HOBBS LABOR BILL COMING UP FOR VOTE

Backers Expect Approval In Senate For 'Anti-Racketeering' Labor Bill

Washington, June 18—(AP)—Republican and Democratic backers counted today on overwhelming approval already voted by both houses to force early Senate action on the Hobbs "anti-racketeering" labor bill.

Senator Hatch (D-NM), who unexpectedly jockeyed the measure out of the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday, told a reporter he will move soon to bring it up for a final vote.

He added that he will resist any attempts to amend the measure, despite the objections President Truman raised to its wording when it was presented to him as part of the Case labor disputes legislation he vetoed.

The bill originally offered by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala.) and passed by a wide House margin, would declare it a felony to interfere by robbery or extortion or by threats or violence with movement of goods in interstate commerce.

Mr. Truman said he favored these objectives but added that Congress should make it clear the measure does not "make it a felony to strike and picket peacefully."

The Case bill provision, approved by a 59 to 22 Senate vote, was identical with the Hobbs bill the House had passed.

Hatch said he thought Mr. Truman had been given a wrong interpretation of the measure.

"It doesn't interfere with any legitimate union activity," he declared. "There is no need for amendments in peaceful picketing or strikes and when it is explained fully I think all will agree that it is a good bill."

Sponsors of the legislation have said it is aimed chiefly at some unions which take the position that anyone bringing produce to a union-organized market must pay for a union driver, whether such a driver actually is employed.

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said he will join Hatch and others in attempting to get Senate approval of the measure without changes. This move might land it on the President's desk ahead of any other labor bill, including Mr. Truman's own emergency legislation.

TERRORISM IN MIDDLE EAST SPREADS FAST

Extremists Kidnap British Officers; Pitched Battles In Palestine Towns

Jerusalem, June 18—(AP)—A reliable informant said four British officers were kidnapped today from an officers club at Tel Aviv by a dozen Jewish extremists armed with tommyguns.

The new outbreak of terrorism spreading throughout Palestine came after a wild night in Haifa when nine Jews were killed in a pitched battle after they attacked the central railroad shops. The deaths during gunfire and 15 explosions at the railway yards raised the toll in recent days to 18 deaths.

The informant reporting the kidnaping at Tel Aviv said the bandits were believed to be members of the Jewish extremist organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi. The British officers were believed seized as hostages against the impending execution of two Irgun members, sentenced to death last week for participating in a raid last March on a British army camp.

The dozen terrorists raided the Hotel Yarkon, which has been a leading officers club in Tel Aviv for several years. Their victims were blindfolded and forced into taxicabs the informant said.

The British War Office in London expressed surprise when informed of the reported kidnaping, asserting that "this is the first we have heard of it."

Reuters reported from Tel Aviv that the British Sixth Airborne (Continued on Page Four)

RED CROSS IN FIRST PEACE TIME MEETING

National Convention Is First Since '41; Truman Sends Welcome Message

Philadelphia, June 18.—(AP)—The Red Cross despite its tremendous war contributions can become an even greater force for unity among the peoples of the world, President Truman said in a message read today at the opening of the 21st convention of the national organization.

Unable to attend because of pressure of official duties, President Truman's letter of welcome to more than 4,000 delegates swas read to them at flag-bedecked Convention Hall by National Chairman Basil O'Connor.

Mr. Truman said that by reason of its global work, "the emblem of the Red Cross can mean even more in help and service to individuals. It can become a great force for unity among peoples of the world."

O'Connor said earlier that the Red Cross will not be able to return to a peacetime budget for an indefinite period and urged that the public be educated not to expect an immediate and drastic reduction of its wartime operating expenses.

Opening the group's first meeting since 1941—it lasts until Friday—O'Connor made it plain to more than 6,000 delegates from all parts of the United States and the world that "every Red Cross society is the expression of the highest human instinct, the hand of humanity extended in help to all who need it, whoever they may be."

"That expression among the family of nations," he said in a prepared address, "is the league of Red Cross societies which now number 60 members."

O'Connor said the Red Cross has a unique position in the world. "No national boundaries are closed; no political considerations intrude; race and religion are not obstacles; the issue of national security which forever plagues the efforts of nations to develop a framework of peace is no barrier," he asserted.

Southern Michigan And Adjacent Ontario Suffer Millions Of Dollars In Property Damage; Twister Takes Toll Of Over Seventeen Lives, Large Numbers Injured

Detroit, June 18—(AP)—A freak June tornado struck viciously Monday night in Southern Michigan and adjacent Ontario, Canada, and left behind today a death toll of at least 17 and more than 100 injured. Searching parties hunted through a 100-foot path of devastation in Canada for possible additional victims. The identified dead totaled 13, but hospitals in the Windsor area reported at least seven or eight other victims critically injured and near death.

The search through the debris began at the first streak of dawn less than 12 hours after the twister roared across the Detroit River and into a sparsely settled rural area near Windsor.

River Rouge, Mich., a Detroit suburb, and home of the huge Ford Motor Company Rouge plant, sustained the first shock of the tornado shortly after 6 p. m., but Tully, Sandwich, Ont., bore the full fury of the blast.

Property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars. Hundreds of persons were homeless as the wind toppled their homes like so many straws.

Business establishments were badly wrecked, autos tossed about like playthings and bodies of the victims were buffeted as the tornado reached its zenith.

The tornado, climaxing two days of violent rainstorms in the area struck without warning.

Scores of residents of popular River Rouge were at their suburban homes when it hit.

The tornado, which Weather bureau officials said traveled through 250 miles a hour, tore through the business district of River Rouge, leaving a path of destruction in its wake.

It then zoomed across the Detroit River, the suction of the tornado creating four huge waterspouts. Coast Guardsmen said that as far as they knew, no boats (Continued on Page Four)

Army Lifts Veil On Molten Jet Weapon

Has Initial Velocity Of Almost 5 Miles Per Second; Ordnance Enthusiastic Over Progress In Research

Washington, June 18—(AP)—The Army lifted the edge of a blueprint today to disclose a fantastic weapon that may develop into a defense against atomic rockets or armored space-ships laden with a-bombs.

It is a jet of molten metal which has an initial velocity of almost five miles a second.

Although still in the research and planning stages, the possibility of the horrendous new weapon has experts in the Army Ordnance Department enthusiastic.

They concede that adapting it to a robot anti-atomic jet defense is going to require a bit of coning, however.

The first hint of the molten jet was dropped in a dully-worded War Department announcement which reported that postwar research of the ordnance arm is gradually out-moding many standard weapons used in the world war of a year ago.

Maj. Gen. Everett S. Hughes, chief of Ordnance, is of the opinion the high-explosive bullets and projectiles that fighter pilots pumped into enemy aircraft probably will be replaced in a few years by the new high-speed metallic jet, traveling at an initial velocity of 25,000 feet a second.

CLAIMS COURT GRANTS AWARD

Innocent Man Given $115,000 For Term In Sing-Sing

Albany, N. Y., June 18—(AP)—Bertram M. Campbell, who served 40 months in Sing Sing Prison for forgeries later confessed by another man, has been awarded $115,000 by New York state for humiliation and loss of liberty and earnings.

The State Court of Claims, declaring the 59-year-old Floral Park bookkeeper a "victim of a miscarriage of justice," granted the award yesterday.

Campbell, a former Wall Street customers' man, was convicted at New York City in 1938 on a charge of forging two checks and was sentenced to from five to 10 years in Sing Sing. He was on parole for three years and 10 months after his release from prison in 1941.

Governor Dewey, who was Manhattan's district attorney when he was convicted, pardoned Campbell last August after Alexander D. I. Thiel confessed the crime for which Campbell was imprisoned. Dewey who did not personally prosecute the case, also asked the Legislature to authorize Campbell to sue the State for damages.

Campbell sought $100,000 for loss of liberty and humiliation and $15,000 for loss of earnings.

He agreed, during his Court of Claims suit early in May, to accept $40,000 for loss of earnings. The court yesterday approved, in effect (Continued on Page Four)

Man To Answer For Extortion Attempt

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 18—(AP)—Henry C. Swaim, 34, was under $3,500 bond today for his appearance in federal district court here next November to answer to a charge of attempting to extort $1,000 from his father, S. A. Swaim.

The younger Swaim was arrested early yesterday by Winston-Salem police and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge at a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Charles E. Ader.

Swaim testified at the commissioner's hearing that he tried to extort the money, under threat of the disappearance of his seven-year-old daughter, in order to pay debts which included the support of the child.

"I just didn't realize what I was doing," he testified. "I certainly wouldn't do any harm to my father or my own daughter. I wanted a loan and I was ashamed to go to him and ask for it."

Fifth District Run-Off Taking On A New Significance

Raleigh, June 18—(AP)—Organized labor and big money are across the fence in the Fifth Congressional District run-off primary.

Although he said he didn't ask for it, Rep. John H. Folger has the support of the Political Action Committee of the CIO. His opponent, Thurmond Chatham of Winston-Salem and Elkin, is a millionaire blanket manufacturer who also has the backing of the rich Hanes family.

One of the hottest campaigns in modern annals of North Carolina is the result. Only 59 votes separated the opponents in the first primary, with Chatham having the edge.

Since the May 25 balloting, charges and counter charges have been hurled back and forth over the sprawling Fifth District. Folger and his supporters claim that Chatham and his backers have spent close to $200,000 a far cry from the $6,000 which the state law allows a congressional candidate to spend in the first primary. Chatham retorted with the charge that Folger's skirts were not too clean, and that outside influences, particularly labor, were actively affiliating themselves with Folger.

On the basis of reports filed with the secretary of state, however, the first campaign cost Folger more than it did Chatham. Chatham said he spent $5,476.06, and had contributions of $4,310. Folger listed expenditures of $4,845.63, and contributions of 3,577.34. Thus Mr. Chatham spent $1,166.06 of his own money and Rep. Folger 1,267.69.

In a preliminary report, Chatham said he expected to have no expenditures or contributions in the second primary. Folger's preliminary estimate of the cost of the run-off has not been received.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 18—(AP)—Here's an explanation of this country's plan for controlling atomic energy and the atomic bomb.

It was offered last Friday by our representative, Bernard Baruch, to the United Nations' special atomic commission.

The United Nations will start discussing it in New York tomorrow. There'll be other discussions after that, inside and outside the U. N.

Even if the plan were adopted now—there's no sign it will be—it would take years to put it into full operation. Why?

Because the plan is vastly complicated and has to be worked out in detail, step by step. Here's the plan:

The United Nations would agree binding themselves by treaties, to outlaw the atomic bomb as a weapon of war.

They'd agree to set up a board, calling the atomic development authority, with more power than any international board ever had.

It would check the whole world for deposits of raw materials which could be used for making atomic explosives. It would control them.

Wherever they were found, the nation owning them would have to turn over control to the authority.

Then the authority would say who could have them, and for what purpose.

This would make it tough for any which, violating its agreement wanted to sneak off the materials to make bombs secretly.

The authority could issue license to plants which wanted to use atomic energy for peaceful purposes and could inspect them.

When the authority had gone on through the necessary preliminary work, and the necessary agreements had been made, this country would turn over its atomic secrets to the authority.

It is willing to do more: When that time comes it is willing to destroy its supply of atomic bombs.

But Baruch didn't say our atomic bombs would have to be destroyed. He said they could be "disposed of" according to the terms of the agreements.

So if the authority wanted to keep a supply of the bombs some place, perhaps to use against any nation which broke the treaties that apparently would be all right with this country.

(At least, Baruch's proposal appears to indicate this.)

But there's another point, an important one.

The authority would take over any plants which could make atomic explosives. Then down through the years, starting off with the (Continued on Page Four)

Ex-Premier Defends Japan's Right To Attack Others Without Warning

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two stories based on an exclusive statement to the Associated Press by Hideki Tojo, defending himself before the International War Crimes Tribunal.)

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, June 18—(AP)—Japan in her major international commitments always reserved the right to fight in self defense and this right included attacking without warning. Hideki Tojo, former Japanese premier, said in his prison cell answer to the prosecution's opening statement at his war crimes trial.

Tojo charged the United States was guilty of "planned mass massacre" in its bombing pattern for Japan, and "trampled on treaties in its conduct of the war."

Tojo's statement indicated that the defense would contend that Japan was forced into the Pacific war in self defense.

The former Japanese leader asserted that even the Kellogg Pact outlawing war permitted war in self defense. He added that Japan in "entering this pact, reserved the right to fight for protection outside the range of the treaty."

For the same reason, he said, Japan was "not bound by the Hague Convention regarding the opening of a war. It follows that even if a final message is to be sent, it is not a violation of treaties if such a message 'fails to conform to pro-

Change In Attitude Of USSR On Italy Evident

Savings Held BY ONLY FEW

Washington, June 18—(AP)—The great mass of American consumers will have to rely on current earnings and credit to finance the heavy postwar buying they plan, a federal survey indicated today.

The study, made by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics for the Federal Reserve Board, presented his picture:

Two out of every five families have, on the average, only $40 each saved in such quickly cashable assets as savings bonds, other securities and bank deposits.

This group, although accounting for 40 per cent of the nation's families, came out of the war years with only one per cent of all such assets in the country.

The next 30 per cent of the families, occupying the middle ground on the national scale, accounted for an additional 11 1/2 per cent of the ready assets.

In contrast, the top 30 per cent of the nation's families emerged holding 87 1/2 per cent of the quick assets, with each family credited with at least $1,100.

And the topmost 10 per cent of his family segment represented 67 per cent of all such national assets, averaging $10,500 per family.

A Federal Reserve official said the survey findings pointed to the (Continued on Page Four)

Lenient Reparation Demands By Soviet Give Rise To Hopes Of Settlement; Molotov Wants Lighter Burden For Italians

By JOSEPH DYNAN

Washington, June 18—(AP)—A compromise between Russia and the western powers on the question of Italian reparations appeared in the making today as the Big Four foreign ministers turned their attention to the sum which Italy must pay for joining with the Nazis in waging war.

A more lenient Russian attitude toward Italy, apparent in yesterday's discussion of minor economic phases of the Italian peace treaty, gave rise to hopes that the reparations issue might be settled.

Reparations, along with the future of the port of Trieste and the disposition of Italian colonies, were a principal stumbling block which prevented the ministers from reaching any major agreements at their meeting here last month.

American informants quoted the Russian foreign minister, V. M. Molotov, as saying during the discussions yesterday that he wanted to make the burden on the Italian people as light as possible.

At another phase in the debate Molotov sought to place a ceiling on the total damages Italy might be required to pay to Allied nations for the loss of their property within Italy.

Sources close to U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes speculated on whether the western powers might relax some of their objections to Russia's reparations proposals in return for Soviet consent to slice down other economic penalties (Continued on Page Four)

Legion Meeting Goes Into Last Sessions

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 18—(AP)—Election of officers and selection of next year's convention city headed the program as the North Carolina Department of the American Legion entered the final session of its annual convention here today.

William M. York of Greensboro and J. Wade Hendricks of Statesville were the only announced candidates for the post of department commander, while W. Bryan Bode of Winston-Salem, the incumbent, and Claude Ramsay of Raleigh were candidates for the post of national committeeman.

Col. Leonard H. Nason, author and veteran of both world wars, was slated to be the closing day's principal speaker.

Yesterday's session was highlighted by reports from various committees and state commander Victor Johnson of Pittsboro and State Adjutant Jim Caldwell of Raleigh.

Commander Johnson reported that the legion, with a total of 67,000 members, has more than doubled its membership in the past year.

Reynolds Divorce Hearing Monday

Miami, Fla., June 18—(AP)—Circuit Judge George E. Holt will hold a hearing here Monday on divorce suits brought by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. (Dick) Reynolds against each other.

Reynolds, millionaire sportsman and former mayor of Winston-Salem, N. C., filed his action May 31; his wife, the former Elizabeth Dillard, filed a countersuit yesterday.

The couple, who have four children, had previously reached an agreement for a property settlement, according to an announcement by Mrs. Reynolds' attorney.

In her suit, Mrs. Reynolds said her husband showed a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde personality."

"The frequency with which he went from one extreme to the other made his life take on the characteristics of a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," her complaint alleged.

At the same time she denied that she possessed a "violent and ungovernable temper," as Reynolds said and contended.

She related that Reynolds, while overseas as a navy officer in the recent war, frequently wrote of his plans for resuming a family life but after his return she stated he told her he would not live with her further and planned to marry another woman, who was not identified.

She charged that he had bestowed gifts worth $100,000 upon his other woman.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

India's progress towards absolute independence from England has taken a turn which is without parallel, and one worth watching.

There has been the strange spectacle of the mother country notifying the warring Indian political factions that if they can't reconcile their differences enough to work together in a provisional government, then she will set up an interim regime arbitrarily. She will start the government going with such Indians as are willing to serve.

In short, if the fledglings won't take to the air on their initiative, they will be shoved out of the nest and made to fly.

What has happened is this: The two major political parties—the All India Congress, made up largely of Hindus, and the Moslem League—decided after much bargaining of midnight oil that the British government's new offer of full sovereignty was worthy of provisional trial. Thereupon the Viceroy, Field Marshal Lord Wavell, proposed that the interim government (that is, cabinet) be composed of five representatives from the All India Congress, five from the Moslem League and five from the smaller sections of India's four hundred millions, including the lowly "untouchables."

This precipitated a fresh deadlock. The Congress followers, who outnumber the Moslems three to one, weren't willing to concede parity to their rivals, and the Moslems wouldn't take less. And that's where the matter stands as this is written.

There has been no indication that any of the Indian leaders have given recognition to the fact that the exact composition of the provisional cabinet really doesn't matter, since the next step would be the selection of a constituent assembly in which there would be proportional representation. This assembly would draw up the constitution for a new federal government.

Anyway, faced by this new stalemate, Lord Wavell and the British government mission issued a statement which served notice that there's going to be a provisional government irrespective of hold-outs. I've met Wavell, by the way, and while he is a gentle and friendly sort, he can be most resistant. What affects this edict will have remains to be seen, but hope still burns.

The British government thus has established a precedent, so far as my memory goes, by thrusting independence onto the mighty subcontinent which is the greatest prize of the empire. But while the action is a precedent, the idea for it isn't new. As I've previously reported in this column, when I was (Continued on Page Four)

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

June 18, 1906

The Charlotte Observer vowed it would never call it anything but a flying machine, yet in the very next item referred to it as an airship.

They keep talking about whether it shall be a lock or sea level canal, but no one alive today will be living when one of either kind is built. Yet while the discussions and preliminaries are going they will spend enough money to build half a dozen canals if it was all paid for digging.

There may be some warmer days than today, but we are not hankering after them.

The tobacco warehousemen are beginning to stir themselves in preparation for the next season.

Come on out and enjoy an hour of good clean fun and help this worthy cause.

Wilkerson-Morris

Little Bridges chapel on the Pomona campus at Claremont, California, was the scene Sunday, May 5, of the wedding of Miss Mary Louise Morris, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sydney Morris of Hoquiam and Captain Joseph Louis Wilkerson, Medical Corps, U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilkerson of Greenville, North Carolina.

The simple but impressive ceremony was read at high noon in the chapel, which is hung with blue velvet draperies and carpeted in matching blue. The only note of color was the gold organ in the chapel, upon which Miss Virginia Wood played the wedding marches.

The wedding party stood before an altar banked with white flowers and lighted by tapers in tall floor candelabra. Of interest is the fact that it is traditional for Pomona alumni to be married in this chapel.

The petite bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory jersey fashioned on classical lines, with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a draped bodice. The gown had a court length train, which extended in graceful folds from the molded waistline. A Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls held the misty folds of bridal illusion veil to the bride's blonde head and she carried an all-white shower bouquet of carnations and sweet peas, centered with white orchids and tied with long streamers of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Donald Morris, sister-in-law of the bride, acted as matron of honor and her gown was of pink chiffon with sweetheart neckline, full length lace inserts in the full skirt and tiny lace sleeves. She carried an arm bouquet of mixed spring flowers tied with pink satin ribbon.

Miss Peggy Smith of Ojai, California, was bridesmaid and her dress was of blue chiffon made similar to that of the matron of honor. Before the ceremony, Miss Alice Belkin of Calgary, Canada, dressed in a violet chiffon gown-like that of the bridesmaid, lighted the many cathedral candles. The attendants both carried arm bouquets of white carnations and pink sweetpeas tied with long white satin streamers.

Captain William Kreutzer, medical corps, U. S. army, acted as best man for Captain Wilkerson and the groomsmen were Mr. Donald Morris and Mr. Jack Morris, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Oliver S. Morris, mother of the bride, wore a street length frock of oyster white crepe, a small navy hat and she carried navy blue accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of pink and white orchids.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Louise Barbee of Hermosa Beach, California, sang "Always" and "All For You." Miss Virginia Wood was accompanist and also played the wedding processional from Lohengrin and the recessional.

More than 100 friends and relatives attended the reception which was held following the service at the home of Mrs. Harriet Gibson and Miss Jessie Gibson, grandmother and aunt of the bride. Mrs. Sydney Moore cut the wedding cake and Miss May Frank of Claremont and Miss Jean Sullivan of San Bernardino served the punch. The bride's table was centered with a tiered wedding cake, flanked by banquets of carnations, sweet peas, Talisman roses and orange blossoms. Tall bouquets of Talisman roses were used about the rooms of the Gibson home.

When the couple left later for a two week wedding trip to Laguna Beach the bride was wearing a suit of turquoise gabardine, a tiny white hat, and she carried white accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

After June 1 the couple will be at home to friends at Grass Valley while the bridegroom is stationed at nearby Camp Beale.

The bride was graduated from Hoquiam high school and from Pomona College, where she was a member of Associated Women Students Executive council, chairman of Vocational Activities on the Campus and Senior Woman's Sponsor to Freshman Women. She has been an American Red Cross staff aide at Mitchell Convalescent hospital, Camp Lockett and Camp Beale, both in California.

Captain Wilkerson was graduated from the School of Medicine at Wake Forest College, North Carolina, and he interned at the University of Iowa.

Reports Second Case Polio Here

The second case of polio has been reported to Dr. N. Thomas Ennett, head of the Pitt County Health Department, he announced today.

Elijah Jenkins, colored, 21-2-year-old son of Mrs. Maybelle Jenkins, 311 Long street, stricken with the disease last week, was taken to the North Carolina Orthopedic Hospital at Gastonia today by a Flanagan and Parker ambulance. A physician reported the case to the Health Department last Saturday.

An eager group, consisting of 14 young women, met at the home of Mrs. Thomas L. Long on Monday evening, June 17, for the purpose of organizing a young woman's auxiliary of Reedy Branch Church.

Red Oak News

The wedding bells are ringing out their gay message to the folks in Red Oak community. They are telling of the wedding of the young and pretty Miss Sallie Samanta Wantaman to the aged bachelor of our community, old man Hates-to-do-it. Yes, she's finally hooked him folks, and although the poor man is hardly able to walk on the account of his rheumatism, the bride has insisted on a big wedding with flower girls, ring-bearers, bridesmaid, etc. She has invited all the big shots of the community and already Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Tripp and Mr. and Mrs. Ola Kitzell have said they would be there. We have also heard that the bride's baby brother is coming with his daddy and mama. We are surprised at this, as they say he's a mighty spoiled little brat, cries all the time, and although he is five years old, he still has to have his bottle. We do hope he behaves himself at the wedding.

Little Miss Pattie Thecutesthing and Miss Lawrence B. Crosby Tyson will be soloist and little Carl Crawford and the Tyson twins will be there, short dresses and all.

S-2c Patrick Jenks Pianoorgan, who was recently discharged from the navy will furnish the music. It cost a huge sum of money to get this talented musician to come to North Carolina for this wedding, but it will be worth it when you hear him play all that gay wedding music.

The master of ceremonies will be that well known French comedienne, Mr. Le Oter Jen Kins Butterball.

Those participating in the wedding are: Hazard May, Joseph Tyson, Milton May, Carl Crawford, Leon and Raymond Tyson, Amos Evans, Amos Ray Evans, Billy May, Lenwood Heath, Jarvis Tripp, Jr., Lawrence Tyson, James Sydney Allen, Tom Baker, Charles Manning, Waddell Manning, Robert Allen, Mr. Moye, James Joyner, Joe Jenkins

Allen, J. T. Manning, Johnnie Karsick, Lanier Daniels, Jim Nobles, Kirby Allen, Leroy James, Max Joyner and Mr. Simmons.

You are invited to come and help a good cause as the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the church. The wedding will be over with in time for those who wish to listen to the fight over the radio which will be out there. Come one! Come all!

Grand Master Goes On Speaking Tour

Talk On Dairying At Rotary Club

By WYATT BROWN North Carolina produces less dairy products than those consumed though the industry has doubled in the last fifteen years according to figures given by L. L. Ray of the North Carolina Products Association last night at the Rotary Club. There is a future for the industry in North Carolina and the hope it will further expand in Eastern North Carolina he further stated.

First thing Mr. Ray said he wanted to pay tribute to the cows and the farmers and farmer wives who milked the cows for what they accomplished during the war. Frozen dairy products were shipped in quantities by North Carolina producers to many foreign nations.

He said he did not undervalue the tobacco industry and did not picture dairying as competing with it but rather complementing it to supplement the farmer's income. With statistics he showed the way the dairy industry looms nationally in the financial picture.

Though North Carolina consumes only half per capita for the national average of dairy products consumed annually, North Carolina does not produce enough to take care of her needs. Four million tons of fluid milk were shipped into North Carolina last year. Seven hundred thousand cows are needed.

"We have a long way to go. Eastern North Carolina has an opportunity to go a long way with it," he said.

He took time to give his explanation of the butter shortage. He said it was due to presence of a ceiling on butter and cream rising greatly in price.

Joe Tait was a guest of the club last night. Everyone was delighted to see Fordy Harding back at a meeting after a prolonged absence. Mr. Ray was presented by John Webb, chairman of the Program Committee. John Proctor, club president, presided.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

STAND BY WITH THE BASKETS
A snake charmer on the streets of a city in India was surrounded by the customary crowd of curious and fascinated people. After his performance he picked up his snakes and put them back in the baskets. As he was about to leave, someone reminded him that he had missed a reptile or two. After diligent search one was found curled beneath a nearby bush and another lying beneath a bolt of cloth.

We thought when peace was declared that we had put all the ve-nomous reptiles back into their baskets. We had, it is true, succeeded in forcing the huge serpent known as armed conflict into a place of safe keeping—for the time being at least. But what were other serpents still at large. Suspicion was still slithering through the counsel rooms of state departments. Desire for rule was still coiled in a dark corner, waiting to sink its fangs into society when famine and desperation had weakened the populations of continents. When the strikes suddenly hit our economy,
we were startled to find that there were a lot of snakes which were not back in their baskets.

We need constantly to be awake to our danger. There will always be venomous influences lying in wait to inflict injury on a weakened humanity. But government exists for the purpose of protecting society against such persons and influences.
All the snakes are not yet back in their baskets. But let's get them there as quickly as possible.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

DAYBOOK
Washington — One employment field in which veterans are getting preference rights is in the federal civil service.
The Veterans Preference act of 1944 followed the suggestion of President Roosevelt when he said
"it is absolutely impossible to take millions of our young men out of their normal pursuits for the purpose of fighting to preserve the nation, and then expect them to resume their normal activities without having any special consideration shown them."
Right now civil service is in the middle of reversion. During the war all new positions under C.S. jurisdiction were put on a "war service" basis—good for the duration plus six months. War service regulations were ended by a Presidential order last February.
The Veterans Preference act gives non-disabled veterans, both men and women, a five-point preference on C.S. examinations. Disabled ex-service people get a ten-point preference and are placed at the top of the list of eligibles certified for C.S. positions. This process virtually assures them a job if jobs are available.

Ever since the Civil War, and long before the Civil Service act of 1883, special consideration has gone to veterans desiring work in the federal branch of the government.
But the Veterans Preference act of 1944 extends by far the most liberal benefits. Preference goes even to widows of veterans and to wives of veterans who themselves are so disabled as to be unable to qualify for C.S. jobs.
Widows get a ten-point preference whether or not their husbands' death were due to service.
Veterans with a service-connected disability rated 10 percent or more who went to work for civil service under the war regulations setup can get their war service appointments made permanent if they've held their jobs for a year.

Until C.S. gets back on its old familiar ground once again, and establishes "registers" as the result of competitive examinations, appointments to federal positions under C.S. jurisdiction are strictly temporary, and hiring can be done
by individual government agencies.
It will be many months before examinations for all types of positions are ready.

The World Today

in India in 1943 I raised the question of whether just such strong-arm methods weren't called for, and got an affirmative response from prominent Indian leaders.
Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, the famous Indian Liberal, was one of these. Sir Tej is noted as a mediator and often has been called in to bridge gaps between the British and the extreme Nationalists.
He is a Kashmiri Brahmin which is the highest Hindu caste, but despite his aristocracy he is so democratic that he has even dined with the outcast "untouchables." I visited Sir Tej in his home at Allahabad and during a long talk about the grave differences between the great political parties, asked him what he thought of the "strong-arm" idea of bringing them together. He replied:
"I believe that Britain should use
the strong-arm method and set up a provisional national government.
Let those Indian parties who don't want to play the game stay outside.
Let the rest carry on. If none of the parties agree to participate,
then England will be free to continue her imperialistic policy."

The Nation

formation given by us, it would do research in atomic explosives.
What does this mean? It means the authority would stay abreast of atomic science developments.
By keeping up to date on how explosives could be made, it would know when any country was trying sneakily to make one in a new and, perhaps, improved, manner.
And if any nation had made a supply of bombs secretly the authority, because of its own research, could turn out bombs fast to use
against the treaty-breaker.
(This was not stated in the American plan, but the implication certainly is plain.)
How could a nation break its agreement? By illegally possessing a bomb, having in its possession material which could be used in a bomb, seizing any plant or other property owned or licensed by the authority, for willfully interfering with the authority's work.
For example: If some nation, in whose territory the authority had an explosive research plant, seized that plant, it could be regarded by the other nations as an attempt to make bombs and therefore an act
of war.
This outline of the American plan
is given here with a reminder:
It may seem all right to us. Other nations may pick holes in it or because they distrust us or refuse to play ball with the United Nat-

Molotov had insisted at the last meeting that Italy pay $100,000,000 in reparations to the Soviet and $200,000,000 to Yugoslavia, Greece and Albania. The western powers asserting that Italy's economy could not stand such a direct levy, urged at that time that reparations payments be in the form of Italian warships and other categories of specified materials.
But the meeting agreed yesterday to a U. S. proposal that any Allied nation holding Italian property be allowed to use that property to defray claims of its nationals against Italy. At the same time, the conference voted to require Italy to renounce any claims or damages against Allied nationals arising from the war.

a tooth paste tube when squeezed,
a patient Ordnance spokesman ex-

high speed that it could be deflected. That is, it would go right through the armor-plate of a plane flying an atomic bomb. It could punch an atomic rocket right on the nose.
If the jet travels at 25,000 feet a second—and that speed is known to be possible—its spurting flash of molten metal could catch up with a V-2, for that weapon travels at only 5,000 feet a second. A bullet lags at 3,000 feet a second. Sounds drags along at 1,120 feet a second.
Col. Leslie E. Simon, director of the Ordnance Department's ballistic research laboratory at Aberdeen proving ground in Maryland, said rapid strides are expected in the immediate future toward an understanding of the possibilities of "high-speed metallic jets produced by shaped charges."

DOG AND CAT FLEAS A PEST

Stray Animals Strew Army Of Biting Insects In Their Paths
By CHESTER WALSH
The epidemic of fleas on premises where stray dogs roam in packs in search of food in garbage receptacles is causing much discomfort to householders and others. Some persons are spraying their yards and porches with DDT, others continue to suffer. Incidentally, the canine and feline-borne fleas cause disease when they bite. Many dogs have disappeared—gone to the "happy hunting ground" since the Department of Health declared a quarantine on dogs in this area as a precaution against hydrophobia. There are still too many of them, fleas bitten citizens declare. Under the dog quarantine law, any law-enforcement officer may kill any dog
on sight when running at large.
There continues to be much resentment here among the citizens against many dogs overturning their garbage cans, uprooting their flowers and fighting on front and back porches during the night and early morning. Stray dogs are Public Enemy No. 1 when they bite
some person and cause hydrophobia.
They are Public Enemy No. 2 by their barking at night and roaming in packs all over the city.
Incidentally, there are about 19
cats to every square block in Greenville, and they spread fleas—the hard-biting species. Walking downtown in the mornings one may observe many cats resting comfortably on cushions in porch swings,
chairs or benches, depositing fleas
to make life miserable for the family when they sit on the porches at night. Mosquitoes are being blamed for a lot of biting being done by dog and cat fleas. In the meantime when you see your neighbors vigorously scratching their lower extremities, they are simply flea-bitten victims of stray cats and dogs.
The mosquitoes are not guilty, said
Traffic Officer Herbert E. Wooten, who gets over more of the city every day than anybody else in town.
The quarantine laws against dogs running at large should also be applied to cats, flea victims say.

"Pin-Worms Can't Get My Child!"

Butter learn the Truth, Mother!
Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms. And these pests, living and growing inside the human body, can cause real distress. So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—especially the annoying rectal itch. If you suspect this ugly infection, get JAY'S P-W right away and follow the directions.
P-W is the name of the Pin-Worm tablets developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, after years of patient research. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets set in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back. Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Dwight Wall, who has seen action in the Coastal Plain League before, is no stranger to the league fans. He formerly played with Snow Hill and Ayden Clubs, playing for Snow Hill in '39 and '40, and also played for Ayden in the Coastal Plain League when the league was operated as a semi-pro outfit. He is rated as a limited service man. Wall made his first appearance for the Greenies in Rocky Mount last night and in the first game of the double-header collected two singles in five trips to the plate and drove in three of the Greenies' runs.

Joseph M. Parise, who hails from New York City, is another outfielder added to the Greenies' roster. Parise has been playing the current season in the outer garden for Burlington in the Carolina League. His record there shows that he has been hitting at a 287 per cent clip. He is on option from the Burlington Club. Parise likewise made his first appearance in a Greenie uniform in Rocky Mount last night and collected a double and a single in four trips to the bat in the first game, and in the second game drove in the Greenies' only run. He is a rookie.

James V. Hoots, who hails from Hendersonville, has been added to the pitching staff. He is a tall right-hander and has also been playing the current season for the Burlington Club. Hoots pitched the second game of the double-header in Rocky Mount last night, but like all players making their initial appearance in a club, was a bit jittery and nervous.

Bernie Mayer, Greenies' third sacker and outfielder, has been called to San Antonio, Texas on account of sickness in his family. He left here suddenly Sunday afternoon and it is not known whether or not he will return.

Two Greenville players have been given their releases by Manager Virgil Payne. They are Charlie Futrell, Greenville boy, who played in the outfield, but just could not seem to get his hitting eye right. The other player released was Don Littell, left-handed pitcher.

Greenies Split Second Double-Header Monday

The Greenville baseballers slugged out a 13-3 win over the Rocky Mount nine in the first game of yesterday's double header despite the five errors counted against them. The Greenies had a relapse in the second game and allowed the Rocks a 5-1 victory in the night-cap. Benton, pitching for Greenville in the first game, granted but five hits to the league-leaders, and his teammates collected eighteen off their opposing pitchers.

Hoots, on the mound for Greenville in the second game, ran into stiffer competition and gave up eleven hits; the Greenies' batters in turn collected but two.

Yesterday marked the third time this season that the Rocky Mount nine has been defeated on their home grounds.

Raleigh, June 18.—The Carolina Grill, Dickinson Avenue, Greenville, has settled an overcharge claim made by the price control board at Greenville with the payment of $1,180.72 to the Treasurer of the United States.
State OPA Director Theodore S. Johnson said today that George Saad and Hassen Barakey, operators of the business, have paid $1,180.72 representing one and one-half times the alleged overcharge of $787.15 on food sold during the past year.
The price panel of the Greenville board received the overcharge settlement after the operators admitted

Local Cafe Pays OPA Board Claim

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—Wilson W. Wyatt, national housing administrator, said today that a breakdown of price controls almost certainly would eliminate the hope of producing moderate or low cost homes in the next year or two. It "would mean inevitably that the veterans emergency housing program, as now planned, would be unattainable." Wyatt said in a statement. This program calls for 2,700,000 new homes by 1948.

The action of the Greenville board was forwarded to Raleigh and the settlement accepted here today, Johnson said.
