Senator Ready
For Labor Bill

Consequences of Coal Strike Arouse Lawmakers; Congressmen Feverishly Working Overtime To Wind Up British Loan Measure to Begin On New Labor Disputes Law

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
Washington, May 10 — (AP) — The Senate, tense over mushrooming consequences of the coal strike, got set today to drop everything else by mid-afternoon and begin writing a new labor disputes law.

For its framework, members hauled out of the unfinished business calendar their labor committee's toned-down version of the case strike control bill passed weeks ago by the House.

But that mild measure obviously was going to be only the beginning, for a dozen amendments—most with heavy backing—were headed for the floor.

To clear the way for the labor bill, the hard-pressed Senate passed a six weeks' draft extension resolution in a matter of minutes yesterday, then worked until nearly midnight in a futile effort to dispose of the long debated $3,750,000,000 British loan.

While a vote on final passage failed to come, the Chamber did agree to ballot at 3 p. m. (EST) on the loan proposal and then turn immediately to the subject of strike control.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky.) reluctantly acceded to the slam-bang procedure. It was evident by mid-afternoon that the members were in no mood to be denied a hand at efforts to bring the coal strike to an end and to prevent further work stoppages from interfering with the public welfare and convenience.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), himself a sponsor of one far-reaching amendment, took note of the Senate's attitude when he told reporters:

"As the result of the obstinacy of John L. Lewis—the greatest recalcitrant of them all—labor stands to lose all it has gained in the past 12 or 14 years.

"I hope that doesn't happen, but the Senate is in a mood, in view of the mounting tie-up of the national economy, to vote any kind of labor legislation."

Lucas contended his own plan would not seriously affect the basic rights of labor.

Under his proposal, the President upon determining that a work stoppage was seriously impairing the public interest would so proclaim and call upon the parties to the dispute to resume work. If they did not do so, the President could seize the property and operate it, under the terms and conditions which prevailed before the stoppage.

Officers of the affected labor organization would have a statutory duty to seek to induce the men to return to work. Those who did not go back to work would lose their jobs and their rights under the Wagner Labor Relations Act. Anyone who tried to persuade or coerce another from returning to work would be subject to a year's imprisonment and a $5,000 fine.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told the Senate the labor debate which frequently interrupted consideration of the loan bill he objected to suggestions that Congress "has been delinquent" in the coal strike.

"It's up to the President," Taft said, adding that the chief executive now has "great powers" under the Smith-Connally Act but has "chosen not to exercise them."

It was primarily because the Smith-Connally Act is an amendment to the draft law that the Senate rushed its stop-gap extension of Selective Service through the Chamber in less than five minutes.

HUMBER HOLDS
HIS AUDIENCE
SPELLBOUND

Bonner's Hometown Voters Overflow Court House to Hear Speaker

Robert Lee Humber, Pitt County candidate for Congress in the first congressional district, last night invaded the stronghold of his rival in the forthcoming Democratic primary. For one and one-half hours from the moment he started until he spoke the last work of his masterful address, the attention of the citizens of Washington and Beaufort County was focused on the tall straight figure on the speakers' platform.

The Honorable Hallet Ward, ex-Congressman, introduced Mr. Humber, by saying the people of Beaufort County were right in coming to hear the distinguished speaker; and that he was glad of their display of open-minded interest, they would not regret having come.

The court house was overcrowded. Every seat was filled, and there was standing room only. Many were turned away, who could not find a place to stand or sit.

In his speech, Humber told the audience that the State of North Carolina was well-balanced in industry and farming; however, the eastern section was mainly agricultural. He then stressed the importance of improving the lot of the farmers, if nominated and elected. He then stressed the importance of high in education, and the imperativeness for the proper legislation to be enacted to compensate the teachers, on a parity with other professions.

"It is time," said Mr. Humber, "to make a change, and put some fresh ideas before Congress." He further developed this theme, and promised that he would seek legislation to control labor, and the other matters that are causing the crises of today; and that it was necessary to do this before the time of crisis, and foresight would be needed. Truck Driver Is Killed In Wreck

James Richard Powers, 30, of Route 1, Carey, driver of a Raleigh News Agency panel truck, was instantly killed, and Herbert Lee Harris, 30, Negro, driver of a Swift and Company truck, was seriously injured, when the two trucks collided on U. S. Highway 258, between Farmville and Fountain about 12:30 today.

Powers' body was taken to the Duke-Garner Funeral Home in Farmville. Harris was taken to Pitt General Hospital in Greenville. State Highway Patrolman C. L. Teague said Powers apparently lost control of his truck, ran onto the right shoulder of the highway, then came back onto the road and collided with the oncoming truck. His body was wedged in the wreckage. Some time was required to extricate it. Powers was going toward Farmville; Harris toward Fountain. Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said an inquest will be held later. Patrolmen Cpl. John Laws, R. H. Chadwick and Teague are investigating the wreck.

This was the second highway fatality in Pitt County this year. Teague said. A Negro child was killed on a highway near Farmville last January.

House Reverses Itself
In Voting For Subsidies

Surprise About-Face Booms Administration Hopes For OPA; Lawmakers Views Said Changed By Holiday Visit Home

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, May 10.—(AP)—Administration hopes for the OPA soared today after the House reversed itself to vote $400,000,000 in subsidies for President Truman's emergency home building program.

The tally was 187 to 153. Last month, the chamber turned down the premium payments, 161 to 92. Democratic leaders attributed the change to the 10-day Easter recess, which gave many members their first chance in months to find out at home how their constituents are thinking.

Speaking privately for the most part, these leaders voiced confidence the House also would about-face on price control extension that the House last month hammered down to a point where OPA Administrator Paul Porter said the agency would be without power after June 30.

Analyzing yesterday's vote, Rep.

Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic whip, said:

"Congress speaks for the people and the people made their wishes known in this matter of housing. I think the housing vote indicates what we may expect with reference to OPA when it comes back to the House. I think the same thing can be said about selective service."

The House mutilated three successive bills. Since it did this many members have heard from their people.

The thumping administration victory on the housing bill broke a month-long deadlock over the legislation which Mr. Truman hopes will permit private enterprise to build an unprecedented 2,700,000 homes—costing about $16,000,000—in two years.

Housing Expediter Wilson D. Wyatt said of the vote: "This throws the veterans housing program into high gear."

ITALIAN KING
NOW AN EXILE

Cabinet Considers Abdication; Leftists May Oppose Successor

Rome, May 10.—(AP)—The Italian cabinet was summoned today to consider the abdication of King Vittorio Emanuele III as Crown Prince Umberto prepared to ascend the throne of Italy in the face of possible leftist objections.

It appeared likely that Communist and Socialist ministers might challenge Umberto's right to succeed his father, now sailing toward Cairo and voluntary exile, at a cabinet session.

Pietro Nenni, Socialist and vice president of the constituent assembly, and Palmiro Togliatti, Communist and Minister of Justice, argued that only the constitutional convention to be elected in the June plebiscite on the monarchy has the right to select a new king, although Togliatti said a "constitutional fiction" would permit Umberto to call himself King Umberto II.

A Socialist party manifesto termed the abdication "a diversion to derange orderly preparation of the referendum" June 2. A Republican party leader, Rinaldo Ossola, said in an interview that the abdication would have no effect on what he called the nation's swing toward a republic.

Premier Alcide De Gasperi, to whom Vittorio's 17-word abdication document was being forwarded from Naples, commented only that he was confident the monarchy would abide by the decisions of the plebiscite and the subsequent constitutional convention.

The 42-year-old Crown Prince, who also is lieutenant governor of the realm, returned to Rome from Naples, where his father formally renounced the throne yesterday after 46 years as Italy's monarch.

The 17-word abdication document, written in the 76-year-old king's own steady hand, added Vittorio Emanuele to the long list of unemployed European monarchs. He and his tall consort, Queen Elena, sailed toward voluntary exile in Egypt aboard the cruiser Duke of Abruzzi.

TODAY IN CONGRESS

A Review Of Your Government In Action

Washington, May 10.—(AP)—The House today deferred action until Monday on a stop-gap resolution to extend the draft law until July 1.

The measure, adopted hurriedly by the Senate yesterday after Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ga.) said the President's power to seize the struck coal mines would expire on May 15 unless the law is extended, had been approved earlier by the House Military Committee.

Its adoption was asked under procedure by which one member could postpone consideration. Rep. Sheridan (D-Pa.) objected to adoption today, but did not object to setting it for Monday.

The Senate scheduled a final vote during the afternoon on the $3,750,000,000 British loan bill.

Next on the Senate calendar is strike control legislation.

Rear Admiral Austin K. Doyle, navy deputy inspector general, testified to the Senate War Investigating Committee that a navy-supervised gambling hall was operating in a recreation hall in the civilian housing area adjacent to the navy yard during 1943 and 1944.

RATE CHANGE IS APPROVED
BY TRIBUNAL

Federal Court Dismisses Petition To Set Aside ICC Order

Utica, N. Y., May 10.—(AP)—A petition of nine northeastern states to set aside an Interstate Commerce Commission order raising class railroad freight rates 10 per cent in the north and east and lowering them an equal amount in the south and west has been dismissed by a Federal District Court.

The three-judge court yesterday also dissolved a temporary injunction granted last December which blocked the ICC from putting the rate changes into effect as scheduled last January.

The ICC's order, issued in May 1945, pertained only to class rates under which almost all manufactured articles are shipped. At present, however, only five to ten per cent of the nation's freight moves on class rates.

The court's action was hailed once by Gov. Chauncey Sparks of Alabama and Walter R. McDonald, chairman of the Georgia Public Service Commission, as the south's greatest victory in the freight rate dispute. Gov. Sparks said at Montgomery that he had been advised that the ICC-approved rates would become effective at once.

HOUSE DELAYS ON DRAFT ACT

To Be Taken Up Two Days Before Present Law Expires

Washington, May 10.—(AP)—An objection by Rep. Sheridan (D-Pa.) blocked immediate House action today on stop-gap legislation extending the draft law until July 1. Sheridan, a member of the Military Committee, objected to a request of Chairman May (D-Ky.) for unanimous consent for immediate action on the measure, passed yesterday by the Senate.

However, there was no objection to a later request for House consideration next Monday, two days before the present draft law expires.

Discussion indicated that an attempt will be made Monday to write into the stop-gap legislation a ban against induction of teen-agers.

The House banned the drafting of 18- and 19-year-olds when it passed last month a separate bill extending the draft law until next February 15. The Senate has not acted on that bill.

The July 1 extender received military committee approval in the morning.

The measure, an obvious expedient designed to give Congress more legislative elbow room, leaves the ultimate fate of selective service still beset with uncertainties.

Passed quickly and without opposition yesterday by the Senate in a hurried effort to prevent the draft from expiring at midnight next.

Coal Strike At A Glance

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nationwide strike of bituminous coal miners was 40 days old today.

IDLE: The number of workers jobless because of the strike was estimated at more than 1,600,000, including the 418,000 coal miners, with General Motors to lay off 215,000 more on Monday.

TRANSPORTATION: A coal-strike-caused rail embargo went into effect last midnight, limiting shipments to food, fuel, medicine and other vital goods, and paring passenger train movements 245 per cent. More and more railroads furloughed.

SEIZURE: Civilian Production Administration again urges government to take over the mines.

OTHER FUELS: Manufactured gas is ordered rationed when producers' coal stocks fall under three weeks' supply.

Motor carriers were asked to give priority to essential goods. arcel post package limits were reduced from 70 to 11 pounds.

NEGOTIATIONS: Nothing like a settlement in sight.

STRIKE: Civilian Production Administration again urges government to take over the mines.

OTHER FUELS: Manufactured gas is ordered rationed when producers' coal stocks fall under three weeks' supply.

Local Unions Instructed to Get Back On Job As Soon As Owners Agree To Pay Any Retroactive Pay Increases Negotiated; President Calls Lewis to White House

Washington, May 10 — (AP) — John L. Lewis today called for a 12-day truce in the soft coal strike, beginning Monday.

Lewis wired every local union president urging him to arrange for the 400,000 striking United Mine Workers to get back on the job as soon as the local mine management agreed to make retroactive during the truce any pay increase later negotiated.

"This action is the contribution of the United Mine Workers of America to our nation's economy," Lewis telegraphed the locals, "which is being imperiled by the stupidity and selfish greed of the coal operators and associated financial interests and by demagogues who have tried to lash the public mind into a state of hysteria rather than grant justice and fair treatment to the men who mine the nation's coal."

Lewis acted less than an hour after President Truman invited the mine leader and a representative of the operators to a White House conference at 4 p. m. (EST).

The UMW chieftain told the union locals: "The coal to be mined during this two weeks (truce) period can be utilized for consumption by essential facilities and the nation's health and security thus safeguarding while efforts to negotiate a contract continue."

"Let every member be assured that the members of the national policy committee are determined to accept no contract that will not give to the mine workers the essential protection which is imperatively required."

Lewis called in reporters three hours before the scheduled White House conference and announced that the policy committee of 250 strike leaders had unanimously authorized sending of the telegram to each local union.

Simultaneously, a close associate of President Truman reported the chief executive was considering proposing an 18 1-2 cent an hour wage increase and the establishment of a commission-controlled health and welfare fund in an effort to end the strike.

This official, who cannot be named but who participated in White House discussions of the plan said the President appeared to have decided he would make a definite proposal in the hope of obtaining a compromise.

This plan, he said, included no provision for royalty payments on coal produced, such as operators say have been demanded by Lewis.

"As the White House proposal tentatively took shape, it was reported as follows:

Establishment of a three-member commission which would supervise the collection and distribution of a fund to be established for miners' health and benefits.

One member of this commission could be chosen by the operators, a second by the mine union and a third named to represent the public.

While Mr. Truman was reported as definitely opposed to the levying of any royalty to finance the health and welfare fund, his proposal reportedly left the method of raising the necessary money to future agreement.

The President's reputed decision to advocate a wage increase of 18 1-2 cents an hour would be in line with increases which have been allowed in other industries.

Secretary of Labor Schwelienbach announced the 4 p. m. conference. (Continued on Page Six)

NEW CONTRACT

Electrical Workers to Discuss Ratification Of Terms

Pittsburgh, May 10 — (AP) — Twenty-three CIO-United Electrical Workers locals in a dozen states today were asked to meet "not later than Sunday" to ratify a contract that would end the 115-day-old walkout of 76,000 Westinghouse Electric Corp. production employees.

The proposed new contract, agreed on yesterday by union-management negotiations, provides an 18-cent-an-hour wage increase. The electrical workers originally sought a $2-a-day boost, then reduced their demand to 18 1-2 cents hourly on the basis of the steel settlement at that figure.

Other provisions of the contract: 1. Company to establish a fund of one cent an hour per employee to be used to narrow differentials between workers.

Memorial Day
Observed Here

Impressive exercises were held at the Confederate monument on the courthouse lawn at noon today — Confederate Memorial Day — under auspices of the George B. Singletary Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. City School Supt. June H. Rose was master of ceremonies. An outstanding feature of the ceremonies was the parade of the Greenville High School Band, under direction of Harold A. McDougle, and hundreds of students from the high school to the courthouse.

The program was as follows: "Lord's Prayer" by the High School Chorus, under direction of Miss O. Shindler; invocation, Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw; "Swanee River" and "My Old Kentucky Home" by the band; placing of flowers on the Confederate monument; "Tenting Tonight" and "Tramp, Tramp, the Boys Are Marching" benediction and Taps.

A large crowd attended the memorial exercises.

Mothers' Day
Party Monday

The Daily Reflector and Pitt Theatre will hold their annual Mother's Day party at the Pitt Theatre Monday, May 13, at which time they will be hosts to all Pitt County mothers 55 years or older. Mrs. Morton's Bakery, Greenville Floral Company and AA Taxi Company are cooperating in this year's party to make it more enjoyable for the mothers present.

The doors of the theatre will be open at 12:45 p. m. and mothers of the required age will be admitted free until 1:30 p. m. The picture for the occasion is a technicolor love story "Night in Paradise" featuring Merle Oberon and Terhan Bey.

Mr. Herring, owner of the AA Taxi Company, will furnish free transportation for any mother within the city who does not have means of getting to the theatre. Mothers availing themselves of this service will please get their calls in early.

Upon arrival at the theatre the mothers will be presented corsages by the Greenville Floral Company. Mrs. Morton's Bakery will furnish two cakes for the occasion.

All mothers of the required age are cordially invited to attend and enjoy this party.

Be sure to fill out your ticket before presenting it at the door.

GEORGIA ASKS
PROBE OF KKK

Legislative Body Demands FBI Investigation Of Klan

Atlanta, May 10.—(AP)—The Georgia legislative council today demanded an investigation by the Treasury Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation into the activities of the resurgent "Association of Georgia Klans."

The council, which includes representatives of the A. F. L., C. I. O., and various independent unions, charged that KKK, Inc., had announced suspension of activities in 1944 because of unpaid federal taxes amounting to more than half a million dollars, but had continued to use its original application and re-instatement blanks.

A spokesman for the council, who preferred to remain anonymous, said officers of the Klan were known to travel from state to state on Klan business.

The investigation was demanded following a cross burning ceremony on nearby Stone Mountain last night.

During the ceremony two United Press men, Bernard Brenner and Robert Holloway, were searched and their film confiscated by half a dozen men. Oscar Goodman, Paramount News Reel cameraman, had his camera seized, but it later was returned. Life Magazine had been invited. (Continued on Page Four)

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, May 10.—(AP)—Here's an ABC on the coal strike: What John L. Lewis demands and what the mine owners have offered. So far—after almost two months of talking and 40 days of striking—Lewis has dismissed the owners' proposals as "mumbo-jumbo" and "tombstone benevolence."

Lewis started talking with the owners March 12—and even though the miners quit April 1 when their contract expired—continued till April 10.

On April 10 Lewis walked out on the talks. The government got Lewis and the miners together again April 29. They've been talking since.

When the talks started March 12, Lewis made nine written demands. Later, after the broken-off talks were resumed April 29, Lewis shoved in a 10th demand. Of the 10, five are outstanding. They are:

1. Lewis wants a health and welfare fund for the miners. He says he wants the owners to agree to the "principle" of such a fund.

The owners say they have agreed to the "principle." They made this proposal:

That they and Lewis "explore" a plan for such a fund. They want the miners to contribute to any such fund set up. (They say Lewis wants them to put up all the money.)

And they suggest that an impartial agency, like the Red Cross, run the fund if it is created.

The operators say Lewis wants the owners to raise the money by setting aside 10 cents on every ton mined. (President Truman says he thinks such a royalty payment would be illegal under the Wagner Act.)

The owners made this proposal, and all their proposals, on March 25, six days before the strike started. (Continued on Page Four)

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Winston Churchill's dramatic proposal of a "United States of Europe, both of the East and West," again sets in motion idealistic gears which almost meshed in 1929 after generations of study.

Britain's famous war-time prime minister offers this startling plan at a moment of grave crisis in the relations between Russia and the Western Allies. It's only a couple of days ago that he made another appeal for a faithful understanding with the Soviet Union through the United Nations—for "only in this way can catastrophe be avoided."

It is noteworthy that this isn't the first time Churchill has turned to such unity for strength. On that black seventeenth of June, 1940, when France in her agony appealed to Germany for peace, his government offered to conclude a "solemn act of union" with France.

This projected the actual merging of the British and French empires so that they should "no longer be two but one Franco-British union."

One wishes that Mr. Churchill might give us the benefit of a further analysis of his present project, especially of that expression "both of the East and West." It is obvious that Russia, by bringing virtually all of Eastern Europe and the Balkans within its sphere of influence, already has created an Eastern United States. It remains but to build a Western coalition and then try to coordinate the two.

The idea of a European political federation—a United States of Europe (A Pan-Europe)—was under discussion numerous times during the nineteenth century, but it failed of official recognition anywhere. However, the ideal was too powerful to die such a death. Shortly (Continued on page four)

Sports

Last night Greenville fans witnessed the local ball club's first defeat on their home grounds when the Rocky Mount Rocks defeated the Greensies, 7-2, for their second straight victory.

Going into the sixth inning Payne's boys had a 2-1 lead over their rivals, but it went up in smoke when Munday, the Rock's catcher hit the jack-pot and belted out a homer with bases loaded. Though they tried hard, the Greenville club was unable to push across any more scoring runs. Rocky Mount's batters scored again in the seventh and ninth innings.

Despite the score, the Greensies' batting strength was apparent, for they collected nine hits off Nicolai the Rocky Mount veteran pitcher—but the hits were well scattered.

The Blackwell brothers furnished the only runs for Greenville. Mito Naron, playing his first season as a pro, played his usual heads up ball, handling three fielding chances perfectly. Henry Renwick, on first base, playing his first full game for the local club, handled an even dozen fielding chances perfectly, collected two singles and a double in four trips to the plate and drove in the Greensies' first run.

Mrs. Mary Duville, in charge of the school, recently had Frank M. Brown, well known Greenville plumber and heating contractor, as the speaker. Incidentally, Mr. Brown, who as president of the Lions Club and head of the Pitt County Association for the Blind, was one of the leaders in having the State establish the training school for the blind in Greenville. He reviewed his own experience as an employee and as a businessman. He explained to the students the importance of knowing well the business you engage in and the importance of public confidence and good will. In his heart-to-heart talk with the students he impressed them and inspired them to go forward with whatever vocation in life they choose, and gave them hope that they can become self-supporting as a result of their training at the school.

The Training Center for the Blind is brightening the lives of many who are sightless and providing a way for them to become self-supporting.

It is said that Queen Elizabeth started the day by reading the New Testament in Greek and went on to Greek orations and tragedies.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

NATURE OF MAN

Many different doctrines concerning the nature of man have been set forth by the sages of the world. Some have called man a beast, the most highly developed of creatures in an evolutionary process but with nothing save a few higher mental functions to distinguish him from the lower animals. Others have gone to the opposite extreme and have pictured man as being perfect at heart and needing only good environment and a bit of encouragement to blossom forth into perfection.

Neither of these extremes is correct. The Bible honors man with the image of God and after God's likeness. He is called a child or a son of God. But the Bible declares that the heart of man is desperately wicked.

Man has something no other creature has. He has personality, or, in other words, a bit of the nature of God Himself. But he has the capacity to choose between good and evil, and the exercise of this capacity often destroys whatever idealism he might naturally have.

The nature of man is like raw sugar or raw salt. The quality is there, but in order to utilize this quality, a process of refinement has to take place. The most effective agent for the refinement of personality is religion.

Religion is the factor God employs to refine human personality so that man may behave as a creature made in God's image and after his likeness.

after World War One the project of creating a Pan-Europa was revived. Great leaders of thought like the French statesman Aristide Briand rallied to the cause.

In 1929 Briand announced that he was going to campaign for a United States of Europe as a whole and that he would work through the League of Nations of which he was a strong supporter. His idea was to form an economic union first and then develop it politically.

In the autumn of that year Briand expounded his ideas to the delegates of European nations to the league in Geneva, and he received the backing of Germany's man of peace—Dr. Gustav Stresemann. He conceived of a U. S. of Europe which would occupy 1,932,000 square miles and have a population of 250,000,000. The project received favorable notice at the outset. The League of Nations appointed a commission which studied the project and adopted some recommendations. Maxim Litvinoff of Russia was a member of that commission and offered plans for an economic non-aggression pact.

Ultimately, of course, the matter petered out. But the seed was still there as we now see in Churchill's sentimental suggestion.

Beautiful Festival Third Street School

By MARIE BRILEY

On Wednesday, May 8, at Third Street School we gave our May Day Festival. The grounds were decorated with colored paper, and each grade wore some bright colors. The throne was in the middle and decorated with white cloth, and the chairs were covered with pink and blue paper. The queen's chair was pink with a blue bow, the king's chair was blue with a pink bow.

Just as the grades entered the grounds, Jack Whitchard and Hogan Gaskins blew bugle tunes and Mrs. Glenn Scott played the "Grand March."

When the seventh grade got to the throne one couple went on one side and the other went on the other side and formed a semi-circle. Then the king and queen went up and took their chairs. After that they were crowned by Mae Tucker Stancil and Margaret Phelps. Mattie Brown Stancil was crowned queen and Zack Taft king.

Then the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades sang "Tis Spring Time." Each grade came in place and sang a song and did a dance, and some did two dances. The closing number was the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the audience.

dience, led by Mr. June Rose. He took the opportunity preceding the song to thank the teachers and especially Mrs. Glenn Scott who contributed her talent to this program. This was the second annual May Day Festival that has been held at Third Street School. It was so successful that it likely will be given next year.

Leaf Exporters To Hold Meeting

The annual meeting of the Leaf Tobacco Exporters Association will be held at the Sir Walter Hotel in Raleigh, on Wednesday, June 26th. This will be the first full meeting of the membership in several years, and a full attendance is expected.

The Leaf Tobacco Exporters Association is an organization composed of the independent leaf tobacco dealers in the flue-cured area. It covers the states of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, and its membership includes practically every independent tobacco dealer and exporter operating in the flue-cured tobacco belt. For several years this organization has redried and packed for Commodity Credit Corporation a substantial amount of tobacco purchased by the Government for our War Allies.

The president of the association is J. S. Ficklen of Greenville, N. C., who is also president of the E. B.

Ficklen Tobacco Company. The executive secretary and general counsel for the association is J. Con Lanier, also of Greenville. The executive offices of the association are located in Greenville.

The purpose of this association is the promotion and protection of world markets for flue-cured tobacco. The field of activities of its members cover every country where flue-cured tobacco is used.

Grain Market

Chicago, May 10—(AP)—Activity in grains was very restricted again today with the May rye future providing the only interest. Although price changes in this contract were wide, with quotations down the full five cent limit at times, trading was not heavy. Wide price fluctuations reflected the market's "thin" condition. May rye finished at $2.62½, off 5 cents. All other grains were unchanged at ceilings.

New York Cotton

New York, May 10—(AP)—Cotton futures opened 5 to 30 cents a bale higher. Noon prices were 20 cents a bale lower to 30 higher. May 27.48, July 27.67, and Oct. 27.88. Futures closing prices were unchanged to 55 cents a bale lower.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, May 10—(AP)—Hopes for a quick settlement of the national coal strike apparently inspired a rush of buyers in today's stock market and selected issues rallied 1 to more than 4 points on expanding volume.

Transfers for the full proceedings were around 1,800,000 shares. Gains were well maintained near the close.

The Record Of

Herbert C. Bonner

For the past six years, the First Congressional District has been represented by Herbert C. Bonner. These have been the war years—bitter years—with the very existence of our Nation at stake.

During this critical period, Herbert Bonner has actively supported and voted for EVERY PIECE OF WAR LEGISLATION SPONSORED BY FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT. Also, he has served on many special committees appointed to speed the war effort. He has been in the forefront of the fight to rehabilitate the returning war veterans.

Mr. Bonner has fought the good fight in two world wars, in the first war as Sergeant in the battle lines in France, and in the second war as a militant supporter of the war policies of our great war time President and Commander-in-chief.

During his term in office, Herbert Bonner has labored faithfully and well to promote the welfare of all the people of his District. The peanut grower, the potato grower, the tobacco planter, the cotton planter, the fisherman, the lumberman have all benefited by Mr. Bonner's efforts in his behalf. He has ever been ready and willing to give his entire energies to solve the many vexing problems of his people in their dealings with the various war agencies.

His record of service is outstanding.

His knowledge and experience in Governmental affairs is invaluable.

His war record in two wars is unimpeachable.

He believes in the American way of life, and pledges allegiance to his own country.

We ask the people of Pitt County to endorse his record by returning him to Congress on May 25th.

Vote for Herbert C. Bonner, the choice of the average citizen.

(This space contributed by the Pitt County Friends of Herbert Bonner)

Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World

By VERONA LEE JOYNER
Home Demonstration Agent

Mr. W. Jasper Smith, a member of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners, spoke on "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World" to over one hundred Home Demonstration Club leaders at a county-wide meeting on Tuesday in celebration of National Home Demonstration Club Week. The speaker in his inspirational talk said, "The home is the unit where-by civilization must continue. We need education in our homes."

Thrift should be one of the first things taught. As we rear our children to associate one family member with another, one neighbor with another, and one people with another, a certain amount of education must go on. Character needs to be built in our homes. There is character in education."

Mr. Smith continued by saying, "America cannot live if people do not work. Every person needs every day to do an honest day's work. We are fortunate in America."

We can see from day to day the wonders of nature. In today's home let us teach our children that the earth is God-given. We must be kind to our earth. We must work. In conclusion the speaker said, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World. In our homes let us strive for laughter. The foundation of our homes should be honesty, character, the ability to be able to look the world in the face, and to be able to serve man and God." The speaker was introduced by Miss Verona Lee Joyner, Home Demonstration Agent.

National Home Demonstration Week has been a busy week for club members. Seven hundred cans of meats, fruits, and vegetables were brought to this meeting to be sent to our hungry European neighbors. The Farmville Club turned in 138 cans and Chicod Club turned in 106 cans. Hats off to these two clubs for this fine contribution. Every club turned in cans of food. Five hundred new garments were made and brought in under the guiding hand of the Clothing Leaders in the 19 clubs. Winterville Club made 50 children's bonnets under the supervision of Mrs. J. D. McArthur, and the Bethel Club made 44 children's slips under the supervision of Mrs. Dennis Hardy. These two clubs made the largest number of garments.

Congratulations to Mrs. Obed Castelle, Membership chairman and her committee of the Renston-Nobles Home Demonstration Club, for the 18 new club members they have added to their club roll this week. This committee has had a busy week as you can see. This club is the Baby Club in this county, having been organized October 1945. Prior to this week their enrollment was 23 members; it is now forty-one members.

The new members are: Mrs. D. T. McLawhorn, Miss Patsy McLawhorn, Mrs. C. D. Langston, Mrs. W. A. Forbes, Jr., Mrs. C. E. Langston, Mrs. Nat Nobles, Mrs. Ed Nobles, Mrs. Leon C. Forlines, Mrs. W. M. Buckhouse, Mrs. Walter Williams, Mrs. William Tripp, Mrs. Tyce Cheek, Mrs. Roy Stokes, Mrs. Larry Stocks, Mrs. Larry Dennis, Mrs. Aaron Mills, Mrs. Marshall Joyner, Mrs. Leon Joyner, Miss Christine Stokes.

Bethel Club followed a close second in the county membership drive this week. Mrs. Denny Hardy, Membership chairman, reported 10 new members. We welcome these ladies of Bethel to our Club: Mrs. Howard Keel, Mrs. J. P. Harris, Jr., Mrs. Clayton Sutton, Mrs. Lucas Ward, Mrs. Roy Craft, Mrs. Hamp Carson, Mrs. George Williams, Mrs. Johnnie Nelson, Mrs. W. M. Wynne.

This makes the Bethel Club our largest club with a present enrollment of 57 members. A total of 66 new members have joined the Pitt County Home Demonstration Clubs this week and were reported at the meeting by the vice presidents who served as membership chairman.

Special recognition goes to the Sweet Gum Grove Home Demonstration Club for the largest number of members present at the county-wide meeting.

Mrs. W. R. Bullock, president of the Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs, presided at this meeting. Mrs. Wilbur Worthington, Secretary and Treasurer; and Mrs. D. N. Nobles, Jr., vice-president, were present.

Humber Holds...

Briefly referring to the international phase of government, Mr. Humber spoke of the dangers of a third world war in which the light of civilization itself would be endangered. These dangers, he asserted, can be averted by the universal adoption of his plan for world federation.

On the completion of his speech his audience rose and gave a tremendous ovation; their enthusiasm was widely evident, and it was apparent that in Beaufort County Mr. Humber has gained a large number of new supporters.

Robert Lee Humber will speak in Black Jack on Sunday, May 12, for the Mother's Day celebration. Large crowds are expected.

early Monday morning that sent three Marines to a hospital with serious injuries and painfully injured three other Marines. Barbuto was released on $1,000 bail for his appearance in Pitt County Court.

The patrolmen said Barbuto's car collided with a car driven by Marine William K. Roberts, causing it to overturn and wrecking it. Roberts, Jack Linzer and Sergeant Harris, all Marines, were seriously injured. They were taken to the Marine Hospital at Cherry Point. Three other Marines in the car were painfully injured.

The patrolmen did some clever sleuthing to apprehend the unknown driver of the other car. They learned that a damaged car had stopped at a farmhouse to change a tire. The driver parked it behind a barn to make the change. The farmer told Patrolmen Cpl. John Laws and C. L. Teague that he suspected the car had been in a wreck, and that he used his finger to write the license number in the sand. It was North Carolina license T-15729. Barbuto was surprised when the officers accosted him. The collision occurred on the Greenville - New Bern highway, about eight miles south of Greenville.

HOUSING PROBLEM

Albuquerque, N. M., May 10—(AP)—If the lumber shortage is driving you nuts, consider the poor squirrels.

Mill operator Al Newlander says timber is being cut, loaded and hauled from the woods so fast that the other day a squirrel showed up in his yard on a truckload of lumber—none the wiser for his trip.
