Welfare-Safety Program Started

Government Acts Promptly To Put Into Effect Advances Won By Coal Miners In Prolonged Walkout; Survey Planned Of Hospital and Medical Facilities For Miners

By KARL R. BAUMAN Washington, June 1—(AP)—The government acted promptly today to put into effect the health and safety advances which John L. Lewis won for his soft coal miners in settling the prolonged bituminous strike.

This was a quick follow up on the approval the wage stabilization board bestowed yesterday—with President Truman's full endorsement—on the pay boost provisions of the contract between Lewis and the government.

The drive to get all clauses of the soft coal contract into operation temporarily overshadowed preliminary administration studies of hard coal strike which has 76,000 miners idle in Pennsylvania's anthracite fields.

However, the officials expressed hope was that the soft coal contract will provide the basis for an agreement in the anthracite dispute.

On the soft coal contract, Rear Admiral Joel T. Boone, a veteran of the Navy's Medical Corps, took over the job of organizing and directing an all-inclusive survey of hospital and medical facilities, medical treatment, community facilities, and housing in soft coal mining areas.

Dr. R. R. Seyers, Director of the Bureau of Mines, opened preliminary discussions with representatives of the United Mine Workers and mine operators looking to a new federal mine safety code.

Secretary of Interior Krug, who is boss of the mines as long as they remain under government control, left no doubt that he approved of the miners' health and safety gains.

Touching briefly on the welfare and retirement fund to be set up under the new contract, Krug remarked at a news conference yesterday: "I wonder how many of you know that the United States is the only civilized country that does not have a welfare fund for its miners."

The welfare and retirement fund will be financed by payments of 5 cents a ton on all coal produced.

On the safety issue, Lewis' miners long have demanded a Federal Code. In 1941 Congress passed a Federal Safety Act, but without enforcement provisions. It merely authorized the Bureau of Mines to make inspections and recommendations. Actual enforcement of safety standards is left to the states.

Utilities Seek Lower Coal Freight Costs Raleigh, N. C., June 1—(AP)—Reduction in freight rates on coal shipped into and through North Carolina is being sought today by a group of state utilities commission officials appearing before a special interstate commerce commission hearing in Asheville.

Members of the delegation are Commissioner Fred C. Hunter; former Governor J. B. Ehringhaus, attorney; H. M. Nicholson, commission traffic director; Frank Dowling, assistant traffic director; and two commission reporters.

Public relations, briefly, means this: Getting over your side of a story as convincingly as possible to the public in general or the people you're trying to influence.

Big business knows the value of public relations and spends a lot of money on it. For example: The National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

The big unions have not been slow to adopt the same technique. They now represent a lot of workmen who pay dues and whose earnings depend upon what the unions can get for them.

So the CIO and the AFL have publicity offices here and elsewhere and they rush out their views at the drop of an anti-labor speech.

STRIKING MEN TAKE HOLIDAY IN WALKOUTS

Anthracite Stoppage Called Completely Effective; Await New Contract

New York, June 1—(AP)—Pennsylvania's hard coal miners dug gardens instead of anthracite today or made holiday plans as they waited for union and operator leaders to frame a new contract which would end their strike.

In New York the negotiators, in their fourth week of conferences, reported little progress toward a new pact.

The strike by 75,000 diggers—ninth major anthracite shutdown since the turn of the century—became effective yesterday after the expiration of the old contract. Leaders of the AFL United Mine Workers and the operators agreed that the walkout was completely effective.

Only maintenance work by an estimated 5,000 miners continued in the colonies to protect properties from flooding and cave-ins. Around Shamokin, Pa., independent anthracite miners continued to work but they gave no estimate of their daily tonnage. The independents operate on lease or royalty agreements.

In Virginia, the only other state where there are hard coal operations, there are about 500 miners who are not involved in the negotiations here.

As the conferees were called into session again today, Thamos Kennedy, union secretary-treasurer, declared that UMW President John L. Lewis—who has not taken part (Continued on Page Four)

Italian Monarchy Hangs In Balance

Rome, June 1—(AP)—The Italian news agency Ansa reported demonstrators broke through a police cordon as King Umberto II appeared at the door of Milan cathedral today and forced him to leave through an underground passage.

The dispatch said clashes between monarchists and republicans had been going on in the huge Duomo Square while the king visited the cathedral but did not state whether the demonstrators which broke through the cordon were friendly or hostile.

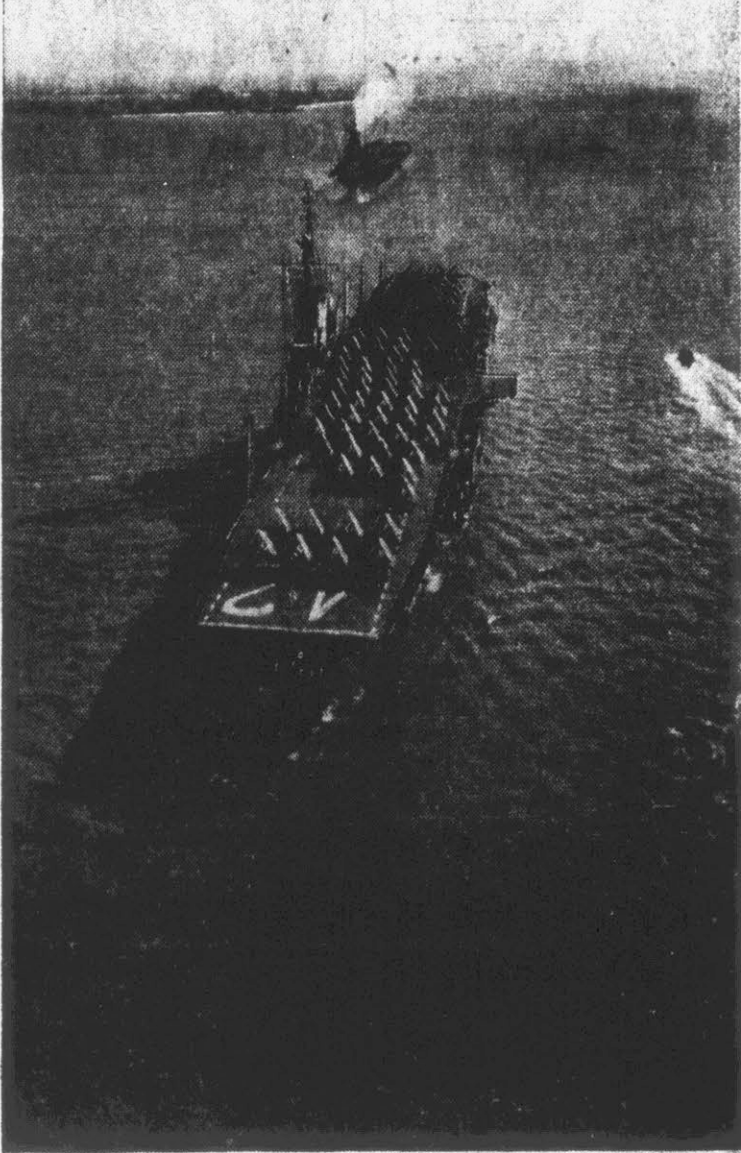

The fate of the monarchy will be decided in a national plebiscite tomorrow. Umberto left Milan shortly after the demonstration for Venice to complete his "campaign tour."

Ansa said clashes also occurred on Royal Palace Square while Alfredo Cardinal Schuster, Archbishop of Milan, paid the monarch a "visit of homage."

No casualties were reported. In an eleventh hour bid to retain his crown, Umberto announced that if they decided tomorrow to leave him on the throne, he would give them another chance soon to vote on the question of the monarchy versus a republic.

Members of the delegation are Commissioner Fred C. Hunter; former Governor J. B. Ehringhaus, attorney; H. M. Nicholson, commission traffic director; Frank Dowling, assistant traffic director; and two commission reporters.

Modified Labor Bill Approved By Senate

House Shows Indications Of Balking Until Truman Specifies Intentions With Case Anti-Strike Measure

Washington, June 1—(AP)—The Senate stamped its approval today on a diluted version of President Truman's emergency labor program, but the House showed signs of balking at any action on the modified measure before it learns what the President intends to do with the Case anti-strike bill.

After a week of bitter argument, the Senate finally got to a vote on the bill in the early morning hours and passed it by a tally of 61 to 20, however minus the draft-labor provision which administration leaders have called the big club of the program.

The Senate then sent the legislation back to the House but in quite different form than the other chamber whipped through by a 306 to 13 vote just a week ago after listening to Mr. Truman's personal plea for authority to draft those who strike when the government seizes an industry.

Besides this draft clause, the Senate also stripped from the measure a provision which would have denied seniority rights to strikers in seized industries and a section regarding payment of "just compensation" to plant owners whose property was taken over.

This left in the measure a provision arming the President with seizure authority similar to that he now has under the wartime Smith-Connally Act. After seizure he could adjust wages and working conditions, an authority the Senate upheld by a 54 to 28 vote.

Union leaders, also would be required to take "affirmative action" to call off a strike, with penalties of $5,000 fine or a year's imprisonment for violation of this section. (Continued on Page Two)

Business Outlook For Summer

Babson Park, Mass., May 31—Business activity in the next few months should constantly improve in most lines, with newspapers full of uncertainties regarding politics and other depressing items. It is a relief to focus one's attention on the good news from the domestic front.

Textile and Steel Inventories Low Textile mills have stepped up schedules since the German armies destroyed many of the big mill centers in Northern France and Belgium. Gray goods sales have been high and the demand for shirts and men's wear of all kinds is tremendous.

Steel operations have been handicapped by strikes of all kinds but now have a green light to go ahead. Many thought the end of the war might hit the steel industry harder than most others, but it has not. Inventories in consumers' hands are said to be lower than ever before.

Gains to Continue Chemical industries are just beginning to feel the good effects of the postwar program. How much they add to the business total in the next few months is uncertain just now. Investors, businessmen, and workers should, however, keep in mind that this nation is entering upon a tremendous plastic program, which can be operated with little fear of strikes. Therefore, what is now on the books is a mere sampling of what is to follow in chemical developments.

Retail trade is remarkably good. It is running 25 per cent or more above a year ago. This comparison with 1945 levels comes from the industrial areas of the Midwest, from the South and from the Pacific Coast. Rising payrolls mean that these gains should continue for sometime to come. It is still bullish on merchandise securities as the best hedge against both wage increases and inflation.

Record Tourist Season Tourist business: Due to the hesitancy of cruising even to the West Indies, South America, Alaska, and other places, most tourist money will be left in this country and Canada this Summer. The greater efforts which the railroad and bus lines are making in developing travel indicate that this Summer will see the largest vacation season on record.

The business outlook for the Summer, therefore, is good. There will be no set-backs due to cancellation of orders or psychological reactions. Any change will be to increase an already high level of activity. Hence, I believe that overall business this Summer should be even better than ever before. If you plan a vacation away from home, you better get your reservations now.

SENATE TAKES UP DEBATE ON DRAFT FUTURE

Extension Asked To Back Up Government In Dealings With Other Nations

Washington, June 1—(AP)—Prompt extension of the draft to strengthen the hand of the United States in international negotiations was demanded today by Senator Austin (R-Vt.) as the Senate plunged into a volunteer-versus-conscription debate over the future of the armed forces.

His arguments planned tightly to the contention that this country "must regain the prestige lost since victory," the Vermont legislator said in an interview that the "lack of a peace force" has been handicapping the United States in post war dealings with other major powers.

A member of both the Senate Military and Foreign Relations Committee, Austin tartly declared that "people who have suffered military aggression have little faith in promises without works. Representation without apparent power to make them good have little persuasiveness."

Austin's views were advanced with the virtual certainty that efforts will be made on the Senate floor to scrap the Selective Service machinery completely, or to accept a House-approved moratorium on the draft until October.

Against both proposals have been trained the heavy guns of the armed forces, backed up by Secretary of State Byrnes who has expressed deep concern in private over demobilization below the level necessary to maintain present military commitments.

The House measure, in addition to imposing the moratorium on inductions, would extend the life of Selective Service nine months from its present June 30 expiration date, bar induction of teen-agers and fathers, and grant service men and women pay boosts ranging from ten to 50 percent.

As reshaped by the Senate Military Committee, the bill would: 1. Limit the combined strength of the army, navy and marine corps to 1,736,000 by July 1, 1947.

2. Continue the life of Selective Service until May 15, 1947.

3. Provide for automatic discharge after October 1 of those with 18 months service.

4. Retain the House-accepted no-fathers clause, and provide for discharge after August 1 upon request of fathers already in service.

1. Promise surrender before that date of 11,000 Hukbalaahs (people's army) who have figured in bloody guerrilla warfare on central Luzon.

2. A drastic shakeup of the Philippines relief and rehabilitation administration.

3. Plans for a campaign to avert a serious food shortage, expected to be felt by August.

Roxas' interior secretary, Jose Zulueta, said that leaders of the Huks, after a series of conferences, had agreed to give up their arms. Zulueta promised them protection and agreed to replace present Filipino military police in central Luzon with 11 companies from the southern islands.

Siamese Make Charges In Application To UN

Formal Bid For Membership Made; Accuse France Of Armed Attack And Looting; No Change In Line-Up On Franco

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH New York, June 1—(AP)—Siam has made formal application for membership in the United Nations in a letter accompanying detailed charges of territorial aggression, armed attack, looting and arbitrary arrest of Siamese nationals by French troops from Indo-China.

The detailed charges—explaining accusations made earlier in the week—were laid before the U. N. by the Siamese Washington legation and declared Siam had adhered to a policy of non-resistance to the alleged French attacks.

The letter of application for membership from the Siamese foreign minister, which was made public by the U. N. Negotiations To Continue Despite Atmosphere Of Pessimism; Unions Claim President Supporting Ship Owners, Warn Truman He'll Regret It In Elections

By MAX HALL Washington, June 1—(AP)—In an atmosphere of pessimism and bitterness, CIO Maritime leaders and ship operators agreed to make a fresh try today (at 8 p. m., EST) in their efforts to avert a shipping strike June 15.

On the one hand, the CIO leaders are claiming that President Truman has torpedoed the negotiations and thrown his full support to the operators—and that he'll regret it come election time.

On the other hand, government agencies are systematically mobilizing to run the ships if CIO seamen, longshoremen, telegraph operators and other maritime workers go through with their threatened strike for a 40-hour week and higher pay.

Strong words ended the situation yesterday when President Truman told his news conference he will use the Army, Navy and Coast Guard if that's what it takes to keep the Mrchan Marine running.

What the President said aroused Harry Bridges and Joseph Curran, co-chairmen of the committee for maritime unity representing seven unions involved in the dispute. They criticized him for adopting such an attitude.

A statement issued in behalf of the committee last night said the unions came here at the request of the Labor Secretary Schellenbach to carry on peaceful negotiations to avert a strike, and they had complied with Schellenbach's request that neither side make any public statements that might hurt the negotiations, but—

"President Truman today, in complete disregard of the facts involved in the negotiations, and despite the Secretary of Labor's demand for no inflammatory statements (Continued on Page Two)

Two Courts Hear Reynolds Dispute

Miami, Fla., June 1—(AP)—A dispute between Elizabeth Dillard and Richard Joshua Reynolds, son of the founder of the Reynolds tobacco interests, was before courts in two states today.

Reynolds filed a divorce suit yesterday in Dade County Circuit Court on a charge of mental cruelty. The petition said his wife abused him "in a fit of ungovernable temper" in 1941 and that when he was considering running for mayor in the same year, his wife refused to admit prominent citizens to their home in Winston-Salem, N. C.

He was elected mayor in 1942 and resigned to enter the Navy a few months later. He was discharged in September 1945.

Last Monday Mrs. Reynolds filed suit at Winston-Salem for separate maintenance and custody of their four sons. The petition said since his discharge Reynolds had told her he was going to marry another woman, and press, and radio had spread reports that he "had lavished gifts valued at $100,000" upon unidentified woman.

They were married in January, 1933, at Winston-Salem.

An Analysis Of The News

By DEWITT MACKENZIE developed industries, and on the richest parts of northern China. Once they have consolidated their positions, their resources will be far better than those of the generalissimo.

As for fighting forces, the Chinese Reds have between 300,000 and 500,000 men who are well equipped with light arms. Chiang, on the other hand, has more than a million men, besides special police and provincial troops. However, these are scattered throughout China so that actually the Chinese Reds have more troops in northern China than does Chiang.

The Chinese Communists maintain that there is no relation between them and Moscow. General Chou En-Lai, number two Chinese Communist leader and envoy at the Nationalist capital, told me in Chungking in 1943 that there was no connection between the twoisms.

The fact remains, however, that there most assuredly is an affinity of fellowship, and that by remarkable coincidences the Chinese Red troops entering Manchuria have slipped into the positions held by withdrawing Russian Red troops with the greatest of ease. The Chinese Reds also have found arms and ammunition ready at hand in numerous places.

The strategy of the Chinese Communists is to drive Chiang's troops out of northern China altogether and consolidate that great area under a Red government. Indications (Continued on Page Two)

The NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, June 1—(AP)—It's time to examine what use John L. Lewis and the leaders of the striking railroad unions made of a simple art called public relations.

Just remember, here at the beginning, that Lewis got from the government pretty much what he demanded while the railroad unions didn't.

Public relations, briefly, means this: Getting over your side of a story as convincingly as possible to the public in general or the people you're trying to influence.

Big business knows the value of public relations and spends a lot of money on it. For example: The National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

So the CIO and the AFL have publicity offices here and elsewhere and they rush out their views at the drop of an anti-labor speech.

Now how was the coal strike publicity handled? At the beginning of his conferences with the coal mine owners

Lewis made some speeches. As usual, his prose was a little flamboyant.

He told of the poor conditions of the miners, in working and living, but after that he didn't say much that was very specific about his ideas for better wages and hours.

As the prolonged strike progressed, it seems clear to this writer, the miners themselves faded into the background of the public mind which became ever more conscious of Lewis.

In short, it was Lewis who became the symbol of the strike. He dominated the picture, not his miners, and, as time went on and his silences became longer, public heat built up against him.

The chain of events might have been different if the complaints of his miners had been shoved at the public oftener and with more eloquence.

But it wasn't. Nevertheless, in the end, Lewis got pretty much what he wanted. So, for his purpose, maybe his was the best way to handle the miners' public relations.

Now take the striking railroad unions. They wanted $2.50 a day more, plus 45 changes in working conditions which for many of the workers, would have meant more money, in addition to any straight raise.

Those 45 demands at last became the key to the whole strike. Although President Truman offered (Continued on Page Two)

Celebrates Birthday

Grifton, June 1—Little Miss Janet Walston entertained on Thursday afternoon at an enjoyable party in celebration of her sixth birthday. Mrs. Jake Worthington and Mrs. R. E. Walston assisted in entertaining the young people and games were enjoyed. At the refreshment hour they were invited into the basement of the Methodist Church where the birthday table was centered with a beautifully decorated cake with six lighted candles. Ice cream, candies and individual cakes each with a lighted candle were served. Flats were given as favors. There were fifty guests present.

Hostess To Contract Club

Grifton, June 1—Miss Bert Johnson was hostess to members of her contract club and invited players or four tables of bridge on Thursday night at her home here. Lovely arrangements of pink larkspur, blue hydrangeas and dahlias formed a pretty setting for the games. On arrival a delectable supper plate was served. During the games high scores were made by Mrs. Jack Tucker, Mrs. J. L. Quinley and Mrs. Paul Bradley. They were given attractive gifts. Other players were Mrs. H. P. Quinley, Mrs. R. A. Nelson, Mrs. Ivan Bissette, Mrs. Vance Wall, Mrs. Eleanor Gower, Miss Louise Mewborn, Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mrs. Granger Haynes, Mrs. Robert Mewborn, Mrs. Cecil Cobb, Mrs. A. D. Wall, Mrs. Jack Chapman, Miss Hazel Patrick.

Mrs. Oglesby Complimented

Grifton, June 1—Mrs. Edward Hart complimented Mrs. John Oglesby, a bride of May, the former Miss Glennie Hooten, at a delightful informal party on Thursday night at her home here. Colorful bouquets of mixed flowers were used as decorations throughout the rooms where the guests were received. Bingo was played with the prize for the evening going to Mrs. J. C. Hooten. Mrs. Oglesby was remembered with china in her selected pattern as well as a shower of gifts from the guests assembled.

A delightful salad plate with individual cakes and iced drink was served at the conclusion of the games. Guests included close friends of the honoree.

CELEBRITIES AT KIWANIS

By CHESTER WALSH

Ira Thomas, catcher for Connie Mack's Philadelphia in the old days who participated in five world's series, and Robert Lee Humber, international lawyer of Greenville, were special guests of the Greenville Kiwanis Club at its weekly supper meeting last night.

Thomas, a scout for the Athletics, was in the city hobnobbing with Guy Smith, president of the Greenville baseball club, and looking over some of the local players. The famous catcher spoke affectionately of Connie Mack, the "grand old man of baseball," and recalled some interesting events of baseball history when Ty Cobb was in his prime with the Detroit club. Thomas told of farmer boy Joe Jackson, famous Detroit slugger, who objected to wearing shoes because his "toenails could not get a grip on the ground" when chasing flies and running bases.

President Ed Rawl presided and reported that the Kiwanis minstrel made a net profit of $2,154.05 to be used in underprivileged child work.

A feature of the minstrel report was that Chairman W. C. Brooks' advertising committee produced the bulk of the profits of the show. The committeemen were Arthur Tripp, Odell Calhoun, Albert Lum, V. A. Merritt, Bill Taft, Bill Whedbee, Archie Rogers, Glenn Scott, John D. Hice, Tom Wilson and Charley Blair and Regan J. Jones.

Robert Lee Humber, distinguished Greenville lawyer, was introduced by W. J. (Dick) Bundy, grand master of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons.

Mr. Humber, always eloquent, always cheerful, used for his subject the Kiwanis motto, "We Build." He described the character of the men who build the world as being shaped in the home, the school and the church, and painted an impressive word picture of the attributes of character in every-day life. He quoted Winston Churchill, one of the greatest statesmen of all time, and a colleague of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, as saying during the war: "We have the honor to defend civilization alone." Roy Coburn had charge of the program.

V. A. Merritt won the attendance prize given by Judge Dink James. Bill Taft had a birthday and donated a nickel for each year of his age. Guests were Henry Andrews, Jr., Jack Edwards, Seymour Iserson and Dr. Earl W. Holmes, Baptist minister from Youngsville.

Those attending the shower were Mrs. C. D. Clark, Mrs. H. L. Lewis, Mrs. Ernest Alexander, Mrs. Earl Lewis, Mrs. F. A. Hathaway, Mrs. J. C. Moore, Mrs. L. A. Clark, Mrs. Charlie Moore, Mrs. W. D. Lewis, Mrs. E. R. Lewis, Mrs. Dennis Harris, Mrs. Arthur Morris, Mrs. T. W. Thomas, Mrs. H. A. Moore, Mrs. J. C. Parker, Mrs. Pete Brown, Mrs. W. L. Mayo, Mrs. C. W. Harris, Mrs. McAlven Turner, Mrs. Jesse J. Bullock, Mrs. James H. Ward, Mrs. Ben Harris, Mrs. G. R. Harris, Mrs. R. M. Manning and Miss Vera Lewis, Miss Ruth Morris, and Miss Doris Mae Thomas.

EPPE'S HIGH IS HONORED

Negro School Given Loan Fund To Assist Students

Last night at the closing exercises of the C. M. Eppes Negro High School there was presented to the high school a loan fund of $1,500 to be used in the future by graduates of the C. M. Eppes High School for the purpose of attending college. This loan fund, which will continue to grow, was raised largely through the efforts of Mr. Ralph Garrett and was presented to the school by Mr. S. B. Underwood, Jr. for Mr. Garrett and donors. The gift was graciously accepted by Mr. Joseph M. Taft, Vice-Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Greenville City Schools.

The speeches of presentation and acceptance both paid fine tributes to the life of the late C. M. Eppes who was principal of the Negro Schools in Greenville from 1902 until his death in 1943. It was shown in those talks how that Prof. Eppes believed in constructive, cooperative work between the races and how that neither race could progress separately, but that they had to go forward together; that education is essential, that 85 per cent of the Negroes on changing in North Carolina never had the fourth grade, and that the Negroes in North Carolina who have taken advantage of their educational opportunities offered by the State rarely ever have any trouble in the courts.

The exercises were presided over by Prof. W. H. Davenport, supervising principal. Music for the exercises was provided by the C. M. Eppes High School band under the direction of Mr. H. A. McDougle who has been helping the band during the year, and the magnificent glee club under the able direction of Mrs. W. H. Davenport. There were no graduating exercises this year because the school is changing from an 11-year to a 12-year program.

Mayor J. H. Boyd spoke briefly commending the fine work of the schools, the faculty and children as well as the parents, and pledged himself to continue to support the education program of the city and do all in his power to see that there was continued growth and expansion of the school program.

Supt. J. H. Rose told of the great work of Prof. Eppes and that under the direction of Prof. Davenport and his teacher the same ideals constructive citizenship and education preached by Prof. Eppes were being carried on in the schools. He also said the C. M. Eppes School would be completed and new equipment provided along with the new athletic field just as soon as materials can be purchased.

Hog Market

Raleigh, June 1—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog markets active and steady with tops of 14.55 at Clinton and Rocky Mount and 14.90 at Richmond.

Grain Market

Chicago, June 1—(AP)—All old oats contracts moved up to their ceilings, scoring gains ranging to as much as 2½ cents, in a fairly active grain trade today. New contracts were also strong.

At the close new pits contracts were ¼-1½ higher, August 86½, and old contracts were unchanged to 2½.

ARE YOU A "HANDY-ANDY"?

SOME FOLKS are regular "Handy-Andys". They fix plumbing and wiring. They diagnose and treat their own ills, and even write their own wills. Some of them get away with it too—but in the vast majority they are just a pain to the ambulance surgeon and to the emergency squads of the gas and electric companies.

Experience has proven time and again that it is cheaper and better in the end to have experts tackle the job at hand.

That holds true of insurance too—the services of an expert in analyzing your insurance needs may save you thousands of dollars—might even save you from a financial loss which you or your business could not otherwise survive.

We are experts on insurance! It is our business to know the right answers to insurance questions which can affect your well-being. Consult us freely—and we mean freely—for we will be glad to review your insurance protection and make recommendations—at no cost to you!

New York Cotton

New York, June 1—(AP)—Futures opened unchanged to 25 cents a bale higher.

Futures turned strong in late dealings today and closed 15 to 85 cents a bale higher. Final prices were at the day's best levels. Mill price fixing against future textile orders centered in July and strengthened the entire list.

Earlier the market drifted aimlessly over a narrow range as most dealers were inclined to await Washington developments in regards to price control.

Futures closed 15 to 65 cents a bale higher.

School Pays Tribute To Retiring Teacher

An impressive feature of the Greenville High School commencement exercises at the college Thursday night was the presentation by the Board of Trustees of a silver tray to Mrs. Nellie Broden Herring, who retired at the end of the session under the state teachers' retirement plan after a lifetime of faithful service.

The student body rose in a body as a tribute to Mrs. Herring when Supt. June H. Rose presented her the gift.

Women's Club Close Three-Day Meeting

Greensboro, N. C., June 1—(AP)—The North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs concluded its three day annual convention here yesterday, after adopting resolutions on a number of public matters.

The federation went on record as opposing universal military training. It favored the North Carolina hospital and medical care program. Officers installed at the final session included: Mrs. Ed M. Anderson, West Jefferson, first vice president; Mrs. T. Frederick Henry, Salisbury, treasurer; Mrs. R. R. Cusick, Raleigh, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Edward M. Land, Statesville, member of the board of trustees.

Mrs. Karl Bishop, Spray, continues in office another year as president.

Meat Supply . . .

Increased black market activity in butter also was noted. With legitimate sales channels failing to benefit from the modest spring gain in production. The department estimated May butter production will be 30 per cent below the same month last year, and 50 per cent under May 1941. One cause advanced for the output drop was the more profitable market now existing for cream.

Department officials were hopeful, however, that the higher price ceilings announced Wednesday for the dairy industry will encourage greater butter production. The new ceilings authorize an advance in butter prices of about 11 cents a pound.

Roxas Ready . . .

CANT STOP

Philadelphia, June 1—(AP)—Six Baltimore & Ohio Railroad employees, who between them served 270 years continuously with the carrier, were retired on pension.

Three of them—James E. Johnson, 88, Dr. Charles W. Pence, 74, and Charles E. Webb, 70, all Philadelphians—said they'd spend a lot of their spare time traveling.

REMINDERS

Del Mar, Calif., June 1—(AP)—Sixty war veterans who work at the luxurious Del Mar Hotel resumed workday work after surprising guests with a Memorial Day turnout in their former service uniforms.

The guests saw a former lieutenant-commander who is now assistant boiler-tender to an ex-private. Others included majors, captains and lieutenants were toting luggage, and Futrell, if . . .

From the nation's capitol, also, it was reported that Lewis—traditionally a leading participant in the anthracite talks—was expected to join the meeting sometime next week.

Yesterday's meeting of subcommittees broke up without any agreements on points discussed.

Kennedy declared at a news conference after the closed meeting: "The subcommittee discussed wages, the health and welfare program, and related subjects which involved practically all the propositions which the miners have made. There were no conclusions."
