curtailment of the nation's railroad service was ordered today as President Truman voiced open alarm at the acute situation created by the prolonged soft coal strike.

The rail curb order clamps a ban on virtually all freight shipments except fuel and food and directs a 25 percent cut in passenger service on coal-burning railroads.

Approximately three-quarters of the nation's passenger mileage relies on coal.

The curtailed services go into effect a week from today, and the Office of Defense Transportation warned that "much more severe measures will be necessary if the strike does not end."

The presidential alarm over the strike's effect was echoed in high administration quarters where predictions were made that the "whole industrial economy will be seriously crippled within 20 days" if the mines continue idle.

The strike entered its 33rd day today.

Nevertheless, settlement negotiations still gave no hint of any early break. On the contrary, Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the mine owners, reported that the past four days had been "completely" wasted.

Mr. Truman described the picture as a very serious situation when he expressed himself at the news conference yesterday. He said he viewed it with alarm, but he indicated the government is not yet ready to take any new steps in the dispute.

In time, he said, the shutdown of the soft coal mines by 400,000 miners might be considered a strike against the government. Should matters reach that stage, he added, the government will act accordingly.

Meanwhile, several government agencies were surveying the extent of the industrial slowdown forced by the strike. The forecast of widespread paralysis within three weeks came from an official interested in this survey but unwilling to be quoted until it is complete.

"Not only will production be down and unemployment up, but public utilities will be affected in many places and lots of plants will be firmly closed," he said. Another reversion official called this forecast "conservative."

The rail service curb order was issued last night by Col. Monroe Johnson, head of ODT. It limits freight shipments to necessities with priority for livestock, live poultry, perishable items, and these special classes of commodities.

FLARE-UP IN TRUMAN NEWS CONFERENCE

Multiplicity Of Problems Believed Cause Of Truman's Sharp Retorts

By ERNEST B. VACCARO Washington, May 3—(AP)—President Truman's sudden news conference flare-up set Washington buzzing today with more talk than did his delay in naming a new Chief Justice.

Yesterday's meeting with the press, in the crowded White House oval room office, ended with the usual, "Thank you, Mr. President," after the chief executive.

I. Sharply criticized one reporter for his line of questioning on the red hot army-navy merger issue.

ECTC President

It was officially announced here this afternoon that Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, a native of Calhoun County now at George Peabody College in Nashville, had accepted the presidency of East Carolina Teachers' College at Greenville.

Dr. Cooke will take over his duties as president of the institution on August 1.

Dr. Cooke took his B. A. and M. A. degrees at Duke University and his Ph. D. at George Peabody. He has been teaching in the education department of the Nashville institution 16 years, the last nine as head of the educational administration department.

Dr. Cooke is married and has two children. The presidency of ECTC has been vacant since the retirement of Dr. Leon R. Meadows nearly two years ago.

Security Council May Be Asked To Prevent Bloodshed In Middle East

New York, May 3—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council faced the prospect today that it might be called upon to prescribe measures to prevent bloodshed in the Middle East.

A spokesman for one council delegation, who declined to be identified, said there was a strong possibility that the explosive Palestine situation would be presented shortly as a problem before the council.

"The present situation in Palestine is certainly a threat to peace in the Middle East," he said, adding that it "therefore" definitely comes under the jurisdiction of the Security Council.

A spokesman for another council delegation raised a doubt, however, that the current situation could be shown to constitute a menace to international peace. He contended that unless a threat to peace is manifest the question could not properly come before the council.

It was considered possible that one of the Arab countries in the world would officially champion the Palestinian Arabs' protest against British-American inquiry committee.

Straw Hats!

Saturday, May 4, is Greenville's official Straw Hat Day.

On this day of days, our citizens lay aside their old felts and don a new symbol of care-free spring. Parading our streets will be seen brash hats with brilliant bands, wide-brimmed "Panamas" and others that defy description.

Comes the Spring are you one of those and carefree who enjoy themselves the simple joys and comforts of a new hat? Your "better-half" will be fascinated by your appearance in a new straw hat . . . so will everyone else.

As a dramatic illustration of the invigorating coolness afforded by the new 1946 styles of straw head gear, Greenville's business district will be garnished with blocks of ice in which are frozen—yes, you guessed it—a straw hat.

ALDERMEN IN BUSY SESSION

Transact Much Routine Business At Monthly Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH

The Board of Aldermen at a meeting at the City Hall last night passed an ordinance permitting large gasoline tank trucks to service filling stations in the city, provided necessary fire prevention precautions are taken.

The chief of the fire department told the board he was opposed to the big tankers distributing gasoline in the city. He said the big trucks, some of them carrying 5,000 gallons of gas, could cause a disastrous conflagration and the loss of lives.

He explained that gasoline makes a "flash fire" and is extremely dangerous. The ordinance will be published tomorrow. Mayor Jack Boyd presided over the meeting.

Authority was granted Milton White to extend Vance street from Fairfax to the river. The board turned down an application to operate a pool room upstairs. The law says all poolrooms must be on the ground floor and the interior visible from outside.

A delegation of Negro citizens asked for funds for recreation purposes. This petition will be considered when the budget is made up in July.

The board elected L. B. Garris, prominent businessman, a member of the Greenville Utilities Commission for five years, to succeed himself.

The aldermen went on record as requesting citizens to be economical with electricity if the coal situation does not improve.

Reports of various departments were read and approved. The mayor reported good progress on construction of a 42-inch surface drainage sewer in the western part of the city. He also reported improvements.

Holy War Threatening In Strife-Torn Middle East

Explosive Problem of Palestine Mounting Toward Crisis; "Ultimatum" Demands Abandonment Of Inquiry Committee's Recommendations With Threat Of Trouble

By ASSOCIATED PRESS London, May 3.—The explosive problem of Palestine mounted very swiftly toward a crisis today amid warnings from Arab leaders that the Holy Land might erupt in very bloody strife if recommendations of the British-American inquiry committee are adopted.

The powerful Arab higher committee in Jerusalem called a one-day general strike of Arabs for today to protest against the inquiry committee's report and handed the British high commissioner the next thing to an ultimatum, stating that Arabs would prepare all means to resume the national struggle unless the report is rejected.

The secretary general of the Arab League, Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, declared in Cairo that he had been informed that the "ultimatum" demanded abandonment of the inquiry committee's recommendations "or all Arabs in Palestine will begin their war immediately."

In response to a question as to whether the members of the league—Egypt, Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Transjordan and Yemen—would join the Arabs of Palestine in their struggle against the report, which includes a recommendation for immediate immigration of 100,000 homeless European Jews to Palestine, Azzam Pasha replied: "Naturally they will, but we have not reached the stage of fighting yet."

The report does not help build any understanding between Arabs and Jews," he continued. "I believe it is bad luck for Jews, Arabs, Americans and British that this report has not succeeded in any way to ease the situation or lead to an understanding."

"If we were left alone without any foreign interference, there would be no difference between Moslem, Jew, Zionist or Christian . . . But the result of this report is encouraging Zionist terrorism."

In London, meanwhile, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was reported officially to be making informal inquiries as to what aid Britain might expect from the U. S.

Investigation Under Way Of Chicago Fire

Chicago, May 3—(AP)—Two separate investigations were under way today seeking the cause of the disastrous fire early yesterday which destroyed 23 tenements valued at $500,000 at Arlington Park, but two racing officials said there was nothing to "indicate arson."

Only six of the Maine Chance Farm Stable, owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Graham of New York, were saved. Highest priced victim was Blue Fantasy, for which Mrs. Graham paid a season top-price of $46,000 at last year's Keeneland (Ky.) yearling sale.

Agents for Mrs. Graham said at Louisville, Ky., that all the destroyed horses were insured.

Tens Of Thousands Said To Be In Possession Of Small Arms; Arabic Fund In Existence To Finance Uprising; Only Small Incident Required To Start War

By CARTER DAVIDSON Jerusalem, May 3—(AP)—The bowstrings of Arab emotions in Palestine have become so taut since the British-American inquiry committee's report was published that a single "minute incident," such as a marked place insult, could set the Holy Land aflame with strife, responsible Arabs say.

The days of the late 30s, when poorly-armed but fighting-mad Arab hordes swept out of the hills to wage war on what they called Jewish invaders were being recalled—and replanned, one Arab intellectual said in an interview today.

"There's only a thin margin between present public opinion among Arabs and the feelings which resulted in the uprisings of 1936 and 1939," he asserted. "It will take only some minute incident to put the torch to a highly inflammable situation."

Another responsible leader said: "The British make a fatal mistake in describing (in the report) the hostility in Palestine as Arab-Jewish hostility. What really exists is a three-cornered hostility with the British—the British as a full partner."

Still a third Arab leader commented on the recent action of the Arab higher committee in forming a national fund by saying:

"This time the Arab will not be as poorly financed in his fight against suppression as he was in 1936 and 1939."

Referring to armaments, the same leader, close to the leadership of Arab majority politics, added:

"Tens of thousands of Arabs in little towns and villages now have possession of guns. They are the same guns which the Arabs of Syria kept close at hand when there were troubles in their land. Now that these troubles have been alleviated, rifles, revolvers and machine guns have made their way back across Palestine's northern border."

Arab street vendors, usually talkative, were sullen and uncommunicative, but a responsible Arab—a political party official and financier—predicted there would not likely be any spontaneous revolt.

London, May 3—(AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Cairo quoted Abdul Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary general of the Arab League, tonight as saying proposals are being made in Arab quarters to declare Palestine a battle zone and proclaim a holy war.

Hope Vanishing For Conference In Paris

Delegates Privately Express Fears That No Peace Treaties Will Be Agreed Upon In Current Session

Paris, May 3—(AP)—Ranking delegates to the four-power foreign ministers conference expressed the opinion today that, barring some spectacular and completely unforeseen development, there was little hope that any peace treaties would be agreed upon at this session.

The ministers of the United States, Britain, Russia and France were scheduled to meet with Yugoslav officials at Luxembourg Palace to discuss revision of the Italian-Yugoslav frontier. The Yugoslav delegation includes Edward Kardelj, deputy prime minister, and Stojce Simic, foreign minister.

Aldice de Gasperi, Italian premier, is expected to appear before the ministers later in the day. He arrived here last night by plane.

British, United States and French delegates said privately that it was still too early to predict flatly that the conference would break up in complete failure, but pointed out that after a week of meetings the ministers appeared to have made no progress whatsoever on controversial issues.

These sources also interpreted a request yesterday by James F. Byrnes, U. S. Secretary of State, for revision of the Italian and other armistices as an indication that hope was rapidly fading for an agreement on peace treaties in the near future.

Byrnes told the other ministers that America favored new armistices to stabilize Europe. In view of the fact that peace treaties even if drafted immediately, could not become effective for some time.

He asked specifically that the Italian armistice be softened, but further consideration of the matter was blocked by British objections. The best of these objections was also learned.

Soviets Planning Issue Of Bonds

London, May 3—(AP)—Soviet Russia today called on her people to subscribe to a 20,000,000,000 ruble (nominally $3,774,000,000) loan "for reconstruction and development of the U.S.S.R.'s national economy," the Moscow radio said.

Russian Finance Minister ARSEVY G. Zverev appealed to the people to buy 20-year tax-free bonds to provide money to "heal the wounds of war and speedily restore the Soviet economy."

The radio said the council of ministers had decreed that the money would be used for "fulfillment of the five-year plan" and the "further strengthening of the military and economic might of the country."

Housewife Thinks Of Home During Mishap

Pomona, Calif., May 3—(AP)—Mrs. Fern Gonzales, 25, came out with only minor injuries after an automobile in which she was riding was struck by a train and 20 railway cars passed over her.

After being thrown onto the tracks she lay face down until the train passed, police reported. Another occupant of the automobile, Jesus R. Gonzales, 57, Mrs. Gonzales' father-in-law, was seriously injured.

After Mrs. Gonzales was helped to her feet by trainmen she remarked:

"Please call my family in Ontario and tell them I left the gas stove burning!"

Bloody Fight Continues In Battle Of Alcatraz

Combat Marines Assist Prison Guards In Assault On Cornered Convicts; Hostages Are Rescued From Desperate Prisoners

San Francisco, May 3—(AP)—Reinforced combat Marine forces have launched a new assault on embattled Alcatraz Island Prison this morning in the second day of convict rioting that caused the death of two guards and injury to 13 others.

The Marines landed 83 men on the island, sending in 20 more today to assist beleaguered guards, and a shipment of grenades and "shape charges" as well. The charges, a war device, can demolish concrete structures.

Efforts were begun early in the day by Marines to chop a hole through the roof of the cell block where the convicts, armed from the "Rocks" arsenal and led by six ringleaders, were cornered after a night of bitter fighting in the grim island prison in San Francisco Bay.

In the absence of official word there was a suggestion the charges would be placed on the roof under which desperate convicts were pitted down in narrow quarters by a hail of gunfire from the guards.

A munitions truck from nearby Benicia Arsenal was given a police highway patrol escort to the bay water front. In addition to the "shape charges" it carried bazooka shells and fragmentation and carbine grenades.

Warden J. A. Johnston named the six ringleaders who, he said had seized arms and shot several officers the convicts had held for more than seven hours as hostages.

Ten hostages were rescued, all but one of them injured, three critically. Guard Harold P. Stiles was killed. The coroner's office reported he was machine-gunned apparently from close range.

The list of injured on the embattled island reached 14, and as the gunfire continued into the second day there was a possibility of more in Washington. Director James (Continued on Page Four)

TODAY IN CONGRESS

A Review Of Your Government In Action

Washington, May 3—(AP)—The administration, plugging hard at pushing the British loan bill through the Senate, gambled today that Congress can agree on draft extension in a single week.

An administration aide disclosed that the deadline for voting on the $3,500,000,000 credit arrangement—or laying it aside—has been moved up to next Wednesday. Tuesday previously had been the latest date discussed.

The Selective Service law expires May 15—one week from Wednesday—unless Congress acts.

The riddled extension bill which the House passed, including a five-month draft "holiday," differs widely from the version cleared to the Senate by its military committee. Hence one week is a very brief time in which to conduct Senate debate, pass the bill, adjust differences with the House and send the compromise measure to the President for approval.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky) made a futile attempt yesterday to get unanimous agreement to limit further loan bill debate to two hours for each senator. Active Republican Leader Knowland of California objected, and the talk ran on until

The NATION TODAY

Washington, May 3—(AP)—The State Department, next to OPA, is the most widely criticized and praised of all government agencies.

The Department handles our foreign affairs but, stiff and sedate from long-time silk hat diplomacy, it has resisted change more than any other agency.

It still has a good supply of stuffed shirts and some longwinded gentlemen. But it is undergoing change at last, and has been for several years.

Secretary of State Byrnes is trying to speed the change, which isn't easy. And there's a good explanation for why it isn't easy:

For years working in the State Department has been like entering upon a special way of life.

One did this and so but when one did it, he did it this way and not that way. There was a way of doing things, and they were done that way.

Call it redtape, call it stuffiness, call it anything you wish. But it was like that, and much of it still

Entertain at Supper Party
Grifton, May 3—Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Williams were at home on Tuesday night at their home here at a delightful supper session of their contract club.

The home throughout was beautifully decorated with bows of roses and sweet peas. In the dining room where supper was served the main table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a crystal bowl of pink sweetpeas and flanked by candelabras in crystal holders.

After supper bridge was played at three tables, scoring high during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hodges and Mrs. H. C. Oglesby. Other players were Mr. Oglesby, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Newborn, Mrs. Ivan Bissette and Mrs. Robert Rastbery.

Joint Hostesses at Tea
Grifton, May 3—On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Clay Burney and Mrs. Robert Newborn were at home at a delightful informal seated tea for members of the school faculty and members of the school board and their wives. The Burney home where the guests were received was decorated for the occasion with masses of roses and mixed spring flowers. In the dining room punch and dainty sandwiches, salted nuts and cookies were served by Mrs. H. C. Oglesby. The table was appointed with a lace cloth with arrangement of pink roses and southern amilax. Mrs. Burney greeted the guests on arrival and Mrs. Newborn directed them to the refreshment table. Around 20 guests were entertained.

Bridge Tournament and Auction
The Woman's Club was the scene of a gala affair on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. when the club celebrated its twenty-ninth birthday.

Amid a setting of spring flowers arranged by the Garden Club thirty-seven tables of bridge and set-back were played. During the games the hostesses served refreshments.

At the conclusion of the tournament Mrs. Arthur Corey awarded prizes as follows: for women's high score a lovely orchid went to Mrs. Leslie Briler, second, Mrs. H. C. Oglesby, set was won by Mrs. R. H. Newborn, a fruit knife, went to Mrs. H. C. Oglesby, for men's high score, a fountain pen, went to Mr. W. L. Whedbee, for women's low score, a watch, went to Mrs. W. L. Presbyterian Announcements
May 5 to 12 is "Family Week in America." This week will be observed by the churches as ministers preach on some phase of the family and the home life. Whole families are urged to attend church and sit together. Parents are urged to have "at home nights" this week with the whole family and try to make the home life attractive and interesting to the whole family.

At the 11 a. m. service Sunday Mr. Boyd will speak on the subject, "What Makes a Happy Home." Text is taken from II Kings 20:15. "What have they seen in thy house?" What we have in our homes tells the kind of a home we have.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock Twin Oaks Sunday school will meet. Efforts are being made to keep up or even increase the good attendance there. During the month of April the school had an average of 61% in attendance. The offerings each second and fourth Sundays, when there is a preaching service, are set aside for the retirement of the debt on the building, which at present is only $540 and a payment of about $140 is expected to be made June 2nd, the interest payment date.

Christian Church Announcements

GREENIES WIN OVER TARBORO

Locals Take Opening Season Game In 5-4 Score Over Tars

By BERT MOYE
Earl Smith's two bagger into deep centerfield scoring Bernie Meyer ahead of him in the eighth frame, provided the winning run for Manager Payne's boys last night in the season's opener as the Greenies defeated the Tarboro Tars 5-4, before a crowd of more than a thousand fans.

Greenville's runs were made in four of their eight innings at bat. They scored one run in the second frame when Ray Carlson doubled and Manager Payne brought him home with another double. Two runs were scored in the sixth frame when Charlie Futrell walked, went to second on a passed ball by Sorgi and scored on a ball hit by Mayer to Kardash, who let the ball get away from him. Mayer was sacrificed to second by Earl Smith, and came home on error by Rowe on a ball hit by Verne Blackwell. They put across another run in the seventh when Tommy Lee walked and scored on Milton Narron's double. Tarboro's first run came in the sixth frame when Evans doubled, went to third on an infield out and scored on Rowe's single to left field.

The Tars rallied for three runs in their half of the ninth frame off two walks, a double and single. Johnny Foell went the entire route for the Greenies pitching four hit balls. However, he was wild at times and walked 13 men, but struck out 10 of the Tars and really bared down in the pinches. An even dozen Tars were left stranded on the bases.

The Tars used two hurlers, with Carl Mays pitching the first seven innings, allowing five hits, struck out eight Greenies and walked two. He was relieved by Tony Polink in the eighth who allowed two hits and one run.

Greenville's seven hits were divided among as many players, with four of the hits being for extra bases. Ralph Evans, Tarboro's left-fielder, got two of the Tars' four hits, smacking out two doubles.

Among the firsts in the season's opener, Charlie Futrell, local boy made the first hit of the game, Earl Smith was the first man to strike out, Payne knocked in the first run of the season, Ray Carlson hit the first double of the season, Vern Blackwell hit the first triple of the season, and Earl Smith made the first sacrifice hit of the season.

Strength FOR THE DAY
 BY EARL L. DOUGLAS

IS COMMUNISM THE ANSWER?
 A puny child was brought into a London hospital for treatment. Upon his arrival, the nurse offered him a glass of milk. The youngster was about to drink when he looked up at the nurse and said, "How deep may I drink, Miss?"

Behind this question stretches a panorama of wretchedness. In the home from which the child came, a glass of milk meant a few sips for this child and the rest of the glass shared with brothers and sisters.

All over the world people have to ask the question, "How deep may I drink?" This is not because there is not enough to go around, but because the human race with all its boastful wisdom cannot arrange an adequate distribution of life's benefits. In every country of the world there are people who have so much that they groan in surfeit. Alongside them live multitudes who have scarcely enough to hold body and soul together. This situation constitutes the basis from which Communism and other subversive systems start their march against the present social set-up.

But Communism is not the answer. People are prevented from drinking deeply from the benefits of life not because of false economic systems but because false men and women all over the world keep others from their rightful share of life's benefits. The answer to the problem is to be found not in the writings of Karl Marx but on the pages of the New Testament.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
 BY JACK STERNETT

Washington—The Army's own investigation of the so-called "military caste" system might well be the source of some of the greatest changes in officer-enlisted man relationship in 100-odd years.

The very high-hush hearings already are under way. It probably will be mid-May or later before a report is made public.

Secretary of War Patterson's appointment of the investigating board was quite a surprise. Even more surprising was its membership. Headed by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, all six of the members are reservists. Not one West Point man in the carload.

However, there already are complaints. One is that the board is officer-packed. This is a little ridiculous. All six were at one time enlisted men. Two of the members were discharged as sergeants. They are former T-Sgt. Jake Lindsay, who won the congressional medal of honor in the infantry and now works for the Veterans Administration at Lexington, Mass.; and former Sgt. Merrill Prost, of Hanover, N. H., who was a bombardier in the Air Force and was badly wounded in Italy. He is now a vice president of the Air Forces Association.

The other four are former officers, but they all came up the traditional hard way—through the ranks. Other than Gen. Doolittle, they are: former paratroop Capt. Arna H. Underhill, Greenville, N. Y., now employed by the N. Y. State Conservation Department; Lieut. Col. Robert Neville, formerly with Stars and Stripes in the Mediterranean theater; and one of the chief critics of the caste system; and former Lt. Gen. Troy H. Middleton, hero of the North African and Sicilian campaigns and now commander general of Louisiana State University.

Arguing that he wanted no possible charge of regular army influence leveled against the board, Gen. Doolittle insisted that the hearings be held at some other place than the Pentagon building.

All of the hearings are "executive" which means that the press is barred. Gen. Doolittle's contention is that better results will be obtained from informal discussions, without putting witnesses on the spot through fear that their testimony will make tomorrow's headlines.

The committee doesn't plan to concentrate on adverse criticism of the military caste system. Some persons who approve of the present officer-enlisted man relationship will

During the revolution Gen. George Washington called on Baron Von Steuben to give some semblance of organization to the hodge-podge Continental Army. There has been little change since then of that Prussian general's concept of relationship between officers and enlisted men.

In 1939 the Department's work was scattered between the main building and four others. Now it's scattered among 42.

Businessmen and army officers with experience in organization or management have been brought into the Department to bring it abreast of the times.

They say their No. 1 reorganization problem is finding new quarters in fewer than the present 42 buildings.

The Department is pretty well filled with ordinary help like typists and clerks, but it constantly is seeking specialized people like economists or management planners.

Trained people are not too easy to find. Government salaries are not large. The average salary in the Department in this country is $3,100 a year. Many make more, of course, but many make less.

Now the Senoussi are back and, whatever anybody else may want, they are looking for their independence.

Freight traffic originating on and destined for points on a railroad not using coal burning locomotives will be allowed, regardless of the character of the shipments.

On the passenger service reduction, the order left it to the individual railroads affected to work out the 25 percent cut.

As strike settlement negotiations continued here, O'Neill, speaking for the operators, told newsmen that meetings thus far this week had been wasted because nothing had been discussed but the question of overtime pay arising from four major holidays in the last six months.

The operators asserted that John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers, was demanding that this overtime pay issue be settled before talking about a new contract that would end the strike. Lewis absented himself from yesterday's session.

 2. Told another, but with a smile, it was none of his business what happened at a secret cabinet session Wednesday.

These developments came shortly after Mr. Truman opened his week-long conference by saying he had no announcements to make.

Many had come expecting to learn the name of a successor to the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone both as head of the Supreme Court and as one of the nine members. Last Sunday White House re-about.

 The newsmen explained that notices of cabinet meetings usually are posted.
 To a question as to what was discussed at the meeting, the President's chief reporter it was none of his business, that he could hold a cabinet meeting whenever he chose.

Discussing the conference later, most reporters attributed Mr. Truman's abrupt departure from his usual relations with them to the multiplicity of problems confronting him at this time.

These include the coal crisis, which the chief executive himself termed very alarming; his difficulties in finding men willing to take top government jobs; his lagging legislative program and the mounting list of international issues.

 in administering the troublesome mandate in Palestine.

Reports from Washington have pictured the U. S. as unwilling to undertake any direct intervention in Palestine, but rather as counting on the United Nations to assume responsibility.

A spokesman for one delegation to the U. N. Security Council in New York declared that the present situation in Palestine definitely is a threat to peace in the Middle East, and as such might easily erupt before the conflict.

Other council sources expressed doubt, however, that any threat to international peace was manifest.

The latest report from the rugged island prison in San Francisco Bay indicated the situation is still precarious, although the convicts had been pinned down to a series of cells within the concrete building, which had been their fortress in the bitter warfare.

Johnston said the convicts who took hostages in their plot to make

Sports

It looked today as if the National League will southpaw the favored St. Louis Cardinals to death in an attempt to keep the Red Birds from wresting the pennants from the Chicago Cubs.

Inability to maintain their 617 seasonal pace against portlanders cost the Cards the flag last year and it may be the same story this year. In 33 decisions against unorthodox flingers in 1945, St. Louis managed to win 17, just one more game than it lost.

In 14 games this season, opposing managers have thrown eight left-handers against Eddie Dyer's sluggers and have been rewarded with four victories. Altogether the Cards have dropped five games, only one to a righthander.

The latest lefty to haunt the Cards was Dave Koslo, who handcuffed them with four hits yesterday and whipped them 5-1, to knock St. Louis out of a first place tie with Brooklyn.

The giants not only handed the Cards their third straight defeat, but had the satisfaction of knocking off an old nemesis when they drove pitcher Harry Brecheen off the hill with a four-run uprising in the ninth inning which snapped a 1-1 deadlock. Prior to yesterday's contest, Brecheen had beaten the Giants six times without a setback since he entered the league in 1943.

The Dodgers came from behind to shackle the Cubs, 3-2, when Billy Herman, a former Bruin, hit a pinch single in the eighth inning to bat across Pete Reiser and Dixie Walker with the tying and winning runs. Reiser and Walker had opened the fatal round with consecutive singles. Art Herring, 39-year-old relief artist, replaced starter Kirby Higbe for the Dodgers in the fifth frame and held the Cubs scoreless the rest of the way to earn his first decision.

Boston's favorite pin-up boy, Teddy Williams, slugged a 10th inning home run to give the American League leading Red Sox a 5-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers and a clean sweep of the three game series. Tex Hughson, seeking his fourth mound triumph and the Red Sox' seventh in a row, appeared to have the game well in hand as his mates provided him with an early 4-0 lead, largely due to catcher Hal Wagner's three-run homer. The Boston ace however blew the lid in the eighth and Lefty Clem Dreisewerd had to come to his rescue. Dreisewerd was credited with the win.

Banged around for two straight days by the Philadelphia Athletics, the St. Louis Browns finally came to life with a 16-hit barrage against a trio of Mackmen hurlers to defeat their tormentors, 10-3. Walt Juhnich, with four safeties including a two-bagger, led the St. Louis assault. The victory moved the Browns into the first division, replacing Cleveland.

Lefty Fritz Ostermueller pitched a steady game against the Philadelphia Phillies while his Pittsburgh Pirate mates took advantage of a big five-run frame to topple the Phils, 8-3. It was the Phils' 10th loss in 13 games.

The scheduled Boston Braves-Cincinnati Reds contest was rained

College Planning Special Program

Homecoming Day at East Carolina Teachers College for alumni who have served or who are now in service in the armed forces will be on the campus tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Plans made by a committee to arrange a program of entertainment are complete, and the college staff and the students are ready to receive guests when they begin arriving. Members of the Committee on Arrangements are Dr. A. D. Frank, chairman; Dr. Charles W. Reynolds and Dr. Hubert Haynes of the faculty, and Earl Smith and Ola H. Forrest of Greenville and Jerome Donaldson, members of the College Veterans Club.

Following is the program:

10 a. m.—Registration of veterans in the Wright Building.

10:30—Vocal selections by Women's Chorus; welcome by acting President Howard J. McConis; selections by the college band.

1 p. m.—Barbecue on back campus.

2:30—Baseball game: ECTC vs. Norfolk Division of William and Mary, on the college athletic field.

A May Day program on the front campus will follow the ball game.

4:30—Dance in the Wright building, music by Roy Cole and his orchestra.

Betty Joan Walston Dies In Hospital

Betty Joan Walston, 8, of Farmville, died yesterday in Duke hospital as a result of severe burns received last Christmas Eve.

Funeral services will be held from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Walston, of near Farmville, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The services will be conducted by the Rev. James Evans, superintendent of the Free Will Baptist orphanage in Middlesex. He will be assisted by the Rev. M. L. Johnson, Free Will Baptist Minister of Lucama. Burial will follow in the Forest Hill cemetery in Farmville.

Besides her parents, Betty Joan is survived by one brother, Charles.

The deceased was a patient in Pitt General hospital for four months, and during that time endeavored herself to the staff of the hospital and many of the people who frequented the hospital during her extended stay there.

N. C. Coal Supply Is Running Low

Charlotte, May 3—(AP)—J. Arthur Eagle, president of the North Carolina Coal Dealers Association, said today coal supplies for business and industry and essential public institutions of the state could last but a few days more.

"The apparently unavoidable suspension, because of lack of coal, will terribly upset business and industry all over the state but there is nothing we coal dealers can do about this," he said in an interview.

emergency, the Charlotte office of the Solid Fuels Administration (SFA), which was closed several weeks ago, was reopened. M. L. Burless, director, temporarily gave up a civilian connection to resume charge of the agency.

The Duke Power Company, which supplies power for many industries in both Carolinas, reported it was not worried over the immediate future.

Much of its energy comes from waterpower and its lakes are well filled. Its reserve stock of coal, officials said, is being carefully nursed but is slowly decreasing.

Three Craven County Men Sued By Trustee

Goldboro, May 3—(AP)—Three Craven County men were named defendants in suits asking judgments totaling $32,242.80 filed in Wayne Superior Court yesterday by J. T. Flythe of Mount Olive, trustee of the estate of Roderick Davenport, bankrupt.

The three were first of the 50 odd suits Flythe has announced will be brought in Wayne County against persons alleged to have received usury from Davenport in his loan business in several eastern Carolina towns, or who are alleged to have made withdrawals within four months of bankruptcy petition.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against Davenport November 28, 1944 in the U. S. District Court of the eastern district New Bern division, and is now pending.

Suits filed were against Theodore Baxter for $1,342.80, against S. A. Wilson for $10,800 and against J. A. Wilson for $20,300.

Boston is nearer to both European and South American ports than any other U. S. shipping center.

Mrs. J. T. Lewis Of Farmville Is Dead

Mrs. Nannie Y. Lewis, 68, widow of the late John Thomas Lewis, died at her home near Farmville early Thursday evening after several years of declining health, and one month of serious illness.

Funeral services will be held from the home on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock; and will be conducted by Elder J. B. Roberts, Primitive Baptist Minister of Greenville, assisted by Rev. E. S. Coates, Presbyterian Minister of Farmville.

The deceased was a member of the Memorial Primitive Baptist Church of Fremont, N. C. Burial will be in the Forrest Hill Cemetery in Farmville.

Mrs. Lewis is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Ellen Lewis Carroll, of Falkland, Miss Nancy William Lewis, of Farmville, Mrs. Leonard O. Crawford, Hot Springs Ark.; two sons, James T. Lewis, Jr., of Washington, D. C., and B. F. (Jack) Lewis of Farmville; three foster children, Jack and Billy Yelverton of Farmville and Mary Ellen Yelverton of Norfolk; one sister, Mrs. Gertie Y. Lewis of Farmville, and four brothers, J. B. Yelverton, of Fremont, T. J. Yelverton, of Princeton, N. C., R. L. Yelverton of Goldsboro, and G. I. Yelverton, of Selma.

of a steel fence, the cost of which was procured from sale of advertising signs on the fence. The mayor was authorized to replace broken window glass at the baseball park and swimming pool.

Heber Tripp asked the city to install some tile drainage on a street near the river. It was approved. It was stated that a new fire hydrant will be installed near the Negro theater on Albemarle avenue as soon as possible.

The board authorized the Parks and Playgrounds Committee to hire necessary personnel and open the municipal swimming pool whenever they deem it advisable.

A zoning ordinance was passed for a certain part of western Dickinson Avenue. It will be published tomorrow.

The fire department was authorized to purchase two oxygen masks for the safety of firemen.

American officials said the United States was determined not to budge from her position on this and other controversial matters.

Some sources said that the only chance for the conference to succeed would be for V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, to make a number of unexpected concessions. The Moscow radio, however, indicated that Russia did not endorse Byrnes' most far-reaching proposal—a four-power mutual assistance pact to prevent Germany from rearming for at least 25 years.

would chop down funds for the Commerce Department's Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and for additional assistants to Secretary Wallace.

The department's money is included in a measure financing the State, Commerce and Justice departments and the Federal Judiciary for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The allotments are $104,834,008 for State, $143,824,000 for Commerce, $95,168,250 for Justice, and $15,850,100 for the Judiciary.

The net result of efforts yesterday to whittle down the State Department's funds was an increase of $2,000 in the total. The extra money was voted for the Interna-
