Dead End Feared For Paris Talks

Ministers Return Into Channels Which Resulted In Failure At Last Meeting; Italian Reparations At Stalemate; Big Items Remain Untouched Until Way Cleared

By LOUIS NEVIN Paris, June 19.—(AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers, still deadlocked on the touchy problem of Italian reparations, moved today to less difficult phases of the Italian peace treaty.

Today's session was scheduled for an hour earlier than usual (9 a. m., EST.) to permit French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault to attend a session of the Chamber of Deputies at which he might be called upon to form France's new government.

As usual, the deputy foreign ministers were directed to meet before the session of their chiefs to finish their reports on the Bulgarian and Finnish treaties. The deputies' reports on the Italian and Romanian pacts already have been submitted.

The pessimism which has enveloped the current session of the British, French, Russian and U. S. foreign ministers since they reconvened last Saturday deepened today following yesterday's deadlock on reparations, which saw the same negotiators repeating virtually the same arguments which led them in blind alleys a month ago.

The deadlock was eased only slightly by Russia's offer yesterday to put the question of Yugoslav, Albanian and Greek reparations claims—whitout Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov sets at $200,000,000—up to a full, 21-nation European peace conference, which French sources said might convene about July 15.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes said this Soviet offer solved two-thirds of the reparations problem. A British informant declared, "The most difficult third—Russia's own claim for $100,000,000—still awaits solution with no sign of compromise. Molotov refused to submit Russia's reparations claim to the 21-nation conference, expressing belief that the foreign ministers should settle it."

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin proposed that all major powers abandon reparations claims on Italy, to assist the new Republican government of that nation, but Molotov refused. Russia is the only (Continued on Page Four)

Red Army Tightens Disciplinary Reins

Moscow, June 19.—(AP)—The Army newspaper Red Star said today that Generalissimo Stalin had signed a decree establishing new disciplinary regulations for the Red Army and Navy, including a requirement that all personnel strictly observe the rules of military politeness and saluting.

The paper commented editorially that the decree would "advance military might to the Soviet state" by re-defining the relationship of officers and men to each other and their duties and the state.

Military personnel, the editorial said is describing the regulations which supersede the 1940 rules must fulfill strictly the orders of their superiors and be prepared to suffer hardships and deprivations and give their lives if necessary in carrying out their duties.

THE NATION TODAY

By James Marlow

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—The census bureau says more people—55,320,000—have jobs now than at any time in American history.

The figure is 570,000 higher than the previous peak of $4,750,000 reached in July, 1943, in the middle of the war.

The census bureau figure of 55,320,000 is for May, the latest total available. It includes 450,000 men who had jobs but were on strike.

After the war ended last summer John W. Snyder, reconversion director, estimated that perhaps 8,000,000 people would be unemployed by this time in 1946.

The census bureau says only about 2,310,000 people are unemployed now. The bureau says it bases its figure on a "sampling."

It does not agree with other figures on present unemployment—or unemployment for May—obtained from the Social Security Board and the Veterans Administration.

Here's what those two agencies show for May: A total of 3,092,000 people were getting unemployment pay. Of that number 1,265,000 were getting civilian unemployment pay, the remaining 1,717,000 were war veterans drawing unemployment pay from the government.

(In April the total was 3,100,000 of whom 1,600,000 were civilians and 1,500,000 veterans.) The following figures will show how employment has risen to its present total of 55,320,000: That figure is 1,050,000 higher than the 54,270,000 employed in July, 1945, just before Japan quit. It is 4,070,000 higher than the 51,250,000 employed in September 1945, the lowest employment month since the war ended. How have these people—almost entirely veterans, since everyone else was working during the war—found jobs? About 1,820,000 women who worked during the war have quit and gone back into their homes. So have a number of old people (figures not available) who came out of retirement to help in war jobs and have retired again. The number of people with jobs spurted in May, over April, but this was almost entirely due to spring jobs opening up on farms. In April 8,190,000 worked on farms. This number jumped almost 700,000 to 8,800,000 in May. But in the same two months non-farm jobs remained about the same in number: 46,360,000 in April, 46,560,000 in May. (Continued on Page Four)

EASTLAND TO PUSH PURGING OF JUSTICES

Would Ask Full Story Of Court "Feud"; Amendment Facing Hard Road

By JACK BELL Washington, June 19.—(AP)—Demands that four Roosevelt appointees be swept from the Supreme Court were coupled today with a proposal that all eight justices tell the full story of the tribunal's "feud."

Senator Eastland (D-Miss.) announced his intention to push for an open investigation of discord between the justices which he claimed has produced "inexcusable chaos" in the high court.

The suggestion that all present justices be called on for public testimony came as a follow-up to the move by Eastland and Senator Bridges (R-NH) aimed at a virtual dismissal of half the present court.

Eastland told a reporter he will ask the Senate Judiciary Committee to question the justices at hearings he insists be held on the constitutional amendment he and Bridges introduced.

The amendment would force retirement of four of the present justices by limiting to three the number of court members who could hold appointment by any one president. The places of those retiring would be filled temporarily by House election of lower court judges until a new president chose successors.

The amendment faces an admittedly hard road to become effective, it must win two-thirds approval by Congress, then ratification by three-fourths of the state legislatures. Most Senators doubted it could make the grade.

If it did, however, it would leave on the court Justices Hugo L. Black, Stanley F. Reed, Felix Frankfurter and Harold H. Burton, the latter appointed by President Truman. It would remove Justices William O. Douglas, Frank Murphy, Robert H. Jackson and Wiley Rutledge, as the final four appointees of the late President Roosevelt.

It would not affect President Truman's appointment of Fred Vinson as Chief Justice, a nomination expected to receive early Senate confirmation.

Eastland informed a reporter he is uninterested in the fact that his amendment would leave Hugo Black on the court, while retiring Jackson, who recently asserted publicly that Black declined to disqualify himself in a case in which his former law partner was interested.

Florida health authorities said Georgia's quarantine was unenforceable, but Abercrombie disagreed. The Georgia director declared any person from Florida reported stopping in this state would be confined to quarters in which they are found.

Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, Florida State Health Officer, wrote Abercrombie the quarantine could not be enforced unless "you mobilize at least the division of militia with which to enforce it."

A charge that quarantines imposed by Georgia and the Carolinas on Florida travelers was the result of "professional jealousy" was made by N. H. Hankoff, president of the Miami Beach Hotel Owners' Association. Restrictions imposed by the three states, he said, have resulted in cancellation of two conventions at the beach and caused heavy losses to hotel men.

Hankoff said both North Carolina and Georgia, conscious of the tourist dollars, "have side-tracked plenty of people on their way to Florida, with their polo talk and bans."

Only a few cases of the disease have been reported in Georgia. South Carolina has had only seven cases reported so far this year, compared to 44 cases for the first six months of last year.

CURFEW ORDER FOR TEL-AVIV

British Army Scours City For Trace Of Kidnapped Officers

Jerusalem, June 19.—(AP)—The British Army clamped a strict curfew on Tel Aviv today as patrols scoured the predominantly Jewish seacoast city for traces of five British officers kidnapped yesterday by an armed gang.

Elsewhere in the holy land—seething with Jewish wrath—the Palestine government set to end a wave of terrorism which has cost 18 dead and scores injured in three days of violence, during which eight border bridges were wrecked and the rail yards at Haifa attacked.

Under the terms of the British curfew in Tel Aviv, effective at 5 a. m. today, no unauthorized persons will be permitted outside their doors. The Army gave no hint as to how long the curfew would continue.

British soldiers, some in armored cars, moved through the streets, meanwhile, in a search for members of a band armed with tommy-guns who seized the five officers yesterday. One source said they apparently were being held as hostages for two Jews under death sentence for raiding a British Army camp.

The outbreak of violence was believed in some quarters here to be linked both to British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's Palestine proclamation at Bournemouth last week and the mysterious flight from exile in France of the Grand Mufti Hajj El Hussein, spiritual leader of Palestine's Moslems.

Speaking in Petah Tiquah, near Tel Aviv, Dr. Chiam Weitzmann, president of the World Zionist Organization, said last night that he doubted Bevin's statement that the proposed admission to Palestine of 100,000 homeless European Jews would require dispatch of an additional British Army division to the holy land.

"x x x I must admit this reference to the need of more divisions is no aid to the maintenance of that stability and tranquility so desperately needed here in these trying times," Weitzmann said. "No responsible member of the Palestine Jewry," he added, "wishes to have British soldiers fall in defense of the Jewish community—still less the victims of political violence."

POLICE SHOOT BERSERK MAN

Five Bullets In Chest Kill Enraged Slayer Of Two

Tampa, Fla., June 19.—(AP)—Detective Capt. D. D. Stephens reported that an enraged husband today shot his wife to death with a hammer as his daughter watched, virtually decapitated his son-in-law in another home some distance away, and was himself fatally wounded as he attacked a detective with the blood-smeared hammer.

Stephens identified the dead as Roscoe M. Tucker, 55, the husband of Mrs. Evelyn Mable Tucker, killed in the bedroom of her home, and Curtis Alton Nipper, the son-in-law, slain in a collage in his home on Beach.

The daughter, Doris, 13, was in a hospital with a head wound received when struck by a hammer as she sought to aid her dying mother.

A son, Kenneth, 19, told Capt. Stephens that he ran out of the house as his father hammered his mother's body, seized an axe and found himself locked out. He battered the door down and swung the axe at his father. Stephens quoted him as saying, but missed.

Doris and Kenneth were in a virtual state of delirium from fright and shock, Stephens said.

Detective Jack Shykov, investigating the slaying of Mrs. Tucker discovered the husband hiding in bushes near the home. The man emerged with the hammer upraised and shouted: "I've killed two people and I don't mind killing a third."

In a struggle to disarm him, the officer was struck sharply on the back with the hammer. The detective reported he sent five bullets into Tucker's chest at point blank range, fatally wounding him.

The two children told Capt. Stephens their father and mother had been estranged, and recently their father had brooded. Nipper was a widower. His wife died about a year ago.

Primaries Over Nation Show Demo's Strength

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kim Sigler, an attorney who made a reputation campaigning against graft in high places, easily led a four-man field today for Michigan's Republican gubernatorial nomination and two names very well known to Americans showed up in the victory columns in Massachusetts primary returns.

John F. Kennedy, 29-year-old navy veteran and son of former Ambassador Joseph E. Kennedy, cornered the Democratic nomination in Congress in the Bay State's 11th district while Arthur Coolidge, distant cousin of former President Calvin Coolidge, snared the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor.

Kennedy's victory in the predominantly Democratic sector apparently assured him of the House seat now held by Boston's mayor, Rep. James M. Curley, who is retiring. In trying his hand at politics for the first time, the former PT boat commander bested two veteran campaigners—topping his nearest opponent by more than 8,000 votes.

Sigler, the special prosecutor of Ingham county who directed investigations against Michigan state legislators accused of bribery, stepped far out in front in the count on yesterday's voting. Sigler's fanfare dressing has earned him the nickname, "The Hollywood Kid."

His closest rival was Lt. Gov. Vernon J. Brown, 72-year-old congressman, who carried the blessing of Governor Harry F. Kelly, former national commander of the American Legion, and Mayor Edward J. Jeffries of Detroit, who conceded in Massachusetts. Gov. Maurice J. Tobin won Democratic nomination by a one-sided margin over Francis D. Harrigan, Boston lawyer. Tobin's opponent in the general election will be Lt. Gov. Robert E. Bradford, unopposed Republican nominee.

Both in Michigan and Massachusetts all four major party candidates for the Senate and many of the incumbent representatives had no opposition.

Senator David I. Walsh (D-Mass) and former Republican Senator H. Cabot Lodge, Jr., were nominated automatically, as were Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich) and his Democratic opponent James H. Lee, former Detroit corporation counsel.

Rep. Philip J. Philbin (D) of the Third Massachusetts district, only Bay State House incumbent who had a contest, was re-nominated.

Democrats of the 11th district gave a big lead to John F. Kennedy, navy veteran and son of former Ambassador Joseph E. Kennedy in a field of ten seeking to succeed retiring Rep. James M. Curley, now mayor of Boston. The nomination is equivalent to election there.

SENATE-HOUSE DEADLOCK ON DRAFT BROKEN

Vote Radioed From Ship At Sea Breaks Tie-Up Over Teen-Age Inductions

By EDWIN B. HAANKINSON Washington, June 19.—(AP)—Rep. Walter G. Andrew's dramatic vote radioed from a ship far out in the Pacific appeared today to have broken the Senate-House committee deadlock over the teen-age draft.

The New York Republican's revised proxy—declaring in favor of a conditional moratorium on the induction of 18 year olds—was sent from the USS Panamint, carrying Andrews and other observers to the Elkins atom bomb tests.

Andrews thus swung over to the Senate compromise offer to make 18-year-old subject to the draft only as a last resort. His proxy called for no restrictions on inducting teenagers, with the result that the House group first rejected the compromise 4 to 3.

The actual showdown on the issue is not scheduled until tomorrow, when the seven Senate and six House conferees—Andrews and the seventh—re-assemble for their third try at adjusting differences in separate draft-extension bills. The Monday-to-Thursday delay was set to allow the contact with Andrews aboard the Panamint.

Unless some other hitch develops unexpectedly, both sides look for the conference agreement to contain these provisions:

Extension of the Selective Service Act, due to expire at the end of this month, until next March 31.

Pay increases ranging from 5 percent for buck privates and apprentice seamen to 10 percent for top-rank officers.

Manpower demands to be supplied from four categories, each to be exhausted in order: First, volunteers; second, inductees between 21 and some top age limit to be determined by the armed forces; third 19-year-olds; fourth 18-year-olds.

In no event, however, would youths of 18 be inducted before October 1, and then only if President Truman certified they are needed. Their duty would be restricted to the continental United States until they are 19.

This was the moratorium Andrews agreed to. He told newsmen aboard the Panamint yesterday that he still favors drafting 18-year-olds without restrictions but that with only 12 days left before the current stop-gap extension expires "something has to be done quickly."

PILOT LAUDED SAFE LANDING

Giant Plane Pancakes On Small Field Minus One Engine

Willimantic, Conn., June 19.—(AP)—Forty-two passengers, including Actor Laurence Olivier and his wife, Vivien Leigh, were winging their way to England today aboard a Pan-American clipper of the Constellation type after surviving a pancake landing at a tiny airport here.

The trans-Atlantic plane in which they left LaGuardia Field, New York, at 5 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time, yesterday developed engine trouble a few miles east of here, forcing it to come into Windham Field, an airport designed only for much smaller craft, on three engines and with the wheels retracted.

Captain Leo Carroll, head of the State Police detail that rushed to the scene, was full of praise for Captain Samuel H. Miller and his co-pilot, Woodrow L. Lawson, who made the difficult landing.

U. S. ROLE IN WORLD TALKED

Famous Speakers Highlight International Discussions

Greensboro, June 19.—(AP)—Talks by Rryford Logan on "The Trusteeship System" and T. Z. Koo on "Democratic Trends in the Orient" highlighted two sessions of the 13th annual Carolina Institute of International Relations at Woman's College this morning.

Logan, speaking for the first time before the 150 delegates from eight southern states in attendance, told that "the trusteeship system, like the old mandate system, is a form of international supervision for the avowed purpose of promoting the well being of native people and advancing them toward independence."

"Frankly," said Logan, "the trusteeship system is quite disappointing to those who had hoped for a new deal in the non-self-government areas. It failed to make mandatory the establishment of trusteeship anywhere. Each nation, on the contrary, has the full power to (Continued on Page Six)

Plea For OPA Is Made By Wallace

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Wallace pleaded today against letting down "our guard against inflation" as Senate-House OPA conferees met for their first session to chart the future of price control.

Wallace said in a statement that business can enjoy unprecedented prosperity in the years just ahead "if we can avoid rocking the economic boat right now."

But he added that "to weaken or destroy price and rent control would be to ask for the same kind of boom and bust that began just about this time after the last war."

The cabinet officer's statement was issued without explanation, but its timing coincided with the initial meeting of the Capitol Hill conferees on OPA extension bills that have drawn sharp criticism from stabilization officials.

Atom Control In Plan By Poland

Petrillo In Court Polish Delegate To UN Atomic Commission To Offer "Simple And Startling" Proposal For Establishing Controls; Plan New Franco Discussion Following Russian Veto

LaBuy in Chicago after surrendering to answer charges of violating the La ley in calling a strike of three Chicago radio station librarians. He posted bond of $1,000 pending trial. (AP Wirephoto.)

It was expected that the 13 members of the atomic energy commission would settle on rules of procedure this afternoon and then plunge into a discussion of the United States plan put before the commission at its opening meeting last Friday.

Meanwhile, the Polish delegation marshaled its force for a new show down on Franco Spain after Soviet Russia had vetoed a proposal to refer the Spanish problem to the General Assembly.

Lange declared he would come forward with other proposals designed to obtain and promote meaningful action against Franco's Fascist regime when the council reconvenes next Monday afternoon.

Lange, who brought the Spanish question to the attention of the Security Council last April by charging that Franco was a threat to world peace, followed up the Russian veto yesterday by seeking an immediate vote on his original resolution calling for a break with Franco Spain by all members of the United Nations.

Chairman Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera of Mexico ruled, however, that the council was not prepared to discuss that issue at once and adjourned the meeting until Monday afternoon. Barring unusual developments there seemed small likelihood that the Polish demand for Council action against Spain would be adopted.

In the interim the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission—consisting of the 11 nations which now comprise the Security Council, plus (Continued on Page Four)

WOULD REDUCE CHINA'S ARMY

Gen. Marshall Sets Proposal As Means Of Promoting Peace

Washington, June 19.—(AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall has proposed a sharp reduction and reorganization of China's armed forces "a means to promote peace in the Far East."

Under the proposal, which would be carried out under supervision of the United States, the Chinese army would be cut to 60 divisions. Its present strength is estimated at from 250 to 375 divisions.

Details of the plan were disclosed today by Acting Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of War Patterson to the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

To achieve the goal sought, the two testified, Congress should pass a bill providing authority for transfer of war goods to China and for (Continued on Page Six)

Quarter Million Are Cleared At Ft. Bragg

Fort Bragg, N. C., June 19.—(AP) The Separation Center here has discharged a quarter of a million persons.

The 250,000th to get his discharge was Staff Sergeant William D. Fox of Greensboro, who was given his "certificate" yesterday by Colonel L. S. A. Page, commanding officer of the Department Personnel Center.

Colonel Page also commended three other soldiers and decorated them with the Purple Heart medal. They were T-4 Henry B. Hart of Chipley, Ga., Pfc Henry C. Jeffries of Leesville, and Pfc Avim A. Longinsghed of Acworth, Ga.

I talked with a considerable number and asked them where they wanted to go, and almost without exception they said Palestine.

There was one group of ten or so Jewish youths and girls—all eager youngsters—and when I put the question to them they cried out in chorus: "We want to go to Palestine!" I asked what sort of work they planned to do there, and the answer was:

"We don't care. We want to go to Palestine. It is a wonderful land." A partial answer to this appeal was given by the recent recommendation by the British-American inquiry committee that the immigration of 100,000 Jews into Palestine be carried out immediately. Jewish hopes rose—so much so indeed that American officers of the displaced persons branch in Germany said yesterday they felt that this recommendation has been one of the main causes of the increase in refugee population in recent days.

Last week, however, British Foreign Minister Bevin stated at the annual Labor Party conference that he would reject immediate immigration of 100,000 to the Holy Land. England feels that this would create military and financial burdens which she is unable to bear alone. (Continued on Page Four)

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. F. T. Harper of Burlington, N. C., and sister of the bride, wore a gown of pink net fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, puff sleeves, a short peplum lined with blue ribbon, and long full skirt, with matching headpiece. She carried an arm bouquet of pink painted daisies and blue delphinium, tied with wide satin ribbon and tulle.

Bridesmaids were Miss Faye Duval, sister of the bride and Miss Helen Flanagan, sister of the groom. They wore identical gowns of sky blue net with matching net bonnets and carried arm bouquets of pink painted daisies and delphinium tied with large bows of pink satin ribbon.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Sue and Harriet Harper of Burlington and Miss Lois Flanagan of Kinston.

Mr. Travis Harter Flanagan, of Greenville, attended his brother as best man. Ushers were R. C. Flanagan, Kinston, N. C., brother of the groom; Walter Harrington, Greenville, N. C., brother-in-law of the groom; Dr. F. T. Harper, Burlington, N. C., brother-in-law of the bride, and William O. Moore, Greenville, N. C.

Mrs. Duval, mother of the bride, wore a dress of Navy Blue crepe with a matching hat covered with multicolored flowers, and accessories of white. Mrs. Flanagan, mother of the groom, was attired in black and white with black accessories. Both mothers wore orchids.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained at a reception at their home, for the bridal party, members of their families and out of town guests.

After the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip through the mountains of Western North Carolina.

For traveling the bride wore a straw colored suit of tropical worsted, a hat of natural straw trimmed with black ribbon, black accessories and an orchid.

Mrs. Flanagan is a graduate of East Carolina Teachers College and did post graduate work at the University of North Carolina. For the past three years, she has taught in the Greenville City Schools.

The groom attended East Carolina Teachers College and is now a member of the Postoffice staff in Greenville, N. C., where they will make their home after July 1st.

Out of guests included Mrs. John Roberson and Miss Mary Jane Roberson, Stan Hope, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Flanagan and Miss Lou Flanagan of Kinston, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Preston Tyson, Wilson, N. C., Miss Jane Hall Raleigh, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nichols, Raleigh, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Christian, Enfield, N. C.

ABC OFFICERS GET STILL.
Pitt County ABC officers J. M. Ward and J. L. Taylor seized and destroyed the third still of this week Tuesday afternoon. It was located in Pactolus township near the Old Creek road. The still was a 50-gallon copper outfit with copper condenser and cap. The officers found 100 gallons of molasses and cornmeal mash contained in two 50-gallon barrel fermenters. Inasmuch as the officers presence was known by the suspected owner, the still was destroyed by dynamite.

Bond Election Here Favored New Paving
The paving program bond issue of $250,000 was carried by a large majority in the special election held Monday. A small ballot was cast, but city authorities were gratified over the result. Only a few votes were cast against the issue.

The money will be used to pave unpaved streets. Paving in Greenville has been at a standstill since

ECTC Enrollment Highest In Years
An official enrollment figure of 506 was reached by the close of registration for the first term of the current summer session at East Carolina Teachers College, it was announced today from the office of Dr. R. J. Slay, dean of the college. The present enrollment exceeds that of the first summer term of 1945 by 149, and is the highest in several years.

One hundred men students are enrolled for summer work. Seventy-eight of this number are attending school under the GI Bill of Rights. This is the largest number of students at ECTC since the outbreak of the war. Wilson Hall recently was turned over to the men. The dormitory houses 190, but indications are that it will not accommodate the large number of men expected for the fall quarter.

Sixty-three graduate students are enrolled at the college. Dr. Slay revealed that there is an increase in the number of graduate students in all departments. Dr. Charles W. Reynolds stated that they will make their home after July 1st.

Chapter 26

It was Saturday evening before she reached Random Polly. She had several hours in Washington with the Senator and then came to work out the plans he and had perfected.

It was expected home the next day. It was the Senator's idea that she and the Count should meet Sunday afternoon. Polly would be there but he thought for this particular afternoon that the Count come without lawyer.

If it works out as I hope it will, explained to Whitney, "we'll set everything between ourselves. Barberini won't need a lawyer. The suit will be called off and everything settled out of court. Before the afternoon is over he'll be out and his lawyer isn't there." The arrangements were quickly made. The Count was especially pleased over Whitney's invitation for the next night at Random Polly. We will make our plans, he exclaimed on the telephone. His voice conveyed his excitement over the wire. "Your sister help us."

Plans? What plans do you mean? In the whirl of events since had just seen him, Whitney had thought of any plans but the overriding plan which she was trying so desperately to put into effect.

Why plans to get married, my dear? I no longer like waiting. Oh! It was the only adequate answer Whitney could think of as she abruptly terminated their conversation.

Well, of all the unmitigated lies! Spuds exploded when Whitney told him about it later. "He isn't thinking so much about marrying you when we get through with him tomorrow."

But Whitney's given him every hint to think she may marry him. His voice was severe. She wasn't happy over the prospects of the next afternoon. Spuds and Whitney were much more confident of the outcome than she was at that point in the negotiations.

"They put rubbers on pencils because we all make mistakes," Spuds claimed cheerfully. He gave Whitney a sly wink behind his wife's back. "Personally, I think the gentleman in question is going to walk right out of here tomorrow and never come back. I predict he will stay for dinner."

"I'll be glad when it's all over," Whitney sighed drearily.

"Just how is it going to work?" Polly asked, letting her knitted drop in her lap as she looked at her sister, nervously pacing down the long room. "For goodness sake, Whitney, do sit down. You're as jumpy as a colt the first time they put a saddle on his back, and the Senator seem to be feeling these two men face each other tomorrow will solve everything."

"No-o, not exactly. But we do think there must be a showdown, you and Spuds and I are to be etc. too."

"I think, as the gentleman from Pollywood so elegantly expressed it, you'd better include me out," Polly interjected quietly. "Dramatics of this kind are a little rich for my blood."

"Oh, Polly, you must be there counting on you. Please stay with me." Whitney begged, suddenly panicky at the thought of facing the men without Polly.

It was on the tip of Polly's tongue to remind her that this was the moment when she should manage her policy which will think in terms of tomorrow instead of yesterday."

"The United States," he said, "instead of being the one nation that could rise above imperialistic tendencies and petty squabbling—and lead the way—has been acting like an imperialistic power of the 19th century; all we have done is take sides in the imperialistic-type war of the Europe of old."

British Deny Rumors Of Landings In Iraq

Cairo, June 18—(AP)—The British Army's Middle East headquarters officially denied today rumors which swept through Iraq yesterday that thousands of Polish troops had arrived in that country and that the British had reinstated control over some Syrian military camps previously evacuated.

American Army headquarters in Cairo also disclaimed any knowledge of American landings in Iraq.

Rails Request Boost In Intrastate Rates

Raleigh, N. C., June 18—(AP)—The North Carolina Utilities Commission today had before it a request from railroads which operate in the state seeking increases in intrastate rates identical with increases they recently asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to grant on interstate rates.

The request, announced by Commissioner Stanley Winborne yesterday, asked in general 25 per cent increase in freight rates and requested that a 10 per cent increase in passenger rates be granted temporarily during the war made permanent.

Strength FOR THE DAY

By KARL L. DOUGLAS
THE DEAD SEA MAKES HEAD-LINES

From time immemorial the Dead Sea has been regarded as the last word in desolation and uselessness. Lying far below sea level, its barren hills and brackish waters have been looked upon as having no value whatsoever.

In recent years, however, scientists have discovered that the basin of the Dead Sea is so rich in minerals that it may well be called one of the most valuable sections of the earth's surface. Hundreds of different minerals and chemicals are to be found here. Some effort has been made to turn these potential treasures into the coin of industrial and commercial worth. More will probably be done within the next few years.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
Washington — Doctor, lawyer, merchant, anthropologist, blues singer, embalmer or practically anything else you may fancy. That's what the veteran is entitled to become with the help of the GI Bill of Rights.

The bill gives any veteran who meets certain eligibility requirements one year plus his length of service of free, government-subsidized education, up to four years.

Under the second, sometimes called "earn while you're learning," a veteran takes a regular job, gets paid by the outfit he's working for and at the same time receives the subsistence allowance. He is entitled to the allowance until he reaches his "job objective" and gets the pay of a fully-trained worker.

One ambitious ex-serviceman appeared at the VA regional office in Philadelphia to inquire about the possibilities of an on-the-job training program which would make him a full-fledged lion tamer.

VA training officers, not unaccustomed to such odd requests, called on both the Philadelphia and Hershey, Pa., zoos. Unfortunately, or perhaps fortunately, officials of both zoos said they were not in a position to set up a training program of that nature.

But in almost all instances, the training program any veteran wants can be set up.

On-the-job and institutional training programs in which veterans are now engaged run the gamut from junior Boy Scout director to major league baseball umpire.

The Law Of Supply And Demand

The outfit from which a veteran wants to get his training must be on the "approved list," made up by individual state agencies, usually the state board of education.

VA has worked out a number of safeguards to see that a veteran gets his just share of education. Recently it discovered a concern which had been approved to teach veterans—how to take nickels out of juke boxes.

The state approval agency acted fast in removing that outfit from the approved list.

Even a superficial reading of the New Testament reveals that Jesus saw in the nature of many a man and woman with whom he came in contact moral values and possibilities which the world had overlooked.

He recruited his followers from among the Dead Sea variety of human beings—people whose lives appeared barren, fouled with the brackishness of mistake and sin. But in their hearts he saw qualities which were hidden from the eyes of the world.

Let us not be too hasty in expressing our contempt for the Dead Sea or disregard people whose lives seemingly partake of a similar barrenness.

The World Today

and she wants America to share the load. That is now under discussion.

This question came up in the British House of Commons again yesterday, and Prime Minister Attlee refused to make what he described as "a hasty conclusion" regarding the Anglo-American committee recommendation. He said he regretted he couldn't announce a decision yet.

Meantime in New York the United Nations Economic and Social Council decided yesterday that additional international relief should be extended to German and Austrian Jews and to persons who lived in those two countries as foreigners or stateless persons. It was estimated that some 45,000 Jews in Germany and Austria were involved.

The bloody and destructive disorders in Palestine have followed the Bevin announcement. Whether this is cause and effect isn't clear, but there are observers who believe that the delay indicated by the foreign minister's statement had at least something to do with the outbreak.

In any event, the Palestine question has developed into a crisis which will keep swelling until concrete action is taken to deal with it.

Yet, there has been a decrease in the total number of farm workers from the war years while more non-farm jobs have opened up.

In that peak war month of July, 1943, 9,700,000 people working on farms, and 45,050,000 in non-farm jobs.

But in May, 1946, the people working on farms numbered only 8,800,000 while those in non-farm jobs rose to 46,440,000.

The job score by sexes breaks down this way:
In July, 1943: about 36,670,000 males and 18,080,000 females.
In May, 1946: about 39,060,000 males and 16,260,000 females.

Atom Control

Canada—meets at 3 p. m. EDT today to discuss the United States proposals for establishment of an international authority to handle the development of atomic energy and to outlaw the atom bomb as an instrument of warfare.

The question of the veto power, as wielded by Russia yesterday in the Security Council debate on Franco Spain, promised to play an important part in the deliberations of the Atomic Energy Commission.

In advancing the United States plan at the first meeting of the commission last Friday, Representative Bernard M. Baruch made it plain that there must be no veto power in any part of the framework he was proposing for the development and peaceful use of atomic energy.

The proposal which Russia vetoed yesterday in the Security Council would have referred to the 51-nation general assembly a sub-committee report on Spain accompanied by a recommendation that the assembly call for a rupture in relations with Madrid—or take whatever action it deemed desirable—if Franco is still in power when the assembly meets in September.

Folger Repeating Highway Charges

Winston-Salem, June 19—(AP)—Rep. John H. Folger of Mt. Airy today reiterated his charges that members of the State Highway Commission had attempted to coerce highway employes into voting for Thurmond Chatham of Winston-Salem in the May 25 Fifth District Democratic congressional primary. Replying to a statement made by Chairman A. H. Graham of the State Highway Commission that a personal investigation made by Mr.

Graham had failed to substantiate the charges, Folger said: "If such an investigation was made, it was quite a one-sided affair, and I could have furnished the chairman the names of the men who are reported, and I believe reliably, as having been approached on the subject of voting for Chatham. These men were employes of the commission. Also I could have furnished the further information that some of them declined to yield to this attempted influence, and that in all probability others did yield. If I can do so without danger to the employes, I shall furnish their names, but not for the purpose of a hearing before the commission."

SEE THE DOBBS TRUSS BULBLESS—BELTLESS—STRAPLESS

It is designed to hold the muscles together with a soft CONCAVE PAD. It presses the body in but two places, keeping the rupture closed while working, lifting, walking.

Sanitary, wear when bathing. Nature teaches you not to force a bulb, ball or any convex pad in the rupture thus spreading the muscles farther apart. Circulation is important, too.

FINALISTS IN TOURNEY MEET

Moore Vs. Moye Play Thursday For Club Championship Cup

Boyd Moore, newcomer from Wilson, meets Simon Moye, Jr., one of Greenville's veteran golfers here at the Greenville golf club, 12:00 noon tomorrow for the club championship cup. This will be the first post-war championship match held here.

Moore pulled three major upsets to gain the finals, by defeating three former champions in succession—Tom Smoot, Dr. Massey, and Reynolds May, while Moye was defeating Bruce Baker, Jack Edwards and Roger Taylor. In the latter match, at one time Moye was four down and seven to go, only to come out one up on the eighteenth green.

There has been great interest and enthusiasm displayed in the current tournament, probably more than in any ever held in Greenville. In the semifinals, Moye, Taylor, Moore and May played in a foursome, and approximately twenty spectators followed the match.

Sports

It took a trip through the west to prove that the Boston Red Sox are only human after all.

Not that Joe Cronin's gang is in any imminent danger of blowing a healthy pennant lead, but their superman uniforms are beginning to fray at the edges.

Bobby Feller started it in Boston when he asked permission to try to stop the runaway Sox. He did the job so well that the Bostonians haven't been able to untrack themselves since.

A disastrous visit to Chicago opened the joint on the wrong key and St. Louis has been one headache after another. Things were so bad last night that Manager Cronin pitched Dave Ferriss with only two days' rest.

Ferriss pitched well enough to win, but he met up with a really tough opponent in Bob Muncie, who hurled a brilliant 1-0 shutout over the Sox as Ferriss lost his second straight after reeling off 10 successive triumphs.

Boston lost only a half game of its lead, which still measures seven games over the New York Yankees who were rained out of a night game in Chicago. Bad weather also forced postponement of a Philadelphia-Detroit doubleheader and a single night game between Washington and Cleveland.

Emil Kish graduated into the ranks of starting pitchers for the Chicago Cubs by blanking the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-0, in a National League arc-light contest, his first starting job after 13 relief chores. The 28-year-old right-hander had attracted considerable attention by a perfect 4-0 record as Charley Grimm's ace "fireman."

Kish couldn't have picked a more inopportune time to become a star as far as the Phils were concerned. They had a chance to escape from the cellar because New York had been blanked by Cincinnati, 10-0. Four Cub runs in the seventh inning ended a 0-0 duel between Kish and Al Juchs, sealing the Phils last-place fate for the night.

Bucky Walters showed his old-time form in elbowing the Reds to a seven-hit, 10-6 romp over the Giants. It was Bucky's third win of the year and his second in a row over New York, which has dropped seven of eight decisions to Cincy. Hal Schumacher, who has been trying for his third victory since May 5, was the victim of a six-run uprising in the first frame.

Brooklyn's lead over the idle St. Louis Cards was clipped to 1-1-2 games by Pittsburgh which bangoed out a 6-3 decision behind Ken Heintzelman.

Famous Last Words

New York, June 19—(AP)—Here are the just-before-the-battle statements of Joe Louis and Billy Conn:

Champion Louis: "I've trained hard for the fight. I'm sure I will knock him out. He got away from me in the second and fifth rounds of our last fight, but he won't get away this time. If, however, the fight does go the limit, I'm sure I will win the decision. I was weak at 199 3-4 pounds for that fight. I'll weigh 210 pounds for this one and will be strong as a bull. I will prove to everyone that I haven't lost my punch."

Challenger Conn: "I'll be there—and I'll be on time. I have worked hard and long for this shot. I feel in great shape and can go 15 rounds at top speed without running out of gas. I'm glad the long training haul is over. The easy art comes now—all I have to do is fight Joe. I'll either win or get killed trying."

The foreign affairs group is considering the measure requested. Similar legislation also is pending to provide aid to the Philippines and to South American countries.

Acheson said that if the bill he asked is passed an American advisory group of 1,000 men will be sent to China to assist the nation in reorganization of its military forces.

Acheson said that the Chinese national army now is estimated to have approximately 75 divisions.

Patterson estimated the present strength of the Chinese forces at more than 250 divisions.

Patterson stressed that the main function of the United States under the Marshall plan would be to train the Chinese, rather than supply them with equipment.

The equipment sent to the Chinese, he said, will be largely surplus goods already in the far East.

Army's Deadline Drawing Nearer

June 30 is the deadline for enlistment or re-enlistment in the regular Army with special privileges of family allotment according to the AAF Overseas Replacement Depot Recruiting Office at Greensboro.

Before this deadline, enlistees or re-enlistees are entitled to the class F family allotment, which offers a soldier $50 for his wife, $30 for his first child, and $20 for each additional child, with only $22 subtracted from his monthly pay.

The privilege of re-enlisting with the rank held when discharged will also be discontinued June 30, making it necessary for any man who re-enlists to do so within 20 days to obtain his old rank. Men will then be given a re-enlistment bonus and furlough.

Dr. Koo told his audience that today the U. S. has come out of its former shell of isolation to become one of the great nations of the world. It combines with Soviet Russia," he said, "to give us the two great nations of the world."

"But there is a difference between the two nations," he continued. "The U. S. is looked upon more or less as a champion of political democracy, while Russia today poses as the champion of economic democracy and social security."

Clues Found In Degnan Slaying

Chicago, June 19—(AP)—The Chicago Daily News said today hidden writing had been found on the ransom note left by the kidnaper and slayer of 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan—information which the newspaper added narrowed the inquiry "to certain definite suspects."

The hidden writing, the newspaper said, consisted of identifications and impressions left on the ransom note from writing which apparently had been inscribed on sheets of paper above it in a tablet.

In a copyrighted story, the News declared the writing was discovered by one of its staff artists, Frank San Hamel, as he was preparing a photograph of the ransom note for reproduction in the paper.

The information gathered by San Hamel had been laced in the hands of official investigators, the Daily News said.

Suzanne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Degnan, was kidnaped from her bed in the Degnan home on Chicago's North Side early the morning of Jan. 7. Her dismembered body was recovered from sewers and catch basins that night.

Pilot Lauded . . .

Airport Manager Arthur A. Kuhn also said he never had seen a better landing. It was accomplished so smoothly, he said, that none of the passengers realized their peril.

Captain Miller himself had little to say, merely remarking that he had tried to approach the field for a down-wind landing, found he couldn't make it, and came in anyway.

The bad engine which was afire, dropped from the plane while it was flying in the vicinity of Plainfield, near the Connecticut-Rhode Island border.

After the landing here, the passengers were taken by bus to Hartford, 30 miles west, and resumed their trip to England at 12:45 a. m. today in another clipper sent from New York.

BOYS LEAGUE BASEBALL

Captain Glenn Scott pitched his team to the first shutout of the season in the Boys League this morning at Third Street Park. The Giants whitewashed the Cardinals from the East End by the score of 7-0. The Giants collected but seven hits, but numerous errors by the Cards enabled them to score.

Bobby Williams, Sydney Briley and Larry Fye, with two hits each, led the Giants' attack. Eddie Farley, with a triple and single got two of the losers' three hits; Jake Higgs was the only other Cardinal to hit safely.

Cardinals 000 000 0-0
Giants 100 033 x-7

In the second game this morning, the East End Wildcats went on a hitting spree at the Training School, and when the dust cleared away they were on the long end of a 14-9 score over the Indians from West Greenville.

Women IN THE CHURCH

Rev. Ethel M. Knapp and Miss E. Estner Scriber, who have served as missionaries on the Tonawanda Indian Reservation in western New York State for more than twenty years, now live in a log-cabin parsonage which the Indians built for them, giving as their reason: "They are different; other teachers came and went, but these two have stayed and lived with us." Church, missionary, Sunday school, youth and leadership activities are conducted by the missionaries and their devotion has earned for them the love and confidence of the people they serve.
