Byrnes Rejects Soviet Proposal

Molotov Offers Russian Withdrawal From Bulgaria If Allied Troops Leave Italy; Bevin Supports Byrnes; Internationalization Of Trieste Possible Answer To Stalemate

Paris, May 14 (AP)—American sources said today that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov proposed withdrawal of Russian troops from Bulgaria on the condition that Allied troops leave Italy, but U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Bevin disapproved the suggestion.

Both Byrnes and Bevin objected when Molotov proposed the bargain of withdrawing from Bulgarian lines of communication to Austria, the informants said. Bevin declared a comparable arrangement would be for the Russians to leave Romania as the Allies left Italy.

The British foreign secretary further was reported to have declared that the Russians agreed at the foreign ministers council in London last September to a decision that they would withdraw from Bulgaria while leaving Romania to protect their lines of communication to Austria.

An informant said Byrnes and Bevin then proposed the establishment of a commission of military experts to decide whether the Allied lines of communication through Italy to Austria were physically necessary.

Molotov was said to have agreed to formation of the commission, but nothing was finally decided.

During the interchange Byrnes again tried unsuccessfully to persuade his three colleagues to study the Austrian situation by proposing that the deputy foreign ministers begin preparation of a treaty with that country.

London, May 14 (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Damascus said today that the Soviet minister to Syria was reported to have told Syrian officials that Russia had decided to back the Arab cause if the Arab League brought the Palestine problem before the United Nations.

The league has objected strenuously to recommendations by a British-American inquiry committee that 100,000 Jews be admitted to Palestine.

Cairo, May 14 (AP)—Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary general of the Arab League, said today the league would discuss the Palestine question to the United Nations Security Council.

He said, however, he had no information that any league member intended to bring up the matter at the league's forthcoming extraordinary session.

Raleigh, May 14 (AP)—The Seaboard Railway today presented its schedule of resumed passenger train service on lines withdrawn last week under an ODT order restricting service because of the coal shortage caused by the coal miners' strike.

The Palmland, trains 191 and 192, were restored today between Jacksonville, Fla., and Miami, Fla. Trains 21 and 22, local passenger, and express between Hamlet and Rutherfordton were scheduled to a daily service tomorrow, as were trains 11 and 12, local passenger, mail and express between Hamlet and Atlanta, Ga.

The 15 non-operating unions made up of the railway workers who don't run the trains.

All 20 unions last summer demanded higher wages and changes of various kinds in their contracts with the railroads.

Because there's a special law governing labor disputes on the railroads—with a lot of machinery for settling the disputes—it took the unions from then until now to go through all the steps in a dispute.

That is, all the unions except the engineers and trainmen went through the steps.

Those two unions, dissatisfied half-way through the machinery voted to strike and Mr. Truman set up a special fact-finding board to consider the case.

ALLIES ORDER NAZI BOOKS BE DESTROYED

Propaganda And Memorials Glorifying War And Nazi Ideals To Be Razed

Berlin, May 14 (AP)—A purge of German Fascist and militarist literature, criticized in some Allied quarters as "akin to the Nazi book burnings," has been ordered by the four-power Allied Control Council.

The Americans agreed to the principle of banning books glorifying Nazi theories and German military tradition," said Miss Vivian Cox, assistant to the deputy director of the American armed forces division, in discussing the order last night.

She added that the Americans fought this order at the start on the argument that if people wanted to retain banned books they would find places to hide them. So we insisted either on a law naming specifically the material to be destroyed or to leave all decisions to the discretion of zone commanders.

The latter was agreed upon. An American public relations officer, announcing that the order on literature would be published May 20, disclosed some of its details in advance.

He said it provides for a purge to eradicate in all forms Fascist, militarist and anti-democratic ideas in Germany through confiscation and destruction of Nazi literature and other media of propaganda.

HOOPER ASKS NO RATIONING FOR PRESENT

Food Expert Counsels Restraint Until World Harvests This Year's Crops

Washington, May 14 (AP)—The likelihood of renewed rationing for famine relief in the near future took a sharp drop today, with former President Hoover counseling against action on the subject until the world harvests this year's crops.

Back from a global survey of the hungry nations, Hoover said he thought it too early for a decision on rationing, because he had hopes the world's food production will be better than anticipated, with a consequent lessening of the famine emergency.

The survey report which Hoover brought back with him drew warm approval from President Truman and Agriculture Secretary Anderson—a fact which influenced food experts in reaching their conclusion that rationing would keep out of the picture at least for the present.

These experts, who would not be quoted directly, were of the opinion that the country's famine relief efforts until harvest will continue to be confined to voluntary food conservation and government restrictions on grain use.

Hoover spoke out on the rationing question at a news conference after presenting his report to Mr. Truman yesterday. Once the 1946 harvests are in, he said, an appraisal of supplies and needs can be made to determine whether renewed rationing here would be necessary to carry hungry areas through until 1947 harvests.

Hoover's statement lent support to contentions of both Mr. Truman and Anderson that rationing is not necessary to meet foreign food requirements during the present emergency.

The former president, who seen will go to South America for greater relief, is expected to insist that more steam be put behind the voluntary wheat and fats conservation program outlined in March by the President's emergency committee.

Ku Klux Klan Initiates 1,000 on Stone Mountain

Senators Agree To Accept House Proposal On Draft

ARMY SETS UP NEW COMMANDS

Continental U. S. Reorganized Into Six Army Areas

Washington, May 14 (AP)—The Army's nine service commands, which included and trained so many million GIs in wartime, are going to pass out of the domestic military picture.

Streamlining its organization to postwar needs, the War Department is substituting a new set-up which will divide the continental United States into six army areas, with the general aim of improving efficiency at lower levels and reducing expenses.

The reorganization plan, which becomes effective June 11, also provides for greater autonomy for the Army Air Forces, and places greater emphasis on scientific research and development.

The service commands were often described in the past as the Army's domestic "housekeeping" units. Their responsibility was to keep up military installations in this country and give the draft army its first schooling in soldiering.

Under the new setup announced by the War Department late yesterday, the domestic military establishment will be divided as follows:

First Army area, Gen. Courtney H. Hodges commanding, headquarters New York City; second Army area, Lt. Gen. Wm. H. Simpson, Baltimore; third Army area, Lt. Gen. Oscar W. Griswold, Atlanta; fourth Army area, Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, San Antonio; fifth Army area, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Chicago; sixth Army area, Gen. Joseph Stilwell, San Francisco.

As with the old service commands, the headquarters locations indicate the regional areas which the new military subdivisions will include.

Overall command of the reorganized domestic setup was given to Gen. Jacob L. Devers, head of the Army ground forces. The functions of headquarters of Army service commands—were ordered transferred to their sections of the War Department, since the service force as such are being discontinued.

Prohibitions Against Drafting Fathers And Teen-Agers Okay'd Rather Than Let Selective Service Expire At Midnight

Washington, May 14 (AP)—Senate leaders have decided to accept House prohibitions against drafting fathers and teen-agers rather than let the draft act expire at midnight.

Hill reported this agreement was reached at a two-hour closed session of the Senate Military Committee today.

"We don't want to accept these amendments," Hill told a reporter. "We can fight out the permanent provisions of the legislation later."

Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the Military Committee was authorized to ask the Senate to agree on the House amendments.

The White House said today President Truman is prepared to issue an emergency order preserving Selective Service machinery in the event Congress fails to complete action today on draft extension.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross so told a news conference. It would preserve the machinery of the draft system, he said, but added he could not give any details as to how the order will be worded. It could not provide for drafting anyone in event of the draft law's expiration.

Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) called the Senate Military Committee into closed session to map strategy on House changes in the expiring act.

Thomas agreed that the draft will die at midnight unless the Senate and House agree on stopgap legislation.

The House prohibited induction of fathers and teen-agers last night before accepting a Senate-approved extension of Selective Service until July 1.

Thomas told reporters the Senate could accept the House changes, or ask for a conference between Senate and House representatives. The latter would require approval by both Senate and House.

Capitol Hill generally had supposed the act was good until midnight tomorrow. But Chairman (Continued on Page Four)

RAILROAD MEN TO SEE PRES.

Truman Calls Conference To Avert Threatened Walkouts

Washington, May 14 (AP)—President Truman today summoned representatives of the "big five" brotherhoods and railroad operators to a White House conference in an effort to head off a strike called for Saturday.

A walkout by 250,000 engineers and trainmen would tie up the nation's railway transport system.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross announced that the President had asked representatives of the railroad brotherhoods to confer with him at 3:45 p. m. (EST).

Fifteen minutes later, Ross said, this conference will be joined by representatives of the Association of American Railroads.

The President indicated at his last news conference that he would not hesitate to seize the railroads if it became necessary to keep them running.

In addition to the union representatives, the conference will include J. J. Peilley, president of the railroad association, and the following negotiators for the railroad industry: D. P. Loomis, W. T. Fortney, H. A. Enoch, and J. P. Parrish.

The brotherhoods will be represented by the following: A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; T. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America. (Continued on Page Six)

Tobacco Farmer Has Dog Trained To Help

Raleigh, May 14 (AP)—Cecil K. Beck's pointer dog Jack is going to take the place of at least one laborer this summer on Beck's Piquay Springs tobacco farm.

Beck has taught the dog to worm tobacco, and Jack has come to relish the green, horned worms for between-meal snacks. Beck says he will start the dog to patrolling the 12.6 acres of tobacco he transplanted last week as soon as the worms begin attacking it.

Last year the dog spent days in the tobacco fields, taking the field row by row, snapping off the horned destroyers where he found them and feasting as he went. Beck says Jack can spot a worm with greater facility than a man and breaks off relatively few plant leaves in making thousands of kills.

"We've named him Jack the worm-killer," says Beck. "He can worm more tobacco per day than any single man. Considering that he's about the best dog on a quail's beat in the fall, we consider him just about the most valuable dog in the neighborhood."

Lewis Demanding Control Of Fund

PLANS SET TO LIMIT USE OF GRAIN IN U.S.

Secretary Of Agriculture Offers Program To Help Hungry Areas Abroad

Washington, May 14 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson laid down today a program continuing limitations on the domestic use of wheat until the middle of 1947 in order to help hungry areas abroad.

It is designated to issue at least 250,000,000 bushels of wheat for famine areas.

It continues restrictions on the milling of wheat into flour for domestic consumption and prohibitions against using wheat to make beer and whiskey.

The program continues the 80 per cent flour extraction rate and limits domestic redistribution of flour and wheat products.

Beginning July 1 the quantity of flour and wheat products which may be distributed by millers and manufacturers will be limited to 85 per cent of the amount they distributed in the corresponding month of 1945. At present distribution is limited to 75 per cent.

Other points of the program included: 1. Continuation of the present voluntary wheat conservation program. Under this consumers are asked to eat 40 per cent less wheat products and public eating places are asked to serve less bread and other wheat products.

2. Further restrictions will be placed on use of wheat by livestock feed manufacturers as soon the general livestock feed grain situation (Continued on Page Six)

Miners' Chieftain Insists On Exclusive Union Administration Of Seventy Million Dollar Welfare Fund To Be Raised Through Seven Per Cent Levy On Mine Payrolls

Washington, May 14 (AP)—John L. Lewis today demanded exclusive union administration of a miners' welfare fund which he proposes to raise through a seven per cent levy on payrolls.

The United Mine Workers' president declared the fund, to be paid exclusively by the operators, would have to be granted before the miners would negotiate any contract now or later.

Lewis told reporters at a news conference, after leaving contract negotiating sessions, that the seven per cent levy was "ultra-conservative" and its receipts would be used for these six purposes only:

Adequate and modern medical service; properly standardized hospitalization; life and health insurance at reasonable rates; rehabilitation and training of disabled men, financial aid in case of distress and hardship; and—if any money is left—for "cultural and educational work" among the mine workers.

Lewis said he had explained the demands so thoroughly that the operators said they desired no further explanation on that issue.

Operators, taken by surprise by the proposal for a seven per cent payroll levy, withheld their formal reply until Lewis spells out the rest of his contract demands.

But their reactions expressed privately to newsmen raised doubts that the negotiations of the next 24 hours could produce the general agreement President Truman has asked for by tomorrow.

One producer termed the demand ridiculous. Another, not a member of the negotiating committee, said: "We reject the whole damned principle."

Most of the 400,000 miners who have been on strike since April 1 returned to work yesterday under a two-week truce.

Lewis' outline of the specific form he wants the welfare fund to take marked the first time since the (Continued on Page Four)

Siamese Twins Die In Hospital Today

Portland, Ore., May 14 (AP)—The Siamese twin girls, born here a week ago to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hulse, Deep River, Wash., died in a hospital today.

One twin succumbed at 6:35 a. m. this morning, and the other 25 minutes later.

Hospital attendants reported the 26-year-old mother both saddened and relieved at the news. "She dreaded to have it happen," an attendant said, "although she felt that it would probably be the best thing."

The babies were born joined at the base of the spine. They would never have been able to walk.

Cotton Association Launches Meeting

Pinehurst, May 14 (AP)—The American Cotton Manufacturers Association launched its 50th annual convention here today on a note of industry, problems as troublesome, or worse, than during the war years.

The note of pessimism was advanced by Dr. W. P. Jacobs of Charlotte, president of the association, as the three-day session prepared to get under way.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) was scheduled to be guest of honor tonight at an opening banquet. The session has been designated "Bankhead Night" in his honor.

Among speakers to be heard during the convention are O. Max Gardner, of Shelby, undersecretary of the Treasury; Dr. Claudius T. Murchison of New York, president of the Cotton Textile Institute; W. T. Randolph, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation; and a number of former association presidents.

Farmers Needing Help In Harvest

Raleigh, N. C., May 14 (AP)—Because of a continuing acute shortage of labor, the North Carolina Extension Service today called on "city folk" to join hands with farmers and their families in harvesting early fruit and truck crops.

Fred Sloan, Extension program leader, said a program of housing and information for city dwellers who would be willing to work on the farms during the spring and summer was being worked out, and that Farm Extension Service agents could furnish all information desired.

School principals in several counties have set up a plan of cooperation with county agents in an effort to get non-farm students to help out for a "combination of work and vacation" on the farm, Sloan said.

The plan already is in operation in schools at Copeland, Franklin and Flat Rock, all in Surry County.

City folk can obtain immediate employment in the Irish potato areas of the Coastal Plains section and in the sandhills peach section. The potato harvest begins about May 20, while workers are needed immediately to assist in picking up peach drops and thinning the growing crop in the sandhills.

Sloan said urban residents "made valuable contributions" in the harvest of crops last year, and urged even fuller cooperation this year because of the larger volume of crops to be harvested.

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, May 14 (AP)—You just have time for a deep breath between the coal strikes and the threatened railroad strike.

The coal strike has been suspended for two weeks, the railroad strike will start Saturday unless President Truman can stop it.

This strike has been called only by the engineers and trainmen, not by any others among the railway workers.

But since the engineers and trainmen are key men, a strike by them would tie up the nation's railroads.

Here is the ABC of the railway picture, which is pretty complex. There are 20 important railway unions: 1. The five big unions which operate the trains, called the operating unions. They're the big five brotherhood: Engineers, trainmen, conductors, firemen and switchmen.

Kenneth Royall Talks Before Rotary Meet

Elizabeth City, May 14 (AP)—The United States deliberately chose to fight World War II with machines as well as men, throwing the enemy "tons of steel instead of lives." Under-Secretary Kenneth G. Royall of the War Department asserted here last night.

Speaking at the closing session of the 189th Rotary District's annual convention, Royall recalled his recent world-wide tour to inspect leftover war materials, during which he saw "acres of war goods never unpacked."

But, he said, "Most of these immense piles of still-unpacked crates and cases scattered throughout the Pacific represent a sensible provision against a contingency which did not occur."

Royall's address highlighted a session in which delegates unanimously elected Isaac Mayo Bailey of Raleigh district governor. Bailey, a Raleigh attorney since 1931, is a past president.

Let's Do The Job Right

An Editorial

We appeal to the voters of Pitt County to present a solid front in the coming Congressional race by voting overwhelmingly for Robert Lee Humber. Not only will such support assure Humber's nomination and election but it will bring our county to the front into the position that it should rightfully occupy. For years past Pitt County has received very little recognition politically, because, despite the fact that it casts the largest vote in this section of the state, it as a rule is so split up that the county is worth very little in the way of majorities for any candidates. Such a condition should not exist and until we ourselves remedy this situation we cannot hope to ever get ahead in the matter of affairs of state.

With Robert Lee Humber already assured a majority in this and some other counties and considerable strength from several other counties in the district, now is the time for every Pitt Countyman to get behind his candidacy and render a valuable service to the district, state and nation by sending him to Congress.

For nearly half a century the Congressmen from this district have come from the same county despite the fact that there are 13 other counties in the district. This condition should not exist but without the full support of Pitt County the other counties have (Continued on Page Four)

The WORLD TODAY

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE The Indian political factions having failed to bridge their bitter differences at Simla round-table conference, are now looking to England to pull out of the hat some proposal which will overcome the difficulties that block the way to independence.

Success will call for a bold move which impels me to tell you of something I encountered when I was in India in 1942-43 studying this great political problem. More than one of the Indian leaders made the startling assertion to me that the way to deal with the obstacles created by the factional disputes was for Britain to use "strong arm methods" by arbitrarily setting up a provisional government and then inviting all parties to participate.

Something reminiscent of this—though much milder—has now been proposed in New Delhi by Dr. N. B. Khare, a Hindu and a member of the Viceroy's Executive Council (cabinet).

Dr. Khare's proposal is that, if other steps fail, England make effective the federal constitution enacted by the British Parliament in 1935 but never put into operation. That would provide a much greater degree of autonomy and bring more Indians into the government.

Humber Is Heard In Robersonville

Robert Lee Humber last night spoke in the high school auditorium of Robersonville. He was introduced by C. A. Roberson, one of the Martin County commissioners.

The Greenville candidate for Congress from the First Congressional District, spoke without the use of notes or reference to a prepared speech. He elaborated extensively on the importance of the local area in connection with the affairs of the state, the nation, and the world at large.

Mr. Humber is an advocate of a diversified agriculture, as the only means of maintaining the income of the farmers, and the keeping of the agricultural areas of the state on a par with the industrial. This was doubly important, he asserted, because only with a high prosperity can the educational progress and the medical facilities upon which the welfare of a people depends, be accomplished.

accomplished. In referring to the national picture, he told his audience that something was missing in Democratic leadership in Congress, and that during the recent crisis, confusion was apparent. He described himself as a friend of labor, but warned that unless farsighted lawmakers curbed the powers of irresponsible workers, that labor would suffer a great set-back in this country and lose all that had been gained for them.

More than 150 Pitt County mothers (55 years old or older) attended the annual mother's day party at the Pitt Theater yesterday when D. J. Whichard, editor and publisher of the Daily Reflector, and T. Y. Walker, manager of the theater, were hosts for a showing of the technicolor picture, "Night In Paradise," featuring Merle Oberon and Terhan Bey. There were three out-of-the-county guests present, one from Como, N. C., one from Washington, N. C., and another from Trenton, N. J.

The AA Taxi Company cooperated in the party by furnishing free transportation for mothers who did not have other means of transportation.

Upon arrival at the theater, the mothers were presented corsages by the Greenville Floral Company. At the conclusion of the picture two lovely "Mother's Day" cakes were donated by Mrs. Morton's Cake Shop. Mrs. Emma Everette of Greenville, 86, won a cake for being the oldest mother present. Mrs. H. Lee Moore of Greenville won the other cake for being the youngest mother at the party—she was 55 in April.

Tobacco Crop Has Excellent Start

By CHESTER WALSH
"We have the best prospects for an excellent crop of tobacco in Pitt county that I have ever seen," said Kinchen W. Cobb, who was sales supervisor of the Greenville tobacco market for many years said today. "I've seen about 50 crops grown in this section, but this one is the best ever," the businessman and extensive farmer added.

Cobb said there was an abundance of healthy plants; the season was ideal and it was warm enough to cause the plants to take good root. The tobacco crop in Pitt county is 99 per cent planted. Very little replanting was necessary. He said ideal weather had gotten the plants off to quick growth. Farmers generally in this section increased their tobacco acreage about 10 per cent.

College To Graduate Ninety-Five Students

East Carolina Teachers College will live up to its name when it graduates 95 students in June, all of them except one from North Carolina and a majority from the eastern counties of the state, according to a list of candidates for degrees issued from the office of Dean R. J. Slay. Mary Blane Justus of Norfolk, Va., the only out-of-state student, is more Tar Heel than Virginian, for she is a graduate of the Washington, N. C. High School and only recently became a resident of Norfolk.

Of the 95 candidates for degrees, 83 have received training as teachers and have done student teaching while in college, 13 in the grammar grades, 12 in the primary grades, and the others in high school. Only 11 are candidates for the B.S. degree, which is granted to those who do not take teacher-training courses. Charles D. THE MISSING PENNY
Portland, Ore., May 13—(AP)—Two policemen found missing three-year-old Penny Morehouse on a bridge.

She didn't want to go home with them so they tried to coax her by an offer to hold the cop's shiny badge and listen to the patrol car radio. Penny fell for neither one. Finally "force" they delivered Penny home and were met by her father—Patrolman E. S. Morehouse.

Army Officer Has Wonderful Violin

By CHESTER WALSH
Rubinoff, the famous violinist who appeared in concert in Greenville recently, would have been thrilled to have seen a unique violin, made of more than 10,000 paper match stems and to have drawn out of the instrument its fine tone in some of his favorite melodies. The violin was made by a German prisoner of war, Pvt. Michael Gerstner, in an army prison camp at Belzoni, Miss., during his spare time. He spent 32 weeks putting the instrument together.

The German prisoner gave the violin to Lt. Frank J. Abbate of New York City, who was commander of the prisoner of war camp last year. The bridge of the instrument is the only part that was not homemade. The German prisoner of war used a piece of beef bone to make the abutments for holding the strings. It is unique in every respect.

Lieut. Abbate, army recruiting officer here, has the violin at recruiting headquarters at the City Hall. Musicians and others interested in it may see it at his office. He would not sell it at any price. The prisoner gave it to Abbate for kindnesses extended him in camp. There were 850 prisoners in the camp.

Big league attendance will zoom over the 3,000,000 mark on the way to an all-time high today as the sizzling Boston Red Sox open their first western tour and the puzzling St. Louis Cardinals come east to wrestle with the first-place Brooklyn Dodgers.

When 10,951,502 paid to see the 1945 games, many believed the mark would stand as a record for years to come. Now, a month after the start of the 24-week season, the New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox, Philadelphia Athletics and Cincinnati Reds have drawn about half as much as they did all last year.

The Yanks, with 578,940 as a starter, are regarded as cinch to smash the major league standard the Chicago Cubs hung up in 1928 when played before 1,485,766 at Wrigley Field.

Detroit is beginning to catch fire as the Tigers flash the form that led them to a pennant and world series triumph last fall. Although the Bengals have been away from home most of the season, their Briggs Stadium turnstile counts are marching along with 1945 figures.

Steve O'Neill's champs, who rolled to their eighth straight yesterday, greet Washington, Philadelphia, Boston and New York in order on their first home stand.

Although all eastern teams of the American League will be west of the Alleghenies and all western teams of the National will be on the Atlantic Seaboard, the spotlight will be centered on the Red Sox and Cardinals.

As Boston rocketed through the east to win 22 of its 26 starts, the experts delayed final judgment on the team pending its first western tour. The Sox open in Chicago today and won't be back in Fenway Park until May 25 when they engage the Yanks. So far they haven't lost a game to a western team.

Detroit, only a game back of the second-place Yankees, expects to close in on the Red Sox during its long home stay. The team is beginning to click and the pitching staff is rounding into shape.

Although Hal Newhouse was knocked from the box for the first time this season, the Tigers picked up six easy runs in a wild second inning to gain a 6-5 edge over Chicago. Six walks, an error, an outfield fly and a bunt single produced the runs.

The Browns split a doubleheader at Cleveland. Red Embree turned back St. Louis with five blows in the opener, knocked in three runs of the Tribe's 9-2 margin. Al Milnar, making his first start, shut out Cleveland, 3-0, with six hits in the second tilt, although the losers pulled a triple play in the second inning.

All the eastern teams in the American and the four western clubs in the National were idle, jumping across country for the second inter-sectional series.

Brooklyn defeated the Phillies 6-3, coming behind to do it. Pete Reiser stole home for the third time this season as the Phil defense crumbled behind Oscar Judd and Dick Mauney to help Ed Head pick up win No. 2. It was the ninth straight Dodger triumph in the friendly surroundings of Ebbets Field, stretching their lead to two full games over the runnerup Red Birds who come to town today.

Boston sputtered with four in the ninth to shade the New York Giants, 7-6, giving reliefer Earl Reid his first big league victory at Mike Budnick's expense. Budnick, who replaced Hal Schumacher in the ninth, actually lost his own game when he dropped a throw from second baseman Buddy Blattner that allowed the tying and winning runs to score.

TOMORROW'S SCHEDULE

American League—Boston at Chicago, New York at St. Louis, Washington at Detroit and Philadelphia at Cleveland.

National League—Pittsburgh at Boston, St. Louis at Brooklyn, Cincinnati at New York and Chicago at Philadelphia.

Last night, the Kinston Eagles posted a 9-4 victory over the Greenville nine. Both teams scored in the first inning, but the Eagles drew away in the second frame and were not threatened throughout the rest of the game.

Manager Virgil Payne used three pitchers in an effort to stem the

The Leopard Has Changed His Spots

HIGHLIGHTS FROM JUDGE J. W. H. ROBERTS' SPEECH OVER RADIO STATION

WRRF MONDAY, MAY 13TH, 12 NOON

Answer to Judge Albion Dunn's Speech of May 4th, 1946

1st. Judge Dunn knows more about law than he does about politics, when he stated Bonner would carry Pitt County. Humber will carry the county overwhelmingly, says Roberts.

2nd. He called Bonner a magician, he could wave his wand and raise the price of fish, tobacco and potatoes, but during the last primary he was only a likable secretary but could never be a capable Congressman. Roberts says Dunn made this statement in his speech at Elizabeth City against Bonner.

3rd. According to Dunn's speech, in Washington May 4th, Bonner waved his wand and all the fish came back after leaving, and they allowed themselves to be caught in the Pamlico, and Albemarle waters.

4th. Roberts said in answer to Bonner's trip to the Panama Canal: After being fitted up luxuriously, he found the water in the Pacific still blue and salty—at the expense of Uncle Sam, only a joy ride.

5th. Roberts stated we needed a statesman in Washington now, as conditions were critical, not an errand boy to run errands, and that Humber would be glad to see his friends from the District, but at the same time was capable of doing some thing for his District in a crisis.

6th. Dunn called Humber a brain child in his speech of May 4th, but Roberts stated that our great State and many others had adopted the brain child's idea of peace on earth, preventing wars.

7th. Roberts stated that Dunn elevated the man in his May 4th speech that he ridiculed in his speech during the last primary, and how he had climbed the heights of a master magician in such a short time.

8th. That Bonner waved his wand once again and the tobacco twine, tobacco cloth and flues fell like hail stones from above overnight, I'll admit Bonner was behind these moves, but how far behind. Wonder where Cooley, Kerr, Barden and Clark, also others, were. Won't they in front of Dunn's magician Bonner.

9th. In Dunn's speech of May 4th, 1946 BONNER WAS A GREAT MAGICIAN, HE COULD PERFORM MIRACLES. HOWEVER JOHN L. LEWIS WITH HIS AWFUL STRIKES TO CRIPPLE EVERY LOCALITY IN OUR GREAT STATE AND COUNTRY COULD NOT FEEL THE MAGIC HAND OF BONNER. HERE IS WHERE WE NEED DUNN'S BRAIN CHILD.

VOTERS, YOU ARE NOT SO IGNORANT AS THEY HOPE YOU ARE. WE KNOW BONNER DID THE BEST HE COULD BUT WE ALSO KNOW THAT IT TAKES A MAN WITH POWER AND NATIONAL RECOGNITION TO DELIVER.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES Thomas B. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Atlanta Strength FOR THE DAY By EARL L. DOUGLAS HOW MUCH IS APPEARANCE WORTH?

The value of money arises from the assets by which it is supported. If there is nothing in a nation's treasury to support money, then it is worth little more than the paper it is written upon. The same is true in character and reputation. We meet a person casually and may take him at his face value, just as we may assume that a bit of paper money is worth the amount it claims to be worth. But as soon as that paper money is involved in a business transaction of which we are party, we want to know its true value. Likewise, when we come up against a man in a business deal or in any other relationship, we want to know what is behind him. What is his character, what is his philosophy of life, how does he stand up under temptation, does he have patience, is he tolerant and understanding of others?

In other words, to what extent is the face value of his personality supported by gold in the bank of life? In an hour of crisis will he pay off one hundred cents on the dollar? Or will he be like certain men in every age who are reputed to be wealthy and who, when they pass away, are discovered to be paupers? The world moves along from generation to generation because of the multitude of fine people whose outward appearance is supported by a wealth of treasure in the inner reaches of heart and mind.

Let's Do The Job Right... (Continued From Page One) been unable to break up the powerful political machine that has controlled the affairs in this district. The other counties in the district are looking to Pitt County now to come to their rescue and help free the district from political bondage. Even in Beaufort, the home county of the incumbent, there is a growing desire on the part of the thinking people for a change and they too are urging Pitt County to use its great voting power to this end.

For once in our long political history, let's get together Pitt Countians and pile up the biggest majority ever recorded in this county. By so doing we will be upholding the ideals of Democracy in which we believe and we will be rendering a valuable service to the entire district.

One of the nationally known commentators yesterday said in his broadcast that one of the most interesting political races in the country at this time is in the First District of North Carolina where a politician is opposed by a statesman. He declared the outcome of such a race would be interesting and enlightening.

The Nation

Continued from Page One) ery and for the other two, the engineers and trammens, who went before the fact-finders. This is the big five—engineers, trammens, conductors, switchmen and firemen—asked for an increase of $2.50 a day, or slightly more than 31 cents an hour. The 15 non-operating unions asked for 30 cents an hour, or $2.40 a day. All 20 unions were told they could have only 16 cents an hour, or $1.28 a day. Now stop for a minute and go back to those two unions, engineers and trammens, who went before the special fact-finding board. The President didn't appoint that board until the two unions had voted to strike. Under the law, when a fact-finding board is appointed, it is supposed to report to the President within 30 days after starting a case. During those 30 days, and for 30 days after the report is made, there can be no strike. The report was made April 18, 30 days after that report will be up Saturday. Therefore, that's the date of the strike. But the other 18 unions—the three operating unions of conductors, firemen and switchmen, and the 15 non-operating unions—were angry at not getting their demands. The 15 non-operating unions began talking with the railroads again for the best of the raise they wanted. Still dissatisfied, they began sending out ballots today on whether to strike. They plan to complete polling their members by June 29. If they vote to strike, it won't be any time soon because the government will start its machinery grinding again. Meanwhile, the other three operating unions—conductors, firemen and switchmen—last week decided to go back to the railroad owners and demand the full pay raise they originally asked for. They said that they, too, will take a strike vote if they don't meet their demands. That vote could be taken any time, tomorrow, next week, or some more distant date. Besides wages, the disputes involve changes in present working contracts. Asked by both the unions and the railroads, too, these suggested changes vary and total more than $5. Here's an example of one: The unions wanted the companies to supply the workers with watches at cost and give the workers' two hours pay for the time spent in getting their watches checked. The fact-finding board ruled that it seemed fair to have the companies give the watches to the men at cost but that, if the watches needed checking, they should be checked on company time but not with extra pay.

Iran's Army

Gavan said recent negotiations between the central government and a delegation from Azerbaijan had founded on three major differences.

The army announced that a battalion of troops was moving through Kezvin to Bandar Pahlavi on the Caspian Sea and that an additional 500 troop carriers bearing a total of 750 men had steamed northward from Tehran during the morning.

Gorgan also has been regarrisoned. Armored gendarmie units have moved along the Caspian coast north of Fahlavi. A Kurdish chief here said his followers, who recently withdrew their support from Ghazi Mohammed's "independent" Kurdish Republic had received 5,000 rifles from the army. He said "large supplies of arms, ammunition and food" were being moved to the local Zolghari and Adshar tribes within the borders of Azerbaijan.

From Meshed, Holy City in far northeastern Iran, came reports of "growing opposition to leftist organizations." A longtime foreign resident of Meshed, who reached Tehran today, said religious leaders were exhorting their followers to oppose moves for seizure of large estates and redistribution of lands because "they said under the Islamic laws respect of ownership of lands is sacred." As one of the controversial points in the negotiations with Azerbaijan

(Continued from Page One) intriguing. This called for a provisional coalition government, and if any Indian faction didn't want to play ball, why it could stay out. I should say here that this was associated with the idea of giving the fulles possible support of all India to the war effort. The Indians were anxious to take their place beside the allies. However, while the war element is lacking now, the desire for independence burns with the same fierce flame and there are many of the more realistic leaders who remember that Rome wasn't built in a day. Now, as then, it wouldn't be possible to scrap the present government willy-nilly and substitute a brand new provisional government. There obviously would have to be a transitional period, but the Indian leaders could be made part of the entire governmental machine.

Lewis Demanding

(Continued on page Six) talks began two months ago that he has laid down a concrete formula. The operators received it in an hour-long recital by the mine union chief shortly after they had agreed to pay the miners $3,000,000 in back holiday wages which Lewis demanded as a condition to discussing a new contract. Emphasizing that they were acknowledging no merit in the claim the operators said their agreement was solely an effort to break the log-jam in the negotiations. It worked. The union committee held a long caucus. Then Lewis strode back at the head of his column of negotiators and launched his appeal for bigger and better life insurance for miners and their families, for hospitalization, medical and surgical treatment, and advances in cleanliness and sanitation. Winding up, he asked for the seven per cent payroll fund to replace the average five per cent deductions now made from the miners' paychecks for health and welfare items. The seven per cent tax would be levied against the mine operators. The miners would cease paying the five per cent now deducted from their paychecks. Government Conciliator Paul W. Fuller said Lewis wanted administration of the welfare fund to be "neither joint nor public," apparently indicating that the UMW chief was sticking to his original demand for union control. After that, Lewis renewed his mine safety demand, insisting again that the operators and miners agree to accept safety recommendations of federal mine inspectors. These findings now are purely advisory since enforcement powers rest with the States.

Allies Order

(Continued from Page One) bookshops and publishing houses all former state and municipal libraries and heads of all universities and schools must hand over to the military commanders all Nazi and military propaganda in their possession. Miss Cox said private libraries were excluded. The other order requires the destruction by January 1, 1947, of all existing German military and Nazi memorials and the liquidation of military museums. Tombsmen at places where regular army men died on the field of battle are excluded from the terms of the order.

Draft Bill

(Continued from Page One) May (D-K) of the House Military Committee disclosed on the floor last night the law actually goes off the books at 12:01 a. m. May 15. He declared wording of the original bill made that "very clear." Selective Service officials said he was

Byrnes Rejects

(Continued from Page One) British and French delegations are willing to accept the internationalization of the city of Trieste as a compromise to rescue the stalemate foreign ministers conference, reliable sources said today. Both the United States and Russia were reported standing pat, however, on opposite sides of the fence in regard to Trieste, historic Adriatic gateway to Central Europe. The United States, which hitherto has been supported by Britain and France, has insisted that Trieste remain Italian. Russia has been equally insistent that the city be ceded to Yugoslavia. American sources said the issue was the principal stumbling block preventing the ministers from agreeing on an Italian peace treaty. The ministers, meeting amid predictions that the conference would end by Thursday or Friday, turned today to discussion on the French-Italian frontier. The German problem, including French requests for the detachment of the Ruhr and Rhineland, is scheduled to be considered tomorrow. U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was reported to have used the most vigorous language he has employed to date at the conference in reiterating yesterday that the United States would not yield to Russian demands on Trieste. Authoritative informants said, however, that Byrnes had announced he was willing to accept the Italian-Yugoslavia border previously proposed by the French. This line, while considerably west of the border which the United States has advocated, still would allow Italy to retain Trieste and a portion of the Isthrian Peninsula. These informants said that V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, probably would not agree to Byrnes' proposal to call a 21-nation peace conference, unless Russia got her way on Trieste.

What's this?

"What's this?" asked Judge Leo Aggeler. "My son, Alan," replied Mrs. Jerome Cline from the jury box. "I asked to be excused when I couldn't get anyone to care for him. When that failed, I brought him with me." Mrs. Cline—and Alan—were excused.

Mr. and Mrs. Voter Read The Record

Four years ago Herbert C. Bonner was chosen to represent our District in Congress BY AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY OF THE VOTERS IN EVERY COUNTY IN THE DISTRICT.

During these four years, Herbert Bonner has fulfilled every expectation in the discharge of his duties as a Congressman. He loyally and faithfully supported every bill to further the war effort, and has worked untiringly to promote the well-being and welfare of the people of his District. Especially with regard to Agriculture, his efforts and accomplishments have been outstanding and invaluable.

Herbert Bonner has been faithful to his trust. His record is beyond attack. Not once have his opponents dared to publicly attack or question his integrity or his judgment in matter affecting the public weal or interests of his people.

He supported and voted for the Case anti-strike bill which would curb the powers of John L. Lewis. For this vote he has been black-listed by Sidney Hillman's Political Action Committee, and by the C.I.O.

THORNHILL TO PLAY GERMAN

Famous Band Leader Here Tomorrow For May Dance

By CHESTER WALSH Claude Thornhill and his famous 18-piece band and three feature artists will play for the Greenville May German at the armory Wednesday night beginning at 10 o'clock. The spring german is sponsored by the Twenty-Five Club of Greenville, Dick Stokes III president. No tickets are sold to the dance. Admittance is strictly by bids from members of the club. The Twenty-Five Club is composed of Greenville men. Bids are sent to men out of town, but none to local men. These Germans are given from time to time by the club as strictly social events. They are not given for profit. Claude Thornhill's band retains all its old flavor since he came out of the navy, plus the dash of the new ideas Thornhill picked up during 32 months overseas entertaining the navy, army and marines. Years spent in making orchestras for Benny Goodman and Ray Noble and Bing Crosby and Judy Garland, gave Claude Thornhill a decided advantage when he finally determined to start his own orchestra, said Herman L. Norris, who booked Thornhill's band for the Greenville May German. First Thornhill auditioned hundreds of musicians to carefully select matched groups for each of the sections. Nor was he obliged to depend upon other arranger, as is the case with most band leaders. Thornhill personally scored some 60 melodies, embodying them with his rich and colorful ideas of harmony. Since his premiere at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York, music critics and the dancing and listening public have been raving about this new and different orchestra with its distinctive piano styling.

However, authoritative Spanish republican circles earlier had said the papers charged that Spain was a permanent threat to peace; and that Generalissimo Francisco Franco has encouraged German scientific experiments in atomic fission in Granada and Murcia provinces. The question of war criminal extradition was raised indirectly before the Spanish sub-committee by a Belgian statement emphasizing that Franco Spain has become a refuge for the Belgian quisling, Leon DeGreele.

Rotarians Hear About Club Work

By WYATT BROWN The value of the home demonstration clubs in Pitt county was brought forcefully to the attention of the Rotarians last night at their regular weekly meeting when Miss Verona Lee Joyner, Pitt county home demonstration agent and Mrs. B. F. Tyson, prominent Pitt county club woman, spoke. Miss Joyner told of the purpose and program of the clubs in rural communities. Mrs. Tyson told of her actual experiences with the work and how much she valued it and saw the work contributing to building a better Pitt county.

Miss Joyner told how the program is financed by public monies—federal, state and county. The clubs are organized for the purpose of teaching home management and planning, to deal with problems of health, housing, sanitation, citizenship, home and farm financing, and so on. She told of the courses in home nursing which helped during the scarcity of nurses. In sewing machine clinics—care and repair of sewing machines—farm women saved $3,000 last year. There are 19 clubs in Pitt county, with a membership well over 500, she told the Rotarians. Mrs. Tyson told of her enthusiasm over the home demonstration club work. In fact, she said she would never have been able to make a speech if it had not been for her being so sold on the program. She told how she had seen so many benefitted in the rural areas by the club study and putting into practice. The aim of the clubs is to reach every rural family and they are working away at it. Prior to the speakers, Rotarians had a guest vocalist. He was Garret Grimes, Jr., a World War II veteran, graduate of the C. M. M. Eppes Negro High School, and the son of one of the teachers in the Negro schools—Pattie Garret Grimes. He sang three numbers accompanied by his mother at the piano. His voice was perhaps pitched too low as a bass. He seemed less strained and clearer in his baritone range. When he got to "Water Boy," he was going fine and received generous applause.

His first number was "The Lord of My Life," which he followed with "Old Man River." Grimes possesses a voice of unusual qualities. Johnnie Overton is accepting donations for further musical training for the young Negro singer. Guests of the club last night were Lebrum Spence of Melbourne, Fla.; Seaman Dick Fleming, R. W. Tyson, Jr., and Ensign J. B. Smith. President John Proctor announced the name of Sam Winchester as a baby Rotarian. Freda Cordell, a student of ECTC, invited the Rotarians to participate in a dance benefit for athletic scholarships at the college. The dance will be held Saturday night at the college.

Old-age and survivors insurance is a Federal program, operated by the Social Security Board and the Treasury Department. The Social Security Board keeps all the records and passes upon claims for benefits. The Treasury collects the taxes and

Milk Mixture For Stomach Ulcers

A recent medical discovery now being used by doctors and hospitals everywhere has proven unusually successful in the treatment of stomach ulcers caused from excess acid. It is a harmless preparation yet so effective that in many cases the pains of stomach ulcers disappear almost immediately after it is used. Also recommended for gas pains, indigestion and heartburn due to hyperacidity. Sufferers may now try this at home by obtaining a bottle of Lurin from their druggist. Lurin contains this new discovery in its purest form. Easy to take. Just mix two teaspoonful in a half glass of milk. Costs but little. Try a bottle. It must satisfy or money refunded. Lurin for sale by Bissette's and drug stores everywhere.

Issues benefit checks. The money for benefits comes out of a Trust Fund which is built from special taxes on employers and employees. The worker's tax at present is one percent of the wages he receives (up to $3,000 a year) in a job which comes under the system. Thus if his wages are $50 a week he pays 50 cents a week for Social Insurance. The employer's tax is also one percent of the wages he pays to each employee (up to $3,000 a year.) The worker's tax is deducted from his wages every pay day by his employer. Once every quarter, the employer sends the worker's contribution and his own tax to the Collector of Internal Revenue. Every three months an employer who is subject to the law, sends to the Government, along with the Social Security taxes, a report of the wages he paid to each employee. Opposite each name he writes the worker's social security account number. From these wage reports the Social Security Board takes the figures for each worker's wages and transfers the amount to the individual account of the wage earner concerned. Great care must be used in keeping the wage record for every worker; because the benefits which will be paid to him or to his family, in the future, will depend upon his wage record or social security account, as it is sometimes called.

Benefits are based primarily on the worker's average monthly wage. He is credited with all wages up to $3,000 a year which he receives for work in a job that is covered by the law. The Social Security Board keeps an account for each worker under his name and social security number. This number is the same as that on his social security card. When the worker or his family files a claim for benefits, the worker's social security account determines the size of the benefits.
